Don't throw away that old wooden box! Anyone of 1,200 fascinating contraptions can be fashioned from it. The National Committee on Wood Utilization, which was formed under the direction of Herbert Hoover in 1925 has recently issued a booklet, "You Can Make It." The publication contains one hundred suggestions for hewing and nailing once discarded containers into things of beauty and usefulness. This booklet, the first of a series to be issued by the Committee, has already attained a sales record of 100,000 copies, and the entertaining occupation it describes promises to take the place of crossword puzzles.

The inexhaustible field for this second-hand carpentry is revealed by the Committee's estimate that in America approximately four billion feet of lumber are consumed annually in the making of boxes and crates—or sufficient material to construct homes for four times the population of our national Capital.

Processes for making wood edible were tried during the war by the Germans. The general conclusion at that time was that could be done, but was not particularly palatable. Now Prof. Freidrich Bergius urges the wholesale hydrolyzation of wood into foodstuff for animal and human consumption. He says that the nutritive value of one kilogram (2.201 pounds of firewood) equals the same amount of oats, only its cheaper. It is hoped by the Germans that this will compete favorably with imported grain, and that the potato growers and foresters of Germany will benefit.

WORLD NEWS

The United States has added to her domains. Secretary of State Stimson and Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador to the U. S., have signed an official document which added seven specks in the Sulu Sea to the U. S. domain. The specks were the Turtle Islands, southwest of the Philippines and some twenty miles off the North Borneo coast. The U. S. and Great Britain have at last agreed upon a boundary line between their possessions. Under the four-power Pacific treaty of 1821, the U. S. is prohibited from using these islands as naval base.

Average size of the Turtle Islands is one mile by one-fourth mile. Total population 220.

Influenza, dread respiratory disease which prostrated the world in 1918-'19 may in the near future be as much under control as diphtheria and smallpox. Dr. Isadore Sydney Folk has isolated the germ believed to be the cause, polymorphous streptococcus.

Edward Bok, who came to this country as an immigrant boy from the Netherlands and carved out for himself a distinguished position in public life as an editor, author and philanthropist, died at his estate at Lake Wales, Florida, January 9.

Edward Bok is known to everyone through his autobiography, "The Americanization of Edward Bok," and his attempts to bring about means of preserving world peace.

CANADA DRUG CO.

Next to Baldwin's Store
Come to us for your cosmetics and STATIONERY
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

SCHEMMEL

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony
Aesthetics, Etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.

Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery
AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Farmville - - - - Va.

McIntosh's Drug Store

New State Teachers College
STATIONERY
Farmville - - - - Va.

FEATURE THIS WEEK

COLLEGE THEME TABLETS
3 For 25c
SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES
MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

BALDWIN'S
Headquarters for
BEAUTIFUL HOSIERY
All new shades—French or Pointed Heels
$1 $1.35 $1.50 $1.95

GIFTS FOR ALL THE FAMILY
Come from the Holiday Store

There is great satisfaction in being able to choose gifts for the entire faimly and circle of friends from one store. Here in conveniently aranged sections we have assembled gifts for every indiivdual preference. Varied in kind and price range they meet with any plan of choice and expenditure.

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

Freshman Sing Saturday Night

ROTUNDA

Increase Number On Honor Roll Next Term

Volume X THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1930 No. 16

MISS TALIAFERRO ATTEND MEETING IN CHARLESTON

Represented Farmville S. T. C. Alumnus Association of District III.

NEXT MEETING IN BIRMINGHAM, ALA.

Miss Carrie Brown Taliaferro spent January 17 and 18 in Charleston, S. C., representing Farmville S. T. C. Alumnae Association at the meeting of District III. of the American Alumni Council. This council is composed of the alumni and alumnae secretaries of universities and colleges of the United States and Canada, and District III. includes Virginia, North and South Carolina ,Georgia, Florida and Alabama. The meeting next year will be in Birmingham, Ala.

The business meeting occupied the whole of Saturday with a short recess for luncheon and was designed "to provide an interchange of ideas on common problems affecting organized alumni effort in the South, to stimulate the individual alumni association and to bring to the inexperienced worker the best prevailing methods employed to align alumnae back of the extremely important educational work of the country." The discussions were most interesting and suggestive, and were led by speakers from North Carolina College for Women, Clemson, Emory, Winthrop, William and Mary, Sweet Brier, Wesleyan, Spring Hill, R. M. W. C., the Universities of Florida, North and South Carolina, Virginia. About forty delegates were in attendance.

Before beginning the serious work of the convention a day was devoted to entertainment and to proving the claim of Charleston to be "the most historic city in the United States." A bus ride in the morning carried the visitors past the many colonial homes with artistic hand-wrought iron gates, and balconies, the ancient churches,

Continued on last page

DR. JARMAN SPEAKS IN CHAPEL PERIOD

One of the big events in College Week was the talk by Dr. Jarman on "Extra Curricula Activities in the Development of Personality."

In the course of the address Dr. Jarman brought out two big factors that the college and its instructors influence. The first was the big problem of developing personality through all activities, and the second was that the employment of teachers is not so difficult as their ability to develop latent qualities in individuals that will make for an interesting personality.

Dr. Jarman's address was extremely interesting and indeed should influence our girls and their interest in the College Week movement. The talk makes College Week doubly impressive and even more vital than before.

BAND CONCERT PLEASES

The concert given by the Bedford Band last Wednesday night in the auditorium was enjoyed immensely by the entire student body. We wish to take this opportunity to thank them for having been so kind as to stop and play for us.

THE DEAN'S LIST

The following girls have made the Dean's List for the winter term—

Martha Alice Anthony
Nannie Sue Anthony
Lillian Frances Bovell
Lucille Bowyer
Sarah Dinwiddie
Mary Lucille Graves
Emily G. McGavock
Harriet Barksdale Mason
Grace Browning Moran
Lucille Norman
Willie Alice Paris
Antionette Parker
Annie Crowder Pollard
Gertrude Pauline Richardson
Carolyn Perkins Roberts
Laura May Smith
Betty Guy Somerville
Ann Carrington Stump
Lucy Roberta Thompson
Anna Lenora Tucker
Mary Jane Vaden
Louise Dyer Whitlock
Linda Elizabeth Wilkinson
Mary Rose Wood

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS PRESENTS MISS BEDFORD

The Sophomore Class presented their class man in chapel on Saturday morning. Following the entrance of the senior class, came two sophomores, dressed in white and carrying a palette, immediately following them came the president with Miss Bedford, the other class officers and then the class; all were dressed in white. As soon as the student body was seated the class sang their song, and the class president presented Miss Bedford with a few very well-chosen and effective words. The class, having been standing throughout, followed this talk by a song to their class man.

Chicago's Finances Low at Present

Chicago's finances have long been sickly. Last year the treasury ran dry; payrolls looked papery; the city hall had to borrow $280,000,000 on future taxes. Before the city council last week Mayor "Big Bill" Thompson sweepingly vetoed a budget which would cut out many of the city employees. He proposed a budget greater by six million dollars than Chicago's estimated 1930 revenue. For nearly a week Chicago has been shy of 473 policemen, 224 firemen, 1,400 other kinds of city employees. Alarmed citizens predict dire results; uncollected garbage, unshovelled snow, unquenched fires, uncaught criminals. Underwriters spoke of higher insurance rates. To thicken the fiscal fog, however, city treasurer reported there was no money to meet the Jan. 20 payroll of $3,500,000.—Time.

Yale's Sacred Tradition Threatened With Extinction

Yale's most sacred tradition—the custom of making week-end journeys to various New England and New York women's colleges, is threatened with extinction. President James Rowland, of the university, heartily condemned the practice and stated that it might become neccessary to require the undergraduates to register twice each Sunday so as to prevent their leaving the campus.

It has not been learned whether this step is a result of complaints from the girls being visited or from those who are charge of them.—Emory Wheel.

Dr. Tibor Eckhardt of Hungary To Speak To Honor Societies

Date of January 27

A distinguished visitor to this college in the near future will be Dr. Tibor Eckhardt, one of the most prominent of the younger statesmen and journalists of Hungary, who has just arrived in this country. He will visit the International Relations Club of the leading colleges and universities of the United States, under auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

Dr. Eckhardt will speak at the State Teachers College on the evening of January 27. Dr. James E. Walmsley will preside at the meeting.

Dr. Tiber Eckhardt is one of the most prominent of the younger statesmen journalists of Hungary. He attended the Universities of Budapest, Berlin, and Paris, where he was graduated with high honors as Doctor of Law and Political Science. Although appointed as Assistant Professor of Law in the University of Budapest, he was unable to occupy the position because of service in the World War. During a part of the war he served as attache of the High Commissioner for Transylvania and, in 1918 after the outbreak of the revolution, he was elected commandant of the National Guard of his district. Uater he became one of the organizers of the Hungarian National Army.

Before the war he took an active part in the elaboration of the administrative reform law of Hungary, served as District Attorney in Transylvania from 1916-1918, and in 1922 actively entered the service of his government as Chief of the Department of Press in the State Department, and later for the Prime Minister. In this year, he was elected to Parliament ,and was known as one

Continued on last page

MASQUERADE BALL CLOSES COLLEGE WEEK

Wooden soldiers, gypsies, clowns and old-fashioned ladies, bad little boys and shy little girls, natives of Turkey, sailor lads and college shieks danced to the strains of the Hampden-Sydney Orchestra in the gym Saturday night. The occasion for this assemblage of gay representatives from the world of costume and human ingenuity was a Masquerade Dance given by the Athletic Association to the students and faculty of S. T. C. The gym was attractively and artistically decorated. Masks and shaded lights lent a mystic touch to the brilliant array. Crowds of spectators watched from the balcony.

After much deep consideration the judges presented costume prizes to: Elizabeth Walthall, in Chinese costume, for the most original; Martha Anne Laing and Anna Minter, in Spanish costume, prettiest; Cleo Quisenberry and Easter Souders, in pirate costume, cutest.

Late in the evening the large varicolored canopy suspended from the balcony was loosened and dozens of colored balloons fell to the floor.

The public sentiment of a genuine good time which pervaded the school, and even the morning "after the ball", vouches for the success of this enjoyable feature of S. T. C.'s calendar for 1930.

DR. TIBOR ECKHARDT

DR. TIBOR ECKHARDT of Hungary, who will speak here, January 27. His speech is being sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu.

HOUSE COUNCIL

To make College Week impressive and give a challenge to the Student Body was the aim of the program given in chapel Friday by the House Council. Truly the prophecy of honor was sound and logical about her college career in a different light and it served to make college mean twice as much because of its practical value. All the phases of college life were represented in the pageant and were impressed, as was the student body with the challenge that was given them.

RUFFNER LITERARY SOCIETY MET TUESDAY

The Ruffner Literary Society met Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the "little sitting room". A short program was rendered by members of the society on Lee's birthday.

Easter Souders gave a short talk on General Robert E. Lee. One of his outstanding characteristics was his haughtiness which was more or less dignity. People loved and honored him. He was a lover of fun and a peacemaker by nature. He had a few very intimate friends, one of them being Johnston.

This talk was followed by a reading, "The Shade of the Trees," by Mary Warren.

After the program Evelyn Stephenson told the members of the society about the three degrees of membership.

Girls who are interested in trying out for this society may hand their contribution to Ruth Oliver or put them in Room 52—new building.

Wake Forest Admitted to National Athletic Association

The admission of Wake Forest College to membershinp in the National Collegiate Athletic Association was announced January 17th by Professor J. G. Carroll, graduate manager of athletics. Pat Miller, head coach, was recently appointtd chairman of its third district, includng the states of Maryland, Virginia, North Carolina, and the District of Columba, and attended the annual meeting of the association held January 2 in New York City at the Hotel Astor, at which time the petition of Wake Forest College was presented.—Old Gold and Black.

BASKERVILLE AND WILSON WIN THREE DEBATES ON TRIP

Team From S. T. C. Won From Wake Forest, U. of Columbia and Wofford

DR. J. E. WALMSLEY ACCOMPANIES GIRLS

The most successful trip of either athletic or literary teams from the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, was determined by one of the Varsity Debate Teams composed of Frances Wilson and Mary Mann Baskerville when they won from two colleges and a university during the week of the 17-21. The colleges whom Frances and Mary Mann debated were Wake Forest and Wofford Colleges and the University of South Carolina at Columbia.

The query for debate was, Resolved: "That the Nations Should Adopt a Plan of Complete Disarmament Except Such Forces as are Needed for Police Purposes." The S. T. C. team upheld the negative side of the question.

This trip was considered most successful because our team defeated Wake Forest, whose team won the province championship last year and also defeated the team at Wofford College that came second in the province contest. University of South Carolina was the first of the three universities to be debated this year—the other two being the University of Pittsburg and the Northwestern University. The schedule had one vacant night because it was impossible to arrange a debate with orth Carolina State College whose team was defeated by Farmville State Teachers College last year.

Dr. Walmsley who is the faculty adviser of the Debate Club drove the girls through the country in his car. They left Farmville, Tuesday morning, January 17 at 11 o'clock but did not reach Wake Forest until 8 p. m.,

(Continued on page 3)

ONE-ACT PLAY GIVEN IN CHAPEL THURSDAY

The Student Council presented a one-act play in chapel, Thursday, January 16.

The setting of the first scene was laid in a room of the Lee home at the time before Virginia's secession.

The second scene took place in the same room but under modern conditions.

A comparison of the Lee family of yesterday and that of today was made, showing that the youth of today will do the right and honorable thing regardless of the penalty. As the saying goes, "To thine own self be true and it shall be as the night followeth the day, thou canst then be false to any man." was well spoken for these girls believed in the honor system.

DR. LANG TO SPEAK

Dr. Nat D. Lang, of Nashville, Tenn., who represents the Methodists will speak in chapel and at prayers the latter part of the week. Authorities have not been notiifed as to the exact date.

For those who desire conferences further notice will be given as to the arrangement for them.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

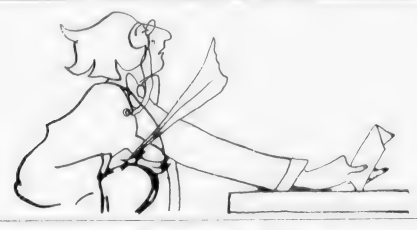
Subscription $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — LUCY THOMPSON, '30
Associate Editor — JESSIE SMTH, '31

Board of Editors

News Editor — LILLIAN BOVELL, '30
Literary Editor — LINDA WILKINSON, '30
Athletic Editor — MILDRED MADDREY, '31
World News Editor — GERTRUDE RICHARDSON, '30
Intercollegiate News Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — RACHEL ROYAL, '30
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — MAMIE HURT, '31
Humorous Editor — "BILLIE" PARIS, '30
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO



Reporters

MARIA WARREN, '32 — KATHLEEN WOODSON, '30
DOROTHY SNEDEGAR, '33
ANN STUMP, '30

Proof Reader — SARA BAKER, '31
Assistant Proof Reader — JESSIE WATKINS, '33

Managers

Business Manager — SARA McCORKLE, '30
Assistant Business Manager — PEARL JOHNSON, '32
Circulation Manager — MARTHA ANTHONY, '30
Assistant Circulation Manager — NANNIE SUE ANTHONY, '30

This Question of Honor

Our student body has just participated in a College Week during which time student honor was stressed and brought before its members. This seems to be a very fitting subject to be discussed and brought before the minds of students at any time, but especially now when colleges all over the United States are thinking about the same subject.

Student honor is not a quality that a student council alone should have or even merely a few members of the student body, but is that intangible something which everyone must possess if we are to derive any benefits from this much-to-be-desired way of living.

In the recent elections of the members of the student council at Arkansas College we quote the following from The Panther:

"A seat on the honor council carries with it considerable responsibility and should not be bestowed lightly on any person. Though the members do not have any more responsibility for the apprehending of violators of the honor code than the rest of the student body, they have to sit as a jury and declare the innocence or the guilt of the accused one. It is not desired by many students. It is hard on anyone to be called on to judge his associates, especially when a verdict of guilty from the council in nearly all cases means dismissal from school or a long period of probation."

Lynchburg College also realizes that the support of the student body is needed in any honor system as seen from the following quotation which appeared in a recent issue of The Critograph:

"Each man should make suggestions, if he sees fit, for the betterment of the government and should make every effort to aid in enforcing the constitution adopted. Each man must bear his share of responsibility if student government is to be a success."

When the support of the student body is not forthcoming there is but one result—failure. The University of Richmond is endeavoring to meet this situation at the present time. We quote from The Richmond Collegian:

"Admired and patterned after all over Virginia, the Richmond College Honor System, Monday morning, will either be declared an asset to the school or a folly of schoolboys. After eight years of smooth running, because a few students this year do not intend to be "mean enough" to report their comrades for slipping-up during tests, the Honor System is severely questioned."

The benefits one gains from living in a college community where the honor code is respected and lived up to are not temporary but lasting ones.

"Those colleges which use the Honor System, as a rule, believe that it is efficacious in instilling into students a love and respect for honest dealings one with the other; that it is a vital force in the building of character in students; and that it inculcates into the college youth strong and lasting principles of good citizenship that will serve him well in after-college days, when he has left the protecting influence of college professors and fellow-students, and the wholesome deterrent effect of student disapproval of shady conduct."

OVER THE TEACUPS

Say, kid, where're you rushing to? Is that all? Well, the laundry won't close fo' you get there, I'm sure. You can just put on the brakes and give me the honor of a few moments of your time.

Yes, you went, didn't you? My dear, it was all I could do to keep from pitching head-first down on the floor. It was just about the funniest thing I've ever seen. We were sitting at one end, right where we could see everything—and let me tell you, I didn't miss a play. Oh, I didn't care which side won—so I was perfectly satisfied with the score.

Weren't they funny looking? Those dresses that the cabinet wore—wonder where some of them came from? I had laughed about all I could over them, and then when Etta led her team on the court, I hardly saw how I could stand it! Those glasses! I wondered at first if they were trying to give us a description of "twenty years in the future."

Didn't Hatchett and Gurley make good water boys? And Julia Asher—my dear—that red bow! Poor Liz Taylor—if they hadn't fanted or been hurt in the game, she must have been when they carried her off. I hardly see how so many people could find room to take hold of her.

The star players? Why I hardly know. Blanche and A. J. did a lot to roll up the score for the Y. W. Didn't Grace Virginia make a good center? Eleanor Hogan and Rachel did their part toward scoring for the Council, too.

Wonder if Nancy Hudgins has found herself yet? Did you hear about it? Well, it seems that somebody asked her when she was going to turn professional or something like that, and she turned to "Big Laura" and asked her what position she had played. Guess she wanted to be prepared when some big team does come after her. It was all a scream!

Haven't you enjoyed it, though. I looked forward all along to College Week but it was a lot better than I'd even hoped it would be. Every bit of it was good, and I'm sure everybody got things to think about, and I know that the result of this thinking will make our own S. T. C. a better place to live in. This, you know, really should be our goal.

The dance Saturday night was fine. Didn't you go? Well,— I hardly thought you'd miss a thing like that. You wore a Dutch costume? Oh yes—I remember now. It's just hard to remember everybody 'cause there were so many. Wasn't it good, though? I hated to hear them start the W. & L. Swing 'cause I knew it meant the beginning of the end. I enjoyed it more than anything like it I've ever been to.

And say, did you hear about Dot Dudley? Honestly—she's the craziest girl! The other day at the table she asked somebody if they thought she'd die if she didn't eat anything but a piece of pineapple for supper. Then added, "I wouldn't mind getting fat if I'd just gain someplace where I'm not already fat." She surely is!

And let me tell you something else she said. Virginia Cox and two or three other sophs were singing their songs for presentation, you know some thing like, "We are the best of old S. T. C." Well, Dot piped up and said, "I'm from Missouri, you've gotta show me about this Sophomore-best business." She'd better watch out,—next thing she knows some Sophomore will be proving their ability to her.

Say, you'd better run along to the laundry, and meanwhile, I'll lend the library the honor and light of my presence.

Wanta dash down-town about five-thirty? Well, meet me at Joan.

OH YEAH!

Bad as he detested it, that gag was the last thing he heard after the door banged behind him and he stood on Joan's doorstep. For a fellow in Soapy's condition it was just the last straw. Oh yeah, he'd done his duty—but what was the use? Girls like Joan didn't appreciate such big brother stuff. No, of course, he wasn't what you call jealous, but, by gum, that new guy wasn't the right sort of a fellow for Joan to run around with. He'd stood it as long as he could and then he'd taken his chance, his first date with her in two weeks, to tell her what he thought about it. He reckoned maybe he had been a bit tactless. But who could help getting angry if your girl wore someone else's pin. Yessir! The little girl you had given your red apples to, taught to ride your bicycle and fire your rifle, whose tears you had dried a plenty times when tom-boy tricks made her cry, whose little fits of temper over play things you'd endured like a man, the girl you've always taken to parties and dances, the girl you hoped to marry some day. And he couldn't very well blame her for cooly throwing him out when he'd lost his temper. But he happened to know where that "Oh yeah" came from—that other guy's wit. Soapy had hated both the guy and the silly gag ever since the day he'd beaten him asking Joan to go driving. And he heard a cynical "Oh yeah" slip easily from that guy's lips as he had protested to Joan that she had promised to wait for him.

The week managed to go by somehow for Soapy. He'd kept pretty close to his law books. Even now as the orchestra tuned or thef big mid-winter hop he was deeply engrossed in law supposedly, but in Joan, really. If you have experienced Soapy's mood you know the effect of the 'phone bell in a still room.

"Lo"—Soapy, resignedly.

"Hello, Soapy"—Joan's voice.

"Hello"—Soapy, calmnly but oh, how his heart did pound.

"I'm coming to take you to the dance. Nice of me?"

"Oh, yeah?" Soapy, happy and almost unconscious.

"Oh yeah," Joan, assuredly.

A. D., '31

SUCH IS LIFE

Listening for the six o'clock bell! It rings; I jump out of bed and dress hurriedly. Quite unusual for an S. T. C. student, n'est-ce pas? But you see I'm doing my practice teaching this term. It's Monday morning; I've wasted time over the week-end; and now I must rush in order to finish some posters which I've got to have to illustrate geography effectively. No one else is up. A calmness pervades the whole building—a calmness such as is unbelievable in the home of nine hundred girls.

I work for an hour and a half on those posters. When the breakfast bell rings I snatch up my books and those precious posters. I shall leave them in the Reception Hall for convenience. The I make one grand rush for the dining room, only to find that my hunger will not yet be appeased. Did you ever see anything like the slowness with which those girls file in? They don't seem to realize that the amount of food I eat depends on how quickly they come in.

At last all of the girls are in. The bell taps and we sit down to breakfast. I eat so fast that I don't enjoy my food because I know that this will be my only real meal until supper. At eight o'clock by my watch I leave my table-mates still eating and rush out to get on the school bus. All the other girls who go out to Curdsville are already on the bus. Oh, goodness, I've forgotten those precious posters. The driver must wait for me to get them before starting our wonderful journey.

TWILIGHT

Yellow skies, orange sunset
Lavendar and purple blue—
Colors merging into dusk
Then Darkness.

J. S. S., '21

LIFE

I would not have the memories of our love
Ring in your heart always like broken bells—
For the tinkling strains of the broken melody
Must be replaced by the music of another.
Around the bits of the crushed dreams of life
The Dawn comes fresh from the Hand of God
Placing between each fragment
A bit of sun-tinted happiness.
Go on! Dear one.
The Valleys of understanding are wide
And the Hills of Fate unavoidable
I would not have you stop
To turn back to me.
Life is measured by time—
Go one; it is late.

K. W., '30

LIES

Smiling eyes
And tear-stained soul,
Smiling eyes—
What misery they can hold.

Laughing lips
And dying heart,
Laughing lips—
Heart and lips miles apart.

Happy sounds
From my tongue,
Happy sounds—
Tho hell has begun.

Merry songs
Reach others ears,
Merry songs—
Dispelling fears.

Down in the heart
And in the soul of me,
Hidden to the world forever
Lies the bitter ashes of memory.

I try to quench the tiny spark.
Some ashes cannot grow cold
Their smouldering heat kills my inner self,
What for me does life hold?

K. W., '30

MEMORIES OF YOU

I'm sorry I couldn't keep
The words you've spoken,
The songs you've sung;
They're fragments of eternity
And—you are gone.
And so I'm glad to have this pin
Worn where your fingers placed it,
For that's the only link that's left
To bind my thoughts to you.

M. H., '31

MASQUERADE

Outside I see the stately trees
Have fringed their sable gowns with silver
And some have donned a lacy scarf—
They're dressed as for a party.
The same path leads to me from you,
But it's masquerading, too.
Here the bare ground plainly shows,
But one step on is slick with ice.
Oh, life itself is a masquerade
And we change our costumes often.
So a year from now I shall not regret
That your path leads not to me,
For I shall have chosen another part
Than playing the role of your sweetheart.

M. H., '30

SOCIETY

Ruth Ballinger and Carolyn Roberts spent the week-end in Amelia.

Elizabeth Hurt and Miss Camper spent Sunday and Monday in Salem.

Lucy Dortch, Mildred Field Elmore, Alice Hardaway, Louise Ellis and Margaret Gathright, attended the dances at R. M. C., Ashland last week-end.

Blanche Murrell, Loulie Milner, Katherine Royster, Mary Clare Booth, Jacque Lee, Frances Hutchins & Lela Germany spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Dot Ritchie spent the week-end at her home in Petersburg.

Emma Lou Pulliam spent last week-end at home in Richmond on account of illness.

Dot Anderson spent the week-end at her home in Danville.

Lillian Womack had as her guests at her home in Keysville, last week-end, Margaret Lester, Helen Inskeep, and Violet Miller.

Virginia Neblett spent the week-end in Victoria.

Mary Ann Revis spent the week-end in McKenny.

Sarah Wilson spent the week-end at her home in Roanoke.

Mary Ellen Cato, Elsie Maclauren, Virginia and Katherine Marchant and Myra Costen attended the dances at Fork Union Military Academy last week-end.

Masy Farmer spent the week-end in Burkeville.

New business managers usually assume their duties January 1st. However, Warren D. Bowman, Jr., did not accept his office until January 4th. It is understood he is fulfilling well his responsibility. The student body wishes for him success throughout his life.

WILSON & BASKERVILLE WIN THREE DEBATES ON SOUTHERN TRIP

(Continue From Page One)

because of car trouble. The debate was scheduled at 8:30 p. m.

The Wake Forest team was composed of Messrs. Wade Bostick and Archie Carrol. The Farmville team won with the decision of the judges in their favor of 2 to 1. After the debate Dr. Walmsley and the girls attended an informal party given in school for the debators.

The next morning the trip was continued though the day was rainy which resulted in many muddy detours. They arrived in Columbia about 5 p. m. The girls were entertained in the women's dormitory.

The affirmative side of the question was defended here by Misses Doris Jackson and Vera Jones. This decision was even more flattering than the one of the evening before for it was a victory of 3—0 for the Farmville team.

The S. T. C. debaters spent two nights in Columbia. They were entertained by the girls and boys of the university who carried them to teas and luncheons as well as sight-seeing.

Friday morning, January 30, again Frances, Mary Mann, and Dr. Walmsley set out for another college—and victory. They arrived in Spartanburg around 3:30 p. m. and had time for sight-seeing before the debate which was scheduled at 7:15 p. m. on the account of a basket ball game later on in the evening.

The Wofford debaters were Messrs. William L. Watson and Bernard Smith. The debate was held in the Literary Society hall which was well filled with an appreciatve audience. Our team again 'brought home the bacon" with a score of 2—1 decision of the judges.

Our team spent the night in the home of one of the professors. At each place comment was made on the organization and thoroughness of the debates and promptness and complete ness of rebuttals.

Dr. Walmsley, Frances and Mary Mann speak of a very enjoyable trip, but the outstanding adjective needed in this case is "successful," a most successful trip.

HONOR ROLL STUDENTS FALL QUARTER, 1929

Seniors—Martha Alice Anthony, Nannie Sue Anthony, Elizabeth Blanton, Lillian Bovell, Mary Ollie Bowen, Lucille Bowyer, Elouise Davis, Mary Lucille Graves, Roberta Alice Hamner, Janice Harper, Mary W. Hendricks, Eleanor Hogan, Mabel Virginia Holland, Annie Elizabeth Hurt, Margaret J. Leonard, Sarah McCorkle, Emily McGavock, Henrietta Marshall, Harriet Mason, Grace Moran, Ava Virginia Morriss, Mary Elizabeth Newton, Lucile Norman, Ruth Esther Owen, Willie Alice Paris, Annie C. Pollard, Gertrude P. Richardson, Carolyn P. Roberts, Laura May Smith, Betty Somerville, Ann C. Stump, Nellie Talley, Lucy R. Thompson, Evelyn Traylor, Mary Jane Vaden, Carolyn M. Watts, Louise Whitlock, Linda Wilkerson, Frances Anne Wilson, Mary Rose Wood, Dorothy Worsham.

Juniors—Mary Elizabeth Anderson, Frances Armentrout, Laverna Bayne, Ella M. Carroll, Mary Ellen Cato, Carolyn Cogbill, Catherine Diehl, Sarah Dinwiddie, Ann Clinton Drew, Virginia Elizabeth Dutton, Martha L. Eary, Margaret Teel Faris, Claudia Fleming, Susie Vann Floyd, Alma Garlick, M. Pauline Gibb, Beatrice Augusta Goode, Mabel P. Gregory, A. Winifred Howell, Elizabeth Hunter, Clara Mamie Hurt, Mildred B. Jones, Janet Mildred Maddrey, Margaret March, Margaret Nuttall, Antoinette Parker, Nellie Lee Putney, Elsie Mae Roberts, Mary Kathlene Rucker, Laura Northern Smith, Elizabeth Mae Taylor, Jennie Elizabeth Temple, Evelyn Wells West.

Sophomores — Evelyn Virginia Ameen, Dorothy Biggs, Laura Louise Cooper, Henrietta Cornwell, Verna Virginia Cox, Sue Baylis Cross, Gwendoline Daniel, Annie May Davis, Mary Eleanor Davis, Virginia Odelle Dressler, Helen Irene Dunkley, Mary Louise Elliott, Sally Margaret Elliott, Julia A. Feagans, Margaret Ruth Fisher, Ruth Christine Floyd, Elise Foster, Annie Elizabeth Gee, Hazel Elizabeth Halloway, Alice Harrison, Ruth Simpson Hart, Louise Hilton, Sara K. Hubard, Nancy W. Hudgins, Charlotte Hutchins, Dorothy Kathleen Jones, Emily Louise Kesler, Mamie Estelle Lewis, Bessie H. Lynch, Martha A. MacKenzie, Nannie Gwendoline Mears, L. Margaret Mecum, Katerine Adele Nichols, R. Bruce Nicholson, Mary Virginia Old, Hazel Kathleen Peters, Mary Augusta Priest, Elizabeth Corinne Rawls, Anne Watkins Rice, Doris Virginia Robertson, Mary Ellen Saunders, Martha von Schilling, Louise Elizabeth Seay, Marian Seay, Elizabeth Shackleton, Esma Shield, Easter M. Souders, Margaret Stiff, Dorothy Thompson, Beatrice Tittsworth, Rosalyn Virginia Topping, Lucille Virginia Transou, Ida Trolan, Thelma Waller, Mabel Virginia Wells, Rosa Mae Williams. Martha Katherine Woodson, Louise Upton Woodson, Anne Luck Wrenn.

Freshmen—Frances Elizabeth Armistead, Verna Mae Barr, Theodosia Mary Beacham, Elizabeth Winston Cobb, Carrie H. DeShazo, Louise Johnson Ellis, Dorothy Ford, Hattie Jeanette Gilliam, Sarah Jones, Anne Janet Johnson, Annie uirginia Johnson, Esther Florence Kutz, Melissa Lynch, Margie MscManum, Frances Eva Martin, Stuart Quaintance, Mary Thomas Rawls, Gay Athena Richardson, Sarah Salisbury, Mary Elizabeth Swift, Wilma Evelyn Williams, Ann Foster Wingo, Lillian Womack.

Things seem to have reached a pretty state at the University of West Virginia. Elopments have become so alarmingly frequent at this seat of learning that the faculty has made a new ruling that no undergraduate will be permitted to marry without the consent of both parents. Violations of this rule will be punished by dismissal from the said institution. No danger of any such carryings on between Richmond College and the Convent across the way.—The Richmond Collegian.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

The Sophist

Th ideal college girl is good looking—but not so good looking that you have too much competition; studious—not too studious to make her a boner or a grind, but studious enough to always have her lessons so that she can tell you what it is all about, quickly, before class; fast—but not so fast that she will incur the ire of the old maids composing the vigilants' morals committee; clever—but not so clever that she outshines you; witty—but not so witty that she is always cracking jokes on you; a good dancer—but not such a good dancer that she is always getting tagged at a dance; a dramatic star—but not such a star that she is always given the love scenes with the leading man; a teachers' pet—not so much that she will get a bad name but enough to get you some "pull" with them;—in other words just nice enough for you—but not too nice.—The Breeze.

We never knew before that Japanese women at the University of Tokio are not regarded as students and they do not receive credit for their work. Needless to say they are fighting hard for recognition. So the U. S. isn't the only country where there ain't no justice.—The Richmond Collegian.

John Garland Pollard, of Williamsburg, stood in the rain January 15 to take oath of office to become Governor of Virginia. Forced inside on account of the downpour he delivered his inauguration address in which he called on the State officials to join in strict law observance and stressed the need of election law reforms and better educational facilities.

CANADA DRUG CO.

Next to Baldwin's Store

Come to us for your cosmetics and STATIONERY

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

DRESS SALE

$6.95—$24.50

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

Quality—Price—Service

Come in and get acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?

Go Across the Street

GILLIAM'S

FOR EATS

OF ALL KINDS

FALL SHOWING OF

HATS

THE HAT SHOPPE

Mrs. H. H. Hunt

THIRD STREET

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE

Next to the Theatre

Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies

MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Falconer Gift Shop

Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery Engraving

COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency (Fresh films)

Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)

COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S

is headquarters for the best SANDWICHES AND DRINKS in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

Work done while you wait with First Class Materials

110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS

Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop

323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus

G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP

Will fix your shoes

WHILE YOU WAIT

Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS

TAILORING CLEANING PRESSING

Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

Please Accept Our Wishes for a

HAPPPY & PROSPEROUS NEW YEAR

SPECIALS FOR THURSDAY, JAN. 8, FRIDAY, JANUARY 9 and SATURDAY, JAN. 10.

$7.95 Silhouettes, all colors & sizes	$4.98
$14.95 Silhouettes, just received	$9.75
Allan "A" and Onyx Hose, 1.65 values, pair	$1.00

All $6.00 Shoes, $3.85; See them in the window. Spread the glad news—1-2 off all coats and regular stock dresses!!

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Farmville's Shopping Center

JOKES

Doris Walton: "Let's make whoopee!"

Swann: "Too much trouble; let's buy it."—Carolina Buccaneer.

Honest Snooty Loving ran up to an elderly lady and said to her, "Hey, madam, did you lose a wallet?"

"Why, yes, friend, I believe I did." answered the older one, before she even examind her purse. "Why, did you find it?"

"No," responded Snooty cheerfully. "I just wanted to see how many lost theirs. You're the thirty-first today." —Black and Blue Jay.

Anthropology Professor: "And to what cause may be attributed the shortened posture of many specimens of genus homo?"

Ella Simms: "The rumble seat."

Sara McCorkle: "Don't you go around with Halo any more?"

Lucille N.: "No, he's over my head."

Freshman Ellis: "Who's this Mackaye fellow everybody used to sing about?" '

Sophisticated Senior: "Eh?"

Ellis: "Surely you've heard the song, "She's the sweetheart of Sig Mackaye."

Billy Collegiate says that his girl is too good to be true.

Joe College counters with the nifty crack that he knows about four bimbos that she is true to right now."—U. ofS. Calif. Wampus.

Latin Prof.: "Miss Covington, kindly decline the noun homo."

Alice C.: "I decline with pleasure."

Clara Norfleet: "Bad day for the race, isn't it?"

Margaret Ricketts: "What race?"

Clara: "The white race."

H.-S. boy: "What is it that has a tail, four legs, and barks?"

Smart S. T. C.: "A dog."

Witty Hampden-Sydney: "Aw, somebody told you."

Distressed Mother: "I got a letter from the college that says our Nellie's been stealin'."

Distressel Mother: "Says she's been takin' home economics."

Allie Kae: "Why does the African woofle bird fly backward?"

Emmy Lou: "Dunno."

Allie Kae: "Is doesn't give a dog gone where it's going; it wants to know where it's been. Heh! heh!"

Bad boy: "Let's go and get that way tonight, hey?"

Arnie: "Can't I'm minding the baby."

B. Boy: "What! Are you and Nan married?"

Arnie: "No, but she made me give up drinking, and I'm minding her."—Minn. Ski-U-Mah.

Gordon: "My, how fast your heart is beating. It sounds like a drum."

Martha S.: "Yes, that's the call to arms."

Our idea of a man truly going down in defeat is one with falling arches.

Miss Hiner: "Compare the adjective sick, Louise."

Louise (responding quickly), "Sick, ill, dead."

STUDENT GOVERNMENT VERSUS Y. W. C. A.

Scene: Battlefield (Gym.)

Time: 8:00 o'clock, Wednesday night

Action: The door bursts open,—out frolics the Y. W. in all innocence likewise confidence of victory.

Costume: Ribbons, dresses and winter bloomers.

Fifteen minutes later: A long row of bespectacled ladies in long shirts whom we immediately recognize as our student government . . Roll Call . . . . Minutes. Student government doffs skirts and dignity. On with the fight! Wild rushing about! Then such passing! Such touchdowns—(Oh! My error, this is basket ball—well, how was I to—). Who'd have exepcted such nonchalant goal tossing from Blanche Murrell. And Libby, Taylor and Scott bid fair to make the Army team. Grace Virginia Woodhouse (due undoubtedly to these long wearing Tuesday night sessions) co-lapses on the floor! Water-boy Asher with the lemon! Air! Give the girl air! Water-boy Asher with the window stick!

Iler blows many whistles—Foul on Government—tackling. Likewise on Y. W.—pushing from behind. Whistles, shrieks of mirth and ethusiasm—keep your eye on the ball — final whistle.

Tie: 12-12.

MISS TALIAFERRO ATTENDS CONVENTION

Continued from page one

court house, slave market, the parks with their statues of famous Carolinians, Magnolia Cemtery with its thousand year old oaks and many-colored magnolia plants blossoming in January.

In the afternoon the Charleston Chamber of Commerce provided a boat and a guide for a visit to Fort Sumter —the water was too rough to allow a landing at Fort Moultrie. Past and present methods of warfare were sharply contrasted.

At night the secretary of the alumni of Citadel, "the West Point of the South," entertained the guests at an informal and bounteous dinner in the mess hall, at which time John McKee, president of American Alumni Councile, spoke on "Tendencies in Alumni Work." At the close of the dinner tickets were provided for a basket ball game getween the cadets and Wofford school, the former winning by excellent team work.

FREDERICKSBURG PLANS EVENTS OF INTEREST

Fredericksburg, Va.—Four events of National interest are scheduled by the Robert E. Lee Memorial Foundation as part of the year's activities at Stratford Hall, which is to be made a shrine in memory of General Robert E. Lee. The first was the meeting Sunday, January 19, in the birth chamber of Stratford of officials of the Foundation, when announcements was made as to the sums raised in various states ofr the purchase of the old Lee estate. A summary was given of the result of the campaign for funds in Virginia, which began January 1 and closed January 18. On January 20 a large payment was paid on the purchase price of Stratford, which passed into the hands of the Foundation last July.

From April 27 to May 3 a garden party will be held at Stratford commemorating the engagement almost a century and a half ago of Lighthorse Harry Lee to Anne Carter of Shirley. The garden clubs of Virginia will take a leading part in this party and garden clubs of other states will be asked to participate. It is thought that thousands will visit the place at this time. The garden party will be interesting and colorful.

July 4 will be devoted to honoring the memory of Richard Henry Lee and Francis Lightfoot Lee, statesmen and signers of the declaration of Independence. At this time there will be pretentious celebration with a pageant and other events.

The National Memorial service in honor of General Robert E Lee will occur annually and this year will take place at Stratford Sunday, Oct. 12, the public being invited. The second annual meeting of the board of directors of the Foundation will be held at this time, from October 13 to 18.

LAST CALL FOR VIRGINIAN WRITE-UPS

All write-ups for the Virginian must be in Frances Wilson's mail-box by Saturday of this week. Please attend to this at once, giving your name, address and a list of the organizations to which you belong.

Thank you

TACT, TACKS, AND TAXES

(U. S. Colonial history a la Miss Tucker)

"The light of liberty in us,
Why England couldn't dim it!
(The way our colonies behaved
Was honestly the limit!)

Like an autocrat they tried to pass
Each Navigation Act,
But couldn't make them work because
She hadn't any tact.

She said in this new land of ours
We kicked up too much fuss—
And if she ever got the time
She'd come and sit on us!

For fifty years she'd let us go,
And so the laws grew lax;—
When England came to "sit," why we
Were ready with the tacks!

And England, naturally, got hurt;
This added to our care
For she added to our taxes—
Even Quakers learned to swear!"
etc., etc., ete.

The causes of the Revolution:—
These are what the facts is,
In my poor, humble, feeble thought—
No tact, some tacts, more taxes!

L'envoi

If the deadness of Colonial deeds
Has been to you a mystery,
Attend Miss Tucker's class today
For lively-stepping history!

At the Eaco Theatre -- Week, Jan. 27-Feb. 1

MON. & TUES. — MEXICALI ROSE with Barbara Stanwyck and Sam Hardy. The story of a heartless coquette who cast her life on the wheel of fate—and lost. A drama of love, hate, revenge! Heart-stirring. soul-stirring. The vivid story of a flaming, fascinating, fiery girl who played with the lives of two men and lost. She was provocative—tantalizing, heartless, gay, reckless, passionate. A character you will love to hate. Also news reel, Silly Symphony and Screen Snapshots.

Added attraction—As a added attraction with this picture, on Tuesday night, THE BAND BOX SHOPPE located in the Weyanoke Hotel will present a Fashion Show, modeled by pretty girls showing a complete line of spring apparel for all occasions.

WED. & THURS.—DANCE HALL with Olivt Borden and Arthur Lake. By the author of "Bad Girl," "Loose Ladies", and "Kept"—Vinar Delmar whose stories have created a sesation in Liberty Magazine. An all-talking, all muscal dramat—unsparingly, yet tenderly human—Miss Delmar flings her terrific genius against the menacing Gods of pleasure. A story woven around the beautiful love of a boy for a little "hostess" in a dance hall. See a new Olive Borden (a Virginia girl) in golde resses for the first time. Also talkin gcomedy.

FRI. & SAT.—SO THIS IS COLLEGE, with Elliott Nugent, Robert Montgomery, Sally Starr and Cliff Edwards, in an all-talking, musical story of college life. The management unhesitatingly recommends this as one of the greatest college pictures ever produced; with ts yooth, gayetyi, the songs and cheers and loves of college life—one of the liveliest entertainments that has come to the talking-singing screen. Half a dozen big song hits, including "College Capers" which will set the whole town singing and stepping. Join the party! It's immense! Get set for your happiest experience in months of picture-going. Co-ed cuties! Campus cut-ups! Songs galore, merry high-jinks! Thrills of football! Thrills of boy-and-girl love affairs! It's young—its fast and funny every miute. It's something to cheer about! Also news reel and talking comedy.

DR. TIBOR ECKHARDT OF HUNGARY TO SPEAK TO HONOR SOCIETIES

(Continue From Page One)

of the most brilliant speakers in this body. On the return of King Charles IV. to Hungary, and the attempt to re-establish the Hapsburgs upon the Hungarian throne, he vigorously protested, and became the leader of the Independent National Party.

The climax of his political career came with his appointment as Minister of the Interior, and later as chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations. Many times during the trying past war period of reconstruction, Dr. Eckhardt had charge of important, economic and commercial negotiations for the Hungarian government in foreign countries and in this field he is considered an outstanding authority.

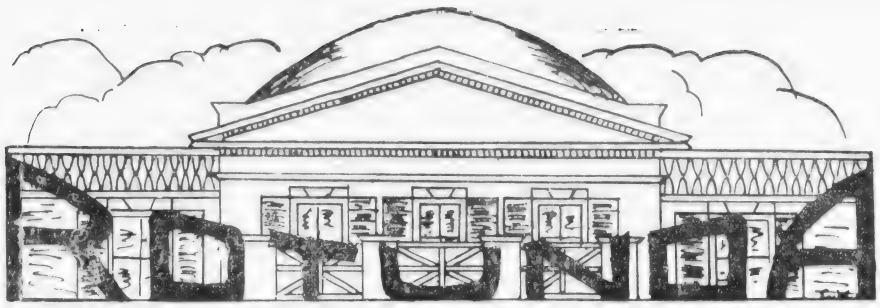
Dr. Eckhardt is also well-known as a publicist, for he has written in many of the leading papers of Hungary. Among the most important books he has written are: "The Essence of Nationalism"; "Hungarian Legislation and National Minorities," "The Attempted Return of King Charles IV."

The subject upon which he will speak while in Farmville will be: "Nationalism and National Minorities."

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony
Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S
DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery
AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Farmville - - - - Va.



McIntosh's Drug Store
New State Teachers College
STATIONERY
Farmville - - - - Va.

FEATURE THIS WEEK
COLLEGE THEME TABLETS
3 For 25c
SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES
MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

BALDWIN'S
Headquarters for
BEAUTIFUL HOSIERY
All new shades—French or Pointed Heels
$1 $1.35 $1.50 $1.95

NEW SILK DRESSES
$7.95
new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate sign and vivid in color. he jewelry here is typical of this new fashion, Paris creations and dictated by fashion authorities.
—in the Basement—
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

H.-S. Basketball Game Here Saturday Night!

Wa'ch for "The Pride of Pasadena" Come All!

Volume X THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1929 No. 17

MR. NAT G. LONG GAVE SERIES OF EXCELLENT TALKS THE PAST WEEK

Represents Southern Methodist Episcopal Church Work

PREACHED AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Mr. Nat G. Long, who represents the Southern Methodist Episcopal Church, gave a series of talks here last week from Friday, January 24 through Sunday, January 26. He spoke at chapel time, prayers, cabinet meeting and gave the Sunday morning address in the Methodist Church.

Mr. Long visits a great number of colleges over this country and carries the clarion call. Some of his messages were of intense interest to this student body. He said, "We have each to determine whether this world is an arena where we fight to get what we can for ourselves, or a field of honor where we give all we can for our fellowmen." Wilfred T. Grenfell.

His text was taken from Sir Harry Lauder, the comedian who believed that the things that make life worthwhile are the home, work, neighbors over the back-fence, and God. A home is not a real home without God. He also said that one-sixth of our marriages end in divorce which means that this trouble must be solved by the college men and women of today. They must give and be the types of persons who need something bigger than self. After all home is the biggest link and we need to make that link most worthwhile.

On Saturday morning at chapel time Mr. Lang used as his text a statement of David, "Our daughters should be the cornerstones of the past polished after the similtude of a palace. He showed why a woman must be honest, pure and unselfish to answer the prayer of David. He showed that character is the strongest thing in life. Our women must follow the

(Continued on page 3)

OPEN CABINET MEETING SATURDAY

The regular open cabinet meeting was held last Saturday afternoon in the Y. W. reception room. The devotionals were led by Mr. Nat G. Long.

The chairman of each committee gave her report for the month. The business of the cabinet was discussed.

After the business matters were closed tea was served by Allie Kae Libby and her group.

"TWILIGHT SINGERS" GIVE CONCERT

The "Twilight Singers", a male quartet from the Lynchburg Seminary for negroes gave a concert in the college auditorium last Friday evening. This concert was sponsored by the Lions Club of this town. The singers presented their numbers in groups, the first consisting of hymns, the second of lullabies, the third ditties and the last some famous negro spirituals. Everyone was greatly pleased with every number, and as an encore the quartet sang a favorite—"The Pagan Love Song."

A member of the administration of the Seminary made a talk in which he gave some very interesting facts about the work carried on by this institution, which attempts to develop leaders of the negro race.

Those who were unable to hear both the concert and talk missed a real treat.

MISSION GROUP IS ACTIVE ORGANIZATION

Sunday afternoon of the nineteenth four of the Mission Group girls: Lucille Bridgeman, Annie Lee Bowden, Eleanor Davis, and Alice Harrison, with Mrs. Frank Crawford, drove to Blackstone on deputation work for the Student Volunteer Movement. Bud Talbot, Lloyd Arehart, and Sartell from the Hampden-Sydney volunteer group went down the night before and talked at the school.

Sunday night both groups took charge of the evening service of the Blackstone Presbyterian Church. Lloyd Arehart gave a missionary devotional; Sartell talked on the "Scope of Foreign Missions." Mrs. Crawford discussed the needs and conditions of medical missions in China, which Bird Talbot followed up with a talk on the evangelistic and educational needs there. Alice Harrison gave a brief history of the Student Volunteer Movement, its organization, and purpose. The S. T. C. girls sang a quartet, "How Long Must They Wait?", and the program was concluded with prayer and the Mizpah benediction.

It is the purpose of these two groups, before school closes, to present the foreign mission cause and its needs to as many colleges, high schools, and young people's societies as possible within a radius of fifty miles.

SENIOR CLASS TO GIVE "THE PRIDE OF PASADENA."

Hampden-Sydney Orchestra to Accompany the Dances and Songs

"The Pride of Pasadena" will be presented by the Senior Class Wednesday, February 5.

This will be a delightful comedy, with Lela Germany playing the part of the attractive Edith Pride and Etta Marshall as Billy Brentwood our handsome hero, who with their friends and family furnish much entertainment. Lela and Etta are supported by quite an unusual cast:

Mrs. Pride, Edith's mother whose ambition is to be a highlight in society ..... Blanche Murrell

Mr. Pride, Edith's hen-pecked father ..... Frances Davis

Miss Pringle, Mrs. Pride's secretary ..... Florence Booten

Count Chilbeano, a foreigner who desires a pretty American wife ..... Lillian Bovell

James McGlue, a wide-awake detective ..... Billy Paris

Helen, Edith's Friend ..... Lucy Dortch

Harry, Billy's college friend ..... Eleanor Hogan

Aside from the excellent cast, "The Pride of Pasadena" promises to be the most unusual show of the year, because of its many modern songs and dances, accompanied by the Hampden-Sydney orchestra.

Dr. Walmsley Resigns As Debate Club Coach

At the Debate Club meeting last Thursday evening, the members were very distressed to have to accept Dr. Walmsley's resignation as coach. He found it necessary to give up this work due to ill health. His resignation came as a complete surprise and shock to most of the club members and everyone present expressed deep regret.

We wish to take this opportunity to state that Dr. Walmsley will be sadly missed by all the girls who are at all interested in this work and especially by those of us who have worked with him on the college debate teams. We have learned to look toward him as a never failing friend as well as a most able guide and coach in our work. It is this friend who has always given us a helping hand when we were discouraged and a push when we were lazy, that we will miss even more than the coach because the later office can be filled, and filled very successfully we have no doubt. Not that we have completely lost our friend, of course, such is not the case, but we have lost the meeting ground; the thing which we had in common with him; we have lost him in this line.

We feel that to Dr. Walmsley we owe every success which this college has known for quite a few years in the field of public speaking and debating, and judging from the late southern tour, this success has been marked. We want to express our deepest gratitude and affection for him who has labored so faithfully for us.

SPRAGUE PLAYERS TO PRESENT TWO PLAYS AT STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE

Herbert Sprague Will Play the Leading Roles Supported By Six Actors

DATE FOR PLAYERS SET AT JANUARY 30

Herbert Sprague and six other acting people will present two plays—"Back Home" and "The Rivals" Thursday afternoon and night in the college auditorium.

"Back Home" is a comedy in three acts, founded on "Back Home" stories by Irvin Cobb, published in the Saturday Evening Post. The scene is laid in Waynesville, Georgia. Mr. Sprague appears in the role of "Judge Priest," a lovable old man who has held the office of circuit court judge for 35 years. Nash, the commonwealth's attorney, is seeking the judgeship and endeavors to strengthen his case by indicting and attempting to convict young Robert Carter, a member of the Anti-Child Labor League. The story becomes complicated when Sally Priest, the judge's daughter, falls in love with Carter. The humor of the play centers around Sara Ann Barbee, the village postmistress, and Jeff Davis Poindexter, a colored gentleman. "Back Home" promises to be wholesome and humorous.

In "The Rivals", Mr. Sprague plays the part of "Bob Ackers," a character which has been made famous by Joseph Jefferson and other well-known actors. This play is a comedy and has proved highly amusing to the enthusiastic audiences that it has been played before.

The Sprague Players have been received with enthusiasm in every city in which they have performed. Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Science says of them: "The Sprague Players gave us two capital performances which were greatly enjoyed by our audiences

Continued on last page

FRESHMAN CLASS TO EDIT NEXT ISSUE OF ROTUNDA

Beginning with the Freshman issue of The Rotunda, which will appear next week, the various classes will publish their issues of the college weekly. The classes will publish their papers in the following order: Freshman, Sophomore, Junior and Senior.

The class issues of the paper will be submitted to a committee composed of nine faculty members who will select the best issue, which will be announced at the close of the contest.

Martha Moore is editor of the Freshman issue. She has had experience at her high school paper, and the Freshman class felt confident that Martha was the best member of its class to get out the Freshman issue. The student body is looking forward with interest to the first class issue, which will appear on February 5.

DR. ECKHARDT SPEAKS TO FACULTY & STUDENTS

The faculty and honor societies were delightfully entertained with a lecture by Dr. Eckhardt, of Hungary, on "Nationalism and National Minorities." The lecture was given in the Student Building lounge Monday night.

Dr. Eckhardt told his audience of the troubles of national minorities in Central Europe, and the influence of them on international peace. International peace, good will and progress can only come to these European countries when they have been able to adjust their own problems and settle their affairs in a way satisfactory to their own economic and social needs. Disturbances and ill feeling will not cease when peoples of higher cultures are ruled by peoples of lower cultures. He suggested that the League of Nations could be a great force in helping to solve these problems.

After the lecture, a social meeting was held, at which Pi Gamma Mu acted as hostess.

Dr. Eckhardt also spoke to the students at chapel on Tuesday morning.

INTELLIGENCE TESTS CONDUCTED AT COLUMBIA

Intelligence tests conducted at Columbia University reveal the fact that each year's freshmen class is brighter than its predecessor. Columbia claims the honor of having the most intelligent freshman class in the country this year. We dare not dispute them, for since one of our rats has deigned to fall for a coed, we fear there is little hope.—The Va. Tech.

TIMELY SUBJECT IS DISCUSSED BY MISS WHEELER WEDNESDAY EVENING

Miss Wheeler discussed last Wednesday night for the benefit of our students the question of correct etiquette during Lyceum numbers and other entertainments given in the auditorium.

So often we embarrass or annoy the actors and entertainers through mistaken kindness on the part of the audience. Miss Wheeler told of an amusing incident which occurred at a recital given by a foreigner who had not been in America very long. The audience was charmed with his performance and applauded vigorously whenever he stopped playing even for a second. Becoming exasperated the foreigner finally turned to the audience and said: "In the country from where I come the people do not make this noise of slapping the hands together, and I will appreciate very much if you will not slap the hands any more." The little speech delighted the audience whereupon they applauded most heartily.

Miss Wheeler very tactfully suggested that we wait for someone who really knows when to applaud to lead us in showing our appreciation. She complimented the student body very highly on the behavior at the recent dramatic club production.

LARGE NUMBER ATTEND EXCELLENT FRESHMAN SING SATURDAY NIGHT

The auditorium was packed with eager watchers as the curtains parted, revealing the opening charms of the revue of revues. Broadway chorus girls were rivaled by S. T. C. students whose clever costumes and tricky dance steps merited them much applause.

The show had nearly as many numbers as the Hollywood Revue—each one bringing more laughs and claps than the last. Particularly well done was the school room scene. (Those of us who have taught can appreciate it more.) The student body was surprised to learn that they had a successor to Charlie King, in the person of Frances Potts. (She makes a most charming man.) Her song and dance act was enhanced by a bevy of beautiful babies dressed in suit each month in the year.

Another scene deserves mention—the doll dance. The dollies were a little out of step, and Jacque Lee lost her hair ribbon, but we can forgive that, since it made it all the more laughable.

Although the show was well attended, let's make it 100 per cent next time, and give the little girls a great big hand!

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — LUCY THOMPSON, '30
Associate Editor — JESSIE SMTH, '31

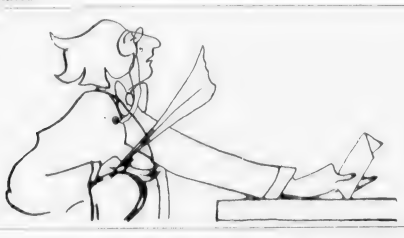
Board of Editors

News Editor — LILLIAN BOVELL, '30
Literary Editor — LINDA WILKINSON, '30
Athletic Editor — MILDRED MADDREY, '31
World News Editor — GERTRUDE RICHARDSON, '30
Intercollegiate News Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — RACHEL ROYAL, '30
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — MAMIE HURT, '31
Humorous Editor — "BILLIE" PARIS, '30
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

MARIA WARREN, '32 KATHLEEN WOODSON, '30
DOROTHY SNEDEGAR, '33
ANNIE DENIT, '31
ANN STUMP, '30

Proof Reader — SARA BAKER, '31
Assistant Proof Reader — JESSIE WATKINS, '33



Managers

Business Manager — SARA McCORKLE, '30
Assistant Business Manager — PEARL JOHNSON, '32
Circulation Manager — MARTHA ANTHONY, '30
Assistant Circulation Manager — NANNIE SUE ANTHONY, '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Our Individual Selves.

We, royal use, hear a lot about things which we unconsciously condemn by our negligence to the place where all misunderstood things go. They just do not seem to apply directly to us so we let them alone. Perhaps they come back to mind with a litle force when we hear about them again in student body meetings. We still royal, to say to ourselves, "I did that, too, but she can't be talking to me." And so in this spirit of a "mild offender" we go on at S. T. C. In our frank way we admit that it is human nature and a hard thing to overcome. But others see and follow the same line of reasoning.

Whatever else we may say about the man who once said that we cast our largest shadow directly around us, we admit that he was a philosopher. We do not have the greatest influence upon those directly around us, oftimes unconsciously. But when we, still in its most royal use, analyze ourselves we find a great deal of room for improvement, a whole lot to overcome, and a lot of those petty things to remedy if we would have a shadow which casts a really good influence over our college neighbors.

Conscientious self-analysis will show us the truth about ourselves, and we, still royal to the nth degree, will agree that before we can stake a claim to a title of a "good student body" we will have to begin with the law abidedness and influence of our individual selves.

A. D.

Education or Intellect?

Education had always struck me as being something one is able to acquire, to achieve by hard work and an open mind. Intellect is more intangible. It may be the prolonged result of heredity. Intellect may be compared to precious metals in their rough state, probably, but the precious part is really there and that—that is what counts.

The little Polish girl who entered a contest to give the clearest difference between education and intellect won the contest with the following statement, "Education is someone else's thinks, but intellect is one's own thinks!"

OVER THE TEACUPS

Where am I going? Nowhere. Where can I go in such weather as this? Have you ever seen anything to equal it? It rains so much here that we'll soon be able to say, "I'll go down town with you after the rain today." It's almost a daily something you know.

What do I know? Nothing absolutely nothing! Everybody seems to be just pegging along about the same.

I know it. Most everybody seems to have the same trouble. Everyway you turn somebody says, "I'm so sleepy." It's getting to be a pass-word, most. Yes, I heard about it. It's such a shame. Won't they love him, though?

Oh, hello, Gina—we were just discussing Dr. Walmsley's' having to resign from the Debate Club. He's been so successful with them and they're all so crazy about him. Mary was talking this morning and said that they were all so sorry 'bout his health giving out. Of course they'll have to get somebody else, but then it'll take some time to get over losing him. There'll never be another Dr. Walmsley, you know.

Say, Gina, know any news? Lib and I were just discussing the scarcity of it. Have you heard anything interesting, or funny, or anything at all?

No, I hadn't. Speaking of dumb, that's just about the worst! The idea of asking what happened on the Fourth of July. That really is funny.

Do you mean to say, Lib, that you don't know either? Well, I've my opinion of you, too. Indeed, I won't tell you—go look it up for yourself. There is no excuse for your being so dumb.

Yes, ma'm I did go to Freshman sing—didn't you? It was fine. I really don't know what I thought was the best—it was all so good. Weren't the school children funny? But I just know I wasn't that bad when I was little Why I just don't know what I would do if any of my children started to act that way in class. When I see such things as that I begin to think that maybe I wasn't intended to be a school teacher anyway.

Listen, I've gotta run along. How 'bout coming around and playing some bridge this afternoon—it's too wet to do anything else.

No, Lib, I'm not going to tell you. Try asking Dr. Walmsley or Miss Tucker—they'll tell you what happened on the Fourth of July.

No,—you've got to find out for yourself! Bye!

When! What a narrow escape! What do we celebrate July 4 for anyway—I wonder?

I LOVE TO TEACH

I do not know what I could make entirely clear to an outsider the pleasure I have in teaching. I had rather earn my living by teaching than in any other way. In my mind, teaching is not merely a life work, a profession, an occupation, a struggle; it is a passion. I love to teach.

I love to teach as a painter loves to paint, as a musician loves to play, as a singer loves to sing, as a strong man rejoices to run a race. Teaching is an art—an art so great and so difficult to master that a man or woman can spend a long life at it without realizing much more than his limitations and mistakes, and his distance from the ideal.

But when the main aim of my happy days has been to become a good teacher, just as every architect wishes to be a good architect and every professional poet strives toward perfection.

—William Lyon Phelps

PI GAMMA MU ANNOUNCES SIX NEW MEMBERS

The Virginia Gamma chapter of Pi Gamma Mu announces the following new members: Nannie Sue Anthony, Effa Carroll, Carolyn Coggill, Katherine Diehl, Harriet Mason, Elizabeth Newton.

AN AGE-OLD NORMALITE GOES BACK TO SCHOOL

Had I the Looking Glass of Alice-in-Wonderland, and could reflect events as dreams, and vice versa, the happiest and first to relate would be my visit to the Teachers College, after an absence of thirty winters, and nearly as many summers. Hark back to the days when we were called by that despised cognomen, "Female" and the school was known as the "Normal" and the title "Normalite" was our chief play upon words.

My retrospection is confusedly mixed up with my vision of 1930, and it does not seem possible that such marvelous achievements could have taken place in so short a while—just a lifetime—.

I knew the Normal from the viewpoint of the average student in the days when Dr. Frazer was the school's high superior officer, and as head of the home, Mrs. Roberta Morrison had all the reins of destiny in her hands, and sans levity, she could guide as no other mortal ever did, with wisdom and justice that had no peer.

I thought that I had warily prepared myself for changes in the college, as I had from time to time, heard of its accomplishments and magnitude of expansion (and for the past year had used the catalog as a day book) and counted myself lucky that at least three members of the faculty were standing by their posts where I had left them, so with eagerness known only to on of my sentimental type, at once sought out those friends of yester-years. Imagine my feelings, when I found that, one was temporarily out of college ;one couldn't remember me and the other did not know that I had ever been to school! Needless to say, for the time being I was swallowed up in the whirlpool of defunct stock of self, and for solace turned to my new friends, "The Girls," for a personally conducted tour of the college. We visited all the new assets, including the "Rec," the "Gym", had parties in the tea room, plays in that wonderful auditorium, which compares favorably with the best in Virginia, and to the sorority rooms, and there I dropped a tear for absent Kappa Delta, but later found great pleasure in viewing with profound interest the beautiful Founders Memorial—to my loyal sisters. Now and then in our talks when I became almost too reminiscent, someone would sweetly put in the solicitous question, "When was it that you graduated, Mrs. Sonkerbinks?"—and I'd reply with truth and pride, "Just thirty years ago," followed by an involuntary gasp of wonder that one so aged could yet walk without crutches. On the whole, the girls seem to have a lovely, attractive spirit prevailing among them —just as they say, one big family—and though I was put to many tests for modern standards, that sense of humor of my good old Scotch-Irish ancestor stood me in good faith, and I had many a laugh over the joys of being a Backnumber, the realization of which is accentuated a hundredfold by intimate contact with delightful and charming All-Youth.

The hospitality of Miss Mary White Cox, the beloved, and her aids surpassed all possible expectations, and my visit was made so full of pleasure and passed to quickly, that it is now tucked away in memory's strong-box, and on quiet evenings comes forth to be with me as my thoughts center around S. T. C., and one very special student, who is my daily correspondent.

Sue Sonkerbinks

P. S.—Apropos of those days, who remembers when Hampden-Sydney was a four-square, bound by Bell, Richardson, Caldwell and Kuykendall?

KNIGHTHOOD

When I a maid lay dreaming
Of my knight, bold and brave,
He rode a kingly charger,
With trappings of gold inlaid.

A helmet set with gems rare
Their many-cut faces agleam—
As he rode in the sunlight there—
Rode ever on through my dream.

A plume as white as the swan's wing
A scarf of white at his throat
"Purity", the battle cry he would sing
Blue Cross of Truth on his coat.

Always thus he rode to me.
Carried me, his princess far away
Carried me o'er mountain top and lea
That him, forever, I might honor and obey.

Then he came, not mounted
And very humbly clad.
I saw and knew—yet I doubted
Vanished all the dreams I had.

But modern knight comes charging by,
On no more gallant steed than Life,
And in his heart he carries high
The song, "Purity and Truth" into the strife.

F. W., '30

YOUNG AMERICA SINGING

Dust of the earth am I,
The dust that I see swirling in eddies and whirls,
Dust licking up the damp of earth,
Chocking me, torturing parched plants,
Blinding my eyes with a sting,
That when I open then I may know
Of what I came, wherefrom I got Life.

This is the dust of the soil
In which seeds are sown;
Which promises death or Life
According to the Master's will.
But dust of dust there are other forms I see and know.
Gold dust which has become the psalm of Life—
To many of America's millions;
People of the soil who dip into their element,
To find dust which glitters.

Runs glittering through their seeking hands.
Until they are blinded
And see gold for self and its fattening
Think they can sustain themselves,
They have forgot the gold dust was made for man.
To make splendid his love and living.

But that is not all dust can mean
There are men among us—
Who seem blind and yet
There has been a glorious blinding.

F. W., '30

FALSE GOD

I made an image of a man I knew,
Setting him up for my heart to follow:
The metal of him seemed true all through—
I did not know the feet were hollow!

Many an idol may stand for a day
On a pedestal builded with care
But when nothing is there but feet of clay
We no longer hang dreams on its hair.

My idol, tonight, is resting in dust—
Dust powder of fragments of dreams,
Out of my heart tear it, I must!
My god was a false one it seems!

F. W., '30

SOCIAL

Mildred Maddrey and French Hutt went to Charlottesville Saturday.

Lucile Norman, Sara McCorkle and the Misses Hiner spent the week end in Staunton.

Virginia Marchant spent the week-end in Richmond.

Mary and Margaret Vincent, Lucy Thompson, Louise Whitlock, Retta Hardy, Madeline Lee, Nancy Boykin and Ethel Fisher spent the week-end in Emporia.

Ann Seecy, Virginia Cobb, Ann Huddleston, Louise Driscoll, Mary McKessick and Jane Gray Irby spent the week-end in Blackstone.

Katherine Royster, Dorothy Thompson, Josie Spencer, Mary Martin and Sparks Ross spent the week-end at their homes in Lynchburg.

Doris Webber, Shirley Truman and Alice Shenk spent the week-end in Roanoke.

Rebecca Savedge spent the week-end at her home in Wakefield.

Maury Terry spent the week-end in Pamplin.

Marian Love spent the week-end in Kenbridge.

Ella Semms Clare spent the week-end at her home in Madison.

Miss Potts attended the production of "Faust" given by the Grand Opera Company at the Mosque in Richmond Monday night.

Mrs. George Parker, of Franklin, spent a few days on the campus with her daughter Frances last week.

Marguerite Foster spent Sunday wtih friends on the campus.

Zeta Tau Sorority had its pledge banquet at Longwood, January 25, at 6:30 p. m. Alumnae who attended the banquet were Katherine Jones, Margaret Davis, Mrs. Lee Downer, Mrs. Waldon Smith, Jr., and Miss Mary Nuchols.

The Pledges of Gamma Theta Sorority entertained at a tea in honor of all the sorority pledges on the campus January 26, at 5 p. m. in their chapter room.

The following Sororities wish to announce new members:

Sigma Sigma Sigma — Gazelle Ware, Beckley, W. Va.; Courtney Neil, Tappahannock.

Pi Kappa Sigma—Dorothy Goodloe, Big Stone Gap, Va.

Zeta Tau—Hannah Crawley, Cumberland, Va.

14 CLUB PARTY

Last Wednesday night at that attractive hour just after the bell, the old "Cutest Girls in School" were most charmingly entertained by the new "Cutest Girls in School" in the recreation hall of their Alma Mater.

The hostesses were attractively garbed in their "14" sweat shirts and the loudest pajamas they could find, as were the guests.

The hall was colorfully decorated in the club colors of red and gold, and festons of red hearts were draped from the center of the room to the lights.

After enjoying a song and dance program presented by the Training School girls, and after playing amusing and entertaining games, (Eleanor Hogan winning a coveted prize) the old girl guests were served delicious refreshments by the new girls.

Loulie Milner, president of the club, added just the finishing touch to the party by reading a poem of her own composition, expressing the appreciation and enjoyment of the old girls.

STUDENT COUNCIL PARTY

Tuesday night, Miss Mary entertained the Student Council in her office It was a gala occasion in spite of the late hour and, naturally everybody tad a great time because they always do at Miss Mary's parties. The centerpiece was a green bowl of yellow calendulas and yellow candles in green holders. Delicious food was served by Lucille Graves and Lillian Hogan who were dressed as maids and it might be said here that they portrayed their roles very gracefully. It was a lovely and memorable party, the success of which was due to its charming hostess.

PROGRAM PRESENTED BY COLLEGE GIRLS

A group of college girls gave a program at Worsham, Friday night. This was the first of a series of entertainments to be presented in the country schools. The proceeds from these are to be used in helping to pay for a Victrola, which will facilitate the teaching of music.

The program presented follows:

An Hour of Music

Banjo Song ..... Dichmont
Night Song ..... Clockey
Advice ..... Molly Carew

College Trio

Lady Moon ..... Clara Edwards
Peter Pan ..... Wm. Stickles

Solo—Lillian Bovell

Sleigh Bells, Swanee, News Boys, Arkansas Traveler, Lindy Lee, Liza Jane, Old Man, Dese Bones, Country Dance.

College Clogging Class

The Top O' the Morning .. Mana-Zucca
Two Roses ..... Hallett Gilbero
My Love is a Fisherman .. Stickland

College Trio
University High
College Clogging Class

Liebestraume ..... Liszt
Prelude in C Sharp Minor Rochmaninoff

Piano Solo—Mildred Maddrey

Old Dutch Dance

College Clogging Class

A good-sized crowd witnessed the performance. Members of the Community League served refreshments to the participators, making it a very enjoyable affair for all.

MR. HOLTON IS NEW DEBATE CLUB COACH

At the meeting of the Debate Club last Thursday night, a committee of the intercollegiate debators and the president was selected to see Dr. Walmsley as to his opinion and then to discuss someone to fill the vacant place as coach. The committee decided on Mr. Holton. He was asked if he would accept, and he said he would After seeing Dr. Jarman, and getting his approval of this step, there was a call meeting of the club after lunch on Tuesday, and Mr. Holton was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy left by Dr. Walmsley's resignation.

DISCUSSION GROUPS BY MISS MARY AND FACULTY

Members of the faculty and Home Department are conducting discussion groups this week instead of prayer at 6:30. These groups are as follows:

Miss Wheeler—Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evening at 6:30, Student Building lounge.

Miss Mary White Cox—Monday evening, Talk to Freshmen; Friday evening, Talk on Customs in School.

Miss Coulling—Tuesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, 6:30, Y. W. lounge, "Influence of Paganism and Christianity on Art."

Miss Peck—Wednesday evening, Little Sitting Room.

MR. NAT G. LONG GIVES SERIES OF FINE TALKS

Continued from Page 1.

hope of David for the homes to be made worthwhile.

Mr. Long spoke at Open Cabinet meeting Saturday afternoon also.

On Sunday morning he preached the morning sermon at the Methodist Church. He took as his text, "And so Methuselah lived 979 years and died." He showed how it wasn't the length of life one lives, but what one makes of his or her life that counts. For an instance of one's ability to be worthwhile is measured by his or her length width, breadth and depth of character. One's character is like a building, it must have all four of these dimensions to meet perfection.

The Student Body of S. T. C. enjoyed Mr. Long's visit and hopes he will come again.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Sweetbriar College is said to be the first girls' school to permit its students to smoke on the campus. Another step forward for Virginia colleges! And almost at the same time comes the announcement that coeds at Ohio Wesleyan have been ordered by the dean of women to cut out smoking in restaurants and all places where the public may gaze upon them.—The Va. Tech.

Seven Auburn University men were recently arrested and were on the point of being locked up on a charge of raising "malicious and intentional rough house" in the streets of Auburn after dark, when the men produced credentials which proved them innocent. One of the students was found on a street corner singing love lyrics to the moon, and a second was charged with insanity. He said that he was giving solitary aid to homeless female sparrows. All the men were released.—The Va. Tech.

The long and short of it at the University of South Carolina are roommates. The long of it is a freshman stretching up towards the sky for a distance of six feet and six inches, while the minor part of the team is an upperclassman touching the ozone for a distance of only four feet and three inches. The larger boy is 17 years old and tips the scales at 172 pounds, and his roommate is 23 and weighs only 101 pounds. If "big boy" should be a basketball player, the rules committee would have to take steps to have the baskets elevated a couple of feet.—The Va. Tech.

CANADA DRUG CO.
Next to Baldwin's Store
Come to us for your cosmetics and STATIONERY
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

Three-Piece ENSEMBLE SUITS

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Quality—Price—Service
Come in and get acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

FALL SHOWING OF
HATS
THE HAT SHOPPE
Mrs. H. H. Hunt
THIRD STREET
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE
Next to the Theatre
Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies
MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Farmer Gift Shop
Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery
Engraving
COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh films)
Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)
COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S
is headquarters for the best
SANDWICHES AND DRINKS
in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
Work done while you wait with
First Class Materials
110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS
Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop
323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will fix your shoes
WHILE YOU WAIT
Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS
TAILORING CLEANING
PRESSING
Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

NEW SPRING DRESSES AND HATS
that emphasize the newest styles and colors

Silhouette Dresses special $4.95

Bordens Fast Color Prints, new patterns Just received yd. 25c

Silk Rayon Pajamas $1.98

Final Clearance all Fall Dresses Special $6.95

Charge it if you like!

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Farmville's Shopping Center

Liba Davis: "Why did you cut the sleeve out of your new school coat?"

Martha Baker: "So I could put it on without taking my books out of my hand."

Mother: "What's making that awful racket?"

Little Boy: Grandma ain't used to her new teeth yet, and she's busting up all the saucers drinking her tea."—Denison Flamingo.

English Prof. (sternly): "This paragraph on 'Our Room-mate' is word for word the same as Ella's."

Loulie M.: 'Yes sir, it's the same room mate."—Buffalo Bison.

"Some classes in college are just like dreams—you have to go to sleep to enjoy them."—Grun Goat.

Hutchins: "How come they call Clara Norfleet 'Miss Atlantic City'?"

Rene Graves: "Because she has a bored walk."—Aggrievator.

Margaret Gathright: "So you tell your jokes to your sissy room mates?"

Gilberta Knight: "Certainly; if they don't laugh I know they are good."

H.-S. Date: "What's that? You say our engagement is broken? I don't get you."

Mildred Field: "That's it exactly."

Alice Hardaway: "Why the grip?"

Helen Robertson: "Oh, that's my knapsack."

Alice: "Knapsack?"

Helen: "Pajamas and things."

Retta Hardy: "What is sophistication?"

Mary Will: "Sophistication means not feeling guilty about anything you do."

An American's epitaph: "I've broken the law where I've found it."

Doris Webber: "Nell is getting too selfish. Yesterday she wanted her fountain pen when I was using it."

Robe: "Yes, and she objects when I take a few dimes from her bank for bus fare home."

History Prof.: "Did you ever visit the museum?"

Teeny M. (half asleep): "No, it never happened to rain as I passed it."

Patty: "How's your new math teacher?"

Budsey: "Not bad; if she was a man, I think I'd actually like her."

DRAW POKER

"I pass," said time.

"Buy me," said the new hat.

"I'll open for five dollars," said the locksmith.

"Check," said the baggage man.

"I raise you," chuckled the yeast cake.

"I call," said the train man.

"Two pair?" this from the shoe clerk.

"Straight," said the string.

"Flush," the rouge offered.

"Full house," smiled the room clerk.

"Four trays here," bawled the counter man.

"Royal," boasted the baking powder.

"My next deal," began the magnate.

CLASS BASKETBALL GAMES TO BE PLAYED

Class basketball games will be played the first week in February. The time for each class will be posted later. Show your class spirit! Watch for the dates and be there!

DEBATE CLUB MEETING HELD LAST THURSDAY

The Debate Club meeting was held in the little auditorium on last Thursday evening. After the reading of Dr. Walmsley's resignation as coach, there was a debate on the question, "Resolved that the present tendency toward restriction of speech and action is detrimental to liberty." The debators were: affirmative: Mary Warren and Margaret Hix; negative: Elizabeth Johnson and Nan Myers. The judges, Dr. Rouse, Mr. Moss and Mable Barksdale, gave the decision to the negative team.

The question for discussioin at the next meeting was announced: Resolved, "That St. Valentine's Day should be a holiday for boys and girls from fourteen to twenty years of age."

WHAT MISS TURNER SAYS

(by someone evidently not cut out to be a musician)

"You can't play a piano," she told me at first,
"But I guess just the same that I'll take you—
Though accompanists make you or break you, you know,
And I've generally found that they break you!"

"You can't be a note in my musical train,"
Was the next thing she told me, "You-'re best
When you keep your mouth shut. And you jump around so,
You won't even make a nice rest!"

"Notes are just like round pearls," was the third thing she said
"That you thread on the string of your breath.
But your breath is all wrong, child; come now, try again"—
But I can't', 'cause she scares me to death!

One day I was writing my brief for debate,
And talking to her as I wrote.
"But you can't debate, child, for your voice is all wrong,
And never gets out of your throat!"

Then one day I told her, "There's just one thing left
I can safely perform around you;
I can laugh! "But she said, in her cool abrupt way,
"No, you can't, for you do that wrong too!"

But when I get blue, she inspires me with this
To clear up my musical fog:—
"It isn't the size of the dog in the fight,
But the size of the fight in the dog!"

ONCE IN A COLLEGE CAREER

Eight hundred bowed heads
Gazed at eight hundred pools of brown
Sixteen hundred startled eyes
Looked up and down.

A little block of softness
As white as new fallen snow
In each little steaming pool
Went sailing to and fro.

Eight hundred silver tools
Mashed the whiteness into bits,
And a bit of each little stream
Passed through eight hundred lips.

On January 23, 1930—
Point coming (don't rave at me)
Marshmallows and hot chocolate
Were served in the dining room of S. T. C.!

K. W., '30

At the Eaco Theatre, Week Jan. 3 to 8, 1930

MON. "THE VERY IDEA" with Doris Eaton and Frank Craven. A rollicking riot of fun with the greatest comedy cast ever assembled. A talking comedy that contains the very words that kept New York roaring with laughter for a solid hilarious year. $15,000 for a baby—and the stork couldn't deliver. Pop-eyed parents and a cock-eyed stork in a screaming comedy of errors. Also Pathe News and talking comedy.

TUES.—"TANNED LEGS" with Ann Pennington, Arthur Lake and June Clyde. An all-talking, all-singing drama of joy-bewildered youth trying to behave in one-piece bathing suits. Reckless as a beach petting party! Eager as a flapper in love! Romantic as the August moon! Also News and talking comedy. As an extra added attraction this night Thalhimer of Richmond, will present a fashion show on our stage showing the latest in ladies wearing apparel, modeled by living models from Richmond. No increase in admission price.

WED. & THURS.—Norma Shearer, Lewis Stone and Robert Montgomery in "THEIR OWN DESIRE", an all-talking picture. The daughter of today, she falls in love with a boy, only to discover that her father and the boy's mother are in love—and Reno-bound. Sudden catastrophe threatens their romance—you'll be amazed at the ending. Polo, swimming, country club scenes. Miss Shearer never appeared more charming or to better advantage than in this unusual picture. Also talking comedy.

FRI. & SAT.—The one and only Jack Gilbert in 'HIS GLORIOUS NIGHT' with the beautiful, statuesque Katherine Dale Owen. An all-talking picture. See Gilbert as the dashing cavalry officer who not only dares to look at a princess, but actually carries her off—and makes her like it. In a moon-lit garden, during the enchanting strains of a waltz, on a flower-covered balcony, stolen moments of love made doubly enchanting by voice of John Gilbert. Also sound news and talking comedy.

Two shows each night at 7:30-9:30!

Admission Prices—Adults 25c at matinees and 35c at night. Children under 12 years of age, 15c to each show.

SPRAGUE PLAYERS COMING TO S T. C.

Continued from page one

and we hope we shall have the pleasure of greeting them again on our platform. The personnel of this company is distinctly high class, and we thoroughly enjoyed the personal contact with such an excellent gentleman as Mr. Sprague and the fine group that supports him."

Auburn University has something new to offer in college athletics. A recent issue of the Auburn "Plainsman" relates the campus-wide interest exhibited in the finals of a ping-pong tourney sponsored by the college Y. M. C. A. for athletic minded young men. Prizes amounting to four dollars and a half in trade at some of the campus stores were awarded to the winners of the tournament.—The Va. Tech.

A University of Maryland senior was recently wedded—secretly—to a Maryland coed. We do not doubt that it was secretly. But then, maybe Maryland coeds are different.—The Va. Tech.

The citizens of Chicago are forming a civic pool on which to float the city, the county, and the school board from the no funds dilemma. The pool will be for the purpose of buying $50,-000,000 in tax anticipation warrants until the reassessment is completed and the 1928 tax bills collected.

WORLD NEWS

Ordinarily, a good parrot is one whose vocabulary is extensive but not obscene; a bad parrot, one who curses or bits. For the last few weeks all parrots have been in for bad favor. They were suspected of being responsible for psittacosis or "parrot fever," a somewhat mysterious and as yet rare malady which has suddenly become internationally conspicuous.

In the United States 47 cases of psittacosis has been reported, and it has caused eight deaths.

Five eminent surgeons made up the first flying clinic from U. S. into eleven Central and South American countries. They left Miami, Fla., Jan. 24, and the party has at its ultimate goal the Pan American Medical Association convention in Panama City, Jan. 20.

Another achievement is to be added to the laurels already won by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh. It is that of making what E. L. Hewlett of American School of Research, describes as "the first successful application of aerial photography to archaeological purposes." Indian ruins from the days long antedating the recorded history of America have been photographed by Col. Lindbergh in New Mexico, at the request of the Carnegie Institute and the American School of Research. He was successful in photographing entire districts from the air, gaining information and outlines in a few hours, which could have been secured only by months of work on foot or horseback. In addition the aerial photographs reveal traces of ruins which might have been overlooked by archaeologists working on ground.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony
Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S
DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery
AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Farmville - - - - Va.

McIntosh's Drug Store
New State Teachers College
STATIONERY
Farmville - - - - Va.

FEATURE THIS WEEK
COLLEGE THEME TABLETS
3 For 25c
SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES
MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

BALDWIN'S
Headquarters for
BEAUTIFUL HOSIERY
All new shades—French or Pointed Heels
$1 $1.35 $1.50 $1.95

NEW SILK DRESSES
$7.95
new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.
—in the Basement—
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

ROTUNDA

Volume X | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1930 | No. 18

FRESHMAN CLASSMAN PRESENTED IN CHAPEL SCENE

Ann Johnson Presents Miss Iler To the Members of the Student Body

GREEN AND WHITE PLANE LANDS SAFELY

The Freshman Class presented their classman in chapel Saturday morning. As they marched in, all dressed in white, there was no sign of that freshman "insignia", the rat cap. As soon as everybody got in and the chord was struck, the caps appeared and were worn as the class sang the class song. By this time everybody was wondering where Miss Iler was, but the curtain opened and there she was in her aeroplane, having just arrived from "Helpful Land." She was helped out of her plane by the president of the class and given a seat of honor on the paltform. After the class had sung "Miss Iler, Here's To You," the president, Ann Johnson, made the following speech:

"Life, it seems, is never without its reverses. For several years Miss Iler used dumb-bells to train her muscles, but this year she has used her muscles to train dumb-bells, for that is virtually what we were when we first came to Farmville.

"Soon after our arrival, however, our plane was ready. Our propeller, the class officers, was attached and turning in anticipation; the wings, formed by three hundred and fifteen loyal freshmen, were well balanced and strung up. Our engine, a hearty

Continued on last page

Interesting Discussion Groups Held Last Week

Various types of discussion groups sponsored by the Y. W., were held last week. They were representative of both home department and faculty as well as of drama, art, and "customs in school."

Miss Mary talked to the Freshmen in the auditorium, Monday evening during regular prayer time. She then held another meeting Friday night in the Little Sitting Room. She talked to the girls about Founder's Day as well as "Customs in School." Students would like to have Miss Mary talk to them more often than she does.

Miss Coulling held her discussion in the drawing room on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings. One of her talks was based on the superiority of old Grecian art over modern art. Quite a few of the girls were very interested in these talks on art.

Miss Wheeler held her discussions in the Student Building Lounge. Her discussions were based on drama. Miss Wheeler's name always draws a crowd.

The group discussions proved very successful, and it is hoped they will be continued in the future.

NOTICE

At a meeting of the Student Council Virginia G. Moore was elected chairman of May Day. The students are asked to please submit themes for May Day before February 15. Those themes may be put in Virginia Moore's senior mail box.

ROTUNDA STAFF ELECTED FOR FRESHMAN ISSUE

At a meeting of the Freshman Class, the following girls were elected to edit the Freshman issue of the Rotunda:

Editor-in-Chief, Martha Moore.

Associate Editor, Margaret Gathright.

News Editor, Elizabeth Johnson.

Literary Editor, Winston Cobb.

Athletic Editor, Lucille Crute.

World News Editor, Mary Thomas Rawles.

Intercollegiate News Editor, Lillian Hogan.

Social Editor, Alice Hardaway.

Art Editor, Kathryn Royster.

Feature Editor, Mary Clare Booth.

Humorous Editor, Alice Moore.

Alumnae Editor, Frances Fleming.

Proof Reader, Jenilee Knikht.

Assistant Proof Reader, Hattie Gilliam.

Circulation Manager, Josie Spencer.

Assistant Circulation Manager, Elsie Burgess.

DEDICATION

We, the Freshman Class, as a token of our appreciation of the help given us, affectionately dedicate this issue of The Rotunda to our "Big Sisters," the Junior Class.

INTERCLASS BASKET BALL GAMES

The interclass basketball games will be played the week of Feb. 10 instead of Feb. 3. The girls showed much enthusiasm at the class hockey games and we hope a large number will come out and support their teams. They seem to be unusually good and quite evenly matched, so interesting games are expected. Show your class spirit by coming to see them.

The schedule is as follows:

Freshmen vs. Sophomores, Monday, Feb. 10, at 7 p. m.

Juniors vs. Seniors, Tuesday, Feb. 11, at 7 p. m.

Championship game, Wednesday, Feb. 12, at 7 p. m.

RECENT ACTIVITIES OF FRESHMAN COMMISSION

At a meeting of the Freshman Commission the following officers were elected:

Chairman, Martha Moore; secretary, Elsie Burgess; treasurer, Winston Cobb.

A committee was appointed which drew up the following policy for the approval of the Commission::

Verse—Therefore all things ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them, for this is the law and the prophets. (Matt. 7:12.)

Motto—Not by might nor by power but by my spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts.

Objectives—The objectives of the Freshman Commission shall be as follows:

1. To send a member of the Commission to Blue Ridge.

2. To start a fund for a new curtain for the auditorium.

Purpose—The purpose of the Freshman Commission is as follows:

1. To aid the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet in promoting any plans which they may wish to further, by presenting them to the Freshman Class.

(Continued on page 8)

SPRAGUE PLAYERS GIVE TWO PLAYS IN AUDITORIUM

"Back Home" and "The Rivals" Presented Thursday Afternoon and Night

MR. SPRAGUE PLAYS LEADING PARTS

The Sprague Players presented "Back Home," a comedy in three acts, on Thursday afternoon, and "The Rivals" Thursday night in the college auditorium.

"Back Home" was founded on the "Back Home" stories by Irvin Cobb, published in the Saturday Evening Post. The scene was laid in Waynesville, Ga. Mr. Sprague appeared in the role of Judge Priest, a lovable old man who held the office of circuit judge for thirty-five years. Nash, the commonwealth's attorney, sought the judgeship, and endeavored to strengthen his case by indicting and attempting to convict young Robert Carter, a member of the Anti-Child Labor League. The story became complicated when Sally Priest, the Judge's daughter, fell in love with Carter. The rumor of the play was centered around Sara Ann Barbee, the village postmistress, and Jeff Davis Poindexter, a colored gentleman.

In "The Rivals," a brilliant comedy by Sheridan, Mr. Sprague played the part of Bob Acres.

Mrs. Malaprop, who always used the wrong words in the wrong places, was the scheming element of the play.

Sir Anthony Absolute was also somewhat of a schemer. He had

Continued on last page

Mrs. Turner To Present Program

Mrs. Lawson W. Turner of Lynchburg, Virginia, will present a program of negro songs and sketches in the auditorium Wednesday, February 12 at eight o'clock.

Mrs. Turner is a famous artist and has attained a wide reputation in interpreting the Southern negro. She has been well received at Sweet Briar, Hollins, Randolph-Macon, as well as in New York, and other large cities.

The following is taken from the Lynchburg paper of Jan. 11:

"Mrs. Lawson W. Turner returned yesterday from Washington where she presented a program of negro songs and sketches, in which she has attained wide reputation as an artist, at a meeting of the board of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, held in the federation building with representatives present from nearly every state in the Union.

Mrs. Turner received repeated applause, and press notices indicate that her reception was exceptionally cordial with many demands for repetitions."

FARMVILLE VERSUS LYNCHBURG COLLEGE

Farmville will play her first varsity basketball game here with Lynchburg College, Febraury 8, at 7:15 p. m., in the College gym. Show your school spirit and be there! Be sure to bring your student ticket for admission.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — LUCY THOMPSON, '30
Associate Editor — JESSIE SMTH, '31

Board of Editors

News Editor — LILLIAN BOVELL, '30
Literary Editor — LINDA WILKINSON, '30
Athletic Editor — MILDRED MADDREY, '31
World News Editor — GERTRUDE RICHARDSON, '30
Intercollegiate News Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — RACHEL ROYAL, '30
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — MAMIE HURT, '31
Humorous Editor — "BILLIE" PARIS, '30
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

MARIA WARREN, '32 — KATHLEEN WOODSON, '30
DOROTHY SNEDEGAR, '33
ANNIE DENIT, '31
ANN STUMP, '30

Proof Reader — SARA BAKER, '31
Assistant Proof Reader — JESSIE WATKINS, '33

Managers

Business Manager — SARA McCORKLE, '30
Assistant Business Manager — PEARL JOHNSON, '32
Circulation Manager — MARTHA ANTHONY, '30
Assistant Circulation Manager — NANNIE SUE ANTHONY, '30

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorial

Our Big Sisters

Each fall finds among the student body some three or four hundred freshmen. Often people wonder what these new girls think about and how they feel about things.

When freshmen enter college they are starting a new voyage in life, and the first thing they notice is how those, who have already learned the course, steer their ships. Some girls take as their ideal a girl who seems very serious and dignified; others take as their ideal the opposite type, but the majority of girls want to be like the girl who can be both serious and a good sport.

Our "big sisters", the junior class, have been in every case the ones who, the freshmen have wanted to be like. They have helped them in their troubles, shared their pleasures, and have cheered them with a kind word when they were blue. Any problem, whether big or little, that arose in the class was immediately taken to the juniors, and they, always ready to be of aid, helped them over the rough spot. All in all they have been what true, loyal big sisters should be.

Sportsmanship

Ringing down the ages like the clank of a knight's sword hitting against the shield of another knight as they struggled for favor in the queen's eyes comes the word sportsmanship. Sportsmanship in its true sense was observed in these combats. No matter how bitter the enmity between the two contestants, the sword of the victor was restrained as the other fell from his horse. He could not strike a felled horseman.

Sportsmanship today is not to be observed alone on the athletic field or in the stadium, though this is an excellent place for its displayal, but in every phase of our daily life comes the challenge, "Be a sport." Yes, backing one's class and one's colors is included. To be a good sport one must have an unflinching loyalty in victory, in defeat, in fame, or in oblivion. We must in allegiance to ourselves, our school, and our class, meet all our obligations with a right good cheer. Class dues should be paid, and requests to participate in school activities must be met with a smile.

In short, to deserve the epithet, "a good sport" we must be true to ourselves and first ask ourselves whether we are "playing fair." In answering this question we must be unswervingly honest with ourselves. For from within must come the friendly beam of the eye, the hearty handshake in victory or defeat, the smiling face. Seeking to be good sports we must remember that when the Master Reaper comes it won't be the fame one has obtained, the victories he has won, but how he played the game.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Hi, there! What's the rush? Where've I been keeping myself? Right here in the dear ole college. Isn't it the truth? I really believe that the teachers are just trying to see how hard they can make us work this quarter.

Did you see both of the plays that "The Sprague Players" put on. You lucky thing. No, I had to write a whole notebook that afternoon, but I saw "The Rivals". Yeah, that's what everyone says, but "The Rivals" was really good too. Cute? I'll say he was. Didn't all those big words that woman used just kill you? So did I. It was too funny for words.

Did I like "Sing"? I thought it was adorable. Everybody looked so cute. Yeah, it really was. When a bunch of girls get together they carry on like that—sing, dance, tell jokes and gossip 'bout everybody else. Isn't it the truth? It really isn't safe not to be present.

Not meaning to brag or anything like that, but I thought so too. Wonder who in the world thought of such a cute way to present our class man, Miss Iler? And that speech of Anne's—wasn't it simply grand.

I should say everything has been pretty this week. I like it too, but it has been awfully cold. Yeah, I saw you all. I got in a big snow-ball fight the other day, too. No it isn't very nice when the snow-balls are really hard.

Aren't you exicted about the Senior play? I bet it's really going to be a good one. Let's do go. You come by for me.

What? No, I hadn't heard about it. A cabaret supper is lots of fun. When did you say it was? Oh, yes, Saturday, February the eighth. Why, of course I am going—wouldn't miss it for love or money. We will have to get together on that too.

What am I going to do this afternoon? Not a thing that I know of. All right come around and we'll have one of our "ole timey" bull sessions. See you later then!

'Bye.

Still Later

About forty girls in their bright-colored afternoon frocks are gathered about tables in the sun parlor, and card rooms. Some playing bridge. Some just gossiping.

"How 'bout that 'Sing' Saturday night? It was the best yet, 'course not counting the one a week before. I just bet Swan was in all her glory!"

"Why?"

"Gosh, didn't you notice that short red skirt that showed her—should I say figure?"

Anyway "bull" sessions are always completed by Swan.

"Do you doubt now Alice Hardaway's ability at capturing the masculine heart, if she'd look at him with those dreamy eyes of hers. Somebody said she looked so sleepy that it would be a miracle if she lasted through it all!"

"Say, didn't that airplane used in the freshman class man presentation just give a regular modernized air to the rats of last fall? Don't tell anybody but the wheels dropped off when Miss Iler got in. (She expected to take off too quickly—I'll bet.)"

"Listen here—did you see 'So This Is College?' I could have loved Eddie and Biff absolutely to death! Why, that picture is my idea of college. It just reminded me of the time when I was young.—By the way, George Washington's birthday happens on the same day mine does! How 'bout that for a coincidence?"

"Are you going to the Senior play? No? Why I wouldn't miss it for heaps much money!—Why Blanche Murrell is going to be in it. Yeah—She was the senorita in the circus. Wasn't she a scream?"

"Good night—it's nearly time for supper bell to ring at school. Hampden-Sydney's mail has been put up too. "Tag" 'long girls if you wish. I'm gonna say 'Heaps much fun and adieu' to Miss Iler 'n toddle along.

THE FRESHMAN'S PSALM OF LIFE

Tell me not in joyful words,
College is but a cheerful dream!—
For the girl flunks that slumbers,
And flunk slips aren't what they seem.

Classes are real! Classes are hard!
And to make A's is our scheme;
Work from morn till dusk returneth,
Was not mentioned in our dream.

Let us, then forget our troubles
And study with a will for any fate,
For life is short and easily ruffled
If we labor while we wait.

C. J. Watts, '31

ORATORY TODAY

Probably man's first step toward the estate of manhood was the acquirement of speech. How thoroughly progressive of primitive man to invent a means of warning his fellow; of instructing him; of firing his imagination. Since that early day, speech has sounded the depths of human emotion. From Demosthenes to Bryan, the history of great speakers has been the history of great nations.

The voice of the orator today rings out clearer than ever—and carries farther. Science has multiplied and amplified a speaker until his voice spans thrice a thousand miles and reaches every hamlet and home. Now more than ever may be assured that tomorrow's great leaders will be tomorrow's great speakers.—The Exponent.

MY CONCEPTION OF AN IDEAL FRESHMAN

Any one can be an ideal freshman. It does not require any unusual mental ability or an exceptionally charming personality. It requires just a little effort on the part of an average girl. Let us consider a few points which, to my mind, make an ideal freshman.

To be an ideal freshman, one must begin when she enters college. In her high school course, she should begin to think of her college career. If she does, she will learn that some things are essential to her success in college. These essentials are the ability to think, the ability to study, and thoroughness. The girl who is to be an ideal freshman will say, "I will learn this. I will think it out for myself." She knows that she must do it in college.

Now, the girl enters college. Everything is new, and the girl is bewildered. She needs her thinking ability now because she has no one to think for her. The freshman who is constantly on guard against mistakes, and the one who thinks carefully over each step before she takes it, is the kind of freshman I want to be. The one who is not influenced by prejudiced upper classmen, and who knows what advice is beneficial and what is harmful, is the ideal freshman.

The ideal freshman soon learns that she is new, and that her standing in college depends entirely upon herself. She knows that this standing must be obtained by the slow process of "climbing the ladder, step by step." She soon learns that unpleasant facts and unpleasant advice must be faced, and she faces them with a brave heart and with such courage that she stands out from everyone else. She discards conceit and false pride. She is open and honest with everyone. With nothing to hide, and with a friendly smile and word for everyone, she is known on the athletic field, on the halls, in classes, and at social gatherings, as the ideal freshman.

M. G., '33.

ALICE IN WONDERLAND

Alice had many adventures,
The queerest ever had;
But they were only in her dreams,
Now wasn't that too bad?

She saw a large White Rabbit,
With a pretty, small, pink nose;
She saw a great big Cheshire Cat
And gardeners painting a rose.

She visited a Mad Hatter
And with him had her tea;
She met a March Hare and a Dormouse—
The party was queer as could be.

She played croquet with the Queen of Hearts,
Who ordered, "Off with her head!"
She went to the home of White Rabbit,
But didn't fit in his bed.

She visited the trial of the Knave of Hearts,
Who was a thief, you know;
She called the people a pack of cards
And immediately they became so.

She woke to find her adventure
Only a dream to be
And into the house she went forthwith
To drink her evening tea.

I hope sometime in my dream world
To meet with adventures rare;
I also hope with my whole heart
That I may find Alice there.

M. L., '33

CONSECRATION

The whisper and sigh of a sea breeze
In a grouping of tall, stately pines,
The leap and lap of the angry waves
'Long a desolate, dead shoreline,
The graceful dip and upward soar
Of a single lonely gull
Seemed to life the soul with a thought of Him,
Of a power with in Infinite Love.

M. C. W., '32

COLD LOVERS

They stood a foot apart—
These lovers cold and gleaming
While his eyes sought her bloodless lips,
Perhaps of heaven he was dreaming.

An orange-gold moon slowly arose
An ideal night for love!
Motionless she looked at him
And the stars watched from above.

"I love you so", his silence said.
"I love you, too," her silence replied.
O, why couldn't his icy feet
Carry him to her side?

His arms ached to embrace her
Her cold lips yearned for his caress
Yet all night they stood motionless
Not even her hand, he pressed!

The morning sun found them
Still a foot apart
He melted the snow man and woman
And the earth received them into her heart.

K. W., '30

IN COLD BLOOD

He had choked her;
He had killed her;
There could be no doubt about it.
He listened to her dying gasp.
She was still, cold;
Cold as the hands of death.
Yet in his fury he was not convinced.
He stepped on her—
Stepped on her with his big, heavy foot.
A faint gasp—
Was she groaning?
No, she was dead.
"Darn that engine," he muttered.

SOCIAL

Miss Shelton, who has been ill in Burkeville, is improving rapidly. She expects to be back at school in the near future. The student body will welcome Miss Shelton back heartily.

Misses Rena Greaves, Dolly Reid, Alice Covington, Mayo Beaty, Virginia Marchant, Medora Ford, Frances Hutchins, Martha McKenzie, Vernie Oden, and Jacque Lee attended the dances at Washington and Lee the past week end.

Miss Louise Ellis spent the past week end at her home in Ashland. She was accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Carter.

Miss Edith Jones of Martinsville, was a visitor of Miss Minnie Mae Brown for the past week end.

Mrs. C. D. Langhorne, formerly Nora Petty, of Lynchburg, and a student at S. T. C., is visiting friends here for several days.

Miss Margaret Priest spent the week end in Norfolk.

Miss Loulie Millner spent the week end in Richmond.

Miss Virginia Witt spent the week end at her home in Lynchburg.

Miss Nancy Boykins accompanied Miss Retta Hardy to her home in Kenbridge this past week-end.

Miss Vera Abbitt spent the week end with relatives in Appomattox.

Miss Hannah Crawley spent the week end at her home in Cumberland.

Misses Virginia Duncan and Hazel Murphy were visitors in Crewe for the week end.

Misses Rachel and Jane Royal spent the week end in Richmond.

Miss Mary Wilson Pugh was a visitor in Richmond for the week end.

Miss Martha Sanders spent the week end at her home in Richmond. She was accompanied by Miss Mary Clare Booth.

Misses Martha Seabury, Margaret Keeler and Dorothy Ritchie spent the week end at their homes in Petersburg.

Jane Schute, of Roanoke, was a week end guest of Mary Frances Cannady.

Carrie De Shazo spent the week end at her home in Sutherland.

Mildred Shelton was a week end guest of friends in Blackstone.

MARTHA ANN LAING ATTENDS CARNIVAL

Martha Ann Laing left yesterday morning to attend the twentieth annual Winter Carnival held at Dartmouth in Hanover, New Hampshire. It has been said that "the Dartmouth Winter Carnival is one of the few distinctive collegiate events."

While there Martha Ann will be a guest of the Zeta Psi House.

The complete program is as follows:

Thursday, Feb. 6

6:45—Torchlight parade from campus. Outdoor ice carnival on Occom Pond.

8:30 p. m.—Tobogganing and general skating.

10:00 p. m.—Fraternity dances.

Friday, Feb. 7

10:00 a. m.—Contestants meeting in Robinson Hall

2:00 p. m.—Dartmouth Winter Carnival championship skiing races on Balch Hill. Slalom race. One-mile downhill race.

4:00 p. m.—Swimming meet with Rutgers in Spaulding Pool.

7:30 p. m. "Exit Smiling" by the players in Webster Hall.

10:00 p. m.—Carnival Ball in Alumni gymnasium—fancy dress—"Under the big top in the Gay Nineties."

Saturday, February 8

10:00 a. m.—Start of 7-mile cross country ski race at D. O. C. House. Speed skating races. Fancy Skating Competition. Snowshoe races.

11:00 a. m.—Hockey game with Harvard in new rink.

12:15 p. m.—Ski-joring races on Main Street.

3:00 p. m.—Carnival ski-jumping tournament.

7:30 p. m.—Basketball game with Yale at alumni gymnasium. "Exit Smiling" following the game.

9:00 p. m.—Fraternity dance.

WORLD NEWS

Words That Will Live

Calvin Coolidge has consented to write a history of the United States in 500 words which will be cut into the granite face of Mount Rushmore, in the Black Hills, South Dakota. Colossal figures of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt are being carved from the mountain by Gutzon Borglum. Each figure will be 420 feet tall.

The history will be Mr. Coolidge's contribution to the memorial which he dedicated during his vacation in 1927. The letters will be cut five or more inches deep and geologists estimated that, at the present rate of erosion, the words will endure more than 500,000 years.

Carnegie Gift to Pan American Union

The Carnegie Fund has just announced a gift of $500,000 to the Pan American Union for the construction of an office building. The gift stipulates that construction must be begun before Oct. 30, 1930. Land for the new building has already been granted by Congress.

Visitors to Washington will remember the Pan American Building as one of the most beautiful in the capital. However, the rapidly growing activities of the Pan American Union have made the present building inadequate. The Union is an official organization of the Republics of America. It is supported by contributions from the various countries.

House to Order

Ready-made houses erected and financed will form the next project of Sears, Roebuck and Co. Home-seekers of moderate means will enable to build and pay off the mortgage in rent installments as low as $25 a month, over a period of 15 years, if necessary. The company will advance $3 for every dollar invested by the owner on house and lot. The house may range in cost from $2,000 to $25,000.

For some time the company's home-building department has been selling building materials and "ready-cut" houses, which were assembled by the owner. The financing is a new venture to encourage home owning in America. In the last six months 290 houses have been built to try out the scheme, in widely scattered sections of the country. It is estimated that there has been a saving in construction cost of from 10 to 25 per cent.

RECENT ACTIVITIES OF FRESHMAN COMMISSION

(Continue From Page One)

2. Through personal contact and cooperation to make each Freshman feel that she is a vital part of the Y. W. C. A.

3. To assume the responsibility of conducting morning watch.

4. To help the Y. W. C. A. entertain visiting speakers.

BY-LAWS.

1. The Freshman Commission is composed of twelve girls elected from the Freshman Class by the class and two ex-officio members—the president of the Freshman class and one girl from the high school Y. W. C. A.

2. The officers of the Freshman Commission shall consist of a chairman, a secretary, and a treasurer.

3. The chairman of the Freshman Commission shall represent the Commission on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet.

4. The regular meetings are to be held at 6:15 every Wednesday night.

5. A penalty of being asked to resign will be imposed upon any member who is absent from two consecutive meetnigs without an approved excuse.

NEW MEMBERS OF KAPPA DELTA PI

The Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi announces the following new members:

Mildred Bolling Jones
Nannie Sue Anthony
Antoinette Parker
Margaret Pauline Gibb
Laura May Smith.

TO THE SKELETON IN ROOM 3

Skeleton, skeleton hanging there
Were you once lovely, charming, fair?

Did you have curls
And dancing feet?
Were your lips crimson
Warm and sweet?

Did you, too, feel
The moon's deep thrill?
Did you reach the top
Of the world's high thrill?

Did your heart hop
When your lover came?
Did you quarrel and love on
Just the same?

Skeleton, dear, did
Your poor heart break?
Did ever, with sobs,
Those little bones shake?

Did Life draw the curtain
On things that were fair,
And leave you enveloped
In fear and despair?

Were you beat to the ground
Till you could not arise?
Did tears quench the sparkle
In your blue eyes?

What happened?—Aye I know
You died in the end
That fate's for the Happy
And Mournful, my friend.

Would you might tell me
Your story, I'll bet
I'd learn more in this room
Than I've ever learned yet.

Skeleton, were you once lovely and fair
What are you thinking of, hanging up there?

F. L. W.

CANADA DRUG CO.
Next to Baldwin's Store
Come to us for your cosmetics and STATIONERY
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

Three Piece Spring Ensemble
$19.50

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Quality—Price—Service
Come in and get acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

FALL SHOWING OF
HATS
THE HAT SHOPPE
Mrs. H. H. Hunt
THIRD STREET
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE
Next to the Theatre
Toasted Sandwiches — Cookies and Candies
MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Falconer Gift Shop
Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery
Engraving
COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh films)
Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)
COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S
is headquarters for the best
SANDWICHES AND DRINKS
in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
Work done while you wait with
First Class Materials
110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS
Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop
323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will fix your shoes
WHILE YOU WAIT
Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS
TAILORING CLEANING
PRESSING
Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

MR. WEINBERG IS LEAVING FOR NEW YORK ON A BUYING TRIP

Watch and wait for the lovely things all girls want to wear!

New Spring Hats of crochet straws and felt combinations $1.95, $2.95 and $3.95.

Silk Step-ins, Bloomers, Running pants 69c

SHOE SALE—All $5.00 shoes $2.95. All $6.85 shoes, $3.95.

A prediction—you'll buy your next dress at

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Farmville's Shopping Center

Freshman: "Did you ever read 'Looking Backward'?"

Sophomore: "Yeah, once in an examination and got expelled."

Joe Hughes: "Why don't you like dancing?"

Boy Friend: "'Cause it is nothing but hugging and walking set to music."

Joe: "But what is it about that that you don't like?"

B. Friend: "The music."

Voice in next room: "Marguerite, are you teaching that parrot to swear?"

Marguerite Swann: "No, I'm just telling him what not to say."

Mr. McCorkle (in Physics class): "Give me an example of heat causing expansion and cold causing contraction."

Rena Robertson: "The days in summer are longer than those in winter."

Reformer: "Young man, do you realize that you will never get anywhere by drinking?"

Y. M.: "Ain't it the truth! I've started home from this corner five times already."—Yellow Jacket.

H.-S. Freshman: "May I break?"

Frank Smoot: "You break—can't you see I'm dancing with the captain of the football team?"

Freshman: "Sure, I thought he was stuck."—Black and Blue Jay.

Junior: "Why do you work so hard?"

Freshman: "I'm too nervous to cheat."

Louise Ripberger: "Dear, am I the first girl you ever kissed?"

Date: "Yes indeed; I learned that from a radio lecture the other night."—Texas Ranger.

Date (on phone): "Will you please put Anna Minter on the wire?"

Mother: "What do you think my daughter is—a tight rope walker?"

Date: "I suppose I am only a pebble on the beach to you."

Marian Moore: "That's true, but you might stand a chance if you were a little boulder."

Austin: "Do you know the Gorilla song?"

Mary Custis: "Why, no, I don't believe "

Austin: "Gorilla my dreams I love you."

Polly: "If you kiss me again I'll scream." (Utter silence.)

Boots: "Well, say something."

Polly: "Don't interrupt me. I'm screaming."

H.-S. Boy: "How did you come out in the blindfold test?"

Second ditto: "Oh, I chose my girl's lipstick four times out of five."

Lois Cox: "Why did you cut the sleeves out of your coat?"

Winston Cobb: "So I could put it on without taking my books out of my hands."

Lucy Thompson: "Is this joke original?"

Billy Paris: "Yes."

Lucy: "Um, I didn't know that you were that old."

Editor's note—Same to you about this one, Alice!

"UNIVERSITY COMPLEX" CRITICISED

Dr. Lyle D. Hicks, dean of the College of the University of Nebraska, declares that the recent ever-increasing number of freshmen at our American universities is due to the acquiring of a "university complex" by the modern American parent. As a result of this belief that every child should "complete his education," he says, "a multitude of bewildered young men and women flood the campuses of American colleges each year." A few come to college with a set purpose in view, knowing what they want to do, but this number is so small that it offers a serious problem, according to Dr. Hicks. When asked about the case of the youth who go to a university as a finishing school, Dr. Hicks replied, "Oh, we do not hurt them any. We show them a pretty good time for four years."

"College Humor" is sponsoring a movement to have our colleges and universities take up outboard motor racing as an official intercollegiate sport. Toledo University already has a fully trained and equipped team and proclaims itself ready for competition from any source, and Colgate and Syracuse are making definite plans for organization of teams in this sport. Why not start a campaign for an outboard motor racing team at V. P. I.? We must be up to date.—The Virginia Tech.

SATURDAY NIGHT SING UNUSUALLY INTERESTING

On Saturday night Sing was most unusual. The scene was S. T. C. and the characters were some of the girls at S. T. C. The girls appeared to be having a good time telling jokes on each other and other people. Everybody enjoyed the music, which included a saxophone solo by Nannie Belle Clendenin. When, at the last, the curtain closed, to the tune of "Good Night Ladies," a cry went up for more, but there was no more to be had.

INFORMAL SUPPER FOR DR. WALMSLEY

The Debate Club is giving an informal supper in the banquet room of the tea shop, Friday night. The supper is given for Dr. Walmsley, to show the love and appreciation which the club feels for him. The new advisor, Mr. Holton, the old advisor, Dr. Walmsley, and the members of the debate club will be present.

Mr. John Hinter will be here Sunday, February 9 to talk over the possibilities on our campus for presenting world problems and world fellowship to a larger number of students. He is from the Student Volunteer Movement and is particularly interested in meeting small groups. Watch the bulletin boards for further notice.

COME OUT FOR VOLLEY BALL PRACTICE

Volley ball practice will start Monday, February 17, at 4 p. m., and will continue for all those interested at the same time every afternoon. For attendance and class points one must have at least two practices per week for the whole volley ball season.

Mary Elizabeth Mayo (singing): "Do-de-da-ump-bump."

Tempa Ewing: "That reminds me. I meant to buy a gun today."

Vay Abbit: "I wonder who this telegram is from?"

Jane Gray: "Western Union. I recognize the handwriting."

Professor: "You had better watch your step in my classroom."

Student: "What's the matter? Flooring loose, sir?"

There's the Scotchman who wouldn't go out for the track team because he lost his breath when he ran.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of February 10-15

MON. & TUES.—"FLIGHT" with Jack Holt, Lila Lee and Ralph Graves. This is without doubt the greatest air picture ever produced; and so proclaimed by critics. The U. S. government cooperated in the production of this picture, the sensational flying scenes having been made at San Diego by picked pilots of the Marine Flying Corps. "Flight" is a beautiful love tale unfolded against a series of unbelievable air feats by sensational dare-devil pilots! It is daring! It is romantic! It is spectacular! A thrill picture such as you get once in a lifetime! Also News reel!

WED. & THURS. — "STREET GIRL" with Betty Compson, Jack Oakie and John Harron. Next to "Rio Rita" this is Radio's greatest picture. Singers, dancers, bands, orchestras, girls—and the fastest-cracking comedy combination in this delightful romance of a Broadway Cinderella and a Prince Charming who lost his throne. See and hear the revelry of Greenwich Village—the mad gayety of Broadway welcoming a prince—love and amid the splendor of the cabarets! Hear Betty Compson play the violin! Also two-reel talking comedy.

FRI. & SAT.—Richard Dix in "SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE". Dix delivers the master-stroke of his career as the two-fisted hero of Geo. M. Cohan's long-run Broadway sensation. A crime-story writer hunts solitude in a deserted mountain lodge—and finds adventure more desperate than any hero of fiction ever faced. The idol of the screen plays the perfect part—picked by himself to begin his triumphant career in talking pictures. Berathless! Exciting! Delirous! Happy! Screams of terror and screams of delight in the most. Also sound news and talking comedy.

Two shows each night—at 7:30 and 9:15.

Admission Prices—Adults 25c at matinees and 35c at nights. Children under 12 years of age 15c to each show.

THE SNOW

Isn't it beautiful! Oh, I just love snow! Can't wait to get out in it! These were only a few of the exclamations heard upon the arrival of the snow. Classes meant nothing; all anybody wanted was to go out and play in the snow. A few lucky girls who did not have classes were seen in the snow that morning. The fun, however, began after lunch.

Galoshes, sweaters, berets, coats, and gloves came out of dark closets and one and all the happy girls "galoshed" out into the snow. A perfectly gorgeous snow man, with a pipe in his mouth, soon stood guard on the front campus. Little sqeals of horror—really of joy—were heard on every side as girls stepped in the snow over their shoe tops. Snow balls flew in every direction and for once everybody seemed to be having a good time.

It seemed that there was almost enough going on at school but a few athletic ones braved the storm and walked to Longwood. From all reports it was a lovely walk even if the snow was deep and the mud under the snow still deeper.

Another most unusual thing was the jingle of sleigh bells, which was followed by a sleigh full of girls which rounded the cornerJ much to the amazement of some and, the almost to say, jealousy of others.

There was only one note of sadness. We had to stop and "shed a tear" for the poor girls who had planned to go away for the week-end.

In spite of that the snow made almost everybody happy. Even the cooks, it seemed, were happy because they gave us hot chocolate for lunch again.

Dr. Fields: "You cough easier this morning."

Ruth Jordan: "I ought to; I've practiced all night."

SPRAGUE PLAYERS GIVE TWO PLAYS AT S. T. C.

Continued from Page 1.

great pride in his ability to keep his temper and be calm at the exciting moment.

Jack Absolute, alias Beverley, who played the leading role, changed his mind very quickly about marrying the lady of his father's choice when he found out that she was none other than his "Lydia," Mrs. Malaprop's niece.

The entire cast was well chosen, and the parts were played in a realistic manner.

The student body is very fortunate to have had the pleasure of seeing this cast.

CLASS MAN PRESENTED BY FRESHMAN CLASS SATURDAY MORNING

Continued from page one

pirit of co-operation, was well greased and in perfect running order. And yet, inexperienced as we were in college aeronautics, we dared not attempt flight without a pilot—and in Miss Iler we found this pilot—one ever-ready with ideas and quick hands.

"The take-off was easy, and thence we started on a straight course upward. Many times our plane dipped and it seemed that we would be forced down, but always the adroit hands of our pilot adjusted the loosened screw, and up we went again.

"The sky is our limit and fearlessly we soar skyward, for we know that should we, in our eagerness, fly into low-hanging clouds darkened by errors and inexperience, our pilot will guide us safely through, and land us at the end of our journey in the hanger of success."

Cornelia Crute thinks an artery is a place where people go to look at pictures.

SCHEMMEL

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony

Aesthetics, Etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

IT PAYS TO DEAL

at

GREENBERG'S DEPT. STORE

First in Style

Lowest in Price

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.

Dealers in

Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery

AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Farmville - - - - Va.

McIntosh's Drug Store

New State Teachers College

STATIONERY

Farmville - - - - Va.

FEATURE THIS WEEK

COLLEGE THEME TABLETS

3 For 25c

SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES

MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

BALDWIN'S

Headquarters for

BEAUTIFUL HOSIERY

All new shades—French or Pointed Heels

$1 $1.35 $1.50 $1.95

NEW SILK DRESSES

$7.95

new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.

—in the Basement—

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.

The House of Quality

FARMVILLE, VA.

ROTUNDA

Volume X THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1930 No. 19

SPANISH ARTISTS ENTERTAINED S. T. C. STUDENT BODY THURSDAY EVENING

Audience Thrilled by Old Columbian and Mexican Folk Songs

ENDED WITH "THE PAGAN LOVE SONG"

On February the sixth the girls of S. T. C. and the people of Farmville had the rare privilege of being entertained by a group of Spanish artists. Milla Dominguez, soprano, a native of Mexico, with great charm and beauty rendered several groups of songs. In the first group which she sang were two Spanish songs. Senorita Dominguez was dressed in Spanish costume which added greatly to the effectiveness of the songs.

The next group was composed of three numbers, one in Italian, one in German, and the other in English. When the audience heard something, the words of which they could distinguish from gibberish, their enthusiasm knew no bounds. In one of these numbers, Senorita Dominguez accompanied herself on a piano. It is indeed seldom that anyone is seen who can play and sing and, at the same time hold an audience as she did.

Two Mexican songs made up the next group. Attractive n any costume, when singing, Senorita Dominguez in costume was more charming. Singing "Cielito Lindo," or "Beautiful Heaven," she indeed made one think that Heaven was a beautiful place. The accompaniment to this number by Ramos, added a great deal. This was the last group sung by Senorita Dominguez.

And now—think back to "Arpa Colombiana," that is: Martinez, Ramos and Rodriguez, whose music and charming manner were enjoyed perhaps as much as that of Milla Dominguez.

They played several groups of songs, some of them Columbian folk songs (their native country), on

(Continued on last page)

FRENCH-SPANISH BAZAAR

Parlez-vous? Or parley not; come to our bazaar, or you'll miss a lot.

What's it all about?

Well, I'll tell you. "Bazaar" 'is a dreadfully commonplace word, but that's just about what it's going to amount to.

Thursday afternoon, February 13th if you'll come up to the drawing room and enter by either one of the doors you will find yourself suddenly transported beyond the seas to either France or Spain. Even the Pyrenees will be there!

How?

Oh! That's part of the secret.

There are going to be more cute little things for sale: pillows, lampshades, dolls, handkerchiefs, silhouettes, etc. There will also be things to eat—sandwiches, candy and everything.

There'll be things costing from a nickel—on up. Come around and when you leave you'll be saying: "Oui, oui," or "Si, si!"

CONGRATULATIONS

The Sophomore Class wishes to congratulate the Freshmen on their publication of The Rotunda. It was an excellent issue and showed unusual ability.

Seniors Lose Game To the Junior Team

The second of class basketball games was played Tuesday night, when the Juniors met the Seniors, and beat them by the score of 14-13.

Though not nearly so fast as the game the night before, between the Freshmen and Sophomores, it seemed much more exciting, due to the close scoring. At no time in the game was either side more than three points ahead of the other. The score at the end of the first half was 9-9.

No one could tell how the game would come out, but at the end, the Juniors had won by one point.

The line-up follows:

Seniors	Pos.	Juniors
L. Smith	f.	E. Simpson
C. Fleming	f	E. Evans
V. Gurley	c.	A. Hutchinson
M. Hatchett	s.c.	A. Olliver
M. Wood	g.	E. Coleman
E. Davis	g.	E. Hunter

Umpire—Cleo Quisenberry
Referee: Miss Iler.

Mu Omega Sorority Gives Cabaret Supper

The Cabaret Supper, a yearly event on the social calendar of S. T. C., was given by the Mu Omega Sorority in the recreational hall on February 8th from 5:30 until 7:15 p. m. Joe Perry with his Hampden-Sydney Orchestra furnished the excellent dance music for the occasion.

The hall was very attractively and colorfully decorated carrying out the red and white color scheme and heart pattern for Valentines. Tables were grouped at each end of the dance floor around the center opening which was roped off by pastel ribbons for dancing.

The waitresses were appropriately dressed in either black or white which served to carry out the sorority colors. The supper consisted of delicious fried oysters, Virginia country ham, potato salad, stuffed celery, sweet pickle, hot rolls and coffee. Ice cream and various kinds of cake served as extras for dessert.

Mary Todd contributed to the entertainment with two of her latest tap dances, and Joe Perry with his inimitable clowning and excellent singing helped to sponsor the success of the evening.

Many of the Hampden-Sydney students as well as former S. T. C. girls atended the affair, and the space reserved for dancing became very crowded before much time had expired.

In all the Cabaret Supper proved to be a great success—both socially and financially.

SOPHOMORE STAFF

Editor-in-Chief	Louise Elliott
Associate Editor	Harrietta Cornwell
News Editor	Easter Souders
Literary Editor	Loulie Milner
Athletic Editor	Cleo Quisenberry
Social Editor	Sara Hubard
Art Editor	Ruth Floyd
Humorous Editor,	Elizabeth Etheridge
Proof Reader	Catherine Nichols
Circulation Mgr.	Grace Woodhouse
Asst. Circulation Mgr.	Jane Witt

Dr. Leon H. Vincent Lecturer at S. T. C. on Literary Artists

"As a speaker Mr. Leon H. Vincent is natural, witty, transparent, interesting in every sentence, and presents his subject with the charm and grace of a brilliant conversationalist."

So says an excerpt from the Hartford "Daily Times". This same charm and wit combined with the speaker's evident mastery of the subject held the attention of S. T. C. audiences last week and so delighted both faculty and student body that they regretted to see him leave.

Dr. Vincent is not only a gifted lecturer, but he is also the author of a number of books among which are: his "Dandies and Men of Letters" and "American Literary Masters." He is acclaimed as an authority on Dickens. For a number of years he has been a member of the staff of the "Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences," and has delivered more than a hundred lectures. He has also given courses at the University of Chicago, George Peabody College for Teachers, and the Colorado State Teachers College.

While he was at Farmville Dr. Vincent lectured on Franklin, Hawthorne, Emerson, the Brownings and Lowell. In these lectures he gave a portrait of the man rather than an interpretation of his works. This is especially true of the lectures on Hawthorne, Emerson and Franklin. His cleverness in the choice of words and his delightful way of presenting anecdotes made each of these literary men stand out as a real person and a personality. He very fittingly closed his talk on Franklin with quotations from "Poor Richard" such as: "Three can keep a secret if two of them are dead."

In his lecture on the Brownings he discussed their lives and gave an interesting account of their courtship and marriage. He gave as reasons for the failure of many people in appreciating Browning the recondite allusions, the difficulty of the themes, and the unusual use of words found in his poetry.

His last lecture, "Lowell as a critic and "Letter-writer," touched more closely the author's literary contributions, but even this treats them mainly as they reflect the man and his personality.

It has been a privilege to hear Dr. Vincent, and we are grateful to the English department for their efforts which have made this possible. We hope that Dr. Vincent may come back to us again.

JOHN A. MINTER SPOKE HERE SATURDAY

John A. Minter, a graduate of the University of Texas, spoke to the cabinet and committee members at 2:15 Sunday, Jan. 9. He is now traveling as student secretary for this movement. At four o'clock he met the student volunteers from Hampden-Sydney and Farmville and the Mission Band group.

He gave many valuable and helpful hints to the World Fellowship committee and told of the Student Volunteer Conference at Mary Baldwin College from February 28 to Mar. 2. In the later meeting he went more though roughly into the student Volunteer Movement and held an interesting discussion on the Jerusalem Conference.

FIRST VARSITY GAME PROVES A VICTORY FOR THE BLUE AND WHITE BASKETEERS

State Teachers College Beats Lynchburg College With Score 36 to 14

VISITING TEAM IS MUCH ENTERTAINED

On February 8, at eight o'clock our first varsity basketball game was played in the S. T. C. gym, before a large audience of interested spectators. The game was rather fast and ended with a gratifying score of 36 to 14 in our favor.

When the girls wearing blue and white uniforms circled out on the gym floor all the spectators in the balcony went wild with excitement. Later the Lynchburg girls came out and also got aloud response from the audience. The yelling was exceedingly good and all the yellers gave the team a strong backing.

Gregory, our tall Freshman girl, tried to smile just as the game started but the smile turned to a ghastly grin she was so excited and Gurley tiptoed (not through the tulips) but to whisper in Gregory's ear where to tap the ball, but in the excitement Mary could not get herself timed with the ball—she would jump too late, but this did not last very long before Mary started getting all the taps. Gurley helped her every once in a while by punching her in the back and saying, "Jump now, jump!"

The game was exciting from beginning to end and the entire team showed excellent teamwork throughout the whole game. Although the team made the score and played a very good game we feel that whole varsity deserves credit for they have been working hard since Christmas and it was partly their work which made this victory possible.

Mary Frances Hatchett deserves special mention. She was captain of varsity basketball team in 1928, 1929,

(Continued on page 2)

Sophomores Victorious Over The Freshmen

Monday night at seven o'clock in the S. T. C. gym the Red and Whites and the Green and Whites walked out on the floor, both with the determination to win the basketball game.

The Sophomores scored the first two goals and then at the end of the first half the score stood 6-3 in favor of the Sophs.

There was fast and pretty passing throughout the game by both teams and seemed to be one of the tightest games played here. When the final whistle blew however, the score stood 13-4 in favor of the Sophomores.

The line-up was as follows:

Sophomores		Freshmen
E. Boswell	r.f.	D. Snedegar
H. Cornwell	l.f.	D. Ridgeway
C. Quisenberry	j.c.	M. Gregory
E. Souders	s.c.	L. Crute
F. Edwards	r.g.	H. Taylor
M. Terry	l.g.	M. Gunter

Substitute: Ritchie for Ridgeway.
Referee: Iler.
Umpire: Hatchett.

'The Pride of Pasadena' Successfully Presented

Smack! Smack! One on each cheek! Lillian Bovell, as Count Alfonso de Ravioli Chilibeano, managed to survive, carrying all that title, and survived in a very creditable way. She had quite a difficult part and did it excellently. Attempting to salute, in the European style, Frances Davis, who took the part of Mr. Pride, the hen-pecked husband, got herself knocked up quite a bit.

Blanche Murrell, as the absolute monarch of all she surveyed, played her part very well, as the mother who was trying to marry her daughter to a title.

Etta Marshall, the hero and Lela Germany, the Pride of Pasadena, both deserve special mention.

Billy Paris, detective number 46, who was always looking for "easy pickins", was the funniest thing in the show.

Booten, as Mrs. Pride's social secretary, portrayed her part exceptionally well.

Lillian Hogan and Lucy Dortch had attractive parts, which they played attractively.

Frances Davis, as Mrs. Pride's husband, did her part admirably. Having been a former owner of the stove factory back in Oshkosh, he could hardly measure up to the high-brow standards of Mrs. Pride. "A hopeless plebian," he was a "self-made man," on

Continued on page four

DR. DANEEL SPEAKS AT S. T. C. PRAYES

Mr. Daneel of South Africa, a graduate of the University of Steelenbosch, and now a student of the Theological Seminary, spoke in prayers Monday and Tuesday nights.

We are always delighted when we can have students from other colleges visit our college, and especially one from so far away. Mr. Daneel's charming personality and interesting talks were an inspiration to the students of S. T. C.

CUNNINGHAM LITERARY SOCIETY INSTALLATION

The Cunningham Literary Society on Tuesday night, February 4, at 7 o'clock had the installation of new members and new officers.

After the oath had been administered to each new officer, the new members lighted their candles from the candles of the old members, and by such became duly installed as members of the society.

Delightful refreshments were served after the very impressive installation service.

The following girls were admitted as new members: Theodocia Beacham, Madge Blalock, Laurie Bousch, Kathleen Clement. E. Winston Cobb, Sara Blount Cooke, Lois V. Cox, Lorene E. Coxe, Frances L. Crawford, Martha Earp, Ruth Flippin, Frances Ford, Martha Gunter, Eva Hudnall, Isabel Jones, Melissa Lynch, Mary Thomas Rawles, Alice Ribble, Alice Lee Schenk, Helen Tankersley, Lucile Transon, Elizabeth Walthall, Ernestine Winston, Lillian Womack, Martha Catherine Woodson.

DEDICATION

To hearts—that live and laugh and love, that work and play and hope—we dedicate our Sophomore issue of The Rotunda.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — LUCY THOMPSON, '30
Associate Editor — JESSIE SMTH, '31

Board of Editors

News Editor — LILLIAN BOVELL, '30
Literary Editor — LINDA WILKINSON, '30
Athletic Editor — MILDRED MADDREY, '31
World News Editor — GERTRUDE RICHARDSON, '30
Intercollegiate News Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — RACHEL ROYAL, '30
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — MAMIE HURT, '31
Humorous Editor — "BILLIE" PARIS, '30
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

MARIA WARREN, '32 — KATHLEEN WOODSON, '30
DOROTHY SNEDEGAR, '33
ANNIE DENIT, '31
ANN STUMP, '30

Proof Reader — SARA BAKER, '31
Assistant Proof Reader — JESSIE WATKINS, '33

Managers

Business Manager — SARA McCORKLE, '30
Assistant Business Manager — PEARL JOHNSON, '32
Circulation Manager — MARTHA ANTHONY, '30
Assistant Circulation Manager — NANNIE SUE ANTHONY, '30

Editorial

S. T. C.'s Valentine Heart

It is a biological fact that every human being has a heart, no matter how remote it may seem or of what texture the material which composes this vital organ. Since our student body, faculty and administration are made up of human beings, not peculiar to the general species, they too have hearts, both physical and mythological.

It is this mythological heart, which is symbolized for us at Valentine about which I want to talk with you. If each of us has a heart of this type, and I am working on the assumption that we do, then we each realize what a vital part of our personality it is. Without it each of our lives would lose much of their force and attractiveness. If this controlling force called the heart plays such a great part in our separate personalities and lives what a mighty force must be generated from the combination of two or more of these so-called hearts.

Did you ever stop to realize that it is the bigness and greatness and fineness of each individual's heart in an organization and their combined effort which is responsible, not indirectly, but directly for the success or failure of that organization, be it large or small or its task the most minute or the most stupendous.

The heart of every girl in every class combines and makes up the motor power, the controlling factor of the class as a whole. Sometimes, the stronger hearts have stability and perseverances enough to overbalance the weaker and more selfish batteries in the motor, therefore, the class moves on up the hill of achievements to a bright goal of success, but it is just as likely that the other type of heart will prevail. What then?

The field of our interest and our hearts expanse is ever-widening, for us its limit, at present, is our college community. Is it to be a success, a failure, or just an every day—come what may type of student body? It's up to each of us to make the hearts back of this student body the best ever and give to S. T. C. a real Valentine of staunch red hearts.

Hearts

"If we but frame our hearts one day in the year into a semblance of loving, the love will creep into them, and give reality to the semblance."

Let us on this Valentine's Day look into our hearts. Look at the love that is there. Think of other hearts that love us—mother hearts, sweethearts, pal hearts, teacher hearts—hearts that hope and pray and serve with each beat—hearts that live and laugh and love us. Let us look into our hearts. Let us look at the love that is there and frame our hearts into a semblance of more loving—love not only for those who love us and whom we already love, but also for those whom we see but know not, for the girls next door, for the girls on the hall above, for the people we meet on the hall and in everyplace, for all the "guests in God's Great Universe."

Let us offer up on this Valentine's Day our hearts as a valentine of service.

OVER THE TEACUP.

I've just been rushed to death, honey, with all this social life around school these days! Have you ever had so much to see and hear in one week in all your life? My, anyone would think we were all a lot of debutantes.

First of all I'll just love to rave some more about those gorgeous clothes displayed in the Thalhimer's fashion show. Didn't you just adore the formal black dress with the remarkable neck lines that "Tootsie" Walker wore? Really, she's a sugar and the old girls were so glad to see her back again.

Then too, I fell quite in love with those fascinating Spanish singers who made up the Lyceum program Thursday night. They certainly got mobed afterwards and we camped right on their doorstep until they sang some more, too. The best looking and the tallest one signed his autograph "with love" and his address on the back of my program—that's somthing isn't it, baby? I can't wait to write him a fan letter.

Better still, wasn't the Senior Musical Comedy a knock-out? Why, that's the best thing we've had here in ages. Lucille led that chorus like a professional dancer on Broadway, and believe me Joe Perry didn't sing "Love Me" to the air that night. If you ask me—he had one eye on his violin and the other on Lucille. Mary Todd's dancing class was great, and really I think that girl is wasting her time whenever she walks off the stage—why she's adapted to the stage like a tadpole is to water. And how about those lovely corsages the leading ladies and the heroes got?—gee, its a shame Eleanor had to be Harry in those "plus fours" so she couldn't wear hers in the last act.

Oh, gee, honey, I almost forgot to tell you about the game Saturday night.. Too bad you changed your mind and missed it. Did we beat Lynchburg?—and how! Don't forget that little bet we made—a dope and a note with your I. O. U., please!

Is it really twenty after? Gee, that means I'm late again to that eternal class—I've gotta move—see you later.

Hey, hold on here I almost forgot to tell you what a good time I had at the cabaret supper. Girl, wasn't the food delicious! Fried oysters! Gee, I wish I had some right now. And the Hampden-Sydney Orchestra with Joe Perry's heavenly voice—I could hardly stand the pressure—I was O. K. until I saw a certain Kappa Sig—and when I got a chance to break I was "satisfied" for the rest of the evening. Sorry I lost you during the dancing but I simply had to trail Bob. So-long!

FIRST VARSITY GAME A VICTORY

Continued from page one

and also captain of this year's team—1930 varsity. Mary Frances has also shown her ability in leadership in hockey having been captain two successive years 1928 and 1929.

The line-up of the game was as follows:

Farmville		Lynchburg
L. Smith	r.f.	M. Lamlar
L. N. Smith	l.f.	L. Watkins
M. Gregory	j.c.	A. Bebee
V. Gurley	s.c.	M. Bell
M. Hatchett	l.g.	E. Hundley
E. Coleman	r.g.	N. Tabor

Substitutes: Boswell for L. N. Smith.

Referee: Wilkens

Umpire: Roberts.

LINCOLN

February the twelfth, brings back to mind our great statesman and President, and some of his achievements.

Abraham Lincoln, American statesman and sixteenth President of the United States, was born in a log cabin, in Hardin county, Kentucky on February 12, 1809.

At the age of twenty-one he moved with his father's family near Decatur, Ill. He became a boatman on the Mississippi a year later.

He enlisted in the Black Hawk War, was made captain and began studying law in 1832. He was admitted to the bar at the age of 28.

He was postmaster at New Salem from 1833 to 1836.

From 1834 to 1840, he was a member of Illinois legislature as a Whig.

In 1842, he married Miss Mary Todd of Lexington, Kentucky.

He was elected to the lower House of Congress in 1846. In 1849 he introduced a bill to abolish slavery.

He was elected President of the United States in 1860. During his administration we had the Civil War from 1861 to 1865.

He issued the Emancipation Proclamation and also made his Gettysburg Address in 1863.

In 1864, he was re-elected President and was assassinated in 1865 at the Ford Theatre in Washington.

Alice Lee Schenk

THE FESTIVAL OF LOVE

It wasn't in the past our custom to ponder on the way of St. Valentine's Day—sufficient to us that it was. But now, left with only the shadow of the thing on our hands. we are trying to console ourselves by finding out more about it than we ever knew before. We are interested in the fact that one of the most austere saints in the Christian calendar and the most mischievous little god of pagan mythology have all become tangled up in the name and observance of one day in each year, the fourteenth of February. If the good bishop gave his name to the day, certain it is that Eros, on mischief bent, is its presiding genius.

We are losing so rapidly our pretty customs and holidays, in these practical times, when all growths of the imagination and sentiment are so promptly pruned away, that a plea for St. Valentine's Day, its simple, original observance may meet the pruning knife on the instant.

There are those, however, with a tender romance still flourishing in their hearts, like a rose-garden hidden behind a high box hedge. These keep up the thought of the day in secrecy; little gifts, flowers, fruit, a book, yea, Valentines themselves, find their quiet way into another's keeping, bringing a ray of joy.

Imagination and love of romance are still alive in our hearts, but if we persist in smothering them, just so much shall we hamper our true growth, mentally and spiritually. So I dare to suggest, with the authority of all the poets bracing me, that we reinstate Cupid as guardian spirit of the fourteenth of February; indulge our imaginations in a frolic, and leave the glowing embers of tenderness, kindness, and charity to warm the fingers and hearts of all who approach.

Thus will our hands perform the offices of St. Valentine's Day as priests of the heart, and thus will the good Christian Bishop St. Valentine, and Love, which is the Christian attribute become reconciled, and the day be a joyful testimonial to both—Millicent Olmstead.

LINCOLN THE PRESIDENT

His heart was staunch and brave and humble. "Other presidents than Abraham Lincoln have risen from a lob cabin to the White House; other presidents also were of humble birth; but none other has moved so humbly in high places. No honor, no power, could exalt him above his native simplicity; a common man who could walk with kings—nor lose the common touch."

HEARTS

Hearts!
You've broken them,
Shattered them,
Mended them
With smiles and words
So lightly meant.
And I—
I gave my heart to you,
Perhaps
You'll break it, too.
But keep it—
Never give it back, because
I love you.

R. C. F., '30

LOVE CAST ASIDE

Through tear-dimmed eyes she gazed
At a crushed and broken heart—
'Twas a heart of gold studded
With one small diamond.
When his love had been young,
And as sparkling as that tiny
Diamond—then had she loved
Him—with love as pure as
The gold.

On a happy St. Valentine's day
She has found it—lying just Inside the door. And in the Dark the little diamond
Glittered and the child's heart
Leaped with joy to meet its Light.

Then as the years rolled by and
Her hair grew gray,
He neglected her—she was
Left to grow old alone.
Each year on St. Valentine's day
She looked on the little gold heart
And its light seemed dim and liquid.
As if it too had shed tears.

M. V. S., '32

YOUR EYES

Soft brown so full of love and sympathy
You alone could be fashioned by Aphrodite's hand.
Cupid brought his brushes forth and springled you with sparkling lights
That dance and play among the shadows.
How deep you are—how far beyond the horizon of your iris I can see—
A world of mystery and dreams
Unchartered and unknown to curious mariners.

V. L., '32

A KISS

How dare you ask of me
A friendly kiss,
For shame!
When once you took a
Lovers kiss
And gave it back again!

L. M., '33

SMILES

It takes so many muscles
To make a horrid frown,
It takes a lot o' effort
To turn the corners down.
So why waste all the effort
In that unpleasant style?
You'd find it just as easy
To make a hundred smiles.

L. M., '33

"Good morrow, 't'is St. Valentine's Day,
All in the morning betime,
To be your Valentine."
And I a maid at your window
—William Shakespeare

SOCIAL

Visitors

Among those who returned to school for the week-end were: Alma Hunt, "Red" Foster, Elizabeth Atwater, Nancy Nelms, Mary Jane Wilkinson, Anna Mae Burgess, and Flora Martin.

"Jim" and Evelyn Simpson had as their guests for the week-end Misses Louise Caldwell and Helen West.

Delberta Bell of Lynchburg College visited Ruth Floyd during the week-end.

Week-End Trips

"Mootch" Dortch spent the week-end at her home in South Hill. She was accompanied by Mildred Field Elmore.

Virginia Bledsoe visited Virginia Cox at her home in Norfolk during the past week-end.

Martha Baker, Nancy Boykin, Virginia Daughtery, and Madeline Lee spent the week-end in Emporia.

Dorothy Dudley visited in Blackstone last week-end.

Loulie Milner, Ella Clore, Virginia Cobb, Martha Sanders, Edith Britt, Elizabeth Anderson, Lela Germany, Mary Martin, Louise Woodson, and Jacque Lee spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Jenilee Knight and Melisse Mullens were the week-end guests of Grace Tritton at her home in Richmond.

Doris Walton spent the week-end in Danville.

Lindsay White spent the week-end at her home at Arrington.

Mary Jane Vaden spent the week-end at her home in Keysville. She was accompanied by Elizabeth Levick and Alice Hamner.

Agnes Lee Grigg spent the week-end at her home at Amelia.

Hannah Crawley and Evelyn Stephenson visited at University, Virginia last week-end.

Martha Faris and Mary Page White spent the week-end at "Red Hill."

Tempe Ewing visited in Charlottesville last week-end.

Lucille Norman, Sara McCorkle, Mildred Owen, and Augusta Baker spent the week-end in Winston-Salem.

Frances Davis, Martha Walters, Allie Kae Libby, and Clorice Glidewell spent the week-end in Richmond.

Louise Johnson spent the week-end at her home at Fork Union.

Kathleen Jones spent the week-end at her home at Arvonia.

DEBATE CLUB DINNER

The members of the Debate Club gave a dinner in the banquet room on the night of February 7 at 6:30, in honor of Dr. Walmsley, who has resigned his office as coach of the Debate Club. Mr. Holton who is succeeding Dr. Walmsley in this office was also an honor guest.

The guests and members of the club assembled in tht Junior parlor and from there went down to the banquet room. There we were served dinner amid much talk and laughter During the dinner the following toast was made to Dr. Walmsley by Maria Warren:

"The eyes of the school are toward him
The love of the group is his own.
The heart of each girl will reward him
With a name that is more than a throne.
The life that he lives is unending
For he is the servant of youth
Souls are lit by the flame he is tending
This leader towards the altar of truth."

Later on in the evening Frances Wilson gave the following toast to Mr. Holton:

"And now looking to the future—we have entrusted ourselves to the guidance of one who we know is more than worthy of our admiration and confidence. A toast then to our coach—Mr. Holton."

Dr. Walmsley was presented a little gift as a token of appreciation for what he has done for us in the past, after which he had a few words to say.

The enjoyable evening drew to a close with a little surprise—a solo by Jane Witt.

MISS BEDFORD

THE QUEEN OF HEARTS

The Queen of Hearts?
Pray—hearts of who—
Oh yes, our hearts
We Sophs so true.

The Queen of Luck
Fun, love and work,
Oh yes, the Queen
Of Farmville girls.

She gives us faith
Our tasks to do
Oh yes, she laughs
And helps us through.

The Queen of Hearts
Pray tell to you?
Aw—can't you guess
Miss Bedford's who!

L. M., '32

IMPERSONATOR AT S. T. C. WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Lawrence Turner of Lynchburg, Va., impersonator of the Southern negro with songs and stories, will give a programme in the S. T. C. auditorium on Feb. 12 at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Turner is fine in this role and has a treat in store for her audience.

LATIN CLUB MEETS

A very interesting meeting of the Soldatis Latina was held Friday night, February 7, in room O, Student Building.

Miss Rice spoke to the club on the mythological god, Apollo. She passed around, to the members present, slips of paper on which were written questions about Apollo. If no one could answer the questions, Miss Rice answered them in attractive story form. The Club learned many interesting things about the god. Among which were the many things for which he was worshipped. He was the god of the sun, god of poetry, god of manly beauty, god of divination, and god of medicine.

The meeting adjourned after the singing of some Latin songs.

HOCKEY SQUAD SUPPER

Wednesday night on February the fifth the Athletic Association gave a supper to the members of the 1929 hockey squad and to Miss Iler, our coach. The affair was very informal. Everyone enjoyed herself very much.

We found place cards which were very attractive—being a hockey girl all in action ready for a game. Another thing which the team found at each place was a neat little box tied with blue ribbon (in two knots as only Miss Iler can tie); when we at last got this knot untied and opened the box, we found a silver hockey ball with our initials and position engraved on it.

The team appreciates this gift from Miss Iler very much and will always remember the 1929 hockey season.

Come out for Volley Ball practice!

WORLD NEWS

From an airplane hovering over New York City a telephone conversation was successfully carried on with the Leviathan, 700 miles at sea. The voices came through almost as clearly as over a land wire. The messages were relayed through New York by wire to the broadcasting station at Deal Beach, and then carried by radio to the ship. The Bell Telephone Laboratories have been conducting the experiments.

Paris is elated over the prospects of a gift of $6,000,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation for the Medical School of the University of Paris. The old quarters of this famous school have long been inadequate and the authorities have started an ambitious building program. The Rockefeller gift requires that the French Government contribute an equal sum toward the new buildings.

Dr. Lawrance Gould, leader of the geological section of the Byrd expedition, reports finding a five-gallon can of kerosene, two packages of matches, and a can containing a message left at the foot of Mount Betty, by Capt. Roald Amundsen and his party, so their successful polar expedition in 1912. Dr. Gould left the cache intact in its rocky cavern, only adding another message telling of his visit. Gould reports discovery of copper deposits, but warns his associates "not to get excited" over their commercial value.

"Nowadays what is not worth saying is sung."

CANADA DRUG CO.
Next to Baldwin's Store
Come to us for your cosmetics and STATIONERY
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

Guaranteed Run-proof Hosiery
$1.50 & $1.95

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Quality—Price—Service
Come in and get acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

FALL SHOWING OF
HATS
THE HAT SHOPPE
Mrs. H. H. Hunt
THIRD STREET
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE
Next to the Theatre
Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies
MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Farmer Gift Shop
Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery
Engraving
COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh films)
Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)
COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S
is headquarters for the best
SANDWICHES AND DRINKS
in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
Work done while you wait with
First Class Materials
110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS
Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop
323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will fix your shoes
WHILE YOU WAIT
Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS
TAILORING CLEANING
PRESSING
Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

MR. WEINBERG IS LEAVING FOR NEW YORK ON A BUYING TRIP

Watch and wait for the lovely things all girls want to wear!

New Spring Hats of crochet straws and felt combinations $1.95, $2.95 and $3.95.

Silk Step-ins, Bloomers, Running pants 69c

SHOE SALE—All $5.00 shoes $2.95. All $6.85 shoes, $3.95.

A prediction—you'll buy your next dress at

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Farmville's Shopping Center

This month has passed,
I should be glad.
This month has passed,
But I am sad.
This month has passed,
Ah, sad my lot.
This month has passed,
But I have not.

Sam (bashfully): "May I kiss your little sister?"
Virginia Cox: "Sure, if you're afraid to pick on someone your size."

Joe: "I don't know whether to go to this wedding or not."
College: "Who's getting married?"
Joe: "I am!"

"E" Goode: "Where do bad little girls go?"
Bruce Clarke: "Most everywhere."

Unfortunate Motorist: "Madam, I fear your puppy is dead. If you will allow me, I will replace the animal."
Owner (icily): "Sir, you flatter yourself."

A girl's a minor until she's eighteen, and then she becomes a gold digger.

She: "Going to the fair?"
He: "What fair?"
She: "Didn't you see the paper: 'Fair today, rain tomorrow'?"

Sweet Young Thing: "Have a cigarette?"
Elderly Lady: "What! Smoke a cigarette! Why, I'd rather kiss the first man that came along!"
Swee Young Thing: "So would I. But have a cigarette while you are waiting."

Co-ed: (watching love scene in a movie): "Why don't you make love to me that way?" '
He: "Say, do you know the salary he gets for doing that?"

"What was your idea of going out with my girl?'
"Same as yours."
Note: The remains will be buried tomorrow.

S. T. C. Student: "My dog slobbers at the mouth. What shall I do for him?"
Veterinarian: "Teach him to spit."

Photographer: "Do you want a large picture or a small picture?"
Jane Witt: "A small one."
Photographer: "Then close your mouth."

Mayo: "I've an awful lot of electricity in my hair."
Snooty: "I don't doubt it. You always have such shocking things on your mind."

Embarrassing: "Do you wash with soap?"
More Embarrassing: "Do you wash?"
Suggestive: "Do you?"
Imperative: "Do!"

He (on phone): "How are you this evening?"
She: "All right—but lonely."
He: "Good and lonely?"
She: "No, just lonely."
He: "I'll be right over."

She: "Will you ever stop loving me?"
He: "Well, I have an 8 o'clock class."

AM I BLUE (And How!)

Am I black?
Am I blue?
Ain't these scars in these limbs telling you?
Am I sore?
You'd be more.
If you played basketball like
I do—
Was a time—when I was young and gay
That was 'ere I started out to play
Lawdy—
Have I pains?
Without gains?
Now it's o'er, there's no more
Am I blue?

—The Alabanian

At the Eaco Theatre Week February 17—22

Mon. Tues., & Wed.—"RIO RITA" with Bebe Daniels and John Boles and 1,000 glorifed Ziegfield girls in the most pretentious, beautiful and pleasing film that has reached the screen since the introduction of sound. You will be thrilled by the vivid action of this drama of the Mexican border with its scores of glorious dancing girls, the Pietro Cimmini Grand Chorus, Victor Baravalle's Symphony Orchestra and stunning Technicolor scenes. Here you have gorgeous songs, gay comedy and a wealth of entertainment that could never be attained on any stage. Also News reel.

Special notice—Because of the high price to obtain this production prices for "Rio Rita" will be Adults 25c at matinees and 50c at night. Children under 12 years of age 25c to each show.

THURS.—"OH YEAH!" with Robert Armstrong and James Gleason. A rib-tickling, spine-tingling, laugh-provoking, breath-taking comedy drama that will send you home in the best humor you have been in for a long time. If you care to laugh until the tears run down your cheeks and your sides ache with merriment, come to see this amazing comedy, all-talking and music. Also a Silly Symphony "The Skeleton Dance."

Fri. & Sat.—Joan Crawford with Robert Montgomery in "UNTAMED". She's marvelous, this gorgeous beauty with the predatory instincts of a jungle cat. She stalks her man with relentless fury and cunning, unmindful of what is right or wrong. This is Miss Crawford's first all-talking picture and in it she reveals surprising dramatic ability in a role of an untamed, uncivilized girl who is suddenly removed from her primitive jungle existence to wealth and luxury in a magnificent mansion. Also Sound news and Talking comedy.

Two shows each night: 7:30 & 9:15.

Admission—Adults 25c at matinees and 35c at night. Children under 12 years of age 15c to each show.

"THE PRIDE OF PASADENA" IS A SUCCESS

Continued from page one

whom his wife had made "extensive alterations."

The work of Lucille Graves, as leader of the choruses was outstanding. Just as a little side-issue: Clara Norfleet showed signs of relaxing only when presented with a box of candy.

The Hampden-Sydney Orchestra added greatly to the choruses and the whole performance.

Mary Todd's dancing class made a very attractive and charming entre act.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INS. REPRESENTATIVE SPEAKS

Miss Williamson, Former S. T. C. Student

A most welcome guest on February 4 and 5 was Miss Darling Williamson who came "back home" as the representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company of New York to deliver a message to the students and to hold conferences with members of the Health Department.

Miss Williamson's official title is chief of the School Health Bureau in the Welfare Division of this company. The purpose of the bureau is to preserve the health of policy holders of school age, of whom there are six million. It is accomplished by means of research demonstration, correspondence, conferences, preparation and distribution of literature. This service is rendered at the request of school authorities and is of mutual benefit to the children and the company.

Miss Williamson's visit was a "stop over" on her way to visit colleges in Alabama and other southern states. She frequently makes addresses at schools and teachers' conventions, and reaches others by articles in health and educational journals. A book familiar to students of Physical Education 106 is "Laws of Health and How to Teach Them," and Miss Williamson is one of the authors.

Immediately after her graduation from this college, Miss Williamson taught first in Pulaski, next in Roanoke, where she was assistant principal in one of the city school. Her success there led to her transfer to the position of fifth grade supervisor in Farmville Training School which she held for several years. After one year as elementary supervisor at North Carolina College for Women, she became a supervisor of the primary schools in Richmond. Her strong interest in the welfare of the children whom she visited brought her in touch with the State Department of Education and Health, and she was appointed state rural supervisor in charge of health work. Her noteworthy achievements in Virginia attracted the attention of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, and with them she has a wide field of service.

While here, Miss Williamson was iniated into the national honor society, Kappa Delta Pi. She is a person of rare charm and intellectual power. Her sincere interest and belief in people have won her a host of friends. The alumnae and the college are proud of her.

SPANISH ARTISTS ENTERTAIN HIGHLY

(Continued from Page One)

their-to-us-peculiar instruments, the bandola, tiple and guitar. Their costumes helped produce the atmosphere needed for the highest appreciation of the music. Dressed in black satin trousers, with red godets and gold embroidery up the side, white shirts with yellow cord ties, they lacked nothing in the minds of the audience, to bring out the most reticent of Spanish maidens.

The two men who sang, Rodriguez and Ramos, were both very good, although the impressions they made were entirely different. Ramos, in his songs, seemed to be the nonchalant, indifferent lover, making fervent, seemingly sincere pleas to a countless number of girls. On the other hand, Rodriguez gave the impression of sadness and made one wish to find the expression in words of something of the tragedy of life, as expressed in some of the songs.

Particularly effective was his solo, "A Media Luz," by Canaro. This was more like our conception of a Spanish song; it went over better than perhaps any other single number. Throughout the song the audience was perfectly silent, held spellbound.

After the end of the regular program the three men and Milla Dominguez gave an encore. When they finished singing "The Pagan Love Song", there was no way by which the audience could express their appreciation.

MISS WILLIAMSON

HILDEGARDE ROSS HEADS VOLLEY BALL

Now that basketball is just about over we still have something to look forward to—volley ball. Everyone who came out last year knows what fun it really is to those who haven't been out before—well, come on out and have a good time.

Hildegarde Ross is head of volley ball this season. She has shown both her interest and abilty in athletics and we know she will make an efficient manager.

The schedule starting with Monday, February 17, for all classes will be every afternoon at four o'clock. For attendance points one must have two practices each week for the whole season.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony
Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S
DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery
AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Farmville - - - - Va.

McIntosh's Drug Store
New State Teachers College
STATIONERY
Farmville - - - - Va.

FEATURE THIS WEEK
COLLEGE THEME TABLETS
3 For 25c
SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES
MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

BALDWIN'S
Headquarters for
BEAUTIFUL HOSIERY
All new shades—French or Pointed Heels
$1 $1.35 $1.50 $1.95

NEW SILK DRESSES
$7.95
new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.
—in the Basement—
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

JUNIOR ISSUE

ROTUNDA

JUNIOR ISSUE

Volume X | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1930 | No. 20

PITTSBURGH AND S. T. C. MEET IN DEBATE CONTEST

Fourth Victory in Forensic Activities This Season

BASKERVILLE-WILSON SUCCESSFUL TEAM

On Saturday, February 14, the auditorium at S. T. C. was the scene of a most thrilling verbal battle. The question over which a most convincing argument ensued was: "Resolved that nations should adopt a plan of complete disarmament excepting such forces as are needed for police purposes." The affirmative of the question was upheld by the valiant Pittsburgh warriors. The negative by the S. T. C. all star debate team, Wilson and Baskerville.

The debate was one of the most exciting ever held at S. T. C. The audience was held spell-bound for minutes at a time. The spell was only broken by gales of laughter, which showed that debate can be a most enjoyable form of entertainment.

Shall we disarm or shall we not disarm was the vital question put before the audience. After hearing the first affirmative it seemed that we must disarm and disarm immediately, or one of these mornings we would wake up to find the whole earth blown from beneath us. After hearing the first negative, we were assured that there was no such terrible fate awaiting us. Our tumultuous spirits were calmed again by armament and peace. Another affirmative and anoth-

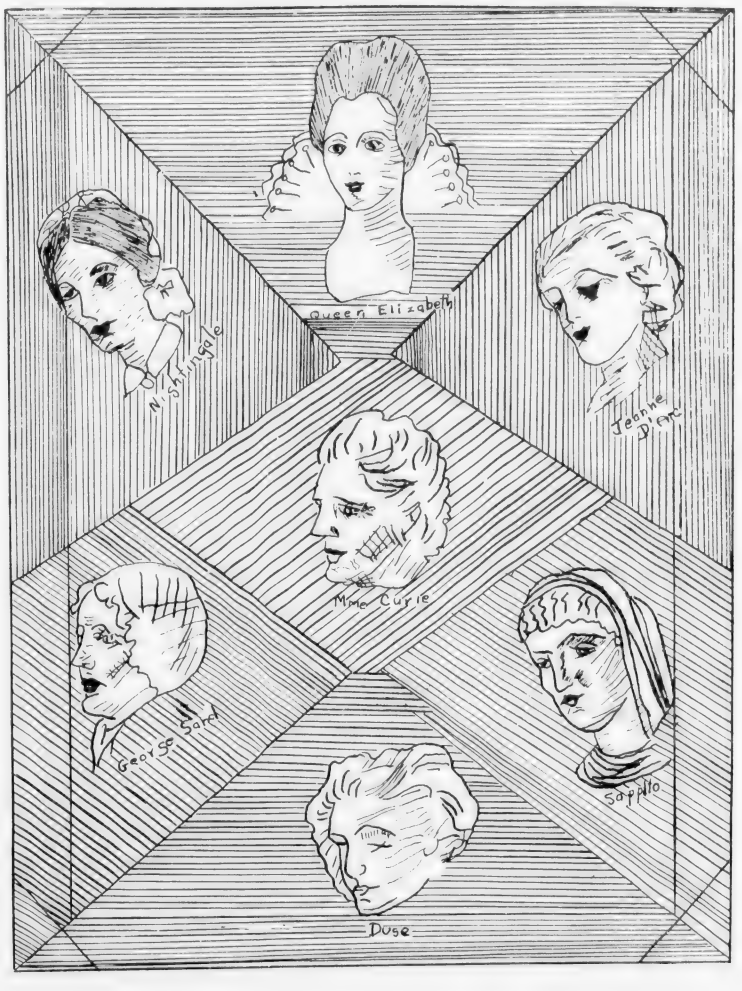
(Continued on last page)

No Yong Park Lectures On China's Problems

Friday evening No Yong Park, a Chinese student and lecturer, presented in a most pleasing manner the problems of China as a Chinamen sees them. In beginning of his lecture he asked us to think of the real Chinamen, not the laundry-men and chop-suey people. He told of the lack of educational facilities in the Orient and of the difficulties encumbering the people by their language, which is made up of sixty thousand characters. In order to read and write the most simple Chinese one must know at least one thousand of these characters.

The larger part of the address was a discussion of China's struggle for freedom and independence. Mr. Park said, "The Nationalists in China are struggling for nothing unusual; we simply want more freedom." The tariff of China had been fixed by foreign powers so that until 1929 China could not regulate her own tariff. There had been no protective tariff and consequently no industry.

In eight of China's large cities foreigners have not only established themselves but their government also.



(Continued on last page)

MANY THANKS

We, the Juniors, wish to express our appreciation and thanks to our "Little Sisters," the Freshmen, for honoring us by dedicating their issue of the Rotunda to us.

DEDICATION

To Higher Education of Women for Service to the State the Junior Issue of the Rotunda is Humbly Dedicated

Higher Education—For Service

The prime concern of a State is the education of her citizens, and the foundation of this education is the public school system.

It is right and just that our Commonwealth should put within the reach of her women a good cultural education, that she should give them the same advantages that are given to the men: and we are proud to say that this she has done.

If there is any class of women who need, more than any others, the broad culture to be obtained through a college education, it is certainly that class made up of the teachers in our elementary and secondary schools: without it they are, indeed, poorly equipped for the training of our children; and Virginia has been most liberal in providing this culture for them. In her four Teachers Colleges she gives them a standard college education (the courses which are to be had in a liberal arts college) and in addition to this, that professional training which equips them for a great service.

Education in a liberal arts college is culture for self; that in a Teachers College is culture for service; culture which is to be passed on to thousands of boys and girls and which, through them, raises the standards of the State.

Such training not only fits our young women for service in the schoolroom, but it also fits them for service in the home and in the community in which they live: they are taught the meaning of good citizenship, their powers of leadership and of service are developed; educational and civic needs of the State are brought to their attention, and the entire work of the institution centers around the child—what higher type of training is there, to contribute to the forming of cultured young womanhood?

With an unswerving purpose our old college has been sending her daughters forth to this service for nearly a half-century; ever striving to give them of the best, advancing with times, keeping pace with modern developments in education, jealous for their good, endeavoring to imbue them with a high sense of responsibility to their State and, with a realization of her high calling, saying with Saint Paul: "This one thing I do."

Higher education—for self or for service? Which think you is the higher?

J. L. JARMAN

"TECH SCANDALS" SPONSORED BY PI GAMMA MU

V. P. I. Dramatic Club Presents Musical Revue February 22

"TIPTOE THRU THE TULIPS" IS A FEATURE

The V. P. I. Dramatic Club will present the "Tech Scandals" in our auditorium Saturday, Feb. 22, at eight o'clock. Admission for students is fifty cents and for others seventy-five cents. Tickets reserved at White Drug Company on Friday and Saturday.

This production is being sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu and the support of the school is asked both in making the visit of the V. P. I. boys pleasant and in making the performance a success by attending it.

The "Tech Scandals" of 1929 was given at S. T. C. last year and met with a very enthusiastic audience. The singing was splendid and the dances were very clever and amusing. The production of 1930 promises to be even better than usual and we urge the entire student body to see it and spend the most delightful evening of the school year.

The Dramatic Club of V. P. I. has already taken the "Scandals" to other towns and everywhere it has been well received. The following article was clipped from the last issue of the "Virginia Tech":

"The V. P. I. Dramatic Club presented the 'Tech Scandals' in the Jef-

(Continued on last page)

"The King's Henchman" Is Dramatic Club Play

The Dramatic Club has selected for their spring play one that will delight an S. T. C. audience. "The King's Henchman" is by far the most difficult and the most select play our dramatic club has ever attempted to present. Those who have read it love it, and it is hoped that the entire student body will read and know a little of the play before coming to see it, in order to appreciate the fine literary value of the play, and in order to be able to hear the beauty of the rythm in Edna St. Vincent Millay's verse.

"The King's Henchman" is a play in three acts. The time of the play is the tenth century and the setting is laid in old England. The entire cast has not been selected but the main charters have been selected and practice has started. The exact date for presentation has not been set. Etta Marshall has the part of the King's Henchman (Aethewold, Earl of East Anglia, Foster Brother and friend to Eadgar, King of England.) Henrietta Corn-

(Continued on page 3)

JUNIOR ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief	Elizabeth Temple
Associate Editor	Ella Carroll
News Editor	Margaret Faris
Literary Editor,	Catherine McAllister
Humorous Editor	Ida Trolan
Art Editor	Katherine Schroeder
Athletic Editor	Allie Oliver
Social Editor	Minnie Brown
Proof Reader	Mildred Jones
Circulation Mgr.	Emily Simpson
Asst. Circu. Mgr.,	Mabel Barksdale

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

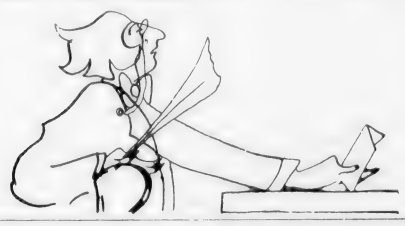
Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — LUCY THOMPSON, '30
Associate Editor — JESSIE SMTH, '31

Board of Editors

News Editor — LILLIAN BOVELL, '30
Literary Editor — LINDA WILKINSON, '30
Athletic Editor — MILDRED MADDREY, '31
World News Editor — GERTRUDE RICHARDSON, '30
Intercollegiate News Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — RACHEL ROYAL, '30
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — MAMIE HURT, '31
Humorous Editor — "BILLIE" PARIS, '30
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO



Reporters

MARIA WARREN, '32 — KATHLEEN WOODSON, '30
DOROTHY SNEDEGAR, '33
ANNIE DENIT, '31
ANN STUMP, '30

Proof Reader — SARA BAKER, '31
Assistant Proof Reader — JESSIE WATKINS, '33

Managers

Business Manager — SARA McCORKLE, '30
Assistant Business Manager — PEARL JOHNSON, '32
Circulation Manager — MARTHA ANTHONY, '30
Assistant Circulation Manager — NANNIE SUE ANTHONY, '30

International Peace Through Service

"Women have asked for justice, demanded freedom and just now they are beginning to accept responsibility. It is with knowledge and understanding only that they can recognize justice clearly, use freedom wisely and carry responsibility ably."

Karin Michaelis, the woman novelist and publicist, of Denmark, says: "After the women of the world," who bring us our young lives, "who can do most? Unquestionably the teacher. In every country the school teacher carries on his shoulders the happiness and honor of his country; he can do more for mankind than all the preachers, artists and statesmen. He prepares the ground of the child's mind and soul. The future reaps the fruit of his sowing."

"Woman knows,' says Dr. Eugenia Schwartzwild of Austria, "that the will to peace must begin in the kindergarten."

Dr. Marie Leuders, of the German Reichstag, writes, "The mental and spiritual state necessary for the attainment of world peace can be achieved only through reform of education in a new spirit and to the women and mothers of the world fall the task of helping this spirit to victory." In the school room, in the home, "Soldier Boy" songs must be replaced by peace motifs, playing war must be abolished. In the nursery guns and rifles must be banished as implements of human destruction.

Dr. Lenders has said there must be a reform of education in a new spirit and the women must help. And how? "The time of women's well-wishing is past. It must be replaced by well-doing." "Action—not diction" is the keynote. Women must be educated to aid in the solution of the tremendous problems which face the nation. "She who would be a scholar must not only study, but teach, write, lecture, apply her knowledge in practical ways." She must know the meaning of service.

"No international policy, no social custom, no ecclesiastical establishment, no institution, "has any sure tenure of permanen and power unless it serves the people."

"With the rapid strides in science, the new contacts with races and people, the new wealth of nations, the new personal equipment of educated folk, what demands for service!"

From women, who have been endowed with tenderness, gentleness, kindness, love of peace and love of mankind, from women who have been educated to the world's needs with a desire to ameliorate conditions must come service, sacrificial service. Then, and then, only, will they wisely use the freedom obtained, ably carry the responsibilty accepted, and aid in the search for that peace which will bring all nations together as brothers.

—M. V. P.

OVER THE TEACUPS

"Did you go to the Bazaar? You mean you didn't know about the French and Spanish Clubs having a Bazaar? They had it in the drawing room, and, before you went in, you had to have your money changed into French and Spanish coins—and its the funniest stuff! I never heard so much "parlez-vousing" and "hablausteding." Did I know what it was all about? Well, I should say not! They really did have lots of beautiful things—I just wanted all of the pillows,—oh, n'everything else, too!

How about the class games? The Sophomores certainly have a knock-out team. It's a shame they were so rough on the Rats.

Did I get excited over the Junior-Senior game? I don't think I'll ever get my voice back; I yelled so much. How about the way litle ole Enza put those balls in the basket?—And didn't it seem funny for Claudia to go on the floor wearing a red jersey.

Yes, I heard Mrs. Turner. Will you ever forget her? How she could croon those lullabies! She surely had personality plus.

And you went to the Tea Room Friday night? That's a good joke on you. Honey, we had creamed chicken and the cutest little heart-shaped pastries you ever saw. I just wouldn't care if Valentine Day came once a week.

Well, it won't be long now! 'Til what? Why Washington's birthday, of course. Oh, I forgot that you didn't know about it—no, I mean the occasion we make it it—not the fact that he has a birthday! Why, it's the biggest day at S. T. C.—next to Founder's Day and Thanksgiving.

Going to Tech Scandals? Hope they're as good as they were last year. I can't wait to see them,—and "him."

Well, so long—I've just got to study some!

SUPERSTITIONS AT S. T. C.

There is an old, old superstitution at S. T. C. that originated way back yonder when people believed in witches (some still believe in them). No one seems able to explain how this superstitution started. It is so old that no one remembers.

Some girls laugh at superstitions and say they are merely the imaginings of ignorant folks. I, myself, once had this attitude. That was when I was a happy, carefree girl who wandered here and yonder at will.

One of my friends told me of the superstitution that bad luck was brought to any girl who was seen on the streets of Farmville or in any of the stores after six o'clock. She said the Coffee Shop was a particularly bad place to be seen in, for if the witches saw you there your luck was very terrible indeed.

I hated to have my friend believe these foolish things so I said that I would prove that they were false.

I went down town about five-thirty and window-shopped at all the stores. As I was passing the Coffee Shop the six o'clock bell rang. I looked all around to see if any of the dreaded witches were in sight, for to tell the truth, I was a little frightened. There were no witches in sight so I walked boldly n. My supper needs no description. Every girl who has been here is familiar with every type and variety of food.

When I started back for school I summoned the most nonchalant air that I could without having a Murad. I felt sorry for the poor ignorant girls who were so superstitious.

Late that night I was rudely awakened by some one shaking me and saying in a dreadful hollow voice, "Come with me." I tried to shreik out for help but the muscles of my throat were paralyzed. No sound came.

Dumbly I followed the old witch through strangely familiar corridors that creaked and groaned. Our footsteps echoed hollowly after us.

Suddenly she stopped before a big dark door. I didn't see her give the witches' sign or pass work but I know she did for we were admitted into a huge chamber.

The room was full of all kinds of witches. Some of them were dressed in long black robes with funny hats on their heads. The hats were not the kind that we think of witches wearing—they had flat tops instead of peaked. The queer folk were all gathered around in a circle and they began to mumble and talk the way witches do.

I sat there not daring to raise my eyes for fear that if I looked at them they would cast an evil spell over me. Alas! alas! My fears were not idle. They did pass a spell over me! I was doomed not to see the bright lights of the city for thirty days. I was allowed a small plot of ground over which I might walk daily but beyond this I was not allowed to go.

I will not further describe the agony I have suffered, the torture I have undergone. It is too terrible for the ears of young maidens. Let a poor old woman warn you to treat the witches kindly and respect their wishes.

A. W., 31

WOMEN SCIENTISTS SERVE THE WORLD

The century, above all else, determines what the exact nature of a man's activity shall be. In 1200 the man who wished to distinguish himself became a crusader, in 1500 a bandit, in 1800 an iconoclast and in 1930 he will become an engineer.

In past centuries, most women's chief field of service has been homemaking and inspiring man, the apparent makers of history. It has taken the past few years with their advantages of higher education for women to give them a chance for public service.

Florence Nightingale came from a wealthy family, and had an education that was unusual for a women of that period. But she was dissatisfied with the usual idle mode of life, for her highest ambition was service to humanity. The Crimean war opened to her a field of service which she immediately entered. She converted her castle at the edge of the battlefield into a hospital for the wounded. Knowing exactly what she wanted, and having the power to command others, she succeeded in establishing new ideas of nursing on the battlefield; and after the war, she reformed English hospitals for better work in times of peace.

Marie Curie whose parents were both school teachers, did not have the material means for reaching her goal of service in the field of science. She and her husband together struggled several years before obtaining even sufficient laboratory equipment, which they got with the Nobel prize money five years after they had isolated radium and polonium. Tragedy overtook her again, for her husband was killed by a truck. She accepted the chair he had had, and continued her researches and now in her eighty-third year is still working. Hers have been dreams of human happiness instead of power or selfish advancement.

"This daughter of a poor Polish school teacher isolated and discovered that chemical element which has meant health to thousands and saved the lives of more thousands.— With masculine force the restless energetic Englishwoman swept away the misery of criminally careless nursing and established decent hospitals with beds and bandages at the edge of the battlefield."

"Is the world therefore poorer in imagination? Are women no longer an inspiration? Have clear thinking technique, science, broken the stream of emotion with which women once filled the world?" Rather let us say that to them has been opened the field much wider than any hitherto known.

POETRY

GRAY HOMELAND

Gray sea before me,
Gray sky above;
Here close beside me
Gray eyes I love.

Gray cliffs behind me
Rugged and strong,
Gray-voiced wind wailing
Its eternal song.

Long gray sea grasses,
Stretch of gray sand—
Some call it a dreary,
Sorrowful land.

They hate the gray grasses,
They hate the gray sea,
But I—oh, I love it—
It's homeland to me.

A. LeB. R., '31

SONNET ON THE MOON

High over the trees the pale moon
Drifts in bleak solitude.
I with my lover sit in a world
That is warm and green and living.
But the moon inspires me not to thoughts of love.
It failed when first it tried to move me
And since I've feared part of me
Is not when romance is approaching
The moon is cold—why
Is it that we fools should think
It keeps the fires of love so
Bright—'less it be thought
The moon would freeze without
The heat of Love!

M. von S., '32

TO—

I loved you. It does not matter. My heart
Was yours, but that is all past now
It is strange t o see you kneel and beg
For even a smile. A smile?
Why once
All that is best nd sweetest in a woman
Was yours, to be had for the asking!
But now—ah well, it does not matter.

A. LeB. R., '31

MEMORY'S CHAIN

What are the hours of absence
When I know that you will come?
I string each one on memory's chain
While with joy my lips are dumb.

What are the days of darkness
When I know the dawn will add
A bead of Hope to my golden chain
A song on my lips, be glad?

What are nights of loging
When I know your heart is true?
I cherish each gem of constant love
That holds my faith in you.

F. H. G., '31

THE TEACHER

The eyes of the ages are toward him
The love of the race is his own.
The heart of the world will reward him.
With a name that is more than a throne.
The life he lives is unending,
For he is the servant of youth,
Earth is lit by the flame he is tending—
This priest of the altar of truth.

—Clarence E. Flynn

SOCIAL

Miss Ella Carroll was the guest of her parents in Portsmouth last week-end.

Miss Margaret Brown visited in Crewe last week-end.

Among those who spent the week-end in Richmond were, Misses Elizabeth Antrim, Hazel Burgwin, Forence Booten, Ethel Fisher, Anna James, Mildred Owen, Frances Potts, Doris Walton and Marion Seay.

Miss Ellen Jones was the guest of her parents in Ashland the past week-end.

Miss Clara Norfleet left Friday to spend several days with Miss Nellie Murray in Danville.

Misses Frances and Julia Martin visited their parents in Charlotte, N. C., during the week-end.

Miss Frances Davis spent the week-end at her home in Clarksville.

Miss Nancy Welborn spent the week-end at her home in High Point, N. C.

Among those who attended the mid-winter dances at V. P. I. were, Misses Alice Hardaway, Dorothy Goodloe, Margaret Rickeretts and Vernia Oden.

Miss Toodles Booth who visited her parents in Lynchburg the past week-end had as her guests, Misses Lillian Hogan, Martha Moore, Ella Clore and Medora Ford.

Miss Rebecca Earles visited her sister at William and Mary College last week-end.

Among those who attended the mid-winter dances at Hampde-Sydney College last week-end were, Misses Frances Thornton, Mildred Field Elmore, Lucy Dortch, Margaret Loving, Eleanor Hogan, Lucille Graves, Martha Sanders, Martha Walters, Alice Covington, Helen Robertson, Frances Hutchinson, Virginia Gurley, Melisse Mullens, Martha von Schilling, Dolly Reid, Martha McKensie, Lela Germany, Katherine Chambers, Virginia Marchant, Frances Parker, and Edith Britt.

Misses Katherine Reed and Mary Wallace of Fredericksburg were the guests of Miss Arianna Green the past week-end.

Miss Elizabeth Betts of South Hill was the guest of Miss Lucy Dortch the past week-end.

Miss Caroline Roper of Petersburg vistied Miss Mildred Field Elmore last week-end.

We were all glad to welcome Misses Elizabeth Turner, Beth Brokenborough Margaret Pumphrey and Peggy Walton back for the week-end.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. George Ray Glenn, of Prospect, Va., announce the marriage of their daughter, Margaret Ray, to William Robert Van Huss, December 20, at Blountville, Tenn. Since her graduation, Mrs. Van Huss has been teaching in Alleghany and Wise counties, the last four years in Appalachia High School. Mr. Van Huss is a native of Tennessee. For several years he held a position in Appalachia with the Interstate Railroad Company, but is now with the United States Rubber Company in Detroit, Michigan, where they will make their home after June 1.

Mrs. Patie Buford Engart was married on Monday, February 10 to Rosser Kelly, of Salem, Va., and Smyrna, Turkey. The wedding took place in New York in the Little Church Around the Corner.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Reid Venable announce the marriage of their daughter, Jane Reid, to Alfred Norman Webb, lieutenant United States Navy, which took place on Saturday, November 30, 1929, at Hoboken, N. J. After February 15 Mr. and Mrs. Webb will be at home at Fort Schuyler, The Bronx, New York City.

NOTICE

There will be a charge of five cents for each article left in the gym after five-thirty. —A. Oliver.

MISS VIRGINIA POTTS, our classman, who, by her love and cooperation has helped to make our school, as well as our class, worthwhile.

HIGH SCHOOL HAS PAY SING IN AUDITORIUM

Saturday night the girls of the College High School put on a "pay sing" in the college auditorium. There were a couple of peppy choruses which were well executed and showed a great deal of hard work had been done.

Sara Canada, Margaret Farrar, Vivian Davis and Dorothy McNamee each rendered a special number—singing, dancing, piano-playing and reading. All showed ability, and we congratulate them upon their good performances.

This special sing was for the benefit of the High School Y. W. C. A., which is a new organization. The students of S. T. C. wish for them success in this undertaking.

SEE "THE FAMILY ALBUM"

On February the 25th the faculty will give you an opportunity to take a look into that delightful book, "The Family Album." Come and see Miss Wheeler as the Chinese girl, and Mr. McCorkle as the sailor and Miss M. K. Taliaferro as ——— well, that's one of the many surprises in store for you. Admission 25c.

THE REAL VALENTINE GREETING

It's never too late to be surprised! Every minute of the day, last Friday, it seemed that someone was displaying Valentines with what seemed to be more than ordinary excitement. However, the best surprise came when we entered the dining room. Red hearts with the "Y. W." message were found at each plate; and we had creamed chicken, ice cream, and cake which was atractively decorated. All were highly praised. It is needless to tell anyone who was in the dining room when the dessert was brought in that we enjoyed and appreciated it. We wish to thank all those who were responsible for such a delightful meal.

HUB PRESENTS FASHION SHOW FEBRUARY 27TH

Fifteen manniquins will model lovely garments, consisting of sport wear, afternoon wear, dinner gowns, and dance frocks and the latest in foot wear, hosiery, and millinery.

A wedding will be held on the stage "Mr. E. Waller Sanford," being the groom and the bride remains a mystery. The very newest mode in wedding attire will be shown.

An all talkie picture will also be shown, "Not So Dumb," Marion Davies is the star. The show will start very promptly at 7:30 P. M. Thursday, Feb. 27.

MRS. LAWSON TURNER IMPERSONATES NEGRO

Mrs. Lawson Turner, impersonator of the old Southern negro in songs and stories rendered a very delightful program Wednesday night, Feb. 12. The program consisted of negro folk songs, "Mammy" lullabies, and negro spirituals, ending with a negro prayer and sermon.

Having lived in that section of Virginia from which the genuine Southern darkie came—Brunswick County—Mrs. Turner really knows the negro and his music. Throughout the program she emphasized the wonderful rythm inherited from his forefatherers which underlies all his songs. Her comparison of modern jazz with the melody, harmony, and rythm of the negro folk songs she shows the inferiority of our jazz.

Mrs. Turner with her charming Southern drawl and informality carried us back to the good old days of plantation life when the negro was always singing and happy. We are grateful to Delta Sigma Chi for making possible so pleasant an evening.

"THE KING'S HENCHMEN" IS DRAMATIC CLUB PLAY

(Continued from Page One)

well is well cast as Eadgar, King of England. Virginia Gurley is cast as Maccus, Servant and Friend to Aethelwold. Aelfrida, daughter to Ordgar, Thane of Devon, is to be played by Lela Germany and Ordgar is played by Eloise Davis. The rest of the cast has not been selected. Frances Martin will play Ase, Aefrida's servant.

The student and faculty of S. T. C. may look forward with interest to seeing this play presented at our school.

CANADA DRUG CO.

Next to Baldwin's Store

Come to us for your cosmetics and STATIONERY

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

POLO SHIRTS AND SWEATERS

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

Quality—Price—Service

Come in and get acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?

Go Across the Street

GILLIAM'S

FOR EATS

OF ALL KINDS

SPRING SHOWING OF

HATS

THE HAT SHOPPE

Mrs. H. H. Hunt

THIRD STREET

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE

Next to the Theatre

Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies

MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Farmer Gift Shop

Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery

Engraving

COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh films)

Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)

COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S

is headquarters for the best SANDWICHES AND DRINKS in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

Work done while you wait with First Class Materials

110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS

Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop

323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus

G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP

Will fix your shoes

WHILE YOU WAIT

Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS

TAILORING CLEANING PRESSING

Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

JUST RECEIVED FROM NEW YORK

Newest basque effect Silk Taffeta Dresses $3.95

Newest Kniteed Silk Straw Hats $1.95

Kniteed Polo Shirts, all colors and sizes, special $1.49

Spring Coats and suits from $5.95 to $35.00.

Over two hundred New Silhouette Dresses, the loveliest in town $9.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Farmville's Shopping Center

Judge: "Rastus, what was the first scene when this automobile caught on fire?"

Rastus: "Well, judge, I don't exactly know I s'pect it was kerosene."

"When you first starting "coating" me I knew you "suited" me just fine for I began "panting". I just had to "collar" you for you "necktied" me to you but when you socked me that "capped" it all.

Professor to Freshman: "Are they going to have inspection of quarters this morning?"

Dumb Freshman: "It won't do them any good to inspect my quarters, I haven't but twenty cents."

He: "Men endowed with my intelligence and mental power can't be found running around loose every day."

She: "Of course not, that is what the insane asylums are for."

"How did the Smith wedding go off?"

"Fine, until the parson asked the bride if she'd obey her husband."

"What happened then?"

She replied, "Do you think I'm crazy?" and the groom who was in a sort of daze replied, "I do."

Yep! There is the Scotchman who sat up all night to watch his wife's vanishing cream.

Budsey: "I wish you were a mind reader."

Ben: "Why?"

Budsey: "Well, you wouldn't be just sitting there."

First Classman: "What caused the Grand Canyon?"

Rat: "A Scotchman dropped a dime in a snake hole."

She: "How did you find the women in Paris?"

He: "You don't have to find them, they're out looking for you."

Marcus: "Where did you learn to swim so well?"

Edith: "Oh, swimming back from gondola rides in Venice."

I eat my peas with honey;
I've done it all my life,
It may taste very funny
But it keeps them on my knife.

Prof: "Please do not talk, you disturb me.

Yawning Voice: "Yeh, and the same to you."

She: "I'm hungry."

He: "What?"

She: " I said I was hungry."

He: "Sure, I'll turn on the radio. At first I thought you said you were hungry."

She: "We've been waiting a long time for my mother."

He: "Hours, I should say."

She (rapturously): "Oh, George."

Operator: "Number, please."

Professor: "Only one. I'm quite alone."

He: "I've an awful lot of electricity in my hair."

She: "I don't wonder. You always have such shocking things on your mind."

Have you heard about the absent-minded professor who jumped from an airplane and didn't open the parachute because it was'nt raining.

They laughed when I sat down at the piano—I had forgotten to bring the piano stool.

NEW MEMBERS OF COTILLION CLUB

The Cotillion Club announces the following new members: Jenilee Knight, Lillian Hogan, Frances Tanney, Nannie Bell Clindenin, Medora Ford, Margaret Priest, Verne Oden, Martha Moore, Mary Randall, Grace Tritton, Arianna Green, Margaret Gathwright, Mary Clare Booth, Melisse Mullins, Jane Royall, Martha Sanders, Virginia Marchant, Frances Potts, Cody Neal, Frances Hutchins, Alice Hardaway, Dot Goodloe, Butsie Carter, Gazell Ware, Margaret Rickeretts, Elsie Burgess, Louise Ellis, Katherine Royester, Ruth Ford, Jane Beale, Mary E. Mayo, Katherine Cogbill, Adele Hutchinson, Mary Trimyer, Martha Seabury, Billie Gillespie, Virginia Ford, Red Wills, Happy Hughes, Frances Fleming, Dot Ritchie, Margaret Vincent, Mary Will Vincent, Peg Britt, Frances Martin, Virginia Witt, Elizabeth Jordan, Josie Spencer.

NO YONG PARK LECTURES ON PROBLEMS OF CHINA

(Continued from Page 1)

Foreigners in China do not submit themselves to Chinese law, and their cases are tried by the consuls of their own country. Thus the Chinese people do not have a fair trial in cases when a foreigner is involved. In the course of his lecture he showed us how foreigners went into China first for industrial reasons; then they wanted to develop the natural resources they found. Later on they found Chinese government unsatisfactory and wanted to establish a stable government. In this way China has been forced to have anything but a friendly attitude towards foreigners. China can put over no program of reform nor can she do her best in any way when held down by the foreigners. A very interesting account of the problem of Chinese Eastern Railway was given. In his usual humorous manner Mr. Park said, "The railroad is one thousand miles long; the trouble it has caused is ten thousand miles long."

Throughout the entire evening the attention of the audience was attracted by his sparkling wit and humor which were mingled with his serious frank, straightforward presentation of the international relations of China.

Mr .Park paid a very high tribute to America. He said, "America has been China's best friend" and that America had no territorial interest in China.

BIG EXCURSION AT S. T. C.

Both students and faculty took advantage of the big excursion last Thursday afternoon. The rates were only cinq sous which was paid a la porte. The tourists visited France and Spain in one afternoon. Who said "C'est impossible?" In France the tourists bought all kinds of souvenirs for their friends back home. Some bought pillows, some silhouettes, and other bought beaucoup de choses. After seeing all the beautiful sights in France they passed over the thickly forested Pyrenees into Spain. There they found everything equally as beautiful as in France. Pretty senoritas were seen in the shops. Everyone enjoyed the trip so much that each is looking forward to the next trip.

PROMPT MAIL SERVICE ON FEBRUARY 14TH

To the Editor of the Rotunda:

These items regarding the volume of Valentine mail passing through Station No. 1 (State Teachers College) may be of interest to your readers.

Feb. 13—Incoming, first class	1000
Parcel Post	130
Feb. 14 Incoming first class	1500
Parcel Post	175
Feb. 13, Outgoing, first class	1600
Parcel Post	12
Feb. 14, Outgoing, first class	800
Parcel Post	16

The quiet patience and ordliness of the students made the ease and speed of handling possible.—M. K. Taliaferro, clerk.

We would like to thank Miss Taliaferro for the prompt way in which she handles our mail, and for giving us this interesting piece of information.

At the Eaco Theatre Week Feb. 24- Mar. 1

MON. & TUES.—William Haines and Anita Page in "NAVY BLUES" supported by Karl Dane. Here is William Haines in his first talking picture, a tale of the trials, thrills and laughs of the gobs on board the U. S. destroyer fleets. As "Bozo" Kelly, he is hard-boiled, wise-cracking, devil-may-care. But when he comes ashore and falls for a pair of pretty eyes (Anita Page's) love—real love—takes command of him for the first time in his life. Hear Haines talk and sing "I've Got the Navy Blues." Also Pathe News and Talking Comedy.

WED., AND THURS. — Marion Davies, supported by Elliott Nugent (he of "So This is College") in the all talking production, "NOT SO DUMB" from the Broadway comedy hit, "Dulcy". You must meet Dulcy—she's pretty, but oh, so dumb! And how she'll make you howl! Every time she opens her mouth she puts her foot in it. She thought farther away was a priest, and a bridge rubber kept the pans clean; a little slam was a dirty dig. Madcap Marion in her happiest picture hit. Also "The Enchanted Forest," an all color Tiffany classic and Screen Snapshots.

NOTE — The Hub Department Store will present an elaborate fashion show on Thursday night immediately after the feature picture, exhibiting the very latest gowns and dresses with local pretty girls as models: consequently there will be but one showing of the picture this night. $5.00 in gold or a $10 book of admission tickets will be presented by the Eaco Theatre to the girl judged to be the best model. No advance in prices.

FRI. & SAT.—"THE GRAND PARADE" with Helen Twelvetrees & Fred Stone. An all-music, all-sound, and all-talking show. The first showing in Virginia following Richmond. A gripping story of old time minstrelsy with its pageantry and parade—a heart breaking love theme— joys, tears laughter; and the most thrilling climax ever screened. One of the most dramatic and delightful pictures of the year—don't miss it. Also Sound News and Talking Comedy.

Two shows each night—7:30 and 9:15.

TECH SCANDALS TO BE PRESENTED HERE SAT.

(Continue From Page One)

ferson School of Pulaski last Saturday night.

The members of the cast were entertained by young people from the Pulaski High School, sponsors of the production, who showed them around the town and made dates for them. Meals were served members of the cast at various Pulaski homes.

The feature of the performance was the Colonial dance, in which 'Rudy' Campbell danced, assisted by the chorus dressed in Colonial costumes. The V. P. I. quartet accompanied the cast and sang several selections throughout the performance. The most laughter of the evening was caused by the 'shot gun' wedding with E. W. Hobbs as the bride and J. B. Thomas as groom. Don Muller took the role of comedian in a band of tourists to the Orient. A 'shag' exhibition was given by 'Abe' Tarkington and 'Ed' Hobbs. The last scene opened with 'Tiptoe Thru the Tulips' by Holmer Ewell, accompanied by Jack Darrah. The members of the chorus were dressed in orange and maroon clown suits. The finale ended with 'Tech Triumph' by the whole cast."

CONGRATULATIONS

The Junior class wishes to congratulate the Freshmen and Sophomores on their issues of the Rotunda. Both issues showed excellent work and keen ability.

RED AND WHITE WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

Friday night amid much excitement, the Junior basketball team went down before the Sophs in the finals of the interclass basketball games. Cheers from the balcony for the Reds and for the Greens were so loud that Miss Iler's whistle could hardly be heard.

Although the Juniors played hard and fast, the Sophs had a score of 4-0 at the end of the first half. When the teams went back on the floor the Sophs scored again, and equally soon the Juniors scored one point. With added zest the Sophs again made a goal.

Both teams showed good teamwork and fast playing; the ball traveled from one end of the floor to the other with great speed.

At the end of the game the score was 7 to 1 in favor of the Sophs. The line-ups were:

Sophs	Pos.	Juniors
E. Boswell	f.	E. Evans
H. Cornwell	f.	E. Simpson
F. Edwards	g.	E. Hunter
Quisenberry (c)	j.c.	Hutchinson
E. Souders	s.c.	(c) A. Oliver

PITTSBURGH AND S. T. C. MEET IN DEBATE

Continued from page one

er negative,—and by the end of the rebuttals the whole house was tense with interest. Then came the decision. The slightest movement could be heard all over the house as Mr. Holton read. "Negative, affirmative, and negative." S. T. C. had won!

Although the decision was another victory for S. T. C., a braver argument has never before been presented on the S. T. C. rostrum.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony
Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S
DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery
AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Farmville - - - - Va.

McIntosh's Drug Store
New State Teachers College
STATIONERY
Farmville - - - - Va.

FEATURE THIS WEEK
COLLEGE THEME TABLETS
3 For 25c
SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES
MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

BALDWIN'S
Headquarters for
BEAUTIFUL HOSIERY
All new shades—French or Pointed Heels
$1 $1.35 $1.50 $1.95

NEW SILK DRESSES
$7.95
new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.
—in the Basement—
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

ROTUNDA

Volume X THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1930 No. 21

FACULTY PRESENTS THE FAMILY ALBUM

Sponsored by the Senior Class and Alumnae of S. T. C.

"The Family Album," sponsored by the Senior Class and Alumnae Association, was presented in the ST.C. auditorium on Tuesday night.

Mr. Bell, the rich uncle from California, who had made his money first in the gold rush, then in oil, and later in the stock market, reminded us of Henry Ford. Mr. and Mrs. Moss made an ideal couple, the bride and groom just home from their honeymoon. Miss Maud K. Taliaferro, as the village belle, made quite a hit, and Miss Tucker, the society belle, who married a yankee up north, was just as attractive. Mr. McCorkle made an admirable admiral who brought back with him the little Chinese girl, Miss Wheeler. Dr. Rouse, the naughty little boy, who always wanted to run away, could have been another creation of Mark Twain—perhaps the twin brother of Huckleberry Finn. The little boy whose part Dr. Wynne played, apparently suffered from the same malady, but fortunately his mother snapped his picture the day before he ran away. Several members of the faculty filled very unusual roles—Miss Purdom, the consumptive member of the family; Mr. Coyner, the lonely bridegroom; Misses Drake, Spratley and Nichols, Aunt Mary's triplets; Mr. Holton, the preacher, with his Bible and swallow-tail coat; Miss Jennings, the country cousin, in gingham dress and bonnet; Mr. Grainger, the cousin who fought in the Civil War, and Miss Waters, his sweetheart. Others, however, including Miss Iler, the athletic girl; Miss Bedford, the artist; Miss Robertson, the dancing girl, and Miss Turner, the leader of the church

(Continued on last page)

Volunteer Conference to be Held In Staunton

Several students of S. T. C. are planning to attend the Student Volunteer Conference which will be held in Staunton, February 28 to March 2. The theme of the conference this year is "The Kingdom Come." This is the one time during the year when students can enjoy the fellowship of those whose interests are theirs.

An interesting program has been planned for the conference. The list of speakers includes Mr. Sedam, a representative from national headquarters, several returned missionaries, and several out-of-college volunteers.

While the spiritual side of the conference has been carefully planned, the social side has not been neglected, for thre will be a social, an banquet, and a trip to the caves.

The registration fee for the conference is three dollars. In addition to this there will be a small fee for the banquet and for transportation charges. All students who are interested are invited to attend the conference. Those going from S. T. C. will leave Friday morning and return Sunday night. Any students who wish to go should see Miss Edith Marshall immediately.

Dedication

To those who have worked for our Alma Mater and have contributed in an inconspicuous way to her growth and development; to those who have made splendid endeavors and have accomplished things, but have not gained recognition; to those who have succeeded according to certain standards, but have failed according to the standards of the world; to those who have left their imprints upon the lives and characters of others, but not upon the annals of history, we, in all reverence and admiration, dedicate this issue of the "Rotunda."

Ruffner Literary Society Takes In New Members

The Ruffner Literary Society held its regular meeting in the Y. W. C. A. reception room, February the eighteenth at seven o'clock.

The meetingopened with the initiation service conducted by Ruth Owen, president. Eleven candidates, having been found eligible in the recent try-out, were officially accepted a smembers.

Plans for Founders Day were made and the recently installed system of degrees was explained for the benefit of the new mmbrs. Th try-out forms the first dgree, work used on the program determines the second degree, and those having articles published receive the third and last degree.

Following this, Bernice Scott read an interesting, original short story, "Wings of Love." Hot chocolate and cakes were then served and the meeting adjourned.

Those members initiated into the society are:

Laverna Bayne
Lula Crowder
Janie Dodson
Enza Evans
Elizabeth Drewry
Charlotte Hutchins
Louise Elliot
Sara Hubbard
Frances Edwards
Berenice Scott
Grace Virginia Wodehouse

FARMVILLE TO PLAY RICHMOND NORMAL

On Friday, February 28th the Farmville varsity will play Richmond Normal School in Richmond. This will make the second game that our girls have played and we are hoping that they will be as successful in this as they were in their last encounter.

As yet the line-up has not been definitely decided. Good luck, varsity!

TECH SCANDALS A SUCCESS

The V. P. I. Dramatic Club. under auspices of Pi Gamma Mu, presented "Tech Scandals," a very appreciative audience, Saturday, February 22 at 8 o'clock in the College auditorium. The program was highly entertaining.

The first number was an Oriental sketch. In this scene the distinctive features were "Lady of the Desert" sung by the V. P. I. Quartet, Messrs. Algers, Roberts, Converse, Ewell respectively; a Turkish dance by "Rudy" Campbell; tap dancing by Brown and a violin selection by Tarkington. Realism was added to the scene through the costumes and the Oriental rug used as a background.

Next, as announced by D. C. Miller, there were two dance numbers, the Argentine Tango by Rudy Campbell and partner (we admit we couldn't do it as well); and a solo tap dance by Crumpler. A very touching little scene was the skit entitled "Little Nell". It was really quite tragic, but the audience didn't think so from the chuckles audible.

The solo, rendered by two of the quartet, Roberts and Ewell, formed a most delightful part of the program. Mr. Heath, the director announced they should be sung by candle light, but neverthless, they were quite effective. The quartet also sang a series of interesting numbers. Their popularity was evidenced by the encores called.

J. V. Thomas and his fellow acrobats performed some difficult feats of tumbling which caused much breathlesness. Following which the entire chorus danced the "Moonlight March" with some quite interesting figures. Tarkington and his partner held a shag contest all their own in the scene called "Sympathy." Another high light of the program was an exhibition dance by Ed Hobbs and his little sister.

Appropriate to the occasion the minuet was not omitted, the boys performing it quite skillfully and gracefully,

(Continued on last page)

Seniors of College High to Give Play

The senior class of the College High School will present "Tommy's Wife," a three-act play, February 28, at eight o'clock, in the S. T. C. auditorium.

The play is an enjoyable romantic comedy. Nannie Gilbert impersonates Tommy Carothers, the young artist, and Martha Scott Watkins, as his sister, Rose, adds charm to his studio. Patty Campbell, played by Mary Shelton, is a new neighbor but very quicly gets into the thick of things. Margaret Armstrong make a splendid carefree boy, named Dick Grannis, and an ardent lover as well. Nell Stokes is the excitable Frenchman, Pierre Le Bouton. Henrietta Cornwell is kindly taking the part of Mrs. De Yarbrough-Smith, and she needs no introduction o the members of an S. T. C. audience, having delighted them before. Elizabeth Thaxton is the "young and impressionable" daughter of Mrs. De Yarbrough-Smith. Edith Broson is played by Mary Diehl and is a "friend of Rose who is interested in charities." Henrietta Cornwell is coaching the play as well as taking a part in it.

Come and see why you have had to climb the stairs so many nights instead of being able to pass through the auditorium! The admission is 25c for students and 50c for others.

TRY-OUTS HELD FOR ORATORICAL CONTEST

At the regular meeting of the debate club on Thursday, February 20, members of the club were given an opportunity to try out for the oratorical contest. The participants were judged on delivery, stage presence, vocabulary, and enunciation. The subject of the orations was: "Virginia's Women in the Making of American History."

The judges selected from the participants the following orators: Anne Johnson and Martha Faris.

N. C. STATE & S. T. C. MEET IN COMBAT

Frances Wilson Wins Diamond Key as Special Distinction

Our invincible team, Frances Wilson and Mary Mann Baskerville, met the team from N. C. State in debate on Tuesday, February 18, in the S. T. C. auditorium. The question debated was: "Resolved, That Nations Should Adopt a Plan of Complete Disarmament Excepting Such Forces as are Necessary for Police Purposes." The affimative side of the questio nwas ably upheld by Messrs. M. B. Amos and T. W. Buchanon of N. C. State. The negative by Wilson and Baskerville of S. T. C.

Dr. Jarman presided at the debate, anonunced that each side was to be judged on the case, clearness, thoroughness, teamwork, summaries, follow-ups, rebuttal, and presentation.

Each speech seemed almost as convincing as the others, so we are not surprised that the judges found it difficult to render their decisions. However, the decision ran 2 to 1, in favor of the negative.

We are especially proud of this victory because it was not easily won. Both sides really fought and the N. C. debators almost convinced us that we should disarm, but when Baskerville's rebuttal was set forth covering all disputed points, we felt that the victory was ours.

By this debate Frances Wilson won final degree of "Special Distinction" in Pi Kappa Delta, honorary debate fraternity. She is now entitled to wear a diamond in her key. We hope to send this team to Wichita to national Pi Kappa Delta Convention.

S. T. C. Celebrates Washington's Birthday

Our Saturday night's celebration of the birth of our first President, Washington, was one of the gala occasions we have experienced at S. T. C. This treat even surpassed the one which was given us Valentine's night.

Many things contributed to the festival air that was created over the entire school: costumes, some quite descriptive, evening dresses of many colors and shades; table decorations, with a candy hatchet as a favor for everyone; extra attention to the menu made many feel that the night was a very special one; music, played by the college orchestra; particularly our favorite, "Slumber On, My Yittle Gipsy Sweeheart"; and then, too, the knoweldge to some of us of what was coming after, for in the recreation hall the even beautiful minuet was danced for us by sixteen girls.

We must not forget the last of the program, either. The V. P. I. quartet gave us a "sample," as they called it, of their program which was to come later in the evening, and it added an extra bit of thankfulness to each one for the lovely evening which was given us.

The entire student body would like to thank Mrs. Jamison, the Y. W. C. A. and the College Orchestra for their efforts in our behalf.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — LUCY THOMPSON, '30
Associate Editor — JESSIE SMTH, '31

Board of Editors

News Editor — LILLIAN BOVELL, '30
Literary Editor — LINDA WILKINSON, '30
Athletic Editor — MILDRED MADDREY, '31
World News Editor — GERTRUDE RICHARDSON, '30
Intercollegiate News Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — RACHEL ROYAL, '30
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — MAMIE HURT, '31
Humorous Editor — "BILLIE" PARIS, '30
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

MARIA WARREN, '32 KATHLEEN WOODSON, '30
DOROTHY SNEDEGAR, '33
ANNIE DENIT, '31
ANN STUMP, '30

Proof Reader — SARA BAKER, '31
Assistant Proof Reader — JESSIE WATKINS, '33

Managers

Business Manager — SARA McCORKLE, '30
Assistant Business Manager — PEARL JOHNSON, '32
Circulation Manager — MARTHA ANTHONY, '30
Assistant Circulation Manager — NANNIE SUE ANTHONY, '30

Editorial

Shadows

"An institution is but the lengthened shadow of a man."

Timeworn? No, time has only proved the real worth of such a statement. We can see this best shown in our own College. When the light of loyalty shines forth as it does at this time, we see the shadows of the founders outlined most clearly. They have not been shadows that have waned when the light waned, but have lengthened themselves to the spirit of their followers at all times. It is the shadows of such men as Washington, Lincoln, Wilson, we trace with our finger on the immortal rock of fame in our country's history. Why, then, can we not trace the shadows of Ruffner, and Cunningham in the history of our college? Both show lengthened shadows!

Our College has been called a plant; like a plant it has evolved. First, the small bright seedling of inspiration found and planted by a few men whose eyes held visions. Then came the tiny embryo plant, which was nourished by rich soil, the light of learning, the tears of the teacher, and love. It has grown under the guidance of such tender hands, so that today it is a plant, green, and flourishing with vitality. Each fall we find it blossoming with new buds; in the spring time harvest, the fruits of learning ripen—grow mellow and fall from the mother plant. These are those who go out from Alma Mater, holding in turn the seedlings of new learning, perhaps new institutions. Who knows?

Today we bear the shadows of these tenders of our plant these gardeners of learning; silhouetted clearly in our memory. Shall we not keep them so? And standing in their shadows be healed of petty prejudices; see Knowledge and Service as they saw it in their planning! We pay tribute to the founders and to those who builded with such care, for they, having passed on, have left their shadows.

Profession or Trade?

We haev been accustomed to speaking of teaching as a profession, but do we really think of it in that way or do we use that word merely to ease our conscience a little? What is our real attitude toward the work we are so soon to enter? Are we going into it because we like and enjoy it, because we have an intense desire to do something for the good of humanity? If so, we are justified in calling our work a profession. But—do we look upon our work as the easiest and most profitable means of obtaining some wished-for finances, or do we intend to use it as a stepping-stone to something else? Does our salary mean more to us, is it a great enticement than the splendid opportunity of helping others, of giving to boys and girls some of the best things in life? If it is, then we are woefully mistaken in speaking of teaching as our profession—it is our trade, because our interests in it are only personal. If we wish to enter a trade, let us choose something other than teaching—it is too high and sacred a calling, and should be considered, especially by those who have entered it, as the noblest of all professions. There are already too many teachers who are merely tradesmen and tradswomen and not professionals. Teaching as a trade cannot be profitable—at least not until salaries are increased—and consequently cannot afford much satisfaction. Those who consider the financial reimbursement as the only factor are liable to disappointment. However, those who enter teaching from the other point of view will be happy in their profession and will be amply rewarded. They will be content to labor in obscurity, to live in privation, to remain unknown and unrecognized. Dollars and cents are a poor remuneration for the pains and efforts of the high-souled teacher. He will find his reward elsewhere—in the lives of his students, in the satisfatcion of seeing them developed and trained, through his effort and guidance, into boys and girls who will become worthy citizens of the State and Nation. But what is his reward? Henry Van Dyke in his little composition on the "Unknown Teacher" gives us the answer to this question:

Famous educators plan new systems of pedagogy but it is the Unknown Teacher who delivers and guides the young. He lives in obscurity and contends with hardships. For him no trumpets blare, no chariots wait, no golden decorations are decreed. He keeps the watch along the border of darkness and makes the attacks upon the trenches of ignorance and folly. Patient in his daily duty to conquer the evil powers which are the enemies of youth, he awakens sleeping spiirts, he quickens the indolent, encourages the eager, and studis the unstable. He communitcates his own joy in the learning and shares with boys and girls the best treasures of the mind. He lights many candles which in later years will shine back to cheer him. This is his reward."

LOOKING BACKWARD

Through the influence of certain citizens of Farmville, among them Judge Francis Nathaniel Watkins, Col. J. P. Fitzgerald and Dr. James Nelson then pastor of Farmville Baptist Church, Farmville Female College was offered to the State of Virginia if the teacher-training institution were located here.

In the fall of 1884, just nine years after George Peabody College for Teachers was established, the State Teachers Normal School opened with Dr. William H. Ruffner as president. One hundred and seven students were enrolled with a faculty of seven. The campus lay between High Street and the street back of the Science Hall and the two walks nearest the main entrance. This was enclosed by a picket fence. A three-story brick building was within the enclosure. The building was heated by wood stoves. Soon after the Normal was established a small frame building was erected back of the Main building to be used as a training school.

During the ten years Dr. Cunningham served Farmville, the Main building was torn down and remodeled. The enrollment grew to two hundred and seventy-seven students with twelve faculty members. Dr. Fraser, who held the presidency only three years, succeeded Dr. Cunningham.

In 1902 whn Dr. Jarman became president "he found a small school with a faculty of thirteen members, offering three years of high school work and one year of professional work. In that year there were only fifhty-eight students in the professional course." Many strides have been made since that time.

The class rooms used by Miss Turner and Dr. Walmlsley once made up the auditorium; the training school was in the west wing; the geography department occupied the reading room, the infirmary was on the fourth floor of west wing. After the fire in '23 the "gym" served as dining room until the following fall when the present dining room was completed. The first degree class, of less than a dozen graduated in 1919. This year there are more than ninety in the Senior class.

What improvements will be made in the coming years remain to be seen.

FRAGMENT

State Female Normal School
October 25, 1898

My dear Mary:

I am happy to tell you that I have passed the barriers and am now a student in the Farmville State Female Normal School. You know that the requirements for admission are: sixteen years of age, sound health, vigorous intellect, unspotted character and freedom from any dangerous eccentricities. We had to pass horrid entrance examinations on arithmetic, geography, history and English grammar—besides having to write a three-page theme an an assigned subject.

I like the place very much . . . . The building is quite the biggest I have ever seen. It is made of bricks that are turned and twisted fantastically and is a grim, gloomy old place. There are only two class rooms and a small assembly hall, and sometimes classes are held in the reception room.

The teachers are kept very busy. Dr. Ruffner teaches psychology, ethics, didactis and lessons in natural science. Miss Bush teaches mathematics, calisthenics, morals and manners . . . .

I simply must tell you everything before I have to blow out my lamp . .

OVER THE TEACUPS

Say, you're not busy are you? Well, I'll just stay a minute!

Wasn't the dining room a rare sight Saturday night? Everybody looked so good! You know I think dressin' up 'most makes you feel that you've been somewhere!

The table decorations were so cute! The flags and those cute litle hatchets. I wonder who thought of using peppermint sticks for hatchet handles? I love peppermint candy. Everybody saved theirs but me. I just couldn't! Wonder what George Washington would have thought of them?

Yes, there were some boys in there, too. I'll bet they enjoyed it. I wonder how three girls would feel in the mess hall at V. P. I.?

You wouldn't? Just let some one ask me an' see how quick I'd go! Those girls in the orchestra deserved a whole lot. I hope they got a plenty to eat. I would have been too weak to talk by that time.

Why? Well, if you had walked as much Saturday as I did I guess you would have been hungry, too. Say! we had a good time. Isn't it funny how a lot of uniforms add to the scenery?

Last year all of the hostesses stayed in the dining room and thanked Mrs. Jamison for the nice supper. Oh! they meant well this year, I guess she could tell how huch it was enjoyed.

One freshman said she knew I was a senior 'cause I started telling things by saying, "When I was a freshman—" She says juniors say "year before last", and sophomores says "last year." I guess "Rats" just say nothing! I never thought how much we talked about our "rat year" before.

By the way, wasn't the minuet grand? And the Tech Scandals?

What's that, I've got to run. I left the water running in the tub! I bet the radiator is floating out by now!

Bye!

I Did Not Ask a Lesser Thing

I sought the heights beyond my reach.
Today I go with outstretched hand
But satisfied
I did not ask a lesser thing.

I have kept faith with my ideals
I have not cheapened life with mediocrity
And I am glad
I did not ask a lesser thing.

M. L. Gardiner

POETRY

The poems in this column of the Rotunda are taken from "The New World Anthology of Poetry" which came off the press in December, 1929. The intentions of the editor and publisher was to make the volume and experiment dedicated to the new writers of America. There is not a poem in the anthology by any great and well-known author; the poems are the works of college students—amateurs—the poets of tomorrow!

Song

I can treasure it now, and wrap it in silk,
That silver brocade of a dream,
And lock it away in a Chinese chest
With the lavender fragrance of pain.

I can treasure it now, and only in spring
When the leaves are heavy with rain
Do I dare to kneel by my Chinese chest
And finger its silvery sheen.

M. Birch

Awakening

I who accused Life
Of stacking the cards
Awoke to find myself
Playing solitaire.

J. B. Gitletz

Two Leaves

I went out into the Indian summer
Haze, and violet sky,
Amber cornfields
And undulating bird choirs
Like black ribbons in the wind,
And I brought you—
Two golden leaves.
Is it always thus, my beloved,
Out of all my dreams,
Can I bring you only
Two small leaves?

H. R. Cole

Dust

The dust of dreams is silver, dear,
The dust of the rose is sweet;
Silence is dust of crimson song;
Gold star dust falls at my feet.

But silver dust comes from dead dreams, dear,
And only the faded rose leaves fall
Silence comes when the song is sung,
And the dust of the stars in an ache and a call.

B. S. Dawson

Life

Life
It is too much for me . . .
The mystery of beginning
The end
Intangibility
Unsureness
The aching void
Fallen gods
Incompleteness of everything.
Hopes
Unanswered prayers
The thousand haunting fears
The tears
Perplexities
Uncertainness . . .
The wanting body
Empty bed . . . .
Life's nothing ness when love has fled.

G. Gillmon

Faded Roses

This tiny box of heavy gold
Lined with violet red
You gave me a yellow rose;
Now the rose is dead
Its petals are dry and fallen apart;
Its odor too has fled.
And I am old in lavender
Who once was gowned in red.

"Pannie" Willis

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The Senior Class take this opportunity to thank the "Little Sisters" for their willing assistance in making the Senior Musical a success.

MISS LUCILLE GRAVES—who, embodying in herself our motto, "Each for the other, all for the class," has taught us how to serve and love Alma Mater. And serving, we have learned to love her—our president.

DR. WALMSLEY TALKS TO THE LATIN CLUB

Friday night, February 21, Soldalitas Latina met in Room O and spent a most interesting and enjoyable hour listening to Dr. Walmsley. Afterwards several girls were heard to remark, "even when eight o'clock came I didn't want him to stop!" and others said "I could have listened to him all night!"

One of the incidents which he narrated was about his high school "Caesar" class. It had only three members,—two girls and one boy,—the boy naturally being Dr. Walmsley. One of the girls and Dr. Walmsley were generally so interested in their Latin that they read five chapters instead of the three assigned. (! Then they would form a conspiracy against the other girl and tell the teacher that five chapters were assigned. The other girl protested in vain,—two against one!—and the teacher took their word for it. (But it wasn't kind!)

During his talk, Dr. Walmsley quoted, "qui crudes nam lectus albius et spirant," which he translated, (with what the older Latin students felt to be a slight straining of cases' "Who Raw for the Red, White and Blue!" But they forgave him, for only a true patriot would have thought of such a thing! And the meaning he could give to Latin without even translating it.

Isabile, heres ego
Fortibus es in aro
O nobile themis trux
Vaticinem, pes et dux—
(I say, Billy, here's a go,
Forty buses in a row!
O, no, Billy, them is trucks.
What is in 'em? Peas and ducks!)

ALUMNAE NOTES

The gravure section of a recent issue of the Richmond Times-Dispatch contained two large and very attractive picture of the Japanese project of the 2 H Grade, William Fox School, of which Miss Kerah Cole is teacher. One was a Tea House, with "three little maids from school," in costume, seated around a tea table. The other showed a small maid traveling in the ancient manner of Japan, a sedan borne by two boys, also in native dress.

Mrs. Henry Landon Cabell, Jr., (Mebane Hunt) will take a prominent part in the musical extravaganza, "Hits and Misses," to be given at the Mosque Theatre in Richmond on the evenings of Friday, February 28, and Saturday, March 1.

Miss Mary Markley is director of the Lutheran kindergarten in Porto Rico. She supervises a staff of eighteen teachers in twelve kindgartens attended by more than five hundred children.

NOTICE

All articles left in the gym after five-thiry maybe got for five cents apiece. Gather in your clothes early if you want to get out of the Freshman pound.

SOCIETY

George Washington reigned supreme at S. T. C. over the week-end. Many visitors entertained in school.

Mrs. John Antrim and John Antrim, Jr., from Roanoke spent Sunday with Miss Elizabeth Antrim.

Miss Ida Whyte from Norfolk was the week-end guest of Miss Mildred Maddrey.

Misses Clara Norfleet, Lula Mitchell, Jane Beale, Minnie Mae Brown and Barbara Kester, spent the week-end in Martinsville.

Miss Nannie Bell Clendenin spent the week-end at her home in Greensboro, N. C.

Misses Ruth Porter and Helen Haines from R. M. W. C., Lynchburg were the week-end guests of Miss Virginia Robertson.

Mrs. Todd, from Richmond, spent Sunday with Miss Mary Todd.

Mid-winter season is being brought to a close by mid-winter dances at the various colleges. Among those who attended the dances at the University of Virginia this week-end were Misses Edith Britt, Alice Covington and Loulie Milner.

Miss Frances Coleman spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Misses Catharine Downing, Elizabeth Etheridge and Catharine Nickols spent the week-end in Norfolk.

Misses Annie Denit, Jane Brown and Edith Spindle spent the week-end at their homes in Salem.

Misses Beatrice Carico and Pauline Blakenship, former students of S. T. C., were the week-end guests of Miss Emily Simpson.

Miss Etta Marshall spent the week-end at her home in Portsmouth, Va.

Miss Virginia Gurley spent the week-end at her home in Suffolk, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Priest, from Norfolk, were the week-end guests of Misses Mary and Margaret Priest.

Mr. P. J. Mullin was the week-end guest of his daughter, Miss Melisse Mullin.

The following girls attended t he Pan-Hellenic dances at R. M. C., Ashland, Va.: Misses Elaine Goode, Alice Hardaway and Mildred Field Elmore.

Misses Margaret Gathright, Anne Guy and Nan Griffith spent the week-end in Richmond.

Miss Sara Hubbard spent the week-end at her home in Buckingham, Va.

Miss Virginia Potts spent the week-end in Richmond.

The following girls spent the week-end at Crewe Misses Chloris Glidewell, Margaret Alderman, Mary Virginia Linney, Hazel Murphy.

Miss Sarah Baker spent the week-end in High Point, N. C.

Miss Frances Carter and Miss Polly Sheffield spent the week-end at Burkeville, Va.

Misses Medora Ford and Martha Moore spent the week-end in Lexington.

Miss Emmy Lou Pulliam spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Misses Nellie Putney and Georgia Putney spent the week-end in Cumberland, Va.

Miss Catharine Schroeder spent the week-end at her home in Washington, D. C.

DR. MOFFETT SPEAKS TO STUDENTS AT PRAYERS

At prayers, Thursday night, February 20, Dr. Moffet, a returned missionary, spoke on China. He told of the corruption of the Chinese government, and talked against present concessions in that country. He stressed the fact that the hope of China lies in its young people and pointed out how the Americans could help in the making of a new China.

This maxim was left with us: "Be kind to the Chinese people." Dr. Moffett stated that the Chinese are very friendly, and they appreciate the friendliness of other peoples. In this connection, he called our attention to the way we would feel were we thrust into a strange country.

The Y. W. C. A. wishes to thank Dr. Moffet for his inspirational talk and the entire student body hopes that he will be able to lead prayers again soon.

MISS LOUISE McCORMICK—our classman.

Having lived our life, she understands. Understanding, she has guided our footsteps through the mires of discouragement and difficulty, making bright for us, this, our Senior year. We love her then—for being, of us, by us, for us.

NEW MEMBERS OF ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA

Saturday in chapel the following new members of Alpha Kappa Gamma were announced:

Virginia Moore, Claudia Fleming, Rosa McCorkle.

SCHEMMEL

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony

Aesthetics, Etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

CANADA DRUG CO.

Next to Baldwin's Store

Come to us for your cosmetics and

STATIONERY

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

POLO SHIRTS

AND SWEATERS

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

Quality—Price—Service

Come in and get acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?

Go Across the Street

GILLIAM'S

FOR EATS

OF ALL KINDS

SPRING SHOWING OF

HATS

THE HAT SHOPPE

Mrs. H. H. Hunt

THIRD STREET

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE

Next to the Theatre

Toasted Sandwiches

MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME MADE PIES

Walmart Drug Store

Kodaks, Pictures, Fr[illegible] Stationery

Luncheons

COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh films)

Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)

COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S

is headquarters for the best

SANDWICHES AND DRINKS

in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

Work done while you wait with

First Class Materials

110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS

Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop

323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus

G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP

Will fix your shoes

WHILE YOU WAIT

Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS

TAILORING CLEANING

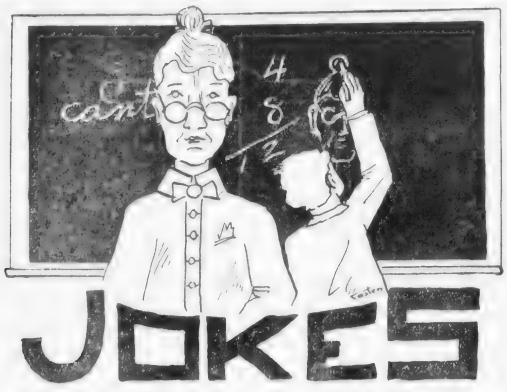
PRESSING

Farmville - - - - - - - - - Virginia

JUST RECEIVED FROM NEW YORK

Newest basque effect Silk Taffeta Dresses $3.95

Newest Kniteed Silk Straw Hats $1.95



Kniteed Polo Shirts, all colors and sizes, special $1.49

Spring Coats and suits from $5.95 to $35.00.

Over two hundred New Silhouette Dresses, the loveliest in town $9.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Farmville's Shopping Center

Glidewell (In sociology class discussing insanity): "When a man commits a murder its homicide, what is it when a woman commits a murder?"

Miss Tucker: "I'm afraid you are a little off."

Red Wills: "How was your date with the handsome football player?"

Ann Black: "Terrible! He"s the kind of a fellow who would marry Greta Garbo for her money."— Carnegie Puppet.

Miss Iler: "Stomach in. Chest out! What's the matter with you, Ann Guy?"

Ann: "My stomach seems to be stronger."—Pitt Panther.

Thornton: "I've got to go study my history."

Myra Costen: "Oh, you don't have to study! You know all about John Paul Jones riding the horse."

"Do you know what the line of least resistance is, Cutie?"

"Yes."

"That's right."—College Life.

George Bowers: "If we were on a desert island, I would make love to you."

Liz. Etheridge: "Oh, no! Think what the neighbors would say."

"Why did you break your engagement with that school teacher?"

"I didn't show up one night and she wanted me to bring a written excuse from my mother."—College life.

Miss Tabb: "What do you mean by ordering a dozen oysters without a cent of money in your pocket?"

Nonchalant Doris Walters: "Well, I might find a pearl, maybe two."—Jack O'Lantern.

The term necking originated with Jupiter on Mount Olympus. He called for his honey and nectar.

Josie Spencer: "Say. I hear you failed in English Composition. Is that true?"

Dot Goodlowe: "Yeah, Miss Foster asked us to write an essay of the 'Results of Laziness', and I sent up a blank sheet of paper."

"Children," said Pearl Johnson, "Be diligent and steadfast and you will suceed. Take the case of George Washington. Do you remember my telling you of the great difficulty he had to contend with?"

"Yes'm" said a little boy, "he couldn't tell a lie."

The burning question of today. Who gives the bride away in Scotland?

E. Booker: "May I call you Revenge?"

Mildred Field: "Why?"

E. Booker: "Because revenge is sweet."

Mildred Field: "Sure if you'll let me call you vengeance."

E. Booker: "Why?"

Mildred Field: "Because vengeance is mine." Panther

Lucille Graves: "What would you advise me to read after graduation?"

Mr. Grainger: "The help wanted column."

Gurley: "Meet me in the Rotunda at 7:15 o'clock."

Shad: "Oh, all right, but what time will you be there?"

Generally Electric

"Mazda, darling," he wrote, "Be mine, Incandescent One. Watts life without you? Ohm is not ohm without the light of your presence. My heart is a transformer that steps up every thought of you. I would insulate my head alongside your switch; the contact of your hand is like live wire. Marry me, and let's have a motor in our home.—The Log.

FACULTY FLASHES

With stick in hand she's very neat,
And beating measures with her feet—
She's the cause of all our singing
And the school with voices ringing.

Our dancing teacher is so airy
Seems that she is just a fairy,
Off across the gym she goes
Lightly tripping on her toes.

Who knows Kilpatrick, Wynne and James,
I. Q.'s of students with their names?
Just to see him he's astute,
Still we think him very cute.

There is oon teacher in this scole
And certes doth he fit hise role
This switch ou oon, cleped Dan Grainger,
To English students is noe stranger.
(Pardoun)

Here is our "maitresse de Francais"—
We'd like to have her every day!
She speaks as if she came from France
And shames us of our ignorance.

There is a lady named Rice
Who is so exceedingly nice,
That those taking Vergil to Caesar
Naturally try heard to please her!

Watch the drawing teacher stand
And forgetting work on hand,
Straight to the window does she go
To all the beauty there below.

FRESHMAN VS. FACULTY

The freshman basketball team has challenged, the members of the fasulty, to a game. This game will be played Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in the gym. An admission of 10c will be charged. Both students and faculty are invited to attend.

SENIOR SYNONYMNS

Mary Jane Vaden	Bluff
Florence Booten	Egotism
Anne Stump	Airs
Lucy Thompson	Labor
Clara Norfleet	Sounds
Frances Wilson	Appeal
Etta Marshall	Smiles
M. Frances Hatchet	Asthetics
Lucille Graves	Dignity
Julia Asher	Christian Endeavorer
Virginia Gurley	Absent-mindedness
Virginia Moore	Dependability
Senior Class	Sophistication

FASHION HINTS FOR SPRING WEAR

These are the days of the long and short dresses. Fashion decrees that they be long, but left-over wardrobes still declaare that we will have comfort, at least, until some of our old standbys wear out.

Our campus must feel that it is back in the good old days, now dragging skirts are sweeping it quite clean again. The best sweeping is done on Sundays.

At S. T. C. long skirts will be used for state occasions. All old skirts than can be, shall be brought up to the minute in style by having hems made narrower. These will be used for the in-between-times. The lovely comfortable short frocks will be worn for classes and for comfortable, carefree times. The wish will be to use them always!

This is a season of freedom as to color and trimmings. The lovers of frills and furbelows will have their hearts desires. Shoes will often follow dresses in color. Hats will be of straw instead of felt and beads will be used in great profusion.

THE FAMILY ABLUM

(Continue From Page One)

choir, certainly must not have felt altogether as if they had stepped from out the covers of an album. We shall never forget Miss Grenels, the dear, sweet old grandmother; Mrs. Taylor, the wealthy aunt; the Misses London. the beautiful cousins who went abroad. and Miss Potts, the cousin from New York. The teaching profession was well represented by Miss Rice, a member of the faculty in a female seminary; Miss Foster and Miss Marshall, whom Miss Mix called respectable school teachers.

Miss Mix, as she presented each of the characters, gave us some very interesting side lights about them.

We are glad to see that our faculty possesses such extraordinary ability and we hope to see them perform again in the near future.

TECH SCANDALS IS SUCCESS

(Continued from Page One)

especially the leading lady, "Rudy" Campbell. He also gave a very attractive little romper dance with child-like glee.

Then came the grand finale closing with a tribute to the College spirit in "Tech Triumph." The entire program was decidedly entertaining and of a high type of vaudeville. We extend our congratulations to the Dramatic Club and invite them to visit us again.

DANSANT ON SATURDAY

A dansant will be given in the recreation hall on Saturday afternoon from 4 till 6, by one group in the Freshman class. Tiger Raggers are going to play and they'll be good. Come stay and bring a quarter or come and bring a boy and fifty cents—but everybody come.

SENIOR STAFF

Editor-in-Chief	M. Frances Shepard
Associate Editor	Lucille Bowyer
News Editor	Florence Booten
Literary Editor	Lucille Graves
Atheletic Editor	Virginia Gurley
World News Editor	Julia Asher
Intercollegiate Ed.	Alice Hamner
Social Editor	Eleanor Hogan
Art Editor	Dorothy Zeigler
Feature Editor	Frances Wilson
Humorous Editor	Clara Norfleet
Proof Reader	Elizabeth Thornton
Reporters — Lucile Norman, Etta Marshall, Laura Smith.
Circulation Mgr.	Elizabeth Hairston
Asst. Cir. Mgr.	Carolyn Roberts

At the Eaco Theatre Week of March 3—8

MON. & TUES.—"DYNAMITE" wth Conrad Nagel, Kay Johnson and an all-star cast in Cecil DeMille's greatest production, A picture that has everything—gaiety, richness, splendor, women, wine and a he-man and she-woman story that leaves you breathless. It is without doubt the greatest effort of one of the screen's leading directors. What would you do if you were a girl who had married a man seven hours before he was to be hung for murder—and he came back? See this all-talking special production for the answer. No advance in prices. Note—First show will start promptly at 7:15. Also Pathe News.

WED. & THURS.—Joan Crawford Anita Page, Rod La Rocque and Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., in "OUR MODERN MAIDENS". "Our Dancing Daughters" was marvelous—here is its thrilling successor! Gorgeous Joan Crawford, and what a cast! In apicture of jazz-mad youth, drinking deep of the brimming cup of life, brought face to face with its stern realities in one flaring moment of drama. Love, laughter, gaiety, music—they're calling to youth—and youth joins the party, heedless of tomorrow. You can't be thrilled if this one doesn't stir you. Also Silly Symphony and Screen Snapshots. Special Added Attraction—On Thursday only the Blackstone Military Academy Band will play before the matinee and night shows in front of the theatre, and give a concert on the stage at night immediately after the feature. No advance in prices.

FRI. & SAT.—"IT'S A GREAT LIFE" wih the Duncan Sisters, supported by Lawrence Gray. Snappy songs, a thousand laughs, romance and drama of back stage, with the world-celebrated sisters clowning and doing their stff as never before, in the greatest human interest comedy this theatre has ever shown. Many scenes in beautiful natural colors. Did you ever stage an amateur show? Then laugh at the excruciatingly funny one which is a feature of this all-talking picture. Don't miss this one, for it's great entertainment.

Two shows each nightMon. & Tues at 7:15 and 9:30—Balance of week at 7:30 and 9:15.

IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S
DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery
AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Farmville - - - - Va.

McIntosh's Drug Store
New State Teachers College
STATIONERY
Farmville - - - - Va.

FEATURE THIS WEEK
COLLEGE THEME TABLETS
3 For 25c
SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES
MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

BALDWIN'S
Headquarters for
BEAUTIFUL HOSIERY
All new shades—French or Pointed Heels
$1 $1.35 $1.50 $1.95

NEW SILK DRESSES
$7.95
new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.
—in the Basement—
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

COME OUT FOR VOLLEY BALL PRACTICE

ROTUNDA

MAKE FOUNDER'S DAY A BIG SUCCESS!

Volume X | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5, 1930 | No. 22

Founder's Day And Alumnae Day Set At the Same Time

Morning Exercises in Charge of the Classes and Organizations

DATE OF MARCH 8

Again Founder's Day, one of the happiest days of the school year, is here. In order to make the day as enjoyable for alumnae as for students and faculty, Alumnae Day has been set for the same time, Saturday, March 8. It is hoped that many alumnae will be back and that everyone will enjoy the day's progras.

The morning exercises at ten o'clock are in charge of the classes and school organization of school. At this time Alma Mater spirit is in the hearts of all as Dr. Jarman "talks informally" to his girls and receives so smilingly contributions from local alumnae chapters and student organizations for the Student Building. The stunts in connection with the presentations are always attractive and the interest is increased by the representatives presenting gifts from local alumnae chapters and by letters and telegrams from alumnae whose school spirit is alive, but who find it impossible to be back.

At one o'clock, all alumnae are invited to the Alumnae Luncheon in the College Tea Room. As friends meet

(Continued on last page)

COTTAGES C AND D DESTROYED BY FIRE

Between four and five o'clock Tuesday morning Farmville was awakened by the sound of the siren whistle of the fire engine rushing to the fire which took place on the S. T C. campus. Old Cottage D caught fire from the front of the house and burned toward the back. In the meantime Cottage C caught fire and was partly burned.

The Senior Building was not injured. The girls on the side of the building next to the burning cottages closed their windows so that blazes would not injure the furniture.

Cottage D and C were only vacated this year by students. Miss Mary found more comfortable places for the girls in the Main Building. At this time Cottage D was being cleaned and prepared before Misses Mary Clay and Winnie Hiner moved in as they were taking over the house.

The fire has been rumored to have been caused by bad wiring and also the heating system. No correct information has been given so far.

THE BASKETBALL VARSITY LEAVING FOR RICHMOND

From Left to Right—Miss Iler, coach; Cleo Quisenberry; Edith Coleman; Virginia Gurley; Dorothy Snedegar; Edith Boswell; Easter Souders; Laura N. Smith; Mary Frances Hatchett, captain; Frances Edwards; Laura M. Smith; Mary Gregory.

WORLD NEWS

Secretary Hughes has submitted to Congress the report of the army engineers who have been making a survey of the upper Mississippi. The report recommends a nine foot channel from the mouth of the Missouri river to St. aPul and Minneapolis. The survey is part of the program for improving inland waterways. A recent development was the openinig of the Ohio.

"Americanism: Wisely selecting the cylinder oil best suitied to our precious motors; greedily swallowing any darned stuff that appeals to our eyes."

"According to Calvini, it is election that takes people to Heaven. The doctrine works with unusual promptness in Mexico."—Roebrt Quillen.

SENIOR CLASS HAD BEST ISSUE OF ROTUNDA

The Senior issue of the Rotunda was chosen the best of the four special class issues. The Sophomore issue was especially commended for its proof-reading. The judges compliment all four classes for the excellent papers they produced.

The judges were Misses Mary E. Peck and M. Lucille Jennings and Mr. Samuel M. Holton, Jr.

Farmville Defeats Richmond Normal With Score of 45-6

The Farmville S. T. C. basketball team won its second victory of the season when it defeated the Richmond Normal School team. Friday night by a score of 45-6. The game was played in Richmond, and the S. T. C. girls had a very enjoyable trip.

The passwork of our team was especially good. The S. T. C. girls clearly outplayed the Richmond team, as the one-sided score would indicate. The points gained by our opponents were all gained from free shots because of fouls on the S. T. C. team. This was a rather unusual occurrence.

The line-up:

S. T. C.		Richmond Normal
L. M. Smith	rf	Cheadle
L. N. Smith	lf	Payne
Gregory	jc	Mussen
Gurley	sc	Hankins
Coleman	rg	Montieth
Hatchett (c)	lg	Leach

Substitutions: Gurley for Gregory, and Souders for Gurley in the second half. Richmond Normal: Hankins for Mussen; Montieth for Hankins, Peatross for Montieth.

Referee: Roberts.

Umpire: Crenshaw.

R. M. W. C. AND H. S. C. DEBATE AT H. S. C.

On Friday night of last week, R. M. W. C. and H. S. C. met in a contest on the platform in the chapel of Hampden-Sydney. The question was, "Resolved, That Nations Should Adopt a Plan of Complete Naval Disarmament Excepting Such Forces as are Necessary For Police Purposes." The Lynchburg girls upheld the affirmative side of the question and the boys from Hampden-Sydney defended the negative side. The debate was very interesting and very close, but the decision was given, by a two to one majority to the home team. After the debate Dr. Walmsley from S. T. C. gave a few criticisms, or suggestions, which, if carried into effect will materially strengthen the arguments of both teams.

DANSANT

The Freshmen surely now how to put things over because their dansant Saturday was a huge success. There was satisfaction on all sides the girls were satisfied 'cause they could "rush" 'cause they were being "rushed", and the Freshmen were satisfied "cause" business was rushing.

Music was furnished by the well-known Tiger Raggerss, 'n believe me, the music was just swell!

Rumor has it that one of the boys made known the fact that he'd come every Saturday if we'd have a dansant. Maybe, later we will — who knows?

CLEVER PLAY PRESENTED BY COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL

Presenting one of the cleverest plays of the season, the senior class of the College High School gave "Tommy's Wife" in the College auditorium Friday night, February 28, at 8:00 o'clock.

Henrietta Cornwell, president of the College Dramatic Club, coached the play, and portrayed one of the roles as well. Henrietta deserves much praise in presenting such an attractive play which showed a thorough knowledge of the lines, and expert technique in presenting the production.

The story is that of a promising young artist who becomes terribly in-

Continued on page three

Faculty Members Go To Convention in Atlantic City, N. J.

Represented Farmville at National Educational Association

DR. JARMAN ATTENDED

Seven members of our faculty represented Farmville S. T. C. at the convention of the Department of Superintendents of the National Educational Association of the United States, held at Atlantic City, February 22-27. Thousands of delegates from all parts of the United States were present in the interest of the various departments of education. Some of the most eminent speakers and educators in the United States addressed the audiences on the general theme "Education," stressing its idealistic, friendly, cooperative, dynamic and practical aspects.

Dr. Jarman attended the convention in the interest of the American Association of Teachers College; Miss Carter and Miss Pierce, the Department of Supervisors and Directors of Instruction; Miss Camper, Rural Education; Miss Barlow and Miss Supper, Health and Physical Education; Miss Moran, Kappa Delta Pi.

One of the most outstanding and inspiring features of the convention program was the presentation of a

(Continued on last page)

THE HUB FASHION SHOW

One outstanding feature at the Eaco Theatre during the past week was a most attractive fashion show presented by the Hub Department Store. The stage was attractively decorated with furniture and flowers presented by the local stores. A number of the popular girls at S. T. C. were chosen as models.

Among the gowns shown were sport suits, afternoon dresses and evening gowns. A contrast to the modern wedding gown was becomingly shown. One, a dress more than one hundred years old, and the other, an extreme modern one.

The prize offered was won by Miss Toodles Booth.

The girls who took part in the fashion show were Lucile Graves, Toodles Booth, Nancy Putney, Alice Hardaway, Jessie Smith, Helen Robertson, Alice Covington, Martha Ann Laing, Eleanor Hogan, Virginia Gurley, Mayo Beaty, Virginia Robertson, Lucy Thompson and Nan Griffith.

The bride was Ann Minter and the groom was Mr. E. W. Sanford, Jr., of Farmville. The two little flower girls were town children.

Boston Male Quartet Appears At the State Teachers College, Farmville, Va.

An enthusiastic audience turned out Tuesday evening to hear the Boston Male Choir in one of its famous programs. Having heard the choir last year at S. T. C., one was even better able to appreciate the quality of this concert.

The program included many of the best chorus selections from opera and standard music. Each composition received generous applause, proving that the artistry of the singing was frankly admired by all.

The solo voices that took part deserve special mention. They were unusual as to quality and gave evidence of training. As the circular states—all the soloists in the choir are professionals.

Appearing as the assisting artist of the evening, Miss May Kork, soprano, added a charming voice and an attractive personality to the concert. Her singing was delightful, and no one could ask for clearer diction. Miss Kork has studied under Madame Carcella Sembrich, a fact which speaks well for her artistic training.

As the last and probably the favorite number of our Lyceum Course for this year, it can well be said that the Boston Male Choir was a huge success at S. T. C.

Annual Virginia Student Volunteer Conference Is Held At Mary Baldwin College Staunton Va.

The annual Virginia Student Volunteer Conference was held at Mary Baldwin College, Staunton, Virginia, February 28- March 2.

There were about one hundred and thirty delegates from the various colleges and a few out-of-college volunteers present. The increase over last year's attendance is a very hopeful sign.

The theme of the conference was "Thy Kingdom Come". Dr. Darby Fulton, a returned missionary from Japan, opened the conference Friday evening with an address in which he pointed out the kingdom involves a relation of personal allegiance and loyalty on the part of the subject to the king, that it involves a relationship of mutual solidarity among the citizenship, that it involves the complete domestication of the will of God in both of these classes of relationships, and that the kingdom is eternally expansive and its consummation is absolutely sure. He then indicated that our part in this kingdom is to hope, to pray and to work for it. "Prayer is the instrument that takes hold of the levers in God's powerhouse and releases the power."

Mr. Oscar W. Sedom, of National Student Volunteer headquarters, who

Continued on page three

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — LUCY THOMPSON, '30
Associate Editor — JESSIE SMTH, '31

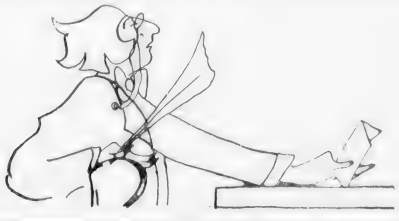
Board of Editors

News Editor — LILLIAN BOVELL, '30
Literary Editor — LINDA WILKINSON, '30
Athletic Editor — MILDRED MADDREY, '31
World News Editor — GERTRUDE RICHARDSON, '30
Intercollegiate News Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — RACHEL ROYAL, '30
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — MAMIE HURT, '31
Humorous Editor — "BILLIE" PARIS, '30
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

MARIA WARREN, '32 — KATHLEEN WOODSON, '30
DOROTHY SNEDEGAR, '33
ANNIE DENIT, '31
ANN STUMP, '30

Proof Reader — SARA BAKER, '31
Assistant Proof Reader — JESSIE WATKINS, '33



Managers

Business Manager — SARA McCORKLE, '30
Assistant Business Manager — PEARL JOHNSON, '32
Circulation Manager — MARTHA ANTHONY, '30
Assistant Circulation Manager — NANNIE SUE ANTHONY, '30

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

"Be Ye Doers Not Just Sayers"

Many of us have drifted into that inevitable habit of saying, but not doing. It has been rather noticeable how often a girl speaks of her intentions of breaking a bad habit, but when it comes to the real breaking there is a slip. It is easy to say, but hard to do. Yet it's the hard thing that one does that makes her more able to combat with the world.

A person, who says she is going to do something worthwhile, but not only says it but carries it out in action is the highest type of womanhood that can be found at S. T. C.

A girl does not realize the real significance of saying she is going to perform a task, but fails to accomplish it. She is really lying to herself when she says she intends to do it, and somehow I believe it is as bad or worse to lie to one's self as to someone else. It is rather demoralizing to one's character.

It is really a difficult thing to find a girl whom you can really believe when she says "I'll do that." Out of the several hundred girls in this school, it is rather depressing to realize that if they say they will perform a certain task, that when the show down comes a small minority constitutes the "doers" that one is really disappointed in human nature.

When a girl sometimes says she will serve on a committee she means in name only, and the work is left to one of the few overworked, capable and dependable girls of school.

What kind of teachers will "sayers not doers" make? Yes, we all admit that the situation is one that needs thought, and then a solution.

Now, you Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, you are the one to start this work going. Iinsist that your fellow workers be good as her word, or make her feel uncomfortable for being a drone. Something tells me that if you keep your fellow class mate in the right direction you must walk by her side. Yes, by some process of thinking, you will be a guide for the other one.

We're betting on you, girls. Show that you are "doers and not just sayers."

OVER THE TEACUP

Hey, there. I'm so glad to see you back. Seems ages since I saw you. How long were you gone? Only ten days? Oh, it seems ages more than that.

Tell you the news, you say? Well, I hardly know where to start. Didja hear 'bout the Freshman-Faculty game? No? Well, it was the funniest thing I've most ever seen. Who played? Well—the whole Freshman Squad—you know the ones who played in the class game. And on the Faculty squad were Miss Her, Miss McCormick, Miss Potts, Mish Cash, Miss Purdom, Miss Nichols (incidentally she made a fine water boy), Miss Spratley, Miss Marshall, Miss Drake, and I can't remember just who else. It was a scream though. Of course the Freshmen won 40-6, but then the faculty hadn't had much practice. Things got so bad toward the last that the Faculty got desperate and put in Mary Frances.

Oh, yeh, and we won the game with Richmond Normal on Friday night 54 to 6—it was quite a walk-away.

Have you seen the last issue of The Voice? I was sure it came out before you went away. Isn't it good? I enjoyed the poetry particularly—but, then I always do.

My dear, you really missed the hit of the season when we didn't see that Family Album last week. I know you saw it last year, but this was much better—it couldn't have been improved on. Mr. McCorkle was the admiral and—but then, if I go into telling you who everybody was and how good they were—I'll be here this time next week. Miss Mix told us about it all, and added much to the effect. I understand that it was quite a success financially, also.

Say, listen, have you gotten an invitation to any of the Freshman teas? I haven't heard much or been able to find out much about them—but I know several girls who have been invited. Really, I feel sufficiently slighted.

I've just gotta run along now—but take care of yourself and don't get sick again. Now that you're back, you might come up once in a while, too.

I'll see you later.

SPRING AT S. T. C.

Who was it?—somebody said, I can't remember now who it was—somebody said something about "Spring without nameless pathos in the air." All I've got to say is: he must not have known what springtime's lige in Virginia—especially at S. T. C. We don't feel any pathos, not a bit! The only feeling we experience is a thrilling, throbbing expectancy—for we know that after the Spring comes Summer.

You can see many evidences of Spring at S. T. C. The shrubs that winter kept bare and leafless have been stirred to new life. There are not only new leaves creeping out, but there is a shower of blossoms—yellow and white.

One morning a robin waked me singing beneath my window. Every morning since then he has had a contest with the wren and the cardinal to see which one can bring more girls outdoors to enjoy the spring breezes.

And so the girls here at school have caught the spirit of spring. You can see it in their faces; you can hear it in their laughter. They have placed their tweeds and jerseys in the back of the closet for a rainy day: S. T. C. goes forth in the clothing of Spring!

VOLLEY BALL PRACTICE

Volley all practice will continue to be held every afternoon except Friday, at 4. On Friday afternoon monogram practice will be held from 4 to 6. Let's have a record attendance at all of these practices.

WE WANT YOUR COOPERATION

The Campus League wishes to take this opportunity to invite the cooperation of the student body to be present on Founder's Day, March 8, at the home-coming of our alumnae. We want to make our alumnae feel as though they were students again, and in general, to feel perfectly at home. For this spirit to exist, it is generally asked that each student give her time and attention to the alumnae in showing them over the buildings, campus, etc.

Then, as spring comes on, the League would like to remind the student body that the campus as well as the students wants to look her best in her new spring clothes. This can be done only by the thought applied to the general appearance of the campus in regard to trash, cutting across the campus, etc. Up to the present the campus conditions have been very favorable and we want to thank you for your cooperation and trust it continue the remainder of the school year.

BUSY FRESHMEN

If there's anything you can't explain, just lay it to the Freshmen. Haven't you seen the signs and posters up all along your hall? I couldn't quite take it in at first, but now I understand: its the work of Freshmen. You helped them out by buying candlesticks on George Washington's birthday, didn't you? Gee, but I'll say they know their stuff when it comes to working for the class. That "apple a day" sign sure brings the trade. Freshmen, don't stop at that: they darn hose, wash curtains, clean rooms and sell candy. Now they're busy making an S. T. C. quilt—a lovely idea, don't you think? Hurrah for the Freshmen! They're holding their colors high. Congratulations to the Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors.

ON SEEING THE FIRE

Taking a mighty tumble in the midst of my dreams I felt myself rudely awakened by my roommate's excited voice competing with the screeching fire siren. One look out of the window eased my first fear that the school was on fire. No, it was an incident that I could enjoy without any guilty prick of conscience or any compunction. I do not believe that anything short of the fire engine itself could have blocked my way to the roof, where the view was unobstructed and thrilling. For the first ten minutes I'm sure that we shivered, but of this we were entirely unconscious till some one remarked,

"Just think of all that heat going to waste, and here we are literally freezing to death."

We immediately drew wraps tighter around our shoulders and I actually heard some express a desire for long underwear and a muffler but no one moved towards the building and warmth. The girls were scarcely recognizable in their coverings of cold cream and curls-in-the-making so it was little wonder that I started homeward with one girl and ended the journey with an entire stranger.

FIELDS AFAR OFF

Why do I ever think of seas
Whose crests are leaping upon bleak lands?
Shall I always dream of seas
Whose sandaled feet touch warmer sands?

Why do I ever think of lands
Whose beauty is so divine
That life is one sweet ecstacy
And the drinking of Life's red wine?

Shall I always dream of a bloom,
A turquoise thing with heart of red,
That lies in deepest jungle-gloom
Its timid, trembling, proud, wild head?

Are fields afar off the greenest,
And will we ever search in vain
For romantic color and beauty rare
That has lured and will lure again?

A. T., '30

TODAY

Turn, my boy, to the rising sun;
Let it fill your face with glory!
But never watch the setting sun
For its song is a tragic story

The rising sun is full of hope,
Adventure and fortune to come;
It gives new chance to those who have failed
And gain to those who won.

But the setting sun tells of days gone by;
Of deeds done and chance fulfilled
Memories are sweet but to live on them
Is to forego pleasures sweter.

So wake, my boy, and carry on,
The battle of life to win
And keep your eyes to the future, son
For looking back is a sin!

Martha von Schilling, '32

TO A HUMMING GIRD

You came from nothingness;
Born out of the blazed colors of the garden,
In all the fragrance of the flowers.
You pause a little moment
Where the tame nasturtium hides beneath her green umbrella
Then on your wings of gray suspended
Still beside the yellow velvet petals
Of a rose.
The motion of your glittering wings
Is set in the quiet warm air
You explore moisture of hidden dew,
Dominate sheer beauty, for a while,
Then you are gone!
Vanished into the blazed colors of the garden,
Into the fragrance of the flowers.

M. F. S. '30

GONE

Now in the watchfulness of the stars,
Silent, the hush that follows prayer,
In the loneliness of a garden old,
Where memories linger there
Where love was born—and died
Like the flowers that bloomed and now
And happiness cameand left,
Hang crisp and dry—of beauty bereft,
I wander to keep my tryst with you in thought.
You've gone, but in my heart you still remain
To haunt my dreams and vanish
When I reach out to touch the vision
—ah, the pain
That fills my being, to find—emptiness!

R. Floyd, '32

MEDITATIONS ON A DEGREE RING

Often have I pondered on the stone for my class ring.
For when I was a Freshman I was a timid little thing;
I thought I'd like an amethyst, a stone of palest hue.
When I became a Sophomore I knew
'twould never do.
Then I decided on a ruby red and bold;
I scorned the little Freshman with her
timid blue so cold.
And now I am a Junior and 'tis time
to get that ring
I don't want a ruby,—I detest the old red thing!
I might like an emerald, fresh and cool
as springy breeze;
Or a rustic, ruddy garnet, nature's dress for autumn trees;
Or a milky, cloudy opal soft as foam
upon the shores,
Or a brightly sparkling sapphire, blue
as heath on Scottish moors.
I pondered them all over from the blue down to the red,
And decided I'd not get ring. I want a pin instead!

F. H., '31

SOCIALS

Martha von Schilling spent the week-end at her home in Hampton.

Frances Parker spent the week-end at her home in Franklin.

Adele Hutchison, A. J. Scott, Carolyn Roberts, Ruth Patterson, Frances Carter, Mabel Gregory, Louise P. Johnson, Alice Harrison, Martha and Alice Grainger, Rubie Newton and Misses Edith Marshall and Nellie Putattended the Student Volunteer Conference at Mary Baldwin College, Saunton, February 28-March 1 and 2.

Catherine Coghill spent the week-end at her home in Boydton.

Dorothy Ritchie, Katherine Thweatt, and Elizabeth Sawyer spent the week-end in Petersburg.

Virginia Bledsoe and Virginia Cox spent the week-end at the former's home in Baltimore.

Elizabeth Taylor, Lucile Norman, Blanche Murrell, Katherine Royster, Florence Reed, Martha Walters, Helen Robertson, Mary Clare Booth, Martha Saunders, Jacque Lee, Loulie Miller, Dorothy Thompson, Elizabeth Etheridge, Macy Martin, Rena Robertson and Harriet Mason, spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Marguerite Swann spent the week-end at her home at Virginia Beach.

Mary Ollie Owen, Mary Todd, Hazel Burgwin, Virginia Witt, Laura M. Smith, Sarah Rowbotham, Katherine, Tucker, and Miss Sarah Dinwiddie, spent the week-end in Richmond.

Mary Page White and Margaret Faris spent the week-end at Red Hill.

Courtney Neale, Virginia Marchant, Dorothy Wood, Dindsey White, Louise Hilton, Edith Spindle and Edna Buchanan attended dances at Fork Union Military Academy last week-end.

Lucile Graves Eleanor Hogan, Elizabeth Antrim, Mayo Beaty, Margaret Loving, "Renie" Greaves, "Teeny" Myers, Doris Webber, Frances Wilson and Elizabeth Temple spent the week-end in Roanoke.

Rebecca Brown spent the week-end at her home in Bluefield, W. Va.

Dorothy Dudley, Ruth and Ruby Hunt, spent the week-end at their homes in Rocky Mount.

Mary McKissick spent the week-end in Blackstone.

Dorothy Anderson, Suzzane Holland and Dena Lee Stith spent the week-end in Danville.

Vernie Oden spent the week-end in Appomattox.

Nancy Boykin and Retta Hardy spent the week-end in Kenbridge.

Mrs. Howard Wehr, of Lynchburg visited friends on campus last week.

Nannie Guy Watkins spent the week-end with her sister, Mary T. Watkins in Richmond.

Delta Sigma Chi is happy to announce the following new member: Miss Ruth Ford of Lynchburg.

CLEVER PLAY GIVEN BY COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL

Continued from page one

volved by having his sister pose as his wife in order to secure a much desired business advancement. Nannie Gilbert played the part of Tommy Carothers, and Martha Scott Watkins took the part of Rose, his sister. These two girls showed much promise and we predict for them success along dramatic lines.

Mary Shelton, playing the part of Mary Campebll, a young dramatic student, made a lovely artists' model and acted her part very skillfully. Margaret Armstrong as Dick, Rose's lover, played her part very convincingly.

Nell Stokes, the excitable Frenchman, seemed to enjoy her part thoroughly, and was very appealing to the audience. Mary Diehl as Edith, Rose's chu was lovely and added much charm to the play.

Elizabeth Thaxton as Sylvia, the society debutante, and Henrietta Cornwell, as her mother, loed as if they had just stepped from Fifth Avenue.

The play was entertaining from the beginning to the very end. Although the young actresses appeared rather stage frightened at first they quickly caught the spirit of the play, and put it over to the audience quite convincingly.

ETTA MARSHALL

Etta has been outstanding in the most prominent school activities. She has held the officers of freshman class president, sopohomore class president, and this year is efficiently and capably holding our major office, president of the student body. In her characterizations in the various dramatic club plays Etta has endeared herself to all who have seen her.

One who has lived well among us for four years,—laughed with us, sang with us, played with us, worked with us, and loved much—for you Etta, we say the best that can be said of any one. She has given of the best in her heart, and her vision. She has led us to look upward and outward to the best in ourselves and others. "It is when you give of yourself that you truly give"—and we want to thank her for all she has given.

Is Etta all seriousness? No. Not much. Her smile is the brightest on campus and when she starts to play basketball—well—you just can't stand it. Did you say cheers?—The best cheer leader in ten states—and how about "Oi-y'oi oi, vot is dott?" Etta is a girl after our own hearts and do we appreciate and love her? and how!

Who always has a smile for us?—Who always plays for us? Who works for us with hear and hand? Who leads us with a vision clear and true? Etta! She has given of her ebst for our Alma Mater, and we appreciate it and find her holding a high place in our hearts. We looked to her for vision, for the right, for the finest spirit and have found nothing lacking.

ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN AT PROSPECT FRIDAY

A group of S. T. C. girls gave a program of music and dancing at Prospect, Friday night, February 28. There were vocal selections by a double trio, piano solos by Hannah Crawley and Mildred Maddrey, vocal solos by Jane Witt and dance numbers by members of the clogging class.

This was the third of such programs put on in the rural schools, the others having been given at Worsham and Cumberland. The proceeds from these entertainments are to be used to help purchase victrolas for the country schools.

ANNUAL STUDENT VOLUNTEER MEETING

(Continue From Page One)

visited S. T. C. during the fall Council Meeting, told of the origin and growth of the movement. Later he gave a summary of the conference in which he stressed the facts that we owe an obligation to the world, that the barriers of language are being torn down and geopraphical barriers are dwindling, that we can't sit back and wait for someone else to do our work but we must begin here with what talents we have, that we must consider our lives in the light of Christ.

One very inspirational feature of the program was a pageant, written by one of the Mary Baldwin girls, presented by some of the college girls.

It was an inspiration to be one of a group of young people listening to the messages brought from the several foreign fields and to hear students earnestly discussing their missions in the world. Most of the students resolved to return to their respective schools and begin personal work among the students there.

LUCILLE GRAVES

Some people seem to have that much desired quality of leadership to a more marked degree than others and we find that Lucille is in possession of a large amount of it. Besides this quality she is unusually versatile and has a personality that wins her many friends.

Throughout her four years here Lucille has given much of her time to Alma Mater. For the last two years she has been president of her class and last year was vice-president of the student body. Besides these major offices she has been outstanding in almost every fiield, athletics, scholastic, and social activities.

And so for Lucille, a true-blue friend and one we all love, we can only hope that she will always get what she deserves—the best there is.

SCHEMMEL

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony

Aesthetics, Etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

CANADA DRUG CO.

Next to Baldwin's Store

Come to us for your cosmetics and STATIONERY

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

NEW

COSTUME JEWELRY

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

Quality—Price—Service

Come in and get acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?

Go Across the Street

GILLIAM'S

FOR EATS

OF ALL KINDS

SPRING SHOWING OF

HATS

THE HAT SHOPPE

Mrs. H. H. Hunt

THIRD STREET

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE

Next to the Theatre

Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies

MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Farmer Gift Shop

Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery Engraving

COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh films)

Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)

COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S

is headquarters for the best SANDWICHES AND DRINKS in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

Work done while you wait with First Class Materials

110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS

Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop

323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus

G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP

Will fix your shoes

WHILE YOU WAIT

Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS

TAILORING , CLEANING PRESSING

Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

JUST RECEIVED FROM NEW YORK

Newest basque effect Silk Taffeta Dresses $3.95

Newest Kniteed Silk Straw Hats $1.95

Kniteed Polo Shirts, all colors and sizes, special $1.49

Spring Coats and suits from $5.95 to $35.00.

Over two hundred New Silhouette Dresses, the loveliest in town $9.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Farmville's Shopping Center

Teeny (showing Nell about town): "And here Nell, is a sky scraper."

Nell: "Oh, Tenny, I'd love to see it work."

"So you graduated from a barber college? What is your college yell?"

"Cut his lip. Cut his jaw!
Leave his face, Raw, Raw, Raw!"

"My girl is like a window glass."

"How come,—can you see through her?"

"Nope—just a pain."

Have you had your moment today?

Rebe: "I hear 'The Age of Innocence' has opened up in New York."

Dot W.: "You know I told you to wait and popularity would come."

Her mother had broken up the party and summarily dispatched the young man.

"I am shocked and surprised that you let him kiss you."

Helen: "Why? Isn't he healthy?"

Jacque Lee: "How in the world did you find Clancey in this crowd?"

Lela Germany: "My dear, I had only to sit down on the settee in the corner of the room."

Stenographer: "Your little girl wants to kiss you over the phone."

Busy Manager: Take the message, I'll get it from you later."

There are times when you wish you hadn't
There are times when you wish you had
But the times when you could've and didn't
Are the ones that make you sad.

Mink

A TOAST

Here's to the boys I had at Fall Cotillion. Here's to the boys I'll have at the Spring Cotillion. May they never meet!

Ben: "Budsey, darling, I love you better than any man in the world."

Budsey: "Oh, and I always thought you were so masculine."—Sun Dial.

Patty: "My, its getting so now that a couple can't make any time in the rec any more. There are so many people there."

Louise Ellis: "My boy friend and I have solved that problem. We take a suitcase and go down to the station."

Drawing Prof.: "Have you finished making your map?"

Clara Norfleet: "No, dear, I can't find my compact."—Log.

"I'm sending my girls to a co-educational university."

"I wish my daughter would begin looking for a husband, too."

Mary Priest (to the training school class): "Now, who will volunteer to tell me, where is the great American divide?"

Pupil (whose parents recently separated): "Reno."

Typical S. T. C. customer (after clerk has pulled down all but one new spring coat): "I don't really want to buy a coat today, I was only looking for my roommate."

Clerk (sweetly): "Well, lady, if you think your roommate is hiding in the other coat, I'll gladly bring it out for you."

Mrs. Clara Foltz of California has announced her candidacy for Governor. She is one of the pioneer women lawyers of California, and she brought about the passage of the law permitting women to practice in all courts.

COLLEGE SONG

Tune: America For Me

There is in old Virginia a place we love to be
Where Appomattox River flows far inland from the sea,
Where the little town of Farmville lies encircled by its hills,
Its leafy lanes all rose-perfumed, its voice the song bird trills.

Chorus

Oh, the college fair, the college dear, the college best sing we,
In Farmville town, the hills among the place we love to be,
There is stands in green embowered its columns pur and white;
In the praise of Alma Mater shall her daughters all unite.

We toast the men and women, the college faculty,
Who've thought and worked in the vision of the better things to be;
Who have been our friends and masers who have made the College fame,
We'll cheer the rol of now and then, who've nobly played the game.

We toast the college student today and yesterday;
Our place is at the forefront, and 'tis we shall lead the way,
From the moutnains of Virginia down to the far blue sea,
The college daughters shall be one in faith and loyalty.

—Fannie Littleton Kline

Spring has came
Snow has went
It was not did by accident
The birds have flew
As we have saw
Back down North
By Nature's law—.

Teddo Wilson

I went to the show tomorrow
I took a front seat in the back
I fell from the pit to the gallery
And broke the front of my back.

Teddo Wilson

AT THE EACO THEATRE WEEK OF MARCH 15 TO 15

MON. & TUES.— "CHASING RAINBOWS" with Charles King and Bessie Love, supported by Jack Benny, Marie Dressler, Polly Moran and Eddie Phillips. Another singing talking, dancing sensation, featuring the stars of "Broadway Melody". This picture provides a real musical treat. Just wait until you hear Charles King sing the hit songs of this show to genuine applause from the audience, and watch Bessie Love perform novelty acrobatic and tap dance steps. The greatest musical comedy cast ever gotten together in a big, lavish show with some scenes in Beautiful Natural Colors. Also talking Comedy and Pathe News.

WED. & THURS.—Ramon Navarro in "DEVIL MAY CARE," supported by Dorothy Jordan. Navarro is here—the perfect romantic figure—dashing, gallant, golden-voiced. Hear him sing one gorgeous song after another—See him fight his way ,ever debonaire, to a lovely lady's heart. Once in a lifetime comes an entertainment like this. The finest musical romance offered by the screen that talks. Navarro's golden voice at last in the full glorious power of its magic! A love story—thrilling, mad-cap adventure—stirring battle—plot and counterplot—beautiful Technicolor Spectacle! The greatest lover of the screen in a delightful romance of old France. Also talking comedy.

FRI. & SAT.—"THE BISHOP MURDER CASE" with an all-star cast. If you find pleasure and relaxation in an exceptionally clever picturization of a detective thriller; if you pride yourself on your ability to identify the guilty one before most of your friends; if you enjoy a nail-talking picture that has all the elements of a great melo-drama—then we know you will not miss "The Bishop Murder Case." Four strange murders in rapid succession in each case a black chess bishop and a [illegible] engine are the only clues left. Even Philo Vance was puzzled. Who was the murderer? Also Collegiate Comedy.

Two shows each night—7:30 and 9:15.

Admission—Adults 25c at Matinees and 35c at Nights. Children under 12 years of age, 15c to each show.

FACULTY MEMBERS GO TO CONVENTION IN ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.

Continued from page one

pageant "Time," an allegory of the adventures of Education in the realm of Leisure, by Percy J. Burrell. Its purpose, centering around the central theme of the convention, was to show through the medium of drama the proper use of Leisure, and to emphasize the need of such training in the schools of today. Twenty-eight hundred people of the New Jersey State Teachers Association and Atlantic County schools participated in the presentattion of this magnificent production.

S. T. C. is proud of her showing at this convention which is a branch of N. E. A., and which is such a vital force in the field of education today.

FOUNDER'S DAY PROGRAM

(Continued from Page One)

socially old ties and rememberances make the occasion a happy one. Each year the senior class members are invited especially, and their class, together with the reunion classes, is honored. This year the "nough" classes 1890, 1900, 1910, and 1920 have their reunions. Special recognition is given to the class having the largest percentage of representation present.

The Alumnae Business meeting will be held at 2:45 in the Student Building auditorium. In addition to other important business ballots will be cast for:

Director: Miss Pauline Camper, Miss Mary W. Cox;

First vice-president: Miss Lillian Minor, Mrs. Maria Bristow Starke;

Second vice-president: Miss Mabel Grosclose, Miss Eleanor McCormick;

Nominating committee (three): Miss Virgilia Bugg, Mrs. Lillian Obenshain Cocks, Miss Helen Draper,, Mrs. Elizabeth Jarman Hardy, Mrs. Florence Riss Richardson, Miss Virginia Wall.

A most delightful event of the day will be the tea given at Longwood from 4:30 until 5:30 by the Farmville Alumnae Chapter. All alumnae are invited cordially to meet the members of the local chapter and to see Longwood, the beautiful recreational center.

The closing session will be held in the auditorium at 8 o'clock. Dr. E. A. Alderman, of the University of Virginia will deliver the Founders Day address. The public is invited to attend.

IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S
DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery
AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Farmville - - - - Va.

McIntosh's Drug Store
New State Teachers College
STATIONERY
Farmville - - - - Va.

New

Powder Puff design box. Favourite Coty shades and odeurs, $1.00.

COTY
COMPACTS
SMARTER—MORE ADORABLE—THAN EVER
THE famous beauty-giving quality of Coty Face Powders slenderly encased for little "purse editions".
COTY 714 Fifth Avenue, New York

FEATURE THIS WEEK
COLLEGE THEME TABLETS
3 For 25c
SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES
MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

BALDWIN'S
Headquarters for
BEAUTIFUL HOSIERY
All new shades—French or Pointed Heels
$1 $1.35 $1.50 $1.95

NEW SILK DRESSES
$7.95
new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.
—in the Basement—
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

The Rotunda Staff Wishes You Luck On Your Exams

ROTUNDA

Congratulations For the May Queen of 1930

Volume X THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 12, 1930 No. 23

Alumnae Recognized By Their Publications

Miss Jennie Masters Tabb's "Alma Mater Was Published

OTHERS ARE RECORDED

Our "Alma Mater" by Miss Jennie M. Tabb was published January, 1929. It is an illustrated pamphlet giving a brief history of the school from its establishment to the present. Although its material is historical "Our Alma Mater" deals with the spirit of the school rather than with its material form or status.

Miss Tabb has published a book of poems and the "Life of Father Tabb" also "Essays—Historical and Critical" by Mrs. William Cabell Flournoy, was published recently. These essays deal with the history of Virginia, sketches of famous men and historic places that make most interesting reading.

"Chattering by Mail with Vivian Shirley". This is a column in the Philadephia Evening Ledger. Vivian Shirley is now Elizabeth Malcolm Durham. She has also published a book of poems.

"Gribbles" by Julia Johnson Davis. "The Story of a Beloved Penny Shop". This story is intensely interesting and in keeping with Mrs. Davis' poetic beautiful poetry and it is hoped that her book of poems will be published soon. Mrs. Julia Johnson Davis was mentioned very favorably as a poetess from Norfolk in a recent report on contemporary Virginia writers.

Continued on last page

Alumnae Who Returned For Founders' Day Fete

The following Alumnae returned for Founders' Day: Lucy Allen, Annie L. Barksdale, Eunice Bassett, Katherine Bentley, Mrs. R. B. Baney, Lucy Boush Elizabeth Bowers, Beth Brockenborough, Katherine Bully, Nancy L. Bush, Marjorie Codd, Louise Costen, Mary C. Cox, Lila and Lelia Colonna, Yates Crowder, Eleanor Currin, Mrs. M. L. T. Daivs, Mrs. D. E. Davidson, Madeline Downey, Virginia Ellis, Mrs. H. R. Elmore, Katherine Farrar, Edith Sills, Rena Gregory, Mabel Grossclose, Mary Sunter, Conway and Myra Howard, Helen Hiner, Mrs. Elizabeth Henkel, Alma P. Holmes, Mrs. W. H. Horn, Dorothy and Sue Jones, Mrs. James E. Johns, Ruth Kizer, Marie Keller, Julia Leache, Eleanor McCormick, Carrie Massenburg, Agnes Meredith, Agnes C. Murphy, Greenhow Parker, Mrs. Hill O'Bannan, Claiborne Perrow, Mary Presson, Josephine Peters, Katherine Roller, Marnetta Souder, Eva Sizemore, Mary Selden, Julia Wilson, Annie L. Winston, Emma Woods, Elizabeth Woodson.

STATEMENT OF CUNNINGHAM MEMORIAL FUND
March 8. 1930.

Loaned to students	$ 000.00
Returned on loans	100.00
Outstanding notes to date	2235.39
Bal. in bank, Mar. 8, 1930	121.78

J. L. JARMAN, Treasurer.

Our President—Dr. J. L. Jarman

Sigma Phi Rho, Nat. Classical Fraternity Has Good Program

Dr. A. L. Bondurant Was the Instigator of the Chapter

The Latin classes in the rural school at Curdsville, Buckingham county, last year began the publication of a Latin paper. A notice of the "Aquila" in the county newspaper attracted the attention of a Buckingham man, now head of the Latin department in the University of Mississippi and Dean of that school.

Dr. A. L. Bondurant, of the University of Mississippi, wrote for two copies of the paper. After examining the paper, he wrote that he wanted at State Teachers College, Farmville, Va., a chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, the national classical fraternity. He stated, in addition, that he would recommend a chapter of Eta Sigma Phi for the State Teachers College.

Dr. Walmsley wrote to Mr. H. Lloyd Stow, University of Chicago, about forming a chapter at Farmville. When Mr. Stow replied that State Teachers Colleges are not eligible, there was formed here, with

Continued on page two

HAMPTON INSTITUTE QUARTET VISITS S. T. C.

The Hampton Institute Quartet sang in the College auditorium Tuesday morning at chapel time. This quartet is now on a good will trip to many of the schools and colleges in Virginia. They travel for eight months of the year.

The members of this quartet are not students, but graduates of the Hampton Institute. They work out their own harmony without aid of musical instruments. They sang quite a few Negro spirtual songs. One of the songs that captivated the audience was "Mighty Like a Rose."

This quartet has been invited to go to Europe to show people of that country the real negro spirituals realized and by the American Negro.

MISS WILHELMINA LONDON PRESIDES AT ALUMNAE MEETING

Miss Wilhelmina London, president, called to order the annual business meeting of the Association of Alumnae at 3:15 p. m., Saturday, March 8, in the Student Building auditorium at S. T. C. Special greetings were extended to all alumnae, espe-

Continued on page five

Dr. Alderman Speaks To Students on Integrity of Youth

He is President of the University of Virginia at Charlottesville

The speaker on the program of our Founder's Day exercises was Dr. E. A. Alderman, President of the University of Virginia, an institution which stands today as "the lengthened shadow of its first President."

As a fitting theme for his address, Dr. Alderman chose "The Integrity of Youth." "I believe in modern youth," he said. "I am here to bridge the chasm between youth and age". As Dr. Alderman sees it, youth represents the spirit of discovery. He believes that the young people of today are searching for the truth, and because of this he senses their mood as critical and their soul as sensitive to higher things.

Youth, in preparing to fit itself for life, must first gain possession of its rightful heritage. "You will live in poverty," said Dr. Alderman, "if your inheritance has not been self-realized. It is a conquest, not a bequest;

Continued on last page

S. T. C. Celebrates 46th Founders' Day

Classes and Organizations Contributed Much for Student Building

STUNTS WERE EFFECTIVE

All the spirit of rampant youth and unloyalty to Alma Mater seemed temporarily confined in S. T. C.'s auditorium Saturday morning at ten o'clock to celebrate the 46th birthday of S. T. C. properly with an intensely original and enjoyable program. Our Alma Mater song had never scunded so true as it did when the visiting alumnae, faculty members, student body and friends sang it while the seniors marched in and took their places behind the alumnae.

The air of secrecy which has for a number of weeks enshrouded the "stunt" practices and rehearsals caused the audience to wait impatiently for the curtain to part for the presentation of class and organizaion contributions for the Student Building.

The Freshman Class was the first to appear with a clever Wrigley chewing gum stunt, one stick of which contained the large class contribution which was presented to Dr. Jarman

The sophomore class found its gift concealed in a mine and presented in the form of a huge lump of gold discovered by attractive miners.

A thing so beautiful as the junior tableau of classic history could hardly be classed as a stunt except for the magic cleverness in which a miniature Student Building carried the substan-

(Continued on Page 5)

S. T. C. Student Take Part in Dillwyn Meet

The Buckingham County Teachers Association held its second meeting for the session March 7 at Dillwyn, Va.

During the group meetings Misses Edna Lamb, Elizabeth Folk, and Edith Britt, who are student-teachers at Curdsville this quarter, gave a practical demonstration of types of seat work for use in the primary grades, exhibiting both individual and wall charts as well as material which could be used on the blackboard and showing how these could be used as an interesting and effective drill on the lessons taught in the regular class periods.

In the afternoon Miss Grace Moran of S. T. C. taught a demonstration lesson in reading showing in a very attractive way various methods of securing good oral and silent reading. She explained also a number of ways of providing children with material for incidental reading.

Others addressing the teachers during the day were Dr. Brumfield of Farmville, who spoke on the health work which the Junior Leagues of the county can do, and Dr Gee of the University of Virginia, who presented a plan for the preparation of a ounty supplement for the geographies now in use.

NOTICE

There will be no issue of The Rotunda on March 19, due to examinations. The staff wishes the entire student body the best of luck on their examinations!

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — LUCY THOMPSON, '30
Associate Editor — JESSIE SMTH, '31

Board of Editors

News Editor — LILLIAN BOVELL, '30
Literary Editor — LINDA WILKINSON, '30
Athletic Editor — MILDRED MADDREY, '31
World News Editor — GERTRUDE RICHARDSON, '30
Intercollegiate News Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — RACHEL ROYAL, '30
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — MAMIE HURT, '31
Humorous Editor — "BILLIE" PARIS, '30
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

MARIA WARREN, '32 — KATHLEEN WOODSON, '30
DOROTHY SNEDEGAR, '33
ANNIE DENIT, '31
ANN STUMP, '30

Proof Reader — SARA BAKER, '31
Assistant Proof Reader — JESSIE WATKINS, '33

Managers

Business Manager — SARA McCORKLE, '30
Assistant Business Manager — PEARL JOHNSON, '32
Circulation Manager — MARTHA ANTHONY, '30
Assistant Circulation Manager — NANNIE SUE ANTHONY, '30

Founders' Day: a Release of Initiative

Dr. Jarman has given us one of the best definitions of Founders Day that we have yet had when he said that Founders' Day has proved to be an ideal release of initiative. The truth of this statement was forcefully shown in our celebration of Founders' Day on March 8.

The stunts were clever, original, and varied. The junior class deserves especial mention for presenting one of the loveliest Grecian scenes we have ever seen. As a fitting close to the stunts the Choral Club portrayed a huge music scale on which the notes of "Alma Mater" were placed by members of Choral Club.

The gifts presented to the Student Building fund were generous, but as Dr. Jarman said, the monetary side of Founders Day is only secondary. The true spirit of Alma Mater, loyalty to our college home and to our college family is the primary purpose for celebrating the birthday of the founding of State Teachers College.

For several years Dr. Jarman has been trying to secure Dr. Alderman of the University of Virginia to speak to his girls. This year his dream materialized and we heard Dr. Alderman. Now we can easily understand why Dr. Jarman has been so eager for us to hear this distinguished man. Dr. Alderman is one of the most delightful, most inspiring speakers we have ever heard from our platform. He spoke to a capacity audience in the auditorium Saturday night, and every person who heard him has expressed in some way a desire to hear him again. We feel that in Dr. Alderman we have a staunch friend of youth—a true friend of State Teachers College.

The Same Old Spirit

I have often wondered if an alumna, when she returns to S. T. C., doesn't feel as though she is returning to her beloved childhood home which is now occupied by mostly strangers. Yet to look at their faces one might think that the alumnae enjoy the difference wrought in their Alma Mater since they were here. But are things so different? There is still the spirit of cooperation which radiates from Dr. Jarman into the heart of each student.

As it was then, the Student Building was being paid for partly by the students because they loved Dr. Jarman, who has given them his best—and today, we still are helping to pay for our building because Dr. Jarman has created in his school and our school a spirit of cooperation, love and congeniality.

Alumnae, I believe you returned to the same old school in spirit. Though strangers may have greeted you, they are your friends in spirit!

OVER THE TEACUPS

OVER THE TEACUPS

Why, how do you do, Mrs. Whoozit? I'm so glad to see you. Are you an alumna of Farmville? Well, I really didn't know it. When did you come—this morning? You are staying in the Senior Building? Well, I'll carry your bag over.

I know you are glad to be back. I guess things are changed a lot, but then I'm sure you'd like it just as well if you stayed with us a while and knew everybody.

Well, really, Mrs. Whoozit, I hardly know where to start telling you about all that's happened this year. About the first thing was the Junior musical last fall, I guess. They all worked dreadfully hard over it, and it was quite a credit to the class. The choruses were awfully good.

Oh, yes, I was here at Thanksgiving. It's a shame your plans didn't materialize, you would have enjoyed it, I'm sure. We went through the usual routine of hanging the colors, of course, and played the class hockey games. Oh, that's right—hockey has been introduced since you left. Well, you should see a game, they're fully as interesting as basketball.

And that's reminds me. Our basketball team was very successful this year. They only played two games and won both. Only one of them was played here, but it surely was good.

Oh, yes, and did you hear about the Senior play? They gave one in January that was—well, as good as if the cast had been professional. The chorus work was fine. I am sure that had Mr. Zeigfield seen them he would have decided that his quest for chorus girls was ended.

Oh, yes, our Christmas season was quite a gay one. Several of the organizations gave bazaars, and sold everything. Well, I'm glad somebody told you about them, because that was so long ago that I've almost forgotten them.

Oh, no, I didn't go home for Washington's birthday. Of course, we had our classes and everything, but we had the loveliest dinner to make up for it. Everybody wore evening dresses and we made quite an affair of it.

Why, yes, indeed, we still have our Lyceum programs. We have had fewer this year than usual, but they really were much better, I think. The "Tales of Hoffman" was good —that was the first entertainment last fall. And have you ever seen the Ben Greet players? They were here just after Christmas. We all feel that it was quite a privilege to hear them—they're so famous. They played "Twelfth Night" in the afternoon and "Hamlet" at night. I really wouldnt take anything for having seen them. Oh, yes, and the Boston Male Choir was here only last week. They sang for us last year and were so pleased with us that they came back. But seriously, everybody enjoyed them immensely.

So you read about our Debate Team? I think Farmville should be proud of them. You didn't hear about their trip? Why, they left here on one Tuesday and came back the following Sunday, meanwhile having traveled through North and South Carolina and defeated teams at Wake Forest, University of South Craolina and Woffart. Then they came home and defeated N. C. State and University of Pittsburg here. We really are dreadfully proud of them. Who were they? Oh, please excuse me for not telling you—Frances Wilson and Mary Mann Baskerville.

Why, really Mrs. Whoozit, I don't know exactly what the whole program for the week-end is to be. I know that tomorrow morning the organizations are to make their contributions ot the Stduent Building Fund through stunts and skits. I've heard many strange whisperings and even many strange sights in the last few days—pirates, Grecian girls, gypsies, miners, flowers and loads of other things walking around school. And to complete a perfect day, Dr. Alderman, President of our University of Virginia, is to talk at eight o'clock. I don't intend to miss a thing all day long.

What are those ruins? Why, that's what's left of our fire. You haven't heard of it? Why it was quite a momentous affair. It's been suggested, and quite appropriately, that we change our calendar—at least our school calendar—to read A. F. and B. F.—after the fire and before the fire—I think it quite clever. There really isn't so much to tell. We were just awakened in the middle of the night last Monday—or at least it was Tuesday morning—and told that there was a fire next door. Fortunately, nobody was living in either of the buildings—they had vacated only last Fall. We all went down, and after the firemen came, they soon had the fire under control. Of course we were all excited for the time being, but I think it's about over now.

Why, this is our new building! Isn't it lovely? Only Juniors and Seniors are over here, and we feel ourselves quite fortunate to have such a lovely home. Dr. Jarman certainly does everything in his power to keep his "family" comfortable and happy!

Here's your room right here, Mrs. Whoozit, and I hope you'll be all right. I room right upstairs, and if there's anything I can do to help you out, or any errands I can run, please call on me.

I'm awfully glad I saw you, and goodbye until later.

A FIVE-POINT FOUNDERS' DAY

There are five big reasons why we all love to see Founders' Day come. They are:

1. Dr. Jarman is happy
2. The Alumnae come back
3. We are happy
4. The food in the dining room
5. The food in the dining room

Oh, my! What a lovely dinner! The tables decorated with red tulips and girls in evening dresses! The orchestra, playing delightful music from the balcony!

We all stand up to see—the faculty come in. Even the men are allowed to eat in the dining room on this of all nights.

But let me tell you of the food—chicken with gravy; hot rolls; delicious tomato salad; candied sweet potatoes; celery, pickles, etc. I can't remember all we had, even. But "distinctly I remember"—we finished up with pink ice cream and lovely layer cake.

We thank you, Mrs. Jameson for your kind thoughtfulness on this great day—and—er—many happy returns.

SIGMA PHI RHO HAS INTERESTING ORIGIN

Continued from page one

the help of Mr. Grainger and Dr. Walmsley, the organization known as Sigma Pi Rho.

After Dr. Bondurant had been notified of the formation of Sigma Pi Rho, he wrote the following:

"Your plan with reference to the honorary fraternity is an excellent one and I believe that you have a real opportunity for establishing a classical honorary fraternity for teacher training schools. I am really quite sorry that under the present ruling it is not possible for you to have a chapter of Eta Sigma Phi. If I am not mistaken, I first brought that mater to your attention and I believe that if Mr. Stow and his associates understood the character of work which is done in your institution and some others, there would be no sedious difficulty in the way. However, this difficulty is only imaginary. You have the opportunity of nationalizing your own organization for teacher training colleges and in this way you can enter a field that needs very special cultivation."

BY OUR ALUMNAE

DANTE

Always apart when other children played,
Wandering alone in meadow or in wood,
His comrade only some dim earth-drawn shade;
Troubled at night by dreams half understood.

And as he grew he missed all simple joy,
Laughter he knew not, though the hot tears ran,
A shadow world his all, as when a boy,—
Strange, lonely child, and vision-haunted man!

—Julia Johnson Davis

CERTAINTY

Still skeptic and logician try to prove,
Each in his way,
How vain a thing, how futile our faith
And still they say
That prayer is but a breath, a foolish cry
Lost on the wind—
In only know that asking, I receive,
And seeking, find.

With words precisely cool and logical
They think to show
There was no Man of Galilee, no Christ
Long years ago.
We but delude ourselves who think Him real
They both agree—
And yet I know that through one bitter night
He stood by me!

—Julia Johnson Davis

WINTER BEAUTY

The west wind swept the hillside hour by hour,
Taking its toil of splendor with each gust.
Scarlet and saffron, coppery, red as dust,
The leaves went down before its conquering power.
But the great trees refused to bend or cower,
Mourning a transient beauty brought to dust.
In an enduring loveliness they trust,
Clear-cut in lines of grace and strengh they tower.

And then I thought, "How will it be with me
When all my leaves have fallen one by one?
Oh, may my soul stand out, for those who see,
Steadfast and strong against the setting sun,
Broad-branching with wide humanity,
Clear-etched by gracious deeds that have done!"

Josephine Johnson
Class 1910

CONVENTION

I grasp the door and fling it wide
To look upon the world outside;

There is no change in sky and tree,
The change is only wrought in me.

Strange how the people turn and greet
Each other in the crowded street,

With gayest nod, and cheery words
Like lyric mirth of noisy birds.

I gown myself, forget all grief,
I make my mouth on autumn leaf;

And don my mask, and turn and greet
The people in convention's street.

—May Brinkley
Class 1917

Our Recreation Center

TEA AT LONGWOOD

The visiting alumnae were entertained at Longwood by the Farmville chapter. Tea was served by Miss Gleaves, the hostess at Longwood, assisted by Misses Martha Scott Watkins, Nancy Putney, Margaret Farrar, Virginia Watkins, and Grace Bernier, daughters of alumnae.

Judging from the enthusiastic expressions of our guests they were as well pleased as the girls are with our new acquisition, and certainly they would have availed themselves of the opportunity to get away from grind by going to Longwood if only they could have had such a place. They were not envious, but just regretful that their school days were over, and that they had been spent of necessity, on so small a campus.

FACULTY NEWS

Miss Lucy Alice Davis is teaching at Griglersville, Madison County, near Hoover's Camp.

Miss Helen Draper is studying in France. She will return for work next year.

Those receiving masters degree from from Columbia last year were:

Miss Mary Barlow
Miss Pauline Camper
Miss Lila London
Miss Wilhelmina London
Miss Ida W. Penny
Miss Louise Robertson
Miss Katherine Tubber

Miss Barnes is now working on her Ph. D. at the University of Virginia.

Miss Mary Pierce is back with us after some years' absence.

Mr. Bowman has a fine son, Warren D., Jr. Mr. Bowman will receive his doctor's degree from the University of Chicago this spring. He will teach this summer at University of Virginia.

Dr. Simpkins has a research scholarship from the Social Science Foundaion of New York. This is open only to Ph. D.s under thirty-five years of age. He is now on leave writing a book.

Miss Elizabeth Davis is teaching at Smith-Vincent school on Long Island.

Miss Esther Thomas is at the State Teachers College, Mansfield, Pa.

Miss Frances Treakle is Rural Supervisor of Lancaster County.

Miss Dot Fowlkes is at Greenville, S. C. in the Parker District.

Mr. Gordon Moss is back after a year's work at Yale. He has been married to Miss Laura Anderson since his return.

Mr. George Jeffers did research work in Nova Scotia last summer.

Dr. Jarman and the following members of the faculty attended the N. E. A. in Atlantic City.

Miss Pauline Camper
Miss Mary Barlow
Miss Alice Carter
Miss Grace Moran
Miss Mary Pierce
Miss Philomena Tupper.

Miss Grace E. Mix will tour Europe this summer.

Dr. J. P. Wynne will teach at the University of W. Va., this summer.

Miss Penny and Miss Jeter are going to teach at Ashville Normal this summer.

Misses Hiners' 'sisters are coming to Farmville to make their home.

The following faculty members were on the program for the District D meeting of the Virginia Education Association held in Petersburg Friday, March 7: Miss Pierce, Miss Nichols, Mr. Grainger, Mr. McCorkle, Mr. Jeffers, and Dr. Walmsley.

FOUR NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETIES AT S. T. C.

There are now in our college chapters of four international and national, honor societies which provide recognition and encouragement of outstanding ability in the lines of scholarship, leadership, and service.

In 1928 the local honor society of Pi Pappa Omega was merged into the international honor society of Kappa Delta Pi. The organization recognizes scholarship, character, and service of a high standard. Each year the chapter undertakes some project which will be of value to the chapter itself as well as to the other students. The project for this year is the classification of unclassified materials in the library—pamphlets, clippings, and pictures—making them more accessible for use by the faculty and the student body.

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu was organized in 1927 as a branch of the National Social Science Honor Society to further the scientific study of the problems of social science. A high standard of general scholarship, and outstanding interest in the social sciences are prerequisite to membership. Some project of interest in the field of social science is engaged upon by the members. The project of the chapter at present is a study of the factors and conditions relating to the "Industrialization of the South."

The Virginia Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta, National Forensic Honor Society, was chartered in 1928. Its purpose is to develop and maintain a high standard of skill and sportsmanship in debate and oratory. Intercollegiate debates and orations are sponsored by the organization.

The Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma was organized April 9, 1928. At present there are only three chapters of this organization: one at U. of South Carolina, one at Queens College, and one at Farmville. The purpose of this society is to recognize outstanding leadership among women.

ALUMNAE CHAPTERS REPRESENTED HERE ON FOUNDERS' DAY

Bluefield, W. Va., was represented by Mrs. Celia Hawkins Hatcher, who is also a member of the reunion class of 1900.

Mrs. Lila McGehee Vreeland sent greetings from Charlotte, N. C. The twelve S. T. C. alumnae in that city hoped to arrange a meeting of their own on March 8.

Dinwiddie County has an active chapter. One member, Miss Mabel Grossclose, was here.

Farmville Chapter, through its treasurer, Mrs. Laura Anderson Moss, welcomed the alumnae and invited them to tea at Longwood after the business meeting. She described the methods employed in getting money for a gift to the Student Building Fund, and reported the support of one student by the Prince Edward branch of the Normal League.

The Lynchburg Chapter sent a telegram, a number of alumnae, and a substantial check. They have kept a student in school this year. Their loan fund has brought happiness to a good many girls.

Miss Marnetta Souder from Hampton and Newport News read a telegram from Mrs. Mae Edwards, reporting a meeting that day for organizing a Peninsula chapter to include all the different cities of that section. She brought greetings to Dr. Jarman and Alma Mater.

Norfolk Chapter sent best wishes and a check.

Petersburg Chapter had representatives present at the many features of the day.

Portsmouth and Richmond had unofficial representatives.

Roanoke Rapids, N. C. Chapter showed that the members were loyal daughters of Virginia, by a check for their dues, and a telegram of good wishes.

The Roanoke-Salem delegate, Miss Eleanor McCormick, brought a message of love, a check for the Student Building, and a check for the Morrison Memorial Fund. That chapter also has a loan fund which is being used by one of the students here.

Staunton Chapter has sixteen members all of whom "love S. T. C. and miss it more each year", so they sent dues and a gift and a telegram.

Tazewell has an enthusiastic chapter which planned to celebrate Founders Day at home. Mrs. Chris Royall Elmore brought their message.

A telegram brought greetings and a check from Winchester.

Winston-Salem, N. C., was another chapter which planned to have a meeting on March 8.

Messages of remembrance and good wishes came in the form of telegrams from Misses Pauline Williamson, Ann Smith, Virginia Wall, Dot Fowlkes, Georgie Jeffreys, Margaret Finch and Kate Trent.

WHERE ALUMNAE LIVE

Alabama, Arkansas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Washington, West Virginia, Philippine Island, Canal Zone, China France, Japan, Siberia, Porto Rico.

"Aunt Lou"

"Uncle Robert"

These pictures will, we are sure, bring back many pleasant memories to hundreds of our alumnae who knew "Aunt Lou" and "Uncle Robert," two of the most faithful servants the college has ever had; both were connected with the institution for more than tweny years, always loyal to duty, and jealous for the good name of your Alma Mater.

"Uncle Robert" died several years ago, "Aunt Lou" had to give up her work five or six years back, on account of ill health, but lived until Founders' Day of this year when she passed peacefully away at her home in the country.

LONG, LONG AGO

One of the students has received a letter which she wishes to share with others in part.

"Dear———:

This morning I was going through a box of things belonging to my grandmother, who died in 1851; and came across this piece of some old newspaper. In the lower corner of it is an advertisement for the Farmville Female Seminary which stood on the spot that the College occupies. I thought that probably it might be of interest to you as it presents such a contrast to present day prices, etc., and so I am sending it to you.

My mother went there to school during the last days of the Civil War and used to tell me about the Confederate army retreating right by the gate just prior to Appomattox, and how the Union soldiers when they came used to try to "show off" for the girls, performing feats of horsemanship, but the girls jeered at them in derision. The girls were so nice to the Confederate wounded who were carried by and so scornful of the Union soldiers that the "Yankees" ordered all blinds closed and blankets hung over all windows that had no blinds. Later, however, they gave all the girls transportation home. They were hauling cannon in wagons and it was in one of those wagon trains that the girls were taken home. My mother sat on the cannon and was so exhausted from riding all day that she slept soundly and did not hear the music when the soldiers serenaded that night.

This is the advertisement.

Farmville Female Seminary

The exercises of this Instiution will be commenced the 17th of July, 1843. Board can be obtained in the Seminary or in private families in the village from $8 to $10 per month.

Tuition fees, per session of five months, to be paid half in advance.

Music $20. No charge for the use of the instrument. English, $15 for the higher branches; $12.50 for the lower. Latin, Greek or French $5.

June 29 3t S. Lea

DEATHS

Each year finds gaps in the ranks of those connected with our College in different capacities. Those who died in 1929 and 1930 are:

Mr. R. C. Bristow
Miss von Schilling
Miss Hanna Crawley
Miss Kate McIntosh
Mrs. George Guppy (Ethelyn Jones).
Mrs. J. W. Barne (Grazilda Cox).
Mrs. William Henderson (Rose Womack)
Miss Celeste E. Bush, February 7, 1930.

The second page of the first catalogue of this college gives the faculty list, and we read there:

Miss C. E. Bush, Vice-Principal Geography, Physiology, United States History, Morals and Manners.

Miss Bush held this position from 1884 to 1887. Her death at the age of 83 was the end of a full, rich life. She was buried in the cemetery at Niantic, Conn.

Sisters or Mothers are Alumnae

Continued from page three

Lucille Wingo, Mrs. O. E. Long; Lenora Wingo, Mrs. Arthur Shaffer.

Rachel Royall—sister, Mary Christian Royall, Mrs. Harry Elmore

Nancy Niel—sister, Josephine Noel

Maribeulah Maddox—sister, Thelma Maddox

Elsie Robinson Hardy—mother, Mrs. Mary Hardy, Mary Anne Massenburg

Mildred Lancaster—mother, Mrs. J. P. Lancaster, Louisa E. Cralle

Mary Winston—mother, Mrs. B. K. Winston, Marie Woody.

Margaret Bunch—sisters, Juanita Bunch; Rebecca Bunch, Mrs. W. I. Hart.

Mary A. Bristow—mother, Mrs. M. A. Bristow, Cornelia Bristow.

Patsye Thompson—mother, Mrs. W. C. Thompson, Edna Vaughan.

Anna Tucker—mother, Mrs. L. G. Tucker, Phoebe K. Boyd

Mary R. Wood—mother, Mrs. Florence Wood, Florence Whitworth

Elsie Stables—mother, Mrs. L. D. Stables, Katherine Gray

Pattie Butterworth—sister, Mamie Butterworth, Mrs. E. H. Ogilvie

Allie Olliver—mother, Eureka Ashburn Oliver; sisters: Gladys Oliver Bell Oliver Simmons

Agnes Meredith—sisters, Anne Meredith Jeffers, Marie Meredith Turner

Kathrine Chambers—sister, Nelle Chambers.

Pearl Johnson—sister, Amelia Johnson

TO OUR ALUMNAE:

The Founders' Day that has just passed was one of the most enjoyable that we have had, and I am sure those of you who were here with us will bear me out in that statement.

The morning exercises, in charge of the students, were not only beautiful and highly entertaining, but showed a great deal of talent, and wonderful initiative in the planning; the alumnae luncheon and business meeting brought together many old friends, and at the evening exercises it was a rare privilege to hear such a beautiful address as that given by President Alderman of our State University.

The afternoon tea given by the Farmville Chapter to the visiting alumnae afforded them the opportunity of seeing what is at this time our particular pride: Longwood, our recreational center.

The main purpose of this letter is to say how much we appreciated the presence of those of you who were with us, how much you added to the pleasure of the day; and to send a cordial greeting to those who could not come: to assure them that on her Birthday their Alma Mater is thinking of all her children and wishing they could be with her to share her happiness in the young daughters now within her walls.

With best wishes, and the hope that even a larger number of you will be with us for this occasion next year, I am

Sincerely your friend,

J. L. JARMAN, President

SEVENTY-NINE PRESENT AT ALUMNAE LUNCHEON

B-zz—B-zz!! "Has she come yet?" "Well, have you heard anything?" "Don't give her up!" "We will just have to wait!"

Such was the anxiety on Saturday when at five minutes of one Miss Munoz had "put in no appearance." All at once there came ringing through the rotunda, "Here she is"—and everybody knew what had happened. We all stood back for the toastmistress to "rush in," take off her hat and lead the way to the Banquet Hall, where 79 members of the Alumnae and Faculty were to enjoy a delicious luncheon.

Only Miss Munoz could have been so entertaining in such a unique way. She was delightful.

The introductory remarks to the toasts which followed made every minute a pleasure.

1. To Dr. Jarman, "What's the Matter with Jarman?"
2. To the Reunion Classes, Lucile Graves.
3. Responses—Mrs. Hatcher, for Class of 1900; Mrs. Julia Johnston Davis, Class of 1910; Eleanor McCormick, Class of 1920.
4. To Miss Mary, Mrs. Harry Elmore, At S. T. C. There Is Rest—No Rest.
5. To the Faculty, Mrs. D. E. Davidson.
6. To the Founders, Mrs. Alice Carter.
7. To Alma Mater, Greenhow Parker.

All Hail, Alma Mater.

The musical program furnished by some of the students added great real to the occasion.

Gay Days, The Lying Prophet—Elizabeth Taylor.

Lieberstraum—Mildred Madrey.

Selections—Etta Marshall.

The Top O' the Morning—Elizabeth Taylor, Florence Cralle.

The Banjo Song—Mildred Madrey, Edith Coleman.

INDIVIDUAL DIFFERENCES

Our college motto is "We teach to teach," but there are "fifty-seven varieties" of its applications and outgrowths. For example:

Misses Eula Harris and Erna Shotwell are proprietors of The Band Box Shoppe on the ground floor of the Weyanoke Hotel, where fashionable gowns and hats and pretty accessories prove very attractive to the "State Female Normal School."

Misses Virginia Updyke, Margaret Hubbard, Virginia Marshall, Mary Bernard, Julia Wilson, and Annie Alvis traveled in Europe last summer.

Miss Adelaide Trent was a delegate from the National Education Association to the convention of the World Federation of Education Association which met in Geneva, July 25-August 3.

Miss Mary Markley is director of a kindergarten system in Porto Rico with a staff of eighteen teachers.

Mrs. James Graham (Louise Garrett) has returned to China with her husband and children.

Miss Nellie Putney, a missionary to China, has been spending her furlough in further study in S. T. C. for even in foreign lands degrees are desirable.

Miss Mary Finch will return from Japan in July. Her father, mother and sister, Margaret will meet her in Europe. Miss Jean West will be in the party.

Miss Lillian Minkle teaches in a Presbyterian mission school at Rabeen Gap, Ga.

Miss Helen Draper is studying in France. On her return to America in the spring she will enter Middleburg College, Vermont.

Miss Lucy T. Irving has her masters degree from Middleburg College and occupies the chair of Spanish at Susquehanna College, Pennsylvania.

Miss Mary Thomas is dean of women and professor of history in Cumberland College, Williamsburg, Ky.

Miss Dama Hill received her M. A. from Teachers College, Columbia University, in February.

Miss Mary Channing Coleman is head of the physical education depart-

Continued on page five

State Female Normal School—Founded 1884.

Many of the Alumnae Are Married

* * * * *

This list includes those who have been married recently and also those whose married names we are just hearing about. The next time you are married, won't you please send us an announcement so we can keep our files up to date?

Laura Anderson—Mrs. C. Gordon Moss, Farmville, Va.

Mary Moffet Armstrong, Mrs. J. H. Beall, Front Royal, Va.

Buna Mae Butker, Mrs. Clyde G. Johnson.

Thelma Blanton—Mrs. S. W. Rockwell, 604 Westover Avenue, Norfolk, Va.

Carolyn Burgess—Mrs. Peter B. Pulman.

Mrs. Pattie Buford Engart— Mrs. Rosser Kelly, Salem, Va.

Mary Alice Blanton—Mrs. R. C. Carden, 3122 Kensington, Avenue, Richmond, Va.

Mary Vivian Brooking—Mrs. J. A. Savedge, Yale, Va.

Mary Tyler Baker—Mrs. Frank Baber, Amelia, Va.

Gertrude Batte—Mrs. F. J. Daughtrey, Emporia, Va.

Virginia Blanton—Mrs. W. R. Topham, Straford Apartment, Duluth, Minn.

Minna Brown—Mrs. Edward Rhodes Pocahontas, Va.

Lucy Reid Brown—Mrs. F. C. Jones, Front Royal, Va.

Elsie Bell—Mrs. J. T. Carroll, Riverside View, Jacksonville, Florida.

Virginia Cowherd—Mrs. A. A. Adkins, Jr., Lewisburg, W. Va.

Mary Baber—Mrs. J. W. Ellett, Pocahontas, Va.

Charlotte Baird—Mrs. G. B. Ferebee, Jr., Norfolk, Va.

Lucy Evelyn Boisseau—Mrs. C. E. Ford, Church Road, Va.

Gracie Betts—Mrs. H. O. Gwatley.

Ruth Thelma Bowden, Mrs. Whitfield St. John, Saluda, Va.

Mary Virginia Brown—Mrs. J. B. Thomas.

Eleanor Bennett—Mrs. W. A. Ryder, 2 B Hampton Apt., Norfolk, Va.

Doris Cochran—Mrs. C. D. Klotz, Winnetka, Ill.

Grace Carwile—Mrs. J. H. LeRoy, Jr., Elizabeth City, N. C.

Elizabeth Cogbill—Mrs. C. A. Stevens, Sycamore St., Petersburg, Va.

Cyrilla Cocks, Mrs. W. A. Leffue, Boones Mill, Va.

Kathleen Carroll—Mrs. Blair Price.

Edwina Carwile—Mrs. H. P. Montgomery, Georgetown, Ky.

Catherine Rebecca Crowder—Mrs. Henry Brothers, Suffolk, Va.

Alma Carver—Mrs. W. G. Tinsley, Charlottesville, Va.

Louise Doyle—Mrs. C. W. Rigdon

Esther Dickerson—Mrs. M. J. Stockdon, The Marlborough, Newport News, Va.

Grace Dickerson—Mrs. J. G. Trafton, Jr., Norfolk, Va.

Esthere Davenport—Mrs. G. F. Hasslacher

Lee Drumeller—Mrs. G. V. Vought, Cape Charles, Va.

Elizabeth Dunn—Mrs. W. E. Eubank, Chase City, Va.

Mamie Daniel—Mrs. H. H. Barbee, Roanoke Rapids, N. C.

Mildred Dickinson—Mrs. C. H. Davis, Jr., Anderson, Ind.

Isabel Eutsler—Mrs. Allan Crater, Collegeville, Pa.

Viola Elliott—Mrs. J. W. Smith, Jr., Montross, Va.

Anna Foster—Mrs. Clem Hamilton, Delafield Place, Washington, D. C.

Mary Gladys Fretwell—Mrs. R. O. Custer.

Irene Fowlkes—Mrs. B. F. Sours, Chatham, Va.

Elfreth Friend—Mrs. P. A. Shelburne, 506 Elam Ave., Greensboro, N. C.

Mabel Fitzpatrick—Mrs. Walter Putney, Farmville, Va.

Eula Faison—Mrs. J. W. Johnson, Rocky Mount, N. C.

Sallie Fitzgerald—Mrs. Thomas Flournoy.

Margaret Ray Glenn—Mrs. W. R. Van Huss, Detroit, Michigan.

Claire Goad—Mrs. G. W. Adams.

Fannie Grainger—Mrs. W. H. Gilliam, Richmond, Va.

Helen D. Hart—Mrs. John Robert Sam

Dorothy Hughes—Mrs. W. A. Harris, Lynchburg, Va.

Sara Hughes—Mrs. W. C. Revercombe, Charleston, W. Va.

E. Kellogg Holland—Mrs. Edward T. Marshall.

Elizabeth Haynes—Mrs. F. H. Moore Longdale, Va.

Nora Mae Holmes—Mrs. H. N. Copley, Suffolk, Va.

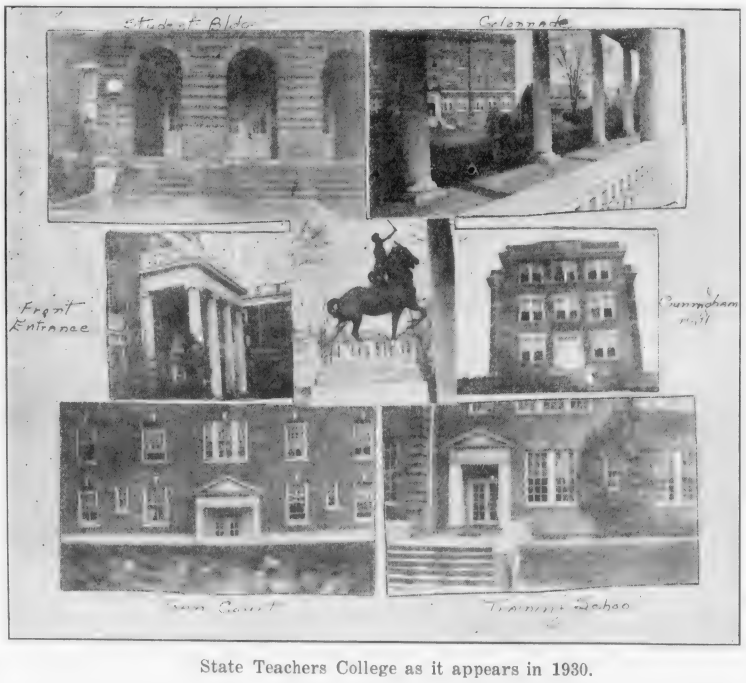
Judith Garnett Henderson—Mrs. J. LeRue Gray, Jr., Shipman, Va.

Alise Harris—Mrs. W. L. Rahily, Petersburg, Va.

Mary L. Hester—Mrs. R. B.Wiedemer, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Sophie Harris—Mrs. G. T. Bryson.

Alice Amelia Johnson—Mrs. E. B. Calliway, Bluefield, W. Va.



Lula Johnson—Mrs. C. C. Abernathy.

Mabel Rieves Johnson—Mrs. R. L. Jones, Farmville, Va.

Louise Jackson—Mrs. George Shelton, Kingsport, Tenn.

Lucille Jennings—Mrs. Frank Rogers, Amelia, Va.

Continued on last page

State Teachers College as it appears in 1930.

STUDENTS — SISTERS OR MOTHERS ARE ALUMNAE

Henrietta Cornwell—sister, Edith Cornwell

Margaret Gathwright—mother, Mrs. A. B. Gathwright, Mary Ford.

Doris Robertson—mother, Mrs. R. J. Robertson, Lucile Jane Clay

Alice Lee Schenk—mother, Mrs. W. B. Schenk, Minnie Withers.

Sara Mears—sister, Margaret Mears

May Carter—sister, Annie B. Carter

Mary W. Terry—mother, Mrs. H. T. Terry, Mary Abbitt

Margaret Murphy—sister, Anges C. Murphy.

Agnes Smith—mother, Mrs. J. H. Smith, Katy Coutcher.

Myrtle Raming—sister, Christine Raming

French Hutt—sister, Elizabeth Hutt —mother Georgie Bryan Hutt

Anna Minter—mother, Mamie Duncan Minter

Doris Weber—sisters, Marjorie and Susie Bell Webber

Willie Rawlings—sister, India Rawlins

Margaret Varner—sister, Elizabeth Varner.

Rebecca Dryden—sister, Charlotte Dryden.

Bertie Long—sister, Nellie Long

Curtis Briggs—sister, Cora L. Briggs

Annie McKenney—sister, Eva McKenney

Ruth Patterson—mother, Mrs. F. Patterson, Mary Johnson.

Ernestine Winston—sister, Annie L. Winston

Sarah Codd—sister, Marjorie Codd

Evelyn Gilliam—mother, Mrs. J. H. Gilliam, Annie Garnett

Elizabeth Spencer—mother, Elizabeth Baldwin, grandmother, Susie Henderson

Virginia Fultz—mother, Mrs. G. S. Fultz, Alma McDowell

Sarah L. Scott—mother, Mrs. R. L. Scott, Lucille Bradshaw

Anne Watkins—mother, Mrs. W. M. Watkins, Edna Oliver

Elizabeth Johnson—sister, Louise Johnson, Mrs. R. U. Bradshaw

Sarah B. Cook—sister, Louise Cook

Mildred White—sister, Orline White

Kathrine Clevinger—mother, Mrs. J. H. Clevinger, Emma Irene Baird.

Mary F. Rawls—mother, Mrs. N. C. Rawls, Ruth Cobb

Nancy Putney—mother, Blanche Gilliam

Virginia Robertson—sister, Anne Robertson

Margaret Hix—sister, Jacque Hix

Rosalyn Topping—sister, Gertie Topping.

Louise Hilton—sister, Edna Hilton

Frances Fleming—sister, Virginia Fleming.

Maria Warren—mother, Mrs. C. R. Warren

Mary Cake—sister, Estelle Cake

Louise Elliott—sisters, Reva and Minnie Elliott

Lucille Crute—mother, Mrs. W. S. Crute, Sue Gordon.

Rosa Mae Smith—sister, Irene Smith, Mrs. Earl North

Elsie Burgess—sister Anna Burgess —Mae C. Downs mother, Mrs. W. C. Downs, Sallie W. Leache

Myra A. Costen—sister, Louise Costen.

Odelle Dressler—mother, Mrs. D. P. Dressler, Virginia Baltimore

Ethel Kirkland—sister, Grace Kirkland.

Eleanor Dashill—sister, Katharine Dashill.

Frances Coleman—mother, Mrs. D. J. Coleman, Mary Gilkerson

Woodruth Towler—sister, Mrs. R. M. Anderson

Mariam Bray—mother, Ruby C. Bray

Mary F. Carter—mother, Mrs. W. C. Carter, Rose L. Hubbard.

Carrie De Shazo—sister, Ledia De Shazo

Annie Denit—sister, Nancy Denit

Pauline Gibb—sisters, Virginia Gibb Grace Gibb, Mrs. Earl Van Ness.

Mildred Steere—sister, Doris Steere

Laura Boush — sister, Virginia Boush

Martha Gunter—sister, Nancy Gunter

Lucy Moore—sisters, Bell Moore, Mrs. E. H. Henderson

Anne Wingo—sisters, Helen Wingo,

Continued on page four

SOCIETY

Cornelia Watts spent the week-end in Clifton Forge.

Mary Brightwell spent Sunday at her home in Pamplin.

Lois Dodd and Anne Arvin spent the week-end in Danville.

Ethel Boswell spent the week-end in South Hill.

Mary W. and Margaret Vincent Martha Baker, and Nancy Boykin, spent Sunday in Emporia.

Margaret Leonard spent Thursday in Lynchburg shopping.

Marion Love and Elizabeth Pritchett spent the week-end in Richmond.

Alice Lee Schenk and Sara Wilson spent the week-end in Roanoke.

Jessie Smith and Virginia Witt spent Sunday in Lynchburg.

Virginia Neblett and Florence Gregory spent the week-end at the latter's home in Appomattox.

Vernie Oden, Renie Greaves, and Florence Reed spent the week-end at Sweet Briar College.

Kathleen Wodson spent the week-end at Concord.

Helen Reid, Marjorie O' Flaherty and Pauline Hunter spent the week-end at Eagle Rock.

Grace Price spent the week-end at Rice.

Mary Virginia Linney ,Elsie Mae Roberts, Regina Brown, Hazel Murphy, Chloris Glidewell, "Billie" Paris, and Janice Harper, spent the week-end in Crewe.

Miss Munoz, of Alexandria, a former member of the faculty was back for Founders' Day.

S. T. C. CELEBRATES 46th FOUNDERS DAY

(Continued from Page One)

tial gift of the class while Circe and her maidens charmed the eye.

A haunting gypsy scene and an appealing comparison of the senior class history to a band of gypsies left a gift conjured from a magic pot.

Then followed the various organizations of the school; the Palette and National Council whose gift was siezed by a custom official and turned over to proper authorities; that of the literary societies in the form of a red rose from a Spanish senorita wooed by a gay cavalier. The Athletic Association gift came from representatives of all the phases of the sport realm of college life. The most unique gift came from the Dramatic Club for a new stage curtain presented by a charming Pierrot and Pierette. A treasure found by a band of rollicking pirates proved to be the contribution of the Language Department; a sprouting potato of two-fold nourishment the gift of the Eastern Shore Club. A question for debate, "Resolved, That Dr. Jarman and the Student Building are our dearest possessions" settled, without argument, in the affirmative, accompanied the gift of the Debate Club presented by one of the two feminine members of the world's oratorical hall of fame; nectar from a flower garden gathered by a graceful butterfly, the gift of the Cotillion by human notes that of the Choral Club.

Peppy varsity songs expressed the animated feelings of the entire Student body for Founders' Day, and as a climax the universal favorite, "What's the Matter With Jarman?" was sung.

Greetings from the representatives of the different alumnae chapters and telegrams from those chapters which were unable to be represented were delivered. Hearty applause greeted each one especially those given in person by alumnae, and the liberal contributions of each. Our beloved president, Dr. Jarman, responded in a delightfully informal talk in which he expressed his heart-felt thanks and appreciation to all those who had a part in contributing to the Student Building fund and in making the program an unprecedented success. Other wires and messages were read from absent alumnae and patrons.

This 46th Anniversary of our institution's birthday sent a thrill to the heart of each one present and each left the auditorium with the strains of "There is in Old Virginia a Place We Love to Be" fresh in her ears and heart.

MISS MARY W. COX

TO MISS MARY

(On Her Birthday)

Some dates recall pictures
Of historical characters of the past
Today brings us a portrait
Of one that we know will last.

Other pictures may perish
But for every girl at S. T. C.
Yours will remain forever
Painted in our album of memory.

MISS LONDON PRESIDES AT ALUMNAE MEETING

Continued from page one

cially to those of the reunion classes of 1890, 1900, 1910 and 1920. After the reading and acceptance of the minutes and treasurer's report, the annual report of the activities of the Association of Alumnae was read by the secretary and accepted by the Association.

Miss Carrie Brown Taliaferro, chairman of the Alumnae chapters, made a report of the activities and plans of various local chapters.

News of the organization of a new chapter, to be known as the Peninsula Chapter, was greeted enthusiastically. Dr. Jarman gave an interesting and clear-cut statement as to the high purpose of a teacher training institution and reasons for not desiring the liberal arts college for women in Virginia to be located at S. T. C., Farmville.

Mrs. Coyner reported $183.31 on hand for the Morrison Memorial Fund. With the $20 sent in by the Roanoke Alumnae Chapter, the fund is now over $200 and books can be bought for the Morrison Memorial to be located in the S. T. C. library. It was moved and carried that the naming of the committee to buy these books be left to the executive committee of the Association.

It was reported that the name of the Association had been changed in the charter from Association of Alumnae of S. N. S. to Association of Alumnae S. T. C. The proposed change of Article V of the by-laws was presented and carried so that the by-laws now reads, 'The Association shall meet annually at S. T. C. at the time set by the Executive Committee," instead of at commencement. Suggestions for next Thanksgiving activities were asked for and questions about the Cunningham Memorial Fund were answered.

The nominating committee reported the following results of the election from ballots sent out:

Director, Miss Mary White Cox.

First Vice-President, Miss Lillian Minor.

Second Vice-President, Miss Mabel Grossclose.

Nominating committee, Miss Virgilia Bugg, Mrs. Elizabeth Jarman Hardy, and Miss Helen Draper.

The meeting was adjourned after a brief outline of the policy of the Executive Committee and plans of the Association for the coming year.

Writer: "If only I could get an inspiration—a suggestion of some kind."

Friend: "Read a college magazine—there's sure to be something suggestive in that."—The Log.

PAN-HELLENIC GIVES DELIGHTFUL TEA DANCE

The Pan-Hellenic Council was hostess Friday afternoon from five to six at a delightful tea dance in the recreation hall.

Members of the following sororities attended :Sigma Sigma Sigma, Gamma Theta, Delta Sigma Chi, Mu Omega, Pi Kappa Sigma, and Zeta Tau. Delicious refreshments consisting of punch and sandwiches were served during the afternoon. The sororities were happy to have as their guests several alumnae members who returned for Founders Day.

NDIVIDUAL DIFFERENCES

Continued from page three

ment at N. C. C. W.

Miss Blanche Overbey married John Westbrook, a well-known musician. They are living in Atlanta where they are making victrola records and giving radio concerts.

Misses Lucy Haile Overbey and Kitty Kemp are prominent in dramatic circles at Teachers College, New York, and the University of Virginia.

Miss Mary Jackson has put on the market, "Home-made Mary Relish," which has a delightful flavor.

Mrs. Southall Farrar (Kate Vaughan) won a prize in the Richmond News Leader recipe contest, selecting stuffed turnips as her specialty.

Miss Julia Mahoad has written stories for children.

Mrs. Durham (Elizabeth Malcolm) is a columnist, under the name of Vivian Shirley, for the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

SCHEMMEL

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony

Aesthetics, Etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

CANADA DRUG CO.

Next to Baldwin's Store

Come to us for your cosmetics and STATIONERY

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

NEW COSTUME JEWELRY

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

Quality—Price—Service

Come in and get acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?

Go Across the Street

GILLIAM'S

FOR EATS

OF ALL KINDS

SPRING SHOWING OF

HATS

THE HAT SHOPPE

Mrs. H. H. Hunt

THIRD STREET

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE

Next to the Theatre

Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies

MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Fairmer Gift Shop

Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery Engraving

COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh films)

Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)

COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S

is headquarters for the best SANDWICHES AND DRINKS in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

Work done while you wait with First Class Materials

110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS

Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop

323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus

G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP

Will fix your shoes

WHILE YOU WAIT

Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS

TAILORING CLEANING

PRESSING

Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

SPRING OPENING SPECIALS

The new three piece knitted suits all colors and combination colors $9.95

Beautiful spring coats, sport and dress wear with and without lapin fur $9.95 to $27.50

Beautiful new spring shoes the newest blondes, dull kids, and patents, reds, blues, and greens, all sizes and widths, from C to AAAA's $2.85, $3.85, $4.85, $5.85 and $6.85.

Final Close Out—of all early spring and fall dresses, original values from $15 to $27.50, special $5.95

Allen A Hosiery, $1.50 values, special $1.00

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Farmville, Va.

Bridegroom: "Have you kissed the bride?'

Best Man (absently): "Yes, hundreds of times."

Fond Father: "The man who marries my daughter, sir, wins a prize."

S. Baker: 'My word, that is a novel idea! Is it a money prize or just a silver cup?"

The modern girl may appreciate thrift in a husband, but not a fiancee.

And then there is the absent-minded professor who let the students ask the examination questions while he answered them himself.

She's a duplex girl.
Yeah
Two-timer.

Is your daughter's education at college of any real value?"

"Yes, indeed. It has entirely cured her mother of bragging about her."

"I once ran a mile to keep two fellows from fighting."

"Did you succeed in preventing the fight?"

"Oh, yes. He couldn't catch me."

REWARD

You kissed and told,
But that's all right—
The man you told
Called up last night.

—Pomona Sagehen

Etta: "I feel like a nice, cool malted milk. How about you?"

Adele: "I dunno. What's a malted milk feel like?"

"I've got a Sherlock Holmth tooth," lisped Lily.

"What sort of tooth is that?"

"'Slooth."

Colorado Dodo

"Helen hung her stockings up on Christmas Eve."

"What did she get?"

" A notice from the health department."

Our idea of a man truly going down in defeat is one with falling arches.—Cajoler.

FOR BOYS ONLY (read backwards)

Didn't you if girl a be wouldn't you. It read would you knew we.—Grapurchat.

ALUMNAE RECOGNIZED BY THEIR PUBLICATIONS

Continued from page one

In 1893 Clare E. Vickroy published "Outlines in Ancient History" which is usable yet. In 1928-29, Miss Julia B. Mahood had an interesting Hallowe'en page for children in the Womans Home Companion. Miss Elizabeth Bugg had an interesting geography project published last spring.

Acknowledgement should be made here of the girls of forty years ago who started the school publications. Miss Martha Kennerly sent in recently for the school publication filed copies of "The Greetings" for 1891-92, and "The Normal Record" 1897. Reviews of these are most interesting in giving lights in the history and customs of S. T. C. forty years ago. Also in tracing the history from these early quarterly publications through the Forum and the Virginian to the Rotunda and The Voice, the newest literary production.

Doubtless there are many other interesting publications but copies are not at hand. The alumnae office would appreciate copies or notices sent in for the office files.

BASKETBALL VARSITY HAS FINE BANQUET

Tuesday night the varsity basketball squad had their annual banquet in the banquet room of the tea room. The banquet concluded the basketball season for this year. The team played two games and were victorious in both, which makes a very good score for the season.

The tables were placed in the position of an "A" representing athletics. The decorations were in blue and white; tall blue candles and beautiful white roses.

The program and dinner were enjoyed by everyone very much. Those present were: Miss Mary White Cox, Dr. J. L. Jarman, Miss Olive T. Iler, Etta Marshall, our cheer leader; Laura M. Smith, our president; Mary Frances Hatchett, our captain; Easter Souders, our manager; Sue Cross, Ethel Boswell, Frances Edwards, Lucille Crute, Elizabeth Hunter, Virginia Gurley, Laura N. Smith, Hildagarde Ross, Edith Coleman, Mary Gregory, Cleo Quisenberry, Dorothy Snedegar, Mary West Terry, and Allie Oliver.

CLEO QUISENBERRY TO HEAD ARCHERY

Cleo Quisenberry has been chosen to head archery for this season. Archery is a comparatively new sport at S. T. C. and one in which there is a growing amount of interest. It's great fun trying to hit the bull's eye! Practices will start as soon as exams are over.

Cleo is interested in every phase of athletics we have, and takes an active part in them all. She is a good sport, and a willing worker, and we are sure that the archery season will be one of unusual success.

RECIPE FOR MAKING A MONOGRAM

Take a barrell of the best kind of determination on the market and season well with a peck of perseverance. Combine in the right proportions with a bushel of hard work. To give it a spicy taste put in the companionship of fifty greenhorns which are slowly ripening and add sportsmanship at all times to keep from souring. Don't be discouraged if it seems too hot or too cold; if you work at it continually it will turn out perfectly and you will have a well-earned monogram.—Copied from The Rotunda, Nov 19, 1926.

Monogram practice is being held at 4 o'clock on Wednesdays and at 5 on Fridays. Bring along all the ingredients for a monogram on those days and win one!

DR. ALDERMAN SPEAKS ON THE INTEGRITY OF YOUTH

(Continue From Page One)

it must be won by you." The girl of today is concerned with the fundamentals of life and has already won her freedom from the position of slave and idol. She is claiming her own and is thereby finding happiness. It is the desire of the intelligent youth of today to be considered educated. According to Dr. Alderman, the following traits mark an educated man or woman of the present time:

1. Ability to behave—"A good-mannered youth is the most charming thing in the world."
2. Ability to use language—"Language is the medium of the thought of the world."
3. Openmindedness to ideas—"An educated man loves the truth and seeks for it."
4. Ability to use books—"Associate with great men through books."
5. Appreciation of nature—"Nature glorifies life."
6. Scholarship—"Back of the forces of the world is the scholar."
7. Service—"Forget yourself in something bigger."

Dr. Alderman closed his address with the fitting passage:

'So nigh is grandeur to our dust,
So near is God to man.
When duty whispers low 'thou must,'
The youth replies, 'I can.'"

—Emerson.

MARRIAGES

Continued from page three

Margaret Jordan—Mrs. J. C. Causey, Suffolk, Va.

Virginia Jordan—Mrs. V. J. Kreinbaum, Emporia, Va.

Margaret Kite—Mrs. Charles Sims, Charlottesville, Va.

Myrtle Kayton—Mrs. E. G. Skeens, Narrows, Va.

Nell Kent—Mrs. R. M. Younger, Lynchburg, Va.

Bessie Rose Knight—Mrs. C. R. Jones, Wakefield, Va.

Julia Lyle, Mrs. J. S. Marshall, Madisonville, Va.

Annie Lambert—Mrs. J. T. Fudge, Covington, Va.

Ruth Love—Mrs. G. W. Palmer, Green Bay, Va.

Judson Lifsey—Mrs. G. H. Parker, Emporia, Va.

Kitty Morgan—Mrs. F. R. Hogg, Hagerstown, Md.

Rose McClung—Mrs. Meredith Leitch

Annie Griswold McIntosh—Mrs. B. V. Boxley, Jr., Louisa, Va.

Mollie Moore—Mrs. J. C. Bondurant, Farmville, Va.

Marie Orgain—Mrs. G. T. Baskerville, Petersburg, Va.

Mary Mount—Mrs. R. V. Mitchell, Whitmell, Va.

Margaret K. Moore, Mrs. M. L. Nash, Hardy Avenue, Berkeley, Norfolk, Va.

Kathleen Myers—Mrs. John Glasgow, Fincastle, Va.

Kathryn Patterson—Mrs. L. F. Kinney, Rural Retreat, Va.

Janie M. Potter—Mrs J. C. Hanes, Lexington, Va.

Mildred Ragsdale—Mrs. D. A. Jackson, Richmond, Va.

Caroline Payne—Mrs. L. J. Jefferson.

Nellie Ripberger—Mrs. N. C. Coiner, 166 Florence Avenue, Waynesboro, Va.

Margaret Rodeffer—Mrs. J. H. Westlake.

Thelma Rhodes—Mrs. J. W. Garrett.

Mattie Rogers Smith—Mrs. W. J. Sydnor, Farmville, Va.

Claire Elizabeth Smith—Mrs. H. B. Jarrett, Hemphill, W .Va.

Ellen H. Smith—Mrs. W. L. Mason, Bloxom, Va.

Rachel Dent Shepherd—Mrs. W. O. Payne, Clarksburg, W. Va.

Katherine Stallard—Mrs. L. A. Washington, Jr., 1156 Jefferson Street, Paducah, Ky.

McLain Thomas—Mrs. J. A. Dillard, Post Oak, Va.

Laura Thomas—Mrs. T. A. Crichton, Lawrenceville, Va.

Agnes Teel—Mrs. G. F. Dunn, Halifax, Va.

Thurzetta Thomas—Mrs. J. T. Ross 1991 Madison Street, Chester, Pa.

Clara Marion Thompson—Mrs. A. R. Caulk, St. Nicholas, Md.

Pauline E. Timberlake—Mrs. S. F. Wiley.

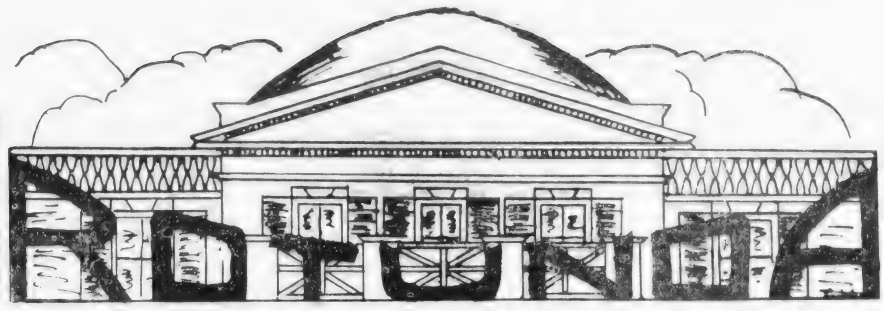
IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S
DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery
AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Farmville - - - - Va.

McIntosh's Drug Store
New State Teachers College
STATIONERY
Farmville - - - - Va.

CLEANSING CREAM
COTY

In Jars . . . $1.00
Tubes 50c
½ lb. Jars $2.50
GUARD the young loveliness of your skin now—cleanse it thoroughly, perfectly, morning and nightly with Coty Cleansing Cream.
COTY
714 Fifth Avenue, New York
PLACE VENDOME — PARIS



FEATURE THIS WEEK
COLLEGE THEME TABLETS
3 For 25c
SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES
MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

SMART NEW FOOTWEAR
BALDWIN'S
$5 TO $7.50

VIVACIOUS Footwear steps out with spring—gay, colorful and decidedly new. Here you will find the new pastel shades in kidskin and calf—all attuned to the happiest moods of the new season.

NEW SILK DRESSES
$7.95
new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.
—in the Basement—
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

ARE YOU THINKING ABOUT ELECTIONS?

SUPPORT YOUR TEAM MAR. 31 AND APRI. 1

Volume X THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 26, 1930 No. 24

MR. BOWMAN OF S. T. C. EDUCATION DEPARTMENT IS NOW DR. BOWMAN

His Is Completing His Seventh Year of Instruction at S. T. C.

BORN AT DAYTON, VA.

On March 18, Mr. Bowman of our Education Department became Dr. Bowman, the degree being conferred at Chicago University.

Leaving here March 4, Mr. Bowman went to Chicago, took the necessary examinations on March 7, and spent the subsequent time until the day on which the degree was granted in visiting various school systems functioning in and around Chicago.

"Prof. Bowman was born at Dayton, Va., and received his education at Bridgewater College and at the University of Chicago. He is completing his seventh year as a member of the faculty of S. T. C."

TWO DANCES TO BE HELD AT S. T. C. THIS WEEK-END

The Pan-Hellenic dance Friday, March 28, will be sponsored by the Pan-Hellenic Association of Hampden-Sydney. Many-out-of-town guests are expected to attend.

On Saturday, March 29, the Cotillion Club of S. T. C. will sponsor a dance at which there are expected to be alumnae of the college as well as a number of guests.

Th Virginia Cavaliers will furnish music for both the Pan-Hellenic and Cotillion Club dances.

Volley Ball Season Is Nearing Close

Interclass Games Will be Played March 31 and April 1st

The volley ball season is nearing its close. Class squads have been chosen and they are getting down to concentrated practice in preparation for the interclass games. These games will be played on the nights of March 31 and April 1, starting at 7 o'clock.

The freshmen play against the sophomores, while the juniors oppose the seniors. These games should be interesting as well as exciting, as all classes have been working hard.

When your class team comes out on the floor Monday night be there to root for the players. They need your support in defeating their opponents. Be on hand to help them win. The colors victorious in these games gain ten points towards the color cup.

Show your class spirit!

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

El- Circulo Espanol met in the Y. W. C. A. reception room Wednesday, March 19 at 6:45 o'clock. The early part of the meeting was devoted to business. A committee was appointed and a contest explained. Alice Ribble and Carrie DeShazo were elected as leaders of groups in the contests. The aim of this is to arouse and maintain interest of members in the circle work. Carrie DeShazo had charge of the program which consisted of a song by several girls, and a game, which was followed by the serving of a fruit salad and saltines.

STUDENT COUNCIL AND "Y" SPEND THE WEEK-END AT LONGWOOD

The Student Council and Y. W. C. A. Cabinet were "Miss Mary's" guests at Longwood for the week-end.

The girls being very much elated over having the honor of being the first to spend the week-end at Longwood, went out at five o'clock Saturday afternoon. Before dinner they played some childish games out on the lawn. Then they came in and "sing" was produced in a miniature form. In between the "skits" Dr. Jarman told some very interesting stories.

After a delightful dinner the guests engaged in a few hands of bridge at the end of which the scores were added and Virginia Gurley was awarded high score prize, and Rena Robertson consolation. While some danced others told stories and popped corn by an open fire which brought a glorious end to a perfect day.

When the guests retired up on the third floor some found "pie beds" and other practical jokes that were prepared by "guess who?"

The guests were awakened Sunday morning by "Miss Mary" gently tapping on the door and saying that breakfast was ready.

After breakfast the girls returned to school in time for church. Each declared she had the best time she had experienced while at S. T. C.

ROTUNDA LOSES A MEMBER OF THE STAFF

The Rotunda staff was very unfortunate to lose one of the members of its staff. Kathleen Woodson received her degree at the end of the winter quarter and has withdrawn from the school.

Kathleen was one of the most depenable members of the staff as one of the reporters. She was also a very versatile writer being able to contribute poetry as well as news and feature articles. The entire staff wishes for Kathleen a very happy and successful future.

S. T. C. TO HOLD DUAL DEBATE WITH HARRISONBURG FRIDAY

There will be a dual debate and oratorical contest with Harrisonburg at S. T. C. Friday night, March 28. Elizabeth Hunter and Mabel Barksdale will go to Harrisonburg and uphold the negative side of the question: "Resolved that nations should adopt a system of complete disarmament excepting such forces as are necessary for police protection."

Alice Harrison and Maria Warren will uphold the affirmative side of the same question in the S. T. C. auditorium Friday evening. The topic for the oratorical contest is "The women in the making of the history of the south". The home speaker for S. T. C. will be Martha Faris. Anne Johnson will speak on the same subject at Harrisonburg.

Seventeen Students Welcomed to S. T. C.

The student body is happy to welcome the following new students who entered at the beginning of the spring term, March 18:

Bailey, Ethel Virginia, Wakefield, Va.

Chilton, Viola Elizabeth, Concord Depot, Va.

Clark, Mildred Carolyn, Abington, Va.

Conway, Vivian Jeanette, Danville, Va.

Frazier, Imogene, Columbia, Va.

Harris, Janet, Madison Heights, Va.

Jones, Hildred Irene, Java, Va.

Lawless, Cloha Gertrude, Belfry, Ky.

Leonard, Dorothy, Richmond, Va.

Mayton, (Mrs.) Z. M, Farmville, Va.

Neal, Mae Susan, Clover, Va.

Padgett, (Mrs.) Roche Micheaux, Welch, W. Va.

Ralph, Virginia, Keller, Va.

Robinson, Mary V., North Garden, Va.

Smith, Sue Virginia, Petersburg, Va.

Williams, Juanita, Norfolk, Va.

STUDENT BODY DISCUSSED A VITAL QUESTION TO SCHOOL MONDAY NIGHT

Girls Are Not Satisfied With The Present Honor System

A CHANGE IS DESIRED

The much discussed question of student honor was again brought before the student body Monday night at a call meeting.

The student body is not satisfied with our present system. After an open floor discussion in which a large number of girls took part it was decided to elect a committee of representative girls from each class to meet with members of the student council to discuss the matter and if possible work out a new plan.

The following girls were elected on this committee:

Freshmen: Melisse Mullins, Martha Moore.

Sophomores: Mary Priest, Henrietta Cornwell.

Juniors: Laura Smith, French Hutt.

Seniors: Lucille Graves and Lucy Thompson.

21 STUDENTS RECEIVE DEGREE OR DIPLOMA

The following students received the Bachelor of Science degree at the close of the winter quarter:

Irving, Paula

Morriss, Ava Virginia

Morriss, Mary Louise

Mottley, Laura H.

Rossie, (Mrs.) Sethelle B.

Traylor, Evelyn Russell

Vaden, Mary Jane

Woodson, Kathleen

The following students completed the two-year course and received diplomas:

Banish, (Mrs.) Lettie Lucille
Brown, Minnie Matthews
Chambers, Elizabeth Katheryn
Cobb, Virginia Scott
Faison, Sara L.
Harrison, Mary Early
Hobbs, Flora
Johnson, Louise Ann
Perkins, Virginia Eloise
Rollins, Mary Leone
Stith, Dena Lee
Tripp, Abby Lynn
Putney, Nellie

FASHION SHOW IS A BIG SUCCESS

Guggenheimer's from Lynchburg presented a very successful fashion show here last Wednesday evening at the Eaco Theatre. Sport, afternoon and evening frocks were modeled by S. T. C. girls.

Those taking part in this show were Ruby Hunt, Elaine Goode, Alice Hardaway, Toodles Booth, Suzanne Holland, Marion Seay, Melisse Mullins, Alice Covington, Martha Sanders, Virginia Robertson, Margaret Leonard and Lillian Hogan.

TWO NEW HEADS OF SPORTS ARE CHOSEN

Two new heads of sports have been chosen. In the spring we have baseball and field and track in addition to tennis and archery. Henrietta Taylor has been chosen to head baseball, and Dorothy Snedegar will head field and track.

Henrietta and Dot have both displayed a great deal of interest in athletics. They are both freshmen and have been coming out for the various sports. We are sure they will prove very capable and will make the field and track and baseball seasons a huge success.

Dance to Follow Rotary Club Show

100 People in Cast; Local Talent From Petersburg to Perform

Students of S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney are looking forward with interest to the presentation of the Petersburg Rotary Club Show in S. T. C. auditorium Friday night, April 4, at 8:15 o'clock. There are 100 people in the cast, and the show is pronounced the best presented by local talent in Petersburg. It is being brought here under the auspices of the Farmville Lions Club for the benefit of the Southside Community Hospital.

Following the show there will be a dance in the S. T. C. recreation hall, and S. T. C. students will be privileged to attend with escorts. A special orchestra will play.

SPIRIT OF UNI. STUDENTS

"The university student of today, alive with the trends and needs of his times, is a creative factor in the life of his college. He still comes to be taught, to be imbued with the best his school has to offer, but he brings something, too. He brings the spirit of youth, of enthusiasm, of eager accomplishment, of enthusiasm, of eager accomplishment, which is as necessary to his university's existence and healthy development as the college's traditions and store of knowledge are to him.—Temple University.

FINDINGS OF COMMITTEE OF STUDENT VOLUNTEER UNION SUBMITS REPORT

* * *

The Student Volunteer Union which met at Saunton, Virginia, February 28 to March 2, 1930, submits the following report of the Findings Committee. Miss Margaret Hansel, a member of the commitee, is an alumna of this college.

1. Inasmuch as the theme of the conference is "Thy Kingdom Come," we find that Jesus' own interpretation of the conference theme involves, in the first place, personal obligation by a pledge of loyalty; subjection, obedience and complete personal surrender to God; in the second place, citizenship in the Kingdom involves the idea of human solidarity and of mutual responsibility; and in the third place, this Kingdom is eternally expansive and its consummation assured.

2. And, now facing the world situation nineteen hundred years after Christ we find that through expansion, scientific discovery and modern invention the geographical limits of the world have been narrowed; a knowledge of the races of men have been brought within the comprehension of the mind of men, and through recognized interdependence we have become sensitive to human needs the world over. At the same time we find at work in the world the Church of Christ endeavoring to alleviate the pains and sufferings of sinful men and bring into one brotherhood all peoples through personal belief and acceptance of Christ as the revelation of God to man and as the Savior of the world.

* * *

3. We find that the missionary enterprise is motivated by human and spiritual needs of the world. Through our knowedge of Christ we have become keenly sensitive to these needs. Our leaders have led us through addresses, devotionals and songs to the conviction that the only adequate means of meeting this situation is the Christian message expressed alone in Christ. The acceptance of this message involves the personal obligation and responsibility of bringing Christ to the world. On bringing Christ to the world we come face to face with our own individual responsibilities and obligations.

4. Realizing that in the Christian message lies the salvation of the world we find we should dedicate our lives to the task of spreading the gospel throughout the world that Christ's Kingdom may come. In order to do this we must make real and vital in our own lives the gospel of Christ.

* * *

5. We find also our present duty is to share this gospel on our own campuses, to win souls to Christ. Wherever we may with the help of God now, and wherever we may be sent afterwards, we feel the obligation to promote the understanding of the missionary cause, to promote an understanding of other peoples, to rouse the inertia of America to the need of missions, and to make America a more Christian land.

And we further recommend that these findings we put upon the minutes of the Conference, that a copy be sent to the president of the Student Volunteer Headquarters of Mary Baldwin College and to the Mission Board of each denomination in the state, and that the secretary send a copy to the church and college papers of the state.

Respectfully submitted,
Margaret Hansel
Hugh G. Cook
Julia Verner

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — LUCY THOMPSON, '30
Associate Editor — JESSIE SMITH, '31

Board of Editors

News Editor — LILLIAN BOVELL, '30
Literary Editor — LINDA WILKINSON, '30
Athletic Editor — MILDRED MADDREY, '31
World News Editor — GERTRUDE RICHARDSON, '30
Intercollegiate News Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — RACHEL ROYAL, '30
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — MAMIE HURT, '31
Humorous Editor — "BILLIE" PARIS, '30
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

MARIA WARREN, '32 — DOROTHY SNEDEGAR, '33
ANNIE DENIT, '31
ANN STUMP, '30

Proof Reader — SARA BAKER, '31
Assistant Proof Reader — JESSIE WATKINS, '33

Managers

Business Manager — SARA McCORKLE, '30
Assistant Business Manager — PEARL JOHNSON, '32
Circulation Manager — MARTHA ANTHONY, '30
Assistant Circulation Manager — NANNIE SUE ANTHONY, '30

Editorial

Needed—A Definition of Honor

That something is wrong somewhere is evident from the fact that there is so much discussion and perturbation over the question of honor right at present. Does the trouble lie with the system itself, with the student body as a whole, with individuals or just where does it lie?

This question was discussed pro and con at our last Student Body meeting and it seemed to be the general opinion that something definite should be done right away. A committee was elected by the student body to thrash out this problem, but they can not do it all. Each member of the student body is vitally concerned in this situation. Each one has some opinion about the question, so we urge you to talk the matter over among yourselves, and with the committee elected by you, also. Offer concrete suggestions. Study the honor systems of other colleges and see how the situation is handled in other institutions. Everyone is expected to do her share—so get busy!

The University of Virginia is known everywhere for its excellent honor system. They have only a few big things such as lying, cheating and stealing which they consider the fundamental phases of honor. Is this what we need?

Perhaps you can put your finger exactly where the trouble lies with us. It is your privilege as well as your duty to offer suggestions about this question. S. T. C. students have always met situations which have arisen before, and we know we can depend upon you in this most vital question.

College and Phi Beta Kappa

I imagine that a number of us have often wondered just how much good one gets from putting his or her best in school work. Just what good is Phi Beta Kappa to one anyway except the honor of its membership? But after some considerations one realizes that after such a statement that follows a Phi Beta Kappa key means more than an ornament: "Forty per cent of our Supreme Court Justices and Secretaries of State for the last hundred and twenty-five years have been not only college men, but members of Phi Beta Kappa Society, which is made up of the highest scholarship students in our colleges and universities."

And again one asks herself what good a "four year course" will be to her when she can teach after a "two-year course." But then the Bureau of Education at Washington has proved by actual figures that each additional year in school has a definite cash value. If this is true, it would seem a short-sighted policy for many to leave school at the end of two years when she could go four.

There are several reasons why people go to college, and among these are: "The fact remains that the college graduate is now in demand in business". Of course she hopes—or her parents hope for her—that she may acquire that indefinite something called culture. She likes, too, the idea of spending four pleasant years with other girls and boys of her age. But the real reason why Mary's parents dig down in the ginger jar, is that they feel that she will got on better in the world if she has a college education."

Then in the end it does seem that college is worthwhile and it is worth while to make the most of it because Phi Beta Kappa's only asset isn't the key!

OVER THE TEACUPS

OVER THE TEACUPS

Hey! in there! You all! Can't I come over? "Guess" he's sign? It says, "Exceptions: Morons, imbeciles and inebriates" so I guess that lets me in!

Well, I was just telling my roommate today how much I liked your room.

Have you heard about the week-end at Longwood? Everybody was just dotty over it! They say Etta and some other high in authority actually frolicked like kittens on the lawn. Wasn't it sweet of Miss Mary and Miss Gleeves? They surely know how to throw parties. They tell me the house fairly rocked with merriment what with playing spit, bridge, and dancing. Longwood was simply made for good times anyway. And then at about 11 Saturday night, they served ice cream and those delicious Longwood buns! What? You've never eaten one! That's all I ask honey—just eat one!

They all went to sleep in the wee hours—and awoke to chicken hash and waffles—Oh! Why was I born with a pale personality?

Did you hear the plans the Hampden-Sydney boys are getting up for a May Day out there—yeah! Elliott Boswell—better known as "Bossy"—for king. They really should have some darling lords and ladies, and jesters—no end! I think our plan for queen and theirs for king go hand-in-hand, don't you? Goodness—nine o'clock! I never get away on time when you all get started talking.

G'night!

"LONG DREAMS"

Don't you think that the streets will be generally cleaner now that they're wearing these long dresses? Why, next year we won't even need to have "Clean Up Week",—such an advantage. And yet, what if the dresses do get much longer, we can't all afford to hire pages.

Well, of course, you'll have to pray that you'll speedily grow taller and thinner, too if you measure only about five feet! There's not much hope for the small girl in these trailing fashions of today. And if you're inclined to be "dumpy"—no words can express our sympathy to you! Maybe it would be best to hide yourself for a while. Oh, why can't we all be the tall and sylph-like, anyway?

Remember those days of tight skirts and short dresses? How long ago it seems! If you wore a dress an inch below your knees you were a doomed old maid and no "maybe's" about it. Why, you could almost make yourself an evening gown out of the three-cornered scarf you wear inside your coat now. Everybody was economical then and dressed themselves from the remnant counter.

Not so now! Better buy more than twice your length in goods or your new dress will fail the fashions. Of course you are trying to look the height of sophistication and acquire a sylph-like grace—we know all about it. Well, some of you are succeeding and some are—shall we say it—some are failing. Woe be to them! At all events, we wish everyone the best of luck; do your best!

MY CHOICE

O tell me not that fondness grows
With absence of the dear one!
I'd rather have love less intense
And have it from a "near" one.

'Tis sweet to feel when Love's away
He's growing ever fonder—
But I prefer one kiss right here
To a life's love 'way off yonder!

Jennie Masters Tabb

TRISTRAM

Edwin Arlington Robinson

The place occupied by Edwin Arlington Robinson in American poetry is too well known to require amplification, and sufficiently secure to admit of cavil. Perhaps not a strong voice—certainly never a blustering voice—Mr. Robinson has won his way upward over a series of years by the quietly thoughtful value of his utterance and the studied finish of his verse.

"Tristram" is a love poem; Edwin Arlington Robinson preeminently a [illegible]—it seems utterly impossible to conceive the combination. However the combination was delightful, for in 1928 it was chosen for the Pulitzer Poetry Prize.

"Tristram" is the simple story of the love of a man for a maid. The scenes are laid in old England when knights and warriors were loved and acclaimed by all, and although Mr. Robinson has modernized the version in more than one important point, yet he has caught and passed on all the exaltation and ecstasy of the medieval story. Tristram, the humble servant of King Mark, his uncle, completes an errand for the king in which he woos and wins to be the king's bride, Islot of Ireland. In winning her, the two fall in love—and a love story is woven which ends in tragedy. The themes of "Tristram" and Edna St. Vincent Millay's "The King's Henchman" are similar.

I would like to think that after you have read the following quotations from "Tristram", you would like to read the poem yourself—

"Who knows there may not be a lovely place
In Heaven for souls that are ashamed and sorry
For fearing Hell?"

"Time is a casket
Wherein our days are covered certainties
That we life out of it, one after one
For what the day may tell."

"If you had held me close—like this—
If you had kissed me then—like this—I wonder
If there would have been kings and crowns enough
In Cornwall or in England or elsewhere
To make the crowns of all kings everywhere
Shine with a light that would have let me see.
No king but you—and no crown but our love."

—"For you are one
Of the time sifted few that leave the world
When they are gone—not the same place it was."

—"Years are not life;
Years are the shells of life, and empty shells
When they hold only days, and days, and days."

—"But never mind what they say
Of shadows coming. They are always coming—
Coming and going like all things but one.
Love is the only thing that in its being
Is what it seems to be."

—"Having had all
That one life holds of joy, and in one summer,
Why should I be miser crying to God
For more?"

"If love be blind, mine has been so for watching
Too long across an empty world for you."

OPPORTUNITY

Life, like a bunch of grapes, luscious and sweet,
Hung at her window day by day,
But when her corsage bade her pull and eat
The grapes had dried and blown away.

May Brinkley

PICTURES OF NATURE

The whispering of the wind through the trees,
Then a moment of quivering, breathless stillness;
The colorful afterglow of a summer sunset
After the departed heat of a long summer day;

All unaware, rare changes softly creep over Nature,
Giving her a quiet and dreamy appearance—
The dark blue of the star-sprinkled sky above,
The gray dimness of objects below;

Cool, green-bordered paths steal their way between giant trees,
Frail little vines dip and rise in the ripples of silent pools, breeze,
Wild flowers gently nod in the
Quiet and pervades the forest-land:
All are pictures of Nature-works of God.

K. H., '32

FANCIES

Today I saw a little spangle
In a store window.
It caught my fancy and my
Desire was aroused for it;
Each day new things like z z
This present themselves
Teasing one's fancy into Unrest. And yet—in not
So long a time I tire of all
These toys that I
Collect from day to day,
And restrospection claims
Men. Fancies come and Go with night and
Day but
Memory lingers forever.

M. von S., '32

TO A FLOWER

Dainty little flower: I hold you
In these crusted hands of mine,
I wonder not your beauty,
For your Maker was Divine.
And there somehow is a feeling,
That He put you here for me,
For he knew I'd love and keep you
Through all eternity.

D. S., '33

DISAPPOINTMENT

I thought there was deepness
In the soul that seemed
Almost beyond my shallow intellect
Into which
I always strove to look.
One day through your two
Azure windows,
Transparent and bright,
I saw the depths, the bottom
Of what I call your barren self
There was nothingness
Behind your smiling eyes.

C. Q., '32

COME WITH ME TO THE HEIGHTS

Come with me to the heights
And I will show you all there is of Life and Beauty.
You will be thrilled with joy divine
You will be moved to run,—pump—
Yes, and even to fly!
You will be filled to the brim
With living and loving.
Your soul will be near to bursting,
Even as mine is.
For 'tis good to live,
But 'tis better to live and love.

E. S., '32

SOCIALS

Misses Hazel Burgwin, Betty Somerville, Margaret Massey, Mary Ollie Bowen, Mary Todd, Dorothy Leonard, Elizabeth Carter and Hannah Early spent the week-end in Richmond.

Misses Clara Norfleet, Anne Marie Black spent week-end in Charlottesville as the guests of Miss Dorothy Gaven.

Misses Lucille Norman, Elizabeth Smitherman, Sara McCorkle, Edith Britt and Mildred Owen spent the week-end at their home in Winston-Salem, N. C.

Miss Mary Brightwell spent the week-end in Hampton as a guest of Miss Nan Griffith.

Miss Mayo Beaty spent the week-end with Miss Margaret Loving in Roanoke.

Miss Dorothy Ritchie spent the week-end with her parents in Petersburg.

Misses Laura N. Smith, Harriet Branch, Elsie Burgess, Margaret Priest, and Mary Priest spent the week-end in Norfolk.

Miss Frances Barrel spent the week-end in Buckingham, Va.

Misses Mary Clara Booth, Dorothy Blankenship, Dorothy Biggs, Ella Clore, Ruth Ford, Virginia Ford, Frances Fox, Elizabeth Levick, and Loulie Milner spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Miss Janice Harper and Miss Ernestine Myers spent the week-end at their homes in Roanoke.

Miss Louise Whitlock spent the week-end with her parents in Milton, N. C.

Misses Lucy Thompson, Mary Will Vincent, Margaret Vincent, Madeline Lee, Elizabeth Jordan, Nancy Boykins and Martha Baker, spent the week-end in Emporia.

Miss Gertrude Jarman was the week-end guest of Miss Margaret Fuller.

Miss Virginia Bledsoe, Miss Virginia Cox, were the week-end guests of Miss Katherine Johnson in Roanoke.

Miss Nannie Belle Clenendin spent the week-end in Greensboro, N. C.

Miss Nancy DeBerry spent the week-end in Portsmouth.

Miss Gwendolin Daniel spent the week-end in Blacstone.

Miss Lucy Fitzgerald was the guest of her parents in Crewe for the week-end.

Miss Margaret Farris spent the week-end in Red Hill, Va.

Miss Anne Guy spent the week-end in Hampton, Va.

Miss Lucy Dortch spent the week-end with her parents in South Hill.

That Ideal Woman

Boston university boys have varied notions when it comes to selecting their ideal woman. Some want a social drinker, others a girl with brains and beauty. "Passionate or spontaneous, but never both," were the words used by one student when asked about his ideal mate. "She should be slender, infatuating, warm, affectionate and slightly moral," said another. Other specifications were: religious, consecration, sincerity, sophistication, marked excellence in cooking, and that "she should think more of her personality than her paint."— The Hornet.

Maid of Honor for May Festival

Recently Miss Edith Buchanan was chosen maid of honor to attend the Queen in the May Festival. This mars the introduction to Meredith of a custom that has been common in other schools. The May Queen is granted the privilege of choosing her own attendant, and Miss Glennie Paul, the Queen has chosen Miss Buchanan, who is to be the first maid of honor in a Meredith May court.

TENNIS SEASON IS NEAR

Tennis weather is here again! Tennis fans will soon be taking up their rackets and going out to practice up. They may well do so, because before long the tournament will be in full sway. Let's see how much progress can be made in the tournament this spring! Tennis balls will be on sale in the gym.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

"LITTLE LAURA"

In looking around among our caps and gowns and noting those people who have been outstanding—who have meant something to our Alma Mater, we can't fail to realize that "Little Laura" is just such a one.

She has been particularly prominent in athletic work, and this year holds the highest position offered by that phase of activity—President of the Athletic Association. In this capacity she has also served efficiently on the Student Council.

Laura has been an invaluable member of Alpha Kappa Gamma, Kappa Delta Pi and other student organizations, and through them has served the whole student body. Her entire life at Farmville has, indeed been one of doing what she could for others. Combined with this seriousness is a wit that makes her the best of company.

A fine citizen—a true friend—Laura is bound to succeed.

LUCILE NORMAN

When you look over the list of things to be said about outstanding people, you find that Lucile posseses all the usual ones and many others. She is, above all else, dependable and sincere.

She is an active member of Kappa Delta Pi, Alpha Kappa Gamma, Pi Gamma Mu, and other student organizations, and her quiet charm has touched all those with whom she has come in contact.

Her three years service on the Virginian staff is indeed worth mentioning. The first as literary editor, the second as business manager and this year as editor-in-chief—a climax to an active literary career.

Lucile has a host of friends and every one of them wishes her the greatest success in the future.

In memory of William Howard Taft though he never flew, Cincinnatians last week resolved to raise $20,000 by popular subscription and erect a beacon to guide airmen into Lunken Airport.

ALUMNAE NEWS

A recent issue of The Richmond Times Dispatch showed an unusually good picture of Miss Claudia Anderson, Farmville, whose engagement to Edward Frank Liebrecht of Washington and Portsmouth has been announced.

On March 17 the elementary and junior high school teachers association of Richmond entertained the teachers of the city schools and members of the school board. Misses Pattie Garrett and Alice Hargrove were on the program of music.

Mrs. Annie Ballon died this month after a brief illness. Her home was in Richmond.

The Virginia Club Woman for March-April contains this poem by Miss May Brinkley of Suffolk.

Drift-wood

We saw him gather drift-wod on the beach,
Wet cast off fragments of proud-crested trees,
Beyond the wave's sharp fingers he would reach
For bits of sticks, thick rotted boards and these
He piled together till a soggy mound
Rose high against the pure sky in disdain,
Then searching diligently on the ground
He looked about for kindling wood—in vain.

He who had gathered drift-wood thru the years,
Could not expect dry faggots for his fire.
Life's cast off flotsam, soggy wet with fears,
Is meagre fuel for purpose or desire;
And he who gathered drift-wood as an art
Has little room for kindling in his heart.

SCHEMMEL

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony

Aesthetics, Etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

NEW

COSTUME JEWELRY

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

Quality—Price—Service

Come in and get acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?

Go Across the Street

GILLIAM'S

FOR EATS

OF ALL KINDS

SPRING SHOWING OF

HATS

THE HAT SHOPPE

Mrs. H. H. Hunt

THIRD STREET

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE

Next to the Theatre

Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies

MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Fairmer Gift Shop

Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery

Engraving

COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh films)

Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)

COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S

is headquarters for the best

SANDWICHES AND DRINKS

in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

Work done while you wait with

First Class Materials

110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS

Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop

323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus

G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP

Will fix your shoes

WHILE YOU WAIT

Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS

TAILORING CLEANING

PRESSING

Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

SPRING OPENING SPECIALS

The new three piece knitted suits all colors and combination colors $9.95

Beautiful spring coats, sport and dress wear with and without lapin fur $9.95 to $27.50

Beautiful new spring shoes the newest blondes, dull kids, and patents, reds, blues, and greens, all sizes and widths, from C to AAAA's $2.85, $3.85, $4.85, $5.85 and $6.85.

Final Close Out—of all early spring and fall dresses, original values from $15 to $27.50, special $5.95

Allen A Hosiery, $1.50 values, special $1.00

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Farmville, Va.

Professor: "What did you find out about the salivary glands?"
Clara Norfleet: "Nothing at all, Professor. They're so darn secretive."

Trusty: "I'll do anything I can, Warden."
Warden: "Well, just don't put yourself out."

Virginia Gurley: "I've changed my mind."
Hatchett: "Well, does it work any better."

Mootch Dorsch: "Doc, why don't you study surgery? I've always planned to marry a great surgeon."
Doc Hoy: "Not for me. Too much inside work."

Lucille G: "Where do you think I'd be if I had a million dollars, Joe?"
Joe P.: "On my honeymoon."

Medora Ford: "Why is the National Biscuit Company financing an African expedition?"
Toodles B.: "They want to get some new designs for their animal crackers."

Martha Faris: "Well, Dad, Teel won the blue ribbon at the beauty show."
Daddy: "Good, now she'll have something to wear."

Allie Kae: "Where are you working now?"
Emmy Lou: "A & P."
Allie Kae: "Oh, you're one of the chain gang."

Take a Scotchman's tip: Stay at school over the week-end and let your mind do the wandering.

Etta (in Coffee Shop): "I thought you were told not to park here. Why do you do it?"
Margaret Leonard: "Because of my belief."
Etta: "Nonsense. Whatdoya mean?"
Leonard: "I believed that you would never come in here.'

Inspector: "I thought you said your room was spotless."
Liba Davis: "Yes, ma'am. Not a clean spot in it."

Dolly: "Has Snooty traveled much?"
Mayo: "Has she? She's been to half the places on her suitcase labels."

Covington: "Sure got hair on his chest, hasn't he?"
Doris W.: "Who."
Covington: "Rin-Tin-Tin."

Dot Anderson (going through prison): "And why Warden, are they all eating yeast caes?"
Warden: "That's how we keep them from breaking out, my dear."

"You Noah?"
"Yes, and she's always been a Jonah to me?"

The woman's debating team of some college, it was announced the night before the debate, had changed its mind and instead of taking the affirmative as scheduled decided to take then negative."—News item. Our Women's Privilege."

WORLD NEWS

Last week those of Rome's lower classes who were able to read perused with awe an announcement made by Dr. A. Lugi Espinosa, whom U. S. correspondents described as a "financial expert". After several months of careful figuring, Dr. Espinosa published his estimate of the private wealth in Italy—$25,000,000,000. Of this amount, he computed that $8,000,000,000 was in the form of land. $1,250,000,000 in foreign bonds.

A slot doorbell—that was what frugal Dutch "huisfronwer" were having carpenters install last week beside their furiously polished brass doorknobs.

The slot-doorbell, introduced into the Netherlands but a short time ago, has swiftly become a best seller. Instead of ringing the house bell one drops a Dutch cent into the slot, and when the intelligent mechanism has verified that the object dropped in a cent it goes "Bong!"

When the prim Dutch maid opens the door and sees that a friend of the family is calling she returns the cent to the welcome guest. But if she finds on the doorstep a peddler, huckster, bill collector or offensive person of any sort she merely slams the portal and the cent is velvet.

A dispatch from Amsterdam described the Minister of Public Works as "enthusiastic" about the slot doorbell, quoted His Excellency as determined to provide postmen with token coins which will enable them to play cheaply the game of making doors go "Bong!"

Last spring Skipper Wheeler of the river packet Casca made a strange etching on the frozen surface of Lake La Berge, Yukon. With an old broom and buckets of refuse oil mixed with lampblack he drew a line 40 feet wide across a 29 mile stretch of the lake's surface.

In a physics book Skipper Wheeler had read that black absorbes sun rays, holds heat. His black strip, he reasoned, would hold the small heat of the feeble spring sunshine, melt the ice earlier.

In one month his 29 mile black ribbon cut down into the ice one foot. It continued to melt the ice away and the Casca sailed out some 30 days earlier than usual through a nicely defined channel.

At White Horse, last week,100 barrels of old crank-case oil and 1000 pounds of lampblack were unloaded for Capt. Wheeler. This year he has a tractor and a pressure spray to paint with.

Rudy Vallee says "I could have led, as many other saxaphone leaders do, with much hopping around, moving of the saxophone and bodily shimmies, but at the risk of failing completely, I continued to play in an attitude of simple dignity. . . ."

"I personally fail to see why I should receive many, if any proposals at all. But there is no accounting for taste, and I suppose that I might seriously appeal to some as a husband."

"I receive more letters from mothers and young or middle-aged women than I do from flappers."

"While a brunette does quicken my heart more than a blonde, yet I have cared deeply for several blondes and still enjoy their company greatly."

"Beautiful music with a love story or a love picture brings on emptiness, a yearning, and an ache into my heart . . . . still I am happy. Fate was very kind to me, and it would be absolutely ungrateful to be anything but thankful for what I have and am."

New Zealand journalists foregathered at Dunedin to honor Russell Owen, returning Byrd expedition newspaperman. They gave him a paperweight made of New Zealand greenstone, surmounted by a silver model of the Wiwi (New Zealand bird with rudimentary wings useless for flying), toasted him "the only newspaperman in the world who had covered assignments in both Polar regions."

ATHLETIC SCHEDULE

The athletic schedule has been changed since last. It is now posted as follows:

Monday—4, junior, sophomore, volley ball; 5, archery.

Tuesday—4, junior, sophomore, volley ball; 5 archery.

Wednesday, senior, sophomore, volley ball; 5 archery.

Thursday—4, junior, freshman, volley ball; 5 archery.

Friday—4, extra, volleyball; 5 archery, monogram.

AT THE EACO THEATRE WEEK MARCH 31-APR. 5

MON. & TUES—Harold Lloyd in his first talking picture, "WELCOME DANGER". Supported by charming Barbara Kent and an all-star cast. Here's the fastest, snappiest, laughiest fun-fest ever. You hear as well as see the laughs in this fast-stepping laugh-thrill-love picture. Everything's in it—fast action; breath-taking thrill's and heart-warming romance. As an amateur detective in Chinatown, he gives you thrills by the minute punctuated with convulsed laughter. This picture was eighteen months in the making and from the success it has met with elsewhere you'll love it every minute of it. Also Pathe News.

WED. ONLY—Vilma Banky, the most gorgeous creature on the screen in "A LADY TO LOVE", supported by Robert Ames and Edward G. Robinson in an all-talking story of a mail-order bride. Imagine this situation. A girl courted by correspondence, goes out to meet her future husband, and finds herself tricked—and thrown by fate into another's arms. The most appealing and lovable picture that has come to the screen in a long time—and blended with comedy that will make you smile through your tears. Also two-reel talking comedy.

THURS. ONLY—"UNDERTOW", with Mary Nolan, the former Imogene Wilson in an all-talking production, supported by Johnny Mack Brown. Cooped up in a light house with her sightless young husband and small child, she craves the life of the city. Then came the other man with kisses that swirled her off her feet. Did she go? See this amazing, gripping drama of the emotional storm that swept three people to the uttermost depths of human feeling—it's real. Also Silly Symphony and Snap Shots.

FRI. & SAT.—"LORD BYRON OF BROADWAY" with Cliff Edwards, Benny Rubin and all-star cast. We are playing this picture before Richmond gets it—and its a wow. There are lavish revue numbers in beautiful natural colors and songs and dancing in this most interesting story of Broadway's night life. He was irresistible to all women except the one he loved. He made love to them with his eyes and songs—he was the greatest lover of old Broadway. He too love where he could and turned into a song. A picture you will thoroughly enjoy. Also Collegiate Comedy and Pathe Sound News.

Two shows each night—7:30 and 9:15.

Admission—Adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees. Children under 12, 15c at each show.

HOMESICK

I'm sick.
It's warm enough to sit on my front porch,
And watch the tall church steeples 'cross the way
Pierce the blue of tender spring-time skies;
To see the sun drowse on the neighboring roofs
While Spring the Winter's grasses coaxs to life
And moves the trees to somewhat softer mood.
The people walking down the street would stop
And call a greeting, gay to match the day.
Children's voices, barking dogs, a passing car,
And Spring, a living breathing thing.
It's warm enough to sit on my front porch
I wish that I were home!

F. S. W., '32

Intercollegiate News

And we put in two hours in preparation for each class—maybe— How times have changed! In 1734 the following regulations were made at Mount Holyoke: "No young lady shall be a member of the Mount Holyoke Seminary who can not kindle a fire, wash potatoes, repeat the multiplication tables, and at least two-thirds of the shorter catechism. Every member of the school walks at least a mile a day to miscellaneous reading. No young lady is expected to have any gentleman acquaintances unless they are returned misisonaries, or agents of benevolent societies."—Flat Hat.

V. C." Asks old Men for Cooperation

W. H. Hawkins, president of the freshman council has issued a request for cooperation from the old men on the campus.

He asks that all upperclassmen take notice of any act of grossness on the part of freshmen and to act accordingly.

Tuesday night was held the first meeting of the "V. C." for more than a month when charges were presented against twelve freshmn. Few charges have been turned in since Christmas and the council asks for cooperation when old men think a freshman needs correcting the violation of the rules.—Rig-tum Phi.

Another trustworthy sign of spring. The papers and college philanthropy foundations have stopped talking about the professional fooball players in colleges. That is, have stopped until next fall, when we'll have the usual sign of approaching snow and winter—The Cadet.

IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S
DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery
AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Farmville - - - - Va.

McIntosh's Drug Store
New State Teachers College
STATIONERY
Farmville - - - - Va.

CANADA DRUG CO.
Next to Baldwin's Store
Come to us for your cosmetics and
STATIONERY
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

FEATURE THIS WEEK
COLLEGE THEME TABLETS
3 For 25c
SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES
MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

SMART NEW FOOTWEAR
BALDWIN'S
$5 TO $7.50

VIVA TOUS Footwear steps out with spring—gay, colorful and decidedly new. Here you will find the new pastel shades in kidskin and calf—all attuned to the happiest moods of the new season.

NEW SILK DRESSES
$7.95
new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.
—in the Basement—
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

WHO ARE YOU GOING TO VOTE FOR?

ROTUNDA

CONGRATULATIONS RED AND WHITE

Volume X | THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 2, 1930 | No. 25

Red and White Win Volley Ball Game

Seniors Defeat Juniors In a Thrilling Contest With Score 13-12

The Red and White teams were both victorious Monday night in the interclass volley ball games, the sophomores winning over the freshmen and the seniors defeating the juniors.

The decision between the sophomores and freshmen was an easy victory from the sophomores. The Red and White team won the first two straight games by a large margin in the scores. A number of the freshmen had never played volleyball before coming to S. T. C. and the game Monday night marked the initial appearance for many of them in this sport.

The seniors won from the juniors in one of the most thrilling volley ball games ever witnessed on our court. The seniors were handicapped from the beginning by having only five members eligible for the team. Several seniors did not make the team because they did not come out for a sufficient number of practices. The juniors won the first game 26-12, and it looked pretty hopeless for the seniors. In fact the game appeared so one-sided that a number of the spectators left. In the second game the seniors came back with a bang, and won 17-15. The rooters for the juniors and seniors fairly lost their minds during the last game, and when the final whistle blew there was a dead silence until Miss Iler announced the score 13-12 in favor of the seniors! Pandemonium broke loose in earnest then! The five players on this remarkable senior team were:

Claudia Fleming

Continued on last page

Nominations for Major Offices to be Held Apr. 4

The nominations for major offices will be held April 4 and elections will take place April 8.

The upperclassmen have had experience in such an election but it is a novel thing to the freshmen.

There are six major offices to be filled: president of the student body, president of the Y. W. C. A., president of the Athletic Association, editor of The Voice, and editor of the Rotunda.

There are certain requirements which would be expected in each of these. A girl holding any of these offices would be expected to have ingenuity, poise, initiative and personality. The first three offices mentioned would require a girl with executive ability whereas the remaining three would require editorial ability and literary talent as well.

Now is the time to put on your thinking caps and select someone who will "hold high the torch" through the coming year.

SIX NEW MEMBERS BID TO PI GAMMA MU

The following students have been elected to Virginia Gamma chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honor fraternity:

Sara Dinwiddie
Susie Floyd
Janice Harper
Mildred Jones
Catherine McAllister
Linda Wilkinson

MISS ALICE COVINGTON who has been chosen Maid of Honor to attend the Queen in the May Festival. These two roles represent two of the highest honors which can be conferred by the Student Body.

FARMVILLE PRESENT AT PI KAPPA DELTA MEET

At the bi-annual convention of Pi Kappa Delta being held during this week in Wichita, Kansas, Farmville is being represented by Mary Mann Baskerville and Frances Wilson.

The feature of the convention is a debate tournament in which all the Pi Kappa Delta colleges have participating teams. The question for debate involves disarmament, and the teams are prepared to discuss either side.

Mary Mann and Frances made a tour of the Carolinas during last term and were victorious. They debated here and won, and it is the hope of the entire student body that they will again be successful and bring glory to our Alma Mater.

METHODIST STUDENT CONFERENCE HELD R. M. W. C. LAST WEEK

The Virginia Methodist Student Conference met at R. M. W. C. March 28-30. The theme of the conference was Adventuresome Living. The chairman of the meeting was Mr. Y. C. Spidel, and the speakers were Rev. Nat G. Long, Dr. J. W. Moore, Dean Russell, Dr. R. B. Eleazer and Rev. Bernard Viar.

The conference was divided into discussion groups for work. There were seven colleges represented at this meeting.

The girls from Farmville State Teachers College were carried through the country by Mr. Hubbard. The girls who went were: Ruth Hart, Laura Smith, Kathleen Hundley, Louise Clayton, Stuart Quaintance, Mary Sue Jacobs, Elizabeth Johnson, Lydia Rawlins, Eleanor Davis, Beatrice Goode. Annie Lee Bowden, Elizabeth Walthall and Hattie Gilliam.

There was a banquet given Friday night.

ZETA TAU AWARDED THE SCHOLARSHIP CUP

Zeta Tau won the scholarship cup for having the highest average during the winter quarter. This cup is presented by Pan-Hellenic to the sorority making the highest grades.

The three sororities making the highest averages during the past quarter are:

Zeta Tau	1.62
Gamma Theta	1.60
Mu Omega	1.49

TWO DEBATES WITH HARRISONBURG VICTORIOUS FOR US

One Oratorical Contest Won, and Other Lost; Season a Big Success

The S. T. C. debate teams, the affirmative composed of Maria Warren and Anne Harrison, the negative composed of Elizabeth Hunter and Mabel Barksdale and one oratorical speaker, Martha Farris were victorious last Friday evening, March 28, over their Harrisonburg opponents. Anne Johnson was defeated in Harrisonburg by Anne Troth.

The Harrisonburg debaters, who came here to uphold the negative, were Jane Campbell and Margaret Smythe while the speaker was Elizabeth Plank. The home debaters who upheld the affirmative side at Harrisonburg were Henrie Steimetz and Isabelle Duvall. Ann Troth was the victorious one of the Harrisonburg opponents.

The subject of the debates was: "Resolved, That the nations of the world should adopt a plan of complete disarmament except those necessary for police forces." The subject of the oratorical contest, was "Virginia Women as Makers of History."

Our team and speaker, who went to Harrisonburg, were chaperoned by Mrs. Laing, a member of the Home Department, and Mr. Holton, the coach of the Debate Club. They left here Friday morning, March 28 and went by Charlottesville. The debate was held that evening at 8:00 o'clock after which a reception was given for the visitors.

Probably the most talked of adventure while away, besides the victorious decision, was the swim taken before breakfast in the college swimming pool. After the dive the girls were carried to the tea room for breakfast.

They returned by way of Lexington and saw Lee's tomb, V. M. I. and Washington and Lee. They reached Farmville Saturday afternoon, March 29.

(Continued on page 2)

DEAN'S LIST GIVEN OUT FOR SPRING 1930

Nannie Sue Anthony
Martha Alice Anthony
Mary Mann Baskeville
Florence Pendleton Booten,
Lillian Frances Bovell
Mary Ollie Bowen
Mary Lucille Bowyer
Permele Byrd
Sara Dinwidide
Mary Lucille Graves
Virginia Marlin Gurley
Janice Maylan Harper
Clara Mamie Hurt
Mildred Bolling Jones
Emily Graham McGavock
Harriet Barksdale Mason
Grace Browning Moran
Lucille Norman
Antionette Allen Parker
Annie Crowder Pollard
Gertrude Pauline Richardson
Caroline Perkins Roberts
Helen Elizabeth Smith
Laura May Smith
Betty Guy Somerville
Ann Carrington Stump
Lucy Roberta Thompson
Elizabeth Dudley Thornton
Anna Lenora Tucker
Nancy Southall Watkins
Linda Elizabeth Wilkinson
Frances Anne Wilson
Mary Chase Wood
Dorothy Emma Worsham

MISS ELEANOR HOGAN, recently elected Queen of the May, has the part of Freia, the goddess of Youth and Beauty, in the annual May Day Festival at Longwood, May 3.

STUDENT BODY SELECTS MAY COURT BY BALLOT

The May Court, which was selected by the student body from a carefully chosen ballot list, consists of:

Sara Baker
Elaine Goode
Virginia Gurley
Medora Ford
Alice Hardaway
Nancy Hudgins
Elizabeth Jordan
Jenilee Knight
Margaret Leonard
Lucille Norman
Frances Parker
Mary Priest
Katherine Royster
Marion Seay
Frances Thornton
Dorothy Thompson

SOPHOMORES BECOME VOLLEY BALL CHAMPS

Last night the sopohomores gained the volley ball championship when they defeated the seniors in two exciting games. Both teams were red and white, and they showed the red and white spirit as winners and as losers.

The games were well played and exciting. The seniors, though lacking in the number of players, lacked nothing in ability and spirit. They made the sophomores fight hard for victory, which was gained by the scores of 20-14 and 21-5.

The winning of the championship by the red and whites means that they get 10 points towards the color cup. This puts the red and whites considerably in the lead, as they now have 35 points to 15 points for the Green and White.

ELIZABETH JOHNSON ON STUDENT COUNCIL

On Tuesday night of last week, Elizabeth Johnson was elected as Freshman Rpresentative on the Student Council in place of Ruth Jones from Chattanooga, Tenn., who found it necessary to return home at the end of the winter term. Elizabeth Johnson, from Portsmouth, Va., was installed on the Council at the meeting that followed her election.

May Festival Has Beautiful Theme

Centered Around German Legion "Nibelugen Ring"

The annual May Festival, which will be held May 3, from five to six o'clock in the natural amphitheatre at "Longwood" promises to be the most beautiful one ever presented by the school. Work is well underway and from the already visible results anticipation runs high for the gala affair.

The theme of May Day was written by Lucille Graves, president of the Senior class, and centers around the old German legend "Nibelungen Ring," or the stealing of the Rhinegold, the same theme around which Wagner developed his opera "Das Rhinegold."

The scene opens with a festival of the young people of Germany as they, according to custom, prepare to watch through the night before the first of May. To help pass away the time, one of the party begins the story of the stealing of the Rhinegold, and as they listen the legend is acted out.

The celebration of the gods in honor of their new palace, Walhalla, is rudely interrupted by the entrance of the builders of the palace, two powerful giants who demand, as payment for their work, Freia, the goddess of Youth and Beauty. The gods are loath to give her up and offer the giants many things, including Eternal Youth in her place, but they refuse all offers and are about to drag off Freia when Logi enters and tells of his discovery of the powerful Rhingold. The giants are interested and agree to accept the gold in ransom for Freia whenever the gods can obtain it and bring it to them. Alberich, a sly gnome, has ov-

(Continued on last page)

Pan-Hellenic And Cotillion Dances Held

During the week-end of March 28th the recreation hall, beautifully decorated in pastel shades of green and yellow, was the scene of three of the best dances ever held at S. T. C.

On Friday night Hampden-Sydney Pan-Hellenic had its annual dance in the recreation hall from nine until one o'clock. The dance was well attended by Hampden-Sydney boys, alumnus, and visitors from other schools.

Saturday afternoon, the Senior class sponsored a dansant in the recreation hall from four until six o'clock. This was enjoyed by everyone.

Saturday night the Cotillion Club had its formal spring dance from nine until twelve o'clock. The dance, which is of State reputation, was one of the largest and best ever held in the school. The figure, led by Miss Helen Robertson, leader of the Cotillion Club, and assisted by Miss Alice Covington, president of Cotillion, was beautiful and well executed.

Music for all of the dances was furnished by the Virginia Cavalier Orchestra.

OPEN CABINET MEET

There will be an open cabinet meeting next Saturday at 2 p. m. The faculty and student body are invited to attend this meeting.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — LUCY THOMPSON, '30
Associate Editor — JESSIE SMTH, '31

Board of Editors

News Editor — LILLIAN BOVELL, '30
Literary Editor — LINDA WILKINSON, '30
Athletic Editor — MILDRED MADDREY, '31
World News Editor — GERTRUDE RICHARDSON, '30
Intercollegiate News Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — RACHEL ROYAL, '30
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — MAMIE HURT, '31
Humorous Editor — "BILLIE" PARIS, '30
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

MARIA WARREN, '32 — DOROTHY SNEDEGAR, '33
ANNIE DENIT, '31
ANN STUMP, '30

Proof Reader — SARA BAKER, '31
Assistant Proof Reader — JESSIE WATKINS, '33

Managers

Business Manager — SARA McCORKLE, '30
Assistant Business Manager — PEARL JOHNSON, '32
Circulation Manager — MARTHA ANTHONY, '30
Assistant Circulation Manager — NANNIE SUE ANTHONY, '30

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

Editorial

What Is Honor?

The question of honor has been brought before the members of the student body in a number of various ways recently, and has caused quite a little discussion and thinking on the part of every one concerned.

It seems to be the general opinion, however, that one does not break her honor if she keeps her light on after ten-thirty or if she goes down town when she is not supposed to. It is true that she may be stretching her sense of honor to a certain degree, but the main question involved is that she is breaking a rule, not her honor. There are times when the breaking of one of these regulations will be justified and a student does not break her honor at all.

Yet in our handbook all of these rules are included under the term, Honor. Several members of the student body have long felt the inappropriateness of this classification and recently the entire student body has come to this conclusion and taken definite steps to remedy the situation.

It seems inevitable that State Teachers College is well on her way to develop on of the finest Honor system in the country —one which will make us all proud of our Alma Mater. The beginning we have made is one which promises extraordinary results.

Your Choice

It has been said of our state and federal government that it is neither a privilege nor a right to vote for our representatives at the head of the government, but it is a positive duty that every citizen cast a vote. So it is with our college organizations. It is the duty of every citizen of State Teachers College, Farmville, to nominate her choice and then back her.

Before nominating a girl for a major office she should be considered from every viewpoint possible. Make personal investigations as to her capability of holding a major office, and do not depend upon what others say to determine your vote. If a girl seems to you the right one for an office then nominate her and stand by your nomination.

The prestige of our school depends to a very great extent upon the girls who head our various activities. No one wishes to see our Alma Mater suffer in any way. Therefore it is your duty to nominate your choice—after assuring yourself that she is the right choice.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Hello, everybody!

How are you feeling? I've had the most strenuous day in years. Comfort your friend a little! I've had more tricks played on me than a card table.

At 8:15 today, I romped into Miss Turner's room and somebody yelled, "Look at your paper on the piano. there! You got a—dog!" I blushed becomingly and sauntered nonchalantly over. When I gazed fondly on my paper, my mouth flew open for I got D. Somebody behind me yelled, "April Fool"—Did I gnash my teeth? I hope they everyone (who laughed) have hangnails. Well, I was sufficiently exhausted before the day began.

All day my roommates have playfully discovered worms, bugs, mice—to say nothing of humps, powder, etc., on my back, legs, hair, etc.

Someone said I had a telegram—and I had—an envelope with a form on which was printed—April Fool! (How I hate the words.)

By this time I was ready to bite the dust. Really, I must be awfully simple minded, am I? But anyway—here is the climax. I found a large package slip in my box. Mamma is going to send me some food (some day!) and I flew to the window—thinking that might atone for the day.

I saw Miss Taliaferro coming with something that looked like a Baby Grand Piano. Well-pleased, I reached for it! It was—a blanket for my roommate. Miss Taliaferro didn't say April Fool, but she looked it. By next April, I declare, I'm going to plan a whole bag of tricks—or go to the infirmary. At least they're honest about bad doses they give you—

Come, spend the night with me—my roommates are out. Won't you? I'm 'fraid to stay alone in the future!

WRITING APPLICATIONS

Stacks of letters on my desk a foot high—letters which I have written, sparing no effort. Each one begins, "Dear Sir" and ends "yours truly". Not only are they alike in such unimportant details, but they are identical in substance. In each I have stated with verbosity my peculiar suitability for such-and-such a job. Wonderful how many different places I would be suited to! They differ more on the outside of the letter than otherwise. Read them: one goes to Halifax county, another to Albemarle, another to Fairfax. Well, I should certainly get a wonderful position after putting out so much energy.

Three days afterward, I find four letters in my box, written in a handwriting which I recognize to be my own. Replies from four of the superintendents to whom I had written! Of course they know what a good teacher I would make just from the way I wrote. No doubt I'll have a hard time deciding which of the positions to accept.

I open the letters one by one. The first and second say "no vacancies." The third says the same thing. What a clever way of saying: "No, we don't want you." Well, let's see what the third says. That's a little fatter letter: it can't say "no vacancies." Oh, an application blank—as a foot-note: "Please fill and return to us. If we have a suitable position we shall be glad to place you." Well, at least, that's a little encouragement. Here's thinking him for the application blank!

TWO DEBATES WON FROM HARRISONBURG S. T. C.

(Continued from Page One.)

The debate here was held in the college auditorium at 8:00 o'clock, Friday, March 28. Mr. Moss presided at this debate.

The Debate Club and its coach should be congratulated for their fine work of the year.

HONOR ROLL MARCH 1930

Anthony, Martha Alice
Anthony, Nannie Sue
Armentrout, Frances
Armistead, Frances Elizabeth
Bailey, Virginia Willis
Banish, Mrs. Littie Lucille
Baskerville, Mary Mann
Bayne, Laverna Malon
Blanton, Elizabeth Randolph
Boone, Elizabeth Rosa
Booten, Florence P.
Boswell, Lila Camilla
Bovell, Lillian Frances
Bowden, Annie Lee
Bowen, Mary Ollie
Bowyer, Lucille
Brightwell, Mary Florence
Brisbois, Vashti Theresa
Brown, Bartha Regina
Byrd, Permele Sarah
Carroll, Ella M.
Carter, Alice May
Clarke, Gladys F.
Clarke, Linda Virginia
Clayton, Annie Louise
Cobb, Virginia Winston
Coleman, Edith Hazel
Cornwell, Henrietta Elizabeth
Crawford, Lillian Frances
Cross, Sue Bailis
Davis, Annie May
Davis, Elouise B.
Davis, Mary Eleanor
DeHart, Mildred Frances
DeShazo, Carrie H.
Diehl, Catherine M.
Dinwiddie, Sarah
Dodson, Janie Elizabeth
Dutton, Virginia Elizabeth
Edwards, E. Frances
Edwards, Frances Elizabeth
Elliott, Mary Louise
Ellison, Patricia Elizabeth
Epes, Mary Buford
Evans, Enza Oneda
Faris, Margaret Teel
Feagans, Julia A.
Finch, Hazel Alice
Fleming, Claudia T.
Floyd, Ruth C.
Floyd, Susie V.
Folk, Elizabeth R.
Ford, Dorothy Helen
Ford, Ruth Allen
Forwood, Miriam Grace
Foster, Elise I.
Fultz, Virginia M.
Garlick, Alma H.
Gibb, Margaret Pauline
Godwin, Mary Lee
Godwin, Mildred F.
Goode, Beatrice A.
Graves, Mary Lucille
Gunter, Martha B.
Gurley, Virginia M.
Halloway, Hazel E.
Harper, Janice M.
Harrison, Alice St.
Hart, Ruth S.
Hatchett, Mary Frances
Hogan, Eleanor Grove
Howell, A. Winefred
Hubard, Sara K.
Hunter, Elizabeth Elnor
Hurt, Clara Mamie
Hutchins, Charlotte
Hutchinson, Adele
Ingram. Lucille
Irby, Jane G.
Irving, Paula
James, Sara Mabelle
Johnson, Annie Virginia
Jones, Catherine C.
Jones, Dorothy Kathleen
Jones, Ellen B.
Jones, Mildred B.
Kutz, Esther Florence
Lane, Lucie Anne
Lee, Madeline M.
Lewis, Mamie Estelle
Lynch, Bessie H.
Lynch, Melissa F.
McAllister, Catherine
McAllister, Clara
McCauley, Mary E.
McCorkle, Sarah
McGavock, Emily
McManus, Margie
MacKenzie, Martha
Maddrey, Janet Mildred
March, Margaret D.
Marshall, Henrietta L.
Martin, Catherine R.
Mason, Harriet B.
Massey, Gladys L.
Mears, Nannie G.
Moomaw, Sue G.
Moore, Florence Juanita
Moran, Grace B.
Murden, Eva Leigh
Neblett, Virginia M.

(Continued on last page)

TO A STAR

Slowly and quietly you
Pierced the gorgeous
Robe of dusky night;
Calmnly and serenely you
Cast your twinkling
Brilliance to the warm earth.
Why do you flaunt your
Beauty to my tired eyes
And arouse to thought—
Of forgotten yesteryear?

A. D., '31

THE BROKEN SHRINE

I built with utmost care
A creation of my love,
An ever burning shrine,
To you, the one I love—

Tho' we have drifted far
I will ever hold dear
The happy memories
Of my unbroken shrine.

K. F. S., '32

SPRING SONG IN DIALECT

De mockin' bird has start his singin';
De grasses green have start to springin'
Dum de la an' a tra la!
De co'n, oh, it is gettin' highah;
De sun is dryin' up de miah.
Dum de la an' a tra la!
De early mornin' frost is missin';
De time is almos' right fo' fishin'!
Dum de la an' a tra la!

M. F. S., '30

HIS GIFT

Wistfully, he gazed at the artist
And heartache showed in his eyes,
He tried to paint one like it
But the colors were smeary and odd.
A singer's liquid notes
Filled his breast with exquisite pain.
Why could not he give to the world
Something to help Beauty's reign?
Suddenly he saw on a hill
In the midest of waving green
A peach tree lifting its pink arms to God.
Far away a brook sang to a water-lily.
At his feet a buttercup swayed and chanted,
"Look in my heart and see
The beauty stored in there for thee."
Long he gazed into the golden flower
While the dust of his dreams took shape
From his pen words tumbled forth
And he gave to the world
A poem on Spring.

K. W., '30

SUMMER'S THE BESTEST ONE

Say, what's the best time o' the' year,
Summer, winter, spring or fall?
Now listen, an' I'll tell ye true.
Summer's th' best o' all.

Sure, an' spring's th' happy time,
An' winter's full o' fun,
An' fall is jest a dandy time,
But summer's th' bestest one.

In springtime, all the birds comes back;
Th' things begin to grow.
But then, ye gits spring fever,
An' what that does, ye know.

In fall, th' weather's' crispy,
An' gee, ye has sich fun
A-gittin' nuts an' things to use
When wintertime has come.

In winter, ye goes skatin',
An' 'a--slidin' in th' snow,
An' does th' things that's so much fun
In wintertime. But, oh,

In summer, ye goes swimmin',
An' a-climbin' trees an' things,
An' then, ye gits so close to God
Yer heart jest crys an" sings.

Ye gits right down upon yer knees,
But yer hear's a-singin' so,
Ye jest can't say a single word,
But yit, we knows He'll know.

Yes, spring's a mighty happy time,
An' winter's full o' fun,
An' fall's a fine time o' th' year,
But summer's th' bestest one.

Melissa Lynch, '33

SOCIALS

The following girls spent the week-end in Lynchburg: Beatrice Goode, Annie Lee Bowden, Kathleen Hundley, Hattie Gilliam, Anne Huddleston, Rena Robertson, Evelyn West, Mary Martin, Cornelia Major, Dorothy Biggs, Irene Meador, Gladys Meador, Enza Evans, Elizabeth Johnson, Helen Tankley, Louise Clayton, Stuart Quaintance, Elizabeth Rucks, Hazel Finch, Helen Tweedy.

The following spent the week-end in Crewe: "Billie" Paris, Mary Linney,Miriam Forwood, Regina Brown, Virginia Duncan, Marie Bentley, Margaret Addlerman, Elsie Mae Roberts.

The following were in Richmond this week-end: Emily McGavock, Carolyn Watts, Elizabeth Temple, Gertrude Richardson.

Virginia Cox spent the week-end in Baltimore as the guest of Virginia Bledsoe.

Jacque Lee and Verena Greaves spent the week-end in Lexington.

Lucile Norman has returned to school after spending sometime at home.

The following girls attended Pan-Hellenic dances with their escorts: Nannie B. Clenendin, Beverley Farrar; Nancy Shaner, Frank King; Mary E. Cato, Bryant Harper; Martha MacKenzie, Bill Sloan; Mayo Beaty Louis Miller; Ruth Hunt, R. Perdue; Marguerite Swann, Whit Whitfield; Frances Thornton, Henry Harris; Elizabeth Etheridge, George Bower; Eleanor Hogan, Elliott Boswell; Melisse Mullens, Selden Baker; Mary Priest, Robert Lawson; Mary Shelton, "Monk" Ruffner; Alice Hardaway, Frank Lasley; Alice Covington, James Ayers; Virginia Marchant, Garnett; Vernie Oden, Bruce Clark; Alma Garlick, Ray Williams; Catherine Marchant, Harold Putney; Jacque Lee, Bill Sloan; Marion Seay, John Harwood; Ruby Hunt, J. Palmer Stover; Dolly Reed, Sam McClure; Suzanne Holland, Al Potts; Elaine Goode, Kenneth Kingsland; Lucille Graves, Joe Perry; Virginia Gurley, Buster Kendig; Nan Griffith, F. Mason; Lucy Dortch, Doc Hoy; Elizabeth Carter, Ben Franklin; Edith Britt, Marcus Harris; Martha Sanders, Wilder Watts; Martha Walters, Geo. Walters; Frances Parker, George Walters; Frances Potts, Herbert Trotter; Loulie Milner, Richard Leonard; Mildred Elmore, Owen Jones; Helen Robertson, Tom Pumphrey, Lela Germany, Grant Harrison.

Fi Kappa Sigma had the following back to the spring banquet Saturday, March 29 at 6:30 in the tea room: Martha B. Bass, Mrs. "Speedy" Epes, Yancy Brooking, Anna Jones, Marion Cobb, Catherine Watts, Jane Wiley, Blanche Price and Louise McCormick.

Delta Sigma Chi had their spring banquet at Longwood, March 29 at 7:00. The following alumnae were back: Gwen Edge, Martha Hinch Virginia Wall, Frances Sale, Elizabeth Lacy, Mamie Preston, Margaret Pumphrey, Dorothy Baldwin, Polly Aderholt, Mary B. Parker, Dorothy Palmer, Katherine Roller, Virginia Cobb, Zosie Carter, Mary Carter, Mary Darden, Mrs. Douglas Barum, Mrs. William Angle, Louise Arthur, Mrs. Gordon Moss, Lillian Minor.

Henry Cleft was among the Dartmouth boys who spent the week-end at S. T. C.

SING

The excitement of the week-end was doubly interesting because of "Sing" Saturday night. Although the program was rather short it made up in quality what it lacked in quantity.

Mary Todd danced and was applaud greatly by the student body and our visitors. There's no need to mention how much we enjoyed hearing Etta sing 'cause past "sings" and experiences prove our enjoyment

Then too, we had another singer in the person of a former student's sister. Everybody knows Grace Triton—well, it was her sister 'n believe me, that young lady can sing!

The main reason for our complete enjoyment was because both students and visitors took part.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

"Penny a Pound" Dance

University of Missouri recently gave a "penny a pound" dance .Each escort was assessed a penny for each pound that his fair maiden weighed. One lucky boy was charged only eighty-five cents, but one who had a "heavy date" that night paid $1.65. Anyone who tipped the scales of 200 or over was admitted free.—Old Gold and Black.

British Coat-of-Arms, Presented To College

The British coat-of-arms, emblazoned on a plaque of wood, was presented to the college by Mrs. Barton H. Myers, of Norfolk, Va. The seal is nine feet by six and is carved out of strips of wood fastened together by iron clasps at the back.

The coat-of-arms, which hung in either the Colonial capital or the Governor's palace, was moved to Norfolk during the revolution and was protected by a society of British gentlemen, from whom Mr. Myers obtained it.

It is being stored in the library at present, but it is planned to have it hung in the Christopher Wren building when completed.—The Flat Hat.

"Sherwood" Theme for May Day

May Day at Converse College will have as its theme for 1930 "Sherwood," an entertainment by Alfred Noyes. Try-outs have been held, and plans are now well under way.—The Salemite.

Gliders Club

Waynesburg College may be among the first of the colleges in this district to have a Glider Club. In an interesting talk in chapel on Wednesday, Prof. C. O. Riggs told of the work that had been done in this field and its bearing on aviation.

Prof. Riggs told of the experiments that are at present being done in gliding. The longest flight on record was one of fourteen hours duration, the highest altitude was several hundred feet above the starting point.

Aviation experts are now training their future air pilots with the glider instead of the training plane formerly used. The take-off and landing are the hardest part of a pilot's job and the glider offers a better way to train for expertness in this than the airplane itself.

Gliding is gradually attaining more and more attention in air-minded circles, and it is hoped by Prof. Riggs and his enthusiasts that Waynesburg College may be one of the pioneers in this important branch of aviation.—The Yellow Jacket.

Freshman Writes Movie Theme Song

Lionel Graves, Washington State College freshman, is the author of "Only a Dream That Can't Come True," theme song of a motion picture that has been accepted by the DeLuxe Company of Hollywood. Lionel wrote both the words and music. Some dream!

The annual Beaux Arts Ball at the University of Virginia, March 27, will carry out the theme of a pagan ball.—The Virginia Tech.

WORLD NEWS

A congressman naturally spends a lot of his time fixing his fence because that's where he sits most of the time. —Southern Lumberman.

Recently college students voted on what "they do" about prohibition. Twenty-six out of thirty-one university presidents in this country say that student drinking is not general. Out of 2,634 blanks filled out at Yale. 776 (29 per cent) said they did not drink. 1,874 or 71 per cent said they did drink. Of the drinkers 852 drank frequently, (More than once a fortnight); 1022 drank occasionally. 17 per cent favored full enforcement of the dry law; 93 per cent asked for a repeal.

Another thing the talkies need is a device to make Hollywood British sound like London instead of Kansas. —Robert Quillen.

MR. WM. H. PRESTON GIVES COURSE ON B. S. U. WORK

The B. S. U. had Mr. William H. Preston, secretary of the Southern Baptist Students Union, as a visitor on our campus March 26 through March 28. Mr. Preston talked in chapel on Thursday morning and in the small auditorium in the evenings. His talks were most interesting and very instructive.

To those of us who had the opportunity of attending the State B. S. U. Conference at Radford in November, Mr. Preston was no stranger for he was one of the outstanding speakers there who brought us ideas of the work of the B. S. U. on many college campuses.

As yet the work of this organization on our campus is not as great as we hope to make it; however, with the beginnings made and the ideas and suggestions brought us by Mr. Preston we hope to make the B. S. U. an outstanding organization in the future.

"Students Are Boring"

Students may be bored, but they are also boring," is the charge of a Wisconsin professor who is threatening to organize a movement to make classes interesting. The old boy will probably get his most enthusiastic support from his own students. We wonder whom he blames for this condition. He might read some of the newer educational psychologists and be surprised at what they have to say about teachers who make such ill-considered statements.—Old Gold and Black.

IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S
DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony
Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Godey Prints,
Cards
and Bridge Sets
The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Quality—Price—Service
Come in and get acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

SPRING SHOWING OF
HATS
THE HAT SHOPPE
Mrs. H. H. Hunt
THIRD STREET
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE
Next to the Theatre
Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies
MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Fatmour Gift Shop
Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery
Engraving
COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh films)
Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)
COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S
is headquarters for the best
SANDWICHES AND DRINKS
in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
Work done while you wait with
First Class Materials
110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS
Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop
323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will fix your shoes
WHILE YOU WAIT
Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS
TAILORING CLEANING
PRESSING
Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

SPRING OPENING SPECIALS

The new three piece knitted suits all colors and combination colors $9.95

Beautiful spring coats, sport and dress wear with and without lapin fur $9.95 to $27.50

Beautiful new spring shoes the newest blondes, dull kids, and patents, reds, blues, and greens, all sizes and widths, from C to AAAA's $2.85, $3.85, $4.85, $5.85 and $6.85.

Final Close Out—of all early spring and fall dresses, original values from $15 to $27.50, special $5.95

Allen A Hosiery, $1.50 values, special $1.00

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Farmville, Va.

A woman needs a chaperone until she can call some chap her own.

Tillie: "The professor has made me his private secretary. Do you think I'll get an advance?"

Mittie: "Lots of them, dearie."—Lafayette Lyre.

Ben: "Do you smoke?"
Budsey: "No, I don't smoke."
Ben: "Do you drink?"
Budsey: "No, I don't drink."
Ben: "Do you neck?"
Budsey: "No, I don't neck."
Ben: "What do you do?"
Budsey: "I tell lies."

Helen R.: "Are you going out for anything?"

Cotillion club goat: "Er—yes ma'am."

Helen: "Then get me a ham sandwich and dope."

Cas: "Doris, your smoke rings are not quite round tonight, dear."

Doris (comfortably seated in reception hall): "Easily explained—you see I am smoking English Ovals."

Rebe (at game): "What arrangements have you made in case of rain?"

Nell (with plenty of school spirit): I have five thousand Chinese parasols painted in school colors."

Clara Norfleet: "Yes, I graduate this year. I intend at that time to enter settlement work."

Anne Black: "Oh, I see. Jerking bromo selzers."

Dolly: "Cov. sure has gotten poetic."

Sara B.: "Yeh! How come?" '

Dolly: "All the stubs in her check book read 'Ode to a guy'."

Did you ever stop to think what might have happened to American history if the British soldiers at Bunker Hill had had bloodshot eyes?—Penn State Froth.

F. Hutchins: "Gee, that candy in that window makes my mouth water."

H. S. C. Date: "Well, here's a blotter."—Ohio State Sun Dial.

"Her father kept a saloon."

"What! Do you mean her family is as old as that?"

How can you keep yourself warm at night? Reach for a blanket instead of a sheet.

Sara M.: "See that man staggering. He must be drunk."

Lib S.: "No, he's syncopated."

Sara: "What do you mean, syncopated?"

Lib: "He's moving unevenly from bar to bar."

Gurley: "There are several things I can always count on."

Blanche M.: "What?"

Gurley: "My fingers."

I'm wishing for the absent-minded professor who had the students write the examinations while he answered them.

SPORTS IN FULL SWAY

Three divisions of sports are now being carried on—archery, baseball, and field and track. There are no set hours for these, but all are being carried on every afternoon. From 4 to 6 every afternoon you may go out for any one of the three, or all three.

In order to get 25 points for baseball practices or field and track practices an individual must attend at least three practices every week. No points are given for attendance at archery practices. Practices may not be made up, there must be attendance each week at three practices.

The tennis tournament will start in a very short time. Participants are urged to practice up. The tennis courts have been worked on in preparation for the tournament. The athletic field is also being worked on and will be in prime condition for the spring sports.

Spring is the time when folks like to play. Come out and have a good time with us in athletics!

HONOR ROLL

Continued from page two

Newton, Mary Elizabeth
Nickols, Katharine A.
Nicholson, R. Bruce
Norman, Lucile
Old, Mary Virginia
Owen, Ruth Esther
Parker, Antionette A.
Pollard Annie C.
Putney, Nellie D.
Quaintance, Mary Stuart
Rawls, Mary Thomas
Ribble, Alice LeBarron
Rice, Anne W.
Richardson, Gertrude Pauline
Richardson, Gay Athena
Ridgeway, Duvall B.
Robert, Carolyn P.
Roberts, Elsie May
Robertson, Doris Virginia
Robertson, Virginia Neilson
Rogers, Emily Beryl
Rorer, Virginia
Rose, Grace Mildred
Rowbotham, Sarah K.
Rowell, Sarah S.
Royall, Jane B.
Salsbury, Sarah
Seay, Louise Elizabeth
Shackleton, Elizabeth R.
Shepard, Mary Frances
Shield, Esma Adelaide
Simpkins, Mildred Virginia
Smith, Helen Elizabeth
Smith, Laura May
Smith, Laura Northern
Smith, Pauline Virginia
Smith, Agnes Sarah
Somerville, Betty Guy
Steed, Mildred Elizabeth
Steere, Mildred W.
Stump, Anne C.
Swift, Mary Elizabeth
Taylor, Elizabeth Mae
Thompson, Lucy Roberta
Thornton, Elizabeth D.
Thweat, Mary Katherine
Tittsworth, Beatrice
Topping, Rosalyn
Traylor, Evelyn R.
Tucker, Anna Lenora
Tunstall, Grace M.
Vincent, Mary W.
Vaden, Mary Jane
Waller, Thelma Ruth
Watkins, Nancy S.
Watts, Carolyn Mercer
Wells, Mabel Virginia
Wesson, Belva L.
West, Evelyn W.
Wetzel, Margaret D.
Whitlock, Louise D.
Wilkinson, Linda Elizabeth
Williams, Wilma Evelyn
Wilson, Frances Anne
Wingo, Ann Fosetr
Wood, Mary Rose
Woodhouse, Grace Virginia
Woodson, Louise U.
Woodson, Martha Catherine
Worsham, Dorothy Emma

RED AND WHITE WIN VOLLEY BALL GAMES

(Continued from Page 1)

Mary Frances Hatchett
Mary Frances Shepherd
Catherine Stevens
Mary Rose Wood

ROTARY SHOW IS HIGHLY LAUDED

"The presentation of the Petersburg Rotary Minstrels and Revue here last Friday evening left nothing to be desired, either in the excellence of the production or the large house given the players who came to our town under the auspices of the Franklin Rotary Club for the benefit of the crippled children's clinic and other constructive work," says the Tidewater News, of Franklin.

The Petersburg Rotary Club show will be given in the S. T. C. auditorium here tonight commencing at 8:15 o'clock, under the auspices of the Lions Club. It will be followed by a dance in the recreation hall, and S. T. C. students are privileged to attend.

The Tidewater News further comments on the performance:

"The shows of the Petersburg Rotary Club are proverbial for their tuneful melodies, pretty girls, snappy sets and riotous minstrelsy. In the first act, in which the "Campus Cuties" enthralled the eye and pleased the ear by their dances and chorus work, Percival De Puyster, as played by Christian Munt, easily carried off the honors for real acting. There was a certain strawberry blonde in the back row of the "Cutie" chorus who particularly caught the fancy of the dramatic editor. Miss Mary Clare Wright did an effective bit of singing in this act in the popular "Crying for the Carolines."

"Words Mean So Little," the episode between the four deaf men, went off well, and G. Cleveland Wright's feminine impersonations and tender ballads to his electric vibrator were cleverly done. Too much cannot be said for Dick Ryan and Bill Harville in their World War skit, "In the Trenches." The handsome officer and his irrepresssible negro orderly were a pair to remember and chuckle over.

The Powers-Ramsey dancers and their act in episode seven was even better than in a former presentation here. Little Bettie Jane Jones did a saxpahone solo and dance, with an acrobatic waltz by Mary Louise Clements and Virginia Anne Lynch, and Miss Margaret Powers was brilliant in her execution of a difficult solo dance.

The second part of the show caught the interest of the big audience even more than the first. The costuming was splendid, the singing excellent and the gags of the end men new and clever, the expected dragging of certain local Rotarians getting a big hand as usual. The gigantic Pete Baugh as interlocutor handled his minstrel aggregation well, and Bill Harvile was a feature as always. Jimmie D'Alton was undoubtedly the star of the minstrel show in the minds of the audience with his "Harmonica Harry," and he gave encore after encore until he was breathless. "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," by Oscar West, anrd "Down Among the Sugarcanes," were other outstanding song hits, the occasional introduction of the choruses adding a pleasing touch of variety to the minstrelsy.

MAY FESTIVAL HAS BEAUTIFUL THEME

Continued from page one

erheard Logi tell of the Rhinegold and so hurries to the river which the Rhindaughters live and succeeds in stealing the Rhinegold from them just before Logi and Woton, king of the gods, arrives upon the scene. Logi and Woton pursue Alberich and finally find him, the most powerful ruler of all the gnomes. He boasts to them of his power and in order to prove it changes himself into a dragon, then into a toad. It is then that Logi and Woton steal his gold from him and with it ransom Freia from the giants. She returns to the gods over a rainbow bridge. There is a great celebration and she is crowned Queen of the May.

The story ends just at the dawn of day and in celebration of the first of May the young people dance around the May Pole as the gods enter their palace Walhalla.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of April 7 to 12

MONDAY and TUESDAY—William Haines in "The Girl Said No," supported by Leila Hyams, Polly Moran and Marie Dressler. Here is Haines' funniest picture and his latest. You'll roar at the screen's smartest comedy. You'll love Haines as the breezy youth, fresh from college, who won't take "No" for an answer from the only girl or from the world of business. The funniest courtship ever shown on the screen. He tangles love and business with hilarious results. Imagine a comedy combination of Haines, Polly Moran and Marie Dressler—enough said! Girls, learn how to say "No" positively. Also talking comedy and Pathe News.

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY—Clara Bow in "The Saturday Night Kid," supported by James Hall and Jean Arthur. The IT girl in the wittiest bang-up comedy-romance you ever trimmed your ears for. An all talking picture, wherein Clara shows you new tricks—a new line—new locks, acts and talks like a million as the spunky, sparky, slangy hop girl who steps too fast for the boys. Love 'em and leave 'em is her slogan. Says the Saturday Night Kid: "Do you wrastling at the Y. M. C. A.—People that live in tin houses shouldn't throw can-openers—I should break the one heart I got over any guy. Sparkling fun, peppy parties, and the It girl slinging the slang—and how! Come to the Eaco for a hetsy-totsy time with Clara. Also talking comedy.

FRIDAY and SATURDAY—Buddy Rogers in "Half Way to Heaven," supported by Jean Arthur, in a daring, dazzling melodrama that will thrill you with its swift action and smashing climaxes. All-talking, of course. What would you do with a lover who insisted on marrying you against your will—and you were in love with Buddy? Rogers breaks into carnival life and does some dangerous stunts on the flying trapeze that will keep your heart in your mouth for several minutes. After thrilling you with his daring, Buddy stands up to the villain, sends him packing and wins the girl. The "boy friend" has a few choice things to tell the girl friends who visit him this week. A typical American youth romance with Buddy at his best. Also Collegiate Comedy and Pathe Sound News.

Two shows each night—7:30 and 9:15. Admission, adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees. Children under 12, 15c to each show.

C. E. Chappell Co.

Dealers in

Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery

AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Farmville - - - - Va.

McIntosh's Drug Store

New State Teachers College

STATIONERY

Farmville - - - - Va.

CANADA DRUG CO.

Next to Baldwin's Store

Come to us for your cosmetics and

STATIONERY

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

FEATURE THIS WEEK

COLLEGE THEME TABLETS

3 For 25c

SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES

MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

SMART NEW FOOTWEAR

BALDWIN'S

$5 TO $7.50

VIVACIOUS Footwear steps out with spring—gay, colorful and decidedly new. Here you will find the new pastel shades in kidskin and calf—all attuned to the happiest moods of the new season.

NEW SILK DRESSES

$7.95

new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.

—in the Basement—

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.

The House of Quality

FARMVILLE, VA.

Help Make May Day a Success!

See "Captain Applejack" Thursday Evening

Volume X THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 9, 1930 No. 26

Hutchinson, Robertson, L. Smith, Taylor, J. Smith and Denit to Head Major Organizations

Adele Hutchinson Is Chosen President of the Student Council

OFFICER HOLDERS WILL ALL BE IN SENIOR CLASS

Eections held Tuesday for the major offices of the coming year showed the following results:

President of Student Government ..... Adele Hutchinson
Pres. Y. W. C. A. ..... Rene Robertson
Pres. of A. A. ..... Laura N. Smith
Editor Virginian ..... Elizabeth Taylor
Editor Rotunda ..... Jessie Smith
Editor of Voice ..... Annie Denit

When we speak of al "all around" girl we immediately think of Adele Hutchinson. Who has not seen Adele shine in sports? Then, too, she clogs, she sings, she plays the piano—well, what doesn't she do? We have all witnessed her fine work as President of the Y. W. this year. Adele is a worker; she is a girl who can do things, and is always more than willing to do. We realize her capabilities and her fine characteristics and we know that she will bring the best that is in her to the office she will hold next year. We wish her the best of luck and promise her our sincere cooperation and backing in all that she may attempt to do.

Rena Robertson is to be congratulated on her election to the office of President of the Y. W. C. A. No more faithful worker could be found in that organization this year than Rena. Then too, Rena has shown her capa-

(Continued on last page)

MISS LUCY GAGE SPEAKS AT S. T. C.

Miss Lucy Gage, one of the organizers of the National Council and for two terms its president, was the guest of the local chapter of the National Council of Primary Education, Wednesday, April 2. Miss Gage addressed the members of the Council and interested friends from the faculty and student body in the Student Building auditorium. Immediately following the address an informal reception was held for her in the lounge.

Miss Gage's address was a plea for open-mindedness. She spoke of the many opportunities for continued growth which the life of today affords and sounded a warning against complacency or, as she expressed it, against the feeling that one "had arrived." The best teacher, she said, is not the one who narrows her life to include professional interests only, but one who takes time for wide reading, for travel, and for contacts with worthwhile people in other fields.

Miss Gage has for the past ten years, been Professor Early Elementary Education at George Peabody College for Teachers at Nashville,

(Continued on last page)

PETITION SENT HOOVER IS TO BE CONSIDERED

A letter was recently received from the secretary of President Hoover stating that the petition for naval disarmament sent in by the students and faculty of Lynchburg College had been received and that the petition would be placed before the President immediately.—Th Critograph.

Frances Wilson and Mary M. Baskerville Visit Wichita, Kansas

S. T. C. Team Won Two Out of Five Debates Before Huge Audiences

ATTENDED PI KAPPA DELTA BANQUET

Frances Wilson and Mary Mann Baskerville won two out of the five debates they took part in at Wichita, Kansas during the week of April 1 through April 5. The winner of the debates were from Southwestern College and the second honor was won by Michigan State University who was only defeated once before the finals, and that was by the Farmville S. T. C. debaters.

Frances and Mary Mann left Farmville Friday, March 28, and arrived in Wichita, Sunday at 5:30 p. m. They went by way of Cincinnati and Chicago. While in Wichita they stayed at the Broad View Hotel.

On Monday morning the round of debates began. The first was held at 9:45, and the second and third were held that afternoon. During the evening the first round of the oratorical and extemporary speeches were held.

At 8 o'clock on Tuesday morning the fourth round was held and then followed by the first business meeting. That afternoon the fifth round of debates were given and the second round of oratory. That evening ended with the third round of oratory.

Our team was eliminated on Wednesday. The second business meeting was held on this day.

That evening there was a dance in the roof garden of the hotel. It was a no-break dance.

Semi-finals, finals, and finals for extemporary speakers, and finals for men were held Thursday morning.

(Continued on page 2)

Misses Frances Wilson and Mary Mann Baskerville

JUDGE HUGHES SPEAKS AT PI GAMMA MU MEET

Judge R. M. Hughes of Norfolk, Va. spoke on General Joseph E. Johnston in chapel Saturday and at the Pi Gamma Mu banquet Saturday night. Judge Hughes is a grand nephew of Johnston, and besides remembering him personally, he had a number of original letters and anecdotes of Johnston that gave a clear insight into the character of that great general.

Longwood, the birthplace of Johnston, was an appropriate place for the members of Pi Gamma Mu to hear Judge Hughes tell about "Johnston and Politics During the Civil War."

Judge Hughes traced the life of Johnston from his birth at Longwood in 1807, through his military career, particularly emphasizing the causes of the trouble between Jefferson Davis and J. E. Johnston, and showing why Johnston deserves a higher place in the history of the South than is usually accorded him. He stated that competent military critics both of this country and of foreign countries ranked Johnston with Lee and Jackson in military strategy.

Judge Hughes presented to Longwood a picture of Joseph E. Johnston and a picture of Peter Johnston, Gen. Johnston's father. He expressed appreciation of what the State Teachers College had done for the home of that great man, Joseph E. Johnston.

PRAYERS THIS WEEK

Seniors will lead prayers and furnish music for them this week.

Virginia Moore led Monday night, and Blanche Murrell Tuesday night. Laura M. Smith will lead Wednesday, Carolyn Roberts, Thursday, and Ann Stump Friday night.

43 STUDENTS RECEIVE WRITING CERTIFICATES

Every quarter a number of students receive certificates of proficiency in handwriting. These students, and others will be interested to know of the increasing emphasis being placed upon penmanship courses in teachers colleges and universities. Columbia University, in the 1930 summer session, will offer a course entitled Methods of Teaching Penmanship, with one session hour credit. Graduate students may offer this toward the higher degrees, while undergraduate students in teachers colleges may use it toward the B. S. degree. Since Teachers College is universally regarded as one of the institutions of its kind in the very forefront of modern education this action of Columbia University is extremely gratifying to teachers of handwriting.

The list of students successful in winning certificates in the winter quarter follows:

Barrett, Annie
Adams, Ruby
Biggs, Dorothy
Butterworth, Pattie
Cannaday, Mary
Carter, May
Dunning, Elsie
Finch, Hazel
Fletcher, Louella
Ford, Dorothy
Gillespie, Billy
Harris, Mary Frances
Harrell, Lydia
Kutz, Esther
Lester, Margaret
Lang, Elizabeth
Malone, Virginia
Martin, Catherine
McKissick, Mary
Mecum, Margaret
Miller, Violet

Continued on last page

"CAPTAIN APPLEJACK TO BE PRESENTED HERE BY THE H. S. C. JONGLEURS APRIL 10

Thursday evening, April 10 at 8:15 p. m., the Jongleurs, the Hampden-Sydney Players will present "Captain Applejack" in the auditorium of the State Teachers College.

Captain Applejack is a mystery adventure play in three acts by Walter Hackett and is being given by special arrangement with Samuel French of New York. It is an entrancing play portraying a young man who is so bored that he advertises his home for sale and determines to go in search of adventure. However he doesn't have to leave the house to find it. Finding a hidden parchment and being surrounded by burglars, one of them a beautiful lady with whom he thinks he has fallen in love, he dreams he is a pirate of old and becomes "Captain Applejack." And thus as mild a man as ever scuttled a cup of coffee is changed into a bold, bad bucaneer of the Spanish Main; cussing his crewe, calling for his grog, dragging forth a comely wench, sticking a knife into a treacherous dog, and finally putting down a mutiny but cutting cards with its unhappy leader—always turning up an ace. Then Ambrose wakes up to the fact that he has a band of treasure seeking crooks to deal with.

The leading role of Captain Applejack is very aptly portrayed by Mr. Louis Miller who is supported by Mr. Marshall Wilson as Poppy Faire, the leading feminine role. Mr. Miller has carried heavy roles several times before in Jongleur productions and those who have had the pleasure of seeing him act are well acquainted with his capacity in the art while Mr. Wilson in the feminine role has captured the beauty prize in a masquerade. The chief burglar villian is played by Mr. Abner Hopkins and the scheming Russian dancer by Mr. Philip Ropp. Each of these men have appeared before in presentations, Mr. Ropp having had several leading feminine roles. Other members of the cast are Messrs. C. L. Cabell as Peregard, Alpheus Potts in the feminine role of Mrs. Peregard, Fleet Dillard as Johnny Jason, Gray McAllister as Dennet, C. E. Chappell as Mrs. Agatha Whatcombe, and Herbert Kann as Lush.

The dress rehearsal revealed a play teeming with action, and interest is sure to follow these players through the entire performance to the last curtain. Audiences in various parts of the country have been charmed with this production and "Captain Applejack" has been produced by professional and amateur performers to great success.

The admission price for Thursday evening is one dollar, general admission and fifty cents for students.

SCHEDULE FOR MAY DAY PRACTICES GIVEN

May Day Dance practices continue to occupy much of the time since the launching of the May Day plans. Girls in the various dances are urged to cooperate with their group leaders and be present at all practices as the time for the May Festival is rapidly drawing near.

The following is the practice schedule for the dances this week:

Trolan Group—Rec., Monday, Tuesday and Thursday at 7:30 o'clock.
Leonard Group—Gym, Monday, Wednesday and Friday 6:30 o'clock.
Hatchett Group—Rec. Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, 6:45 o'clock.
Green Group—Rec., Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 3 o'clock.
Holland Group—Rec., Tuesday 6:45; Wednesday 6:30 and Thursay, 6:45.
Covington Group—Little Gym Monay Wednesday and Friday at 6:45 o"clock.
Milner Group—Rec. Monday, Wednesday and Friday 5 o'clock.
Graves Group — Rec. Tuesday, Thursday at 8 o'clock and Friday at 8:30 o'clock.
McGavock Group—Gym, Wednesday 6:45 (Gym) Thursday 5 o'clock and Friday 4 o'clock.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — LUCY THOMPSON, '30
Associate Editor — JESSIE SMTH, '31

Board of Editors

News Editor — LILLIAN BOVELL, '30
Literary Editor — LINDA WILKINSON, '30
Athletic Editor — MILDRED MADDREY, '31
World News Editor — GERTRUDE RICHARDSON, '30
Intercollegiate News Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — RACHEL ROYAL, '30
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — MAMIE HURT, '31
Humorous Editor — "BILLIE" PARIS, '30
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

MARIA WARREN, '32 — DOROTHY SNEDEGAR, '33
ANNIE DENIT, '31
ANN STUMP, '30

Proof Reader — SARA BAKER, '31
Assistant Proof Reader — JESSIE WATKINS, '33

Managers

Business Manager — SARA McCORKLE, '30
Assistant Business Manager — PEARL JOHNSON, '32
Circulation Manager — MARTHA ANTHONY, '30
Assistant Circulation Manager — NANNIE SUE ANTHONY, '30

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

Editorial

Congratulations New Officers

Showing unusual integrity in its choice of leaders in the major activties for next year the student body has selected the five girls in whom it has placed the responsibility of guiding its members through the various undertakings of the coming school year. An unusually large per cent of the student body voted in this election which proves that we really are interested in one of the most important phases of college—extra-curricular activities.

The voting on Tuesday was carried on in a most orderly and business-like manner. The school was divided into four precincts and the girls in each of these divisons cast their votes during the day for her choice. The student body also should be congratulated upon its wisdom in selecting the new officers.

To be elected to one of the major officers of S. T. C. is to be accorded the highest honor that any girl can receive during her college career. It means that the student body has faith in her and is depending upon her to lead each member in the right direction to acquire the high ideals for which our Alma Mater stands. It also means that the student body will support its choice in all of her undertakings to bring victory and success to S. T. C.

And so, new officers, allow the Rotunda staff to offer sincerest congratulations for having received the positions of trust which the student body has bestowed upon you, and to wish you great success in all that you do!

Cooperation

Probably one of the most frequently used words at S. T. C. is cooperation. It is used in an abstract sense, and little do some people realize that the words of Patrick Henry, "Together we stand, divided we fall!" may be applied to our own school, our own lives.

There are so many big projects that are necessary for a school to sponsor that it seems so little not to do one's part. For instance, our Honor System, it can no more be made a success by a few people than it could be a failure if everyone did her part.

Then May Day comes into view. What kind of program could we have if every girl doesn't do her little part? It seems so small, yet so big when each little is added to another little to make something big.

We could go into numbers upon numbers of instances, and yet why, because they all have the same conclusion in the end. Then, girls, the success of each undertaking depends not on your roommate and your friend, but you Y-O-U!

OVER THE TEACUPS

Can you realize it? Less than two weeks before Easter. Honestly, I can't wait! Of course I know that in less than three we'll be back here—but why bring that up? You would think of something like that though. I'm just building on having one grand old time, but shucks, if this weather keeps up—one day raining and the next clear, I mean, we're liable to spend the holidays swimming around—if we can get out to do that—.

Can you wait? I've never known people to be so excited to be so excited about elections. It may be that I just don't remember how it was last year, but it does seem more exciting No, I haven't any idea who's going to hold any one of the offices, but I hope that the best girls will get them. Of course I know who I think is the best girl, but that's for me to know and you to find out.

Say, did you go to the minstrel? Well, you missed something. It was so good! Could they dance? And did that little girl "toot" a mean saxaphone? Yet, they could have omitted a few things and made it a little better—but I enjoyed it.

You went to the dances, didn't you? Well, what about 'em? I bet you did. The favors were darling. Everybody seems to have—well,—outdone themselves when it came to a good time.

Did you go to the Y. W. party at Longwood Saturday afternoon? I saw 'em leave and get back, and everybody says it was a huge success—apples—cakes—marshmallows and all!

Yes, I knew about the Pi Gamma Mu banquet. Me go? Of course, not. Shame, isn't it that they haven't as yet recognized our superior (?) ability!

Listen, kid, I've got to take it on to the library, so I'll be seeing you.

Bye.

FRANCES WILSON AND MARY M. BASKERVILLE VISIT WICHITA, KANSAS

(Continued from Page One.)

That afternoon everyone was taken on a sight-seeing trip. Before this trip the girls were invited to a tea at the home of Mrs. Foght, the wife of the president of Wichita University.

Wichita is called "the Capital Air City of the World" because it builds so many airplanes. They visted the air field, and also the oil wells and flour mills.

On Friday the oratorical contest finals in men's debate and final business meeting was held. George Plum was elected president for next year.

That evening the Pi Kappa Delta banquet was held. The winners of the contest were awarded silver cups. The favors at the banquet were miniature airplanes.

Some of the outcomes of the contest were:

Debates for girls: Southwestern College, 1st place; Michigan State, second place.

Debate for men: Gustavus Adolphus College, first place; Jewel, second.

Men oratory: University of Wichita.

Every evening all the delegates ate on the roof garden. On Thursday evening a mock debate was held.

Our team composed of Frances Wilson and Mary Mann Baskerville has had a very successful season. On the Southern trip these girls won all the debates they took part in which were the ones with Wak Forest, University of South Carolina and Wofford College. At home they won from North Carolina State and Pittsburgh University.

The other teams composed of Maria Warren and Alice Harrison, and the other of Mabel Barksdale and Elizabeth Hunter, were successful also. They both won from Harrisonburg, the former here and the latter at Harrisonburg.

Of the two oratorical contests held one was successful for F. S. T. C., Martha Farris won from Harrisonburg, but Anne Johnson was defeated. This season marks one of the most successful debate seasons experienced here and the Debate Club, its coach, Mr. Holton, and its former coach, Dr. Walmsley, should be congratulated!

ALUMNAE NEWS

Mrs. William Cabell Flournoy (Birdie Boyd) has been awarded two very handsome loving cups by the National U. D. C. at the convention which met in Biloxi, this year. The prize was won in competition with many others for historical papers submitted. Mrs. Flournoy has been Historian for the Virginia Division of the U. D. C. for some time.

Mrs. Maude Pollard Turman, of Atlanta, Ga., was the guest of honor at a luncheon at the Hotel Rueger in Richmond during the tenth annual convention of the Virginia League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Edgar Greever, of Tazewell, is State president of the Virginia State Society of the Daughters of 1812. She presided over the recent meeting of the society at the Jefferson Hotel, Richmond.

Mrs. Lucy Wright James, president of the Newport News Woman's Club, had an interesting and suggestive report in the current issue of the Virginia Club Woman.

"The Bud and Bloom" will be the theme of a colorful pageant produced by the faculty and nearly one thousand boys and girls of the Handley Schools during the seventh annual Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester. The art work is under the supervision of Miss Katherine Pannille.

Miss Frances Haden was married to John T. O'Neill of Crozet, Va., on March 22.

WEEK-ENDS AT S. T. C.

Week-ends at S. T. C. are looked forward to with great joy and expectancy by the student, we imagine, with a sigh by Miss Mary. The week is hardly half over before everyone is talking of how she is going to spend the week-end. One girl says that her mother and sister are coming. Another is expecting a friend. Two juniors are telling their classmates what a wonderful time they expect to have at the dance. In another group can be heard the excited talk of two freshmen, who are going home, each trying to tell whom she will see, what she will do, or what she will get to eat.

Ethel, as we may call her seems very happy. Is she going somewhere, too, or is she looking forward to seeing mother or dad, or maybe John? No, she says she is not going way and she expects no company. But, why does she look so happy and excited? Sh! It's a secret. She is expecting a box from home and she can hardly wait. Several friends have been asked to share it with her. Thus it is all over school. Everybody is happy and smiling—both those who go and those who stay.

SPRING

Oh, Spring is a hoyden
With bright golden curls,
Who dreams with the maidens
And laughs with the churls.

With the limbs of a runner,
So swift and so free—
Her eyes on the mountains,
Her heart by the sea.

She smiles from the sunset,
She sings from the meads—
And down by the river
Pan pipes in the reeds.

Alice LeB. Ribble

THESE TESTS

A History test tomorrow
And Chemistry next day
With Spanish—to my sorrow—
Quite close upon the way.

"A test," says Mr. Grainger
"We'll take e'er very long."
Oh, rest to me is stranger
Than a Chinese from Hong-Kong!

I cannot plan a week-end trip
I cannot play or read,
I cannot give those tests the slip;
They spring up like a weed.

For if it's not Miss Barlow's, dear
Why, then it's Mr. Bell—
"A test, my children, do you hear?
Be sure you study well."

At last I feel oblivion rise,
My mind grows cloudy, hazy;
Ah, teachers, don't you realize
We'll soon be going crazy!

V. M. F., '32

A STUDENT'S LAMENT

Oh, was I born to feed on books:
To live on such dry stuff
When Nature offers food enough,
Where'er my eye but looks?
My History bids me learn
The dates of wars, the births of kings.
How can I think of such dead things
When everywhere I turn
A plum-tree opens to the breeze
And wafts a sweet perfume?
My soul is hungry to consume
Such almost-sacred things as these.
And so if others pull a higher "A"
Than I can make on History,
I'll "thank whatever gods there be."
That I have less of brains than they,
Content to know that I can drink
Moore deeply
Of Life's ecstacy.

C. M. H., '30

CONTRASTS

White grass, under a plank
Ignorant of sun light
And the touch of rain—
Hot-house plants
Nursed tenderly,
Shaped to a certain beauty—
Delicate fabrics
In pastel tints
That the sun will fade—
Beautiful girls,
Shunning the wind,
Afraid of storms.
. . . . . .
Green grass and wild flowers;
Red dresses and orange,
Catching the sunlight;
Girls on horseback,
Racing against the wind
Down an endless road.

C. M. H., '30

RAINBOW'S END

Skies are blue, have all turned stormy
Dark clouds grew, no sun shone for me
All in vain, I sought my rainbow's end—
Life I felt was oh so gloomy
Fate had dealt a hard blow to me
But meeting you my luck starts to ascend
Can't you see how much less sad and woeful
Couldn't it be my heart with joy is so full
But let it blow, the wind can whistle
'Cause rain or snow, I know that this'll
Make it plain that you're my rainbow's end.

SOCIALS

Misses Lucy Fitzgerald, Chionse Glidewell and Ida Trolan spent the week-end in Crewe.

The following girls attended the dances at V. P. I. this week-end: Vernie Oden, Emmy Lou Pulliam, Catherine Marchant, Marguerite Swann, Lucy Dortch, Loulie Milner, Mayo Beaty, Rene Greaves, Jacque Lee, and Lucy Thompson.

Misses Alice Covington, Verna Greaves, and Martha Walters spent the week-end in Lexington.

Misses Gilberta Knight, Anne F. Barnet and Frances Parker visited Hazel Burgwin of Richmond this week-end.

Miss Blanche Murrell had as her guests in Lynchburg: Rachel Royall. and Elizabeth Smitherman.

Miss Josie Spencer of Lynchburg had the following visitors: Dorothy Goodloe and Frances Martin.

Misses Katherine Royster and Virginia Witt, spent the week-end at their homes in Lynchburg.

Misses Alice Hardaway, Sarah Hubbard, Allie Kae Libby, Maria Warren and Mary Warren spent the week-end in Richmond.

Nancy Richardson and Martha Stewart spent the week-end in Roanoke and Blacksburg.

The following girls attended the Ministerial Social on Saturday night, at Hampden-Sydney College: Misses Permele Byrd, Margaret Bock, Frances Crawford, Frances Carter, Hannah Early, Catherine Ellison, Mabel Gregory, Ruth Hart, Hazel Halloway, Mary Harris, Louise Johnson, Esther Kutz, Elizabeth McCauley, Ruby Newton, Carolyn Roberts, Louise Scruggs.

PI KAPPA ALPHA DANCE BEGINS SEASON'S SERIES

The Pi Kappa Alpha dance last Friday and Saturday nights began a series of fraternity dances at Hampden-Sydney College. The music was unusually good, and it seemed as though the "Carolina Buccaneers" were at their best.

The dance hall was turned into a summer garden, with a sky-blue ceiling hung with lanterns. The orchestra played on the porch of the summer home whose columns were hung with wisteria and greens.

Mrs. Laing, a member of the home department, was the chaperon from college. She also helped the boys in the planning of the entire dance program including the decorations.

The girls from college attending these dances were: Jane Royall, Jessie Smith, Martha Ann Laing, Frank Smoot, Ann Black, Ann Minter, Pattie Ellison, Gazelle Ware, Mary Shelton, Elaine Goode, Hazel Burgwin, Courtney Godsey, Alma Garlick, Lela Germany, Martha Sanders, Courtney Neil, Laura Mottley, Martha MacKenzie, Myra Reese, Dolly Reed, Nancy Shaner. and Martha Walters.

The Theta Chi dances are scheduled for this week-end.

ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA DELEGATES TO VISIT SOUTH CAROLINA

The delegates for the National Convention of Alpha Kappa Gamma will leave Wednesday afternoon for the University of South Carolina at Columbia. The representatives from S. T. C. are Virginia Gurley, Etta Marshall and Virginia Robertson. They will be accompanied by Miss Stubbs who has been very influential and outstanding in the progress of Alpha Kappa Gamma. The girls and Miss Stubbs will go by automobile to Bennettsville, S. C., where they will stay Wednesday night, leaving the following morning for Columbia. A very delightful program has been planned and the girls are anticipating a beneficial as well as exciting time.

Wilhelmina Houdini has waited three and one-half years for word from her late husband Harry, a magician and ghost buster. Before he died he promised to communicate with her if possible. Many have been the attempts, all are futile to talk to him. Last week Mrs. Houdini announced that she had given up all hope of ever speaking to him, and she believed that spiritualism is fakery.

HONOR CODE PERFECTED AND APPROVED

For several weeks the student body has been working on the Honor Code which has finally been perfected and approved by the student body, the faculty, and Dr. Jarman.

The Code, in its final form is given below. Each member of the student body is asked to study it carefully. Provision is being made to have this Code printed in Cards and to have each member sign the oath which is included at the end of this article.

HONOR CODE OF
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE
Farmville, Virginia

The Honor System requires every student, in all her student relations, to act honorably, and, with sensitive regard for her college, to uphold and protect the Honor Code at all times. Placing absolute confidence in a student because she is supposed to be "on her honor", whether she has any or not—does not constitute an Honor System.

The Student Government System shall be divided into two parts: one dealing with Social Regulations and the other with matters of honor.

Under the second division shall be included matters of cheating, stealing, lying, and violation of one's word of honor under any circumstances.

The organized Student Body, having created and accepted an Honor Code, and assuming that each of its members fully appreciates and understands it, and is capable in intellect and in character, of living according to the principles of Truth and Honesty it sets forth, will take immediate action regarding any violation of its code, and of any person who proves herself to be thus untrustworthy.

It is essential to the safety of the Honor System, and to her own safety, that every student be extremely careful to avoid all appearances of questionable conduct. Any student who is so careless as to place herself in any such position is not justified in resenting her conduct being questioned.

The Honor System covers all outside written work, class recitations, quizzes, examinations and all other work, which, according to the professor's announcement, is to be performed by each individual for herself.

Each member of the faculty, having a clear understanding of the working of the Honor System will lend his cooperation in establishing the proper conception of the Honor Code in relation to his work.

Every student, after having become fully acquainted with the Honor Code, shall be required by the organized Student Body to sign a pledge not to violate this code with the understanding that such an act means broken Honor and its consequences.

The Honor Code further requires that a student, having occasion to believe that a violation of the Honor Code has been committed, be considered guilty of a breach of honor should she fail to investigate and take the necessary action—and her own neglect be investigated and acted upon.

Honor Code

(1) Any student, having reason to believe that the Honor Code has been violated shall, with such assistance as is absolutely necessary, investigate the situation as promptly and as quietly as possible. After a careful investigation, that student shall demand an explanation of the accused person's conduct in the presence of the President of the Student Council.

(2) If the explanation is entirely satisfactory to both the President of the Student Council and the accuser, all people concerned, including the accused, shall be expected to keep the matter in strict confidence.

(3) If the explanation is in any way unsatisfactory, the accuser and accused shall appear before the Student Council and the matter shall be presented to them.

(4) If, after the trial, there is any question concerning the innocence of the person accused, although there is not sufficient evidence to convict, the minutes of the trial shall be preserved for future reference, and if considered wise, the accused shall be probationed, to the knowledge of the accused, the accuser and the Student Council.

(5) If the accused is declared guilty, the Student Council shall take such action as is deemed wise and necessary.

(6) If, after the trial, the accused is proved absolutely innocent, the minutes of the trial shall be destroyed.

(7) Every student involved in the case, shall be required upon entering the Student Government room to take an oath to the effect that her statements will be absolutely true.

(8) Every student involved in the case, including the accused, shall be required, upon entering the Student Government room to take an oath that the proceedings of the trial shall be held in absolute confidence.

(9) If the accused is proved guilty, and is sent away from school, an announcement shall be made to the Student Body.

(10) If proved innocent, the fact shall be announced to the Student Body, if the accused should so desire; otherwise the situation is to be held in absolute confidence by all persons involved.

(11) The above shall apply in case of a probationed student.

(12) Betrayal of any such confidence by persons involved in the case, including the accused, shall be considered as a breach of Honor.

(13) This is necessary for the protection of the accused, accuser, and the Honor System.

Each student upon entering State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, will be required to sign the following oath:

I, ...

having a clear understanding of the basis and spirit of the Honor Code created and accepted by the Student Body of State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia, pledge myself to govern my college life according to its standards and to accept my responsibility for helping others to do so, and with sensitive regard for my college, to uphold and protect the Honor System at all times.

GET YOUR
SPRING LINGERIE AT

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Quality—Price—Service
Come in and get acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

SPRING SHOWING OF
HATS
THE HAT SHOPPE
Mrs. H. H. Hunt
THIRD STREET
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE
Next to the Theatre
Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies
MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Falconer Gift Shop
Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery
Engraving
COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh films)
Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)
COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S
is headquarters for the best
SANDWICHES AND DRINKS
in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
Work done while you wait with
First Class Materials
110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS
Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop
323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will fix your shoes
WHILE YOU WAIT
Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS
TAILORING CLEANING
PRESSING
Farmville - - - - - - - - - Virginia

SPRING OPENING SPECIALS

The new three piece knitted suits all colors and combination colors $9.95

Beautiful spring coats, sport and dress wear with and without lapin fur $9.95 to $27.50

Beautiful new spring shoes the newest blondes, dull kids, and patents, reds, blues, and greens, all sizes and widths, from C to AAAA's $2.85, $3.85, $4.85, $5.85 and $6.85.

Final Close Out—of all early spring and fall dresses, original values from $15 to $27.50, special $5.95

Allen A Hosiery, $1.50 values, special $1.00

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Farmville, Va.

Rebe French: What are those double compacts for?
Edith Britt: Two-faced women.

Martha Baker: Do you read Poe?
Virginia Daughtery: No, I read pretty well.

Him: If the devil lost his tale, where would he go to get another?
Her: To a liquor store where they retail spirits.

Ann Black: Clara, why have you started calling this one Pilgrim?
Clara: 'Cause every time he comes he tries to make more progress.

Gurley: And next week I'm off to Paris to get my clothes.
Grandmother: Yes, yes, I wonder where you kept them—The Parley Voo.

He: I passed your house last night.
She: Thanks!

Liba Davis (in training school): What is the greatest thing about George Washington?
Student in fourth grade: His memory. They erected a monument to it.

"The lightning bug is brilliant,
But he hasn't any mind;
He blunders through existence
With his headight on behind."

Etta: I heard a new one the other day. I wonder if I told you?
Adele: Is it funny?
Etta: Yes!
Adele: Then you haven't.

Angry Student: Muscle shoals! Muscle shoals!
Kind teacher: There, there little girl, why are you crying muscle shoals?
Angry Student: Because I am mad and that's the biggest dam I know.

Life: One thing after another.
Love: Two things after each other.

He: Girls are prettier than men.
She: Why, naturally.
He: No, artificially.

Sally W.: Does Sue select your clothes?
Harriet M.: No, she only picks the pockets.

Martha: What did you get on your birthday?
Teel F.: A year older:

At the Eaco Theatre
Week of April 14 to 19

MON. & TUES. "SUNNYSIDE UP" with Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell. An original musical comedy with story, dialog, music and lyrics by the famous composers, DeSylva, Brown and Henderson. While this exceptional production has been showing at advanced prices in all large cities, we are charging our usual prices. The stars of "7th Heaven" and "Street Angel" in their first big musical comedy-drama. It has a dance spectacle with a hot song "Turn on the Heat" which surpasses anything of its kin yet attempted. One set covers three city blocks and cost $200,000. Pronounced the greatest box office attraction in years. Two days only. Also Pathe Rview.

WED. ONLY "THE WOMAN RACKET" with Tom Moore and Blanche Sweet. A talking picture entertainment that entertains. No problems, but plenty of excitement and romance, together with songs, dances and pretty girls. Back of the tinsel glamour of Broadway night-club life stalks a surprising drama of women and the shadowy underworld. A thriller, an unusual love story with the speed and novel twists that come only once in a season's picture going. Also two-reel comedy.

THURS. & FRI.—HIT THE DECK with Jack Okie, Polly Walker and an all-star cast. The show that has amazed the world! Nine great song numbers—everyone a hit. Hundreds of beautiful girls in gorgeous dance ensembles. Scenes of breath-taking beauty filmed in beautiful natural colors. Great choruses, three stirring bands, 100 negro singers! The gayest of all musical comedies brought in spendthrift splendor to the screen of the Eaco, and at regular prices! Hear the songs, meet the girls, laugh till your sides ache. You'll enjoy every minute of "Hit the Deck" and come back to see it the second time. Also Pathe Sound News.

SAT.—"THE MELODY MAN" with William Collier, Jr., and Ailce Day. Youth challenges old age. Jazz flung against the classics. New World pitted against the old world. The drama of a musician's soul. Heart appeal, mind appeal, soul appeal. The divine musical drama of the year. The never-to-be forgotten music of Schubert, Beethoven and Chopin form an indescribably beautiful pattern for a powerful drama that will long linger in your memory. An adventure in laughter and tears. Don't miss it. Also Collegiate Comedy. Scenes in Technicolor.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR MAJOR ORGANIZATIONS

(Continued from Page 1)

[illegible] President of the Debate Club [illegible]. We know that she is truly sincere in everything she undertakes and that she will show this same sincerity in her new position. We wish her the best of luck and our heartiest cooperation and service.

We have an idea athletic leader in Laura N. Smith. She has already given more than sufficient evidence of what she can do as president of her class this year. Laura is one of our star athletes,—what could be more natural than to see her President of our A. A. next year? We can promise her a backing of 100 per cent!

As editor of the Virginian next year, Elizabeth Taylor will give still further proof of her capabilities as a competent and dependable worker. Editing an annual involves a lot of hard work and requires a girl who not only will stick to the job but has the ability to carry it through successfully. There is no doubt in our minds as to Elizabeth's competency. The various activities she engages in at present confirm her sense of initiative and responsibility. Having held the position of business manager of the Virginian this year, Elizabeth has already had some practical experience and we feel confident that she is well-prepared for her new position as editor. We wish her the greatest success knowing that she will always give us her best.

The Rotunda staff for next year will find a competent and experienced editor in Jessie Smith. Jessie has worked in the newspaper line since her high school days and has shown her abilities in this field as assistant editor of the Rotunda this year. Jessie is a good worker and we know she will work hard in the interest of the Roturda next year. We hope she will enjoy her new position and we are sure she will make a success of it.

"The Voice", being a comparatively new magazine, needs a most efficient editor; a girl who thoroughly understands the technique of publishing a literary magazine. Annie Denit is undoubtedly the girl for this position. She has already acted once before as editor for literary magazine and thus has the advantage of previous experience. Annie writes very creditably herself and can therefore be a competent judge of the literary merit of the material offered for her magazine. We realize that Annie is well-qualified for her new position and we know that she will keep up the standards of "The Voice." We look forward expectantly to the results of her work next year as editor of our literary magazine.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

MARY FRANCES HATCHET

As we look among our caps and gowns there is one who we all know, admire and would be glad to follow in her footsteps. She has been our most oustanding athlete for four years. When she was a freshman she won the silver cup for winning more points than anyone else. She served as the vice-president of the Athletic Association when she was a sophomore and president when she was a junior. Now she is serving as the treasurer of the Student Council and still holds the honor of best athlete.

She is a member of one of the highest honor fraternities, Alpha Kappa Gamma, which stands for scholarship, leadership and honor. All of us surely aspire for such a record as Mary Frances possesses.

We have all sung, "She's a peach, she's a dream. She's the captain of our team," and we might add an "s" to team for she has led our teams to glorious victories and honorable defeats. She has played the game of life fairly and we know she will always do so.

We hate to lose you, Mary Frances, but we are glad to know that others will know and love you as we do and always will. We are all shouting "good luck" to you and feel sure that you will find it.

VIRGINIA MOORE

No where among our distinguished caps and gowns can we find another person who has served our Alma Mater this year with such a marked degree of fidelity and capability as "Gina."

As vice-presirent of the Senior class, member of Alpha Kappa Gamma and chairman of the May Day program she has demonstrated her ability and versality. "Gina" is just the one to put things across in a big way, just the person every successful organization needs.

The earnestness and thoroughness with which she works is perfectly balanced by a charm of personality that makes her the most lovable of companions and the truest of friends.

The success with which Virginia has met during her four years here is certain to follow her in her future active career. We wish you the good luck you deserve.

43 STUDENTS RECEIVE WRITING CERTIFICATES

Continued from page one

Mistr, Clara
Neblett, Audine
Nicholson, Bruce
Owens, Eleanor
Odor, Susie
Porter, Lucie
Pratt, Marian
Prillaman, Frances
Pritchett, Elizabeth
Rodgers, Alice
Rodgers, Julia
Rothwell, Frances
Royster, Kathryn
Spencer, Josie
Smoot, Frank
Varner, Margaret
Wetzel, Margaret
Withers, Susan Jane
Williams, Virginia
Waller, Thelma R.
Yarbrough, Virginia

MISS LUCY GAGE SPEAKS AT S. T. C.

(Continued from Page 1)

Tennessee. Before going to Nashville she did pioneer work in this field in Oklahoma, Michigan and other states of the middle west. During the coming summer Miss Gage will spend three months in South America visiting elementary schools and teachers colleges, holding conferences, and lecturing before various organizations including the National Education Association of South America.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony
Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S
DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery
AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Farmville - - - - Va.

McIntosh's Drug Store
New State Teachers College
STATIONERY
Farmville - - - - Va.

CANADA DRUG CO.
Next to Baldwin's Store
Come to us for your cosmetics and
STATIONERY
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

DON'T FORGET YOUR BEST PAL
NEXT MONTH
MOTHER'S DAY MOTTOS
25c EACH
on sale now!
SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES
MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

SMART NEW FOOTWEAR
BALDWIN'S
$5 TO $7.50

VIVA-TOUS Footwear steps out with spring—gay, colorful and decidedly new. Here you will find the new pastel shades in kidskin and calf—all attuned to the happiest moods of the new season.

NEW SILK DRESSES
$7.95
new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.
—in the Basement—
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

The Rotunda Wishes You a Happy Easter

ROTUNDA

Lynchburg Male Choir to Sing Here April 22

Volume X THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 16, 1930 No. 27

JONGLEURS GIVE "CAPT. APPLEJACK"

It Was a Mystery Adventure In Three Acts Creditably Presented

The H. S. C. Jongleurs presented their spring play, "Captain Applejack" in the S. T. C. auditorium last Thursday evening, April '0 at 8:15 o'clock. There was a comparatively large audience present which was composed mostly of Hampden-Sydney and S. T. C. students.

The play was mystery adventure in three acts. It was written by Walter Hackett and was given by special arrangement with Samuel French of New York.

The play was cleverly worked up, and the boys made unusually good girls which is a compliment to the Jongleurs' talent. This will be the only play presented at S. T. C. this spring since the Dramatic Club is not putting on their regular play.

The character of "Captain Applejack" were as follows:

Lush	H. E. Kann
Poppy Faire	R. M. Wilson
Mrs. Agatha Whatcombe	C. W. Chappell
Ambrose Applejohn,	L. H. Miller, Jr.
Anna Voleska	P. H. Ropp
Mrs. Pengard	A. W. Potts
Horace Pengard	C. L. Cabell
Ivan Borolsky	A. C. Hopkins, Jr.
Dennet	R. G. McAllister
Johnny Jason	J. W. Gulick

Miss Tabb, Honorary Member of Kappa Delta Pi Fraternity

The Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi announces the election of Miss Jennie Masters Tabb as an honorary member.

Miss Tabb is an alumna of our college and has for a number of years served it faithfully in the capacity of Registrar. In recognition of her ability, she is regarded as one of the outstanding registrars of the country. Miss Jennie is the author of our Alma Mater song and has written several books, one of them being "Father Tabb, His Life and Works." and another a collection of poems, "For You."

Miss Tabb is the second honorary member of the local chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, Dr. Jarman having been elected last year as the first member of that ranking.

MAY 15 IS DATE SET FOR FIELD DAY HERE

It's time to start thinking about Field Day and to really get down to work in field and track practices. Field Day will be held this year on May 15, which is not so very long after Easter. There is a wide variety of events which take place on Field Day. One may enter the dash, running, broad-jump, shot put, hop-step-jump, javelin throw, hurdles, running high jump, baseball throw, or class relays. That is, you may take your pick. Participants in the meet are limited to entering one running or jumping and two throwing events; or one throwing and two jumping or running events. In addition to these they may enter class relays. This is a good chance to win some more points towards that monogram or blazer. Practice up!

MAJOR OFFICERS FOR 1930-1931

Left to right—Rena Robertson, president Y. W. C. A.; Adele Hutchinson, president Student Body; Jessie Smith, editor "The Rotunda"; Annie Denit editor "The Voice"; Laura N. Smith, president Athletic Association; Elizabeth Taylor, editor "The Virginian."

MISS CARRIE E. MEARS VISITS FARMVILLE S. T. C.

Miss Carrie Mears, the National Student Secretary of the Southern division of the Y. W. C. A., visited this school the week-end of April 11 to 13.

Miss Mears was at Blue Ridge last year and will be there again this year. She gave very helpful suggestions to the new president of the "Y", and as well to the members of the old cabinet.

There was a reception given for Miss Mears in the Student Building lounge last Friday evening. She aso attended the "Little Sister" party in the "Rec" Saturday evening.

Though Miss Mears visit was very short, it was very helpful to S. T. C.

HUTCHINSON AND MARSHALL ATTEND CONVENTION

Adele Hutchinson, president-elect of our Student Government Association, and Etta Marshall, the retiring president, will attend the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Government which will be held at N. C. C. W., Greensboro, N. C., April 17 to 20.

Each year the S. I. A. S. G. meets to discuss the problems common to every campus. Last year the convention was held at Sophia Newcomb in New Orleans, Louisiana. It is attended by the outgoing and incoming student government presidents.

VA. REGISTRARS MEET IN LEXINGTON APRIL 15

On Saturday, April 5, the Association of Virginia Rgistrars met in Lexington, with V. M. I. and Washington and Lee University as joint hosts.

Misses Tabb, Bugg, Blanton and Henderlite atended this meeting at which there were twenty-one Registrars present, representing the following institutions: University of Virginia, Washington and Lee University, V. M. I., Hollins College, Martha Washington College, Bridgewater College, the State Teachers Colleges at Harrisonburg, Radford, Fredericksburg and Farmville, Normal and Industrial Institute at Hampton, Lynchburg College, Roanoke College.

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA

The National Convention of Alpha Kappa Gamma was held at the University of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C. on April 11, 12 and 13. The Florence Nightingale Circle of South Carolina acted as hostess. They were ably assisted in their plans for entertainment by the South Carolina chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa, brother fraternity to Alpha Kappa Gamma.

Business sessions of the convention were held in Friday morning and afternoon, and again on Saturday morning. Special committee work and reports held on Saturday afternoon ended the entire business session. The delegates were guests of honor at a garden party given at the home of Dr. Mikell on Friday afternoon. On Friday night, the Palmetto Players gave a special performance of "The Baby Cyclone" for the guests. The play was followed b ya reception and informal dance sponsored by the Omicron Delta Kappas. Saturday night our girls attended the Junior hop which was given in the University gymnasium.

The college will be interested to know that three of our number hold offices on the National Council for 1930-31. They are: Miss Florence Stubbs, elected national executive secretary; Miss Louise McCormick, re-elected national vice-president, and Miss Etta Marshall, elected a member at large. The delegates from the Joan Circle were Virginia Gurley, Etta Marshall, and Virginia Robertson. From all reports all of the girls had a wonderful time and are almost willing to be converted into South Carolina.

SYMPATHY

The student body wishes to extend sincere sympathy to Misses Louise, Helen, and Rena Robertson in their recent sorrow.

MINOR OFFICERS WERE ELECTED HERE TUESDAY, APRIL 15TH, BY STUDENTS

Virginia Robertson Is Elected Vice-President of the Student Council

Tuesday's elections resulted as follows:

Student Government Association

Vice-President	Virginia Robertson
Treasurer	Mildred Maddrey
Campus League Chmn.,	Jane Royall

Y. W. C. A.

Vice-president	Martha Faris
Secretary	Henrietta Cornwall
Treasurer	Elizabeth Temple
Undergraduate Rep.,	A. J. Scott

Athletic Association

Vice-president	Emily Simpson
Secretary	Easter Souders
Treasurer	Frances Edwards

Rotunda

Associate Editor	Louise Elliot
Business Mgr.	Dorothy Goodloe

Virginian

Business Manager	Charlotte Hutchins
Art Editor	Patty Ellison
Literary Editor,	Katherine McAllister

Voice

Business Manager	Winston Cobb

House Council

President	Hanna Crawley
Secretary	Dorothy Snedegar

The student body demonstrated splendid judgment in selecting for these important offices girls who have showed their worth and capabilities. With such an efficient corps of officers to guide and administer school activities this coming year we feel assured of a happy and successful year.

Mary E. Brydon, Child Welfare Head, Dies

(Richmond Times-Dispatch, April 11, 1930)

Dr. Mary Evelyn Brydon, head of the Child Welfare Department of the State Board of Health, died at mid-night last night at St. Luke's Hospital after an illness of three weeks. In private life she was Mrs. George L. MacKay of 2709 Seminary Avenue.

Dr. Brydon was born in Danville in 1878, the daughter of Robert and Ellen Paige Dame Brydon. She went in training to be a nurse at a hospital in Philadelphia, Pa., later studying medicine. She took her degree at the Woman's Medical College of Philadelphia.

Dr. Brydon was engaged in public health nursing in Danville for some time, later becoming director of physical welfare of Farmville State Teachers College. Dr. Brydon became connected with the Virginia State Board of Health in 1918 and since that time has been engaged as director of child welfare.

Her untiring efforts for child health have made her a significant figure in this and other states, and her admirable traits of character have endeared her to a multitude of friends in Farmville, and wherever her influence has been felt.

S .T. C. MEMBERS JUDGE MADISONVILLE CONTEST

The county oratorical and reading contests and debates for Charlotte County were held at Madisonvillle on Friday. All the schools in the county had entries in each of these events and the whole day was taken up. The judges for the oratorical and reading contest were Mr. Coyner and Frances Wilson. Mary Mann Baskerville and Maria Warren judged the debates. Not only did they render a decision on each of the six debates, but they selected the best affirmative and negative teams from the twelve. These two teams debated on Friday evening and Dr. Walmsley was a judge then A rather interesting fact is, that the teams that debated each other Friday night were both from the same school at Keysville.

MISSES TABB AND BUGG ATTEND MEMPHIS MEET

Miss Tabb and Miss Bugg left on Saturday, April 12 for Memphis, to attend the annual meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars.

This national association embraces universities, colleges and normal schools in every State of the Union, in Canada, and in several foreign countries. The membership has grown to nearly seven hundred institutions.

LYNCHBURG MALE CHOIR TO SING AT S. T. C.

The Lynchburg Male Choir, consisting of thirty voices, will be presented in the College auditorium next Tuesday night, April 22 at 8:15 p. m. The choir is composed of business and professional men. The programs hitherto have been similar to the one recently rendered in Farmville by the Boston Male Choir. The price of admission is 35c for students and 50c for others. This entertainment is sponsored by the Junior Class.

Kappa Delta Pi Sets Date for Meet With Frosh and Sophomores

The Beta Epsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society in education, will be hostess at a formal reception to be given April 29 in the lounge of the Student Building for a few members of the freshman and sophomore classes. The girls who will be thus honored will be those freshmen and sophomores whose grades are in the upper quartile of the entire student body.

Each spring the members of the local chapter of Kappa Delta Pi give a reception to recognize the freshmen and sophomores who have done work of outstanding quality, and to enable the faculty and members to become better acquainted with these girls. It is hoped that there will be a large number whose grades are up to the required standard so that they may receive an invitation to the reception this year.

S. T. C. DEBATES NORTHWESTERN UNIV.

Tonight S. T. C. debates here Northwestern University, Chicago, Illinois, for the first time. This is one of the most important debates of the season, and should prove to be one of the most interesting. It means a lot to our college to have a debate with Northwestern and we hope such relations may continue.

Northwestern has accomplished much along forensic lines. At the University there is a department devoted to forensic activities. Perhaps we may reach that stage some day.

Maria Warren and Alice Harrison will argue for disarmament against Deesberg and Fels of Northwestern.

Continued on last page

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — LUCY THOMPSON, '30
Associate Editor — JESSIE SMTH, '31

Board of Editors

News Editor — LILLIAN BOVELL, '30
Literary Editor — LINDA WILKINSON, '30
Athletic Editor — MILDRED MADDREY, '31
World News Editor — GERTRUDE RICHARDSON, '30
Intercollegiate News Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — RACHEL ROYAL, '30
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — MAMIE HURT, '31
Humorous Editor — "BILLIE" PARIS, '30
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

MARIA WARREN, '32 — DOROTHY SNEDEGAR, '33
ANNIE DENIT, '31
ANN STUMP, '30

Proof Reader — SARA BAKER, '31
Assistant Proof Reader — JESSIE WATKINS, '33

Managers

Business Manager — SARA McCORKLE, '30
Assistant Business Manager — PEARL JOHNSON, '32
Circulation Manager — MARTHA ANTHONY, '30
Assistant Circulation Manager — NANNIE SUE ANTHONY, '30

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorial

Minor Eelections

Just as a cob in a wheel is minor so is a minor office. To my notion, both are truly major in significance. If one girl goes to make up a part of a unit, then he is playing a vital part in that unit. Therefore the elections of yesterday can no longer be termed minor except in a distinctive sense.

It is quite an honor to be chosen to fill one of these so-called minor offices for in the working through those offices comes the apprenticing and selection of those people who will head major organizations later on.

A girl who occupies one of these offices should put her best into it and feel that she is working toward something bigger. Each day's task goes to prove one's ability for her special line of work.

A hint to the wise should be sufficient—remember your work is being checked on so put your best into it!

The Nth Degree of Honor

Honor is something that is always of the same significance. It is not a thing that can be analyzed into various parts and looked at under the microscope. A person is either honorable or not honorable. A deed is either honorable or not honorable.

We have just revised our Honor System and divided it into two distinct part: the Honor Code and Dormitory and Social Regulations. The basis for the division was this: under the Honor Code we have included questions of honor that are universal, questions which are just as vital at home, in other schools, in other countries, as they are on our own campus; and, under the Dormitory and Social Regulations are listed the citizenship responsibilities of each student in State Teachers College during her residence here.

If we steal, or tell a lie we have broken our honor no matter whether we are in our homes or up here in college. If we go down town at night at home it is a very pleasant thing to do, btu if we go down town at night while in college we have violated a Dormitory and Social regulation which governs us. It is our responsibility to keep these regulations for the good of the school, for the good of the other students, and for the good of ourselves.

Do you not think it is the honorable thing to do to respect these regulations while we are enjoying advantages which our Alma Mater has for us? It is just as important to be honorable in the least as it is in the greatest. Rather, it seems to me, it is much more of a compliment for someone to say of a girl that she can be depended upon to do the right thing in even the least important things than the bigger phases of living in which everyone more or less does the right thing. An honorable person is honorable in every little thing.

EASTER IS HERE!

Only one more day to wait for the eventful day! We have been looking forward to Easter ever since Christmas—each of us for different reasons. All the outdoors tells us that Easter is here and we are ready for it. Before the warm days come, we worked with busy figures on new prints and pastel-shaded frocks for Easter, each of us vieing with others to see whose fingers could fly the fastest.

Watch the outgoing trains Thursday. Won't they be packed? And all the buses! Everyone will be smiling. Happy faces will lean from bus and car window to say "good-bye" to those who have not left. Dear 'ole Farmville will be deserted. Never mind, we'll be back on schedule time next Tuesday. And oh for a glorious Easter Sunday at home. If it rains!—but of course it won't. It just mustn't on Easter Sunday morning. Of course not. There may be a shower the night before to make the grass fresher. The sun will be shining warmly. On the lawn at home the lilacs and hyacinths will be blooming; and the birds will sing their Easter carols. All nature will proclaim the rebirth of its creatures so I'll bring out my new frock and bonnet an djoin the parade. The new clothes will be only an outward sign of the change that is taking place within me. All the drabness and disillusion of winter will be cast off. There will be room in my heart for joy only, radiant ecstatic joy.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

In the Chilkline of the East Tennesse S. T. C., we find the following thought stimulant: In every school there are a few students, as well as teachers, who depend on bluff to get them by. If these so-called bluffers could only realize the great awakening that will eventually come to them, they would leave out these silly make-believes and do their best to accomplish assigned tasks. They are awake, yet asleep to their duties. They hear but they are deaf to the cry for real service. They are unsettled wanderers of the world who rob civilization of so much because they never reveal their true selves, but walk in the ways of a bluffer.—The Pelican.

A test flight was made by the William and Mary Glider Club last Saturday at the Fair Grounds. Several members of the club went up in the ship, and found gliding to be the fascination of today, as far as air sports are concerned.—The Flat Hat.

'TWAS THE 16th OF APRIL

'Twas the '6th of April when all thru the dorms,
Not a creature was silent, 'twas all in a storm.

The baggage was packed and strapped with much care,
In hopes that morning would soon be there.

The girls were bunking four in a bed,
While visions of dances pranced thru their heads.

With grease on their faces and combs in their hair,
In hopes that beauty would soon be theirs.

When up on third there rose such a clatter,
The breakfast bell ringing that was the matter!

They pulled on their clothes and rushed out the doors,
To report more quickly than ever before.

They ran to their classes their minds far away,
"To home again before mid-day!"

'Twas a quarter past eleven when all thru the dorms
Not a noise was heard. For the girls had all gone.

—Nancy Cox and Mary K. Thorp in The Salemite.

ALUMNAE NEWS

On last Saturday in Hopewell an automobile driven by Miss Evelyn Beckham collided with a motor cycle in which two men were riding. The men were painfully but not seriously hurt, Miss Beckham was unimjured.

Mrs. C. J. Heatwole will give a talk on "Literature for Children" before the regular meeting of the Ginter Park Womans Club in Richmond on Wednesday afternoon, April 16.

Miss Virginia Tinsley has been elected first vice-president of the Fair Association of Culpeper and adjoining counties. The annual exhibition will be held September 1, 2, and 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gordon Waddell of Charlottesville have announced the engagament of their daughter, Clotilda Rodes to Dr. Robert Battaile Hiden of Washington, D. C. Miss Waddell has been for the past three years a member of the faculty of the National Cathedral School of Washington. Dr. Hiden, who is an alumnus of the University of Virginia and has practiced medicine several years in Washington, well become a member of the Austin Fox Riggs' Foundation, Stockbridg, Mass, in April.

HOLLYWOOD NOTABLES ATTENDANCE IN "REC"

Everyone danced to her heart's content last Saturday night at the Hollywood party given by the Seniors for their "Little Sisters". The Hampden-Sydney orchestra furnished the music. What more could be needed?

Mary Ellen Cato, dressed to represent Janet Gaynor, took the prize of the evening. We grant that Mary Ellen could pass as the double of that petite actress any day. Among the other Hollywood notable present, was Greta Garbo as seen in her talking picture, "Anna Christie." A. J. Scott impersonated the famous Greta in this last of her star roles.

Later in the evening punch and sandwiches were served. Even movie stars have appetites! All the good food was gone before you could say "scat"!

The party lasted until 10:30 when a reluctant Hollywood had to retire. The evening turned out a great success for all those who were there and everyone hated to see it end.

Alpha Epsilon Chapter of Pi Kappa Sigma announces the following new pledge: Jenilee Knight, of Big Stone Gap, Virginia.

SUCCESS

Success is counted sweetest
By those ne'er succeed.
To comprehend a nectar
Requires sorest need

Not one of all the purple host
Who took the flag today
Can tell the definition,
So clear of victory,
As he, defeated, dying,
On whose forbidden ear
The distant strains of triumph
Break, agonized and clear.

Emily Dickinson

GOLD SPURS

"Shall we bury him in his spurs, ma'am?"
She glanced from the gold spurs to the gray eyes,
Steady eyes, filled with a sort of dumb despair—
His men adored him so!
Her small daughter crept near bewildered
By the strange quiet of the house and the terrible
Sorrow in her mother's face.
Clasping her arms about her mother's knees
She gazed up at the man in tattered gray.
At the touch of the little arms the mother smiled,
"Yes," she whispered, "it is the soldier who lies there,
The man can never die."

Alice LeB. Ribble

CHARACTER OF A HAPPY LIFE

How happy is he born and taught
That serveth not another's will;
Whose own is his honest thought
And simple truth his utmost skill!

Whose passions not his masters are,
Whose soul is still prepared for death,
Untied unto the world by care
Of public fame, or private breath;

Who envies none that chance doth raise,
Nor vice; who never understood
How deepest wounds are given by praise;
Nor rules of state, but rules of good:

Who hath his life from rumors freed;
Whose conscience in his strong retreat
Whose state can neither flatters feed,
Nor ruin make opressors great;

Who God doth late and early pray
More of His grace than gifts to lend;
And entertain the harmless day
With a well chosen book or friend;

—This man is freed from servile bands
Of hope to rise, or fear to fall;
Lord if himself, though not of lands;
And having nothing, yet hath all.

Henry Wotton

KEEP A-PLUGGIN' AWAY

I've humble little motto —
That is homely, though it's true,—
Keep a-pluggin' away.
It's a thing when I've an object
That I always try to do,—
Keep a-pluggin' away.
When you've rising storms to quell,
When opposing waters swell,
It will never fail to tell,—
Keep a-pluggin' away.

If the hills are high before
And the paths are hard to climb,
Keep a-pluggin' away.
And remember that successes
Come to him who bides his time,—
Keep a-pluggin' away.
From the greatest to the least,
None are from the rule released.
Be thou toiler, poet, priest,
Keep a-pluggin' away.
Delve away beneath the surface,
There is treasure farther down,—
Keep a-pluggin' away.
Let the rain come down in torrents,
Let the threat bring heavens frown,
Keep a-pluggin' away.
When the clouds have rolled away,
There will come a brighter day
All your labor to repay,—
Keep a-pluggin' away.

There'll be lots of sneers to swallow,
There'll be lots of pain to bear,—
Keep a-pluggin' away.
If you've got your eye on heaven,
Some bright day you'll wake up there,
Keep a-pluggin' away.
Perseverance still is king;
Time its sure reward will bring;
Work and wait unwearying,—
Keep a-pluggin' away.

Paul Lawrence Dunbar

TO—

I heard a boy's voice singing,
Riding thru the night,
A song that was soft and crooning,
Like a silver ship coming in sight.

A lilting song of youthful love,
Of sunrise and of dawn—
Of love as sweet as bird-song
On a summer morn.

A thrilling song of passion,
And a golden galleon—
Emerald sail 'gainst azure sky,
'Neath a tropic sun.

Then the boy stopped singing,
And all was still once more,
And I heard the sea breeze sobbing
And the waves upon the shore.

Alice LeB. Ribble

SOCIALS

Frances Davis, Margaret and Marthat Faris, Leslie Ritter, and Sue Moomaw went shopping in Richmond Saturday.

Allie Kae Libby and Alice Hardaway attended the dances at Randolph-Macon College at Ashland last week-end.

Margaret Rickerts spent the week-end at Annapolis.

Misses Stubbs, Etta Marshall, Virginia Gurley and Virginia Robertson attended the Alpha Kappa Gamma convention at the University of South Carolina last week.

Florence Booten spent the week-end at her home in Orange.

Mary Pearson and Dorothy Powell spent the week-end at Blackstone.

Nan Griffith left Saturday to attend the Easter dances at Boston Tech.

Mary Buford Epes, Mary Catherine Borden and Margaret Hix spent the week-end in Chase City.

Verena Greaves, Jacque Lee, Margaret Priest, Vernie Oden, Margaret Loving, Lucile Norman, Sara McCorkle, Loulie Milner, Ella S. Clare, Virginia Ford, Louise Hilton, Jane Withers, Helen Tankersley, Mary Oliver, Mary Martin, Elizabeth Hurt, Isabelle Fleshman, and Mary F. Cannaday spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Susie Baker and Elizabeth Spindle spent the week-end in Fredericksburg.

Frances Fox, Kathryn Claud, and Florence Gregory spent the week-end in Appomattox.

Nell Armfield, "Teeny" Myers, Anna Tucker, Katherine Tucker, Anna James, Rebecca French, and Elizabeth Jordan spent the week-end in Richmond.

Mariam Forward and Mary Virginia Linney spent the week-end in Crewe.

Ann and Julia Drew spent the week-end in Burkeville.

Sigma Sigma Sigma had its Founders Day banquet Saturday, April 12 at seven o'clock at Longwood. The sorority also spent the night and returned to school Sunday morning.

Alumnae who returned fore the banqeut were: Mrs. Bob Saffelle, Virginia Boxley, Sara Cross, Minor Jones and Mary Rives Richardson.

THETA CHI DANCES

The Theta Chi fraternity dances were given last Friday and Saturday nights. The German Club was decorated in modernistic designs in red and white, the colors of the fraternity.

The chaperones were: Misses Mary White Cox, Virginia Bedford, Mrs. Warren and Miss Tabb.

The S. T. C. girls who attended these dances were: Frances Parker, Jessie Smith, Lucile Graves, Eleanor Hogan, Alma Garlick, Lucy Dortch, Ruth and Ruby Hunt, Ann Black, Doris Walton. Mary Priest, Melisse Mullins, Elaine Goode, Frances Potts, Mayo Beaty, Martha Walters, Edith Britty, Gazell Ware, Coty Neele, Lela Germany, Martha Saunders and Elizabeth Etheridge.

STUDENT COUNCIL ENTERTAINS MISS MARY

The Student Council entertained Miss Mary at a very enjoyable supper in the tea room on Wednesday night, April 2. The table was very attractive with long pink candles and a large basket full of pink and lavender sweet peas in the center. In addition to Miss Mary and the Council, Miss Jennie and Miss Potts were present. It was a happy event for all.

The old Virginia College in South Roanoke will reopen this year as a military school under the name of Harris Military Institute, and an announcement from the Roanoke Chamber of Commerce.

Colonel Otey Crawford Hulvey will operate the school which is named after Dr. William A. Harris, who is the founder of Virginia College. Colonel Hulvey has been connected with military schools for many years. The barracks will have a capacity of 250 students, and as many day students will be enrolled as possible.—The Virginia Tech.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

FRANCES WILSON

It would take more than an ordinary vocabulary to adequately describe the accomplishments of this senior. In her four years at S. T. C. Frances has made a most enviable record in all phases of work, and she has excelled all others in nearly everything to which she has turned her versatile mind.

Frances' ability as a student may be vouched for by an honor record during her years at S. T. C., and by her outstanding membership in Kappa Delta Pi, honor society in education; Pi Gamma Mu, social science honor society, and Pi Kappa Delta, National honor forensic society. This year Frances has captured the highest honors which can be obtained in debating. The "Invincible Team", of which she is a member, went to the national convention of Pi Kappa Delta, held recently in Kansas, with a victorious debate record.

She has proved her literary ability by her work on the Annual for the last two years in which have been revealed wonderful talent and originality. As a member of the Dramatic Club Frances has demonstrated to the fullest extent more of her versatility, and has been an invaluable part of the club.

We can say of Frances that there is nothing she cannot do and do well, from the least to the greatest of academic activities. Frances has a host of friends and admirers who rejoice at her splendid success and varied attainments. Her's is a most unusual record. Along with it all she is the possessor of a charming personality, wit and cleverness. We need not predict great things for her in the future, for we know she will meet with the same if not greater success in all she undertakes in her future career. We wish you luck and happiness in everything, Frances!

GET YOUR
SPRING LINGERIE AT

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Quality—Price—Service
Come in and get acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

SPRING SHOWING OF
HATS
THE HAT SHOPPE
Mrs. H. H. Hunt
THIRD STREET
FARMVILLE - - - - VA

$5
IN GOLD
FOR A NAME

To the one submitting the most appropriate name for our modern and up-to-date kitchen cabinet
THE FARMVILLE FURNITURE & CABINET COMPANY, Inc.
Makers of Fine Kitchen Furniture
Will offer as a prize $5.00 in Gold

The only rules in connection with this contest are:

No name should be submitted which will conflict with the registered name of any other Kitchen Cabinet or furniture.

All names must be plainly written with the signature and address of sender.

All names should be in the office of the Company on or before FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1930.

This contest is open to all persons except, officers and employees of the Company and their families.

Send your suggestion in NOW. Address all letters to: The Secretary, Farmville Furniture and Cabinet Company, Inc., Farmville Va., and mark your envelope—"Name Contest."

CAPP'S STORE
Next to the Theatre
Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies
MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Fairmer Gift Shop
Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery
Engraving
COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh films)
Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)
COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S
is headquarters for the best
SANDWICHES AND DRINKS
in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
Work done while you wait with
First Class Materials
110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS
Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop
323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will fix your shoes
WHILE YOU WAIT
Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS
TAILORING CLEANING
PRESSING
Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

SPRING OPENING SPECIALS

The new three piece knitted suits all colors and combination colors $9.95

Beautiful spring coats, sport and dress wear with and without lapin fur ..... $9.95 to $27.50

Beautiful new spring shoes the newest blondes, dull kids, and patents, reds, blues, and greens, all sizes and widths, from C to AAAA's $2.85, $3.85, $4.85, $5.85 and $6.85.

Final Close Out—of all early spring and fall dresses, original values from $15 to $27.50, special $5.95

Allen A Hosiery, $1.50 values, special $1.00

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Farmville, Va.

"Yes, I have five children, and both of them are boys."

"Why, that is impossible."

"Well, the other half are boys too."—Mugwump.

"Lady," said Mike, "would you lend me a cake of soap?"

"Do you mean to tell me you want soap?"

"Yes'm. Me partner's got de hiccups an' I want to scare him.'"—Exchange.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said the speaker, "before I begin my address I have something that I want to say to you."—Texas Ranger.

A woman adopted a French baby. Soon afterwards she began a diligent study of French. Her friends wondered and wondered. Finally they asked her why.

"Oh, I'm doing it so that I can understand baby when he begins to talk."—Dodo.

Betty: Why do you always seem to cold, dear?

Lela: Perhaps because I am.

Mostz: "What did father say when you told him you were going to take me away from him?

Doc: He seemed to feel his loss keenly at first, but I squared things up with a good cigar."

Mary Custis: "If you woke up in the night, what would you do for a light?"

Harriet: "Take a feather from the pillow. Isn't that light enough?"

A Cheapskate: The man who reversed the charges on a long-distance call to the poorhouse.

Prof.: "What is the most important date in history?"

Stude: "Anthony with Cleopatra."

Teacher: "Jimmie, define and give an example of heredity."

Jimmie: "It means that—that—well, if your grandfather didn't have no children, your father wouldn't have none, neither—and—neither would you."

Beaty (to date): "Come on, forget Boy Scout pledge and steal."

Proprietor: "Madame, will you have snails? We are famous for them."

Medora Ford: "I know, one served me here yesterday."

"Give me a sentence with 'Life-saver' mint."

"If Life-saver meant a thing to me, it's been since I met you!"

Man at theatre (to talking occupant in front seat): "Excuse me, but we can't hear a word that's being said."

Talking One (indignantly): "It's no business of yours what I'm telling my wife."

This is food for reflection said the billy-goat as he ate the looking glass.

English Prof. (during class recitation): "The boy stood on the burning deck . . ." "Now, Rene, can you tell me what this quotation typifies?"

Rene Greaves: "Sure, flaming youth."

HONORARY VOLLEY BALL VARSITY CHOSEN

The honorary volley ball varsity has been selected and is composed of the following:

E. Frances Edwards
Claudia Fleming
Mary Gregory
Mary Frances Hatchett
Kathleen Hundley
Dorothy Ritchie
Emily Simpson
Dorothy Snedegar

APPRECIATION

Although we are now playing baseball we have just seen the close of a lively and successful volleyball season headed by Hildegarde Ross who has shown great interest in the field of athletics. She has been a most efficient worker in keeping the volley ball equipment in tip-top shape, and did much to keep the interest of the girls in the sport from waning.

We will take off our hats to Hildegarde with a word of appreciation.

S. T. C. DEBATES NORTH-WESTERN UNIVERSITY

(Continued from Page 1)

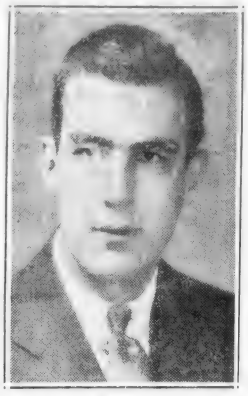
Maria and Alice won out in their debate on this same subject with Harrisonburg recently. We wish them luck in this combat. Doesberg and Fels are accomplished speakers, and this is a debate you can not afford to miss.

The debaters from Northwestern are accompanied on the trip by Dr. Cunningham who has been outstanding in forensic work, and who was instrumental in securing the Virginia Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta for Farmville.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of April 21 to 26

MON. & TUES.—Gary Cooper in "THE VIRGINIAN", an all-talking outdoor special production with Mary Brian, Richard Arlen and Walter Huston. Owen Wister's "cowboy classic". Millions have read it and love its throbbing romance, its thrilling action. Now you see and hear it. Vividly alive on the talking screen. Love, action. Tender pathos! Filmed with sound on backgrounds of stupendous natural beauty. Hear Cooper's rich, charming Southern drawl in a picture that is his outstanding success to date. See the great cattle round-up, the rustlers and their herd, the immovable faith of pals, the love of pioneer souls. Regular prices. Also Pathe Review and "Love's Memories", a new song novelty.

WED.— Only! — "HALF MARRIAGE," with Olive Borden. Dashing drama of eager youth, drenched with jazz and lovely melody in which the heroine and hero enter into a secret marriage and become the victims of slander, but triumph in the end. This is considered the best picture yet made by Olive Borden, and one that especially appeals to the younger generation. The music is played by Gus Arnheim's Ambassador Syncopators. Remember this exceptional production is for one day only. Also two reel Talking Comedy.



THURS. & FRI.—Joan Crawford in "MONTANA MOON" supported by John Mack Brown, Ricardo Cortez, Cliff Edwards and Benny Rubin. This picture has five songs, one, "The Moon Is Low," will be the biggest hit of the year. Here's a picture with everything—fascinating star. daring love interest. Out-door, red-blooded action, grand comedy, lilting song hits. It's got freshness and interest and heart appeal. Imagine the fascinating Joan as an Easter society girl out west to tame a cowboy and being tamed by him instead. If you like romance, comedy and songs, don't fail to see "Montana Moon." Also two reel Talking Comedy.

SAT. —Only—Rod LaRocque in "BEAU BANDIT", supported by beautiful Doris Kenyon. The screen's lovable bad man at his debonaire best. Stirring adventures of a cavalier-bandit whose sentimental nature often diverts him from villiany into channels of usefulness. Are you tired of drawing-room dramas, the girl-music show, court room scenes, back-stage stories? Then don't fail to see Rod LaRocque and Doris Kenyon in a picture that really entertains and is different, and hear Miss Kenyon sing for the first time on the screen.

Also Pathe Sound News.

Admission—Adults 35c at nights; 25c at mats. Children under 12, 15c to each show.

Two shows each night—7:30 & 9:15. Daily mats. at 4 p. m.

L. H. MILLER, of the Jongleurs, the Hampden-Sydney Players, who took the leading part of Ambrose Applejohn in "Captain Applejack" presented by that organization in the S. T. C. auditorium last Thursday evening.

TENNIS SEASON BEGINS

The tennis nets are up and the courts are marked. Everything is ready for the tournaments now. Girls, start early and play your tournaments off, and see if you can not soon reach the top of the ladder. Put your scores in Miss Iler's mail-box, so a record can be made of it. The tournament will last until May 24. Tennis balls are for sale in the gym for 39c.

Don't forget—start now!

"Young man, I'd just like to see you kissing my daughter."

"I think it can be arranged, madam."

SCHEMMEL

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony

Aesthetics, Etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.

Dealers in

Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery

AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Farmville - - - - Va.

McIntosh's Drug Store

New State Teachers College

STATIONERY

Farmville - - - - Va.

CANADA DRUG CO.

Next to Baldwin's Store

Come to us for your cosmetics and

STATIONERY

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

In smart cases of polished platinum-tone refillable Favourite Coty odeurs, $1.50.

Les Parfums
COTY

JUST for your purse—
your favourite Coty
Perfume to carry about with you always.

COTY

DON'T FORGET YOUR BEST PAL
NEXT MONTH
MOTHER'S DAY MOTTOS
25c EACH
on sale now!
SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES
MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

SMART NEW FOOTWEAR

BALDWIN'S
$5 TO $7.50

VIVACIOUS Footwear steps out with spring—gay, colorful and decidedly new. Here you will find the new pastel shades in kidskin and calf—all attuned to the happiest moods of the new season.

NEW SILK DRESSES
$7.95
new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.
—in the Basement—

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

WATCH FOR SOPHOMORE MINSTREL

ROTUNDA

MAY DAY TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Volume X — THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 30, 1930 — No. 28

VIRGINIA ROBERTSON HEADS SENIOR CLASS OF '31; OTHER OFFICERS ELECTED

Ella Carroll and Elizabeth Taylor are the Council Representatives

The Junior Class held is election of officers Tuesday evening, April 29 and the results of this meeting were as follows:

President — Virginia Robertson

Vice-President — Catherine McAllister

Secretary — Evelyn Simpson

Treasurer — Mabel Barksdale

Government Representatives— Elizabeth Taylor and Ella Carroll

Class Council Representative — Chloris Glidewell

Student Standards Representatives— Elizabeth Hunter and Annie Denit.

Reporter for Rotunda — Clara McAllister

The interest of the class was shown by the almost 100 per cent attendance and enthusiasm was apparent during the entire meeting. The members realized the importance of capable officers to lead their class through the Senior year and an earnest effort was made to secure such leaders.

It is with regret, however, that we see the passing of the old officers. We wish at this time to give "Big Laura" three cheers for her efficient leadership and loyalty to our class through the Junior year and to thank the other officers for their services.

SPRING SPORTS ARE PROGRESSING

The athletic field is daily the scene of two baseball games. Both diamonds are filled to overflowing with enthusiastic would-be Babe Ruths. And how they play ball!

At the end of the baseball games many of the players turn into high jumpers in practicing for Field Day. Others participate in other activities of Field and Track.

Then the Robin Hoods put in their appearance and try to hit the bull's eye. The arrows skim through the air, sometimes hitting the mark, sometimes diverging widely.

Everybody has a good time. Come out between 4 and 6 and see for yourself!

JUNIOR CLASS OF '31 ELECTS THE COUNCIL REPRESENTATIVES

At the regular meeting of the Sophomore Class on Tuesday night, April 29, elections of class representatives for the Student Council and for Student Standards Committee were held. Virginia Bledsoe and Charlotte Hutchins were elected for Student Council. Jane Witt and Henrietta Cornwell were elected as representatives on the Student Standards Committee.

Nominations for president of the class for the coming year were held. The following girls were nominated: Grace Virginia Woodhouse, Evelyn Stephenson, Easter Souders, and Henrietta Cornwell. Election of the president will be held next Tuesday night, May 6. Nomination and election of the other class officers will also be held that night.

S. T. C. WINS FROM NORTHWESTERN U.

S. T. C. debators scored another victory the Wednesday before Easter when Alice Harrison and Maria Warren won 2 to 1 against a visiting team from Northwestern University, Chicago.

The question at issue was the familiar one of "disarmament." Both sides made a brave stand but S. T. C. came out on top as the winner of the evening.

After the debate, the speakers of both sides were entertained at a reception given by the Debate Club.

This is the second debate that Alice and Maria have won for us this year and we may well be proud of their good work.

May Day Exercises To Be Held Saturday

Saturday, May 3, will be a gala day at S. T. C. The May Day exercises which are witnessed by crowds of visitors every year will be held at the beautiful Longwood estate from six to seven o'cock Saturday afternoon, provided that it is not raining in the afternoon.

The theme of the program is taken from the story of the "stealing of the Rhingold," at the castle of the Gods at Walhalla. Elaborate costumes and beautiful dances will enhance the beauty of the natural scenery and the pantomime.

Plans are now rapidly nearing completion. The festival is one of the outstanding events of the year, and of widespread interest. Numbers of alumnae and visitors are expected.

FIELD AND TRACK MEET TO BE HELD MAY 15

On Thursday, May 15, the annual field and track meet will take place. The events are as follows: dash, hurdles, hop-step-jump, running broad jump, running broad jump, running high jump, baseball throw, shot put, javelin and relay.

A poster will be put on the bulletin board starting the events, individual points and class points. Anyone wishing to enter the meet may sign up for the class relay and three events; either two running or jumping and one throwing, or two throwing and one running or jumping.

Regular practices will be held starting Monday, April 28 at 5 o'clock on Monday, Wednesday Friday, and 4 o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday. It is not too late to come out for field and track so be sure and attend practices this week and next.

UNIVERSITY TO BE ESTABLISHED AT VIRGINIA BEACH SOON

Announcement has been made of a large university being established at Virginia Beach. Millions of dollars are to be sepnt in developing the institution. It is to be second to none other educational institution. Work will start sometime soon and the college will open September 22, 1930. Wealthy New York, Chicago, and Dayton men are the founders of the institution of which Dr. William M. Brown will be president.—The Va. Tech.

President of Sweet Briar College

DR. META GLASS

Anne Johnson Elected Unanimously For the Sophomore President

Other Officers Were Nominated To Be Voted On at a Later Date

At a recent meeting of the Freshman class Anne Johnson was unanimously re-elected president of the class for next year. Lillian Hogan was elected vice-president. The following girls were nominated to be elected at a later date:

Secretary: Elsie Burgess, Dorothy Ritchie, Winston Cobb.

Treasurer: Dorothy Snedegar, Margaret Priest, Mary Thomas Rawls.

Student Standards Committee: Josie Spencer, Ruth Jordan, Lucille Crute, Louise Johnson, Winston Cobb.

Student Government: Lois Cox, Elizabeth Johnson. Alice Hardaway, Hattie Gilliam, Melisse Mullens.

Anne Johnson a decided success as class president was emphasized last night when she she was unanimously elected to presidency of the Sophowithout a doubt be carried over next more class of '31. Anne's success will year and the years that she is at S. T. C.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY AND MUSEUM TO FIND EXACT RELATIONSHIP

Columbia University and the Museum of Natural History are to determine the exact relation between man and monkey by completely dissecting two adult gorillas for comparison with the human anatomy. Scientists spent eight months in Africa getting and embalming the specimens, which are said to be the best yet brought to civilization's laboratories.—Old Gold and Black.

Student Government Conference Attended By S. T. C. Students

Etta Marshall and Adele Hutchinson Attend Conference

The annual conference of Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Government was held this year at N. C. C. W., Greensboro. N. C. Etta Marshall and Adele Hutchinson were the representatives of S. T. C. at the meeting which lasted from Thursday, April 17, until Saturday, April 19.

It should be of special interest to the student body to know that the types of Honor Systems were discussed pro and con this year at the association. It is also very encouraging to learn that S. T. C. has taken more definite steps toward the adoption of an Honor System than any other of the colleges represented. Several well-known speakers were present at the conference. The speeches were followed by discussions and group committees. The meetings of the Student Government were held on a psycho-

(Continued on last page)

SENIORS AND JUNIORS HAVE SIGNED THE HONOR CODE

Starting with Monday night at 10 o'clock, the seniors signed their honor codes. The other classes will sign them in this order.

Juniors at 10 o'clock Tuesday night.

Sophomores same time Wednesday night.

Freshmen same time Thursday night.

The seniors wore their caps and gowns, and signed the code in the student council rooms. The rest of the classes will wear white.

This step of signing the honor code is without a doubt one of the biggest steps toward the achievement of a successful honor system.

ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA FOUNDERS DAY HELD ON APRIL 26

Dr. Meta Glass Was the Speak- of the Evening at Meeting

BANQUET AT LONGWOOD

The Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma, National Honorary Fraternity celebrated its founders day with a banquet and week-end party at Longwood. It was the pleasure of this chapter to have as their guests, Dr. Meta Glass, president of Sweet Briar; Dr. J. L. Jarman, Irene Myers, national president of Alpha Kappa Gamma; Miss Lula Andrews, honorary member; Miss Coulling, Miss Mix, Miss Jennie Tabb, Miss Grenels, Miss Stubbs, Miss Mary Clay Hiner, and Miss Katharine Norris of Sweet Briar.

Iris were used in the table decorations thus carrying out the color and the flower idea of the fraternity. Toasts were given to our Alma Mater, To Ideal Leadership, To the Spirit of Alpha Kappa Gamma, and To a Greater Alpha Kappa Gamma. Irene Myers spoke on behalf of the other chapters and the national officers.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Meta Glass who was introduced by Dr. Jarman. Her address was most inspiring and interesting to everyone and especially to the organization as a whole since it was based on the standard of the fraternity, Leadership. Dr. Glass spoke of leaders in all fields of work and included in her discussion of them were M. and Mme Curie, the scientists; Louis Pasteur, the great adventurer in the realm of na-

Continued on last page

ALICE RIBBLE TO HEAD EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

El Circulo Espanol held its regular meeting in the Y. W. C. A. reception room Wednesday, April 2. There was the regular business meeting at the beginning, and later the election of officers for the coming year. The following officers were elected:

President ..... Alice Ribble
Vice-President ..... Mildred De Hart
Secretary ..... Laverna Bayne
Treasurer ..... Annie Denit
Reporter ..... Virginia Duncan
'hairman of Program, Carrie DeShazo

An Easter egg hunt was the main feature of the program. Hot chocolate and cakes were served at the conclusion of the program.

SIGMA PI RHO, LATIN HONORARY SOCIETY ANNOUNCES MEMBERS

Sigma Pi Rho, Latin honorary society, anounces the following new members:

Eleanor Davis
Louise Elliott
Beatrice Goode
Alice Harrison
Sara Hubard
Bessie Lynch
Anne Rice
Betty Guy Somerville

As first honorary members, Miss Minnie V. Rice and Mr. James M. Grainger were elected. Miss Rice has always shown a big interest in the work of the Latin classes, and Mr. Grainger is largely responsible for the organization of Sigma Pi Rho.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — LUCY THOMPSON, '30
Associate Editor — JESSIE SMTH, '31

Board of Editors

News Editor — LILLIAN BOVELL, '30
Literary Editor — LINDA WILKINSON, '30
Athletic Editor — MILDRED MADDREY, '31
World News Editor — GERTRUDE RICHARDSON, '30
Intercollegiate News Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — RACHEL ROYAL, '30
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — MAMIE HURT, '31
Humorous Editor — "BILLIE" PARIS, '30
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

MARIA WARREN, '32 — DOROTHY SNEDEGAR, '33
ANNIE DENIT, '31
ANN STUMP, '30

Proof Reader — SARA BAKER, '31
Assistant Proof Reader — JESSIE WATKINS, '33

Managers

Business Manager — SARA McCORKLE, '30
Assistant Business Manager — PEARL JOHNSON, '32
Circulation Manager — MARTHA ANTHONY, '30
Assistant Circulation Manager — NANNIE SUE ANTHONY, '30

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

Editorial

Attending Class Meeting

Why is it we hear that moanful groan from students whenever a class meeting is announced? Are you not a part of the class? Just think of this; it if were not for individuals there would be no class.

A class is simply one big family. Of course you are interested in your family; then, why not in your class? A class meeting is simply a friendly gathering of the family to discuss the problems arising among them. When the family circle meets and you are not there, do you not feel that you have missed something? Then that same something which you miss by not being present in your family circle is what you miss when you are absent from class meetings. There is in the class meeting an element of personal contact between the students. The term is one which we cannot so easily define, yet we all recognize the benefits derived from it. Those of us who take different courses in "methods" hear a gerat deal about personal contact between the teachers and the pupils.

What student here does not know the keynote of this institution? If you do not know it, listen closely to what Dr. Jarman has to say the next time he gets up to make a litle talk, and you will soon find out what it is. That word—cooperation—should be the watchword of each class in school. Of course, the class presidents do their part, but they cannot do all. They need the support of every member in their classes. Can they have this support if you do not attend class meetings?

How terribly discouraging it must be to be a president, after she has worked hard for the class all along, to call a meeting and find fifteen or twenty girls present. Probably when the meeting is drawing to a close two or three more girls will appear in the door. A smile passes over each of their faces! What is it? Ah! In the subconscious minds there is running this thought: "Good, I won't have to stay long; the class meeting is almost over."

As Lincoln has said: "United we stand; divided we fall." Are we, the students of S. T. C., going to remain standing? Then it we are, we must support our classes by attending class meetings.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Well classmates! Can I come in? I see by the looks on your faces that you're tickled to death to get back to your studies. It broke my heart to leave mine for five days. And tell me—what you did Easter; where you went; what he said; what you ate, etc. (indefinitely).

Did you go to the dance? You make me sick!—and with Tommy! He's a honey, and such easy feet!

Well, I went to one big—brawl, shall I say? I've never seen such a crowd in my life. People were so thick that one girl fainted and had to dance five minutes before she had a chance to fall! The music was awfully good, only I couldn't hear it. But I broke no records, however.

Guess whom I saw while I was at home? No other than little Rob—ert. Somebody ought to do something about him, Liz. His mother has him thinking he's the Prince of Wales, all but the horse. Here he came riding down the road on a cut-glass bicycle with a jelly set—to play tennis with us. If he only knew it—he's big enough to put away childish things.

Mother was the very sweetest thing I've ever seen to me. I enjoyed seeing her more than anyone else. Did I live in luxury? Lying back in bed each morning until one o'clock — that gently reminds me its about time for lunch, isn't it?—and not chicken, rolls, pie—oh me! I wish I were a primrose.

Flowers? What were yours? Oh, lovely. Well, as for mine—when I die, I guess they'll sing, "And we planted a bunch of radishes on her grave."

WORLD NEWS

Our suggestion for the newly discovered planet that has been so much talked about, but can't be seen is prohibition.—Springfield Union.

For the first time since he entered the White House, President Hoover entertained his brother Theodore Jesse Hoover and wife last week. His brother is three years the President's senior and is Dean of the School of Engineering at Stanford University. He is tight-lipped and camera shy, he combats all publicity linking him with his brother. He even refused to be photographed with his brother. His contention is that he is a "private citizen" deserving no public attention.

Mamie McConnell Borah. wife of Senator Borah, the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee has sailed for her first trip abroad. There is one thing for which Mrs. Borah said she would search Europe: a new recipe for onion soup, but can never get the right kind. Once Mrs. Borah thought she had found the right kind in Atlantic City, only to have the Senator grumble over the pepper and cheese proportions when she made it in their modest Washington apartment where, unlike other senatorial families they live within their official salaries.—Times.

Andre Morize, professor of French at Harvard, is going to lecture in the Chapel, Friday night, April 11. His subject is to be, "What Culture Means to You."

M. Morize is very well-known in the East. He is familiar to all French 7-8 students at Sweet Briar as the author of the syllabus used in that course. M. Morize will lecture in French to the members of the Alliance Francaise on "The Modern Trend in French Literature," on Friday afternoon. He will also be on campus for part of Saturday. The Alliance Francaise is anxious to take him to Amherst for either dinner or breakfast. Other plans are under way to make his stay at Sweet Briar a pleasant one.—The Sweet Briar News.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Miss Louise Bondurant is spending several weeks at the University of Virginia

Mrs. John A. Lancaster, an official of the Longwood Garden Club of Farmville, was the speaker at the April meeting of the Cumberland Home Economics Club. She emphasized the value of the native wild flowers and shrubs in beautifying the surroundings of the home. When left to grow along the highways, they are a source of pleasure to the visitors to the many beautiful gardens of the State.

The Alumnae Secretary has received an announcement of the marriage of Miss Doris Bruce Steere to Robert Whitney Harwell on Wednesday, April 23. Mr. and Mrs. Harwell will be at home after May 15, at 129 Marshall Street, Petersburg, Va.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul W. Beckham announced the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Pleasants to William Lee Broaddus of Bowling Green and City Point, at a dinner given on April 19, at their home on High Street.

The wedding of Miss Claudia Anderson of Farmville, and Edward Frank Liebrecht of Portsmouth, Saturday evening, April 19, in the Methodist Episcopal Church, Farmville, was a beautiful occasion attended by a large number of friends.

Preceding the ceremony Lyttleton Waddell of Charlotesville, sang, "Calm as the Night," accompanied by Mrs. W. J. Gills, and "Lieberstraum" was played softly during the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Col. Henry W. Anderson, and attended by Mrs. Gordon Moss as a matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Mildred Liebrecht, Elizabeth Thompson, Elizabeth Crute, and Mrs. C. W. Rodgers, Jr.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, following which Mr. and Mrs. Liebrecht left for a motor trip through the mountains of North Carolina and to the Magnolia Gardens at Charleston, S. C. They will be at home after May 1, in Washington, D. C.

IF YOU WOULD BE POPULAR

Be helpful
Be sociable
Be a good listener
Study the art of pleasing
Be frank, open and truthful
Be generous, magnanimous
Always be ready to lend a hand
Be kind and polite to everybody
Be self-confident but not conceited
Never monopolize the conversation.
Take a genuine interest in other people.
Always look on the birght side of things.
Take pains to remember names and faces
Never criticise or say unkind things of others.
Look for the good in others, not for their faults.
Forgive and forget injuries, but never forget benefits.
Cultivate health and thus radiate strength and courage.
Rejoice as genuinely in another's success as in your own.
Always be considerate of the rights and feelings of others.
Have a good time, but never let fun degenerate into license.
Have a kind word and a cheery, encouraging smile for everyone.
Learn to control yourself under the most trying circumstances.
Be respectful and chivalrous to women at all times and places.
Meet trouble like a man, and cheerfully endure what you can't cure.
Believe in the brotherhood of man, and recognize no class distinction.
Do not be self-opinionated, but listen with deference to the opinions of others.
Be ambitious and energetic, but never try to benefit yourself at the expense of another.
Be as courteous and agreeable to your inferiors as you are to your equals and superiors.—Exchange.

SOLITUDE

A garden—
Bathed in moonlight
With here and there—
Dark foliage above
From which issues
The plaintive note of
The nightingale.
A soft wind
Through tree tops—
Swishes! then—
Silence
A soul—
Alone!
Surrounded only
With thoughts
Of life! of love!
Solitude!

E. J. O., '33

THOUGHTS!

Thoughts
Like gentle breezes
Come to us
From out the air,
Just at first a
Gentle murmur—then,
With a rush
The thought is there.
It floats around
Entices, leads us
Just beyond
Our feeble reach
It flits, it tarries
Plays with our fancy
Then floats away—
In dreams.

E. J. O., '33

YOUR SMILE

You smiled, but that smile was not easy
It was forced. it was pushed
From out your troubled heart.
You tried just for me
To be happy, and to make that golden beam
I love so well, come back to make me gay
But, no,
Back of that smile
Back of your forced expression of joy
A sad and troubled host was moving;
And its fantastical shadows fell
Over your lovely eyes
And took away the beauty of your smile.

C. Q., '32

SLEEPY!

You thought perhaps that I loved you
When my head rested on your shoulder
And my eyes closed—
There is the soft shadows
Of the cool spring evening.
But I was sleepy,
That was all.

E. S., '32

PEACE

A soul
Harrassed.
With earthly cares
Bowed down—
Wanders.
Seeking!
Through cities—
Where glitter
Lends enchantment
For a time—
A pause—
A snatch
At pleasure!
To find
Suddenly
The glitter gone—
Dullness!
On!
To cities
Where misery,
Suffering lurks
Humanity in agony—
It hurries past—
Returns and
Stoops to lowly tasks
For others
Finds at last
Peace!
In service.

E. J. O. '33

SOCIALS

Elizabeth Antrim. Anne Black, Margaret Priest, Elizabeth Etheridge and Eleanor Hogan attended dances at Virginia last week.

Kathryn Royster, Josie Spenser and Susie Floyd spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Allie Kae Libby, Gladys Meador and Mary B. Epes, spent last week-end in Richmond.

Katherine Neblett and Elizabeth Rucks spent the week-end in Wilson, Va.

Ellie Cutchins, Mary Virginia Linney, Janice Harper, Mildred Shelton, Margaret Addleman and Gertrude Lawless spent last week-end in Crewe.

The following girls attended the dances at Fork Union Military Academy last week-end :Mary Ellen Cato, Courtney Neale, Mildred Simpkins, Ida Trolan, Dorothy Wood, Chloris Glidewell, and Frances Rodgers.

Frances Parker, Nannie Belle Clendenin and Clara Norfleet attended the Sigma Chi dances at Duke University last week-end.

Mary William Vincent and Margaret Vincent spent last week-end at their home in Emporia.

Lucile Norman, Laura M. Smith, Virginia Robertson and Adele Hutchinson drove to Raleigh, N. C. Sunday.

Marion Seay was a princess to the Apple Blossom Festival held in Winchester April 24 and 25. Martha Faris also attended the Festival.

Elizabeth Carter spent the week-end in Petersburg.

Dot Anderson spent the week-end at her home in Danville.

Lucy Dortch spent Sunday at her home in South Hill.

Lucy Thompson, Harriett Branch, Martha von Schilling and Louise Whitlock spent the week-end in Keysville.

V. M. I. Easter Dances

Suzanne Holland, Martha McKenzie, Jacque Lee, Vernie Oden, Martha Moore, Verena Greaves, Doris Walton, Mayo Beaty, Elaine Goode, Medora Ford and Virginia Marchant attended the Easter Dances at V. M. I. last week-end.

Kappa Sigma Dances

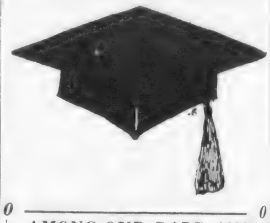
S. T. C. girls that attended the Kappa Sigma dances at Hampden-Sydney last week-end were: Alice Adams, Edith Britt, Hazel Burgwin, Lucy Dortch, Mildred F. Elmore, Katherine Grinnan, Lucile Graves, Lela Germany Virginia Gurley, Rubie Hunt, Lillian Hogan, Eleanor Hogan, Frances Hutchins, Alice Hardaway, Gilberta Knight, Jenilee Knight, Melisse Mullens, Loulie Milner, Katherine Nichols, Mary Priest, Frances Potts, Dolly Reed, Marguerite Swann, Frank Smoot, Marion Seay, Frances Thornton and Martha Walters.

RUFFNER LITERARY SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

At the regular meeting of the Ruffner Literary Society Tuesday, April 29 the following new officers were elected:

Easter Souders	President
Cleo Quisenberry	Vice-President
Margaret March	Secretary
Louise Elliott	Treasurer
Evelyn Simpson	Reporter

Gamma Theta wishes to announces the following new pledge:



Melisse Mullins, Greensboro, N. C.

The Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi announces the following new members:

Mary Ellen Cato
Lucille Bowyer
Lillian Bovell
Emily Graham McGavock

WILLIAN AND MARY EXPEDITION ABANDONED

The William and Mary Expedition, which caused a great deal of excitement as to its outcome, has been abandoned because of the existence of yellow fever in southern Mexico. The objective of the trip was Buenos Aires by Dr. E. C. Cranchi, who is professor of romance languages at William and Mary, and who headed the expedition, decided that the yellow fever menace was too dangerous to encounter.—The Va. Tech.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

VIRGINIA GURLEY

When we think of the outstanding Seniors, "Gurley" is one of the first to come into our minds, since she is outstanding in practically every phase of student activtiy.

"Gurley" has shown her athletic ability by the fact that she has been a member of the varsity basketball squad for four years and she won the high jump record her freshman year.

She has taken part in many of the Dramatic Club plays. She showed her originality in being chairman of the sing committee on the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet 1928-29. Gurley was Junior Representative on the Student Council and vice-president of it this year.

Her beauty was recognized in being selected May Queen 1928-1929 and most beautiful in the feature section of the 1929-30 Virginia. She was appointed by Governor Byrd to represent the State of Virginia in the Rhododendron Festival that was held at Asheville, N. C., last June.

"Gurley's" leadership was recognized when she was elected to Alpha Kappa Gamma in her Junior year.

We wish for "Gurley" success and happiness throughout life.

ELEANOR HOGAN

Among our caps and gowns we look with pride towards our loyal sister and friend, Eleanor. She has ont only laid a fine acadaemic foundation which has aided us in holding high scholastic standing; she has served us faithfully as the secretary of the Student Government this past year. Now she brightens our halls of fame with a new honor as she becomes Queen of May this spring. As June overtakes us we realize more and more how we shall miss that happy smile and affable disposition which helps to constitute Eleanor's charming personality.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

If you don't believe the world is changing, just listen to this: "In 1734 the following regulations were made at Mount Holyoke: 'No young lady shall be a member of the Mount Holyoke Seminary who can not kindle a fire, wash potatoes, repeat the multiplication tables, and at least two-thirds of the shorter catechism. Every member of the school walks at least a mile a day to do miscellaneous reading. No young lady is expected to have any gentleman acquaintances unless they are returned missionaries, or agents of benevoent societies.' "—Flat Hat.

"Post Office to stay open until 11 o'clock," says the Tar Heel. The U. S. Government has evidently stopped trying to run Carolina students to bed at 9 o'clock—Old Gold and Black.

Amelia Earhart, of Boston, an aviatrix of ten years flying experience and first woman to fly the Atantic Ocean, spoke before a general student assembly. A large gathering of students heard her talk on the subject, "Aviation."—The Pitt Weekly .

A good story wanders down from Princeton. It is about a rich little boy whose father sent him there for some higher education and then found out that undergraduates are not permitted to have cars on the campus. The father stormed into the dean's office angrily. He was amazed to hear that his son should have to walk in all kinds of weather. Why, it might ruin his health. So he built the lad a 12-room house opposite the grounds of the university, equipped with a butler, maid, and chauffer. The chauffer drives the boy to his classes—and outside the city limits the boy takes the wheel. "The Gamecock"

Seven Auburn University men were recently arrested and were on the point of being locked up on a charge of raising "malicious and intentional rough house" in the streets of Auburn after dark, when the men produced credentials which proved them innocent. One of the students was found on a street corner singing love lyrics to the moon, and a second was charged with insanity. He said that he was giving solitary aid to homeless female sparrows. All the men were released.—The Bulldog.

GET YOUR

SPRING LINGERIE AT

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

Quality—Price—Service

Come in and get acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?

Go Across the Street

GILLIAM'S

FOR EATS

OF ALL KINDS

SPRING SHOWING OF

HATS

THE HAT SHOPPE

Mrs. H. H. Hunt
THIRD STREET

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE

Next to the Theatre

Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies

MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Fairmer Gift Shop

Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery
Engraving

COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh films)
Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)
COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S

is headquarters for the best
SANDWICHES AND DRINKS
in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

Work done while you wait with
First Class Materials

110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS

Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop

323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus

G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY

The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP

Will fix your shoes
WHILE YOU WAIT
Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS

TAILORING . CLEANING
PRESSING

Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

SPRING OPENING SPECIALS

The new three piece knitted suits all colors and combination colors $9.95

Beautiful spring coats, sport and dress wear with and without lapin fur $9.95 to $27.50

Beautiful new spring shoes the newest blondes, dull kids, and patents, reds, blues, and greens, all sizes and widths, from C to AAAA's $2.85, $3.85, $4.85, $5.85 and $6.85.

Final Close Out—of all early spring and fall dresses, original values from $15 to $27.50, special $5.95

Allen A Hosiery, $1.50 values, special $1.00

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Farmville, Va.

Caught With the Goods

A backwoods mountaineer one day found a mirror which a tourist had lost. "Well' if it ain't my old dad," he said as he looked in the mirror. "I never knew he had his pitcher took." He took the mirror home, stole into the attic to hide it, but his actions did not escape his suspicious wife. That night while he slept she slipped up to the attic and found the mirror. "Hm-m," she said looking into it. "So that's the old hag he's been chasin'." —Exchange

Daughter: 'Give me a cigarette."
Mother: "I'll see you inhale first."

Evelyn Jones: 'I think I'll marry the aviator. They're usually so successful."

,'Easy" H.: "Yes, they often rise to great heights."

A kiss is nothing divided by two.

"Big Laura": "This Spitz is worth a thousand dollars."

"Little Laura": "Just think of that. A little dog like than saving up so much money."

Cohen and his family sat down to dinner on Sunday. To his three boys Cohen said:

"Now my children," inquired Cohen, "how many of you want a nickel instead of meat for dinner?"

Each of the three divided in favor of the cash settlement, so Mrs. Cohen put the meat away. Then she brought in the pie and put it on the table.

"Now, my children," asked Mr. Cohen, "how many of you want a nickel's worth of pie?"

Mildred Field : "Promise you'll love me as long as you live."

Elliott B.: "Cross my heart and hope to die."

"Ah, no, now I have you in my grip," cried the villian as he placed his sweetheart's picture in his satchel."—Wet Hen.

A visitor to an insane asylum saw a patient using a dry brush on a piece of canvas.

"What does this represent?"

"The flight of the children of Israel from Egypt."

"Where are the children of Israel?"

"They have left."

"Where is the Red Sea?"

"Rolled back."

"Where are the Egyptians?"

"They're expected any minute."
—Yale Record.

A little boy was selling newspapers yelling as he sold: "Great swindle—sixty victims."

Adele Hutchinson stopped to buy one, and after looking over the head lines growled: "I don't see anything about it in the paper."

"Great Swindle", shouted the youth more loudly, "Sixty-one victims."
—Drexel.

"Ladies and gentlemen," began Norfleet as she stood before the English class, "before I begin my address I have something that I want to say to you."—Texas Ranger.

"This is food for reflection," said the billy goat as he swallowed the looking glass.

"I saw Mary at the beach."

"Didn't you love the bathing suit she was wearing?"

"Don't know; she was reading a book and I couldn't see it."

Abell: "May I kiss you goodnight?"

Mabel: "I should say not."

But she didn't.

BASEBALL GAMES

Babe Ruth, Ty Cobb, and all other hitters of the pill! Is it [illegible] that we see [illegible] up every day on the athletic field? No, not exactly. The fact is, however, that something of even more interest than a Big League game is always going to happen.

What? Why, the baseball games, of course. The first one will be played next Monday afternoon, May 5. That is when the freshmen will meet the sophomores. It's "bound" to be a hard game and a good one. You see, last year's freshmen, the sophs of this year, won their first game last year, beating last year's sophs. This year's freshmen, our dearly beloved rats (yeah, dearly beloved) are good, just plain good. They have some players out there who wouldn't hesitate at hitting the ball all the way down to the flour mill. So, if you don't see this game, you will be missing, really missing the opportunity of a college career.

Then, the second game, between the Juniors and Seniors, will be played Tuesday. And oh, how they do fight. It's always dangerous to bet on a Junior-Senior game, because you really can't tell who's going to win. You have to be there to see.

The championship game, which decides who will get 10 more points toward the color cup, will be Wednesday.

Come on out and show your team that you are betting on them to win.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

The University of Chicago is the first college in the Middle West to establish a smoking room for co-eds. A special room is set aside in Ida Noyes Hall equipped with easy chairs, plenty of ash trays, and a ventilating system to get rid of the smoke fumes.

The University officials say that inasmuch as girls insist on smoking, that the setting aside of a room for their special use was the only solution to the problem. Rather than having the girls break rules against smoking and being made to be sneaky when wanting a cigarette, it is better that they be given a privilege of smoking in a room specially for that purpose.—The Virginia Tech.

That William and Mary co-eds are traditionally feminine in their choice of studies is conclusively proved by recent figures from the Dean of Women of the major and minor subjects for women graduates or prospective graduates of February, June and September, 1930. The English majors, totalling 37, outnumbering 2 to 1 their nearest competitors, the seventeen French majors.

Home economics rates third in popularity, with thirteen graduates, and mathematics comes fourth, with twelve feminine exponents. Chemistry, with eight majors, appears to be the most favored of the natural sciences. Education, numbering 59 graduates, is by far the most popular of the minors.—The Sun Dial.

VOLLEY BALL HONORARY VARSITY IS CHOSEN

The volley ball honorary varsity has been picked and is composed of the following:

M. F. Hatchett
F. Edwards
C. Fleming
K. Hundley
Emily Simpson
M. Gregory
D. Ritchie
D. Snedegar

NOTICE

All monogram work must be completed by Saturday, May 10.

SCHEDULE

Sport	M	T	W	T	F
Baseball	4	5	4	5	4
Field-Track	5	4	5	4	5
Archery	4				6

TENNIS

"It won't be long now" is being heard all over school. Of course everybody is talking about going home. But it won't be even that long now until the tennis tournament is over. All the games must be played by May 15.

Each day there will be a slip of paper on the athletic bulletin board, on which to sign up for courts. If you want to pay, the slip must be signed, or some nice pleasant afternoon when you've just started playing, someone will come and ask you "please to move." So sign up, and hurry and get those games played.

ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA HOLDS FOUNDERS DAY

(Continued from Page 1)

ture; Jane Adams, an outstanding woman in the field of social service work, and Admiral Richard E. Byrd, the aeronautical genius and explorer. Painstaking achievement wrought by sheer force of will was the keynote of all these successful individuals, who today are recognized by the world. In closing Dr. Glass commended a challenge for service, attainment, insight, and courage that will make for a greater development of Alpha Kappa Gamma. Dr. Glass left with us for a guide a passage from the work of Gilette Burgess:

"Failing, still feel the fire,
Winning, still keep the dew,
Striving, still hear the lyre
This be my prayer for you."

Later in the evening the girls and their guests played cards, danced, and in general had a splendid time. After the delicious breakfast (everybody knows about those breakfasts.) another ever-interesting survey was made of Longwood. The guests were delighted with the place and their only regret is that they can't be here more often.

The week-end was most successful and proved to be one of the most interesting events in this year's history of the fraternity.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT CONFERENCE ATTENDED BY S. T. C. STUDENTS

Continued from page one

logical basis.

Several social events were arranged for the representatives of the Student Government Association. Among these were teas and a camp supper at the country club of Greensboro.

About one hundred and fifty girls were present this year at the Southern Intercollegiate Association of the Student Government. Next year this association will meet at Baylor, Texas.

All France wants in a pact to protect her against a future impact.—Toledo Blade.

America's so-called lawlessness may be blamed on everything except a scarcity of laws.—Arkansas Gazette.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery
AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Farmville - - - - Va.

Mothers Day Candy
and
Mother's Day Cards
at
McIntosh's Drug Store
Farmville - - - - Va.

CANADA DRUG CO.
Next to Baldwin's Store
Come to us for your cosmetics and
STATIONERY
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of May 5 to 10

MONDAY and TUES.—Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford in "Taming of the Shrew." This production is the answer of Mary and Doug to the insistent demands of the public that they appear in a film together. This rollicking Shakespearian farce shows Miss Pickford as the stormy but beautiful Katherine; the dynamic Douglas as a swaggering, beastful Petruchio, and is chock full of wit and humor. The play is not heavy in any respect; it is comedy from the first fade-out to the last fade-out. It is the tempestuous romance of the two madest lovemakers ever known. The whirlwind courts, the cyclone in the mightiest of all laugh tornadoes. You will laugh, you'll giggle, you'll roar; until your sides are sore. The world's greatest comedy made into the screen's greatest funfest. Probably the most gorgeous picture ever produced. Also Mermaid comedy and Pathe Review. No advance in prices.

WED. and THURS.—Fannie Brice in "Be Yourself." The appeal that has made Milt Gross popular has been transferred to the screen and with appropriate results. For downright clever, sidesplitting dialogue involving Fannie Brice as a night club entertainer; Harry Green as a hyster lawyer-fight manager, and Robert Armstrong as a well-meaning but dumb fighter, there is nothing that has made audiences laugh so long as this riot of comedy. Then there are song numbers from Miss Brice that Broadway is accustomed to pay $6.60 for the privilege of seeing and hearing. Hear her sing "Kicking a Hole in the Sky." This is an out and out grand picture and one you'll be mighty glad you did not miss. Also an extremely funny two-reel comedy, "Fancy That."

FRIDAY and SAT.—Nancy Carroll in "Honey," supported by Stanley Smith, Lillian Roth and Skeets Gallaher. This is said to be Miss Carroll's greatest picture to date and one wull of excruciatingly funny situations. It is a swift, sparkling song romance, sweeter than "Sweetie." It has the sweethearts of "Sweetie" and a whole constellation of comedy stars. Hear the song hits in this bee hive of bliss, and you will be humming them for days to come. They are "Let's be Domestic," "What is This Power I Have," "In My Little Hope Chest," "I Don't Need Atmosphere to Fall in Love With You," and "Sing You Sinners." Also Pathe sound news and Sporting Youth comedy.

Two shows each night, 7:30 and 9:15. Daily matinees at 4 p. m.

Admission, adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony
Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S
DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

DON'T FORGET YOUR BEST PAL
NEXT MONTH
MOTHER'S DAY MOTTOS
25c EACH
on sale now!
SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES
MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

SMART NEW FOOTWEAR
BALDWIN'S
$5 TO $7.50

VIVACIOUS Footwear steps out with spring—gay, colorful and decidedly new. Here you will find the new pastel shades in kidskin and calf—all attuned to the happiest moods of the new season.

NEW SILK DRESSES
$7.95
new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.
—in the Basement—
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VA.

Watch Out For The Sophomore Minstrel!

ROTUNDA

Come to The Dansant Friday Afternoon!

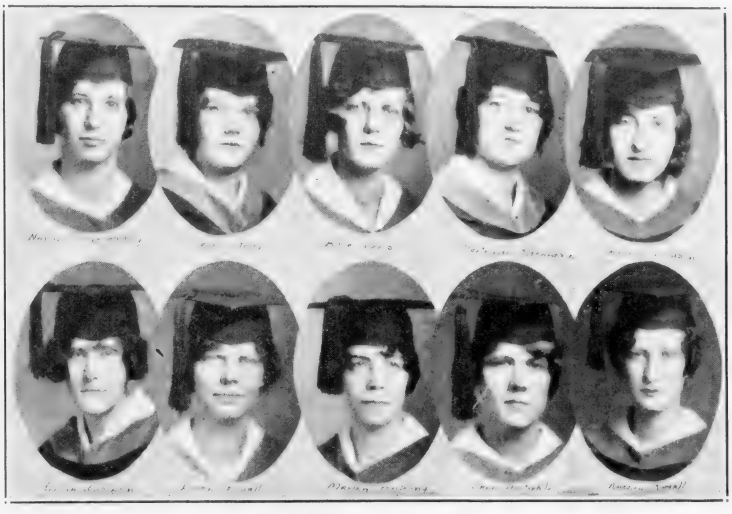
Volume X THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 7, 1930 No. 29

MAY DAY FESTIVAL HELD AT LONGWOOD

Old Home of General Johnston Was Scene of Gay Colors

ELEANOR HOGAN, QUEEN

Summer's brightest smile flashed upon the gay panorama of the May Day Festival in the pine grove at Longwood, Saturday afternoon from six to seven, and the magic rays of the setting sun lingered entrancingly over a scene of rival beauty.



Promptly at six o'clock the exercises began with the German peasant dance in celebration of the coming of May. After the dance the peasant boys and girls seated on the ground listened enthralled to the story of the Rhinegold and Freia, the goddess of Love and Beauty. The legend unfolded in enchanting pantomime embellished by the beauty of the natural setting and lovely colored costumes and music.

At Walhalla the gods and goddesses are rejoicing over their newly built castle, when Freia, goddess of Love and Beauty, played by Eleanor Hogan, rushes in pursued by two giants, the builders of the castle, who demand fair Freia as payment for their labor. The giants reject all other offers of payment, even the apple of Eternal Youth offered by the Goddess of Eternal Youth, Alice Covington. King Woton, and the God Logi are powerless to help and Feia is dragged away by the giants as a captive.

Darkness descends and reigns with sadness over Walhalla, while the gods and goddesses plan for Freia's ransom. The Rhinegold is thought of haply and there is rejoicing over the anticipated ransom and return of Freia. But Alberich, king of the

Continued on page two

SENIOR MEMBERS OF STAFF—1929-'30

DEDICATION

We, the Rotunda Staff of 1930-'31, lovingly dedicate this, our first issue of the Rotunda to the Senior members of the staff of 1929-'30, in recognition of the exceptionally fine work they have done on the staff and the time they have devoted to making the paper the very best.

FRESHMEN VICTORIOUS IN DEBATE WITH VIRGINIA INTERMONT COLLEGE

The Freshman Debate Team composed of Mary Warren and Elizabeth Johnson was victorious in the debate held Monday night against Virginia Intermont debate team composed of Mabel Cooper and Wrenda Monroe.

The debate was on our favorite subject: "Resolved, That nations should those froces which are necessary for have complete disarmament except for police purposes." We wonder if two people could have the same viewpoint of this question? Judging from the debates we've heard at home, evidently not. It is the same question all right, but disregarding the personality of the debaters, each debater has brought before us a new line of thought. All of which made the rebuttals most exciting.

We are proud of our Freshman team and are looking forward to their helping us realize great forensic successes for our Alma Mater.

We wish to thank the judges, Mr. Caldwell. Mr. McIlwaine and Mr. Martin for their asisstance in rendering a decision.

NOTICE

Watch out for the Sophomore minstrel, to be given Friday. May 9 at eight o'clock. This will be an entertainment featuring only Sophomores with the exception of an outside entertainer between acts who is from Richmond. Everybody is invited to come.

FRENCH CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The French Club held its regular meeting Thursday, May 1. At this time new officers for the coming year were elected. They are as follows:

President ..... Eleanor Davis
Vice-President ..... Easter Souders
Secretary ..... Mildred Maddrey
Treasurer ..... Dorothy Snedegar
Reporter ..... Mildred De Harte

After all business had been transacted, the program was continued by all members taking part in a French game called "Estes-vous malheureuse?" Then to the delight of those present, ice cream and cake was served.

The next meeting will be held May 15, and the new officers will be installed.

LAWN FETE TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Don't miss this big event—the Freshman Commission Lawn Fete that will be given on Saturday, May 10, from 4:30 to 7 o'clock P. M. in the colonnade. Plate supper consisting of ham, potato salad, sandwiches, pickle, and iced tea will be served for twenty-five cents. There will also be on sale candy, ice cream, sandwiches, and cake.

Now comes the surprise—there will be a program—free for all.

"CHRISTIAN CENTURY" TO CURB PROFANITY

"The Christian Century" (undenominational) is an organization whose purpose is to combat the current spirit of irreverence, especially as expresst in the semi-profanity which is in vogue among a great many people who do not care to be heard emitting a round oath. A paucity of vocabulary and deficiency of imagination is betrayed by the use of profanity, says "The Christian Century." The general informant of this organization is Rev. Josiah R. Ellis, of Amherst, Virginia.—The Literary Digest.

"Y" INSTALLATION HELD IN THE AUDITORIUM

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet held a very impressive installation service Tuesday night. The old Cabinet, in giving over their offices to the new Cabinet transmitted to them the faith and trust of the student body.

A list of both Cabinets follows:

President, old Adele Hutchinson; new, Rena Robertson.

Vice-President, old Margaret Leonard; new Martha Faris.

Secretary: old, Blanche Murrell; new, Henrietta Cornwell.

Treasurer: old. Martha Faris; new, Elizabeth emple.

Undergraduate Representative: old, Rena Robertson; new, A. J. Scott.

Committee Chairmen

Social: old, Allie K. Libby; new, Evelyn Stephenson.

Service: old, Evelyn Stephenson; new, Jane Witt.

Music: old, A. J. Scott; new, Pattie Ellison.

Sing: old, Mary Priest; new, Helen Robertson.

Publicity: old, Loulie Milner; new Margaret Gathwright.

Reporter: old, Jessie Smith; new, Margaret Priest.

Conference and Convention: old, Florence Booten; new, Ruth Hunt.

Church Cooperative: old, Elizabeth Newton; new. Hazel Holloway.

Town: old, Claudia Fleming; new, Frances Fleming.

World Fellowship: old, Julia Asher; new, Harriet Moormaw.

Alumnae, old. Elizabeth Temple; new, Frances Crawford.

Ex-officio Member: old, Etta Marshall; new, Adele Hutchinson.

Y. W. CABINET GIVES STUDENT COUNCIL PARTY

The Cabinet gave the Council a little treat in the form of dopes and sandwiches last Saturday after the May Day festivities The scene of the occasion was the throne upon which our May Queen was crowned at Longwood. If you doubt that the event was an enjoyable one, just ask any member of the Council or Cabinet.

CUNNINGHAM LITERARY SOCIETY HAS ELECTION

At the regular meeting of the Cunningham Literary Society held on Tuesday, May 6, the following officers were elected:

President ..... Lillian Womack
Vice-president ..... Lucy Anne Layne
Secretary ..... Frances Crawford
Treasurer ..... Bessie Lynch
Reporter ..... Mary Thomas Rawls
Keeper of the Memory Book—
Maude Pugh

After the election a very interesting program, planned by Elizabeth Hurt, was presented. Caroline Watts told the "oldest love story in literature," Lucy Anne Layne played, and Emily McGavock read one of Lewis Carrol's latest nonsense poems.

The members were then reminded that the new officers would be installed at the next meeting. Everyone was urged to be present.

As there was no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

PALETTE ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

At the regular meeting of the Palette, held last Thursday night, the officers for the next year were elected. They are as follows: A. J. Scott, president; Pattie Ellison, vice-president; Margaret Gathwright, secretary and treasurer, and Gwendolyn Daniel, reporter. May 8 was the date set for the banquet. The Palette also wishes to announce the following new members—Katherine Royster, Margaret Gathwright, Myra Costen and Pattie Ellison.

PLAGUE OF LOCUSTS INFEST EGYPT

Egypt has been infested by a plague of locusts. The Egyptians do not look upon the plague as a punishment for their sins—unless it be the sin of having failed to exterminate the enemy. Trenches a mile long were dug along the locusts' line of advance. As the locusts fell into them they

Continued from page four

STUDENT COUNCIL DULY INSTALLED

Adele Hutchinson Takes Oath as President of the New Council

DR. JARMAN IS PRESENT

The recently elected Student Council was formally installed Monday night at 6:30. While the student body sang "Alma Mater," the old and new councils marched into the auditorium. They took their places on the platform, the old council on one side, and the new on the other.

In her farewell to the student body, Etta said:

"Just about a year ago, a group of girls—composing what you called your Student Council accepted a challenge—a challenge of student bodies of the past—the challenge of Student Government 'to live our lives at its best, to grow into wider freedom, to make and to accept the pervasive college spirit, to leave Farmville a little stronger than we found it.' But, even as they heard the challenge, they knew that the student body had already accpted it—, that they were striving to learn to live life at its best, to grow into a wider freedom, to make and to accept the pervasive college spirit:—that they were preparing themselves to leave Farmville a little stronger than they found it—they realizd that night that the student body had much more to offer Alma Mater than they could ever hope to;—and that therefore, it was not so much their business to directly serve the student body as it was to take what the student body had to give and offer it to Alma Mater. So, the girls you called your student council, and the girls they called their student body came to an agreement. We knew we'd meet difficulties, but we agreed to

(Continued on page 2)

BETA EPSILON CHAPTER OF KAPPA DELTA PI HOLD A RECEPTION

The Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi entertained at a formal reception in the Student Building, the faculty, and those Freshmen and Sophomores whose grades fall in the upper quartile of the student body. The reception is an annual affair sponsored by the fraternity, the purpose of which is to foster a high standard of scholarship in the student body.

The lounge was tastefully decorated with jardinares of Scotch broom. The College Orchestra entertained delightfully with numerous popular selections. Members of the fraternity served the guests, the refreshments consisting of frogen fruit salad and wafers. The favors topped the salad, and were miniature boat models, the lower part bearing the colors of the fraternity, pale blue and crimson, and the date; the sail being a replica of the gold key. It was an opportunity for both the faculty members and students to meet upon a real social

(Continued on page 3)

NOTICE

The Sophomore Class is sponsoring a tea dansant in the recreation hall, Friday, May 9, from four to six o'clock. The Hampden-Sydney orchestra will furnish the music. Refreshments will be sold. The admission will be fifty cents a couple. Come and bring your date.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor — LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor — MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor — MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor — FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor — SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor — A J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — JANE ROYALL '33
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor — VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELL JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31

Proof Reader — WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader — MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager — DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager — HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager — ELLA CARROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager — MILDRED MADDREY, '31

Editorial

Mother's Day!

We often think of Mother, in fact, she's a part of us just as God is; yet it is seldom that we tell her that she is so dear to us.

Lincoln said that his Mother was his inspiration, and that the best in him was due to his Mother. It seems so true that it's Mother who brings out the best in us! It's Mother, who built that tiny hope within our baby hearts. She sowed the seed that developed into an accomplishment.

It's every Mother's hope that her child be true, and she's ambitious for her, too. Why, it's Mother who made you and me what we are!

She made us feel that we were stealing from ourselves when we told that little falsehood. She told us back ages ago how we must study hard and go off to college; then she'd be so proud of us.

Why Mother—she is our all! She lives for us, works for us, and loves us, and for her we have only one day in the year set aside to tell her how much we love her.

But Mother,—we have a secret to tell you, every day within our hearts is Mother's Day. In some corner of our hearts, engraved so deeply that no sorrow can erase, are the words "after all Mother, I love you best of all."

There is the sweeheart—but tears erase that sorrow, and soon there is another,—but Mother, there is never another, but you!

The Old and the New

"The ship is anchored safe and sound, its voyage closed and done." It was only a year ago that they, the staff of 1929-'30 started forth on a year's journey. On high waved the flag of desire, hope, and plans for their Rotunda—and our Rotunda. That flag was kept on high and tho' at time it slipped, the pilot gave the necessary corrections. And now—that desire has been reached, and all S. T. C. looks with pride upon the work of that staff, who brought the ship safely ashore.

We, now the staff of 1930-'31 accept the work of the former staff as a challenge—a challenge that will mean work, and work that will mean cooperation to bring about success. Our work must be of excellent quality to compete with that of the former staff, but haven't they helped us make a goal? Therefore we take the ship over, and we start forth with a new pilot. With our voyage in view, we wish to congrtaulate the staff of 1929-'30 for the excellent piece of work they accomplished, and as we set sail we shall often meditate and be inspired by their work as no other work could inspire us!

So as
"Downward the voices of Duty call—"
we, the new staff, start forth!

OVER THE TEACUPS

Can you really believe that May Day has come and gone? Why I feel as if I've been dreaming and honestly, it was almost too lovely to be true.

As for Eleanor, well, words can't express my opinion of how she looked. And "Cov", and Mary Priest, and Dot Thompson, and—well, the whole court just looked gorgeous. Wasn't it too sweet when everyone clapped as Gurley took her place—such is the honor of queens. But I've always said there's consolation in the fact that I don't have to act queenly all the time.

Oh, the dances? They were great. The rainbow dance was the prettiest I ever saw. Really, dear, I can't begin to tell you about all of it. I think it's the prettiest May Day we've ever had.

Virginia Moore really should be awarded a medal, for patience as well as for good work. She's a marvel. Miss Robertson and Miss Barlow, I won't start on them. And then, Pearl and Liz and the other pianists. I think the school should give them a rising vote of thanks.

No, you don't mean to say so. Why, I saw quite a few girls with leaves but I evidently missed Louise Spreacher and her's. We was cute? I think that's precious. Why Sunday morning looked like Easter. These styles and colors are quite befitting such merry youth not to mention the parents.

Yes, Cotillion Club iniation began Monday. It will be a relief to see these goats in decent clothes. They do look so forlorn.

Oh, you didn't see Virginia Cox and her two sisters? Why they look exactly like her. I tell you, she better watch her step or her nose will get broken.

I must go, but I've one more thing to say, you should have seen Longwood May Day. It looked absolutely as if it were smiling and its big ole heart swelling with pride for S. T. C.'s fair daughters. I guess we'll be thanking Dr. Jarman forever for that one gift.

Sorry you can't go to the movies. See you at supper. Get my mail!

MAY DAY FESTIVAL AT LONGWOOD

Continued from page one

gnomes, with his grotesque followers, steals the gold from the beautiful daughters of the Rhine and fro mit fashions a ring which Alberich wears. All Walhalla, dismayed mourns and plans again. Logi and Woton decide to challenge the gnome to show is boasted strength. He complies and turns himself first into a dragon then into a toad to show his power. While in the form of a toad Logi and Woton steal his golden ring from him and ransom Freia from her giant captors. Joy and reveling reign once more at Walhalla and Freia in all her beauty is crowned queen of May, attended by a court of charmingly beautiful maids.

The story having been told the peasant boys and girls, dance around a garlanded may pole to celebrate the May.

The festival this year was one of unusual and extraordinary beauty and originality due to the splendid work of Virginia Moore, chairman, and her committees. The success of the event was evidenced by the enjoyment and approval of the crowds of visitors who thronged to Longwood to witness the Festival.

MAN MAKING

We all are blind until we see
That in the human plan
Nothing is worth the making if
It does not make the man.

Why build these cities glorious
If man unbuilded goes?
In vain we build the world unless
The builder also grows.

ALUMNAE NEWS

The District D meeting of the Cooperative Education Association was held at Carson High School, May 1. It was decided to divide the district into two groups, the Farmville and the Southside groups. Mrs. B. T. Taylor (Bessie Carter) of Prospect was elected chairman of Farmville district and Miss Mary Rives Richardson, of Farmville, vice-chairman.

As June approaches the sound of wedding bells is heard in the distance. The engagement of Miss Doris Beale of Richmond to Jerome O' Farrel Kilmartin, of Washington, is announced.

Mrs. Taylor Price of Salem, announces the engagement of her daughter, Blanche Elizabeth, to Archie Campbell Paulette of Farmville.

The marriage of Miss Pattie Jacquelin Irby, of Blackstone, and Richard Blount Jones, of Blackstone and Roanoke, will take place in the early summer.

Miss Virginia Wade Pettigrew, of Florence, S. C., will marry F. Stewart Clare, of South Carolina, in June. At present Miss Pettigrew is a student at Columbia University, N. Y. and Mr. Clare is at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y. The wedding will not interrupt their scholastic careers.

Miss Edith Harmon of Altavista and E. H. Barksdale of Lynchburg were married recently. Mrs. Barsdale has been teaching in Campbell County for several years.

NEW STUDENT COUNCIL FORMALLY INSTALLED

(Continued from Page 1)

meet them together. We knew there would be times when things would go wrong, but we agreed to face facts together—and together to set things right. We knew there would be times when we would go under—but we agreed not to complain, not to criticize—but to stay under just long enough to find out what the real trouble was, and to find a possible remedy. On looking back, I wonder if it has not been that spirit of togetherness that has counted most.

"There are so many things I would say to you, but they are not the sort of things one says—one feels them. You've accomplished so much. I would thank you for your wonderful spirit, and your willing cooperation; but in working with you I've learned better than to do that. I've learned that you don't want to be thanked for serving Alma Mater. You've served her for you love her, and to have loved in itself is sufficient reward.

"To our old Council, we would say, we know how much you have done; we know you have done much of which you are not aware, but we know that neither do you want to be thanked for serving Alma Mater. We appreciate it, and we appreciate you;—and —we'll remember!

"To the House Council, we extend our heartiest congratulations. They have had new fields to conquer, and they've conquered them; unknown paths to travel, and they've traveled them wisely and well. They have made the House Council a vital, a permanent part of our student life.

"To Dr. Jarman, there is nothing to say that can be said. But we know he understands.

"To Miss Mary, we offer our sincerest gratitude for all she has done.

"Everyone has helped and no one wants to be thanked.

"And now—to our new Council, we give the old, old challenge. We know you will keep it bright and firm and beautiful. Is it not enough to say—we believe in you? We've been learning, we are learning, and through you we shall continue to learn—Lincoln's rule of life: 'I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true; I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live up to the light I have; I must stand with anyone who is right, stand with him while he is right, and part from him when he goes wrong.'

"To Adele, I give a sincere wish that she will find as much real happiness ,in working with our girls, and in serving Alma Mater through them, as I have."

After administering the oath to the new Council President, Adele Hutchinson, Etta gave to her, her cap and gown, and with it sincerest wishes for a most successful year of service. Adele, then, accepted the challenge which had been given to her and administered the oath to the vice-president, Virginia Robertson; secretary, Grace Virginia Woodhouse; treasurer, Mildred Maddrey; campus league chairman, Jane Royall, the class representatives and ex-officio members.

Dr. Jarman welcomed the new council and expressed his regret that the out-going council girls would not be with us next year. He explained to the new council that their task is to inculcate the right spirit in those persons whom they will serve. The Honor Code is a step toward the further development of that spirit. In concluding the service, Dr. Diehl led in prayer.

From S. T. C. girls, here is a hearty wish for success to the former council and a promise of cooperation to their successors.

MOTHER!

As soft music echoes from the violin
I think of you, my Mother!
When I see lovely folwers, dewey and fresh
I think of you, my Mother!

I think of you, as stars twinkle above.
I think of you first as I think of those I love!
I think of you amidst holy rites,
I think of you amidst rainbow lights.

And—

As purple shadows bring twilight,
I think of you, my mother
"For beauty is truth," therefore
I think of you, dear mother!

J. C. S., '31

ATONEMENT

The sun shone grey
On the cold stone wall
At the fall of eventide,
And the wind blew loud
With many a cloud
For fantasies' thought to ride.

The blue smoke curled
O'er the darkn'ing world
And the builders stopped at their task,
And never a sun
Would pierce the gloom
Of the life not long to last.

The grey grew black
And the wind grew slack
At the clang of the midnight gong,
And silence crept
While a prisoner slept
The sleep that avenged his wrong.

L. M., '32

A THOUGHT

So live each day—
That when at eventide
You kneel to pray,
No conscience stricken thought
Will make you say,
"Dear God, forgive."
But fill each hour,
If not with kindly deed,
With thoughts of others
Humbling thyself. Thy creed—
"To live unselfishly."
Count not the joys
Of selfish pleasure gained
But count the joy
That from thine heart
Thou gave'st to ease a pain.
Let not him who fosters
The evil and nurtures scorn,
Claim thy treasured days
And make thy life forlorn—
Give more of thyself to One
Who said this word to thee,
"By living now for others
Thou hast done it unto Me."

L. M., '32

The president of the Student Assembly at Franklin and Marshall college makes a hobby of collecting pictures of Greta Garbo. To date his collection numbers over 100 photographs of the actress.—The Ring-tum Phi.

SOCIALS

Misses Gilberta Knight, Virginia Gurley, and Elizabeth Smitherman were in Lynchburg to lunch on May 1, with Blanche Murrell.

Misses Ann Woodson, A. J. Scott, Hannah Crawley, Nancy Putney, and Catherine Marchant were in Richmond April 29, with Miss Cash to attend the opera, "Aida."

Misses Ruth and Ruby Hunt attended the opera, "The Elixir of Love," in Richmond, April 30.

Misses Anne Arvin, Hazel Burgwin, Martha Walters, Dorothy Thompson, Catherine Marchant, and Frances Tarry were in Richmond this week-end.

Miss Chloris Glidewell attended the Kappa Psi dance at the University of Richmond this week-end.

Misses Pattie Ellison and Gazelle Ware were guests of Miss Sally Hundley of Lynchburg this week-end.

Misses Elsie Burgess and Margaret Rickeretts spent the week-end at their homes in Norfolk.

Miss Mayo Beaty attended the A. M. A. Easter dances this week-end.

Miss Elaine Goode spent Sunday in Emporia, Virginia.

Misses Evelyn Stephenson and Hannah Crawley were at University, Virginia this week-end.

Miss Jack Lee attended the Sigma Nu house party at the University of North Carolina this week-end.

Miss Martha Seabury was the guest of Miss Martha High of Hollins College this week-end.

Misses Grace Virginia Woodhouse Louise Whitlock and Laura M. Smith were the guests of Mrs. F. V. Woodward on Sunday.

Misses Catherine Cogbill, Kathryn Royster, Blanch Murrell, and Josie Spencer spent Sunday in Lynchburg.

Miss Virginia Robertson had as her guests this week-end Miss Marjorie Crumpler of Portsmouth, and Mildred Dixon of Hampton.

Pi Kappa Sigma announces with pleasure, as a pledge, Miss Dorothy Ritchie of Petersburg, Va.

On Saturday evening after the May Day Festival the Y. W. cabinet entertained the Student Council at Longwood with a picnic supper.

The Mu Omega sorority held its annual Founders Day banquet at Longwood, May 2. Among the old girls returning for the banquet were the following: Katherine Hatch. Wakefield; Jackie Woodson, Salem; Mary Tucker, Blackstone; Elizabeth Ferrell, Roanoe; Margaret Barham, Norfolk; Mary B. Fretwell, Farmville.

KAPPA DELTA PI ENTERTAINS MANY

Continued from page one

basis.

The students receiving the honor of invitation were:

Freshmen: Elizabeth Winston Cobb, Janie Elizabeth Dodson, Anne Janet Johnson, Elizabeth Florence Kutz, Melissa Foster Lynch, Mary Elizabth Mayo, Mary Thomas Rawls, Gay Athna Richardson, Wilma Evlyn Williams.

Sophomores: Mary Eleanor Davis, Mary Louise Elliott, Elsie Irvine Foster. Alice St. Ables Harrison, Ruth Simpson Hars, Sara Kimbrough Hubard, Dorothy Kathleen Jones, Bessie Hankins, Lynch, Anne Watkins Rice, Sarah Salisbury, Elizabeth Rhea Shackleton, Easter Marguerite Souders, Beatrice Almeda Gittsworth, Mabel Virginia Wills, Grace Virginia Woodhouse.

WHERE WE HAVE THE MOST FUN

The games have been postponed on account of May Day practice. The poor, silly freshmen play the bold bad sophomores on Wednesday, May 7 at 4. p. m. But it is going to be a tight game and how! Everybody is just boiling. Both teams can really hit 'em and run

Then, the Juniors and Seniors have their game Thursday, May 8 at 4 p. m. Now, we're wondering which team will be the goat in this game! You just can't miss it.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

LUCY THOMPSON

Lucy has the distinctive honor of being most intellectual in our hall of fame. Besides being active in nearly every phase of the school organizations, she is a member of Kappa Delta Pi, Alpha Kappa Gamma, and Pi Gamma Mu, three honorary fraternities.

As editor-in-chief of the Rotunda. she has proved her capability of management and directorship.

In her Sophomore and Junior years she served on the Student Council.

Among Lucy's other talents we might mention her business ability also, for she has been Dr. Wynne's secretary for three years.

Lucy deserves all the praise that is given her for truly she has proved to be an outstanding member of our student body. and a credit to her Alma Mater.

RACHEL ROYALL

Rachel is not only one of our outstanding girls, but she is also a typical Senior. Dignity, dependability, pleasant disposition, good scholastic standing—all of these desired qualities are a part of her make-up.

Rachel has been a very efficient member of both the Student Council and the Y. W. C. A. Cabinet. She is one of the Senior representatives on the Council and has served as chairman of two committees on the Cabinet.

She has shown her literary ability as social editor of the Rotunda.

Rachel does not confine her interests to the more serious things entirely, but also takes an active part in social activities of the school.

It is really needless to say that everyone who knows Rachel loves her, but we will say that in every way she has lived up to the true spirit of our Alma Mater.

Mu Omega Sorority wishes to announce the following new members: Frances Ratcliffe, Staunton, Va. Martha E. Faris, Red Hill, Va. Margaret T. Faris, Red Hill, Va.

SARA McCORKLE

Sara stands out in the Senior class as a girl whom we can count on any time to be our sincere friend. We love her because she is truthful, aboveboard, and straightforward in everything. When we are in trouble and need sympathy, we know that Sara will not fail us regardless of the cost to her. She has been a leader because her principles are of the highest, and we know that she will stick by that which is right. We place all our confidence and trust in her, because there is no doubt that she will never stoop to anything two-faced or small.

Sara's service to the student body has been as advertising manager of The Virginian in her junior year and business manager of the Rotunda in her senior year. In these capacities we have seen her quiet leadership and influence. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Gamma and has given further service in this organization.

We wish for Sara all the happiness that she deserves. Of her success in all that she undertakes, there can be no doubt—for is she not the most valuable thing in the world—a sincere friend?

IT PAYS TO DEAL
at
GREENBERG'S
DEPT. STORE
First in Style
Lowest in Price
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

Godey Prints
—for—
Mother's Day Gifts
The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Quality—Price—Service
Come in and get acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

SPRING SHOWING OF
HATS
THE HAT SHOPPE
Mrs. H. H. Hunt
THIRD STREET
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE
Next to the Theatre
Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies
MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Falconer Gift Shop
Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery
Engraving
COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh films)
Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)
COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S
is headquarters for the best
SANDWICHES AND DRINKS
in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
Work done while you wait with
First Class Materials
110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS
Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop
323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus
G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will fix your shoes
WHILE YOU WAIT
Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS
TAILORING CLEANING
PRESSING
Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

SPRING OPENING SPECIALS

The new three piece knitted suits all colors and combination colors $9.95

Beautiful spring coats, sport and dress wear with and without lapin fur $9.95 to $27.50

Beautiful new spring shoes the newest blondes, dull kids, and patents, reds, blues, and greens, all sizes and widths, from C to AAAA's $2.85, $3.85, $4.85, $5.85 and $6.85.

Final Close Out—of all early spring and fall dresses, original values from $15 to $27.50, special $5.95

Allen A Hosiery, $1.50 values, special $1.00

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Farmville, Va.

Kitty Cogbill: "So you're going through college by working your way? What do you do, Dot?"

Dot: "I'm a contractor."

Kitty: "A contractor?"

Dot: "I contract debts."

Medora Ford at Hampden-Sydney at a baseball game, "Martha, they have a man on every base."

Martha Moore: "That's nothing so has the other side."

Zell Ware: "What are you going to give your mother for Mother's Day?"

Patty Ellison: "That depends on what she can afford."

Margaret Gathwright does not want a leopard skin coat because it shows spots so badly.

Though it is not generally known snails never use asbestos brake linings.

Hubby: "Yes, dear, when I was in Africa I shot an elephant in my pajamas."

Wifey: "My goodness, how did he get there?"

Mr. Hub: "Now, this is the smartest thing we have in hats."

Frank Smoot: "What you mean is that when I get it on, you will see the smartest thing you have ever seen in a hat."

V. P. I. Cadet: "Say, that date you got me last night was a grapefruit."

"Happy": "How's that?"

V. P. I. Cadet: "Well, when I squeezed her she hit me in the eye."

Prof: "When did the revival of learning begin?"

Student: "Just before exams."

Freshman: "Have you got your grades, yet?"

Soph: "Yep. They weren't so bad."

Freshman: "No? Which course did you pass?"

Stern Father: "How was it, young man that you were petting my daughter? Answer quickly. How was it?"

Bold Suitor: "Great—simply great!"

Marcus: "Would you call for help if I were to kiss you?"

Eliz.: "Would you need help?"

Dalton (to fair patient): "You certainly have acute appendicitis."

E. Goode: "Oh, doctor, you flatter me."

"Here's a cigar. You two flip for it."

"Give it to him. I'm not an acrobat."

Helen: "Gee! That candy makes my mouth water."

Tom Pumphrey: "Well, here's a blotter."

"How do you get along with your wife?"

"I wonder simetimes myself."

Inquisitive One: "Why the black crepe on the door? Roommmate dead?"

Neale: "That's the roommate's towel."

"May I kiss you?" he asked, and she added sweet permission, so they went to press, and I rather guess they printed a large edition.

Dr. Walmsley: "I took great pleasure in giving you B on history."

Clara Norfleet: "Aw, make it A and enjoy yourself."

Chapel Speaker: "I made myself a success. I started life as a barefoot boy."

Voice from rear: "I wasn't born with shoes on myself."

AN ANCIENT ART COMES TO LIFE

Archery has been in progress since the middle of March, and many girls have been very interested in it. If one should look out on the athletic field from 5 to 6 o'clock, she would see a line of the most interested girls waiting for their time to try their skill at shooting an "arrow into the air." Each one has tried to prove that she will be a feminine Robin Hood even if she doesn't hit the bull's eye everytime.

To prove that archery is popular at S. T. C. just take a peep at the spectators as well as participators. Why the other day we had Mr. Graham and his son, many over-interested fifth grade boys from the training school, and several little girls who had to be led out of the range of flying arrows. Mr. Graham became so interested he had to try his hand at the bow, too. All the boys wondered how Indians even used bows and arrows; but after they saw S. T. C. girls sticking their arrows up (not in the bull's eye of course) the problem was solved.

An archery tournament will be held May 9, and all those interested in entering this tournament will find a poster on the A. A. bulletin board on which they may sign up to enter.

COME ON AND BREAK A RECORD!

Many passersby become so interested in the scenes which they see on the athletic field from five to six o'clock every afternoon that they stop and wonder if they really see S. T. C. girls. After many moments of hard thinking, they decide that they are our girls practicing field and track events for field day which is May 15.

Although field and track is a comparatively new sport for women, we know that as early as the time of the Greeks, girls delighted in races and relays.

Today our girls have taken up the Greek sport and added to it both throwing and jumping events. The following is a list of our S. T. C. records:

Dash, 75 yards, 9 sec., Juliet Jones

Running broad jump, 14 feet, Virginia Pierce

Shot put, 30 ft., Emma Woods.

Hop-step-jump, 30 ft. 5 in., Louise Moore.

Javelin, 65 ft 9 in., M. F. Hatchett

Hurdles, 9 sec. Nellie Talley.

Running high jump, 4 ft 4 in, Virginia Gurley.

Baseball throw. 190 ft. 8 in., M. F. Hatchett.

BASEBALL SQUADS FOR '30

Freshman—T. Beacham, L. Boush, L. Crute, P. Edwards, B. Gillespie, M. Gregory, M. Gunter, E. Hardy, M. Massey, R. McDaniel, K. Martin, B. Morris, D. Ritchie, H. Ross, V. Sanford, D. Snedegar, H. Taylor, E. Walthall.

Sophomores—E. Boswell. S. Cross. A. Crane, F. Edwards, L. Elliott, K. Hundley, C. Quisenberry, M. Scales, M. W. Terry, Juniors—E. Dutton, E. Evans, M. Gregory, E. Hunter, M. March, M. Nuttall, A. Oliver, L. N. Smith, E. Simpson.

Seniors—M. Anthony, N. S. Anthony, C. Fleming, M. F. Hatchett. M. F. Shepard. L. M. Smith, K. Stevens, M. R. Wood.

Historic Gardens Visited By Over 1,000 Persons Daily

Approximately 1,000 visitors have visited daily the historic gardens of the James River plantation belt this week during Garden Week. Claremont, the Brandons, Shirley, and Westover are the most famous estates of this territory, which in Colonial days were the scenes of social life equal to that of England.

A Plague of Locusts

Continued from page one

were destroyed as fast as possible, but fresh arrivals quickly took their places. On April 11 a dense mass of locusts, estimated to have been seven miles long, emerged from Wadi.—The Nation.

At the Eaco Theatre

Week of May 12 to 17

MONDAY and TUESDAY—"The Cock Eyed World," featuring Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe, Lily Damita and El Brenden, in a smashing sequel to that epic of love, laughter and battle, "What Price Glory." No production of recent times has created such a furor and captivated audiences as has "The Cock Eyed World." McLaglen and Lowe are pals, buddies, brothers; everything is great until one falls for a "femme." Then each claims priority and the innocent cause of the trouble must stand by while they tell each other a plenty. Now you can hear the riot between Flagg and Quirt as they fool, frolic and fume with other's "sweeties" from Siberia to the tropics. The greatest laugh-provoking picture of the season—a $2 picture at regular prices. Also a Pathe song reel. "The Trumpet-..."

WEDNESDAY and THURS.—Norma Shearer in "The Divorcee." Daring but truthful. Seldom a picture so sensational in its disclosures of ex-wives and ex-husbands is shown. A new high in talking entertainment; a picture even now predicted to be the greatest made for 1930. Miss Shearer was never more radiant and intriguing, and if you liked her in "The Last of Mrs. Chesney," you'll more than enjoy this, her best effort since her picture career began. And note this supporting cast: Robert Montgomery, Chester Morris and Conrad Nagel—all great lovers. Her husband's best friend was her worst enemy, and she was too proud to fight. Her sin was not in loving—but in telling. To the world she was a divorcee—but he was still her husband! A picture that will live long in your memory, and by which you will compare other dramas for the highest standard of dramatic art. Also two reel comedy.

FRIDAY and SATURDAY—"Free and Easy," with Buster Keaton, Anita Page, Robert Montgomery, and in different scenes such celebrities as William Haines, Lionel Barrymore, John Miljan, Trixie Friganza, Dorothy Sepastian, Fred Niblo, William Collier, Jr., and Karl Dane, and last but not least—Cecil DeMille, the great director. The story is a riot of fun and deals with a beauty contest winner's efforts to break into the movies through the efforts of her self-appointed manager, who was a former garage man. The picture features half a dozen brand new melodies and several beautiful and spectacular ballets. If you want to go to Hollywood, rub elbows with the stars, see what's going on back-stage in the studios, then see and laugh at "Free and Easy." Also Sporting Youth and Pathe sound news.

Two shows each night, 7:30 and 9:15. Daily matinee at 4 p. m. Admission, adults 35c at night and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

C. E. Chappell Co.

Dealers in

Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery

AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Farmville - - - - Va.

Mothers Day Candy

and

Mother's Day Cards

at

McIntosh's Drug Store

Farmville - - - - Va.

CANADA DRUG CO.

Next to Baldwin's Store

Come to us for your cosmetics and STATIONERY

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

COTY

NEW INDELIBLE LIPSTICK

Specially shaded for perfect outlines. Platinum-to-Sheath, $1.00.

LOVELY LIPS MADE LOVELIER

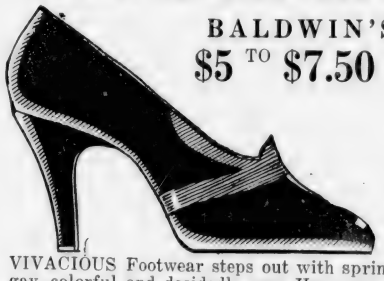
IT STAYS—and beautifies exquisitely. Each shade is artistic perfection of colour.

COTY

DON'T FORGET YOUR BEST PAL

NEXT MONTH

MOTHER'S DAY MOTTOS



25c EACH

on sale now!

SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES

MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

SMART NEW FOOTWEAR

BALDWIN'S

$5 TO $7.50

VIVACIOUS Footwear steps out with spring—gay, colorful and decidedly new. Here you will find the new pastel shades in kidskin and calf—all attuned to the happiest moods of the new season.

NEW SILK DRESSES

$7.95

new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.

—in the Basement—

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.

The House of Quality

FARMVILLE, VA.

Sophomore Minstrel Be Sure to Come

ROTUNDA

Don't Miss The Dansant Saturday

Volume X THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 14, 1930 No. 30

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HOLDS INSTALLATION WEDNESDAY EVENING

Laura N. Smith Was Officially Installed as the New President

The officers of the A. A. were duly installed Wednesday evening, May 7. As the curtain was drawn, the old and new officials were seen seated in the customary semi-circle. "Little" Laura in a few words told the student body what they, the outgoing officers, had used as their goal and what they had accomplished. She thanked the girls of her Alma Mater for the spirit of cooperation which had been shown throughout the year and wished for the new president the same pleasure and joy in serving that she had experienced. It was with sorrow and gladness that the new President, Laura N. Smith was installed.

The vice-presidents were next to exchange places. Allie Oliver who served this office last year met the ingoing officer, "Jim" Simpson, in the center of the platform and taking from her arm the blue and white colors of S. T. C., placed them across the shoulder of the new vice-president signifying that she now held a responsible office in the Association.

In a like manner and with a wish for even more success during the coming year than was had in the past year the old officers installed the girls who will serve in their several places. The other out-going and in-coming officers are as follows:

Secretary, Claudia Fleming, old; Easter Souders, new.

Treasurer. Laura N. Smith, old; E. Frances Edwards, new.

To the A. A. the challenge for a bigger and even better spirit of cooperation here at S. T. C. is ever present, and with the whole student body backing them, we see great things ahead.

NEW INSTRUMENT IS ANNOUNCED

Instrument makers have long attempted to achieve fine tone-divisions, only to be hampered at each turn by man's clumsiness. The possibilities of the violin, for example, are limited to quarter tones due to the breadth of man's fingers.

Last week two Massachusetts Institute of Technology professors, Arthur Cobb Hardy, and Sherwood F. Brown, announced a new instrument which takes the burden of precision off man, puts it on electrical apparatus. No strings, no vibrating air columns are in their invention, which may best be compared to the reproduction apparatus for movietone talking pictures.—Time.

CHORAL CLUB ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

At the business meeting of the Choral Club last week the following officers were elected:

President ..... Mildred Maddrey
Vice-President and Reporter ..... Jane Witt
Secretary ..... Catherine Jones
Treasurer ..... Ruth Hunt

The Choral Cub is making interesting plans in connection with its work for next year. Hoping to make a concert tour early in the season, the Club is busy at present building up a program that may be used in these concerts.

Freshman Commission Has Lawn Fete

Music and Delicious Food Are Features of Entertainment

On Saturday afternoon from 4:30 to 7:00 S. T. C. students were the paying dinner guests of the Freshman Commission at a delicious meal served at an improvised banquet hall in the colonnade. Many guests called both from S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney. Patrons of music week also found refreshment in the delicious food, picturesque spot, and restful music. Several members of the faculty honored the festival with their presence.

Given as a means of increasing their treasury, the lawn fete sponsored by this group of freshmen afforded a delightful evening for a host of people. To the soft strains of "Kiss Me Again," and caressed by the cool breezes from a beautiful campus of which they enjoyed a wide view, the diners partook of tasty morsels prepared by the Commission's cooks themselves.

Indeed, Joan smiled down upon a cool, contented, and conversational throng, and happy was the Maid of Orleans when purple flag lilies and girlish faces smiled back.

Since this fete was so enjoyed another would surely ge welcome.

LATIN CLUB ELECTIONS ARE HELD

The election of officers for the coming year was held at the regular meeting of the Latin Club, Friday evening, May 2. The new officers are:

President ..... Bessie Lynch
Vice-President ..... Nan Mears
Secretary ..... Frances Crawford
Treasurer ..... Eleanor Davis
Reporter ..... Annie Denit
Editor of Club Magazine ..... Louise Elliott
Business Mgr. ..... Lois Cox

Bessie Lynch, editor of the club publication, "Tributum," for this year made a short talk about the magazine and expressed her appreciation to those who had contributed to its success. Tributum is the first publication ever sponsored by the club. Its content and originality render it of especial interest to the students of the Latin department. The staff deserves high commendation for its work on this interesting magazine.

LUCY THOMPSON

DEDICATION

We, the members of the Rotunda Staff, as a token of our love, admiration, and respect for her, wish to dedicate this issue of The Rotunda to Lucy Thompson, whose work as editor-in-chief for the past year has been a source of inspiration to us.

THE DEBATE CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Debate Club held its regular meeting Thursday, May 8, at 7:30 p m. At this time new officers for the coming year were elected. They are as follows:

President ..... French Hutt
Vice-President ..... Elizabeth Hunter
Secretary ..... Elizabeth Johnson
Treasurer ..... Mary Warren
Reporter ..... Nan Mears
Chairman of Council for Debating ..... Jane Witt
Members of Council for Debating ..... Margaret Hix, Allie Oliver
Faculty Adviser ..... Mr. Bowman

After the elections, the meeting adjourned.

DR. JARMAN ATTENDS COUNCIL ON EDUCATION

On May 9 and 10 the American Council on Education met in Washington, D. C.

President Jarman attended this meeting as the delegate representing the American Association of Teachers Colleges. He is the only representative at this meeting of this association which embraces all of the standard teacher training institutions in the United States.

NATIONAL MUSIC WEEK IS OBSERVED AT S. T. C. WITH VARIED PROGRAM

Training School High School Glee Club and College Training Scholo Take Part

At various times during the week of May 5 to 10, which is National Music Week, special musical programs were given in the S. T. C. auditorium.

On Wednesday, May 7, the first program was given jointly by the Fourth Grade of the Training School, the High School Glee Club, and the Freshman Song Class. The Fourth Grade was organized into an Harmonica Band under the direction of one of the small boys. hey played the following numbers: "America," "Old Black Joe," "Old Folks at Home," and "Home Sweet Home."

Under the direction of Elizabeth Taylor the High School Glee Club sang "Sunset Land". The program was concluded by two numbers from the Freshman Song Class, "After the Rain" and "All Through the Night."

On Saturday morning, May 10, the College Orchestra, after the Seniors had marched in to the tune of "Alma Mater" played by them and after devotional exercises had been held, presented the following program·

Echoes from the Volga—Russian Folk Melodies
Song My Mother Taught Me, Dvorak
Choya Dance and Oasis from Desert Suite—Grunn.
Piano Solo Lillian Bovell
Cello Solo—Bornschein—Virginia Williams.
Flute Solo—Alice Grainger
Blue Danube—Strauss

The climax of the programs during music week came on the afternoon of May 10, at 4 o'clock, when the Southside High School Chorus presented a program in the auditorium. While the College Orchestra played the pupils of the various high schools filed in; then this program was given:

America—
Songs Mother Taught Me—Dvoral:

(Continued on page 3)

Sopohomores Choose Miss Iler as Class Man

Rawls and Ritchie Chosen as Other Officers for Year 1930-'31

Realizing that the greatest part of their success and the least part of their failures were due to her never failing aid and wise guidance, the Freshmen at a meeting on Friday morning unanimously chose Miss Iler as classman, to lead them during their sophomore year.

Dorothy Ritchie, an active and popular member of the class was ected secretary for next year. Belief in her competency to fill the position is shared by all.

Mary Thomas Rawls, an equally prominent freshman, was chosen as treasurer. Her accuracy and capability offer assurance that she will efficiently hold this position. The fact that not a dissenting vioce was heard when a move was made to elect Miss Iler unanimously, but instead thunderous applause, stands as a tribute to the wonderful advice and actual aid she has given as class man this year, and is expressive of the love and appreciation the class holds for her.

With Miss Iler their director, with the knowledge acquired this year, and with the retention of their spirit as a class, the Freshmen entertain high hopes of a bigger and a brighter future as Sophomores.

JUNIOR CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS FOR 1930-'31

At the regular meeting of the Sophomore Class on Wednesday, May 7 the officers of next year's Junior Class were discussed and elected.

Nominations for president had been made the week before and from those nominees Grace Virginia Woodhouse was chosen to lead the class of '32 for the coming year. The class showed by its enthusiasm that it was back of Grace Virginia, even though it is with a heavy heart that they see their present president leave them after so skillfully having guided them through their first two years at S. T. C.

The other officers elected were:vice-president, Evelyn Stephenson; secretary, Easter Souders; treasurer, Ruth Floyd; student council representatives, Charlotte Hutchins and Virginia Bledsoe; student standards committee rep-

(Continued on last page)

SOPHOMORE CLASS HOLDS DANSANT IN "REC"

Friday afternoon, May 9, the monotony of a spring week-end at school was broken by a dansant, given by the Sophomore class in the "Rec" from four to six o'clock. Music was furnished by the Hampden-Sydney orchestra and was exceptionally good. Punch was sold by the members of the class and was quite delightful on such a hot afternoon.

A large number of Hampden-Sydney boys attended the dance which naturally attributed to the enjoyment of the girls. Due to the fact that there were many more girls than boys the girls did the breaking. The dance was without a doubt a success for all those who attended.

PITTSYLVANIANS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

The Pittsylvanian Club met May 15 and elected officers for the coming year. They were as follows:

President ..... E. Frances Edwards
Vice-President ..... Martha Earp
Secretary ..... Kathleen Hundley
Treasurer ..... Hazel Finch
Reporter ..... Pearl Edwards

After tentative plans were made for a party in the near future, the meeting adjourned.

This club is losing some of its girls this year, but their vacancies will be filled by little sisters.

STOP! LOOK! LISTEN! THE SOPHOMORE MINSTREL IS TO BE GIVEN HERE ON FRIDAY EVENING

(Remarks from Station C-R-A-z-Y)

MoVies! DaNsants! And wHat nOt! And nOw, cOmes the TREAT of tHe seAsoN. in tHe foRm of tHe SoPHoMORE MINSTREL! ActuAlly, I meAn My deAr, if yOu dOn't waNt to depRIVE youRself of sOme REAL GENUINE pleAsUre, yOu will avAil yOursElf of tHe oPPortuNity of coming to tHis comeDy of LAughs FRIDAY NIGHT—tHe 16th.

WhEn E. GooDe flAshes hEr winNing sMile aNd siNgs, "You've Got That Thing"—Oh, Why! You'll bEgiN to thiNk that yOu're tHe oRigiNal exPoneNt of ELINOR Glyn's "It" tHeory. And I dOn't meAn "If"!

And Martha Walters! Need I sAy mOrE? EverybOdy kNows that hEr nAme is syNoNoMous with— wHat sHall I cAll it—oh, yEs—DYNAMIC PERSONALITY! When yOu hEar hEr speciAlty nuMber, "Hello Baby" —But rEally—yOu caN't affOrd to miss it. I meAn yOu aCtuAlly caN't!

Have yOu evEr heArd Allie Kae Libby siNg? You haveN't? ThEn yOu've miSSEd a—but I'll lEt yOu cOme and see fOr yOursElf. It wOuldn't do aNy haRm to hAve tHe bOy friEnd nEar whEn she siNgs, "Have a Little Faith In Me." If yOu get what I mEan!

All of tHe latEst sOng hits aRe featured. Among these aRe: "Beside An Open Fireplace," "Sunny Side Up", "Congratlulations", "Cryin' for the Carolines." and otHers tHat yOu will wRite hoMe aBout.

And by tHe wAy—dOn't forgEt to cOme prePared to laugh 'till yOu cRy. The eNd mEn yOld keep yOu roARing fRom staRt to fiNish.

Write hoMe fOr tHat extRa quarter toDay—or wRite yOur date—yEah! He'd lOve it!

And nOw—lAst but nOt lEast dOn't fOrget to cOme eArly aNd gEt a good sEat. So lOng! See yOu tHere!

Oh, I almOst fOrgOt! TheRe is a sAilor chOrus that beAts the cradle of tHe Deep aNd—evEn SAlt Water Taffy. It cArries yOu bAck to High School days in sOngs, aNd to tHe ORIENT in drEams.

Don't miss it!

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor — LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

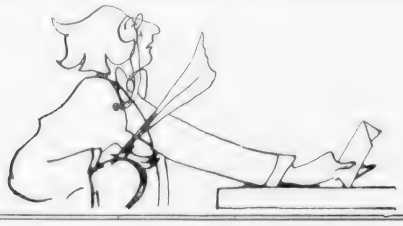
Board of Editors

News Editor — MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor — MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor — FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor — SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor — A J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor — VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELL JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31

Proof Reader — WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader — MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33



Managers

Business Manager — DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager — HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager — ELLA CARROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager — MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

Study-Hour Conscience

The question of whether or not open study hours is a success automatically faces one at the close of this school year. Whether it has been a success is determined by the individual, and not by the Student Council, Faculty or Home Department. Therefore, girls, try to answer this problem in your own way for yourself.

What has study hour really meant to you this year? Have you had the right attitude toward the privilege given you, or have you abused it? Each one of us when leaving another girl's room, should feel that someone has been helped rather than hindered by our action.

Some girls do not seem to realize that the only difference between closed and open study hour is that under the latter we do not have to get permission to visit a girl's room. Our one reason for visiting another room should be to acquire help or give help for some class or for some important reason. Have we missed the aim of open study hour?

When the bell rings for study hour we should have a different feeling about the time from then until study hour is over. There's a difference "in the air". The second thought, that it is study hour, stops you from doing something that you would like very much to do. Have you ever thought this may be due to a study hour "conscience"?

Train yourself to listen when that study hour conscience speaks! It says "to make a loud noise would disturb some one who wants to study," or, is visiting, it sometimes whispers, "maybe they have to study so run along"; or "what better time to prepare the assignments for tomorrow than now?"

Therefore, we must develop our study hour conscience so that the big step we took last fall can still continue to be our privilege. It is in our hands to make it a success!

OVER THE TEACUPS

Oh, hello! I didn't know you were down here. Doesn't this reading for sociology keep you busy. Thank goodness there're only two or three more weeks and then—Scares me to say it. Summer!

Oh, no, I'm not very sunburned yet. And these last two days have, well, put a blight on the business. I was on the roof the other day, however, and I truly got an eyeful. Can you feature Sara Rowbotham and Virginia Robertson and Grace Virginia doing that? Umph, if someone were punishing us by making us stay in the noon sun for an hour we'd strike or think them inhuman. I never realized the truth of ye ole saying before, "All fools aren't dead yet."

Please excuse me for changing the subject so quickly, but did you put your man's picture down in the hall Monday? I didn't 'cause I was embarrassed. From those specimens I saw, I've no doubt but that my Keydet would have won without a question. I don't see how some have the nerve to—What? Shew you his picture! Well-er-'re—it's in the bottom of my trunk. You see we kinder broke up after Christmas, but I'll show it to you sometimes. (Hope she forgets that promise.)

Listen to that racket. Will the Sophomores ever stop practicing for their minstrel? It sounds as if it will be rather good. Are you going? I guess I will if I can scare up the change. I went to the Freshman lawn fete Saturday and it was delightful. I want to hide when people remind me that I was a freshman last year. Why, we didn't even exist compared to the freshmen of this year.

I've got to read this sociology now. I'm about six articles behind as is. Guess I'll have to put cotton in my ears.

Gee, I'm too sleepy to read this stuff anyhow. Think I'll go wash my hose and turn in. Hope you get some studying done. Luck to you. Nite!

COTILLION CLUB HOLDS INITIATION

The goats are now old members and ladies again. What relief to see well dressed girls, at least well dressed compared to the costumes worn last week.

Initiation? Oh, yeah Cotillion! Paddles, molasses, cotton, assophoediti, flour, vicles or crocuss, marshmallows a la castor oil—ugh, I'm sick now! Did they take it like men? Yes, more or less like queer forms they represented. Fat ladies, thin ladies, clowns, babies. birds, beasts or fish, they were all there. My wildest nightmares never took forms so rare. Heaven forbid, that nightmares ever come true, at least if they look as did the goats at Cotillion Club initiation.

Would that I had their pictures to put before your eye. If laughing makes one fat, my dear, you'd surely outgrow your clothes.

THE COIN

Into my heart's treasury
I slipped a coin
That time cannot take
Nor a thief purloin,—
Oh, better than the minting
Of a gold-crowned king
Is the safe-kept memory
Of a lovely thing.

Sara Teasdale

NOTICE

The Rotunda Staff wishes to express it's regret for Lucy Thompson's picture having been omitted from the senior cut last week. The error occurred in the making of the cut.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Mrs. Daisy Bradshaw Clarke will receive a certificate for social service work at the commencement exercises in Richmond, June 6, of the School of Social Work and Public Health of the College of William and Mary. Mrs. Bradshaw will also receive the B. S. degree at the commencement exercises of the college in Williamsburg.

Miss Vida Murfee, principal of the D. M. Brown School in Petersburg, has been elected president of the Teachers Club of that city. Miss Frances Spindler of Lee School will be the new vice-president.

The engagement of Miss Mildred Berkley Borwning of Orange to Robert Lee Rogers of Walhalla, S. C., has been announced. The marriage will take place in the early summer. Miss Borwning has been teaching in Orange County since her graduation. Mr. Rogers is a member of the faculty of Woodberry Forest High School near Orange Courthouse.

Mrs. Sophie Booker Packer, of Hampden-Sydney is general chairman of the flower show which the Longwood Garden Club and the Garden Study Club of Farmville will hold on Wednesday, May 14, on hird Street. Handsome prizes are being offered for exhibits of spring flowers by members of these and other clubs. Prizes will also be given to children for the best arrangement of wild flowers in baskets or cases, and for miniature gardens.

A leaflet publishes the prize awards of the Irene Leache Memorial (Norfolk. Va.), from which we extract this portrait sketch:

MR. BLOUNT
By Julia Johnson Davis
Winner of the Helen Rogers prize for portrait sketch or genre poem

Two fields over from Buckland Town
Lived old man Blount, in a tumble-down,
Fall-to-pieces little house,
And no more to eat than a poor field mouse.

Clothes all ragged, hair like straw,
The strangest creature you ever saw.
A little bit off up in his head,
A little "teched," the village said.

But poor old Blount thought he was clever,
Cause nobody warn't goin' to trap him never.
And poor old Blount thought he was wise,
Cause nobody ketched him by surprise.

For no matter what you asked him to do,
There was just one answer he'd give you,
Just one answer, high and shrill,
"Ain't sayin' I won't, ain't sayin' I will!"

He always walked with a kind of waver,
And his high cracked voice was all of a quaver,
And as for teeth, he just had two,
But nobody telled him what to do.

You'd say in an easy sort of way,
"Blount. can't you help me get in my hay?"
And he'd just cackle, would Mr. Blount,
"Ain't sayin' I will, ain't sayin' I wont!"

Or, "Look here, Blount, you're getting thinner,
Stop to the kitchen now, and get some dinner."
And he'd just cackle, would Mr. Blount,
"Ain't sayin' I will, ain't sayin' I wont!"

Cold weather, warm weather, wet or dry.
Binding the corn, or cutting the rye,
Mending fences or splitting wood,
Things old Blount said he did good,
But ask him to do them, and he'd quaver still,
"Ain't sayin' I won't, ain't sayin' I will!"

Ah, Gabriel, Gabriel in the skies
When you blow your trumpet and shout "Arise!"
And we all stand up, you will hear Mr. Blount,
"Ain't sayin' I will, ain't sayin' I wont!"

Mrs. Davis was a member of the kindergarten faculty for several years after her graduation.

MOTHER

Like "a white candle
In a holy place
Such is the beauty"
Mother, of thy face.

Like the warm radiance
Of the setting sun
Is your smile, mother
When the day is done.

Like a gentle breeze,
O'er a fevered land,
Is the soft sweet touch
Of your tender hand.

Like a golden sun
In an azure blue
Is that bit of heaven—
Love—that comes from you.

L. M., '32

PEACE

Peace there is when a storm is done
Peace that follows a victory won.
Peace of "old men sitting in the sun"
Then a brooding peace when day is done.

Firesides hold peace of a rosy hue
Waves speak peace, lapping a small canoe
Peace is sought by all, but very few
Have my peace—it is my love for you.

F. W., '30

DISAPPOINTMENT

Work—
A year,
A cherished hope,
And then encouragement.
Failure—
Night,
A broken dream.
And then realization.
Pain—
A tear,
A lack of faith,
And disappointment.
Dawn—
A light,
A new task,
Someone has faith.
A cherished hope,
A year,
Work—

L. M., '32

FALSE GOD

I made an image of a man I knew
Setting him up for my heart to follow
The mettle seemed true all through
I did not know the feet were hollow!

Many an idol may stand for a day
On a pedestal builded with care
But when nothing is there but feet of clay
We no longer hang dreams on its hair.

My idol, tonight, is resting in dust—
Dust powder of fragments of dreams,
Out of my heart tear it, I must!
My God was a false one it seems!

F. W., '30

WINDOWS

I looked through others' windows
On an enchanted earth,
But out of my own window—
Solitude and dearth.

And yet there is a mystery
I cannot understand—
That others through my window
See an enchanted land.

Jessie B. Rittenhouse

SOCIALS

Miss Mary White Cox, Mrs. Warren, Miss Potts, Lucille Norman, and Sara McCorkle went to Roanoke for the day Sunday.

Mrs. Tabb and Miss Winnie Hiner were in Richmond Sunday.

Miss Camper and Miss Bierbower were in Roanoke Sunday.

Chi Phis of Hampden-Sydney had their annual Spring Dance on Friday night. The following S. T. C. girls attended: Mildred Field Elmore, Alice Covington. Hazel Burgwin, Mayo Beaty, Anne Black, Lucy Dortch, Suzanne Holland, Elizabeth Etheridge, Lela Germany, Elaine Goode, Rena Greaves, Catherine Grinnan, Virginia Gurley, Nan Griffith, Frances Hutchins, Eleanor Hogan, Alice Hardaway, Jenilee Knight, Catherine Marchant, Jacque Lee, Margaret Loving, Allie Kae Libby, Martha MacKenzie, Melisse Mullen, Louise Munt, Virginia Marchant, Courtney Neale, Mary Priest, Dolly Reid, Frances Parker, Marguerite Swann, Martha Sanders, Marion Seay, Frank Smoot, Doris Walton, and Martha Walters.

The following S. T. C. girls attended the Fancy Dress Ball given by the Kappa Alphas of Hampden-Sydney: Louise Munt, Frances Parker, Melisse Mullen, Martha MacKenzie, Allie Kae Libby, Margaret Loving, Jacque Lee, Catherine Marchant, Jenilee Knight, Dolly Reed, Alice Hardaway, Mary Priest, Eleanor Hogan, Courtney Neale, Nan Griffith, Virginia Gurley, Rena Greaves, Catherine Grinnan, Elaine Goode, Lela Germany, Elizabeth Etheridge, Anne Black, Mayo Beaty, Hazel Burgwin, Alice Covington, Frances Potts, Mildred Field Elmore, Martha Walters, Mary Brightwell, Frances Hutchins, Marguerite Swann, Martha Sanders, Ruth Hunt, Suzanne Holland, Marion Seay, Frank Smoot, and Doris Walton.

Melisse Mullen and Mary Trimyer were the guests of Mrs. W. K. Weaver, Richmond, Virginia on Sunday.

Allie Oliver spent the week-end with her sister in Richmond.

Margaret Gathright spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

Dorothy and Margaret Leonard spent Sunday at their home in Richmond.

Laura M. Smith, Virginia Witt, Virginia Ford, Janet Harris, Loulie Milner, Frances Ratcliff, Blanche Murrell, Grace Virginia Woodhouse, and Sparks Ross spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Elizabeth Thornton was the guest of Mrs. W. E. Evans, Richmond, Va.

"Teeny" Myers, Elizabeth Temple, Harriet and Sue Moomaw spent the week-end in Roanoke.

Adele Hutchinson was the guest of Mrs. H. R. Reed, Roanoke, this week-end.

Elizabeth Antrim and Florence Booten spent the wee-end at the home of the latter at Orange, Virginia.

Mary Elizabeth Mayo, Sue Huyett, and Tempe Ewing spent the week-end at Charlottesville.

Laura N. Smith spent the week-end at her home at London Bridge, Virginia.

Mary Will and Margaret Vincent spent the week-end at their home at Emporia, Virginia.

Louise Whitlock spent the week-end at her home at Milton, N. C.

Virginia Cox and Virginia Bledsoe spent the week-end at Norfolk.

Ruth Ford spent the week-end at Westhampton College, Richmond, Va.

CUNNINGHAM LITERARY SOCIETY PICNIC

Warm summer days at S. T. C. always bring with them the lure of hikes and picnics. Business and studies are placed aside for many such delightful occasions during the month of May. One of the first affairs of this nature was a picnic at Longwood Friday afternoon, May 9, given by the members of the Cunningham Literary Society. The group left the school shortly after five o'clock for Longwood, and returned at seven-thirty. Nothing was lacking, especially food, to make the picnic other than a brilliant and pleasing success for those who were fortunate enough to have the opportunity to go.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

NANNIE SUE ANTHONY

Isn't it true that there are some people that we just love to meet in the halls, on the campus, or in the class room because of the sunshine that seems to radiate from them? Our hearts are unconsciously warmed and our tasks seem perceptibly lightened, after even a brief contact with a person like Nannie Sue, who is never too busy or hurried to fling at us a sunny smile or offer so willingly to assist with some difficult piece of work. That bright disposition will continue to prove an asset in smoothing out the rough places of her life and the lives of those with whom she comes in touch. Nannie Sue's record of scholastic accomplishment and service to her Alma Mater is one of which S. T. C. may well be proud. She is a member of two honor fraternities, Pi Gamma Mu and Kappa Delta Pi, and her activities in both organizations have been outstanding. She has also served the Rotunda staff efficiently.

Nannie Sue, we shall miss you; but wish you all the joys of work and play that your own good qualities are sure to bring you.

NATIONAL MUSIC WEEK OBSERVED AT S. T. C.

(Continued from Page 1)

College Orchestra

My Old Kentucky Home and Old Black Joe—Stephen Foster

La Paloma—Charotte C. H. School.

Lovely Minka—Curdsville School

Old Dog Tray—Stephen Foster

Massa's in the Cold, Cold Ground—Stephen Foster

John Cartopassi

Concerto—Vivati

Air on G String—Bach—John Cartopassi.

Loch Lomond—Halifax High School

O Sole Mio—John Randolph School

Nellie Was a Lady—Stephen Foster

College High School

By the Light of the Moon—Worsham High School.

O Suzanna—Stephen Foster—Farmville High School and College Training School.

Uncle Ned—Stephen Foster

Old Folks at Home—Stephen Foster

Miss Turner said that since British folk songs had been sung for the two preceding years, and since everyone should be familiar with the songs of his own country, several American folk songs were selected this year.

It is hoped that by having children of the various schools come together each year during national music week to participate in a musical program, that the desire to have better music in schools and homes will be fostered.

For the enjoyment as well as the help derived from these programs S. T. C. wishes to extend her most sincere thanks to Miss Turner and Miss Purdum.

SOCIAL

Zeta Tau Sorority announces the pledging of Elizabeth Jordan, Emporia, Virginia.

Zeta Tau Sorority entertained at a dinner party Friday. May 9, in the banquet room. Those present included Hanna Crawley, Evelyn Stephenson, Charlotte Hutchins, Virginia Bledsoe, Virginia Cox, Margaret Hix, Mary Buford Epes, Harriett Branch, Mary & Maria Warren, Madeline Lee, Elizabeth Jordan, Louise Whitlock, Martha von Schilling, Anne Rice. Miss Mary P. Nichols. and Virginia Robertson.

CANADA DRUG CO.

Next to Baldwin's Store

Come to us for your cosmetics and STATIONERY

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.

Dealers in

Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery

AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Farmville - - - - Va.

Mothers Day Candy

and

Mother's Day Cards

at

McIntosh's Drug Store

Farmville - - - - Va.

SCHEMMEL

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony

Aesthetics, Etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Just arrived Several Hundred new graduation Dresses Specially priced to S. T. C. girls!

GREENBERG'S DEPT. STORE

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

BIG

SWEATER SALE

—at—

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

Quality—Price—Service

Come in and get acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?

Go Across the Street

GILLIAM'S

FOR EATS

OF ALL KINDS

SPRING SHOWING OF

HATS

THE HAT SHOPPE

Mrs. H. H. Hunt

THIRD STREET

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE

Next to the Theatre

Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies

MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Farmer Gift Shop

Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery Engraving

COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh films)

Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)

COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S

is headquarters for the best SANDWICHES AND DRINKS in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

Work done while you wait with First Class Materials

110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS

Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop

323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

Just One Block From Campus

G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP

Will fix your shoes

WHILE YOU WAIT

Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS

TAILORING CLEANING

PRESSING

Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

GRADUATION TIME IS HERE

We have the most complete line in Farmville, Dresses, Hats, Negligees, Hosiery and Shoes. White dresses, georgettes, chiffons, and flat crepes, from $5.95 to $16.50.

Special this week, $10 flanenl coats, white and pastel shaes at $5.95.

White shoes $2.95 to $8.50. Genuine Deauville Sandals, $5 values, black and white or solid white at $3.95, with the strap fastener buckles.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Farmville, Va.

"You say your husband is an alcoholic athlete."

""Yes, he's a rum runner."

Frances Parker: "What's a metaphor?'

Annie Frances: "For cows to graze."

Teeny: "Don't kiss like that!"

He: "Why, is your father looking?"

Teeny: "No—he is listening."

Officer: "How's the fire sale coming?"

Mr. Baldwin: "Not so good. The fire's been postponed till next week."

Two little boys were watching a barber singe a man's hair.

First Boy: "What's that man doing?"

Second Boy: "He's looking for them with a light."

Diner: "Pardon me, but do you ever play anything by request?"

Pearl Johnson: "Oh, sure. With pleasure."

Diner: "Then I wonder if you would mind going out and playing until I've finished dinner."

Vernie: "I don't like Billy—he is ugly."

Rene: "That's his privilege."

Vernie: "Yes, but he abuses the privilege."

"What do you thing of the cotton belt, Uncle Ned?"

"I don't pay no attention to it. I use suspenders."

"Go," said the landlady, "and never darken my bathtub again."

Big Laura: "Tennis is such a noisy game; it can't be played without a racquet."

Margaret: "Did you take a shower?"

Mary Will: "No, is one missing?"

Alice Adams: "I've changed my mind."

Lucille: "Does it work any better?"

Note to Seniors and the rest—By diplomacy you will get your diplomas.

Sara Baker: "This is a fake vanishing cream.'

"Cov.": "Why?"

Sara: "I've used it on my feet for three weeks and look!"

"Cupid is a good shot, they say."

"Hm! He may be, but he makes some awful Mrs."

First Boy: "Did you ever kiss a girl under the mistletoe."

Second Boy: "No, I never monkey with her feet."

Alice Moore: "Who was the fastest runner in the world?"

Winston Cobb: "Adam. He was first in the human race."

Liz Watkins: "I think I'll settle down and raise chickens."

Her Mother: "Better raise owls—they suit your hours better."

WHAT A CHANCE

Cheer up!
You have two chances.
One of getting the germ.
And one of not,
And if you get the germ
You have two chances,
One getting the disease
And one of not.
And if you get the disease
You have two chances
One of dying
And one of not.
And if you die—will you
Still have two chances?

RED AND WHITE WON CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES; SOPHOMORES TRIUMPH OVER THE SENIORS

MARY FRANCES HATCHETT

MARY F. HATCHETT IS ARCHERY CHAMPION

Friday, May 9, was the day of days for archery. At 4 o'clock there were many contestants listed to take part in the archery tournament, and everyone hoped to be the one who came nearest to the bull's eye.

Each individual taking part had twelve arrows to shoot, six in the first round and six in the second which added much more competition and excitement to the tournament.

The green and whites and red and whites were both concentrating on their own men and hoping to get extra points for the color cup. One time when a red and white was shooting, a freshman was heard to say, "now let's don't concentrate our thoughts on her hitting the bull's eye, 'cause Martha is yet to come."

E. Frances Edwards was leading in the first round but in the second, Mary Frances Hatchett ran up the highest score of 38 points, Edwards coming second with 36 points, and D. Ridgeway and Laurie Boush tied for third place with 30 points.

All the contestants who have been coming out for archery have shown much interest and made the season a success. Hatchett's' victory meant ten more points for the red and whites toward the color cup.

TENNIS LADDER IS DISCONTINUED

The tennis ladder tournament that was started last fall has been discontinued and the elimination tournaments are now going on. These tournaments will end Thursday, May 15, and the tennis champion will then be announced.

The tennis court, number two, is being reserved every day from ten to eleven o'clock in the morning, and from three to four o'clock in the afternoon for those girls who are playing off their tournament. There is a request for other girls not to sign up for that particular court at those hours mentioned.

RED AND WHITE VICTORS

The Junior-Senior baseball game was played Thursday afternoon, May 8. Although the Seniors won by the score of 14 to 5, the game was an interesting one, the Juniors at one time nearly catching up with their opponents.

The line-up was as follows: Juniors—E. Simpson, L. N. Smith, A. Oliver, M. Gregory, E. Dutton, E. Hunter (c), M. Maddrey, M. Nuthall, M. March. Seniors: M. F. Hatchett, M. R. Wood (c), L. M. Smith. M. F. Shepherd, C. Fleming. E. Evans, M. Anthony, N. S. Anthony, K. Stevens.

The officials were: Scorer—Miss Iler. Umpire—Mr. Coyner.

The most thrilling game of the season was played Monday, May 12, at four o'clock when the Seniors met their defeat against the Sophomores in the championship game. This was the first baseball game which the Seniors have lost during the four years at S. T. C.

Things looked mighty tight until the last inning. The score was 3 to 5, and both teams were determined to make one more score. The Sophomores went to bat with a mighty crash on the old ball and brought their score up to 7 to 3.

It was a hard fought game for both teams. Mary Frances Hatchett and Kathleen Hundley played an exceptionally good game—both at bat and in the field.

The red and whites are adding points towards the color cup. They now have fifty.

The line-up for the game was as follows:

	Sophomores	Seniors
C.	E. F. Edwards—	M. R. Wood
P.	K. Hundley—	M. F. Hatchett
1 B.	A. Crane—	L. M. Smith
2 B.	S. Cross—	N. S. Anthony
3 B.	C. Quisenberry—	C. Fleming
R. F.	M. E. Scales—	E. Evans
C. F.	L. Eliott—	K. Stevens
L. F.	E Boswell—	M. Anthony
S. S.	M. W. Terry—	M. F. Sheppard

Officials: Umpire—Mr. Coyner; The Scorer, Miss Iler.

SOPHOMORES TRIUMPH OVER THE FRESHMEN

A very interested and excited crowd was gathered on the A. A. field on Wednesday, May 7, at 4 o'clock, and a passerby would have thought that maybe we were having a big league game. Yes, it was a big game. The Freshmen met the Sophomores in a very interesting game. Both teams had shown fine cooperation and ability to hit balls in practice, so that no one knew what to expect as to the results of this game. Each team marched on the field with the determination to win a hard and clean victory. The Sophomores proved to be too strong for the Freshmen, and the game ended with a score of 39 to 9 in favor of the Sophomores.

Line-up:

	Freshmen—Sophomores
C.	E. Walthall—E. F. Edwards
P.	V. Sanford—K. Hundley
1 B.	M. Gregory—A. Crane
2 B	M. Gunter—S. Cross
3 B.	D. Ritchie—C. Quisenberry
R. F.	E. Hardy—M. W. Terry
C. F.	L. Boush—M. E. Scales
L. F.	M. Massey—L. Eliott
S. S.	L. Crute—E. Boswell

Substitutes—Ridgeway for Gunter.

JUNIOR CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS FOR 1930-'31

Continued from page one

resentatives, Jane Witt and Henrietta Cornwell; class reporter, Hazel Halloway; representative to class council, Henrietta Cornwell.

With such a staff of officers the Junior Class expects to do big things next year. Watch them!

CLEO QUISENBERRY HEAD OF ARCHERY '29-'30

Now that the archery tournament is over and the bows and arrows are being stored away until the next season, we desire to extend our heartiest thanks to that excellent manager of archery. Cleo Quisenberry. We just can't say enough to make those of you who were not out there know how much fun it all was. Cleo was always right there with her target and bows and arrows and even though she did get bruised on the arm by a whizzing bow string every now and then—that only acted as a stimulus to make her more enjoyable.

You have done your work well Cleo, and we can honestly say that your fellow managers will have to "step along" to keep pace with you.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of May 19 to 24

MON. & TUES—"HAPPY DAYS", the season's most spectacular picture with 100 stars, headed by Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, not to mention Will Rogers, Vic McLaglen, Edmund Lowe, Ann Pennington, Warner Baxter, El Brendel and many other. There are 50 dancing beauties; 10 big song hits; a chorus of 125; 60 youngsters that are dancing fools, 40 choral singers; costumes and stage settings that are more lavish than anything you have ever seen—a super special to fill the eyes, ears, hearts with music and splendor; and a beautiful love story that is clean, fresh and heart touching. Happy stars, happy songs, happy dances and happiness for you when you witness this marvelous entertainment. Added attractions: Silly Symphony, Pathe Review and two-reel Talking Comedy—a great show!

WED. & THURS.—Gloria Swanson in "THE TRESPASSER," the picture that has put Miss Swanson at the top as an emotional actress of great charm and ability. This picture has been admitted by critics to be the star's finest production and the best talking drama to date. Gloria Swanson both sings and speaks, abetted by a cast of Broadway stage celebrities. "The Trespassers" will make the screen's best dressed star a bigger favorite than ever. Powerful in theme with a plot jammed full of action, surprises, brilliant dialogue, pathos & heart-warming romance, the picture tells of a woman's heroic fight against the ruling class and cruel gossip to hold the love of her child and her man. She romps, she flirts, she loves, she wrings your heart with pathos — a priceless combination of star story and direction. Also two-reel Talking Comedy.

FRI. & SAT.—"THE COHENS & Charles Murray and George Sidney, KELLYS IN SCOTLAND" with supported by Kate Price and Vera Gordon. Can you imagine an angle of the cloak and suit business being transacted in Scotland. If you can, add to that a story that will keep you shrieking with its comedy angles and amiable animosities. Cohen and Kelly, ignorant of each other's plans, go to Scotland with designs upon the plaid business. Kilt-clad and comical, they stumble into a host of uproarious experiences culminating in the determination to commit suicide because their fortunes have been lost. How this works out is the comedy high-spot of the picture. Here is one of the greatest laugh pictures of the year. Also Collegiate Comedy and Pathe Sound News.

Two shows each Night—7:30 and 9:15. Daily matinee at 4 p. m.

FATHER'S DAY—JUNE

A little reminder from you will make him happy.

Something inexpensive will di the trick. Visit us today and make your selection.

SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES

MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

SMART NEW FOOTWEAR

BALDWIN'S

$5 TO $7.50

VIVACIOUS Footwear steps out with spring—gay, colorful and decidedly new. Here you will find the new pastel shades in kidskin and calf—all attuned to the happiest moods of the new season.

NEW SILK DRESSES

$7.95

new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.

—in the Basement—

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.

The House of Quality

FARMVILLE, VA.

Watch the Tennis Tournament Closely

ROTUNDA

Come to The Dansant Saturday Afternoon

Volume X TH ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 21, 1930 No. 31

BASEBALL CLOSES A SUCCESSFUL TERM

The Sophomores Were The Champions of the Class Games

H. TAYLOR IS THE HEAD

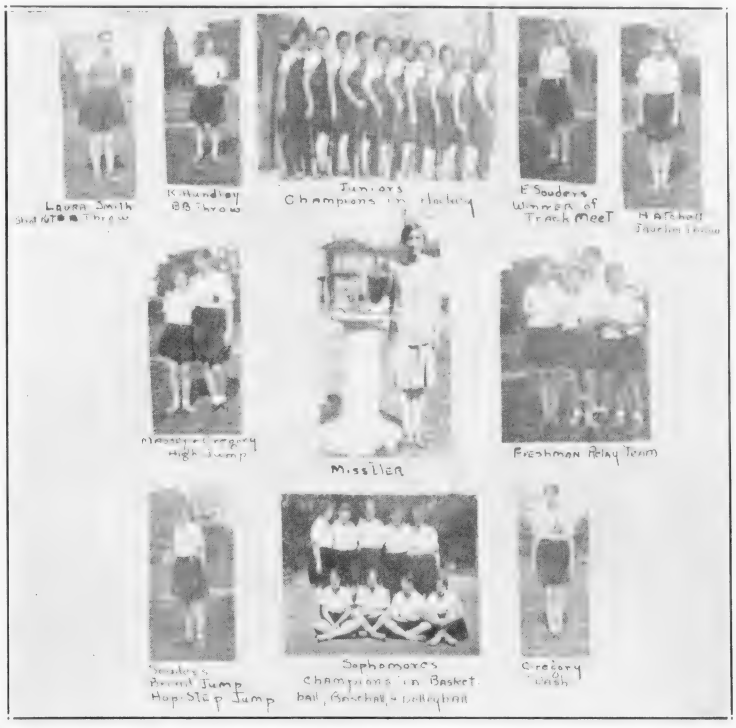
The baseball season opened with many eager to cross bats. Afternoons were occupied with knocking home runs, practicing catching the fly, and pitching the beautiful curve. Henrietta Taylor, as head of baseball for the season, conducted the practices systematically and zealously.

As the time neared for the interclass games to be played, the best and most faithful players in each class were slated for the class teams. With Mary Rose Wood as captain of the Senior team, Elizabeth Hunter of the Junior team, Frances Edwards of the Sophomore, and Martha Gunter of the Freshman, the four class teams looked forward to winning the championship with enthusiastic practice.

The baseball fans watched with tense interest as the Seniors crossed bats with the Juniors. The Seniors triumphed over the Juniors with a score of 14 to 5. The win over the Freshman by the Sophomores with a score of 39 to 8 made both the final contestants for the championship "red and white". The innings of the deciding game were watched with excited exclamations by the on-lookers. Each team was massing its strength behind its pitcher. The score at the inning next to the last one was a tie. The last inning, a battle to finish, ended with the score of 7 to 3 in favor of the Sophomores, ending the season with Sophomores as champions.

With regret the bats and balls were laid aside until next years.

THE LATIN CLUB GETS ENCOURAGEMENT



The first issue of "Tributum," the magazine of the Latin Club, has been published and is now in the hands of the students. A copy of the magazine together with a copy of each of the papers published by the College High and the Curdsville High Schools, was sent to Dr. Bondurant, head of the Latin department in the University of Mississippi and dean of that school. Dr. Bondurant, being a native of Buckingham county, is quite familiar with the field in which our Latin department has been working. To a great extent, he is responsible for the formation of "Sodalitas Latina" and to a greater extent for the introduction of the honorary fraternity, Sigma Pi Rho. He has been extremely interested in the undertakings and progress of these organizations and has given many valuable suggestions for their

"Your letter has reached me and interests me very much. I have received also copies of 'Tributum,' 'Aquila',

(Continued on page 2)

MISS BARLOW IS A. A. ADVISOR

Although we all will miss Miss Iler, we are glad to welcome Miss Barlow as our new athletic council adviser. She has already shown her interest and cooperation in all activities in which we have taken part, and we are looking forward to a most successful year of work and play with Miss Barlow as our adviser.

Senior and Sophomore Athletic Record

Red and White Carried Away the Honors For This Year

The Seniors of 1930 have taken a prominent part in athletics while at S. T. C. All the facts were not available and it is hoped that any omissions will be pardoned.

Their record in baseball has been a particularly good one. They have been baseball champions three times and were runners-up this year.

In basketball the team of the class of 1930 was runner-up in 1927. In 1928 they won the championship, and in 1929 they were again runners-up.

They have been runners-up for the volley-ball championship twice, in 1928 and again in 1929.

In field and track events the senior class also has a good record. One of their number, Mary Frances Hatchett, has been individual winner of the athletic meet twice— in 1927 and in 1929, and came out third in 1930. As sophomores they won the athletic meet.

In addition to these successes the Seniors have, during their four years here, furnished many members of the varsity teams, helping to bring victory and fame to their Alma Mater.

Further individual honors have also been gained by members of the Senior class. Mary Frances Hatchett, Laura M. Smith and Claudia Fleming are members of the Monogram Club; Laura M. Smith and Mary Frances Hatchett have also won blazers. Before the end of the year there will probably be more honors for the Seniors in the winning of athletic awards.

The Sophomores have a rather unusual record for the two years they have been at S. T. C. This year they have won three championships—baseball, volley ball, and basketball.

They also have furnished varsity

Continued on last page

MISS ILER RESIGNS POSITION AS ADVISER OF A. A. COUNCIL

"It isn't whether you win or lose but how you play the game." Miss Iler has taught all of us to play a fair game regardless of the circumstances under which we have played and worked.

Miss Iler has been our coach and advisor for four years. She has enabled us in the years that she has been with us to enlarge our field of sports by introducing hockey and archery. She has kept alive the interest in athletics in its entirety; she is always on the athletic field or the gym floor every afternoon from four to six.

She is not just one of our teachers; she stands supreme in our hearts as the staunchest friend we have. We would be unable even to begin to enumerate the praiseworthy qualities of the one we all look to for fuidance and help.

We all appreciate and value such a friend as we possess when we have Miss Iler. She has won the hearts of all of us and wherever we go we will always remember her and try to keep the high standard of life that she has offered us.

MISS POTTS IS SENIOR CLASS MAN

Miss Virginia Potts was unanimously re-elected as Senior class man at the class meeting on May 14. She has been the faithful friend and beloved adviser during the Junior year The Seniors of '31 feel themselves very fortunate in having her for the coming session.

At the same meeting Jane Brown was named as Senior representative to the Student Standards Committee, taking the place of Annie Denit who automatically became a member of the committee when she was elected editor-in-chief of The Voice.

The Athletic Year Track Meet Closes

Freshmen Lead in No. Points; Souders High in Individual Record

The track meet held on Thursday afternoon, May 15, brought to a triumphant close what has been an interesting, enthusiastic and successful athletic year. With a scoring of 44 points, the Freshman led in class points, while Easter Souders, walking away with four first places copped the top score in individual records. Results of the closs scoring stand:

Freshman	44
Sophomores	35
Juniors	10
Seniors	13

Mary Gregory, freshman, securing one first place and tying Marguerite Massey for another, came off second, while Mary Frances Hatchett, with one first place, one second, and two third places took third honors.

Other participants in the meet with their events and places were: Duvahl Ridgeway, hop step and jump, second; dash, third; running broad jump, fourth; Laura N. Smith, shot put, first place, javelin, second; Kathleen Hundley, baseball distance throw, first; Laura M. Smith, shot put, second, Cleo Quisenberry, shot put, third, runnning high jump, third; Frances Edwards, dash, second, running broad jump, third place, baseball distance throw, fourth; Martha Gunter, hurdles, second, hop step and jump, fourth; Hildegarde Ross, hop step and jump, third; Elsie Hardy, baseball distance throw, third, dash, fourth, Allie Oliver, javelin, third place, Ethel Boswell, running high jump, fourth, Theodocia Beacham, shot put, fourth; and Lucille Crute, javelin, fourth, hurdles, fourth.

All the performers showed up well and rewarded themselves for long

(Continued on last page)

SOPH MINSTREL IS A DECIDED SUCCESS

Henrietta Cornwell Served as the Master of Ceremonies

GEORGE SANDERS SANG

The Sophomore Minstrel, which was given Friday night, was one of this year's most outstanding successes in the field of entertainment. A great deal of undreamed talent was brought to the front. Especially was the attention of those interested in vocal music called to such recent stars as Loulie Milner. Allie Kay Libby, E. Goode, Edith Britt and Nancy Putney. Of course, we've known all along that they were pretty good people, but since the minstrel, new light has been thrown on their abilities.

Henrietta Cornwell, as master of ceremonies, was splendid. The jokes pulled by the end men, Martha Walters, "Liz" Rawls, Annie Frances, "E", "Edie" and Nancy, were good, and (wonder of wonders) had not even been heard before. Especially appropriate was the big red and white banner at the back of the stage.

As an added attraction, George Saunders, of the University of Richmond, played and sang two numbers of his own composition.

The second part of the program was an excellent interpretation of the old sailor's saying, "a girl in every port". Sailors, sitting around on the floor, had their dreams of fair ladies before their very eyes. Martha MacKenzie, as a lovely senorita; Katherine Downing, as an alluring Egyptian girl; Martha von Schilling, as a beautiful countess; and Mary Priest, as the glorified American girl, were all perfectly charming.

Mary Todd, the Russian dancer, was

(Continued on page 2)

PHI BETA KAPPA ELECTS MISS ESTELLE SMITHEY

Miss Smithey, head of the Modern Language Department of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Va., was recently elected a member of the Ashland chapter of the Pi Beta Kappa, the highest scholastic fraternity. Miss Smithey has the unique honor of being the only woman who has received a degree from Randolph-Macon College, Ashland, Va.

For many years Miss Smithey, has been a member of the faculty of our school, and has been keenly interested not only in all of the organizations of our school, but in every individual connected with the institution. She has left an indelible impress not only upon all the girls who have come under her influence, but also upon the institution itself.

We rejoice in the honor conferred upon one who so well deserves it and upon one who may truly be called the friend of everyone.

LE CIRCLE FRANCAIS INSTALLS OFFICERS

Le Circle Francais held its regular meeting Thursday, May 15 when the new officers were installed. After expressing her appreciation to the Circle for its splendid cooperation during the past year, Ruth Owen, the outgoing president, administered the oath to Eleanor Davis, the new president who administered the oath to the other officers. Eleanor expressed her appreciation to the members of the Circle for their confidence and asked for their cooperation during the next year.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor — LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

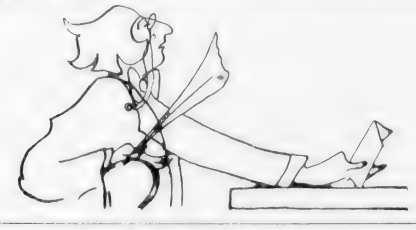
Board of Editors

News Editor — MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor — MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor — FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor — SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor — A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor — VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELL JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31

Proof Reader — WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader — MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33



Managers

Business Manager — DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager — HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager — ELLA CARROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager — MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

Miss Iler Here's to You—

When the word "athletics" is mentioned, our thoughts naturally turn to Miss Iler—to the person who has made athletics practically the most outstanding outside curricula of school. Through her, athletics have become a vital part of everyone's life at S. T. C.—even of those who do not take an active part in them.

To those who are really interested in archery, hockey, and field and track, we should like to say that they owe much to Miss Iler, for it was she who introduced them as sports at S. T. C.

Although Miss Iler has regular classes in physical education, her service to our Alma Mater does not stop there—she spends much of her time outside of her regular schedule hours coaching athletics.

It seems, then, that Miss Iler would only have time for athletics, but we know that her interests are broader than that. Because she is so ready with suggestions and help, she has been a class man each year since her arrival at S. T. C. How few can lay claim to such general popularity!

To the one who has been the means of promoting athletics at S. T. C., and who has shown her capability in numerous other ways, we should like to extend our sincerest words of appreciation.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Hi, there! Where's you going? To Gilliam's—well, I'll go with you being's I've nothing else better to do. No offense lady, no offense.

By the way, did you see the minstrel? I'm glad you did because I've really never seen a cuter show. Why those end-men were absolute screams. I can't look at "Liz" Etheridge without saying "Poo-Poo—Perdue." Somebody said that Mary Priest, assisted by Pearl Johnson, Allie Kae Libby, Loulie Milner, Miss Bedford (and practically the entire Sophomore class) deserves quite a bit of credit. I'd go in the business if I could do half that well.

I hear Elizabeth Drewry celebrated Sunday night with a party. Guess she couldn't ask everybody, but I'd liked to have seen what she had. You know, that girl is always doing something for somebody anyhow. She'd give you her hair if you needed it, really. Such a girl!

Now about Mr. and Mrs. Gilliam! Mrs. Gilliam told me the other day that they were going to move out on the Hampden-Sydney road next year, and take life easy in a nice new house. (I'd love a store out there. Of course, we'd never see the H. S. boys or anything like that.)

Oh, the annual. Is'nt it gorgeous! Can't wait to get mine. That staff really needs, or should I say, deserves all the praise you've got to give 'em. I think it's the prettiest they've had for years. Guess Lucile Norman will feel rather sad when she sees next year's, don't you! I'm betting on "Liz" Taylor, though. She's one little person that can do a lot.

Mr. Gilliam is having fits, I can see, Go on and get what you want—I'll have a sandwish and a dope, please. Isn't this good! Will, I ever conquer my worst enemy, my appetite?

Sissy! Getting an ice cream cone. Well, help yourself. That's much more fattening than what I'm eating.

Say, you've finished? Well, let's go. Oh, yes, sir, charge it—the dope, here's the dime for the sandwich!

SOPHOMORE MINSTREL DECIDED SUCCESS

(Continued from Page 1)

at the height of her charm. In both her solo dance and her chorus dances, she was marvelous. She showed her ability as a dancer and as a teacher of dancing in the Japanese dance and the red and white tap dance. Mary justly deserved the wild applause of the audience.

The evening's entertainment ended with the enthusiastic singing of "The Stein Song."

THE LATIN CLUB GETS ENCOURAGEMENT

(Continued from Page One.)

and 'Caduceus'. I am most pleased with each of these publications. I think that 'Tributum' would be a credit to any institution and it is most interesting to me in all respects. The two remaining publications are also abundantly worthwhile. Permit me to congratulate you and your associates upon the work which you are doing for the classics. I am sure that you have in Miss Rice and Mr. Grainger able leaders and your institution seems destined to assume a place of leadership for the classics among the State Teachers Colleges of the Union." improvement.

The following is an extract from the letter which a member of Sodalitas Latina received from Dr. Bondurant after he had read the three papers:

ALUMNAE NEWS

The Farmville Alumnae Chapter held the final meeting of the session in the Student Building Lounge May 15, 1930, at which time officers for next year were elected. They are: president, Mrs. Southall Farrar; vice-president, Miss Mabel Spratley; secretary, Miss Louise Richardson; treasurer, Mrs. Gordon Moss. Through the chapter the Prince Edward Branch of the Normal League lends money for college expenses to a student from the county. Mrs. A. A. Cox and Miss Willie London were appointed a committee to get in touch with the seniors of the Prince Edward County high schools to inform them of the fund and to receive appropriations for its use.

The Farmville Business and Professional Woman's Club was presented its charter as a member of the Virginia Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs at the meeting held in Clifton Forge recently. Mrs. John Lancaster, president of the Farmville Club, was elected a member of the exeecutive board of the Federation.

At a business meeting of the Patron's League of Farmville Public School held May 5, Mrs. J. L. Bugg was reelected president. The secretary for next year is Mrs. Henry Button.

Mrs. Bugg is also president of the Fourth Grade Mothers' Club of the Training School. A program was presented by the children at the meeting May 8 consisting of readings, songs, a play, and selections by the pride of the fourth grade, the Harmonica Band.

The Farmville Garden Study Club held its May meeting with Mrs. Southall Farrar. Mrs. J. L. Putney had charge of the program and talked on "How to Raise Dahlias."

Miss Nellie Putney is attending a Baptist conference in New Orleans. Miss Putney spent part of her furlough from missionary work in China studying at S. T. C. She expects to return to China soon.

S. S. Moore, of Farmville, has announced the engagement and approaching marriage of his daughter, Patience, to John M. Britt of Boykins.

BETA PI. THETA TO BE INSTALLED AT S. T. C.

The Pi Zeta chapter of Beta Pi Theta fraternity is soon to be installed at S. T. C. Mrs. Feher, national executive secretary, will be here the first of next week to install the chapter. Beta Pi Theta is a national honorary fraternity for work in French, and has chapters all over the United States.

Members of the fraternity are chosen from those people who have done outstanding work in French, who have shown an unusual interest in the "things cultural," and who have high progress of literary French and scholastic average.

S. T. C. is quite fortunate in securing a chapter of Beta Pi Theta, as at present there are no chapters of this fraternity in Virginia.

66-TON WHALE

Presenting sixty-six tons of bone and blubber, and more than fifty feet in length, the famous whale of San Clemente is coming to Richmond for exhibition.

Traveling in a specially constructed car and enclosed in a glass case, the whale is said to offer one of the most unusual spectacles ever contrived and one which has attracted immense throngs wherever it has been shown on the transcontinental tour now being made.

The whale gave his captors a thrilling battle before he finally succumbed in the head of a harpoon. The capture occurred several months ago near San Clemente island, off the southern coast of California.—Richmond News Leader.

ON HEARING A BULLFROG

Deep silent night and
Then a sound—not shrill,
But one which makes the
Silence seem more still.

A sound to make a babe
Cry out afright;
Yet conjures up a picture
Wildly bright;

A silv'ry pool, o'ergrown
With feathery weeds
And wavelets lapping
Gently at the reeds,

A place the pure white
Water lily knows
A spot where overhangs
The pink wild rose,

Who nodding, waving wisely
In the breeze
Sends out her fragrant
Message to the bees

And overshadowing all
Tall cypress trees
Who knows where things
Are lovelier than these.

M. F. H., '30

FUNNY—

You held me,
You told me
You loved me.
We lived on dreams sublime.
You called me,
You sought me,
You kissed me.
Our happiness was almost divine.
You dropped me,
Forgot me,
You left me.
I turn now to find only space.
I loved you,
Cared for you,
Worshipped you.
But now only dreams frame your face.

You ask me—am I disillusioned?
No—strange! I can't seem to think.
I see the sheer cliff of an abyss
And I seem to stand on the brink.
I stare, and see there before me
A rugged, menacing path,
Its descent is fright'ning and perilous.
Funny—I just stand there and laugh.

L. M., '32

PERHAPS—

I found a treasure hidden deep in gloom,
I dug it out and tried to make it mine.
The treasure still is there—perhaps in gloom
I could not keep the dust away,
I could not make it mine.

* * * *

Someone owns that treasure,
Perhaps someone will hear—
And life the veil that hides its worth
And make it twice as dear.

L. M., '32

SYMBOL

A white clerical hand was upraised,
It patterned itself on a painted window;
So that it seemed a part of it,
Not a living thing of flesh and blood.
I bethought myself of the symbol
Of a hand becoming the hand of Christ
Of a hand pointing skyward to the Father,
Of a hand lifting up to inspiration
Admonishing, with gentle pressure.
And that appeared to my vision
The sign of the Church:
The hand that leads all men,
Outlined upon the stained-glass window of the world.

F. W., '30

SONG

The song of love is a little bird,
Nestling down to rest.
The soul of love is a thing of wings
A fluttering in the breast.

F. W., '30

SOCIALS

Virginia Robertson, Grace Virginia Woodhouse, and Charlotte Hutchins were in Charlottesville this week-end.

Jessie Smith and A. J. Scott spent the week-end at Roanoke and attended the dances at Hotel Roanoke and Roanoke College.

Elizabeth Smitherman, Anne Marie Black, Nannie Belle Clenendin, and Frank Smoot were at Durham, North Carolina, this week-end.

Elsie Burgess, Margaret Leonard, and Dorothy Leonard spent the week-end at the Leonard's home in Richmond.

Margaret Gathright had as her week-end guests in Richmond Kathryn Royster and Josie Spencer.

Miss Iler and Mary Frances Hatchett spent Saturday in Richmond.

The following girls were in Richmond this week-end; Mary Ollie Bowen, Lillian Hogan, Mayo Beaty, Jacque Lee, "Snooty" 'Loving, and Evelyn Hughes.

Martha Sanders, "Toodles" Booth, Vernie Oden, and Margaret Priest, were in Lynchburg this week-end.

Dorothy Anderson spent the week-end at her home in Danville, Virginia.

Alice Covington was in Charlottesville this week-end.

Catherine Cogbill, Lindsay White, and Louise Johnson were at Fork Union, Virginia, this week-end.

Elaine Goode spent the week-end at Martinsville, Virginia.

Miss Ethel LaBoyteaux, of Richmond, has been the guest of Miss Mary White Cox for several days.

Miss Mabel Lee Walton, national president of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority, has been the guest of Alpha Chapter here this week. This is the last chapter to be visited on this trip. She has taken in territory as far south as Georgia and Florida.

The Juniors of the College Training School entertained the Seniors at a seated tea on Friday. There were fifty present.

MISS MARY'S PARTY

One of the outstanding events on the social calendar of S. T. C. for this year was a party given Thursday evening by Miss Mary to the old and new Student Council and the House Council.

The tables were beautiful in their array of delicious food. The lives of many chickens were sacrificed for this occasion.

he after dinner entertainment was informal, everyone joining in and having a good time. The party was a huge success.

The three Councils wish to thank Miss Mary and tell her again how much they enjoyed it.

PI KAPPA DELTA BANQUET IS HELD

The Pi Kappa Delta banquet was held at Longwood Saturday evening, May 17.

The evening was perfect, the place lovely, and the banquet menu delicious. The colors, red and white, were carried out in the decorations. After every notable had been toasted, the honorary member, Dr. Jarman gave the supreme toast of the evening, embodying the ideals of Pi Kappa Delta.

THE VIRGINIAN BANQUET AT LONGWOOD

The old Virginian staff had its annual banquet at Longwood Thursday, May 15, for the new staff.

The picture of the banquet was a very typical one with the banquet table artistically decorated in pastel shades, and a delicious menu served. The first surprise was the discovery of an annual at each place. Many busy moments followed while the pages were pleasantly scrutinized. Then a Santa Claus came, even though there was no snow, and brought each a token that would serve as a reminder of her years' work on the staff.

Among the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, from Lynchburg, and the mascot, Mrs. McCorkle.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

MARTHA ANTHONY

"Excellence" has been the keynote of Martha's career of four years in college. That excellence has gained for her the respect of her instructors, the admiration and friendship of her classmates, and finally, honors.

Martha has been in the past year an invaluable member of Pi Gamma Mu, and Kappa Delta Pi, proving herself dependable and capable. In her entire four years she has participated in all the athletics of the season showing the same high standard here.

Having the personality and originality that she has, being a girl of staunch, loyalties, and high ideals, S. T. C. has been happy in having Martha the past four years. She will leave a place in the college life that cannot be easily filled. She will carry with her our best wishes for her happiness, for such excellence as she possesses in herself and her work, deserves the best.

LINDA WILKINSON

A sunny smile, merry eyes, a happy disposition—that's Linda.

Not only does she have a host of friends because of her winning personality, but she has shown marked ability in more ways than one. We recognize her dependable capacity as president of the Cunningham Literary Society '29-'30; literary editor The Rotunda '29-'30; vice-president of Playmakers Club, member of Student Standards Committee '28-'29, and a member of Pi Gamma Mu '29-'30.

If you are in search of a sterling sympathetic friend you will find one in Linda for she is ever ready with a lending hand. We wish her much success in her chosen career.

INDIAN RELIC FOUND IN RICHMOND GARDEN

An interesting relic of the old Indian days, a grooved tomahawk head, recently was dug up by a Richmond woman. The tomahawk, chipped from stone resembling granite, has a short two-inch stone blade, while the head is round, flattened at the top to form a hammer.—Richmond News Leader.

FRENCH CIRCLE PICNIC

Picnics! Picnics! This seems to be quite a popular topic for conversation these warm days. On such occasions everything is forgotten except the fun and food which usually accompany picnics. One of the most enjoyable picnics of the season was given by the members of the French Circle at Longwood, Friday, May 16. The group left school shortly after four-thirty for Longwood and returned at seven-thirty. Nothing was lacking to make the picnic a pleasing success. The food was perfect with dopes and Eskimo-pies as added features.

CANADA DRUG CO.

Next to Baldwin's Store

Come to us for your cosmetics and STATIONERY

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.

Dealers in

Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery

AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES

Farmville - - - - Va.

Mothers Day Candy

and

Mother's Day Cards

at

McIntosh's Drug Store

Farmville - - - - Va.

SCHEMMEL

CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC

Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony

Aesthetics, Etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Just arrived Several Hundred new graduation Dresses Specially priced to S. T. C. girls!

GREENBERG'S DEPT. STORE

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

GRADUATION DRESSES

—at—

The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE

Quality—Price—Service

Come in and get acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?

Go Across the Street

GILLIAM'S

FOR EATS

OF ALL KINDS

SPRING SHOWING OF

HATS

THE HAT SHOPPE

Mrs. H. H. Hunt

THIRD STREET

FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE

Next to the Theatre

Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies

MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Falconer Gift Shop

Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery

Engraving

COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh films)

Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)

COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S

is headquarters for the best SANDWICHES AND DRINKS in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP

Work done while you wait with First Class Materials

110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS

Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop

323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

To the members of the faculty and student body we appreciate the business you have given us this year and we wish you everyone a pleasant vacation. We are looking forward to seeing you again next fall.

G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP

Will fix your shoes

WHILE YOU WAIT

Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS

TAILORING PRESSING CLEANING

Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

GRADUATION TIME IS HERE

We have the most complete line in Farmville, Dresses, Hats, Negligees, Hosiery and Shoes. White dresses, georgettes, chiffons, and flat crepes, from $5.95 to $16.50.

Special this week, $10 flanenl coats, white and pastel shaes at $5.95.

White shoes $2.95 to $8.50. Genuine Deauville Sandals, $5 values, black and white or solid white at $3.95, with the strap fastener buckles.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Farmville, Va.

Dolly Reed: "Swann reminds me of a dynamo."

Allie Kae: "How's that?"

Dolly: "She charges everything she gets."

Advice to Those Who Frown

Remember it takes 64 muscles to make a frown and 13 to make a smile. Here's your chance to be economically pleasant.

Dot Thompson to young nephew: "Will you let me kiss you if I give you a penny?"

Young nephew: "A penny! Oh! I get more than that for taking castor oil."

Have you heard of the girl who thought bacteria was the rear end of a cafeteria?

Louise Munt (in Washington to telephone operator): "Give me the zoo."

Operator: "The lion is busy."

Hampden-Sydney Lad: "And you call that bow-legged girl your angel?"

Second Lad: "Sure, my arc angel."

S. T. C. Girl: "I know Bill,—I'll get you a date with a handsome and clever girl."

H. S. Boy: "I on't want a handsome and clever girl. I want you."

Alice: "The P. Jr.'s just laugh at the laundry."

Pattie: "Yeah. I had some of them come back with their sides split."

Josie: "What a cute dress. How much did it cost?"

Katheryn: "One good cry."

Junior: "Why weren't you in class yesterday?"

Sophomore: "Oh, I slept in my room instead."

Definition of a hug—Energy gone to waist.

After listening to a certain music class.

Sr.: "What are they doing?"

Soph: "They are singing 'The Road to Mandalay.' "

Sr.: "They must be on a detour."

She: "Can you drive with one hand?"

He: "Sure can!"

She: "Have an apple?"

He: "Would you like to hear the theory of kissing?"

She: "No, I care only for applied sciences."

"Dear May" wrote the young man, "pardon me, but I'm getting forgetful. I proposed to you last night, but really forgot whether you said yes or no."

"Dear Will," she replied by note, "so glad to hear from you. I knew I said 'no' to someone last night, but had forgotten who it was."

She: "I see you have a little burn or your hat."

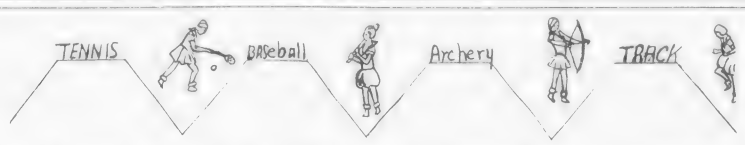
He: "Yes, just a litle bat-headed."

"What did you do when you were invited to join the strip poker game?"

"I shed plenty."

She: "Can you draw?"

He: "Sure."



She: "Draw a little closer."

"Say, Mayo, do you like cod fish balls?"

Mayo: "Never attended one."

He: "Did you kill the moths with camphor balls?"

She: "No, I sat up and couldn't hit a darn one."

HOCKEY RESUME 1929-1930

The past hockey season proved to be a very interesting one. Even though, the varsity was defeated by Westhampton, which was their only game, they showed that they had the Farmville spirit and were ready to fight for their Alma Mater. The game with the Westhamptoners was quite thrilling, especially so because of the slippery, wet field, and our varsity put up a good struggle with their more experienced opponents. The class games were won by Green and White but not with a walk-away by any means, because both games were hotly contested until the last minute of play when the struggle ended with the Juniors and Freshmen on top.

THE ATHLETIC YEAR TRACK MEET CLOSES

(Continued from Page One.)

weeks of practice. Blue and red shiny satin ribbons came into the possession of outstanding participants as tokens of their merit, and memoirs of the day.

Especial mention should be made of the splendid work of Dot Snedegar as manager. Her untiring efforts have secured arrangements for practice, meets, and publicity for field and track. A vote of thanks from the team and from the student body goes to Dot for her worthy work.

FRESHMAN CLASS HOLDS A PICNIC

Songs, Yells, Food, and Pep are Main Features of Picnic

On Friday afternoon, to the tune of "Onward Farmville," the majority of the Freshman Class trouped down to the banks of the Appomattox for a final reunion and wholesome good time in a picnic. Fires were made and weenies became the order of the day. The "bread line", as one bright frosh termed it, moved by the food, and passed on well-supplied. Coca-colas quenched picnic thirsts and pickle lent their flavor to besmutted "hot dogs". Marshmallows and cakes completed the menu.

After eating, some of the adventurous, and botanically inclined members of the class strolled away to examine the woods and river. Others grouped together and made the woods reecho with "striving ever, yielding never, seeking to do our best," sentimental dreamy, popular tunes, and pep songs.

Everybody was in a gay mood, and the weather was in harmony with festivity spirits. Vows of unity as a class for next year were made beneath the sturdy branches of Juniper trees, and class spirit was at its height in singing to Miss Iler and to the class. School songs stirred the ever-present love for Alma Mater.

Everybody regretted leaving the enchanted spot and will entertain happy memories of this, their first class picnic. The class returned in a triumphant snake dance, singing and cheering. Ear-splitting cheers on the campus ended a happy day, and dispersed a tired but glad group of freshmen.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

The elimination tournament is now in progress. It will be over by next Thursday. As it stands now, there are only two red and whites battling against four green and whites. Come out and watch your colors win.

Melisse: "My foot is asleep—what shall I do?"

Nannie Belle: "Nothing. You should let sleeping dogs lie."

RED AND WHITE WINS IN VOLLEY BALL

Everybody who came out to practice volleyball knows what fun we had chasing around trying to bat low balls. At first there were three courts in the gym and they were always full of interested participators. Near the end of the season the teams were selected.

No one knows what fun it was even when they were practicing to see those five Seniors (for that was all they had) chasing after each other in hopes of saving the ball. But they didn't need much sympathy—because they played good games.

When class games were played the Freshman and Sophomores clashed first, and the Sophomores went back home victorious. The next night was the most thrilling of all. The Seniors, with five on their team, played the Juniors and the Seniors won! The red and whites sat on sidelines and held their breath while waiting to see on which side the ball would drop. The Seniors were too good for the Juniors.

Then of course the Seniors had to play the Sophomores to decide the championship, and the former won. This ended this season. It is felt that much of the enjoyment was due to the good management of Hildegarde Ross.

The captains of the teams were: Dot Ritchie for the Freshmen, E. Frances Edwards for the Sophomores; Jim Simpson for the Juniors, and Mary Frances Hatchett for the Seniors. At the end of this successful season the honorary varsity was chosen which consisted of the following: M. F. Hatchett, E. F. Edwards, C. Fleming, K. Hundley, M. Gregory, E. Simpson, D. Snedegar, and D. Ritchie.

BASKETBALL RESUME

The basketball teams of 1929-1930 ended a very successful season, due largely to Miss Iler's coaching. A large group of interested girls met every afternoon to participate in this sport. There was much excitement when our varsity team, under Captain Hatchett played its first game which was with Lynchburg College. The old blue and white brought home a victory that night with a score of 36 to 14. Our varsity was also successful against Richmond Normal. The score was 45—6. Although the number of varsity games was very small, Miss Iler never let the girls' interest wane. Those who played on the varsity team were:

Forwards—Laura M. Smith, Laura N. Smith.

Guards—Mary Frances Hatchett, Edith Coleman.

Centers—Mary Gregory. Virginia Gurley.

Substitutes—Easter Souders for Mary Gregory and Ethel Boswell for Laura N. Smith.

The most excited time of all was the night of the class games. The first night the Freshmen, with Dot Snedeger as captain. met the Sophomores with Cleo Quisenberry as their captain. This was one of the most tense games of the season. The ball travelled up and down the floor so fast that it made you think that you were seeing double at time. But the red and white was victorious.

The next night the Juniors, under Allie Oliver met the Seniors, with Virginia Gurley as their captain. Since old age was telling on the Seniors, the Juniors won.

The next night the Juniors met their old rivals, the Sophomores, but again the red and white was victorious.

Much of our success was due to the splendid management by Easter Souders.

Customer: "I want a shorter skirt than the one you showed me."

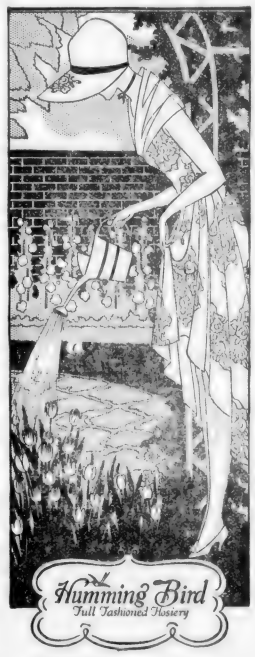
Clerk: "This is the shortest we have. Have you tried the collar department?"

SENIOR AND SOPHOMORE ATHLETIC RECORDS

Continued from page one

players, as well as taking a prominent part in field and track events. This year Easter Souders, a Sophomore, was individual winner in the athletic meet.

Two Sophomores, Easter Souders and Cleo Quisenberry are Monogram Club members, and it is expected that there will be several other Sophomore athletic awards before the end of term.



The Seniors and Sophomores have both contributed greatly to athletics, and should be congratulated on their splendid work.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of May 26 to 31

MONDAY and TUESDAY—Marilyn Miller in "Sally," an all-Technicolor musical comedy, that is proving the outstanding hit of the season. She's here at last! The film debut of tre ONE Broadway star you've wanted to see. Vitaphone makes the wonder girl of the stage the wonder of the screen. Marilyn Miller, the ney sweetheart of the screen, in the greatest of all musical comedy successes; a wonderful talking romance with magnificently lavish stage effects. The first singing, talking, dancing picture that has every feature of the original stage production. Its radiant all-color spectacle surpasses all previous color films. All you have ever hoped for in entertainment — romance, color, music, dancing, singing, spectacle, society drama, comedy and much more in one picture. The event of the season. Also Pathe Review. No advance in prices.

WED. and THURS.—Richard Dix in "Lovin' the Ladies," supported by Lois Wilson and Rita LaRoy. Instead of the traditional reroine, Dix is involved with wour women, and suspense, drama and hilarity are the result. Five thousand dollars that he could tame any dame alive! That was the bet, and what a setback it was for this rough neck Romeo taking his first swing at the high hats. He packed sex appeal in both fists, and how they loved it! Could you make any couple fall in love? Would you wager $5,000 on a love match? Is a bet the legitimate basis for love? Can any couple be made to fall in love You will find the answer in this romanitc light comedy which presents Richard Dix at his best. Also "Radio Kisses."

FRIDAY and SAT.—"The Golden Calf," with Sue Caroll, Jack Mulhall and El Brendel. This is a musical Movietone of legs, uove and laughter. You don't know the calf of it, dearie, in this sizzling array of well known S. A. Golden voices, golden tunes in a gay, bohemian comedy of models and attists in hectic Greenwich Village. This picture has everything—youth, beauty, romance, comedy, song hits, dazzling dances adn spectacular specialties, all woven together in a highly entertaining story that you will enjoy from stort to finish. A reature of the production is the Illustrators' Ball, a famous event in Greenwich Village—a gorgeous spectacle you will long remember. Also Pathe Sound News and Sporting Youth Comedy.

FRESHLY beautiful as the first Spring flowers —the new Humming Birds for summer! Tints decreed by Paris stylists, trim tailored heels, the smooth firm texture of finest Japanese silk, hidden reinforcements, extra length perfect in every detail—and very moderate in price. See them!

$1.35

BALDWIN'S

FATHER'S DAY—JUNE

A little reminder from you will make him happy. Something inexpensive will di the trick. Visit us today and make your selection.

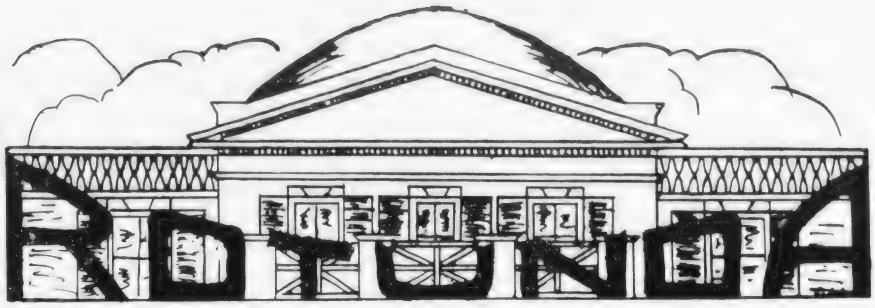
SOUTHERN CHAIN STORES

MAIN ST. Opposite Chappell's Store

NEW SILK DRESSES

$7.95

new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions, Paris creations, and dictated by fashion authorities.



—in the Basement—

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.

The House of Quality

FARMVILLE, VA.

Best Luck To You Seniors and Sophomores

Come to Senior-Sophomore Play

Volume X THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 28, 1930 No. 32

MONSIEUR BEAUCAIRE TO BE PRESENTED BY SENIORS AND SOPHOMORES, JUNE 2.

Etta Marshall and Lela Germany Will Play Leading Roles

Booth Tarkington's popular play, "Monsieur Beaucaire" has been chosen as the one to be given during commencement. It will be presented by the Senior and Sophomore classes on Monday, June 2, at 8:15 P. M. Etta Marshall, as Monsieur Beaucaire, the charming Frenchman, and Lela Germany, as the beautiful English Lady Mary will play the leading roles.

The other members of the cast are:

Duke of Winterset	Henrietta Cornwell
Mr. Molyneux	Virginia Gurley
Harry Rackell	Eleanor Hogan
Capt. Badger	Mary F. Hatchett
Beau Dash	Edith Britt
Lord Tournbrake	Florence Booten
Mr. Bantison	Elizabeth Etherdige
Sir Hugh Giuldford	Ruth Hart
Henri de Beajolais	Mary Priest
Marquis de Mirepoix,	Easter Souders
Francois	Ann Stump
Victor	Martha Walters
Servant to Beau Nash	E. Rawls
Servants to Beaucaire—Emmy Lou Pulliam and Rachel Royall
Lady Malbourne	Blanche Murrell
Lady Clarisse	Marion Seay
Lady Bellerton	Mary Wilson Pugh
Lady Baring-Gould	K. Downing
Estelle	Allie Kae Libby
Marie	Martha MacKenzie
Winton, a servant	Virginia Cox

RUFFNER INSTALLATION

Ruffner Literary Society installation was held Thursday night. Ruth Owen, the retiring president spoke briefly about her appreciation of the work of the past year and then gave the oath to the following officers:

President	Easter Souders
Vice-President	Cleo Quisenberry
Secretary	Martha von Schilling
Treasurer	Louise Elliott
Reporter	Evelyn Simpson

The new president told the other members of her expectancy of much constructive work for next year, especially in contributions toward "The Voice."

TEN SQUADRONS OF PLANES IN FLIGHT

On Saturday morning ten squadrons of planes from the battle fleet of the navy began taking off from Norfolk, Virginia, for Washington to take part in the Curtiss seaplane races. Admiral Frank Schofield, who succeeds Admiral L. M. Nulton, has taken command of the battle fleet of the navy.—Virginian Pilot.

PRIMARY COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS

National Council of Primary Education held election of some of the officers for the coming year at its meeting on last Wednesday night. Those as elected were:

Ruth Floyd	President
Clara McAllister	Secretary

At ten o'clock Friday night in the Recreation Hall a large number of new members were installed into the organization.

Cunningham Literary Society Installs Officers

At the regular meeting of the Cunningham Literary Society, held on Tuesday, May 20, the following new officers, elected at a previous meeting, were installed:

President, Lillian Womack.
Vice-President, Lucy Anne Layne.
Secretary, Frances Crawford.
Treasurer, Bessie Lynch.
Reporter, Mary Thomas Rawls.
Keeper of the memory book, Maude Pugh.

The installation was very impressive. Everyone wore white. The old officers, carrying lighted candles, stood in a line facing the line composed of the new officers. The old President, Elizabeth Temple, then administered the oath to the new President, Lillian Womack, and gave her the candle she was holding. Lillian installed the other officers, one by one. As each new officer finished repeating the oath, her predecessor stepped forward and handed her a lighted candle.

A brief but interesting program, planned by Katy Friel Sanders, was presented at the close of the installation services.

The Cunningham Literary Society has had a very successful year. Already plans are under way for the work of next year. The society has been much benefited by the suggestions of the critic, Miss Dinwiddie, some of which have now gone into effect. The members plan to carry out the other suggestions next year, hoping by doing so they will be able to improve the work of the organization to a great extent.

NORTHWESTERN STUDES STAGE A CARNIVAL

Big Tent Performances Held

Recently at Northwestern University the students staged a collegiate carnival. More than one thousand students participated in staging the "World's Greatest Collegiate Circus" Rides, sideshows, booths, and a number of other features were the daily atractions. The high spots of the carnival were, the two big tent performances in the evening, a water circus in the afternoon, sorority relays, the vaudeville tent, the auto show, and a television sideshow. Over thirty-five acts were presented in the big three-ring tent show. A circus would go fine here; we have a few very attractive freaks, to say nothing of the co-eds.—The Va. Tech.

APPRECIATION

Gilliam's wishes to thank the S. T. C. girls for patronizing his store during the last several years. He also wishes them the most of success during the coming year.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM

Saturday, May 31, 1930
5:00 P. M. Dance Recital
Sunday, June 1, 1930
5:00 P. M. Senior Vespers
8:00 P. M. Baccalaureate Sermon
Monday, June 2, 1930
10:00 A. M. Sophomore Class Day Exercises
4:00 P. M. Senior Class Day Exercises
8:00 P. M. Senior Sophomore Commencement Play
11:00 P. M. Senior Lantern Parade
Tuesday June 3, 1930
10:00 A. M. Commencement Exercises.

BLAZERS FOR 1929-1930 PRESENTED BY LAURA N. SMITH

Red and White Wins Color Cup In Final Count of Points

All this year everything in athletics has been trying to pile up as many points as possible, and they have had their thoughts turned to the final day when everything would be over and the points counted. Our field and track meet was the culmination of all athletics—then Saturday came when the awards were given for the hard work put out by each individual who played. Laura N. Smith, president of A. A. for 1929-1930, presented the awards in chapel Saturday, May 24.

Mary Frances Hatchett, winning the highest award given by the A. A., happily received a navy blue blazer with the college seal while the audience went wild with applause. Mary Frances has been a good all round sport, and she deserves this highest award. She holds the high score of 2265 points.

Little Laura Smith received her numerals and S. T. C.; she holds 1850 points. Allie Oliver, holding 1420 points, also received her numerals and S. T. C.

The following received their numerals and blazers:

Easter Souders, numerals and blazer, 1270 points.

Laura N. Smith, numerals, 1250 pts.

E. Frances Edwards, numerals and blazer, 1165 points.

Edith Coleman, numerals and blazer, 1000 points.

The following received blazers:
Cleo Quisenberry, 995 points.
Claudia Fleming, 985 points
Kathleen Hundley, 980 points.
Mildred Maddrey, 865 points.
"Jim" Simpson, 725 points.

After giving out the awards Laura spoke with appropriate words to those who are to be back next year and then to those leaving. She congratulated them on the true spirit of their Alma Mater and class and asked them to always play fair and be true to the Alma Mater.

At the conclusion, the color cup was unwrapped; red and white stood out plainly on it. This received another wild applause. Every year each class sees which can win the most points so their colors will go on the color cup; and this year closed with red and white on top.

BETA PI THETA, NATIONAL FRATERNITY IN FRENCH, INSTALLED AT S. T. C.

Mrs. Fehr Here To Install First Chapter Ever in State of Virginia

Mrs. Fehr, executive secretary of Beta Pi Theta, national honorary fraternity in French, was on our campus Monday to install the Pi Zeta Chapter, which is the first chapter to be organized in Virginia.

The honorary members, Miss Smithey, Miss Nichols, and Miss Marshall, delightfully entertained the girls, Mrs. Fehr and Dr. Jarman in the banquet room Monday evening before the installation service. After the singing of several old French songs, congratulatory messages from several other chapters of Beta Pi Theta were read. Congratluations were received from the following chapters:

Theta Kappa, at Florida State College for Women.
Theta Omicron, at Alliance, Ohio.
Theta Tau, at Orono, Maine
The Zi at St. Charles, Mo.
Pi Gamma, at Miami University.
Theta Theta, at Rome, Georgia.

After installation an informal reception was given in the lounge, some members of the faculty and those stundnts who have outstanding records in French being invited.

Those girls who were installed as charter members are: Ruth Owen, Mildred Maddrey, Carolyn Roberts, Pauline Gibb, Ann Rice, Eleanor Davis, Alice Harrison, Sarah Hubard, Alma Garlick, Beatrice Goode, Lucille Bowyer, Easter Souders.

Pi Zeta Chapter, realizing the hon-

Continued on page two

College High Nearing Close of Successful Year

The commencement exercises of the College High School will be held in the S. T. C. auditorium, Friday night, May 30, at 8 o'clock. The graduating class of 1930 is unusually large, being composed of twenty-seven girls. Elizabeth Burger has the honor of being valedictorian, while Margaret Morgan is to be salutatorian.

The Junior class entertained the Seniors at the Junior-Senior banquet on Friday, May 16. At the Mothers' Banquet, to be held Thursday, May 29, the Seniors will entertain their mothers. Both of these banquets are now held annually at College High School. The custom originated several years ago.

The baccalaureate sermon was preached by Dr. Massey at the Presbyterian church on Sunday night, May 25. It was most impressive and every Senior thoroughly appreciated it.

The class of 1930 can look back upon an eventful high school career. Their Senior year has been particularly successful, due to the splendid leadership of the class president, Margaret Armstrong; to the wise and sympathetic guidance of Miss London, the class advisor, and to the wholehearted co-operation of the entire class.

During the first three years in high school this class saw the organization of the Debating Club, the Literary Club and the Student Government Association. It saw athletics rise to a position of importance, saw the beginning of the annual, "The Climber," and saw the Glee Club achieve success. The members of the class have always co-operated with the other classes and with the administration remarkably well. They have shown splendid school spirit and a genuine love for their Alma Mater. This year they have taken the lead in student activities

Continued on page two

MONOGRAM CLUB RECEIVES NEW MEMBERS

Election of Officers Held

The Monogram Club held very impressive installation services Friday night at 10 o'clock in the Y. W. reception room. The following new members were taken in:

Edith Coleman, Elizabeth Hunter, Frances Edwards, Kathleen Hundley, Martha Gunter, Duvahl Ridgeway, Hildegarde Ross.

After the installation of new members, election of officers was held. The following were elected for 1929-30:

Cleo Quisenberry, President.
Frances Edwards, Vice-President.
Elizabeth Hunter, Secretary.
Kathleen Hundley, Treasurer.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma wishes to announce the following new members:

Annie Denit
Martha Faris
Allie Oliver
Jessie Smith
Rena Robertson

DRAMATIC CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR 1930-1931

Friday evening, May 23, the Dramatic Club held its regular business meeting and elected officers for the coming year and discussed the work it hopes to accomplish next year.

The officers as elected were:

President	Henrietta Cornwell
Vice-President	Mary Ellen Cato
Secretary	Jenilee Knight
Business Mgr.	Frances Martin
Stage Mgr.	Loulie Milner
Property Mgr.	Myra Costen
Costume Mistress,	Evelyn Stephenson

The president told of her appreciation of the re-election and of her hopes for the next year.

FIRST ANTI-RELIGIOUS UNIVERSITY

The first anti-religious university in the world was opened in Leningrad last fall, with an enrollment of 300 students, forty-seven of whom were women Meetings of protest have been held in London, Paris and Geneva against this and other steps, which the Soviet Government has taken in suppressing religion.—The Richmond Collegian.

PATRICK HENRY'S BUST UNVEILED BY RELATIVES

Patrick Henry, Virginia's revolutionary patriot, took formal possession of a niche in the Hall of Fame of New York University yesterday. when his great-grand-daughter, Mrs. H. Sampson, unveiled a bust of her illustrious ancestor. Governor John Garland Pollard delivered the address of presentation. The bust is the work of Charles Keck and the gift of Frederick W. Scott, of Richmond.—The Richmond Collegian.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief — JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor — LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

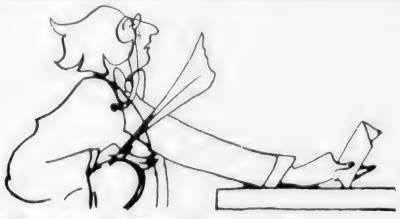
Board of Editors

News Editor — MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor — MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor — FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor — SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor — A J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor — JANE ROYALL '33
Art Editor — VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor — LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor — VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Alumnae Editor — MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELL JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31

Proof Reader — WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader — MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33



Managers

Business Manager — DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager — HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager — ELLA CARROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager — MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

We are always glad to publish any desirable article or communication that may be sent to us. We wish, however, to call attention to the fact that unsigned correspondence will not be published.

Seniors and Sophomores

With a heartful of good wishes we watch you leave us to go on your triumphant journey. You leave us a step behind, but Seniors and Sophomores, you showed us the way. You lighted our candles, you guided our footsteps, and still you go on before us—but only a step or perhaps two.

We watch you leave and think of tomorrow with its loss of you—yet we haven't lost you, you have only gone on ahead to guide us once again. And to you, our big sisters, and upperclassmen, we are sending with you our sincerest congratulations, our hopes, our ideals, and our love. Go forth, and give to the world what you have given to S. T. C., and forever and a day, we will be proud of you!

To Dr. Jarman and Miss Mary

They love and understand and guide us—the two whom we would strive for, seek, and find "the glory of the sun, the beauty of the moon, and the peace of the twinkling stars."

To Dr. Jarman, our president, our leader, and our friend, who has made possible this happy year at S. T. C., we give thanks. We will carry with us forever the splendid spirit and high ideals of our Alma Mater.

To Miss Mary, the Head of our Home, our adviser, and our friend, we wish to say again how much we appreciate her help and guidance.

The end of the year brings a hurt to those of us who are ending our school days and close contact with you. Yet it brings a hope—that we may accomplish something worthy of your love and trust. To those of us who are coming back it means joyous summer looking foward to another year with you.

OVER THE TEACUPS

My dear, am I tired? You bet, with essays, short stories, note books, Senior plays and exams, Can I stand it—can you?

Did you go to Sing Saturday night? Wasn't it precious? I almost cry now when I think about it. The "fourteen" came up a bit in my estimation—they are no longer a club, why, they are an organization. (I happen to be one.)

You know Saturday was a day for tears. Chapel was the saddest thing, outside of losing my wash rag down the bath tub drain pipe, I ever experienced. Why, when Caroline Watts came out in tears, I simply overflowed. Incidentally, I ruined the notebook I've been planning to do these many weeks and had finally begun. My tears washed away the ink. Perhaps Miss Iler will pardon it.

Speaking of tears, can you get over the "Trespasser"? Absolutely, if I live to have fifty grandchildren I'll never laugh more. They say the disc, the part that talks, was a hundred and twenty feet behind the film. Well, here's hoping I never get that far behind with my speaking apparatus. Why, I'd never in this world stand it.

You know, I kinder wish I had a way of wishing all the Seniors good luck and happiness and all the two yearers, too, but I can't see them all, and I can't holler that loud, and well—what'll I do? Tell you and leave it to you to spread it. It's a go! Do your best for an eager four-year Soph.

You really needn't yawn again—I'm going. I just get wound up and can't stop. But haven't we had a grand year, and won't we miss everybody this summer and next year, and haven't Miss Mary and Doctor Jarman and Miss Tabb and—oh, I'm going. Good night! I hope the next time you want to talk everybody goes to sleep on you.

COLLEGE HIGH NEARING A SUCCESSFUL CLOSE

(Continued from Page 1)

and have displayed unusual ability in their work. Due to their splendid efforts, this year has brought about a marked improvement in the organizations and activities previously introduced into the school. In addition to this, they have organized a Monogram Club for the purpose of stimulating interest in athletics.

These girls deserve every commendation for their accomplishments and for the splendid spirit they have maintained throughout their high school career. Their Alma Mater in giving them up, is about to suffer a great loss. The other classes have a high standard set for them, but the Seniors believe that they can and will live up to it. As for the Seniors, the best that their schoolmates can wish for them is that they may be as successful throughout life as they have been during their high school days at C. H. S.

BETA PI THEAT IS INSTALLED AT S. T. C.

(Continued from Page One.)

or given them in being asked to petition for a chapter of the national organization, recognizes the fact that with honors go obligations and responsibilities. They expect to measure up to the fullest expectations of those responsible for the organization here.

DISCOVERY

From out the void
I drew a word,
Emblazoned it in space—
The word of Love—
It shone above,
And from it gazed
your face.

WHAT'S UP

Boxes, pictures, stoves, coathangers, dope bottles, vases, letters, papers, clothes in fact, every conceivabel article litters the halls, the rooms, and even the baths. What's up? Why all the hustle, the bustle, confusion and clamor? One minute I feel like laughing and then I see some dignified girl coming up the hall with a long face and tear-dimmed eyes, and I weep bitterly, too. Dear, dear, it will never do. I have my exams to pass. That gives me a thought—people are geting ready to go home, aren't they? How dumb I am! I never thought of that before. (Feature it!) Well, I hope everybody will be happy and satisfied. Some coming back, some teaching, maybe some marrying, and some doing nothing. Seems like I can stay up here and do the last mentioned, at least from the looks of my grade book. By the way, you better dig yours out of that jumble in your room and turn it in; we haven't got long now—hooray!

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Plans to give young eight-year-old King Michael, of Roumania, a democratic education by picking fellow students for him among the lower classes came to naught when the school had to be discontinued because the King insisted on beating up his fellow-students. who finally decided to hit back.—Ring-tum Phi.

Students at the University of Indiana aren't getting any breaks this year, it seems, or maybe they are receiving only "breaks." A new slogan has become prevalent on the campus recently, "Thou shalt not love." No longer do members of the venerable institution "moon" over their diminutive partners within the cloistered precincts of a parked car. A most stringent and terrifying rule has been passed which solemnly forbids any student from transporting his "belle femme" to a dance in an automobile unless the driver of the vehicle is a parent of either party of the date.—The Yellow Jacket.

At the University of Michigan fire caused a damage of $1,000 to the Pi Kappa fraternity house for the reason that no one in the house had a nickle with which to call the fire department. Some of the men sent a freshman to a house across the street to borrow a nickle. The freshman finally borrowed the highly-prized nickle and returned to the telephone in time to save the day.—The Va. Tech.

WORLD NEWS

Poet Laureate of England

John Masefield has been appointed poet laureate of England. The little isle is to be congratulated on having such a lusty singer. The new poet laureate has had various occupations, from being a sea cook to acting as porter in a New York bar room. But every where he studied life. Now he voices it, or rather pens it.—Richmond News Leader.

I had sworn to be a bachelor
She had sworn to be a bride
But I guess you know the answer
(She had nature on her side.)
—With apologies to Benny

Sluggishness of liver never should be taken for purity of heart—Rev. H. Howard.

A LESSON

I thank you for the lesson
That you've taught with bitter pain.
I thank you for the lesson
That has made my love in vain.

I should have known that all along
You were only making time—
I should have known that your said love
Could never be as mine.

Yes, I thank you for the lesson
That you taught in thoughtless play
For the next time I will know the game
And hide my love away.

PRACTICALS

Prologue

Prosiac things of wood and stone,
Lines of facts streaming before me,
Steal my dreams, leave me alone,
Clutching the black and white of destiny.

I.

All day long I have been practical;
When evening falls—
I turn me to the sunset,
That I might glean from it,
The richness I have lost.
Because I have handled destiny threads so long
I have turned them as I would;
Now, as the swift rushing of doves at release,
Flying forth from a dove-cote by morning
Whirring about the master with velvet wings
So—the swift onrush of my returning dreams
Stifle me with the whirring of their soft wings of fancy
But I can sing once more
Shutting my eyes to destiny.

Epilogue

Prosiac things I still must know
Refuge is not had in futile dreams
Dreams must plan as we onward go
With destiny to give back its gleams.

F. W., '30

TO MY UNCLE—

Somewhere there is someone,
Someone true and fine.
Those things I can't quite tell him—
But in this heart of mine
Ihold him close and love him
As he can never know
Until from up in Heaven
He sees me here below.
Often on the Sabbath,
When I sit with mother, there,
I watch him through the service—
His smile, his austere brow
White framed with thinning hair
His eyes stay not long open
But somehow, there in church
I think God sees and knows
His great and humble worth.
And sometimes when we're singing
He looks at me and smiles
And then my voice is sweeter
And my heart is light the while.
And then, as on our knees, we pray
I offer thanks above
That God has given me the right
To claim him some my own.

FANS BANDUSIAE HORACE

Glass-like, O Spring, with your cyrstal showers,
To you sweetest wines and garlands of flowers;
To you on the morrow a kid will be given
So young that its horns may seem to be hidden
The blood of this offering newly dead
Shall tinge your fragrant waters red.
Flaming Syreus, in vain, seeks you now
While you refresh oxen worn by the plow
Because of an oak which I shall sing
Placid near the cave whence your waters spring
Your noble name to the heavens will ring.

M. F. S., '30

A good story wanders down from Princeton. It is about a rich little boys whose father sent him there for some higher education and then found out that undergraduates are not permitted to have cars on the campus. The father stormed into the dean's office agrily. He was amazed to hear that his son should have to walk in all kinds of weather. Why it might ruin his health. So he built the lad a 12-room house opposite the grounds of the university equipped with a butler, maid and chauffeur. The chauffeur drives the boy to his classes—and outside the city limits the boy takes the wheel.—"The Game Cock"

SOCIALS

Katheryn Ryster and Josie Spencer spent the week-end at their homes in Lynchburg.

Evelyn Stephenson spent the week-end at Blackstone.

Margaret Rickaretts and Martha Moore spent the week-end at the home of the latter in Lexington.

Mary Buford Epes spent the week-end at Chase City.

Allie Oliver spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Martha Seabury spent the week-end in Petersburg.

ROTUNDA BANQUET

The College Tea Room which for weeks past has been the frequenting place of banqueters was again the scene of feastivities last Thursday evening when the old and new Rotunda staffs were entertained. The banquet room was particularly lovely and inviting with its tables decorated with candles and cut flowers. At each place there was an appropriate favor for the guests. Miss Hiner, Miss Taliaferro and Mr. Holton were guests of honor for the occasion.

Merriment and enjoyment ran high; Pearl Johnson played the piano at intervals. A contest to see who could make the greatest number of words from the two words "Rotunda Staff" caused much amusement. Prizes were given to Anne Stump for winning, and to Jessie Smith for consolation.

RUTH E. OWEN

Ruth's sweetness and quiet ability have made her one of the most loved of all our Seniors. Her entire four years here, at S. T. C., have been characterized by these virtues and her splendid scholarship.

We think of Ruth most especially for her work in the French and Spanish Clubs and as president of the Ruffner Literary Society .The success of each of these organizations is due in a large degree to the personality and initiative of Ruth, and it is with regret that we lose her by graduation.

These rare traits of Ruth's have won for her the love and admiration of her classmates and associates. And they insure for her a future successful career.

Our best wishes to you, Ruth!

SCHOLARSHIP PLAQUE GIVEN TO PAN-HELLENIC

At open Pan-Hellenic meeting on last Wednesday night, Miss Grenels, Pan-Hellenic advisor, presented a scholarship plaque to the association. The sorority having the highest scholastic average for the preceding year will get its name engraved on the plaque, and will be allowed to keep the plaque in its room for the following year.

The University of California sophomores have a very original contest every year. The idea of the contest is to raise whiskers, and the man having the best crop of whiskers is the winner. The contest lasts the same number of days as appears in the class numeral. Coeds, who were formerly against the holding of such a contest, are now strongly in favor of it. There is no use saying that the he-man type doesn't appeal to the women.—Grapurchat.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

MARGARET LEONARD

As we look among our seniors, Leonard is one who will be missed a great deal next year. She has shown a great deal of interest in school organizations, especially in the Y. W. C. A. Leonard has served on the Freshman Commission, the Conference and Convention committee, Student Standards Committee, and she has been secretary and vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. Leonard was also secretary of her class during her sophomore year.

Leonard has been greatly liked for her kind disposition and willing attitude.

CLARA NORFLEET

"'Twill be many a sigh and many a tear" when Clara Norfleet passes from our midst. For with her will go one of the surest elements of fun at S. T. C. No more popular Senior will receive her diploma than funny, jolly, lovable Clara; and justly is she popular. Who could resist that sunny grin, ready word, and contageous laugh?

Nor is she all jolliness; for deep beneath Clara's carefree exterior lies a heart of pure gold, and a vein of seriousness undreamed of in one so constantly gay. No effort will she spare to accomodate a friend, lend a helping hand, or better still, by her wit and laugh, to bring the sunshine where skies are dark. There will be something decidedly lacking when next year our halls fail to echo her "woo-woo-woo" and poo-poop-a-doo." Sorely missed will be her ready sympathy and unselfish nature.

Energetic and practical, Clara has exhibited remarkable "business sense" while at college, and financial and economical problems find a ready solution in her fertile brain.

During her four years at S. T. C. she has implanted roots which will be hard to extricate. No, Clara, you cannot be soon forgotten, for the roots you have set out are those of love, and they are deeply entwined in fertile soil—the hearts of your fellow-students.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Students have "taken to the air" at the University of Miami. Aeronautical enthusiasts recently organized the first college aviation fraternity in the country to stimulate "air-mindedness" The organization has been named Omicron Pi (Birds of a Feather) and plans are being formulated for the establishment of chapters throughout the United States. Now that the Greeks are making such rapid strides in the world of aviation, we look forward to the time when the fair co-eds and their trusty pilots wing their way through the ozone to Pan-Hellenics and such affairs.—Brackety-Ack.

CANADA DRUG CO.
Next to Baldwin's Store
Come to us for your cosmetics and STATIONERY
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

C. E. Chappell Co.
Dealers in
Confectioneries, Fruits, Blank Books, Stationery
AND SCHOOL SUPPLIES
Farmville - - - - Va.

Mothers Day Candy
and
Mother's Day Cards
at
McIntosh's Drug Store
Farmville - - - - Va.

SCHEMMEL
CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC
Piano, Vocal, Theory, Harmony
Aesthetics, Etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Just arrived Several Hundred new graduation Dresses Specially priced to S. T. C. girls!
GREENBERG'S DEPT. STORE
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

New Peggy Paige DRESSES at The Band Box Shoppe

GRAY'S DRUG STORE
Quality—Price—Service
Come in and get acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

ARE YOU HUNGRY?
Go Across the Street
GILLIAM'S
FOR EATS
OF ALL KINDS

SPRING SHOWING OF
HATS
THE HAT SHOPPE
Mrs. H. H. Hunt
THIRD STREET
FARMVILLE - - - - VA.

CAPP'S STORE
Next to the Theatre
Toasted Sandwiches Sodas and Candies
MRS. HUBBARD'S HOME-MADE PIES

Falconer Gift Shop
Kodaks, Pictures, Frames, Books Stationery
Engraving
COMPLETE LINE OF GREETING CARDS

SOUTHSIDE DRUG STORE
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh films)
Let Us Develop Your Films (one day service)
COMPLETE LINE GREETING CARDS

SHANNON'S
is headquarters for the best
SANDWICHES AND DRINKS
in Farmville!

LOVELACE SHOE SHOP
Work done while you wait with
First Class Materials
110 Third Street Farmville, Va.

Headquarters for
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS
Macks' Beauty and Barber Shop
323 Main Street Farmville, Va.

To the members of the faculty and student body we appreciate the business you have given us this year and we wish you everyone a pleasant vacation. We are looking forward to seeing you again next fall.
G. F. BUTCHER & COMPANY

ELECTRIC SHOE SHOP
Will fix your shoes
WHILE YOU WAIT
Best Workmanship and Leather Used

S. A. LEGUS
TAILORING CLEANING
PRESSING
Farmville - - - - - - - - - - Virginia

GRADUATION TIME IS HERE

We have the most complete line in Farmville, Dresses, Hats, Negligees, Hosiery and Shoes. White dresses, georgettes, chiffons, and flat crepes, from $5.95 to $16.50.

Special this week, $10 flanenl coats, white and pastel shaes at $5.95.

White shoes $2.95 to $8.50. Genuine Deauville Sandals, $5 values, black and white or solid white at $3.95, with the strap fastener buckles.

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Farmville, Va.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

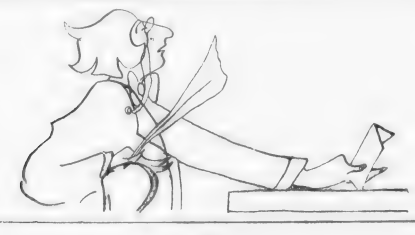
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Art Editor ..... VIRGINIA ROBERTSON, '31
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Honor

Perhaps the word honor means a different thing to each of us because we come from different homes, churches and schools, but since we are a member of a group then the real significance of the word should be a samness and a connecting link of our group. Just what does honor mean to you?

Honor has always been classified as an abstract noun, but somehow there is something concrete about it too. When one's honor is at stake, there is nothing abstract about the word or situation. It is concrete—and real! Little things test just how concrete one's honor is, and to what extent it may be put to a trial.

Since little things are so vital in building up one's honor, then each of us, as citizens of S. T. C. should watch and see that honor should remain concrete!

It is so easy to kill one's conscience about the real things of life, and it seems that when we are away from home these temptations strike a more fertile soil in which to grow. When the seed is sown it is hard to tear the plant up by the roots. Of course, then, the most worthwhile thing to do is to live up to the highest standards that one is able— and even higher for

"Man's reach should exceed his grasp
Or what's a Heaven for?"

So, new students, and old, why not adopt an S. T. C. sense of honor which will place one on her tip-toes to keep up; then your school and my school will possess the finest thing on earth—a concrete sense of honor!

To the New Students

We wish to extend a cordial welcome to the new students who have come to our college. We welcome you to our campus, our halls, our college, our life.

We are pleased to have you in our work and our play, to share them with you. We are glad to know you and receive you into our companionship. We want to assist you in becoming adjusted to the newness of our college. We want to take you to our hearts as our little sisters.

And as Joan, sitting quietly, in our reception hall, awaits and welcomes you, so we with her true spirit of courage and goodness receive you into that spirit and our college.

WHAT? RATS!

"My head is all in a whirl—will people ever stop asking questions? Where's the library? Where's room 24? Where's X? Do you guess we were ever so dumb, so green? Really though, I would die if I couldn't tell 'em and show 'em. It is fun. What's more, they are dears. I haven't seen a grander assortment of girls since I came here. Why there are all sizes and all kinds. Wish I were a freshman— I do feel so old. Do I look it? Have I got any wrinkles yet? Just think how much they have ahead of them, how much to look forward to, so much to live through that I'd give anything to live over again. Wish I could tell them how much the years mean—but I didn't take it in when I was told. You know, those new girls work fast. They have already found the tea room, Shannons, Southside, Gil-—oh, Gilliams — it can't be Gilliam's isnt anymore, and yet I look and there is an empty space. I feel all tearful, it was almost a part of the school. Think, we'll have to wear mourning for a week for the store that once was so close to the hearts of famished college girls. I'm not sentimental Ann, only deeply moved. Wasn't the reception Friday, nice. Why I had the cutest time. But everyone can have a good time at S. T. C. if they once get the spirit of Joan, the spirt of all those girls that have been and are yet to be—the spirit of love! Now, there you go getting peculiar. Why, I'm not so old, I'm only a rose in the bed. Dumb?? I'm not! I believe she was being sarcastic. Anyway, I'm awful glad to have such nice freshmen and I love 'em all as I hope they'll soon love us.

TEACHING SCHOOL— MY FIRST DAY

Outside calm and peace—inside storm and confusion. That was the weather, school building, or most anything but me. Inside and outside I was storm and confusion.

For the first time in my life I saw what looked like ten thousand little faces, and what sounded like ten million little voices—except the voices were bigger than the people. In a very meek voice I said, "Children we must be quiet."

Presently my supervisor walked in, and I was somewhat relieved to say the least, because I thought maybe she could at least make them "hush". Sure enough, she spoke and they heeded, and that made me feel all the worse because they hadn't paid the slightest attention to me when I spoke. Right then and there I decided I was never "cut out" for a teacher.

There is one thing I discovered about children that first day. They all wiggle from daylight 'till night, they all talk at once, they are very thoughtless, and they adore noise of any kind, shape or form—the noisier the better. One of my other discoveries was that they were too dumb to ever learn anything, because they were too dumb to know what I meant when I told them in gentle tones to be quiet that was first grade by the way and kindergarten was even dumber.

Yes, teaching is a great life, no doubt, since so many of the youthful lassies in our land aspire to it. All I have to say is may they all be deaf, dumb, and blind that first day, and if they live through it they may be better citizens for the experience.

STRIKE-OUT RECORD BROKEN

Dave Danforth, pitcher for the Buffalo team of the International League, set a new strike-out record against Rochester in a night game, Sept. 21. Danforth fanned 20 men in nine innings, breaking the record of 19, set by Charles Sweeney, of Providence, in 1884. The modern big leage record of sixteen was held by four immortals of the game; Mathewson, Rucker, Hahn, and Wadell. Danforth is a former big-leaguer, having pitched for the St. Louis Browns.

PERSONALITY VERSUS ABILITY

The question often occurs to a college student perparing for a business or industrial career, just what is necessary for success? What qualities must be developed to get ahead in a chosen field of endeavor? One professor has stated that business success is made up of 50 per cent personality, 40 per cent "pull," and 10 per cent ability. Edison once said "success is about 2 per cent inspiration and 98 per cent perspiration."

Of course the essential factors vary widely for different occupations, however a few generalizations may be drawn. Assuming that a person has normal good health and a fair personality, will his progress in business be determined more by his personality and the "pull" of influential friends or by the natural ability?

After all in final analysis most businesses are a cold money-making proposition. Employers are interested primarily in what a man can do; in how much he can make for his company, rather than in his Beau Brummel appearance or his Chesterfield manners. An exception would be in the case of salesmen or men going into the diplomatic service, where personality and appearance would be prime requisites. There is a fundamental law in operation which in the long run makes value received proportional to effort exerted. It is well that this is the case, for if it were necessary for one to be born or endowed with the almighty "it" to make a success, there would be no incentive for those not having "it" to go ahead.

It is significant to note that many of our most prominent men have started out with practically nothing and have forged ahead against tremendous odds, depending upon sheer ability and hard work. In addition, it should give one a great deal of personal satisfactoin to know that he has gotten ahead strictly on his own merits and ability rather than on the influence of relatives and friends up. One can not long remain in a responsible position without corresponding ability to back it up, for modern business has exacting requirements and it is a case of the survival of the fittest.—V. M. I Cadet.

"Peewee" Golf Now Industry.

Miniature golf was recognized as a national industry by the Department of Commerce when officials announced that a national survey is to be made to determine the amount of money invested, number of employes, and income from the courses.

It is estimated that between $2.-500,000 and $50,000,000 is invested in the 50,000 to 75,000 courses in operation and upward of a quarter of a million persons are employed on them.

The average business done by the courses was estimated at $50 a day, on an investment of from $4,000 to $5,000.

Village Prays Against Radio

With the prayer, "Save us, O Lord, from the perils of the radio," the religious inhabitants of Mont Saint-Michel, Manche are asking salvation from what they regard as a new threat to morals.

A bitter attack upon radio explaining why the prayer crusade has been undertaken is printed in the Les Annales du Mont Saint-Michel, organ of the pilgrimage center. The writer, a cleric, says: "The radio is an agent of anti-religious propaganda."

A burglar is merely a man who feels that he isn't rich or ought to be.

Mother: Willie, the canary has gone.

Willie: But mother, it was there just now, when I was trying to clean the cage with the vacuum cleaner.

CONTENTMENT

I am fretful,
Bitter,
Self-centered—
And then suddenly—
I realize the richness of my possessions
For I had within my grasp
An indefineable treasure,
Friendship—
I am content.

L. M., '32

A LONGING

I want to be a gypsy
And rove the wide world o'er,
To seek in every hidden nook
And find some treasured store
Of long ago.

I want to be a gypsy
Free and wild,
I want to go at night
Out upon the mountain side
And dance!

I want to be a gypsy,
To catch and hold
The golden beauty of the shining stars
The soft mystery of the violet skies,
The burning fire of a lover's eyes—
For my own.

Yes, I want to be a gypsy,
Free, untamed and glad;
To rove the hills and see the world,
To smile, undaunted, unafraid,
Seeing only beauty—
The heights, the depths, of the gold the red;
A gypsy, who knows the intensity of life,
The unfathomable wonder of the master—
To be a gypsy!

L. M., '32

MAYBE

Maybe you're thinking about me now,
'Cause I'm thinking so hard of you,
Maybe I'll sit at home tonight.
You too are blue.
Maybe you're wishing a lot,
Maybe you're dreaming and longing, dear
And then again maybe you're not

Maybe Ill sit at home tonight.
Alone with my thoughts of you,
Because I believed everything you said was true
Maybe I love you tonight
I'm not at all sure I don't
But maybe I'll pass up another date
And then again, maybe I won't.

NO REST FOR DOC

He was a noted specialist and had a practice large
He rather liked to operate and dearly loved to charge,
He whacked them up the right and left, then sawed them 'cross theh bone,
But cussed a little everytime they called him on the phone.
Well, bye and bye the surgeon died, for such alas is fate,
He hesitated when he stood before the Golden Gate,
"I hope you have no telephone," he said, "St. Peter dear,
For if you have this never will be heaven for me here."
"Oh, no indeed," the saint replied, "such things we can't afford,
But Doctor, Earth is calling pou upo n the ouija board."

—Anlouisa Person

S. T. C. ENTERTAINMENTS

The entertainment course arranged by the State Teachers College for the students this session is one of the best. Korb & Company will appear here October 16; the Durrell Strong quartet, November 14; Edmund Vance Cook is scheduled for December 9; Brayton Eddy for January 29, and "Trial by Jury" for March 2.

SOCIALS

Jessie Smith and A. J. Scott attended the W. &. L. and Hampden-Sydney football game in Lynchburg last Saturday.

The following girls were in Lynchburg this week-end: Kathryn Waters, Toodles Booth, Martha Sanders, Jerry Lee, Martha Walters, Margaret Parker, Loulie Milner, Marthta Moore, Elsie Burgess, Margaret Priest, Virginia Lamb, Margaretta Brady, Elizabeth Carter, Louise Munt and Caroline Reed.

Elizabeth Kelly and Dorothy Prescott visited in Kenbridge this week-end.

Anna Knox spent the week-end in Williamsburg.

Miss Mary White Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Graham spent Sunday in Roanoke.

Mrs. Laing and her daughter, Martha Ann, spent the week-end in Staunton.

"14" CLUB GOATS

Coty Neale
Nancy Harrison
Elsie Bolton
Honey Hamilton
Caroline Reed
Virginia Marchant
Connie Quarles
Virginia Lamb
Anne Davis
Kitty Walters
Helen Cover
Mickey Brewster
Missie Bernier
Mary Shelton
Virginia Sanford
Mutt Armstrong
Happy Hughes
Bitsy Wilkinson
Joe Sneed
Mary Harrison
Mary Alice Young
Frances Ambler Lee
Alice Steidtenan
Ruth Ford
Dorothy Leonard
Margaret Parker
Margaret Brothers
Maxine Kitts
Betty Watts
Alice Rowell
Grace Rowell
Mary S. Watkins
Scotty Martin

N. B. B. O. GOATS

Dot Prescott
Elizabeth Kelly
Gloria Mann
Clara MacKenzie
Catherine McIntyre
Sue Pugh
Vay Abbitt
Bernice Mae Love
Ann McGann
"Cottie" Willis
Frances Rawlings
Nellie Green
"Chic" Masling
Margaret Barber
Jerry Lee
Julia Farris
Mary Scott Martin
Anna Knox
Mary Arthur Billings
Margaret Arthur Eley
Virginia Sargent
Margaret Banks
Helen Warren
Elma Rawlings
Jane Plummer
Alice Marshall
Katherine Logan
Catherine Royster
Margaretta Brady
Katherine Jones
Ruth Perry
A. J. Scott
Dot Weems
Virginia May Huntsville
Katherine Cogbill
Dot Franklin
Norma Franklin
Frances Lewis
Patty Brock
Agnes Grigg
Jessie Smith
Louise Borum
Nancy Boykin
Nancy St. Claire
Chappe Weiger

Y. W. Reception Held for New Girls

Student Building Lounge Was Scene Friday of Enjoyable Meeting of Students

DELIGHTFUL PROGRAM GIVEN

The Y. W. C. A. gave a reception Friday evening for the Freshmen and new girls of S. T. C.

Each freshman or new girl was escorted to the reception by her Y. W. "Big Sister."

Miss Mary White Cox, Dr. Jarman, Miss Jennie Tabb, Miss Camper, Miss Potts, Adele Hutchinson, Rena Robertson and Martha Faris made up the receiving line. The guests moved from the receiving line, which was in the Student Building Lounge to the gymnasium where the following program of entertainment was given:

Reading ..... Bettie Watts
Dancing .... Julia and Dolly Martin
Piano Solo ..... Margaret Parker
Piano and vocal solo .... Julia Faris

A contest, the object of which was to see which Freshman could meet the greatest number of people in five minutes and be able to repeat their names. The winner was Margaret Bank, who was able to repeat eleven names.

The grand march which was led by Miss Potts and Rena Robertson led to the table where the refreshhments, which consisted of brick ice cream and cakes were served.

FRESHMEN ENJOY PLAY DAY SATURDAY

The freshman class was entertained by the Athletic Association Saturday night in the gymnasium. The guests showed a great deal of enthusiasm in the games and relays which were headed by Allie Oliver. At the end of the games chocolate lollies were served.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Announcement has been received of the marriage of Miss Mary Louise Drake, former member of the English department at S. T. C., to Edward Moore, lawyer, of Waynesboro, Va., September 23, 1930.

ADVERTISING ON POSTAGE STAMPS

If ever you receive a letter bearing a stamp inscribed with hsome slogan like, 'Eventually, why not now?" or "Four out of five have it," credit the phenomenon to Representative Emanuel Celler of New York. It is Mr. Celler's idea that the Post Office eDpartment can eliminate its deficit by selling space on postage stamps for advertising purposes.

The New Yorker explains that he does "advocate" but only "suggests" this money-making scheme to the government. The suggestion is inspired by information he has received to the effect that France, Germany and New Zealand sell the marginal space on their stamps to private concerns, and that Bavaria and Italy have doubled the size of their stamps and sold the additional space. Mr. Celler further recalls that the United States itself has used the stencil employed to cancel stamps for slogans. Stamps have also been used to cal lattention to various expositions.

Representative Celler is to be commended for his resourcefulness. But haven't we enough advertisements staring at us in street cars, screaming at us over the radio and greeting us at every road end, without encountering them on friendly epistles?

Have you heard the Shriner hostess was searching the other day for a dignified senior? Do you think she will find one?

Remote Control—Freshman writing home for money.

WORLD NEWS

Annexation Propaganda in Cuba

To cure the hard times in Cuba, it has been proposed that the United States annex the island. However, General Mashado, president of Cuba, feels that his position is secure. With the annexation of Cuba the sugar, tobacco, fruit, and minerals of the island would gain free entrance into the United States. The inhabitants of Cuba feel that it would be doubtful what Americans would send in return for what they sold to them and who would be the ones in Cuba to profit by the free exchange of goods! —Literary Digest.

Lake Nemi Gives Up Its Secrets

Two years ago Lake Nemi was lowered for the purpose of finding precious works of art in the hulls of Caligula's barges, sunk in Lake Nemi. One barge now lies on dry land. Several ornamental objects were recovered, such as bronzes with heads of wolves, lions, and tigers of perfect workmanship. The predominant wood used in the construction of the ancient ship belonged to the pine group. This ship of Nemi has an inestimable value as an historical monument of ship building.

Veteran Sportsman Will Return to America

Sir Thomas Lipton sailed for home on the Leviathan without the American cup that he has tried so hard for thirty years to win. However, he is coming back very soon to receive the "American's Cup," the one that is being bought for him as the "world's best loser", by admiring Americans. He isn't even discouraged about the America's cup and he says he may challenge for it again next year.—Virginian Pilot.

Singer May Return

Rumors that Marion Talley has abandoned her farm, has renewed her singing lessons and before long will return to the foot lights. But there are denials of the rumors that the singer, who made her debut in "Rigoletto" at the Metropolitan back in 1926 will abandon her farm and try her luck again. The public is anxious to know what this singer will do.—Outlook.

Tigers Lose First Game of the Season

Starting with a touchdown in the first two plays of the game, when Monk Mattox got away for a 62-yard dash around left end, Washington and Lee took a 15-0 decision over a lighter but scrappy Hampden-Sydney eleven at Lynchburg last Satudray. The Generals, using two dozens or more players in the contest, battled steadily through a sultry afternoon and clouds of dust to earn every yard they attained. Five 15-yard penalties, twice for holding and the others for a backfield in motion, cut the Generals' gains by that margin and twice prevented a thrust at the goal line.

FRANCO-AMERICAN GOOD WILL LIBRARY

A former American ambassador to France was once asked by an acquaintance for a certain book on France written by an American. The ambassador, Hugh Campbell Wallace, had great difficulty in locating the volume. Shortly afterwards, he tried to procure a book on America by a French scholar, and again he experienced difficulty. Mr. Wallace then and there resolved to gather together every available work or report by a Frenchman on the subject of America and vice versa. The result of that resolution is a library unlike any other in the world. Numbering several thousand books, pamphlets and reports, it is a complete history of Franco-American friendship since its very inception.

Original documents tell of Lafayette's feeling for America: of the enthusiastic French celebration that greeted the signing of our Declaration of Independence; of Benjamin Franklin's popularity as the first United States Ambassador to France; and of many things that history cannot relate with sufficient color and detail. The first treaty of friendship btween France and America, signed in 1778, is there in its pristine condition.

Ambassodor Wallace visited France this summer and arranged for the library to be placed in the new American embassy in Paris upon its completion.

Removed Turtle's Heart Made to Beat

PRINCETON, N. J.—(IP)—A disembodied heart not only still beating steadily, but writing as it throbbed a permanent, minutely precise record of its pulsations, was exhibited here in a demonstration of new instruments developments by science for the advancement of medicine and psychology.

The device, invented by A. L. Loomis, of Tuxedo Park, N .Y., in collaboration with Dr. Edmund Harvey, professor of physiology at Princeton University, is called the Loomis chronograph.

Dr. Harvey said it will facilitate the study of the phenomena of heart action and the effect of drugs on that vital organ.

The heart of the demonstration was that of a turtle, removed from the reptile while alive, freed of all extraneous tissue and suspended in a physiological salt solution exactly duplicating body conditions.

In this state the organ continued to beat 36 hours, at the same time setting down by means of the chronograph a graphic history of approximately 72,000 pulsations in that time.

With each beat the tiny organism pulled down a lever that dipped a fine filament into a drop of mercury and made a contact that transmitted an electric impulse to the chronograph. There it was translated in a fraction of a second into a record inked on a chart.

Introduction into the solution of nicotine and adrenaline was immediately noted by a marked retarding of the heart tempo in the first case and a swift acceleration in the second.

A noted authority tells us that Chinese women are the most patient females in the world. No doubt patience is necessary when ones husband comes home late and turns out to be a Chinaman.

Prof. Gilmer: If you subtract fourteen from 116, what's the difference?
Frosh: Yeah, I think it's a lot of foolishness too.

McIntosh Drug Store
Farmville, Va.
"Drugs and Drinks"
DOWNTOWN SECTION

Continental Hotel
And COFFEE SHOP
"Matchless Service"
Students Welcome

COVINGTON and HARTLESS
Sanitary Barber Shop
Three Experienced Barbers

LYNN'S
JEWELRY AND MUSIC STORE
The Latest Sheet Music

Southside Drug Store
(On the Corner)
EASTMAN KODAK AGENCY
Let Us Develop Your Films—One Day Service

Falconer Gift Shop
Athletic Souvenirs Engraving
Books, Picture Frames
RENTAL LIBRARY

Electric Shoe Shop
Let Us Serve You When You Have Your Next Shoe Puncture
Quick Service

Save Money
RIDE THE BUS TO RICHMOND!
THREE ROUND TRIPS
DAILY

VIRGINIA FURNITURE CO., Inc.
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality First Satisfaction Always
"Service With a Smile."

OVERTON-MOTTLEY HDWE. CO.
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Paints, Varnishes, Heaters and All Kinds of Electrical Goods

FARMVILLE MFG. COMPANY
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Building Contractors
Manufacturers of Building Material and Plow Handles

Ruth Jordan: "Alice, don't' you think my new dress is just exquisite?"
"They all say so."

Alice Moore: "That dressmaker of yours could make a clothes tree look graceful!"

The hard-working young man went to ask for the daughter of a very rich man.

Her father: "Young man, how much do you make?"

Young Man "One hundred and fifty a month, sir."

Her father: "That would not buy her soap."

Young man: "If she is that dirty, I don't want to marry her."

Renie: "I was so confused I don't know how many times he kissed me."

Catherine Marchant: "What! With the thing going on right under your nose?"

S. T. C. Girl: "I'd like to try that dress on in the window."

Mrs. Hub: "Sorry, Miss, but you will have to go in the anteroom.'

Queen of Sheba: "My gracious, the baby has the stomach ache."

Lord Booter (excitedly): "Page, call in the secretary of the interior."

"Jac" Lee: "Aren't we under the mistletoe?"

Law Stude: "Facts admitted—but find no cause for action."

Rich Jew: "Are you the man that saved my little boy from drowning when he fell off the dock?"

Guard: "Yes."

Rich Jew: "Where's his cap?"

Senior: "What makes you scratch your head?"

Freshman: "I'm the only one who knows it itches."

Oscar: "My brother is so dumb he thinks a football coach has four wheels."

Harry: "Ha-ha-ha. How many does it have anyway?"

"I will drive this car," said the infuriated wife as she climbed into the back seat.

First Worker: "This letter from your boss says you're fired. Why are you going back Tuesday?"

Second Worker: "On the envelope it says return in five days.

"Baby," said the lady in the street car, "why don't you get up and give your seat to your father, doesn't it pain you to see your father reach for a strap?"

"Not in a street car,' replied Bobby cheerfully, 'but it does at home."

Campus Cop: "Move that car along."

Co-ed: "Dont get fresh I'm a Delta."

Campus Cop: "You may be a peninsula but get that wreck along."

Does a man "marry in haste and repent in leisure?"

"Does he have any leisure?"

The chairman of the gas company was making a popular address:

"Think of all the good the gas company has done!" he cried. "If I were permitted a pun I would say in words of the immortal poet, 'Honor the Light Brigade.' "

Voice of consumer from audience: "Oh, what a charge they made!"

Dot Goodloe (in schoolroom): "There's a baby over there on that poster. If you ask him what his name is, what would he say?"

Bright pupil: "Nothing, he can't talk."

ONWARD FARMVILLE

Come on, girls, and play hockey with the view to make this the most successful season that we have ever had in hockey.

All you have to do is to go out on the athletic field and Miss Iler or Miss Hatchett will tell you what you can do to help your Alma Mater in the first sport of the year.

Don't forget you have to attend at least sixty per cent of the season's practices or you will not be eligible to support your class and Alma Mater when the time comes to play a game.

Hockey season ends on Thanksgiving morning with a "boom"! that we will all remember. If you don't want to miss anything, start now to the practices every afternoon from four until five forty-five.

SING—A SUCCESS

You didn't go to sing? Why, you don't know what you missed! Really, if I hadn't known better, I should have thought that Virginia Witt was honestly a "rat". She did seem so forlorn! When Alice Hardaway, the kind upper-classman, offered to introduce her to some of the old students, I wanted to give her a pat on the back.

Oh! and another thing—Virginia Lane played her uke and sang "The One I Love Just Can't Be Bothered With Me". All of the songs made the little freshman so much at home that she suggested singing "Bye, Bye Blues"—and they sang it! Mary Winston did a precious tap dance that helped in chasing the blues away. But the "hit of season" was Adele's clogging! Maybe she'll dance again so you can see her. The "grand finale" was a snake dance.

Next Saturday night he sure to go to sing, hear?—cause you'll miss just lots and lots if you don't.

HEREDITY

"Darling, If I should squeeze a bit too hard,
Think nothing ill of me,
For that is fate. I always have to guard
Against heredity."

You see, my grandpa was in other days,
A strong man act
And I've inherited his little ways
For a fact.

"So if perchance, I crack at rib or two
Never fear!
For though you think it's I who injure you,
It's grandpa, dear!

ENROLLMENT OF S. T. C.

Continued from page one

of bachelor of science in elementary education the courses leading to that degree are increasing in the number of students.

Wrist of the South

General Sherman frequently described the strategic position of Atlanta by comparing it to the wrist of a hand whose five fingers reached the five principal ports of the Gulf and South Atlantic coasts.

"I'll see you", said our hero as he laid down four aces in a game of strip poker.

PORT AU PRINCE—(IP)—With $25,000,000 already spent here by the United States since American occupation was begun in 1915, both soldiers and civilians are anxious to leave, and return to their homes in the United States, according to authoritative reports. The United States is now spending $95,000 a month in salaries alone here.

We've heard our new music teacher is very anxious to know if Rena's vibrations are in sympathy—and we wonder what with!

DRAMATIC CLUB STARTS ON NEW SCHEME

Acting upon the feeling that there were more girls in the student body with interest and ability than we were able to be taken care of by the system of try-outs the Dramatic Club asked all girls interested in dramatics to sign up on the bulletin board and report to the little auditorium, Monday night at 7:30 p. m. About 100 girls, old and new came, and even though Miss Wheeler put the proposition before them in a frank way the girls still hung on, showing that their interest was genuine.

The plan so far as it has been worked out, is to give instruction and help the girls who show ability and enthusiasm for different phases of play production.

At the beginning of the winter term those girls who have during the fall term shown marked ability and interest, will be asked to become members of the regular club. In this way the Dramatic Club hopes to reach more members of the student body and to find more real talent than it otherwise would.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Sept. 27-Oct. 4

MON. & TUE.—Ramon Novarro in "IN GAY MADRID" supported by Dorothy Jordan. We are happy to announce the second musical romance starring Ramon Novarro. In it the celebrated singing star will be heard to splendid advantage in six new numbers specially composed for the range and qualities of his voice. What happens to a Don Juan when he falls seriously in love? Gay, gallant, golden-voiced Novarro will win your heart by his light-hearted courage, his fiery love-making. Dashing caballeros, dusky-eyed senoritas with tinkling guitars, youth calling to youth, young love under the crescent moon of old Spain—that gay Madrid. A great star in a great picture. Also two reel talking comedy.

WED. & THURS.—Joan Crawford in "OUR BLUSHING BRIDES" supported by Robert Montgomery, Anita Page, Raymond Hackett and Dorothy Sebastian. This picture has everything — romance, georgeous clothes, thrills. The picture the whole country is talking about. A gorgeous eye and ear entertainment—a romance of our dancing daughter again face to face with life and love. Three daughters of today—one reared in purity; one made bold by experience; one skeptical of all men. Follow their paths towards love and happiness in this wonderful picture, against a background of luxury's lure and riches run riot. A grand romance, a gorgeous fashion revue, three walloping love stories in one. Joan Crawford at her best. Also Aesop Fable in sound.

FRI. & SAT.—Buddy Rogers in "SAFETY IN NUMBERS" supported by Kathryn Crawford and Josephine Dunn. Here are all the ingredients of pure, unalloyed fun—a modern story that fits Buddy like a glove. He sings, dances, plays the trombone, plays the piano, sings some more, falls in love with 5 gorgeous charmers, writes a hit song for the "Follies" sells it to a big Broadway producer, bawls out Broadway wise guys, loves some more girls and has a general good time for your amusement and his. There are seven song hits and you'll enjoy everyone of them. In the end he literally "Grabs" the girl of his choice and everybody's happy, including the audience. A revel of love laughs and lyrics. Also two reel Talking comedy.

Admission—Adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees. Children under 12 years of age 15c to each show.

HOUSE COUNCIL INSTALLLD

Continued from page one

Helen Walthall
Marguerite Massey
Mildred Hancock
Goldie Boggs
Helen Allen
Frances Crawford
Virginia Robertson ..... Ex-officio

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Continued from page one

and part from him when he goes wrong;" that spirit of Joan that ever carries on; that vital spark of individual responsibility which keeps alive in us a growing sense of loyalty for our Alma Mater and keeps within us a living fire of truth—only when she has caught the spirt of S. T. C., and made it a vital part of her living can she be of real service to S. T. C., and one who will love and cherish her ideals and standards.

DENOMINATIONAL MEET

Continued from page one

Miss Coulling took charge of the group meeting of Methodist girls which was held in room 24. She cordially invited all those present to meet her again on Sundnay across the street at the Methodist church. For the benefit of the new girls, she explained the position of the class rooms. This year's course of interest such as "Old Testament characters," "History of the Old Testament"', "The International Lessons" and"Social Principles of Jesus" are to be offered. The course "Social Principles of Jesus' is for advanced classes and isto be taught by Dr. Walmsley. The other courses are to be taught by Miss Coulling, Miss Jones and Miss Tupper.

Miss Coulling dismissed the girls by again telling them how glad the members of the Methodist church would be to meet each and every one on Sunday at the church.

The Baptist girls met in room 21 and were called to order by Nancy Shaner who introduced Mr. Bailey to the new girls. "Mr. Bailey," she told them, "is a Sunday school teacher whom you learn to love in such a little time." After speaking to his girls, as he calls them, Mr. Bailey introduced his wife. Mrs. Bailey had a word of welcome for them and expressed her wish that they meet her again Sunday morning in Sunday school—and on time!

A. J. Scott met with the Presbyterian girls in the front of the auditorium. She introduced the superintendent of the Presbyterian Sunday school, Mr. Blanton. After hints about and suggestions of the attractions down the hill, Mr. Blanton introduced Miss Lucille Bridgman. Miss Bridgman is a graduate of Agnes Scott and is an extremely interesting person.She expresed her joy at seeing old faces back again and added that each one had an even greater treat in store ahead of them if she would make some effort to attend Sunday school regularly. She proised to met the new girls at the Rotunda to take them to Sunday school.

To every girl at S. T. C. there is a responsibility given, a place to fill in church, a privilege to use or abuse. And may this year, away from home, be one of success and happiness.

BLUE RIDGE MEET

Continued from page one

Ridge for our girls. Sue Moomaw took her car and no place within easy riding distance remained untraversed. College boys who were working nearby provided interesting diversion which made the conference more enjoyable.

Winston Cobb, though other conference matters may slip, her memory she declares she will never forget her first glimpse of the gorgeous Blue Ridge, nor the aches in her limbs after her initial attempt at mountain scaling.

In every way the conference was worthwhile. Stored deep in the mind of every girl who attended are unfading memories of glorious mountain scenery, some new hope gained, an inner light set burning or a friendship formed. Though the onrush of events in their after lives may be swift and strong, they cannot prevail against the host of memories imbedded in the girls' minds by such a successful and satisfying conference.

Freshman at S. T. C. "Is traffic jam what they serve on Sunday night?"

Derbies look very good on some people, but they look better on hatracks.

Do you talk in your sleep?

No, my wife says I'm perfectly exasperating, because I only smile.

Laugh of the Week

Suitor—"I-I-I've been going with your daughter for nearly six years now, sir, and I've come to ask for—

Her father—"Well, what! A pension?"

"Gracious", said the doctor, "how did you get those awful bruises on your shins? Are you a hockey player?"

"Oh, no; I just led my wife's weak suit."

Mack and Owen
BARBER SHOP
Main Street Farmville, Va.
First-class work—Four barbers!!

Gray's Drug Store
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE :: :: VIRGINIA

SHEAFFER LIIFE TIME
Fountain Pens and Pencils
We engrave your name on FREE
Martin, the Jeweler
FARMVILLE :: :: VIRGINIA

SERVICE COUNTS
—We Give It
Brickert Oil Company
Farmville, Virginia
We take care of the S. T. C. Girls

Shannon's Rose Room
Headquarters for Boys and girls
We can satisfy your hunger with our good sandwiches, hot waffles, Etc.

S. A. Legus, Tailor
Suits made to individual measure
Cleaning, Pressing and REPAIRING

White Drug Company
Established in 1868
Drugs, Medicines, Stationery, Whitman's Candies, Waterman Pens, Magazines and Books

Lovelace Shoe Shop
Farmville, Va.
WE REBUILD SHOES
Prices Reasonable—All Work Guaranteed. Give us a trial

Main St. Service Station
General Reairs
Battery Recharging
Washing and greasing a specialty!!

COME OUT FOR HOCKEY

ROTUNDA

SUBSCRIBE TO THE ANNUAL

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1930 No. 1

Honor Graduates To Begin Work

Must Remain on Dean's List All Year and Do Special Study and Research

Last year a new plan was instituted at S. T. C. which enabled those Seniors who were on the Dean's List all three terms to pursue a course such that, at its satisfactory completion, they became candidates for graduation "with honors" in their particular field of research.

Seven of last year's seniors completed such a course.

The experiment having been proved a success, the plan is to be used again this year. The students who are on the Dean's List this term may start the work, but in order to complete, it they must maintain the standard required to remain on the Dean's List all year. The privilege is given to them to do a special piece of research work in their field of particular interest. They have all the facilities of the college to help them.

Each girl has a committee from the faculty to advise with her and to help her during the course. She makes an intensive study of the subject she may choose, and at the end of the year appears before the whole faculty committee and submits the paper which she has prepared. If her work is approved, she becomes a candidate for graduation "with honors."

The purpose of this plan is to give to the students who have done outstanding work, the opportunity to express themselves in new fields, to develop their ability to do individual work, and to accord them recognition for its successful completion.

'The Virginian' Asks Support of Students

Elections For Vanity Fair Soon

The entire student body is asked to support the annual by subscribing early. Four hundred and fifty (450) subscriptions are necessary before it can be printed. Each girl is urged to be considering whom she wants for the "most beautiful", "most versatile," etc., as these features are to be included in the annual. A formal announcement concerning the date of these elections will be made before the end of this week. "The Virginian" should be representative of S. T. C., and in order to make this edition the best ever, support of the student body body is necessary. The sooner the subscriptions are secured, the sooner work on the annual will be completed and the sooner we shall all be the proud possessors of the 1931 "Virginian".

LATIN CLUB MEETS

The Latin Club of S. T. C. held its regular meeting Friday, October 3. Plans for this fall and the coming quarter were discussed. The 2000th anniversary of Virgil will be celebrated by moving pictures of Roman life to be given October 18. "The Tributum", the Latin club magazine, will be dedicated to Virgil, the immortal poet. Definite plans for the winter and spring terms have not been fully arranged, but the tentative plans are very promising.

THE BIG FOUR

Left to Right—Laura Smith, president of Athletic Association; Adele Hutchinson, president of Student Council; Dr. J. L. Jarman, president of S. T. C., and Rena Robertson.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT HOLDS COACH CLASSES

For the past week Student Government coach classes have been held every night from 6:45 until 7:30 for the freshmen. Upperclassmen have been helping the new girls get the spirit of our college by discussing with them such subjects as loyalty, fairness and cooperation. The Honor Code was discussed and the minor regulations taken up. Thus every freshman had a chance to learn the standards set for her. The classes ended formally with the examination given Saturday at 2 o'clock in the big auditorium. The Honor Code will be signed Monday and Tuesday nights.

UNITED STATES CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATION

The United States Civil Service Commission announces the following open competitive examination:

Junior Patent Examiner

Applications for junior patent examiner must be on file with the Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C., not later than August 26, 1931.

The examination is to fill vacancies in the Patent Office, Washington, D. C.

The entrance salary is $2,000 a year. Higher-salaried positions are filled through promotion.

The duties are to perform elementary scientific or technical work in the examination of applications for patents; to see what the alleged inventor thinks he has produced that is new; and to see that the disclosure is complete; and to investigate the prior art as represented by patents already granted in the United States and foreign countries and by the descriptions in technical literature.

Competitors will be rated on physics, technics, mechanical drawings, and the optional subject or subjects chosen. The optionals are (1) mechanical engineering, (2) physical and organic chemistry, (3) chemical engineering, (4) civil engineering, (5) electrical engineering. French or German, or both may also be included if desired. Qualifying in the language test increases the probability of appointment.

Dean's List Selected For Fall Quarter '30

Students Who Made High Grades In Junior Year

The Dean's List for Fall Quarter of 1930 is made up of those student in the graduating class who made a given average on all their subjects in the spring quarter of their junior year. The following attained that average:

Frances Armentrout
Jane Brown
Ella Carroll
Mary Ellen Cato
Carolyn Cogbill
Edith Coleman
Annie May Davis
Mildred DeHart
Mary Derieux
Enza Evans
Margaret Faris
Susie Floyd
Pauline Gibb
Beatrice Goode
Alice Harrison
Winifred Howell
Elizabeth Hunter
Mildred Maddrey
Gladys Meador
Annie Louise Moore
Florence Moore
Virginia Neblett
Margaret Nuthall
Elsie Mae Roberts
Catherine Schroeder
Elizabeth Taylor
Elizabeth Temple
Mary Page White
Lucy Lee Williams

DEBATE CLUB WILL MEET

The Debate Club will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday evening at seven-thirty o'clock. All of the members are urged to be present.

Call meetings have been held at which important immediate matters have been discussed. At the meeting Thursday night plans for the whole year will be discussed.

BRAIN WORK REQUIRES SMALL AMOUNT OF FOOD

When a man comes home after a hard day's work, he feels entitled to a good dinner. If his labors have been mental, no matter how tired he is, he has been using very little physical about the same as if he had been idling. Tests have been made by Dr. Francis Benedict of the Carnegie Institution, in Boston, to measure the intake of oxygen and the ouput of carbon dioxide. These factors are an accurate index to the amount of heat produced. The lesson of all this is that people who do no physical work should be very moderate in their eating.—Literary Digest.

DR. MINNICT SPEAKS DURING CHAPEL HOUR

Dr. Minnict from the Miami University, Florida, gave an interesting talk in chapel Tuesday morning, on "Converting social objectives into social activties."

Dr. Minnict said that there were twenty-six trillion cells in the body and each could live by itself. But there is a division of labor among the cells. Fat cells are the so called "bankers." They store up. Nerve cells are the ruling class. The endocrine glands manufacture. They make high powered fluid.

All this must be associated with human beings or he'll never be a a human being or he'll never be a organization.

One of the most important questions we can ask ourselves is, "how did I get that way?" We learned from the past—from the past expeiences, and every way on back generations and generations.

Dr. Minnict said that the first civilized people who gave us moral codes for children were the Samarians. He also said that there was no kindness in the code of Moses, but that kindness came from Jesus.

Probably the statement that he made about "cooperation is the life of society" was the most accepted one because that is really the code of S. T. C.

Dr. Minnict concluded his speech by showing interesting charts made by the students from Miami Univer-

Classes Meet First Time for 1930-1931

Plan of Year Is Mapped Out By the Various Class Groups For Cooperation

Tuesday night, September 30, was the first class meeting night of the session. The old girls were glad to get together in their class groups once more and the freshmen were equally pleased to begin the work of class organization.

The senior class, with Virginia Robertson as president, is planning to make the most of this, their last year at S. T. C., the Alma Mater that they have learned to love so dearly. All Seniors were asked to attend chapel as regularly as possible and to get their caps and gowns at once. Everyone knows that the real spirit of the college is never more clearly felt that when the seniors, in their caps and gowns march into chapel to the tune of the Alma Mater song. The seniors hope to be ready for Senior Installation by the middle of October.

The junior class meeting was postponed until Wednesday night so that it would not conflict with the freshman meeting, since it is customary for the junior class president to conduct these meetings before the freshman class officers are elected. The juniors decided to fix three dollars as the amount for class dues. If they find that this is not enough, more will be callected after Christmas. Grace Virginia Woodhouse and Evelyn Stephenson reported having arranged for the class to present as a benefit movie Greta Garbo's latest picture, "Romance," when it comes

Continued on last page

Margaret Priest Vice President of Sophs

Fills Lillian Hogan's Place

Regretting deeply the last of their most efficient and capable vice-president, the sophomores at the initial class meeting faced the problem of choosing one, to fill Lillian Hogan's place.

Following much discussion regarding the duties of this officer, and reading an advisory letter from the vice-president the class decided to bestow the honor upon Margaret Priest.

Margaret, last year, proved her ability not only as treasurer, but as an active member of the class, and a participant in all its activties. She holds the full confidence of every sophomore, both because of her previous display of ability and her present keen interest.

TO INCREASE CIRCULATION

In an effort to increase circulation of the Ring-tum Phi, 9,000 copies of the initial issue of 1930-31 have been mailed to students, their parents, and alumni of Washington and Lee University.

The plan of bringing the student newspaper to the attention of parents and alumni throughout the country is a new one at Washington and Lee. Harry Burns, business manager of the publication,

Continued on page 3.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

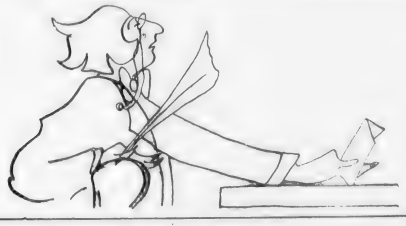
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

The Passing of the Negative

In olden times mankind was considered bad at heart by all the wise men of the time. For this reason he was told not to do various things and the expression "taboo" meaning no, came into use.

As a result of being told not to , man was becoming worse and worse because the negative statement only suggested things for him to do. In the present time the nature of man has been sudied so that now the affimative "do" rather than the negative "do not'" is fast coming into popular usage. The signs along the streets say, "Walk on the pavement" rather than, "Do not walk on the grass."

In the schools of the country this new system is particularly important. Children have the tendency, just as older people have, to follow the suggestion brought forward by "Do not throw chalk" or "Do not talk aloud." It is the problem of the teacher to give the child something to think about other than the thing he is not supposed to do. This may be done by suggesting other things to do. In this way the child himself finally comes to the realization that he must say "do" and not "do not". In his play he will use the affirmative and will be rather disgusted if someone tells him not to do something.

As civilization grows and the study of human nature becomes more and more perfected, this system will no doubt be as much used as the old negative system was. There are people who still believe that they can accomplish more by using the old method, but they, too, will become modernized as civilization progresses.

M. M. '33

OVER THE TEACUPS

OVER THE TEA CUPS

Margaret Pogue Banks? Why yes, I heard her the first day I came. She is funny—isn't she. And as for Mary Nelson—why I hear she's so athletic. These freshmen are certainly being active. And did you see the way they came out for the dramatic club. Lots of them were at the tea and I believe they are really serious. Is'nt Nellie Green lovely and Julia Faris is so darling. Why I thought at first the twins were triplets. No, I haven't met Margaret Robertson, but I hear she has "more brains." Oh yes, that little Danan girl from Staunton has the sense, too, hasn't she. Why only the other day Miss Mary went to one's room to see about a change of roommates and a freshman piped up, "I'm not happy with my roommates and they aren't happy with me." Miss Mary sweetly said, "Well, can you suggest a place for them and you?" Freshman: "No'm that's why I came to you." Feature that fro ma freshman—and— who ever had a perfect roommate yet—excepting, of course—present company. I guess Missie and Mary Shelton feel rather much at home, don't you, somehow, I still think of them as children! You know, we're getting old. Why, next year I'll be a—a—a Senior! Whew—what a glorious feeling that must be—till you stop being one. Virginia Sargent —don't start me on her. I'll talk all night. Isn't she just too cute? Heavens! it's already nine o'clock and I must get a book from the library and then to the "Fillin' Station." No! I'm not reducing. I'm only falling off. I'll be going. Well—aren't you going to say come again? Oh, I see, no use wasting words, you know I will anyway. Just you wait, you darling. Good night!

PEALE'S PORTRAIT OF WASHINGTON COPIED

Charles Wilson Peale's portrait of George Washington is now being copied by Miss Hatie E. Burdette, of Washington. The copy, when completed, will hang in the restored home of Gen. Robert E. Lee in Arlington. Miss Burdette is commissioned in this work by the Society of Colonial Dames which is one of the many American societies taking part in the restoration of Arlington.

The Peale portrait of Washington the original of which hangs in the Lee Chapel, was painted from life in 1772. Washington wore the uniform of the Virginia State Militia at the time and it is in this garb that he is painted. Upon completion, it hung in his home at Mount Vernon and was kept there until it descended to Robert E. Lee. He took it to his home in Arlington whence it came to Lexington with him when he took the chair of president of Washington College.

The restoration of Arlington is now under way and will be completed by 1932, when a festival will be held in honor of the 200th anniversary of Washington's birth.

Miss Burdette is a portrait and miniature painter of note. She has one picture hanging in the Capitol another in the Navy Department building, and many others in prominent colleegs and universities throughout the country.

SOPHISTICATED SOPHS

My realm expands—my dominion increases—my dignity ascends—I am a SOPHOMORE! No longer does the ignominious state of freshmandom cramp my style nor irk my originality. Nor do the burdensome characteristics peculiar to that group apply nor attack thmselves to my personality.

My identification now lies with that immortally immoralized band of my contemporaries known as the Sovereign Sophomores. The epithet "immoral" is hurled at us from every side and we are termed "lordly" by many lips. With a martyr-like smile we hear these mischosen phrases. Not immoral but as a traditional privilege do we, the Sophomores, regard the subordination of the rats. Not as an imposition but as a great honor should these rats consider service to a Sophomore.

Ah, but the world is as the center of a doughnut in my hand—the loftiness of my estate oft o'erwhelmes me —the eyes of the world turn toward me—and I?—I slightly yawn—I am a SOPHOMORE!

FEATURE

Notice! Special! The skeleton of an Indian found beneath the steps of building. To think, an Indian has been resting beneath our feet for lo—these many years. What tragic hand of fate caused him to fall there? Was it murder? or perhaps war? But then—was it an Indian? Calm down check your excitement, your romantic dreams, 'twas only a Negro's skelton—poor soul. About 1830, when Farmville was in its infancy, so I'm told, a slave owner made use of the property extending from where the library now stands to the farthest end of the Gilliam lot as a Negro cemetery. Just think, here for years we've been trudging over the graves of those very slaves we so diligently study about for Miss Tucker. Never mind, some day, someone will walk over you.

SCARFS

Scarfs are rainbow wisps of loveliness as gossamer a scobwebs. There are scarfs everywhere; tangled in the tree tops, flung across the earth, mirrored in the silver lake, glowing with beauty.

Autumn is a gypsy's scarf thrown across the earth. A living scarf of pulsing lines; scarlet and gold, orange and brown. Scarf of a dancer, lithe and free, with bare tanned feet and scarlet lips; of a wild gypsy with dusky hair. As she lived, so died in a flame of color.

Autumn is in a grey scarf, too. Not a colorless, drab gray this delicate scarf, but a gray as soft as a veil drawn across beauty too sharp. This scarf lies folded in my drawer, dead, uninteresting, until I pull it out and see a hillside warm with the blending colors of late autumn and my scarf a curl of smoke rising through the trees.

Again I see my scarf above a lake with the rays of sinking sun. Flaming orange fading into the black barrenness of winter trees. Higher, where the sky is still blue there is a streak of grey that shades from pale into deeper shadows—my scarf. The sun has gone and in the deeping dusk a grey mist creeps overall, another clinging drapery.

Soon night is woven into a bit of silk, woven of di mshadows and a drowsy starlight. It is cool, deliciously col and fragile, an wind scarf soft as rose petals drenched by dew. It is a breath of fragrance, sweet with the scent of dreams and of moonlight on dreaming flowers.—Shirley Glenn in The Aurora.

In women intelligence, unlike beauty, grows steadily better with age—William Lyon Phelps.

Wake me up in the night sometime and ask me—"Why do the girls insist on imitating that Chesterfield ad? (True individuality CANNOT be copied.)

MILADY

I have seen her standing near the window
At dusk. Her face is like a pale
Mist cooled by her dark
Eyes that sparkle as wells of Clear cold water. Against the Gloom of the room
She is as vivid as a
Star,
Her white robe falling to
Her feet like an
Angel's raiment.
Around her face her softly
Curling hair forms a
Halo
Where the last ray of sun is reflected.

M. von S., '32

WAS IT GOD?

A man, possessed with anguish,
Knelt and prayed.
Untaught, unthought, the words
poured from his lips.
The darkness lifted;
His heart was filled with hope;
We knew once more
Faith—
On the 'morrow succor came and
He began again.
Unsought, unasked, he found a willing friend.
The light revealed
The joy that filled his life;
He knew once more
Peace—
Some call it fate;
Some call it faith;
Some call it God,
I wonder—

L. M., '32

THE SINGER

Tall and gracious he stands before us.
A trifle diffident—very charming
Not handsome, no—
His nose is too beaked
And his chin not quite so strong
As a man's should be—
He sings—Oh, God,
his voice—
That gift by which thou dids't set him
Apart from other men.
"Invictus!"
"I am the captain of my soul"—
He triumphs—is a very god himself—
Then
"Pale hands I loved besides the Shalimar"—
A mere man, again pleading for the love
Of a mortal woman . . . .
My heart is glad.

A. R., '31

TO MY LOVER

I heard a wand'ring minstrel sing
How it must surely be
That every weary river
Must some day meet the sea.

And I did start and tremble
And I was sore afraid
For I loathed the thoughts of safety
And the calm I saw ahead.

I've found that Life, not Safety
Is the offering of the Sea,
And Love, and Pain, and Danger
That you have brought to me.

A. R., '31

IN THE GARDEN

As I strolled in the garden last night
Your love haunted me.

From the Canterbury bells
Your eyes smiled back to me;

A cardinal swept from the tree
Flaunting the flame of your spirit.

The red rose blushing on its bush
Was to me a symbol of our love.

And in the pale pure lotus
I glimpsed the purity of your soul.

M. von S., '32

SOCIALS

Katheryn Royster, Josie Spencer, Mary Alice Young spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Dorothy Goodloe and Mary Brightwell spent the week-end at the home of the latter in Pamplin.

Virginia Marchant spent the week-end in Lexington.

Alice Marshall and Jane Plumer were in Newport News this week-end.

Mary Page White spent the week-end at her home at Red Hill.

Evelyn Dulaney was the guest of Adele Hutchinson this week-end.

Blanche Murrell of Lynchburg, returned to school this week-end to visit friends.

Virginia Witt spent the week-end in Danville.

Martha Moore spent the week-end in Lexington.

DRAMATIC CLUB TEA

A delightful, informal tea was given to the girls who are working on their membership into the Dramatic Club. Cordial invitations were also extended to the faculty, their wives, and to the heads of the home and administration departments.

Fruit punch and dainty sandwiches were served by members of the club. The president, Henrietta Cornwell was hostess

TWINS THINK ALIKE AND ARE MISUNDERSTOOD BY EXAMS

Jonesboro, Ark.—Two co-eds at the Arkansas State College here who happen to be twins, recently presented the United States Civil Service Department a perplexing problem, which was ironed out only when the co-ed's professors came to their support.

The twins, Letha and Leton Adams, took a civil service examination.

When their papers were graded there came back from Uncle Same a letter stating that there was "obvious evidence of copying in the examination papers," and that the twins were barred forever from again taking a civil service examination.

The girls reported the matter to college authorities, who immediately filed a protest with the civil service authorities. Their professors reported that there was not a possible chance that the girls had cheated.

The instructors said that the girls' minds just naturally run in the same channels; that as one thinks, the other thinks. In college examinations, they said, the girls turn in almost identical papers.

Therefore, it was contended, Uncle Sam shouldn't bar the twins just because they think alike.

Forensics at Hampden-Sydney

Begining October 16 when the annual fall debate tryouts will be held, the Hampden-Sydney debate squad will begin on one of the most extensive campaigns to be planned for many years.

Manager J. S. Grant has been working hard in preparation of a suitable schedule for the coming season, and is expected to have quite an imposing array of contests ere the flow of language begins. Debates are in the process of being aranged with St. Johns, Randolph-Macon Womans College, and many others, including an extensive Southern tour.

For the past several years Hampden-Sydney has been well-represented in forensic activties, and appears to be headed for another successful year. With seven of last year's debaters back in school to afford a nucleus and several excelelnt prospects in view the chances for a winning debate club are increasing by leaps and bounds.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

The dramatic club of V. M. I. has selected "Arms and the Man", by George B. Shaw, as the play to be produced by the club this year. Colonel Moseley will direct the work and Cadets Monks, Castleman, Hanley, and McCarthy, who had prominent parts in "The Dower Road", last fall, will proably be in this year's cast. Work has begun and the play will be given some time before the Christmas holiday.

The University of Kansas will be the only Big Six team to play night football this year.

V. M. I. To Charleston

This week the Cadets take on Citadel at Charleston, the next team to meet the Citadel after they were defeated by Clemson Friday.

There are some interesting statistics behind some of the games Virginia will play next week. Since 1895 the Mountaineers have won eleven games with the Generals, lost 3 and tied 2.

New rule books containing the student government constitution and regulations have been issued to each student at N. C. C. W. An alumnae award of $25 for the best piece of creative writing has been offered. It was announced by Miss Clara Boyd, alumnae secretary. The A. B. C. method of grading is replacing the old 1, 2, 3, system.

A beauty contest sponsored by the Hacawa Staff as a gesture for the 1931 annual is to be held at Lenior-Rhyne College, beginning on Monday, October 13.

Queens-Chicora College has realized a record enrollment of approximately four hundred. The members class have moved into a house just off the campus and are thereby enjoying off-campus privileges.

A 1930 graduate of Bridgewater College, Mr. Francis Wayland, has been appointed as a candidate for the Rhodes Scholarship.

Books

Books are the masters who instruct us without rods and ferules, without hard words an danger, without clothes or money.

If you approach them, they are not asleep.

If investigating you interrogate them, they conceal nothing.

If you mistake them, they never grumble.

If you are ignorant, they cannot laugh at you.

Last year there were more college students in the United States than in all the rest of the world combined. There were 1,237,000 students enrolled in colleges and universities in this country.

Every person in the United States is on the average $2.32 poorer than he was a year ago.

Do not be troubled because you have not great virtues. God made a million spears of grass where He made on tree. The earth is fringed and carpeted, not with forests, but with grasses. Only have enough of little virtues and common fidelities, and you need not mourn because you are neither a hero nor a saint.—
Henry Ward Beacher

Blessed are they who have the gift of making friends, for it is one of God's best gifts. It involves many things, but, above all, the power of going out of one's self, and seeing and appreciating whatever is noble and loving in another. —Thomas Hughes.

The Rotunda staff wishes to extend its sympathy to Miss C. B. Taliaferro in her bereavement of the recent death of her father.

WATER SUPPLY IS LOW IN ROCKBRIDGE COUNTY

There has not been a generous rainfall in ockbridge County since the middle of last May and Lexington, the county seat has used a reserve supply of water from springs and the reserve dam since drought set in.

The diminishehd supply has made careful and economic use of water necessary. Although at present there is no serious shortage, citizens are not allowed to use water for sprinkling purposes on their gardens or lawns.

The emergency dam holds 80,000,000 gallons, and with the regular source of water from Moore's Creek discontinued during the dry spell, this reserve supply has been Lexington's only source during the summer. The reserve supply has been augmented by spring water from Adcock's Knob and Brushy Hill springs. Construction of a pipe line to Ayre's spring, near Buffalo creek, is now being supervised by City Engineer Berry. These precautions are deemed necessary to insure Lexington's needs if the drought continues—although a local wit exclaimed that "by the time the new pipe line to Ayre's spring is laid, it'll start to rain like thunder; then we won't need a pinpe line."—Ring-tum Phi.

If you have gotten this far and have not found anything funny just drop us a line and we will send you a photograph.

One freshman told us that he had been around a lot in his time but in real life he had never seen a fellow kiss a girl by taking her head in both hands like a boy eating melons.

Rural teachers in Haiti receive salaries of from four to five dollars a month.

LARGEST MAP IN THE WORLD CONSTRUCTED

Wellesley, Mass.—What is to be the largest map in the world, to cost more than two million dollars, is under construction here. It will measure 63 feet from east to west and 46 feet from north to south.

The map was begun about five years ago, and is expected to take 50 years more to complete. When finished it will be a perfect likeness of the country which makes up the United States and Canada.

A gallery, 15 feet high, will encircle the map, and viewed from this any section reproduced on the work will appear just about as it would if actually seen from an airplane at a height of 12 miles.

TO INCREASE CIRCULATION

(Continued from page 1)

originated the idea, and has complete charge of the distribution.

Since appearance of the first issue last Thursday, the entire business staff of the paper, headed by Burns, has been busy preparing mailing lists and wrapping papers for dispatch. Copies of the publication have been sent to every student enrolled in the University, to all parents of students, and to all active members of the Washington and Lee Alumni Association. The total circulation thus obtained is obout 10 times average circulation of a single issue of the Ring-tum Phi.

It is believed that parents and alumni seeing the paper may be aroused or re-aroused to an active interest in the University, and may because of this enter their subscriptions. If but 5 per cent of those seeing the paper subscribe, a total of 450 new subscribers will be gained. Figured on a basis of subscriptions in years past, if the plan meets with any degree of success subscribers should aggregate well over 900.

To facilitate entering of subscriptions a blank for that purpose is on the back page of the initial issue. Whether the plan succeeds or fails will not be known definitely for a few weeks at least.

WORLD NEWS

The World's Worst Climate

Hot weather is endurable if the relative humidity remains low; hot days are endurable if the air cools off at night. Neither of these features is found in the average climate of the Red Sea Coast. The Kamaran Island which lies in the Red Sea off the coast of Yemen can claim the distinction of having the worst climate on earth. A four year record shows that from April to October, inclusive, the average daily maximum temperatures range from 91 to 95; which would not be so bad were it not for the fact that the average minimum temperatures are from 81 to 86. The average relative humidity was 72 in January and 58 in July. The climate of the island is extremely enervating. —The Literary Digest.

Fifteen People Will Be Elected to Hall Of Fame

In October fifteen persons will be elected to the Hall of Fame of New York University. There are 105 candidates up for election. No one is eligible for election until he has been dead twenty-five years. The persons so honored have their names engraved on tablets, above the tablets are placed their busts. Only five educators have gained entrance to the hallowed group. They are Horace Mann, Mark Hopkins, Mary Lyon, Emma Williard and Alice Freeman Palmer. Authors lead the list with fifteen. No business man has ever achieved the honor, although five candidates have been suggested.

This year there are five candidates of the business men. They are: Samuel Chapman Armstrong, Henry Barnard, Thomas Hopkins, Gallaudet, Eliphalet Nott, and Henry Philip Tappan.

Briand and European Federation

There is no one in Europe who could obtain so considerate a hearing as the eloquent French Foreign Minister for the proposed United States of Europe. His appeals at Geneva early in September were met with almost universal compliments and congratluations. However, there is evidence that they were taken seriously in any quarter. His notable arguments before the representatives of all the European countries, advocating an era of organized economic association, were made at the very moment when the seven-day manoeuvers of large French armies were reaching their climax in an area unpleasantly close to the German border.—The eview of Reviews.

Fifty million fish, the lives of which were endangered by the recent drought, have been saved by the United States government. Lewis Radcliffe, deputy commisioner of the bureau of fisheries said that this number of fish had been taken from streams in the upper Mississippi Valley and transplanted into the Mississippi river.

McIntosh Drug Store
Farmville, Va.
"Drugs and Drinks"
DOWNTOWN SECTION

Continental Hotel
And COFFEE SHOP
"Matchless Service"
Students Welcome

COVINGTON and HARTLESS
Sanitary Barber Shop
Three Experienced Barbers

LYNN'S
JEWELRY AND MUSIC STORE
The Latest Sheet Music

Southside Drug Store
(On the Corner)
EASTMAN KODAK AGENCY
Let Us Develop Your Films—One Day Service

Falconer Gift Shop
Athletic Souvenirs Engraving
Books, Picture Frames
RENTAL LIBRARY

Electric Shoe Shop
Let Us Serve You When You Have Your Next Shoe Puncture
Quick Service

Save Money
RIDE THE BUS TO RICHMOND!
THREE ROUND TRIPS DAILY

FARMVILLE MFG. COMPANY
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Building Contractors
Manufacturers of Building Material and Plow Handles

VIRGINIA FURNITURE CO., Inc.
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Quality First Satisfaction Always
"Service With a Smile."

OVERTON-MOTTLEY HDWE. CO.
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA
Paints, Varnishes, Heaters and All Kinds of Electrical Goods

Martha Sanders: "Every morning you are my first thought."

Charley Robertson: "Your roommate tells me the same thing."

Martha Sanders: "Oh, but I get up an hour before she does."

"Congratulations, dears," cooed Mrs. Royster after Kathryn had accepted. "So you're to be my son-in-law?"

"Good heavens!" Howard exclaimed, "I hadn't thought of that."

Bruce Clark: "Wouldn't it be very wrong to kiss your hand?"

Helen Cover: "Well, do think it would be rather out of place?"

Bill: "Your lips are sweeter than anything, in the world."

"Coo"': "You've been drinking, again?"

Bill: "No, you have."

I want, I want. I simply want a good girl, very bad!

Miss Spratley: "What is the meaning of the word matrimony?"

Sarah Saunders: "Why, it's not a word. It's a sentence."

Ann Magan: "Jack admires everything about me—my hair—my eyes—my hands—my voice—"

Mary Arthur Billups: "What do you admire about him?"

Ann: "Why, his good taste."

"Daddy, I have a cross word puzzle—I want the last word."

"Ask your mother for that."

Butsey: "Pardon me, folks, I guess I've interrupted an interesting conversation."

Munt: "No, indeed, we were just talking about you."

Honey Hamilton: "Aren't the stars numerous tonight?"

Nancy Harrison: "Yeah, aren't there lots of 'em?"

Julia Faris (after playing one piece three times): "That tune just haunts me."

Myra McIntosh: "I guess so, you've murdered it."

Martha Walters: "What do you mean by telling Sam I'm a fool?"

Loulie: "Oh, you know, darling, I just can't keep a good secret."

Ben Franklin: "Woman's greatest attraction is her hair."

John: "I say it's her eyes."

Joe Perry "It is unquestionably her teeth."

Billy Powell: "What's the use of us sitting here lying to each other."

The hostess had urged Margaret Parker to sing. After her song she went up to Margaret and said: "Oh, you must never tell me again you can't sing—I know it now."

Announcement

Will the girl who moved Frances Rawling's trunk from this building to Cottage E please report to Mr. Graham's office. He wants a piano moved.

Dr. Simkins: "I will give you zero this semester."

Josie Spencer: "That means nothing in my young life."

Joe (at football game): "See that halfback? He'll be our best man before the season's much older."

Frances: "Oh, Joe, darling, isn't this rather sudden?"

ATHLETICS

EMILY SIMPSON TO HEAD TENNIS

All who plan to participate in tennis this year will be glad to welcome Emily Simpson as manager of the sport. "Jim," as she is more popularly known, is actively interested in tennis and is a willing worker. We hope that the girls will avail themselves of the opportunity to use the courts which are in splendid ocn-Indian was found under the steps of nis one of our outstanding sports.

CLASSES MEET FOR FIRST TIME—1930-1931

Work of the Year Is Mapped Out By The Various Class Groups For Cooperation

Continued from page one

to the Eaco Theatre on October 22. This is an exceedingly popular picture and the juniors hoope to make a big success of it. They have planned to see that it is well advertised.

The sophomores held their first meeting of the year Tuesday night. They showed all the spirit and enthusiasm that characterized them as freshmen last year—especially while the topic of freshman initiation was being discussed. A committee was appointed to make plans for "freshman week". If the sophomores are as much in earnest as they certainly seem to be, the freshmen had better look out. All sophomores were urged to pay their dues as soon as possible. Plans were discussed for putting on a play or some similar production soon. The class has about thirty-four dollars in the bank now, according to the treasurer's report, so the financial outlook for the year is very promising. Another important matter taken up at this meeting was the election of a new vice-president to fill the place of Lillian Hogan who did not return to school. Margaret Priest was elected. Anne Johnson then suggested that the class should in some way communicate with those members of last year's class who are not now in school. This idea met with the hearty approval of the class. The sophomores, under the able leadership of their president, Anne Johnson, are expecting a very happy and successful year.

Grace Virginia Woodhouse, president of the junior class, conducted the meeting of the freshman class Tuesday night. She explained the necessity for immediate class organization and urged them to think seriously about the election of officers. This election will be held as soon as possible. There was some discussion of the class color system and the Thanksgiving hockey games. The freshmen were made to feel that the members of their big sister class, the juniors, are behind them and always ready to help them. Talks were made by the heads of outstanding organizations. These talks were intended to acquaint the freshmen with the work of the various organizations in school and to encourage them to participate in student activities. The freshman class has already become a very vital part of old S. T. C. The old girls have learned to admire their spirit and the splendid way in which they are making places for themselves in the college community. As Dr. Jarman said, the freshman class this year may not be quite up to standard in quantity, but there is every reason to believe that they are above standard in quality.

He: "You've got a good pair of feet for dancing."

She: "You ought to know you're using them."

LOOKING FORWARD TO THANKSGIVING

Now that we're all settled, and down to hard work, we are looking forward to Thanksgiving—and hockey. Everyone who came out last year knows what fun it is—and what excitement there really is on a Thanksgiving morning. Those who have never been out before— well, come on out and have a good time.

Schedule

Monday—4: Upper Classmen; 5: Tryouts.

Tuesday—4: Freshman; 5: Upper Classmen.

Wednesday—4: Varsity Tryouts; 5: Freshmen.

Thursday—4: Freshman; 5: Upper Classmen.

Friday—4: Varsity Tryouts; 5: All.

SING!

Sing Saturday night was "short and sweet" and well attended. After this week freshmen make take part in the program. Keep your ears open freshmen, you may be needed.

Frances Parker sang the popular song, "Kiss Waltz." She surely ha: "It" in her singing and you have tc give it to her. Frances took her audience out of S. T. C. into dreamland, and it was grand to live agair in dreams. Perhaps the lights hac something to do with it. Red light gave the stage a rosy, soft tinge tha was very pretty.

The Pirate dance was great. Wasn't there a difference between that and the first number? But its true that Americans like variety in all things, programs included. A deserved and hearty applause followed the dance. A surprise climaxed sing. Alice Hardaway had called from the stage for Edward Paulette, and a young man was seen going down the isle. And there was a silence for a few minutes. It was suggested that sing was over and just then music came. The curtain was drawn; and there on the stage he sat coaxing the familiar strains of a waltz from our piano. We'd like to hear "Paulette" again, he has such good time. His last number was "Bye, Bye Blues". Who could have kept blues in his heart hearing him play.

Now the freshmen will have a chance to please us on Saturday nights, just after supper.

PRACTICE TENNIS STROKE

Are you ready for the approaching tennis tournament? If not, start practicing today. The courts are now ready and this weather is ideal for playing. Sign up on the slip on the A. A. bulletin board each morning for your favorite court and for the hour at which you wish to play. Come early, and avoid the rush!

WHY TEACHERS GET MARRIED

What are glaciers? Guys what fix windows when they are broken.

What is a peninsula? A bird that lives on iceburgs.

What is a volcano? A mountain with a hole in the top; if you look down you can se the creator smoking.

Why does a dog hang out his tongue when running? To balance its tail.

What is steel wool? The fleece of a hydraulic ram.

What are the Christian nations? Those that use cuss words.

What is etiquette? Saying, "No, thank you," when you mean "gimme."

Ruby: "I hear you lost your temper yesterday."

Bankie: "Oh, Frank's O. K. She will be back tomorrow."

MONOGRAM CLUB

Come out and prove your athletic ability! The Monogram Club of S. T. C. represents the best in athletic ability, scholarship and sportsmanship, and wishes to invite all who are interested in athletics to come out for practice. A program of regular monogram practices will be announced at an early date so keep your ears open!!

And by the way—don't forget the monogram hike each Saturday afternoon. Come on out and join the fun!

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Oct. 13 to 18

MON., TUES., WED.—The Lewis Players, presenting Dick Lewis in a repertoire of comedy-dramas. The opening play, "The Straight Road," promises a laugh a minute. "The Newcomb Murder Case," the second offering, is a real thriller—something new in the line of stagecraft, and the final offering will be Bruce Rinaldo's fun version, "The Romance of Show Boat."

Each play will be lavishly staged with new scenery and electrical effects ,and there is a seven-piece orchestra under the direction of Billy Williams, in a setting of black and silver, which will broadcast a 15-mnute presentation each evening .

The vaudeville features include Josephnie, a tap dancer, second to none.

This year the Lewis Players are bigger and better than ever, playing to larger crowds than in former years, adn you are assured of three evenings of genuine entertainment with not a dull moment in the programs. Here is a real treat for the people of this vicinity.

Prices—Adults, 50c; children under 15, 25c. Show starts at 8:15 each evening; doors open at 7:30.

THURS.—"The World War." For benefit of Post 32, American Legion, and presented by the American Legion Picture Service Corporation. Here is a picture presenting actual scenes during the World war, showing the Allies and German troops on the battlefields—a graphic description that no written words could possibly convey—an opportunity to visualize and absorb scenes that you will probably never again have projected before you; and remember, too, the American Legion does a wonderful amount of charity work in this locality, hence it behooves everyon eto attend this exceptional picture. Regular prices will prevail. Only three shows. Matinee at 4 p. m. and two shows at night, at 7:30 and 9:15. Also a two-reel talking comedy enttitled "Doing Phil a Favor."

FRI. and SAT.—Maurice Chevalier and Claudette Colbert in "The Big Pond." Here are two sparkling performers who will entertain yo uin a picture said to be Chevalier's best. His likeable personality, his contagious fun, his sophistocated love making—are all here, and some. He meets a romantic sweetheart with a practical father and has to satisfy both,so he sings,makes love and breaks into business in a big way. Hear him sing "You Brought a New Kind of Love to Me" and "Living in the Sunlight." Hear and see Chevalier mix love and business—and win at both. A thoroughly enjoyable picture. Don't miss it. Also "Song Writers Review."

Admission, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, adults, 35c at nights, and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

Two shows Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at 7:30 and 9:15. Matinee at 4 p. m.

Mack and Owen
BARBER SHOP
Main Street Farmville, Va.
First-class work—Four barbers!!

Gray's Drug Store
Quality—Price—Service
FARMVILLE :: :: VIRGINIA

SHEAFFER LIFE TIME
Fountain Pens and Pencils
We engrave your name on FREE
Martin, the Jeweler
FARMVILLE :: :: VIRGINIA

SERVICE COUNTS
—We Give It
Brickert Oil Company
Farmville, Virginia
We take care of the S. T. C. Girls

Shannon's Rose Room
Headquarters for Boys and girls
We can satisfy your hunger with our good sandwiches, hot waffles, Etc.

S. A. Legus, Tailor
Suits made to individual measure
Cleaning, Pressing and REPAIRING

White Drug Company
Established in 1868
Drugs, Medicines, Stationery, Whitman's Candies, Waterman Pens, Magazines and Books

Lovelace Shoe Shop
Farmville, Va.
WE REBUILD SHOES
Prices Reasonable—All Work Guaranteed. Give us a trial

Main St. Service Station
General Reairs
Battery Recharging
Washing and greasing a specialty!!

SIGN UP FOR TOURNAMENT

ROTUNDA

TRY-OUT FOR DEBATE CLUB

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1930 No. 3

Beta Pi Theta is New Fraternity At S. T. C. Here

Miss Draper, Returned From Year of Study in France Is Initiated

Beta Pi Theta is a new honor fraternity on the campus, the Pi Zeta chapter having been installed at S. T. C. at the end of the spring term, 1930. This is the first and only chapter of this fraternity in Virginia.

The purpose of Beta Pi Theta as set forth in the constitution of the fraternity is to "organize representative men and women in universities and colleges who will by travel, study, conversation, interest, influence, and ability advance the progress of literary French and things cultural in America; who will maintain the highest scholarship and literary standards; who will encourage consecration to social service and the highest ideals of a liberal education and who will recognize and award merit in productive French literature."

The qualifications for membership are: at least junior rating, an average of 90 in French with general scholarship of a grade above average and the "indication that there will be continued interest in creative French literature, drama ,art, music, conversation, travel and study."

Beta Pi Theta has recently initiated Miss Draper, a member of our faculty who has returned from a year's study in France.

This year Beta Pi Theta is holding contests for freshmen and sophomores. The award will be of interest and value to French students and it will be an honor to win one of them. An award will be offered for the freshman who writes the best short story in French, and another award will be given to the sophomore who writes the best story in French.

All freshmen and sophomores taking French have the opportunity of trying for the awards. Rules of the contest will be announced in the freshman and sophomore French classes.

A-CAPELLA CHOIR CHOSEN

For the first time in the history of the Choral Club an A-Capella Choir has been selected from its members. The purpose of the choir shall be to serve the school to the best of its ability in singing unaccompanied.

The first audition of the A-Capella Choir will be at the Choral Club's presentation of its director, Mr. Alfred H. Strick, November 25, in a lecture recital. The subject of the lecture will be "Music and Psychology", and the lectures will be beautifully illustrated by compositions by Mr. Strick, in which the classic, the sacred, the romantic and the patriotic will be featured by the Choral Club, the A-Capella Club, a quartet, selected from the group, Miss Purdom and Mr. Strick.

The choir is composed of:

Elizabeth Antrim, Mildred Varner, Jane Witt, Carrie De Shazo, Ruth Atkins, Bernice Scott, Pattie Ellison, Edith Coleman, Margaret Murray, Adele Hutchinson, Elizabeth Taylor, Frances Parker, Alice Har-

Continued on last page

LYCEUM NUMBER TO BE PRESENTED OCTOBER 15

The first Lyceum number for this year is to be given Wednesday, October 15 in the college auditorium. Miss May Korb, Mr. Reginald Boardman and Miss Ardelle Hookins will present a varied musical program at this time.

Miss Korb is an all-American artist. "Her voice possesses singularly appealing quality, a natural thrill and is equally well adapted to lyric or colloratura work."

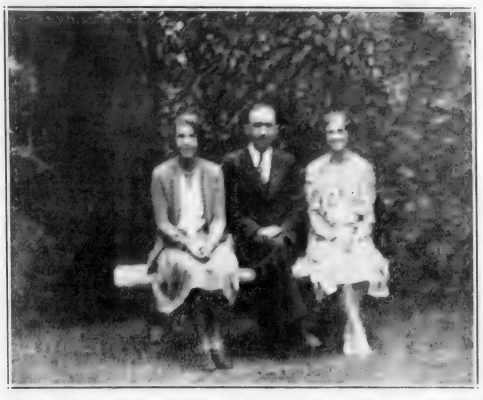
Mr. Boardman has a facile technic. His touch is agreeable, and his tone quality is always rich and beautiful."

Miss Hookins is a most capable flutist. Her work is of the most mature standard, and her flute tone is of the purest quality.

Cunningham Lit'y Society Plans the Session's Work

Upperclassmen Given Opportunity To Try-Out For Membership

MISS SPRATLEY IS CRITIC



The Cunningham Literary Society held its second business meeting of the year on Monday night, October 13. So far, no programs have been presented. The work of the year is being planned.

It was decided that upper classmen should be given the opportunity to try out for membership. All papers are to be in not later than Thursday, October 16. These papers will be judged by a committee composed of several junior and senior members of the organization with the advice of the critic.

Miss Spratley was elected critic for this year, and everyone is confident that the Cunningham Literary Society will profit by her suggestions.

Dues for the year will be one dollar, fifty cents of which is to be paid not later than November 1. In addi-

Continued on page three

Faculty Return—Miss Helen Draper, Dr. Francis Butler Simkins, and Miss Frances Hatchett.

DR. JARMAN ADDRESSES COUNCILS AND Y. W.

On Wednesday night, October 8, at ten o'clock Dr. Jarman, at the invitation of the president of the student council, met with the council cabinet and house council in the student government room to talk with them about their joint and respective duties and responsibilities.

Dr. Jarman first commented on Dr. Minnect's talk in chapel as one of the most worthwhile ones we had ever had. Honor as one of the features of the talk was mentioned and as a result honor at S. T. C. was brought in. The basis of honor here is naturally in the student council, but the council must have the support of all organizations of each individual and of the student body as a whole. Our aims must be the same, and if the best, as an ultimate result, there will be cooperation. Such an ideal situation can only be realized by the creation of the right attitudes and atmosphere.

The support of the administration was promised unreservedly and their confidence in our abiltiy to meet the big responsibility facing us was voiced.

We are greatly indebted to Dr. arman and want to thank him for hihs encouragement and advice.

Latin Club Meets Friday Evening

Miss Rice Gives Talk on the "Tributum" and Vergilian Bi-millenium

NEW MEMBERS INSTALLED

Sodalitas Latina met Friday evening at 6:50 in room 40 at which time the following new members were installed:

Virginia Whipple
Nell Dickinson
Virginia Brisentine
Virginia Brinkley
Joyce Sturm
Mary Connalley
Josephine Smith
Laurine Billings
Pauline Hawkins
Annie Anderson
Hannah Smith
Edith Shanks
Gertrude Sugden
Margaret Robertson
Irwin Staples

Miss Rice, the club advisor, gave an interesting talk on the club magazine, "Tributum," in the course of which she spoke of the outstanding plans for the celebration of the Vergilian Bi-millennium, on October 15. An invitation was extended by Miss Rice to the club members and students of Latin to attend the celebration which will be put on by the Alpha Chapter of Virginia of the Phi Beta Kappa Society of Wililam and Mary College, on Wednesday, October 15. Professor Charles Knapp of Col-

Continued on page three

Program for Prayers This Year Will Show What "Y" Committees Promote

At Blue Ridge this summer a suggestion was made that the student body of a college should know just what things the "Y" through its comittees promotes. The programs for prayers this year have been planned with that aim in view . For two weeks, now, different committees have been leading one night each, and in indirect ways, by means of music, Bible verses, or poems, have tried to show the work of the different comittees. The first night our president, Rena Robertson, explained the purpose and general work of the "Y." On the next night the Prayer Committee had Nan Mears as its leader. She emphasized the need of using a certain portion of every day for worship. Music is a vital part of our worship period, so next the Music Committee gave a very good musical program, having as its leader, A. J. Scott. The Committee on Church Cooperation and the Committee on Conferences and Conventions planned the next program, and Hazel Holloway led, using as her theme the value and sanctity of the church. On Friday night of the first week, Harriet Moomen, who is chairman of the World Fellowship Committee, explained the purpose of her committee.

On Tuesday night of the following week, Martha Faris, chairman of the Membership Committee, led. On Wednesday night recognition was given to the new members of the "Y" in our college.

The Sing Committee and the Social Committee planned theihr program together with Evelyn Stephenson as the leader.

This week is to be given to the old Freshman Commission, which soon will be replaced by members of the present Freshman class.

WINSTON COBB, CHOSEN SOPHOMORE MEMBER OF CLASS COUNCIL

On Tuesday night, October 7, the sophomore class elected their representative to the Class Council, Miss man Commission. Last spring she was Winston Cobb.

During her freshman year, Winston proved herself an enthusiastic and efficient worker, especially in the capacity of treasurer of the Freshman Comission. Last spring she was elected to the Student Standards Committee, on which she is now working very successfully. She is also serving as proof reader on the Rotunda staff. The sophomores feel that they have chosen wisely and no one who knows her can have any doubt of it.

Y. W. C. A. Holds Enjoyable Service For Freshmen

Rena Robertson Welcomes New Students to the Wonders of the Blue Triangle

On Wednesday evening, October 8, the Y. W. C. A. cabinet, led by its officers, marched slowly into the auditorium singing, "Lead On, O King Eternal," and arranged itself in front of the "Blue Triangle" flanked by tall, lighted candles. The picture that the girls made—each dressed in white and carrying a lighted candle—was a lovely and most impressive one.

Rena Robertson, president of the "Y" welcomed the freshmen and made a stirring appeal to them in these words:

"Members of the freshman class, my duty tonight is a pleasant one; your opportunity is a great one, for at this time I, in behalf of the student body, welcome and accept you as members of the Y. W. C. A. You are about to be admitted into mysteries and wonders of the Blue Triangle. Enshrined in the hearts and ready on the lips of every true S. T. C. student are the words "I believe". When you signed the cards expressing your desire to become a members of the Y. W., you pledged to try your utmost to live up to the ideals of this institution, which you have chosen to be your Alma Mater. The girls who have gone before you have set these standards. Be it yours to hold them high! All too soon, we the upperclassmen, must pass from your midst and then the hopes of our college must rest with you.

"The Blue Triangle beckons to you, freshmen, and calls forth in the clear sweet voice of the Y. W. C. A., a challenge that you 'Carry On!' Your response can only be 'Yes!' as you look into the smiling eyes of the "Girl of the Blue Triangle." And so must you all try to be "Girls of the

Continued on page three

FRESHMAN WEEK OCTOBER 20 TO 27

The big plans for Freshman Week have been practically completed and the eventful week will begin October the twentieth, and will last until the twenty-fifth.

Freshman Week this term is going to be, we hope, a big one. We've gotten what we wanted initiation and all that goes with it, now it's up to us to make this week a success. By making it a success we mean entering into the spirit of it wholeheartedly, and like good sports. If the ultimate purpose of the work is to be realized, the upperclassmen must be on their toes every minute. The purpose which most of them already know is to help the freshman class to find itself in their midst, as a class and as individuals.

The program for the week is a worthwhile and interesting one, but parts of it are secrets, and parts not entirely completed, but you will hear about it later.

Just a word to the freshmen, here is your big chance to show your spirit and sportsmanshihp individually and as a group. You're going to come out with flaming colors. Red and white! and S. T. C. is banking on you.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

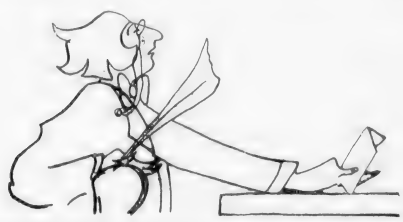
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Initiation of Freshmen

The question of whether or not there should be any initiation of the freshmen at S. T. C. has become one of primary importance as time passes and the fall quarter goes by.

Do the freshmen feel that they really belong in this big group of students unless they are initiated in some way? A rough, old-fashioned hazing initiation is, of course, out of the question but a real, lively, spirited initiation whch makes some demands on the freshmen which they can, with perhaps a little difficulty, meet will foster a feeling of comradeship after it is over. IIf they stand the tests happily, courageously, and pluckily, the other classes will receive them more readily than if a makeshift initiation which gave the freshmen no opportunity to show their sportsmanship were given. The whole freshman class will be drawn together by the link of something in common—by going through an experience together. It will develop a better class spirit. It will acquaint them with the color spirit and draw the junior and freshman classes closer together. It will bring the whole student body closer together. As the upperclassmen watch the freshmen they will sympathize with them and love them as they meet their tests, smilingly.

Perhaps it will also help the little girlwho is homesick. A distraction will be afforded. She will be drawn more out of herself. Sympathy has been given her, and perhaps, it has made her feel a little nearer her comrades—but she is still homesick. Now suffering—mildly—with her classmates, sheh will become one of them and forget to be homesick. For it is experiencing together the same thing that strengthens the chain of friendship and good feeling.

Undoubtedly, a lively, sportsmanlike initiation should be given the freshmen by the sophomores—given to them as to sisters—and how often have we played pranks on our sisters at home—the initiation will unify the whole student body.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Liz, will you stop talking? Thought you came up to study psych—agreed—for one hour without a word—here goes—"Any person can develop an attractive personality by"—Oh, just one thing, Liz, and then I'l hush—honest, but that reminds me—speaking of personality—Didn't Rena put the Y. W. installation of Freshmen over in a big way? There's just something about her—and candle-light services are so impressive. And you know—Don't throw it away, Liz, I'll declare I'll be quiet—

"The human voice had it not been developed"—oh, Liz, didn't Jane Witt and Carrie DeShazo make a hit at the debate club teas with their songs? The Freshmen were very much impressed—thought I'd die laughing when one of them leaned over and whispered to another, "We're in the wrong place—this must be the Choral Club"—green? whew! Mr. Holton's talks were miniature orations themselves. Hope lots of the frosh try out, don't you?

I didn't mention miniature golf—oh, you did? Saturday before last? You saw so many more girls than usual? I wonder why—you know, they tell me Dot Snedgar made a hole in one, and another in sixteen—stroke of beginner's luck—it works both ways—oh, well—

Answer me this—"is the mind of man ever on the upward trend?"—Usually in the gutter, you say? Why, Liz—Say, have you heard the latest? Martha Sanders and Toodles Booth are hoping they'll be asked to fly as mascots for the Hampden-Sydney team on their ariplane football trip to New York—Now, aren't they birds to think of that? And speaking of flying, wouldn't that be a lark? Go? Say, Liz, you know Miss Mary wouldn't let 'em. Why, I'm sure I've read in the hand book that students must not leave school with boys—You're right—they might get around it—it doesn't say a word against football or airplanes—and then it says STUDENTS—

If there's one thing I detest it's gossip and I try never to talk about people, but, Liz, I must ask you—have you ever seen anybody take a part as naturally as Loulie took hers in Sing Saturday night? Why, her attitude positively shrieked "experienced"—I never thought she was that kind, but actions you know, speak—oh, and, Liz, speaking of natural parts, they played "Crazy Words, Crazy Tune—I'll be Driving Her Crazy Soon" when Alice Moore appeared—oh, yes—I know her roommate well—and—

Oh, sit down—I'm serious this time—"The fragiilty of the human brain makes it easily crushable"—oh, I'm so disgusted that I could crush a grape! Don't see why Mr. Bell—there, I've spent two hours on psychology—and gotten nothing out of it—Say, I have got some grapes! Come on, let's crush a few. It says right here—"proper body nourishment is essential to study"—maybe that's our trouble. Mildred Maddrey got a box this week end—wish I knew her better—come on, Liz, let's eat!

DEBATE CLUB TRYOUTS

Freshmen, don't forget the Debate Club try-out Thursday night in the Student Building auditorium at 7 o'clock. The question for the try-out is: Resolved. That freshmen should have the same daytime priviliges as upper classmen. If you are interested in debating, oratory, or public speaking the Debate Club extends to you a hearty invitation to try-out for the club. Just a few minutes talk on either side of the question that you like is all that is necessary.

CHAPEL

The order and silence was unbelievable as day after day the students assembled for chapel. Smiles of satisfaction shone upon the faces of the chapel committee. Never before at the beginning of school had such dignified behavior prevailed at morning devotional services. Even Dr. Jarman acknowledged that he had nothing to say in the way of criticism. Success for once! Proudly the chapel committee raised their noses above the usual level for they had accomplished what no other chapel committee had in the years before. But alas, such perfection was not to be a speaker was presented one morning. Silence, and then came a faint sound, a buzz. Gradually it, became louder, and louder as if hundreds of bees were swarming overhead. In truth hundreds of girls were whispering and wriggling while the speaker endeavored to continue his talk. And the heart-breaking part was—that not only the freshmen but the upperclassmen, who knew better, were indulging in the denied, pleasure. Frantically the chapel committee asserted itself and timidly asked the freshmen and upperclassmen to refrain. But, sophistication seemed to mark the freshman class, they had other things to do rather than be quiet. Of course, this sophistication refers only to chapel—?

The chapel committee hangs its head but courageously will continue to work. It hopes for cooperation, and again—a perfect chapel service. What will it get? It's up to you—freshmen!

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

Margaret Gathright says the professors recognize that she's an authority. They always call on her in class.

We like that feeling of wearing our roommate's clothes, so we won't have to pay out of our own pockets.

Drive as fast as you can on wet streets. Your four wheel brakes never fail you.

Don't stop at railroad crossings. The engineer will look out for you. He has lots of track to run on and you have but one.

For goodness sake, don't stick your hand out when pulling out from the curb. Someone may see it and avoid an accident.

Will somebody please approach Kitty Cogbill in a friendly manner and tell her she needs a hair cut.

What frosh! One is sorely indignant over our lack of library material. She just couldn't find a copy of Montgomery Ward at the librarian's desk.

Freshmen are warned to keep their letters out of the infirmary mail box. There is a fine for those who persist in mistaking it for a mail box, and causing the nurse unnecessary work.

The freshman class is a regular kindergarten. The college ought to furnish nurses. Some are 15 years old and some 16 and nearly all look like miniature golfers.

Ride with Ethyl and get the benefit of high compression—oh, Ethyl.

Hampden-Sydney might have its Tigers, but we've got a swell lot of rats.

Bigger Warren has settled down to extensive study with eating as her major and sleeping as her minor.

FRESHMEN AND NEW STUDENTS SIGN CODE

Monday night, in the presence of the Student Council, the Honor Code was signed by the freshmen and new students. The old students, are very pjroud of them. They have shown how readily and willingly they have fallen in with the spirit of our college by the way in which they signed the Honor Code.

Let us keep this spiirt of honor which we feel is prevailing in our college today. We can do this because we know the freshmen approve of our standards and are ready to cooperate with us in attaining the ideals which we are striving for.

PRAYERS

A silence comes,
With the closing of the day,
And bids me pause
While small voices whisper in my ear
Bringing a tender smile to my lips.
In the silence
I come into the chapel,
Feeling the balm of soft music,
The soothing hush of nature,
The sweet discord of angel voices,
And pause—
Bending my head
I commune, alone with God.

L. M., '32

UPON ENTERING CHARTRES CATHEDRAL

Slender lacey spires
Ascending into the heavens
Like frozen music.
Stained glass windows
Glistening deep in the richness
Of their element of precious jewels,
Sacrificed by nobles' ladies fair,
Becoming anxious of her heavenly lot
Back in the Middle Ages.

Massive blocks of time now stone
Dragged by torchlight to that
Hallowed spot by long processions
Of laymen, priests, feudal lords
And knights abroad who would
Invest their labors and their fortunes.
According to the fashion of the time,
Within this fortress built by
Fragile mortals against the Devil's wiles.

Myriads of arches, Gothic in design
Rising to exalting heights above
Rose windows of crystal, ruby, sapphire lights,
Which awe the stranger as he stands
Below within the dark recesses of the spire
Only illumined by tender light from Candles shedding halos above the Sacred sanctuaries, and steeped in Silence save for the faint chime of
Distant bells nestled with the spire
Designed by some old recaster back nI the twelfth century.

TO CONSTANCE

We've wandered far
On friendship's path.
Thorugh all the joys
That youth can hold.
Our sorrow we have designed to place
In the memory pages of lost yesterdays.
Constance, dear, your name portrays
Your nature and lovely ways.
As dusk softly deepens into nighth,
I wish sincerely that we might
Retrace the joys of yesterday
And miss the sorrows—
That came our way.

K. E. S.

CAN YOU TOUCH BEAUTY?

My soul cries out for beauty
To write a poem—say lovely things;
Or wring great fistfuls of beauty
from the heart of the keyboard;
Or print on canvas the spirt of an aching soul—
Aching for intangible loveliness.
I do nothing but sit and long and long,
While my heart hurts.
I wonder if I'll ever achieve beauty?

Easter Souders, '32

TO A BRONZE STATUE OF "THE THINKER"

Man of bronze, what thinkest thou?
For think thou must—
Thy master surely never made thee
Just to sit.
Some thought, some spark
Of human life
Was wrought into your form—
Perhaps some tiny atom
Of your master's soul
Is lodged in you.
For this, I know, O Thinker,
Thou art not merely bronze.

A. LeB. R.

SOCIALS

Vernie Oden attended the V. P. I. dances in Blacksburg this week-end.

Carolyn Cogbill spent the week-end in Petersburg.

Martha, Margaret and Julia Faris spent the week-end at their home in Red Hill and had as their guests, Rena Robertson.

Margaret Gathright spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

Lelia Lovelace spent the week-end in Halifax.

Katherine Logan attended the V. P. I. dances this week-end.

Catherine Marchant was the guest of Mrs. Wall in Blacksburg this week-end.

Mary Elizabeth Taylor and Mary Pearson were the guests of Mrs. W. H. Buchanan in Richmond this week-end.

Betsy Wilkinson and Josephine Sneed spent the week-end at their homes in Lynchburg.

Martha Walters spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

Gazelle Ware was in Richmond this week-end.

Dot Anderson spent the week-end at her home in Danville.

Nancy St. Clair attended the wedding of her sister in Bluefield, Virginia this week-end.

Mary Shelton was the guest of Missie Bernier at Hampden-Sydney this week-end.

Doris Walton aw sin Danville this week-end.

Ann Davis spent the week-end in Richmond.

Caroline Read spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Dorothy Leonard spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

Sue Bass was at her home in Danville this week-end.

Julia and Frances Martin spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Dolly Reed attended the V. P. I. dances in Blacksburg this week-end.

The Mu Omegas announce the following new members:

Janice Harris of Lynchburg.

B. S. U. RECEPTION GIVEN NEW MEMBERS

An informal reception was given to the new members of the Baptist Student Union in the recreation hall on Tuesday afternoon from five to six o'clock.

After some "get acquainted" games punch and cakes were served. Nancy Shaner was hostess.

The reception was attended by many new and old members, and everyone seemed to enjoy meeting and talking with the new girls. It is hoped that the B. S. U. may prove a source of inspiration to the new girls and to the whole student body during the coming year.

This organization has for its purpose, "To strengthen, correlate, and unify all of the separate Baptist unit religious organizations into one campus organization with one all-inclusive program of religious activity. The major officers of this organization are:

President ..... Nancy Shaner
First Vice-Pres. .... Mildred Maddrey
Second Vice- Pres. .. Catherine Ritter
Third Vice-Pres. .... Lucie Anne Lane
Secretary ..... Susie Odor
Treasurer ..... Marguerite Massey
Mother Sponser .... Mrs. E. R. Bailey

NEW PRESIDENT OF THE COTILLION CLUB

The Cotillion Club was left without a president this year, since Helen Robertson did not return. October 9 Loulie Milner was elected as new president. The club feels that it has made a very wise choice as Loulie has always proved capable and dependable in the activities of the school. Here's to a successful year with the responsible head that the Cotillion Club now has.

Miss Draper Back After 14 Months Travel and Study

Studied at Sorbonne and University of Paris

Miss Draper, a member of our faculty, has returned to S. T. C. after fourteen months of travel and study abroad. During this time she had the privilege of living in the home of a cultured French family.

Miss Draper studied at the Sorbonne and at the Institute de Phenetique, departments of letters and phonetics of the University of Paris. She also studied at the Alliance Francaise, a national institution for foreigners who wish to learn to speak, to write, and to teach the French language.

From the Sorbonne Miss Draper received a degree superieur du diplome d'etudes de civilization Francaise. She obtained a diploma de phonetique from the Institute de Phonetique, and from the Alliance Francaise a diploma superieur d'etudes Fraincaises.

While abroad Miss Draper traveled in northern and southern France.

We are very glad to welcome Miss Draper back to our language department.

CUNNINGHAM LITERARY SOCIETY PLANS WORK

Continued from page 1.

umbia University will lecture in Phi Beta Kappa hall at 11:00 a. m. on "The Aeneid as a National Poem". At 3:00 p. m. he will address visiting high school pupils and teachers. At 8:00 p. m., on the campus, the pageant, "The Visit of Aeneas to the Lower World" will be presented by students of the college.

Miss Rice discussed also the local plans for the celebration.

At S. T. C. on Wednesday, after chapel, the Latin Club magazine "Tributum" will be distributed. This issue is dedicated to Vergil, and his life and works will be featured in the entire magazine. On Friday night in the auditorium Miss Rice, head of the Latin department, will give an illustrated lecture on Vergil, the classic poet.

LATIN CLUB HAS FINE MEETING FRIDAY

Continued from page one

tion to this, new members will be required to pay an initiation fee of fifty cents when they are taken into the society. Every member is required to subscribe to the literary magazine, "The Voice".

As the attendance last year was not what it should have been, the members voted to fix a definite penalty for unexcused absences and see that it is enforced. The first time, the penalty will be five cents; it will be ten the second, and the third time the girl's name will be dropped from the roll.

Lucy Anne Lane, chairman of the Program Committee is to be responsible for having a program planned for the next meeting. The society plans to encourage creative work this year. The girls' own work will be used on the programs as far as possible and some of the best selections will be published in "The Voice" Each member was asked to write a poem, a short story, an essay, or a simple play before the next meeting is held.

Lillian Womack, the president, suggested that more copies of the constitution should be made so that each member might have an individual copy. She volunteered to be responsible for having the new copies typed.

Meetings of the Cunningham Literary Society will be held on the second and fourth Mondays of every month at 7 p. m.

THE DEBATE CLUB ENTERTAINS FRESHMEN

On Friday and Saturday afternoon of the past week the freshmen who have so recently arrived at college, were entertained at tea in the Student Building Lounge. The Debate Club sponsored these teas, and tried to give the freshmen an insight into the activities of the club.

French Hutt, the president of the club gave a short talk, after which she introduced all the officers and the coach. Mr. Holton, who is coach, also talked for a few minutes to the freshmen. He tried to urge upon them the need of new blood and new ideas, of which he was sure the freshmen had plenty.

We all join in insisting that you freshmen help us by trying out on Thursday night of this week. We want you, in fact. The question is, Resolved, That: Freshmen Should Have the Same Day Time Privileges as Upper Classmen. If you are interested, come out, for there is much in store for you.

Y. W. C. A. RECOGNITION SERVICES FOR FRESHMEN

Continued from page 1

Blue Triangle"—loving, kind, and true—to yourself—your school, and your fellow man.

"Within the sheltering arms of the Y. W. C. A. we may all, during our college life, find protection from life's storms, human friendship and closer fellowship with God. And those of us who know the warmth of those encircling arms, make room for and invite you to come in."

As Rena talked the heart of every girl vibrated to the chord she struck when she said—"Carry On!"

After Rena's heart-stirring talk, Martha Faris, vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. explained the purpose of this organization and told the freshmen of their ruties as members of it. Rena then led in prayer.

After the prayer, Rena invited the freshmen to come up and have their candles lighted by the already burning ones of the cabinet girls. Each freshman, also dressed in white, but carrying an unlighted candle, filed by and had her candle touched by the lighted candle of one of the "Y" cabinet. When the candles of all the freshmen were burning brightly everyone marched out, led by Rena and Martha singing the "Y" anthem, "Follow the Gleam." Such spirit was exhibited (even those who did not know the words hummed) that many who did not attend the services gathered on the campus to watch the freshmen as they filed by — now formally recognized as members of the "Y".

After having arranged themselves in two straight lines with their lighted candles held aloft, they were dismissed—now true members of the "Y" with a definite purpose before them—to "carry on" in the work of the "Blue Triangle."

THE DE HO EC CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The De Ho Ec Club met last week and elected the fololwing officers:

President ..... Velma Petty
Vice-President ..... Evelyn Simpson
Sec. & Treas. ..... Gazelle Ware

Any girl, who is taking a major or minor in home economics is eligible for membership in the De Ho Ec Club.

SUBSCRIPTION BLANK

Please send the Rotunda to the address below, for which I am enclosing one dollar and a half ($1.50) which pays my subscription until June, 1931.

Name .....

Address .....

Send blank to Dorothy Goodloe, business manager of The Rotunda

WORLD NEWS

Celebration at Yorktown.

Army and navy representatives will attend the 149th anniversary celebration of the Yorktown surrender on October 20, and at that time will discuss with the Virginia Yorktown Commission plans for next year's sesquicentennial celebration.

Announcement has been made by the Virginia Commission that two navy crusiers, the Pensacola and Chester, have been ordered into the York river for the celebration. Sailors from the Pensacola and Chester, supplemented by soldiers from Fort Eustis and a military band, will parade from the wharf to the national cemetery and will be reviewed from a stand near the national monument.

Congressman Louis C. Crampton, of Michigan, author of the bill for establishment of a colonial national monument at Yorktown, Williamsburg and Jamestown, passed at the last session of Congress, will be the principal speaker.

The celebration is being held on October 20 because the actual date of surrender, October 19, falls on Sunday this year.—Richmond Times Dispatch.

Your Seven Pencils.

Speaking of the Census Bureau, it enumerates not only people, but products, and the census of manufacture brought out the interesting fact that 842,780,160 wooden pencils were made in the United States last year, an average of about seven apiece for every man, woman and child in the country. After making a careful survey, we estimate that 86.7 per cent of these were used for writing and 13.3 per cent for chewing. It is understood that the manufacturers of plug tobacco, licorice sticks and chewing gum are about to organize against this encroachment on their sales preserves.—Outlook and Independent.

Russia's Booming Air Lines.

Critics of Russia may be surprised to learn that steady and rapid progress is being made there in the use of airplanes. It is now possible to fly the whole distance from Moscow to Kobul, the capital of Afganistan. But it is noted also that as a matter of practice, this line harly invites the patronage of the casual tourist.—The Literary Digest.

Miss Jennie M. Tabb left Saturday, Oct. 11 for her two-weeks' vacation which she will spend in South Bend, Indiana, in the home of Dr. John M. Cooney, head of the School of Journalism at University of Notre Dame.

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA IS ORGANIZED

The S. T. C. Orchestra plans big things for the coming year, with Gwendolyn Daniels as president; Dorthy Ford, secretary and treasurer, and Hilda Stiff, stage manager and librarian. With the new members and new instruments, and Miss Purdom as the director, success seems assured.

LISTEN TO "THE VOICE"

It is an unfortunate fact that for several years students have not shown as much interest in our literay magazine as in our annual publication and our weekly newspaper. Such a state of affairs ought not to be. We know that in a group of eight hundred students there must be a great many who are interested in things literary and many who can actually create beauty of literary value. These people will need nothing beyond an urgent invitation to contribute something to be considered for publicaiton. If you think you can write, write. There's no harm in trying, and there's a possibility of its being published.

To those girls who are not particularly interested in creating literature we should like to say: You don't know what you are missing! Trying is fun! Perhaps you have underestimated your ability. You may be able to write. Who knows? Certainly you don't, if you have never tried.

Then, after you have tried, if you find that you really can't write for "The Voice," there is one thing you can do: You can subscribe! If you haven't already lsubscribed, you will soon be given an opportunity to do so. And we are letting you in on a secret: The Voice this fall is going to be entirely different—new as to cover design, contents, arrangement and spirit. Now, don't you want one?

If you mean something to "The Voice," "The Voice" will mean something to you.

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART

We would like to have your orders

—for—

DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS

Canada Drug Co.

Farmville, Virginia

Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

NEW SILK DRESSES

$7.95

new dresses that are long of line and color demand a novel accent, elaborate designs and vivid in color. The styles here are typical of these new fashions. Paris creations and dictated by fashion authorities.

—in the Basement—

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.

The House of Quality

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

BARGAIN WEEK AT

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

A rack with over 20 Ogarments, Dresses, Coats, silk robes, Blazers, values $5.00 to $15.00 Your Choice $2.98

Three piece Jersey and Covert Suits $5.95

Visit our Shoe Depratment—the largest and Best in Farmville

Dip: "What sorority do you belong?"
Gazelle: "Sigma Sigma Sigma."
Dip: "I heard you the first time."

"Jac": "I want to see the captain."
"He's forward, miss."
"Jac": "That's all right. I've been out with Hampden-Sydney boys."

It's love that makes the world go round; but it's a kick that makes us realize it.

In Summer

The country roads were pleasant. As they stopped at an intersection the young hero remarked, "Here's a fork."

"But no place for a spoon," replied the little girl at the right side—and moved.

Look, isn't that Alice Moore?
Quick, my magnifying glass.

"My father was a great politician in his day."
"What did he run for?"
"The border."

"Is that the weather forecast. How about a shower, tonight?"
"How should I know? Go ahead and take one if you need it."

One Scotch wouldn't cast his bread on the water till he was sure it would come back with traffic jam on it.

Miss Stubbs explained the fall of the Roman Empire to a class of high school students by telling them. Out of an old radish grew a better sweeter baby radish. When she asked the question about the fall of Rome on the final exam— the answer was "It's a radish!"

A record was bought at a certain store—the customer was given the wrong record. A few days later this letter was received:

"While in your store last Tuesday I bought the record, 'The Moon Is Low,' when I reached home I found, 'It was Hanging on the Garden Gate'. What can you do about it?"

S. T. C.: "I see where a man married a woman for her money. You wouldn't mary me for my money, would you?"

H. S.: "No darling, not for all the money in the world."

Virginia Lowe (to tourist guide): "Oh, what are those huge rocks, there?"

Harrased Guide: "They were brought down by the glaciers."

Virginia: "And where are the glaciers?"

Guide (more harassed): "They have gone back for more rocks, ma'am."

A village parson's daughter eloped in her father's clothes, and the next day the village newspaper came out with an account of the elopement headed: "Flees in her Father's Pants"

"How many calories in this soup?"
"Boss, there ain't none. This am a clean place."

She: "Don't you ever speak of love?"
He: "Yes, lovely weather we are having, isn't it?"

Athlete: "Do you like polo?"
Historian: 'Sure. Marco and I were great friends until he died."

In the game it's grit.
In spinach it's terible.

ATHLETICS

WILL LAST YEAR'S DEFEAT BE AVENGED?

You'd be surprised to find out that a "corner" is not merely the intersection of two perpendicular lines, but a certain play that—But wait! You'll get a chance to find out what it is for yourself pretty soon.

The fact is that our varsity team is going to play—, but perhaps this would be too early for you to find out.

However, next week's Rotunda may contain some startling news about Weshampton's hockey team.

DRAMATICS ARE VERY PROMISING THIS YEAR

"Isn't the Dramatic Club going to work like it means business? You know, I like the way Miss Wheeler is giving try-outs this year. I think those classes are going to be so interesting. Why, I just can't wait to get started on them. What are you talking? Acting and costuming? That is fine! I'm taking business management and acting, and really, I'm enjoying it to the fullest. I think most of the girls are asking for the make-up group, don't you? I know that will be interesting.

Who are the new members and what do they take? Oh, we have quite a group of actors this year:

Marjorie Yancey
Martha Higgins
Kathleen Clement
Mary Shelton
Alice Lee Schenk
Betty Morris
Elizabeth March
Catherine Gannaway
Sarah Russell
Louise Borum
Nancy Harrison
Virginia Sargent
Margaret Banks
Susie Odor
Addie Lee Parker
Edrie Holland
Ruth Ford
Mary Hill
Myra McIntosh
Nan Gilbert
Elizabeth Kelly
Dot Prescott
Lelie Lovelace
Easter Souders

In our make-up group, we have:

Mary Thomas Rawls
Lillian Womack
Kathleen Clement
Sarah Russell
Eleanor Dashiel
Elizabeth Walthall
Margaret Banks
Missie Bernier
Grace Virginia Woodhouse
Betty Morris
Cleo Quisenberry
Margaret Bruce
Mildred Varner
Sara Hubbard
Frances Barrell
Frances Coleman
Marianna Robinson
Catherine Cogbill
Margaret Lester
Frances Parker
Helen Warren
Elizabeth Kelly
Dot Prescott
Elizabeth March
Susie Bass

Everyone is entitled to this group that cares to take it.

We have only a small group in our business management, but I think they will manage all right. This group consists of:

Dolly Martin
Alice Lee Schenk
Grace Virginia Woodhouse
Frances Coleman
Myra McIntosh
Lorraine Billings

Our properties group is also very small:

Margaret Murray
Margaret Robertson
Sara Hubbard
Alice Marshall

In the stage setting we have a nice group of girls:

Elizabeth Drewry
Marjorie Yancey
Margaret Fisher
Cora Lee Phillpott
Mary Diehl
Margaret Gathwright
Susie Odor
Missie Bernier
Martha S. Watkins
Cleo Quisenberry
Catherine Cogbill
Lillian Mickle
Julia Martin

A very small group is assigned the most important study of the lighting effects:

Alice Marshall
Margaret Gathright

Now, the costuming: You know, I would like to be able to take all of these classes:

Renie Greaves
Margaret Murray
Martha Higgins
Louise Borum
Mary Diehl
Jeanallan Bowles
Jane Beale
Julia Martin
Margaret Robertson
Margaret Hill
Marianna Robinson
Frances Lewis
A. J. Scott

Now, isn't that a fine bunch of girls?

Wasn't our tea nice? I enjoyed it immensely!

I know we are going to enjoy the Dramatic Club this year and make the best of our oppprtunities 'cause Miss Wheeler surely is doing her best for us.

Yes, I am glad the girls are starting out with so much interest, too. Why, it must have been over a hundred new girls. Just hope we can make this the best year ever. I do,

Miss Allie Oliver

PALETTE HOLDS MEETING

At the meeting of the Palette last Thursday evening, plans for the coming year were made. Big things are expected to be done this year and preparations for the Christmas Bazaar are already under way. So save your money and buy your gifts from the Palette.

The Palette is composed of students of the school who are especially interested in art. In order to become a member, a student must make not less than B on all her art classes, and if not taking an art class, must show outstanding ability and interest in such work.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Don't forget to sign up this week for the tennis singles. Who knows but that you will be the champion player at S. T. C. This tournament will begin next week and all those wishing to enter sign up on the bulletin board before Friday night. The champion will be announced as soon as all the matches are played.

A CAPELLA CHOIR CHOSEN

Continued from page one

rison, Mildred Solomon, Mary March, Virginia Bailey, Ruth Hunt.

The members of the quartet are: Elizabeth Antrim, Elizabeth Taylor, Adele Hutchinson, Ruth Hunt.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Oct. 13 to 18

MON., TUES., WED.—The Lewis Players, presenting Dick Lewis in a repertoire of comedy-dramas. The opening play, "The Straight Road," promises a laugh a minute. "The Newcomb Murder Case," the second offering, is a real thriller—something new in the line of stagecraft, and the final offering will be Bruce Rinaldo's fun version, "The Romance of Show Boat."

Each play will be lavishly staged with new scenery and electrical effects ,and there is a seven-piece orchestra under the direction of Billy Williams, in a setting of black and silver, which will broadcast a 15-mnute presentation each evening .

The vaudeville features include

This year the Lewis Players are bigger and better than ever, playing to larger crowds than in former years, and you are assured of three evenings of genuine entertainment with not a dull moment in the programs. Here is a real treat for the people of this vicinity.

Prices—Adults, 50c; children under 15, 25c. Show starts at 8:15 each evening; doors open at 7:30.

THURS.—"The World War." For benefit of Post 32, American Legion, and presented by the American Legion Picture Service Corporation. Here is a picture presenting actual scenes during the World war, showing the Allies and German troops on the battlefields—a graphic description that no written words could possibly convey—an opportunity to visualize and absorb scenes that you will probably never again have projected before you; and remember, too, the American Legion does a wonderful amount of charity work in this locality, hence it behooves everyone to attend this exceptional picture. Regular prices will prevail. Only three shows. Matinee at 4 p. m. and two shows at night, at 7:30 and 9:15. Also a two-reel talking comedy enttitled "Doing Phil a Favor."

FRI. and SAT.—Maurice Chevalier and Claudette Colbert in "The Big Pond." Here are two sparkling performers who will entertain you in a picture said to be Chevalier's best. His likeable personality, his contagious fun, his sophistocated love making—are all here, and some. He meets a romantic sweetheart with a practical father and has to satisfy both,so he sings,makes love and breaks into business in a big way. Hear him sing "You Brought a New Kind of Love to Me" and "Living in the Sunlight." Hear and see Chevalier mix love and business—and win at both. A thoroughly enjoyable picture. Don't miss it. Also "Song Writers Review."

Admission, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, adults, 35c at nights, and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

EXPERT BRACELET WATCH REPAIRING and AT PRICES THAT WON'T FLATTEN YOUR POCKETBOOK

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

FOR THE LATEST IN Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS

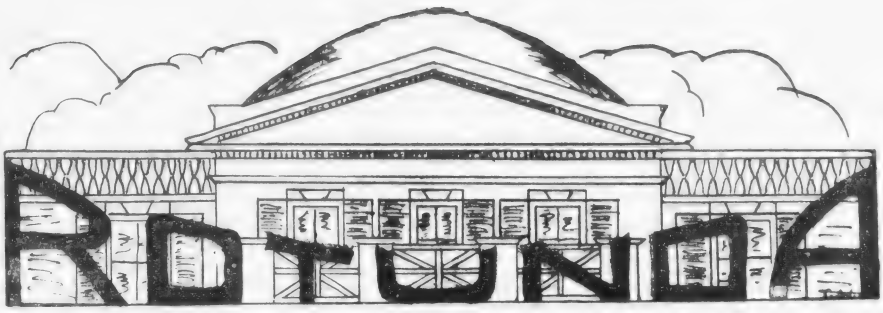
Just One Block from Campus

G. F. Butcher & Co.

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop



WILL FIX YOUR SHOES WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

Rotunda -- 10-13.
Sept.25,1929-
May 24, 1933.
USE RESERVE ONLY.

~~DATE OUT~~ AND TIME OUT	BORROWER'S NAME	~~BOOK~~ NUMBER BOX
	Amorcia Rae Parsons	811
11-9	Karen Holliman	555

SUPPORT YOUR CLASSES, GIRLS!

FRESHMEN! OBSERVE "RAT WEEK!"

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1930 No. 4

Stereopticon Address Given by Miss Rice on Vergil and the Classics

Slides and Talk Complete Celebration of Birth of Master Poet

MANY VISITORS PRESENT

On Friday evening, October 17 at eight o'clock in the auditorium Miss Minnie Rice, head of the Latin Department, delivered a stereopticon address which completed our program in the world-wide celebration of the two-thousandth anniversary of the birth of Publius Vergilius Mario, the master poet of Rome. The celebration has been one of unprecedented interest in that at no time before has the world honored the two-thousandth anniversary of the birth of an individual.

Miss Rice addressed an audience of visitors from the local schools, townspeople and S. T. C. students in a most interesting manner. In connection with her lecture on Vergil and the classics she told of the Vergilia celebration put on by the Virginia Alpha Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa Society of William and Mary College on Wednesday, October 15, at which time Dr. Charles Knapp spoke on "The Aeneid" and a pageant showing the visit of Aeneas, Vergil's hero, to the underworld was given by the students of the College.

The stereopticon slides which were of unusual interest to the audience were the gift of Dr. Jarman to the Latin organization, "Sodlitas Latina", and were made most attractive by Miss Rice's interpretation and presentation.

LE CIRCLE FRANCAISE HOLDS FIRST MEETING

French Songs Sung

The first regular meeting of Le Circle Francais was held in the Y. W. C. A. reception room October 16. It was decided to take in the new members at the next meeting which will be held November 6, 1930 at 8 o'clock in the reception room. The main feature of the program was the singing of French songs.

The work for this year will be of a different and interesting type from that of the past years and each member is urged to cooperate in it so that this may be the most successful year Le Circle Francais has ever known at S. T. C. Yes, there will be time for play as well as for work.

Each member is happy to welcome Miss Draper, the advisor, who has been studying in Paris, back into Le Circle Francais with the hope that she will enjoy working with the club again this year.

PI GAMMA MU MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT OF BIDS

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu wishes to announce the following new members:

Marian Asher
Margaret Faris
Pauline Gibb
Winifred Howell
Evelyn West

JUNIORS GIVE BENEFIT PICTURE

Wednesday and Thursday of this week the Junior class of S. T. C. is sponsoring Greta Garbo in "Romance". The ever changing, always alluring first lady of the screen—Greta Garbo—brings the world to her feet again as she did in "Anna Christie" with her vibrant voice, and her unforgettable beauty. She had everything in the world except love! Garbo the gorgeous, Garbo the magnificent, now brings to you an unforgettable romance of love and heartbreak greater even than "Anna Christie."

Year's Work of Ruffner Lit'y Society to Begin

New Members Have Been Chosen at Meeting

After holding two business meetings the Ruffner Literary Society is fully organized and ready to start its year of hard but pleasant and interesting work.

The main object of the society is to create more interest in literature as a whole and to recognize and evaluate good qualities in writing. When this has been accomplished we can be sure that some of the good qualities will be infused into our own writings which will be seen in each issue of our literary magazine, The Voice.

The fact that the materials handed in by those trying out for the society were of all types shows that there is much originality and versatility of tastes in the student body and offers us a wide range of materials with which to work. It is hoped that the work of the old and new members together will develop into something large and worthwhile—a literary victory!

Try-outs will be held again this year so everyone save your best work to hand in. Ruffner's new members are:

Jean Bowles
Elizabeth Burger
Nell Dickinson
Evelyn West
Hildegarde Ross
Marguerite Massey

Miss Spratley, who was formerly an active member of the society, has consented to be our critic. She is very efficient in this type of work and will be able to offer many profitable and valuable suggestions.

CHANGING OF NAMES POPULAR PASTIME IN SOVIET RUSSIA

The changing of names, like wives or husbands, is a popular pastime in modern Russia. All that is necessary under the Soviet regime to change a family name is to file application at the state registry office—the same as a divorce—and publsh the fact in one of the official newspapers. Just now the papers carry many notices

Continued on last page

Element'y Teachers Club Organized At S. T. C.

Declares Purpose and Elects New Officers

On Thursday of last week the members of Elementary Education Class, 461 of which Miss Mary Pierce is the instructor, organized a club. The following officers have been elected:

Jane Brown, President.
Evelyn West, Vice-Pres.
Ella Carroll, Secretary.
Clara McAllister, Reporter.
Miss Pierce, Advisor.

On Saturday, the purpose committee submitted to the club its tentative purpose and the revised form as accepted was: To promote growth and development of prospective teachers in the field of modern elementary education. This can be accomplished through programs whose aims are:

1. To interpret meaning of child-centered school.
2. To know something of the noted educators and their contributions.
3. To learn more about laboratory methods.
4. To keep in touch with outside educational world.
5. To acquaint ourselves with national organizations.
6. To promote growth of professional clubs in Teachers colleges.

Cralle and Dillard Heard in Annual Radio Audition

Represent Richmond's District

The annual radio audition, sponsored by the Atwater Kent Radio Corporation, was broadcasted from WRVA, Richmond, Va., Sunday night October 19. The State was divided into districts and the winners in each district competed at Richmond. The winners in Richmond go to Nashville, Tennessee for the second contest. The final audition comes from New York City when singers, both men and women, from all parts of the nation will be heard.

The contest for this district was held in the music room of the college, Saturday, Oct. 11. From the several contestants, the judges: Miss Potts, Miss Purdom and Mr. A. H. Strick, selected Miss Florence Cralle and Mr. Alexander Fleet Dillard to represent this district in Richmond.

The decisions are to be determined by the votes of previously elected judges and also the votes of the radio audience. Each singer was given a number, and this, along with their selection, was announced instead of their name, in order to insure fairness of decision. Anyone hearing the program can vote by sending the number of their favorite singers to station WRVA.

SENIOR INSTALLATION

The faculty and the student body are cordially invited to attend the senior installation service tonight at 7 o'clock in the auditorium.

Major Organizations of S. T. C. Presented to the New Students

Characters in Fairy Tales and Bedtime Stories are Symbolic of Organizations

SIR GALAHAD LEADS

The presentation of the major organizations of S. T. C. took place on Monday night in the college auditorium at 7 o'clock. The stage pictured a nursery in which there were two children, Rubie Hunt and Coty Neale and a nurse, Henrietta Cornwell. The organizations were presented in fairy tale form. As the nurse told the characteristics of the work of each organization in a bedtime story, a representative of each organization stepped from a huge book.

Sir Galahad representing the Student Council led the characters since he stands for the highest thiogs in life—valor and vicinity, service and sincerity. And just as he was a leader of his people, so the Student Council is a leader of the students at S. T. C.

Inseparable from the Student Council is the Y. W. C. A. whose representative came next. Clothed in white and carying a lighted candle in a blue triangle, she was symbolic of pure womanhood in which body, mind, the light of the world as their guiding spirit.

With "Jack Be Nimble, Jack be Quick" the Athletic Association was presented. This association by making one nimble in body, helps make one nimble in mind.

As the book was opened the fourth time three bears, one small, the other not so small, and the last larger than the other two—came forth. They represented The Voice, The Virginian,

Continued on page three

LOCAL CHAPTER PRIMARY ELECTION

At a business meeting of the Farmville Chapter of the National Council of Primary Education called on Thursday, October 16, the following officers were elected:

Vice-president ..... Jane Brown
Treasurer ..... Margaret Stiff

Committees for the year were arranged and tentative plans were discussed. After several matters of importance were completed the meeting adjourned to convene again on the first Thursday in November.

Concert by Miss Korb & Company is Lyceum Number

Talented Flutist and Pianist Here at Entertainment

The Lyceum number which was given in the auditorium Wednesday evening, October 15 at eight o'clock presented the following program:

May Korb .... lyric-coloratura soprano
Ardelle Hookins ..... Flutist
Reginald Boardman ..... Pianist

Program:

Care selve ..... Handel
Ich ligbe dich ..... Grieb
Heiden roslein ..... Schubert
L'Heure deciciense ..... Staub
Miss Korb
Fantasie pastorale hongroise, Doppler
Miss Hookins
Nocturne in C minor ..... Chopin
Etude in b flat ..... Chopin
Malaguena ..... Lecuona
Mr. Boardman
Pearl of Brazil ..... David
Charmant oiseau
(with flute obligato)
Miss Korb
Intermission
Dimmi fanciulla ..... Rizzi
Magnolia Moon ..... Cronham
Charity ..... Hageman
I Know ..... Ferrari
Miss Korb
Oppheus melody ..... Gluck-Barrere
Allegretto ..... Godard
Miss Hookins
The Russian Nightingale
Glabieff-Lierling
(with flute obligato)
Miss Korb

FRESHMEN NOMINATE CLASS OFFICERS FOR THE COMING YEAR

The Freshman nominated candidates for the four major class offices amid much hand-clapping and similar signs of an abundance of the far-famed S. T. C. class spirit. These nominations have been posted, and the elections will be held later on in the week.

The nominees are as follws:

Mary (Cottie) Willis, Norfolk, Va
Mary Shelton, Burkeville, Va.
Dorothy Leonard, Richmond, Va.
Margaret Robertson, Orange, Va.

Vice-President:

Nell Dickinson, Charlottesville, Va.
Virginia Ann Huntsberry, Winchester, Va.
Ellen Twitty, Crimona, Va.

(Continued on last page)

FRESHMEN GET RAT CAPS AT PEP MEETING IN GYM

Regulations Given

At a very impressive display of colors and pep in the gymnasium at ten o'clock on Monday night the members of the freshman class were given their rat caps.

The ceremony was impressively performed by marching the freshmen around until every one was directly in front of some member of the sophomore class. They were then requested to kneel and the caps of blue and white were placed on bowed heads by imposing sophomores. Anne Johnson, president of the sophomore class talked for a short while to the freshmen showing them that their reputation and spirit as a class was entirely up to them. The regulations regarding the wearing of rat caps were stated and it really looks like the sophomores are in earnest.

There was some splendid cheering by both upperclassmen and fresh-

Continued on last page

BROADCASTER OF DIGEST LOWELL THOMAS HEARD

The new radio voice of The Literary Digest, Lowell Thomas, has been heard in various parts of the world by more than 4,000,000 auditors. War correspondent, world traveler, and author, Lowell Thomas is known wherever the English language is understood. There is hardly a part of the globe that he has not visited.—The Literary Digest.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31

Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

You Will Do Your Part, Won't You?

Some of us seem to have missed the real spirit of study hour in that we do not practice the golden rule—"Do unto others as you would have others do unto you!" On some halls it's very hard to study amidst the noises of slamming doors, noisy heels, and loud talking.

Now, when we evoluted from closed to open study hour we felt that we had made a definite step ahead. A step toward real college life. We just can't take a step backwards, and be on a high school level where we must be compelled to observe rules!

There seems to be a great deal of this noise coming from the halls where freshmen live. Now, freshmen, we know it's because you haven't become adjusted to these regulations, but from now on we're expecting you to cooperate in bringing about a successful study hour. There will be little time for play during study hour if the right amount of time is put on preparations for classes.

And upperclassmen—we are expecting you to set examples. You know the workings of study hour so help the freshmen by your actions as wll as your explanations. All togethehr, upperclass men and freshmen, and we'll make 1930-'31 a successful class year.

Why Criticize?

To start a new year right we must begin by giving our fellow classmen an equal chance. Girls, if you don't have something constructive to say about a girl, remember "silence is bliss" at times. None of us can dispute the fact that a girl can be hurt to a great extent by criticism from even a small group because news spreads rapidly.

If we don't criticize others, we have clear consciences, and surely that makes for peace of mind, and peace of mind for happiness. Therefore we all must realize that old as it may be, "to think before you speak" is still a good policy!

OVER THE TEACUPS

"Ruth, will you make a poster for me- You can do it any ole way—it really doesn't matter. What for? Oh, for sing. No, I can't sit down 'cause I've so much to do—you know, —busy, me! Mustn't stay—really.

Did I see Helen Cover? Why she was the cutest thing this side of nowhere. I bet all Hampden-Sydney fell for her. Heck, I don't feel bad anyway, I'm cute at home. Uh-huh—

Well, thanks, but, oh yes, didn't Jane Wiley now Mrs. er-I Wish her name, look grand? gets the notion of marriage in my head. But I'm too much a school teacher now, I guess. I've never seen so many old girls back—speaking of teachers, Blanche, dear ole Blanche, teaching agrees with her. And Gurley, she still has the same charm of winning you the minute she meets you. Too bad for Shad, don't you think———?

No, I don't know any dirt at all. Yes—she did tell me but I promised not to tell. Well, I'll tell you, but its strictly confidential. Martha Ann's Henry is writing a book here. I wonder what's his inspiration? Booh—ain't love grand. Promise now, don't tell it, not to a soul.

Don't you love Mr. Redhead? Why, I simply can't explain this sudden desire to go to church every Sunday. Seriously, I do think he's grand. It's so inspiring to see a young man so earnest and fine. I really do feel sorry for him, though. These girls will most likely turn his head. But girls will be girls.

Oh, I've got to go—no, I can't see the clock but I can see Dolly Reed out of the window looking across the street at Sam. Oh, was that a break? Pardon me!

You know I heard the worst thing. Margaret Stuart Robertson got an enormous box with a whole ham and all the fixings and—it was full of ants. Absolutely ruined! Gee, I'm glad mother sends mine special cause I'd have eaten the ham and turned to an ant,. I believe she threw it away. I'm telling you, I can't afford to be extravagant like that. Good food's too scarce around here. I spend every cent I get on this appetite of mine now. That reminds me, can you realize Mr. Shannon doesn't charge anymore? Good going, he's saved me a few nickels already.

Goodness, I've got to beat it. I promised Ann I'd meet her in ten minutes and I've been here about twice that long and worn my shoes out standing on first one foot and then the other as it is.

Yep, guess I'll get my share of the cussing out. But school is so broadening—also hardening—but Ann is a dear.

Thanks again for the poster. Bring it to breakfast—table 17—See you later maybe—it not—mum's the word.

UPPER CLASSMEN

What is the matter with you, upper classmen? You are falling down on the job. If you do not "pick up" immediately, your hockey teams are going to be inefficient contestants on Thanksgiving Day. You need to come out and practice; you cannot expect your coaches to put out tip-top teams if they do not have enough players. They stay always ready and willing to help you. So it is up to you to come out and make your team one that you will be proud of.

The Freshmen have been setting an example for you as far as practices are concerned. They are showing wonderful spirit and they are working hard for their class. Upper classmen, if you want to compete with them on Thanksgiving day, get to work.

Freshmen, you are doing fine, but there is always room for improvement, you know. You keep up your good work and when the contest on Thanksgiving day is over, you will come out at the big end of the horn. Upper classmen, what are you going to do about it?

(Have your reply printed in the Rotunda next week.)

Laura Smith: "Do you care for tall buildings?"

Ella Carroll. "No, I don't like continued stories."

Alumnae Notes

We are very pleased to copy the following article from the Virginia Club Woman for September-October, 1930. Miss Johnson was a student as well as an instructor in Farmville State Teachers College, and has many friends in the town. Her sister, Mrs. Julia Johnson Davis, a graduate and former assistant in the kindergarten department, is also a writer of note:—

Mrs. Elkanah East Taylor, chairman of the poetry division of the Virginia Federation offered a prize of twenty-five dollars for the best poem submitted during the club year. Five judges passed on the poems submitted, the names being concealed from them. Miss Johnson of Norfolk, was the successful contestant. A sketch of the poetess and also the winning poem follows:

Sanctuary

As a tired pilgrim at the sanctuary
Puts off the toil-stained shoes in which he came.
So on this hill side, sweet and solitary,
My soul lets fall the sandals of its shame.
For this is holy ground, where earth's dim altars
Send up their ancient incense to the skies;
And when the stumbling faith grows weak and falters,
The night looks down with dark compassionate eyes.

Heal me, oh night, for I am faint with sorrow!
Lay your cool hands upon my burning scars,
And breathe upon them till the fevers pass—
Then, for a shield against each new tomorrow,
Give me the strength and vision of the stars.
Teach me the simple patience of the grass!

—Josephine Johnson

Josephine Johnson was born in Norfolk, Va., and educated in its private schools, with special work at the University of Virginia, and at Harvard University. For five years she was laboratory assistant in chemistry at the State Teachers College, Farmville, Va. She has travelled extensively in this country as well as in Europe, and in 1927 was a visitor for several weeks at the famous MacDowell Colony, at Peterboro, New Hampshire.

Miss Johnson is a member of the Poetry Society of America, the Poetry Society of Virginia, and of the Poet's Club of Norfolk, which formerly published the "Lyric." She has never published a book, but her work has been included in such collections as "The Home Book of Modern Verse;"Braithwaite's"Anthologies of Magazine Verse, 1923-29; "Virginian Writers of Fugitive Verse"; "A Wreath for Edwin Markham"; "Anthology of Revolutionary Poetry"; "Twentieth Century Love Poems"; "Newspaper Anthology"; "Principal Poets of the World" "Who's Who Among North American Authors"; "Print o' Life", etc. She has also won a number of prizes, both local and general. Her work is frequently quoted in the Literary Digest, New York Times Book Review, etc. Some of her poems have been set to music, and "The Unwilling Gypsy," perhaps her best-known lyric, has been put into Braille.

PANORAMA

Sapphire sea
Gulls wining their way listlessly over young breakers
Topaz sun
Transforming sails to pearl.
A strip of emerald land
Bordered by grey chalk-cliffs
And dotted by myriads of low thatched roofs
Plymouth Harbor
Nestled within the Devonshire hills.

V. L., '32

THE DEATH MARCH

Slow, impassive,
The leaden feet moved across the barren waste;
Haggard faces
Peered into the haze that closed them in;
One soul,
Gazing into the face of Heaven,
Caught sight of darkening wings
As the deserts dread monster
Swooped down into that sea of dieing men.
A scream—
Chilling the blood that still ran weak within the heaving breasts.
Stopped for a minute the weary march;
One lone frame of a man lay prey to the scorching sun
And to the deserts dread monster—
While slow, impassive,
The leaden feet moved across the barren waste.

L. M., '32

IN VACATION

Love's age long incantation to Fate,
Mellow'd by infinite Time,
Glib'd by the power of a thousand tongues,
Yet awkward and overwhelmed on mine.

Oh, Beloved, for the power of a Demosthenes,
And the choice of words divine,
For the surest, sincerest phrases,
To fuse my soul into thine.

A. B.

ODE TO A WEST POINT KAYDET'S O. A. O.

(One and Only)

Your fickle shades of blue
Bewitch me.
Your blue eyes—
My two mirrors which reflect the skies.
Your blue gown
Contrasted with rich fold
Of your hair,
Shading into deeper blues
Your pale iris.
Enchantress,
You torture me
With your infinite charms.
You change my nights
Into a sleepless maze of dreaming,
And turn my days to centuries
When I can see thee not
As I walk guard,
Above the Hudson's darkened waters,
Which reflect the shadows
Of the passing clouds of gray.

V. L., '32

WOULD YOU?

I wonder what you'd say if I
Should tell you that I loved you.
don't kid,
Would you laugh and say, "O come,
You know it isn't true"?

Or would you be quite nonchalant?
Gay, or very sad?
Or would you say you loved me too,
And make me, oh, so glad?

E. S., '32

SOCIALS

Mary Trimyer spent the week-end in Richmond.

Mary Alice Young spent the week end at her home in Boydton.

Dorothy Anderson spent the week-end at her home in Danville.

Margaret Priest visited in Lynchburg this week-end.

Mary Virginia Hill spent the week-end in Charlottesville.

Alice Covington attended the V. M. I.-Va. game and dance in Lexington this week-end.

Dorothy Ritchie spent the week-end at her home in Petersburg.

Ann Guy was the guest of Margaret Pumphrey in Richmond this week-end.

Ann Davis, Anna Knox, Katheryn Waters, Margaret Barker and Corine Mosby spent the week-end in Richmond.

Frances Martin and Vrgina Witt spent the week-end at the home of at latter at Lynchburg.

Julia Matrin spent the week-end in Danville.

Elizabeth Kelly was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harris at Kenbridge this week-end.

Dorothy Goodloe was the guest of Catherine Cogbill at her home in Boydton this week-end.

Anne Johnson, Gwendoline Daniel, and Margaretta Frasier attended the Service League Conference in Petersburg this week-end.

Doris Walton attended the V.M.I.-Va. game and dance in Lexington this week-end.

Loulie Millner spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Evelyn Hughes and Helen Shawen spent the week-end in Richmond.

Josie Spencer spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Harriet Branch, Vrginia Bledsoe, Evelyn Stephenson and Margaret Stiff spent the week-end at Norfolk.

Ann Minter spent the week-end in Richmond.

Jacque and Jerry Lee spent the week-end in Lexington attending the V. M. I.-Va. game and dance.

Pearl Etheridge visited friends at S. T. C. the past week-end.

Marie Spence and Martha McMillan were guests of Jessie Smith the past week-end.

Edith Cornwall, a former S. T. C. student, visited in the school last week-end.

The following S. T. C. girls attended Hampden-Sydney opening dances with the following boys:

Elsie Bolton, Billy Brown.
Helen Cover, Bruce Clark.
Patty Ellison, Eddie Meredtih.
Mary Harrison, Edward Paulette.
Rubie Hunt, Barry Dahl.
Vrginia Lamb, George Jones.
Jenilee Knight, Pete Lasley.
Elizabeth Levick, Royall Beckham.
Frances Lewis, Lewis Yowell.
Virginia Marchant, Jimmy Gordon
Alice Marshall, Gabel Hemelwright
Louise Munt, Sam McClure.
Frances Parker, Joe Bradford.
Cornelia Quarles, George Walton.
Virginia Sargent, Frank Smith.
Doris Walton, George Walters.
Jane Royall, Albert Gillespie.
Martha Sanders, Chas. Robertson.
Josephine Smth, Jerry Matthews.
Frank Smoot, Bankhead Warren.
Nancy St. Clair, Edw. Traynham.
Eliabeth Taylor, Holmes Thomas.
Martha Walters, Chas. Bittinger.
Eliabeth Carter, Jack Brightwell.
Ruth Peery, Elmore Gilmer.
Nancy Harrison, Dick Bryant.
Nancy DeBerry, O'Ferrall Thompson.
Alice Covington, Buster Kendig.
Jerry Lee, Willis Wills.
Corine Mosby, Clem Barksdale.

KAPPA DELTA PI HOLDS SOCIAL MEETING

Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi held a social meeting in the Student Building Lounge Tuesday, October 14. Faculty members who are members of other chapters of Kappa Delta Pi were present and plans for the year's work of the organization were discussed.

FRESHMAN CLASS MEETING IS HELD

Thru the halls we have heard the deep thinking freshmen wondering just what the sophomores have in store for them. Last Tuesday night Ann Johnson informed them at the regular meeting of the class just what to do.

Here's a few of the rules of the mighty sophomores to help the freshmen enjoy "rat week:"

1. Wear tennis shoes from 7:15 till 10:30 with black hose accompanying them.

2. Bow to the upper classmen in case they do not have enough exercise in "gym."

3. Make beds, carry laundry and anything asked to do along this line to retain their domestic ability.

4. To use side doors to dining room and rotunda, so they will not annoy the faculty and home department with their hard heels.

5. To suspend the use of cosmetics to relieve business depression.

6. To wear rat caps from four until seven-thirty for fear of getting their brains chilled; also carry them in case they feel this coming on during the day.

We hope the freshmen will derive much benefit from this "educational week" and in years to come be able to say, "It was all for our own good."

Washington Tree Ceremonies Held

Within the shadow of the majestic Washington monument in Capitol Square, an elm tree was planted on Saturday, October 18, in honor of Virginia's famous son, the bicentennial of whose birth is to be celebrated in 1932.

It was the first of many trees planned to be planted in honor of Washington under auspices of the American Tree Association as a preliminary gesture toward celebration of the bicentennial.

Gov. Pollard of Virginia, Gov. Chas. W. Tobey, of New Hampshire, and state officials and representatives of patriotic societies attended the ceremonies. Representative S. Otis Bland of Newport News, referred to Washington as a lover of trees, a quality not diminished by his occupations as surveyor, farmer, soldier, and statesman. Representative Bland says Washington's glorious memory can never die. "His patriotism still inspires, and in the darkest hours of our national life his presence may be felt restraining here, impelling there and ever-guiding our thoughts, our hopes, our aspirations upward and onward toward liberty and light." —The Virginian Pilot.

Radio Waves Weaken Diphtheria Poison

Ultra- radio waves, shorter than those commonly used to send messages, are able to weaken materially the poison elaborated by the diphtheria bacillus, it is reported by physicians of the Western Pennsylvania Hospital in Pittsburg.—The Literary Digest.

KID PARTY

Hear ye! Hear ye! Freshmen! Freshmen! On Friday night the junior class will entertain you at a kid party in the gym. At this time the dignified juniors and soreback Freshmen will go back to childhood days in costume and in play. We can all be kids again! Freshmen will be allowed to stay up and play until 11 o'clock. Come dressed as little boys or little girls. Look around in your pantry—pardon me, I mean closet—for a short dress or something that will make you look childish. A bit of hair ribbon, a sassy sash and a cheery smile will put you over big on Friday night. Bring along with you a balloon, doll, clock, shoe-button, roommate's favorite pillow or just anything that reminds you of the time when you were about a half as old as you are now. Don't miss it! You might not ever have the chance to be a kid again.

MISS MARY TO GIVE INFORMAL TEA

On Thursday afternoon Miss Mary will be at home to the girls of S. T. C. at Longwood at an informal tea. This affair will mark the formal opening of Longwood. Everyone is cordially invited to call.

14 CLUB INITIATION

Monday of last week a number of girls were carreid into strange places and learned strange things. Then, as last, they entered a lighted room where stood two long tables upon which was food and drink. They sat and partook of the food while 'round about them stood the "cutest girls in S.T.C."—the 14's. Their new president, Miss Toodles Booth, wished them pleasant dreams as the clock chimed the hour of mid-night and the new 14's went joyously to their rooms, proud of their new earned privilege of being cute.

PRESENTATION OF ORGANIZATIONS

Continued from page 1.

and The Rotunda—the magazne, the annual and newspaper of S. T. C.

Athena, Goddess of Wisdom, was the representative of the honorary societies.

"Jack and Jill" represented the literary societies, Jack the Ruffners and Jill the Cunningham.

As Cinderella stepped from the book the nurse said to her charges, "Just as Cinderella was changed by her godmother into a beautiful maiden, so is this world changed from one of troubles and unhappiness into a dream world by means of productions like those given by the Dramatic Club.

"Jack Honer" representing the De-Ho-Ec Club came next. As he stuck in his thumb and pulled out a plum the nurse remarked that the De-Ho-Ec Club could "put in" plumbs and make something worth praising.

"Peter Pan" never grew old because he went about the world making music. For the same reason the Choral Club, whom Peter Pan represented, will never grow old.

Pandora characterized the Debate Club—a club in which you learn to argue and win.

"The Old Woman in the Shoe" had so many children she didn't know what to do, but when the National Council of Primary Education was organized the teachers learned how to take care of the children. She was another character from the "Scrap-Book" from which the nurse was reading.

Just as "Ole King Cole", who came next was entertained by his fiddlers so are the S. T. C. students often entertained by its orchestra.

The last organization to be represented was the House Council. A girl, in a nightdress and carrying a lighted candle, stepped from the book as the lights were turned out and blowing out the candle she held, said, "Time to Retire."

These exercises were presented in order that the freshmen might become more familiar with the organizations in the school.

ON CATCHING COLD

Have you heard anyone lately let out a big "ka-choo" and immediately afterward exclaim, "Oh, I'm catching cold!"? But why should one be catching cold now? Surely no one has had a chance of being caught in a rainstorm! I should say some of us are letting carlessness overtake us! What do we do after having a game of tennis, after practicing hockey, or taking gym? We rush madly to our rooms, throw open the windows and doors—thus causing a draft, and then perhaps, jump right into a cold bath. Can you imagine anything nicer for a cold?

One should remember that health should be valued above all things. And in speaking of health, or colds rather, don't forget yourself, nor the other fellow.

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

One look at our freshmen and we know green is the fastest color in the world. It's gonna take some of 'em a long time to ever fade out.

Oxegyn is the name of another new element found in freshman chemistry lab.

Freshmen can even fool themselves. One rising young student stood in the hall today and made the rats bow as they passed.

You can't tell a freshman a thing. No, they don't know everything—just wouldn't understand what you'd say.

The sophomore class needn't wonder if they were as horsey as the rats. Ask the juniors what paradise S. T. C. was then.

Some people are cute, some act cute, some try to be cute. Then there is Martha Walters—?

Freshmen are the finest people in this world. They just need a world all their own.

Why can't more people be like Jenilee Knight? But then everyone couldn't remain in that state of blissful unconsciousness.

There's no reason in the world why there is so much work to do in this school, but then, there's no reason in this world.

Some girls go to school to study. Some girls go to school for sports. Some girls go to school for pleasure. Butsey Carter goes to school.

One meek freshmen asked "Redhead" Wills if she had a red sweater she could borrow. The freshman escaped with only a few slight injuries.

The one satisfaction 'Munt" got from school is gone. The teachers don't even expect her to work any longer.

WHAT'S WHAT IN DRAMATICS

"Hi, there, Betty, guess what I've just heard? You can't, well, just listen to this. The Dramatic Club is honest to goodness down to work. Don't you know the play has already been started, and it's goin' to be plenty good, 'cause I know. They won't tell the cast, yet, but that will be coming soon and its a good one, I can assure you. Miss Wheeler has gotten right down to it and if it doesn't beat all she's ever had, it won't be her fault.

The class groups are having their meetings regularly, now, so they can help to put things over in a big way, and the attendance is good, too. Yes, sir, we are all interested, aren't you?

Well, g'bye, I must hurry to class!

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Cuban Students Lead Uprising

Twelve policemen and students were wounded in Havana last week as a result of an anti-government demonstration staged by a group of about 300 university students who shouted threats against the administration and started for the presidential palace to demand the resignation of President Machado. — The Cadet.

G. F. Butcher & Co.

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES

WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP

AND LEATHER USED

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS

Just One Block from Campus

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART

We would like to have your orders

—for—

DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS

Canada Drug Co.

Farmville, Virginia

Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

COTILLION CLUB DANCES ARE ALMOST HERE

DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!

We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.

The House of Quality

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Three piece suits the kind that sells for $5.95. All colors and sizes — $5.59

Newest fall shoes, low, medium and high heels. Prices

$2.98 $3.95 and $5

26 sample sport coats, Princess style Special — $9.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Sloan and Paulette entering Shannon's: "Say, have you seen our women?"

Rick: "What Women?"

Paulette: "Oh, you know, Mary and her little lamb."

Fortune Teller: "Beware! A dark woman is following you."

Client: "Well, she'll soon get tired. I'm a postman."

Motor Cop: (to fair motorist) "You ywere speeding; I've got to pinch you."

"Chick" Mosby: "Oh, please, if you must, do it in a place where it won't show."

Carter Franklin: "She's a nicely reared girl, don't you think?"

"Bunny" Craddock: "Yeah, she don't look so bad from the front either."

Ann Johnson: "I often feel that I want to do something clean and big before I pass out."

Winston Cobb: "How 'bout washing an elephant."

Freshman: "Do you think this school is haunted?"

Del: "No, why?"

Freshman: "Someone's always talking about school spirit."

Mr. McCorkle: "What is steam?"

Jerry Lee: "Water crazy with the heat."

Liz Jordon: "Don't the football players ever have their suits washed?"

Evelyn: "What do you think the scrub team is for?"

Fair Warning!

I'm a capable night watchman; will take anything I can get!

Miss Hiner: "Have you read 'To a Nightingale'?"

Marguerite Brady: "How do you get them to listen?"

Martha Walters: "I thought you said our room was spotless?"

Ruth Ford: "Yeah, not a clean spot in it."

1900—"May I have the pleasure of the next dance with you?"

1930—"May I borrow your frame for the next struggle?"

"Has the Scotchman bought the gasoline station?"

"The free air sign is down."

H. S. Lad: "Do you care for dancing?"

Betty Watts: "No, it's merely hugging set to music."

H. S. Lad: "Well, what is there about it you don't like?"

Betty: "I don't like the music."

Elsie Bolton: "My brother is taking up French, Spanish, English, Scotch Swedish, Italian and Hebrew."

Virginia Ford: "My word! Where does he study?"

Elsie: "He doesn't study, he runs an elevator."

"Daddy, do heathen wear clothes?"

"Surely! What makes you ask such a question?"

"I only wondered why you put a button in the collection plate, today."

Jane Royall: "Have you heard Amso 'n Andy can't show the picture they've just made?"

Frances Coleman: "No, why?"

Jane: 'Cause pepsodent removes the film."

When we have world peace it will be in the next one.

ATHLETICS

WHAT NEXT?

In a paper recently the head of a news item ran thus: "Prince of Wales Wins Golf Fame." He achieved his fame at Aboyne, Scotland. During his recent stay in Balmoral Castle, he motored with his brother, the Duke of Gloucester, to the Aboyne links for a full round.

Halfway down the fairway is a telephone pole to the right of the links. To prove himself a "golfer"; one must past this post with a drive. The Prince passed it by several yards.

We all are acquainted with the fame of the Prince and his horses, but the news of his new fame has just been spread abroad.

In England's future king there seems to be all the qualities of a good sport—at least, he'll want his people to breathe a sufficient amount of fresh air!

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I am not complaining—I am simply telling you how I feel. Sometimes I feel like the belle of the ball, and sometimes I feel like the belated wallflower.

I believe it was Friday, and I was feeling, oh, so fine! A sweet young girl came joyfully into my room and placed a drab garment of some soft texture over me. I had to frown when I felt its awkward creases upon my body, but the girl seemed all eager anticipation and with skilled fingers turned my competent helper into my head. She then made use of me! In a little while, through my power, she made that once drab garment a clinging, folding, beautiful thing. I thrilled under its touch and smiled contentedly.

She gathered the now lovely garment up, and singing a jolly tune unfastened my helper and left. I hated to see her leave, because I missed the caressing touch of the silky garment and was lonesome for the feel of her busy fingers.

But I had not long to wait, for another smiling girl came in, said something about me and connected me wtih a different helper which she immediately began to feel with wet finger tips. I could feel my power coming to the helper and felt so important. The girl began to wind silky locks around the helper's body and then—the tantalizing curls resulting. I almost beamed in my pride. But also—the girl—thoughtless creature—forgot to watch me, and my power, which I could not check, was too great. Something smoked, something smelt, and the helper was jerked from my head, injuring me and stopping my power. The girl stamped her foot and frowning left me alone.

Shortly two more girls came into my room. They had flimsy, limp things over their arms. One of them hooked me up with a helper, my poor head hurting terribly. She also covered me with the thing from over her arm. Minutes passed—the girl waited and I waited. I grew sad as I felt no gush of power coming through my head. Oh, mournful day! I was ruined. My head was broken and could not give power to the helper. The girl sadly gathered up her garment and giving me a scornful look, called to her companions. They said some mean things about me and left. I was horrified for I couldn't help being broken.

Tears came fast. I hated not to be useful and the poor girls seemed so worried about their dresses, for I gathered from their conversation that the dance was to be that night.

Now you see why I feel so badly sometimes and so happy at others. Someone always fixes me when I'm broken, but I stay broken half the time. I wish you would try and help me and ask the careless girls to handle me gently, so I can make wrinkles into soft folds all the time—won't you?

Affectionately your friend,
THE IRONING BOARD.

WHO IS SHE?

Everybody happy? Let's get going! Everyone is awaiting the announcement of the champion tennis player, so look on the bulletin board, find out your opponent and challenge her to a game right away.

The tennis court, number one, is being reserved every day from ten to eleven in the morning and from two to three in the afternoon for these girls who are playing in the tournament. It is requested that other girls do not sign up for that particular court at that time.

At the Eaco Theatre Week Oct. 27-Nov. 1

The Best Sound in Southside Va.

MONDAY and TUES.—"Good News," with Bessie Love, Cliff Edwards, Stanley Smith, Lola Lane, Mary Lawler, and a great supporting cast. Here is the greatest picture of college life ever produced. Based on the famous stage success that ran a year on Broadway. All the fun, romance and excitement of a four-year college course crowded into one great musical comedy. Football thrills, and what a cast! What dancing! The fastest picture ever screened, filled with fun, pep, jazz, music thrills—it has everything, including a romantic love story and a group of wonderful, catchy songs. Made to order for Farmville. Don't miss this treat. Also Aesop Fable in sound.

WED. and THURS.—Nancy Carroll in "The Devl's Holiday," supported by Phillips Holmes, James Kirkwood, Basu Pitts and excellent cast. Never before have you seen Nancy give such a marvelous performance—reach such emotional heights—the greatest production of Nancy Carroll's career. Suckers, sinner, ssaints, she toyed with them, laughed at them, scoffed at them, until she was caught in the web of her own emotions. "Learn my story. Then condemn me if you will, but learn my story." She wanted laughter and love. Men found her attractive. You will find her the most interesting little lady you have met in months. A fast and furious modern merry-go-round of falsehood and frameups—romance and realism. We unhestatingly recommend this picture as one of the best of the season. Also two-reel talking comedy.

FRI. and SAT.—Jack Oakie in "The Social Lion," with Mary Brian, Skeets Galleher and Olive Borden. Two Southern girls carry the feminine roles in this picture—Mary Brian of Texas, and Olive Borden of Richmond. The story of a regular fellow who believes in himself heartily, and who crashes into society's upper crust with a grin and gusto like nobody's business, and gets gay with the gals. He is the life of the party. Hear the Oakie wisecracks, see the Oakie grin in a riot of laughter you will long remember. And a real love stoyr—one girl laughs at him and the other loves him—who wins? Don't miss the thrilling polo game, it is really worth seeing.

NOTE—On Saturday there will be a special matinee at 1:30 p m., for the 4-H clubs of the vicinity, when regular prices will prevail.

Admission: Adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

Two shows each night—at 7:30 and 9:15; daily matinees at 4 p. m. Special matinee Saturday, 1:30 p. m.

LOST—A SPIRIT

Lost, a "Class Spirit" somewhere between the building and the athletic field. Will the finder please return the same to the Junior Class?

Wha'ts the matter with the juniors? Last year the class put out a good, hard-fighting hockey team. But this year it looks as if there will be no team at all. At least there will not be a complete team.

There are over a hundred juniors; yet only five or six appear at the class practices to make ready for the big game Thanksgiving against the husky seniors!

Girls, let's find the "Class Spirit" and return it triumphantly to the hockey field of 1930.

Virginia Tech seems to be busy making preparations for the Maryland cross-country squad on Oct. 24.

FRESHMEN GET RAT CAPS

Continued from page one

men after which there was a short snake dance on the campus. Everyone then returned to the gymnasium and standing under their respective colors sang the Alma Mater.

FRESHMEN NOMINATE

Continued from page one

Secretary:
Louise Van Lear, Lynchburg, Va.
Elizabeth Kelly, Big Stone Gap, Va.
Helen Warren, Norfolk, Va.
Sarah Russell, Zanesville, Ohio.

Treasurer:
Elizabeth March, Holland, Va.
Virginia (Honey) Hamilton, Petersburg, Va.
Mary Nelson, Hampton, Va.
Doreen Smith, Columbus, Ga.

Changing Names Popular Pastime in Soviet Russia

Continued from page one

of this sort. The advertisements show, for example, that citizen Bestolhov wishes to change his name to Olshanshi. The reason apparently is that "Bestolhov means "stupid." Most of the name changers are men.— The Virginian Pilot.

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

EXPERT BRACELET WATCH REPAIRING and AT PRICES THAT WON'T FLATTEN YOUR POCKETBOOK

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

FOR THE LATEST IN Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

At the Head of Your Class
SMARTNESS IS WISDOM

TAUPE ELK LEATHER WITH RUSSIA CALF TRIM RUBBER SOLE

They're Unusually Low Priced

$5

BLACK GUN CALF PATENT LEATHER BRAID TRIM SHORT VAMP, ROUND TOE

Herbert's

720 Main Street, Lynchburg, Va.
419 E. Broad Street, Richmond, Va.

TRY-OUT FOR DEBATE CLUB!

ROTUNDA

THREE CHEERS FOR HOCKEY TEAM!

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1930 No. 5

Installation Held of One Hundred & Twelve Seniors

Class Is Largest Enrolled In the History of the School

DR. JARMAN SPEAKS

One hundred and twelve girls donned with their academic caps and robes, all the dignity and honor befitting seniors last Wednesday evening, October 22 at 6:45, with a beautiful and impressive installation service which formally installed and recognized the class as the largest ever enrolled in the history of the school.

The seniors entered the auditorium each accompanied by her "Little Sister" who carried her cap, while the audience sang the Alma Mater. The invocation was given by Rev. J. A. Redhead, Jr. Elizabeth Taylor, a member of the senior class, accompanied by Mildred Maddrey, also a senior at the piano, sang "The Little Hills Are Calling."

Dr. aJrman, our president, performed the simple installation ceremony after which he addressed the class and student body stressing the supreme value of scholarship in its true meaning and a well-balanced school career.

The senior class as an installed unit of the student body led the recessional from the auditorium.

Meeting of Debate Club on Oct. 23

Members Give Debate.

The Debate Club held its regular bi-monthly meeting in the lounge of the Student Building on Thursday night, October 23.

An extemporaneous debate was given. The question was, Resolved, That it is more advantageous to go to a coed school than to a girls' school. The affirmative was upheld by Carrie De Shazo and Rip Johnson, and the negative by Alice Harrison and Lillian Womack.

Both girls on the affirmative gave some very good reasons why they thought it more advantaegous to go to a coed school than to S. T. C., for instance. Girls could save money if they had boys to take them places and feed them all the time.

On the other hand, the negative argued that it was selfish to expect a boy to spend all his money on a girl, and that it was much more advantageous and delightful to go here where they were not pestered with the male sex except for a few Hampden-Sydney boys on weekends. Without men, who are so highly diverting, one could browse and browse in history books and other weighty subject matter.

Another treat of the evening was the refreshing hot chocolate and cakes that were served. We hope more of our Debate Club meetings will be just as delightful. Everybody will want to try out on November 6. The question will be, Resolved, That the State should give financial aid to the unemployed. Come out, everybody!

Former Student Speaks in Chapel

Experiences She Had During the Five Years in Japan Told by Miss Finch

FINDS S. T. C. CHANGED

Mary Finch, a former student at S. T. C., gave a short talk in chapel Thursday morning. Dr. Jarman introduced her by saying, that while at S. T. C. she was one of its most outstanding members. She was president of the student body, took part in many of its important activities, and was especially interested in quiet, religious work. While here she became a Student Volunteer, and after her graduation attended the Scarritt Bible Training School to prepare for missionary work. Since graduating there she has spent five years in Japan as a missionary, and has taught for three years.

Mary Finch, by way of an introduction, told an interesting account of an experience she had just before leaving Japan. All the children, with whom she had come into close contact, had given her little tokens by which to remember them, except one little girl. This girl went to Mary and told her, that since she had no money with which to buy a present, she had written a little poem for her. This is the poem:

The world changes
Places change, but
People whom we love
Do not change.

So Mary Finch thinks that although Farmville has changed because of its new additions and new faces, the spirit of the school, the spirit of cooperation, has not changed. It still holds a challange for each of its daughters to do her best.

"Your heart shall rejoice and your joy shall be full"—this, Mary Finch said, summed up her feelings concerning her years spent in Japan.

Continued on page three

ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA ELECTS NEW MEMBERS

The Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma wishes to announce the following new members:

A. J. Scott
Henrietta Cornwall
Evelyn Stephenson
Grace Virginia Woodhouse
Jane Brown
Laura Smith

Miss Mary Finch and one of her Japanese friends

THE FRIEBURG PASSION PLAY PRESENTED IN RICHMOND, VA.

The Frieburg Passion Play is being presented in Richmond the week of October 27, 1930 in English. It is playing at the Mosque Theatre.

This play is featuring Georg Fassnacht, Sr., and family of Frieburg, Germany. Georg Fassnacht, Jr., is the fifth generation to enact "The Christus."

"The Passion Play" is veritably a heritage of the ages. Centuries before Shakespeare was born, the Passion Play was given in Frieburg, Germany. It dates from 1264 A. D.

More than a century ago the leading characters of "The Christus" and "Judas" were first enacted by the ancestors of the present interpreter of these roles. With their policy of giving the Passion Play wherever people would see the story of Jesus Christ, they have traveled far east into Russia, west to France, Belgium, and Holland, north as far as Copenhagen, and South into Italy.

Continued on page three

Sophomore Court Holds Trial Of Freshmen Saturday Night

"Know ye, gentlemen of the jury, that in this trial the sophomores have as their purpose the putting of certain freshmen into their proper places"—thus boomed forth the voice of the judge in Sophomore Court on Saturday night and in their places they were put—whether it were an earthworm racing with a brother, extemporaneous speakers extolling the praises of green and white Gallicurci singing The Pagan Love Songs, Gretas enthralling with their charms or what nots (mostly the latter)—these rats felt that henceforth and forever as long as they were freshmen their "state would be not one of exaltation, but rather of subordination, desperation and consternation"—

Clerk Priest expaining to the court that the sophomores brought accusation against the freshmen for "disrespect, disregard, and disreptableness" called out the names of the accused in the order they appeared. Sheriff Moore was dispatched to round up the rats—and proved very efficient in this work with force and firearms frequently furnished.

Tremblingly the rats looked into the stern and serious faces of jurymen Hughes, Royall, Snedegar, Gilliam, Cox, Bunch, Crute, Hancock, Johnson, Ford, Massey, and Gathright and tremblingly looked away,

Continued on page three

Miss Mary Finch Returns to S. T. C.

Former President of the Student Body and Outstanding Leader In Activities

It is with pride and pleasure that students wecomed to S. T. C. last week Miss Mary Douglas Finch, graduate of the class of '22. Miss Finch who arrived in Farmville last Wednesday for a brief visit is now at her home in Chase City, Va., on furlough from Japan where she has been a missionary for the past five years. During her visit here Miss Finch addressed the students on a number of different occasions, her great work and experience being of great interest and help to her audiences. She also spoke at the Methodist Church on Sunday.

While a student at S. T. C. Miss Finch served as President of the student body, president of the Y. W. C. A., and was an outstanding leader in every religious phase of school activity. She was also a member of Pi Kappa Omega.

After graduation Miss Finch taught for a year in Boydton. Then she entered Scarritt Training School at Nashville, Tenn., where she studied for two years. Upon graduation there she was sent to Japan. Her first year was spent in a language school there. The next four years were spent in settlement work and teaching English and Bible at Hiroshima Girls School. Leaving Japan in June Miss Finch traveled through Siberia, Russia, Poland, France, and other parts of Europe, arriving in America in the latter part of August. Upon the termination of her furlough in August, 1931 she will return to Japan to resume her work in the mission field there.

Dot Leonard is Elected Pres. of Freshman Class

Mary Fraser and Louise Van Lear Are Student Council Representatives

MISS HATCHETT IS CLASSMAN

At a meeting of the freshman class, Tuesday evening, October 28, Dorothy Leonard of Richmond, Virginia, was elected president of the class. Dorothy entered S. T. C. at the beginning of the spring term in 1930, but is still of freshman rating. It is thought that the members of the freshman class elected a thoroughly capable president, and not only the freshmen but the uppperclassmen expect to back Dot, as she is well known.

Virginia Ann Huntsberry of Winchester, Va., was elected vice-president. While in high school she was assistant business manager of the year book.

Doreen Smith, of Columbus, Ga., was elected treasurer of the class. While in high school Doreen was treasurer of the glee club, and on the annual staff.

The secretary comes from Big Stone Gap. She is Elizabeth Kelly, who worked on the annual staff in high school.

At a later meeting, Wednesday morning, October 29, the class representatives for the Student Council were elected. They are as follows:

Louise Van Lear
Mary Fraser

Continued on page three

Cunningham Lit'y Society's Service

New Members Installed

The installation service of the Cunningham Literary Society was held Monday night. The president, Lillian Womack, read the pledge, which each new member affirmed. They then lighted their candles from those of the old members and were received as members of the society. The new members are:

Nell Wampler
Catherine Gannaway
Mildred Shelton
Annie McKenney
Margaret Lester
Margaret Tate
Lillian Woodley
Esther Kutz
Louise Ripberger
Inez Hobgood
Georgia Putney
Elizabeth Johnson
Ann Drew
Ruth Reynolds
Frances Grant

Miss Nichols will act as critic. The president read the constitution and gave copies of it to the officers. After the business meeting, several of the new members gave some of their original work as part of the program. It consisted of:

Poem—"Mother", Louise Ripberger
Story—"The Eyes and the Hand", Esther Kutz.
Song—"The Blush Rose", Jane Witt
Ballad—"Hey Diddle O My Love," Inez Hobgood.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

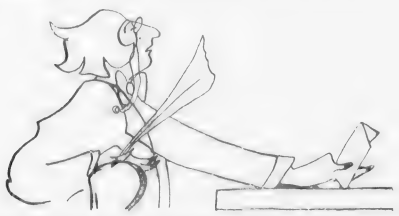
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

What and When

On the back of the light permission cards given to each room there is a verse telling what and when study hour is. Besides being an unusual and excellent description of study hour, if carefully read and heeded by each student, it should prove an excellent guide for a better study hour.

It will do this because our open study hour is created by an atmosphere of study without which it is as any other hour. If from seven-thirty to ten each night we work and study, if there is no yelling, no noise, no Victrolas played, this atmosphere will be promoted. If the thought, "someone might be studying" diverts us from making disturbing sounds, visiting, and makes us consider the other girl it might also make us study more and hence help preserve that atmosphere of study.

The verse on the card tells us of these things. When not using it for light permission let's keep it turned where we see "What and When" study hour is. Soon we shall be unconsciously guided by it and accomplish much from seven-thirty to ten at night. Study hour will mean study hour.

The Latest Form of Advertisement

It has been suggested that the federal government sell the space on postage stamps for advertising purposes.

Though the suggestion seems odd, it is practical. In fact the government and the people would gain much by carrying it out. The returns that would go into the national treasury would undoubtedly be very large, because the space on a postage stamp is greatly exposed to the public. Because of this publicity any company or corporation would be eager to secure such a means of advertising. The stamp "ad" would likely reach everybody—even the poorest, for practically every person in the United States gets a letter at some time or another, then they would see the advertisement. Strange as it may seem, there are many people who aren't able to take the daily newspapers and the magazines that are issued.

Then the money derived from such advertisement could be used to help alleviate some of the suffering and want caused by the drought of this past year, and funds for this purpose would not have to be taken from the money already in he treasury.

If the space on stamps were used for advertising, there would be more room left in magazines and newspapers, for wholesome entertaining reading material a thing which the public not only cries out for, but also demands. Some of the monotony of turning over page after page of advertisements would be eliminated, and the people would enjoy reading the papers and magazines more; and at the same time the advertisers would be greatly benefitted.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Hello! Can I come into your domain for a while? Yeh! I'm so tired of the roommate proving by philosophy that every thing is nothing that I had to come out—she might start on me and the teacher don't have such a high opinion of me now. How about the Soph Court—wasn't it intriguing? (that word is a new addition to my vocabulary and I have to use it some where) and the freshmen. I really don't think we need mention them anymore.

Wasn't Miss Mary's tea just beautiful and that log fire was the prettiest thing ever. And we got rides. My dear, up here—two of them—one ride out and one ride back. Sometimes you start out and only get one ride, you know—(the one going out).

Wasn't that jury at the Sophomore Court the most solemn and awe inspiring thing you've ever seen? I heard some one say they should pass some of that dignity over to some of the seniors. I think they were only joking though, because I don't know a single senior that doesn't have enough dignity to spare. Witness the senior installation—wasn't that a stately and dignified group?

I surely do hate for Freshman Week to be over—we'll never get the respect again that we got this week—not that we don't deserve it, of course!

Wasn't that a horrible gun Sheriff Moore had, but when she stepped on the cat it made more noise than three guns could have made.

Have you had your picture taken yet? I hope the machine lasts until I get mine taken. Did you hear about Bidgee—she signed up for a picture and Mr. Dunbar saw her name on the slip for that afternoon and you know what he did?—He locked up his room and left!

How about those plaits Nellie Green had at Soph Court?—and my dear she had just had the loveliest finger-wave—but Sophomores will be sophomores.

Yonder goes 'Ginia Bledsoe— she always knows where candy is. Guess I'd better follow at a discreet distance. If I hike any, I'll bring you some because I refuse to go down and be proved nothing again.

PICTURES

'O wad some power the giftie gie us
To see oursel's as others see us!"

Oh, if only Burns lived till now his wish would not have been in vain. Five minutes and our likenesses are caught, transferred to material form in the shape of pictures. And lo, we see "oursel's as others see us." No, I beg pardon, we see only part of "oursel's"—for Mr. Dunbar, out of consideration for the camera and our seeing eyes, refused to take full length pictures. Oh, tell us freshmen, the reason why? But what likenesses! Mrs. Sidell last year showed us, perhaps, what we wished to see plus what "ithers see." And because Mr. Dunbar comes through her, I'm afraid we'll again see idea of ourselves, not "ithers." Still, female vanity is never satisfied. There's always one hair out of place, or one small line to mar the face. (I never knew I was a poet before—oh, Burns!) Nevertheless, I'm sure we'll all be pleased for once, Mr. Dunbar (I hope he hears this timid voice) and "see oursel's as ithers see us." And just because I'm interested in everybody, including myself, I hope we justify our pictures. Mother's always told me "Pretty is as pretty does." I wonder now, do I do pretty? Alas, that's what "ithers see"—Burns, thou knowest best. I feel that my voice is leaving me. I fall by the wayside—but, I still bet the pictures are good!

Alumnae Notes

Mrs. William Cabell Flournoy, vice-president of the Virginia Federation of Woman's Clubs, on October 8 spoke before the Ginter Park, Richmond, Woman's Club, her subject being "Art in the Early History of the South." The discussion included such separate phases of art as sculpture, painting, music, poetry and writing. Mrs. Flournoy is an ardent student of Southern life and story, and is considered an authority on the subject.

Some of the alumnae who have wandered far away this year are Miss Sammy Scott, who is teaching in the School for the Blind, Muskogee, Okla., and Misses Annie Alvis, Nettie Moses, Germania Wingo, and Edith Marshall, who are students at Columbia University. Miss Alvis has been principal of John Randolph High School, Cumberland county, for several years. Miss Wingo has been teaching in Kentucky. Miss Marshall, recently a member of the English department and assistant librarian here, has a position in the library at Teachers College while studying for her M. A., specializing in English.

Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson, of Farmville, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Mary Rives, to Edwin Preston Lancaster, of Farmvlle and India. The wedding will take place November 8.

The marriage of Miss Julia Holladay Stover, of Rapidan, to Milton Washington Carothers, of Tampa, Fla., was solemnized in the Waddell Memorial church, Rapidan, on Saturday, October 18, at 8 o'clock in the evening. The ceremony was followed by a reception at "Riverside," the home of the bride's mother. Mrs. Carothers has been teaching in Tampa for a few years.

A very beautiful marriage in the Baptist church of Lewrenceville on Wednesday, October 22, was that of Miss Elizabeth Harrison Elmore, of Lawrenceville, and Edward Carter Field, of Calumba, S. C. A novel feature was the inclusion among the attendants of the miniature bride, whose costume was a duplicate of the bride's and whose bouquet contained the ring; the miniature groom carried the pillow. Prior to the wedding much entertaining was done for Mrs. Field in Lawrenceville, Petersburg and Richmond.

Miss Susie E. Thrift, formerly of Wicomico Church, died at the home of her brother in Baltimore on October 19.

The Farmville Chapter of the Association of Alumnae met in the Tea Room of the College Wednesday, October 22. Mrs. Southall Farrar, the president, presided at the luncheon, which was attended by nearly 40 members and guests. Plans were made for the year's work.

MORNING WATCH HELD

Morning watch was held in the junior parlor Thursday morning. Devotionals were led by Mary Finch. The theme of her talk was "Lead On O King Eternal."

I MUSE

A splashing, clanging, tearing
Hark, I hear!
Strange phantom ships across
The sea appear.
O low sigh, now—again—
It brings a tear.
For friends and loves so
Like the sea I fear.

The swelling, gliding fading
Of the waves
Queer wonders come to me
About the braves
They grow and drift and
Slowly fade away—
Just as the waves they go.
But as the sea—I'll love
Always.

'32

LAVENDER

At sunset on the topmost ridge
Appeared a lovely lavender bridge.

A veil of filmy frothy lace
Was thrown across the mountain's face.

From unseen censors down below
Come lavender incense, soft and slow.

The fragrant perfume of the fays
Was wafted in to sweeten our days.

Twilight lavender and silvery moon beams
Are the things God uses to fashion our dreams.

Easter Souders '32

HOW SWEET IS SLEEP

When on my mind my lessons I would keep,
How often it tells me, "How sweet is sleep."
When on English or Math my thots should be,
"How sweet is sleep," they will whisper to me.

When an essay my mind would formulate,
"You'd better catch hay before it's too late."
O, no more of this ditty will you hear.
For, "how sweet is sleep" just rings in my ear.

M. von Schilling, '32

SONG OF MY HEART

Song of joy in my heart!
Song of love!
Song sent to me from God
In his realm above!
Mystery appealing
Tenderness divine
Simplicity charming
Your heart and mine.
Song of magic destiny—
Free from the world at last!
Hearts beating in harmony
By love bound fast!

M. von Schilling, '32

OCTOBER

October's a thief—
As silently as frail gold leaves
Flutter to browning earth,
As softly as golden shafts of sunlight fall
It steals the heart away.
October's rampant days—
All haunting, intriguing charm.
They beckon with purple mists
And the artistry of her magic touch
Against summer's waning green.

A. D., '31

Vachel Lindsay, well known poet, wrote and recited a poem especially for the occasion of the installation of Dr. Kenneth Irving Brown, 34, as president of Hiram College. Dr. Brown is next to the youngest college president in the world—Old Gold and Black.

$200,000 Relief Fund Considered

Mayor Miller of St. Louis at a conference on unemployment Thursday will outline his plan of appropriating $200,000 for relief.

SOCIALS

Loulie Milner spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Helen Cover attended the dances at Lexington this week-end.

Dorothy Leonard spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

Charlotte Hutchins was at her home in Portsmouth this week-end.

Medora Ford attended the V. M. I. dance at Richmond this week-end.

Jessie Smith and A. J. Scott were guests of Teedo Wilson, Roanoke, this week-end, where they attended the Hampden-Sydney-Roanoke College football game.

Mary Page White spent the week-end at her home at Red Hill.

Martha Walters was at her home in Richmond this week-end.

Mary Arthur Billups and Margaret Eley spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Louise Munt spent the week-end in Petersburg.

Katheryn Waters attended the dance at Lexington this week-end.

Courtney Neale spent the week-end in Richmond.

Caroline Read spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Martha Moore attended the V.M.I. dance at Richmond this week-end.

Frances Parker was the guest of Marion Seay this week-end in Blackstone.

Martha Brothers and Margaret Parker attended the R.-M. C. centennial dances at Ashland this week-end.

Toodles Booth spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Lelia Lovelace spent the week-end in Halifax.

Dorothy Goodloe was in Charlottesvile this week-end.

Margaret McCoy spent the week-end in Lexington.

Margaret Barker spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Corine Mosby was in Norfolk this week-end.

Nancy DeBerry spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Ruth Peery, Sarah Russell Ruth Carney and Louise Borum were in Roanoke this week-end.

Virginia Lamb attended the V.M.I. dances at Richmond this week-end.

Ruth Ford was at her home in Lynchburg this week-end.

Jerry Lee spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Margaret Faris spent the week-end at her home in Red Hill.

Virgnia Marchant attended the V. M. I. dances at Richmond this week-end.

Evelyn Stephenson spent the week-end at her home at University, Va.

Anne McGann attended the dance at Lexington this week-end.

Grace Virginia Woodhouse spent the week-end at her home in Portsmouth.

Sarah Wills spent the week-end in Roanoke.

Janet Harris spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Helen Shawen was in Lynchburg this week-end.

Jacque Lee attended the V. M. I. dance at Richmond this week-end.

Clara MacKenzie attended the dance in Lexington this week-end.

Evelyn Jones spent the week-end with Red Wills in Roanoke, and attended the H.-S.-Roanoke football game.

Y. W. C. A. CABINET MEETS

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet held its regular meeting Saturday afternoon. Mary Finch was the honor guest. The Advisory Board and Freshman Commission were also invited.

Mary told us a great deal about the attitude of the foreign girls to the Y. W. C. A. in the school, and the attitude of their parents. She also touched on the social side of their life.

After playing one of the interesting Chinese games and looking at a number of pictures, delightful refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned.

LONGWOOD FORMALLY OPENED THURSDAY WITH A TEA PARTY

Longwood was formally opened Thursday afternoon with a tea given by Miss Mary. The living was decorated with autumn flowers and leaves and in the reception room a log fire was burning.

The punch bowls were presided over by Adele Hutchinson, Laura Smith, Rose Robinson and Jessie Smith, the heads of the four major organizations in school, the Student Council, Y. W. C. A., Athletic Association and Rotunda.

The guests were received by Miss Mary and the Student Council members of the House Council showed the freshmen and new girls over the lovely old Colonial house.

Although the weather was rather bad there was a large attendance and everyone enjoyed the afternoon.

MISS OLIVER SPEAKS TO BAPTIST GIRLS

Miss Ellen Oliver, Young People's Secretary of Virginia, spoke to the Baptist girls in the student building lounge Sunday afternoon.

Miss Oliver took Christ's last command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature", and applied it to student life on the campus, how one as students could carry out this command. She spoke of the evidence that leads one to believe that Christ's disciples were common men, and it was in their hands that he left his last command.

She gave a picture of the vast work yet to be done over all the earth—the un-Christianized parts of Japan, China, and South America. As Christ challenged those young men nineteen hundred years ago so he is challenging the young people of today—the students right here on our campus.

MISS MARY WHITE COX ENTERTAINS MISS FINCH

A number of close friends and former classmates of Miss Mary Finch enjoyed an informal dinner party given in her honor by Miss Mary Cox on Thursday evening, October 23 at Longwood.

After dinner the group assembled around the large open fire for an hour of pleasant reminiscence. The guest list included:

Miss Mary Finch
Dr. Jarman
Miss Virginia Potts
Miss Winnie Hiner
Miss Mamie Nichols
Miss Helen Draper
Miss Carolyn Cogbill
Miss Susie Floyd
Miss Marian Asher
Miss Mary Derieux
Mrs. Anne Jeffers.

SOPHOMORE COURT HELD SATURDAY NIGHT

Continued from page 1.

anxiously hoping blankly wondering and fearfully expecting—

The courtroom sat spell-bound as Orator Banks, chorus girl Doris and nightingale Carter exhibited their great gifts. Shrieks of laughter and threats of violence greeted the performances of some of the rats and constantly the judge called "Order in the Court!"

The jury after being charged by the judge to be considerate in rendering their verdict of the natural limitations of the rats as a class—to bear in mind their poverty of grey matter and plenty of reed matter—withdrew.

Foreman Royall of the jury forcefully set forth the verdict which had been demanded by Kat Lyons by singing "My Fate is In Your Hand". "Guilty of desirable membership in S. T. C. and of good sportsmanship" issuing from the lips of the foreman broke the tense and terrible silence of the court room.

Sentenced to two years and four years respectively in S. T. C. the Rats burst into cheering and song.

The clerk declared the court adjourned.

SUPPORT THE VOICE

Remember the "Little Brown Bear" of last Monday night? Of course, you do—it represented "The Voice". It is little but it is loud. You will be hearing a whole lot from it from now on. The first thing it has to say now is to announce Ramon Novarro in "The Call of the Flesh" at the Esco Theatre, November 3 and 4. We'll need your support and you will enjoy the movie, students. Don't you fail us! Save now for your ticket.

DOT LEONARD IS ELECTED FRESHMAN PRESIDENT

Continued from page one

They elected Miss Mary F. Hatchett as their class man. Miss Hatchett graduated from S. T. C. last year with many honors. She is a red and white and so is the freshman class.

Thus the freshman class begins its work, and with the brightest of prospects ahead.

FRIEBURG PASSION PLAY IN RICHMOND

Continued from page one

In the summer of 1922, more than 60,000 Americans vistied Frieburg to see these people enact this drama. Hundreds urged the company to come to America. They came the summer of 1928 beginning at St. Joseph, Missouri. Since that time they have performed in nearly every major city of the central west, and were presented at the New York Hippodrome for six weeks in the spring of 1929 by Morris Gest.

MARY FINCH SPEAKS IN S. T. C. CHAPEL

Continued from page one

The influence Christianity has had and is having on Japan is the cause of this feeling of joy, she said.

This influence has been brought about by the work of missionaries among the lepers, by English teaching, Christian music, the building of settlement houses, day nurseries, orphanages, and above all things—churches. There are also government and mission schools that have aided greatly in bettering the conditions in Japan. Because of the Christian press, pamphlets and papers are sent to the people who have no opportunity to attend churches.

The native Christians, however, are seeking the truth. They have taken advantage of every opportunity, and do not lose courage and hope although they face persecution and even ostracism.

Now the question is, "What can we do?" All can't go, all can't give, but all can live the best lives they are capable of living in America, for the Japanese look to American and are influenced by what Americans do.

In conclusion, Mary Finch said that each one has a part in bringing the kingdom of God to Japan, by living true Christian lives and thus bringing an answer to the Lord's Prayer.

THOMAS TOURS

Private—First Class—Personally Conducted.

Spend Christmas in Lovely and Gay Havana. Same tour in February. It is only by comfortable motor that we can appreciate fully the "Land of Sunshine and Tropical Flowers".

Motoring through Havana and Rural Cuba. "The Loveliest Land that Human Eyes have ever seen"—motoring and sightseeing down the East Coast, through the Everglades and Bird Sanctuary, through the "Ridge Section" along West Coast and Silver Springs, including the most wonderful marine gardens.

Other Personally Conducted Tours
General Europe and the British Isles Mostly by motor—10 countries in 62 days—$825.
Central Europe and the Scandinavian Countries. Greatly by motor—10 countries—55 days—$785.
Southern and Central Europe, England and Passion Play—8 countries—51 days—$665.
Mediterranean Cruises $420—Round the World Cruise—West Indies Cruise—Bermuda—$90 up.
Pacific Northwest and California $410 University California Tours $275—Northeast and Canada tours $188 — Independent travel.
Write for booklets & information
ROY Z. THOMAS, A. M., PH. D.
Rock Hill, S. C.

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

It's very seldom you can talk with a girl like Loulie Milner and feel her wonderful personality, but then it's very seldom you can talk with a girl like Loulie Milner.

* * *

I can't see why a girl like Doris Walton would want to work so little and play so much. What does she work for?

* * *

Virginia Witt can't understand why a rat came up to her and asked how she rated not wearing tennis shoes last week.

* * *

It's an injustice to say Alice Covington only likes steadies, athletics, and Shannon's. Alice only likes Shannon's.

* * *

It would be great to be a senior and act dignified, but it must be greater to be a sophomore and act horsey.

* * *

Some people just are musical—
Some people just are studious
Some people just are artistic—
Jack and Chic just are.

* * *

The girls who don't understand why jokes are always written on them are those girls who don't understand that they are always big jokes.

* * *

It takes something funny and a lot of it to make me laugh. Alice Moore has both qualifications.

* * *

From year to year we've always had "Rats". We can't get rid of them so soon. Besides t'would be a shame to make them sophomores without giving them a chance to do something about it.

* * *

Rene Greaves taught her children that the world is their playground. Now she has them studying maps to find out where they can play.

* * *

Katherine Royster says if love makes the world go round, she's ready to give us a good whirl anytime.

* * *

Catherine Marchant says it makes her sick to think. I've never seen a girl remain in such an eternal state of health.

The remarkable thing is not that money makes fools of great people but that it makes great people fools.—Davenport Times.

Like Randolph-Macon College, V. P. I. is also conserving its water supply. The water situation there is not as acute as it is at Randolph-Macon, but the authorities are requesting the students not to use any more water than is necessary. The V. P. I. radio broadcasting station has recently been improved by installing curtains to eliminate echoes, while separate studios have been provided for speaking and musical numbers. The newest type of microphones has been installed to give the listeners the best possibe tone and clearness.

G. F. Butcher & Co.

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES

WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP

AND LEATHER USED

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS
Just One Block from Campus

FROM THE BOTTOM
OF OUR HEART

We would like to have your orders

—for—

DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY

PREPARATIONS

Canada Drug Co.

Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

COTILLION CLUB DANCES ARE ALMOST HERE

DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!

We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Three piece suits the kind that sells for $5.95. All colors and sizes $5.59

Newest fall shoes, low, medium and high heels. Prices $2.98 $3.95 and $5

26 sample sport coats, Princess style Special $9.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

JOKES

Twin Rowell: "Mr. French, is liquor a mixture, or a compound?"

Mr. French: "That depends on who takes it."

A card from a member of the faculty who was abroad to an S. T. C. student: "This is the cliff from which the Spartans used to throw defective children. Wish you were here."

Catherine McAllister: "There was a lion laying in front of me—"

Miss London: "Lying, my dear, lying."

Catherine McAllister: "Well, I'll swear on my oath that I'm telling the truth."

We shall stand and sing the cider song, "You Ferment For Me."

As the senior said when he went to see the Dean the second time, "I remember you from somewhere."

Mary Frances Canady: "Why is that cat looking at me so hard."

Margaret Varner: "That's the plate we fed the poor little thing in."

The difference between blonds and brunettes—hydrogen peroxide.

Dr. Simkins: "Shall we adopt the little street urchin?"

Mrs. Simkins: "Aw, why bring that up."

Laura Smith: "You're on the basket ball team, aren't you, dear?"

Margaret Banks: "Well, I do aerial work."

Laura: "What's that?"

Margaret: "I blow up the balls."

"I don't mind the licking," said the freshman, "but I think it cowardly to do it behind my back."

Mary Alice Young: "Are you sure this is young chicken?"

Mrs. "Certainly, didn't I say it was spring chicken."

Mary Alice: "How many springs?"

There was once a traveling salesman.

? ? ? ?

Censored!

In the country town of——— they couldn't decide whether to pray for rain, or write to Hoover.

"Two good aids to health" swim regularly and drink plenty of water. (They should be done separately.)

Husband: "These potatoes are only half cooked."

Wife: "Eat the half that's cooked."

"Is this beef or mutton, waiter?"

"Can't you tell by taste?"

"No."

"Then it doesn't make any difference."

Cody Neale (to new pupil): "How does it happen that your name is Allen and your mother's name is Brauer?"

Pupil: "She married again, I didn't."

"Jackie", said mother, "didn't your conscience tell you not to do that?"

"Yes, mother," said Jackie, "but you said not believe everything I hear."

Mrs.—How do you suppose all of those empty bottles got in our cellar, dear?"

Mr.: "I don't know. I've never bought an empty bottle in my life."

ATHLETICS

CHEER LEADER

Ida Trolan

Ida Trolan, of the Class of '31, has been elected varsity cheer leader for this year. In three more weeks Trolan is going to need the help of every single student to back the varsity in their first home game. Here's a cheer for our cheer leader!

TENNIS TOURNAMENTS IN FULL SWING

The tennis matches are being played off and interest is at a high pitch. If you are signed up to play, do it as soon as possible as the first rounds are to be played off by the end of this week. The contestants are:

L. Darington
Enza Evans
G. Sugdan
M. Cralle
H. Westmoreland
M. Gunter
D. Reed
M. Nelson
M. Perkinson
E. Walthall
M. Bernier
D. Snedegar
E. Coleman
S. Wills
E. Simpson
F. Edwards
A. Oliver
N. Stokes
M. Maddrey

TRYOUT FOR THE DEBATE CLUB

There will be a Debate Club tryout for both freshmen and upperclassmen on Thursday, Nov. 6. The tryouts will be held in the Student Building auditorium at seven o'clock. The question is, "Resolved that states should give financial aid to the unemployed." Choose either side that you wish, and show in a two or three minute talk why you chose this side. There is a convicing argument for either side. Financial aid might make the unemployed lazy and shiftless, relying on the state to keep them up or a little encouragement might start them on the road to success. Which do you believe. Why? Tell us at the Debate Club try-outs— Thursday, November 6.

Look, isn't that an Austin?
Quick, my magnifying glass.

S. T. C. VARSITY GOES TO WILLIAM AND MARY COLLEGE

The varsity hockey squad has been practicing hard every day. It has developed fine post work, teamwork and accuracy on the forward lines. The half-backs are at the right place at the right time. They easily break up the dribbles and passes and send the ball to their forwards. When it comes to the full backs, they are on the job with their level heads and strong arms ready to send the ball down the field. The goal-keepers are ready with their vigilance, accuracy and alertness to keep the ball out of the goal, if by chance it gets that far.

On Friday, October 31, about twenty girls will leave for William and Mary, in order to enter the hockey torunament. The tournament is composed of the following teams: Hollins, Harrisonburg, Westhampton, Sweet Briar, and William and Mary.

At the close of the tournament on Saturday an exhibition game will be played by United States hockey team. This game will be both very enjoyable and beneficial to all.

Our coaches and our squad have worked willingly and constantly in order that our Blue and White will shine. Student Body, come out in front of the Rotunda immediately after breakfast on Friday and show the girls that you are backing them and you know they will put S. T. C. on top.

You are going to come out and give them a big send-off, aren't you?

HEAD OF TENNIS

Jim Simpson

At Eaco Theatre Week of Nov. 3-8

"The Best Sound in Southside Va."

MONDAY and TUES.—Ramon Novarro in "Call of the Flesh," supported by Dorothy Jordan, Renee Adoree, Nance O'Neil, and Ernest Torrence. One woman, wise in the ways of the world, demanded his love. Another, reared in innocence, had the key to his heart. A passionate, colorful romance of a singer of Seville that fits Novarro's great tarents perfectly. In the sequences that show Novarro as the toast of the Spanish capital, the lion of the musical world and the idol of every feminine heart, Ramon contributes the finest acting and singing of his career . His operatic numbers from Pagliacci are superb. A picture not to be missed nor forgotten. Also Aesop Fable.

WED. and THURS.—Fox Movietone Follies of 1930, with El Brendel, Marjorie White and an all star cast. Here you have romance, comedy, song and dance rolled into one of the greatest picture offering of the year. Love always finds a way. When Conrad Sterling's show girl sweetheart refused to keep their usual Sunday date, he hired the show for a private performance. And what a show! More than 350 girls and boys strutting their stuff and singing the latest musical hits. You will laugh at the buffoonery of El Brendel and Marjorie White. You will be charmed with Buster Collier's and Miriam Seegar's romance; by Frank Richardson's and Noel Francis' singing. You will marvel at the stupendous dance ensembles and you will whistle the tunes you hear. Just a great big evening of real entertainment awaits your coming, so be sure to come. Also two reel talking comedy.

FRIDAY and SAT.—"Young Man From Manhattan," featuring Claudette Colbert, supported by Charles Ruggles, Ginger Rogers and Norman Foster. This picture is from the novel by Katherine Brush and has been flawlessly translated to the screen. It is a fast-moving, absorbing and believable story of a young newspaper man and his wife and the efforts of another woman to win the husband. She plays a losing game, but it takes a tragedy to make the husband open his eyes to how near he comes to losing his wife who he really loves. Miss Colbert gives a grand performance as the neglected wife and Chas. Ruggles and Norman Foster are excellent in their parts. A picture that will be throughly enjoyed by the intelligent theatre-goer. Also Pathe News and two-reel talking comedy.

Two shows each night—7:30 and 9:15. Daily matinees 4 p. m.

Admission, adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

EXPERT BRACELET WATCH REPAIRING and AT PRICES THAT WON'T FLATTEN YOUR POCKETBOOK

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

FOR THE LATEST IN Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

At the Head of Your Class
SMARTNESS IS WISDOM

TAUPE ELK LEATHER WITH RUSSIA CALF TRIM RUBBER SOLE

They're Unusually Low Priced

$5

BLACK GUN CALF PATENT LEATHER BRAID TRIM SHORT VAMP, ROUND TOE

Herbert's

720 Main Street, Lynchburg, Va.
419 E. Broad Street, Richmond, Va.

WATCH OUT FOR THE PARADE!

ROTUNDA

COME TO THE CIRCUS

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1930 No. 6

Art Exhibit to be Held at Hampden-Sydney Nov. 6-7

Mrs. B. King Couper to Show Paintings in The Alamo For Hospital Benefit.

IS MOTHER OF MRS. REYNOLDS

Mrs. B. King Couper, of Spartanburg, S. C., will have an exhibition of her paintings on November 6 and 7, from 2 to 6 p. m., at Hampden-Sydney College. The pictures will be hung in The Alamo, the building to the west of Cushing Hall, on College campus.

Mrs. Couper is one of the most noted Southern artists. She is a member of the Association of American Women Sculptors and Artists, and is also a member of the Southern Arts League, and is listed in the Metropolitan Museum among the American painters. She was a pupil of William M. Chase and Elliott Dangerfield, of New York; Breckenridge, of Gloucester, Mass., and of Andre Lhote, of Paris.

Mrs. Couper has exhibited in Atlanta, Philadelphia, New York and other cities. Her pictures cover a wide field of subjects, including portraiture, landscape, and still life. The paintings are mostly done in oils, although there are several pastels.

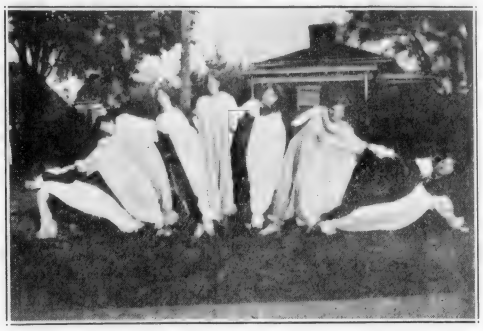
Last summer Mrs. Couper painted in Brittany, and some of these scenes from the coast of France form an interesting part of the exhibit.

At present the exhibit is being held by Mrs. Brown in New York city, at the Art Center, Inc., 65 East 56th street, and it is this exhibit that she has consented to bring to Hampden-Sydney.

An entrance fee of 25 cents will be charged, but to the students of the State Teachers College and Hampden-Sydney will be given a special rate of 10 cents, which will also apply to all pupils of the public schools of Farmville and Worsham. All the gate receipts will go to the Southside Community hospital, Mrs. Couper having generously agreed to make no charge for express and packing.

It is hoped that the loan of this exhibit will stimulate the appreciation of art in the community as well as aid in swelling the hospital fund.

Continued on page three



NOBEL MEDICINE PRIZE GOES DR. LANDSTREINER

First of Year's Prizes Announced

To a New York bacteriologist and pathologist, Dr. Karl Landsteiner goes this year's Nobel prize for medicine. It is the first of the year's awards to be announced, and the money gift attendant upon it will amount to about $48,000.

Dr. Landsteiner, who was born in Vienna in 1868, has been connected since 1922 with the Rockefeller Institute. He has written numerous papers on medical subjects connected with bacteriology and pathology. — The Richmond News Leader.

THE CIRCUS TUMBLERS

Circus day has come again
See the funny tumblin' men
See the elephants and seal
And the monkeys on the wheel—
Come on people
Don't delay
And miss the fun
Of circus day!

Christian Endeavor Conference Oct. 31

W. Roy Breg and Stanley B. Vandersall Were Speakers at the Presbyterian Church

The Christian Endeavor Conference was not as well attended as it had been hoped that it would be. The principal address was given at the 7:30 session by Mr. Vandersall, and it was very inspirational. He told of the International C. E. convention which was held in Berlin, and of the expression of the spirit of Christian love and fellowship which existed there.

Despite the other socials, lectures, and functions which were in abundance in town on Friday, October 31, the meeting was a success. The two churches from Cumberland had delegates to attend and the following churches also were represented: Worsham, Appomattox, and the Farmville Presbyterian church. Hampden-Sydney was represented, too. The union is to be congratulated for the splendid speakers which iht brought to this conference, and members of Christian Endeavor are looking forward to the next program of this type.

ADMIRAL RICHARD E. BYRD GIVEN CROSS

Award of the navy cross to Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd for "extraordinary heroism in the line of his profession as commanding officer of the Byrd Antarctic Expedition" has been announced by Secretary Adams. The citation particularized the 'hazardous flight" over the South Pole on November 29, 1929, as "made under extreme conditions of cold, over ranges and plateaus extending 9,000 to 10,000 feet above sea level, and beyond probable rescue of personnel had a forced landing ensued."

This is the fourth high reward bestowed upon Admiral Byrd by his country, having received the Congressional Medal of Honor and the Distinguished Service Medal for his North Pole flight and the distinguished Flying Cross for his flight over the Atlantic.—The New York Times.

Element'y Teachers Club Has Program

Evelyn West In Charge

E. T. C., the professional club for elementary teachers which was founded here this fall, held its first program meeting in the Y. W. C. A. lounge Saturday morning. The topic was Hallowe'en, and Evelyn West was in charge of the program as she is chairman of program committee.

Anna Drew gave a talk on "Origin and History of Hallowe'en." Dramatic interpretation of "Brownie Dance" and "This is the Night of Hallowe'en" were rendered by French Hutt, Elizabeth Levick, Ida Trolan, Jane Brown and Inez Hobgood. Gladys Meador gave "Suggestions for Correlation of Hallowe'en with school subjects" and Doris Burroughs tol dof "Hallowe'en Citizenship."

The remainder of the time was devoted to business matters.

Circus To Be Held At State Teachers College Saturday, November 8th

College Gives An Annual Circus For Benefit.—The Public Is Invited

EVERY ORGANIZATION WILL ACT

The annual College Circus will be held at S. T. C. on Saturday, November 8. The circus parade will be at 2 p. m. The circus performance at 8 p. m. in the College gymnasium. Every organization of the school will put on a stunt. The organization having the best stunt will be awarded a prize by the judges selected. The following stunts will be given:

Klever Klass Performances
Timid Totters on Tight Ropes
Modern Aesop's Fables.
Tin Pan Tappers
Check and Double Check

* * *

Wild Animal Act
Animated Animals, Awful and Atrocious.

* * *

Ship A'hoy
A Light House, A Fight, and—

* * *

A Real Tarba
Unce Remus Has Come to Town

* * *

Tuesday Night Terror
A knock on the door at midnight—
Who will be next?

* * *

Ben Hur Buggy Race
Dashing, Running, fastest race ever been in town.

* * *

Brilliant Bull Fight

* * *

?

* * *

Fire! Fire!! Fire!!
How did it happen? Was anyone hurt?

* * *

The Terrible Tragedy
How many were killed?

* * *

Reading, 'Riting, 'Rithmetic
Smartest children that ever happened.

* * *

The Elopement
A humanly possible act.

* * *

Ssh! No Talking, Please!
What? Where? When?

* * *

It Pays To Advertise

Continued on page three

Dr. Jones Gives Two Lectures

On Friday afternoon and evening in the auditorium, Dr. Jones, assistant professor of Geography at Clark University, Wooster, Massachusetts, delivered two illustrated lectures based on two years of research and study in special geography in South America.

Dr. Jones chose for his afternoon lecture Chile, in many respects the most interesting area of the South American continent. Chile, because of its wealth is known as the C of the ABC Republic. Its development from a very small and handicapped area was interestingly described and some of its most important industries, its unique and indirect means of transportation and desert areas were showed in slides made from Dr. Jones' own photographs.

At seven o'clock in the auditorium Dr. Jones delivered the second of his lectures having the Argentine as his subject. This country was discussed in the same manner. Dr. Jones brought many unrealized facts regarding his study in the South American republic, their rising economic importance and phenominal development.

MUSICAL PROGRAM IS GIVEN IN CHAPEL

The Music Department is presenting a series of programs to the student body in order to help them appreciate better music.

Saturday morning the second program was given in chapel as follows: The orchestra played two numbers: Flower Song—Lange. Mosquitos Parade—Whitney and Miss Purdom sang a solo: Evening by Landon Ronald.

S. T. C. Girls and H.-S. Boys Are Highly Entertained by Indian Quartet

A bright harvest moon, a quartet of talented Indians, several score of fair damsels from S. T. C., and the members and friends of the Hampden-Sydney Student Christian Association were among the factors that made up the social given last Friday evening at H. S. C. by the S. C. A., a hug success.

To start off the evening, the guests were entertained in the College Chapel by a quartet of Indians, traveling on the Lyceum circuit and who presented the first of the programs of the year at Hampden-Sydney. The company was composed of two braves and a pair of squaws, who delighted the audience with their song and dance program. Chief Ishtishti was the leader of the quartet and was the first to give impersonations of typical Indian life through their songs, both in the dialect and translated into English. He also sang several love songs and several numbers. Miss Dunn accompanied him at the piano.

The third member of the cast was Miss Greer who answered to the brave's love-call and came out and walked beneath his blankets. Later she pleased the audience by several whistling and dialect story numbers.

Brave "Blue Eagle" translated as "Something Unusual," was the fourth member of the company. Mr. Acee (American name) was once a star on the football team of the Haskell Indians, where, he was educated. He also made the costumes of the entire company after collecting the material himself. Mr. Acee was the big dance man of the troupe and brought down the house by a rendition of several "pow-wow" dances.

Immediately after the entertainment in the chapel, the guests were invited over to the gymnasium where refreshments were served by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Students Christian Association. Following this was a social hour which was the final feature of the evening, after which the girls were told it was time to return to Farmville and "home."

PLANS OF DRAMATIC CLUB UPWARD BOUND!

Minor Play Given Before Club

The plans of the S. T. C. Dramatic Club are rapidly being fulfilled. The try-outs fo rthe main play have been held and the chosen characters are practising regularly now.

The members of the Dramatic Cub are also practising for a minor play. This play will only be given before the members of the Club. There are three characters in the play, "The Dear Little Wife." Those taking part are: Dorothy Prescott, the wife; Alice Lee Schenk, the husband, and Margaret Armstrong, the lover. This play is not only creating interest among the members but it is giving them more practise in dramatics and is making them better prepared for their future career.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

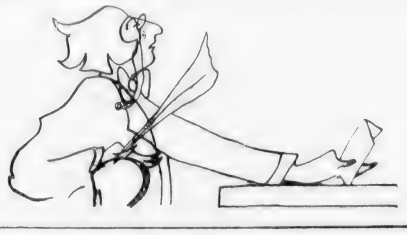
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

You Can Too

Everyone is trying to make this circus the best that has ever been put over at S. T. C. You can help, too! It's the little bit that you can do which will help put the circus over in the right way.

We not only want you to help us by working, but by enjoying the circus that big night. Come and bring your friend, your boy friend if necessary. You can make the crowd at least one larger, and perhaps as many as two or three larger if you bring your friends.

You can, too, can't you? Make this circus the biggest and best ever known at S. T. C.

Let's Grow Up

How does it make you feel when there comes a succession of "sh—shs" in chapel after a whispered murmur goes over the auditorium when a speaker is announced? It make me feel that I've gone back to my childhood days when Mother would say "sh—" at me if I spoke in church. Is this "sh—sh" necessary in chapel? It shouldn't be if we have grown up and expect to be teachers.

Girls, let's each of us set an example for some one else then our chapel will be devoid of noise and "sh—" will be completely vanished.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Ann, don't put the light out, I want to talk some more. What? All right, turn it out but I've got to say what's on my mind.

Do you think Medora Ford is in love? Why? Well—she walks around like she's in a daze all the time. It must be nice, but can't say's I am. There I go talking just like Martha Waters and Doris Walton. Ain't it awful the way we lose our individuality at college. I'm beginning to wonder if mother will know me. How could she help it? Why, Ann!

Ann——! Are you listening to me? Don't go to sleep. You're beginning to be a second Ella. All right—all right!

Wish I'd been here for sing Saturday night. Everyone says it was grand. Dr. Jarman and everybody else on stage in person; Mr. Bell, Miss Mary and Miss Maudie K. Taliaferro. Why wasn't I born twins.

Ann, I've an idea. Ann—! Did you hear me? Let's go out for hockey. Why the hockey team with Misses Iler and Hatchett drove to Williamsburg with the cutest truckman, if that's what you'd call him. Wonder if Cleo exerted her charms? Her name should have helped her out.

Ann, what's wrong with me? I can't make any time with anybody but Cousin Tommy and every other girl on campus can do that too. Let's write Dorothy Dix. Gee, that is a thought. I bet Mootz Dortch kept up a heavy correspondence with her last year. That girl always had ten at least on her string.

I wish you could see the moon, Ann — It's gorgeous . . . And here I am—in bed—no man—no nothing, except of course, your charming company—and that's not even helping me out now, 'cause you won't talk or listen either one.

I wonder how many lonesome boys are watching this moon tonight. I bet there better be one lonesome one. Oh, I'd die if I thought he was out—but then, I guess I'd be if I could. Still, I know he isn't. "Vanity thy name is woman"—vanity—vanity? That's not right. Oh, well, t'will do. Ann—Ann! Oh, you've gone to sleep. Certainly is lonely in here. "Ah cursed spite that ever I was born to set it right!" Shakespeare, you spake the truth if I ever heard it . . . This bed does feel good—wish I had another piece of cake, Tommie makes such good cakes. Wonder what we'll have for breakfast. Mustn't forget to tell Martha to write the article for the Rotunda, mustn't forget. Wonder if Doris is really a—, wonder if—, oh sleep, I feel they soothing touch. I hate to waste time but you win. Good night, Ann, sweet dreams, I'll see you in my— I bet Doris is a —what the heck are things? Can't remember. Sleep, you rob me of my senses. Isn't that funny. Ha—ha—um —m— Aw, goodnight, peaceful world —good ni—moon—love him so m-u-c-h!

SHALL WE MEDITATE?

To meditate or not to meditate happens to be the question. What to do with Sunday afternoons is one of the big problems of practically all students. Meditation hour, the term applied to the time between two and four o'clock, is a misnomer, since the word, according to Funk & Wagnall's, means thought or contemplation having for its subject the correction of one's life.

As it is, there are several ways to spend Sunday afternoon without breaking the regulations, saying that no one must be on campus.

First, there is the student who has been staying up late all week and simply must catch up on her sleep.

Second, there is the one who thinks she has been working rather hard and deserves a rest. A rest to her means loafing all afternoon and ruining her health by stuffing herself with all kinds of sweets and sandwiches.

Then there is the girl who is never up on her work. Just as soon as dinner is over, she puts up a "busy" sign, which stays up until supper time and perhaps until 11 o'clock. All this time she is in there studying, wearing herself out.

We wonder if the solution to the Sunday afternoon problem is not quite simple, after all. We have a suggestion to make, that we think the majority of students will like very much.

We wish that the reading room might be left open on Sunday afternoons and nights. If this were done, many girls who do not have time to read the magazines and newspapers during the week, or the student teacher, to be specific, would have time to acquaint themselves with the news of the day.

Those three groups mentioned before, the chronic sleeper, the loafer, the student who wears herself out, and also the habitual wallsitter, would have a really worthwhile way in which to spend their time.

The current religious literature, of which we have a great deal, would perhaps be more widely known than as a mere title, as is the case now.

In time, the library reading room would become a place of restful, recreative reading, if not meditation.

A STUDENT.

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

Cov wouldn't tell Buster she loved him so the poor boy had to squeeze it out of her.

• • •

Caroline Reed says she has two kinds of professors. One gives her insomnia and the other might cause her to pull a nervous breakdown. We know she hasn't got a nervous breakdown.

• • •

I'm happy to announce that no senior has sustained any violent injuries due to the after chapel rush for the door. Two have minor feet injuries due to trying to horn ahead of the freshmen.

• • •

Helen Cover adds that though "Ignorance is bliss" she wishes Bruce Clark wouldn't stay blissful all the time.

• • •

Ben thinks Butsey is all right, only there is just no getting around her.

• • •

It must be hard on the high school heroines coming to college. Instead of everyone falling at their feet, they fall upon their rear.

• • •

A. J. Scott says she wouldn't marry Cottie Willis told me she worked Cupid to shoot her with a Pierce-Arrow.

• • •

Cottie Willis told me sheh worked years to get her face in its present condition. It certainly is wonderful how we can waste so much time doing absolutely nothing.

• • •

I wish someone would tell me why Mary Alice Young keeps walking down to Shannon's and back. Why does she walk back?

• • •

There's really no sense in Rene Greaves always making so much noise, but there's really no sense in Rene Greaves.

• • •

The idea of Sam saying he left Dolly Reed without reason. I don't think she's a bit different in that respect.

• • •

It makes me furious to hear girls say that the food here is terrific and awful. My vocabulary isn't large and I can think of some things heaps more expressive.

A WEE BOY'S SENTIMENTS

Muvver, please let go my shirt
I won't get my suit fulla dirt
I wanna see the funny man
An' all the monkeys on the stand.
Aw—muvver, I won't go too far
There's 'at great big iron bar,
Lemme go stand close up there
And look at that ole grisly bear.
Aw, Muvver, I'm a great big boy,
You treat me like I was a toy
Aw, can't a kid see the world?
I'm no sissy, cryin' girl—
I'm gonna join the circus now!
Aw gee, I bet I'd be a wow!
I hope your Muvver held skirts
When you was little, 'cause gee, it hurts
To see the circus p'rade go on
'N get left up here all sad n' forlorn.
When I get big 'n' be a man
I'm gonna own the whole whiz-bang!

TO—

What sweetness I do find
In the graceful curves
Of those lips of thine
They sing a melody
Of wisdom and of gaiety.
In laughter they do find a way
To make happiness hold sway
And in repose, dear heart
They sing so soft a note of tenderness
That thrills within my being
A love of thee.
Your lips, dear heart,
To me portray
A soul divine and lovely.

K. E. S.

THOUGHTS

The moon,
A white rose in my hand
A whispered prayer for you.
A smile,
A tear-drop on my hand
A silent wish for you.
The moon,
A white rose in my hand
And love is born anew.

Loulie Millner, '32

I SHALL NOT FORGET YOU

I shall not forget you,—no!
Live a million years or so,
The twinkle in your eye will be
An inspiration, e'er, to me.

I could not forget you,—you,
The sound of whose very name
Causes a secret flood of warmth
And a slight catching of breath.

I shall remember you when earth
Ceases to twinkle with laughter and mirth
Your soothing voice shall glide to me
Thru ether-waves from eternity.

You'll not remember me,
For you went away,
Forgetting immediately
All that I'd say.

But, I forget the little compliments paid
Merely because they were unmeant when said?
No, I remember and cherish each one in my heart
Counting them of my life a part.

A. G. H., '31

THE SUNLIGHT IN THE TREES

Did you hear the sunlight in the trees
As we walked past today?
It sang a song of glory—grand, sublime in mighty strength
It sang a song of towering heights
That took me off aloft
It sang—
Did you hear it?

'32

SOCIALS

Louise Munt spent the week-end in Petersburg.

Carolyn Cogbill spent the week-end in Richmond.

Evelyn Stephenson was in Charlottesville this week-end.

Katherine Waters spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Elsie Burgess attended the game and dance at Annapolis this week-end.

Alice Covington attended the home-coming game and dance at Washington and Lee this week-end.

Nancy Harrison spent the week-end in Petersburg.

Renie Greaves attended the game and dance at W. & L. this week-end.

Jerry Lee attended the dances at Charlottesville this week-end.

Helen Warren attended the game and dance at Annapolis this week.

Frances Coleman spent the week-end in Culpeper.

Virginia Lamb spent the week-end in Petersburg.

Mary Arthur Blliups attended the Washington and Lee dances at Lexington this week-end.

Martha Higgins spent the week-end at her home in Waverly.

Winston Cobb spent the week-end at her home in Sebrell.

Virginia Young attended the dances at Annapolis this week-end.

Margaret Eley attended the dances at Lexington this week-end.

Loulie Millner and Ann Guy were in Lynchburg this week-end.

Betsy Wilkinson spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Julia and Frances Martin were the guests of Josie Spencer a ther home in Lynchburg this week-end.

Virginia Bledsoe spent the week-end in Roanoke.

Kathryn Royster was in Lynchburg for the week-end.

Virginia Sargent attended the dances at Lexington this week-end.

Virginia Hamilton spent the week-end at her home in Petersburg.

Miss Camper and the Misses London attended the D. A. R. Convention in Lynchburg on Tuesday. In the afternoon they were entertained at tea at Popular Forest.

The following girls attended the Frieburg Passion Play in Richmond on Saturday: Catherine Cogbill, Helen Cover, Adele Hutchinson, Rena Robertson, Martha Faris, Mary Page White, Catherine Jones, Margaret Gathright, Jane Royall, Virginia Bailey, Elizabeth Drewry Sarah Lee Scott, Hilda Harvey, Cassie Laird, Clare Mister, Eugual Baker, Mrs. C. W. Harvey, Elizabeth Stoutamire, Mary Custis Burwell, Hariet Moomaw, Mary Louise Black, Marion Moore, Mary Alice Bristow, Esther Kutz, Frances Newman, Josephine Bland, Mary Ellen Johnson, Sarah Hyde Thomas, Chrystie Stokes, Ruth Hall, Marie Bentley, Allise King, Evelyn Abernathy, Ella Hunt Davis, Louise Spracher, Estelle Jones, Lydia Harrell.

The following girls attended the S. C. A. social at Hampden-Sydney on Friday night: A. J. Scott, Nancy Harrison, Martha Sanders, Mary Shelton, Hazel Holloway, Helen Rose Cunningham, Nancy Shaner, Nan Mears, Virginia Hamilton, Margaret Young, Mary Easley Hill, Frances Lewis, Vilma Quarles, Virginia Lamb, Louise Spracher, Fleetwood Thompson, Evelyn Jones, Ann Davis, Jessie Smith, Margaret Hamlet, Bertie Lang, Marjorie Yancy, Jane Gray Irby, Gladys Matthews, Ethel Harper, Agnes Lee Grigg, Ruth Carney, Louise Borum, Sally Russell, Ruth Peery, Missie Bernier, Betty Watts, Mickey Brewster, Gazelle Ware, Nancy Ross, Catherine Waters, Margaret Banks, Pattie Ellison Toodles Booth, Nancy de Berry, Polly Brock, Ann Wingo, Mary Ellen Cato Catherine Jones, Elsie Holland, Ruth Tune, Joyce Sturm, Helen Cover, Frances Crawford, Margaret Gathright, Martha Walters, Goldie Boggs, Mary Harrison, Doris Walton, Martha Faris.

SORORITY TEAS WERE FEATURE THIS WEEK

The series of sorority teas began Monday at four in the Pi Kappa Sigma chapter room with an informal tea given, judging from costumes and decorations into a Pirate night club.

A formal colonial tea with its tall candles, nosegays, and long flowing dresses was given on Tuesday in the Mu Omega chapter room.

Wednesday the spirit of Hallowe'en pervaded the delightful party at which the Zeta Tau sorority was hostess.

The Delta Sigma Chi sorority was at home to its patrons and rushees on Thursday afternoon. The chapter colors of green and white were effectively used.

SORORITIES ANNOUNCE NEW MEMBERS

The Alpha Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma announces the following new members:
Mary Shelton, Farmville, Va.
Virginia Lamb, Petersburg, Va.
Elizabeth Kelly, Big Stone Gap, Va.
Dorothy Prescott, Big Stone Gap, Va.
Virginia Hamilton, Petersburg, Va.
Margaret Banks, Orange, Va.
Margaret Armstrong, Farmville, Va.
Martha Scott Watkins, Farmville, Va.

Gamma Theta wishes to announce the following new girls:
Helen Cover, Staunton, Va.
Margaret McCoy, Staunton, Va.
Martha Brothers, Suffolk, Va.
Anne McGann, Norfolk, Va.
Alice Steidtman, Lexington, Va.
Mary Catherine Willis, Norfolk, Va.
Anna Knox, Norfolk, Va.
Frances Rawlings, Norfol, Va.
Lelia Lovelace, Halifax, Va.
Katherine McIntyre, Bennettsville, S. C.

Delta Sigma Chi:
Margaret Eley, Norfolk
Mary Burkley Nelson, Orange, Va.

Mu Omega Sorority wishes to announce the following new members:
Virginia Ann Huntsberry, Winchester, Va.
Helen Grant Warren, Norfok, Va.
Frances Elizabeth Lewis, Culpeper.

Pi Kappa Sigma:
Sue Bass, Danville, Va.
Mary Diehl, Farmville, Va.
Martha Higgins, Waverly, Va.
Catherine Jones, Tazewell, Va.
Nancy St. Clair, Bluefield, Va.

Zeta Tau wishes to announce the following pledges:
Fannie Mae Colonna, Norfolk, Va.
Grace Rowell, Smithfield, Va.
Alice Rowell, Smithfield, Va.
Jac Morton, Farmville, Va.
Louise Van Lear, Lynchburg, Va.

The Cotillion Club takes pleasure in announcing the following new members: Renie Greaves, Jessie Smith, Julia Martin, Ann Minter, Pattie Ellison, Dot Dudley, Henrietta Cornwall, Helen Showen, Janet Harris, Myra Reese, Mildred Mountcastle, Leslie Ritter, Virginia Lowe, Frances Coleman, Hannah Crawley, Laura Smith, Charlotte Hutchins, Virginia Sanford, Frances Parker, Ruth Floyd, Mary Custis Burwell, Evelyn Stephenson, Grace Virginia Woodhouse, Jane Grey Irby, Gwendolyn Daniels, Frances Ratcliff, Jane Brown, Nancy Boykin, Ida Trolan, Virginia Robertson.

DEBATE CLUB TRY-OUT ON NOVEMBER 13TH

Try-outs for the Debate Club will be held in the Student Building auditorium at 7 o'clock Thursday, Nov. 13. The date has been changed because of so many conflicting meetings, but Nov. 13 has been left open for the Debate Cub so that everyone will have a chance to tryout. The tryout question is: Resolved, "That States Should Give Financial Aid to the Unemployed."

CIRCUS ANIMALS

Stunts you never saw before
Beasts you didn't know could roar
Everything seems all on end
Yes, circus day is here again!

CIRCUS QUEEN FOR SATURDAY NOMINATED

Votes were cast all day Tuesday for the nomination of the girl to be the queen of the circus. The following thre girls were nominated:
Louise Munt.
Butsie Carter
Ann Minter

Synthetic Sapphires Detected By Cathode Rays

"The Scientific American" makes the announcement that synthetic sapphires can now be told readily from the natural stones by means of the cathode ray tube. Trays of sapphires, both natural and synthetic, are exposed in a dark room to the powerful rays of the tube for a few seconds. All glow or radiate colors when exposed to the rays, but when the rays are turned off, the natural stones cease to glow whereas the synthetic stones continue to glow. In addition to sorting the natural from the synthetic sapphires, the rays also help determine where both the natural and factory-made gems come from, an important advantage, according to engineers.—The Literary Digest.

Wreckage of R-101 Is Purchased

The ingenious idea of selling bits of R-101 as souvenirs and thus recouping the huge cost of this wrecked dirigible occurred last week to Englishmen. Promptly throttled in the name of patriotism and national honor, the idea's only public appearance was in the following bulletin:

"The firm of Thos. W. Ward, Ltd. of Sheffeld has this day purchased the wreckage of the R-101 and will utilize the metal commercially rather than form the manufacture of souvenirs."—Time.

SENIOR FILLING STATION IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Ding-dong! Ding-dong! Ding-dong!

"Why is everyone running? Is the senior building on fire?"

"No, that's the 10 o'clock bell and everybody's running to the filling station."

"Well I wish they wouldn't make so much noise. I have this hard education test tomorrow add I haven't time to eat or do anything."

Iced coca-colas, sandwiches—banana-nut and tomato, hot soup, hot buttered biscuit, chocolate and butter-scotch pie, hot dogs and nabs.

"Sniff-sniff! Something surely does smell good. Smells like peanuts frying. And lands! I'm not in the humor to study tonight and besides I can't study when I'm hungry, so think I'll go see if I can't do something about it."

The student activities at Wake Forest College are represented in 13 campus organizations. Dr. Hubert M. Poteat, president emeritus and head of the Latin department, gave the opening address for the Euzelian Literary Society. Wake Forest football team beat Carolina 13-7 in a well-earned victory last Saturday afternoon. It was the first time the Deacons have beaten Carolina since 1928. Mills of the Wake Forest eleven broke his finger, that being the only casualty sustained.—The Salemite.

CIRCUS TO BE HELD—

Continued from page 1.

The Unpaid Debt
A tragic romance.

* * *

Klever Klowns
Startling, Stirring, Stupendous Stunts!

* * *

Crowning of Queen

* * *

Grand Parade
Kleverest Konglomeration of Komical Karacters that Ever Kame to Town.

ART EXHIBIT HELD AT HAMPDEN-SYDNEY

Continued from page one

It is possible that Mrs. Couper will be present November 6, in which case she will give a short talk on art and on her pictures.

Mrs. Couper's daughter, Mrs. J. Bolling Reynolds, of Hampden-Sydney, with Miss Elizabeth Eggleston, Dr. and Mrs. Asa D. Watkins and Mrs. Sophia Packer, will be on the committee in charge of the exhibit.

The exhibit will offer an excellent opportunity for those who wish to make orders for small pictures, or to have portraits done. The hours from 2 to 6 have been chosen as the most suitable for the display of the pictures, and it is suggested that visitors come as early in the afternoon as possible because of the lighting.

At the same time Mrs. Reynolds will have on sale oriental Christmas gifts, the prices ranging from 50c up. Ten per cent of the proceeds of this sale will go to the hospital. Mrs. Reynolds for many years lived in Korea and has collected an attractive line of suitable gifts.

WORLD NEWS

How To Win An Argument

Two young professors of public speaking and debating, concluded, some years ago that they were long on class room theory but short on the first principles of hard-fisted argument, determined to have a fling at the practical world of give and take. They yearned for the chance to listen to office arguments and sales talks, tea-table bickerings, and smoking-car debates. So they left their professional chairs in New York University and stepped out into the world of rapid-fire talk, where they took a succession of short-time jobs with numerous firms throughout the country. After seven years' experience the following principles were formulated:

(1). Don't try to do all the talking. Remember your opponent wants to talk just as much as you do.

(2). Don't interrupt your opponent's talk with a counter argument.

(3). Do not assume an argumentative, dogmatic attitude.

(4). Ask questions in a pleasant, inquiring tone of voice during the first half of the argument.

(5) Restate clearly and fairly in a very few words of your own the gist of each argument your opponent advances as soon as he advances it.

(6). When you reply, stick hard to the subject. Bring out the key issue and stick to it. Don't digress and don't let your opponent digress.—The American.

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS
Just One Block from Campus

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART

We would like to have your orders

—for—

DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS

Canada Drug Co.

Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

COTILLION CLUB DANCES ARE ALMOST HERE

DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!

We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Three piece suits the kind that sells for $5.95. All colors and sizes $5.59

Newest fall shoes, low, medium and high heels. Prices
$2.98 $3.95 and $5

26 sample sport coats, Princess style Special $9.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Margaretta Brady: "It is very good of you to dance with me."

He: "Don't mention it, this is a charity ball."

Freshman: "Didn't you enjoy the Obelisk in Egypt?"

Fresher: "Um—delicious."

Virginia Ford (in pet store): "I like this one but his legs are too short."

Salesman: "They all touch the floor, madam."

Allie Oliver: "How much are the grapes?"

Clerk: "50 cents a peck."

Allie: "I'm not a bird."

Jeff: "You've a faculty for making love."

A. J.: "Only a student body."

Medora Ford to pupil: "Billy, give me a sentence with diadem in it?"

Billy: "People who drive onto railroad tracks diadem right quicker than those who stop, look and listen."

Jack Gray: "Would you pet before twenty-one?"

Virginia Lamb: "Well, it would be more fun in private."

Mother (introducing daughter): "My daughter, May."

Father (introducing son): "My son, Will."

Miss Moran: "When do leaves begin to turn?"

Joe Sneed: "The day before examination."

First S. T. C.: "How does Billy Sloan make love?"

Second S. T. C.: "Way above the average."

The poor professor explaining the fall of Rome to student.

Friend coming by to announce his new baby boy had arrived: "Professor, a boy has arrived."

Professor: "Ask him what he wants."

He: "I love you."

She: "You don't mean it."

He: "You must be a mind reader."

Billy Shannon: "What would I have to do to win your heart."

Helen Shawen: "Be a surgeon."

On board a ship I found it true
You can't eat cake and have it too.
—Tiger

"How come it took you so long to finish your exam?"

"The guy next to me stutters."

To friend coming out of court: "How did you make it?"

"Fine! Thank you."

Dr. Alen: "The rain this summer didn't interfere with painting the building on the outside, did it?"

Prof. Coyner: "No, and neither will it interfere with the painting on the inside this winter."

Beltz Co-ed: "Play St. James Sanctuary, please."

Orchestra Leader: "You mean St. James Infirmary?"

Beltz Co-ed: "Sanctuary much, sanctuary much."

Freshman—Just because I got a blue and white cap—everyone else did.

Young nurse: 'That senior in bed is very handsome."

Head Nurse: "Don't wash his face it has been done seven times already today."

ATHLETICS

HOCKEY TOURNAMENT HELD AT WILLIAM & MARY

Nine Schools Participate—Southeastern Team is a Big Feature

FARMVILLE BEAT HARRISONBURG

Better hockey, rather than "who's going to win," was the motto of the hockey tournament at William and Mary Friday and Saturday, the first of its kind held in the entire south. Miss Barksdale, William and Mary coach, was official hostess to the visiting teams.

Representatives and teams were present from Sweet Briar, Hollins, Westhampton, George Washinhgton University, Harrisonburg, Mary Baldwin, Stuart Hall, William and Mary, and Farmville. In cases where any college did not play intercollegiate games, teams were made up by mixing the players from different schools. These teams were given the name "et cetera". Harrisonburg, William and Mary, Sweet Briar, Westhampton, and Farmville were the only ones who played their teams intact. In no instance did two teams who were to meet later in the season oppose each other in the tournament.

Saturday, after lunch, at the meeting of the Virginia, North Carolina Field Hockey Association, of which Miss Rogers, Sweet Briar coach, is chairman, Harrisonburg representatives invited the association to hold the tournament at their school next year.

An outstanding feature of the tournament was the excellent playing of the Southeastern team, whose players are nearly all either All-American or All-American reserves. This team played for the first half of their game a mixed team of Sweet Briar and William and Mary girls. The second half they played a team of Westhampton and Harrisonburg girls. The names, F. E. Edwards and C. Quisenberry, Farmville, appeared in the possible line-up against Southeastern, but they did-not get to play.

The schedule of games started Friday at three o'clock, when the Farmville team of which Allie Oliver is both captain and manager, met Harrisonburg and defeated them. The following is the complete game schedule with scores.

Friday afternoon

Harrisonburg 1; Farmville 2

W. & M. 1; Westhampton 4.

aturday Morning

Sweet Briar 0; Harrisonburg 0.

Farmville 1; Etc., 0.

W. & M. 4; Etc., 0.

Westhampton 5; Etc., 0.

Saturday Afternoon

Coaches 1; Alumnae 1.

Swet Briar & Subs 0: Chop Suey 0.

Southeastern 5; Green 0.

Southeastern 3; Reds 0.

Before the games began Miss Rogers talked to all the teams and all those interested, expressing the hope that out of the tournament, which is just the beginning, would grow such interest that before long, hockey clubs would be organized all over Virgina, similar to those around Philadephia, Chicago, California, New York, and Boston.

DID YOU SAY "PUPPY"

Love at sixteen is like—
(Oh, what is it like?)
Something delightful, you can't do without—
Something painful, with despair and doubt.
Oh! Oh! What is it?

Easter Souders, '32

She used make up—so she's his powdered sugar.

HEAD VARSITY HOCKEY TEAM

ALLIE OLIVER

HOCKEY CAPTAIN IS ELECTED!!

She's a peach; she's a dream.
She's the captain of our team.
Oliver! Oliver! Oliver!!

Allie Oliver, the efficient manager of hockey, was unanimously elected captain of her team. The squad certainly knew what they were about when they chose such an alert, loyal and reliable girl as their captain. Allie is a hard worker, true to her purpose and true to her Alma Mater. She has back of her a squad of tip-top workers ready to follow her leadership. Come out to the hockey field the 15th and see Allie do her part in placing old S. T. C. on the map. Come out and give fifteen rahs for Allie—a true friend and a true sport!

Dr. S. A. Mitchell of University of Va., Has Seen Six Eclipses

Astronomers are as proud of the number of total solar eclipses they have witnessed as railroad conductors are of the gold service stripes on their sleeves. Dr. Samuel Alfred Mitchell, director of the Leander McCormick Observatory, University of Virginia, who has been looking at the skies for 32 years, has the great total of 15 min (six eclipses) to his credit. He has had to travel 90.000 mile to do it. Had he attended every instance of the sun's darkening since 1900 he would have a grand total of 68.1 min. and he might have traveled as far as the eclipse-causing moon (238.857 miles) and back again. It was with much satisfaction that he radioed to Science Service in Washington that, as director of the U. S. expedition to witness last week's solar eclipse at Ninafau Island (8.000 miles from Washington) he had added 83.9. sec. more to his totality total. Dr. Mitchell pronounced the expedition's success "unequaled in astronomical annals." Spectroscopic anasyses of the incandescent gases which surrounded the sun showed a new wave-length which scientists had never known before. The camera recorded what astromers eyes had missed—disturbances in the carona on the east and west edges of the sun, caused probably by violent motions in the inner corona.—Time.

Jack Howitz, Cleveland, makes his way through Ohio State University by taking pictures with a specially built camera, negatives and prints from which he can turn out in two minutes.

FIVE TEAMS UNBEATEN IN THE EAST; TWO HAVE BEEN TIED!

By the Associated Press:

Team	W	L	T	F	A
Fordham	6	0	0	178	2
Dartmouth	5	0	1	232	2
Army	5	0	1	178	13
W. Maryl'd	5	0	0	147	7
Alleghany	5	0	0	71	6

CADET CORPS TO ENTER STADIUM AT 1:15 SAT.; GAME CALLED 1:45

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 2—For the Army-Illinois football game next Saturday at the Yankee Stadium, Major P. B. Fleming, graduate manager of athletics, announced today that the corps of cadets would march into the stadium at 1:15 p. m. and that the game would start promptly at 1:45 p. m.—New York Times.

At Eaco Theatre Week of Nov. 10-15

"The Best Sound in Southside Va."

MONDAY and TUES.—"Dough Boys," featuring Buster Keaton, Cliff Edwards and Sally Eilers. Talk about your funny comedies—wait until you see Buster Keaton and Cliff Edwards together in this howitzer of howls. You've seen comedies before, but take a tip—here is the scream of the trenches, the war comedies of comedies. He gets roped into the big fight and stumbles from one howling situation to another. He wins the war single-handed—in an attack on your funny bone that won't let you stop laughing. Buster and Cliffy will give you an evening's entertainment you will not soon forget. Of course, there's a love story with pretty Sally Eilers as the sweetheart. Also Aesop cartoon, "Good Old School Days."

WED. and THURS.—"Those Three French Girls," with an all-star cast headed by Reginald Denny, Fifi Dorsay and Cliff Edwards, in a screaming comedy with a Paris label. How you'll love these three love-making and laughing Parisian mam'selles! The girls are put in jail because they threw flower pots at their landlord, and while in jail meet three boys, two of them are Americans, and the other an English earl. They escape and are on their way to England as the guests of the earl—and then the fun begins. See Cliff Edwards and his dancing donkey, "Fatima." Laugh with this sextette of mischief-makers. You don't have to see Paris to enjoy this screaming farce. Story by P. G. Woodehouse. Directed by Harry Beaumont, who made "Broadway Melody." Keep your eyes, ears and heart open—you'll need 'em all when you glimpse this happiest talkie you've ever roared at. Also two-reel talking comedy.

FRIDAY and SAT.—"Dangerous Nan McGrew," with Helen Kane, the boop-a-doop-doo girl, James Hall, and Victor Moore Every thrill in the Northwest becomes a laugh. Where men WERE men—now there's a gal! A rootin', shootin' boop-a-dooping man-hunter. They die laughing when she sings "I'm Dangerous Nan." See her get Stuart Erwin, her dumb adorer of "Sweetie." Armed to the teeth with giggle-gags, Helen raises Kane with the Northwest Mounted. The story is one of riotous frolic of frisky doings in the snowy Canadian Northwest. There are plots and counter plots, frills and thrills, romance and lovin'. "Dangerous Nan McGrew" is a fascinating story built up to overflowing with scores and scores of reverberating laughs and everyone should see it—it's different. Also Pathe Sound News and Cartoon, "Singing Saps."

HALLOWE'EN

Weird shrieks fill the cold night air,
Goblins stalk abroad,
Witches hide a paled moon,
And fantasy is lord.

Bells clang out in strange shrill tunes
Dull booms shake the earth
Terror steals on silent feet
And fear is given birth.

White ghosts vanish in black gloom
With a hiss and scream,
Flapping hats, green-eyed swoop down,
The night is Hallowe'en.

Loulie Millner, '32

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

is Headquarters for the Best SANDWICHES —and— DRINKS —in— FARMVILLE!

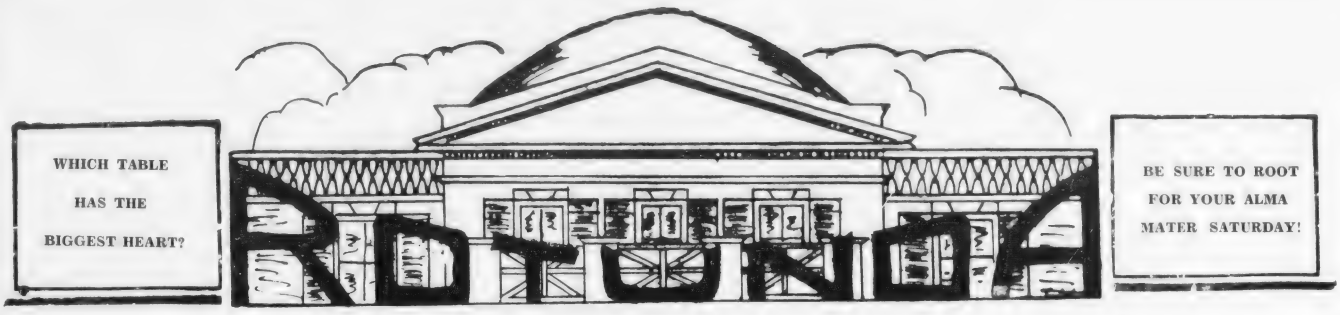
McIntosh Drug Store

Farmville, Va.

"Drugs and Drinks"

DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.



The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD THINGS TO EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, 12, 1930 No. 7

Red Cross Roll Call Will Be Taken November 11-27

Minimum Goal for Tables One Dollar Minimum for the School One Hundred Dollars

STUDENTS ARE URGED TO JOIN

With malice toward none, with charity for all, regardless of race or creed, the Red Cross answers the call of the suffering from wheresoever it may come. In Red Cross there is no lending of money. It gives relief outright. There is no hesitancy when a call comes. Calls come suddenly and efficient action is absolutely necessary. Remember the Florida disaster, the Mississippi flood disaster, Porto Rico in 1928, Santo Domingo in 1930, China, Japan, the World War—the innumerable catastrophes during which the Red Cross served continuously in relieving the suffering and reconstructing lost property. Not only does Red Cross serve during such trying times, but it is equally important in normal conditions with its

Continued on page three

ELECT REPORTER AND MEMBER CLASS COUNCIL

The freshman class elected Mary Diehl, reporter, and 'Honey" Hamilton, a member of the Class Council Tuesday evening, November 4, at the regular meeting in the big auditorium.

About twenty girls have been nominated by the class, the Y. W. Cabinet and the old Y. W. Cabinet for the freshman commission. Twelve of these girls will be elected for membership to this organization and will thereby become a working unit of the present Y. W. Cabinet. A. J. Scott will head this group as she was elected undergraduate representative last spring in the election for minor offices.

The Freshman Commission is an important group within the school as well as in the freshman class. Each year, it is responsible for sending at least one girl to Blue Ridge.

When this group go into office, it is expected that they will be supported by their class and by the school as a whole. This support can be accomplished by having clothes cleaned through the Freshman Commission.

COUNCIL OF PRIMARY EDUCATION HAS SLIDES

The Farmville Chapter of the National Council of Primary Education held an open meeting Monday night at 6:45 in the Student Building Auditorium. At this time colored lantern slides of free activities of nursery's school and primary grades were shown. These were secured from the Bureau of Education at Washington, D. C., and were much enjoyed by all those present.

MR. ROBERT K. BROCK SPOKE IN CHAPEL TUESDAY MORNING

Mr. Robert K. Brock, a Red Cross worker of Farmville, spoke to the student body in chapel, Tuesday, November 11. The topic of his talk was the work of the Red Cross during and since the World war.

Mr. Brock said that during the World war the Farmville student body responded to the call of the Red Cross. That was twelve years ago. Most of the present students of S. T. C. were little children at that time. Now the Red Cross is calling to them as it called to their predecessors 12 years ago. There is no war to which students of today may give aid. Their call is probably less romantic than the call that came to students during the World war, but it is just as real and just as urgent.

The recent drought caused much poverty and suffering all over the United tSates. There are men, women, and children today who have no food or warm clothing. They are suffering intensely. The Red Cross is making a great effort to help these people and Mr. Brock asked the S. T. C. students to contribute to the cause. Will they respond as readily as did those students in 1918?

In some cases the contributions may be small; some girls may have to sacrifice some pleasure in order to give anything at all, but surely every girl will rspond to the call of the Red Cross. As Dr. arman said, "It isn't the amount you give that counts so much as it is the spirit back of the gift."

Intercollegiate Press Meeting At Wm. and Mary

The Virginian and The Rotunda Will Send Delegates To the Convention

The Intercollegiate Press Association of which William F. Rountree is president, will meet at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Virginia, November 15, 16, 1930. This association holds its annual meeting in the fall at one of the colleges taking part in the work of this organization.

Last year the meeting was held at V. P. I., Blacksburg, Virginia.

Both the Virginian and the Rotunda will send delegates to this meet. Elizabeth Taylor and Charlotte Hutchins will represent the annual while Jessie Smith and Ella Carroll will represent the school newspaper.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee Thursday evening at 8:30 in the Phi Beta Kappa room at William and Mary. Jessie Smith from S. T. C. will serve on this committee.

The two publications from S. T. C. that are to be represented at this convention have already sent in the issues which will compete with other college publications.

BOOK WEEK PROGRAM SATURDAY NIGHT

On Saturday, November15, at 7:30 p. m. there will be a program celebrating the National Childrens Book Week. The children taking part will be representatives from the county schools the public school, and the training school. The ushers will be chosen from the children's literature classes dressed as well-known characters. The setting will be a bookshop to which two little children come to look at books. A number of characters from Mother Goose, Folk and Fairy Tales, children's poems and adventure stories will be shown to the children by the old man who keeps the shop. As this is a national movement and many schools in the state observe Children's Book Week, it will be an excellent opportunity to see a program given for this celebration. All those girls interested are invited. The front seats are to be reserved for the children participating. Attendance at this program will be time well-spent for future teachers as it is a national annual affair.

ELEMENTARY TEACHERS CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Elementary Teachers Club met Saturady morning, November 8, in the Y. W. C. A. lounge, at which time the program was in charge of Elizabeth Antrim and Doris Burroughs. An unusual feature was a question match on class rom management, similar to the old time spelling match. This was enjoyed by all present.

The second part of the meeting was devoted to reviews of sevral noted educational magazines, given by Eloise Perkins and Alma Joyce. The club adjourned after the completion of a few matters of business.

Farmville Hockey Team Will Meet Westhampton Here Saturday

Westhampton Also Defeated Harrisonburg

MISS ROCK TO UMPIRE

Saturday afternoon, November 15, at 2:30 Farmville will meet the team from Westhampton in the only varsity hockey game to be played here this season. The Farmville girls have been working hard ever since the tournament at William and Mary October 31, and November 1, and have improved their game considerably. They expect to give the Richmond team a hard fight.

In the William and Mary tournament no two teams opposed each other who were to meet later in the season, so Farmville and Westhampton did not compete at that time.

However, Farmville did play Harrisonburg and defeated them by the score 2-1. Since then Westhampton has played Harrisonburg and defeated them by a 4-2 score. These scores indicate that Saturday's game will be a hard fight to the finish.

Last year Farmville met Westhampton on the Richmond field, and was defeated 6-2.

MUSICAL PROGRAM PRESENTED IN CHAPEL

Saturday morning at Chapel the third of the series of musical programs which are being presented weekly by the Music Department was given. Miss Florence Cralle as the week's ambassador of music sang:

"Songs My Mother Taught Me" by D'Vorak.

Russia Melody by Rimsky-Korsakoff

"The False Prophet" by John Prindle Scott.

CIRCUS JUDGES GIVE FIRST PRIZE TO NAT. COUNCIL OF PRIMARY ED.

The Farmville Chapter of National Council of Primary Education won the first prize for the best stunt put on by any organization at the College Circus on Saturday, November 8 The stunt given by this organization was called "It Pays to Advertise." Such wel-known products as Lucky Strikes, Golden Glint Shampoo, and Fairy Soap were represented.

The sophomore class won the second prize, an Aesop's Fable was the theme of the sophomore stunt. The rain, representing the House Council, the Tuesday night terror, the Infirmary, and other frightening things, and the Sun, representing the hockey games, the Tea Room, , Shannon's and other cheerful and enticing things tried to make the traveler. Virginia Witt, take off her coat. The traveler decided in favor of the Sun as represented in hockey games.

Budsey Carter from Petersburg was the queen of the circus.

The parade was held at 2 p. m. Saturday. The circus performance was given at 8 p. m. Every organization gave a stunt from which the best two were selected by judges.

The Y. W. C. A., Athletic Association, Student Council, and the Rotunda gave stunts, but were not competing for the prizes.

Hampden-Sydney ranks first among all the colleges of the United States in the number of its graduates in proportion to its enrollment in "Who's Who."

DEBATE CLUB TO HOLD TRYOUTS THURSDAY

Tryouts for upperclassmen for the Debate Club will be held on Thursday, Nov. 13, at 7:00 p. m. in the little auditorium. The subject which those trying out will discuss reads: "Resolved, That the State Should Give Financial Aid to the Unemployed." This question is a simple one in that it abounds in both pro and con. It is hoped and expected that a considerable number of upperclassmen will avail themselves of this opportunity to try-out for membership in the Debate Club.

To those present members of the club, this comes as a reminder that on December 3, try-outs for the varsity team will be held. The question formulated by a concensus of votes from all collegiate chapters of Pi Kappa Delta reads: "Resolved, That Nations Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade." This also as a debatable and interesting question and much competition for places on the varsity team is anticipated.

Durrell String Quartets Presents Program at S. T. C.

The Durrell String Quartet, composed of

Josephine Durrell, violin
Edith Raubound, violin
Margaret Clark, violin
Mildred Ridley, cello

presented a program on November 14 in the college auditorium. "Excellent teamwork" is the phrase that best describes the performance of these four young ladies.

Mr. Boardman and Mr. Percival added to the enjoyment of the evening by their playing and singing, respectively.

The following program was presented:

1. Two movements from quintet in F. Minor ..... Franck
Molto moderato quaisi lento—Allegro
Lento—con molto sentimento

2. (a) An Old Song Resung, Griffes
(b) Temple Bells, Woodforde-Finden
(c) Pale Moon ..... Logan
(d) King Charles ..... White
John Percival

3. String Quartet in G major—op. 77 No. 1 ..... Hayden
Allegro moderata
Adagio
Menuetto (Presto)
Finale (Presto)

4. (a) Waltz—E flat ..... Chopin
(b) Nocturne—C minor ..... Chopin

Continued on page three

"Mr Pim Passes By" To Be Presented Here November 21st

Have you heard about the play? What play? Why the Dramatic Club-Hampden-Sydney masterpiece. Yes, it really is the best thing they have ever done in the way of a farce. Oh, you wanted to know who it is by: A. A. Milne, surely you have heard of him Mr. Milne is one of our outstanding playwrights. If you don't believe me then see his play "Mr. Pim Passes By." The lines are too clever for words and the situations are as intriguing and delightful as can be.

The characters are splendid! Mr. Milne is an excellent creater of character and the actors have interpreted the parts exceptionally well.

Mary Shelton as the well poised modern and thoroughly clever Olivia Marden is a combination of cleverness and sophistication. Playing opposite her in the role of a well balanced English country gentleman we recognize Joe Perry, known to some of us as John Shard, M. P. in "What Every Woman Knows."

Bill Sloan surprises us as Briand Strange, a very young, but decidedly enchanting modernistic artist, the lover of George's ward who is for one so young rather decided in her opinions. She is a cross between a modified English daughter and a modern American miss. Sally Russell is well cast as Dinah Marden and shows us

Continued on page three

JOIN THE RED CROSS

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31

Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Twelve Years Ago

It was twelve years ago that the nations of the world brought together by pain, sorrow and tears shook hands and declared that "the war was over". "Never again" has become the watch word and hope of the loyal hearts, who welcomed home their loved ones and of those who could only welcome the bravery of those who passed "to the great beyond."

It was twelve years ago—and now the wound has been closed again, healedby sorrow of those who didn't return, and the joy of those who did. Each year we say "In Flanders Field were poppies grow"—and each year it brings the same thrill of pride, joy—and sorrow. It helps us know that on the other side of Flanders Field there are others who pray an ardent "never again." They, too, had loved ones, and they too, welcomed home with tears of gladness, "my son, my brother, my husband!"

It was twelve years ago, and still our hats are off, our hearts are open, our tears are ready fo rthose who fell in Flanders Field To you, our noble heroes, we ask your pardon for only one day of national thought, but you know there is a vacant spot in our hearts for you and though there is only one day a year that all look upward at the same time and thank God for drawing his line between death and life that November day—twelve years ago—We, as individuals, always have tears for those "who did not,", and a heart of gladness for those "who did!"

OVER THE TEACUPS

Wait a minute, Munt! Le's air down to the movies about four, want to? Its a honey and can that Ramon Navarro woo? Couldn't be better than the Alpha Kappa Gamma circus, thought! Didn't Budsey make a powerful queen? Munt, what do you call the man that Dele took off? Munt! I say what do you call the man that Adele Hutchinson took the part of in the circus? Ring-leader? Ring what? Oh! Ringmaster? I'll say she could master any ring! And ten cents a dance—not bad! Hey, Munt, wherehave you gone, here I am hollering my head off at you! What? Turn me one on too, willya? Say, its nearly four. We won't mind missing the advertisements. Don't let my tub run over and run a little cold too, hear? Can I wear your black dress? I'm gonna wear the Walters pride and joy—what? Oh that black and white turban. She's under the impression she looks so potent in. Say you wore it to the game Saturday? Was the game any good? Track meet eh? How about. Jeff breaking his jawbone? Too bad! Pattie E.'s got the swellest looking new flame out there—young but willing. Ask her for a few points in how to catch 'em. Buster seems to be in the bag or maybe he's just holding it.

Stop splashing, Rene—can't imagine you in here on Wednesday any more than I can imagine Mary Rives married! At last! Can't say but what the whole school turned out for the wedding and did she look gorgeous! Speaking of looking good, the teaching profession must be paying well this year, have never seen such uptown alumnae as we have coming back. Just can't wait to get my degree and get on my own. And how about us putting on the hurry bag instead of the gas bag, 'cause I've got to wrap that button tight. Let's go team!

LOVELINESS

Loveliness! Aw, what is loveliness? Something that can be gained in thirty days and then retained for a lifetime? No! Cosmetics can't paint loveliness on any face for it comes from within: Modern facials, creams, massages, etc., cannot put the quiet beauty into eyes that look from an ugly soul. Fools that we are, trying to hide our ugliness with a false beauty. We forget, beauty is more than skin deep. Loveliness is a quality that comes of years of self-control and unselfishness. A hard beauty or prettiness is not lovely, it is a mask that covers the spark of true loveliness that is left to fight alone. Why do you seek to make yourself lovely to win some simple prize? Isn't life itself worth being lovely for? How much good you would do to those around you by removing the false mask of hardness and affectation and letting the soft radiance of your true self shine in your eyes and turn your mouth into a real smile. Need you any reward? Is not the very joy of living that comes from being unselfish, and willing, and loyal a priceless reward? Is not virtue its own reward? How old the saying, but how true. Come, be lovely, not so much physically as spiirtually—for life will place its mark upon your features in spite of modern arts. Don't simply "lift your face"—lift up your soul.

"To thine own self be true.
Thou can'st not then be false to any man."

A disgruntled sports writer whose team had been beaten by Illinois back in the heyday of the Phantom Red Grange once wrote: "All Grange can do is run." Not to be outdone, a defender of the Orange and Blue retaliated with: "Yes, and all Galli Cursi can do is sing."

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

Munt says we don't have enough privilges around school. Maybe not, but doesn't she do a good job of abusing the few she does have.

* * *

Kitty Cogbill sez she's furious 'cause she picked a girl's school to pull such a picturesque faint.

* * *

Mary Shelton sez sez Mary Shelton sez she to me (?)

* * *

Running into Miss Barlow's class in dramatic activties I was sure the girls were inmates of another of our state institutions. Let's C—Yes, in Williamsburg. (And not Billy's and Mary's college either).

* * *

You know sometimes I think Margaret Eley is the cutest freshman in school—don't blame me—We all have our off moments.

* * *

There's too much talking around this college during study hours. Oh, I don't mean Frank Smoot. I mean real talking.

* * *

You know I never do see Dolly Reed and Vernie Oden down town any more.

* * *

Mary Arthur Billups is all right in a way—And there's no doubt about that point. She weighs enough.

* * *

Of course you think these things are dumb. Don't we all like to think the truth about ourselves is dumb.

* * *

I can't help but notice how much like a mirror Mary Harrison and Virginia Lamb are. One looks—the other reflects.

DUSK

They tell me she is beautiful, my city,
That she is colorful and quaint, alone
Among cities. But I, I who have known
Her tenderness, her courage, and her pity,
Have felt her forces mould me, mind and bone.
Life after life, up from her first beginning.
How can I think of her in wood and stone!
To others she has given of her beauty,
Her gardens and her dim, old, faded ways,
Her laughter, and her happy drifting hours,
Glad, spendthrift April, squandering her flowers,
The sharp still wonder of her autumn days;
Her chimes that shimmer from St. Michael's steeple,
Across the deep maturity of June,
Like sunlight slanting over open water
Under a high, blue, listless afternoon.
But when the dusk is deep upon the harbor
She finds one where her rivers meet and speak,
And while the constellations ride the silence
High overhead, her cheek is on my cheek.
I know her in the thrill behind the dark
When sleep brims all her silent thoroughfares.
She is the glamor in the quiet park
That kindles simple things like grass and trees.
Wistful and wanton as her sea-born airs,
Bringer of dim, rich, age-old memories.
Out on the gloom-deep water, when the nights
Are choked with fog and perilous, and blind,
She is the faith that tends that calling lights,
Hers is the stifled voice of harbor bells
Muffled and broken by the mist and

MEMORIES OF OLD JAPAN

Come with me
I shall take you
By the hand
And lead you
Into that far land
Where Pagodas rise
Against the sky—
Temples erected
To the Pagan Gods
By Buddhists and Shintoists
And where sweet scent
Of cherry blossoms
Permeate the air.

You shall don
A long robe
Such as I have on
Of pastel blue and rose
With dragons worked
In silver threads,
And on your feet
I shall slip a pair
Of sandals soft
Which you shall leave behind
Upon entering the home
Of my Japanese friend, Yomosing
Where we shall kneel
Lightly on hand-embroidered cushions
And sip tea from
Dainty handle-less cups,
Within a simple chamber
Lacking in decorative design
Save for a scroll upon the wall
Or blossoms standing tall
On lacquer bowls.

V. L., '32

WHY PAIN?

Pain is like a falling tear
That makes life's joy seem more than dear;
Sorrow like a gentle rain
That brings a deeper love in gain.
The greatest happiness is known
Where sorrow once has made a home.

L. M., '32

PORTRAIT OF A LADY

My eyes met hers,
And suddenly all my being
Was swept back
To an age long dead
And soul-forgotten
Then I knew
Where I before had seen her—
That slender body,
That regal head with its
Crown of living gold;
Eyes as dark and restless
As sea water;
Her lips voluptuous,
Haughty, just a trifle cruel—
She stood with her hand
Resting on the balustrade
Of the broad marble stair,
Her face turned toward the crowd
Below her.
And behind her
Hung the arms of her house,
'Broidered in gold upon
Black velvet.
And she herself was Clothed in gold—
A living flame
That warned even as
It beckoned . . . . .
Her eyes widened
And she smiled.
My heart leaped—
Could it be . . . . .
I heard her calm voice murmur
"How do you do?"

Alice LeB. R.

mind
Hers are eyes through which I look on life
And find it brave and splendid. And the stir
Of hidden music shaping all my songs,
And these my songs, all belong to her.

—DuBose Heyward

SOCIALS

Mary Trimyer visited in Baltimore this week-end.

Mary Alice Young spent the week-end in Richmond.

Jacque and Jerry Lee spent the week-end at their home in Lynchburg.

Lelia Lovelace was at her home in Halifax this week-end.

Mildred Maddrey spent the week-end in Norfolk.

Medora Ford spent the week-end in Lexington.

Dot Anderson spent the week-end at her home in Danville.

Josie Spencer spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Anne McGann was in Norfolk this week-end.

Dot Goodloe attended the V. P. I. dance at Blacksburg this week-end.

Clara MacKenzie was in Portsmouth this week-end.

Ann Davis and Catherine McIntyre spent the week-end at Bolona.

Eva Harris spent the week-end at Charlottesville.

Katheryn Royster attended the V. P. I. dance this week-end.

Caroline Read was in Richmond this week-end.

Martha Moore was at her home in Lexington this week-end.

Frances Rawlings spent the week-end in Norfolk.

Margaret Barker attended the V. P. I. dance this week-end.

Anna Minter was in Richmond this week-end.

Nancy De Berry was in Portsmouth.

Janet Harris was in Lynchburg at her home this week-end.

Corrine Mosby attended the V. P. I. dance this week-end.

Virginia Sargeant was in Lynchburg this week-end.

Mary Custis Burwell spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

CORRECTION OF ERROR

Last week there was an omission of two sorority teas in the Rotunda. They were:

A very seasonable Harvest tea on Friday, October 31 was given by the Gamma Thetas.

The Tri-Sigma Sorority was at home to its patrons and rushees on Saturday, November 1 at four p. m. in the chapter room.

ZETA TAU BREAKFAST

The Zeta Tau pledges of fall, 1930, entertained the pledges of all other sororities here on Sunday, November 9, 1930 in the Zeta Tau chapter room.

A SOPHOMORE'S LULLABY

(As Sung by a Rat)

Go to sleep, sweet Sophomore, and rest your pretty head,
Wake up in the morning with a rat
to make your bed;
With a rat to bow to you all day, a
rat to clean your room,
A rat to bring your laundry, and wield a wicked broom.

You take the rats to town with you
and
Make them act like fools,
You make them wear black stockings
And conform to all the rules;
You make them wear the rat caps of
Lovely blue and white,
And have them come and sing to you
At any time of night.

We rats don't mind our jobs at all,
we'll gladly do our part;
We don't mind being tired and sore,
We expected it from the start;
But there's one great consolation, as we
Bend to take the oars—
Some day, somehow, some time, dear friends,
We'll all be Sophomores!

One out of every 236 people who reside in the state of California attend the University of California. Wisconsin has one to every 330 population and Michigan one to every 462.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Prominent among the social events of the fall season was the marriage on the evening of November 8 of Miss Mary Rives Richardson, of Farmville, to Edwin Preston Lancaster of Farmville, Virginia, and Guntur, India.

The sister of the bride, Mrs. W. B. Pollard of Winston-Salem, N. C., was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. W. L. Broaddus of City Point; Mrs. J. B. Wall of Farmville; Miss Clare Robertson of Emporia; Miss Elizabeth Hooper of Bluefield, W. Va.; Mrs. John Bruce James of Richmond, and Miss Elizabeth McClaugherty of Bluefield, W. Va. The flower girls were Misses Margaret Anne and Elizabeth Rives Pollard of Winston-Salem, N. C.

Harry Venable Lancaster, brother of the groom was best man. The groomsmen were W. L. Lancaster, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; H. H. Hunt, Richmond; E. N. Phillips, High Point, N. C., Edward Richardson, Baltimore, Md.; E. J. Puckhaber, City Point; J. P. Marshall, Richmond.

The ushers were Walter Richardson, Farmville; W. L. Broaddus, City Point; W. H. Lancaster, / Chattanooga, Tenn., and Marshall Watkins of Farmville. Dr. Paul Beckham of Farmville was master of ceremonies.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. Preceding the wedding there were numerous entertainments, including a bridge dinner Nov. 6 with Mr. and Mrs. Frank S.. Blanton as hosts, a reception given by Dr. and Mrs. Beckham following the rehearsal Friday night, and a luncheon at Longwood Saturday, given by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wall.

Mr. and Mrs. Lancaster will spend six weeks in Florida, and will sail early in January for Europe, where they will remain for a month before leaving for India.

Mrs. Lancaster has been teaching in Hopewell High School for the past three years. Mr. Lancaster has been engaged in business in India for eight years, with a furlough every four years.

* * *

The annual meeting of the Third District of Virginia Federation of Womans Clubs was held October 30 in the Student Building auditorium. Miss Mary Nichols of State Teachers College gave a most interesting talk on junior work. Miss Sallie Guy Davis district home demonstration agent, gave an inspiring talk on "Work with Rural Women," showing the need and result of this important work. Mrs. Cabell Flournoy, after expressing the pleasure it gave her to be in Farmville among old friends and associations, made an earnest appeal for club extension.

Farmville alumnae are interested and active in community and beneficent work. Mrs. J. M. Shepherd (Catherine Hill) is secretary of the Cumberland county chapter of the American Red Cross, and Mrs. B. T. Taylor (Bessie W. Carter) is chairman of the Prospect district of the Prince Edward county chapter of the same organization.

Mrs. D. E. Davidson, first vice-regent of the Judith Randolph chapter D. A. R. was the delegate to the thirty-fourth State Conference held in Lynchburg recently.

Miss Mary Finch spoke Monday evening, Nov. 10 in the lecture room of the Methodist Church, under the auspices of the Belle Bennett Missionary society. The occasion was the annual week of prayer of the Womans Auxiliary of the Methodist church. Miss Finch told of her work in the girls schol at Hiroshima, Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Richardson anounce the birth of a son Saturday, Nov. 1. Mrs. Richardson was formerly Miss Florence Riss.

Miss Louise Beazley is art supervisor in the city schools of Charlotte, N. C.

The latest cognomen for a druggist is Shepherdof the Pills.

WHAT OTHER COLLEGES ARE DOING

Gypsy Day, an annual occurrence at Northern State Teachers College was held there recently. This is the fifteenth Gypsy Day to be celebrated. —The Breeze.

Last week Mr. V. L. Granville, the famous English dramatic artists, was the guest of Converse College, and gave an unusually entertaining dramatic recital. The costumes were very striking and one of the best personations was Rostand's "Cyrano de Bergrac."—The Salemite.

The gum chewing girl
And the cud chewing cow
Are somewhat alike, yet
Different somehow.
What difference?
Oh yes! I see it now
It's the thoughtful look
On the face of the cow.

The Clipper

We hope Hampden-Sydney College will have the same success playing Richond College as they did Lynchburg this past week-end.

The University of Minnesota has the right idea. They are losening up the requirements for the better than average student. Now the bright student there will be allowed much more freedom in the choice of his electives, allowing him to work towards the definite goal which he sets for himself. We think that V. P. I. is gradually changing to this viewpoint also. The Honors Course in chemistry started this year was a step in the right direction.—The Va. Tech.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL TO BE TAKEN NOV. 11-27

Continued from page one

home service, nursing service, child health and protection, first aid, Braille for the blind, family relief and other welfare organizations.

The need this winter in our country alone will be very great since there are at least two hundred families in want because of the drought. The Red Cross is anticipating this need all over our State and as for our support. We consider it a privilege to join the Red Cross.

The campaign as conducted will urge every table to contribute at least a dollar. Of course each student is urged to give more, and in many cases many tables will want to give more than a dollar. If we want to reach our goal each girl must do her part!

Every student will want to have a part in this great opportunity to serve humanity. Even where conditions are different it is well to remember that the spirit of giving is always highest when we are aware of the added burden under which fellow citizens, not so fortunate as we are, are laboring. Let this be our motto: Join the Red Cross—Be a big-hearted table!

The faculty is also urged to join.

MR. PIM PASSES BY

Continued from page 1

that there is more budding genius in the freshman class than we dared hope for.

Mr. Pim is the be all and end all of the engrossing and highly amusing situations which occur in the play. He is one of those famous things known as a true character. Eccentric would hardly express what he is, but you will love him! A Hampden-Sydney freshman, Poole, fills the bill to a tee.

Bidgie Warren as Aunt Julia, formally known as Lady Marden is surely something to write home about. The part itself is complete with many catchy lines and Bidgie is all there in putting them over.

That is about all I have to tell you about it, except that it will be on November 21 and that it really is well worth seeing! If you want to enjoy one of the biggest laughs of the season, come! Come and bring a laugh loving friend with you!

SORORITIES HAVING HIGH SCHOLASTIC STANDING

The following sororities have the highest scholastic standing for the spring quarter, 1930:

First: Delta Sigma Chi
Second: Sigma Sigma Sigma.
Third: Mu Omega.

GIRLS UP FOR NOMINATION FOR COMMISSION

Mary Nelson
Dorothy Prescott
Anna Traylor
Virginia Ann Huntsberry
Mary Low Fritts
Sallie Russell
Irwin Staples
Margaret Armstrong
Helen Rose Cunningham
Mary Artis Danner
Martha Kello
Mary Diehl
Frances Rawlings
Jean Allen Bowles
Martha Higgins
Frances Lewis
Christie Stokes
Elsie Wright
Joe Sneed
Mary Shelton

COLLEGE BRIEFS

The Teachers Elementary Club is hoping to be represented at the Teachers meeting in Richmond, Va., November 27, and 27. There is a possibility of two girls being sent.

* * *

The first issue of The Voice will carry the results of the election of vanity fair for The Virginian. Subscribe to The Voice now!

* * *

Ida Trolan was elected cheer leader of the senior class. This particular election took place chiefly for the class games which will be played on Thanksgiving day.

* * *

An Armistice day program was given in the college auditorium this morning at 11 o'clock by some memmers of the College Training chool.

MY PHILOSOPHY

Life,
A winding trail
That leads uphill and down.
Work,
A blessed means
To gain a starry crown.
Love,
A nameless joy
That wipes away each frown.
Death,
A quiet rest
That waits a new world's sound.

L. M., '32

ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA EXPRESSES THANKS FOR CIRCUS SUCCESS

The Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma wishes to express its sincere appreciation to all individuals, organizations, and business organizations who helped in any way to make the annual college circus a success. This year the spirit of those in the circus and those patronizing it was unusually cooperative and it has been commented on very favorably.

Both faculty and student body took part in the performance and entered into it with true jovial circus spiirt.

Genuine interest is shown more plainly when people are interested in the little things of a circus such as fortune tellers, the fish pond etc. All of the side-shows were very well patronized and the closs booths too proved popular.

Again, the organization would like to express its appreciation for the cooperation of the faculty, the town people, and the student body, without whose help the circus could not have been a success.

DURRELL STRING QUARTET PRESENTS LYCEM NUMBER

Continued from page one

(c) Malaquena ..... Lecuona
Reginald Boardman
5. Ruddier Than the Cherry, Handel
John Percival
6. a. Night ..... Ernest Bloch
b. Scherza ..... Mendelssohn
c. Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes
..... Old English
(With Mr. Percival)

Five thousand delegates will represent half of the teachers in the world at the convention of the World Federation of Education Associations, to be held at Denver, Colo., in July, 1931. These delegates will come from sixty nations and from all the races of the world.

The Freshman eleven at Florida has two ends named Goodyear and Hood. We wonder where Firestone is.

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART

We would like to have your orders

—for—

DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS

Canada Drug Co.

Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

COTILLION CLUB DANCES ARE ALMOST HERE

DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!

We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Three piece suits the kind that sells for $5.95. All colors and sizes $5.59

Newest fall shoes, low, medium and high heels. Prices
$2.98 $3.95 and $5

26 sample sport coats, Princess style
Special $9.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Miss P.: "Sarah Willis, why did not the north immediately attack Fort Sumter?"
Sarah: "Unprepared."
Miss P.: "Correct."

Vsiitor: Mrs. "Martin is your daughter home for the week-end?"
Mrs. Martin: "I'll see if the car is in the garage."

Julia Warwick: "The night has a thousand eyes."
Budsey: "The council girls have more."

Him: "I'd marry you, but you're too dumb."
Her: "You're right. You need a wife with brain enough for two."

Frances Ratcliff: "Je vous adore." (I adore you.)
Virginia Lowe: "I shut it."

Little Johnny: "Daddy, how do wars start?"
Father: "Suppose France and England had a quarrell."
Mother: "No, no! England and France must not quarrel."
Father: "I'm just supposing they should."
Mother "You are instilling bad ideas."
Father: "England and France—"
Mother: "No—"
Johnny: "Never mind, I know."

S. T. C.: "Will I ever be able to do anything with my voice?"
Mr. Strick: "Yes, in case of fire."

The only man who can let things slide is the trombone player.

First Farmer: "Why didn't you tell me this horse kicks?"
Second Farmer: "The man I bought it from didn't tell me so I thought it was a secret."

He: "How can I leave you?"
Father (appearing): "Train No. 45, Bus No. 7—or any taxicab."

Elsie Burgess (in classroom): "How did the cliff dwellers keep warm?"
Bright Pupil: "They used mountain ranges."

Ida Trolan: "I've made up a new dance called the 'elevator dance'."
Elsie McLaughlin: "You're standing still, show me."
Ida: "I know. No steps."

Bill: "So you've stopped swearing since you married, I hear."
Jack: "Yes, too many children around, the house, you know."
Bill: "It is a bad example to set."
Jack: "It wasn't that. I just could not compete with them."

The poor professor explaining the fall of Rome to student.
Friend coming by to announce his new baby boy had arrived: "Professor, a boy has arrived."
Professor: "Ask him what he wants."

Minneapolis, Minn.—(IP)—Tests made by students of the University of Minnesota in cooperation with Radio Station KSTP have proved that students can do their best studying when listening to jazz music on the radio.
Less distraction was found to prevail when the loud speakers were vibrating than when absolute silence reigned in the student's room.

Saunders announces that for the mid-year dances he has secured the Dandy Handy Candy Barbarians.

ATHLETICS

MONOGRAM PRACTICES HELD EVERY FRIDAY AFTERNOON AT FIVE O'CLOCK

Opportunity Given to Win Monogram

Would you like to have a blue and white S. T. C. monogram to call your very own? Would you like to be one of the few who are allowed to wear one of these monograms? Then come out and try to win one. There will be practices held in the gym once a week, on Friday at five o'clock, and then is your chance to try-out the different stunts and events that you have to pass. Such stunts as forward and backward somersault, handstand, going through the stick, are very easy if you practice them. Besides stunts there are certain events such as basketball goal shooting, three out of five, baseball target and many field and track events that you can practice on. You may practice the monogram work throughout the month and then at the end of the month Miss Iler and Miss Hatchett will act as final judges.

Now is your chance! Come on out and practice now and then at the end of the month when you do the events, for the judges, perfectly, then Misses Iler and Hatchett will be glad to put you down as "nearer the Monogram Club than ever before." There will always be a Monogram Club member to help you as far as possible over the hard points.

This plan does not mean, however, that you will have to pass all the events in one month, but it means that you may work on them all the year and be passed on them once a month only. Freshmen, come on out and try. Upperclassmen, just keep on trying the things you did not pass last year.

It might be added that this year the Monogram Club is trying to work out a plan by which it can come in touch with other colleges, eastern as well as western, and find out just what is going on in other clubs and other colleges. This of course will make for broader ideas and a better club.

NIGHT FOOTBALL SUCCESS QUESTIONED

Night football has become an important part of American sports life; yet is causing much criticism and discussion among the leading football coaches of the country.

In this preesnt age, there are enough things to keep people sitting up late and burning the midnight oil without adding football to the list.

It is hoped that the health of the football players will be considered in preference to a craze on the part of the American people for something new and spectacular. Coach W .W. Roper, of Princeton said, "Forcing college boys to play football at night is bound to be injurious to their health. In the first place it is a strain on the eyes because of the unequal distribution of light in the different parts of the field. It also upsets their routine of living. They must postpone their dinner until after the game, and go to bed on top of a heavy meal; with the result they do not enjoy a restful sleep.

During this period of unemployment and business depression, people do not have the money to meet the enormous cost of putting in a floodlight system in the football fields, and of electrifying the driveways to the fields. All of these expenses would have to be borne directly or indirectly by the students' parents, unless the college is highly endowed, and there are many better purposes that this money could be used for.

Night fotball would, undoubtedly, cause class distinction among the colleges of America. There will be some colleges that are not able to meet the expenses of night football, and this would keep them from playing with those colleges that do; thus they would eventually be left to fall into a lower class or rating of colleges. The same maybe applied to high schools should they be attempting to have night football.

Earth Shocks in Italy

Eighteeen earth shocks have been felt recently in Fiastra, Italy. The population of the town, which is near Macerata, was thrown into panic, but no injuries or damage was reported. —The Richmond News Leaer.

We see where Washington and Lee is organizing a band this year. If it keeps up with the reputation of the school, we are sure it will be a big success.

WORLD NEWS

Vision of Steel Highways

Experiments in new materials for road-building seems to be not only fashionable but likely to yield useful results. Recently cotton cloth has been used as a binder in highway asphalt. Now so different a material as steel is being advocated as a foundation. According to the view of road builders, who have given the new development close study, the steel-based road, heralds the coming of the real super-highway. The American Highway Educational Bureau at Washington says:

The motoring public, long familiar with unsightly cracks in rigid road surfaces, and the rutting and shaving of the softer types, may now have roads that will be at all times smooth, that according to estimates, will last several times longer than pavements now in use, over which traffic may move with increased safety at a rapid speed ranging between 60 to 100 miles an hour. —The Literary Digest.

Cyclone Engine Contract Given

The war department has announced the award to the Wright Aeronautical Corporation of Patterson, N. J., of a contract for forty air-cooled "cyclone" engines and spare parts. The Detroit Aircraft Corporation was awarded a second contract to furnish a fast "Lockhead" single-engined transport plane for use in further service tests.—The Richmond News-Leader.

Loquacious Parrot

A red-headed parrot at the Forest Park Zoo with the vocabulary and repartee of a mule driver, has talked himself out of a pleasant home in the bird house. Because his language was too strong and too varied in epithets, the parrot has been placed in solitary confinement in one of the rear rooms of the bird house, and will be sold or given away. Hundreds of requests for the profane parrot have poured into the zoo.—The Virginian Pilot.

Meaning of U. S. A. Double In Germany

U. S. A. now has a double meaning for Germans in Berlin. The letters are used to designate traffic employes on the (U) underground, (S) streetcar and (A) autobus. The introduction of new uniforms is responsible. —The Roanoke Times.

Latest news shot: Slay riding the decline in Chicago.

PLAY A TENNIS MATCH !

What's the matter with you tennis players? Why don't you get to work and play your match off? Last week you were all busy getting ready for the circus, but from now on there is nothing standing in your way. All matches in the first round which are not played off by the end of this week will have to be forfeited. Get busy!

AT THE EACHO THEATRE WEEK OF NOVEMBER 17, TO 22

"The Best Sound In Southside Va."

MON. & TUES. — "Love in the Rough" with Robert Montgomery. and Dorothy Jordan (she did such great work in "Call of the Flesh." A comedy romance played and won on a golf course and the fastest, peppiest picture in months. He was a great guy in the wide open spaces of a golf course—but what an indoor sport! Here's the talkie you're going to talk about for a long time. Romantic, thrilling, comic, tuneful—every thing that goes to make a whale of an entertainment. Of course, you've heard "Go Home and Tell Your Mother"—well, here's where it came from. You don't have to know golf to enjoy this winning picture of laughs, and music, love and golf, but if you are a golfer you'll love it and if you are not a golfer, you'll love it anyway. Fore! Here's a hole-in-one. don't miss it. Also Cartoon, "Noah Knew His Ark."

WED. — "Not Damaged," with Lois Moran and Walter Byron. One lovely girl and two handsome lads. The girl was poor. One of the men was far from rich, and the other man had money to burn—on the girl who struck his passing fancy. But girls have minds of their own and Gwen Stewart was just such a girl. She went to men's apartments and attended wild parties but came through not damaged. A wild whoopee whirl which winds up in a wedding. Also Talking Comedy. 'Average Husbands.'

THURS. — "Cheer up and smile" with Arthur Lake and Dixie Lee in this youthful, peppy, tuneful romance of campus where college coeds make whoopee and boys make dates. Can you imagine a rat having to kiss the first woman he meets, and having to kick in the back the first man he meets, who happens to be the botany prof., who is leaning over to pick a daisy? A love story, of course; but O, Boy, what a college picture! A lively, whimsical, smiling picture of high spirits and tunefulness. Also Our Gang Comedy and Flip the Frog.

FRI. & SAT. — "The Sap From Syracuse" with Jack Oakie and Ginger Rogers. The craze of the hour! The charming, grinning comic of the screen—Jack Oakie. Laugh at his wise-cracks—laugh at his funny antics. Poor but happy, he inherits oodles of money and takes a boat for Europe to sow his wild oats. He is mistaken for a prominent engineer —and that's where the fun begins and laughs start on their merry way. He takes countesses for the count; gets in Dutch with duchesses. Here's one to pop your buttons and make you forget your worries and troubles. The picture to put you in proper frame of mind to better tackle your problems; a dose of laughter and sunshine to dispel the gloom—miss it and you'll be the loser. Also Pathe Sound news and comedy, "The Beauty Spot".

Two Shows Each Night—7:30 and 9:15. Daily Matinee at 4 P. M.

Admission—Adults, 35c at Nights and 25c at Matinees. Children Under 12 years of age, 15c to each show.

The Red Cross drive which is being carried on here has been responded to b ya number of the tables in the dining room.

Southside DrugStore
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh Films)
Let Us Develop
YOUR FILMS
ONE DAY SERVICE
Complete Line GREETING CARDS
Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking
Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.
MRS. SCHWARTZ
306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN
Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry,
Watches, Watch Bracelets and
Musical Instruments
GO TO
Lynn's Jewelry Store
MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store
Farmville, Va.
"Drugs and Drinks"
DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO
EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop
WILL FIX YOUR SHOES
WHILE YOU WAIT
BEST WORKMANSHIP
AND LEATHER USED

BUY TICKET FOR THE PLAY!

ROTUNDA

COME OUT FOR BASKET BALL!

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1930 No. 8

WESTHAMPTON DEFEATS FARMVILLE 1--0

Annual Meet of V. I. P. A. Held at William and Mary

"The Virginia Tech" Wins Cup; W. and L. Has Honor of Having Best Annual

V.I.P.A. MAGAZINE DISCUSSED

At the fourth meeting of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association at William and Mary College, the V. P. I. newspaper, The Virginia Tech, was awarded the cup. William and Mary tied with Hollins in the in literary magazine contest, and Washington and Lee carried away the honor of having the best annual.

The Flat Hat, William and Mary, and Cadet, V. M. I. won second and third places in the newspaper contest. Hampden-Sydney came second in the literary magazine contest, and R. M. W. C. gained honorable mention. V. P. I and V. M. I. won second and third places in the contest for annuals of 250 pages or more.

Other contests resulted as follows:

Newspapers published less frequently than weekly—

1st—The B. C. Bee, Bridgewater
2nd—The Grapurchat, East Radford.
3rd—The Bullet, Fredericksburg S. T. C.

Newspapers published by Junior Colleges or Prep Schools—

1st—Atlantic Log, Atlantic Univ.
2nd—The Chronicle — Averett College.

Year Books, less than 200 pages

The Lynchburg College year book

Year Books at Junior or Prep Schools

The Intermont, Viriginia Intermont
The Pendulum, Averett College

Engineering Magazine

The Virginia Tech Engineer, V. P. I.

Continued on page three

Ghost of Seigfried Terminates Opera

The Daily Express says that a ghostly apparition of a man in armor, floating above the heads of the dancers in the Convent Garden opera house last week, brought the music to an abrupt halt while the conductor, Herman Darewski, sank into a chair and dropped his baton.

The paper quoted Darewski as saying he noticed the drummer had stopped playing and was staring with eyes of horror across the hall. Darewski looking for the cause, saw a helmeted and armored figure resembling Wagner's Seigfried, he said. He added that it was moving slowly through the air across the arena and it so shocked and unnerved him that he collapsed in a chair.

The band stopped playing and the amazed dancers flocked toward the conductor thinking he was ill. Amid the excitement the ghost vanished.

Some members of the band were credited by the paper with seeing the figure, but apparently none of the dancers noticed it. Darewski said he feared the apparition was an omen of disaster.—The Lynchburg News.

NOTED SINGER

Miss Helen Denton, popular mezzo soprano.

HELEN DENTON SANG HERE LAST EVENING

Miss Helen Denton, popular mezzo soprano, gave a program in the college auditorium last evening at 8 o'clock. Miss Denton was accompanied by Harvey Brown.

The program was:

1. Nel cor pui non mi Sento .. Paisello
   Amarilli ..... Caccini
   Bergere Legere ..... Weckerlin
II. Aria:—
   "Lise, Lise" from "Die Freischutz" ..... von Weber
III. Traum durch die Dammerung ..... Strauss
   Zuignung ..... Strauss
   The Clock ..... Sachnowsky
   A Dissonance ..... Borodine
   Three Cavaliers ..... Dargomijsky
IV. By a Lonely Forest Pathway ..... Griffes
   Hard Trials ..... arr. by Burleigh
   Where Go the Boats .. Fickenscher
   Luxembourg Gardens .... Manning
   Iris ..... Wolf

The following girls are the new Freshman Commission for 1920-31:

Mary Nelson
Dorothy Prescott
Sallie Russell
Mary Diehl
Martha Higgins
Martha Kello
Virginia Ann Huntsberry
Mary Lou Fritts
Irwin Staples
Helen Rose Cunningham
Frances Lewis
Sarah Ford

Nat'l Book Week Program Given in Auditorium

Various Schools of Prince Edward County Take aPrt In the Presentation

PRIZE WINNERS ANNOUNCED

National Book Week was celebrated Saturday night, November 15th in the auditorium of the State Teachers College with a program in which the schools of Prince Edward county participated. A large number of the parents and others interested in school activities were present.

The stage of the auditorium was turned into a veritable bookshop into which two small girls skipped happily to buy a book from Mr. Bookman, who was portrayed by Mr. Coyner. He told them that all the characters in their story books came to visit during National Book Week and asked them which they would like to see first. Mother Goose was the choice, and was dramatized by a child from Rice school.

From Green Bay school came Jack and Jill, Little Miss Muffet, Curly Locks, and Little Jack Horner. Darlington Heights school contributed Little Bo Peep, Tom Thumb, the Piper's Son, Jack be Nimble, Mistress Mary, and Little Boy Blue.

Other characters who came from books were Cinderella represented by a child from Curdsville; Three Bears from Rice; the Gingerbread Boys from Worsham; the Tar Baby from John Randolph, and Little Black Sambo from Prospect.

The primary grades of the Training school represented poems familiar to the children, Rain, Wynken, Blynken and Nod, Foreign Children, Hush-a-By Baby, and Pied Piper.

The two well-known books, Tom Sawyer and Treasure Island were represented by the upper grades of the public school.

Their bedtime having slipped by while they were lost in the land of books, the two children thanked Mr. Bookman and hurried home.

Dr. Diehl then announced the winners of the essay and poster contest.

The subject for the essay contest was "My Favorite Book." Alice Grainger from the College High School won first place. Those receiving honorable mention were Virginia Layne and Louise Walmsley from the College High School and Minnie Rodgers from Farmville High School.

Continued on page three

DR. J. L. JARMAN

We, the members of the Rotunda Staff, lovingly dedicate this issue to Dr. Jarman, our president on his birthday which symbolizes for us another year of excellent administration and kindness.

DEBATE CLUB TRYOUTS HELD THURSDAY

On Thursday, November 13 at 7 P. M. the Debate Club held try-outs for membership for both upperclassmen and freshmen. The question discussed was: "Resolved, That the State Should Give Financial Aid to the Unemployed."

Interesting talks were given both for and against the question as stated above. Approximately thirty tried out. The following girls are the new members

Margaret Armstrong
Margaret Banks
Elizabeth Burger
Winston Cobb
Lois Cox
Margaret Davidson
Martha Earp
Margaret Fisher
Florence Gregory
Margaret Hunter
Alma Joyce
Susie Odor
Mary Thomas Rawls
Mildred Shelton
Dot Snedegar
Henrietta Taylor
LaValle Taylor
Cornelia Watts
Dorothy Woolwine

Old members, bear in mind varsity tryouts on December 3.

Williams Sends Ball Into Goal in First Few Minutes of Play

S. T. C. Rallies and Gives Visiting Team Real Fight to the End of Game

GOAL MADE OFFSIDE

In one of the hardest fought and most exciting games played this season, Westhampton College hockey team defeated S. T. C. by the score of 1-0 here on the athletic field Saturday afternoon.

Grabbing the ball at the take-off quickly dribbling it down the field to their goal area, Westhampton completely took the S. T. C. team off its feet and made a goal in the first few seconds of play. Williams,, fast Westhampton left inside, gave the shot that sent the ball scurrying across the line into the goal and which made the S. T. C. team and its backers stare in amazement.

After the first shocking moments of play, the S. T. C. team rallied and gave the visiting team a real fight. Most of the play, after those first seconds, was in the S. T. C. area. Westhampton was forced to play the defensive side. Dribbles and passes by the S. T. C. forwards carried the ball within the striking circle a number of times, only to be knocked outside or lost to Westhampton for a free hit. E. Seay, Westhampton center half, showed good form in striking these balls out of S. T. C. area. The Westhampton goal keeper showed especially good play in kicking and knocking out those balls that rolled within her defensive area. The ball stayed on the left side of S. T. C.'s end of the field most of the time, forcing Crute to play exceptionally hard. She showed good form and fast work in her dribbling, carrying the ball down the field a number of times.

Continued on last page

Mr. Alfred Strick Presents Concert

Mr. Alfred H. Strick, head of the music department at S. T. C. and recently appointed organist and choir director at the Presbyterian church, gave a sacred concert at that church, Sunday night, November 16.

Mr. Strick was assisted in the concert by Dr. J. L. Jarman and the S. T. C. Choral Club.

The program was as follows:

Minuet ..... Handel
Nocturne in E flat ..... Chopin
Andante Cantabile .... Tschaikowsky
Solo: "Fear Ye Not, O Israel— Dudley Buck
Dr. J. L. Jarman
Jerusalem the Golden ..... Spark
Chorus: "Sun of My Soul", A. Strick
Soloist, Miss Florence Cralle
Chorus, S. T. C. Choral Club
Traumerei ..... Schumann
March in D Major ..... Lemmens

Mr. Strick has planned a series of musical programs both for the church and the college. In this way he has aroused a great interest in music, not only in his students but also in the community at large.

S. T. C. and H.-S. C. Dramatic Clubs Present "Mr. Pim Passes By" on Friday, November 21

* * *

Have you bought your ticket yet? To what? Why, how absurd to ask such a question! "Mr. Pim Passes By" is to be presented by the dramatic clubs of S. T. C. and H. S. C. Friday, November 21 at 8 p. m. If you have not bought a ticket you'd better do so without delay and have it reserved at White Drug Company, too, or else just consider your self lucky if you find standing room.

* * *

Freshmen of S. T. C. take the leading feminine roles. Imagine that! And do they put those clever lines over in a big way? Just come and see for yourself. You'll never regret it, or be dissappointed either. That's a promise.

* * *

The faculty of forgetfulness combined with the narrow-mindedness of an English gentleman tend to keep up the interest from beginning to end. Really I'm as excited as a school girl about this play. Why you could-not pay me to stay away.

Do you know there has been rumor of a bigamist in it. Even the mention of the very word is enough to make one sit up and take notice. You'll surely get your share of that Friday night, too. I still can't get straight that bigamist proposition. Is Olivia or is she not a bigamist? That is the question. Be sure to see the play and find out for yourself!

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

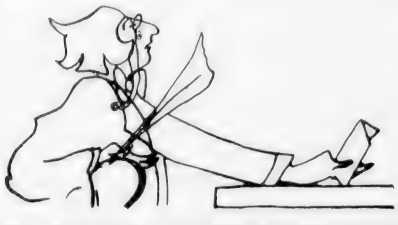
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Happy Birthday!

Fleetly they have fled, these twelve months, like melting snow flakes in their swiftness. And ere they slip into that realm beyond recall and merging into become a part of time's history, we pause a moment in retrospection.

One more year made richer by his presence in his world, scores more lives influenced for good and guiding footprints more firmly set upon the sands of time—these and more are represented by Dr. Jarman's birthday. So to live that he is acclaimed the ideal of eight hundred hearts and the idol of that many more must indeed be a feeling akin to the sublime. This exaltation must surely and rightly lie within the experience of our president. Like a mountain etched against a winter sky at sunset, so upon our lives are engraved the loftiness of his ideals and the glory of his example.

Years cannot for us his twinkling eye bedim, nor in our sight his stately bearing lessen, for ours it has been to glimpse the inner man. Enshrined in our vision, enmeshed in our lives is the radiance of that light from within.

"Happy birthday!" is voiced by a thousand hearts and from thousands of lives influenced for good the echo comes ringing back "It could but be!"

OVER THE TEACUPS

Oh, may I have a piece? It looks so good. Cinnamon toast and tea? Goes right to the spot. You're a love to have it when I'm here.

That reminds me of Frances Rawlings. I heard her say the other day she ate about a dozen pieces—and yet she's supposedly reducing. Can't understand some people.

Speaking of fat. I hear Margaret Bowles wore Missie Bernier's dress, evening dress, too, the other night. I can't feature it. That's as ridiculous as me in Dot Anderson's—and that happened.

Who is Martha Sanders holding in now at H.-S.? Seems to me somebody said something about Bankie Warren and mother—no, I'm sure they must have meant Frankie Smoot. How, could I be so dumb?

Really, these freshmen are walking away with H.-S. and almost everything. Why, they've even taken possession of the Dramatic Club. (Yes, just a little more tea to warm this.) Why, as I was saying, three of the four girls in the fall play are freshmen. I bet they are good even if they are merely freshmen, and certainly their class will be behind them. It ought to.

Oh, well, they say every dog has its day—I guess I'm just a scrawny cat. This toast makes me want to purr; it's so good.

I wonder if Lucy Ann Layne and Nannie Mears ever go to class unprepared like I do. If they do, they are just good bluffers—where's my lucky star? I guess it fell when it saw my charming face. Bosh!

You know (I've got to have another piece of toast) I wonder if people ever feel as I do—I mean in the dining room. Sometimes I think I'll go absolutely crazy when I stop, eating of course, and listen to the racket. But I figure if 699 other people can live through it, I can, too. I do wish people would think and try not to be so loud, though. I don't believe so much noise is necessary, do you? Why, I even got ambitious and tried to start a drive for better table manners one day, and then somebody took the corner roll I'd been wanting and waited for and I broke down and took the next best.

Honestly if I eat any more toast I'll die. I certainly was sticking my neck out to comment on Frances Rawlings. If I said Toodles Booth it might have been different. Better leave on that. Please come to see me sometimes. The food was grand! When I get a box, be sure to come 'fore it's gone. Bye—but don't tell anybody, or you won't even get a sniff. You know how it is. I'm going really now—good-bye!

GREAT GRANDFATHER GOBBLER

Monkeys have often been accused of being our great grandfathers and many cases of resemblance have been sighted as proof. Being mistaken for a turkey, throws an entirely new light on our problems of ancestors. Is is possible that we are descended from the great king gobblers of the forest?

Even the connecting link has been found. The first disaster of the hunting season resulted in this new discovery. One of the hunters mistaking the game warden for a wild turkey filled him full of shot.

Evolution is an interesting subject and resemblance plays an important part, but then there are times and times for noting the likeness.

Franklin Younger: "What is the shape of a kiss."

Jerry Lee: "I don't know."

Franklin: "Give me one and call it square."

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

It would give us new life to see Allie Oliver cheer up and be more like Allie Oliver—freshman!

• • •

Is Martha Sanders all she is cracked up to be?

• • •

Some people work and accomplish lots. Some people work other people for lots. Some people don't even work.

• • •

A. J. Scott has certainly gotten moony lately—and she has so much opportunity, too. Isn't she Undergraduate Representative?

• • •

Where do these freshmen get the idea that they are privileged characters? Willis, Banks, Sargent, Bernier and a few of those we love so much. (Sarcastic? Oh, no!)

• • •

The freshman class is organized now. Let's watch them grow. They have to grow together—a few can't do it all.

• • •

Our problems would be solved if cooperation were every organization's keyword.

• • •

Has Katherine Ritter stopped talking yet?

• • •

Sally Russell really is good in the play. No kiddin'.

• • •

I wish Ida Trolan would snap it up—get pepped—you know what I mean?

• • •

The red and white thinks the green and white had better take a back seat. Well, time will tell—Thanksgiving is almost upon us.

• • •

Mary Shelton seems to be on the fence about some things. We hope she'll do some honest thinking for herself and come out O. K.

• • •

This is a teachers college after all, isn't it? I thought perhaps Kitty Waters thought it was a finishing school.

• • •

Didn't our team shine Saturday? Excellent teamwork and how 'bout our goal keeper? Swell!

• • •

If halls are noisy for studying why don't we do something about it? Who makes the noise anyhow?

• • •

Why don't freshmen wear their rat caps?

• • •

About five hundred of us would enjoy prayers if the other two hundred would calm down for ten minutes. We need it, if they don't.

• • •

Dot Goodloe is a swell girl, hope she can keep up to par all round.

THREE YEARS AGO TODAY AT S. T. C.

November 19, 1927, proved an unhappy, happy day at S. T. C. I know because with all S. T. C.'s fighting, William and Mary beat at hockey 9-4. We were, however, ladies enough to entertain the visitors wisely and well. And besides that, our sophomores came out of their game of chasing rats long enough to present their classman, Dr. Walmsley, to the student body and faculty the same morning in chapel. And Miss Jennie became the advisor of the granddaughters club. (Why the three together, I don't know, but they happened.)

Then the dance—the Cotillion Club dance took place on that past 19th of November. I wonder what the style was then, it seems so long ago. Now I really shouldn't have said that because Liz Antrim was there.

I heard Dr. Walmsley say the other day he didn't play tennis any more, but I see he won the championship by defeating Mr. Coyner that memorable 19th. Wouldn't you love to have seen that game. Wish they'd do it again.

The whole school seemed to me in a storm over the approaching Thanksgiving, and the Virginian staff was taking annual subscriptions. (Isn't that unusual!) The Rotunda staff and the Dramatic Club were feasting and tearing and alumnae were both raising cain.

This seems a quiet 19th compared to that one, but 'twas Saturday and we lost the game.

GREY SKIES AND BLUE

Tired dear,
Feeling blue,
Little head bent low—
Dampened curls,
Weight of worlds
Ah! I love you so.

Happy dear,
Feeling glad—
Little head held high—
Sunny curls
Laughing worlds
Sporting in your eye.

L. M., '32

LOVE AN MUSIC

Love, you can never be expressed.
For you my heart cries out, "I can't"
You burn my soul; you fill my breast
When asked to rise and music chant.

Ah! Music, how you thrill my life!
Enchant me, hold me, raise up strife.
Can I, through you, ease inward pain?
I can't—yet in my heart you reign.

Oh can't! You haunt me like a ghost
You rise before me when I hate you most.
You laugh? 'Tis sad to weaken man,
He'll learn you vanish with dawn, "I can."

I can?—Oh, yes, I know I can;
Can't has not ruled since the world began.
Burst forth; oh music, from out my soul!
'Tis love which gives me self-control.

I can! The dawn has come at last.
You must vanish, can't and vanish fast
Never again must you show your face,
For love and music bring you disgrace.

E. C.

HER EYES

The clear blue depths of her eyes,
The light of her beautiful soul,
Reflect the purest love, paradise,
Which leads to that ultimate goal.

The sacred purities beam
Too sacred for me to behold.
Lest I see God's face, and then die,
Nature drops a veil fringed with gold.

Controlled by power of her God
The veil slowly lifts from her eyes
And down under flower, grass, and sod
Are roots of the best that ne'er dies.

Oh! Why are those eyes so divine,
And why don't I need any aid
To interpret the truths so sublime,
That tell us of what she is made?

For the eyes are those of a child
Through which shines peace from on high
And reflects the love, meek and mild
Of her God, who is always close by.

E. C.

SCHOLASTIC AVERAGES OF SORORITIES

Scholastic averages for sororities for last year are as follows:

Zeta Tau 1.609
Gamma Theta 1.565
Mu Omega 1.512.
Delta Sigma Chi 1.512.

SOCIALS

The rainy weather last week failed to dampen Cupid's plans, and Miss Sallie Watson became the bride of Mr. Jack Lawson, of Charlottesville, Va., on Saturday, November 15. The wedding took place in Rockville, Md.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Watson, of Charlottesville, and was one of our new girls coming to us from Stuart Hall.

We extend congratulations and sincere good wishes to this young couple for a long life of happiness.

The following girls spent the week end in Richmond:

Frances Parker, Dorothy Leonard, Alma Garlick, Nancy St. Clair, Ruth Peery, Kathryn Royster, Margaret Gathright, Martha Walters, Mary Ellen Johnson, Anna Minter, Margaret Young, Elizabeth Johnson, Dorothy Dudley, Kathryn Rogers, Helen Shawen, Sarah Wills, Virginia Ford, Mary Easley Hill, Frank Smoot, Virginia Larner, Alice and Grace Rowell, Martha Sanders, Gloria Mann, A. J. Scott, Catherine Jones, and Jane Royall.

Jessie Smith, Elizabeth Taylor, Ella Carroll and Charlotte Hutchins attended the Intercollegiate Press Association convention in Williamsburg this week end.

Anna Knox and Catherine Logan spent the week-end at Salem, the home of the latter.

Evelyn Hughes spent the week-end at her home in Hampton.

Martha Higgins was at her home in Waverley this week-end.

Ruth Ford spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Margaret, Martha and Julia Faris spent the week-end at their home at Red Hill.

Mary Arthur Billups was in Norfolk this week-end.

Alice Covington was at Charlottesville this week-end.

Virginia Bailey spent the week-end at her home at Windsor.

Ann Guy, Eva Harris and Toodles Booth spent the week-end at the home of the latter in Lynchburg.

Catherine Cogbill spent the week-end at her home in Boydton.

Virginia Brinkley spent the week-end in Suffolk.

Mary Virginia Hill spent the week-end in Charlottesville.

Jane Beale spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Patty Ellison, Gazelle Ware and Louise Munt spent the week-end in Petersburg.

Evelyn Stephenson was at Charlottesville this week-end.

Virginia Bledsoe spent the week-end in Norfolk.

Josie Spencer was at her home in Lynchburg this week-end.

Margaret McCoy and Helen Cover were in Staunton this week-end.

Betsy Wilkinson was in Lynchburg at her home this week-end.

Mary Alice Young spent the week end in Lynchburg.

Margaret Eley was in Norfolk this week-end.

Mary Page White was at her home at Red Hill this week-end.

Margaretta Brady and Lelia Lovelace spent the week-end at the home of the latter in Halifax.

Sarah Baker spent the week-end in Norfolk.

Dorothy Goodloe spent the week-end in Charlottesville.

Mary Nelson, Ella Simms Clore and Margaret Banks spent Sunday in Orange.

Loulie Millner was in Lynchburg this week end.

Dorothy Ritchie spent the week-end at her home in Petersburg.

Virginia Sargent spent the week-end in Charlottesville.

Caroline Read was at her home in Lynchburg this week-end.

Sarah Saunders spent the week-end at Suffolk

Virginia Witt was in Lynchburg this week-end.

Lillian Woodley was at her home in Dumbarton this week-end.

Jo Snead spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

In Dramatic Club Play

Miss Mary Shelton and Mr. Joe Perry who take parts in "Mr. Pim Passes By," to be given in the auditorium November 21st.

DR. JARMAN GIVEN BIRTHDAY PARTY

Tonight the Student Council is giving a banquet in honor of Dr. Jarman's birthday.

The color scheme is pink, the table having pink candles and a centerpiece of pink roses.

The theme "flower language" is carried out in the place cards and toasts.

The toasts are:

To Miss Mary ..... Rena Robertson
To Miss Jennie ..... Jane Royall
To Dr. Jarman .... Elizabeth Taylor
Adele Hutchinson is toast-mistress.

Besides the guest of honor, those present will included Miss Mary W. Cox, Miss Jennie Tabb, Miss Virginia Potts and the Student Council.

SOCIAL

On Saturday night at ten o'clock Adele entertained the Student Councile and the House Council at a pajama party in the lounge. The guests sat around the fireplace and talked and ate—and ate and ate, while Mildred Maddrey softly played Liebstraum and other lovely selections. Everyone enjoyed it so much and Adele has been elected by them "just the best ever."

MATHEMATICS CLUB WILL BE REORGANIZED

For the past four years there has been no mathematics club in the college. Now, under the direction of a student who is working for honors in math, a club, similar to the previous one, is being organized. All members of Course III Mathematics classes are members; anyone who has taken it as a minor or an elective, and any girl taking math in Course I and II, and is interested may become a member. The first meeting of the club was held on Thursday afternoon in the Student Building Auditorium. At that time the officers for the coming year were elected. They are:

President, Mary Lee Goodwin.
Vice-President, Lois Cox.
Sec'y and Treas., Eleanor Dashiel.

Committees were appointed to draw up a constitution and decide on a name for the club.

There will be two meetings each quarter, and each meeting will count as either a preparation period or class period. The programs to be presented will consist of numbers relating to pure, applied, or historical math, and will be planned by the club director, aided by whatever members she may choose.

Through the organization of this club, it is hoped that the members may gain a broader outlook on mathematics leading to a fuller appreciation of its value and beauty, and material for which the class room does not provide time. As its objective for this year, the club is planning to contribute as many articles as possible to the Mathematics Department, for the use of coming classes. The reorganization of this club marks a big step forward, and will do a great deal toward making math a vital part of everyday life.

NATIONAL BOOK WEEK PRESENTS PROGRAM

Continued from page one

In the grammar grades, Alice Walthall from the sixth grade at Rice school was the winner. Clara Carter from Worsham school and Roger Blackwell from Prospect school received honorable mention.

The poster contest was for the first four grades. The schools participating were Farmville Training school, Prospect, Rice, John Randolph, Worsham, and Curdsville. The winners were as follows:

First Grade: John Randolph 1st; Worsham 2nd.

Second Grade: Curdsville 1st; Worsham 2nd; Rice 3rd.

Third Grade: Rice 1st; Farmville Training School 2nd; Worsham 3rd.

Fourth Grade: John Randolph, 1st; Prospect 2nd; Worsham 3rd.

FOURTH ANNUAL MEET OF V. I. P. A. HELD

Continued from page 1.

Comics

The Skipper, V. P. I.

The first meeting of the convention was held in Washington Hall by the executive committee. This committee composed of William F. Rountree, Jr., William and Mary College; Frances Snyder, Harrisonburg State Teachers College; Jessie Smith, of Farmville State Teachers College; T. B. Daughty, Washington and Lee, and Merle B. Grubbs, Hollins College, discussed the possibility of having a V. I. P. A. magazine. This magazine would be gotten out monthly, and would contain an article from each school that was a member of V. I. P. A. It was later passed at a business meeting of the entire convention that this magazine be gotten out. A Hudgins, of Richmond, a former student of Hampden-Sydney College will edit the first issue of the magazine.

The convention was divided into discussion groups, some being in the editorial group and others being in the business management group which were led by prominent newspaper men.

It was voted that the fifth annual meeting of V. I. P. A. meet at Lynchburg College and R. M. W. C. next year, the officers being: Belch, Jr., Lynchburg College, president; Ann Hargrave, R. M. W. C., secretary-treasurer; Frances Bragg, William and Mary, vice-president.

After the last meeting adjourned some of the visitors went on a sightseeing tour around Jamestown and other historical places of interest in and around Williamsburg.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Europe last summer proved attractive to faculty and alumnae of Farmville, S. T. C. Miss Grace E. Mix traveled on the continent after the close of the summer training school, and attended the Passion Play.

Miss Bessie Barclay, who has often been a member of the summer school faculty, studied art in Rome and England for several months.

Dr. Lula Winston, for eighteen years professor of chemistry here, now head of the department in Meredith College, visited Egypt and Palestine, and attended the Passion Play.

Misses Bertha and Louise Beasley and Cora Helen Meeks made a tour of Europe

Miss Nell Putney, who was a student here last year while on a furlough, sailed for China September 4 to resume her missionary work.

Mrs. Mary Lindsey Roundy will be the proprietor of the Dixie Gift Shop, which will open November 22 and replace the Falconer Gift Shop on Main Street.

Mrs. Bessie Beasley Carter, formerly of Lynchburg, was married June 7 in Alemeda, Calif., to Arthur Howard Bell. Mr. and Mrs. Bell are living in Stockton, Calif.

On August 19, Miss Lillian East of Pittsylvania county became the bride of Samuel Lovell Hayden of Chatham.

Miss Mary Christine Reid, formerly of Gordonsville, and Fred Bechdolt Anderson were married in Portsmouth on June 14.

The wedding of Miss Kerah Carter Cole of Ginter Park to Jefferson Franklin Proctor of Richmond and Gloucester was solemnized in St. Pauls Episcopal church, June 26.

Miss Virginia Christopher of Hardings, Northumberland county and J. J. Mercer, Jr., of White Stone, were married June 11. Mr. and Mrs. Mercer visited Farmville on their wedding trip.

Miss Gladys Virginia Herndon of Rustburg and Robert Irvin Thomas of Concord, were married in June. Mrs. Thomas taught two years in the Concord High School.

PEP MEETING HELD FRIDAY NIGHT

The first pep meeting of the year was held in the auditorium Friday night. Despite a large number of girls having left school for the week-end, the meeting was attended with much enthusiasm. The yells and songs were carried out with vim and pep under the leadership of Ida Trolan.

COLLEGE BRIEFS

The Hampden-Sydney-University of Richmond game, played Saturday in Richmond, ended with a score of 0-0.

In spite of a broken shoulder Mr. Pim will pass by as planned. Seats for the play went on reserve at White Drug Company today at 4 p. m.

We have heard that the Pi Kappa Delta Sorority province convention is to be held at S. T. C. on March 27 and 28. The S. T. C. chapter is in the province with North Carolina, South Carolina and West Virginia. Dr. Walmsley is president for the province and Martha Faris is secretary.

The concert last night was a great surprise, but none the less pleasant. More surprises of the sort will be gladly accepted.

A drive for class dues is coming That is something to write home about. A hint to the wise is sufficient, each class may expect 100 per cent return from the drive.

Open Pan-Hellenic meeting this term is taking the form of a dansant which will be held in the "Rec" Thursday afternoon.

The Y. W. is endeavoring to perfect its organization in the training school by forming a girls Hi-Y with definite objectives.

CLASS CHEER LEADER

Cheer leaders for the classes were chosen at class meetings held Tuesday night. The senior class is lucky in having for their cheer leader Ida Trolan, who is also cheer leader for the school. The junior class chose Lindsay White to lead them in their yells for their team. Alice Moore will organize the sophomore class cheers. Julia Faris will be assisted by Sarah Ford in cheering the freshmen "on to victory."

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART

We would like to have your orders

—for—

DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS

Canada Drug Co.

Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

COTILLION CLUB DANCES ARE ALMOST HERE

DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!

We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Three piece suits the kind that sells for $5.95. All colors and sizes ... $5.59

Newest fall shoes, low, medium and high heels. Prices $2.98 $3.95 and $5

26 sample sport coats, Princess style Special ... $9.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Buster Kendig: "How old are you?"
Alice: "Nineteen."
Buster: "You told me that two years ago."
Alice: "Well, I'm not the kind of girl that will tell you one thing one time and something else another."

H. S. Prof.: "Late again. Have you ever done anything on time?"
Charley Robertson: "Yes, I bought a car."

Mr. McCorkle: "Have any of your childhood hopes been realized?"
Dr. Simkins: "Yes, when my mother pulled my hair I wished I didn't have any."

Anne McGann: "I don't know which boy to take to the Cotillion."
Cotty Willis: "Flip a coin."
Ann McGann: "I did, but it didn't come out right."

Dr. Walmsley: "Sorry to have kept you waiting, but I've been setting a trap for my wife."
Mr. French: "Heavens, What do you suspect?"
Dr. Mouse: "A mouse in the pantry."

Jane Beale (Eastern Shore): "I love the sea, its almost a part of me."
Martha Faris (mountaineer): "Yes, you're all wet."

Little Boy: "Mother, the circus is in town."
Mother: "Hush, hush, son, that's a H. S. boy."

Guest: "You said in this room after eight o'clock you could not hear a pin drop. I find it over a bowling alley."
Hotel Clerk: "Well, you can't hear 'em drop."

Her: 'Who was that girl you spoke to?"
Him: "Never mind, now, dear, I'll have enough trouble explaining to her who you are."

Landlady: "What have you put your coffee on a stool?"
Invalid Roomer: "It was so weak I thought it had better sit down."

She: "You're like the sea."
He: "So restless and powerful?"
She: "No. You make me sick."

Dumb: "I didn't double cross you, honey."
Dumber: "What did all those crosses mean at the bottom of your letter?"

" Did you make the debating team?"
"No. They s-s-s-sa-said I w-w-w-w wasn't t-t-t-t-tall enough."

Lady: "Do you think sardines are healthy?"
Merchant: "Well, Ma'am, I never heard one complain."

A hypocrite is a man who goes to work at four a. m. singing, "All the world is jealous of me."

English teacher (during class): "The boy stood on the burning deck
Now, Ann, tell me what that quotation typifies?"
Ann Morgan: 'Flaming youth."

Girl 'I'm going to Blue Ridge sanatorium."
Another girl: "Are you going for a week-end?" '
Girl "No, lung trouble.'"

A stuffed olive is a pickle with a tail light.

ATHLETICS

S. T. C. LOSES TO WESTHAMPTON 1-0

Fast Playing in First Seconds of the Game Gives Victory to Vlisting Team First Half

Continued from page one

As the whistle blew for the end of the first half, the ball had been in mid-field and Souders had made a pretty free shot, sending it across S. T. C.'s 25 yard line.

There was a touch of humor added to the game in this half for both teams, but especially for the fans. E Seay, Westhampton center half, lost her shoe during the first play and went the remainder of the half with only one on. And one couldn't help laughing at Allie Oliver—in a fight for the ball she slid down, and there she sat for a number of seconds, still playing, determined to get it from her opponent.

Cheers Between Halves

Enthusiastic cheers and songs were led between halves by Ida Trolan, S. T. C. cheerleader, assisted by Lindsay White, cheerleader for the junior class.

Second Half

The S. T. C. team trotted on the field first amid spirited cheers from the student body. After the starting whistle, both teams played a "tit for tat" system—the ball going back and forth, up and down the center of the field, first one and then the other losing it for a free hit.

Oliver got the ball, dribbled it quickly into the striking circle, and drove at the goal, only to have it kicked out by the opposing goal keeper. After this, the Westhampton forwards carried the ball to their own area and kept it in the space for a good time. P. Edwards as goalkeeper showed up well in successfully keeping the ball out of the goal.

The ball then went from one goal area to the other, neither team being able to send it across the line for a marker. A number of times the ball went up to the goal post, grazed the outside of it, and went out. These plays excited the crowd and led to much cheering and then moaning!

Just a fraction of a second before the final whistle blew, Crute drove the ball and it went past the Westhampton goal keeper into the cage. The throng went up in cheers, only to find out that the striker had been offside and the goal did not count.

Both teams played a well balanced game throughout and showed good form and teamwork. Crute, and P. Edwards showed up especially well for S. T. C. For Westhampton E. Seay and West looked best.

The line-up:

S. T. C.		Westhampton
Gunter	R. W.	Wellons
Snedegar	R. I.	C. Seay
Reed	C. F.	Lowe
Oliver (c-	L. I.	Williams
Crute	L. W.	Saunders
Ridgeway	R. H.	Mayes
F. Edwards	C. H.	E. Seay
Souders	L. H.	Burns
Quisenberry	R. F.	Beck
Simpson	L. F.	West
P. Edwards	G. K.	Mackaney

Score by halves: S. T. C. 0-0; Westhampton 1-0.

Substitutes: Westhampton—Cooper L. H. (Capt), Perkins R. W.

Umpires: Miss Marbot (Harrisonburg); Miss Tibbitts (Baltimore).

"Disraeli" Awarded Gold Medal of Honor

The talking picture "Disraeli" has been awarded the Photoplay gold medal of honor as the best moving picture of 1929. The award is based on ballots taken in theatres throughout the United States.—The Roanoke Times.

HOCKEY TEAM

A. Oliver, capt.; D. Reed, L. Crute. E. Coleman, E. Walthall, L. Boush, M. Maddrey, E. Burger, D. Snedegar, M. Gunter, L. Beacham, E. Souders, D. Ridgeway, E. Hardy, C. Quisenberry, E. Simpson, M. Kello, N. R. Cooper, D. Leonard, L. Smith, K. Hundley, E. Hunter, P. Edwards, M. Massey, I Evans, F. Edwards, G. Sudger, R. Wright.

PREPARATONS FOR THANKSGIVING DAY GAMES BEING MADE

The athletic field is the scene of energetic hockey practices every afternoon from 4:00 until 6:00 in preparation for the interclass games here on Thanksgiving day. Reds and White will cross sticks with the Green and White in a spirited scrap backed by the age-old feeling of friendly rivalry and "win-or-bust" spirit!"

This week's practice schedule has undergone a slight change over the usual one. Sister classmates will engage in "minor battles" at separate times, whereas all classes have formerly been practicing as a whole.

A splendid spirit of cooperation and unsurpassable sportsmanship has been displayed by the girls who have spent their afternoons on the hockey field in a tireless effort to master the technicalities of the game. All the team lacks is a sideline of enthusiastic spectators "cheering wildly"—urging it on to victory—making the kind of college game we read about in modern fiction. A handful of half-interested people does not furnish much backing for a team.

Let's 'get together and have some "wim, wigor and witality" to put into the cheering! They're getting ready for the big day—and so should we. Here's to "bigger and better" pep meetings than ever before! We've got a wonderful team to support.

IT'S COMING!
—What?
—Why??—
—Where??—
—Wonder!—
—Watch!!—
—Wait!!!—
December 12!

At Eaco Theatre Week of Nov. 24-29

"The Best Sound in Southside Va."

MON. and TUES.—"Billy the Kid," with Johnny Mack Brown, Wallace Beery, Kay Johnson and a great supporting cast in an unusual producton directed by King Vidor, who made "The Big Parade." Here is a picture of the wide, open spaces that is so different that you will be swept off your feet by its very vastness. One of the first pictures to be photographed on wide film. And Johnny Mack Brown as Billy the Kid will win his way into your heart. He was a relentless enemy, the most loyal of friends, generous to a fault, and his attitude toward women was touched with the chivalry of the old frontier. He had as many sweethearts as he had notches on his gun. There is a lesson for every American boy in this great picture. A big, splendid, unusual picture that everyone, young or old, should see. Also Cartoon Fable.

WED. and THURS.—Clara Bow in "Love Among the Millionaires," with Mitzi Green, Stanley Smith and Skeets Galleher. There's no stopping the irrepressible "Red Head." Here she is with the new Bow lines, the new coiffure, the new boy friend and a million dollars worth of pep, personality and "the old zingo." In this picture Clara turns her "it" loose and goes on a new kind of personality rampage. You'll thrill to the new kind of petting and pep she puts into this new kind of Bow show where she is up among the swells, and with a swell plot, swell comedy and swell songs. A gay, loving time is in store for you and if you don't go wild over little Mitzi Green in this picture, you had better see a doctor. Love, romance, real comedy and catchy songs—don't pass it up. Also two reel talking comedy.

FRIDAY and SAT.—John Gilbert in "Way for a Sailor," supported by Wallace Beery, Leila Hyams and Polly Moran. Here is the tael of a robust romance and two-fisted adventure to warm your heart and set your pulse bounding. Different from any picture John Gilbert has ever appeared in. A roaring, roistering tale of girls, ships and ports throughout the seven seas. Two-fisted! a thousand laughs—a thousand thrills! There is a smack of the sea in this roaring tale of carefree sailormen and the girls they love in every port. This picture just finished playing in Richmond last Saturday, where it made a big hit. See the new John Gilbert. Also Pathe Sound News and Cartoon Fable.

Watch for announcement of the greatest dog serial ever made—Rin-Tin-Tin in "The Lone Defender." Once each week for 12 weeks.

Two shows each night—7:30 and 9:15; daily matinees at 4 p. m.

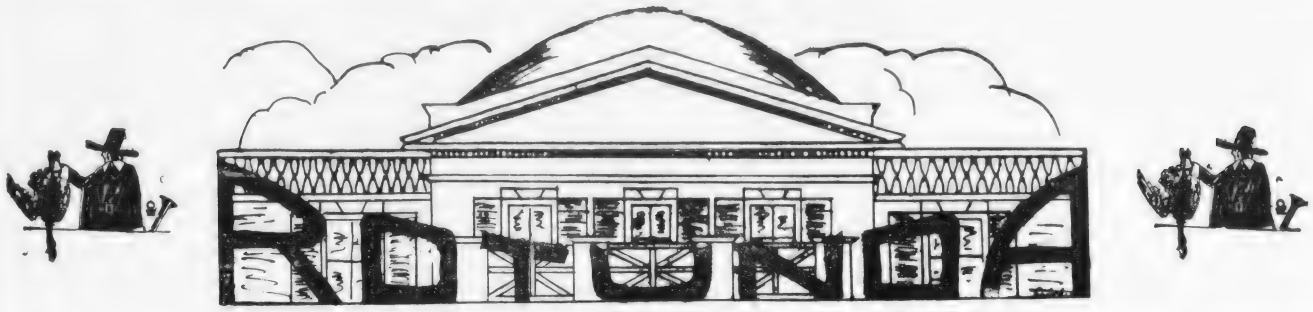
TENNIS DON'TS

1 Don't use two hands on the racquet.
2 Don't fool.
3 Don't lose your temper.
4 Don't quit
5 Don't grouch
6 Don't argue
7 Don't dispute decisions
8 Don't be late for appointments
9 Don't look away from the ball
10 Don't underestimate the other fellow.
11 Don't overestimate yourself.
13 Don't offer alibis for losing points
14 Don't throw your racquet about
15 Don't stand about heated after playing.
16 Don't worry if you get "licked".
17 Don't think you are champion every time you win a match.

Southside DrugStore
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh Films)
Let Us Develop
YOUR FILMS
ONE DAY SERVICE
Complete Line GREETING CARDS
Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking
Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.
MRS. SCHWARTZ
306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN
Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments
GO TO
Lynn's Jewelry Store
MAIN STREET



Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store
Farmville, Va.
"Drugs and Drinks"
DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO
EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop
WILL FIX YOUR SHOES
WHILE YOU WAIT
BEST WORKMANSHIP
AND LEATHER USED

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1930 No 9

Choral Club Presents Director At Lecture Recital, December 8th

Mr. A. H. Strick Speaks On the Subject of Music and Psychology

SOLO AND SONGS FOLLOW

The Choral Club of this college will present its director, Mr. Alfred H. Strick, in a lecture-recital to be given in the auditorium December 8. Mr. Strick's lecture will be on the subject of "Music and Psychology." In various parts of the state this fall Mr. Strick has been asked to give lectures on phases of music and music appreciation, and this lecture which the students of S. T. C. are privileged to hear is expected to be quite informational and interesting. All the compositions on the program are the works of the lecturer and Choral Club director.

The program complete is as follows:

Part I

Lecture ..... "Music and Psychology"
Mr. Alfred H. Strick

Part II.

Piano Solo—Adagio-Allegro
Mr. Alfred H. Strick

Songs ..... "Tell Me Roses"
"What Is Love"
"Life's Symphony"
Miss Lizabeth Purdom
"We Plough the Fields"
"In the Cross of Christ I Glory"
A Capella Choir
"Sun of My Soul"
—Chorus
Miss Florence Cralle' Soloist
"Sing Young America Sing"
—Chorus

Accompanists: Miss Virginia Potts
Miss Elizabeth Taylor

Miss Draper Gives Illustrated Lecture

Is Feature of Le Circle Francaise Meeting

The regular meeting of Le Circle Francais was held in Miss Grenels' geography room Thursday evening, November 20. The main feature of the program was an illustrated lecture by Miss Draper on some of the famous palaces and cathedrals which she had seen in France. The members of the circle enjoyed the lecture very much, and also, the observance of French customs in the conversation which followed the lecture. Each member enjoyed the meeting and felt as if those who were unable to attend had truly missed an educational opportunity.

AMERICAN LIBRARY ASSOCIATION SPONSORS A POSTER CONTEST

The American Library Association is sponsoring a poster contest for junior and senior high schools in the State of Virginia with the view of promoting interest in reading and in the use of libraries, according to C. W. Dickinson, Jr., State supervisor of school libraries and text books.

"The Joy and Value of Books in Libraries" will be the subject of the posters. The contest is being conducted throughout the Southern States.—Richmond News Leaer

RULES OBSERVED FOR HANGING COLORS

When you are rushing, hurrying and struggling to get your colors waving the highest on Thanksgiving day, please observe the following:

1. Be in rooms and not on the halls between 5:30 and 6:00.

2. Put your colors only on the student building, new building, rotunda, library hall, white house hall.

3. Do not put the colors on the hotel, the athletic field, the cottages, or at random over the campus.

4. Colors must be carried to the places by a person and not thrown.

5. Do not run from the sorority rooms.

6. Abide by the decisions of the two Student Council girls placed at each place the colors are to be hung. The girls are selected one from each color.

Metal Vocal Cords Restore the Speech

Artificial Larynx Prepared by Dr. R. R. Riesz

Metal vocal cords are restoring the power of speech to persons who have become mute. An artificial larynx which, when attached to the throat functions in all respects like that of nature, is one of the latest productions of scientific research, according to a research report issued by the Engineering Foundation.

The new artificial larynx, prepared by Dr. R. R. Riesz, of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, New York, is a thin metal reed, clamped at one end and free at the other. It is attached to the windpipe by a rubber tube and coupling pad.

When air is expelled from the lungs and directed through this larynx, it sets the metal reed to vibrating, and the speaker, by the ordinary motion of tongue, lips, and throat muscles, transforms the vibrations into speech.

So complete is the mechanism that by a simple adjustment one can change the pitch of the vibrations, producing the tones of either a man or a woman. The instrument is thus adapted to use by both sexes.

EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

The regular meeting of El Circulo Espanol was held Thursday night in the Music room. The meeting was very informal due to the fact that songs for the next time were practiced. Senorita Nichols entertained with some highly interesting tales of her summer at Middlebury where she took courses in Spanish. Senorita Lillian Rhodes, formerly president of the circle, returned for a visit and played while the members sang Christmas carols in Spanish. Plans for the next meeting were discussed when the rush classes will be invited and a Christmas program will be given. This next meeting will be the biggest and best of the year.

Classes Conduct Prayers Monday Through Thurs.

Girls Bring Thoughts on Love, Friendship and Cooperation in Talk Series

Dorothy Leonard, president of the freshman class, gave the first of a series of talks on Monday evening at Prayers. "Friendship" was her subject. After giving as the best example the friendship of Ruth and Naomi, she told how the college is the ideal place in which lasting friendships may be formed.

Anne Johnson, president of the sophomore class, talked on Tuesday evening about "Love." She laid especial emphasis on the five types of love within the experience of human beings without which no life is complete. These types were—religious, patriotic, parental, emotional, and ambitious. Budsey Carter and Patty Ellison sang, "The Lord is My Shepherd."

Evelyn Stephenson of the junior class also spoke on "Love"' Wednesday night. After reading an article condoning unselfish love, she brought out the fact that in college the spirit which should exist is sometimes forgotten—that of love and cooperation. Mildred Steere gave a violin solo.

On Thursday night Virginia Robertson, president of the senior class gave a summary of the talks that had been given on the preceding nights.

VIRGINIA ED. ASSOCIAT'N HOLDS RICHMOND MEET

The Virginia Educational Association will hold its annual conference in Richmond during Thanksgiving week. The directors and executive committee men will meet Monday in the preliminary session of the convention. The first general meeting of the group will meet Wednesday night. The subject of the convention this year is "Essential Standards for Virginia Schools."

Robert W. House, of Salem, is president of the association. Among the prominent members of the board are: Miss Cornelia S. Adair of Richmond; J. L. Borden of Bedford; Miss Lucy Mason Holt of Norfolk, and H. D. Wolff of Petersburg.

It is the object of the General Assembly for 1930 to equalize opportunity throughout the State by instituting a standard term of at least eight months in all the schools of the State, white and negro. Speeches will be made in the convention on this subject and will give especial regard to tax distribution in the State.

Entertain Delegates

A series of entertainments will be given for the delegates throughout the week, including a tea Wednesday afternoon in the Governor's mansion at which John Garland Pollard, Governor of Virginia, and Miss Suzanne Pollard, his daughter, will be host and hostess.

COMING!

They're on the way! Pattie Ellison's "Ieronians"! and when they get here the whole school will know it! Wait and watch for them. Can they play? Just wait, and then say!

Miss Mary Clarke Speaks to Student Body in Chapel

Work and Purpose of Missions Forms the Basis of Talk in the Chapel

CONTRIBUTIONS ASKED

On Saturday morning, November 22, Miss Mary Clarke, a representative of the Student Volunteer Movement, spoke to the student body in chapel. She opened her talk with the story of the New England farmer who found that he could not succeed as long as he tried to shut himself away from his neighbors by a wall built around his farm. When he finally tore down the wall and used the stones to build a road between his home and the homes of his neighbors he found happiness and real success. It is this way in people's lives. Miss Clarke said. When an individual breaks down the barriers that hold him aloof from others, and makes a roadway of love from his life into the lives of his fellowmen—then, and then only can he succeed and be happy.

Miss Clarke said that people today are citizens of the world. She gave illustrations of the dependence of nations on each other for the very necessities of every day life. "We can't be 100 per cent American" she said. "Every day we are international in what we do."

The United States is supposedly a Christian nation, but is that supposition correct? Often foreigners who have idealized America revert to atheism when they learn about the real conditions in this country. Miss Clarke made the surprising -state ment that many movies which are censored in the United States are smuggled into Egypt and shown in Egyptian theatres. One can readily see the effect these movies probably

Continued on page three

"THE VOICE" MAKES INITIAL APPEARANCE

The 1930-'31 Voice makes its initial appearance today just at the time when school spirit is at its zenith. Thanksgiving games—color rush—cheers for teams—loyalty to Alma Mater! It is to this spirit that the first issue of "The Voice" is dedicated. It is the spirit that inspired and now permeates its themes.

The staff of "The Voice" wishes to take this opportunity to prolifically express to its contributors, subscribers and supporters the appreciation of their interest and help. "The Voice is the voice of our Alma Mater speaking through its gifted daughters, emulating the spirit of our patron saint—Joan of Arc.

Musical Program Is Given in Chapel

Freshman Quartet and Soloist Make First Appearance

Another of the series of musical programs, was presented in chapel Saturday under the direction of the head of the music department, Mr. Alfred H. Strick. At that time the freshman quartet made its first appearance which was quite a credit to the class. This quartet is composed of Misses Ruth Atkins, Sue Yeaman, Margaret Murray and Mildred Solomon. They sang an arrangement of "Annie Laurie", a Scotch ballad.

The soloist of the program was Miss Sue Yeaman. "Sylvia" by Oley Speaks and "The Little Damsel" by Ivan Novello were her selections presented at this time.

The aims of these programs is to promote a deeper appreciation of music throughout the student body, they are well on their way toward accomplishing this aim.

The "little cutest girls" in school entertained the "big cutest girls" in school with a pajama party in front of a big open fire. Did they have food, Yes!

MR. HOLTON TALKS

E. T. C. met Saturday morning in the Y. W. C. A. lounge. The program was in charge of Ann Drew. The first feature was a talk by Mr. Holton on "Difference Between Patriotism in School and Patriotism in Society and How Difference May be Bridged". He brought out the idea that the difference lies in youth and adult life.

Jessie Smith gave a talk on "Modern Politics" and Jane Brown on "Fostering Good Will Among the Nations." A very interesting feature of the program was a contest, "Penny Wise" conducted by French Hutt and Myra Costen. The meeting closed after the settlement of several business matters

Mr. Strick Speaks At Federation Meet

Appears in Concert With Madame de Nault

At the meeting of the third district of the Federation of Music Clubs held at South Boston last Thursday Mr. Strick was one of the speakers.

Mr. John Powell, pianist of note, spoke on "The Great Choral Festival." The subject of Mr. Strick's address was "The Survey of Music in Community Life."

Mr. Strick was accompanist Friday night for Madame Joanne de Nault, nationally known contralto, in a concert at Stuart Hall.

MOCK INTELLIGHNCE TEST PART OF PROGRAM OF SODALITAS LATINA

The regular meeting of "Sodalitas Latina" was held in the student building auditorium, Friday evening at 6:50. Plans for the December meeting were disucssed.

After the business of the meeting was concluded an attractive feature of the program was presented in the form of a mock intelligence test to determine the eligibility of new members and old.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31

Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorial

Our Thanksgiving

Though the true custom of Thanksgiving has evoluted, that same spirit of happiness and thankfulness will remain on forever. We, too, thank God for his kindness during the past year, so happy are we to be here, so happy that he has kept our loved ones safe, and so happy that there is a future dawning for each of us in our profession.

From year to year, our methods of celebrating this harvesting finish of the season changes slightly. Here at S. T. C. we include sports in this day of rejoicing. We make this day —a happy day by attempting, and accomplishing a true sense of loyalty and sportsmanship among the classes. We fight for our colors, but we fight a true battle in our attempt to hang our colors high. After all above green and white, and red and white there floats another color purer, more beautiful still—our school colors—blue and white. We are true to you, class colors, and thereby we show our loyalty to our school—and school colors!

And on we go rejoicing—rejoicing for the bigger things that life gives us, and rejoicing, too, that we have a class, a school—and honor to fight for!

Thanksgiving time we are thankful for you!

The Voice of a Child

Through the medium of their children's interest, parents from every school in Prince Edward County and in some of the adjacent counties were very recently brought together This gathering of parents at the Book Week program on November 15 was only one example demonstrative of a beautiful spirit of harmony and cooperation existing in parent-teacher relationships. The willing of the parent not only for the child to participate, but his equal eagerness to see the performance truly exemplifies an intangible but neverthelss strongly felt sentiment of harmoniousness. The realization by the parents of the worthiness of the cause no doubt enhanced their interest which was already deep. Since only through cooperation and with complete understanding between any two parties can achievement be wrought, the sponsors of the late entertainment are to be congratulated on their past and future accomplishments, if one may judge by the wonderful spirit exemplified in Book Week.

OVER THE TEACUPS

I can't quite begin to realize the dance is over, Mary. I got a big thrill out of it, but I somehow am glad it's over, too. Aren't you? I've never seen so many strange people, boys and girls; and so many gorgeous clothes. These alumnae slay me with their on-lay of style. The hotel resembles a manikin's monar as they say. Some day I'm going to be an alumna and give the school a break too. How 'bout it.

I think Eva Harris was more than killing Saturday in Sing. You know truth hurts—but there are some boys I would like to show that picture to, hurt or no hurt.

Can you realize Thanksgiving is here. I wonder if Christmas will seem too far away. I 'spect, from the looks of Miss Mary's office that the school will mostly be away Thursday.

That reminds me, how is Miss Mary? I hope she is better. Maybe Budsey Carter won't fall now on her midnight rambles—or does she ramble? Who am I thinnking about?

You know, I think Jane Brown is swell and for two years I've been thinking she was only the same as I and I learn now that she is a senior. Well, more power to her. She deserves all that's coming her way.

What's all this I hear about Evelyn West teaching or coaching? Wish I had brains enough to make a little extra cash that way. And Katherine McAllister—well, her fortune telling is too good. Why Ann couldn't sleep last night because of her coming sorrows; Dot because of her long-nosed lover-to-be, and I can't sleep because I'm supposedly plotting against someone. Who is it—can you figure it out? I can't, but you better go see her, she's good and how!—(I know a cute, really nice cute joke about that—tell you next time—) Call me when you're ready to go . . . .

OUR PRESENT DAY PROBLEM

(The Rotunda staff asks—What do you think of "Much Ado About Nothing"? The following girls give us their frank opinion of this column in our paper.)

Adele Hutchinson, '31—"I think 'Much Ado About Nothing' is one of the most constructive columns in the Rotunda. It certainly gives each student an opportunity to express her frank opinion on activties or people in school. As long as the criticism is constructive, it is good. Keep it up!"

Martha Moore, '33—"I think 'Much Ado About Nothing' is fine. After all, its the truth that hurts."

Louise Munt, '32—"I think it very sarcastic."

Dolly Reed, '31—"It adds a personal element that is greatly needed to make any paper a success."

Mary Berkeley Nelson, '34—"I think 'Much Ado About Nothing' is all right—after all, frankness helps."

Evelyn Stephenson, '32—"Besides introducing people to the students it serves as a means of making them understand that they have their part to fulfill on the campus."

Margaret Gathright, '33—" 'Much Ado About Nothing' really helps us to see ourselves as others see us, even if the picture isn't always exactly what we expected."

Loulie Millner, '32—I think we need a punch or two, we are too sensitive now. Our mirrored reflections aren't always what we think they are. Keep it up!"

Mrs. Putney: "Is Nancy at home?"
Georgia: "No, she went out with a bunch of prize fighters."
Mrs. Putney: "Prize fighters?"
Georgia: "Yes, she went to a bridge party."

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

Some people work for honor.
Some people work for praise.
Some people work for money.
Ella Carroll works

* * *

Who was the freshman who asked an upperclassman the difference between hockey and varsity?

* * *

"Three times a bridesmaid, but never a bride." But A. J. Scott says, "Three times a senior's little sister, but never a senior."

* * *

Someone mistook the freshman orchestra at "Sing" Saturday night for "Ty" Sawyers orchestra! Is that a slam on "Ty" 'or on our Freshman orchestra?

* * *

Did you hear about the speaker who addressed his audience—"Ladies, gentlemen and those who wear raccoon coats"? (To which class do you belong?)

* * *

Our definition of "Happy" Hughes is "one, big wide grin."

* * *

We want to know is Charlie Robertson really as dumb as that?

* * *

Some noice is necessary, and some is expected—but where does Helen Shawen come in?

* * *

A white rose means purity they say, but I saw one on "Bankie" Warren!

* * *

Stick your neck in "Bidgie" Warren! But we'll have to admit you did lend life to the production.

* * *

Who will be here to "cheer" at the game Thursday (or is that among the other foolish questions?)

* * *

Katherine Marchant doesn"t know whether she is walking or riding, but she says she's not leaving. (Whose decision was that?)

* * *

Of course, we know that Frances Parker is not responsible for her actions—but then she's just not responsible.

* * *

Ben Franklin was a big attraction at the dance Saturday night. Yeah, by several pounds!

We are so glad that you don't take this column seriously. (?)

WHAT HAPPENED THREE YEARS AGO TODAY

The Freshman class of '27, now our Seniors, presented as their classman, Miss Elizabeth Bugg, who appeared out of a big blue and white rat cap on the stage in the auditorium.

* * *

Laura Brewer, alumna, entertained at Sing with a reading. Other members of the student body entertained with solos and dancing.

* * *

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet elected Frances Willis and Etta Marshall to attend the Student Volunteers conference, which was held December 28-January 2. (Our student body presidents for '28-'29, and '29-'30.)

* * *

The folowing girls were dancing:
Alice Covington, W. & L.
Frances Willis, Chapel Hill.
Mabel Fitzgerald, Chapel Hill.

* * *

Alumnae favored S. T. C. with their presence in car loads. (A result of the holidays.)

* * *

Thanksgiving had passed. Today it is about to come to pass. Sophomores and Juniors won the games, leaving a tie and a question unsettled. Who wins tomorrow? Let's find out!

The average Russian and the average American speak a fundamental language and appreciate the same wisecracks. — Vice-President Mooney, of General Motors.

WHATSOEVER THOU PLAYEST—PLAY HARD

Screen of dark green trees with points of flame,
Gold and red fall leaves;
In biting wind, the feel of the vagabond;
Hockey players, with every panting gasp
Their breath like a stream of steam
Form a boiling kettle,
Fighting to bring honor and glory to their colors.
Mad yells from hundreds of aching throats
Cheer them to the best for red or green:
Evasive school spirit in tangible form.

Easter Souders, '32

TWILIGHT

Night falls and the evening sun
Throws long shadows across
The sky. Swallows are Flying south—for it is
Twilight of the year as well.
The crimson of the autumn
Leaves—the golden sunset—
Chrysanthemums—
All prophecy Death—
Calm beauty and peace.
And in Death—Hope!
Hope for the coming dawn—
The birth of a New Year!

M. von Schilling, '32

SYMBOL—A FLAME

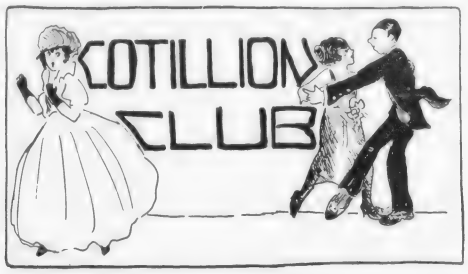
Burning my life's candle
On an altar of strange desires,
Kneeling—bending to sweep my fingers
Through the flame that glows and like a spire
Curls upward—
I wonder at the mystery of a soul.
Deep—intensive—I know it not at all,
A Psyche who follows on into infinity
Untouched, divine—a mystic living thing
That mingles with my prayer
The beauty and the rapture of a song
Echoing from cathedral walls.
That 'wakens me to fortune's change
And trickeries of fate,
And in each turn suns itself in love—
Suffers long in pangs of mortal hate!
The flame burns low, so close I bend
That it is smothered and leaves
A trail of blue-gray smoke—
Symbolic of a living—and an end.

R. Floyd, '32

QUEER THOUGHTS

Sometimes I wonder
"Why am I—
What have I in life?"
I seem to go on aimlessly
Amid a world of strife.

And then I wonder
"Why is gold,
Why is sun and rain?"
They must be here for someone's use,
Is there an end to gain?



And then I see
A tiny ant
So busy on its way.
It does not stop to wonder why
It sees the coming day.

And then I wonder
"Am I worth
The gold, the sun, and rain
That God has put upon this earth
To help me success attain?

L. M., '32

IN RETROSPECTION

Dimly shadows gather round
Our memories of the past
Little heartaches are crowded down
By beauties that linger last.
So in my garden of memories
I'll always be with you
For then my soul is close to Heaven
And the Devil may have his due.

The following couples attended the Cotillion Club dance:

Margaret Priest, Bob Nichols.
Margaret Faris, John Bowden
Mary Elizabeth Mayo, Willard Bouserman.
Sarah Wills, John Hunt
Martha Moore, Bill Sloan
Jane Royal, "Al" Gillespie
Margaret Gathright, Mac Birdsong
Martha Seabury, O'Ferrel Thompson.
Ruth Hunt, Maurice Hunt
Alice Covington, Buster Kendig
Dolly Reed, Sam McClure
Martha Ann Lang, Horace Goodwin
Elsie Burgess, Billy Wright
Evelyn Jones, Adger Smythe
Martha Walters, Billy Powell
Nancy Putney, Smokie Baker
Elizabeth Carter, Ben Franklin
Lindsey White, Dick Owen
Virginia Marchant, Jimmy Gordon
Mary Brightwell, Willard Ligon
Frances Martin, Tom Caldwell
Medora Ford, Buzzy Hill
Catherine Cogbill, Jimmy Masefield
Louise Munt, John R. Saunders
Josie Spencer, D. L. Boanes
Loulie Millner, Alex Mosby.
Martha Sanders, Charles Robertson.
Jacque Lee, Joe Magee
A. J. Scott, Duvall Royster
Vernie Oden, Gardner Mundy
Doris Walton, Leonard Fitzgerald
Dorothy Goodloe, Fred Bolton
Sarah Baker, Edward McCormick
Evelyn Hughes, Grant Fritz
Jane Beale, Eugene Hughes
Mary Clare Booth, Sidney Lloyd
Martha Faris, Harry Martin
Polly White, Bernard Teel
Harriet Branch, George Tarry
Virginia Witt, Beverly Hume
Kathryn Royster, Hinson Parker
Alice Hardaway, Billy Shannon
Jenilee Knight, Frank Lasley
Alma Garlick, James McMillan
Virginia Ford, Charles Broaddus
Ruth Ford, Truehart Ponton
Dorothy Anderson, George Walters
Dorothy Richie, Robert Richie
Elizabeth Antrim, John Antrim, Jr.
Retta Hardy, Johnny Maddux
Rena Robertson, Matt Robertson
Elizabeth Jordan, George Whiteley
Nancy De Berry, Jack Clarke
Rubie Hunt, Palmer Stover

SOCIALS

Anna Knox and Cathryn Waters were in Lynchburg Sunday.

Mary Virginia Hill spent the week-end at her home in Charlottesville.

Nancy De Berry spent Sunday in Blacksburg.

Agnes Lee Griggs spent the week-end at Amelia.

Adele Hutchinson is in Charleston, West Virginia, attending the wedding of her brother.

Kathryn Rogers spent the week-end at her home in Bristol.

Frank Smoot and Dorothy Dudley spent Sunday in Lynchburg.

Gazelle Ware and Courtney Neale spent Sunday in Richmond.

Clara McAllister spent the week-end at Evergreen, Virginia.

FRESHMAN COMMISSION GIVES MEMBERS PARTY

On Thursday night, Nov. 20 at 7 o'clock the old and new Freshman Commission had a joint meeting in the Y. W. C. A. reception room. After a business meeting refreshments were served. The old Freshman Commission adjoined and the new Freshman Commission elected officers and made different plans for the coming year.

Martha Kello was elected chairman, Frances Lewis, secretary, and Sarah Ford, treasurer.

KAPPA DELTA PI INITIATES MEMBERS

On Tuesday evening, November 11 the Beta Epsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Pi initiated the following new members:

Louise Elliott
Eleanor Davis
Alice St. Ables Harrison
Mary Derieux

The initiates were then entertained at an informal banquet in the tea room. Between courses the new members were given another rather different initiation which was enjoyed very much, especially by the old members.

The honorary members Dr. Jarman and Miss Jennie Tabb and the members of the faculty who belong to other chapters of Kappa Delta Pi were also present at the inititaion service and banquet.

There is a risk in marrying the man who says he will turn over a new leaf.—Edith Sitwell.

BAPTIST SOCIAL

If anyone is of the opinion that men know nothing at all about dressing women he should read this article. It has been proven that boys are very proficient in the art of dressing girls.

Those who attended the social held in the recreational hall of the Baptist church last Saturday night remember a relay between two couples. Each boy was given a suitcase and told that the bag contained women's wearing apparel. When the signal "go" was given he was to open the bag, clothe his lady friend and run to the opposite end of the room where he should remove the extra handicaps the girl was bearing and return to their former places. The girl was not to give any assistance whatsoever. The couple finishing first was to receive a reward. Lively activity followed these directions and two loly pops were given the "fastest" couple.

The social hour didn't have a lag in it. Under the direction of Susie Odor the games, relays, and contests were full of life and Sue Yeaman received excellent response from the group when she led them in the singing of several "welcome" and "get acquainted" songs. Refreshments "hit the spot" as one H. S. C. boy remarked, and were enjoyed by those present. A large number of Baptist girls from S. T. C. and their friends and boys from the ministerial association of Hampden-Sydney were those who attended.

ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA INITIATES NEW MEMBERS

The Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa Gamma initiated the following girls last Monday afternoon, November 18:

Henrietta Cornwell
A. J. Scott
Evelyn Stephenson
Grace Virginia Woodhouse
Laura Smith
Jane Brown

They were afterwards entertained in the tea room at an informal dinner, all members active or inactive being invited to attend.

Thursday afternoon between the hours of four and six o'clock a Pan-Hellenic dansant was held in the recreational hall. Dancing, food, and fun were the order of the afternoon. Delightful refreshments were served by different members of the Pan Hellenic Association.

ALUMNAE NEWS

On Thursday, November 20, the Farmville Alumnae Chapter met in the tea room for luncheon and business. Twenty members were present. The business was concerned with an entertainment to be given in the auditorium Thursday, December 4.

A recent visitor to the college was Mrs. Wiltshire of Richmond whose mother, now ninety-four years of age, was a school girl here eighty-years ago. The institution was then known as the Farmville Baptist College.

On Friday, November 28, the Association of Alumnae of the State Teachers College, Farmville, will give a tea from 4:00 to 6:00 p. m. in Nunnally's Tea Room, 605 East Broad Street, Richmond. Members of the faculty and former students are cordially invited.

Former students and faculty members, as well as present faculty members have places upon the program of the annual Thanksgiving convention in Richmond of the Virginia Education Association.

Miss Lillian Minor, Norfolk County, will preside over the rural supervisors section, and will also answer the question, "What Practices Have I Found Most Effective in Supervision?" Miss Bessie Gordon Jones, of Prince Edward County, will discuss "Planning and Conducting the Class Conference Hour." Miss Amelia McLester, Albemarle county will give suggestions for "Directing the Independent Study of Children."

Miss Martha Coulling will speak before the department of superintendents on the topic, "Art in the Elementary Schools." Miss Bessie Barclay will tell the art teachers section of "Art in Rome as Seen on a Recent Trip". Miss Grace Moran will contribute "Interesting Ways of Introducing Geography Topics" to the geography teachers section.

Miss Martha Bass, Ginter Park School, Richmond, will tell "What Grade Teachers Expect from their Grade Supervisors."

Miss Lila London, in the mathematics teachers section will lead the discussion of "General Mathematics in Junior High School."

Miss Mary D. Pierce will preside on Friday at the meeting of the grammar grade group of class room teachers. On Thursday she will present the report of the committee on constitution and by-laws for the teacher training group. Miss Alice Carter will be one of a group of four-minute speakers to discuss student teaching, and Dr. J. P. Wynne will present the summary.

Miss Ottie Craddock who is secretary of the writing teachers section, will make a report on her attendance at the National Association of Penmanship Supervisors held in Detriot last April.

Miss Rose Brimmer, Schoolfield, arranged the program for the department of principles and supervisors.

Mrs. Nora Lancaster, Farmville, will have as her subject, "One Outstanding Difficulty in Silent Reading in the Upper Grades and Suggested Remedial Measures."

Miss O. P. Super will describe "The Health Education Program in the State Teachers College" for the health and physical education section.

Miss Bessie Mottley, Highland Springs, had special work at Columbia University last summer in preparation for guidance work in her community. She will speak on "Guidance in the Small Town High School" in the vocational educational section.

THE NIGHT BEFORE

'Twas warm, soft, scented—there was music—sweet, changing to jazz and maddening rhythm—soft, blue and rose lights—romance, college life. Christmas cheer a-plenty. It all happened on "The Night Before"—what? Come and see on December 12. "The Night Before"—before what? You'll know the morning after, if you save 15 cents which saves you a seat for December 12!

MISS MARY CLARKE SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

Continued from page 1.

have on the people who see them. They show only the worst side of American life, and that in an exaggerated form.

In spite of the above facts, the United States as a nation knows Christianity and is greatly blessed by it. Many American people, (including the Indians living on government reservations) are being given the opportunity to make something worthwhile of their lives. If the Christian Church did not help them, they would undoubtedly be doomed to lives of ignorance, poverty, and too often, of degredation. All nations are not so fortunate. There are many parts of the world into which Christian influence has never yet penetrated. In such localities bad living conditions are nearly always prevalent. In Persia, for instance, there are no child labor laws.

What can America do to remedy this situation? That, according to Miss Clarke, is the question, and its importance can not be overestimated. One of the first things the American people can and should do, she said, is to change their attitude toward missions and missionaries. This applies particularly to young college students. Missionaries are just like other people. They are giving their lives to humanity for the sake of the religion they love, but in spite of so many modern young people's idea to the contrary, missionaries do not have a "holier than thou" attitude.

The Student Volunteers are college students who are taking the world's needs to heart and who are ready to serve where they are needed. They are earnst and unselfish young people. S. T. C. is fortunate in having a Student Volunteer group in the school.

Miss Clarke asked that every member of the student body do three things. First, try to understand the purpose and work of missions. She suggested that everyone read about the work being done in India, China, and the Philippines. Next, the students were asked to contribute something to the cause. $120 will put a student through a Christian college in India. Finally, Miss Clarke asked the girls to try to give their lives to unselfish service, no matter what they should choose as a life work. She asked everyone who was interested in missions, Y. W. C. A. or social work to see her personally.

Wellesley college has a Browning collection which contains 284 letters from Robert Browning and 287 from Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

CAMPUS

If one has spent even so much as a week "on campus" you may rest assured that she is very careful before risking another week of such detention.

How does one keep off campus? By using the walks, of course! There are nine cement walkways that lead from the sidewalk to the college, count 'em. Each one leads to a different part of the college so there is really no necessity of one walking on the grass—except when you are late for supper perhaps, but you're in the wrong then, too!

Get wise—get right and if you are wise and right you will keep off the campus!

Did you, too, receive a letter this summer stating that many gallons of paint had been applied to that building of the calmn classic air, that is your Alma Mater? Did you detect a note of pride in that letter? Didn't you feel it yourself when you arrived upon the scene?

But have you done your part in keeping Alma Mater the spotlessly clean place you found her?

Do your Coco-Cola bottles find their way back to the crate sooner than eventually?

Does your idly scribbling pencil ever mar school property?

Is trash dropped from your window whenever you are too weary to empty an overflowing basket?

See if these questions apply to your case and if they do, couldn't you do just a little better? Every effort makes the next effort a little more effortless.

SCHEMMEL

Conservatory of Music

Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART

We would like to have your orders

—for—

DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS

Canada Drug Co.

Farmville, Virginia

Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

COTILLION CLUB DANCES ARE ALMOST HERE

DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!

We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.

The House of Quality

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Three piece suits the kind that sells for $5.95. All colors and sizes $5.59

Newest fall shoes, low, medium and high heels. Prices $2.98 $3.95 and $5

26 sample sport coats, Princess style Special $9.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

He: "The boss offered me an interest in the firm today."

She 'How splendid!"

He: "Yes, He said if I didn't take more interest in it he'd fire me."

Tee Hee

Grace Rowell "I'm a bit green about this game, I fear."

Virginia Robertson: "You're in a fairway to learn."

Druggist: "Here's your Listerine, madame."

Customer: "Oh, you take my breath away."

Elsie Bolton (in library to librarian): "What are you looking for?"

Librarian: "Adam Bede."

Elsie: "Maybe it rolled under the table."

Senior: "Can all of you take French at 10:00?"

Rat: "No, I have study hall."

Head Cook: "Didn't I tell you to notice when the soup boiled over?"

Assistant: "I did, it was 10:30."

Joe: "You are the breath of my life."

Frances: "Stop holding your breath so long."

Va. Ann: "Dot, how do you happen to have all those freckles on your face?"

Dot: "My mother fed me rusty raisins."

S. T. C.: "No, I will not marry you and do you know why?"

V. P. I.: "I can't think."

S. T. C.: "Quite correct."

Student: "What is your conception of hell, professor?"

Prof: 'You'll get it in the course."

He: "When did you begin to really love me?"

She: "When people said you were homely and brainless and I got sensitive."

Jerry Lee (writing home): "How do you spell financially?"

Margaret Barker: "F-i-n-a-n-c-i-a-l-l-y, and there art two r's in embarressed."

Jenilee: "Why don't you use the other straw?" '

Gathright: "This one isn't empty, yet."

Joe Snead: 'My man has lots of personality."

Betsy: "Mine isn't bad looking, either."

Beautiful But Dumb: "I see here where a man married a woman for her money you wouldn't marry me for that, would you?"

Jack Gray: "I wouldn't marry you for all the money in the world."

Bell Hop (after guest rang for 10 minutes): "Did you ring, sir?"

Guest: "No, I was tolling. I thought you were dead."

He: "Right through there reminds me of a field of polo."

She: "Yes it does there's nothing more beautiful than field of moving polo."

Sally Russell: "Food is getting so scarce that I had to live for two weeks on onions alone."

Ruth Carney: "Well, anyone who eats onions for two weeks ought to be alone."

I hope there will not be an epidemic of paralysis caused from the arm conferences held this week-end.

ATHLETICS

CLASS HOCKEY SQUADS FOR 1930

Freshmen:
- H. Allen
- G. Boggs
- E. Burger
- N. R. Cooper
- S. Ford
- A. Foster
- N. Dickenson
- E. Jones
- M. Kello
- D. Leonard
- S. Maddrey
- C. Matherly
- G. Pratt
- C. Quarles
- C. Stokes
- N. Stokes
- H. Smith
- R. Wright
- S. Yeaman
- G. Sudger

Sophomores:
- T. Beacham
- L. Boush
- L. Crute
- P. Edwards
- M. Gregory
- M. Gunter
- E. Hardy
- M. Massey
- S. Quaintance
- D. Ridgeway
- D. Snedegar
- J. Wilkinson
- E. Walthall

Juniors:
- E. Boswell
- L. Clayton
- F. Edwards
- K. Hundley
- S. Odor
- C. Quisenberry
- A. Hall
- N. Putney
- A. J. Scott
- N. Clingingpeel

Seniors:
- E. Coleman
- E. Dutton
- M. De Hart
- M. Earp
- E. Evans
- E. Hunter
- A. Hutchinson
- M. Maddrey
- M. Nuttal
- A. Oliver
- F. Reed
- E. Simpson
- L. N. Smith

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving Day in the United States is a day set apart on which to give thanks for the blessings of the year. It was probably suggested to our Pilgrim fathers by the English Harvest Home, an old-fashioned festival held to celebrate the completion of harvest. A celebration of some kind is the means of giving thanks for blessings received.

However it is the spirit that prompts the celebration, not the kind of celebration that is important. How different will be the celebration of November 27, 1930, from that of 1621. Coasting and skating will not be included in the program of pleasures in the schools of the South, but replacing them will be peppy hockey games or similar ones. Instead of worshipping because it is the thing to do (for some of the Pilgrims must not have liked their form of worship) one may worship today because of the desire to do so—while music that touches the soul is being played.

Besides offering up thanks for blessings and celebrating, many schools have as their objective helping poor families. The spirti of Thanksgiving has a wider scope today and includes many things which makes it a day of joy for all.

MANAGER OF BASKET BALL

CLEO QUISENBERRY

Cleo is manager of basket ball for 1930-'31. She is very capable and knows her sport thoroughly as shown by the splendid work of the College High team, which she is coaching. Cleo goes out for all sports and played on our varsity hockey team, of which we are so proud. Let's show our appreciation to Cleo by coming out in full force for basket ball.

We know that our basketball season will be a great success with a manager like Cleo.

ALUMNAE GAME IS A POSSIBILITY

That we will have an alumnae hockey game here Thanksgiving is possible. Invitations have been sent to eighteen recent graduates who played hockey while they were here. Favorable answers have been received from four girls, and it is hoped that at least eleven old girls will came back to play.

BASKET BALL

Hurrah Basketball season is here again. The schedule will be different this year. Instead of practicing by classes, there will be certain teams to play at certain times. Everyone will be on a team. Those girls who don't know how to play will have a splendid chance to learn. There will be practice every afternoon for everybody at 5 o'clock until after Thanksgiving.

At Eaco Theatre Week of Dec. 1-6

"The Best Sound in Southside Va."

MON. and TUES.—"The King of Jazz," featuring Paul Whiteman and His Band, John Boles and a host of stars. The entire production in natural colors. Pronounced the most spectacular picture ever produced. A carnival of cleverness, bubbling over with surprises with a parade of talent marching through a world of melody. Never such music, laughter, color and stars. Awarded the prize for zeing the most artistic picture of the year. The Paul Whiteman numbers alone are worth the price of admission, and John Boles sings as he never sang before. Ten real song hits played by Whiteman and his band. A treat that every man, woman and child in Farmville should see.

NOTE—Prices for this engagement: Nights, adults, 50c; matinees, 35c; children under 12, 25c to each show.

WED. and THURS.—Ruth Chatterton in her latest picture, "Anybody's Woman," supported by Clive Brook and Paul Lucas. A nobody out of nowhere—yet the wife of the city's most brilliant lawyer. A magnet for every man in town—yet scroned by the only man she loves. Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook in the daring drama of the second wife's fight for her husband's love. You'll never forget it for it will thrill you with its dramatic intensity, its emotional greatness, its tremendous forcefulness. She has given her heart to one man—but still they call her "Anybody's Woman." See why. Also "Collegiate Hounds," possibly the greatest dog comedy ever produced; talking, too.

FRI. and SAT.—William Haines in "Remote Control," supported by Mary Moran, Charles King, Polly Moran and John Miljan. Here is the Virginia star in his best to date. Here is something new and thrilling in talkies. The underworld resorts to radio now to carry out its raids, but Bill Haines turns their own weapons upon them, vindicates himself and wins the girl in as exciting, funny and novel a picture as you've ever seen. It all takes place in a broadcasting studio, so tune in for real thrills, throbs and howls. Here's earful and eyeful entertainment you will thoroughly enjoy. Also the college comedy, The Boy Friends in "Ladies Last," and Pathe Sound News.

NOTE—Special attraction! Starting Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 10-11, "The Indians Are Coming," with Col. Tim McCoy and Allene Ray. The greatest Western serial ever produced. Now playing at the Roxy Theatre in New York. Twelve wonderful and exciting chapters. Every Wednesday.

Admission: (Except Monday and Tuesday) adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

CAPTAINS OF CLASS HOCKEY TEAMS CHOSEN

After practice Saturday afternoon, the class hockey squads elected their captains who will lead them in the clashes Thanksgiving morning. All four squads showed especially good judgment in the decisions that were made.

Freshman—Nannie Ruth Cooper was elected captain of the Freshman team. She has shown her interest by practicing regularly and working hard all season. The fact that she made the varsity squad proves her ability as a hockey player.

Sophomores — Duvahl Ridgeway was made captain of the Sophomore squad. She is a hard worker, reliable and loyal. The Sophomores know she's going to make the best captain ever. With her leadership, they cannot let their banners trail in the dust Thanksgiving.

Juniors—The Junior hockey team chose as its leader, Frances Edwards. Frances and her athletic ability need no introduction to the student body. In the past two years she has been one of our outstanding athletes. She was a player on the varsity hockey team, and in all of her plays exhibited good sportsmanship. With Frances as the leader, and with the backing of the rest of the team ,the Juniors expect to pull in another victory for the Red and Whites.

Jim Simpson was chosen by the Senior Hockey Squad to lead them to victory. Jim was picked from a squad of true blue girls so she certainly must be a "top-notcher".

Good old Jim with that grin everybody loves is certainly "the one" to be captain. Not only is she interested in hockey, but best of all, she knows how to get other girls interested and make them work together. With her leadership the seniors will certainly "go fighting along".

So let's give fifteen rahs for Jim —one of the peppiest and hardest working girls we se on the hockey field.

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS

Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN

Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments

GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

is Headquarters for the Best

SANDWICHES

—and—

DRINKS

—in—

FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store

Farmville, Va.

"Drugs and Drinks"

DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.

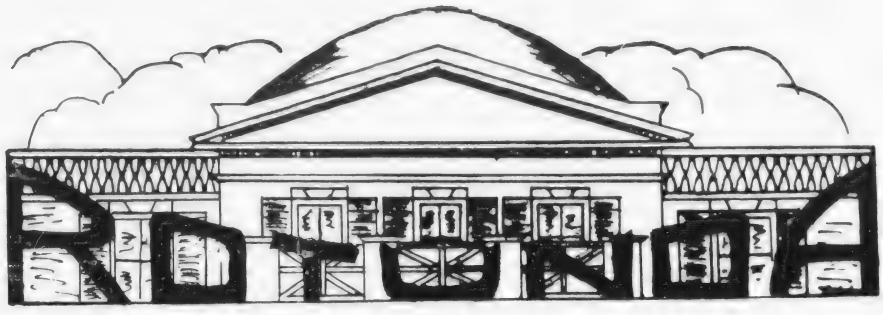
The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop



WILL FIX YOUR SHOES

WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP

AND LEATHER USED

COME OUT FOR BASKETBALL!

ONLY 16 DAYS UNTIL HOLIDAYS

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 3, 1930 No. 10

Much Community Talent is Shown in "Odds and Ends"

Show Sponsored by Farmville Chapter of S. T. C. Alumnae Thursday Evening

SURPRISE NUMBERS GIVEN

The Farmville Chapter of S. T. C. Alumnae is giving a show called "Odds and Ends" in the College auditorium Thursday evening, December 4, 1930 at eight o'clock. It is to be a magnificent display of talent from the town, Hampden-Sydney and S. T. C. The admission is only fifteen cents for college girls!

The following is an incomplete program:

The Harmonica Band, Fourth Grade
Blackface Comedy 6..... Mr. York
Acrobatic Stunts ..... Bettie Hardy
Solo ..... Miss Lizabeth Purdom
Chinese Act "with chopsticks"
Miss Leola Wheeler and Mrs. A. D. Packer
Ukelele Dance ..... Fourth Grade
S. T. C. Freshman Quartette
Reading ..... Mr. John T. Doyne
Solo ..... Mr. Joe Perry
Boxing Match ..... H. S. C. Boys
Mammy Songs .... Miss Mary Jackson
Tap Dancing ..... S. T. C. Girls
Senior Class Quartette
Old Fiddle ..... Mr. Walter Claiborne
Solo in Costume Miss Florence Cralle
Solo in Costume, Miss F. Waterfield
The Baskerville Trio
"Odds and Ends"

There are several numbers to be given as surprises.

MALE QUARTETTE SINGS IN CHAPEL

The new male quartette of the school was presented in chapel last Saturday, November 29. Mr. Alfred H. Strick introduced the members of the quartette: Dr. J. L. Jarman, first tenor; Mr. J. M. Grainger, first baritone; Mr. L. L. Bell, first bass; Mr. M. B. Coyner, second bass, was absent because of illness. The program was as follows:

1. Blumthal.
2. Pleyel's Hymn.
3. Where My Caravan Has Rested.

Dr. Jarman sang two solos:

1. Cashmiri Song, from the Indian Love Lyrics of Amy W. Finden.
2. In My Garden, Jesse L. Gaynor.

Mr. Strick was accompanist.

FACULTY MEMBERS ATTEND HEALTH AND PHYSICAL ED. MEETING

The State Health and Physical Education meeting held in Richmond during the Thanksgiving holidays was attended by Misses Barlow, Supper, Iler, Hatchett and Jeter. At the meeting Friday afternoon, Miss Supper read a paper on "Health Education in a State Teachers College." Saturday morning a discussion of the problems of physical education was led by Superintendent Hart and Major Graves. The tendency is to get away from formal gymnastics and substitute for them a natural type of activities. This plan has been adopted in the primary grades and is now being carried into the upper grades. Major Graves announced that teachers in the state have been qualifying better than previously in keeping up to the required standards and in realizing the importance of organized physical education in the curriculum.

NATIONAL QUESTION DISCUSSED IN TRY-OUTS

In order that members for its varsity teams may be picked from the Debate Club with consideration of whether the speaker has a good speech and delivers it well, the Debate Club is holding try-outs tonight at 7 o'clock. Tonight, the question for discussion is the Pi Kappa Delta one, "Resolved, That Nations Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade."

Regardless of whether or not they were varsity members last year, each member for the teams this year has to try-out tonight. Each speaker may talk for five minutes on either side of the question she chooses.

The Debate Club meeting tonight December 3, at 7 o'clock, in the Student Building auditorium, will take the place of the regular meeting which was scheduled for Thanksgiving day.

Miss Hiner Attends National Council of English Teachers

"Curriculum Building" As the Basic Theme of the Large Meeting

Miss Mary Clay Hiner attended the National Council of Teachers of English, which was held in Cleveland, Ohio, from November 27 to 29. About 600 English teachers of the elementary grades, the high schools and the colleges all over the United States were present at this meeting. Some Canadian speakers were also present. The general theme for the meeting was "Curriculum Building."

Among the interesting speakers were Dr. Rollo Lyman, of the University of Chicago, and Miss Anna Louise Strong, writer for Harper's Magazine, and an authority on Russia and Russian schools. Experts on Children's Literature who spoke were: Miss Eloise Ramsey, Miss Helen McIntosh, Dr. Florence Bamberger, of Johns Hopkins University, and Dr. Walter S Barnes, of New York University. Dr. Ernest Horn, of the University of Iowa, discussed language.

MISS HELEN McCRAW IN RECITAL DEC. 5

Miss Helen McCraw will give a recital in the big auditorium, Friday evening, December 5, at 8 o'clock. Miss McCraw is the winner of the young artists piano contest held in New York last summer.

DR. JARMAN RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF ASS'N.

Dr. Jarman was re-elected to the presidency of the Cooperative Education Association of Virginia for a term of one year. The election was held at the closing session of the 27th annual conference held in Richmond last week. By concensus of opinion this meeting was the most successful one held in twenty-seven years.

DEDICATION

To one, Miss Lucille Jennings, whose literary interests and personal influence merits the love and respect of all those with whom she comes in contact, we dedicate our issue of the Rotunda.

THE JOURNALISM STAFF

Editor-in-chief ..... Louise Elliott
Associate Editor Henrietta Cornwall
News Editor ..... Ruth Hunt
Literary Editor ..... Ruth Floyd
Athletic Editor ..... Easter Souders
World News ..... Hazel Halloway
Intercollegiate ..... Ruth Glenn
Social Editor ..... Nancy DeBerry
Feature Editor ..... Martha Walters
Humorous Editor ..... Louise Clayton
Proof Reader ..... Susie Odor
Asst. Proof Reader .... Ruth Reynolds
Circulation Mgr. ..... Margaret Stiff
Asst. Circulation Mgr., Louise Driscoll

Sophomores Are Champions In Hockey for This Season

Juniors Win Over Seniors! Sophomores Defeat Freshmen in Games Thursday

TEAMS EVENLY MATCHED

In the hardest fought game of the season the sophomores beat the juniors, 1-0, Monday afternoon. Both sides were determined to win, and every person seemed to be putting everything she had into the game.

The teams were well matched, the sophomores having a strong forward line, with fairly good backing, while the main strength of the juniors was in the backfield.

Time and again the green's forward line got the ball and took it down, only to have it driven from in front of the goal back up the field. Inaccurate driving was responsible for the fact that a great many of the possible green and white goals became bullies, as the ball went over the end line.

In the game there were no stars, but everybody fought to the limit. If one person's best did not get the ball, a teammate would come along and back her up.

Neither side had scored at the end of the first half.

When they went back, both sides had determined that somehow or other a goal must be made. Once when Edwards had the ball taking it down, it seemed that the juniors might score. She got by the half-

NATIONAL STUDENT-FACULTY CONFERENCE HELD AT DETROIT

Several members of our student body will attend the quadrennial meeting of the National Student-Faculty Conference which is going to be held from December 27-31 at Detroit, Michigan.

Almost every college in the United States will be represented at this meeting. Quite a number of noted men will be present.

The topics for discussion will be problems which are found on the campus of modern colleges. Those which may be of interest to us are as follows: The Social and Organized Life of the Campus, Morals in a Day of Relativity, Social Attitudes and Responsibilities, Student Counseling, and Place of Religion in Higher Education. At Prayers next week, each topic will be taken up and discussed by our student body.

MASS INSTRUCTION IS TOPIC OF E. T. C. MEET

The Educational Teachers Club held its weekly meeting in the little sitting room at 8 o'clock on Saturday, November 28.

The program, as gotten together by Ella Carroll was a very interesting as well as profitable one with Mass nstruction as the topic for discussion.

Catherine McAllister gave a most enlightening talk, "The Value of Mass Instruction in the Schools" and "Why Some People Think Mass Instruction Has Obscured the Idea of the Individual" was the subject of another interesting talk, given by Lillian Mickel.

A recognition contest was next on the program in which characteristics were connected with famous people, after which "The Dependence of Industrial Prosperity on the Schools" was given by Elizabeth Levick.

The program was brought to a close with Miss Pierce's talk on the convention which she attended in Richmond.

FRESHMAN COMMISSION HOLDS JAPANESE BAZAAR

Thursday afternoon, December 8 from 4 to 6 the Freshman Commission will have in the "rec" a Japanese Bazaar. "Bigger an' better than ever" is the hinted phrase discribing this event. Already invitations have been extended to some to "Come down to the Orient and sip tea with us." Japanese novelties that make Christmas gifts suitable for mother, dad, B. F., roomie, and—pocketbook will be on exhibit to those who come down as on a tour. And they will be on sale to those who are taking the thought of Christmas shopping seriously.

Y. W. C. A. HOLDS ANNUAL THANKSGIVING SERVICE IN THE AUDITORIUM

The Thanksgiving spirit permeated the group that met for a service last Thursday morning at seven o'clock in the auditorium. Candles furnished the light and they added their simple beauty to the atmosphere. Rena told a Thanksgiving story in which she reminded us that people all through the ages had gathered together to offer gifts and praise of thanksgiving. A choir of fourteen voices sang in anthem "Together We Thank Thee." Each member of the choir wore a cap and gown lending dignity and reverence to the occasion. Carrie De Shazo sang as a solo "Just For Today". The blue triangle was mounted on steps decorated with crepe paper, ivy and candles. Rena Robertson standing by the side of the triangle announced that each organization would send some symbol of itself as a gift for which to be thankful. "Holy, Holy" was sung by all those present as a representative from the different school organizations carried its gift to the altar of blue triangle. Symbolizing the uniting of all organizations in a spirit of thanksgiving. We wonder what was in the heart of each girl as she sat in the flickering glow of the candles, singing the words of the beautiful old hymn watching the altar become covered with gifts. Ours is no task to name it for it is too deep for a name, but we believe there existed the true meaning of Thanksgiving. The service was an inspiring pause between the mad rush for the hanging of the colors and breakfast.

STUDENT BODY IS INVITED TO THE "WOMANLESS WEDDING, DEC. 3

Have you heard about the wedding? You haven"t, for pity sakes, I thought anything as important as a wedding right here in our midst would hardly escape the keen ears and eyes of our clever girls.

It really is going to be quite a good wedding and not a woman in the whole thing. I have heard lots about these womanless weddings, but I never saw one and I can hardly wait. I imagine Mr. Graham as a bride with Dr. Simkins as the bridegroom.

There are going to be lots of Hampden-Sydney boys in it, too, I hear. In fact someone said there was going to be a boy to usher every girl to her seat. Sounds just like a regular wedding. All of us are invited guests, we present our cards at the door and are ushered to our seats and are allowed to "oh" and "ah" over the bride as much as we wish.

It has been rumored that the bridesmaids are among the loveliest of southern belles to say nothing of the family connections of both the bride and bridegroom.

Going to weddings is my favorite indoor sport and I wouldn't miss this one for money. It promises to be one of the big events of the season.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

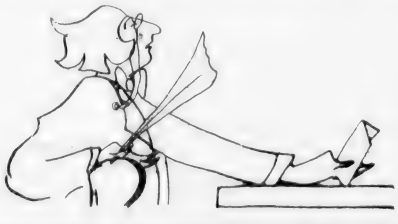
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

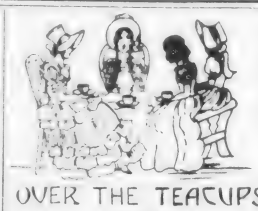
Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Is It Wise to Spend Money Wisely?



When the Bible classes raise money for the wages of 102 unemployed men in Richmond, when games are played for the benefit of charity, when large sums of money are spent on improvements in the country, granted that these are wise expenditures, is it always wise to spend money wisely?

In this year of drought and what we think are hard times, perhaps it seems a trifle out-of-place to speak of watching where our money goes for everybody would say that he has to do that anyway. But the very condition of today not only necessitates our spending wisely but thinking and judging whether what seems wise is really for the best. Are the things which we consider essential, absolutely so?

When the Red Cross returns from a student body of over 700 here are considerably less than anyone would expect them to be when Christmas approaches with some in dire poverty and others in sumptuous luxury it would seem that somewhere things are being bought and money is being given away which is not for the best thing.

Not the cry of the conscientious saving-body that extravagant spending is a sin must be listened to and advocated but the voice that would turn this lavish spending into another channel. Money should be spent. It should be made to pay for what we need. But it is time for the rut of things into which our money goes to be changed. A good hard jolt will send the car onto a better rut a strong wind will carry the sailboat into a different channel, a deep long thought wil change the direction of many dimes and nickels.

If money spent wisely can be spent more wisely how much better to spend it so!

OVER THE TEACUPS

If I were as tired as you look, sugar, I believe I'd eat one more big meal like Thanksgiving and hibernate a while, that's all! Speaking of big meals, you should have seen the dining room, why it looked like a picked chicken—turkey, I mean! So many people away—bet I had almost as good a time watching the juniors beat as you did seeing Carolina swamp Virginia 40 to nothing — I know I got as cold as you did. Those breezes were really rip snorting around the S. T. C. I'm telling you! Made me so hungry, and was I right there for the carving of the biddie (apologies to Ruth Floyd). It was some bird only I wish I could have seen more of it! Say, you had a big feed in Charlotesville? Who was your meal ticket this time? Make any time? Well, you look whipped to a fine thin nub! Hope you can settle down by exams. Only twelve more days! and in fifteen we'll be au chez nous! Hot mamma! and that's not the half of it!

Saw John down here the other night, asked me to see if I could get out of you what you wanted for Christmas without letting you on! Can you stand it? Should I tell him handkerchiefs? Hey — don't throw that light bulb at me it won't enlighten me any! What do you think Joe is gonna give me? The air! Sez you! You know it always did seem funny to me that they don't have Thanksgiving after Christmas! I reckon Miss Taliaferro thought it was Christmas the way she played Santa Claus to all those hungry girls! Did you ever see so many boxes? and telegrams? And I had to live on excitement all week-end! Gosh, I'm hungry! Did you bring any food back? Well, I'm just glad you brought yourself—you know, when you aren't right here I kinda feel lost. Gee, I'm glad to see you all back!

DISCOURSE BY AN S. T. C. STUDENT

The inevitable hour had come! The sound of a clock somewhere striking off twelve piercing metalic sounds told me the time was near at hand. The thoughts bore down upon me—igniting the half-eager, half-morbid feeling that permeated my chilled being! (For the weather outside was bitingly cold—almost Arcticly frigid!)

I flung open my chamber door—an empty corridor gaped at me—the sound of raspy voices had died away leaving a tomb-like stillness! An inspiration for Poe—but to me it was frotesque. I descended flight after flight of stairs—oh, would they never end? Would my weary feet never reach the bottom of those innumerable steps?

Hark! Voices—suppressed whisperings—vague, incomprehensible mumblings smote my ears! Or was it vain imaginings? Nay—as I proceeded on my way, I entered a dark hall at the end of which a shaft of light appeared. Along the wall were people of my own kind robed in white—some with scarlet wraps—a formidable looking group moving restlessly, each countenance crossed by a look of pain. One by one they moved forward and, as each came to an opening intercepted by a board-like apparatus, the look of acute pain was replaced by one of indescribable joy and mirth.

I joined in the seemingly interminable line which moved so slowly—so cautiously—so quietly as if on padded feet—and after aeons of time, I too stood before the opening. My hands closed around the square, heavy object handed me, and I clutched it to me with great fervor! With it I climbed 4,977 steps to my humble abode on third floor Main and partook morsel after morsel of Thanksgiving food!

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

Jane Brown reminds me of the little boy who wished he had finished school, was married and dead—only Jane just wishes she were through school and married.

• • •

If anyone should hear strange loud noises, do not be disturbed, it means nothing—it is merely Dot Dudley blowing off steam.

• • •

Are early hay rides now in vogue? Asks Adele—she was seen coming in the Biology lab one morning at eight o'clock with hay on her coat.

• • •

It has been rumored that Elsie Mae Dollins is glad she lives so near the University of Virginia—we wonder.

• • •

Believe it or not, those girls that went away over Thanksgiving weekend missed some good fun.

• • •

Say, Adele, how much better time do you make sliding down the Student Building banisters?

• • •

There is the blackberry,
There is the dewberry,
There is the huckleberry,
And then there is that strang species
known as Quisenberry.

• • •

If Carter Franklin keeps on talking about "hey-hey," we'll be thoroughly convinced that he's country bred sho nuf!

• • •

It has been rumored around that a prominent member of our student body is engaged, but we're still wondering—

• • •

People are wondering why Frances Newman goes out so strongly for athletics.

• • •

If Catherine McAllister doesn't do something with her tea leaves, she'll have the whole student body married and gone.

• • •

We agree with Henrietta that monopolizing a class is a very bad habit. And also, "People who live in glass houses shouldn't throw stones."

WHAT HAPPENED THREE YEARS AGO TODAY

Hampden-Sydney varsity hockey team played a picked team from S. T. C. and lost, with a score of 11-0.

• • •

Dr. Jarman, Miss Jennie Tabb and several members of the faculty attended the 24th annual meeting of the Virginia Education Association, held in Richmond .

• • •

Mr Philip Shaw, of England, gave a talk at vespers on religious work.

• • •

The Russian Cossack choir gave a concert in the auditorium.

• • •

The faculty presented the "Family Album" which proved successful and interesting.

• • •

The students of S. T. C. pledged $500 for the Southside Hospital.

• • •

The following girls attended the Pan-Hellenic dance held in the rec: Elizabeth Revercomb, Frances Thornton, Dorothy Baldwin, M. F. Taliaferro and Alice Covington.

From Another College

The Virginia Tech—The engineering library which has been installed in the Patton Engineering Hall under the supervision of Professor W. N. Cunningham is now open for use by the students. So far the library has received approximately 850 volumes and it is expected that the main library will contribute about 1,500 more of engineering works in the near future.

GO AND SIT BY THE RIVER

Have you ever sat by the river
When the suns last rays are cast
And you see the loveliest colors
Blended together at last?

And the ships that sail up the river
Are gliding a slow, slow pace
And you scarcely can feel a move in the air
So reverent is the place.

For He comes first to the river
And lays his calm thereby.
The river touches the Heavens
And then man wonders why.

Why does one sit by the river
When the sun's last rays are cast?
For a moment Nature meets you
And the moment is quickly past.

So go and sit by the river,
Midst dreams—Oh, go alone
And you'll have the calmest feelings
That ever you have known.

DREAMS

Dreams come and go
Like a mist in the flow
Of daily affairs.
Lost in the swirl
Of the work-a-day world
They seek me;
Bringing me peace
From the world a release
They soothe me—
Lifting my mind
From the depths to sublime
Castle building.
Taking the smart
From a broken heart
They engulf me.

M. von Schilling, '32

AN OLD TIMER ATTENDS THE THANKSGIVING GAME

Now, what did I like bes' of all
I sen Thanksgivin' Day?
Why, Virginny men a-dressed once more
In th' ole Confed'rate gray!

To see them V. M. I. cadets,
In red 'n' gray, so true,
A-marchin' steady cross the fiel',
A-comin' straight at you.

I seen 'em at New Market,
Marchin' on to mee th' foe,
'Thout a single thought no danger,
Jest a-marchin' on the'd go.

Never cared for shells a-bustin,'
Never knowed th' time to quit—
They was young—but, oh, by gorry,
Did them youngsters have th' grit!

That's th' way they was last Thu'sday
Them eleven on th' fiel'—
Could've tore their very hearts out,
But no one step would they yield!

But it's not th' game I'm praisin'—
We got licked—th' best team won—
But a football team don't make the school,
No mor'n a sunbeam makes the sun.

It's th' whole dang corps I'm lovin',
With their spirit that won't die—
And in spite of Prohibition,
Here's a toast to V. M. I.!

A. LeB. R.

IDEALS

What are they?
Things which make lovable people
Avoid you, because they fear to be
In the presence of one
Who cannot understand their weakness.

Ideals—what are they?
Things which draw lovable people toward you,
That they, too, may be uplifted and get a glimpse
Of those higher things which are as
"A light behind the stars."

Easter Souders, '32.

SOCIALS

Margaret Parker and Margaret Gathright attended the R .M. C. dances at Ashland this week end.

Mildred Bruster was the week end guest of Margaret Banks at her home in Orange.

Mary Ellen Johnson spent the week end at her home in Richmond.

Anna Knox and Margaret Priest returned to their homes in Norfolk for the week end.

Louise Van Lear spent the week end in Lynchburg

Dorothy Anderson returned to her home in Danville for the week end.

Virginia Witt was the guest of Frances and Julia Martin at their home in Charlotte, N. C.

Jane Gray Irby was at her home in Blackstone this week end.

Harriett Branch was the week end guest of Evelyn Stephenson in Buena Vista.

Among the girls spending the week end in Roanoke were Elizabeth Antrim, Frances Coleman, Dot Ritchie, Mary Edwards, Catherine Johnson, Maxine Kitts, Carmine Masby and Nancy St. Clair.

Ann Guy and Mary Burkley Nelson spent the week end in Hampton.

Betsy Carter spent the week end in Petersburg.

Mary Trimiger was at her home in Norfolk this week end.

Jenilee Knight attended the dance at Wiliam and Mary this week end.

Carolyn Cogbill spent the week end in Petersburg.

Medora Ford, Rena Greaves, Martha Moore, Martha Saunders, Frances Rawlings, Nellie Green and Doris Walton were in Lexington this week end.

Louise Spracher was in Lynchburg this week end.

Martha Von Shelling spent the week end with her parents in Richmond.

Mary Alice Young, Toodles Booth, Catherine Cogbill and Martha Higgins spent the week end in Boydton.

Grace Virginia Woodhouse, Charlotte Hutchins, Virginia Robertson and Elizabeth Taylor attended the dances at Annapolis this week end.

Ruth and Rubie Hunt returned to their home in Rocky Mount for the week end.

Virginia Lowe spent the week end at her home in Charlottesville.

Kathryn Royster had as her guest in Lynchburg this week end A. J. Scott and Jane Royall

Virginia Ann Huntsberry spent the week end in Richmond.

FRESHMAN COMMISSION ENTERTAINED THURSDAY

The program for Thanksgiving Day would not have been complete without the party given by the Freshman Commission to all those who found a whole afternoon on their hands and nothing to do on Thanksgiving afternoon from 4:30 to 6 o'clock.

The Student Building Lounge, where the party was given, was attractively decorated for the occasion. A log fire in the fireplace gave a cheery get-together feeling to the room, and in case anyone did enter the room feeling blue and lonely, their petty grievances were soon forgotten. Recognizing popular advertisements and songs were feature contests, and caused a lot of laughter and fun. Punch and cake were served, after which dance music and dancing "was the thing" until the supper bell rang, breaking up a very enjoyable, well spent afternoon.

BETA PI THETA NEW MEMBERS

The Pi Zeta Chapter of Beta Pi Theta has the following new members:

Virginia Gee
Bessie Lynch

The members of Beta Pi Theta will entertain the two new members Saturday afternoon at Longwood.

SOPHOMORE VERSION OF THANKSGIVING DAY

For the first time in the history of the school, S. T. C. can boast of having had an indoor hockey game. Not only was it indoor, but it was miniature. We have heard of, and played, miniature golf, but never before had we seen miniature hockey. When did this take place? Why on Saturday night when the sophomores presented their version of Thanksgiving at S. T. C. It was exciting to review with them the color rush, the solemn Thanksgiving services, the freshman-sophomore hockey game, the snake parade, and the other features that made Thanksgiving day at S. T. C. After the Thanksgiving review, the sophomores sang their class song, and Alice Moore led the student body in singing "Onward Farmville."

CUNNINGHAM LITERARY SOCIETY MEETING HELD

The Cunningham Literary Society held its regular meeting, November 24. After the reading of the minutes of the last meeting, several of the members gave some of their original work as a part of the program. It consisted of:

Short story, "Aiming High," Lois Cox
Solo ..... Louise Ripburger
Poem, "The Landing of the Pilgrims" ..... Winston Cobb

COLLEGE BRIEFS

The members of the student body wish to say that they are extremely glad to have Miss Mary out with them again.

• • •

Just sixteen more days until Christmas. Three cheers for Santa and all the dears.

• • •

Did you know that 39 of our most talented choristers are going to the state contest in Charlottesville on April 14?

• • •

Have you had your future revealed? If not you have missed something in school. You had better find out about it.

• • •

Try-outs for varsity debate team are to be tonight. The national question for debate this year is: Resolved, "That the Nation Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade."

WORLD NEWS

Major Otto

Franz Joseph Otto Ruprecht Maria Anton Karl Maxmillian Heinrich Sixtus Haver Relix Renatus Ludwig Gaetan Pius Ignaz—put them all together they make Archdue Otto of Habsburg, pretender to the throne of Austria and Hungary—last week attended his 18th birthday and his legal majority.

That evening Count Albert Appanyi addressed a banquet in the Hotel Gilbert. He spoke quaveringly on the life and virtues of Archdue Otto.

Flexible Wood

Real wood which can be cut with scissors and bent almost double without breaking is described in "The Industrial Bulletin" of Arthur D. Little, Inc., Cambridge, Mass. This is a new product which combines the texture and attractiveness of natural wood with the workability of heavy cloth. It is made by cutting a thin veneer which is glued to a paper or cloth backing; after being dried, it is flexed by a mechanical process. It may be applied to walls by paper hangers, and finished with sandpaper, shellac and wax.

Although the decorative features and economy of thin veneers has been known and used for many years, it is only recently that they have been made available on a large scale.—The Literary Digest.

Guaranteed to "do the work", a new idea in alarm clocks has just been invented in Germany. The device may be attached to a clock, and at a given moment it explodes a cartridge containing pungent gas, causing the sleeper to sneeze himself awake.—The Virginian Pilot.

ALUMNAE NEWS

The Farmville Alumnae tea given at Nunnally's Tea Room in Richmond Friday, November 28, was a very enjoyable affair, and well attended by former students of the college. Among the guests were graduates of Dr. Cunningham's time, more than thirty years ago, as well as those of more recent years, all daughters true, faithful, and loyal.

At the annual meeting of the Virginia Council of Administrative Women held in Richmond last week, Miss Pauline Camper was elected secretary.

Mrs. Daisy Bradshaw Clark, of Richmond, has gone to Houston, Texas, where she will engage in social service work.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Coggin of Windsor announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Doris Virginia, to Z. Jefferson Marshall, formerly of Charlottesville. For the past two years Miss Coggin has been teaching in Hopewell. Mr. Marshall, an alumnus of the University of Virginia, is connected with the Du Pont Company in Waynesboro, where the young couple will make their home.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Margaret Allen of Farmville to Cecil Alva Blankinship of Brookneal, was solemnized Wednesday evening, November 26, in the home of the bride on Oak Street. Immediately after the ceremony, the couple left by motor for an extended tour of the western states. On their return they will make their home in Martinsville, where the groom is a buyer for the Imperial Tobacco Company. Mrs. Blankinship was a member of the Gladys High School faculty last year. In 1928 she taught in the Rocky Mount, Va., school.

On Wednesday evening, November 26 in Rocky Mount, Miss Mary Elizabeth Peak became the bride of Minter Patterson of Chatham. After a motor trip, Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will be at home in Rocky Mount, Va.

LECTURE RECITAL MONDAY NIGHT

Don't forget the lecture-recital that will be given in the auditorium next Monday night. The Choral Club is presenting its director, Mr. Alfred H. Strick, at that time. There will be no admission charge, so everyone is expected to be there. A very enjoyable evening is promised you.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Senior Walks

The University of Arkansas has something unusual—a senior walk, first instituted in 1905. Each graduating class lays another slap in the walk, on which are engraved the names of the class roll and the class numerals in bronze. No Freshman may step on it before Thanksgiving Day—woe be unto him who violates the rule!

Last year there were more colleges students in the United States than in all the rest of the world combined. There were 1,237,000 students enrolled in colleges and universities in this country.—Georgia Tech.

The girls at Farmville State Teachers College were given quite a fright last week-end, by the appearance of a ghost on the campus. Many were horrified at the first sight of the sinister creature and fled for safety. Hardly had this excitement subsided, when a short squatty creature waddled on the campus and thrilled the fair ones by his cute appearance and his cheer-leading antics.

It was not long before the girls found out that both the ghostly one and the squatty one were quite harmless and their visit proved to be a most important social event of the week-end at the school.

"Paley" Nelms and "Jack" Harvery returned to V. P. I. Sunday night.—The Va. Tech.

he was only a detective's daughter, but boy, was she a good-looker.

Student Thoughts and Opinions

The following articles have been contributed by members of the student body who wished to give expression to their thoughts on various subjects. One of these articles is a discourse, so to speak, on the advantageous and profitable side of Journalism as a career. The other, written in editorial style, contains the opinion of a student on the present table manners at S. T. C.

JOURNALISM AS A CAREER

Here at S. T. C. the teaching profession is foremost in the minds of the students and the training offered is in keeping with the preparation necessary for them to occupy their respective places in this work.

However, journalism as a profession has become a fascinating as well as profitable undertaking not only to men but, in the vernaclar of the mountains, also the "wimmin". The business of writing, publishing or writing for a newspaper or journal is becoming more open to women than ever before and the field is a promising one. Of estimated 10,000 college graduates engaged in newspaper work, about 3,000 are women.

The financial opportunities appear to be greater and even former newsboys who are now publishers are receiving ample incomes. In some cases fortunes have been amassed. The average pay of editors and reporters, it has been found, is higher in the country as a whole than that of the lawyers, physicians or teachers.

The financial phase of journalism is not its only feature. It is interesting, Newspaper people come in contact with varied situations, and it not only serves as a means of experience along different lines, but for intellectual training as well. The old idea that people in newspaper work were socially and intellectually of an inferior type has long ago been abolished. Their positions demand the fulfillment of a number of qualifications which are, in many cases, very high.

As a part of the course, the members of the journalism class have published this week's issue of the Rotunda. The members of the class were assigned to their respective positions in the different departments according to individual abilities along various lines.

TO BE SEEN AND NOT TO BE HEARD

On Thanksgiving day the dining room was seen to contain many guest who partook of the bounteous dinner which was served. We are sure that these guests enjoyed the dinner; but we are not sure that they enjoyed the many and varied types of noise which floated over the dining room. Such noises as throwing spoons in pitchers, beating tunes on the glasses with spoons, and tapping the table with silverware, are not necessary to the enjoyment of a meal, and they should not be heard in our dining room.

We would not dare be found guilty of such breaches of etiquette at home, and we certainly ought not to do such things at school, especially when guests are in the dining room.

Such a thing as misbehavior at the table reflects on our home training, our parents, and the community from which we come. It lowers the standard of our social group and worst of all, it reflects on our school, S. T. C., when, despite the fact that Thanksgiving day lent happiness and pep to the occasion, our guests were impressed with the fact that we know not how to behave . This should not be allowed to happen again, should it? Let's see that it does not.

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART
We would like to have your orders
—for—
DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS
Canada Drug Co.
Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

COTILLION CLUB DANCES ARE ALMOST HERE
DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!
We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Three piece suits the kind that sells for $5.95. All colors and sizes $5.59
Newest fall shoes, low, medium and high heels. Prices
$2.98 $3.95 and $5
26 sample sport coats, Princess style Special $9.95
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Jerry L.: "Gosh, I'm sick. I feel like I'm about to die."

Margaret B.: "Better put in your application for leave, so you can attend your funeral."

Every correspondence school student carries a pair of scissors to aid him in cutting classes.

Miss Moran: "Do you know what caused the Grand Canyon?"

Miss Cash "Yeh, a Scotchman lost a dime in a gopher hole."

Martha: "If I take a potato and divide it into two parts, then into four parts, and each of the four into two parts, what would I have?"

Ruth: "Potato salad."

Pattie: "What keeps the moon from falling?"

Budsey: "It must be the beams."

The idea of a five-day week is to provide in each week a one-day holiday and a day to rest up from it.

Ida (in poetical mood): "What are the wild waves saying?"

Skinny: "Sounds like 'splash' to me."

Stenographer: "Your little girl wants to kiss you over the phone."

Busy Manager: "Take the message. I'll get it from you later."

Margaret: "My brother is working with five thousand men under him."

Virginia: "Where?"

Margaret: "Mowing lawns in a cemetery."

Miss Pettit: "Can any of you tell me what makes the tower of Pisa lean?"

Estelle H.: "I don't know, or I'd take some myself."

A. J.: "Gosh, I don't believe any body could ever be that fat!"

Adele: "Why, this paper tells about an Englishwoman that lost two thousand pounds."

Dot D: "It's strange, but when I play the piano, I always feel extraordinarily melancholy."

Virginia: "So do I, Dot."

Virginia: "It must be wonderful to be color-blind at Christmas."

Jessie: "Why?"

Virginia: "Just think of all the holly that could be mistaken for mistletoe."

Laura S: "After all, what's the difference between the rich man and the poor man?"

Ella C: "The rich man has acute laryngitis and the poor man has a cold."

Ruth F: 'You know, burglars broke into my house."

Margaret S: "Yeh? What happened?"

Ruth F.: "Oh, they searched thru everything, then left a $5 bill on my dresser."

Actor: "A horse! A horse! My kingdom for a horse!"

Voice from gallery: "Will a jackass do?"

Actor: "Sure. Come on down!"

Connie Quarles (after appendicitis operation): "Will the scar show?"

Doctor: "Not if you're careful."

Munt: "Is that book good?"

"Yeh, but it is dirty."

Munt: "Well, brush it off and hand it here."

ATHLETICS

SOPHOMORES CHAMPION IN HOCKEY GAME

Continued from page 1

backs, but since the forward line had stopped in wonder at a half dribbling down field, there was no one to whom she could pass. The full-backs stopped her.

In the middle of the last half the sophomores took the ball all the way down into their striking circle. All the red and white defense were there, trying to get the ball out. The green and white forwards were all trying to shove it across the line. Laurie Boush hit the ball hard but too many sticks and shin guards were in the way. It bounced off stick and shins, and after frantic efforts to get it out, a red and white half back kicked it into the green and white goal! The sophomores scored!

With only a few minutes to play, the juniors got the ball into their territory several times, but never to score.

The final whistle left the score 1 to 0, in favor of the sophomores.

Rats Beaten 3-1

The sophomores defeated the freshmen in the first of the Thanksgiving games. The rats, however, played a much better game than was expected of them.

The red and white team work and passing were especially good. The forwards had good backing, too. Several times the ball was carried beyond the 25-yard line into red territory, only to be driven back by a full-back or a half-back.

The green missed several good chances at the goal and took bullies. The rat full-back stopped a great many, too. The score at half was tie.

In the first minutes of the second half, the ball was taken into red territory and passed to Alma Foster, who scored for the Freshmen.

After that, the sophomores seemed to realize that they weren't fighting their hardest, and then they truly worked. The ball stayed in the green and white end much after this. The sophomores, rallying, showed excellent passwork, passing to Dot Snedegar, who made three goals in quick succession.

The freshmen did not score again, leaving the score 3 to 1, the sophomores winning.

The line-up:

Freshmen		Sophomores
Dickinson	R. W.	Gregory
Yeaman	R. I.	Walthall
Foster	C. F.	Snedegar
Pratt	L. I.	Beacham
Stokes	L. W.	Boush
Boggs	R. H.	Ridgeway
Matherly	C. H.	Harvey
Quarles	L. H.	Wilkerson
Cooper (c)	R. B.	Massey
Sudgen	L. B.	Gunter
Burger	G.	Edwards

Juniors Defeat Seniors 2-1

After playing three extra five-minute halves, the juniors defeated the seniors, 2-1, Thanksgiving morning.

Hard playing by both teams made the game extremely exciting. At the end of the first half, after quick accurate passes, the ball went to A. J. Scott, who scored for the juniors. After that the ball was kept in center until the half whistle blew.

In the second half it seemed that neither side would score, but toward the end Dolly Reed put the ball over, tieing the score.

It was decided to play off the tie in two five-minute halves. No score was made.

Five minutes longer they played, Louise Clayton making a goal for the juniors. The ball stayed in the junior end until the whistle blew, making the score 2-1, juniors ahead.

The line-up:

Boswell	R. W.	Evans
Putney	R. I.	Coleman
Clayton	C. F.	Reed
Scott	L. I.	Oliver
Clingenpeel	L. W.	Maddrey
Souders	R. H.	Hutchinson
Edwards (c)	C. H.	Nuthall
Hall	L. H.	Dutton
Quisenberry	R. B.	Smith (c)
Hundley	L. B.	Simpson (c)
Odor	G.	Hunter

Better hockey was seen in the class games this year than usual.

ALUMNAE DEFEATED IN THEIR FIRST GAME

Old Girls Playing Picked Team Show Unexpected Good Form

SCORE IS 5-3

Cries of "Bully, come on and bully," the first being Kitty and the second, "ground-sticks"; sight of Kitty Rhodes taking the ball down left alley very much as she did several year ago; that supremely good sport, Louise Vaughan, stopping long drives, Clem and Eli getting their share of the fun, Nellie Talley dribbling down right wing; Mary Frances yelling, "Miss Iler, what's the matter with you?", while Miss Iler shows the followers of her and hockey just how the thing is done—all these went to make the alumnae game one of the most interesting features of Thanksgiving.

Played at 2:30 Thursday afternoon, with students filling in the vacant places, the game was won by the student team chosen by lot. It would seem that the old girls, some of whom have not played hockey for several years, might have forgotten how to play the game. However, they showed that they had not by playing a good game all the way through.

The first half was quite exciting, Hatchett taking the ball right through the defensive of the other team to score two goals. Martha Gunter also scored for the alumnae. For the "et cetera" team Boswell, Coleman, and Crute scored, leaving the score at the end of the half, 3-3.

In the second half, the fact that they had not been used to running up and down a ninety-yard field began to tell on the alumnae. They made no more goals. Beacham and Hardy scored this half, making the score 5-3 in favor of "Etc.".

The line-up:

Alumnae		Etc.
Talley	R. W.	Boswell
Gunter	R. I.	Quisenberry
Hatchett	C. F.	Beacham
Bully	L. I.	Coleman
Rhodes	L. W.	Crute
Ridgeway	R. H.	Souders
Iler	C. H.	Hardy
Quarles	L. H.	Wright
Vaughan	R. F.	Kello
Clements	L. F.	Hundley
Putney	G.	Burger

At Eaco Theatre Week of Dec. 8-13

"The Best Sound in Southside Va."

MON. and TUES.—"A Lady's Morals," starring Grace Moore, the Metropolitan Opera soprano, supported by Reginald Denny and Wallace Beery and great cast. Here is the romance the world has been waiting for. Based on the romantic life of Jenny Lind, the Swedish Nightingale. On the one hand, convention and a brilliant career—one the other, the pleading of her heart. Yet one unforgotten kiss, and he had vanished from her life. The heart-hunger, the soul-cravings of a woman in love never have been more powerfully depicted. And you will rave over this new screen celebrity—Grace Moore, whose beauty and wonderful voice make screen history. A picture that will be appreciated by those who demand the best in entertainment. Also Aesop Sound Fable.

WEDNESDAY—First episode of "The Indians Are Coming," the great all-talking serial now playing at the Roxy Theatre, New York. A treat for grown-ups as well as the youngsters. Also "Men of the North" with Gilbert Roland and Barbara Leonard. Like the bracing winds and mightly snows and forests of the Northwest comes this spectacular romance in which there is not a dull moment. "We steal, we cheat, we fight for love." That was the code of the devil-may-care men of the North. A different picture that you will thoroughly enjoy. Also Cartoon, "Jungle Jazz."

THURSDAY—Repeating the first episode of "The Inidans Are Coming." Also "East is West," with Lupe Velez, Lewis Ayres and Edward Robinson. The never to be forgotten drama that was a three years' sensation on Broadway. You will laugh and cry over the glowing romance of little Ming Toy, the Chinese Sing Song girl sold on the Love Boat; and the brave, handsome American, Billy Bensom. She beat her pretty wings against her lacquered cage—the object of a Chinese plot, her heart breaking for the dashing American. Ming Toy still can laugh, and she outwits them all. Lupe Velez at her best. Don't miss this one. Also talking comedy.

FRIDAY and SAT.—"Min and Bill," with Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery, supported by Dorothy Jordan and great cast. Can you imagine anything better than Marie and Wallace together? They will never improve on their work in this picture. Here is one of the outstanding hits of the year, and Farmville is getting it immediately after Richmond. Two of the screen's greatest personalities come together now in a talkie that makes you roar one moment, then holds you tense by its drama the next. They are a happy-go-lucky pair who take love and laughter where they find it, and you will live their parts with them. There is a dramatic climax such as you've rarely seen. Also the Collegiate Boy Friends in "Bigger and Better."

Two shows each night—7:30 and 9:15. Daily matinees at 4 p. m.

Admission, adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

BASKET BALL PRACTICE ARRANGED DIFERENTLY

Basketball practices this year are being arranged in quite a different way from that used heretofore. Instead of having everybody come down every day, getting about five minutes practice, the whole group is divided into teams. Girls have been selected as captains, who have shown interest and ability in basket ball. The captains have chosen their teams and each team will have a definite time to play. The schedule will be posted later.

It is not too late to come out yet, so come on out, get into a group, and play ball.

At the Centennial Celebration held at R. M. C., Ashland, Virginia, John S. Poindexter, alumnus, furnished the money necessary for the completion of the swimming pool, including the heating plant, the filtration plant and the tiling of the entire pool. The planning of the pool has been carried forward will all speed possible, and actual work on the pool will begin sometime in the near future.—The Yellow Jacket.

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS

Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN

Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments

GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

is Headquarters for the Best

SANDWICHES

—and—

DRINKS

—in—

FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store

Farmville, Va.

"Drugs and Drinks"

DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES

WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP

AND LEATHER USED

PALETTE BAZAAR!
BUY YOUR XMAS PRESENTS

ROTUNDA

JUNIOR CLASS
PRESENTATION
SATURDAY A. M.

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1930 No. 11

Mr. Alfred Strick Gives Recital In College Auditorium

He Is Assisted By Misses Purdom, Cralle and The Choral Club

The Choral Club of this college presented it's director, Mr. Alfred H Strick, in a lecture-recital Monday evening, Dec. 8, in the college auditorium. The first part of the program consisted of a lecture by the director on "Music and Psychology." Mr. Strick pointed out the relation between music and psychology, from which we can draw our rule of life. Science has worked many wonders, and proved many astounding theories, these have combined forces and as a result doubts have arisen in the minds of humans. When such is the case, something solid is needed; this is acquired through a study of one's inner self. Carlyle has said, "Reform thyself and there will be one less rogue on this earth."

If we are to understand music we must know something of its technique. Music is a language with spelling anud sentence. Psychology is to life what technique is to music. The subject matter of music is the language of one's higher nature—the

Continued on last page

MR. EDMUND V. COOKE GAVE A PROGRAM ON TUESDAY EVENING

Mr. Edmund Vance Cooke gave a program lecture, "The Joyful Job of Living" last evening in the college auditorium.

The poems on this program were from Mr. Cooke's volumes.

The program was:

Acomplished People :"A Good, Old Fried Drops in; "Pap"; Otto and the Auto."

Little Folks: "The Intruder"; "Talk of the Two-year-old"; "Cruise of the Little Tot."

And Larger: "The Shave Store"; "Moo Cow Moo"; "A Thurru Rest."

Whens and Whence: "When Your Boy's Too Big to Kiss"; "When Your Big Boy Puts You Down"; "When the Last Child Leaves".

Hope and Faith: "When Toddy As! the Blessin' "; "When the Fuzz Comes Back"; "Born Without a Chance"; "But We Did".

Mr. Cooke's program was delightful, and never has a program been

Continued on last page

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Dec. 14

8:30 P. M.—Old English Carol Service (under the direction of Mr. S.rick)

10:00 P. M.—Carol singing thru the town.

Dec. 15

Prayers, Adele Hutchinson

"Hanging of the Green" in the Rotunda immediately after Prayers.

Dec. 16

Prayers—A Christmas story told by Miss Rice

Dec. 17

The White Service led by Martha Faris.

Dec. 18

A short pageant in the auditorium immediately after supper.

NATIONAL PRIMARY COUNCIL MEETS

The National Primary Council held a business meeting on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in the Student Building auditorium.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Miss Ruth Floyd, and the minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Miss Clara McAllister, followed by the roll call. The constitution was read by the president who called attention to certain clauses of special importance. Plans were made for the Christmas party which will be held Saturday night, December 13 at 9:45 p. m. The chapter song was practiced in preparation for the initiation of new members which will be held after Christmas. Plans were made for the publication of a book of children's poetry. The meeting adjourned at the end of the discussion.

ROANOKE COLLLEGE RECEIVES A GIFT

Word has been received that the Carnegie Foundation of New York has awarded Roanoke College a gift of $18,000 to be used for the library. A portion of the endowment award will be used, it has been announced, to supplement the reference books for various departments of the school.

Faculty Attendance At Richmond Convention Large

Many of Them Take Part in the Discussion

A large number of the faculty from Farmville attended the teachers meeting in Richmond and many of these had important parts on the program.

Miss Camper was re-elected secretary of the Virginia Council of Administrative Women in Education. At the breakfast held by this Council a member of the faculty of Harrisonburg presented a very interesting paper. Miss Alice Carter led the discussion of the paper and at the end of it Dr. Wynne summarized the discussion.

Miss Pierce, chairman of the committee on constitution, presented the constitution before the meeting. Miss Craddock gave an excellent report of the meeting of the Association of the Teachers of Penmanship which was held in Detroit last spring. Another member of our faculty, Miss Moran talked on "Interesting Ways of Introducing Topics in Geography" before the teachers of geography.

TOPICS BEING DISCUSSED FOR DETROIT MEETING

Several topics have been sent to the Y. W. which will be discussed at the convention to be held in Detroit from December 21 to 31. To aid the Farmville delegates, Rena Robertson and Henrietta Cornwall, these subjects will be discussed during Prayers from Tuesday through Friday night. The following are the topics in order of their discussion:

Tuesday—The Place of Religion in Higher Education.

Wednesday—Social Attitudes and Responsibilities.

Thursday—Student Counseling

Friday—The Social and Organized Life of the Campus.

Come and give your opinions on the subjects.

ELEMENTARY TEACHERS CCLUB HOLDS MEETING

E. T. C. met Saturday morning in the little sitting room. The program, the subject of which was "The School of Yesterday and the School of Today" 'was in charge of Jane Grey Irby.

1. A contest on great educators.
2. The Psychology of Interest and its Influence upon the Educational Process of Today, Susan Floyd.
3. An entertainment, "The Twester Family", Ida Trolan.
4. An Explanation of the Advancement of the Theory of Formal Mental Discipline and How It Has Affected Teaching Methods and the Curriculum, Miss Mary Pierce.

PALETTE GIVES CHRISTMAS BAZAAR

Don't forget that on Friday you are going to do your Christmas shopping at the Palette Bazaar. We have just the things you have been looking for. laced pocketbooks, silhouettes, dance handkerchiefs, sport handkerchiefs, lamp shades, etc., all at reasonable prices. Don't miss this big opportunity. Friday, December 12 at 6:30 p. m. in Miss Bedford's classroom.

SENIOR CLASS MAN

MISS VIRGINIA POTTS

"ODDS AND ENDS" PRESENTED AT S. T. C.

The Farmville Chapter of the S. T. C. Alumnae presented "Odds and Ends" in the college auditorium on Thursday, December 4 at 8 o'clock. The actors were town people, S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney students. All those who were fortuntae enough to see this program enjoyed it thoroughly.

Miss Mary Jackson's mammy songs and Negro impersonations were particularly popular.

Another pouplar number was the Spanish Ukelele Dance, by two Fourth Grade children. The Fourth Grade HarMonica Band played remarkably well. Miss Norris and her student teachers have reason to be proud of the children in their grade.

The entire program was so interesting that S. T. C. hopes for another of this type soon.

MISS CARTER WILL TALK TO TEACHERS SATURDAY

Miss Alice Carter will go to Petersburg Saturday where she will talk to the teachers of Dinwiddie county on the "Teaching of History and Geography in the Elementary Grades."

Seniors Presented Their Class Man Last Saturday

Miss Virginia Potts Is The Class Man of the Seniors of 1931

On Saturday, December 6, the class presented their class man to the faculty and student body. Miss Potts came in with the class and she too, wore cap, gown, and a hood to designate her degree.

She was formally presented by the class president, Virginia Robertson. Miss Potts has been their class man for three years. In the presentation the interesting fact that Miss Potts had been senior class president while she was a student here and had served in the capacity of both student and adviser for a senior class, was pointed out.

After the formal presentation the Senior class remained standing and sung a song to their class man, and also their class song. Both music and words of class songs were composed by Elizabeth Taylor.

The presentation was very impressive and it is the first of the three public appearances of the class as a whole. The other two services are the final chapel service, held by the Seniors in May, and the class day exercises in June at commencement.

MODERNIZING OF HIGHER EDUCATION HAS SAME AIM EVERYWHERE

The modernizing of higher education in the U. S. has everywhere had the same aims: to free the capable student from the drag of the incapable; to encourage and reward intellectual initiative. The liberalizing process has included these steps: removal of compulsion to study; replacement of frequent, specific examinations with infrequent, comprehensive ones. Harvard, Princeton, Dartmouth long since took modifications of these steps. In the experimental college at the University of Wisconsin, the radical play of studying human eras whole instead of human knowledge piece-meal has been tried with success. The University of Chicago approached its reformation guided by two factors not so pressing at other universities: a large and intricate budget; a monster student body with a wide variety of demands. —Time.

Helen McGraw Gives Piano Recital At State Teachers College

The Womans Club of Farmville presented Mrs. Helen McGraw in a piano recital in the college auditorium Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Mrs. McGraw is the wife of a British ambassador to the United States and is well known as an accomplished musician. She has recently won a scholarship in music, and will make her first appearance in New York during the coming spring.

Mrs. McGraw is a true artist; her selection of compositions and her interpretation of these selections was excellent. Her poise and unruffled manner are indicative of her experience as a performer. No one could fail to experience and feel deeply the atmosphere which Mrs. McGraw created through her unparalleled performance. The selections which she used in this program are those which she will present in her New York recital. It was a great privilege to be able to hear such a remarkable program which consisted of:

Two Intermezzi Op. 118
A. Minor
E flat minor ..... Brahms
Fantasia F minor ..... Chopin
Two Etudes Op. 8
B Flat minor
F Sharp minor ..... Sriabine
Two Preludes ..... C. Debussy
"La Terrace des Audiences du Clair de lune"
"Ce qu'a vu le vent d'Ouest"
Carnival ..... Schumann

"The Night Before" To Be Given Friday Evening

On Friday night, December 12, one of the snappiest, prettiest, and peppiest revues recently given at S. T. C. will go on at 7 o'clock. Dancing, singing, and other forms of delightful entertainment run riot, and festivity spirit is at its height in this production. Nor is it all dance and song, for there's a plot—it's a college story! And Rene Greaves as the college girl must not be missed. Of course, she has many admirers and especially one who features largely in the play. Carrie De Shazo makes a splendid typical modern mother and Margaret Banks is unrecognizable as any but the adoring father and henpecked husband. Sue Yeaman could change anybody's mind when she sings "Three Little Words" and she almost does change Rene's, or Betty's as she is in the play. Jane Witt sings, too, which would be enough in itself but the song that she's going to sing is a secret. And it's a secret well worth finding out, too.

French Hutt, Mildred Maddrey, Butdsey Carter could make Broadway with their tapping and boola-boola collegiate hop!

It's the "Night Before" and oh! What a good feeling will come the morning after you've seen this play. It appeals to your pep, it piques your curiosity, but above all—it satisfies—it encourages—If Betty and Bill could do it—you could too. One more fling

Continued on page three

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

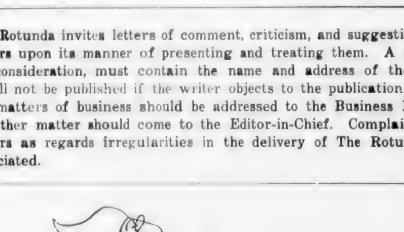
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Giving

" . . . but the greatest of these is charity."

—I. Corinthians 13: 13

"Blessed are the merciful for they shall obtain mercy."

—St. Mathew 5:7

At night we kneel to pray. We ask of God, forgiveness, strength, and mercy. Our lives seem full and sometimes hard to bear, for we forget others in our own small troubles. And prayer gives us peace because our Father is merciful and he is full of charity. Are we? He has told us to be kind, considerate, and loving; to be our brother's keeper and, in ministering unto the poor, to serve Him. Do we do this? He has given to us life, beauty, and still a greater gift, a second life where there is no pain. Christmas is almost here and we are thinking of the things we want. Perhaps there are others who want, and, being less fortunate than we, can only keep on wanting. Can we not serve Him by being charitable to them and giving a bit of of our happiness at this Christmas-tide? There are ways and ways of giving before us every day. We need not go far, for just one penny will buy a Christmas seal that will help some weary soul to a little joy. And is not the greatest gift—the joy that comes of giving?.

Come—make your own Christmas the merrier by opening not only your heart but your purse to others.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Oh, I had a wonderful time! Never ate so much turkey in all of my life. I won't be hungry for a week or more. I met a cute boy, too—speaking of boys—well, the boy Sargeant likes or doesn't like, (which is it?) was there. He's precious too—and I can't say as I blame him. I met somebody that knew Polly Sheffield and the Rowell twins. He was very much interested in the latter as his fraternity brother is rather in love with one of them. He doesn't know which. You know, I'd hate to be a twin—I might get mixed up. And mixed up—that makes me think of this week and next. Have I got much to do? Don't be absurd. But I'm not in it a:ymore than anyone else, I guess. And do you realize it is almost Christmas. I feel like I'm dreaming when I say it. I know I'll die when I come back. You know Frances Fleming isn't coming back after Christmas. She's going in training at Stuart Circle in Richmond. I kinder like the idea myself but I wish she wouldn't. Poor Liz Taylor works so hard over our annual, "Pig" might help her. It's gonna be a good, one too. Have you subscribed? I have. You better do it quickly. Oh, I brought you some food. Well, I had so much to say I forgot to tell you sooner. And that makes me think of a cake someone is raffling off this week. Ten cents a chance, devil's food cake with chocolate icing and nuts. I believe Dele is to draw the lucky number Wednesday. You know that cake would taste right good. Think I'll buy a couple of chances, even if I have to get 'em the last half-second. You get one too, so in case I'm not lucky you might be. But I've got to go. I've obout one million things to do and am sleepy already. Well, here's the. Gee, you look happy. I wonder why?

SERVICE

Different words convey to us different meanings. There is one especially that portrays a beautiful picture—service. Whether it is large or small if the impulse that proceeds it is an unselfish one, then the act becomes glorified.

Perhaps some of us miss the things that we did back home. A dinner carried to a poor family, occasional reading to a blind person, a visit to an aged couple, etc. Of course we do not have these types of people to serve in our college life, but there are others who need our help. Very often rubbing a girl's head for a few minutes will give her relief from a headache, helping a freshman to clear up a difficult point in a certain lesson, or even stacking the dishes for the maid will help a lot. Little things, yes, but someone's load is made lighter.

Taking a homesick girl for a walk may take up a bit of precious time but the result is justified. The more required of us, the sweeter the gift, or the service for after all—

It isn't how much you give—
But how much it takes to give it,
It isn't just a life to live,
But the way in which you live it.

The rich man may give his thousands
The widow her only mite.
The latter's gift tho small,
Has equal favor in His sight.

Put forth a bit of effort,
Act before too late!
Live and give 'till it hurts
And you'll find what makes life great.

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

I have never seen two busier people than Gathright and Royster. But then, even they get busy about this time of the year.

• • •

If Katherine Marchant stays on campus as much longer I'm going to change my opinion of her. Do you think some of the rest of us could work on Del to put us on 'till Xmas?

• • •

I've never seen anything in this world like Jane Beale and the interest she takes in apprenticing. I've never seen anything in this world like Jane.

• • •

I've never seen it to fail. Whenever girls like the same person, they dont' let each other out of sight. Do you reckon Martha Walters and Helen Cover could be at Shannon's?

• • •

Some people work and get a lot of credit for doing things around this school. Some people get a lot of credit for doing things around school.

• • •

You know I believe Doris Walton could get by with murder. But does Doris want to get by with "murder"?

• • •

I can't help but notice Missie Bernier.

• • •

If you want to study undisturbed around here, you will have to hang a quarantine sign on your door. "Busy" signs seem to mean naught lately.

• • •

The fact that some students fail to be quiet during a program, may be a tribute to their unquestionable honesty, but I can't say much for their manners.

• • •

Did you know that—
The younger folk no longer trust
The Emerson idea;
When Duty sternly says "you must,"
The youth replies: "Oh, yeah?"

• • •

A man may select a solitaire by himself; but a girl always has a finger in it.

• • •

The trouble with appearances—it's often tough to keep them up—especially when an article is written that hits YOU.

BUY STICKERS

Have you seen Santa Claus yet? If you haven't, take a peep at the door of the Registrar's office the next time you're down that way. You'll see, on the same poster with his Christmassy highness, a double Red Cross, the sign always found on tuberculosis stickers. The intimation is that you come in and buy them. Only a penny a-piece, they will not cause anybody any hardships. Just the mention of the good that will come of it, all the miserable mothers and suffering little children to get the benefit of fresh air and nourishing food—will be a sufficient hint to the humanly inclined.

32 Women Took Masters Here

According to the list compiled by Dr. Grace W. Landrum and Catherine Carter, there have been in the history of the college 32 women who have received Masters degrees. By an act of the General Assembly in March 1918 women were first admitted to the college, entering in the fall of 1919. Not until 1920 did a woman receive a Masters degree when Edna Zin Tuckloff of Williamsburg completed the requirements. In 1922 there were two women who received their degrees in post-graduate work, in 1923 there were five women, and in 1930 there were eight women. Some of the most popular majors elected by these women are: English, History, French, Psychology, Sociology and Education.—"The Flat Hat", William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va.

THE CONSCIENCE

From the unknown,
Like silver fox
That steal beneath a waning moon
And pierce the shadows with a mournful call,
Come, soft hands
To gather close around
The threads of careless life
That heedlessly are sown;
Stealthily they curve
And fit with charming strength
About the throat,
To cease the hoarse cry
That struggles for release;
Calmly they press the flesh
As breath comes slow
And the heart grows weak;
One last gasp escapes thin lips
As a shadow steals from o'er the moon
And the spirit,
With one thought of hope,
Fills the veins that course the tortured neck
With blood of purer infant life
That knows no wrong,
And bursts the clasp
That holds at bay the life.

L. M., '30

THE MOON

Oh moon,
To me you are symbolic of love,
Ever changeless—lasting unto eternity.
You are pure—divine,
Sacredly apart from the lust of the world.
Your golden globe is filled with intoxicating liquor—
Bitter—yet sweet
For it has power to bring joy beyond all knowledge.
True—
Others have grasped your happiness
Young lovers with outstretched arms
Drink in the god's most perfect gift.
But I am lonely
Gazing on your beauty
I am still a greedy child
Stretching out my arms—reaching
For the moon!

PALACE OF DREAMS

Upon a pile of sand,
I built my palace,
With my own hand.
It was a masterpiece.

Within my palace
I placed my dreams
And 'mong my dreams
Were schemes.

A huge wave came
And down all fell
My place of dreams
Was gone.
Heart-broken into a cave
I crept;
And there I found some stone
Upon this stoney ground so rare
I built my place of dreams
And there they stay alone
Within my palace fair.

THE THIRD ELEMENT

One element
A hermit on a mount—
No life, no love, no happiness spent
Just a life that must repent
In a world of discontent.

One added element
Two friends in paradise
Real life, true love, much happiness spent
Even in the stranger's tent
For love of God is never pent.

What does it represent?
The streams that reach no sea
All strife, all hate, all misery meant
Even where love was diligent
For in stepped the evil element!

E. Kutz, '33

SOCIALS

Margaretta Brady attended the William and Mary game and dance in Richmond this week-end.

Loulie Millner and Mary Clare Booth were the guests of Ella Simms Clore at her home at Madisonville this week-end.

Ann Davis spent the week-end at her home in Richmond this week-end.

Corinne Mosby spent the week-end at Lexington.

Mary Berkley Nelson spent the week-end at Orange.

Allie Oliver was in Suffolk this week-end.

Caroline Read spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Frances Parker was in Richmond this week-end attending the William and Mary-Hampden-Sydney game and dance.

Virginia Sargent spent the week-end in Lexington.

Margaret Barker spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Martha Walters spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

Dorothy Leonard spent the week-end in Charlottesville.

Helen Cover attended the dances at Durham this week-end.

Kathryn Rogers spent the week-end in Richmond.

Martha Moore was at her home in Lexington this week-end.

Louise Munt spent the week-end in Richmond.

Jacque and Jerry Lee attended the Carolina-Duke game and dance at Chapel Hill this week-end.

Ann McGann was in Richmond this week-end.

Katherine Waters, Anna Knox, and Margaret McCoy were shopping in Richmond Saturday.

Mu Omega wishes to announce the following new member:

Mary Custis Burwell, Floyd, Va.

INFORMAL TEA GIVEN BY MRS. A. C. RENZ

An informal tea was given in honor of Mrs. Andrew C. Renz, vice-president of the Grand Council of Pi Kappa Sigma, by Pan-Hellenic Council Friday afternoon from four-thirty to five-thirty at Longwood. Besides the two representatives from each sorority, which compose the Council, Miss Mary White Cox, Miss Camper and Miss Bedford were also present.

KAPPA DELTA PI HOLDS CHRISTMAS PARTY

Tuesday evening, Dec. 9, the Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi had its Christmas party in the lounge.

The members of the chapter and their guests gathered around an open fire and listened to a story "The Christmas Rose" read by Miss Louise McCormick. Elizabeth Temple, Eleanor Davis, and Alice Harrison sang an old English carol "I Saw Three Ships" and every one joined in the singing other more familiar carols.

Fruit, nuts, raisins, and candy were served as refreshments.

Mr. Edmund Vance Cooke, a noted poet who lectured Tuesday evening was a guest or the chapter and recited one of his Christmas poems.

Other guests of the chapter included our honorary members, Dr. Jarman and Miss Jennie Tabb, and those in the faculty who are members of Kappa Delta Pi in other institutions: Miss Grenels, Miss Waters and Miss Haines of the Apha Pi chapter of the George Peabody College for teachers; Miss Cash of the Mu chapter at the Illinois State Normal University; Miss Mary Pierce of the Xi chapter at the University of Alabama Mr. S. M. Holton, Jr., of Alpha Tau chapter at Duke University and Dr. John P. Wynne of Alpha Upsilon chapter of the West Virginia University.

FACULTY MEMBERS ENTERTAIN TWO VISITORS

The members of the faculty at Farmville, who are graduates of the Teachers College at Columbia, had a luncheon Saturday for Dr. Linton, secretary of Teachers College, Columbia, and Mr. Kurenni, registrar of American University, Beirut, Syria.

Dr. Linton and Mr. Kurenni are traveling by motor from New York to the colleges in the south. They are visiting the teachers colleges in Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama, and others of the southern states. Mr. Kurenni is studying the work of the registrar and was very much interested in the work of the registrar at Farmville.

MISS MARY BARLOW ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE

Miss Mary E. Barlow was hostess at a delightful bridge party Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Lancaster. The following were present: Misses Iler, Jeter, Robertson, Hatchett, Laura Smith, Frances Edwards, Adele Hutchinson, Jim Simpson, Cleo Quisenberry, and Easter Souders. Frances Edwards won high score prize, a nice fruit cake.

Christmas colors were carried out in the decorations. Delicious food, served by Miss Barlow and Miss Jeter, made the afternoon complete.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM GIVEN BY THE EL CIRCULO ESPANOL

The regular meeting of El Circulo Espanol was held Thursday night in the music room. The rush classes were invited and a Christmas song program was offered in their honor:

Noche De Paz

Christmas Carol ..... Entire Club
Christmas tory ..... Charlotte Parrish
La Viaduta
Song ..... Freshman Class
Piano Solo ..... Lucie Anne Love
Venid, Todos Fielos
Christmas Carol ..... Entire Club

PRAYERS

Jane Royall led Prayers on Wednesday night. Her subject was "Self-Reliance."

On Thursday night Grace Virginia Woodhouse led. The main theme of the selection she read was "Honesty."

Special music was rendered on Friday night by Mildred Varner who sang "A Perfect Day". After the Scripture reading Hannah Allen briefly told why everyone should build treasures to lay up in Heaven instead of building so many treasures on earth.

CUNNINGHAM LITERARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Cunningham Literary Society held its regular meeting Monday night. Since the club voted to change the dues this year, it was necessary to amend the constitution. The secretary read the proposed amendment to the club and told them that it would be voted on at the next meeting.

As the first number on the program, Elizabeth Temple gave a short Christmas reading, which showed us that little boys just can not keep secrets at Christmas time. Following this Jane Witt sang 'The Glory of the Lord," a Christmas hymn. Miss Nichols told something of how Christmas is celebrated in other lands and how the celebrations differ from ours. Then, she told a story entitled "The Queerest Christmas."

"THE NIGHT BEFORE" TO BE GIVEN FRIDAY

Continued from page 1

before exams! It couldn't be regretted even if in the play there wasn't the marvelous secret revealed which brings infinite thrills.

And listen, the tickets are only ten cents. Impossible to imagine, but true nevertheless—fifty cents worth for ten. Don't miss it!

Intercollegiate News

We noticed in the game last Saturday Hampden-Sydney played with William and Mary that William and Mary was penalized several times for holding. William and Mary is coed isn't it?

The Washington and Lee Fancy Dress Dance Club has decided upon January 29 and 30 as the dates for its dances. The junior prom will be held Thursday, January 29, the Fancy Dress Friday, January 30, and the morning dansant, Saturday, January 31.

No orchestra has been booked but the president of the club has been corresponding with the leading orchestras in the country and the final selection is a matter of elimination. —The Virginia Tech.

The Virginia Military Institute passed the ninety-first anniversary of its foundation on Nov. 11. Like the South Carolina Military Academy, V. M. I. first began as an arsenal to provide for storage and safe-guarding of arms. The history of the institution has been one of military service and efficiency. After its great service to the Confederacy, it became one of the leading schools for the training of officers for the U. S. Army. —The Bull Dog.

One of the features of the annual sack rush at the University of Denver is the custom whereby Freshman engineers on the day preceding the rush are required to doff their "dinks" raise oil cans, and reply, "down with friction!" upon being so requested by upperclassmen.—The Critograph.

Merry Ann Harbor, Michigan — University of Michigan co-eds want to argue in public whether they behave like human beings. The subject they observe has long been a matter of private conversation and it is proposed to have an argument in the open. Zeta Phi Eta has issued a challenge to Alpha Nu fraternity to debate the question, "Resolved that co-eds behave as human beings."—The Flat Hat.

Students at Michigan now have to carry indentification cards in order to be permitted to enter class. It was found that many outsiders were coming to classes and acquiring free education.—The SunDial.

William and Mary is finally going to play Washington and Lee in football next year. Virginia, V. P. I., V. M. I., and Washington and Lee have long been called the "Big Four", but this writer is one who is in full favor of having it changed to at least Big Five.—The Flat Hat.

The Sun Dial—Randolph-Macon, Lynchburg. There are 778 girls registered at R. M. W. C., Lynchburg. There are two students from China one from Korea, and one from France. Virginia with 180 girls, has the largest number of representatives. Alabama, North Carolina, Georgia Kentucky, Tennessee come next. Thirty-two of the states are represented at this college.

58-Year Old Honey

The Department of Agriculture has had a hive of white clover honey for 58 years, and it is still good to eat.

Once almost colorless, it now resembles black-strap molasses, and its original taste has changed until it is hard to distinguish from buckwheat honey.

The department plans to age it indefinitely, or until it is no longer fit for consumption, to note chemical changes.—The Virginia Pilot.

Miss Waters: "Class, why do you think they measure the sea in knots?"

Nellie Greene: "Well, how else would you get the ocean tied?"

OLD ENGLISH CAROL SERVICES AT S. T. C.

Sunday evening, December 14, at 8:30 the Choral Club of the College will present an evening of carols. A selected group from the Choral Club will be attired in costume of "Old English Waifs" and will lead a processional. A short address appropriate to the occasion will be given by Reverend Frederick Diehl, rector of the Episcopal church. A free will offering will be taken for the American Rescue Workers.

THE VIRGINIAN IS WELL UNDER WAY

Haven't you subscribed to the Virginian? I heard somebody say the other day that you wouldn't be able to get one if you didn't subscribe before Christmas. Wouldn't that be terrible not to have an annual 'specially after I paid out a dollar and five cents for cuts. What, you haven't paid for your cuts—well, you had better do it or they might "cut" them out. I heard the annual was going to be better than ever this year. I just can't wait to see the Vanity Fair pictures. Yeah—you really better subscribe now before you spend your money doing Christmas shopping.

LIGHT ING

This light problem, it seems, is greatly bothering our beloved executive head and it seems that since this is the case we should look into the matter rather thoroughly.

It has been observed by certain observant house councilors that certain roomers in the dormitories snap off their lights on their rounds and upon catching the echo of receding footsteps flash then on again. And others are not even as considerate as this.

The thing that seems to be worrying Adele is that lights burn both night and morning and to some it might appear burn all through the night until the morning.

The question has been asked, "If we can't use our lights at night and we can't use our lights in the morning, when can we use them?"

In answer to this it has been decided that night at S. T. C. does not begin until ten-thirty, giving us a long period during which we may enjoy using our lights.

Here's hoping that our studious friends will not think this a call-down for their burning of the midnight oil for this only applies to those who have been using electricity.

Your father is a shoe maker and you do not have any shoes.

Your father is a dentist and your little sister doesn't have any teeth.

College Briefs

The Farmville Alumni chapter presented "Odds and Ends'" in the college auditorium Thursday evening, December 4, 1930. The actors were town people and a few S. T. C. girls, all of whom displayed much talent. The Fourth Grade Harmonica Band was especially good. All those who saw it enjoyed it very much.

• • •

The Alpha Phi Sigma honorary scholastic fraternity met Monday night to announce that installation services were to be held on Wednesday night, December 10.

• • •

Quietness and politeness is appreciated at the table in the library during rush hours.

• • •

Soft lamplight. A small, slight figure in a simple white dress, silhouetted against an ebony piano on which lies a lovely bouquet of red roses. Who does not remember this picture? We all enjoyed the piano recital given by Mrs. Helen McGraw in the auditorium on Friday, Dec. 5. We see that she is a very promising young artist and we wish her success.

• • •

Japanese lanterns, teekwood, incense, fragrant tea, busy buyers. And success at the Japanese bazaar for the Freshman Commission.

SCHEMMEL

Conservatory of Music

Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART

We would like to have your orders —for— DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS

Canada Drug Co.

Farmville, Virginia

Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

COTILLION CLUB DANCES ARE ALMOST HERE

DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!

We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge

DAVIDSON'S, Inc.

The House of Quality

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Three piece suits the kind that sells for $5.95. All colors and sizes $5.59

Newest fall shoes, low, medium and high heels. Prices $2.98 $3.95 and $5

26 sample sport coats, Princess style Special $9.95

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

JOKES

Little Jane: 'Let's play we are married."

Tommy: "Can't. Ma said we must keep quiet."

Little Stiff: "They say absence makes the heart grow fonder."

Ruth Floyd: "I must be crazy about money."

Mr. Holton: "Try one of these cigars. They are the finest things out."

Dr. Simkins: "Thanks. How are they when they are lighted?"

Alice Lee Shank wants to know why vitamins are put in spinach and cod liver oil instead of cake and candy. I wonder why?

Dr. Field: "Have you been drinking water, as I directed—30 minutes before each meal?"

Ella Carroll: "I tried hard, but I had to stop at 20 minutes. It made me feel like a balloon."

Judge: "How is it you do not have a lawyer?"

Prisoner: "As soon as they found out I didn't steal the money they wouldn't have anything to do with my case."

Sailor: "Before I marry Betty I want to get some thing off my chest."

Cook: "What is it"

Sailor: "A tattooed heart with Lucy's name on it."

Mary Ellen Cato: 'Men are just like street cars. One will come along every few minutes."

Ann Minter: 'But don't any of them stop for me."

"I know a girl who plays by ear."

"That's nothing. I know one old man who fiddles with his whiskers."

Eva Harris: "Why do you call this c--c-co-coffee?"

Betsy Wilkinson: "Because it is weak in the bean."

Then there was the absent-minded professor who put the waffle on the victrola and ate the record.

Virginia Robertson: "When I sat down at the piano they laughed at me. (There wasn't any stool.)

Mrs.: "Do you know what your greatest fault is, Rena?"

Rene: "I can't think."

Mrs.: "Right, I knew you'd own up to it."

Margaret Ely: "Terrible links, caddy, terrible."

Caddy: "You've been off the links an hour, Madam."

Outraged Father: "I will not have my daughter tied to a stupid fool all her life."

Shiek: "Then don't you think you better let me take her off your hands?"

First S. T. C.: "I've had a hard life. At eight I was left an orphan."

Second S. T. C.: "What did you do with it?"

Virginia Ann: "Why is a dentist's office called a parlor?"

Margaret Banks: "That's the old fashion word for drawing room."

Miss Supper: "What have you gained in this class?"

Martha Boothers: "Eight pounds."

Please get laughing gas to help you enjoy these jokes.

ATHLETICS

BE THE FIRST TO WIN A MONOGRAM

The gym Friday afternoon was a scene of much activity. The circus "Tumblers" seemed to have returned to town. Everywhere girls were performing, not for an audience, but for Miss Iler and Miss Hatchett, and they were performing to win a monogram. Many girls did the hand-stand, head-stand, cart wheel, and "somersault". They did them to perfection, too, because only those who did them to perfection were "passed" by the judges,Miss Iler and Miss Hatchett. After the sixth time, Alma Foster decided she needed more practice before she shot twenty goals in a minute. However many others did pass this test. And Jim Simpson declared she could not jump three feet, six inches, and at the same time, jumped it.

These things cannot be done without practice. Wouldn't you like to be one of the few girls in school privileged to wear a college monogram? If you are interested come to the gym next Friday afternoon and practice. Start now, and don't let anyone win a monogram before you do.

ALFRED STRICK IS PRESENTED IN RECITAL

Continued from page one

invisible.

The art of music takes discernible form in sound. Every day we are aware of the modern wonders of sound. There is as much to be gained by listening to good music as by producing it. Great composers do not compose, they listen. Poets have realized the power of silence. Music expresses one's feelings in a subtle way which is impossible with mere words. No one feels exactly as another does. Threads of personality are expressed in music, fetingly. One's life is always moving, so is music. As in music, there are human vibrations; some are low, some are high. Man must have a broad point of view, and raise his low vibrations.

A muscal composition is a human document, have a main theme, development with several minor themes and a conclusion. One's life has the same parallel; it ends just where it begins. Both life and music have concords and discords; the discords must be transmitted into concords. In life's symphony, each human is an instrument and each must know his part. Finally one will reach the peak of his possible achievement.

The second part of the program consisted of several of Mr. Strick's compositions, one, a piano solo, the others, songs, illustrating the various schools of music—classical, romantic, modern, sacred, and patriotic. Miss Lisabeth Purdom was the soloist of the evening. The A-Capella Choir and the Choral Club, with Miss Florence Cralle of this town, assisiting, gave several selections, making the program varied and quite delightful. The basic factor in the whole performance was the cooperation between the director and the performers.

MR. E. V. COOKE GIVES PROGRAM IN CHAPEL

Continued from page one

given in the S. T. C. auditorium which appeals more to its audience The audience was only half large enough, however.

Some of Mr. Cooke's volumes are: From the Book of Extenuations; Companionable Poems; Chronicles of the Little Tot; Impertinent Poems; Rimes to be Read; The Uncommon Commoner; I Rule the House; Little ongs for Two; Told to the Little Tot; The Story Club; Just Then Something Happened.

COLLEGE HIGH DEFEATS BLACKSTONE HIGH

Friday afternoon, December 5, the high school boys and girls as well as some of the college students had a great treat in seeing the basketball game played in the S. T. C. gym between the College High School and Blackstone High School.

Although Blackstone had the taller and heavier girls, the College High girl never weakened, except probably from a little excitement at the beginning of the game. Knowing that Blackstone had not lost a game in four years made shivers of excitement run over all the team. Due to this excitement many balls were fumbled and some good shots at the basket missed. All this however, was made up for in the last quarter when Kate Matherly and Frances Hudgins made some pretty passes and dribbles to make splendid well-aimed shots.

The College High School showed good spirit and fast team work Blackstone played a fast game too and many passes were intercepted by the good work of the centers.

When the final whistle blew the score stood 10-6 in favor of College High School. Admission charges were 10c. The C. H. S. is very glad that so many came out for the game. The money will go to help the high school athletic association.

WORLD NEWS

Floating Hospital

"Show Boat," palatial entertainment craft of the floating ballroom type has recently been auctioned off to become a floating children's hospital.

A ship broker offered $1,325 which is subject to the approval of the Federal Court. He said he was acting for a multi-millionaire philanthropist in New York, who proposed to use the craft as a children's' hospital on the Hudson.—The Virginian Pilot.

Gold and Silver Vessels Found

A rich store of gold and silver vessels from the days of 79 A. D., when an eruption of Mount Vesuvius buried this city, was found recently by governmental excavators who uncovered a large house in Pompeii, Italy.

Archaeologists said the find would rival in quanity and artistic and historic value the famous treasure uncovered as Boscoreale in 1895. That is now in the Louvre Museum in Paris.

Gold bracelets, gold earrings, chased silver plates, gold necklaces and brooc hes are among the pieces found.—The New York Times.

A CONTRAST

One—
Coarse, rude,
Seemingly made by an amateur
Who mixed his colors
And made a formless creature
Devoid of beauty and harmony

The other—
Delicate, finely wrought—
Seemingly from the hand of an artist divine,
Who has given her beauty,
Refined beauty, shining from her eyes
The reflection of her soul.

Easter Souders

Mr. and Mrs. Y. P. Glutts announce the marriage of their daughter Pansy to Mr. Pipsqueak Saltsbury son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Saltsbury of Sako Avenue, Rio Oregon. The ceremony was administered by the Rev. Mr. Bell on the evening of Dec. 3 in the S. T. C. chapel which was tastefully decorated in young pine trees.

GREEN AND WHITE BREAK EVEN IN THE GRAND COLOR RUSH

Breathless silence! The first tap of the bell! Then yells! A fall! Hildegarde, with green and white on Rotunda! Goldie carried out! Intervention of a second, then, "Red and white on library"! Another second and "Green and white on student building." Then Frances Edwards, with "Juniors have Senior Building." The meeting of red and white on neutral white house hall.

Screams of "Hail, red and white, hail!" "Green and white will shine tonight."

All fade into the dying echoes of "blue and white", sung softly to taps.

At the Eaco Theatre Week December 15-20

"The Best Sound in Southside Va."

MON. & TUES.—Billie Dove and Clive Brook in "Sweethearts and Wives." Mingling comedy, drama and mystery in succession, this picture establishes a record as one of the fastest moving and most amusing domestic dramas of the year. A runaway wife and her sweetheart forced into a lonely hotel. A French maid who wasn't a maid at all. Mystery! Thrilling drama! One of the strangest stories ever told with a hundred tense moments. She risked her honor for the honor of a woman she had never met. Miss Dove speaks French perfectly throughout the first two reels A picture to be remembered. Also a two-reel Novelty.

WED.—"The Cat Creeps" with Helen Twelvetrees and an unmatchable cast. Taken from the famous play, "The Cat and the Canary." It abounds with mystery and suspence and its entire action deals with the hair-raising events of a single night in a great mansion which has not been occupied for twenty years. A hair-raising mystery drama, yet full of hilarious laughter and romance of the love of a girl for a boy. Also "The Indians Are Coming", chapter two. The greatest Western talking serial ever produced. A treat for the adults as well as youngsters.

THURS. & FRI.—Here is is, folks! "Animal Crackers" with the Four Marx Brothers. Unquestionably one of the big hits of the year. Bigger and better than "The Cocoanuts." The world's funniest four men in a super-laughter-piece. Now the Marx Brothers hurl the works at you in one mighty barrage of buffoonery. You'll rock in your seats with roars. You won't be able to frown for a year. Then there's Lillian Roth, laughter's leading lady, and a prize cast of gorgeous girls. Come three times—and even then you cannot catch all the laughs. If you don't know Groucho, Harpo, Chico and Zeppo, here's your chance to make acqaintances you'll never forget. The town will enthuse over this picture so see it and be sure you can enjoy the conversation. Also cartoon. No advance in price.

SAT.—"Queen High" with Charlie Ruggles, Ginger Rogers and Stanley Smith. New York paid $5.50 a ticket to see this highly entertaining comedy. Business and boudoirs won't mix—see why. It all happened on the turn of a card. His uncle is the butler. Her uncle is the boss. So they have the run of the house. And how they run it. A pair of young lovers wreck a happy home and build another. Whether you play bridge, poker, seven up, hearts or what you play, Queen High will be the winning hand in Farmville on these two days. Miss it and you'll feel like the deuce. Also Pathe News and Aesop Fable Cartoon.

Two shows each night—7:30 and 9.15. Daily matinees at 4 p. m.

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS

Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN

Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments

GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best

SANDWICHES

—and—

DRINKS

—In—

FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store

Farmville, Va.

"Drugs and Drinks"

DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES

WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP

AND LEATHER USED

S. T. C.
MERRY XMAS!!

ROTUNDA

S. T. C.
MERRY XMAS!!

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 17, 1930 No. 12

Discussion Groups Meet At Prayers During Past Week

Material Given to Delegates From S. T. C. To Detroit Conference

FOUR GIRLS LEAD

During the past week four discussion groups were held instead of the regular prayers — from Tuesday through Friday night. The purpose of these discussions was to unable the delegates from S. T. C. to contribute some worthwhile facts at the Student-Faculty conference to be held in Detroit from December 27 to 31.

On Tuesday night Pauline Gibb led in the discussion of this subject, "The Place of Religion in Higher Education".

It was discussed from this viewpoint—"what have we at S. T. C. to satisfy the religious needs of the students?" The big organization that does this is the Y. W. C. A. As Dr. Jarman says, it is really the heart of the school. From the Y. W. has grown the Freshman Commission, which came about because of the need and desire to get freshmen interested in the work of the school. Sunday morning watch, prayers, and chapel provide opportunities for religious expression. There are other things that have contributed to the religious side of college—the honor code, Student Volunteer Conferences and other conferences.

Martha Faris led the discussion on "Social Attitudes and Responsibilities" on Wednesday night. The fact that there has been an evolutionary not a revolutionary change here in social ideas was brought out. Though several minor changes in social attitudes were discussed, the most important discussion centered around the Honor Code. Although there has been an unwritten code of laws, here, as in every school, not until last year was this put into a definite form. The

Continued on last page

WOMANLESS LIBARY TO BE OPENED 2005 A. D.

T. M. Zink, a LeMars, Iowa, lawyer and woman-hater bequeathed $50,000 to a womanless library to be opened 2005 A. B. By that time it is figured that the money will have increased to $3,000,000. No woman is ever to be admitted to the library. No book written by a woman is to be tolerated, and no suggestion of femininity will be allowed to creep into anything connected with the building.

Whethere the statement will be sustained or not is a surmise, but a similiar will, that of Stephen Girard, founder of Girard College, was contested and upheld by the courts in 1831.—Emory Wheel.

CHRISTMAS MEETING HELD BY LE CERCLE

Le Cercle Francaise met Tuesday night, December 9 in the Y. W. C. A. social room. A Christmas program was the main feature of the meeting. A Christmas story according to St. Luke's gospel was read from a French version of the Bible by Eleanor Davis, the president. The story was followed by the singing of a French Chirstmas carol. The members enjoyed the program, as well as the conversation and candy which followed it.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

OLD ENGLISH CAROL SERVICE GIVEN HERE

Choral Club In Costume Holds A Christmas Program in an Old Inn

On Sunday night, December 14, the Choral Club presented an old English Carol Service in the auditorium. Some members of the Club were seated on the stage at tables when the curtains were drawn. A selected group from the club marched in from the back of the auditorium, dressed in English Wait costumes, and carrying lanterns. As they came in they sang, "As With Gladness Men of Old".

When they had taken their place on the stage all sang "Angels from the Realms of Glory," "The First Noel" and "O Come All Ye Faithful."

Dr. Diehl then gave a short talk on "The Spirit of Christmas." In his talk he said that only through poetry and song are we able to get the real feeling of Christmas, for poets, as we know, have the ability to put our feelings into words.

Then the chorus sang "Good King Wenceslas," "I Saw Three Ships Come Sailing in", and "We Three King of Orient Are."

The choir marched out singing "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" and those on the stage sang the closing lines before the curtains were drawn.

NAME FOR MATH CLUB IS CHOSEN THURSDAY

The Mathematics Club met in the little auditorium, Thursday night, Dec. 11 at 8 o'clock. Since there was so much business to be attended to, no program was planned. As a name for the club, the members chose "Pi", and the Greek letter "Pi" will be used as the symbol.

A constitution which had been drawn up by a committee, was presented, and, after much discussion, was accepted with several revisions. The next meeting will be held the second week in January, at which time a most interesting program will be presented.

"THE NIGHT BEFORE" DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Audience is Very Appreciative of the Show

As the curtain rang down on "The Night Before" the ensuing applause bespoke the appreciation of its audience and furnished the praise merited by this clever and highly entertaining miniature musical comedy. Not only was the story, the return of the collegiate daughter, interesting and realistic, and the dancing and singing exceptionally good, but the costumes and stage setting were almost unique in their singular beauty and appropriateness for an entertainment listed as minor in the category of stage productions. By no means, however, could the crowd attracted to this program be classed in the minority, for the audience filling about one-half the auditorium, was practically on a parity with attendance at much larger-scale productions.

The Debate Club sponsors of this entertainment, can justly take unto itelf a great deal of credit for attempting and successfully completing so meritorius a performance The president of this organization is to be complimented on a play which represented much exhausted time and energy on her part.

The club on the other hand feels alike its indebtedness to Virginia Ransom, accompanist, and Budsey Carter, assistant director. Without their invaluable aid, "The Night Before" could not have been what it was —this is the sentiment felt by the club members.

VARSITY TRYOUTS FOR DEBATE CLUB HELD

Tuesday evening, December 9 tryouts for the varsity debate teams were held. The question for discussion was "Resolved, That a Policy of Free Trade Should be Adopted by all Nations." The following teams were selected:

Mabel Barksdale and Eliz Johnson
Carrie De Shazo and Margaret Hix
Martha Ann Laing and French Hutt.

JUNIORS PRESENTED CLASS MAN SATURDAY

Miss Bedford is "The Sweetheart of the Junior Class" of 1932

The Junior Class presented their class man to the faculty and student body on Saturday, December 13. Miss Virginia Bedford, who has had the honor for the past two years here, was honored again. The class marched in to the tune of their class song. The Junior Class president and class man took seats of honor on the stage while the class members took seats behind the seniors.

When the faculty and student body were seated, Grace Virginia Woodhouse, the class president, presented Miss Bedford, the class man. Her speech was short but sincere, and it well deserved the applause it was given. The juniors dressed in white and singing heartily had its effect on those present in chapel last Saturday. The song sung to Miss Bedford was written to the tune of "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" and the class song was a snappy bit of melody composed by a committee.

The climax of the class sang "Tho' we're red, we'll always serve the blue" is quite characteristic of the class of '32.

EINSTEIN THEORY DEFINED IN SENTENCE

At last Prof. Albert Einstein has hit upon a one sentence definition of relativity which anyone can understand.

He was chatting recently in the office of William Guard, factotum of the Metropolitan Opera.

"Professor," said Guard, "I have a definition of your relativity theory, and I would like to know if it is correct."

The professor smiled. There are presumed to be only a handful of wise men in the entire world who are able to understand it.

"My definition is this," said Guard. "There is no hitching post in the universe—so far as we know."

Einstein laughed and nodded assent vigorously.—The Roanoke Times

Delta Chapter Of Alpha Phi Sigma Installed Here

Purpose of Fraternity Is To Develop and Promote Ideals Of Scholarship

SEVENTY-FIVE MEMBERS HERE

The Delta Chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma was installed here Dec. 10, by Mr. Byron Cosby, who is the National president of the organization. The Alpha Phi Sigma fraternity was founded February 26, 1930 by Mr. Cosby, of Northeast Missouri State Teachers College with the installation of the Alpha Chapter at Kirksville, Missouri.

Beta Chapter was installed at the State Teachers College of Maryville, Mo., April 9, 1930; the Gamma Chapter at Fredericksburg, June 6, 1930; the Epsilon Chapter at Warrensburg, Mo., July 15, 1930.

There are individuals in every secondary school and college who strive for scholastic honors, which are won only after arduous toil, consistent preparations and continuous effort along a well directed course. The ideal of Alpha Phi Sigma is to set up machinery for developing and carrying on the ideal of scholarship. A certificate of honor is conferred on every valedictorian and salutatorian of our secondary schools. This will put thinking above the social and athletic honors that are often heaped upon youth, and give the permanent ideals that determine success. It will honor the student, the college, and the community.

This organization is national and membership is confined to class A institutions of the American Association of Teachers Colleges. Valedictorians and salutatorians are received at once—valedictorians as apprentices and salutatorians as novices. The average of C plus at least, must be maintained by novices and an average of B by all of the apprentices. These two degrees may progress to the master's or third degree. Girls

Continued on page three

VIRGINIA SONG FESTIVAL REVIVE OLD BALLADS

Ten thousand trained voices will sing Virginia ballads in the Old Dominion's first festival of songs at Charlottesville next spring.

John Powell of Richmond, pianist and composer, is directing preparations for the festival, which will offer some ballads as old as the civilization in the hills whence they originated.

The singing sponsored by the Virginia Federation of Music Club, and other State organizations will be held in the Greek amphitheatre at the University of Virginia.

FIRST BUSINESS WOMAN WAS PRINTER OF BOOKS

Who was the first American business woman? Jane Aitken, printing books in Philadelphia in 1808, so far holds the honor in the search being conducted by national federation of Business and Professional Women.

Other early business women discovered were Mrs. Elizabeth Timothy of Charleston, S. C., who took over her husband's printing establishment in 1838, and Mrs. Hanna Cole, who operated a ferry across the Missouri river in 1814.—The Virginian Pilot.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31

Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorial

The Spirit of Christmas

The spirit of Christmas never grows dimmed as onward we go through life, but there are degrees of ways to show this spirit. After all—if the spirit is strangled within the purpose is lost.

And—when we think of the many hearts who are crying because there will be no Christmas Santa for the little ones, hasn't the spirt of Christmas changed for you? Don't you want that word which means magic to a little child to be a happy one for you and me because we are giving instead of receving?

There are nearly eight hundred of us and if we could only make one little heart happier because Santa did come even though mother said the little old man would be too poor this year to descend their chimney, wouldn't we be happier because our spirit of Christmas was one of open-heartedness?

Is there anyone of us who hasn't seen a little child's face on Christmas morning? The joy, the sublime bliss which only children can feel. Can't we make eight hundred little faces sparkle this year? That would be our happy spirit of Christmas.

The Hanging of the Green

As that old custom has come down century by century to our generation, thus has that custom likewise woven itself into the Christmas spirit of our Alma Mater.

Each year we hang our green in the rotunda of our S. T. C. —and as we entwine one sprig of green into another we see tender leaves of bright green—and to us that bright new color signifies life—life coming—as the new year comes. Then there are the old, the darker green spots which have had their prime—onward towards decay—the end—as this year must end.

That custom—as it came down through the ages has meant different things to different people—but to us here at S. T. C. when we hang those greens, we are binding our hearts into one, we are binding them to Joan, to our Alma Mater, in that spirit of Christmas—which brings an intangible joy. That sense of joy which brings a sad gladness in the hearts of the rich and the poor alike.

And as we hang the greens our hearts are as one, one worshipping, thankful, joyful heart, which looks above to the One who makes joy when we hang the green!

UP THE CHIMNEY

Dear Santa:

Please bring Ella Carrol a little black baby doll. She has every kind but that.

Laura

Dear Santa Claus:

We'll tell you a secret but don't tell the sophomores. We've tried so hard to get rid of every indication of our extreme youth and inexperience. We came to S. T. C. determined to putaway childish things" and to eave far behind the time "when we were very young,' but what's the use? We're mere infants after all. and we might as well admit it—to ourselves and to you (Never to the sophomores) We've put up a good bluff, but at Christmas time we want to be ourselves for just a little while. Couldn't you, dear Santa Claus, smuggle each of us a doll with "open and shut" eyes and an all day sucker? Please do.

Your young friends,
The Freshmen

Dear Santa Claus:

I want just one little thing this Christmas because I know how very busy you'll be seeing all of the little children who need Christmas presents this year. I want a brand new coat of smiles so I won't look so frayed and worn and weary. I'm so tired of wearing this grey one, couldn't you make it blue, a bright blue and I'll promise to take good care of it and make it last this whole year. Take care of all people Santa Claus and a merry Christmas to you and your reindeer.

The Spirit of S. T. C.

Dear Santa Claus:

I've been awful good and I've worked hard and I want a lot of things for Christmas. I want a new evening wrap and a brand new dress and some hose and so many other unnecessary pretty things. And then, dear Santa, I want more than anything— two hundred subscriptions to the annual. I've work on it so hard and Santa that isn't selfish because all of those two hundred people will enjoy it. And I'll be happy if you will just bring me this last thing. And dear Santa, be nice to all the little girls in the world and wish them a merry Christmas for me.

"Liz" Taylor

CHRISTMAS CAROLS

Has anyone ever been successful in describing the feeling that fills one when she sings or hears those old, old carols that have been handed down to us for generations? I have never heard or seen such a descri,)tion and thefore it is practically hopeless to try to put into words that feeling which every human soul has felt and yet is unable to express.

It is not the same feeling that floods one upon hearing the strains of her Alma Mater or when on foreign soil the notes of "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" burst forth. The feeling is similar, but yet different. Besides the thrill of pride which comes with the above mentioned there is something deeper, an intermingling of joy and sorrow. Joy for the great gift of which we sing; sorrow for the ungrateful manner in which so supreme a gift was received.

Christmas carols make the homeless and those away from home long for home and al lthat it means in much the same way as does oen Noel Paine's "Home Sweet Home". At the same time Christmas carols cary a message of satisfaction and content.

In short Christmas carols are songs carrying with them more conflicting and stimulating emotions, for the average person, than any other music, btu that is not at all an adequate description. Everyone has the same love for carols and to each of us they carry a separate meaning.

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

Eeny, meeny, eight days to go,
We'll hang our silk hosiery all in a row,
And when they're chucked full clear down to the toe—
Eeny, meeny, bo do de o!

• • •

If Mary Bruce keeps on dashing through the halls with those 'swanky finger waves of hers, we'll all be seasick!

• • •

Speaking of versality—Polly Sheffield can make one of her front molars work on the extension plan. It's really a clever affair!

• • •

Adele says we can "cut up and carry on" all we want during exams.—But that reminds me of another fable Aesop forgot to patent . . .

• • •

. . . . And then there's the time I became very belligerent, because my best friend gave me soap for Xmas. Crust, I call it.

• • •

Have you heard about Budsy Carter's mania? Well, hearken! She's going out for Entymology—always protecting "gnits, gnats, gnuts" and poor little "what nots."

• • •

I'd give Alice Moore a quarter for her musical giggle—only it ought to be two notes higher and needs a whole gob of volume. What do you think?

• • •

Wouldn't "Madame Feefee's School" be a cute name for S. T. C. (That reminds be—$3 for class dues after holidays. That's "a fly in my Xmas ointment.") Adaline Moore: "Don't pay any mind to the preceding "puns". They are merely phonetics that "add a piquant sauce to the menu of the day."

• • •

• • •

Merry Xmas in a big way to everybody.

CHRISTMAS WEEK NEWS OF 1927

On Tuesday, December 13, 1927 from four until six the drawing room was the scene of the annual bazaar given jointly by the French and Spanish clubs.

On Thursday, December 15, 1927, the first inter-class debate took place between the freshmen and the sophomores. The freshmen won. They were Martha Ann Lang and Virginia Pettigrew.

The Cotillion Club announced sixty girls as new members December 11, 1927.

The vesper program for Christmas week was announced The Spirit of Happiness, Youth and Christmas combined permeated the hearts of a college and out of it grew a program we called a Christmas week. That was in 1927.

On Saturdayfi December 17, 1927, the Rotunda put out its Christmas issue with a hearty wish for a world-wide "Merry Christmas!"

On December 19, in the auditorium the Choral Club and Training School gave a Christmas Carol Service. The invitations were extended to everyone.

Christmas letters to Santa Claus predominated the Christmas issue of the Rotunda. One read:

"Dearest Santa Claus:

There are many things we need for Christmas, but most of all I want some nice, healthy girls who won't be getting sick and then wanting excuses.—Miss Mary."

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Christmas times are merry times;
All the world is humming;
See the shoppers hurry by
Christmas day is coming.

Christmas times, merry chimes,
Joyful bells are ringing;
Over the snow, here we go!
Happy Christmas singing.

Christmas times are happy times;
Here's wishing you the happiest one;
When hearts are filled with cheer.
You have had for many a year.

Rives Gilliam, Training School

A CHILD'S CHRISTMAS

Radiant as the star that led the wise men
Shine the expectant eyes of Chirstmas children,
Beaming with overwhelming joy and love for others
Sharing their love and joy with all their brothers.

Approaching with awe, as great as of wise men
Who approached so humbly the first of Christmas children,
The time when on that glorious night of nights
They once again perform the joyous rites.

Of hanging Christmas stockings by the hearth
Where Santa Claus can leave his generous gifts and holly—
And trimming all the house with pine
Then off to bed to await the morn so joll.

When jubilantly they rise before the sun
To find the toys left fo reach little one
And 'e're the sun has faded in the west
Each tired heart and head is happily at rest.

M. von S., '32

A CHRISTMAS PRAYER

There are golden moments in our lives
When our hearts are filled with love;
And we want to make another feel
Our like to Him above.

We want to pour out all our joy
And spread it o'er another's grief
To make this life a happy place
And give the sick relief.

These times come somehow, not enough,
These moments stirring deep,
So let us try and make them last
A harvest full to reap.

And as we open wide our hearts
To let His love come in
May He grant us this one prayer
And forgive our selfish sin.

"Guide us with a gentle hand
But leave the thorns, that we
May prove our strength full true
Because of love for Thee.

In this, Thy Holy Presence, Father,
May our thought be free
To find new paths, new aims,
And center all on Thee.

With others let our hearts be filled
Because once long ago
Thou sent Thy only Son in love
To save us here below.

This Christmas with its caln and peace
We pray will mean that we
Will gladly give our hearts and love
In service all for Thee."

—Amen
L. M., '32

SOCIALS

Members of the faculty and charter members of Alpha Phi Sigma attended an informal reception which was given in the Student Building lounge Wednesday evening at 9:30 after the chapter installation. Mr. Byron Cosby, of Northeast Missouri State Teacheds College, Kirksville, Missouri, was the guest of honor, and he was able to give, those who were particularly interested, much information concerning the organization. Hot chocolate and wafers made a most satisfying refreshment for the occasion.

Anna Knox was in Williamsburg this week-end attending the dances.

Louise Van Lear spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Dolly Reed attended the dances at Williamsburg.

Jane Grey Irby spent the week-end in Blackstone.

Ann Davis was in Lynchburg this week-end.

Renie Greaves spent the week-end in Williamsburg attending the dances.

Martha Seabury spent the week-end in Petersburg.

Helen Cover was in Lynchburg this week-end.

Jacque Lee attended the Co-eds at William and Mary this week-end.

Corrine Mosby was in Williamsburg this week-end attending the dances.

Katheryn Waters was in Lynchburg this week-end.

Vernie Oden spent the week-end in Williamsburg, attending the dances.

THE NEW DELTA SIGMA CHI GIRLS ENTERTAIN

The new Delta Sigma Chi girls entertained the new girls of Sigma Sigma Sigma, Gamma Theta, Pi Kappa Sigma and Zeta Tau Friday night with a Christmas party. The chapter room was gaily decorated in Christmas greens and showed signs of Santa by a lighted tree upon which hung pretty candy canes for each guest Nuts and fruitswere passed to add to the Chritsmas spirit.

ZETA TAU ENTERTAINS

Saturday night Zeta Tau chapter room was transformed into just the place for Santa Claus with its fireplace on which hung twenty little red stockings. Before the guests arrived Santa had decorated a tree and filled the stockings with candy. Miss Nichols and Virginia Robertson told Christmas stories and before departing Christmas carols were sung by the light of the fire and red candles.

SOCIAL MEETING HELD OF ALPHA KAPPA GAMMA

The Joan Circle of Alpha Kappa held its social meeting in the Student Building lounge last Monday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock. The atmosphere was one of Christmas nature and the the decorations, the only light being that from a log flure and candles.

Miss Grace Mix told the story of The Passion Play she saw in Obermaumergau this summer. Later she showed pictures illustrating the play. She also told the story of how the first tree was lighted.

While Christmas music was played, stockings filled to a charming likeness of childhood delights were passed around. Later surprise packages were given out.

Examinations were the only thing which drove the happy crew from the log fire back to work.

BETA PI THETA ENTERTAINS MEMBERS

On Friday night the old members of Beta Pi Theta entertained the new members at supper in the tea room.

MISS MYRTLE GRENELS ENTERTAINS AT TEA

Miss Grenels' geography class room on Friday, December 12, was the scene of a unique surprise party. The classes of geography 231 had assembled for a review of the course which was a study of South America. The review was to be given by the presenting of slides, and each girl was to tell about her slides. The teacher being a little tardy and, the class a little over-industrious, the girls began the work at hand, alone. However, Miss Grenels soon appeared and being so favorably impressed with the attitude of her class, asked to be excused for a few minutes.

Later she, with the assistance of Doris Evers came in bringing dainty cups filled with a delicious steaming hot drink, Yerba Mate, the National drink of South America. The tea is light green in color. When a lump of sugar was dropped in the cup and the juice from a slice of lemon was squeezed in those present enjoyed the drink quite as much as members of Brazilian society or the Four Hundred of the United States do. The class hour was soon over, but those who could, remained living in the atmosphere of South America, gazing at picturesque views of the country, remembering outstanding facts that had been learned during the term, sipping Yerba Mate, and eating delicious tea cakes.

The surprise review was quite a novelty. A few more of this kind will make the curricula activities of our S. T. C. similar to those of Oxford, England.

CHRISTMAS PARTY IS GREATLY ENJOYED

Ruth Floyd and Margaret Stiff, dressed as little girls, were hostesses at a delightful Christmas party given by the Primary Education Council Saturday night in the Student Building lounge. The room was most attractive with its decorations of "greens" and a large open fire added coziness to the group.

When the guests arrived the hostesses were reading stories by the fire. Miss Mix was asked to tell some of her Christmas stories, as only Miss Mix can. These were enjoyed by all. In reply to a knock at the door, a poor gypsy, fortune-teller, Catherine McAllister, was allowed to come in to warm her hands. While warming, she was asked to tell fortunes, and the fate of several were revealed at that time.

Everyone went to sleep and Claus, Louise Clayton, came and filled the stockings hung by the fire. He left a lot of gifts and these were given out by Miss Haynes. Santa later returned and to each one present, gave little red stockings filled with nuts and candy. Margaret Fisher then gave one of her children's poems. Delicious hot chocolate and sandwiches were served and Christmas songs were sung, after which, the party ended.

PI KAP XMAS PARTY

December 14, sometime before 5 p. m., ole Santa left a lot of good things on the prettiest tree, in the Pi Kap room. There were all kinds of surprises, funny and quite nice. And there were real Christmas goodies, too; hot tea and sandwiches, real fruit cake, nuts and fruits and candy. He didn't forget Miss Iler and she was there for her surprise. Santa is certainly a fine old chap and knows when a bit of cheer is needed. Here's hoping he has a bag full of goodies for everyone.

Clemenceau Honored

The father of victory is to stand in the heart of Paris. The name place Georges Clemenceau is to be given to the intersection of the Avenues Champs Elysees, Marigny and Alexander III. A statue is to be erected there.—Norfolk Ledger Dispatch.

JUNIOR CLASS MAN

MISS BEDFORD

DELTA CHAPTER OF ALPHA PHI SIGMA INSTALLED HERE

Continued from page one

are elligible for this when their grades lie in the upper 5 per cent of the student body. This grade also must be maintained.

The Delta Chapter has seventy-five charter members. The novices are: Mary Connally, Ethel Creedle, Anne Drew, Elizabeth Dutton, Lucy Fitzgerald, Elmen Foster, Virginia Fultz, Virginia Gee, Elizabeth Glenn, Mildred Wodwin, Martha Gunter, Helen Inge, Lucille Ingram, Lucie Anne Love, Margaret Morgan, Elizabeth McCauley, Mary B. Nelson, Catherine Ritter, Frances Rothwell Grace Rowell, Sarah Rowell, Edith Seabonne, Mildred Short., Hannah imth, Laura Smith, Frances Stephenson, Irwin taples, Alice Strock Helen Ward, Dorothy Weems, Lorraine Wesson, Lucy Lee Williams and Dorothy Wood. The appretices are: Alice Abernathy, Virginia Brisentine, Elsie Brown, Elizabeth Burger, Ella Carroll, May Carter, Eunice Chernault, Annie May Davis, Carrie De Shazo, Janie Dodson, Virginia Epperly, Mildred Finney, Dorothy Ford, Mary Lou Fritts, Mary Helen Fry, Fay Fuller, Hattie Gilliam, Virginiai Hamilton, Ruth Hunt, Elizabeth Hunter, Sara James, Mary C. Jones, Marguerite Massey, Nan Mears, Grayson Pratt, Elsie May Roberts, Doris Robertson, Alice Rowell, Clara Sizemore, Mary Swift, La Valle Taylor and Evelyn Williams. The masters are: Winston Cobb, Carolyn Cogbill Louise Elliot, Pauline Gibb, Alice Harrison, Sara Hubard, Esther Kutz, Bessie Lynch, Mary Thomas Rawls, and Elizabeth Temple.

Officers have been elected and the organization bids fair to be one of the most active in school. With Miss Helen Draper as sponsor no goal is too high.

CHRISTMAS ADDRESSES OF HOME DEPARTMENT

Mrs. Jas. K. Laing, Box 427, S. T. C., Farmville, Va.

Miss Virginia Potts, 545 Spottswood Ave., Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Bessie C. Jamison, Box 485, Suffolk, Va.

Mrs. Alicia Peery, Fort Pierce, Fla.

Miss Houston Blackwell, 207 Morris St., Durham, N. C.

Miss Willie McKee, Box 42, S. T. C., Farmville, Va.

Miss Frances B. Shelton, Burkeville, Va.

Mrs. Annie F. Shelton, Potomac Park Apt., 21 and C S. N. N. W., Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Nettie Hurt, Salem, Va.

Mrs. Eva Warren, Smithfield, Va.

Miss Mary White Cox, Box 28, S. T. C., Farmville, Va.

Dr. Susan Fields, Box 42, S. T. C., Farmville, Va.

At Boston Tech the various publications have football teams, and play one another for the championship of the school.—The Virginia Tech.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Not all of Farmville's daughters enter the field of teaching. A notable exception is Dr. Ruth Mason of Petersburg, the new president of the Southside Medical Association which comprises the cities of Norfolk, Suffolk, Petersburg and Hopewell, and fifteen counties. It is a real distinction to be the head of such a large body of professional men. Dr. Mason, who in private life is Mrs. Grigg, enrolled in our college in 1908 but left before graduating and later entered in the study of medicine. She is the first women to practice medicine in Petersburg.

The name of Mrs. William Cabell Flornoy of Lexington appears frequently in this column. At the annual U. D. C. convention held in Asheville, N. C., in the fall, she was awarded a prize of $25 in gold for a historical essay. She also had an article entitled "Art in the Early South" accepted by the Atlantic Quarterly Magazine for October. Mrs. Flournoy is a very able speaker as well as writer, and in demand, especially in connection with the work of the Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs. She was on the program at the annual meeting of the clubs of the sixth district, held in Emporia in October. She will address the Woman's Club of Eastern Shore January 2; Halifax Woman's Club in April, and will speak in Portsmouth in March.

Mrs. H. W. Decker (nee Florence Boston) was chairman of arrangements for an informal reception which followed an address by Irving Barr, editor of the Virginia Quarterly Review and professor of history at the University of Virginia, delivered at the opening meeting of the Richmond branch of the American Association of University Women. After finishing the two year course here, Mrs. Decker graduated from Westhampton College and has served as president of the Westhampton alumnae. She has spent several years in China, where her husband was a missionary.

Miss Phyllis Wood of Lynchburg, and Addison Burford Sims, fomerly of Raleigh, N. C., were married in Lynchburg Sunday, November 30.

College Briefs

The last classes for the year 1930 were attended on Monday. They're gone, but not forgotten.

• • •

Seven more shopping days to Christmas.

• • •

Mabel Barksdale and Elizabeth Johnson were chosen for varsity debate team. Our team will debate with Wake Forest and North Carolina State, there, the first week in February.

• • •

Town people enjoyed the carolers on Sunday night by S. T. C. girls.

• • •

The charity Army-Navy football game in which so many of our students were interested ended with a 0-0 score in favor of Army.

CHRISTMAS CHEER

Three years ago the members of a Sunday school class were in search of some family to whom they could spread happiness. They found a family who lived in a small house by the side of the road." The windows were stuffed with paper where the panes had been broken. The house was dirty and unsanitary: there was little food, and there were no toys for the children to play with nor was there a yard for them to play in.

Each member of the class brought something; a little toy, perhaps, an old doll for the little girl, and a basket of substantial food. The children looked with eager eyes at the many toys and the doll was received with open arms, hugs and kisses. They were so happy to have toys all their own that they would not have been happier if the toys had been new. At the sight of food, the children were so eager to eat that they grabbed with both hands and ate in a greedy manner.

There will be many homes this Christmas that will be lacking in happiness unless each of us will do some little act of kindness to those who need it.

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony
aesthetics, etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART
We would like to have your orders
—for—
DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS
Canada Drug Co.
Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

COTILLION CLUB DANCES ARE ALMOST HERE
DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!
We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Three piece suits the kind that sells for $5.95. All colors and sizes $5.59
Newest fall shoes, low, medium and high heels. Prices
$2.98 $3.95 and $5
26 sample sport coats, Princess style Special $9.95
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

JOKES

Appreciation

The student gets the paper,
The school gets the fame
The printer gets the money
And the staff gets the blame.

Frances Ratcliffe: "How do you keep warm at night?"

Virginia Lowe: "Reach for a blanket instead of a sheet."

Mrs.: 'I want to see some gloves for my six-year old daughter."

Duroc Putney: "Yes, madam, white kid?"

Mrs.: "Sir!"

Natural Hint: Another good place for a zipper would be an string beans.

Dr. Steven: "What is a worm?"

Evelyn Jones: "A caterpillar who played strip poker and lost."

Ruth Ford: "I want a quarter's worth of rat poison."

Clerk: " Do you wish to take it with you?"

Ruth: "No, I'll send the rats in after it." '

Mary Arthur Billups: 'One man dies in New York every minute."

Mary Harrison: "Oh, yeah, I'd like to see him."

Lydia Harrell: Why did you wake me out of a sound sleep?"

Sara Lee Scott: "Because the sound was too loud."

Every correspondence school pupil carries a pair of scissors to aid him in cutting classes.

"Jeff" Jefferson: "But your honor, I'm a college boy."

Judge: "That doesn't excuse anyone.'

"My husband has given up carpentering to go on the stage."

"Well, he ought to draw good houses."

Dot Snedegar: "What is a man who saves his money called?"

Lois Cox: "In the old days he was called a miser; now he's a wonder."

"You seem disappointed in your parcel?"

"Yes, I answered an ad how to keep down gas bills and they sent me a paper weight."

He: "Are you fond of moving pictures?"

She: Aye Sandy."

He: "Let me move some from the attic."

The reason so many married men refuse to smoke a pipe. It is a symbol of peace.

Andy: "I had an awful time with Amos last night."

He: "Amos who?"

Andy: "A mosquito."

S. T. C.: "Stop, my lips are for another."

H. S.: "Well, hold still and you'll get another."

Mary Warren: "I feel like a three year old."

Virginia Bledsoe: "Horse or egg?"

"No, I just get out every few miles and jac kit up to give it a rest."

It is a cold-blooded teacher who marks below zero.

A tonic for those who are behind in their studies—ketch-up.

ATHLETICS

WHERE THE FACULTY WILL SPEND XMAS

Miss Mary B. Barlow, Beverly, W. Va.
Miss Virginia Bedford, Columbia, Mo., R. 10.
Mr. Leon E. Bell, Farmville, Va.
Miss Ada R. Bierbower, S. T. C., Farmville, Va.
Miss Pauline Camper, Salem, Va.
Miss Alice Carter, Warrenton, Va.
Miss Myrtle Cash, 704 S. State St., Springfield, Ill.
Miss Carolyn Cogbill, 244 Lawrence St., Petersburg, Va.
Miss Martha Coulling, 14 W. Cary St., Richmond, Va.
Mr. M. B. Coyner, Farmville, Va.
Miss Ottie Craddock, Jetersville, Va.
Miss Susie V. Floyd, Hilton Village, Va.
Mr. R. H. French, Calloa, Va.
Miss Nancy Foster, Newberry, S. C.
Mr. James M. Grainger, Farmville, Va.
Miss E. Myrtle Grenels, Sharp Town, Md.
Miss Mary Frances Hatchett, 815 Shepard St., Petersburg, Va.
Miss Mary B. Haynes, Shelbyville, Tenn.
Miss Mary Clay Hiner, Farmville, Va.
Mr. Samuel B. Holton, 810 Watts St., Durham, N. C.
Miss Olive T. Iler, 495 West End Ave., New York City.
Mrs. Anne M. Jeffers, Farmville, Va.
Dr. G. W. Jeffers, Farmville, Va.
Miss E. Lucile Jennings, Madisonville, Va.
Miss Bessie Gordon Jones, Farmville, Va.
Miss Mary P. Jones, Florence. Ala.
Miss Lila London, Farmville, Va.
Miss Willie London, Farmville. Va.
Mr. T. A. McCorkle, Farmville, Va.
Miss Louise McCormick, 511 Allison Ave., S. W., Roanoke, Va.
Miss Grace E. Mix, 208 2nd Ave., Milford, Conn.
Miss Grace B. Moran, The Ontario, Washington, D. C.
Miss Mary Nichols, 227 St. Andrews Ave., Petersburg, Va.
Miss Georgie Norris, 1812 Green St., Columbia, S. C.
Miss Mary E. Peck, Fincastle, Va.
Miss Ida W. Penney, Lake Junaluska, N. C.
Miss Mary G. Pettit, Roseland, Va.
Miss Mary D. Pierce, Orange, Va.
Miss Lisabeth Purdom, Blackshear, Ga.
Miss Minnie V. Rice, 2917 Hanes Ave., Richmond, Va.
Miss R. Avice Roane, 6 Oakenwold St., Staunton, Va.
Miss M. Louise Robertson, 1307 Clay St., Lynchburg, Va.
Dr. F. B. Simkins, Edgefield, N. C.
Miss Estelle Smithey, Jetersville, Va.
Miss Mabel E. Spratley, Surry, Va.
Miss Georgianna E. Stephenson, Hot prings, Va.
Dr. Edith Stevens, Metz, W. Va.
Miss Annie Laurie Stone, Farmville, Va.
Mr. A. H. Strick, Farmville, Va.
Miss Florence H. Stubbs, Farmville, Va.
Miss Philomena Supper, 5714 N. 4th St., Philadelphia, Pa.
Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro, Orange, Va.
Mrs. Stella B. Taylor, Randolph Ave., Elkins, W. Va.
Miss Sarah B. Tucker, St. Mathews, S. C.
Miss Katherine Tupper, Farmville, Va.
Dr. J. E. Walmsley, Farmville, Va.
Miss Frances L. Waters, Greenwood, Tenn.
Dr. J. P. Wynne, Farmville, Va.

Ruth Peery: 'What tune does the dentist hum?"

Ruth Carney: "The Yanks Are Coming".

DOLLY REED IS TENNIS CHAMPION

Tennis this year has been more a success than ever before. More girls have taken part, and the games have been hard fought and snappy. Many girls in the elimination tournament showed promises of becoming champions later. We feel that Jim Simson, head of tennis is very largerly responsible for this success because she has shown much unusual ability as manager.

The semi-finals resulted in Dolly Reed defeating Enza Evans 6-0, 6-2 and Mildred Maddrey defeating Missie Bernier 6-2, 6-2. In the finals, both Dolly and Mildred exhibited splendid ability throughout the match. It resulted, however, with Dolly winning 6-1, 6-1.

This victory makes Dolly champion four years; she having won the championship her freshman, sophomore, and junior years. We congratulate Dolly on her excellent playing, and we hope she'll continue winning championships after she leaves S. T. C.

We also wish to congratulate all of the participants on their good sportsmanship, and we wish to thank everyone for her cooperation in making tennis a success.

This victory adds another five points to the green and white color cup, Dolly and Mildred both being "Green and white."

DISCUSSION GROUPS MEET AT PRAYER TIME

Continued from page 1

effect of it has already been felt on the campus, for the girls feel a great er responsibility in living up to the written code. The 'bigness" of the points included in the honor code is realized.

The discussion on "Social Organizations on our Campus" was led by Evelyn Stephenson on Thursday night. It was found that social organizations are of value to the school as well as to the girls who develop their different abilities through them. The problem on our campus is to reach more girls—girls who have undiscovered talent.

Adele Hutchinson led the discussion on "Student Counseling" Friday night.

Dr. Jarman, Miss Mary, the Home Department, Advisory Board of the Y. W., Faculty members of the Student Standards Committee, class men and advisors of the various organizations are invalable aids in giving counsel to the students. Through understanding personal contact with them, the students are helped. The presidents of the Student Council and Y. W. should be considered by each girl as ones to whom she may go with her problems.

In religious work the students are helped by the Advisory Board of the Y. W., speakers in chapel and prayers, and by their Sunday school teachers. The upper class students have an opportunity to help the freshmen in the Orientation Classes and through "big sister and class ties."

Although these discussion groups were held in order to give material to the delegates to the Detroit Conference, it is felt that everyone who attended them received some benefit.

FACULTY NEWS

Miss Camper was in Richmond Saturday doing some shopping.

Miss Craddock spent the week-end in Amelia.

The student body will be glad to know that Miss Stubbs is improving.

AGE OF FRESHMEN HAS CHANGED

Tuscon, Arizona—Acording to reports of Dean Riesen of Harvard University, freshmen in some cases are older than those of generations past. About one hundred years ago, the average age was 16 years and three months. Fifty years later, the age advanced to 18 years and 7 months, which is not far from the present day figures. Our only hope and prayer is that the age curve doesn't start back the other way.—The Flat Hat.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Dec. 22 to 27

MON. & TUES.—"Sweethearts On Parade" with Alice White and Lloyd Hughes. Here is a clever comedy drama with plenty of fast action. It sets a fast pace from the opening scenes and culminates in a whirlwind finish. Embarrassing moments when a girl has prepared a tete-a-tete dinner for a millionaire suitor, and in walks the "boy friend". Girls who work in the department store windows should not take a bath in the daytime. Alice White does in "Sweethearts on Parade." Also Charley Chase in "Dollar Dizzy."

WED.—Buck Jones in "Shadow Ranch" a roving cowboy—a girl tormented by "bad men"—a ride to the death, a fight to the finish— with daredevil riding. A good, clean picture for kids and grown ups alike.

"The Indians are Coming," chapter 3—Never before a serial like this. A gigantic Wild West show plus one of the most tense and exciting stories ever written. Depicting the struggles, privations and hardships encountered by the early settlers against the perils of the plains to make a new country. Don't miss a chapter.

Santa Claus matinee today—Every child under 12 years of age will receive a box of candy free from Santa himself. Bring the kiddies.

THURS.—Xmas Day—Bert Lytell in "Last of the Lone Wolf" supported by Patsy Ruth Miller. A thrilling drama of intrigue in regal settings. The story of an indiscreet queen, an irate king, a scheming Prime Minister and a pretty and clever countess. All the glamor of a foreign court, mixed with the dare-devil operations of a master crook—the lone wolf. A brilliant plot, delightful romance and superb acting make this one of the outstanding pictures of the year. Also Silly Symphony, "Midnight in a Toy Shop."

Note—Xmas day matinee—All children under 12 years of age will be admitted for ten (10) cents.

FRI. & SAT.—Jack Holt and Ralph Graves in 'Hell's Island", supported by Dorothy Sebastian and a great cast. The stars of "Flight" in a two-fisted drama of the foreign Legion wherein two American boys experience a series of daring escapades that spell grand entertainment for all. A dramatic story of sobs and smiles, drama and diversion, razzing and romance. See the escape from Hell's Island through the deadly shark infested waters. Action against Arabs; night life in the Arabian oasis. See a care-free friendship transformed into bitter hatred because of a girl. The thrill picture of the year and a great holiday attraction. Also a splendid golf comedy, "Match Play" with Walter Hagen and Leo Diegel, the golf professionals.

Two shows each night—7:30 and 9:15. Daily matinees at 4 p. m.

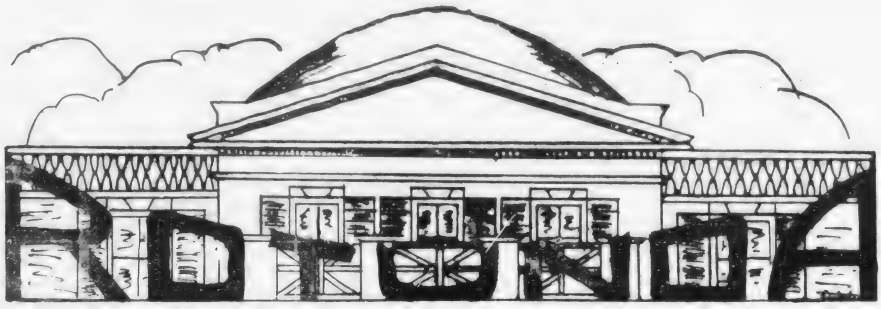
Admission—adults 35c at night and 25c at matinees. Children under 12 years of age, 15c to each show.

Southside DrugStore
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh Films)
Let Us Develop
YOUR FILMS
ONE DAY SERVICE
Complete Line GREETING CARDS
Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking
Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.
MRS. SCHWARTZ
306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN
Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments
GO TO
Lynn's Jewelry Store
MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
Farmville, Virginia



Shannon's
is Headquarters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store
Farmville, Va.
"Drugs and Drinks"
DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO
EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop
WILL FIX YOUR SHOES
WHILE YOU WAIT
BEST WORKMANSHIP
AND LEATHER USED

START THE NEW YEAR RIGHT

SUBSCRIBE TO THE VIRGINIAN

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1931 No. 13

DR. J. L. JARMAN TO REMAIN

National Student Faculty Conference Is Held in Detroit

Rena Robertson and Henrietta Cornwell Represent Farmville S. T. C.

MISS CAMPER FACULTY ADVISOR

The National Student-Faculty Conference opened Saturday, December 27 at the Book-Cadillac Hotel, Detroit, Michigan.

The problem considered at the opening meeting, at which all delegates were present, was "Highr Education, Its Aims and Values." The chief aim and also value was Christian character and how it may be developed throughout present educational system. Two very definite reasons were given for the lack of growth in Christian character through education today. These were: first, the major objectives of higher education are not clearly defined; second, our college organisms are unsteady. This meeting was conducted by Dr. G. A. Coe, head of the religious department at Columbia University Teachers College.

At the end of this meeting delegates were assigned to the various commission groups, excluding the administration group and commission VII, which had for its problem, "The Place of Religion in Higher Education."

The commissions which our delegate found most applicable to existing situation at S. T. C. were: Commission III, "The Social and Organized Life on the Campus"; Commission IV., "Morals in a Day of Relativity", and Commission V., "Social Attitudes and Responsibilities."

Commission III, was divided into five such groups which were: The Value of Activities, Intercollegiate Athletics, Honor Systems, General Problems of the Extra Curriculum and Fraternities and other Social

Continued on last page

NEW SCHOOL FOR SOCIAL RESEARCH COMPLETED IN NEW YORK

Carpenters, plasterers, electricians and harried directors worked fast last week to complete one of the finest modernist buildings in New York, the New School for Social Research, in time for its opening next week. In the board room were nine vibrant mural panels which have already attracted national attention and brought fame to the New School as a building, whatever may be its success as an institution. The artist is Thomas Hart Benton.

The Benton panels are entitled "America Today". They cover nearly every inch of wall in the red-ceilinged, modernistic board room. Between jagged curling strips of moulding, hundreds of figures in jangling color jostled each other: stockbrokers, bootleggers, revivalists, stevedores, politicians, cowboys, burlesque queens —the walls squirm with life. These pictures represent life in the U. S. and every head is a real person drawn from life.—Time.

GIANT X-RAY TUBE WINS $1000 SCIENCE AWARD

Measurement and artificial creation of radium in a 2,000,000-volt G-ray tube, which is more penetrating than any heretofore produced and measured, today received the $1000 award of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

The award went to M. A. Tuve, L. R. Hafstad and C. Dahl of the department of terrestrial magnetism of the Carnegie Institution, Washington, for their paper read recently before the American Physical Society in New York.

These radium rays, or gamma rays, are not combined to a single wave length, but cover a wide band of differing lengths. The gamma rays are the ones used for medical purposes for the treatment of cancer.—New York Times.

PARTY FOR DR. JARMAN, MALE FACULTY, HOSTS

Dr. Jarman was entertained by the men of the faculty at a dinner party at Longwood on Saturday evening January 3, at 6:30 o'clock. Among those present were: Dr. Jarman, Mr. Graham, and all the men of the faculty except Mr. Strick, who was absent because of illness.

Mr. Coyner acted as toastmaster. Mr. Jeffers made the presentation speech when he presented Dr. Jarman with a handsome traveling bag.

The dining room was decorated with ferns and flowers and the tables with rose candles and running cedar. Being a strictly stag party the four-course dinner was served by butlers.

After the dinner, the guest and hosts gathered before an open fire in the front drawing room and enjoyed a very informal evening.

SEVIOR OF FRANCE IN 1914 SUCCUMBS

All the world mourns the death of Marshall Joseph Jacques Joffre who died the day before his seventy-ninth birthday. The funeral will be on Wednesday, January 7. Church and state will unite in ceremony and pageantry to publicly express the nation's grief. The service will be held in the Cathedral of Notre Dame. The ceremony will be brief for Joffre wished it that way. There will be a silent salute, the bugles will sound "Aux Champs"—"To the Field"—and the cortege will pass on.—The Virginian Pilot.

TURKISH CHILDREN WISH TO LEARN ENGLISH

The "Americanization program" of Turkey shows that large numbers of Turkish youths want to learn English and that there is an inadequate supply of teachers.

That more students are taking English than French or German is thought to be due to the fact that English is the "business tongue of the world" and also that the children may want to understand the "talkies" brought from America.

Student Body Meeting Held

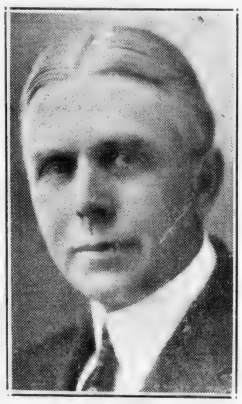
The first student body meeting of 1931 was held Monday, January 5.

Annie Denit, chairman of the Student Standards Committee, reported on a recommendation which is to be made to the faculty. This recommendation concerned students leaving classes when teachers are absent. The suggestion of the Student Standards Committee is as follows: If the course is of such a nature that students can elect a chairman and continue with the work, this shall be done, otherwise, the class shall remain in the classroom fully fifteeen minutes from the time of the ringing of the second bell.

It was decided that the student body should express its appreciation of Dr. Jarman's decision to remain in Farmville by songs in chapel Tuesday.

After a few "reminders" the meeting was adjourned.

Library to be Open Sunday Afternoon



Sunday afternon is a time when no one has anything to do, and everyone seems restless. From two to four, or meditation hour, especially, when the girls have to stay inside, this restlessness has prevailed. The girls have requested that something be done about it, but no one could find a solution to the problem. Finally, a few weeks ago, it was suggested by some one that the library be kept open for two hours on Sunday afternoon. Dr. Jarman gave his consent, and the Monogram Club, a very active and commendable organization in school consented to take charge of this work.

Every Sunday afternoon from now on, the reading room of the library will be open from two to four. The same rules of quietness, consideration for others, and respect for the library will be observed. No books may be taken (or no studying done) from the library during this time. It is merely for recreational purposes. We hope that everyone will cooperate with the Monogram Club girls in making this undertaking a success. Every girl is placed on her honor not to take a magazine from the library or break any of the rules governing the library during the week.

It is hoped that by keeping the library open at this time that our school will be made more attractive and interesting place to live, and it is felt that every student wants to do everything possible to make S. T. C. better. Next Sunday afternoon if you find that you have nothing to do, come to the library and read. If you cannot decide what to read or if you cannot find what you want ask the Monogram Club girl in charge and she will be glad to help you.

The old girls extend a heartiest welcome to the new students and hope they will love Farmville as we do.

DR. J. L. JARMAN

PRESIDENT OF S. T. C.

THE STUDENT BODY WELCOMES DR. JARMAN

The faculty and student body were together for regular chapel exercises Tuesday morning for first time this year. Almost all of the students have returned and work has begun with full force. The fact that makes all of the work pleasant is that Dr. Jarman reconsidered the position offered him as Superintendent of Public Instruction in this state and is still our President.

The student body expressed its deepest feeling in the songs Tuesday: "There Is In Old Virginia" and "Alma Mater"', S. T. C. girls gave definite proof of their love of their college. Judging by the force put into "What's the Matter With Jarman" 'no one could doubt that everyone welcomes Dr. Jarman with all her heart. In responding to the songs Dr. Jarman said "I had rather be here in this spot, at this time than any place in the world"—and everyone knows that he really meant just that.

EXTRA CLASS ROOMS AT OKLAHOMA SCHOOL

Because a heavy enrollment has placed class room at a premium at Oklahoma University, officials are considering making use of the large space underneath the seats in Memorial Stadium as extra class rooms.

It is believed that a wall may be built along the outer side of the big athletic plant, and the 50x250 feet thus enclosed may be divided into smaller rooms. The Center College Cento.

LAKE GENEVA MAN HAS BEST HEADACHE IN 750

Theodore Roberts, 23, of Lake Geneva, Wis., was adjudged possessor of the best headache among 750 entrants today and was duly installed as a laboratory subject of the University of Illinois College of Medicine.

In return for the choicest board and room in its hospital laboratory and $50 per month Roberts promised to produce a first-class migrame headache fortnightly for 3 months.

Reconsiders Appointment Made By Governor

President of Farmville S. T. C. Resigns Position of State Superintendent

DR. S. B. HALL APPOINTED

Farmville considers itself most fortunate in retaining Dr. Jarman as the President at S. T. C., and although the Commonwealth of Virginia was greatly surprised when Dr. Jarman reconsidered his appointment it considers itself most fortunate in keeping him at Farmville while the post vacated by Harris Hart is so admirably being filled by Dr. Sydney S. Hall.

Dr. Jarman, because of a high sense of duty to his state and because of his unselfish heart was persuaded that a greater piece of service could be rendered the State if he held an office in Richmond than the service he is now rendering in Farmville. Fortunately for Farmville and the State, the faculty, alumnae, friends and citizens in Farmville, and the student body didn't feel that the greatest service he could render the state could be given as superintendent of public instruction but as President of the State Teachers College at Farmville. Dr. Jarman in reconsidering the appointment feels that his place is at Farmville. The experience he has had in teacher-training, the zeal he holds for the highest standards in education, the interest in public school work, the inspiration he gives to everyone with whom he comes in contact is indispensable to the State and will be felt wherever he is.

Dr. Jarman has ben actively engaged in educational activties in this State for nearly forty years. He has served the State as the state director of N. E. A., president of the normal school section of the Southern Edu-

Continued on page three

DEAN'S LIST FOR THE WINTER QUARTER 1931 IS ANNOUNCED

The Dean's List for the winter quarter, 1931 has been put out. The following students are on the list:

*Frances Elizabeth Armentrout, Lexington, Va.

Mabel Claiborne Barksdale, Stuart, Va.

*Ella Masenburg Carroll, Portsmouth, Va.

*Mary Ellen Cato, Emporia, Va.

*Carolyn Cogbill, Petersburg, Va.

*Annie M. Davis, Meredithville, Va.

*Mildred Frances DeHart, Woolwine, Va.

Virginia Elizabeth Dutton, Ware Neck, Va.

*Susie Vann Floyd, Hilton Village, Va.

*Margaret Pauline Gibb, Machipongo, Va.

*Beatrice August Goode, Henry, Va.

*Alice St. Ables Harrison, Farmville, Va.

Iska French Hutt, Florence, S. C.

Continued on last page

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

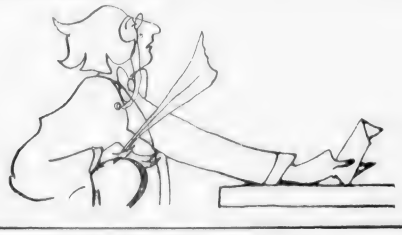
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

To You, Dr. Jarman

There seems so little left to say, but you know our hearts are glad, glad that you are back with us, Dr. Jarman. We always knew how much you meant to us, but somehow thought of losing you seem to have intensified our feeling of security that you are still with us.

Dr. Jarman, regardless of how much others needed you they could not have needed you as we do, for you have been with us, and we would have realized the loss more than others. We are happy, so happy that you are still here, and we shall go on working, cooperating with you and may we never let you regret your decision—no never!

A New Year

I wonder sometimes if I could ever have just one new thought. When I think of something rather unusual and nice, someone always pipes up "Aw—be original won't you, that came out ten years ago," But you know, I believe I can. This is a New Year, the beginning and I'm going to begin all over and—why I've a thought—I'll smile all the time and look interested and people will think I know lots anyway. Perhaps they'll think I have new ideas.

But of all things, I can begin with a new spirit. A spirit of unselfishness, cooperation, and understanding. You know, those traits aren't hard to have. You just begin by developing your character and being nice to people, and seeing a bit of good in everything. Why someone even said the present business depression would improve if people simply took the optimistic point of view and trusted each other. And that's a good thing to do. I think I'll try it and see if I can't get other people to. For "Slow rises worth by poverty depressed" says Pope, but then he says too, "Hope springs eternal in the human heart." And I'm human and full of hope. I wonder how many other people are. We'll find out with the New Year.

EDITORIALS

DR. JARMAN LEAVING S. T. C.

Not only the people of Farmville and this community but thousands throughout the State are grieving over the termination of Dr. Jarman's work as head of the Farmville State Teachers College. For twenty-nine years he has been the president of the college, directing its activties, enlarging its field of usefulness and increasing its influence. He was never a figure-head president, but a real one, breathing into the institution his spirit of idealism until it has become known throughuot the State and the South as a center for the training of young women in the ways of unselfish service. The ideal of the college has become the lengthened shadow of his own spirit.

His influence as head of the college cannot be calculated. For twenty-nine years he has been shaping the lives of thousands of young women, who in turn as teachers in many States have been moulding the character of tens of thousands of children. He thus has exerted an influence that cannot be measured. Fortunately that influence will persist: his resigning the college presidency will not nullify it, but unhappily it will slow down, in the years to come, the accumulating momentum of that influence. And that is the chief cause of our sorrow. The contact of personality on personality, the power of human touch, is the greatest force the individual can wield. It is painful to see it broken.

Governor Pollard in selecting Dr. Jarman to be State Superintendent of Public Instruction has made a wise choice. In fact we concur with the Governor when he says: "After surveying the whole field of possible appointees . . . I consider myself fortunate in having secured the services of Dr. J. L. Jarman . . . Of all the possible appointees I know of no man who can more certainly secure the hearty cooperation of all interested in public education . . . He has been an outstanding leader in all movements for the advancement of education."

We confess that while we extend to the State the hand of congratulation, we supress an inner sigh. Perhaps if we were as unselfish as Dr. Jarman and as devodte to duty as he, we could with a smile bid him Godspeed. But we are human and self-centered and hate to see him go from our midst. The associations of twenty-nine years weave a web of intimate ties which pull mightily on the chords of the heart. They likewise prove the stuff a man is made of. We know him, and therefore it is hard to let him go.

As for Dr. aJrman in his new work, we entertain no thought but that he will succeed. He will measure up to the expectations of the Governor, and the State will reap great benefit from his labors. But he himself, we fear, will many times walk the new paths of service in loneliness of heart. He will miss the cheer of the personal touch; he will feel the pressure of the machine—not a political machine—but the impersonal and soulless organization of statewide activties. Some day he will long for the old scenery—a walk up High Street, or out to the hospital. So here and now we assure him that no matter how for duty may lead him, there will always be one section of the State which can have no higher pleasure than to know that he still calls it "home."

The highest tribute to his character is the love of his neighbors.

—Farmville Herald

MR. HART RESIGNS

Although he is yet comparatively a young man, Harris Hart has performed legendary service in the public school system of Virginia. No official since the time of William H. Ruffner has meant so much to the extremely important business of training the youths of the State for the duties of citizenship. Mr. Hart, who has been a most efficient superintendent of schools in the city of

Continued on page four

FROM HART TO JARMAN

Not one syllable of Governor Pollard's tribute to Harris Hart is exaggerated. For twelve years the returning superintendent of public instruction has kept the peace and progressed. The contrast between his quiet reconciliation of opposing educational groups and the noisy contention that immediately preceded his regime was evidence of his diplomatic powers, but this was scarcely more remarkable than the steady advancement of the school during the three administrations through which he served. Most of the superintendents were exhausted by the strain of two or three terms, or else accumulated so many enemies that retreat was the only alternative to defeat. Mr. Hart, on the other hand, was never more surely entrenched in the support of the school authorities than on the day when he handed in his resignation. Having weathered the storms of new text books adoptions and far-reaching constructional changes in the method of selecting school officials, he had even more esteem and prestige than when he was nominated over his opponent August 7, 1917, by 12,229, a large majority for that time.

For Mr. Hart's successor, Governor Pollard has made an almost ideal choice .If the twenty best-informed, most truly disinterested friends of education in Virginia had been brought together and asked to pick a Virginian as head of the public school system, with the assurance that any one named by them would accept, it is probable that nineteen of the twenty would have urged J. L. Jarman. It is extraordinary good fortune for Virginia that this vacancy in one of the most important offices in the state's public service came at a time when Dr. Jarman, after nearly forty years at Farmville, has carried the school forward to the point where he believes he can be more usefully employed elsewhere.

He will bring to the superintendent's desk the ripest experience in teacher-training that any Virginian has ever acquired, and with it a zeal for education that is religious in its fervor and in its inspiration. Best of all, he has a maturity of calm judgment that the Old Dominion can safely trust.

One of the ablest of Virginia publicists has often been quoted as saying that if he faced a question that had to be answered on the basis of individual judgment, he would rather consult Jarman than any man in Virginia. Courageous, courteous, public-minded in the finest sense of the word, a gentleman in spirit and in background, Joseph Leonard Jarman will come into office with the good will of the teaching profession and with the good wishes of the Virginia people.

Richmond News Leader

FROM JARMAN TO HALL

When announcement was made that Dr. J. L. Jarman would be Virginia's next superintendent of public instruction, the news seemed too good to be true. And so it has proved. Twenty-nine years of service at Farmville State Teachers College had sunk the anchors of attachment so deeply in the soil of the Southside that Jarman could not raise them. Alumnae, students and teachers at Farmville made a combined appeal that even he was not long able to resisit. Having accepted from a sense of public duty, the same feeling compelled him to withdraw his acceptance. It is much to be regretted that Jarman's fine career is not be crowned with a record of great achievement in office of state superintendent, but the reasons for his final decision are understandable.

—Richmond News Leader

CHANGE OF HEART

I loved only blue eyes,
Till I was drowned in the depths
Of your brown ones,
And drifted happily as drowning people do
Helplessly, hopelessly,
In ecstacies of bliss and content.

THE NEW SCHOOL HEAD

The decision of Dr. J. L. Jarman to decline appointment to the office of state superintendent of public instruction and continue with his work as president Farmville State Teachers College will be hailed with pleasure by alumni and students of that institution.

It was largely in response to their pleadings that Dr. Jarman reconsidered acceptance of the higher post to which he had been called and decided to remain where he had been acomplishing and should continue to accomplish great work for the cause of public education in Virginia.

Those not attached by sentimental ties to Farmville school will not be so happy about it. They will be inclined to think that Dr. Jarman could do more for education as state school superintendent than as head of one college. However, Dr. Jarman has decided with all the facts before him and there was nothing for Governor Pollard to do but to accept his best judgment in the matter and look around for one qualified to take his place. His choice fell upon Dr. Sydnew B. Hall of Peabody College in Tennessee. Dr. Hall has been in rural school work in Virginia, has been principal of the high school at Danville and has been head of secondary education in Tennessee schools for two years. While he has not given the service in the cause of education that has been given by Dr. Jarman and is not as well known throughout the State, he has youth, character and ability and those who know his work are pleased with his appointment. Governor Pollard says the state is fortunate to secure him. So, his friends with confidence and others with hopefulness will watch his cause in the newer and wider field to which he has been called.

Virginia may, indeed, consider herself fortunate that there could be found within her borders two men so highly regarded as qualified for the important post of head of her public school system. —Lynchburg News.

HALL AS SUPERINTENDENT

Governor Pollard's appointment of Dr. J. L. Jarman to the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction was regarded generally as final vindication of the short ballot system in Virginia. The president of the Teacher's College in Farmville presented ideal qualifications for the post. It was an honor worthily bestowed, and bestowed without suspecting the recipient to the costliness and the uncertainties of politics.

To the gratification of all friends of public education in Virginia Dr. Jarman accepted the appointment. And now to the keen disappointment of these same citizens he has rescinded his acceptance of the post. Pressure brought upon him to remain in Farmville was too great to resist. Hosts of alumnae whose admiration for the doctor is very real and whose interest in the school they attended is no less genuine, importuned him to keep at the helm of the college of which he has been the guiding spirit for the past twenty-nine years. These importunities, joined in by faculty and board, together with Dr. Jarman's deep-rooted love for work in Prince Edward county, brought him to the point where he is forced to change his decision.

It was well for the State that there was, in the person of Dr. Sydney B. Hall, another man thoroughly equipped by training and by experience to step in the breach caused by the resignation of Harris Hart. Even in college the new appointee specialized in public education; since his graduation he has given all his time to that work. After all, the State may account itself fortunate in retaining Dr. Jarman at one post while the other is being admirably filled.

—Richmond News Leader

STUDENT STANDARDS COMMITTEE ELECTED

At the meeting of the Freshman Class Dec. 16, 1930 "Honey" Hamilton and Sue Yeaman were elected to represent the freshmen on the Student Standards Committee.

SOCIALS

Margaret Faris spent the week-end in Raleigh, N. C.

Jessie Smith was in Richmond on Monday.

"Budsey" Carter spent the week-end in Petersburg.

Vernie Oden attended the dances at Wililamsburg this week-end.

Nancy Harrison was at her home in Petersburg this week-end.

Rena Greaves spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Dorothy Ritchie was in Petersburg this week-end.

Kathryn Rogers was in Richmond this week-end.

Virginia Hamilton was at her home in Petersburg this week-end.

Virginia Sargent spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Virginia Lamb was in Petersburg this week-end.

Gwendolyn Daniels was in Richmond this week-end.

Mary Harrison spent the week-end at her home in Petersburg.

Agnes Lee Grigg was at Amelia this week-end.

Martha Seabury spent the week-end in Petersburg.

Margaret Finch Returns

Margaret Finch, former Y. W. C. A. president, came back Thursday to pay us a visit. She could be with us only one day but everyone enjoyed seeing and talking to her, especially the seniors who remember her work so well. She led prayers Thursday night and gave a most interesting talk on Obermamagau and the Passion Play. At present Margaret is teaching in Greenville, N. C. We hope she will come again soon and stay with us longer.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Christmas bells and wedding bells rang in tune for Farmville alumnae in various parts of Virginia.

In Farmville Miss Vera Elizabeth McNamee of Farmville and Arthur Warner Kinsey of Perth Amboy, N. J., were married on December 27. After a short honeymoon in the south they are at home in Perth Amboy.

A beautiful wedding ceremony took place in Prospect December 28 when Miss Frances Brightwell became the bride of Robert Vaughan of Franklin. Mrs. Vaughan has been teaching in the high schools at Salem, Va.

Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Baptist of Ivy, Albemarle county, announce the marriage December 27 of their daughter, Agnes Morton to Dr. Edwin Crowell Hamblen of the University of Virginia Hospital staff.

The marriage of Miss Mae Joy Buch, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Burch of Carson to the Rev. Charles Phillips Mahood Sheffey, formerly of Lynchburg, was solemnized on Wednesday evening, December 31 in Centenary Methodist church Richmond. Immediately after the wedding, the bride and groom left for New York and January 3 sailed on the S. S. Mauretania for Cherbourg, whence they go to Brussels, where Dr. Sheffey will study at the government school of tropical medicine for three months. After that time, Dr. and Mrs. Sheffey will sail for the Belgian Congo and will land at Matadi. The final 1,000 miles into the interior will take them to Wembo Nyama, where they expect to be stationed, a post at which Dr. Sheffey practiced for several years.

After attending school at Farmville the bride graduated from Grace Hospital, Richmond. The groom received his medical degree from Johns Hopkins University.

A Christmas pageant called "From Birth to Resurrection" was given on Sunday evening, January 4 in St. Stephen's Episcopal church in Culpeper under the direction of the author, Miss Kate Fline Perry. Miss Perry, a gifted writer, specializes in Biblical plays, and several times a year the churches of the town have produced her pageants with great success, local actors and singers from all denominations taking part.

OVER THE TEACUPS

What ho, friends! A happy New Year and a—I hope—a merry Christmas. Pardon me for blustering in so ladies but I come on the special invitation of our hostess here, "Miss Ann". Am I welcome? Thanks! Now for the news—what got what and why? Did Santa bring you horns, switches, or was he kind enough to bring you gold mines? I see Ruth and Ruby both wear new rings and also Elizabeth Drewry. Liz Antrim must have been well visited from the looks of her new coat, hat, etc. By the way, little Walters seems quite the lady in her new finery. Santa was good to poor school teachers—But, have you heard about the little Faris' boy. Julia—all fitted out and everything. Polly White got a boy too and a good-looking one. I hear Mary Brightwell got a whole dresser set. These Santas do come forth in a big way.

But heavens, I'll never eat this fruit cake if I continue to give the news—Someone else take a hand. No, not in the cake! A voice in this one-man conversation.

Can you understand this business of the week-end. Me, Loulie, back on time. Can't stand it, when Ann Gibson comes in on Monday morning. But some people are deceiving.

Girls, girls, another year ahead. What's say? Let's all make A's. Now Ann, don't laugh. I'm really not as dumb as I look. You don't believe it? I'm sorry—I'll ask Santa to bring you glasses, too.

I'm full of fruit cake, so Ann you sing us a song. A merry New Year one and let's all start the New Year right, with a smile—

Here goes—

Dr. Jarman Reconsiders

Continued from page one

cation Association, member of Education Commission of Virginia for four years, member of the Board of Education for eight years; president of Virginia State Teachers Association; president of Virginia Association of College for Girls; vice-president of Association of Virginia Schools and Colleges (for men), president of American Association of Teachers' Colleges, director of Co-operative Education Association for six years; president of Co-Education since 1928; member of executive committee of the Better Homes Organization, president of the Association of Virginia Colleges, member of the general committee for safety of rural churches in Virginia, member of general committee on adult education and president of State Teachers College, Farmville, Va. Besides his association with these organizations and institutions he is looked to for leadership by 2,250 Farmville graduates now teaching in Virginia public schools. He is active as president of the official board of the Methodist Church, member of board of missions of the Virginia Conference, M. E. Church and member of the Ferrum School Board of Trustees. He is also a leader in other local community activities.

The student body, faculty, alumnae and friends of Dr. Jarman think that Dr. Jarman made the right decision in carrying on the work so admirably built up in Farmville and throughout the State by retaining the post at the State Teachers College. Dr. Jarman instills in every student a spirt of cooperation and the highest standards of living, so beautifully expressed in Lincoln's rules of life:

"I am not bound to win, but I am bound to be true; I am not bound to succeed, but I am bound to live up to the light I have. I must stand with anyone who stands right—stand with him while he is right and part from him when he goes wrong."

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

Really it is surprising how Santa seems to have left so many colds and sore throats this year. Why didn't he leave some better excuses—such as being snow-bound?

• • •

Grades went out this week! From the looks of some of them this might be another place where New Year's resolutions come in!

• • •

What? With all the dolls and rompers in this school we could almost believe we are back in our kindergarten days.

• • •

Correct this sentence:—There is no trouble in getting students to come back to school on time, after a holiday.

• • •

In a cigarette, it's taste, but in a class, it's bluff!

• • •

Coming back to school for a few months will at least give us a chance to catch up on that lost sleep and relieve that "fatigued look"! (And still they call them holidays!)

• • •

Did you know that it is twice as expensive to make one cent stamps as it is two cent ones? Did you know that it takes more time both to make them and to lick them? (I heard a lecture on this subject this afternoon. I wonder if it sounds familiar?)

• • •

There's one advantage in students reporting back to school late. It gives us a chance to prove that the ones who weren't here are the ones who make all the noise! Of course!

• • •

Speaking of New Year's resolutions, here's mine—Don't criticize others for doing exactly what you do yourself! (in other words "people in glass houses, etc".) Of course this could not possibly apply here! Oh! No!

ON DOLLS

We wonder is life beginning backwards? We see young children cast aside their dolls for evening gowns and cloaks and college girls turn right around and pick those dollies up. It is funny but it is so. It may be just another modernistic turn but somehow it delights my soul to see dolls once again really loved.

Why Ella has a baby dear
Her name is 'Laura Adele Rena,"
And Martha Ann with "Ann Jeannine"
Why you really should 'ave seen her.
And Ruth Ford with her nigger child
I can't recall its name,
And Doris' baby all soft and sweet,
I love them all the same.
Miss Potts her "Precious" dressed all cute
In yellow like a little girl
While French has her "Corsette" in blue
Like a real French child for all the world.
And Loulie has her "Loulie Jane"
So sweet and cute with "Kid" on chain;
Then there's Alice More's lil' "Jo"
We wonder—will she have a beau?
Katheryne Royster's "Jacquelyne"
Is really quite a manikin
While "Jack" and "Jill", red-headed twins,
Give Gin Lanier the right to grin.
These dolls, little girls and babies, too
They warm our hearts all through and through,
Mrs. Laing has said she'd like to be
Their hostess at a dollies' tea.
Perhaps the dolls will be—well, shy
And let their mamma's have the pie
Anyway to dollies all—
Good luck and love—without one fall.

The Hampden-Sydney PanHellenic dance will be in the recreation hall of S. T. C. on Friday evening, January 9. The "Atlanticans" from the Atlantic University will play. The pennants of the fraternities will serve as decorations.

THE NEW YEAR

A New Year dawns with sun above
Affording new life, new hope, new love.
We hear the footsteps of past year's deeds
Creep back into the ancient weeds
Of things done wrong—
We hear the faint echo of baby feet
That come to grow, new deeds to reap.
They echo louder as they come,
While old footsteps like a hollow drum
Pass on into the shadows.
The past has done its work
The new is yet to be
The future holds yet greater things
That reach into eternity.

L. M., '32

AFTERMATH

"It's over" . . . .
Oh, I know it's over—
Stop tearing at me with
Hands that twist my very
Soul from out my body!
Memories of words spoken—
And vows made—
And caresses—
Your words—your vows—
Your caresses—
Ah, stop—stop!
Why must I keep thinking
When all thought is torture?
Oh, I shall go mad—
Or perhaps I am mad already.
And now, laugh—I must laugh!
And the fool opposite me
Will never know
How he has roused
The very fires of hell
Within my soul
By a mere word
That did recall you.

A LeB. R.

DISILLUSIONMENT

Forever? That is a long, long time!
Fidelity? Ah, what heavy word!
Love? Merely an illusion!
Passion? But a two-edged sword!

MISS STUBBS' CONDITION IS IMPROVING

The condition of Miss Stubbs which has for a time been critical and caused deep concern among her many friends in Farmville is slowly but surely improving. Miss Stubbs has placed her feet upon the road to recovery and students at S. T. C. are stretching out invisible hands of hope and love to help her along. Her splendid vitality is proving its worth as it gradually throws off the ravages of disease. Hope is high that Miss Stubbs may return in the near future to her duties in which she has been greatly missed.

WHERE THE FACULTY SPENT THE HOLIDAYS

Miss Mau. B. Barlow spent the Christmas holidays in Beverley, W. Va.

Miss Virginia Bedford spent the holidays at her home in Columbia, Mo.

Miss Pauline Camper was in Welch, W. Va., with her brother part of the holidays. Later she accompanied the S. T. C. girls to Detroit.

Miss Alice Carter was in Warrenton, Va.

Miss Carolyn Cogbill was at her home in Petersburg, Va.

Miss Martha Coulling spent the holidays in Richmond.

Miss Ottie Craddock also spent the holidays in Richmond.

Miss Susie B. Floyd spent her holidays at Hilton Village, Va.

Mr. R. H. French was at Colloa, Va.

Miss Myrtle Grenels spent the Christmas holidays at Sharp Town, Maryland.

Miss Mary Frances Hatchett was at her home in Petersburg, Va.

Miss Mary B. Haynes spent the holidays in Shelbyville, Tenn.

Miss Mary Clay Hiner was in Farmville part of the time and in Staunton part of the time.

Mr. Samuel B. Holton spent Christmas in Durham, N. C.

Miss Oliver T. Iler spent the holidays in New York City.

Miss Lucille Jennings spent Christmas in Madisonville, Va.

Miss Mary P. Jones was in Flor-

Continued on last page

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART
We would like to have your orders
—for—
DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS
Canada Drug Co.
Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

COTILLION CLUB DANCES ARE ALMOST HERE
DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!
We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Three piece suits the kind that sells for $5.95. All colors and sizes $5.59
Newest fall shoes, low, medium and high heels. Prices
$2.98 $3.95 and $5
26 sample sport coats, Princess style Special $9.95
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Clerk: "May I help you, sir?"
Shoplifter: "No, thank you. I'm getting along quite well."

Wife: "You acted like a fool when you ask me to marry you."
Husband: "I was a fool."

The microscope is used to see the seat of the dog's pants.

Freshman in class: "Shall I leave prosperity out of this sentence?"
Prof.: "Not if you are a good Republican."

Ann Minter: "Why is it that bear is like the sun?"
Kay "Because is rises in the yeast and sets in the vest."

"Is the new postmaster quick to catch on?"
"Yes, he never has to read the postcard twice."

Lady in drug store: 'Do you have anything for gray hair?"
Clerk: "Why, yes madam, the greatest respect."

Pessimist: "It cost twice as much to get a date now as it used to."
Optimist: "Yes, but it's worth it."

"Are you Ethel's roommate?"
"Yes."
"I thought that lipstick taste was familiar."
"But this is Muriel's lipstick."

Even her best friend wouldn't tell her—so she flunked the exam.

Clerk: "And you get an extra pair of pants with that order."
Carter Franklin: "Throw in an extra coat and I'll take it."

Policeman: "Why did you call me? Is that man annoying you?"
Old Maid: "No, he's trying to get away."

Catherine Ritter: "I don't tell everything I hear."
Freshman: "You don't have time."

Margaret Banks: "Are you a white collared man?"
"Dip": "Yes for the first half of the morning."

A young lady who missed her training returned to S. T. C. after two weeks of dancink and frequent visits to the dentist to say nothing of a bad, bad cold.

"Where can I spend the night?"
Very old man: "With the agent I suppose."
S. T. C.: "I'm a lady, sir."
Old man: "So is the agent."

Dr. looking at child's throat in 1920: "Say a-a-ah, my son."
Dr. looking at child's throat 1931: "Say, boop boop adoop, my son."

Customer: "Are you a criminal lawyer?"
Chicago lawyer: "Yeah, who do you want shot?"

Father: "Yes, my son, I'm a self-made man."
Son: "Gee, pop, that's what I admire about you. You take the blame for everything."

Who in school thinks a scholarship is a floating university? Ask the editor.

"Tough luck," said the egg in the monastery. Out of the frying pan into the friar."

There is very little change in men's clothing this year said the proprietor.

STUDENT-FACULTY CONFERENCE IN DETROIT

Continued from page one

Organizations. Each of these groups met twice for discussion of its individual questions. After which the whole Commission met and heard reports from the several groups and members of the Commission were given the opportunity to ask questions or give any suggestions.

The commission on "Morals in a Day of Relativity" approached its study from two poles—one. the small denominational school or college; the other, the large state university. The discussions centered around several large questions: How much help can we find in the teachings of Jesus in the solution of moral problems? How alike are our times and the times of Jesus? Did Jesus respect personalities? Was He concerned with group or social life? What are criteria for evaluating moral standards? Are there any "absolutes" in standards? Or, is each absolute relative to some supreme absolute and thus a means to an end, rather than an end in itself?

Commission V. discussed social attitudes and responsibilities of the faculty and students with regard to extra-curricula activities and their value to higher education.

The commission on the "Place of Religion in Higher Education" which met in the afternoons, gave primary attention to the religious programs being carried on in various colleges. After the general discussion the conference broke up into small groups which considered on consecutive days:the importance of religion in developing character and responsibility, the essential elements of a religious program on the individual campuses and the religious programs now in use with recommendations for changes.

During the conference several inspiring lectures were given by outstanding leaders in Student Movement of America. Among these were: Hon. J. Stitt Wilson of California; Dr. Sherwood Eddy, National Council Y. M. C. A.; Dean Charles Gilkey, Chicago University, and others.

Worship service was held each morning from 9 to 10:45 o'clock. The religious portion of the services was conducted by President Mendenhall of Michigan University. These were followed by forceful thought provoking talks on the modern trend of religion and education by Dr. Meibur.

As a result of these and other discussions of the conference several challenges presented themselves to the student delegates. Some of which are:

What is our responsibility to ourselves, our class, our organizations, our faculty, and our college?

Is the college helping to increase our sense of responsibility or not?

Is our student-faculty relationship in connection with the honor system ideal?

In the minds of the faculty and students is our present educational system, with regards to value, a fifty-fifty proposition in curricula and extra curricula activities?

Are we as students placing a high enough estimate on the growth of Christian character and service?

MR. HART RESIGNS

Continued from page two

Roanoke, assumed office twelve years ago, when Virginia was just at the threshold of the greatest era of progress. In addition to a fine mind and an excellent background of training, he carried to that work the spirit of the times. While Virginia, with respect to public education, even now has not arrived at the point where its well wishers should like to see the State that is no fault of Mr. Hart. With the means at his disposal, he has labored magnificently and effectively. Twelve fruitful years he has spent in the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction to which he may revert in memory with the pride of one who knows that he has given of his best to the service of the commonwealth.

The regret which marks the passing of Mr. Hart to private life is softened in the knowledge that Governor Pollard has chosen as his successor a man who will discharge the duties of the office after the best traditions of the public service, Dr. J. L. Jarman, now president of the State Teachers College at Farmville is an educator of the highest type. He, too, is an legendary figure in the public school system of the tate. The doctor will assume the responsibilities of State Superintendent enjoying the full confidence and esteem of the people of Virginia. In the meantime, grateful ctizens of the State will wish Mr. Hart well in his new venture.—Richmond Times-Dispatch—Dec. 23, 1930.

SOME THINGS TO KEEP IN MIND AT LIBRARY

As there are so many misunderstandings and so many questions raised concerning the technique and the use of the library, we think it a good plan to enumerate in the pages of the Rotunda, which is accessible to every user of the State Teachers College Library, the following rules and

Timely Hints in the Use of Library

I. Etiquette

1. Walk quietly, on tiptoe if wearing no rubber heels, Study quietly. When speaking to others, use a whisper audible only to the one to whom you are speaking. Do not distract attention by giggling or gum chewing. Remember that this is annoying to some students who wish to study. Speak to others only when it is necessary. Tell jokes and other tales outside the library. If you find it necessary to tell someone something that can be heard by others, motion her to follow you to the hall and there gossip to your heart's content.

Continued next week

WHERE THE FACULTY SPENT THE HOLIDAYS

Continued from page three

ence, Ala., part of the holidays and in Florida part of the time.

Miss Louise McCormick was at her home in Farmville.

Miss Grace E. Mix spent her holidays in Milford, Conn. While there she visited in New York City.

Miss Grace Moran was a guest at The Tilden in Washington, D. C.

Miss Mary Nichols spent Christmas in Petersburg, Va.

Miss Georgie Norris spent the holidays in Columbia, S. C .

Miss Mary E. Peck was at Fincastle, Va.

Miss Ida W. Penny spent the vacation at Lake Junaluska, N. C.

Miss Mary G. Pettit was at Roseland, Va.

Miss Mary D. Pierce was at Orange, Va.

Miss Lizabeth Purdom spent the Christmas vacation at Blackshear, Ga.

Miss Minnie V. Rice was another member of the faculty who spent the holidays in Richmond, Va.

Miss Avice Roane was in Staunton, Va.

Miss Louise Robertson spent the holidays with her family in Lynchburg, Va.

Dr. F. B. Simkins spent Christmas in Edgefield, N. C.

Miss Estelle Smithey spent Christmas in Jetersville.

Miss Mable E. Spratley was at Surrey, Va.

Dr. Edith Stevens spent Christmas at Metz, W. Va.

Miss Philomena Supper was in Philadelphia, Pa.

Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro, spent the holidays in Orange, Va.

Mrs. Stella B. Taylor spent Christmas in Elkins, W. Va.

Miss Sarah B. Tucker was in St. Mathews, S. C.

The following members of the faculty spent Christmas vacation in Farmville: Mr. Leon E. Bell, Miss Ada R. Bierbower, Miss Myrtle Cash, Mr. M. B. Coyner, Miss Nancy Foster, Mr. J. M. Grainger, Mrs. Anne M. Jeffers, Dr. G. W. Jeffers, Miss Bessie Gordon Jones, Miss Lila London, Miss Willie London, Mr. T. A. McCorkle, Miss Florence H. Stubbs, Miss Katherine Tupper, Dr. J. E. Walmsley, Miss Frances L. Waters, Dr. J. P. Wynne.

THE DEAN'S LIST

Continued from page one

Catherine Ellen McAllister, Covington, Va.

Clara Long McAllister, Covington, Va.

*Janet Mildred Maddrey, Norfolk Va.

*Gladys Lee Meador, Norton, Va.

*Annie Louise Moore, Dillwyn, Va.

*Florence Juanita Moore, Deltaville, Va.

*Virginia McFarland Neblett, Victoria, Va.

*Elsie Mae Roberts, Madisonville, Va.

Virginia Neilson Robertson, Portsmouth, Va.

Elizabeth Corinne Sawyer, Virginia Beach, Va.

*Elizabeth Mae Taylor, Portsmouth, Va.

*Jennie Elizabeth Temple, Roanoke, Va.

Mary Katherine Thweatt, Petersburg, Va.

Evelyn Wells West, Lynchburg, Va.

*On Dean's List, fall quarter, 1930.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Jan. 12 to 17

"The Best Sound in Southside Va."

MON. & TUES.—"Monte Carlo" with Jeannette MacDonald and Jack Buchanan. A mischievous and intriguing romance of lovely ladies, bold barons and seductive boudoirs. Monte Carlo—where anything can happen and usually does. Where your money is safer than your heart. Where ladies sit in the laps of luxury and millionaires. Share the love adventures of a gay, young millionaire on the loose. Here's the greatest hot-for-gle potpourri of pleasure the screen has seen for many a moon. Fascinating, romantic, joyful and risque. It's your treat—don't miss it. Also comedy, "Radio Kisses."

ta Fe Trail" supported by Mitzi Green

WED.—Richard Arlen in 'The Sanand a great cast. Here we have a new kind of mysttery whose secret unfolws in the great out-doors of the west. Richard Arlen plays the role of the young westerner who is goaded on by the eyes of beautiful Rosita Moreno. It is packed full of action, romance and adventure, and will be thoroughly enjoyed by both old and young. Also Our Gang comedy.

"The Indians Are Coming", Chapter 6. There's something doing every minute and that something is exciting. A continued drama to reach the heart of every man, woman and child who admires the courage and daring of the trial blazers.

THURS. & FRI.—"War Nurse" with Robert Montgomery, June Walker, Anita Page, Zazu Pitts and one of the greatest casts ever written. Most of the story of the war was written in gunpowder and steel. Here is the story of another part of it—the women behind the lines, who saw their old conventions away in a roar of big guns, to go crashing at last into the realities of a war-mad world, snatching its pleasures and romance heedless of the morrow. Heroinnes! They gave their lives! They gave their love. What woman could say no to heroes on the brink of hell! They only ask for love—these boys who are about to die. Told at last—the story of women in the war. Truthful, bitter, absorbing—it's a picture you'll never forget. Nothing like ever before. Also Laurel & Hardy comedy.

SAT.—Warner Baxter and Myrna Loy in "Renegades." He knew those danger signals, tempting to disaster; but he was a reckless soldier of fortune, playing for high stakes in the game of love. For one kiss from those lying lips, men turned traitor. In her smiles—betrayal. In her arms, bitter fruit of disgrace and ruin. No surrender, was his code as a soldier, but against the wiles of woman he was defenseless. Too late he realized the cost, but noe too late to even the score of love betrayed. A powerful drama you'll long remerber. Also Fox News and Flip the Frog Cartoon.

Free Mysto Mamic Tricks to every boys and girl attending Saturday matinee.

Southside DrugStore
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh Films)
Let Us Develop
YOUR FILMS
ONE DAY SERVICE
Complete Line GREETING CARDS
Just One Block from Campus

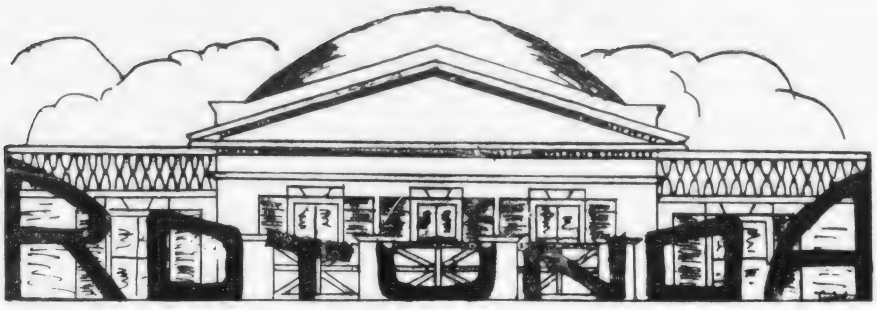
Dressmaking
Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.
MRS. SCHWARTZ
306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN
Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments
GO TO
Lynn's Jewelry Store
MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's
is Headquarters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store
Farmville, Va.
"Drugs and Drinks"
DOWNTOWN SECTION



G. F. Butcher & Co.
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO
EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop
WILL FIX YOUR SHOES
WHILE YOU WAIT
BEST WORKMANSHIP
AND LEATHER USED

GIRLS,

PAY YOUR

CLASS DUES!

FRESHMEN,

TRY OUT FOR

ROTUNDA!

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 14, 1931 No. 14

Dr. Churchill Gibson Begins Series Of Talks at State Teachers College

Personal Conception of God As Revealed in Christ Is Subject at Prayer

RECEPTION GIVEN LATER

Last night at prayers Dr. Churchhill Gibson, of Richmond, formerly of the Little Chapel at Lexington, began a series of religious talks which will be made at S. T. C. Dr. Gibson talked about the personal conception of God as revealed in Christ, who is the only real picture of God.

Peter gives a photograph of Christ. When Chirst asks, "Whom do men say that I am?" Peter answers, "Some say thou are John the Baptist; some Elijah; and others Jeremiah, or one of the prophets."

Just as today when a person says someone is a "Valentino" he means that he belongns to a definite type; so in those days the people called Christ, John the Baptist, Elijah, or Jeremiah; by this putting him in a definite class of men. Vigorous, virile men who were leaders that stood out.

This conception of Christ differs from most of the pictures of Him, but

Continued on last page

MISS ROSS WILL GIVE SCOUTING COURSE HERE

A course in scout leadership will be given starting Tuesday, January 26, and lasting through Saturday, February 14. This class will meet on Tuesday and Thursday from 8:30 till 10 o'clock, ando n Saturday afternoon from 3 until five o'clock.

Miss Ross who is to be instructor in the scouting course, and her assistant, Miss Born, are being sent here by the "Leadership Training Staff' of the Girl Scout National Headquarters. They will room in the Student Building and be guests of our college while here.

Any girls wishing to take this course may do so by paying a fee of two dollars to the Business Office. It has been requested that all fees be paid immediately, and further announcements concerning the course will be posted on the bulletin board.

HAS GREAT LOVE FOR TEACHING

I do not know that I could make entirely clear to an outsider the pleasure I have in teaching. I had rather earn my living by teaching than in any other way. In my mind teaching is not merely a lifework, a profession, an occupation, a struggle: it is a passion. I love to teach, I love to teach as a painter loves to paint, as a singer loves to sing, as a strong man rejoices to run a race. Teaching is an art—an art so great, so difficult to master, that a man or a woman can spend a long life at it, without realizing much more than his limitations and mistakes and his distance from the ideal. There never has been in the world's history a period when it was more worthwhile to be a teacher than in the twentieth century; for there was never an age when vast multitudes were eager for an education or when the necessity of a liberal education was so generally recognized. It would seem as though the whole world were trying to lift itself to a higher plane of thought.—William Lyon Phelps.

JAPANESE IDEA TO WARM THE CLIMATE IS OFFERED SOVIETS

A scheme which would make the Northern Japanese Island of Hokkaido and the eastern coast of Russian Siberia semi-tropical, both now have extremely cold climates, has been submitted to the Soviet government by one of the most prominent leaders in Japan.

The scheme is that a dam be constructed at the narrowest point between Saghalien, of which the Japanese own the southern half, and the continent would turn the cold arctic current eastward. At the narrowest point the width of the strait is about four miles and the depth only twenty metres.

The suggestion of Japan is that

Continued on last page

Program is Given on Various Phases of Mathematics

The Mathematics Club recently named the "Pi" Club, held its regular meeting Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Student Building auditorium. This meeting was devoted almost entirely to the program; a very brief business session folowed the program.

A row of seven cathedral candles across the front of the stage against a background of gray made a very attractive setting.

Dr. David Eugene Smith when retiring as Professor of Mathematics in the Teachers College of Columbia University describes his part in the progress of the mathematics movement as that of a long-robed priest in some cathedral who simply lights seven small candles. Mary Thomas Rawls read the part of his speech in which he briefly explains these seven candles; as she read each part she lighted the candles on the stage.

Following her, various members discoursed upon these same seven phases. In a dialogue Martha Gunter and Lois Cox portrayed the usefulness of mathematics. Math is beautiful as well as useful as Elizabeth McCauley explained. Through an interesting story entitled "The Pursuit of Zero" Mildred Shelton showed the imagination of math. Math is beauful; so is poetry; therefore math and poetry are correlated says Alice Harrison.

Anything is more interesting if there is a tiny bit of mystery attached to it. Laura Smith explained the mysteries of math in her magic squares and amicable numbers.

The universe is divided into quite minute parts—and all this is done by the use of mathematics as Martha Faris showed. Last, but not least mathematics is closely related to religion. Rena Robertson pointed out how mathematics can make a religious man see grandeur of religion more clearly.

Student Standards Committee Gives Recommendations

Definite Length of Time Class Should Wait for Instructor Is Set

At a call meeting of the Student Standards Committee on Thursday, January 8, a report was made by Miss Mix, faculty chairman, with regard to the recommendation submitted at the request of the faculty by the student body as to the length of time a class should wait for an instructor after the ringing of the class bell. The committee, acting for the student body, recommended fifteen minutes as the maximum length of time for a class to wait, provided the work of the class was of a nature such that it could NOT be conducted by some member of the class.

The faculty at its meeting on Tuesday, after considering the student body's recommendation, decided that the time limit shoudl be reduced from fifteen minutes to ten minutes after the ringing of the last bell, provided the work of the class could NOT be carried on.

In view of the faculty recommendation, the student recommendation was revised in its favor, and a record of the recommendation made.

CUNNINGHAM LITERARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Cunningham Literary Society held its regular monthly session Monday night in Room O. The meeting was held merely for business since the election of officers was supposed to be held at that time. It was agreed to raise the dues in order to meet the current expenses of the club. Various plans were discussed for making money. Since so few of the members were present the election of new officers was postponed until the next meeting, at which time a nominating committee will make its report.

CHORAL CLUB TO GIVE ANNUAL CONCERT

The Choral Club of S. T. C. will present its annual concert on Monday evening, February 23. In this concert the Choral Club will have the cooperation of the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club and Maj. Charles Trowbridge Tittman, internationally known bass-baritone.

Students welcome back Mr. Strick, who was confined to his home on account of sickness for several days after the holidays. He was greatly missed during his absence, and we are glad to have him with us again.

TRY-OUTS FOR THE FRESHMEN

Those Freshmen who wish to try out for the Rotunda staff, are requested to write an article showing what phase of work on the staff they are most interested in. Put these articles in Jessie Smith's senior mail box.

It is hoped that the following types of articles will be represented: feature stories, editorials, front page articles, and sport articles.

Story From "Fairie Queen" is Selected as Theme of May Day

SOPHOMORE CLASS MAN

MISS OLIVE T. ILER

SOPHOMORES PRESENT MISS OLIVE T. ILER AS CLASS MAN

All the originality and spirit of the Sophomores, that peppy green and white class, combined into making Saturday a notable day in history when they presented their class man, Miss Oliver T. Iler, at the chapel hour.

The class led and inspired by its capable president, Anne Johnson, made its presentation one of unprecedented attractiveness with a clever array of class colors and mottoes and an orchestra appropriately called "The Ileronions".

The president, Anne Johnson escorted Miss Iler to the platform accompanied by Margaret Priest, Dot Ritchie and Mary Thomas Rawls, the other three major sophomore class officers, and followed by the class. With the following words the president introduced the class man to the audience .

"Because of a shipload of women which came to them in 1619 the Virginia colonists called that year a red-letter year, and because of one woman the Sophomore class calls this their green and white letter day. What those same women meant to

Continued on page three

Mary Ellen Cato Is Chairman And Ella Carroll is Business Manager

FACULTY COMMITTEE WORKING

Mary Ellen Cato has been chosen chairman of the May Day Festival which has as its theme a story from the "Fairie Queen" by Spenser. Mary Ellen wrote the theme which was selected by the May Day Committee composed of Misses Robertson, Wheeler, and Barlow. This theme was selected as the best from the several submitted.

Mary Ellen will take charge of the research work and the final organization of the program. Ella was elected by the Student Council and her duties are of an executive nature in that she attends to the workings of the committees.

The committeees will be chosen in the near future. These will be headed under dances, music, properties and costumes.

The theme is taken from one of the stories in Spenser's "Fairie Queen" which was written in 1596 during the reign of Queen Elizabeth. The May Queen will be Gloriana, Queen of the Fairies.

The story is of a fantastic, spectacular and beautiful nature. It will be different from any May Day program ever presented at S. T. C.

The festival will be given in the new amphitheatre at Longwood. It has been said that this theatre will be one of the most beautiful spots in

Continued on page three

OPEN CABINET MEETING IS HELD SATURDAY

An open cabinet meeting was held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock with many girls and faculty members present. Elizabeth Temple led devotionals.

After Henrietta Cornwell read the minutes. She called upon the chairman of each committee to make her report. These reports allow the students to get a better idea of how the work of the Y. W. is being carried on. After each girl made her report an open discussion was held in an attempt to find out in what ways her work could be improved.

Probably the most interesting part of the meeting was that part in which Henrietta Cornwell, Rena Robertson and Miss Camper gave reports on the Detroit Conference.

Lyceum Number of Duo Piano Music Given on Friday Night

The Lyceum number given Friday night, January 9 was a great success It was a short but varied program of duo-piano music given by Jessie Peters and Ralph Zirkle.

A comment from "The Dispatch", Columbus is as follows:

The recital given by Jessie Peters and Ralph Zirkle, due pianists, Tuesday evening was a musical treat unique and rare in our experience. These artists presented a program that approached perfection for both sound technique and intense artistry.

The program given Friday night was:

Sicilienne ..... Bach

Sonata D Major ..... Mozart
Allegro con spirito
Andante
Allegro Molto

Divertissements sur des Chansons Russes ..... Rabaud
Maestoso Allegro non troppo
Adagio
Allegro Prestissimo

Old Time Peasant Dance .....
..... Mrs. H. H. Beach

2 Spanish Folf Dances arr. M. Howe
(a) Habanera de Cinna
(b) Spanish Folk Dance

Danse Macabre ..... Saint-Saens

Blue Danube Waltzes .....
..... Strauss Schultz Evler-Chasis

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

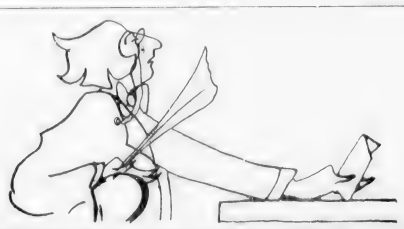
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Keeping Up To Standard

There seems to be a rather ambitious type of student here in school. They work hard in lower offices, but when they have reached higher ones, they slacken up and just let "things ride." Of course this situation makes us think that probably a person is only working for personal honor and does not have the good of the school at heart. This can't be true, but let's not give people that impression.

Sometimes it seems just about impossible to go higher, but we can at least keep up to the standard we had reached when the student body or even a smaller group voted for us. We must not disappoint the people who put us in office.

Instead of letting things just ride, why can't we push onward? If we are pushing onward, that pressure will keep things from going backward, even if the progression isn't what we hope for.

Officer, we can, at least, hold up what others staked on us. We can't be slackers and let them be disappointed. We can be true to the light we had created when we were put in office. So we must remember when we fail to do what is expected of us—we not only hurt ourselves, but we are being unfaithful to our organization, our classmates, and our faculty. Give the best you've got, and that will be helping to keep up to standard.

Unselfishness

One hundred and twenty-four years ago on the nineteenth of January was born one of the greatest of all men, Robert E. Lee. He was the general of a defeated side and yet, he is still highly lauded. One reason for this could be answered in two words . . . . total unselfishness. He fought for others; gave to others; bore burns for others; and worked for others.

We can never expect to reach the zenith of Lee's fame, but we all can lend a helping hand. Just a little encouragement can do wonders for someone who needs it. A cheerful smile can help to paint the horizontal rosy for someone who has a bad case of the blues. We can easily afford not to be stingy with our smiles When we are burdened with too much work, an aiding hand is a blessing.

OVER THE TEACUPS

A blue day—a rainy day—I feel like shrieking out "I can't stand it", but I'd be telling a "little white lie", because I can. You know I love devil's food cake and tea, especially when there are some salted almonds nearby. But then—who doesn't?

How 'bout Virginia Ford arriving home with five girls the other day—Saturday I believe. A little bird told me her mother was, oh, so glad to see them.

You know, Ann, somebody said, some alumnae, would come to see us one week-end if we'd entertain them. I told them we'd take 'em to Shannon's and they said they'd as soon stay at home. Isn't that funny? Why everybody here seems to think going to Shannon's is great sport, they all do it. I wonder really, what is the attraction—Hampden-Sydney is just food—or perhaps its just one of those "ole time customs." Yeah, I guess that's it. A habit.

I wonder if Billy Shannon is very tired of watchingg strikers by now. Poor Billy! They say Danville boys have given up—no hope for them. Women always did fall for uniforms. Let's go to Danville Ann, I'm tired of the placidity of life—the same classes, the same meals, the same faces, the same place to go—Shannon's, day after day. I wonder what Ruth Hunt does for amusement. She never seems out of humor—like I get. She's so cute anyway. This is a queer world. Here we fuss and fume about being in school and people out of school fuss to be in. I heard somebody doing that very thing just the other day. Believe it or not! It's true.

And now, Annie, we must forget the gossip and the many things that will out and study. That might be a good form of recreation for a change at least.

Luck to you, ole dear, for:
"Life's a jest, and all things show it;
I thought so once, and now I know it."

CRAZIER FRESHMEN

"Everybody is crazy, but some folks are crazier than others," philosophized Hop Sing. How could such a rule apply to the timid and retiring freshmen? Whose horse laugh was that? Do I hear an exception to my question? Why yes, of course there is "Honey". Pardon me for the side remarks, but that name sticks to her like honey sticks to my wind-pipe—only the joke is on me because my honey is in the wrong place.

And (never begin a sentence with and) that reminds me of her roommate with the story book titian hair. Is she crazier—is she? Don't argue, girls, we'll drop the subject

Oh yes, there is Alice Marshall. But I wouldn't speak of her in the comparative when the superlative is the degree for her.

How about the "banana-nut sandwich" girl. Sometime when she comes "banana-nut sandwiching" down my hall I am going to throw my biggest shoe—no that's too big to throw—my next biggest shoe out the door. It's going to miss her, though.

Speaking of crazier people than others, where does Anne McGann come in? Fannie Mae Colonna is crazier than most folks, but it's not her fault—it's Bill's.

Martha Kello, you suggest? No, not crazy, but craziest. I promised not to mention Sarah Saunders. Then there is Dot Leonard, the inspiration of that familiar old song, "Crazier than Crazy."

I don't wont a bloody nose nor a black-eye so I will discreetly reserve the names of Sarah Ford and Mary B. Nelson.

What is that? You pronounce these freshmen "not guilty"? I will confess then, so help me Allah. Hop was thinking of me.

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

There may be splinters in the ladder of success, but you'll never feel them unless you are sliding down.

• • •

Billy Powell is a man who thinks his girl is superior to all other girls just because he happens to be in love with her.

• • •

The old fashioned girl had rather be in love than happy; the modern girl rather be happy than in love.

• • •

A New Jersey doctor says there are fewer girl sopranos since women began smoking. That's the greatest argument we've heard in favor of women smoking.

• • •

Our idea of a diplomat is a prof. who having determined to flunk his entire class tells them that no favortism will be shown in the final marking.

• • •

This is just about the time of the year that freshmen discover the "rushing"' theme song. You know, "Those Little White Lies."

• • •

Missie Bernier is only a football coach's daughter but she hasn't got any kick coming.

• • •

Dollie looks in a man's eyes for love; Cov. looks to see if the coast is clear.

• • •

Jenilee Knight may walk around in a fog, but she seems to know the right way.

• • •

A sure way to count the horsepower of a car is to life the hood and count the "plugs."

• • •

Men have a couple of periods in their lives when they are unable to understand women. One is before they are married and the other is after it's over.

• • •

When Budsey came to school she thought the whole world was her playground. Now she's playing in her own front yard.

• • •

Some of the people are foolish, some of the time, but how does Katherine Royster get by with it all the time?

• • •

Dumbness may not be inherited, but is environment responsible for Martha Walters?

• • •

The biggest little antidote for overwork since the invention of Tom Thumb golf—is Alice Moore.

• • •

Martha Sanders thinks that Martha Sanders is the cutest Martha Sanders that Martha Sanders ever saw in Martha Sanders' whole life. But then life wasn't worth living here before Martha Sanders.

BEAUTY CONTEST

"Beauty is Truth—
Truth is Beauy—
That is all ye know and all ye need to know—"

So speak the poets. And perhaps they are right. But suppose it wasn't beauty that made you vote for him, but just because he was awfully sweet. Is beauty truth then? And besides that, if you weren't especially interested in anyone of them, but just voting to help the Debate Club, the truth was a mighty poor guide when about a dozen girls were urging you, imploring you, bribing you to vote for "him". O! Singers of the lyre and the lute, did you know feminine hearts? Don't you think maybe you should have said:
"Love is blind—
Defects it cannot find
That's all she thinks and all she needs to think"?

But still you might be right for the owner of number 45 evidently believed in you, and knew all she need to know.

TRUTH, BEAUTY, GOODNESS, STRENGTH

Even as you have the the Truth
So must you reveal it to others:
The Truth of Beauty, Goodness, Strength.

Even as you have felt Beauty
So must you help others to feel it:
The Beauty, of Truth, Goodness, Strength.

Even as you have lived Goodness
So must your influence help others be good:
The Goodness of Truth, Beauty, Strength.

Even as you have found Strength
In Truth, Beauty, Goodness
So must you help others be strong.

Even as the body without the soul
Is utterly devoid of God,
So each of these without the other
Can never make a perfect whole."

—Easter Souders

BLUE NIGHT

My throat aches—
Prisoned sobs shake my weary frame
And unshed tears burn my sleepless eyes;
Wild laughter
Comes from somewhere in my being
Piercing unnaturally up my ear
As if from some alien creature.
Some demon of horror.
The laughter dies—
Leaving me spent and weak
With nothing but am empty void.
An eternity of nothingness ahead.
To tired to reason
A drowsiness steels over me
And the sweet bliss of sleep
Blots out the frezied passion
Of deep depression.

L. M., '32

LOST IDEAL

I reached—
The star was bright—its edges pricked,
But I would grasp it as a child—
Stretching up, its gold dust fell
Into my eyes that opened wide
In wonderment!
Fingers caught up rays of light,
Caressed them as they sifted through,
And splashed the scene of dismal night
With daubs of yellow hue.
Then I touched it—felt it turn
To but a dripping, molten mass.
No longer star—a shapeless guide
Which molds a hopeless past—
In casts of destiny.

R. Floyd, '32

NIGHT SONG

A whippoorwill sang his song to me
From a warm downy nest
In a swaying tree.

The glow of the sun had faded away
And the stars shone down
From the Milky Way.

There was a shadow of mystery
In the leaves that were stirred
On the swaying tree.

The moon who'd set sail on lofty sea
From his golden ship smiled
Down on you and me.

But the song has turned to a scream in my ears
The starry eyes of the sky are pouring tears,
And the moon's sail is furled, his smile gone

As the wind driven clouds in triumph sail on!

M. von S., '32

SOCIALS

SOCIALS

Margaretta Brady and Lelia Lovelace were the guests of Mrs. Russell Hughes of Halifax this week-end.

Kathryn Logan spent the week-end at her home in Salem.

Mary Alice Young visited friends at Randolph-Macon College at Lynchburg this week-end.

Loulie Milner spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Virginia Witt was at her home in Lynchburg this week-end.

Elsie Hardy spent the week-end in Hampton.

Louise Woodson was in Petersburg this week-end.

Kathryn Royster spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

PAN-HELLENIC DANCE HELD FRIDAY, JAN 9

The following girls attended the Hampden-Sydney Pan-Hellenic dance with the following boys as their escorts, on Friday night, Jan. 9, 1931:

Polly Brock—John Brookes
Mary Clare Booth—Ed Santrock
Missie Bernier—C. T. Price
Margaret Banks—Edwin Shepherd
Helen Cover—Billy Powell
Alice Covington—Buster Kendig
Ann Davis—Ed Santrock
Nancy DeBerry—O'Ferrell Thompson
Patty Ellison—Winston Black
Rene Greaves—Sam Watkins
Alma Garlick—George Miller
Margaret Hamlet—Lee Williams
Ruth Hunt—Horace Goodman
Mary E. Hill—Micheaux Raine, Jr.
Margaret Hix—Bryant Harper
Nancy Harrison—Fred Cole
Jenilee Knight—Joe Perry
Virginia Lamb—"Al" Potts
Ann Minter—Carter Franklin
Alice Marshall—Charles Hitchens
Gloria Mann—Shirley Mullens
Anne McGann—Bucky Lewis
Virginia Marchant—Bob Kinnard
Louise Munt—John Saunders
Courtney Neale—Fred Garrett
Vernie Oden—Charley Gardner
Frances Parker—Joe Bradford
Frances Rawlings—John Grant
Florence Reed—Sam McClure
Jane Grey Irby—A. R. Wilson
Jane Royall—"Al" Gillespie.
Martha Sanders—Charles Robertson
Nancy St. Clair—Ed Traynham
Jessie Smith—John Hunt
Nancy Shaner—Frank King
Frank Smoot—Bankhead Warren
Virginia Sargeant—Wilder Watts
Mary Shelton—John Hopkins
Katherine Waters—Herbert Trotter
Marietta Wilson—Marshall Wilson
Martha Walters—Edward Bell
Virginia Witt—Mickey Hudgins
Mary Alice Young—Jack Brightwell

'SING" COMMITTEE ASKS FOR SUGGESTIONS

For several days there has been a box at the table in the hall for 'Sing" suggestions. If anyone particularly liked any sing which has been given this year and would like to have it repeated, put a notice in this box. Or, if someone has a new suggestion and knows a person who is quite capable of puttinng a sing over, write it on a slip of paper and put it in the box. The "Sing" committee is quite small, and would appreciate any suggestions and help which various students can give; the committee for religious services is asking for suggestions for prayers and morning watch, too. This is an opportunity to help—don't miss it!

SOPHS PRESENT THEIR ORCHESTRA

The Sophomore class wishes to announce that its orchestra recently organized and presented is to be enlarged by two sophomores playing a bass viol, and flute. It will be glad to play for entertainments at very reasonable rates. See Budsey Carter for engagements with the "Ileronians."

"My brother doesn't drink, smoke, or swear."
"Does he make all his own dresses?"

HEINEN "AIR YACHT" BABY DIRIGIBLE FLIES OVER NORFOLK

The Heinen "air yacht" baby dirigible piloted by Capt. Anton Heinen, which is now being tested by the army air officials at Langley Field, made several flights over Norfolk last week.

The ease with which the craft was maneuvered attracted the attention of a crowd of people. The controls, Captain Heinen explained, work almost exactly as those of an automobile. A turn of the wheel to the left swings the craft in that direction, to the right and to the right she goes, push the stick forward and the ship starts downward, pull back on the stick and she begin to climb.

Captain Heinen and his crew of five men plan to leave this area soon for St. Petersburg and Miami, Fla., where negotiations are under way for the establishment of a plant to manufacture the "air yachts" The ships will sell for approximately $10,000.—The Norfolk Ledges Dispatch.

MEMBERSHIP COMMITTEE OF Y. W. C. A. GAVE PARTY

The Membership Committee of the Y. W. C. A. entertained the new girls in school this quarter in the lounge at 10 o'clock Saturday evening. Others present included Misses Iler and Hatchett, and the Freshman Commission.

Invitations sent to the guests were very indefinite ones—they merely requested that each girl come to the little auditorium at 10 o'clock Saturday evening. After they had gathered in the auditorium, Martha Faris conducted them into the Council Room, where Rena Robertson was seated at the head of the table in her cap and gown. Very solemnly she read the purpose of the Y. W. C. A. and just as solemnly she had the girls sign the Y. W. membership cards. The guests, thinking that this procedure completed the program for the evening, were delightfully surprised when they were next conducted to the lounge where the cabinet girls and others were seated before an open fire.

Anne Johnson had complete charge of the entertainment, and never once did conversation or fun lag. Prizes were given to winners of the different contests. The guests were presented with attractive favors.

When the refreshments — hot chocolate and fried eggs—(made of cake, whipped cream and apricots) were served, the party was voted one of the most original and attractive of the year.

MEMORIAL TO BYRD UNVEILED BY LEGION

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 12.—The accomplishments of Rear Admiral Richard Evelyn Byrd, of Virginia, were hailed by his fellow legionnaires here this afternoon at exercises unveiling a portrait to the explorer in the State Capitol.

Col. B. M. Roszel, of Winchester, past commander of the Virginia department of the American Legion, said that study and preparation were the background of Admiral Byrd's numerous aeronautical and exploration feats.

The portrait, the gift of Massachusetts legionnaires to Virginia, was unveiled by Miss Westwood Byrd, the admiral's niece and the daughter of former Governor Harry Flood Byrd, of Virginia. The former governor, Thomas B. Byrd, another brother of the explorer, and Mrs. Richard E. Byrd, Sr., their mother, attended the exercises. The unveiling was on today's program of the midwinter meeting of post commanders and adjutants, about 150 of whom were in attendance.—Washington Post.

Rick: "What can I do for you?"
Missie: "A toasted cheese sandwich, please."
Rick: "On toast?"
Missie: "No, horseback."

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

New Haven, Conn.—A warning has been issued by Professor Arthur J. Hill, head of the chemistry department of Yale University, to graduate students and research fellows that they must not make beverages out of grain alcohol kept in the university storehouse for experimental and laboratory work.

The warning embodied the assertion that evidence had been submitted by Federal officers to the chemical department that alcohol had been diverted from rightful uses, and declared this was "not only unlawful, but a distinct breach of faith with the university."—Old Gold and Black.

Each of the Texas teachers colleges will receive a student loan fund of $25,000 from the late Will C. Hogg, Houston financier who died recently in Baden-Baden, Germany.—Review-Courier Northwestern.

A course called, "The Art of Making Love" has been installed at Rollins College. Credit for five hours of work a week is given. e wonder just how practical this course is.—The Virginia Tech.

Approximately $10,000,000 is being spent to rebuild the southern branch of the University of California on a new site which will give it in all about 6,400 acres of campus.—The Ring Tum Phi.

Not a single state teachers college is represented on the consultant and advisory committee of the group of educators now making a survey of secondary education under the authority of Congress, so the N. E. A. Journal points out in its October number.—Northwestern.

Students of Montana State college went on a strike for five days because of the new regulation requiring girls to be in their dormitories by 11 o'clock instead of 2:30 as formerly.—The Virginia Tech.

Perhaps the outstanding event of the past month in collegiate circles was the suspension of the leading state-supported colleges in Mississippi from southern and national associations of accredited schools. The move is attributed to the mixing of education and politics by Governor Bilbo. Among the schools affected by the suspension are Ole Miss, Mississippi A. and M., M. S. C. W., and the State Teachers College.
—The Ring Tum Phi.

The Glee Club of Randolph-Macon Woman's College had a room assigned to it for the use of the organization. Chairs, tables and lamps have been given to make it a comfortable and cheery place. Hangers for the choir vestments have been put up and a file for music has been purchased. These improvements, which have been partially completed will greatly facilitate the work of the Glee Club.

The Brackety-Ack

Why Cornell men never date one of their own co-eds has at last become evident. Measurement of brains at the university has definitely demonstrated that the women there are equal mentally to the men—Bethany Collegian.

MAY DAY THEME HAS BEEN CHOSEN

Continued from page one

Virginia, thus it is a suitable setting for such a story.

It is a May Day for the students and given by the students so it is up to S. T. C. to make this the best May Day program ever given.

King George May Preach

King George may preach a sermon once a year by hereditary right. He is a prebendary (minor cleric) of St. David's Cathedral, receives a stipend of five dollars a year and has the right to preach from the pulpit once yearly.—Virginian Pilot.

SOPHOMORES PRESENT MISS OLIVE T. ILER

Continued from page one

our pioneer forefathers in helping them to lay the foundations of a nation and what they contributed toward making our country what it is today is not only very familiar to us all, but would take time at great length to set forth. Likewise, what one woman has meant to our class is engraved in the heart of every sophomore and could not in so short a time be adequately described.

Not only has she helped us to lay the foundations of our class and kept our plane aflight in stormy weather, but within us as individuals she has sent burning lamps of ambition and ideals of loyalty. Her influence will not end when all too soon we leave her, but rather will spur us on in years to come.

She has made us to know that we can do things, and though oft we fail she ever holds aloft a torch of hope.

I—for "Ileronians" the orchestra of our class.
L—for our "love" for her which forever will last.
E—for "enthusiasm" that she in us inspires.
R—for her "respect" which every sophomore desires.

Each letter a symbol, each symbol a Sophomore—spelling for us her name —Miss Iler.

The name was spelled by the four class officers, each wearing the letter she represented.

Then as the class sang its song to Miss Iler, the Seniors, the sister-class of the Sophomores stood with their caps off in tribute.

Following the Sophomore class song, the devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Duvall.

The "Ileronians" attractively dressed in green sweaters and white skirts furnished the music for a entire presentation program and lent a doubly artistic note to the clever sophomore program. The "Ileronians" directed by Budsey Carter, included: Mary Frances Carter, piano; Jane Royal and Hilda Stiff, violins; Dot Goodloe ukele, and Bonnice Scott, mandolin; Dot Snedegar, drums; Dorothy Ford and Louise Ripberger, banjo-uke.

COLLEGE BRIEFS

School didn't start off so very flourishing on the New Year—only half of the girls were here. We were glad to see the other half arrive Sunday.

We are glad to see quite a number of former students are beginning work with us again.

Work has already begun on the May Day program. The theme and committees are announced this week.

Grades have gone out—some New Year resolutions need to be made and lived up to.

At the meeting of the Elementary Teachers Club on Saturday, Gladys Meador was elected vice-president in place of Evelyn West.

From Monday to Thursday of this week are class dues days. Each class is keeping the table one day. In this drive all of the class members who have not done so are urged to pay their dues.

The bell is being rung at 9:20 on Sunday mornings not as a requirement for Sunday school and church attendance as some have remarked, but as a suggestion and request on the part of many girls that something be done to remind them of the time on Sunday morning. Each time the bell rings it has a meaning. For this reason confusion is often caused when some careless thoughtless persons ring the bell for their own reason.

We are glad to see quite a number of former students are beginning work with us again.

The Debate Club held its regular meeting Thursday, January 8. After the business meeting a program was given which consisted of a debate and oration on, Resolved: "That Urban Life Offers More Advantages Than Rural Life."

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART
We would like to have your orders
—for—
DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS
Canada Drug Co.
Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

COTILLION CLUB DANCES ARE ALMOST HERE
DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!
We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

Three piece suits the kind that sells for $5.95. All colors and sizes $5.59
Newest fall shoes, low, medium and high heels. Prices
$2.98 $3.95 and $5
26 sample sport coats, Princess style Special $9.95
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Mr. McCorkle: "What keeps the moon from falling?"

Margaret Barker "It must be the beams."

Nancy Boykin: "What makes you so good natured?"

Virginia Daugherty: "It takes me so long to get mad clean through."

Miss Grenels: "Now, Ruth tell where the University of Wisconsin is."

Ruth Hunt: "Why in Michigan, of course."

First S. T. C.: "Your boy friend hasn't been to see you for two weeks What is the matter? Turned over a new leaf?"

Second S. T. C.: "No, turned over a new car."

Happy Hughes to one of her pupils: "Now, Mary, there's Mr. and Mrs. Jones and little Junior. How many is that?"

Mary: "One and one makes two, and one to carry."

Miss Moran: "Julia, how is macaroni made?"

Julia Martin: "Take a big long hole and wrap it in dough."

A. J.: "When I'm with a boy I'm interested in other things around me."

Smoot: "I'm interested in what's around me."

First S. T. C.: "I'm afraid to give the K. A.s anymore publicity. They will be on my neck."

Second S. T. C.: "Not yours, but around mine. Poor neck."

Miss Cash (to Dell as she was ushering her, Miss Penny and Miss Nichols to their seats): "Put us all together."

Dell: "O. K. We have Cash, Penny, and Nichols, but where do the "cents" come in."

We heard yesterday an S. T. C. girl asked Santa for fur lined mittens to keep her hands warm when she had dates with H. S. boys (Wonder who the girl is?)

Patty Ellison's heart is giving her trouble, so she went to Dr. Field to have it stopped.

Freshman: "Take a glimpse at our schedule, it will knock you cold."

Sophomore: "Take a look at our reports and they will knock you stiff."

Retta Hardy: "What are you looking for?"

Rene Greaves: "A nickel."

Retta: "When did you lose it?"

Rene: "Who said anything about losing one? Im just looking, but I think in vain, for one."

Little Boy: "What is a retainer?"

Big Boy: "A retainer, my son is the money people pay us lawyers before we can do any work."

Little Boy: "I see. It's like this People put gas in the meters put money in them before they gas."

"Hey, don't spit on the floor."

"What's matter? Floor leak?"

He who gets up with the sun can not stay up with the daughter.

Barber: "Do you believe that kissing transmits germs."

Costumer: "No, but if my girl doesn't stop playing with her dog I'm going to get fleas."

"Say, it's past midnight. Do you think you can stay here all night?"

"I'll have to 'phone mother first."

SOME THINGS TO KEEP IN MIND AT THE LIBRARY

(Continued from last week)

Always remember to "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

2. Do not throw paper on the floor or leave it lying on the tables. It does not show refinement to be untidy.

3. Do not leave books or other personal property in the library. If you do you are likely to lose them or cause the librarian extra trouble in handling them.

4. Handle books, magazines, and periodicals with care. Well-bred people always respect public rights by careful use of public property. Do not tear or cut out articles or pictures from magazines or newspapers, but write on a slip of paper the name and date of the paper you want and hand it in to the girl at the desk, and the paper will be saved for you. Handle books carefully and refrain from marking them or defacing them in any other way. Remember that every time you violate these rules you are stealing from the public that which belongs to it.

II. Business.

1. When requesting a book write very plainly or print, (1) the name of the author, (2) the title of the book, and (3) your signature. If you omit any one of these, it is liable to cause delay. If the book is a fourteen-day book and you have not given your name, the girl at the desk has to either ask your name or wait until you have written it, either of which will mean delay. Why not write it in the first place, and avoid any trouble?

When asking for fiction or any other book which you know to be a fourteen-day book, write on a piece of paper such as notebook paper. Otherwise use a reserve slip. Use reserve slips for magazines.

Be sure of the title of the book you want, as well as the author. For instance, if you want Williams' "Principles of Physical Education," don't ask for "Physical Education", or you may get "The Organization and Administration of Physical Education'" instead.

Do not get titles of articles or short stories confused with titles of books. If you want Hawthorne's 'The Maypole of Merry Mount" ask for his "Twice-Told Tales" or tell the girl at the desk that it is a short story. This may sound foolish, but it is unreasonable to expect a girl who works about two hours a day, or even one who works ten, to know where to find every short story in the many volumes in the library. Of course she would know that "The Maypole of Merry Mount" is a short story, but she would not know where to find more unfamiliar stories. The same is true of essays and dramas. It is much easier for the girl to find a short story, play or essay by a certain author that is in a volume of his stories than it is to find an article like Johnson's "The Values of Physical Education" in Playground and Recreation Magazine. If you ask for Johnson's "The Values of Physical Education", the girl will look in vain for a book by that name, whereas if you should ask for "Playground and Recreation", January 1925," you would get what you want without trouble. Always, if you know that a certain story is in a volume or a particular magazine, name the unit in which it is contained and not the article itself. If in doubt, make it known.

If you want information on a certain subject, e. g., the Rhone River, consult the Readers' Guide. If you don't know how to use it, call on the girl at the desk to help you.

Before asking for a magazine or periodical consult the Magazine Card Calendar to see whether it is in the library. Always specify the date of the magazine you want.

2. There seems to be some misunderstanding as to when a book can be taken from the library and when it cannot. (1) A book can be a fourteen-day book only when the date is stamped on it. No book that has not been stamped must leave the library except overnight.

(2) A book that is taken out on a Reserve Slip must not be taken from the library. Reserve books are allowed to go out overnight provided the one who takes them signs her name on

(Continued next week.)

BASKETBALL VARSITY SQUAD CHOSEN FOR 1931

Since two weeks before Christmas basketball has been going fine and more girls have been coming out than usual. This year we have teams and each team has a certain time to play, which gives more girls a chance to play and play for a longer time.

Monday, January 12, the varsity squad was chosen and these girls will be working especialy hard from now on through February. Varsity practices mean more serious thought more speed, and more real work. With Miss Iler as coach and Miss Hatchett assistant, we feel confident that our team this year will be as good as our previous teams, although we lose a number of our good players each year.

The varsity squad is as follows:

Missie Bernier
Elizabeth Burger
Edith Coleman
Lucille Crute
Frances Edwards
Mary Fraser
Mary Gregory
Martha Gunter
Virginia Neblett
Margaret Parker
Cleo Quisenberry
Duvahl Ridgeway
Dot Ritchie
Laura N. Smith
Dot Snedegar
Easter Souders
Ellen Twitty
Sue Yeaman

DR. CHURCHILL GIBSON TALKS AT S. T. C.

Continued from page one

these pictures were painted long after the time of Christ and largely in Monastaries where the painters were trying to preserve the mildness and meek beauty of face rather than the strong character of a leader.

A girl of today would look strange in her grandmather's dress because it is out of style; just so must religion and the conception of Christ be brought up to date to met the individual needs.

Following prayers a reception was given in honor of Dr. Gibson in the Student Building lounge. A number of faculty members and students were present. Adele Hutchinson, Elizabeth Antrim and Ruth Hunt sang several selections. Miss Virginia Potts was the pianist of the evening.

Punch and wafers were served by the Y. W. C. A.

JAPANESE IDEA TO WARM CLIMATE

Continued from page one

the two countries split the cost and obtain benefits that are inestimable. At present Southern Saghalien and Hokkaido are the most sparsely settled Japanese islands, since the Japanese will not live in cold climates. If the cold arctic currents could be turned away it is believed thousands of Japanese could be induced to settle there.—The Norfolk Ledger-Dispatch.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Jan. 19 to 24

"The Best Sound in Southside Va."

MONDAY—Maurice Chevalier in "Playboy of Paris." Picture Chevalier as a singing waiter by day, and a heavy spending man-about-town at night. Imagine him comically involved with three women, and trying desperately to keep them apart. This story deals with a millionaire waiter in Paris whose romantic leanings produce innumerable complications with new ladies of love and new songs to sing. A Chevalier hit. Also Charlie Chase comedy.

TUESDAY—Nancy Carroll and Frederic March in "Laughter." The story of two reckless lovers in search of happiness and "laughter" without thought of the consequences. Nancy Carroll in one of the most powerful roles of her career. The story of a girl who had everything but love—and fights for what she wants against tremendous odds. She chooses the dangerous road to romance because she can't resist this man who knows love, and loves gaily, though all the world stands between them. Also an All-Color Revue.

WED.—George O'Brien, supported by Helen Chandler in "Rough Romance." Beautiful women, bold, bad men, big timber and a story so stirring with action you will sit breathless, thrilled by this daring drama of the strong snowlands. She loved one man and feared the other. A rugged romance and adventure with all outdoors as a setting. O'Brien at his best. Also Our Gang Comedy.

"The Indians Are Coming," chapter 7. A story that will amaze you with its mystery, thrill you with its action. Something doing every minute. Don't miss an episode.

THURS. and FRI.—Joan Crawford in "Paid," supported by Robert Armstrong and a great cast. From the play, "Within the Law." Here is a new Joan Crawford in a role that places her at the top as a dramatic actress. If you liked "Common Clay" you will thrill to this great screen offering because Joan will sweep you off your feet as Mary Turner, sentenced to prison for a crime she did not commit. Embittered by all society, she plots for the downfall of the man who sent her to prison. She lives only for revenge but in the end succumbs to love. Suppose you were framed and sent to prison, and then married the son of the man who sent you there—what would be your revenge? Folks, this picture is simply great. Don't miss it. Also Novelty Comedy.

SATURDAY—"The Passion Flower," with Kay Johnson, Kay Francis and Charles Bickford, Lewis Stone and Zazu Pitts. From the Kathleen Norris success. She was an heiress, he, her chauffeur. She sacrificed everything for love— and it seemed worth the sacrifice. But when the husband meets his "passion flower," forgotten are his love, his vows. A thrilling love drama from the novel sensation. Also Fox News and Boy Friends Comedy, "Love Fever."

FREE Mysto Magic Tricks to every boy and girl attending Saturday matinees.

ONE SHOW each night, at 8 p. m. Daily matinees at 4 p. m.

Admission: Adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees; children under 12 years, 15c to each show.

BASKET BALL RESULTS OF THE SEASON

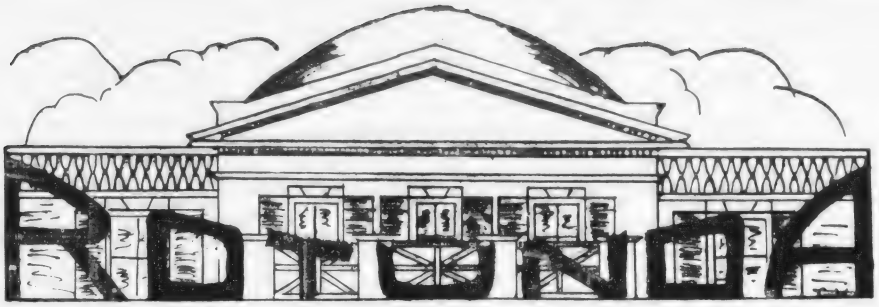
St. John's, Annapolis, 29, V. M. I. 23.
Davidson, 18; North Carolina, 18.
Duke, 43; Wofford, 24.
Colgate, 31; Forddham, 18.
Purdue, 30; Illinois, 15.
Princeton, 26; Columbia, 44.
Harvard, 31; Vermont, 28.
Yale, 30; Cornell, 26.
Dartmouth, 30; Penn, 21.
Ohio State, 29; Wisconsin, 19.
Davidson, 18; North Carolina, 17.
Pittsburgh, 40; N. Y. University, 22.
Michigan, 22; Northwestern, 27.
Penn State, 14; Bethany, W. Va., 41.
Alabama, 22; N. C. State, 15.
Georgia Tech, 27; Atlanta Athletic Club, 40.
Ky. Wesleyan, 26; Western Ky. Teachers, 37.
Georgia, 47; Florida, 29.
Army, 41; Johns Hopkins, 33.
Rutgers, 30; Navy, 36.
Glass High School, 46; Lexington High, 7.
Randolph-Macon, 35; Elon, 32.
Newport News High, 60; Kempsville High, 7.
Jefferson High, 30; Alexandria, 25.

Southside DrugStore
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh Films)
Let Us Develop
YOUR FILMS
ONE DAY SERVICE
Complete Line GREETING CARDS
Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking
Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable.
Work guaranteed.
MRS. SCHWARTZ
306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN
Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry,
Watches, Watch Bracelets and
Musical Instruments
GO TO
Lynn's Jewelry Store
MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
Farmville, Virginia



Shannon's
is Headquarters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store
Farmville, Va.
"Drugs and Drinks"
DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO
EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop
WILL FIX YOUR SHOES
WHILE YOU WAIT
BEST WORKMANSHIP
AND LEATHER USED

WATCH FOR
S. T. C. CHORAL
CLUB CONCERT

SUBSCRIBE TO
THE VIRGINIAN
BEFORE JAN. 25

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 21, 1931 No. 15

Dr. Churchill Gibson Addresses Students At Chapel Exercises

Applies To Life Idea Of "A Name Standing For Something"

OTHER TALKS ARE GIVEN

The usual chapel exercise was varied last week when Dr. Churchhill Gibson, of Richmond, formerly of the Little Chapel at Lexington, gave a series of talks.

Although Dr. Gibson did not give a definite title to his talk on Thursday, it might well be called "The Value of a Name." He first told how a name in the days before and of the time of the prophets was a name for a type, as Adam means "man". John means the "gift of God"; Ichabod, "God-forsaken"; Jacob, "cheat and supplanter." As Dr. Gibson told the literal meanings of these names he explained the significance of them in relation to the person. He then applied to life the idea of "a name standing for something."—A name means something. When a person's name is mentioned, it is as if one were giving a name to his character—for one's name is only a symbol for his character. Therefore, it lies within each one to make his name such that he will be proving that it is his own.

Dr. Gibson said in one of his talks that the Ten Commandments were not first written on stone, but were written on the first human conscience. Therein are different from the written laws. Natural laws cannot be broken, but we can be broken by them.

We are given natural laws for the body and mind. Such as the signs telling us to slow up for a dangerous curve. We do not have to obey these signs, but common sense is shown when we listen to them. So God has marked the road of life for us.

The Ten Commandments were put here for guidance of the people who have intelligence enough to read them, and to realize they were given to us to save us from unnecessary trouble and unhappiness.

El Circulo Espanol Meets Thurs. Eve

El Circulo Espanol held a most delightful meeting Thursday night. The chief business of the meeting lay in the initiation of new members which afforded a great deal of amusement. Then the French and Spanish bazaar to be given February the fourteenth was discussed. A contest to be held within the Spanish classes was talked about and a committee appointed to decide upon the rules. After the business was concluded there was a short program.

Robin's Return
Piano solo ..... Christie Stokes
Lost Tres Osos
Story ..... Sara James
La Viaduta
Song .... Class of Senorita Rayne

Then refreshments, hot chocolate and cakes, were served, thus bringing to an end one of the most interesting and successful meetings of the year.

Primary Council Has New Members

Wednesday night at ten o'clock in the recreation hall, the Primary Council initiated its new members using the impressive ceremony of the chapter. Candidates were presented by the chairman of the Membership Committee, Clara McAllister, and were welcomed by the president.

New members were taken from the fall group of student teachers who showed on intelligent interest in the teaching profession and indicated capability of doing superior work in the educational field. They included the following :

Dorothy Goodloe
Dorothy Ritchie
Elizabeth Morris
Sparks Ross
Kalespso Costen
Gertrude Baxter
Barbara Kester
Helen Tankersley
Margaret Priest
Medora Ford
Frances Martin
Mary Trimyer
Margaret Mitchell
Mary Oliver
Bernice Rives
Anna Macon Ward
Retta Hardy
Emelyn Abernathy
Martha Moore
Virginia Williams
Lorene Cox

HONOR ROLL FOR FALL QUARTER 1930 IS ANNOUNCED

The following girls made three-fourths A's and B's on last quarter's work, the standard necessary to get on the Honor Roll:

Alice Victoria Abernathy
Margaret Beatrice Addleman
Margaret Allred
Elizabeth Baker Antrim
Frances Elizabeth Armentrout
Frances Elizabeth Armistead
Marian C. Asher
Mabel Claiborne Barksdale
Frances Anderson Barrell
Laverna Mallon Bayne
Alice Eloise Beeler
Louise Lillian Brame
Mariam Hasseltine Bray
Virginia Hollemon Brinkley
Virginia Gathright Brisentine
Martha Sara Brothers
Lida Jane Brown
Josie Virginia Bryan
Elizabeth Burger
Elsie Nancy Burgess
Ella Masenburg Carroll
Alice May Carter
Mary Ellen Cato
Annie Louise Clayton
Elizabeth Winston Cobb
Carolyn Cogbill

Continued on page three

LE CERCLE FRANCAISE HOLDS ITS REGULAR MEETING THURSDAY

Le Cercle Francais held its regular meeting Thursday evening, January 15 in the Y. W. C. A. social room. The most important business item was the plans for the annual bazaar sponsored by Le Cercle Francais and El Circulo Espanol to be held February 14. After the business meeting, the members enjoyed playing games and singing "Frere Jacques." The next meeting will be held February 5 at 8o'clock and it is hoped that each member of the circle will make an effort to be present at this time.

FRESHMAN CLASS MAN

MISS HATCHETT

ELEMENTARY TEACHERS CLUB HAS MEETING

E. T. C. met Saturday, January 17. The first part of the time was taken up with business matters, which included the adoption of two amendments to the constitution. Elizabeth Levick was in charge of the program the subject of which was "America and the Schools of Tomorrow.

The following items were included:

"Failures in the New Schools" by Mary Brightwell.

"Schools and Equality" by French Hutt.

'How Can the Radio and Talkies Be Used in the Schools of Tomorrow?" by Mabel Barksdale.

DR. GIBSON SPOKE AT PRAYERS WEDNESDAY

Dr. Gibson spoke on the subject of the "Lord's Prayer" on Wednesday night. He first told how Jesus learned to pray. Jesus hammered out his life's purpose on the anvil of his experience. When he stayed in the wilderness for forty days he had many temptations, and in trying to resist them he learned to pray. Then Jesus never wavered from his decision.

After praying Jesus was always weary, for strength is required to pray with all one's soul. And prayer is not worthwhile unless one puts his entire soul in it.

Since prayer is a line of communication between God and man, man should exercise this communication in order to be the best man he is capable of being.

PAY LARGE PER CENT OF CLASS DUES

As a result of the drive for dues last week from Monday through Thursday, the Sophomore Class has increased the amount in its treasury more than any other class. Twelve per cent of its members paid, while the Freshman Class ranks second in having eight per cent of its members pay. The amount collected is not as much as it might have been, since drives were made in each class before the official due's day.

Freshmen Present Their Class Man

Freshmen—hundreds of 'em! Red and White! Spirit and pep! Hatchets! Ship ahoy! What ho sailors—all bespoke the arrival of a truly freshman day. Colors, red and white, ran high for the class of '34 on Saturday when the class presented its class man, Miss Mary Frances Hatchett, to the student body at chapel time.

To martial strains a group of red and white clad freshmen entered the auditorium forming a large letter H, while the remainder of the class formed a white background. Then four jaunty sailor lads with a gaily red and white decorated ship in tow bearing Captain Hatchett and First Mate Dorothy Leonard, entered and advanced to the platform. Safely anchored there Mates Dorothy Leonard, president of the Freshman Class introduced Miss Hatchett as captain of the jolly freshmen crew in a clever speech which compared the class to a ship bound for the port "Success" under the captainship of Miss Hatchett.

Songs, one to the class man, Miss Hatchett, and the other to the class then followed.

Dr. Diehl conducted the regular devotional exercise of the hour following the presentation.

FRESHMEN ENTERTAINED SATURDAY EVENING AT SING

Saturday night, the rising curtain revealed to an expectant audience one of the peppiest and prettiest Sings of the season. Red and white prevailed and dancing and song was the order of the day. At this time the freshmen presented their orchestra in a most creditable performance. Led by Margaret Eley, this freshman band proved its merit and metal to the Student Body. Tapping feet and clapping hands gave evidence to the splendid rhythm portrayed by the orchestra. The players were assisted by a series of interpretative dances: Mary Shelton and Missie Bernier cleverly enacted a street scene in Paris with an Apache dance, Nancy Harris and Honey Hamilton gave us a realistic Sultana swing, while Anna Frances Traylor tapped to the tune of "Yesser, That's My Baby", a modern American dance. Betsy Wilkerson and Mary Arthur Billups gracefully portrayed a scarf dance while Margaret Banks and Nellie Green revealed the twisting mysteries of the tango.

The Freshman Class is to be congratulated on such an excellent showing; and many happy returns of such a day are wished them.

JULIAN HUXLEY GIVES LECTURE ON "SCIENCE AND HUMAN NATURE"

The biology department of S. T. C. sponsored a trip to the University of Virginia for the majors and minors in biology to hear England's noted biologist Julian Huxley, who is the grandson of the noted Thomas Huxley, son of Leonard Huxley and brother to the noted English writer, Adlus Huxley. He gave a lecture on "Science and Human Nature" in Cabell Hall at 8:00 o'clock in the evening. Cabell Hall was filled to capacity. Thirty-five students from Farmville made the trip with Mr. and Mrs. Jeffers and Miss Stevens.

Dougald Stuart Walker, Artist, Visits S. T. C.

Tells Of His Work And Gives Story "Sally's A. B. C." In Chapel

PRESENTS BOOK TO LIBARY

A critic of the late Father Tabb, in speaking of his delicacy of touch and the beautiful imagery of his verse described it as "timidly sweet—like an elf looking from the moonlit rosebush."

Nothing could more fitly portray the spirit of Dougald Stewart Walker: the spirit of the man himself and spirit of his wonderful pictures.

Mr. Walker visited the college on the evening of January 16 and delighted his audience with, not a lecture, but a friendly talk. After a short introduction, with reference to his work in general, he gave the story of "Sally's A. B. C."; telling of his find, in Ohio, of the belongings of little Sally Jane Tate of Boston who lived between 1790 and 1820 and whose great-granddaughter showed them to him; and from the book that she had made in her childhood, Mr. Walker evolved one of the most beautiful volumes that has ever appeared from the hand of an American artist. He told of the wonderful amount of work and study that went into the making of the book, of eighteen months of practice with an old fashioned quill pen, in order to reproduce in perfection the letters of Sally's book, and the study in Europe of the ancient manuscripts with their beauty of color and design in their illuminations.

After "Sally's A. B. C.," Mr. Walker told of his forthcoming book which will come from the press next summer: "Mr. and Mrs. Spool": they lived in the trash basket with their family of children who bore the names of Books of the Old Testament, and many were the adventures of Genesis Spool and his brothers and sisters; the grandmother Mrs. Bobbin, St. Christopher Terence, the black mammy, Ruth Jane Crutchfield (who was thin when she should have been fat) and the dreadful secret of Mrs. Spool who refused to reveal to Mr. Spool the meaning of

Continued on page three

Subscribe to The Virginian Now

There are only two more weeks in which subscriptions to "The Virginian" will be taken. The contract under which the staff is working requires that the publishers know the desired number of books by February 1. The pictures have been sent in for classes and organizations and all that remains to be done is the literary work and a small part of the art work.

Surely everyone wants an annual; it is representative of your college, and a book of which everyone should be proud. Cooperate with your college and the staff and hand in your subscription either to the girls who are canvassing or those at the table in the hall.

Remember! $1.00 for the first payment and the rest any time before the middle of May!

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

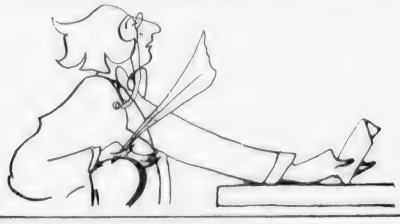
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Ignorance

"Slow rises worth by poverty depressed."
—Samuel Johnson

May we change this just a little and say, "Slow rises worth by ignorance depressed," and then see just what we mean?

It has been said that "ignorance is bliss"—perhaps until you walk into a living room where some conversation on current affairs of the world is being discussed and you needs must stand foolishly behind some protecting skirt and say nothing; or, until you hear your name sounded in a class room that has suddenly become silent, as with the silence of early dawn, and you nervously glance down at your book, swallow once or twice and say—nothing. Ah! Ignorance is anything but bliss at times like this.

True as the above examples are, we find, strange to say, many supposedly intelligent girls right here in our midst, who seem to think ignorance is bliss. We find it hard to understand Their worth we do not doubt, we find expression of that ever so often but how can their worth alone carry them upward if they remain ignorant and proud of that ignorance?

We are such children—only high school girls a few years old. We forget we are women now, women who are putting their worth into a profession—that of training other minds that ignorance may not hold them back. Then, is it logical, that we allow ourselves to remain ignorant? The "blind can't lead the blind"—

May we keep in our hearts then this thought "slow rises worth by poverty (poverty of knowledke) depressed."

Lights—and Cooperation

Since it is a rule to have your lights out by ten-thirty, why not plan your work so that it will be at an end when the light bell rings? There are only a very, very small per cent of people in school who have so much work to do that if time is budgeted correctly that lights will have to be kept on late to finish it.

This rule is frequently broken. This shows poor cooperation. Even in minor incidences we must never forget that Dr. Jarman wishes us to cooperate. Let's have light out on time and cooperate with the Student and House Councils!

OVER THE TEACUPS

You weren't at Sing? Why, you've no idea how much you missed. These freshmen really know how to do things. Their orchestra was precious—what with Eley leading it and then the dancers. I didn't know the school had such talent. Somebody ought to write Mr. Zeigfield as to Nellie Green, Mary Shelton and Missie, Anna Frances, Betsie and Billups, Honey and Nancy,—and dear ole Banks. And how 'bout Saturday morning—Miss Hatchett made a precious pilot for such original frosh. We'll just have to give 'em a hand—'cept they don't even seem to need it. Such independence must be deserved.

Speaking of Mary Shelton reminds me—Have you even seen so many "pairs" of people as permeate this school this year. There's Billups and Eley, Shelton and Bernier, Hamilton and Harrison, Lamb and Harrison, Prescott and Kelley, Wilkinson and Snead, Cover and Waters and so many more and more. It's really ridiculous—you'd think they were twins but after all it's so much easier to place them.

These oysters are good but am I going to have a tummy ache? Not much! Can't you eat them raw, Doris? Aw, baby, shut your eyes and swallow—it'll be down 'fore you know it. That a girl. I knew you could.

Changing the subject—isn't Virginia Lowe the funniest girl you ever saw. I don't see how she got so funny. I could sit and laugh at her forever. And what's more she enjoys herself as much as other people do.

Have you seen Frances Wilson? She looks good—says she doesn't mind teaching so much. Well, if she had a hard time—goodness help me.

Can you feature some of these people in school teaching anyhow? Perhaps children can lead children best, after all—we'll soon find out. But that's enough from me—I always say too much. And if I said all I know—Ann, I like yellow roses and violets, please—

Let's cut the cake—!

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

A. J. Scott should be a good aviator, she's so good at "perfect landings" (or was it a perfect fall?)

• • •

Why are the upper-classmen so dumb? Why, they even thought those hatchets were for Washington's birthday and that the freshmen were trying to be cute!

• • •

"Micky" Brewster says she's going to Europe if she has to sell jets to get there! Bon voyage, "Micky."

• • •

Someone the other day thought a horse was in the hall and it turned out to be Elsie Bolton laughing.

• • •

S. T. C. girls certainly do like to hike out to "Barbecue." They say its a good place to study nature. "Believe it or not."

• • •

The government is having too many meetings to please the student body.

• • •

Which reminds us, the Freshman Representatives seem to be just beginning to realize that they're on the government.

• • •

What is responsible for this "let-down" feeling that seems to pervade around here these days? Is it the weather, the work or just us?

• • •

Speaking of questions, how does Winston Cobb think up so many to ask?

—AND THEY CALL IT JUSTICE

"Oh, Alice, do come here," screamed a small voice across the campus, "I've just heard the worst news, an' I'm scared to death—do hurry, I can't wait to tell you!"

"Well, what's the matter now?" panted Alice as she came swimming across the campus and faced one of the most attractive and popular freshmen at S. T. C.

"Guess what I've just heard? Oh, gosh, I'm literally scared black an' blue . . . Do I look that way, Alice?"

"No, of course not.—Don't be silly—Have you just seen 'Freddie' in Shannon's, an' he told you he loved you, or what? . . . . I wish to goodness you'd come to your senses, an' stop acting like a 'numb-skull'."

Doris clung to Alice's arm and the two walked slowly across the campus to a nearby bench—both so absorbed in conversation that they didn't hear the dinner bell sing forth its call.

"Frances Holt, you know who I'm talking about don't you . . . . that cute senior . . . . you asked me who she was the other day when she made an announcement in chapel."

"Oh, sure."

"Well," continued Doris, "she just told me that this school is run with a Student Council that meets every Tuesday night. Did you know that before?"

"Good heavens!——No!"

"And just think, Alice, suppose we're called up tonight for going night-riding last night with those Hampden-Sydney boys!——we'll be campussed or shipped, an' then we won't be able to go to 'openings' . . . oh, may the gods be merciful unto us."

Both of the girls sat dazed, but it was not for long. Alice recognized someone coming up the street and a broad smile crept over her face as the figure approached.

"Hi there, girls," came the greeting from the tall, pretty blonde.

Doris looked up. It was that girl . . . .that senior . . . the one that she had been warned to keep out of sight of. As she looked at her she wondered, "Now what in the world does she want?"

Their new friend made herself quite agreeable. Doris thought she was loads of fun and couldn't imagine why anyone should tell her to beware of her, as if she might be a red devil.

When she arose to leave, she patted Alice on the back and said, "Come down to my room tonight, girls, about nine-thirty; I want you to meet the Student Council." With that she was gone—running into the Rotunda.

The two girls left seated on the bench gasped and stared at one another with mouths open.

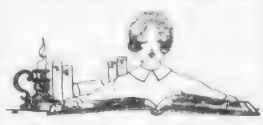
"Well," Doris gave a deep sigh, "We're in for it!"

"No doubt," assured Alice, "We've got to go, too."

At nine-thiry that night the two freshmen knocked meekly on the door of room 18.

"Who's there?" shouted a voice from inside.

"Doris and Alice" replied a weak voice from without.



The door flew open. The attractive yet "hard-boiled" senior, clad in pink silk pajamas faced them.

"Hi there, girls, come on in an' meet the Student Council!"

With that she walked across the room; picked up something from among the doll babies and a menagerie on her bed, and held it up before the two girls . . . It was "stude", a black cat.—A Freshman.

NON-CUTTING GLASS

Flexible glass which does not cut when broken into pieces, may be used for windows of railroad cars and buses in France. French lines are testing this new glass. This glass does not contain any wire reinforcement, and it is unlike any other previously made. Upon being broken the glass crushes into thousands of tiny pieces, similar to gravel, and may be handled without fear of injury from cuts.—The Ledger Dispatch.

LOST ROADS

Winding roads that lead to distant fields,
Winding roads that lead to no known end . . .
Winding roads where whispered secrets fall
Softly as the red-gold leaves descend.

Some day I shall follow a lost and winding road
As the twilight of evening falls upon my soul,
And the last soft rays of light fade from a sunset shky;
Leading me toward Heaven, into the mountains high.

And the leaves shall hold my secret
As I go from this world's abode
And follow on forever
To the end of a long lost road.

L. M., '32

TRANSITION

What matters the beauty and rapture of song
When the soul is in despair—
When the spirits low and lagging
Entrap my laughter in its snare?
When the words of others smote me
With their heavy, mocking sound
And capture my thoughts—once in happiness clad
Now in shackles of trouble bound?
They know not how sad the rhythm
Of fingers touching my heartstrings.
Playing a violent tune, they send
False notes—while mockery sings.
And I in silence listen.
Enduring pain—unsoothed by balm,
'Till the strang falsetto ceases
And my soul will revel in calm—
Will soar again to peaks of joy
To touch the roof of the earth
And breaking through will shatter the star
With laughter born of mirth.

R. F., '32

THE KEY TO MY HEART

Love came to me one day
I knew it came to stay
So I locked it deep down in my heart
And threw the key away.

A gallant prince then found the key
And return'd it with his love
We found our happiness that way
True as the stars above.

Alone with my dream I looked in my heart.
Finding it filled with doubt.
I turned the key in my heart again
And locked love out.

M. von S., '32

REAL VICTORY

To forgive wrongs darker than death and night;
To suffer woes that hope things infinite;
To love and bear; to hope till hope creates
From her own wrecks the thing she contemplates;
Never to change, nor falter, nor repent
This, like thy glory, Titan, is to be
Good, brave and joyous, beautiful and free;
This above life, love, empire and victory.

—Shelley

GOOD RECEIPT

Take a little bit of joy
And a little bit of glee
Add a little bit of sunshine
Too—a bit of sympathy
Next a vast amount of happiness
To a teeny bit of woe—
You'll have a delightful person
As delightful as they go.

M. F., '32

SOCIALS

Mary L. Trimyer spent the week-end in Richmond.

Loulie Millner spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Retta Hardy was in Kenbridge this week-end.

Katheryn Waters spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Catherine Marchant was the guest of Louise Munt at her home in Petersburg.

Frances Coleman spent the week-end in Culpeper.

Margaretta Brady was in Richmond this week-end.

Martha Faris, Sue Moomaw, and Mary Page White were at Red Hill this week-end.

Jane Grey Irby was in Blackstone this week-end.

Julia and Frances Martin visited Josie Spencer in Lynchburg this week end.

Mary Harrison spent the week-end in Petersburg.

Catherine Jones was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Glenn in Prospect this week-end.

Mary Ellen Johnson spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

Virginia Witt was in Lynchburg this week-end.

Virginia Marchant and Courtney Neale were in Richmond this week-end.

Julia Faris was in Lynchburg this week-end.

Mary Burgess Fraser was in Lynchburg this week-end.

Ann Minter was in Richmond this week-end.

Virginia Ford spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Janet Harris was in Lynchburg this week-end.

Virginia Lamb spent the week-end in Petersburg.

GAMMA THETA BANQUET GIVEN SATURDAY

The Gamma Theta Sorority had their banquet at Longwood on Saturday, January 17 at 7:30 o'clock. Among the alumnae who were present were Mrs. A. A. Adkins, formerly Pat Cowherd, of Lewisburg, West Virginia; Mary Wilson Pugh and Martha MacKenzie of Portsmouth; Emmy Lou Pulliam and Lucille Fielas of Richmond; Cabell Gannaway of Draper, and Mary Priest, Polly Riddle, and Jeanette Morris of Norfolk.

ILERONIANS PLAY AT PROSPECT MEETING

After its business meeting the Patrons League of Prospect was entertained by the "Ileronians" on Friday night by a request from Miss Bierbower and Miss Camper. Eight numbers were played by the entire band, in addition to which solos were played by Mary Frances Carter, Dot Dudley and Virginia Ford. Hilda Stiff played a most enjoyable selection on the violin and Budsey Carter, leader of the "Ileronians", entertained with vocal selections accompanied by her orchestra.

Two additions were apparent in the Sophomore orchestra made by Alice Moore and Elizabeth Johnson on the kazoots.

The orchestra thoroughly enjoyed the trip and a good time is reported to have been had. More Friday nights like it are hoped for.

GAMMA THETA SORORITY ANNOUNCES MEMBERS

Gamma Theta wishes to announce the following new members:
Margaret Parker, Suffolk, Va.
Catherine Logan, Salem, Va.
Clara McKenzie, Portsmouth, Va.
Anne Davis, Richmond, Va.

MISS SHELTON IMPROVING

Miss Shelton, a member of the home department, who has been quite ill, is improving. She is greatly missed by the students of S. T. C. We hope will soon be well and with us again.

HONOR ROLL FOR THE FALL QUARTER IS ANNOUNCED

Continued from page one

Mary Lynn Conalley
Lois Virginia Cox
Lorene Evelyn Cox
Lillian Frances Crawford
Katherine Ann Crowder
Gwendoline Linwall Daniel
Eleanor Howland Dashiell
Annie May Davis
Mary Eleanor Davis
Mildred Frances Dehart
Mary Dobyns Derieux
Carrie Hardaway DeShazo
Nella Virginia Dickinson
Mary Fredericka Diehl
Janie Elizabeth Dodson
Ann Clinton Drew
Virginia Elizabeth Dutton
Emma Frances Edwards
Mary Louise Elliott
Margaret Teel Faris
Margaret Ruth Fisher
Ruth Christine Floyd
Susie Vann Floyd
Dorothy Helen Ford
Virginia McDowell Fultz
Frances Elliott Fox
Mary Burgess Fraser
Catherine Elizabeth Gannaway
Margaret Pauline Gibb
Martha Courtney Godsey
Mary Lee Godwin
Mildred Elizabeth Godwin
Beatrice Augusta Goode
Dorothy Holmes Goodloe
Verena Madeline Greaves
Retta Weaver Hardy
Alice St. Ables Harrison
Inez Hobgood
Natalie Venable Holladay
Alice Winifred Howell
Sara Kimbrough Hubard
Ruth Dudley Hunt
Elizabeth Elnor Hunter
Charlotte Williams Hutchins
Iska French Hutt
Olive T. Iler
Lucille Bernice Ingram
Sarah Mabelle James
Anne Mabelle James
Anne Janet Johnson
Elizabeth C. Johnson
Ellen Earle Jones
Isabel Fleming Jones
Barbara York Kester
Ethel Rowe Kirkland
Esther Florence Kutz
Cassandra Laird
Daisy Virginia Lambert
Lucie Anne Lane
Mrs. W. T. Lee
Elizabeth B. Levick
Odell Gertrude Lewellyn
Bessie Hankins Lynch
Catherine Ellen McAllister
Mary Elizabeth McCauley
Annie Louise McKenney
Clara Maupin MacKenzie
Margie McManus
Janet Mildred Maddrey
Frances Eva Martin
Marguerite Massey
Mary Elizabeth Mayo
Gladys Lee Meador
Agnes Meredith
Anna Elizabeth Minter
Annie Louise Moore
Florence Juanita Moore
Margaret Elizabeth Morgan
Elizabeth Woods Morris
Ruby Smythe Moss
Courtney Sampbell Neale
Virginia McFarland Neblett
*Harriet Simmons Moomaw
Mary Berkeley Nelson
Frances Virginia Newman
Margaret Pearl Nutthall
Allie Gardner Oliver
Mary Eleanor Owens
Elizabeth Agnes Pierce
Lucie Edwin Porter
Dorothy Virginia Powell
Margaret Holland Priest
Mary Thomas Rawls
Anne Watkins Rice
Gay Athena Richardson
Duvahl Boone Ridgway
Dorothy Banks Ritchie
Bernice Rives
Elsie Mae Roberts
Doris Virginia Robertson
Virginia Neilson Robertson
Nina Sparks Ross
Hettie Frances Rothwell
Alice Frances Rowell
Grace Warren Rowell
Sarah Smith Rowell
Mary Kathline Rucker
Elizabeth Corrinne Sawyer
Martha Vaughan Seabury
Edith St. Clair Shanks
Emily Mildred Shelton
Clara Elizabeth Sizemore
Mildred Marguerite Snidow
Easter Marguerite Souders
Mildred White Steere
Frances Elizabeth Stephenson
Mary Elizabeth Swift
Elizabeth Mae Taylor
Virginia LaValle Taylor
Jennie Elizabeth Temple
Mary Katherine Thweatt
Anna Frances Traylor
Mary Linwood Trimyer
Anna Macon Ward
Gazelle Garnett Ware
Mary Watkins Warren
Nancy Southall Watkins
Belva Lorraine Wesson
Evelyn Wells West
Imogene Celestine West
Virginia Norris Whipple
Eunice Lindsay White
Janice Elizabeth Wilkerson
Annie Virginia Williams
Juanita Williams

*Mistake in classification

Alumnae Notes

Miss Richie McCraw read an original story at a recent meeting of the Richmond Writers' Club.

Miss Lillian Minor of Norfolk was one of the rural supervisors who attended the conference on supervision at Little Rock the week of December 22. This conference was called by the U. S. Commission of Education. Miss Minor read a paper on one of the programs which attracted a great deal of favorable comment. At the fall meeting of the Virginia Education Association she spoke before the Department of Rural Education, presenting in a very interesting way certain units of subject matter and certain classroom activities which she had found successful under her supervision. She was re-elected president of the Rural Supervisors section.

Miss Marnetta Souder of Newport News and Hampton spent the past week-end at S. T. C. Miss Souder contributed to a round table discussion on "The Most Interesting and Successful Work in Art in My School Last Year" as a part of the program of the Art Teachers Section of the fall meeting of the Virginia Education Association, and was elected president.

The picture of Miss Lucy Cornelia Hanger and the announcement of her engagement to Mr. Everett Hurt Irby of Blackstone appeared in the Richmond Times-Dispatch of January 18. Miss Hanger is a graduate of Sweet Briar College as well as of Farmville S. T. C.

Miss Alice Carter spoke on "The Influence of Russeau in Present Day Education" at the January meeting of the Literature Department of the Farmville Woman's Club. Miss Mary Peck told of visiting the former home of Voltaire, which is a shrine, while in Berlin.

TREES DRINK ONLY DURING THE DAY

In last summer's drought, thirty-two trees daily drank a little brook quite dry. They consumed seven tons of water in thirty-six hours at one particular parched season.

Dr. Harry B. Humphreys, of the Department of Agriculture, who made these observations, closely calculating every move of this little brook, now offers them to science as significant in studies of drought.

Fed by springs, the brook ran two hundred yards through a ravine into a reservoir. The spring flowed with regularity, by every evening the brook would be entirely empty, while every morning it was discharging four to six quarts a minute.

Puzzled by this phenomenon, Dr. Humphrey began making scientific measurements which proved that the thirty-two trees drank the water daytimes and let it run at night.— The Washington Post.

DOUGLAD STEWART WALKER—VIRGINIA'S ARTIST SUPREME

Continued from page one

the cabalistic letters embroidered on her little round cap: "O. N. T."

Mr. Walker brought with him a large number of pictures which were on display. Some of them showed the various stages of the production of the beautiful illustrations of "Sally's A. B. C."; some were reproductions of his book plates, a number were in color and, most wonderful of all, were those in black and white. The marvelous and beautiful imagination of the man was crystallized and made visible to the eye of the beholder; the absolute perfection of the execution was almost beyond belief, and those who had the privilege of a close examination of the work stood almost in awe, in the presence of such genius.

Mr. Walker presented our college library with a copy of 'Sally's A. B. C." and promised the students that when they return next year they will be greeted by "Mr. and Mrs. Spool" He also promises a return visit to the college when next he is in his beloved Virginia.

SENIOR CLASS MET LAST THURSDAY

Several matters of important business were discussed at the meeting of the Senior Class held Thursday of last week.

Arrangements were made to continue the "Filling Station" in Cunningham Hall for this term. Chairmen for the various groups were appointed and their weeks assigned.

Founders Day was discussed and it was decided to have if possible, a reunion of the members of the class that entered as freshmen in the fall of 1929, the class of the present seniors. To arrange for this is was decided that each senior would write letters to a definite number of alumnae, urging them to return.

Jenilee Knight: "What is love?"
Nancy Harrison: "A misunderstanding between two fools."

College Briefs

The Elementary Teacher's Club met Saturday in the classroom. Elizabeth Levick was chairman of a most interesting program.

We were glad to see many of the alumni back this week-end. Familiar faces are always nice to see.

The May Day Committees will begin work at once. We are all looking forward to a big day.

New committee's for the "Filling Station" were appointed at the senior class meeting last Wednesday. We are expecting as successful a term as the one just pased.

S. T. C. CHORAL CLUB AND H. S. GLEE CLUB TO GIVE CONCERT

What? you don't like concerts? The very idea! Why, I'll tell you there's going to be one in the spring that you'll surely like. If you don't—well—I should say that you are all wrong. The Choral Club and the Glee Club of Hampden-Sydney are going to sing several numbers together with Major Charles Tittmann, one of America's best bass-baritones. And besides that—he is going to give a program alone and Mr. Strick says his selections are wonderful. Could they be any thing but that? Never! Each club will sing several numbers to complete the program. Isn't that a complete program?

You think I'm right? Of course you do!—and you will buy a ticket from me? O. K.—February 23—don't forget!

As we live so shall we learn that people that live in frat houses, should learn to throw bones.

But what would life be if we told the unsuspecting Sophomore that there wasn't any Santa Claus?

"Your sister is spoiled."
"No, that's the perfume she uses."

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART
We would like to have your orders
—for—
DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS
Canada Drug Co.
Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

COTILLION CLUB DANCES ARE ALMOST HERE
DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!
We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE
Now On At
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Rack No. 1, your choice of our $4 to $6 Dresses, all sizes. Close out price $2.98
Rack No. 2. Your choice of any $19.75 dress in store for $9.95
Wrap Around Turbans 89c
Just received new spring dresses. Charge if you wish $5.95 & $9.95

Father: "Son, your Scout suit is tight."

Son: "That's not all that's tight You are too."

"How could you tell her teeth were false."

"It all came out in the conversation."

Miss Wheeler: "Then, girls we'll study Hamlet".

Dotch Ritchie: "Hamlet, I thought was a pig."

Dr. Simkins: "What language is spoken in Algeria?"

Grace Rowell: "Algebra, doctor."

Ed Santrock: "Here's some candy, 'sweets for the sweet'."

Toodles Booth: "Here's some nuts."

Margaret Brady: "Have you seen the mounted police in Chicago?"

Lelia Lovelace: "Do the gangster's shoot 'em and then stuff 'em?"

What made Pontiac that way. She can't af-Ford to do that. He asked Diana for a date and she said it was Willys-Knight. That's twice I worked that Dodge on him. Did he rae-Buick her. Not after she had laid her Auburn head on his chest and touched the Cord-s of heart. You know what a Kissell do.

Little Jimmy's funny
An eccentric little waif;
Swallows all his sister's
Money and says
He's playing safe!

Miss Spratley: "What is the opposite of woe?"

Alice Rowell: "Giddap."

Virginia Lamb: "Lived here all your life?"

Virginia Sanford: "Don't know; haven't died yet!"

A. J. Scott: "This is my best picture."

Miss Bedford: "Don't be discouraged, A. J."

Friend: "Where is your son, Bill?"

Father: "Bill? Oh, I sent him west to make a fortune."

Friend: "How is he getting along?"

Father: "The state is offering $10,000 for him, now."

Nowadays when the newlyweds makes a mess of dinner all she does is dump it into a lettuce leaf and call it salad.

Elsie Hardy: "What makes you eat your food backwards?"

"Kat" Clement: "My stomach is upset so I eat my food backwards."

Judge: "Were you drunk when the accident occured?"

Prisoner: "Sober as a judge."

Judge: "Six months."

She: "He looked so stupid when he proposed to me."

Another She: "Well, darling, look what a stupid thing he was doing."

Clerk: "That coat fits you like a glove."

Purchaser: "So I see the sleeves cover my hands."

They say—
That girls
Are beautiful and dumb.

Yeah!
Beautiful to be loved by men
And dumb to love them.

E. A. G.

BASKETEERS ARE URGED TO GET READY FOR FUTURE GAMES

Basketeers, work; get ready for the conflict.

Seniors and Sophomores you are working, but not as you should. If you want the "Green and White" waving on high, find your pep or awaken it immediately and get every thing in line. You are noted for putting things over big, keep on your hats and get to work.

"Red and White", you are last in this, but not least, by any means. You had the basketeer champions last year and you are now fighting hard. Arouse a little more pep and keep up your fighting spirit and the "bacon" will be hard to take.

Freshmen, you need to be congratulated on your good spirit and perseverance. You have very good material and now is the time for you to show what you are and especially make the sophomores realize you are the class of '34. Let me say that the Sophomores are very hard to defeat If perhaps they are defeated, they will go down better losers than they would have been victors.

Girls, do your part, and put into the fight the best you have and you will reap the results of the victory.

The contest is on. Which is going to wave on high—the "Red and White" or the "Green and White."

LADY ASTOR'S BOOKS ARE BORROWED

Somewhat after the fashion of the quality of mercy, the evils of book borrowing fall alike on the high and low.

As evidence witness the following advertisement by Lady Astor in the "Agony" column of a London newspaper:

"Will the persons who have borrowed Waverley Novels No. 5 and Les Miserables Vol. 1 from Clivedon library, kindly return same to Viscountess Astor, M. P., 4, St. James Square, S. W. I."—The Virginian Pilot.

CROSS-ROADS

"We're at the cross roads, S. T. C.'s crossroads, and we must choose our path"—But wait, let us choose for you, and the one we choose will lead you to the auditorium on night in the near future. And after you've been there a while, you'll call us blessed fate that took you in that direction. For there and at that time you will see the rip-roaringest, laugh-provokingest comedy that has recently been illumined by footlight. "The Cross-roads Store" is the name and whether you will be stored at the cross-roads, or crossed at the store roads, we are unprepared to say, but we do know that you have a treat in store and that store is at the cross-roads. You will hear more of this later, so be on the look-out.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Chapel Hill—The petition of Davidson College for membership in the southern conference was referred to the Executive Committee of that body at a meeting of conference officials in Chapel Hill, December 11 and 12.

Lawrence, Kan.—But seven of 1,750 women students at the University of Kansas are studying to be homemakers. Teaching school is the aim of 819 of them.

84 intend to take up journalism; 80 plan to be nurses; 60 hope to be business women; 16 will take up medicine and 15 will practice law; 123 are undecided.

At the University of Georgia negro butlers have organized a fraternity to be known as Silver Kings. Requirements for initiation are: Butlership at a Greek letter fraternity, wearing of clothes acquired only from college fraternity men, and the attending of every fooball game. This does not give the requirement of the various fraternities of a butler. Probably they'll wear keys, too.

BASKET BALL SCHEDULE

Monday

4:00 ..... Varsity
5:00 ..... General Practice

Tuesday

4:00—5:30 ..... General Practice

Wednesday

4:00 ..... Varsity
5:00 ..... General Practice

Thursday

4:00—5:30 ..... General Practice

Friday

4:00 ..... Varsity

A girl must have at least three practices a week in order to get the required per cent of practices.

At Eaco Theatre Week of Jan. 26-31

"The Best Sound in Southside Va."

MON. and TUES.—"Manslaughter," with Claudette Colbert and Frederic March. This picture is rated by many as the greatest dramatic picture ever produced. If you liked "Common Clay," you will more than enjoy "Manslaughter." The story of a pampered and spoiled darling of society, thinking the world is made for her pleasures—selfish and self-centered, yet truly lovely. But fate takes a hand, strips her of ego and power, blasts her pride. She thought she could get away with anything—but the man she loved sent her to prison; see why. Also 2-reel comedy.

WEDNESDAY—Gary Cooper supported by Kay Johnson and Betty ompson in "The Spoilers." Here is Rex Beach's great story produced better than ever before—the mightiest outdoor drama ever filmed. Taunted by an infatuated dancehall beauty, he lets loose his mighty strength gainst the mighty horde of ruthless despoilers of yild, gold-studded Alaska, against the woman he really loves. One woman he kisses, another he fights for. A terrific, two-fisted drama. Also Our Gang comedy.

"The Iindians Are Coming," chapter 8 . Are you like so many others enjoying this great talking serial each week? Do not miss a chapter of this story of the hardships and courage of the early pioneers.

THURS. and FRI.—Ruth Chatterton in "The Right to Love." The first lady of the screen in her finest picture. Miss Chatterton is seen first as a farm girl; then in the dual role of the mother and daughter on a wind-swept Colorado farm, and finally as a girl missionary. A story of a real romance of a woman's life and loves. Certainly it is for adult audiences; the more sophisticated the better. You can put it down as a picture to be chosen as one of the ten best of the year. Audiences are now jamming theatres in the big cities to see this picture, so do not fail to see it the two days it plays in Farmville. Also "Who Killed Rover?" one of those wonderful Dogville comedies.

SATURDAY—"Up the River," a Movietone laugh riot that will be the talk of the town. It is sort of a country club, "Up the River." You have to be known to get in. They don't take every Tom, Dick and Harry. A kittenish girlie with saucer eyes and golden hair turns a few twenty-minute eggs into gentle lambs—for a few days—and what follows will turn anyone into a laugh marathoner. We'd rather not tell you too much about this picture, but take our word for it, you will enjoy every minute of it. The story is a riot. The acting is a panic. The effect is devastating. A treat Farmville movie fans will talk about. Also two-reel Colortone comedy and Fox News.

Only one show each night, at 8 p. m. Daily matinees, 4 p. m .

Admission, adults 35c at nights and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

SOME THINGS TO KEEP IN MIND AT LIBRARY

Continued from last week

the card in the pocket and with the permission of the girl at the desk, leaves the signed card in the library and takes the book. Do not sign your name to the card and lay it on the desk, but give it directly into the hands of the girl in charge of the desk. All reserve books must be returned before nine o'clock on the next morning that the library is open. Otherwise a fine of ten cents is charged for the first hour and five for every additional hour.

(3) Any book that has an R. above the Dewey number, for instance:

R
790
H63L

and every magazine is a reference book and cannot be taken outside the library, even overnight.

3. Please turn in all reserve books when the first bell taps in order that the staff may be through at a reasonable time. It is unreasonable to expect them to remain until 5:30 or 6.00 checking off books when they are paid to work only till five o'clock.

4. Do not ask for fiction (novels) or other fourteen day books after 4 p. m. on Saturdays. This request is made to insure greater service to the girls during the rush hour when the books are being left out over the week end.

5. Always have books taken off your name before giving them to others in order to avoid misplacements.

6. Please do not ask the girl to let you look through a book at the desk, but either take it out in your name, look it over, and return it if it does not contain what you want, or else ask to be allowed to sit at the tables in the stock room. This is requested of you in order to save time. Always think of the other fellow.

7. When taking out a book in another's name, write her name and then sign your own in parenthesis. You are then responsible to the library for the book, and the one for whom you get it is responsible to you. If Alice Green gets a book out for Minnie Jones she signs: Minnie Jones, Alice Green. And in case Minnie should deny having had the book, Alice would be called on.

8. Please use only one reserve slip at a time unless you need more than on book. Do not carry reserve slips outside the library.

9 Do not ask to be allowed to take books from the library until you have paid all fines. Please pay for the use of self-supporting or "Pay" books when you return them. When paying a fine, do not leave the desk until the girl has recorded the payment on the calendar and has taken your fine card out of the file. Never lay the money down on the book and leave it. This is to safeguard you.

10. The staff would appreciate it if the members of the faculty, except those who have done special work in this library would not remove or check off any books except under the supervision of the girl in charge. This is requested in order to prevent inaccuracies which are likely to be made, and have been made in cases of those inexperienced in the procedure we go through with in this library.

We will be glad to explain any other points either individually or in groups, in order to clear up misunderstandings. We ask your hearty cooperation in making our library service the very best. We will always do our best, but we need your help in order to have the most efficient service.

DR. KEPNER TO GIVE AN ADDRESS HERE

Dr. Kepner, professor of Biology of the University of Virginia, will give an address in the auditorium Wednesday evening, January 28, at 8 o'clock. The faculty and student body is invited.

Then there was the Scotchman that heard there was sugar in tears, so he cried over his tea."

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS
Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN

Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments

GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

is Headquarters for the Best

SANDWICHES

—and—

DRINKS

—in—

FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store

Farmville, Va.

"Drugs and Drinks"

DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES

WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP

AND LEATHER USED

THREE CHEERS FOR CLASS ISSUES

ROTUNDA

LAST CHANCE SUBSCRIBE TO ANNUAL!

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 28, 1931 No. 16

Girl Scout Instructors Give Course In Leadership Beginning This Week

Miss Roos and Miss Born Will Be Here From January 26 to February 14

PREPARATION IS KEYNOTE

Preparation for responsibility in the home and community is the keynote of the Girl Scout movement, according to Miss Anne Roos, training instructor from National Girl Scout headquarters, who with Miss Ida May Born will be in this city to give a course in leadership from January 26 to February 14 under the auspices of the Farmville Girl Scout Council.

"Following along the lines of women's activities which have been adapted to the capacities and interests of the growing girl, we emphasize methods of training which develop initiative, self-control, self-reliance and service to others," says Miss Roos in commenting on Girl Scout leadership. 'In general, we foster the qualities of character most worthwhile in adult life."

Miss Roos spoke of the changing conditions which the youth of today must face.

"Until recent years," she says, "the conditions changed so slowly that philosophy and morals were more or less static, but now it is obvious to everyone that traditional restrictions are often unsuited to this era of speed and frankness. As an antidote to the pressure and temptations of daily life, Girl Scouting offers realities instead of artificialities and the native appeal of out-of-door activities.

"A generation ago children accepted what they were told, but now they question everything that does not appeal to their own intelligence. They are unimpressed by former standards and skeptical of ready-made results. They demand and expect honest answers to their questions, but prefer to discover things for themselves rather than accept the experience of adults. Those of us who have worked with young people can not but admire their courage and questioning intelligence, and that is one of the reasons we lay so much stress on securing the right sort of leaders for our Girl Scouts.

Continued on last page

THE FOUR CLASSES WILL EDIT AN ISSUE OF THE ROTUNDA

Beginning with February 4, the freshman issue of the Rotunda will commence the competitive class issues of the school newspaper. The freshman staff has already been chosen and Mary Diehl will serve as editor of the staff for that week. Elections of the staffs from the other three classes will follow in order.

No girl who is a member of the Rotunda staff now will be allowed to hold a position on her class issue.

Misses Lucile Jennings, Ida W. Penny and Mr. Samuel Holton will act as judges to choose the winning paper. The judges will choose the paper which comes nearest to the qualifications set by the committee.

A prize of five dollars will be given the winning paper.

The issues will come out in order on the following dates:

Freshman	February 4
Sophomore	February 11
Junior	February 18
Senior	February 25

MUSIC INSTRUCTOR

MR. A. H. STRICK

MR. STRICK IS HONORED BY STATE FEDERATION OF MUSIC CLUBS

The Virginia Federation of Music Clubs through its president, Miss Julia Fuqua, nominated recently Mr. Alfred H. Strick State Choir Festival Chairman of Virginia. Mr. Strick will deliver the address before the State Music Teachers Association and the Federation of Music Clubs of Virginia at the Annual Convention in Charlottesville, April 14.

As Head of the Music Department at S. T. C., Mr. Strick has made his influence felt throughout the college and community. Students, faculty and town people are beginning to think more in terms of music.

In the honor and recognition given to Mr. Strick, prestige is also added to our State Teachers College. The student body is proud of Mr. Strick and wishes to congratulate him.

FLAT HAT ANNOUNCES FROSH GRADES INCLINE

The Flat Hat announces that the scholastic record of the freshmen at William and Mary is on the incline rather than on the decline. The third set of grades was given out a short while back and 104 freshmen made the honor roll. Sixteen of these made an average of 90 or over on all their subjects. Out of this 16 men, however, it was a bit surprising to see that the greater per cent were students who live north of the Mason and Dixon line. Does this prove in any way that the high schools of the South are not training their students as well as the Northern high school?

Huxley Lectures On Science and Human Nature

Dr. Julia Huxley, England's noted biologist, gave a most interesting lecture on "Science and Human Nature" in Cabell Hall, University of Virginia, January 19.

According to Dr. Huxley, science has a double aspect of knowledge and the aspect of control. There has been a radical change in science. Science is not unstable, but progressive. Science is essentially neutral morally and emotionally. More knowledge of science is only discovery of truth. The use of this knowledge depends upon nature and not until human nature is permeated by science is it more than the case of a house divided against itself. Astronomy is the oldest of the sciences. In medieval times this subject was delved into in only a random way. Now it is studied and partially understood. It has been found out that there is less change and more perfection on earth than upon any other universe. Physics and chemistry are nothing of magic as once believed but have the fundamental ideas of unity. Biology has gone through a gradual change. The evolutionary view-point than man is the outcome of a long changing process has been accepted. Man is not

Continued on last page

DEBATE CLUB MEETING HELD FOR VARSITY TRYOUTS JANUARY 22

"Surely we have progressed and we doff our hats as we say this is an age of machinery," rang from the platform of the small auditorium on Thursday night as one of the six contestants for the varsity oratorical team concluded her oration. This tryout was held at the regular bimonthly meeting of the Debate Club, the subject for oration being "The Machine Age."

Those girls participating were Martha Faris, Winston Cobb, Jane Witt, "Honey" Hamilton, Ann Johnson, and Martha Kello, the judges being Mr. French and Mr. McCorkle.

After the conclusion of the orations Mr. Holton said a few words with which he commended all six girls for doing such excellent work, and after careful deliberation the judges gave their decision as to the two best orations. The decision named Ann Johnson and Winston Cobb as the new members of the varsity team, and the Debate Club feels it is well represented.

A few business issues were brought forth and discussed. This being finished, the meeting closed.

Theme of May Day Program Has Been Presented in Complete Form

First Scene Will Be Laid In the Court Of Gloriana, the Fairy Queen

COMMITTEES AT WORK

The theme of May Day has been presented to the May Day Committee in complete form by Mary Ellen Cato. The theme, which was taken from Spencer's Fairie Queen, shows promise of a very lovely program this year.

The scene begins at the fairy court on the day of the annual feast of Gloriana, the Fairy Queen. The fairies enter bringing a crystal ball. Several look into the ball, but fail to see a vision.

Amidst this spectre of fairies and the crysatl ball, Britomantis, who represents Chasity, rides into the circle on a white horse. She is led to the crystal ball and she, too, gazes in. Lo, she sees two knights in combat. The one who is veiled wins the combat. He is Artegall, who represents Justice.

Britomantis asks as a boon from the Fairy Queen on this day of annual feasting that she be sent in search of this Knight of Justice. The Queen grants her request if the armor, which she gives her, fits. The armor does fit, and she returns to the Fairy Queen to be blessed.

Britomantis sets out disguised as a knight. She takes with her the charmed spear (Virtue.)

Britomantis' first encounter is with the Red Cross Knight, who is being overcome by six other knights before the castle of Joyousness. They enter the castle, where the mistress and her court try to allure them. Britomantis drives them back with her charmed spear.

She then rides on to the seashore, and while there she sees many jewels on the shore, having been left there by the nymphs. Manerell, the sea knight, comes and tries to frighten Britomantis away. He is wounded by the spear and is taken away by the sea nymphs.

Scudamore, Knight of Love, accompanied by Britomantis, goes to the enchanted castle to rescue the

Continued on last page

ALUMNAE CHAPTER PRESENTS PROGRAM FRIDAY EVENING

Friday evening, January 23, the alumnae chapter of State Teachers College, Farmville, presented in the small auditorium a most delightful program. It consisted of charming Negro music played and sung by Mrs. Putney, and delightful Negro stories and real Negro incidents told by Miss Mary Jackson.

The traits of the really true old Negroes of the eighteen hundreds, were revealed in these bits of song, played on the harmonico banjo by Mrs. Putney.

Miss Mary Jackson gave many real incidents peculiarly like the nature of the entire Negro race. These, because of their simplicity and realism were appealing.

Some of the musical numbers of the evening were "Old Dan Tucker," "Turkey in the Straw," "Mississippi Sawyer."

Miss Mary Jackson read in a most delightful manner, Pulaski's Tournament by Thomas Nelson Page.

ANNOUNCES NEW MEMBERS

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu wishes to announce the following new girls:

Lucy Ann Lane
Louise Woodson
Mabel Barksdale
Louise Moore
Nan Mears
Doris Robertson
Frances Stephenson
Louise Elliott
and
Mr. Samuel H. Holton, Jr., as associate member

CHARLES TROWBRIDGE TITTMANN TO APPEAR IN RECITAL AT S. T. C.

The Choral Club brings to Farmville in its annual concert on February the twenty-third, one of America's greatest bass-baritones, Mr Charles Trowbridge Tittman.

Mr. Tittman is ranked by musical authorities with Lawrence Tibbett and Reinald Warrenwrath. The variety of selections which he is presenting in the Choral Club Concert will appeal to all.

In addition to Mr. Tittman's program the Choral Club and the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club are offering selections. The performance of the evening will be concluded with a great chorus sung by Mr. Tittmann and the combined clubs.

RUFFNER SOCIETY TAKES IN NEW MEMBERS

At the meeting of the Ruffner Literary Society January 23, the following members were taken into the society:

Loulie Millner
Clara McAllister
Ruth Floyd
Nancy Ross
Eleanor Dashiell
Christie Stokes
Elmer Foster

After the initiation a very interesting program was given which included a study of Edna St. Vincent Millay.

Beta Pi Theta Offers Awards for Sophomores and Freshmen to Stimulate Interest in French

To help stimulate interest in French and to encourage students of French to continue their work in this language, Beta Pi Theta is sponsoring contests for freshmen and sophomores.

There is to be a freshman contest and a sophomore contest. An award is offered to the freshman writing the best description in French. Another award will be presented to the sophomore writing the best essay in French. Both awards will be characteristically French and of value to French students.

The following are rules of the contests:

1. Contests are open to all freshmen and sophomores taking French.
2. Contests close March 31.
3. Papers are to be written on one side only of the pages.
4. Entries are not to be signed, as numbers will be assigned to them.
5. Students may choose their own subjects.
6. Papers are to be handed in to Mildred Maddrey, room 41, new building.

Beta Pi Theta hopes to make these contests an annual event. It will be an honor to win one of the awards, and freshmen and sophomores are urged to participate.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

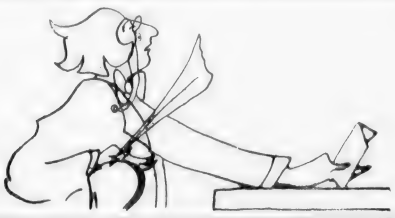
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Qualifications For May Queen

This year we endeavor to make the May Queen mean more than ever to the student body. We want her to be a girl whom we can look up to and respect, and be glad to have her as a representative of our student body. To accomplish this we must have qualifications that a girl must come up to to be chosen Queen of May Day.

It has been decided by a committee representing each class that a girl must be a Junior or a Senior to be eligible for May Queen. This restriction was placed here because a girl who has lived in school at least three years has most likely revealed her true worth. Then again the Freshmen and Sophomores will have their chance next year or the year afterward.

It seems that the next qualification is a most important one. A girl must be a good representative of the student body in character, personality and school spirit. Each of us wants our school to appear in the best light possible, and therefore we should think of the kind of girl whom we wish to represent us. We want a girl who has given her best to the school, who has cooperated with her classmates in both small and great trials and most of all we want a well roundedgirl. A well rounded girl must have beauty of character as well as beauty of face, she must have a personality not only appealing to her "bunch" but to people at large, and she must cooperate with her classmates at all times and show her school spirit.

The May Queen must be dependable, responsible, and willing to work. She must possess these characteristics to become a representative queen after she is elected.

But—even though the above characteristic come first we must not forget the beauty side of May Day. Our May Queen should be certainly "fair of face" of not beautiful. She must be easy to look upon. She must be graceful, and have poise. All May Queens regardless of the theme should possess these characteristics.

We must not forget that our May Queen must wear armour in the program for she is a knight—therefore she must have dignity. And lastly, she must be able to express emotion with face and body.

You now see what our May Queen must live up to, therefore be sure that the girl you choose in capable of living up to them.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Oh, Ella, you don't like Nabs? Well, you'll miss something at this tea-party.

Wasn't Sing precious Saturday night? I really think it was about the cutest this year. Those seniors! They do right well. And oh! how we'll miss them next year. Juniors, juniors—you'll take their places—be careful. Going back to that Sing business—Liz Antrim, well, and Clara McAllister were too much. As for Martha Faris, I simply don't see how she did her hair that way, although she says she just tangled it. She was really a scream if I ever saw one. Her father was here this week-end and he's so nice. In fact, I'd say its rather a nice family altogether.

You know, last Monday seems years ago to me. That famous ride we took seems a dream but I've evidence of it—a paper napkin from the tea room at Mechanicsville—good hot chocolate we had. And believe it or not sister, that was an unintentional wrong turn when we got lost at Fork Union. You certainly don't think we'd spend the night in mud feet deep, sliding from here to L—with one poor girl ill as it was? You might think we're nutty but not that nutty—You can laugh, too, but only the six members of that night-ride will ever appreciate the grey hairs we now bear as a result. Anyway, we've something to remember—

Changing the subject abruptly—How about this May Queen business? Rather a job to find the perfect mortal maid—now if in dreams—Well-er, I think we'd make lovely May Queens but of course, the beautiful things in life are so seldom discovered until too late. Seriously though I'm going to put a lot of thought and contemplation into the subject before I make up my mind to nominate any unappreciative maiden, no matter how fair she be. You do the same dear—Then I won't feel so bad when you lose.

Something strikes me as funny—! The Senior Quartette is made up of Adele, Liz Antrim, Liz Taylor, and Ruth Hunt. Now, how does it get that way? By-th-way, I hope Ruth Ann, and Doris get as much pleasure out of our singing as I do, and the student body in general. Oh Ella, don't throw that shoe. I'm going now to the library. Want me to bring you some Nabs?

Gee, I wonder what I've said—she looks mad—she doesn't like Nabs and—oh, I'm crazy.

WHAT HAPPENED THREE YEARS AGO TODAY

The Sophomores edited the issue of the Rotunda. They dedicated their issue to Joan of 'Arc.

• • •

The Sophomores won the basketball chapionship.

• • •

M. G. M. News Weekly took pictures of the cheer leaders and captains of teams.

• • •

Dr. Galloway lectured here on Social Hygiene.

• • •

The Rotunda had a write-up of the Dramatic Club play "Trelawney of the Wells", given the past Friday evening. Etta Marshall, Mable Yancey Brooking, Beulah Jarvis and Mary Ellen Cato played the four leading parts in this play.

• • •

Old students who came back for the Dramatic Club play were Misses Elizabeth Jarman, Betty Hopkin, and Margaret Cobb.

UNANSWERED

Who would be blue
If the world were bright
And the moon shone
On all through the night?

How could you fail
Or even start,
When the robin's note
Touches your heart?

How could you cut
Your friend so dear
When you should
Be happy
To know they're near?

How could you go on
Through the day
Passing by good deeds
Which came your way?

Life—'tis a mystery
I'll not define
Why does one do—
Or not?—is mine
To wonder.

IDOL

I had a friend
(Or was she?)
Who was queen of all
My great huge world.
She was perfection
Yet divinity unfurled
She was an idol
On a pedestal she stood
In purple she was clothed
Majestic was her air
I loved her not
But worshipped I
Her perfection and divinity.

Could you reach an idol's heart
Or love a thing pure gold?
She has stepped down to meet me
No more lovely to behold—
Her pedestal has crumpled
Her feet are only clay
But wonder not—You see
I love her best that way.

ON LIVING

"Our life is short; and our days run
As fast away as doth the sun;—
And as a vapor or a drop of rain
Once lost, can ne'er be found again."
—Ben Johnson

Our days here seem long, never ending, but when we stand aside and look upon our little lives, they seem mere seconds in the hands of time. Our lives are short at best, and yet we rush through them until too late we grasp the cup gingerly with shaking fingers and sip the precious draught gently to extend its blood-red life. How many priceless moments we hurriedly cast aside now—how much those moments would mean to us years later. 'Tis a shame we cannot go back and pick up our wasted days and add them on to the end—but, "once lost, can ne'er be found again."

Doesn't Mr. Johnson out of his great foresight, gently warn us to use our minutes wisely and well that we may not find blank pages in our book of memories.

Why do we hurry? For what are we so desparately rushing? To get to the end of life? I think we like life right well, it must be for some other reason. A reason somehow remote, untasted, unknown. A reason that makes us forget the value of each tiny "atom" of time. A reason that urges us on, wearing out our bodies, grating into our souls, cutting into the fibres of our hearts and leaving our little lives crumpled and broken.

Need we rush so? Put into each moment a beautiful stitch that when the cloth falls from the loom the richness of colors will form a picture, deep, glowing, that will not fade, but will grow brighter as the years pass on.

PALACES FOR SALE

Sundry hostoric palaces along the Grand Central are for sale. Foreigners who used them during the short summer season are finding them too expensive. Among these are palaces where Robert Browning died. the one in which Lord Byron lived and the one in which Richard Wagner composed some of "Tristian and Isolde".

TO—

You came, as it were,
From the unknown
And for a brief while
Lingered near me—
Enriching my mind
With golden dreams of adventure;
Through your eyes
I traveled far—
Into foreign lands,
Amid pagan shrines,
And saw too, the beauty
Of the once drab world
Around me.
You went, as it were
Into the unknown,
Leaving me a memory
Of dim cities, deep seas
Where mysteries abide,
You are gone
But you have left me
Adventure.

L. M., '32

TRIBUTE

I wrote a song, but the nightingale
Purloined its simple notes—
To sing of love to his own fair mate
Who sits on nest—and winks and gloats.

I painted a portrait, but the setting sun
Splotched it with orange and red—
Daubing it—and smearing it
Into an ugly blend.

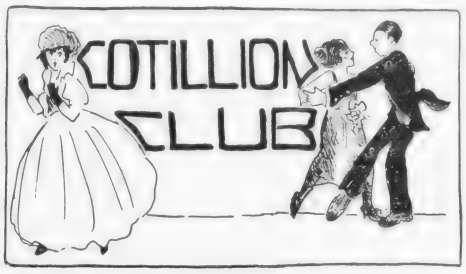
I've pinned a poem no bird can steal
Or sunset splotch with gold—
And out of goblet of dreams
I drink
A toast to your own soul.

R. Floyd, '32

LOST

Standing lonely as a star,
I felt the wind upon my face,
And far below
The waters swirled—
So far and dark
I could not see—
And all before—above—
Was space—
Just blackness—
Everlasting dark—
And I, a single,
Futile soul,
Alone within an empty world
Heard the haunting,
Hopeless song
Of never-ending solitude.

A. LeB. R.



WALTER WINCHELL ON BROADWAY

I was so young when you were all that mattered,
So gay—I look back now and see again
A wistful lad who thought that love was shattered
By silly children indolent and vain;
Pain was for them—for us the breathless rapture
Of cloudless days and warm and star-swept nights;
Ours was the whole wide world to gayly capture,
Little we cared for heartbreak or its rites.

Then you were gone—quick as a breeze you vanished,
Nor did you stop to give a reason why;
Love was a game for two and I was banished—
Broken and gray I watched the world pass by;

Once I recall you mocked each youthful way—
Small trace of that you'll find to mock today!

—Don Wahn

NEW MEMBERS OF COTILLION CLUB

The Cotilion Club wishes to announce the following new members:

Martha Scott Watkins
Chub Denit
Mary Arthur Billups
Catherine Crowder
Louise Borum
Ambler Lee
Nell Thomas
Mary Hill
Nellie Green
Margaret Baules
Sally Russell
Sue Pugh
Clara MacKenzie
Ruth Peary
Virginia Lanier
Dot Weems
Katherine Logan
Chic Mosby
Kitty McIntyre
Mary Lou Fritz
Margaret Eley
Mary Alice Young
Polly Brock
Clara Giles
Cottie Willis
Louise Van Lear
Maxine Kitts
Honey Hamilton
Alice Steidtman
Elizabeth Kelly
Nancy Harrison
Elsie Bolten
Frances Lewis
Va. Ann Huntsberry
Ann McGann
Dot Prescott
Scottie Martin
Missie Bernier
Virginia Lamb
Alice Marshall
Mary Shelton
Gloria Mann
Frances Rawlings
Mary Harrison
Helen Cunningham
Grace Rowell
Alice Rowell
Mary Diehl
Betsy Wilkinson
Virginia Brinkley
Betty Watts
Ruth Carney
Mutt Armstrong
Margaret Parker
Nannie Gilbert
Tot Smith
Bernie Mae Love
Katherine Jones
Helen Warren
Julia Farris
Helen Cover
Fannie Mae Colonna
Mary Nelson
Thelma Stevens
Sara Saunders
Jack Morton
Nancy St. Claire
Chapelle Weisiger
Gertrude Sugden

SOCIALS

Retta Hardy spent the week-end at Emporia.

Adele Hutchinson was in Roanoke this week-end.

Helen Cover had as her guests in Staunton this week-end Katheryn Waters, Ann Davis, Anna Knox, Margaret McCoy, and Cornelia Quarles.

Armistead Jane Scott was the guest of Mrs. D. Taylor (Jane Wiley) in Lexington.

Dorothy Leonard spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

Elizabeth Kelley and Dorothy Prescott were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Harris of Kenbridge.

Martha Sanders and Mary Clare Booth spent the week-end in Richmond at the home of the former.

Virginia Sargent and Corrine Mosby were the guests of Margaret Barker of Lynchburg this week-end.

Margaretta Brady spent the week-end in Richmond.

Jacque and Jerry Lee spent the week-end at their home in Lynchburg.

Anna Minter was in Richmond this week-end.

Virginia Witt was at her home in Lynchburg this week-end.

Virginia Ford spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

N. B. B. O. INITIATION

Thursday the N. B. B. O. goats were dressed in the distinguished colors of the sisterhood—pea green and bean yellow. From five to six o'clock the goats were made to "shine" on the campus for the pleasure of the old N. B. B. O.'s During supper they were forbidden to utter any sound but that of "N. B. B. O." The formal initiation took place that night in the gym. It must have been rich—in fact, every goat came back with a green back.

ZETA TAU BANQUET

Zeta Tau Sorority held its winter banquet in the team room Saturday, January 17. The banquet room was a pirate ship which was anchored on a desert island. The decorations carried out this theme.

There were twelve of the old girls back for the banquet. They were:
Mary Derieux, S. T. C., Farmville, Va.
Jean West, Norfolk, Va.
Virginia Cox, Norfolk, Va.
Alberta Collings, Norfolk, Va.
Alfreda Collings, Norfolk, Va.
Kathryn Jones, Danville, Va.
Marguerite Foster, Lynchburg, Va.
Margaret Davis, Lynchburg, Va.
Nancy Crisman Quarles, Winchester, Va.
Mary Buford Epes, Chase City, Va.
Ann Glenn Perry, Chase City, Va.
Lucy Thompson, Emporia, Va.

KAPPA DELTA PI ANNOUNCES NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi announces the following new members:

Miss Mary Clay Hiner
Miss Carrie Brown Taliaferro

Miss Hiner and Miss Taliaferro have, for a number of years, been interested in high scholarship in the school. Both were affiliated with Pi Kappa Omega which was the local honorary scholastic fraternity here before it merged into the national fraternity Kappa Delta Pi.

Miss Taliaferro received her M. A. degree from the Teachers College of Columbia University, and Miss Hiner received her degree from George Peabody College for teachers. Kappa Delta Pi is very glad to receive them as active members of the chapter.

INTERESTING LECTURE HERE TONIGHT—8 P. M.

Dr. W. A. Kepner, professor of biology of the University of Virginia, will give an interesting lecture in the Student Building auditorium tonight at 8 o'clock. Everyone is invited to attend.

Alumnae Notes

In an automobile collision near Keysville Saturday, January 17, Mrs. Dave Robertson (Mary Garland) of Farmville, suffered a fractured skull and several bruises. She has been in a serious condition, but last reports were decidedly encouraging.

Miss Pauline Camper has been appointed a delegate from the Virginia Council of Administrative Women in Education to the conference of the national council which will be held in Detroit in February.

A recent issue of the Richmond Times-Dispatch contained a picture of the smiling pupils of the sixth and seventh grades of Glen Echo school who had 10 per cent dental correction in a recent clinic, and consequently have not immediate fear of toothache. Miss Pattie Jeter is teacher of the classes.

A double wedding occurred at Rockville, Md., on January 10. Both brides are from Farmville but are now teaching in Alexandria where they will continue to hold their positions the remainder of this session. Miss Catherine Armstrong became the bride of Joel Watkins, Jr., also of Farmville; Miss Elizabeth Marshall Crute became the bride of Joseph Hampton Goode, Jr., of Alexandria.

In mentioning to the alumnae editor that she had been misquoted in saying Voltaire had had a home in Berlin which is now kept as a shrine, Miss Mary E. Peck told a story which will interest Rotunda readers.

"While visiting in Berlin some years ago I had the pleasure of seeing the Hohenzollern palace out at Potsdam with a Prussian who still cherishes every tradition of that line of royalty. In one room I saw monkeys and parrots perched on magnolica flower decorations in corners of the room. The flowers were unique enough, but the monkeys and parrots called for explanation. This is the story the guide told us: 'Now this is Voltaire's room. You remember he spent a great deal of his time here visiting Federick the Great. Well, they quarreled often, and often Voltaire left the palace in great anger. Once when he returned after a long mad-vacation he found all these little monkeys perched as you see them here. ' 'What does this mean?' ' he asked Frederick. ' 'I put these in the room to take your place while you were away. ' ' Later, when Frederick had occasion to be absent from the palace for a long time attending to official business, on his return he found all these parrots. ' 'Explain the parrots, Voltaire.' ' ' 'Just to remind me of you, that's all.' ' Voltaire replied.' Those who are familiar with the friendship of Frederick the Great and Voltaire will get the point of the story.'

MAGNETIC NEEDLE SHOWS NEW MOVEMENT

A magnetic needle, which can be placed in the lobby of any skyscraper to trace the building way in the wind, was exhibited to the American Society of Civil Engineers recently.

By electrical contact it measures movement invisible to the eye much of which hitherto has only been guessed with the aid of mathematics or from studying the accidents it caused.

Dr. F. C. Brown, director of the museum of science and industry, says this instrument "opens new possibilities for measuring stresses and strains. It can be applied to almost any moving part in an airplane, and the aviator can observe the kind of stresse being developed in any open or concealed member. The instument, a "magnetic extensometer," was developed in the research laboratory of the Westinghouse Company at Pittsburgh.—The New York Times.

Pi Kappa Sigma announces as its new member Sarah Saunders of Suffolk, Virginia.

JUNIOR CLASS GIVES PAJAMA PARTY IN MISS BEDFORD'S HONOR

The Student Building lounge was the scene of a very attractive party on Thursday, January 27. The Junior class gave at this time a pajama party in honor of Miss Bedford.

From all evidence gathered as the girls found cozy seats around the open fire, old Saint Nick surely had wonderful taste in selecting snappy ensembles for the college misses. Hot chocolate and sandwiches were served as refreshments. The girls serving were Anne Rice, Katherine Marchant, Sarah Hubard, Evelyn Jones, Nancy DeBerry, Frances Barrel, Martha von Schilling, Nell Clingenpeel. The sandwiches were delicious and Grace Virginia saw to it that they were plentiful. Cherished songs were sunb by the group. Jane Witt sang several solos upon request, and Ruth Hunt rendered music at the piano. The Juniors wondered why it was that Ruth liked to sing "The World Is Waiting For the Sunrise", but each time she'd begin it the class would give in, and the harmony was great!

The class sang its "Sweetheart Song" to Miss Bedford as the lights dimmed at eleven o'clock and it was wih hesitancy that members of the class told Miss Bedford goodnight and goodbye.

SCHOOL OF MISSIONS

A school of missions was held at the Presbyterian church on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of last week. The ladies of the church working through the Ladies Auxiliary served supper each night at 6:15 P. M.

The school was divided into six departments. The average attendance for the three nights was 149, the young peoples class alone averaging 37. A self denial offering was taken the last night and above one hundred and forty dollars was given. The book studied was "The Field is The World" by Dr. Vance. A study of the same helped to enlarge the feelings of those attending the school which was held for other nations.

DRAMA TOURS TO EUROPE PLANNED

Walter Prichard Eaton and Heldon Cheney, leading experts in stagecraft are to conduct drama tours to Europe in the late spring and summer, according to an announcement made by the Drama League of America.

Mr. Eaton, author of "The American Stage of Today," "The Actor's Heritage," and a recent history of the Theatre Guild, will lead the fourth annual Summer Theatre Tour, which is scheduled to sail from New York on July 4. The party will be in England for the Shakespeare Festival, in Orange for the yearly festival in the Theatre Antique, in Salzburg for the Reinhardt Festival and in Heidelberg, Munich and Bayreuth for their festival seasons. Interviews are being arranged with Sir Barry Jackson, Sir Archibald Flower, Max Reinhardt, Gordon Craig, the Capeks, and others Special features will include visits backstage to investigate theatrical equipment and machinery, and the party will enjoy plays from both sides of the footlights.

Sheldon Cheney, outstanding exponent of theatre arts and author of "The Theatre—1000 Years of Decoration" and the recently published "New World Architecture," will lead the Russian Theatre Tour. This novel trip sails from New York on May 9 in order to reach the Soviet Republic while the theatres are still open. It is designed to give students a fascinating opportunity to view Russia as well as to study outstanding examples of the new drama. The director will give lectures on the experimental workers' theatres and there will be frequent comparisons with the Continental methods and with the Russian school preceding and following the work of Stanislavsky. Rehearsals will be attended and conferences will be held with leading producers. Theatres to be visited include the Meyerhold Theatre, Moscow Art Theatres, Kamerny Theatre, Blue Blouse Troupes, Theatre of Social Satire in Moscow, and Ukranian National Theatre.

Folders and full particulars can be obtained from the Drama Travel League Bureau, 15 West 44th street, New York.

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART
We would like to have your orders
—for—
DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS
Canada Drug Co.
Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

JANUARY BARGAINS
NOW ON DISPLAY
DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!
We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE
Now On At
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Rack No. 1, your choice of our $4 to $6 Dresses, all sizes. Close out price $2.98
Rack No. 2. Your choice of any $19.75 dress in store for $9.95
Wrap Around Turbans 89c
Just received new spring dresses. Charge if you wish $5.95 & $9.95

Johnny: "Ben, did you know God is everywhere? He's even in this glass of milk."

Ben: "Sure, he was in this soup, but I 'et' Him up."

Things we wonder about: When daybreaks it doesn't fall, and night falls it doesn't break.

Boy in grocery store: (His voice was changing): "ONE DOZEN EGGS, one pound of coffee."

Groceryman: "Don't rush me gentlemen, get your orders in a minute."

Sunday School

Teacher: "What did God say to Moses before he went to the Promise Land?"

Small Voice: "Moses take these children to the Promise Land and I don't mean maybe."

Professor: "This book will do half your work for you."

Student: "Professor, order me two."

S. T. C. to H. S.: "You're just driving me crazy with Three Little Words."

Sweet Young Thing: "Grandmother, why did you wear so many skirts when you were a girl?"

Grandmother: "Did you ever sit on a haircloth sofa?"

He: "What time shall I come tonight?"

She: "Come after dinner."

He: "That's what I'm coming after."

College boys have the advantage on Christmas eve. Their socks are strong enough to stand up unaided in front of the fireplace.

H. S.: "Are you a white colored man?"

W. & L.: "For the first half of the morning."

"My dear—engaged to two men at once?"

"Yes—I'm trying to figure out how I can sue both of them for breach of promise."

Evelyn Stevenson: 'She sang that song in a haunting manner."

Hanna Crawley: "Yes, there was only a ghost of resemblance to the original air."

Billy Powell: "Did you know an awful lot of girls are crazy about me?"

Sam McClure: "Yes, an awful lot."

Parson: "Why do you desire to join the church?"

Rastus: "Parson, I've gotta job puttin' a mule-hide on a chicken coop and fencing a watermelon patch, and I needs strengthening."

"Did you ever take a crib to class?"

"No, but I sometimes fall asleep on the desk."

Martha Ann: "Where was the Declaration of Independence signed?"

Pupil: "At the bottom."

There's something pathetic about a horse fly sitting on the radiator or a truck."

Chinese Patient (on telephone): "Doctor, what time can you fixee teeth fo' me?"

Doctor: "Two-thirty—all right?"

Chinese: "Yes, tooth hurty me all right, but what time you fixee?"

Notice on S. T. C. Bulletin Board: Lost—A black student's notebook.

REVIEW OF LECTURE ON SCIENCE AND HUMAN NATURE

Continued from page one

the last type, but he has made much progress due to the raising of the upper level of life. The elimination of the weaker, the survival of the fittest is a scientific process by which a perfect generation will be obtained. In psychology, there is a mental continuity. Three elements are prevalent: change, uncertainty, and the substitution of naturalism for super-naturalism . The present age is transitional. There is a mental chaos. The catastrophic act is about the creation, religion and the end. To see the picture with unity, one must visualize with the scale of time—visualize history, evolution, and the stars.

As to the aspect of control, the increase of control due to science is evident. The concentration of power and the control of the future exerted over living and natural environment are tools of science aiding in the increase of control. There is a chaos caused by lack of agreement and adverse nature. Advertising against others is unscientific, and the present paradoxical situation of unemployment will only be overcome by the aid of science. Man is the highest phenomenon of which we have any knowledge, but the human mind is not really adapted to get to the bottom of things in science.

The real picture of human nature as given by science is that you get man, a fragment of stock, through the process of consciousness and realizing science and evolution, as a trustee.

GIRL SCOUT INSTRUCTORS TO GIVE COURSE HERE HELP LOCAL COUNCIL

Continued from page one

"It is becoming customary to ask the girls who wish to form troops, to select their own leaders, as they are apt to sense the qualities that make for companionable and understanding captains. These women are then trained in program and technique by members of the national staff, and equipped to assist constructively in the important task of moulding the girls of today into fine women and citizens of tomorrow."

PROMINENT LADY OF HICKVILLE GIVES PARTY

One of the most outstanding social events of the season was staged Saturday evening at Senior Sing. The student body was invited by French Hutt to a party given by Mrs. Jones of Hickville, who was none other than Elizabeth Antrim.

The guest list included all of the prominent people of the community, and when Mrs. Smith's Negro mammy, Allie, was there. The first to arrive found the orchestra tuning up, prior to the dances which were to follow. The Virginia Reel was enjoyed by the guests, after which Eloise Paulette entertained them with "The Man Clog". The next feature was a duet, 'Grandfather's Clock", rendered by Jim Simpson and Clara McAllister, followed by a solo "I'll Tell You a Tale of a Burglar Bold" by Virginia Robertson. The orchestra sang "She'll Be Coming 'Round the Mountain" and "Darling, You Can't Love But One". Dancing was enjoyed by some of the visitors, noteworthy among them being Martha Faris, the "belle" of the party.

Polly White, the new school teacher then announced that her pupils had been practicing a dance which they should like to show those present. This was a most attractive chorus given by the "boys and girls" of the school.

Refreshments, consisting of apples and suckers were served the guests, after which the party ended with the singing of the Senior Class song.

THEME OF MAY DAY IN COMPLETE FORM

Continued from page one

former's love, Amoret. Brtiomantis with her shield before her face, passes through the flames, guarding the castle. She fights the enchanter, and is about to kill him, when Amoret stops him and asks to be freed from her spell. Britomantis promised him freedom if he will unweave the spell. He does, and Britomantis and Amoret follow the sun chariot.

In the meantime Scudamore is wounded by cares, and Antegall enters and drives them away with a wedge.

When Britomantis enters, Scudamore takes her to be a man and thinking she has taken Amoret for herself, challenges her. They fight; Britomantis smotes Scudamore and lays him at her feet.

Then Britomantis and Antegall fight, and the latter's sword cleaves the former's helmet, and her hair falls over her shoulders. Antegall kneels in wonder ,and as Antegall's helmet is lifted, Britomantis recognizes the Knight of the Crystal Ball. These two plight their troth and set forth for the court of the Fairy Queen.

While there, the Fairy Queen blesses the two . They are married, and Britomantis reigns as Queen of Spring. Flowers blossom and the world awakes to joyousness as the theme song is sung.

INTERCOLLEGIATE NEWS

Dr. Will Durant, of Columbia University and the most noted lecturer to appear in this section recently, yesterday affirmed that the progress of today is real when it is examined closely. The statement was made during the course of his lecture, "Is Progress Real?" delivered before an audience of five hundred which crowded the old gymnasium of Roanoke College to its capacity.—Brackety Ack.

At the university of Hawaii, the frosh are subjected to unusual rules. The men, for instance, are required to carry at least two popular brands of cigarettes in a clean sock, with no holes, and to pass them out whenever asked. The co-eds are required to wear grass skirts and goggles, and instead of carrying cigarettes must carry candy to be dispensed on invitation (demand)—Red and Black

Women, who have invaded about every sport once claimed by men as purely masculine, have finally accomplished the unthought-of.

Long have scribes given football the honor of being one athletic contest at least wherein women should never come—but, from Lenior Rhyne College comes the news that tells us that two select female teams played a regular football game between the halves of the Bear-Quaker game—The Critograph.

Somebody started a beard-growing contest at the University of Illinois and barbers in the town offered the officials of the contest $500 to stop it. The offer was refused and Illinois men are assuming a distinctively bushy appearance.

It is too bad that the officials can't put the men in the R. O. T. C.—The Bull Dog.

The University of Arkansas has something unusual—a senior walk, first instituted in 1905. Each graduating class lays another slab in the walk, on which are engraved the names of the class roll and the class numerals in bronze. No Freshman may step on it before Thanksgiving Day—woe be unto him who violates the rule.—The Zero Echo.

NEW STORE TO OPEN

The Sophomores wish to announce that within the next three weeks "The Crossroads Store" will be open to the public, offering a complete line of laughs, love-scenes, wise-cracks, peppy dances, snappy songs, and all the other features that go to make up an evening of real entertainment. Watch for the date!

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Feb. 2 to 7

MON. and TUES.—"Just Imagine" with El Brendel, Maurine O'Sullivan, Marjorie White, John Garrick, Frank Albertson and a host of other entertainers . Nothing like this has ever been screend before. Stretch your imagination to the limit, then multiply it by ten, and you will have a faint idea of the endless wonders brought to you in this wonderful proudction, which depicts these, those and thems in 1980. You'll be astonished at the fashions, romance, marriage; for instance, no backs in the girls' dresses, pills instead of meals, buildings 250 stories high. A tuneful comedy riot for everybody. Big song hits, wonderful dance numbers, El Brendel at his best. Don't miss the treat of the season. Also comedy, "Bulls and Bears."

WEDNESDAY—Buck Jones in "Men Without Law." Here are thrills galore and a love romance. Plenty of action and a good, clean picture for the old folks as well as the kiddies. Buck meets and falls in love with a beautiful Mexican girl on a train but does not learn her identity. Arrived home, he learns that his young brother has turned mad man. From then on there is nothing but action, thrills and romance until the final happy ending. Also Dogville Comedy, "Hot Dog."

"The Indians Are Coming," chapter 9. More exciting with each episode. The story of a fighting hero who knows no fear, and that of his beautiful sweetheart.

THURS. and FRI.—Marion Davies in "The Bachelor Father," supported by Ralph Forbes and David Torrence. This Belasco stage triumph crashes through with a load of laughs. Her daddy was a bachelor, and she won her way into his heart. According to preview critics, this is Miss Davies' funniest talkie and is hailed as her best performance to date, establishing new high levels in humor and hilarity. The picture has been filmed with abundant production values, and Miss Davies' costumes and ensembles are bound to interest the feminine audiences. Don't miss the most talked about picture of the year. Also Charley Chase in "Thundering Tenors."

SATURDAY—Charles Farrell in "The Princess and the Plumber," with Maurine O'Sullivan, H. B. Warner and Joseph Cawthorn. Just suppose you were a lonesome little princess and the man you believed to be a duke turned out to be an American plumbing engineer. Or if you were the engineer and met what you thought was a charming little peasant girl only to discover that she was real princess after all—what would you do about it? If you like Charles Farrell, you will enjoy every minute of this romantic comedy of today. And there is Joe Cawthorn, favorite musical comedy comedian, up to his old tricks and a lot of new ones. As added attraction there is the Fox News and a Boy Friend comedy, "High Gear."

One show each night, at 8 o'clock. Doors open 7:30; daily matinees at 4 p. m.

Each boy and girl attending Saturday matinee will receive free a Mysto Magic trick.

Admission, adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS

Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN

Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments

GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best

SANDWICHES

—and—

DRINKS

—in—

FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store

Farmville, Va.

"Drugs and Drinks"

DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES

WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP

AND LEATHER USED

RED AND WHITE FOREVER

ROTUNDA

"WORK OUR MOTTO SUCCESS OUR AIM"

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1931 No. 17

Hampden - Sydney Glee Club Formed

Will Appear in Choral Club Concert With Mr. Charles Trowbridge Tittman

MR. A H. STRICK IS DIRECTOR

In some form or other there has existed on the Hampden-Sydney campus, from time to time, an organization of singers, usually a quartette. The need of an organized Glee Club at Hampden-Sydney has been a long-felt one. There is scarcely a college in the country which does not possess one, and several of the more musically inclined of the student body saw no reason why Hampden-Sydney should not present the same opportunity to its singers.

The result was the formation of a double quartette with the intention of increasing the size of it to a regular glee club next year. However, a phenomenal interest was shown in the organization, and over 30 men tried out for positions. It was decided by the leaders to limit the number this year until its status was firmly established. There are approximately 20 men in the group at present—(The Hampden-Sydney Tiger.)

The Hampden-Sydney Glee Club, under the directorship of Mr. Alfred H. Strick, head of the music department at S. T. C., will make its debut at the Choral Club Concert on February 23.

This concert bids fair to be one of the biggest events of the school year. Not only will the Glee Club and the Choral Club present attractive numbers, but there is a rare treat in store

Continued on page three

Musical Program Given in Chapel

A delightful musical program followed the devotional service led by Dr. Frederick Diehl at chapel last Saturday. Dr Strick, in introducing the musicians, Dr. James Grainger and James Grainger, Jr., said of the Graingers' attitude toward art, "Art does not belong to the artists but to the community." The Graingers gave an intricate flute duet. After Dr. Grainger had made some interesting comments on the life of Lanier,. America's greatest flutist, James Grainger interpreted Sidney Lanier's "Melody". This is especially interesting to us because the only copies of the melody are printed in Miss Jennie Tabb's book, "Father Tabb."

These selections were followed by "Mother Machree" and "Sunshine of Your Smiles" sung by Mr. A. E. Cralle Jr.

We were pleasantly surprised when Dr. Jarman stated that he wished to sing for us. As the applause subsided he gave the name of his selection, "The Old Song of the Student Building." He concisely told us the history of the student building. 20 years ago the desire for a student building was abandoned. Several years ago a plan for a new gym was advanced which readily grew into our four-story, well-equipped building. Dr. Jarman reminded us that there still remains a debt of $28,000 which must be eliminated by our contributions. Our president feels that a hint to the wise is sufficient, Is there ned for me to say more?

MISS MARY FRANCES HATCHETT

DEDICATION

With love and gratitude for the service and guidance rendered us by our Captain, Miss Hatchett, we, the Freshman Class, dedicate to her this issue of the Rotunda

Alpha Phi Sigma Bids New Members

The Delta Chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma wishes to announce the following new members to the novice degree:

Haynie Street Allen, Frances Armentrout, Margaret Armstrong, Mabel Barksdale, Verna May Barr, LLaverna Bayne, Theodocia Beacham Jane Beale, Madge Blalock, Jane Brown, Henrietta Cornwell, Lois Cox, Lorene Cox, Frances Crawford, Gwen Daniel, Mildred DeHart, Mary Diehl, Pattie Ellison, Margaret Faris, Martha Faris, Ruth Floyd, Medora Ford, Ruth Ford, Margaret Gathright, Mary Lee Godwin, Hazel Holladay, Natalie Holladay, Charlotte Hutchins, Adele Hutchinson, Ann Johnson, Isabel Jones, Barbara Kester, Martha Ann Laing, Cassandra Laird, Dorothy Leonard, Clara McAllister, Margie McManus, Lillian Minckle, Florence Moore, Martha Moore, Elizabeth Morris, Virginia Neblett, Eleanor Owens, Mary Stuart Quaintance, Florence Reed, Alice Ribble, Dorothy Ritchie, Virginia Robertson, Cora Lee

Continued on page three

DR. KEPNER FROM U. OF VA. TO LECTURE HERE

Dr. Kepner of the University of Virginia, will give a lecture here on Thursday, Feb. 5 at 8 o'clock in the Little Auditorium. Dr. Kepner is here under auspices of Biology department.

FRESHMAN STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Mary Diehl
Associate Editor, Elizabeth Burger
Literary Editor .... Mary Shelton
News Editor ..... Margaret Banks
World News ..... Myra McIntosh
Feature Editor .... Martha Brothers
Feature Editor .... Sarah Saunders
Athletic Editor ..... Martha Kello
Humor Editor ..... Helen Warren
Social Editor .... Dorothy Leonard
Art Editor ..... Gertrude Sugden
Intercollegiate Ed. ..... Julia Faris

Reporters

Clara McKenzie Betty Watts
Margaret Parker Martha Higgins
Catherine Jones Dorine Smith
Proof Reader .... Virginia Brinkley
Asst. Proof Reader. Nell Dickinson

Managers

Circulation ..... Sarah Ford
Assistant ..... Betsy Wilkerson

Debaters Leave For N. Carolina

Mabel Barksdale and Elizabeth (Rip) Johnson, members of the varsity debating team, will leave S. T. C. Thursday morning, February 5, for North Carolina where they will debate against the teams of Wake Forest College, Wake Forest, N. C., and North Carolina State College, Raleigh, N. C. They will meet the Wake Forest team Thursday night and will go to Raleigh Friday morning where they will meet the North Carolina State team.

The subject for debate is: "Resolved, that there should be free trade among nations." Mabel and "Rip" will uphold the affirmative side of the question. They will be accompanied by Miss Potts and Mr. Holton, returning to Farmville, Saturday, February 7.

Mabel and "Rip" were members of the team last year and proved their worth in winning the final debate, as it is hoped will be the case this year.

Freshman Class Party a Big Success

Recreation Hall Draped With Red and White, Freshman Class Colors

MANY STARS PRESENT AT FETE

The Fancy Dress Ball at Washington and Lee has nothing on the Freshman Class party which was given Friday night, January 30. The guests assembled in the "rec" as the bell tolled ten o'clock. They immediately sought partners to dance to the jazzy rhythm of the Freshman Class orchestra, which was on the platform amid decorations of red and white.

Within a few minutes after ten o'clock the entire recreation hall resembled cinema land as each guest was to dress like a movie actor or actress. The movie stars were so well impersonated that it took much thought and deep consideration on the part of the judges to decide to whom the prize should be awarded. After due consideration the judges decided upon Louise Philips who dressed as Marie Dressler. Others who competed in this contest were: "Chub" Denit as Greta Garbo, Mary Shelton as Nils Astor, Nell Dickinson as Charlie Chaplin, Sallie Russell as Mae Murray, Louise Borum as Anna May Wong, Virginia Ann Huntsberry as Ann Harding, Nannie Gilbert and Mary Diehl who each dressed like Kay Francis, Alice Marshall came as Maureen O'Sullivan, Maxine Kitts as Dorothy Mackaill, Gertrude Sugden as Constance Bennett, Fannie Mae Colonna as Farina, Mary Arthur Billups as Mitzi Green, Sue Yeaman as Dolores Del Rio, Elizabeth March as

Continued on page three

Interesting Talk Given on Nature

Mr. Brayton Eddy's talk on "Nature Study" was one of the most interesting lyceum numbers of the season. The insects, which our speaker took for his topic, were almost to line, in our minds.

"Insects are as human as man." This is one thought which he left with us. Possibly there was room for argument before Mr. Eddy so conclusively proved that they are human, and not only human, but have even more endurance than man.

Another suggestion which would decidedly be of benefit to our contry was that insects be placed where they are most needed, that is, where there are harmful insects. Ones of positive economic value should be taken from another part of the country and shipped to the infested community. You ask why? Because by so doing we rid the community of harmful insects and retain the ones which will be of so much value.

We thank you for this suggestion, Mr. Eddy. Possibly one of our Zoology students will be instrumental in carrying the plan through. We hope so.

His charming personality and rare quips were thoroughly enjoyed by all who heard Mr. Eddy. His audience was regaled by his funny stories, and at the same time was made to see the seriousness of the problems being laid before it.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31

Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Miss Hatchett, A Red and White

The Freshmen love the Red and White because to them it means a symbol of beauty, truth, and honesty. It is a privilege to be a Red and White, yet it carries with it responsibilities, grave responsibilities, in fact. Those Red and Whites who for years have held the torch of true sportsmanship on high did not pass on in vain. They left us as heirs to a great heritage. There comes to the Freshman's mind a hero of the Red and White, one who made the red, redder, and the white purer. It is she who inspires us ever onward. It is she who makes "work our motto, success our aim." So it should not be surprising to every upper-classman that the Freshmen hold these colors on high the best they know how. And, as we carry the torch forward may those Red and Whites who have made the colors, be proud of us, because of what we do.

Does Our Class Man Rate?

Please talk to a Freshman on that subject. Our acquaintance with our class man gives us very convincing arguments.

Miss Hatchett has shown us from the start that we have wisely chosen our adviser. And we hope that our presentation has shown you that we feel we have chosen wisely, too. We have appointed Miss Hatchett to be Rear Admiral of the Freshman Navy. Does an admiral rate? Miss Hatchett, let me thank you in behalf of the Class for your loyalty and "Freshman Spirit!"

OVER THE TEACUPS

My lands, Parker, but I'm glad you are back! Yes, I know you had a gorgeous time, but really you missed a treat—our Freshman Party. Don't ever "stick your neck out" about Fancy Dress, 'cause we had one, too. And lollys—well, we had so many that Louise and I both dreamed of them that night. As I was saying, however, you should have seen "Chub" Denit. She really looked precious with such a perfect widow's peak. You know she was impersonating Greta; not bad, eh? I heard that some girl was flirting with and was about to fall for "Nils Astor" when, lo and behold, she found out that it was none other than Mary Shelton. Can you stand that? I thought I was going to split laughting at "Marie Dressler." Really, Louise Phillips deserved her prize. It was plenty hard to decide, however, between her and "Charlie Chaplin", in other words, Nell Dickinson.

And by the way, you should have heard our orchestra. Margaret Eley is the leader, and they are hot stuff! Aunt Lucy was there enjoying lollys and wanting to know "when dis party gwine to break up?"

But now I'll hush; so you can tell me about your big time, 'cause I'm just dying to hear Jacque Lee "looked like a lily" in her Russian peasant costume and how about "Chic" Mosby? Did you see anybody that knew me? No, well I am grieved to tears. I think you might have said "yes" just to make me feel good. Did Rene Greeves ever get all of her clothes together? I'll bet she made a darling little girl.

The school seemed deserted this week-end. I think everybody went to Fancy Dress. By the way, when is "Stump" Bryan going to get back? I certainly do miss her flying in and out of the room, don't you?

Changing the subject, I certainly did hate to see Miss Bedford leave; however, I know I shall like Miss Rhodes. Miss Bedford certainly had a mob of dogs around her before she left. Some of them were perfectly darling. I can't say much for mine, but I love him just the same. His head is awfully warbly, and I don't see why it should be, 'cause I worked my head off on it.

I never was so lonesome as this week-end. Just think, Logan and Lelia went home after you left and so did Cottie and Sara. Oh, well, "every ——— has his day;" maybe mine will be coming soon.

Gosh, but do I hate to go to psychology class tomorrow? No, not much! We are going to get our test papers back, and I guess I flunked it—(as usual). You can laugh, but it doesn't seem a bit funny to me.

I think you and Alice Hardaway ro?mligfLaa-rwoul....fi,olb.Pa are plenty lucky. Gosh, I would be sitting there right now if it had been I.

Here, don't you want another one of these nougats? You are a dear to bring them to me, and believe me, I am enjoying them.

WHAT HAPPENED THREE YEARS AGO TODAY

The Juniors edited this issue of the Rotunda and dedicated it to the Spirit of Sister Classes.

• • •

Freshmen won a basketball game from the College High School. The score was 16 to 15.

• • •

The Pi Kappa Gamma, Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho, and Virginia Gamma Mu, honorary sororities announced their new members.

• • •

Miss Sue Hastings and her company brought her marionettes to S. T. C.

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

I hear that Mary Trimyer spent the week-end in Norfolk. I wonder what the attraction is since Raleigh appeared on the map?

The Freshman Orchestra is certainly rising in this world. This reminds me that Eley is doing her stuff.

"Charlie Chaplin" was swell the other night, but it would have been much more natural if we had heard "Banana and nut sandwiches—five cents!"

We all agree that Mary Shelton is not a "prig" even though she can't say anything nice about anyone except Mary Shelton.

I heard that "Cov" was awfully worried about getting a costume; I don't see why; 'cause she would look good in anything.

Guess what, Harriett Moomaw was selling ten cent sandwiches for a nickel the other night—well I had rather have had a Clark Bar!

Jenilee Knight is cultivating that Washington and Lee Swing.

So many people are wondering why so many boys flunked at Hampden-Sydney! I wonder why?—

The more I see of Frances Parker, the crazier I get about her, and the more I see of Martha Moore, the sweeter I think her to be.

A PEEP INTO A DOLL SHOP

Dolls!Dolls! and what an array of them. We were all carried back to the days of our childhood Saturday night when we were taken to the scene of a doll shop.

The proprietress of the shop, Martha Anne Laing, welcomed a customer, Virginia Robertson, with her two children, Sister, Jessie Smith, who was dressed in a dainty little pink organdy dress with a bow of pink ribbon on her hair, and Brother, Jane Brown, who wore blue checked rompers and a saucy little cap perched upon his head. After they had been seated she displayed her dolls before them.

The first ones that the children wanted to see were the old-fashioned dolls, or the sissy dolls as Brother called them. The Rowell twins who were the girl dolls, were dressed in fussy white organdy dresses while the boys, Nannie Gilbert and Mutt Armstrong wore costumes typical of the Colonial days. When Miss Laing wound them up they all swung into the minuet.

The next doll displayed was a Japanese one, Sue Yeaman, who sang "The Japanese Sandman."

The flapper doll—the one with the cigarette—Toodles Booth, who was robed in lounging pajamas, then captivated the children's attention. Upon being wound up she also danced for them.

Of course, Brother wanted to see the soldiers, Gloria Mann and Dot Prescott, who marched up and down and saluted them.

The French Dolls, Mary Shelton and Martha Sanders danced the Apache. Gee! but they weren't "sissy". They were too rough to suit little Sister's taste.

No doll shop is quite complete without a rag doll, so the next doll to perform was, Delia Grant, who recited "I've Never Told a Lie."

And lastly the proprietress showed them her Irish doll, Adele Hutchinson who danced a snappy little Irish jig.

Alas, it was time for the children to make their choice. They wanted them all, but finally having been made to realize that they could only have one, Sister chose the flapper doll and; of course, little Brother had to have his soldiers.

THINGS I LOVE

I love the sunset and evening glow,
The solitude of the hills—a whispering pine—
The romance of a winding trail at dusk
The stilled river where silver stars may shine.

Shadows of clouds that quickly pass
Leaving bits of the rainbow's hue
Dancing flames, dying embers—these I love—
The things that make me think of you.

E. B.

BE YOURSELF

We like to think we're charming,
That we've honesty plus, and tact,
But when motives we examine,
We're surprised at how we act.
Concerts worthwhile we adore—
We're so poetically gifted!
Though listening is out of the question,
We must try to look up'lifted.
Successes that we have achieved
Grow larger in imagination.
We're not calmly heroic in real life—
Only in conversation.
How hard we try to misbehave
Because we think we should,
For if we don't, perhaps someone
Will think we're sweet and good.
Ourselves we leave at home somewhere,
We're someone else all day,
Speaking and acting a certain part.
Like someone in a play.

La. V. T.

I'LL GO ON AND CONQUER

When problems seem hard and all up hill
And things go wrong as they sometimes will.
We should smile, stand firm, work hard, and say,
"I'll go on and conquer—come what may,'"
When things look dark and friends forsake
And sorrow the joy out of life does take,
We should smile, stand firm, work hard, and say,
"I'll go on and conquer—come what may."
When disappointment mounts 'till it's high o'er head
And trouble and griefs made the heart like lead,
We should smile, stand firm, work hard, and say,
"I'll go on and conquer—come what may."

S. H. T.

A CLOCK

Tick! Tock! slowly ticking away
The hours, one by one, the old clock
Stands upon the mantel, as the flock
Of youngsters come and go each day,
Unmindful of the pitfalls that lay
In wait for them: But why shock
Youth with warnings; so the clock
Ticks on slowly, solemnly, for aye.
Hear Boy! Hear Girl! Can it be
That ne'er a thought you give
To the hours, as they pass, leisurely?
To some, each second makes them free
To others, it means less to live;
For us all: the grave: eternity.

V. S. L.

FIRE

Fire is a demon
With long red fingers—
Snatching, grasping,
Groping up the chimney.

Fire is a dreamer
In a thin blue cloak—
Languid, listless,
Stirring our emotions.

E. S. S.

Social

The following girls attended the Washington and Lee dance at Lexington this week-end.

Medora Ford
Verena Greaves
Jacque Lee
Corinne Mosby
Loulie Millner
Vernie Oden
Virginia Sargent
Alice Covington
Clara McKenzie
Margaret Parker
Jenilee Knight

Margaret Banks spent the week-end at her home in Orange

Lelia Lovelace was at home for the week-end at Halifax

As a guest at S. T. C., Martha G. Davis spent the week-end with her sister, Ann Davis.

Nancy Harrison, Virginia Hamilton, Virginia Lamb, and Dorothy Ritchie of Petersburg spent the week- end at their homes.

Gazelle Ware spent this week-end in Richmond with friends.

Virginia Witt spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Helen Warren was in Norfolk for the week-end.

Ann Davis and Kitty McIntyre went to Richmond Saturday to spend the day.

Pattie Ellison spent the week-end in Richmond.

Virginia Marchant visited in Richmond this week-end.

Dorothy Woolwine spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Because of her father's illness Mary Trymer was called home this week-end.

Martha Walters spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

Missie Bernier visited in Richmond this week-end.

Many parties were given recently for Miss Bedford who left us Sunday. Miss Potts was hostess at a farewell tea in her honor at Longwood on Friday. This delightful party was enjoyed by all.

The Junior Class entertained iMss Bedford with a fireside pajama party. Several dinner parties and luncheons were given in Miss Bedford's honor in the last week.

Margaretta Brady spent this week-end in Richmond.

Betty Watts visited in Richmond this week-end.

Catherine Marchant was in Richmond this week-end.

Virginia Bryan attended dances in Roanoke this week-end.

Miss Jenny Tabb spent Sunday at her home town, Amelia.

Margaret Priest was at her home in Norfolk this week-end.

Cottie Willis spent the week-end in Norfolk.

The Pi Kappa Sigma Sorority wishes to announce as a new member Alice Marshall of Newport News, Va.

PALETTE ENTERTAINS

The Palette Club entertained on Thursday night, January 29 in the tea room of S. T. C. in honor of Miss Bedford, their adviser, who is going to attend Columbia University. A lovely parting gift was given to Miss Bedford in appreciation of her helpful interest. Besides the members of the Palette Club, Miss Coulling and Miss Bedford's sister were present.

HAMPDEN-SYDNEY GLEE CLUB FORMED

Continued from page one

for music lovers in the program to be rendered by Mr. Charles Trowbridge Tittmann. It is not often that Farmville can secure such a distinguished artist, and only through his personal friendship with Mr. Strick was it possible to engage him for this concert.

In addition to its appearance in concert with the Choral Club February 23, the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club will broadcast a program with the Choral Club over Station WRVA in Richmond on the evening of March 2.

EXTRACTS FROM A DIARY OF A FRESHMAN

September 23.—

This is about the largest place I have ever seen. I'll never find my way around. I felt about as big as a minute, in spite of my five feet, six inches, when I nonchalantly strolled into the Rotunda this morning, striving hard to keep a stiff upper lip. It reminded me of a subway jam, only it was worse. I felt as if I was the only one who wasn't getting a bear hug, but finally I spied the triangle in the corner and edged myself that way . How glad I was for the welcome and greeting of those white-clad Y. W. girls! They looked like angels to me, and one of them proved to be, for she took me under her wing. She flew with me through all the red tape, landing me safely here in my room. It all seems so strange, but I know I'm going to like it.

October 20.—

You should see me in my rat cap. I got it last night at Freshman initiation. That word sounds entirely too severe for the peppy time we had. There were songs, cheers, and a snake dance. This is the beginning of rat week.

October 22.—

I look like a tramp and an orphan combined with my black cotton stockings and tennis shoes. I've learned truly humble obedience after bowing and bowing, and then bowing again, to all the upperclassmen. I was busy making beds and cleaning rooms all morning. The Sophomores are getting a lot of fun out of this, but we are, too, though they don't know it. Tonight I sang to Alice Moore. My theme song was the laundry list to the tune of "I'm Dancing With Tears In My Eyes"—her selection, not mine. She didn't request one encore—I wonder why?

October 25.—

At 6:30 tonight the auditorium stage was the scene of a court room. We uppish rats were put on severe trial by the Sophomores. Our punishments varied from debating to squirming on the floor like worms.

October 29.—

I feel like jumping up and cracking my heels with joy, for Miss Mary Frances Hatchett is our classman. She just graduated last year and knows about our problems and how to solve them.

November 8.—

The circus has come to town! It runs a close second to Barnum's in my estimation. I've never seen so much cleverness and originality combined at one time in so many different acts. They were all wonderful.

November 27—Thanksgiving Day.—

The much heard of and longed for day has come and gone, and I'm going to bed now a tired but happy rat. The Sophomores beat us in hockey after a long, hard fought battle, but that didn't dampen our spirits, and we enjoyed the day from our early start at six with its color rush till the 10:30 bell tonight. Such food as we did have in the dining room today! I felt like Mrs. Astor devouring that turkey. Thanksgiving was certainly never overrated to me—can't wait for another one!

January 17.—

We were proud Freshmen this morning when we presented Miss Hatchett, our classman. We formed a letter H first and then she and Dot came sailing down the aisle in a ship steered by four worthy sailors. Thanks to Martha Kello and Nell Stokes, we had two splendid songs.

February 3.—

Now we Freshmen are making plans for Founders' Day—another important day to which we are looking forward. All our sojourn at Farmville has been wonderful—filled with hard work and fun—an excellent combination. I can't realize that we have been here four months, and that in five more we will be Sophomores!

Mary Shelton

OUR PRESIDENT

Miss Dorothy Leonard

FRESHMAN CLASS PARTY A BIG SUCCESS

Continued from page one

Bessie Love, Mosel Falls as Clara Bow, Clara Giles as Madame Queen and Missie Bernier as Andy.

The guests enjoyed the "Get Acquainted" game which was played as the orchestra rendered a few popular numbers. The dancing contest was quite interesting as a prize was awarded to the best dancers who were Mary Shelton and Nannie Gilbert. All the guests took part on the apple relay in which each had to walk a certain distance with an apple balanced upon her head. The side which won received all the apples.

Lollies were served at intervals throughout the entire party and as the hands of the clock approached eleven, the guests departed to the strains of "Home Sweet Home" which was played by the orchestra.

DR. D. B. HARMON IS HONOR GUEST HERE

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu feels extremely fortunate in having as its guest today Dr. D. B. Harmon of New York.

Dr. Harmon is national secretary of Pi Gamma Mu, professor of education in New York University, director of research work in education, Ph. D., in business and administration. Not only is Dr. Harmon a leading figure in this work, but he is a licensed air pilot in the United States service and is a specialist in advertising.

Dr. Harmon will be the guest of honor tonight at the Pi Gamma Mu banquet at Longwood.

RAT HALL OF FAME

Freshest	Nell Dickinson
Typical Freshman	Martha Kello
Biggest Bluffer	Betsy Wilkerson
Biggest Gossip	Sarah Ford
Biggest Flirt	Virginia Lamb
Wittiest	Margaret Banks
Most Popular	Dorothy Leonard
Best-all-around	Margaret Parker
Most Versatile	Mary Diehl
Most Athletic	Elizabeth Burger
Most Intellectual	Virginia Brinkley
Most Studious	Alice and Grace
Best Dancer	Clara Giles
Most Stylish	Virginia Ann Huntsbury
Most Attractive,	Frances Rawlings
Prettiest	Nancy Harrison
Cutest	Ann McGann

ALPHA PHI SIGMA BIDS NEW MEMBERS

Continued from page one

Ross, Jane Royall, Martha Sanders, Martha von Schilling, Katherine Schroeder, Evelyn Shaw, Mildred Shelton, Jessie Smith, Mildred Steere, Mary Trimyer, Elizabeth Walthall, Gazelle Ware, Imogene West, Anne Woodson.

To the apprentice degree:

Frances Armistead, Mary Ellen Cato, Susie Floyd, Elea...or Davis, Alma Garlick, Beatrice Goode, Winifred Howell, Katherine McAllister, Mildred Maddrey, Frances Martin, Anne Rice, Easter Souders, Evelyn West, Anne Wingo, Lillian Womack, Louise Woodson, Grace Virginia Woodhouse.

To the masters degree:

Mary Derieux, Mary Elizabeth Mayo, Gay Richardson, Elizabeth Taylor and Juanita Williams.

RICH MAN TRAVELS AS POOR TO GAIN SUCCESS

Albert Spalding, about twenty years ago decided that it was a handicap to be the son of a man so rich as James Spalding. First concerts never pay for themselves. All young musicians start out with patrons. But poor boys, even though patronized, succeed far better than rich ones in capturing popular imagination. Albert Spalding's debut was received with a certain suspicion. Father Spalding suggested that he start barn-storming, play in small towns for fees. Albert traveled through Russia at the age of 22, traveling second and third class, playing one-night stands. His manager was a shyster and pocketed all the receipts. But Spalding made a name for himself, lived down his comfortable background..

Today no United States musician has greater honor in his own country and in Europe than Violinist Spalding.

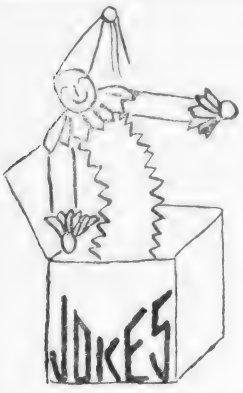
The staff wishes to thank Alice and Grace Rowell, Alice Marshall, and Grace Bernier for their help and cooperation.

Intercollegiate

In a recent Grantland Rice "Sportlight" at the New Theatre, a group of people sang the Washington and Lee Swing, only they didn't sing the Washington and Lee words but the words substituted by some school out in Colorado. This was a violation of the copyright. Other schools use the Swing and get as much or more advertising from it as Washington and Lee. The Swing has probably been the best advertising medium the University has ever had. It is constantly being used by other schools and the copyright violated. It is about time that something be done about it. The Swing is the Washington and Lee song and we should endeavor to keep it so and keep other schools from using it for their benefit.

The Geographical Redbirds, of the Normal University, Illinois, announce their 1931 flight. They will study eastern United States and Southern Canada. This tour is open to all students who have completed at least one year of college or normal school work, or who have had considerable teaching experience. Two major credits will be given in geography for the completion of this field study and of a field note-book.

Freshmen students of the Northern State Teachers College scored unusually high in arithmetic tests given at the first of the year, according to Dr. W. R. Van Waliker, student counselor. As a basis of judgment the findings of Dr. J. A. Dreshel in administering the Curtis arithmetic tests to one hundred students at the Harris Teachers College, St. Louis, were used. Only six out of the one hundred students to take the test under Dr. Dreshel reached or surpassed the eighth grade standard.



Over 72 per cent, or 247 out of 343 freshmen, reached the standard at Northern in 1930. Dr. Van Walker used the Otis arithmetic tests. Similar results were obtained in 1929 when 300 out of 365 freshmen reached or surpassed the eighth grade standard in the opening tests.

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART
We would like to have your orders
—for—
DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS
Canada Drug Co.
Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

JANUARY BARGAINS
NOW ON DISPLAY
DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!
We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE
Now On At
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Rack No. 1, your choice of our $4 to $6 Dresses, all sizes. Close out price $2.98
Rack No. 2. Your choice of any $19.75 dress in store for $9.95
Wrap Around Turbans 89c
Just received new spring dresses. Charge if you wish $5.95 & $9.95

He (on telephone): "Hello, darling, would you like to have dinner with me, tonight?"

She: "I'd love it, dear."

He: "Well, tell your mother I'll be over at seven o'clock."

Good Thought for Today: All that I wear, and all that I hope to wear, I owe to my roommate.

A Good Ad? or a Good Recommendation?

My dear Miss Purdom,

I have been playing your drums for five months, and I find them hard to beat. Yours truly,

Margaret Banks

Customer: "Last week I bought a tire cover from you, and now I want my money back."

Clerk: "Why?"

Customer: "I put it on one of my tires and hadn't gone ten miles before the blamed thing wore out."

The bird who wrote this song about dancing with tears in his eyes probably was wearing a size seven shoe on a size eight foot, with corns.

Then there's our pal Joe, who makes lots of time with women. They're his co-workers in a watch factory.

Flo: "What's love?"

Louise: "Love is a feeling that you get when you feel that you're going to have a feeling which you've never had before."

"The more the merrier," said the New Year Ned, as he gulped down his fifth.

At last we've found the most unhappy man in the world,—a seasick traveler with lockjaw.

She: "I've had three husbands, and all of them were named William."

He: "Gee, you're a clever Bill collector."

"Pardon me sir, for walking on your feet."

"That's all right, I walk on them myself."

Friend (to dressmaker): "How's business?"

Dressmaker: "Sew, sew."

A: "Bill calls his girl 'Spearmint'."

B: "Why, is she Wrigley?"

A: "No, always after meals."

"What was that riot at the movies last night?"

"There was a delegation from the Pepsodent Company, and they all started shouting, 'Remove that film'."

M. S.: 'I want some cigarettes for my girl."

Clerk: "Fatima?"

H. S.: "No, Missey."

French Magistrate: "You are charged with soliciting, mademoiselle."

Mlle: "Yes, your honor."

Magistrate: "I sentence you to ten days in the Bastille."

Mlle: "Yes, your honor."

Magistrate: "Have you any requests?"

Mlle: "Yes, your honor. Will you subscribe to the Ladies Home Journal?"

IDEALS AT S. T. C.

An ideal Freshman is a girl with:
Hair like Dot Leonard
Eyes like Norma Franklin
Nose like Julia Farr
Hands like Helen Warren
Feet like Maxine Kitts
Disposition like Margaret Banks
Pep like "Chub" Dean
Sweetness like Dot Prescott
Dignity like "Libby" Kelley
Class spirit like Sara Ford
Initiative like Mary Diehl
Willingness like Martha Kello
Originality like Sue Yeaman
Cuteness like Margaret Eley
Attractiveness like Frances Rawlings.
Brilliance like Mary B. Nelson
Studiousness like the Rowell Twins
Musical ability like Dorine Smith
An ideal Sophomore is a girl with.
Hair like Jenilee Knight
Eyes like Helen Cover
Nose like Medora Ford
Hands like Catherine Royster
Feet like Ruth Ford
Executive ability like Annie Johnson
Disposition like Alice Moore
Friendliness like Gazelle Ware
Versatility like Patty Ellison
An ideal Junior is a girl with:
Hair like Frances Ratcliffe
Eyes like Ruby Hunt
Nose like Retta Hardy
Mouth like Charlotte Hutchins
Hands like Evelyn Stevenson
Feet like A. J. Scott
Sweetness like Ruth Hunt
Smile like Nancy DeBerry
Business ability like Henrietta Cornwell
Individuality like Virginia Lowe
Fellowship like Grace Virginia Woodhouse
Pep like Martha Walters
Athletic ability like Cleo Quisenberry
An ideal Senior is a girl with:
Hair like Martha A. Laing
Eyes like Evelyn Simpson
Nose like Alma Garlick
Mouth like Jane Grey Irby
Hands like Elizabeth Taylor
Executive ability like Virginia Robertson.
Sweetness like Sue Moomaw
Style like Elizabeth Antrim
Athletic ability like Laura Smith
Cuteness like the Faris twins
Ingenuity like Ella Carroll
Daintiness like Ella Carroll
Magnetic personality like Adele Hutchinson
Purity like Mary Ellen Cato
Charm like Alice Covington
Thoroughness of purpose like Rena Robertson
Willingness to help like Jessie Smith.

FRESHMAN ALPHABET

A—is for Armstrong who so cleverly debates
B—is for Banks who no one would hate
C—is for Cunningham so good and kind
D—is for Denit, we all think is fine
E—is for Eley who can't be beat
F—is for Foster who does nothing but eat
G—is for Gwaltney much good has she done
H—is for Harrison who loves plenty of fun
I—is for Inge the only I in class
J—is for Jones who can master any task
K—is for Kitts a light haired girl
L—is for Leonard who has beautiful curls
M—is for McGann who deserves much praise
N—is for Nelson with those attractive ways
O—is for Ogburn who knows no defeat
P—is for Parker with her sweet,
Q—is for Quarles with her sweet, quiet way
R—is for Rowells who study all day
S—is for Smith, a friend we all need
T—is for Traylor a dancer indeed
V—is for Van Lear who observes all the rules
W—is for Watts, the sweetest girl in school
Y—is for Yeaman who always does her best
Z—is for zeal all Freshmen possess!

Freshman Squad

Pictured in the front row, G. Dunbar, M. Fraser, A. Yeaman, E. Burger, M. B. Fraser. Others who come out: A. Foster, N. Dickinson, G. Boggs, N. Smith, E. Holland, N. Cooper, G. Pratt, C. S.[illegible]

C. H. S. CLOSES A SUCCESSFUL SEASON

College High School defeated Kenbridge 31 to 20 January 30 in its last game of the season.

"Cleo" should be congratulated for her wonderful work with the team as it has not lost a game this season.

TWO NEW COURSES TO BE OFFERED AT R. M.

A sum totaling $2,000 was left to Randolph-Macon College as a loan fund for students studying for the ministry, by George Franklin Vose, prominent Richmond Methodist layman, who died there last December 25. The sum is to be known as "The Vose Memorial Loan Fund."

Mr. Vose, the donor, was not a Randolph-Macon alumnus, and a member of Centenary Methodist Church, to which he bequeathed $2,500. Mr. Vose, who left an estate valued at over $87,000, also left sums to seven other charitable and religious institutions. Among the institutions were the Salvation Army, the Virginia Methodist Home, and the Children's Home Society of Virginia.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Feb'y. 9-14

MONDAY and TUES.—Will Rogers in "Lightnin'." Everybody's friend! That's Will Rogers, and he'll be here to entertain you in his latest comedy-drama, which is said to surpass his two previous talkie hits, "They Had to See Paris" and "So This Is London." Adapted from the successful stage play, "Lightnin'" has plenty of laughs and stirring drama combined with sparkling wit in which Rogers gives the low-down and inside on Reno and divorce. He has a great cast with him. So be sure to be on hand when "Lightnin'" strikes. Also two-reel comedy.

WEDNESDAY—George O'Brien in "Fair Warning." With his horse and his dog, this Adam of the Western plains went his way, fearing nothing, asking no favors of life. Then along comes a modern Eve, to teach him that a horse and a dog and a gun may bring a man contentment, but not happiness. Love is like that. The ace of Western stars in a thrill packed, fight-filled outdoor drama.

"The Indians Are Coming." This great, thrilling serial is drawing to a close and excitement is at fever pitch as hero outwits villain and Indians in protecting the girl of his heart. Also Silly Symphony and a great Dogville comedy, "The Big Dog House." A great show for old and young.

THURSDAY—"The Boudoir Diplomat," with Betty Compson, Mary Duncan, Jeannette Loff and Ian Keith. Here is the screen's finest production in the realm of sophisticated comedy. It is the ultimate in daring and smartness and presents a cast that keeps you chuckling and squirming with pleasure. It deals with a number of persons in the diplomatic service and follows the involved love affairs of a philandering bachelor. There were Gretna and Mona and Helene—and he loved them all—differently. He served his nation by making love to its most beautiful women. Here are lessons in love by the world's greatest lover. Too good to miss. Also two-reel All Color Comedy.

FRIDAY and SAT.—Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in "The Man Who Came Back." It has been a long time since these two favorites appeared together in a picture, and this is one of their very best. 14,000 miles he traveled downward, on the road to degradation, from a luxurious Fifth Avenue mansion to a vile Shanghai hop-joint. There he met a woman, the woman who inspired him, loved him, and showed him the way back to society and decency.

Free Magic tricks to every boy and girl attending Saturday matinees.

One show each night, at 8 o'clock. Daily matinees at 4 o'colck.

Admission: Adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

He: "May I rub your palm (olive)?"

She: "Not on your life (buoy)."

He: "I guess I'm out of lux."

She: "You're formal."

Olive: "Edith; what's a kiss?"

Edith: "A conjunction—you know."

FARMVILLE TO PLAY RICHMOND NORMAL

Can we wait till February 14? This is the time Farmville is scheduled to play Richmond Normal in basketball. All Red and White and Green and White should come out and help the team win the game. With your support combined with the good material we have on the court, we can conceive of nothing but victory for Farmville.

To those who play, we are looking to you to do your best and we know you will, because you have already shown your school spirit and sportsmanship on similar occasions. So, hurrah! for the basketball team of '31. Success is yours.

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS

Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN

Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments

GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

is Headquarters for the Best

SANDWICHES

—and—

DRINKS

—in—

FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store

Farmville, Va.

"Drugs and Drinks"

DOWNTOWN SECTION

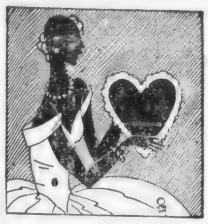
G. F. Butcher & Co.

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD

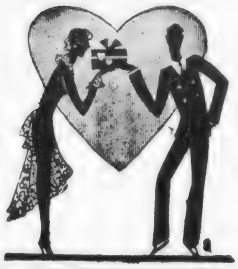
THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK



Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES



WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP

AND LEATHER USED

ROTUNDA

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1931 No. 18

Sophomores Will Give 'Cross Roads Store' Feb'y 27

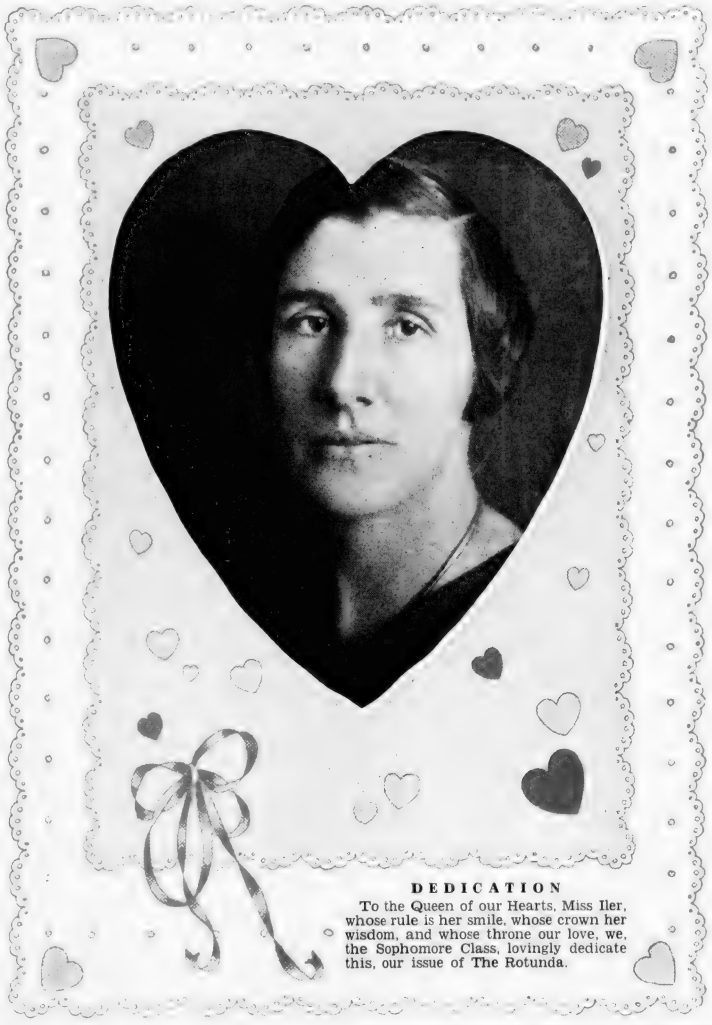
Jenilee Knight Takes Leading Role As Heroine In Unusual Presentation

BUDSEY CARTER IS THE HERO

With everything from soup to nuts in laughs and wise-cracks, with salesmen who could sell is to Eskimos, and with a group of customers more varied than the Heinz variety, the Crossroads store will on the night of February 27 open to the public. Budsy Carter, as LaLrry, the proprietor of the store, will be found actually thrilling in her masculine role, while Jenilee Knight, his sweetheart, to whom he sings song after song is wholly irresisistible as Babs. No alarm must be felt if there are queer sensations on the inside as the scenes change, for it will only be Annie McKenny as Emmaline, pedalling her way into your heart, just as she rides about disturbing the village on her two-wheeled '89 model bicycle. The symptoms of silliness and syrupy sayings of a young girl desperately in love are amply set forth by Mary Warren as she portrays Minnie who in her exact words is "gleeoriously in love with love and her lover.". "Rip" Johnson will again make herself famous as a typrannical, nose-

Continued on page three

PI GAMMA MU INITIATES NEW MEMBERS



February 4, was a red-letter day for the Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu. At five o'clock that afternoon, eight new members were initiated into the chapter, these being:

Doris Robertson
Mabel Barksdale
Louise Woodson
Louise Elliot
Frances Stephenson
Lucy Anne Lane
Nan Mears
Samuel M. Holton

Present at the initiation was Dr D. B. Harmon, national secretary of Pi Gamma Mu. Later in the evening, Dr. Harmon was guest of honor at a dinner given at Longwood, at which both old and new members, associate members, and Dr. Jarman, member-at-large, were present.

After dinner, the chapter held its

(Continued on last page)

DEDICATION

To the Queen of our Hearts, Miss Iler, whose rule is her smile, whose crown her wisdom, and whose throne our love, we, the Sophomore Class, lovingly dedicate this, our issue of The Rotunda.

COLLEGE HIGH PRESENTS THE RETURN OF DEBORAH

The College High School play, "The Return of Deborah," was presented Friday evening in the S. T. C. auditorium.

The story centered around two old maid sisters, who lived by the imagined dictates of their Aunt Deborah, who had been dead for twenty years, their modern niece, and an even more modern friend from boarding

Continued on last page

SOPHOMORE STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .... Dorothy Ritchie
Associate Editor .... Frances Martin
News Editor ..... Bernice Rives
Literary Ed. .... Marguerite Massey
Athletic Editor ..... Lucille Crute
World News ..... Harriet Moomaw
Social Editor ..... Julia Martin
Feature Editor .... Frances Parker
Humorous Ed. ..... Alice Moore
Art Editor ..... Catherine Cogbill
Inter-collegiate Ed. Jennie Whee
Intercollegiate Ed. Jennie Wheeler

Reporters

Janie Dodson Frances Coleman
Frances Edwards Margaret Priest
Sara Thompson M. E. French
Proof Reader ..... Lois Cox
Asst. Proof Reader .... Sarah James

Managers

Circulation ..... Mary Gregory
Assistant ..... Margaret Hix

CABINET HOLDS MEETING IN RECEPTION ROOM

Open cabinet meeting was held last Saturday at two o'clock in the "Y" reception room. Hazel Halloway led the devotionals. Each chairman gave a report of the committees work. After the business was attended to the meeting was adjourned.

DR. KEPNER LECTURES TO STUDENTS ON BIOLOGY

So interesting and complete was the lecture by Dr. Kepner, professor of biology at the University of Virginia, that is indeed difficult to disintegrate his subject matter sufficiently to report the most important statements given. As a whole it was a network of knowledge and full of

Continued on page three

Student Body Elects Loulie Millner as Queen of May

Ella Carroll Will Be The Maid Of Honor In Festival To Be Given This Spring

COURT TO BE ELECTED SOON

As a result of the election held yesterday, Loulie Millner of Lynchburg, Virginia, was elected Queen of May Day and Ella Carroll of Portsmouth, Virginia was elected Maid of Honor. Among the other nominees voted on Monday evening at student body meeting were Martha Ann Laing, Polly White, Virginia Robertson, and Grace Virginia Woodhouse.

The ladies and knights of the court will be elected in the near future. The knights will necessitate a little difference in voting this year.

The May Queen who was according to qualifications set by representatives of the student body, has a bigger part than usual in May Day. Besides being able to come up to the qualifications of character, school spirit, poise, dignity and grace, she also will have a good part in the festival before she is crowned.

The business part of May Day is well under way, and a "bigger and better" festival is expected in the new amphitheatre at Longwood.

DR. LEON VINCENT SPOKE MONDAY EVENING

Dr. Leon Vincent spoke to a group of students and faculty members in the little auditorium last Monday evening at 6:45 o'clock. Dr. Vincent's subject was "George Elliott."

He gave an insight into the fascinating phase of writing under an assumed name. George Elliott was asked at one time by someone who knew her only as an individual and not as an author, if she had read "The Mill on the Floss". There were many other delightfully refreshing 'little turns" which made Dr. Vincent's speech not only very interesting but even fascinating.

He will give four other lectures, two in chapel and two at the evening hour, 6:45 o'clock.

Since Dr. Vincent's talks give to the student body such a choice phase of literature, it is expected that large groups will hear him.

President of Intercollegiate Press Ass'n Presents Names of Executive Committee

Walter Belcher, Jr., of Lynchburg College and president of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association recently announced a meeting of the executive committee of that organization to be held in Lynchburg or Richmond early in the spring to outline and discuss parts of the program which were presented at the 1930 meeting.

The members of this committee are from Lynchburg College, Randolph-Macon Womans College, William and Mary College, Virginia Polytechnic Institute, East Radford State Teachers College, Hampden-Sydney College, Virginia Military Institute and Washington and Lee University. A ninth member is yet to be chosen and is to be of the student body of Harrisonburg State Teachers College.

The officers of the organization were named in November at Williamsburg when William and Mary College was host to the fourth meeting of the association.

One of the paramount issues to be presented at this meeting will be the details and the work on "The Southern Collegian" the monthly publication of the Intercollegiate Press Association which was established by resolutions passed at the meeting in Williamsburg. The editors have announced that the first issue is to appear on February 28.

Farmville Debaters Return From Trip; Win at Wake Forest; Defeated at N.C.S.C.

Elizabeth Johnson, of Portsmouth, and Mabel Barksdale, of Stuart, won a judges' decision Thursday night in the debate against Wake Forest College. They upheld the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved, That the Nations of the World Should Adopt a Policy of Free Trade." Representing Wake Forest, on the negative, were Harold H. Deaton, of Troy, and E.Leonidas Smith of Apex.

"The exercises which took place in the Euzelian literary society hall were attended by a body that filled the classic hall. Perhaps the most refreshing part of the program was the report of Tom Bost, critic judge, who stated that while the argument of the visitors was superior enough to justify their being awarded the decision, he would have to admit that he was embarrassed by two facts: that these debaters were charming young women and that he had always been a free-trader. This marked the tenth consecutive victory for the Virginia debaters. Dr. J. Rice Quisenberry, Wake Forest coach, states that he has long known that it is not only useless but unwise to argue with ladies.

The following night the debaters met Milbourne Amos of High Point and Dwight Stokes of Lumberton at N. C. State. The N. C. State team received a two to one decision of the judges there.

Mr. Holton, coach of the S. T. C. debaters, is to be congratulated on such an excellent showing by his team.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31

Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

EDITORIALS

Class-men

Not only as sources of unfailing advice and infallible solvers of our problems are those admirable women who serve in the capacity of classmen for us, but they mean a great deal more. As a sort of ideal they are set up by us. It is to gain their respect and approval that we strive to make our classes worthy organizations. It is to honor them that we proudly present them once annually to the student body and faculty.

Not alone is it their wisdom and ability that captivates our admiration and love, but likewise, their idealism and sportsmanship. Acquaintance with them means ideals established, contact with them brings breadth of vision, and friendship with them means our undying admiration. We, the Sophomores, who have been thrice blessed in experiencing all three with one accord acclaim, "Hats off to classmen!"

Class Spirit

Class spirit—is it too intangible to discuss?

In a few weeks, the green will clash with the red for basketball honors. The balconies will echo with the green and white and red and white, and every girl will be bent upon her team's sucess.

Whether victorious or defeated, each has its recompense.

The battle has been fought—won and lost. The green and white and red and white merge into blue and white—the colors of our Alma Mater!

Across the Courts

Hi there. Jones. Tell Jane I said to stick her head out the window. No. I don't want to borrow her blue dress, but I do have some business to hand her.

Oh, the deuce, you've just washed your hair and I wanted you to go to the show. Oh, the cabaret supper and a date it was. Did you say date—meal ticket. What power! I went too and everyone had such a good time. That salad and those oysters. I loved the music rendered by the quartet—Oh, having boys around was all right, but I've gotten used to being without the cute things.

Did you see that sing. Of course you didn't though. I've never heard such laughter. What glee in the infirmary? Those girls made me feel I was being cheated cause I didn't have the flu. You heard Miss McKee and Dr. Field were good, eh? They were and I'd hate to have them imitate me. Why honey, that cough! Is it real or just "assembly" kind? Excuse me, but I didn't think the girls would ever treat Dr. Jarman so rudely.

What did you say? Frances Parker, —caught under the bed in the infirmary—? Lord, no! I hadn't heard a word of it. You mean she paid a visit? Not laughing in Miss McKee's face. I bet she was scared at that lectur on honor. She said what? Now, I'll run along now. Heavens! That was exactly what happened in the sing.

There's more doing in this school not to have anything exciting happening. What? Four meetings, practice and two tests—Tonight? I do wish I was cute 'n intelligent, but I don't envy you. I can hardly wait though till the big concert. It sends a real thrill down my spine. Unconscious you. You mean you didn't know the Choral Club, Hampden-Sydney Glee Club and Major Tittmann were going to give everyone a chance to hear them, wonderful? Oh listen. Get "Him" to take you. Why you can dress up. Everyone wears her gloves and evening dress.

You can go to the show now. Your hair is dry. What? My throat should be— I'll see you in a minute.

WHAT HAPPENED THREE YEARS AGO TODAY

The Senior Class edited this issue and dedicated it to the class room teacher.

• • •

First varsity debate held February 3 and won from Westhampton. The debaters for Farmville State Teachers College were Grigsby Peck and Sammy Scott.

• • •

Our varsity played and lost to Harrisonburg 33 to 14.

THE BOOK SHOP

Bad Girl—Mary Ellen Cato
Terrible People—The Faculty
On Trial—Before the government.
Kitty—Kitty Cogbill
The Uninvited Guest—Aunt Lucy
Four Walls—S. T. C.
Wall Flower—Rene Greaves
Masquerade—Ruth Jordan
Caesar—Miss Rice
Man Without a County—Mr. Coyner.
Cat and Canary—Mary Shelton and Martha Saunders
Three Musketeers—Ann Minter, Kay Schroeder, Alma Garlick
The Night Watchman — Cousin Tommy
The Street Angel—Toodles Booth
The Pied Piper—Dr. Jarman
Why Not—Alice Moore
The Reason Why—Anne Johnson
Three Weeks—Virginia Ford
The Little French Girl—Mademoiselle
To Have and To Hold—Mary Brightwell.
Ladies in Hades—S. T. C.
The Specialist—Dr. Field
Hold That Line—Budsey Carter
Reaching for the Moon—Liz Taylor.

HEART ATTACKS

We really would like to know who the little girl in moccasins is who follows the caps and gowns every Tuesday night. Rene Greaves' name has been suggested.

Why such a "Rosie" glow on Louise Munt's face? Maybe it's love!

Wasn't the Cabaret Supper a success even if the ice cream was extra?

Maybe Jacque Lee will stay here this week-end with high hopes of getting to Hampden-Sydney midwinters in the little ol' Ford.

I suppose the government meeting Tuesday night will put a stop to some of the boothing in Shannon's—for a while anyway.

Speaking of swell girls—just try to beat Dot Ritchie—"nuff sed!"

Have you heard? Ella Carroll got two test papers back the other day with a C on each one and—no, there's not a catch in it.

"Marriage," said Virginia Lowe "is like a railroad sign. When you see a pretty girl you stop; then you look, and after you are married you listen."

Mr. Shannon has employed Mary and her little lamb as hostess in Shannon's every afternoon from four until six.

Have you ever heard Loulie Millner recite poetry and sing? If you have not, you've really missed a treat! Oh, boy!

"HEART FAILURES IN OUR SOPHOMORE YEAR"

"The principle points of the last lesson"
"Darlin', that's terrible."
"As 'twere—"
"Now the point is—"
"You see, it's like this"
"Come cocked and primed"
"In my other section"
"See the point—see the point?"
"Over, over up"!
"Use your own judgment."
"And so forth—and so on"
Ask any Sophomore—she knows.

CAN YOU IMAGINE?

The halls quiet before 2 a. m.?
Virginia Robinson a clining vine?
Elsie Bolton quiet during study hour?
Rena Robertson sleeping through rising bell?
Mary Trimyer not in love?
S. T. C. without the flu?
The infirmary without Miss McKee?
The Post Office without Miss Taliaferro?
Ten p. m. without the echo of "Banana Nut Sandwiches?"
Gazelle Ware the fat lady in the circus?
Freshmen not raring about the Sophomores?
The council not threatening to campus you?
Saturday night without a sing?
Mary Alice not lighting a Murad?
Jane Royall not calling her "R's"?

STUDENT BODY EXTENDS THANKS

The student body wishes to extend their sincere thanks to Miss McKee for her splendid work last week when so many of the students were ill with the flu.

We are glad to welcome Dr. Field back to our midst and hope she has entirely recovered.

SUNSET

Slowly, slowly
The sun sinks o'er the hills
To rest.
A red ball of fire—half gone,
Now only the afterglow
Intensely radiant.
Heaven and earth meet
Where blue mountains
Touch glowing skies.

Slowly, slowly
This radiance fades away;
'Tis gone.
The sky grows darker;
Tiny crystals begin to sparkle
Against the blue velvet sky
A silver crescent appears.
It, too, rises slowly to its zenith, then,
Like that great ball of fire
Sinks to rest,
Leaving me to dream on.

D. M. S., '33

SOPHOMORE VIM

We're the Sophomores
Yes, we are;
We're up with the Freshmen,
Yes, we're par.

With Green as our trump,
We'll win, you see!
We're ne'er in the dump,
How could we be?

With Miss Iler as coach.
We know we're all right;
And that is not all
We'll play with all our might.

We may fumble.
We may fall;
But into the basket
We'll put the ball.

So come out and see,
Our basketball game;
Watch the class of '33
Win their fame.

M. L. G., '33

OUR CLASSMAN

Smiling a cheerful greeting
To each one in her turn,
Ignoring all the tumult
With patient unconcern,
She renders each his due,
Slights not a one of all the class—
Impartial to me and you—
That's Miss Iler.

Nor is it superficial,
A veil of "put on" airs,
This smiling, cheerful sweetness
Alluded to, of hers;
Beyond a doubt 'tis true and clear
This sweetness just belongs to her;
She's just a perfect little dear—
Miss Iler.

How often for a favor
Some one of us does go;
How patiently she listens
Unto our tale of woe.
And when the tale comes to an end
Invariably she tries to lend
A helping hand—to us befriend—
Miss Iler.

She's one in twenty million,
She has no duplicate
From Maine to California
From Gulf to Golden Gate
In every heart there surely swells
A flood of gratitude which tells
How much we'd like to ring joy bells
For Miss Iler.

SOCIALS

Dot [illegible] spent this week-end [illegible].

[illegible] Ruth Fl[illegible] Charlotte Del[illegible] her week-end.

[illegible] the week-end in Roanoke.

[illegible] spent the week-end with her parents.

Mary [illegible] spent the week-end in Pamplin.

Josie Spencer visited Mary Brightwell this week-end in Pamplin.

Josephine Sneed spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Elizabeth Johnson spent several days at Wake Forest, N. C., and Raleigh, N. C.

Alma Garlick was the guest of her brother in South Hill.

Nellie Green visited in Danville this week-end.

Katherine Schroeder spent the week-end in South Hill.

Anne Davis was at her home in Richmond for the week-end.

Sue Bass visited in Richmond this week-end.

Martha Moses visited Dot Leonard in Richmond this week-end.

Dot Leonard spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

Betty Watkins was at her home in Lynchburg.

Margaret Ely visited friends in Richmond.

Rose [illegible] at her home in Newport News this week-end.

Anna Fox spent the week-end in Norfolk.

Loulie Millner spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Jacque Lee attended the dances at A. M. A.

Rose Greene attended the dances at A. M. A.

Margaret Gathright has been ill at her home for the past week.

Alice Connelon was the guest of Mrs. Frances Kain in Petersburg.

Ruth Purdy spent the week-end at her home in Kenbridge.

Pauline Turner was the guest of Ethel Cox in Chatham.

Stewart Quarrier spent the week-end in Culpeper.

Frances Rawlings was at her home in Hampden.

Vonal Gentles, Nell Dickinson, Mary Elizabeth Mayo spent the week-end in Charlottesville.

Kathryne Royster has been ill at her home in Lynchburg.

Margaret Barker was the guest of Mrs. Charles Roller at Port Defiance.

Ethel Bell spent the week-end at South Hill.

Mabel Barksdale spent several days at Wake Forest, N. C., and N. C. State.

Hanna Crawley was at her home in Cumberland.

Frances Crawford spent the week-end with her parents in Staunton.

Evelyn Stephenson spent the week-end in Charlottesville.

Louise Van Lear spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

Mary Alice Young spent the week-end at her home in Boyston.

Catherine McIntyre spent the week-end at Hampden.

Virginia Wise spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

SUPERINTENDENTS AND PRINCIPALS MEET

Dr. Jarman welcomed a hearty welcome to the [illegible] meeting of the superintendents and principals from Campbell to Norfolk counties, which met in the Student Building lounge on Friday afternoon and night, February 6. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the general plan and improvement of the secondary schools. The meeting was called and presided over by Mr. D. W. Peters, State superintendent of secondary education.

Dinner was served in the Tea Room.

MISS MARY ENTERTAINS AT BUFFET SUPPER

One of the most delightful treats of the year has been the buffet suppers in the Student Building lounge by the fire given the girls by Miss Mary. Nearly each Monday for the past few weeks, through Miss Mary's thoughtfulness, Mrs. Jamison's kindness and Dr. Jarman's generosity, two hundred girls have been entertained at these suppers and it has indeed been a pleasant change for everyone of them.

Sometime in the near future these parties will be resumed and the rest of the student body looks forward with pleasure to their turn. Dr. Jarman always comes and to add to the picasure of the girls, each time a short program is arranged by a member of one of the tables being entertained. There is the good combination of delicious food, Miss Mary, Dr. Jarman, and happy girls and—well—a good time is had by all!

PI GAMMA MU BANQUET

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu entertained Dr. Harmon at dinner at Longwood on February 4. The table was decorated with pastel candles and mixed sweet peas. After dinner a regular meeting of the chapter was held. The question for discussion was, "The Motives Which Have Determined the French Foreign Policies Since the World War."

Dr. Harmon talked on the three types of societies, honor societies, professional societies, and honor-professional, giving the good and bad points of each.

After this talk Dr. Harmon presented Dr. Walmsley with an honor key, voted to him by the national officers and the local chapter.

The chapter is very proud of the honor received by Dr. Walmsley and wishes him the most of success while holding his national office.

MISS LEAKE SINGS AT CHAPED EXERCISES

The student body of S. T. C. was highly entertained in chapel Saturday by Miss Irene Leake who rendered several soprano solos.

Miss Leake is from Orange, Va., and has won two State contests in the past year.

All the numbers which were sung were appreciated, but the last ones, old favorites, "Until" and "The Last Rose of Summer" enthralled her listeners.

It is hoped that Miss Leake will find it possible to be here again in the very near future.

SOPHOMORES INVITE SENIORS TO PARTY

A Green and White party will be held in the "Rec" Thursday night from ten-thirty until—. It is the desire of the Sophomores to become better acquainted with their sister class. Each Senior will have as escort two Sophomores.

MR. GRAINGER SPEAKS AT MEETING OF THE ELEMENTARY TEACHERS

Elementary Teachers Club met Saturday morning. Due to absence of the president, Jane Brown, several items of business were brought up by the vice-president, Gladys Meador.

The program was in charge of Katherine Rogers and Eloise Perkins, and included a joint talk by Ella Carroll and Myra Costen on "The Ideal Teachers." Mr. James Grainger gave "The Functions of Faculty Meetings."

The program ended with a flute duet rendered by Mr. Grainger and son, James Grainger, Jr., which was greatly enjoyed by all.

CONGRATULATIONS

The Sophomore Class wishes to congratulate the Freshmen on their issue of the Rotunda.

NOTED SINGER

CHAS. T. TITTMANN

TITTMANN TO APPEAR WITH GLEE CLUBS

It is indeed a rare occasion for music lovers to have the opportunity of hearing Charles Trowbridge Tittmann, who will appear in a recital with the S. T .C. Choral Club and H. S. Glee Club on the night of February 23 in the College auditorium. The program will be inspiring as well as delightful and highly entertaining.

Mr. Tittmann has a voice of extraordinary range and power with a quality quite superior to most basses in roundness and purity, a technique equal to all demands of his art. He brings to a song recital a musical originality and a powerful personality which make an appearance by him a different and unique event. His personal magnetism and his big resonant voice of vibrant and sympathetic beauty, heighten and accentuate the individuality of his programs.

Mr. Tittmann is an American born and trained in America, he served his country during the late war as a lieutenant, captain and major. In addition to his thorough musical education, he is a graduate of Princeton and of the Harvard Law School. He was a successful lawer. The great demand for his beautiful and unusual voice, however, caused him largely to forsake his legal practice, and, following a natural desire on his part, to give the major portion of his time to the concert field.

Mr. Tittmann is particularly well known through his many appearances with the famous Bach Choir of Bethlehem. He has the record of having been engaged for the eleventh consecutive year for the Bach Festival. He is one of the greatest interpreters of the music of the great old master, Bach. In other fields he has been equally successful; for example—a soloist with New York Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Walter Damroch; with the Philadelphia, Detroit and Baltimore Symphony Orchestras; eight appearances with the New York Oratorio Society, and many others. He has sung at most of the important music festivals of the country, appearing with the greatest singers in the field including Louise Homer, Margaret Matzeneuer, Florence Hinkle and Giovanni Martinelli.

In addition to his individual recitals he has shared programs on many occasions with such distinguished artists as Mabel Garrison, Mary Garden and Pablo Casals.

The song recitals of Charles Trowbrige Tittmann, while highly artistic and well balanced, are presented in such an appealing and intimate way and with such artistry and musicianship, that they gain the sympathetic and friendly interest of his audience and hold that interest at all times.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA HAS HIGHEST AVERAGE

The following sororities made the highest averages as listed for the fall quarter.

Sigma Sigma Sigma
Zeta Tau
Mu Omega

CUNNINGHAM LITERARY SOCIETY INSTALLATION

The Cunningham Literary Society held its installation service Monday night in Room O. The retiring president administered the oath to the incoming president, Jane Witt, after which she installed Nancy Putney, vice-president; Loise Cox, secretary; Esther Kurz treasurer and Elizabeth Johnson, reporter. The new members lighted their candles from those of the officers and were welcomed as members of the society. They are:

Lucille Crute
Margaret Allred
Frances Coleman
Mary Ellen Johnson
Evelyn Abernathy
Velma Petty
Dorothy [illegible]
Nancy Shaner
Margaret Young
Virginia Williams
Dorothy Woolwine
Lucille Ingram
Woodruth Towler
Bertie Price
Sarah Thomas.

FRENCH AND SPANISH CLUBS TO HOLD BAZAAR FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Spain, the land of legend and romance—lovely senoritas, handsome caballeros. The awe-inspiring Pyrenees, [illegible] and sunshine and laughter. Who would not welcome a visit to two such enchanting countries.

As we look forward to a trip across the Atlantic in the future, we have chance now to discover some of the atmosphere for ourselves. The French and Spanish bazaar will lack nothing [illegible] the Pyrenees Mountains. All of American money will be changed into French and Spanish at the entrances of the two countries. There will be lovely gift selections, valentines, candy, food, something for everyone. Mysterious maidens, speaking in romantic tongues, dances in costume, music—a short two hours full of utter enjoyment for all. Come Friday afternoon from four to six to Miss Coulling's class room for a delightful time.

DR. KEPNER LECTURED TO STUDENTS ON BIOLOGY

Continued from page one

interesting details, but the thoughts most worthy of recording can hardly be ascertained.

Biology lived and breathed under his treatment; real, necessary and vital it seemed. The statement impressed indelibly on most of his listeners was his distinction between chemistry and biology. The former, said Dr. Kepner, was invariably a "result of" while biology must be in terms of "in order that."

Those who heard Dr. Kepner felt themselves greatly benefited by his lecture. They feel truly that those who wait are rewarded and are glad that they were privileged to make contact with his master mind by his lecture.

CROSS ROADS STORE TO BE PRESENTED

Continued from page one

[illegible] old maid as she plays Nancy Nosspoking, the village gossip-monger. Jane Royall and Pattie Ellison are unreconizable as any but the two urban soft-talkers who add intrigue to the plot by nearly wrecking with their greased tongues Larry's business and his love affair with Babs. "Dot" Dudley as Spitz, the kid, brings laugh after laugh, while Dot Goodloe gives an excellent and applause-worthy interpretation of the fast fading old Southern darkey. Other interesting characters, all portrayed by Sophomores, will captivate attention and admiration.

Interspersed with an exciting plot are charming choruses and songs. Character dances and songs will be the main features.

There will be laughs, there will be roars, there will be heart-throbs, and maybe a tear. Will yours be there? It is hoped so, for seriously speaking—

The Sophomores wish to give to the school for twenty-five cents, the smallest possible price, an hour and a half of genuine entertainment, and if hard work and effort can do it, they will.

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART
We would like to have your orders
—for—
DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS
Canada Drug Co.
Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

JANUARY BARGAINS
NOW ON DISPLAY
DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!
We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE
Now On At
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Rack No. 1, your choice of our $4 to $6 Dresses, all sizes. Close out price $2.98
Rack No. 2. Your choice of any $19.75 dress in store for $9.95
Wrap Around Turbans 89c
Just received new spring dresses. Charge if you wish $5.95 & $9.95

JOKES

In a Freshman's Eyes

A Sophomore stood on a railroad track.
The train was coming fast
The train got off the railroad track
And let the Sophomore pass.
Note: If you have heard the above, please laugh again.

Sarah Russell: "Where are you from?"
Martha Kello: "The South."
S. Russell: "What part?"
M. Kello: "All parts, did you think I came up piece by piece?"

Louise Munt (being arrested): "But officer, I'm a student."
Officer: "Ignorance is no excuse."

Anne Johnson (riding street car): "Postpone me at the next stop, please, sir."

It's a long lane that has no parked cars!

He kept his eyes on the road
And his hands on the wheel
For he was alone
In the automobile

"Got a standing date every Saturday night."
"How come? Engaged?"
"No, working in a store."

French Hutt: "If there's something you'd like to attend to tonight, I'll try to arrange it?"
Elizabeth Taylor: "Well, it's your funeral."

Angry Widow (after hearing husband left her nothing): "I want you to take 'Rest in peace' off that tombstone I ordered yesterday."
Stonecutter: "I can't do that, but I can put something underneath."
Angry Woman: "All right. Put 'Till I Come'."

Dr. Fields: "You look bad. What's the matter with you—tuberculosis?"
"Empty" Rawls: "No, Doc. I think it's whoopee cough."

Ann Minter: "They're keeping their engagement a secret, aren't they?"
Rene Greaves: "Well, that's what they're telling everybody."

Martha Ann: "Look! Harvard is gonna kick off."
Alma: "Heck! They've been dead for years."
"Ah, the pause the refreshes!" said the English professor when he saw the comma on the freshman theme.

Soph: "Dad, you are a lucky man."
Father: "How is that?"
Soph: "You won't have to buy me any school books this year. I'm taking all of last year's work over again."

Dot Snedegar: "Just last week I bought a harmonica and now I can play harmony."
Jane Royall: "'Snothing—three years ago I bought a violin, and now I play vilely."

Lecturer (describing his latest expedition in lengthy detail: "Coming out of the jungle I was confronted by a yawning chasm."
Bored Stude: "Was it yawning before it saw you?"

Lives of great men oft remind us
We can make our lives sublime
Asking foolish questions, taking
All the recitation time.

He paid the bill so often they began to take him for an after dinner mint.

PI GAMMA MU INITIATES NEW MEMBERS

Continued from page one

regular meeting around an open fire. The program featured Ella Carroll and Pauline Gibb, both of whom presented papers dealing with the motives underlying the foreign policy of France since 1918. The president led a round table discussion concerning the same topic.

Dr. Harmon gave a brief history of Greek-letter organizations. Pi Gamma Mu with a membership of 16,000, is the largest honorary fraternity. In concluding, Dr. Harmon presented Dr. Walmsley, organizer of the Virginia Gamma Chapter, with an honor key awarded by the national officials for outstanding work in Pi Gamma Mu.

ORCHESTRA A REALITY

The Ileronians, now the functioning Sophomore Class orchestra, has for a long time been a dream buried deep in the thoughts of those musically inclined in '33. It was indeed not conceived all in a "moment musicale," but was rather the outcropping of a long entertained desire to express the Sophomore spirit musically. It was Miss Iler, herself, who finally sponsored the idea of a dance orchestra.

Nor did this orchestra "spring full-armed from the head of Jove",' but rather became an organized unit through the untiring efforts and practices of its members and leader.

For their effort, their past achievements, and their plans for the future, the Sophomores are proud of them, the Ileronians—their class orchestra.

BASKETBALL HELPS 1930-1931

(With due apologies to Spalding)

The following are a few comments and safeguards which we hope will help those interested in basketball.

When jumping for toss-up, stand slew-foot. This enables one to keep the equilibrium and remain on the floor.

When opponent starts to dribble, step to the left and give her the right of way. If genrous, she may return this deed of politeness.

When your guard has the ball and you wish to obtain possession of it, creep up and seize it vigorously as that is the easiest way.

In case of tie ball, jerk ball around in a circle as your opponent would surely enjoy the ride.

In jumping for tie ball, be sure to tap it in direction of the referee as she would feel slighted if left out of the game.

When you have a tie ball with your back to the referee be sure your hands are on the wrist of your opponent. It is much easier and serves the purpose just as well.

A. Athlete

KAPPA DELTA PI ANNOUNCES MEMBERS

Beta Epsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta Pi announces the following new members:

Susie Van Floyd
Sara Hubard
Bessie Lynch
Easter Souders
Louise Woodson

Big: 'Who's that Indian over there?"
Chief: "My partner on the war dance."
Big: "Name, please?"
Chief: "Tears-in-my-eyes."

FARMVILLE VERSUS RICHMOND NORMAL

Farmville will play her first varsity basketball game here with Richmond Normal School February 14, at 7:30 p. m., in the college gym. Show school spirit and be there on time. Back the team up with yells and they will do their best. Be sure to bring your student ticket for admission.

Other varsity games scheduled to be played are with Sweet Briar College, there, February 21.

William and Mary College, here, February 28.

The interclass games will be played at an early date after the varsity games.

OUR INFIRMARY COMES TO "SING"

"Wasn't sing just darling! I never saw anything so unique in my life! Now, I won't have to go to the infirmary to find out what it's like. I really felt as if I were taking an awful cold before I left. Coughing must be contageous, for I coughed all the way back to my room.

Dr. Field (Easter Souders) and Miss McKee (Cleo Quisenberry) surely had their hands full with spraying noses and mopping throats, besides contending with the girls in the ward. Did you see Liz Drewry climbing the ladder and balancing a glass of medicine on her forehead; A. J. Scott bringing fruit and having to hide under the bed and Ann Rice and Grace Virginia were taking a nature study lesson right under the windows?

So much for all of this, we'll surely have to admit the Juniors were clever to think of it.

COLLEGE HIGH PRESENTS THE RETURN OF DEBORAH

Continued from page one

school. Humorous touches were added by the Irish maid.

Miss Jane Tomkins, Lucille Hamilton
Miss Sara Tomkins .. Anne Putney
Delia Mahoney ..... Virginia Young
Margaret ..... Martha Putney
Blossom ..... Margaret Barker

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Feb'y 16-21

MON. and TUES.—"The Big Trail," an immortal epic of the pioneer West with a great cast consisting of John Wayne, Maguerite Churchill, El Brendel, Tully Marshall and 2,000 Indians, cowboys, scouts and pioneer women. An amazing adventure filmed amid scenes of unbelievable grandeur, buffalo hunts, Indian massacres. The romance of the last West magnificently done on a tremendous scale. The road of romance; the path of adventure; the highway of thrills. A sweeping, inspiring spectacle with a mighty theme and glowing love story. No advance in prices. Also a Silly Symphony Cartoon.

WEDNESDAY.—"Soup to Nuts," featuring Stanley Smith, Ted Healey and Frances McCoy. Story by Rube Goldberg, the cartoonist. A romantic story served with gags and girls, songs and dances, laughs and more laughs—a rare feast of entertainment. A perfect menu for the appetite craving, the unusual. Not much plot, but a laugh-producer you'll thoroughly enjoy.

"The Indians Are Coming," chapter 11. This next to the last chapter of a great outdoor serial depicts Jack's life being saved by a young Indian, and Jack in turn saves Mary from a burning building in the nick of time. Plenty of excitement. Also Aesop Fable, "Stone Age Stunts."

THURS. and FRI.—Greta Garbo in "Inspiration," with Robert Montgomery, Lewis Stone, Marjorie Rambeau and a great supporting cast. Here is Garbo's finest picture, and think of Robert Montgomery as the lover! Clad in clinging silks, radiant with the beauty that stirs men's souls, this idol of Paris had everything she wanted except the love of one obscure youth. For him she made every sacrifice, trying to hide her amazing past from him. Here is a role to call forth all of the Garbo glamor. She lays bare the heart of a woman in love, in scenes that will never escape your memory. Also an exceptional two-reel comedy.

SATURDAY—"Tom Sawyer" with Jackie Coogan, Mitzi Green and Junior Durkin. Here we have the screen's leading child actors in Mark Twain's classic story that is so well known to thousands. Remember how you were thrilled at the oft-told but deathless adventures of Tom and Huck, Becky and Aunt Polly, Injun Joe and Muff Potter? They are all here for your enjoyment again—the comedy, the pathos, the romance, the thrills, the delicious entertainment that young and old have been awaiting. The treat of the season. Come early for good seats. Also a two-reel all-color subject, "Pirates," and Fox News.

Special Notice: For the benefit of out of town folks, we will have an extra matinee at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon as well as the usual 4 o'clock matinee and night show. Bring the children for a royal afternoon's fun.

Every boy and girl attending the Saturday matinees will receive free a Mysto Magic Trick.

Admission: Adults, 35c at nights and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

YE SHALL KNOW THEM BY THEIR HOBBY

Name	Really Is	Hobby
"Rip" Johnson	a debater	Crying for the "Carolines
"Red" Wills	good natured	Entertaining the "Preacher"
Jenilee Knight	Dramatic	Learning W. & L. Swing
Jane Royall	accomplished	Being "Al"-one
Anne Johnson	a class president	Running a "steamboat"
Budsey Carter	a song bird	Studying hard
Mary Winston	a dancer	Reading Moon "Mullins"
Margaret Massey	red-headed	Using "Roger" silver
"Dot" Snedegar	a good sport	Keeping the "Jack"
Frances Parker	an infirmary wrecker	Talking over time
"Dot" Goodloe	cute	Eating O-"Henry"
"Joe" Hughes	amusing	"Les' studying
Lois Cox	quiet	Hearing from "Johns"town

HEART THROBS

Dear Have-a-Heart:

Please tell me what to do! I am in love with a boy at Hampden-Sydney but he won't write me. How can I make him? Let me know as soon as you can, because I am very anxious.
Hopefully, A Sissy Sophomore

Dear Have-a-Heart:

Not very long ago I met a young man with whom I fell wildly in love. He loves me too. Now, please tell me—can I speak to other boys and still be true to him. Wondering

Dear Have-a-Heart:

For years and years I have read your wonderful advice to girls. Will you help me, too? I am 19 and a sophomore at S. T. C. I am considered very good-looking, am 5 feet six inches tall, weigh 115 pounds. I have black curly hair and violet blue eyes, and am considered by most everyone to be very attractive and a very good dancer, but it seems I do not appeal to H. S. boys. Tell me what I can do. I shall appreciate this a great deal.
Perplexed

Dear Have-a-Heart:

My heart is broken! You see it's like this—I am crazy about a boy back home and he doesn't pay any attention, because he is engaged to my best friend. I love her and want to keep her friendship and do not want to ruin their happiness, but I cannot help showing that he attracts me when he is around, so what can I do and where shall I go? Forlorn

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS
Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN

Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments

GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best

SANDWICHES

—and—

DRINKS

—in—

FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store

Farmville, Va.

"Drugs and Drinks"

DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES

WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP

AND LEATHER USED

ROTUNDA

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1931 No. 19

Choral Club Will Present Its Concert Mon. Evening, February 23

Program To Be The Largest and One of the Most Entertaining of the Season

MR. TITTMANN WILL SING

The Choral Club of S. T. C. will present its annual concert next Monday evening, February 23 at 8 o'clock. It will be the biggest entertainment ever offered by this organization.

For the first time, the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club and the Choral Club are cooperating in offering a musical program. Much enthusiasm has been aroused in both clubs and both have been well-trained by their director, Prof. Alfred H. Strick. Interesting features of the concert will be the mixed choruses composed of a selected group, and the two great compositions sung by the two clubs.

Probably the most striking numbers on the program will be those sung by Charles Trowbridge Tittmann whom the Choral Club has succeeded in procuring for its concert. Mr. Tittmann is a national artist, and is one of America's greatest bass-baritones.

The program to be rendered by Mr. Tittmann is to be a varied and interesting one. Such numbers as "Danny Deever," "Song of Volga Boatmen," and "Little Bateese," sung by Mr. Tittmann will afford great pleasure. "The Lost Chord" to be sung by Mr. Tittmann and the combined clubs will bring a most impressive end to this evening of music.

The program for the evening will be as follows:

Part I.

Croal Club:—
Worship ..... Geoffrey Shaw
A Capella Choir:—
(a) O Savior Sweet ..... Bach
(b) Dream of Jeanie ..... Foster

Continued on last page.

Dramatic Club Bids New Members

The Dramatic Club wishes to announce the following new members:

Margaret Banks
Ruth Ford
Sue Bass
Margaret Lester
Mary Anna Robinson
Lillian Womack
Grace Virginia Woodhouse
Kathleen Clement
Cleo Quisenberry
Easter Souders
Evelyn Jones
Nancy Harrison
Betty Morris
Elizabeth Johnson
Sarah Hubbard
Alice Marshall
Nannie Gilbert
Martha Higgins
Edrie Holland
Elizabeth Kelly
Lela Lovelace
Dorothy Prescott
Sarah Russell
Mary Shelton
Martha Scott Watkins
Mutt Armstrong
Helen Warring
Mary E. Hill
Margaret Robertson
Ida Miller
Louise Borum
Margaret Murray

Continued on page three

DR. LEON VINCENT ENDS COURSE ON WRITERS

Dr. Leon Vincent ended his series of lectures on Victorian writers Friday night, leaving those who have always dreaded tackling Thackeray, Dickens, Carlile, Bronte and Eliot, with the most pitiable sense of having missed a great part of life.

With his subtle and pervasive humor that made one smile quietly to himself rather than laugh aloud, Dr Vincent, entertainingly gave his audiences the most interesting of facts of these peoples' lives. His store of anecdote seemed boundless, and being thoroughly familiar with his subject, he was always at perfect ease, talking about the novelists in the most charming way.

He always had just the right thing to say when telling some incident, the most appropriate quotation, something the author himself had said, to illustrate the point he was making.

Dr. Vincent named as the four exceptions of their century. "Vanity Fair," with its satire, "Pickwick," for its bouyant mirthfulness, "Canford," with its shy, tender, humor, though innocent of deep psychology, and "Jane Eyre," for its intensity and fire.

he'S'iiscesmflhi-o.:ean.|".efir nA sw

Answering the often made accusation that Dickens' people are seemingly fantastic creations, he said that everyone of them had a realistic and solid basis. The charge that Charlottes Bronte's novels are too melodramatic at times, he met by the fact that Miss Bronte lived in a Yorkshire hamlet at the time when bull baiting was a common pastime; there is nothing more melodramatic in her books than the actual happenings of her life.

Comparing Thackeray and Dickens Dr. Vincent said that while Thackeray did go deeper into life than Dickens, Dickens was much more bouyant and brilliant than he. As example of this buoyancy he cited

Continued on page three

WORK IS BEGUN ON FOUNDERS DAY

The Founders Day program is well on its way. Each organization which intends to give a stunt that day has handed an outline to Adele Hutchinson.

The program is under the supervision of a committee, composed of Miss Grace M. Mix, chairman, the four class-men, Misses Virginia Potts, Louise Robinson, Olive Iler and Mary Frances Hatchett, the alumnae head. Miss Willie London, and lastly, Mr. Samuel Holton.

Letters have been sent to the alumnae inviting them back March 7 for Founders Day. A large number of them are expected to return.

BETA PI THETA ANNOUNCES MEMBERS

The Pi Zeta Chapter of Beta Pi Theta, National French fraternity, announces the following new members:

Mildred Steere
Louise Woodson
Alice Ribble
Martha von Schilling

JUNIOR CLASSMAN

TO MISS ROBERTSON

The sprightliness of a pixie, the wisdom of a teacher, the influence of a leader . . . all these we find in her, our Class-man to whom we, the Junior Class, dedicate this, our issue of the Rotunda, as an expression of our love and respect.

CHANGES ARE SUGGESTED FOR HOUSE COUNCIL

At the last meeting of the committee to revise the seventh amendment of the constitution of the Student Government Association, which deals with the House Council, the following changes were suggested:

1. That the Hall Presidents be elected on each hall not later than one week following minor elections. The Home Department will cooperate with the students in seeing that the Hall Presidents will be given desirable rooms on each hall.

2. That the President of the House Council be an ex-officio member of the Student Council instead of the Vice-president of the Student Council being an ex-officio member of the House Council.

3.3 That the House Council shall, besides promoting quiet, cooperate with the Student Council in establishing upon our campus a sense of responsibility towards general regulations.

JUNIOR STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... Ruth Floyd
Associate Editor .... Ethel Boswell
News Editor .... Evelyn Stephenson
Literary Editor .... Easter Souders
Athletic Editor .. Cleo Quisenberry
World News ..... Louise Woodson
Social Editor ..... Louise Munt
Feature Editor ..... Virginia Lowe
Humorous Editor, Virginia Bledsoe
Art Editor ..... Margaret Fisher
Intercollegiate Frances Crawford

Reporters

Margaret Stiff Harriet Branch
Martha Walters M. von Schilling
Proof Reader ..... Louise Clayton

Managers

Circulation ..... Bessie Lynch
Assistant ..... Doris Robertson

Farmville Defeats Richmond Normal in First Varsity Game

Entire Second Team Is Sent In During the Game And Pile Up High Score

FINAL SCORE IS 65 TO 7

In a complete walk-a-way, Farmville defeated Richmond Normal School Saturday night in the first varsity game of the of the season, by the score of 65-7.

From the beginning, it was quite evident that the home team would have little, if any, difficulty in scoring an easy victory over the visiting team of Richmond. After the first toss-up, the ball went straight to the forwards. They, quickly executing their short, well practiced passes, easily lost the guards to make the goal. The first minute's play was indicative of the whole game, which was quite uneventful, especially for the Farmville guards, who hardly ever got a chance to show what they could do.

At the half, almost an entirely new team was sent in, three of them excellent freshman material.

Still the score kept on going up, till the final whistle blew, leaving it 65-7, blue and white at the heavy end.

Richmond	(line-up)	Farmville
Hohgen	R. F.	(c) Smith
Dunn (c)	L. F.	Snedegar
Tyler	J. C.	Gregory
Hines	S. C.	Edwards
Peatross	R. G.	Coleman
Williams	L. G.	Gunter

Substitutes: Richmond: Satum, Burgess, Timberlake, Burgess, Williams, Ellis, Sargeant.

Farmville: Yeaman, Ritchie, Fraser, Quisenberry, Crute, Berger.

Officials—Scorers: Crowder, Oliver.

Time-keepers: Ross, Tomkins.

Referee: Miss Crenshaw (Westhampton.

Umpire: Miss Harvey.

DR. STOWE SPEAKS TO FACULTY AND STUDENTS

Dr. A. Stowe, professor at Randolph-Macon Woman's College and an educator of long experience, spoke at a meeting of the faculty in the Student Building lounge on Tuesday night. His topic was "Humanizing Education," also the title of a textbook of which he is author.

Dr. Stowe served as president of the University of Toledo for eleven years and is considered the American authority on junior colleges. He served as chairman of a committee for inspecting colleges and universities in the United States.

On Wednesday morning he spoke to the student body on the teaching profession and the preparation necessary in this field of work. His experience in this particular phase being wide and varied, Dr. Stowe's talk was very interesting. He congratulated us on being afforded the opportunity to teach in this day and age and brought out the value of teaching more abundant lives. Dr. Stowe ing as a means toward learning to also brought out the fact that Virginia is proud of her teachers and that we should be equally as proud of living in this state.

Referring to the concert to be held Monday night in the auditorium, Dr. Stowe spoke of the opportunity we have in listening to the fine music which will be rendered by the Glee Club, Choral Club and Mr. Tittmann.

Y. W. C. A. SPEAKERS TO BE HERE

The Y. W. C. A. has secured Y. E. Hsiao, Matias Cuadro, Miss Eleanor Brannon, Dr. Tanslyn and Mr. Chester Rowell through the Christian World Education Institute as speakers in school on the 24th and 25th of February.

The topics for discussion will be:

1. The United States and International Cooperation.

2. The Church in the Changing World.

3. The Industrialization of the South.

4. The World Court

5. The Philippine Situation.

The speakers will take charge of History classes during their visit of two days and will lead discussions in chapel.

SIGMA PI RHO HAS NEW MEMBERS

Sigma Pi Rho, Latin fraternity, announces:

Virginia Gee
Virginia Whipple

as new members and

Dr. J. E. Walmsley as honorary member.

Many Outsiders to Attend Concert

Among the places to be represented will be: Richmond, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Lynchburg, Marian, Burkeville, Crewe, Petersburg, and North Carolina. Miss Julia Faye, president of the Virginia Federation of Music Clubs and who resides in Norfolk is expected to be among our out-of-town visitors.

Major Tittmann, soloist of the evening, was graduated from Princeton during Wilson's presidency at that institution, and was a personal friend of President Taft. His part in the program lends much interest.

The HampdenSydney Glee Club which will take part is the first one to be definitely organized at that college. The faculty and students at Hampden-Sydney are very enthusiastic over the concert.

This program is a part of the S. T. C. Choral Club program for the year which has for its theme, "Music Exalts Life." Nothing of the operetta or jazz type will be given but something that will last and inspire.

The concert to be given Monday night has already attracted considerable attention in many localities other than Farmville and nearby towns. The fact that it is to be one of the outstanding events on the college calendar and also one of much interest has given it due publicity.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31 — HAZEL HALLOWAY, '32

Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Then and Now

The sweep of long, billowing skirts against black satin . . . a ballroom scented by the faint aroma of lavendar; people pointing and curtsying . . . in minuet in Washington's day.

Today it is the age of jazz. The grace and beauty of yesterday's dance is replaced by wild motions to the rhythm of ecstatic music. The memory of a violin speaking in terms of soft notes as the bow touched the strings, is deadened by the "tom-tom beating" of the drums and the wail of saxophones.

Truth and Beauty

A Shining Tower . . . an Ideal . . . an Aspiration . . . a guide to Leadership and an Accomplishment of a Purpose.

We, in our college life, live in a world of things as they seem, dreaming that we want to probe deeper into things . . . . to know the truth, to know life as it is. When we are on the high road to Truth . . . . in sight of ourtower.

Each day by our words and deeds, we are helping to build the tower. Shall we have a tower of rough hewn stone or shall our tower be made of pure marble? We must decide. To build the most perfect tower, we must keep before us our ideal: "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free."

Hand in hand they go. "Truth is beauty . . . beauty truth; that is all ye know on earth and all ye need to know." The divine meaning of the word is wrung from the pureness of untouched soil, the unblemished blue of the skies, the softness of clouds . . . the depths of an innocent soul. It's sound is as vibrantas a benediction; its loveliness portrayed through the poet"s' pen . . . . one whose aesthetic soul sees a bit of it in every living thing.

OVER THE TRANSOM

"Well, Grace Virginia, how did you enjoy our Valentine dinner party Saturday night? The decorations certainly were artistic, weren't they? I think we all might express our appreciation to the girls who slaved over those dainty little basket candy favors, don't you? Did you notice that they all bore the tiny inscription, "Be my Valentine"? Imagine my surprise when I found chicken on a day other than every other Sunday? Something tells me that Mrs. Jamison knows her young people. By the way, did you notice how becoming Dr. Jarman's blue tie and shirt were to him? I get the biggest thrill when he wears blue socks to chapel, don't you? I wanted him to sing, "My Wild Irish Rose" as well as the "End of a Perfect Day." We should have insisted upon an encore.

You know, Bledsoe, Dr. Jarman is just like a father to all of us and oftentimes I have a suppressed desire to throw my arms around his neck just like I do when "I'm home with my own Dad.

Well, here's hoping you keep it suppressed, Gin, I wouldn't dare you to do it 'cause I know you're going to do it anyway, sooner or later.

Wasn't the minuet lovely this year. I liked the idea of carrying out the Valentine color scheme in costuming for a change, didn't you? Mary Alice Young and Ruby Hunt certainly served as fair representatives for us. Did you go to the game afterwards? You know I wouldn't have missed that game especially with such a keen orchestra to inspire our pep. Those youngsters looked great in their white over-alls all right! Talk about a score—can you beat that—65-7? Didn't Cleo play a cleancut game, though—and Frances Edwards, too? Makes their class sort of proud of its representatives.

Well, there goes the old bell for chapel so I'll have to air along if I hope to get my mail before the subway jam arrives. Come see me sometime.

THE AWAKENING

"And the night shall be filled with music
And the cares that infest the day
Shall fold up their tents like the Arabs
And as silently steal away."

It is here around us, about us, on every hand we feel its vibration and influence. In the schools the children are singing and they are happy. In the college the melody of song is carried on the wave of enthusiasm, and they too are happy.

It is here; the voice of our Creator singing to the hearts of men through this great power in music. Six miles away, the College of Hampden-Sydney and twenty-five young men have formed into a definite organization. The Glee Club of this noble institution is on its way rejoicing—singing. The melodic content from these rich young, manly voices, vibrant with youth and resonance, and this awakening, finds its full fruition on February 23 here at our college.

Our Choral Club and the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club will take part in a music festival. Co-operating in this great musical program will be one of America's greatest bass-baritones, Charles Trowbridge Tittmann. This concert Monday night should contribute much to our pleasure and profit.

"And the day shall be filled with music
And the cares that infest the day
Shall fold up their tents in silence
And pack with their clouds away."

STUDENT BODY WISHES TO EXTEND THANKS

The Student Body wishes to take this means of expressing its sincere appreciation to Mrs. Jamison for the lovely dinner Saturday night and to congratulate her on the attractive way in which she carried out the theme of St. Valentine's Day.

SEZ WE!

Virginia Bledsoe has observed that no matter how much you move it, writing paper always remains stationery.

Henrietta says, "If ignorance were bliss, some people would be blistered all over."

A. J. tells us that the pressing shop proprietor is sad because there is so very little change in men's clothes this winter.

"Here lies the body of Alice Mann,
She lived an old maid, but died an old man."

"The dimmest lights have the most scandal power," Nancy DeBerry has found out.

Virginia Lowe seems to have a pretty good supply of matrimonial jokes. Now she comes out with, "Marriages are made in Heaven knows what kind of state of mind."

"Fisher never take a check from a blacksmith," said Halloway, "'cause it's apt to be forged."

Lindsay White has been collecting songs lately and here are three of the best:

The sneezing song, "When I'm Looking Atchoo."

The stock market lullaby, "Buy Low, Baby, Buy Low."

The radiator song, "A Little Hiss Each Morning."

And the old district attorney ballad, "Sing, Sing, You Sinners."

Bitter Junior:
Tomorrow is my birthday
And passing sad am I—
I'll be twenty in the morning,
And I cannot tell a lie!
(Sez Shaner)

"A blush is a temporary erythema, or colorful effusion of the physiognomy—etiologized by one's perceptiveness of the sesorium, when in a predicament of an equilibrium, from a sense of shame, anger, or other cause, eventuating in the paralysis of the vasometor filament, with a radiance emanating from an intimidated pericardium." (Not · discernible, however in the absence of nocturnal illumination!)

Twinkle, twinkle, little planet,
While a carve my name on granite,
And inscirbe:
.....
.....
(Prize awarded to the Senior submitting cleverest "inscription.")

SONG—A SYMBOL

I had a song which no one cared about.
I sang it to the birds;
They seemed to shout,
"Take it away! We love our song too well!"
I took it to the flowers
In their dainty bowers.
"We need no song to make our Heaven Hell!"
I sang my song to stars:
No head shook they,
But were too far
To hear the song I wished to tell.
I sang my song to sea,
Rising—falling—
Don't sing your song to me;
I love to hear my waves on rocks beat well."
The mountains then
Their great monstrosity
Quaked themselves again
"We are too great to hear songs a person sings.

Some day when I
My heart regain,
I'll sing my song again.
'Twill be to children,
And I feel
The child in me
Will to them reveal
What I want the world to see!

Margaret Fisher, '32

TO—

Quiet waves crowded up
On the beach
And slowly withdrew—
Out in the darkness
A bird called
And then grew still—
On the beach—a boat
Overturned and silent—
A rent in the side
Where a piece of light shone
White sand—
One spot of darkness
There on the beach—
A wave-wet beach
Grown quiet—
Across the sky moved
A white moon, serene—
There on the sands
Lay the night.

An old student

TO MY KINDRED SPIRIT

'Tis wonderfully strange
How the Gods
Sent you my way—
Out from the endless bounds of the earth
On that fair day
You came to stay my
Vanishing hopes
To quiet my fears
Of life—the future years
To stir the glowing embers
By ambition fed unto a flame
To inspire me ever onward
Towards a life of brilliant fame.
We have known the same
Experience—you and I
To be without you, Kindred Spirit
As I die.

V. L.

MUSINGS

As tidal waves and seasons change,
Thoughts veer in thier courses;
Skipping lightly . . probing deep,
Halycon yet mighty forces.
Intensified, they hurt me long
Repelling one another,
Then fusing right with wrong . . . .
Console and sustain me further.
Now they crowd out saner musing,
Drag in phantoms . . . wierd things,
That clutch and grasp in their accusing . . . .
How deaf'ning mockery sings!
Then those that come with love's awakening,
Sublimely light . . . and dream-filled;
Lasting only but a moment.
How vague the happiness they yield?

R. Floyd, '32

A VALENTINE GAME

'Twas Valentine night when all thru the school,
Every creature was stirring, but not over a rule.
The tables were set with "heart"iest care
Knowing eight hundred girls soon would be there.
Then, after supper, there arose such a clatter,
I ran to the gymn to see what was the matter.
Out there on the gym floor yelling with glee
I saw six strong girls playing for S. T. C.
There was Mary, Martha, Frances and Dot,
And Laura, Edith, and Libby on the spot.
Then the second team played—there was plenty of backing—
And they kept the score rising, with nothing lacking
The visitors were good but not quite so fast,
And the score stood 65-7 in the score book at last
They all were good sports, these girls, that night,
And they left laughing, waving a grand good-night.

SOCIALS

Farmville was well represented at the various school dances this week-end. Those indulging in the gayety at Virginia were Alice Covington, Virginia Marchant, Coty Neale, Mary Clare Booth, Velma Quarles, Doris Walton and Mary Elizabeth Mayo.

• • •

Among those seen at V. P. I. were Catherine Marchant, Chic Mosby, Margaret Barker, Jacque Lee and Vernie Oden.

• • •

Those gracing the Hampden-Sydney ballroom were: Elizabeth Antrim, Margaret Banks, Virginia Brock, Elizabeth Carter, Patty Ellison, Frances Lewis, Rene Greaves, Alma Garlick, Mildred Gwaltney, Helen Gillispie, Virginia Hamilton, Nancy Harrison, Ruby Hunt, Ruth Hunt, Mary Harrison, Virginia Lamb, Louise Munt, Ann Minter, Loulie Millner, Ann McGann, Frances Parker, Dolly Reed, Martha Sanders, Mary Winston, Virginia Witt, and Mary Alice Young.

• • •

Attending the banquet at Longwood, given by the Chi Phi fraternity before the dance Friday night were Virginia Sargent, Margaret Banks, Dolly Reed, Sara Russell, Patty Ellison and Louise Munt.

• • •

Mrs. Harris of Kenbridge had as her guests this week-end Elizabeth Kelley and Dorothy Prescott.

• • •

Roanoke attracted quite a few this week-end. They were Elsie Bolton, Dot Dudley, Alice Schenk, Alice Collings and Sara Wills.

• • •

Mary Brightwell, Sara Hayes and Lou Covington spent the week-end at their home in Pamplin.

• • •

The many friends of Lindsay White are glad to welcome her return after a recent illness.

• • •

Gazelle Ware visited Virginia Witt at her home in Lynchburg.

• • •

Ruth Floyd, Loulie Millner, Doris Ewers, Louise Driscoll and Margaret Stiff were also recent visitors in Lynchburg.

• • •

Many of the alumnae returned for the dances at Hampden-Sydney, they were: Mary Bernard, Barbara Willcox, Elizabeth Hargrave, Elaine Goode, Mildred Field Elmore, Elizabeth Turner, Beth Brockenbrough, Mary Fielding Taliaferro, Frances Thornton and Helen Robertson.

• • •

Miss Flora Willcox of William and Mary was the guest of Mary Harrison for the dances.

• • •

Louise Johnson spent the week-end at her home in Fork Union.

DRAMATIC CLUB INITIATES MEMBERS

The impromptu revue put on by the new members as a part of their initiation into the Dramatic Club Tuesday night was a highly entertaining production.

The initiates gave stunts which varied from an interpretation of Prince Charming and the Beauty by Cleo and Easter to Margaret Bank's recitation, "The Rag Doll" which, in spite of the title, was everything but "limp". The pantomime representing various authors was very cleverly worked up. Gwendolyn Daniels, Elizabeth Johnson, and Elizabeth Drewrey gave a Japanese scene, and Frances Parker, dressed in a little gingham frock, took us back to other "School Days". Other stunts followed which were equally as good and were enjoyed by an appreciative audience composed of old members.

Lollies were served, and a "topping good time was had by all."

SENIOR-SOPHS HAVE PARTY THURSDAY NIGHT

Say, did you see that huge gang of Seniors hanging around the Rotunda 'bout ten o'clock Thursday night? Uh-huh, you know they were waiting for their dates, Hampden-Sydney dates? Heavens, no! Sophomore dates. Yeah, each Senior that went to the Sophomore party was escorted by at least one girl—sometimes two or three. Oh, I went with Margaret Priest. The Rec looked grand—all green and whitey with big banners, and streamers floating from everywhere. The Sophomore Orchestra—the Ileronians—played for us to dance. Were they good? Chile, they were plenty good! Ole Budsey Carter had 'em stepping up to the minuet, and they played snappy jazz, I'm telling you. They could croon out some slow, dreamy waltzes, too. You know—the kind Guy Lombardo plays. Well, we danced around for awhile 'n then everybody made way for the Martin twins to give a little specialty composition. I don't know what they called it, but it looked like a little "Half High Herbert" dance to me. Rachel McDaniel sang several little ditties in the Winnie Lightner manner. She was great stuff, too. She really did have that vaudevil air. Budsey and Dot Goodloe also favored us with solos. What'd we have to eat? Good-night, I'm talking just as fast as I can. Green and white ice cream, and green and white cakes on green and white plates with green and white napkins. It was a patriotic party right. I don't know when I've had such a "colossal" time. But that was to be expected 'cause when that Sophomore Class with Anne and Miss Iler back of it, does anything, it's done in the right way—and how!

MISS MARY ENTERTAINS ON MONDAY EVENING

Monday evening, Miss Mary played the role of delightful hostess to a number of girls in the Student Building lounge. To say that the usual "enjoyable time" was had by all would be a mild statement. Besides the delicious refreshments served, the party included several games into which everyone entered with much enthusiasm. The musical part of the program was given by Lib Taylor and Mildred Maddrey and together with the clever reading by Delia Grant lent a "piquant sauce to the menu of the day."

WORLD NEWS

The new Viceroy and Governor-General of India is Lord Willingdon, formerly Governor-General of Canada. Even though Lord Willingdon is noted as being a man of tact and of good temper, and who possesses a liberal outlook and progressive views, his appointment merely "peeves" the Indian National Press. To Nationalist editors in India, a Viceroy is a Viceroy and nothing more. They maintain that as long as there is no change in the spirit of administration, it doesn't matter who occupies the office. On the other hand, the British editorial writers in India look upon the appointment as almost a stroke of genius on the part of the British Labor Party.

DR. LEON VINCENT ENDS COURSE ON WRITERS

Continued from first page.

Pickwick, who was the "pricipal jackass in a club composed entirely of jackasses."

Dr. Vincent closed his lecture on Carlile and ended the course with a most amusing incident in Carlile's life, when he, a lecturer, was taken by a friend lecturer to hear another lecturer. How he wriggled back into a hidden place and, in pantomime, beat the friend who brought him was very funny.

The Victorian writers, because of Dr. Vincent's' delightful talks, have become vital to a great many more people who will read with pleasure, the novels of that period.

QUEEN OF MAY

MISS LOULIE MILLNER

JUNIORS ARE PROUD OF THEIR CLASSMATE

The awarding of the Nobel prize to Sinclair Lewis for his outstanding contribution of the year filled the front pages of the leading newspapers and, in like manner, the Junior Class steps into the pages of the Rotunda. We are proud to present to S. T. C. its May Queen, Loulie Millner, who will reign over the annual spring festivity at Longwood.

Of a distinctively brunette type, Loulie is known not only for her personal attractiveness but also for her literary, dramatic, and artistic accomplishments which she has shared with us all through her three years at Farmville.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Approximately four thousand letters were mailed last week to alumnae of Farmville S. T. C., inviting them to return to their Alma Mater for their annual reunion on March 7, and to attend the exercises of Founders Day on that date. Several hundred alumnae could not be reached because they have married or moved without notifying the office of the change of address.

Mrs. Edgar L. Greever, of Tazewell, State President of the Daughters of 1812, presided at a meeting of the State board held recently in Richmond. At this meeting active participation by the Virginia chapters in the Yorktown celebration was indorsed.

Miss Charlotte Wray directed the children of the George Thorpe School in Richmond, who took part in the exercises when a pink dogwood tree was planted on the school grounds by the Barton Heights Garden Club in memory of Mrs. Elizabeth Roth Miller, charter member of the club.

Mrs. Henry L. Cabell, Jr. (Mebane Hunt) was prima donna in the Junior League revue, "Stepping Some", which was given by the Richmond League at the Lyric Theatre on February 12, 13, and 14.

Announcement cards have been received of the marriage in Petersburg on February 7 of Miss Dorothy Doyle Boisseau and Louis G. Coleman.

A TRIP TO FRANCE AND SPAIN IS GIVEN

Imagine the opportunity of visiting both Spain and France in one short afternoon. That is what happened on Friday, February 13 when the French and Spanish clubs gave their annual bazaar in the drawing room which had been, as if by magic, transformed into two foreign countries. Besides selling very attractive articles both aesthetic and utilitarian a diverting program of Spanish and French songs and dances was presented during the afternoon.

"JUST GETS BY" TYPE IS FOUND THE EXCEPTION

The college student who would like to be an outstanding athlete and just get by in studies is an exception.

Only two per cent of 3,074 students replying to a questionnaire submitted by Dr. Floyd H. Allport, professor of political and social psychology, and Dr. Daniel Katz, of Princeton, said they would prefer to be notable athletes with barely passing grade.

The questionnaire was submitted in a survey to determine why students attend college.

"On the whole," the investigators concluded, "they would rather be students of mediocre ability and obtain their grades through industry, they would rather achieve success in extra-curricula activities with only passing grades, than be intellectually capable and socially unsuccessful as students.

Regarding the type of student they would rather be, is given a choice, students were divided as follows:

Forty-two per cent said they would prefer to be students with barely passing grades but with records for all around activity.

Twenty-five per cent would be students of mediocre ability whose high grades are achieved through industry.

Sixteen per cent would be highly intelligent students who neglect their courses for outside intellectual interests.

Eight per cent would prefer to be highly intellectual scholars with little social or no extra-curricular success.

DRAMATIC CLUB BIDS NEW MEMBERS

Jeanalem Boles
Margaret Gathwright
Elizabeth Drewrey
Mary Thomas Rawls
Myra McIntosh
Lorene Billings
Frances Coleman
Gwendolyn Daniels
Julia Martin
Mary Bruce
Margaret Fisher
Cora Lee Philpot
Catherine Cogbill

Intercollegiate

Two fair ladies representing Farmville State Teachers College (Virginia) won a critic judge's decision in a debate against Wake Forest College here Thursday evening . . . Mr. Bost, after addressing the young forensic lights as gentle-men and gentle-women, stated that while the argument of the Farmvillians was superior enough to justify their being awarded the decision he would have to admit that he was embarrassed by two facts: that these debaters were charming young women, and that he had always been a free trader."—Old Gold and Black.

The "Maroon and Gold" states that the "student teachers enjoy their work" in the Elon Graded Schools. The graded school officials have recently granted to the college the privilege of practice teaching in their schools.

Miss Elizabeth Cleveland is quoted in "The Breeze" as saying that the H. T. C. girls have been fundamentally alike in the score of years she has been there. The greatest change she notes is that the first girls were all more careful of their actions, realizing that they were forming traditions. However, this same fine spirit is still manifested by the best element of the student body.

The student body of Agnes Scott College has petitioned for privileges, among them being that of smoking, of having a formal dance at the school once a week and of having dates on the campus on Sunday. Dr. McCain states that "there is not a remote chance of their ultimate success."

The girls of High Point College are quite fortunate in having a radio installed in their dormitory. It was given to enable them to hear the radio programs sponsored by the college glee club and orchestra from nearby stations.

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART
We would like to have your orders
—for—
DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS
Canada Drug Co.
Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

JANUARY BARGAINS
NOW ON DISPLAY
DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!
We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE
Now On At
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Rack No. 1, your choice of our $4 to $6 Dresses, all sizes. Close out price $2.98
Rack No. 2. Your choice of any $19.75 dress in store for $9.95
Wrap Around Turbans 89c
Just received new spring dresses. Charge if you wish $5.95 & $9.95

JOKES

Ed. P.: "That girl over there is grace personfied."

Ruth Hunt: "Pardon, I didn't get the name?"

"That will be enough out of you," said the doctor as he stitched the patient up.

"What kind of an engineer is Jimmy?"

"Must be electrical."

"Why?"

"He's the current joke of the campus."

A Russian was being led off to execution by a squad of Bolshevik soldiers.

"What brutes you Bolsheviks are," grumbled the doomed one, "to march me through the rain like this."

"How about us?" retorted one of the squad. "We have to march back!"

"I'll have you know . . hic . . hic . . hic, that I'm part of the Standard Oil Company."

"And what part are you?"

"Hic . . . one of the tanks."

Wife: "I should like to shoot you."

Hubby: "You can't, my dear, without a hunting license. I'm an Elk."

Dear Mr. Editor: Will you please read the enclosed poem carefully and return to me with your candid criticism as carefully as possible as I have other irons in the fire.

My dear Miss Souders: Remove the irons and insert the poem.

Young Hopeful: "If you look at me like that, I am going to kiss you."

Martha Walters: "Well, I can't hold this expression much longer!"

Marchant: "Ah-ha, Daniel, at last the worm has turned!"

Munt: "Who cares? It's the same on both sides."

If there is anything that beats this husband-wife combination for bellicosity, it's roommates. They are always at odds and ends trying to get even.

Patty: "What an unusual tie. Did you design it yourself?"

Joe: "Well, in a way. They're gravy stains."

Faint heart ne'er won fair lady,
Though with cupidity you wreathe her.
My heart's all right, but I've found out
An empty purse ne'er did either.

Missionary (horrified): "You say you ate your own father and mother?" Why that means you're a cannibal!"

Black Boy: "No, an orphan."

Frances Ratcliffe: "Gin, you're so modest I believe you'd go in the closet to change your mind."

Ratcliffe: "Gin, I want you to meet somebody that you haven't seen for a long time."

Lowe: "Capital ole girl, who is it? what's his name?"

Ratcliffe: "Ginn, I can hardly wait till tomorrow for you to see him. His name is Mr. Mop."

Lowe: "Mop, Mop,? Where does he live?"

Ratcliffe: "Three doors down and across the hall. Get acquainted, Gin, there's dust on this floor an inch thinck."

CHORAL CLUB CONCERT TO BE GIVEN MONDAY

Continued from page one

Choral Club:
God of All Nature .... Tschaikowsky
Mixed Chorus:
Homing ..... Del Riego
Glee Club:
(a) Little Hills Are Calling, Morris
(b) Mah Pumpkin Sue ..... Cook
Full Chorus:
Pilgrim's Chorus ..... Wagner
Accompanists: Elizabeth Taylor and James Sydnor .

Part II.

Santa Lucia .... Neapolitan Folk Song
Caro mio ben ..... Giordani
Aprile ..... Tosti
(Mr. Tittmann)
Mother Carey ..... Frederick Keel
Trade Winds ..... Frederick Keel
Sea balads by John Masefield
Come Down to Kew ..... Carl Deis
Poem by Alfred Noyes
(Mr. Tittmann)
L'Heure Exquise ..... Reynaldo Hahn
Vision Fugitive ..... Massenet
(Herodiade)
(Mr. Tittmann)
Danny Deever ..... Walter Damrosch
Poem by Rudyard Kipling
Song of Volga Boatmen .... Chaliaplin
(Mr. Tittmann)
Leettle Bateese ..... Geoffrey O'Hara
French Canadian poem by W. H. Drummond
Little Waves of Breffney (composer at the piano) Annabell Buchanan
Ole Ark's a-moverin .... David Guion
Negro spiritual
(Mr. Tittmann)
The Lost Chord ..... Sullivan
(Choral Club, Glee Club, Mr. Tittmann)
Director and accompanists for Mr. Tittmann ..... Alfred H. Strick

Tickets may be reserved at White Drug Co., Friday, Saturday, and Monday.

SCOUTING

Thursday night marked the end of a happy and most successful training course in Scouting. Through these three weeks we have played, worked and picnicked and so when we all stood around in a circle Thursday night, not in caps and gowns, however, to receive our certificates from Miss Roos, our director, we were just a little bit sorry that it was all over and that Miss Roos would soon be leaving. At the beginning of the course we had Miss Born with us too, and we very early learned to love them both very much.

One Saturday we had a "Doughboy Hike" out at Farmville Lake. There we learned to cook in the open, to build a fire with not more than two matches, and also learned camp etiquette. We were really surprised at how well we could cook and Miss Iler and Miss Barlow really ate theirs. Miss Jeter was there to make the coffee and you might know it was good.

DR. WALKER GIVES PICTURES TO S. T. C.

Mr. Douglad Stewart Walker who lectured here and had an exhibit of his wonderful drawings last month, has presented the college with prints of two of his finest: "A Piper of the Constellations" and "Sea Fever." Those who had the pleasure of seeing Mr. Walker's work will recall the wonderful perfection of his art and when these two pictures are suitably framed and hung somewhere in the college, they will serve, always as a reminder of this artist who calls Virginia his home.

E. T. C. MET SATURDAY

The program of Elementary Teachers Club at its meeting Saturday moring, February 14, was of vital interest to prospective teachers. The subject was "Mental Hygiene" and the following items were included: "The Origin, Growth and Significance of the Mental Hygiene Movement" by Jesse Smith, "Mental Hygiene of Adolescent" by Mabel Barksdale, and "Mental Health of the Teacher" by Ruth Glenn.

SLANTS ON THE BASKET BALL GAME

A high toss-up from Miss Crenshaw, referee, teaches Mary to wait 'till it starts down next time—a pass from center, Dot receives—a goal after a while. Laura certainly gets ball in easily, with one of her twists, peculiarly Laura's. Laura and Dot surely have something down pat—and do you call it passwork? Laura pretty foul shot. Nothing like passing and then falling down as if the last good deed were done. I'd hate to have the ball tipped right out of my hands by tall Mary Gregory. Guards seem to be having an extended vacation—Frances intercepts nice one—saving Richmond forwards a little work. Mid-field goal—pretty! Exchange of jerseys while shirt-tails hang out—nothing like undressing on the gym floor. Orchestra! 'Nuff said. Second appearance better than first. Banks, does she have it? Whatever it is, she must! Second half. Pretty foul shot by the lil' curly-headed Richmonder. Sue and her guard play "Cat 'n Rat" while Mary jumps for ball. Double personal—looks like they'd just cancel order, doesn't it? Sue dribbles around guard as only Sue can do—a miss but Mary gets it in. Fifteen rahs for Hatchett between halves which sounds very natural. A loud deserving yell for Iler, our prized coach. Miss Crenshaw some good, isn't she? Put on brakes, Richmond, you're going the wrong way. Dot tries stunt of dropping ball then hopes to tie it with guard, but the guard absolutely refused—bad girl Whistle—rah-rah—game. To be told by Miss Iler, "You played a good game"—is the ambition of a life time.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Feb'y 23-28

MON. and TUES. — Constance Bennett in "Sin Takes a Holiday," supported by Basil Rathbone and a splendid cast. If you like beautiful gowns, lingerie and artistic settings; if you like paprika or ultra-smart dialogue in a sizzling comedy of modern morals, you will find it in this snappy, spicy production. It is the story of an unwanted wife, sent on her honeymoon alone, who learned a lot about the art of love and made many men want to fill her husband's shoes. You will learn a lot about men from this clever girl who won a millionaire. The smartest actress on the screen in the smartest picture to date. It will be the talk of Farmville. Also two-reel all-color comedy.

WEDNESDAY.—"The Cat Creeps" with Helen Twelvetrees and an unmatchable cast. (Return engagement by request.) From the famous play, "The Cat and the Canary." It abounds with mystery and suspense, and its entire action deals with the hair-rasing events of a single night in a great mansion which had not been occupied for 20 years. A hair-rasing mystery, yet full of hilarious laughter and the romance of the love of a girl for a boy.

Last chapter of "The Indians Are Coming." A great finish for this outstanding Western serial that has been so exciting from the very first chapter.

First chapter of Rin-Tin-Tin in "The Lone Defender." Here is the greatest dog of the screen in a fast moving drama specially written for him. In the supporting cast are Buzz Barton, June Marlowe and Walter Miller. Mystery and intrigue, action and thrills, danger and daring! See this wonderful dog in a death battle with a ferocious wolf. See him ride a dashing bronco across the desert. A serial to keep you on the edge of your seat during each chapter. Don't miss this double serial day!

THURS. and FRIDAY—"The New Moon," with Lawrence Tibbett and Grace Moore, supported by Adolphe Menjou and Roland Young. The first time two great Metropolitan opera stars have appeared in the same picture. Produced on a lavish scale, is the year's dramatic and musical spectacle you will not soon forget. Wait till you hear them sing "Lover Come Back to Me." One magic night in his arms—tomorrow she was to be the wife of another. Expect the thrill of a lifetime. You will not be disappointed. Words cannot describe this production.

Notice—Owing to the tremendous cost of this picture, the prices will be adults 50c at nights and 35c at matinees; children under 12, 25c to each show.

SATURDAY—"Free Love," with Genevieve Tobin and Conrad Nagel, the stars of "The Lady Surrenders," in a picture that will give you a most startling slant on whether the best man is better than the bridegroom after the marriage. Has a husband the right to give his wife a good sock on the jaw? You will be surprised when you see this amazing story of a modern married life and home wrecking. Genevieve Tobin will tell you how to win 'em and scold 'em and hold 'em in the most delicious picture of the year. Also Fox News and two-reel comedy.

Free Mysto Magic tricks to every boy and girl attending Saturday's matinee.

HEART HEALER'S CORNER

To a "Sissy Sophomore":

You have displayed inestimable indiscreetness by letting a Hampden-Sydney boy purloin your affections! Let this be a note of warning to you, however, and pursue your studies diligently. In the meantime, forget the "biological nonentity" and seek your friends elsewhere. Yours,

Mrs. I. Have-a-heart

Note: I am sure Mrs. Laura Alston Brown would recommend the same treatment if you should write to the Friend in Need department of Love Story magazine.

Dear Wondering:

You poor child! It does make my heart ache to see you dear girls become so infatuated. Of course, you may speak to other boys and still be true but if the boy of whom you have written becomes outrageously jealous, it is wise for you to search around for a gentler type of companion and then write and let me know when you have procured a suitable balm for your wounded heart.

As ever,

Mrs. I. Have-a-heart

My dear Perplexed:

My heart bled for you . . . because, I too, in my younger days, was confronted by the age-old problem of getting Hampden-Sydney boys to focus a little attention upon me. It was probably due to my recessive "It" . . . although we were much more modest and scrupulous in those times.

You have excellent qualities for attracting the opposite sex, judging from your description . . . but, perhaps, if you'll hint around, your best friend will donate a bottle of Listerine and thus end your trobules. Don't let this little act of kindness destroy your ideals of friendship, though.

Sincerely,

Mrs. I. Have-a-heart

Dear Forlorn:

Your condition is too serious for even my experienced mind, but my sympathy knows no bounds. The only thing to do is avoid the boy . . . a sacrifice for the happiness of your dear friend, but I am sure you will receive a "star in your crown" for the break in your young heart.

Sympathetically,

Mrs. I. Have-a-heart

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS

Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN

Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments

GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best

SANDWICHES

—and—

DRINKS

—in—

FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store

Farmville, Va.

"Drugs and Drinks"

DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES

WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP

AND LEATHER USED

"ALL MEN STRIVE AND WHO SUCCEEDS?"

ROTUNDA

"JOY AND SUCCESS THROUGH SERVICE"

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1931 No. 20

Choral and Glee Clubs to Broadcast

Radio To Be In Auditorium For Those Who Wish To Listen In

On Monday evening, March 2, the S. T. C. Choral Club and the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club will broadcast a program over station WRVA at Richmond. Thirty members of the Choral Club and twenty-five members of the Glee Club will participate in this broadcast which will last for 45 minutes beginning at 8:30.

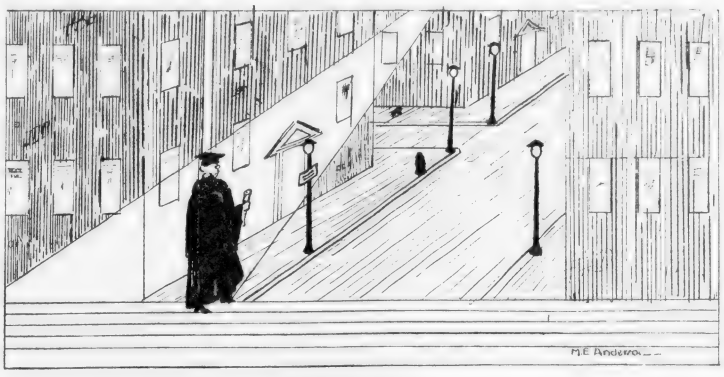
Arrangements are being made for a radio to be placed in the college auditorium for that night in order that those who would like to may listen in. It is expected that many alumni of both Hampden-Sydney and State Teachers College will tune in on the program, as more than 1600 announcements have been sent..

Before the clubs go on the air Miss Julia Fuqua, president of the Virginia Federation of Music Clubs, will introduce Professor Alfred H. Strick director of the two clubs, who will make a short address on "Virginia's Musical Needs."

There will be two special numbers in addition to the selections offered by the clubs. The string quarettte composed of Miss Lisabeth Purdom, flirst violin; Miss Mildred Steere, second violin; Mr. J. Bolling Reynolds, cello, and Mr. James Grainger, Jr., string bass, will play. Professor James Grainger and Mr. James Grainger, Jr., will render a flute duo, this number to be followed by the choral selections.

The following is the program which will be presented after Mr. Strick's address:

String Quartette:
Minuet from Serenade ..... Mozart
Flue duo: LaLrghetto and Rondo opus 80, Duo No. 2 ..... Kuhlan
Choral Club S. T. C.:



Continued on page three

Latin Club Elects Editor of Magazine

Sodalitas Latina held its regular meeting in Room O on Friday, February 20. Lois Cox was elected as editor of Tributum, the Latin club magazine, and Irvin Staples as business manager. It was decided that it would be an advantage to keep the history of the club so Lucy Fitzgerald was elected as historian. The club decided to put out an issue of Tributum at the beginning of spring quarter.

After this business Room O was the scene of a pretty Roman wedding. Lillian Womack was becomingly attired in a white ceremonial garment. On her head she wore a crown of leaves suspended from which a light veil was fluttering. The groom, Virginia Gee was clothed in a toga of the time and wore on her head the celebrated laurel wreath. Anne Rice, the preacher performed the ceremony of joining this young Roman couple in close wedlock. The wedding march was played by Elizabeth Temple.

After the wedding the members of the club joined in playing the game of Caesars and the game of the Latin Verbs. Light refreshments were passed around among the players and after a half hour of card playing the meeting adjourned.

DEDICATION

The Senior Class proudly dedicates this issue of The Rotunda to those who are ever lifting us through glorious successes and disheartening failures to higher goals.

'Southern Collegian' Will Appear Mar. 2

Featuring a discussion of "What Virginia College Presidents think of the Wickersham Commission Report," and offering news and views from 24 Virginia college campuses, "The Southern Collegian," official organ of the Virginia Intercollegiate Press Association, is to make its appearance on our campus on Monday, March 2, 1931, it was announced today by M. Waller Belcher, president of the organization.

Edited by Alexander F. Hudgins, A. B, '28, Hampden-Sydney College, co-founder and first president of the press body, the publication is to attempt to give students of this college an idea of events on other campuses in schools in Virginia.

Comprehensive stories on football and baseball will appear in the first issue. "Why Women Should Go To College" is another headliner. Plans for the University of Richmond's centennial next year and details of Randolph-Macon's centennial last fall are also found in the March issue. Dr. Paul Kauffman, Ph. D., Yale, discusses Atlantic University. John J. Corson, III, University of Virginia, offers an excellent book review. Jokes

Continued on last page

THE ALFRED STRICK CLUB ENTERTAINS

The Alfred H. Strick Club of the Third Grade of the Training School presented a musical program at chapel Saturday, February 21.

Following the devotional exercise, Mr. Strick introduced Miss Ida Penney, supervisor of the Third Grade, who presented the Alfred H. Strick Music Club. Miss Penney stated that under the leadership of the music teacher, Miss Doris Walton, and the inspiration of Mr. Strick, it has grown from twelve boys into an organization composed of the best singers of the grade from both boys and girls.

The children, accompanied by Mr. Strick, sang three numbers, the old French folksong, "By the Light of the Moon", "The Slowflake," and the Portugese hymn, "The Lord Is My Shepherd." Another interesting feature of the chapel exercises was the playing of the processional "Alma Mater" on two pianos with Elizabeth Taylor at one and Mr. Strick at the other.

NEW COLLEGE SONG

To thee, dear college,
Shall we raise
Our voices in acclaim;
And memories of yesterdays
Shall cluster, round your name.
So as we sing our college song
Unfurl the banners free,
Revealing liberty and truth
Forever, S. T. C!

A. H. Strick

CHORAL CLUB CONCERT A WONDERFUL SUCCESS

Mr. Charles T. Tittmann, aided by the H. S. C. Glee Club and the S. T. C. Choral Club, presented a very delightful musical program Monday evening.

The program was well planned and of good variety. It contained popular numbers composed by representatives of the classical, romantic, dramatic, and modern schools.

The Glee Club of Hampden-Sydney should be highly commended for their part on the program. Their selections met with the hearty approval of the audience. Their first appearance give indication of a very successful future.

The concert opened with a beautiful number by the Choral Club. All their selections showed not only the wonderful interpretation given by their director, but also the spirit they put into the music. Much of the success of the concert was due to the cooperation between the director and his choruses.

Mr. Tittman's numbers proved an extraordinary treat to the audience. His resonant voice of vibrant and sympathetic beauty accentuated the individuality of his program. His delightful and magnetic personality added much to the enjoyment of the program.

The music spirit aroused by Mr. Strick not only permeates our student body but the surrounding communities as well. The large number of out of town visitors showed the interest which has been taken throughout the state in the appreciation of music. We are hoping the concert will be the gateway to a higher and fuller appreciation of the best in music.

The program for the evening was as follows:

Part I.

Choral Club:
Worship ..... Geoffrey Shaw

(Continued on last page)

Tech Scandals of '31 Coming to S. T. C.

"Tech Scandals of '31" the musical revue production of the dramatic club of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, will present an entirely new show March 16, in the auditorium of S. T. C. This year they will bring with them their own stage scenery.

The cast is composed of forty boys, including a seven-piece orchestra. "The Tech Buccaneers," directed by J. M. LaVier, Jr., of Richmond.

The Scandals open with an overture from the Buccaneers, in which play G. L. Poythress, Roanoke; R. C. Campbell, Altavista; M. C. Evans, Beckley, W. Va.; M. D. Lockwood, Virginia Beach; H. A. C. Walker, Lynchburg; E. C. Wiley, Lynchburg; and J. M. LaVier, Richmond director.

Dances, novelties, songs, quartettes, skits and choruses follow the overture. The male leads are C. H. Chrisman, Oxford, N. C.; E. P. Crumpler, Logan, W. Va.; F. H. Ewell, Norfolk, and W. H. Thaxton, McClure. The "female" leads are E. W. Hobbs, Norfolk; R. C. Campbell, Altavista, and W. W. Stroud, Norfolk.

Two quartettes of campus talent will sing several songs. The first quartette is composed of F. H. Ewell,

Continued on page three

FOUNDERS DAY PROGRAM HAS BEEN ARRANGED

The following program has been arranged for March 7 by the Founders Day committee for the entertainment of student, alumnae and visitors:

10:00 A. M.—Presentation of gifts from classes and organizations in the auditorium. The alumnae will be represented both in person and by letter.

12:00 M.—Basketball game in gym, College varsity versus alumnae.

1:00 P. M.—Informal alumnae luncheon at Longwood.

3:00 P. M.—Alumnae meeting.

6:00 P. M.—Dinner in dining room given by the college for faculty and students.

8:00 P. M.—Address by Dr. W. R. Smithey of the University of Virginia in the auditorium. Music will be under the direction of Mr. A. H. Strick.

The success of Founders Day depends upon the participation and enthusiasm of all the students.

Waynesboro Team To Debate Here

Visiting Team on Tour of Eleven States—Have Been in 176 Debates in 3 Years

The first intercollegiate debate of the season to be held in the college auditorium will be on Tuesday, March 3 at 8 p. m. The subject under discussion will be: "Resolved: That the nations of the world should adopt a policy of free trade." The affirmative side of this question will be upheld by Misses Elizabeth Johnson and and Mabel Barksdale of S. T. C., opposing a strong and experienced team from Waynesburg, Pennsylvania.

Much interest is anticipated in this debate as the teams are well matched. The Waynesburg team is now making an extensive tour of approximately 3000 miles, touring the states of West Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania. This trip has been made possible by the leading citizens of Waynesburg. Two teams are making the trip, debating both the chain store and the free trade questions.

They are accompanied by their coach, Prof. A. M. Mintier, who has been coach of the Waynesburg teams for four years, during which time the expansion of debating has been shown by the fact that Waynesburg has participated in 176 debates in 3 years, on 26 questions, having met 116 different colleges and universities and having traveled a total of 20,000 miles. The teams consist of four representative students from the Waynesburg campus: Chas. Farrell, captain, Eric Enstrom, Kenneth McPherson and William Dusenberry.

Elementary Teachers Club Meeting

The regular meeting of the Elementary Teachers Club was opened Saturday morning by the president, Jane Brown. The program entitled the "Bicentennial Celebration of George Washington's Birth" was planned and conducted by Lillian Mickle and Ida Trolan.

A paper on "The Significance of Washington's Birthday to Us as Americans" was read by Miss Cassie Laird, in which she recommended the reading of Van Dyke's "The Americanisms of George Washington," and that we should make Washington human and not a saint always superior to us. Washington was an American gentleman and not English.

Clara McAllister gave many excellent suggestions for the appreciation of Washington by the children in her talk on "How a Washington Birthday Program Can be a Culmination of the Creative Arts in the Elementary Schools."

"The Suggestions from the New Superintendent for the Observation of Washington's Birthday in 1931" was given by Virginia Bailey. The superintendent of public instruction, Dr. Sidney B. Hall, suggests to the division superintendents that on February 22, they conduct Washington day programs, emphasizing the boyhood of George Washington, and encourage the children to make con-

Continued on last page.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31 — HAZEL HALLOWAY, '32

Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Editorials

Willingness to Work

The greatest prerogatives we have are our freedom and willingness to work. Oftentimes work becomes drudgery because we make it difficult; because we must do it; or because we regard it with aversion. It is this form that is seemingly without value and hence apart from any joy of accomplishment. Work should be a joy a way by which the motives of our lives will be realized.

Do we wish to suceed? Of course we do—but how can it be done without a willingness to work?

Acknowledgement

The members of the Senior Class are deeply grateful for an opportunity to express through our issue of the Rotunda our appreciation to all those who have guided and inspired us to achieve whatever measure of success is ours. It is with a very definite feeling of our own inadequateness that we now make our acknowledgement.

To our teachers we owe a deep debt of gratitude. Through their sympathy, their patience, their energy and their enthusiasm they have directed our learning activities. They have made our problems their problems; they have lifted us out of discouragement at times and started us right again. Their own achievements have been an example for us.

To our parents who first believed in us, and whose courage and sacrifice have made possible a happy and profitable four years of college life, we owe a further debt. It was their interest and counsel that directed us here, and it was their advice that kept some of us here when first discouragements and homesickness came. May we always justify their faith in us.

To our friends and associates we owe another debt. The contacts we have made with them have broadened our experiences and widened our interests. They too have proved an inspiration to us.

Our theories of life and life's work are due to these people who have kept high goals before us. All of them have contributed to our advancement. All of them have helped to waken in us a sense of our responsibility to the world that has dealt so kindly with us. May we ever keep our goals high because of their example.

S. T. C., Farmville, Va.
Schoolgirl Confession Magazine
New York City.

Dear Madame,

I am one of those girls who has always been thought unattractive and insignificant. Today all of this is different, for I am now one of the most outstanding girls at school.

It all started with my being fat. I was the despair of my friends for I never looked stylish. Then I discovered those lovely reducing tablets and lost ten pounds in two weeks. My figure is now the envy of all my friends—my roommate included.

It is very seldom that I have to use any makeup because I have come across the loveliest soap! After several applications of this soap my face recovered its own natural rosy glow and I now have a perfect schoolgirl complexion—a skin you love to touch. I laugh and talk a great deal because my teeth which were once so discolored are now pearly white.

Jim (the boy I go with at Hampden-Sydney) is always telling me what gorgeous clothes I have, but he doesn't know that I make all of them in my spare time. This is how it happened. He had invited me to the dances at his college but I didn't want to go because I didn't have a new dress, so I clipped an institute coupon and sent it off with many grave misgivings. I had never sewed a stitch in my life. You should have seen the darling evening dress that I made out of our dotted swiss curtains in exactly two hours and five minutes! Then I got a book telling how to be poised and to attract the attention of boys. In two week's time I felt that I could talk and walk as gracefully as any of the most popular girls anywhere. Well, I got the most wonderful rush at the dance, and since then have never lacked for dates. Jim has given me his fraternity pin, too.

However, I keep right on using my soaps and toothpaste and never for a minute allow myself to appear dowdy, because then my popularity would cease.

I hope this will help many girls to find a deserved popularity. If I improve in any other way I will write to you.

Yours truly,
S. T. C. Senior

HOW THEY CAME TO US AS FRESHMEN

Adele Hutchinson — very short dresses and hair growing out.

Elizabeth Taylor—with a bushy permanent wave.

The Faris Twins—very young, thin, and in middy blouses.

French Hutt—with long curls and ruffle dresses.

Mary Ellen Cato—sweet sixteen, but—

Martha Earp—a wind blown bob.

Catherine McAllister—very fat.

The Simpson Twins—dressed just alike.

Virginia Robertson—boyish bob and red coat suit.

Alma Garlick—with brown hair and athletic inclinations.

"Liz" Hunter—Young and unsophisticated.

Kay Schroeder — with raccoon coat and black patent leather boots.

The Senior Class wishes to congratulate the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior Classes on their respective issues of the Rotunda.

AND THAT REMINDS ME

When have you ever seen Mildred Maddrey without an armful of boxes, or:

Elizabeth Taylor when she wasn't in the biggest kind of a hurry.

Mary Ellen down on earth.

Allie Oliver when she wasn't speaking her mind.

Enza Evans miss a picture show.

Liz Antrim when she wasn't singing.

Jessie Smith when she didin't say "whole heaps."

Rena Robertson when she wasn't happy.

Ella Carrol when she was ever mussed up.

Lillian Mickle when she wasn't studying.

Sue Moorman in a hurry or excited.

Alice Covington not smiling.

Clara McAllister when she wasn't popping gum.

Doris Walton reading a book

And that reminds me—who can ever take the place of "Del" Hutchinson?

FAILURE—A MEANS TO SUCCESS

Whether one's life is to be adjudged a success or a failure, depends upon the standards with which it is compared. An ideal standard is one that aims at perfection. In pursuit of this ultimate goal, there may be a constant failure of gaining the end, but there will be no failure of life, for there is no explanation of life except that we are here for our growth, for an increase in love and knowledge. And these things cannot be gained except through repeated failure and trying again. Failure that leaves an unreached ideal before the soul is in reality a greater boon than success which thinks perfect satisfaction has been reached.

Robert Browning sincerely believed that failure is success—success in the realization that there are positive limitations to earthly achievements, thus giving man the opportunity to look forward to success in the world to come. Aprile and Paraceleus failed because each tried to do more than his limits on earth permitted. Their aim at perfection was right; what was wrong was their view that failure is ruin and not a prophecy of a greater glory to come.

Browning believed that there is in each of us a kind of original sin, which is a natural defectiveness deliberately imposed on us by God. This prevents our attaining any absolute success on earth. We are compensated, however, by the knowledge that God will fulfill all noble desires in a hereafter.

We must aspire; but we must realize that we are surrounded by limitations which baffle and seemingly retard our growth. When we fail to see these limitations and are satisfied with life as it is; when we cease to aspire beyond these limits, then it is we have committed the unpardonable sin. The worse failure is better than success. This life is but the threshold of a future life. Our failures are prophecies of eternal successes.

When we realize what our limits are, the main duties of life become clear. "The first is to work patiently within our limits; and the second is the apparent contradiction of the first—never to be satisfied with our limits or with the results we attain within them. Then having worked within these, but always looking beyond them, we, as life closes, learn the secret. The failures of life prove the victory beyond."

EVELYN W. WEST .

ON TO SUCCESS

The veil of obscurity was lifted,
And clearly I saw my goal;
A light—so dazzling—before me
Pointed the way, untried of old.

It was mine to strive for and reach,
This goal which the vision revealed;
Eagerly I searched for the pointer,
But the light had been concealed.

I became dazed, confused—was lost,
I knew not the path to pursue;
There was nothing but blackness
around me,
Of light—not the faintest hue.

I stopped to take toll of my station,
My vision began to clear;
My goal was shining before me
So bright that I lost my fear.

I mind not now the darkness,
Altho' the path is obscured;
Oh, God! keep ever before me
That goal—and success is assured.

C L. M., '31.

EASTERN INTERLUDE

He

I stood upon the wall
And watched her,
A brillian glow of scarlet,
Kneeling among the passionate
flowers,
Fingering the muted strings
Of her eastern lute.
I am of the North, but she—
Ah, she was all of the East—
The very soul of the exotic languorous Orient,
Compounder of love and mystery

She

Kneeling in my quiet garden
I saw him,
Standing atop the wall that does enclose
All my life,
(Keeping me lonely
With my flowers and my lute,
Keeping me pure
As a young girl should be)
His hair a golden crest
Against the brilliant sky,
His body young and strong
And very graceful,
Vibrant with life
And the joy of living—
A moment, and he was gone.
And now my lute has a strange low wailing.

Alice LeB. Ribble

TO MAJOR TITTMANN

Ranging our emotions—
Goading our imaginations
Plunging our souls
Into the pits of despair.
Where cold winds,
And haunting desolate sounds
Touch our hearts with desperate fear
Back to the heights,
With laughter on lips
That have been stark with dread—
Over sweeping wastes of yearning,
Following vague will-o'-the-wisps,
Our entire beings
Longing for the unattainable—
All the wonder and richness of life
Crammed into a few short moments—
The world in our hands
For a single hour.

Alice LeB. Ribble

IN SOCIETY

Among the young ladies that attended the dances at the Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., were Misses Helen Cover, Anna Knox, and Kathrine Waters.

The midwinter dances at R. M. C., Ashland, Va., proved quite successful and the following girls were there: Dorothy Dudley, Elsie Bolton, Martha Brothers, Lucille Owen, Sarah Wills and Winky Pitchford.

Miss Blackwell spent last week-end in Lynchburg having been joined there by her sister, Mrs. Williams.

The V. M. I. midwinter dances were attended by the following S. T C. girls: Margaret Barker, Jacque Lee, "Chic"" Mosby, Alice Covington. Virginia Marchant, Martha Moore, Vernie Oden, Frances Rawlings and Virginia Sargeant.

Nancy DeBerry and Kathrine Logan attended Roanoke College dances in Salem, Va.

Hannah Allen spent last week-end with her parents at South Hill, Va.

Mary Curtis Burwell spent the week-end with Harriet Moomaw at her home in Roanoke, Va.

Virginia Bledsoe and Harriet Branch spent the week-end with Evelyn Stephenson at her home in Beuna Vista, Va.

Marguerite Brady attended dances at Chapel Hill, N. C.

Virginia Daughtery spent the week-end at home in Emporia, Va.

Martha Faris visited at her home Red Hill, Va., over the week-end.

Allie Oliver was the guest of Agnes Meredith at her home, Hanover, Va.

Mrs. Fred Randall and Frances Lewis were hostesses at tea for the Mu Omega sorority.

Florence Moore, Margaret Fuller and Evelyn West spent Thursday in Richmond.

Loulie Millner and Ann Guy spent the week-end at the home of the former in Lynchburg.

Catherine Cogbill spent the week-end at her home Mecklenburg, Va.

Etta Marshall of Portsmouth, Va., was the guest of Adele Hutchinson over the week-end. The student body was glad to see Etta. Come again, soon!

Among the faculty members attending the National Education Association meeting which is being held in Detroit, Michigan are Misses Pierce, Camper and Dr. Jarman.

SATURDAY NIGHT TREATS

Sing? My dear it was the most adorable thing—the best we've had this year. Why, George and Martha were there in the flesh strolling through those gorgeous rose gardens of Mt. Vernon and did she look like a dream? She looked more like a saint! Yes, we had a real fashion show of their own day. Style, plus! Jenilee was a perfect scream! Have you ever seen such a good impersonator?

Didn't it seem natural to see Etta sit down at the piano again? And she hasn't lost of bit of "ye olde school spirit." She thoroughly convinced us "He's not worth your tears", 'cause she looked exactly like Greta Garbo with that bob.

Banks? Oh! How's that for working up a climax? She certainly held the old surprise bag! Who's ever have dreamed she meant a little rag doll, and a puppy dog? She's the world's worst for such get-ups! No exception.

Why all the sudden burst of applause and excitement? Oh! They were merely some of those "Handsome-Sydney" boys come to give the little girls a break and do some warbling for us! Some hearts do go pit-a-pat! Jimmie Sydnor? Tall—well, he's the superlative along with John Grant in front of him. Imagine two such tall boys in one place, at the same time. Grant did look scared, I wonder why? And Frank Pauley's smile—well! Eddie Paulette seemed perfectly at home. But, baby, can they sing? We tried encoring, but no use! Mr. Strick had already warned us they'd sing only one number. Guess he wanted to make sure we all would be on hand for the concert with the Choral Club and Major Tittman. Oh, yes?

OUR CLASSMAN

MISS VIRGINIA POTTS, who has been our faithful councilor and friend for two years.

SENIOR CLASS WILL HOLD REUNION

Here's to the class of 1927-'28 which has broken the record of S. T C. (in more ways than one?) Not only was it the largest Freshman class but even its remnant contains the largest number of Seniors that have ever passed through the portals of our college.

The Seniors are busy writing letters to these other girls asking them to return for Founders Day. A class reunion! Yes—let's live again the good old days of 1927-'28.

OUR SPRING MODELS

Be yourself! Wear what's most becoming to you. Wear the colors you like. Combine them as you like. The woman considers her wardrobe from all angles, from boots to bonnets.

New French hats are two-faced and the right side gives not the slightest hint of what the left is doing. They seem to be in danger of shrinking to the vanishing point. Rough straws are employed for small, perky hats. Stitched organdie, stitched taffeta, exotic straws, and linen are all shown in brimmed hats for resort wear.

Gloves and more gloves and longer gloves; thus runs the story of the spring. So many sleeves are refusing to go below the elbow in early suits, in silk and woolen ensemble, that the longer glove decision is an inevitable one.

"When in doubt wear a jacket," seems to be a spring slogan. Trigs cant and challengingly youthful, they appear in contrasting or matching fabrics with evening gowns. You may wear jackets in all the threads spun and woven in all the garment materials that are known to women.

Suits will often be of two different fabrics—and more often still in two different colors. The new country coats and suits will be brighter in coloring and rougher in texture, though still soft and supple. Colors to consider include green in all its new versions, from dull yellow-green to the new bright electric green. Yellow is very chic, especially when combined with brown and rusty reds. Bright blues and greys are important and biege and brown (like the color of tree trunks) go on forever.

The smartest evening fabrics for spring are lace, linen lace, eyelet embroidery on batiste and also marquisette printed crepe and chiffon; while the newest color is a yellow-green, resembling the first shoots of grass.

Black patent leather shoes are smart. Wear these things and you will have all the beauty of spring, the nonchalance of youth, the verve of the very new, and the joy of knowing yourself well dressed.

The members of the Senior Class wish to thank their "little sisters" —the Sophomores—for the novel entertainment given for them in the recreation hall on Thursday night, February 12.

SOPHOMORE PLAY TO BE PRESENTED FRIDAY

La-dies and gem'men, allow me to present Mr. Larry Lackcoyne, the proprietor of our Crossroads Store. The little lady beside him is none other than Miss "Babs", his fiancee. Ah, here comes Miss Nancy Nosepolsin, our human newspaper, who misses no scandal. Somebody told her that somebody told them that Mr. Larry actually had his arms about Miss "Babs" waist, and she has taken the morals of the world upon her shoulders! Two villians appear and a mystery! Even the proverbial school teacher is in the mix-up, as well as many other of our village folk. An all star cast:

Bulkey Carter ..... Young proprietor
Frank Smoot ..... Local pump driver
Patty Ellison ..... A slick one
Jane Royall ..... Another sick one
Edith Spindle .... Who turns the earth
Dot Goodloe ..... Gem'man of color
Sara Wills ..... Perpetual rheumatic
Dot Dudley ..... Just a kid
Janice Wilkerson ..... Like to gain weight
Mary Bruce ..... Like to lose weight
Mary Warren .... Engaged last night
Margaret Gathright .... Schoolteacher
Ruth Jordan ..... Mournful widow
Elizabeth Johnson .... Human paper
Annie McKenny ..... Very green
Frances Coleman .... Who has a straying hubby
Jenliee Knight .. Larry's sweetheart

Come to the auditorium and meet them all as presented by the Sophomore Class Friday night, February 27, at eight o'clock.

CHRISTIAN WORLD EDUCATION INSTITUTE IS HELD HERE

Under the auspices of the Y. W. C .A., the Christian World Education Institute is being held here this week. The speakers are Mr. Y. E. Hsiao, general secretary Student Christian Association in North America; Mr. Matias Cuadra, member of the traveling staff Student Volunteer Movement for Foreign Missions; Rev. Ronald Tamblyn, Methodist minister of Greensboro, N. C.; Mr. Chester Rowell, noted lecturer, who will speak on the World Court; Miss Eleanor Brannan, who will speak on war and peace.

S. T. C. is very fortunate in obtaining such outstanding speakers, and it is assured that the student body will be greatly benefitted by their addresses.

TECH SCANDALS OF '31 COMING TO S. T. C. ON MARCH 16TH

Continued from page one

Norfolk; T. B. Crumpler, Logan, W. Va.; H. Downing, Front Royal, and E. K. Bates, Brewster, Ohio.

F. H. Ewell is president of the club and T. B. Crumpler is business manager. The Tech Scandals is directed by Selden Heath, Blacksburg.

SENIOR STAFF

Editor-in-Chief .. Evelyn Simpson
Associate Editor ..... Jane Brown
News Editor ..... Evelyn West
Literary Editor ..... Alice Ribble
World News ..... Elizabeth Temple
Athletic Editor ..... Allie Oliver
Social Editor .... Elizabeth Antrim
Feature Ed. Catherine McAllister
Art Editor .... Elizabeth Anderson
Joke Editor ..... Ida Trolan

Reporters

Eleanor Dashiell Mary Page White
Mabel Barksdale
Proof Readers: Florence Moore, Mary Derieux

Managers

Circulation Mgr. Elsie McLaughlin
Myra Costen

OUR PRESIDENT

VIRGINIA ROBERTSON—Foremost in the hearts of the Senior Class—our leader, guide and friend.

MISS McCONNELL VISITS S. T. C.

Miss Ethel McConnell, student associate of the Baptist Sunday school board, is in school speaking to the Baptist students each evening at 6:45 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. reception room. She will be here through Thursday.

Miss McConnell spoke Monday evening on "Bones", making an interesting comparison of the different bones of our body to our duties as Baptist students on the campus. While here she is going to speak on "Ticks" and many other interesting things. All those who have met or heard Miss McConnell have found her very charming. Any other students beside Baptists are cordially invited to hear her.

CHORAL AND GLEE CLUUBS TO BROADCAST

Continued from page one

Worship ..... Geoffrey Shaw
God of all Nature ..... Tschaikowsky
Hampden-Sydney Glee Club:
Little Hills Are Calling ..... Moris
Mah Pumpkin Sue ..... Cook
Full Chorus:
Pilgrim's Chorus ..... Wagner
Lost Chord ..... Sullivan

ALUMNAE NEWS

The Southern Section of the American Physical Education Association will hold its annual convention in Louisville, Ky., March 11 to 14. The Virginia Journal of Education notes "among the nationally known speakers on the programs", was Miss Mary Channing Coleman, of Greensboro, N. C. Miss Coleman has been head of the physical education work at North Carolina College for women for several years.

Miss Emma Faris is engaged in mission work under the diocese of Southwestern Virginia, with headquarters at Trinity House, Richlands, Va.

Mrs. Cecil de la Barre (Elva Hedly) writes: We are located in Blacksburg now. Cecil is teaching in the English department here at V. P. I., and I am working in the office of the alumni association. They have a very splendid alumni organization but it entails a great deal of work.

The gravure section of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, February 22, contained a picture of the finale of "The Coming of Galahad," recently presented by the pupils of 4H Grade of Nathaniel Bacon School, and directed by Mrs. Gertrude Gilliam Reynolds, teacher.

Miss Florence de Launay Buford has been elected principal of the Clark Schol in Charlotesville, and will take office June 1. This is a new elementary school, named in honor of George Rogers Clark, explorer of the Northwest, and will be completed in the next few weeks. It will house approximately 800 children. Miss Buford is a graduate of Farmville S. T. C., she has studied at Clumbia University and holds two degrees from the University of Virginia. At present she is continuing work towards a doctor's degree in history. She has taught in Virginia and Maryland for several years and was for a while a member of the department of physical education in this college. Se is now one of the faculty of Lane High School, Charlottesville which is an honorary society for women at the University of Virginia, and a member of the executive council of the Charlottesville Business and Professional Women's Club.

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART
We would like to have your orders
—for—
DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS
Canada Drug Co.
Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

JANUARY BARGAINS
NOW ON DISPLAY
DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!
We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE
Now On At
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Rack No. 1, your choice of our $4 to $6 Dresses, all sizes. Close out price $2.98
Rack No. 2. Your choice of any $19.75 dress in store for $9.95
Wrap Around Turbans 89c
Just received new spring dresses. Charge if you wish $5.95 & $9.95

"Ah, say, Sam, how's you and your sugar making out these days?"

Not so good, Rastus, ma sugar's too refined."

John: "Darling, I've made up my mind to stay at home tonight."

Jesse: "Too late, I've made up my face to go out."

"When all other ruses fail, the college boy usually gets his fraternity pin back by marrying the girl."

She: "You don't love me anymore. I'm going back to mother."

He: "Don't bother; I'll go back to my wife."

Agnes Meredith: "Electricity frightens me terribly."

Mr. McCorkle: "Don't worry, just make light of it."

108 year old wine given to historical society—Boston Traveler.

Doubtless the club is now known as the "Hysterical Society!"

Teacher: "Now, Johnny, what is Boston noted for?"

Johnny: "Boots and shoes."

Teacher: "Correct. And Chicago?"

Johnny: "Shoots and booze."

College is largely a matter og give and take. Give money and take examinations.

Ficklestein: "Oi, oi, der vedding invitation says 'R. S. V. P.' Vot does dot mean?"

Hagendorf: "Ah, such ignorance. Dot means to bring 'Real Silver Vedding Presents'."

In Scotland

There's a story going 'round about the Scotchman who wanted to smoke monogrammed cigarettes, so he changed his name to Chesterfield.

Doris Walton: "I can't seem to think clearly on warm days."

Dr. Wynne: "It isn't the heat it's the stupidity."

"Pardon me, sir," said the absent-minded professor, looking in the morror, "but haven't I seen you somewhere before?"

"Absence makes the mark grow rounder."

Americanism

Driving like heck to nowhere only to find it's late and you'll have to hurry back. Preaching about cleanliness and then looking all over town to find a suit of clothes that won't show dirt.

Elsie McLaughlin (chemistry instructor): "What is the formula for water?"

Student: "H I J K L M N O."

Elsie: "What! Where did you get that from?"

Student: "The professor said it was H to O!"

A divinity student named Tweedle
Once wouldn't accept his degree
'Cause it's tough enough being called Tweedle,
Without being called Tweedle D. D.

Pauley: "You know you're not a bad looking sort of girl."

Anna: "Oh, you'd say so even if you didn't think so."

Pauley: "Well, we're square then. You'd think so even if I didn't say so."

FARMVILLE TO PLAY WILLIAM AND MARY

On the 28th of February our varsity will contend against the varsity of William and Mary in basketball. This will bring to an end the inter-colegiate games of the season, and offer us a fine opportunity to show the squad that we appreciate the way they have so willingly and constantly worked in order to bring success to our Blue and White.

Student body, we're expecting you, in the balcony of the gymnasium at 7:30 p. m. sharp to help put S. T. C. on tap. Let's go! Fifteen rahs for team!

LIBRARY NEWS

A new electric stylus with which to letter the backs of books arrived last week. The instrument will hasten this phase of the reclassifictaion of the library books which, when completed, will enable the assistants to find the books more quickly and thus give readier service at the circlation desk.

Since this time last year 2,303 books have been added to the library. Over a thousand dollars worth of reference books were obtained during the summer. This makes our library quite strong in the best of reference material. At the present time the library takes twelve newspaprs. One hundred and seventy periodicals come regularly and back numbers of about seventy of these are in bound volumes.

The following novels have been recently added to the self-supporting list in the library:

"Cakes and Ale", Somerset Maugham.

"The Bitter Tea of General Yen", Grace Zaring Stone

"The Water Gypsies," A. P. Herbert

"Staying with Relations," Rose McCaulay.

ANSWER TO JUNIORS

To you, Junior Class, we humbly submit
Our sympathy for your lack of wit.
Your poem we have finished
And we'll finish many more;
Send the prize for this one
To box four-two-four.
Twinkle, twinkle little planet,
While I carve my name on granite
And inscribe:
"If this is poetry
Let me see you try to scan it."

ELEMENTARY TEACHERS CLUB HAS MEETING

Continued from first page.

tributions for the benefit of the George Washington Foundation for the restoration of his boyhood homestead situated on the banks of the Rappahannock River.

THE VISION OF LADY ESTEECEE

(With apologies)

At the Book Room door are all things sold,
Each ounce of dross costs its ounce of gold.
For a cap and gown four years we pay,
Knowledge we buy with a whole souls tasking;
'Tis Tuesday's notes that are given away,
'Tis only advice may be had for the asking.
No price is set on the lavish summer.
June may be had by the poorest comer.

And what is so sad as the ninth of June?
Then, if ever is sorrowful day;
For Senior credits will be counted soon,
And Dr. Jarman will send us away.

M. B., '31

"Don't worry if your job is small.
And you're rewards are few,
Remember that the mighty oak
Was once a nut like you."

S. T. C. RETURNS VICTORIOUS FROM TRIP

A fast and exciting game was played February 21 at 2:30 p. m. on the Sweet Briar court between Sweet Briar and S. T. C. At first S. T. C. was handicapped by the small court, but they overcame it and the game ended with the score 23-11 in favor of S. T. C. The pass work on both teams was good and the game never showed a dull moment.

S. T. C.	Sweet Briar
(c) Smith (f)	Boyle
Snedegar (f)	Whittaker
Coleman (g)	Gathrop
Sanders (g)	Roberts
Gregory j. c.)	Burford
Edwards (s. c.)	Rucker

Subs for S. T. C.: Gunter, Quisenberry, Burgess, Yeaman.

Subs for Sweet Briar: Woodward, Gucker, Quickman.

Referee: Miss Roberts.

CLASS BASKETBALL GAMES TO BE HELD

Do your remember the vim and vitality everyone had over the class hockey games? Well, the first week of March is going to present an occasion just as eventful and I assure you, just as exciting. The Red and White will play the Green and White at basketball in that same old "win-or-bust" spirit—sticks make no difference, basketball will do just as well.

Now look at the Freshman team—almost entirely varsity. Won't the Sophs have a hard time?—but take a peek at the Sophomore team. Theirs, too, is almost entirely varsity. The Juniors and Seniors are quite evenly matched and it's hard to tell who will be victorious. Wonder who will win the points toward the color cup? How can I wait a whole week before the final clash?

At the Eaco Theatre Week of March 2-7

MONDAY and TUESDAY—Marie Dressler and Polly Moran in "Reducing." Folks, you have been waiting for this laugh riot, and here it is! A joy picture for the too fat and the too thin. The funniest women in the world in their funniest picture. The audience is taken behind the scenes in an establishment where fat women become thin and thin women fat. Marie and Polly have gentle fun with reducing methods and succeed in keeping their admirers in a constant state of quaking mirth. See Marie as an inexperienced helper who pushes all the wrong buttons and creates havoc. "Reducing" has no moral lesson—it is distinctly made for laughing purposes only and you will ache as the result. Don't miss the laugh hit of the year. Also Colortone, "Baby Follies."

WEDNESDAY—Johnny Mack and Eleanor Boardman in "The Great Meadow." See this great adventure picture and give yourself a treat. It is crammed with action, romance, beauty and tense drama. Daniel Boone stalked through Kentucky's wilderness leaving a blazed track—and in his path followed Diony Hall, brave pioneer daughter of old Virginia. When her first husband returns, the law of the wilderness is that she must choose between her two husbands, and she does. Such is the picture adopted from Elizabeth Madox Roberts' best selling novel.

"The Lone Defender," with Rin-Tin-Tin. Chapter 2. The greatest of all screen dogs in the greatest of all dog pictures . New tricks. new stunts, and crammed with action.

Family," with Frederic March, Ina Claire, Mary Brian and Henrietta Crosman. This is really a take-off on the Barrymore family. Mad, merry, modern! Their escapades make headlines, but their private lives and loves are now revealed to you. America's darlings as they are with the spotlights off. Tony's love affairs. Julia balances marriage and millions against a career. Lovable Gwen wants a husband and babies, and then Fanny, the empress of the American stage. What a treat for you! Here is certainly the cleverest display of brilliant acting in months. It deals with a subject the public is passionately interested in, and you will enjoy every minute of it. Also Our Gang Comedy.

SATURDAY—John McCormack in "Song of My Heart." Brought back by special request. Here is the world's greatest tenor singing 11 songs for you, among which is "I Hear You Calling Me" and "Then You'll Remember Me." Filmed at McCormack's home, Moore Abbey, in Ireland. You will love the charming love story, the hilarious comedy, the soul-stirring sentiment and the songs sung gloriously by McCormack. This picture received more voluntary comment than any offering shown here the past year, and we are bringing it back because of the insistent demand. Also Fox News and two reel comedy.

Free Mysto Magic tricks to every boy and girl attending Saturday matinees.

One show each night at 8 o'clock. Daily matinees 4 p. m.

Admission, adults 35c at nights and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

CHORAL CLUB CONCERT A WONDERFUL SUCCESS

Continued from page one

A Capella Choir:
(a) O Saviour Sweet ..... Bach
(b) I Dream of Jeanie ..... Foster
Choral Club:
God of all Nature ..... Tschaikowsky
Mixed Chorus:
Homing ..... Del Riego
Glee Club:
(a) Little Hills are Calling .. Morris
(b) Mah Pumpkin Sue ..... Cook
Full Chorus:
Pilgrim's Chorus ..... Wagner
Accompanists: Elizabeth Taylor and James Sydnor.

Part II

Santa Lucia .... Neapolitan Folk Song
Caro mio ben ..... Giordani
Aprile ..... Tosti
Mr. Tittmann
Mother Carey ..... Frederick Keel
Trade Winds ..... Carl Deis
Sea ballads by John Masefield
Mr. Tittmann
L'Heure Exquise .... Reynaldo Hahn
Vision Fugtive (Herodiade) Massanet
Mr. Tittmann
Danny Deever ..... Walter Damrosch
Poem by Rudyard Kipling
Song of Volga Boatmen .... Chailapin
Mr. Tittmann
Leetle Bateese .... Georffrey O'Hara
French Canadian habitant poem by W. H. Drummond
Little Waves of Breffny .....
..... Annabel M. Buchanan
Ole Arks A-moverin .... David Guion
Mr. Tittmann
The Lost Chord ..... Sullivan
(Choral Club, Glee Club, Mr. Tittmann
Director and accompanist for Mr. Tittmann ..... A. H. Strick

MONOGRAM CLUB WELCOMES MEMBERS

The Monogram Club gives to two girls, Emily Simpson and Marguerite Massey, the privilege of wearing a college monogram. These girls are outstanding in athletics, have passed the physical efficiency test, and also have maintained the required scholastic average.

SOUTHERN COLLEGIAN" WILL APPEAR MARCH 2

Continued from page one

spice it up and stories from different campuses touch it off as truly an organ of every college and university in the state.

Copies wil be sold for fifteen cents each. The publication on our campus is sponsored by The Rotunda.

"Personally, we do not know the secret of success, but sometimes we're afraid it's work."

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS
Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN

Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments

GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best

SANDWICHES

—and—

DRINKS

—in—

FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store

Farmville, Va.

"Drugs and Drinks"

DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES

WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP

AND LEATHER USED

THE SOUTHERN COLLEGIAN IS ON SALE NOW

ROTUNDA

BRING YOUR "DATE" TO SEE "THE BRAT"

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 4, 1931 No. 21

Sixteenth Annual Volunteer Conference Is Held in Farmville

A Delegation Of More Than One Hundred Members Meet Here

MISS ALICE HARRISON, IS PRES.

A delegation of more than a hundred members met to attend the Student Volunteer Conference in the Presbyterian Church of this city, February 27-March 1. The Conference was held for the purpose of discussing the coming of God's Kingdom on earth and foreign missions in the light of the teachings of Jesus Christ. The purpose was realized through the Conference program consisting of lectures, sermons, discussion groups, plays, formal and informal social contacts.

Much interest was shown by the town people who attended the lectures. At each lecture hour the Conference room was filled. The students attending the Conference were representatives of Virginia.

The key verse of the conference was taken from Revelations 11:15, "The kingdom of the world is become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ," and the programs were planned to concentrate the attention of different minds upon some of the most difficult questions connected with the Christian world enterprise. Returned missionaries from China, India, and Arabia, gave talks and held discussions the result of which increased the understanding and sympathy of those attending the same.

One of the dominant notes of the conference was the expression of the realization of a new world. A world that has never been as large as it is today and yet so near and closely associated and so small in a way. A world that is no longer content to following the steps of its forefathers To use the expression of one of the speakers in referring to China's present day conditions "the East and the Near East has waked up, but it hasn't washed its face yet" is a fact that we

Continued on last page

CHORAL CLUB AND H. S. GLEE CLUB BROADCAST

At 8:30 p. m. Monday, the S. T. C. Choral Club and the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club broadcasted over WRVA, Richmond. The program consisted of four numbers—"Lost Chord", of Tannahauser: "Homing;" "Worship"; "God of all Nature" from Tschaikowsky Andante Catabile.

Members of the Choral and Glee Clubs who went to Richmond were: Adele Hutchinson, Elizabeth Angrim, Ruth Ford, Mildred Maddrey, Sue Moomaw, Ruth Hunt, Rubie Hunt, Jane Witt, Sue Yeaman, Mildred Varner, Rena Robertson, Martha Ann Laing, Patty Ellison, Katherine Jones, Mary Thomas Rawls, Lindsay White, Virginia Bailey, Bernice Scott, Nancy Putney, Elizabeth Taylor, Hannah Crawley, Anne Woodson, Edith Coleman, Eleanor Davis and Mildred Steere.

Horace Goodman, Fleet Dillard, O'Ferrall Thompson, Jimmie Sydnor, Sam McClure, Bird Talbot, Eddie Bell, Eddie Paulette, George Jennings, Maurice Lodge, John Grant, Edwin Cralle, Charles Robinson, Russell McAllister, George Miller, Herman Bell, John Hall and Mr. McIlwaine.

MISS ETHEL McCONNELL TALKS TO STUDENT BODY IN CHAPEL THURS.

Miss Ethel (Dick) McConnell, who represented the Student Baptist Union, talked in chapel Thursday morning on "Ships of Personality." As she mentioned her subject, one could hardly help thinking, "What a charming personality she has."

McMcConnell said that her hobby was "travel" and she told of an experience she had in a ship off the coast of Africa when one of the engines died. This experience reminded her of the reply an old sea captain made, when, after having been asked the question, "What is the worst thing you have seen in your many years on the sea?" he said—A derlict ship—one that's coming from nowhere and going nowhere—just there, that's all." Miss McConnell applied this to life by saying that the worst thing she has sen in her visits in colleges and universities of eighteen Southern states is a student, going nowhere—just there.

She brought out the true meaning of prayer in giving an account of a young college boy's experience concering prayer.

After giving several more interesting incidents and helpful suggestions she advised everyone to "walk to the ship of personality and up its gangplank—stay there on the sunniest spot—and live there for the best that's in you."

MAY COURT FOR 1931 IS ELECTED WED.

The May Court was nominated last February 20 and elected last Wednesday. The following girls were chosen as ladies in the court: Misses Nancy Harrison, Jenilee Knight, Frances Parker, Helen Cover, Alice Covington, Ruby and Ruth Hunt, Polly White, Virginia Sargeant and Medora Ford.

The knights are as follows: Misses Jane Royall, Mary Shelton, Laura Smith, Grace Virginia Woodhouse, Virginia Robertson, Doris Walton, Dolly Reed, Jim Simpson, Honey Hamilton and Gazelle Ware.

'The Brat' To Be Given at S. T. C. By Woman's Club

Heroine of "Peg O' My Heart", Mrs. Walter Putney, Appears In Leading Role

EDDIE BELL IS HERO

Bishop Ware alias Dr. J. E. Walmsley

"The Brat", a delightful three-act comedy, will be presented in the College Auditorium March 10. This play had a successful run for a year in New York City. It promises a very delightful evening at S. T. C. next Tuesday.

"The Brat" is the same type of play as "Peg O' My Heart" which was presented here in 1928. It is a brilliantly written comedy, with much clever dialogue and amusing situations.

The heroine of "Peg O' My Heart" will appear again in the leading role of 'The Brat". She is none other than Mrs. Walter Putney, better known to S. T. C. and Hampden-Sydney as "Baby" Fitzpatrick. The Brat is a child of the slums who very unexpectedly finds herself in a rich environment surrounded by attractive young men. She finally reforms the black sheep of the Forrester family who in the play is Stevie, and in real life, Eddie Bell from Hampden-Sydney. Stevie seems to have committed the unexpected when he falls in love with the Brat, and the untangling of the love affairs in the play is very cleverly brought about.

Perhaps much of the credit of the solving of such problems will be given to Bishop Ware. Those girls who have delighted over the subtle humor of Dr. Walmsley in class, will be even more pleased to see him in the role of Bishop Ware. The Bishop is charming, and a perfect match for him is Mrs. Fallwell who plays the

Continued on page three

S. T. C. Varsity Team Ends Season By Defeating W. & M.

Game Played Saturday Night Was One of the Most Exciting of the Year

FINAL SCORE ENDS 38 TO 9

In one of the fastest and most exciting games of the year, S .T. C. turned back the W. & M. co-eds Saturday night in the S. T. C. gym with a score of 38-9.

Grabbing the ball at the tip-off, the centers passed it quickly to their forwards, and in those first seconds of playing, L. N. Smith made the first score of the evening. Then, on through that quarter, Farmville showed perfect team work—score after score being made.

The W. & M. forwards were unusually quick, but even though the ball was passed to them a number of times, the close guarding of Coleman and Souders made it impossible for them to locate the basket and score.

The first quarter ended with a score of 16-1. During the second quarter, it seemed as if the teams were a little more evenly matched. Up and down the court the ball traveled, neither side being able to score. The second quarter ended with a score of 199-3, W. & M. gaining two points and S. T. C. three.

Second Half.

During the opening of the second half, W. & M. gained strength and Farmville was forced to play more on the defensive. The Snedgar and Frasier combination steadily improved, which again showed S. T. C. as the superior. The W. & M. forwards and S. T. C. guards added a bit of laughter for the fans by sliding down and scrambling across the court after the ball.

The last quarter exhibited the cleanest played part of the game. Very few fouls were called. Yeaman was sent in to relieve Frasier. Though seldom attempting to shoot, she showed good pass work which enabled her partner to raise the score considerably. Just as Snedgar

Continued on last page.

47TH ANNIVERSARY OF FOUNDERS DAY TO BE CEEBRATED

All hail, Alma Mater! Dear mother to thee,
Thy daughters true faithful, and loyal will be—

Once more throughout the halls of S. T. C. will ring forth the happy voices of friends, alumnae and students who will always sing our Alma Mater song in their hearts. They will sing it with more spirit than ever before this Saturday because there are more memories of the past and more dreams and visions for the future than there ever have been. Then too, our beloved president is with us, and we nearly lost him.

All students will be at home this Saturday and the guests of the institution will be the pleasure of the student body. Much has been planned for their entertainment.

The following program has been planned:

Founders Day Program

10:00 a. m.
Song ..... Alma Mater
Welcome ..... Miss W. London
Presentation of Gifts, Organizations
Greetings from Alumnae .....
Response ..... Dr. J. L. Jarman
Song ..... "There is in Old Virginia"
12 Noon
Basketball .... Students vs. Alumnae
1:00 Buffet Luncheon .... Longwood
3:00 Alumnae Meeting .... Student

(Continued on last page)

SOUTHERN COLLEGIAN IS ON SALE HERE

The March issue of the Southern Collegian, the magazine which represents nearly every college campus in Virginia is on sale here. This issue carries two articles from S. T. C., one being about Dr. Jarman and a second, a short write up of May Day. This issue likewise carries a picture of Miss Evelyn Dulaney, an alumna of S. T. C., and a co-founder of the Intercollegiate Press Association which was founded here in 1928 by Miss Dulaney and Mr. Alexander Hudgins, an alumnus of Hampden-Sydney College.

If you haven't a copy of this magazine, buy one for fifteen cents and see a write-up of your favorite.

SENIOR ISSUE OF ROTUNDA RECEIVES PRIZE

For the past four weeks there has been a spirited contest among the four classes, the object being to determine which of the four classes could produce the best issue of The Rotunda. This is an annual contest sponsored by The Rotunda, and the winning issue is awarded $5 to be used in the class's contribution to Founders Day. The result of the contest was announced Friday in the following letter from the faculty committee:

Miss Jessie Smith,
Editor "The Rotunda,"
S. T. C., Farmville, Va.
Dear Miss Smith:

It has been decided by the committee that the Senior issue of "The Rotunda" is the best of the four special class issues. Personally, I want to congratulate all four classes for the excellent papers they have produced.

Very sincerely yours,
S. M. HOLTON, Jr., Chairman.
Committee: (Miss Lucille Jennings, Miss Mary Peck, Miss Ida Penney, Mr. S. M. Holton, Jr.

"The Cross Roads Store" Given by Sophomore Class on February 27th Is a Decided Success

* * *

Did you go to the cross roads store last Friday night? If not, you don't know what you missed. Bargains galore, everything from new spring hats to shoe "blacking and red dye," also a cracker barrel in which the cat slept every night! A still greater attraction was the young proprietor, Mr. Lackcoyne, who was very good looking and very much in love, but almost always "broke." How disillusioned we were to learn that this young man was Budsey Carter. And Jenilee was certainly a pretty little sweetheart who knew how to make love even though she was from the country. Patty Ellison and Jane Royall played their parts as the villains well. If we didn't know Jane and Patty so well, we'd think their villiancy was real.

* * *

Anne McKenny with her bicycle, and Dot Dudley with her sons, too, were typical children of a country neighborhood. Miss Nancy Nosepokin as played by Rip Johnson, was a scream. We wonder if it were really "any of my business" whether "Larry" made love to "Babs" or not, and if the "modern generation" was "degenerating." It seemed that way to Miss Nosepokin—was she passimistic or optimistic? Anyway, we hope she didn't "catch the smallpox." Who was the worst off, the lady who couldn't find her husband or the lady whose husband was so short that when "he sat on the tack it stuck through his heart and killed him? Ask Frances Coleman and Ruth Jordan, they know.

* * *

Edith Spindle, Dot Goodloe, "Red" Wills, Janice Wilkerson, Mary Bruce, Mary Warren, Margaret Gathright, were other characters in the play who contributed much toward making the play a complete success and a very enjoyable comedy. We were all glad that Babs was sharp enough to outwit the villains. And that Larry and Babs became rich, as Larry would say, "Now we can get married."

The Sophomore Class, Miss Iler, Budsey Carter, who was chairman, and all those who helped with the play, deserve much credit. The parst were well suited, and the presentation, costumes and setting were excellent. Everyone present seemed to enjoy it immensely.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

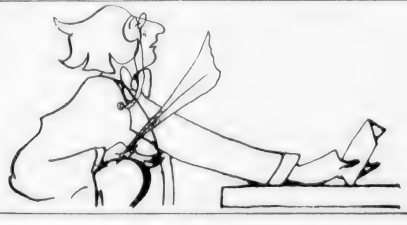
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31 — HAZEL HALLOWAY, '32



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Dr. Zwemer

I must have been born knowing who Dr. Zwemer was; I cannot remember ever having learned it. Certainly, by the time I was a freshman in college, he was very real to me, and his books, combined with the first original thinking I ever did, helped me to prove to my history class that Mohammedanism was not good enough for Mohammedans. When I found out that he was coming to our Student Volunteer Conference, I tried to vision what he would be like.

In his talks to us, he was wonderful in his earnestness, simplicity, and directness. His fund of information seemed limitless; and he made it live as he told us its deepest meaning. In his prayers he talked with God,—not to Him, or at Him,—and drew us with himself into His presence.

"He is great. Why?" I kept saying to myself. I felt it even as he sunnily told jokes; genially invited me to have a cup of tea with him in Shanghai five years hence; kindly gave me a little book about Mohammedans in China; and told me he knew Bill Barden,—when he said to me, "You must pray for me, you know. I'm such a baby, and I need it. Will you?"

After he read the words of Paul, "I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Jesus," I responded silently, "I know you do." He makes me think of the verse John Oxenham wrote about Christ:

"He who was greatest of all,
Born in an ox's stall,
Was great because he was far too great
To care about greatness at all."

OVER THE TEACUPS

Ah, Ann, how could I help it if she got mad? These people that walk around with chips on their shoulders—give me a pain—all I said was "Use your imagination," when she asked me what Wa-Wa told me. Curiosity is one thing I haven't got—no-o-o! Did you ever see a woman without it? Then why ask me?

I think you make excellent toast, but—the tea should be a shade lighter without any leaves to grace its amber depths. I hope Polly White at least knows how to make tea. Why? Don't you know? Well, I really can't tell tales out of school—dear, "use your imagination." Oh, lands, another crushed soul to win back into a good humor when I feel like—well, everything ladies want to say and sometimes do.

I just saw Jane Witt go by. You know, I can just picture her about ten years from now as a noted artist, singing, I mean, and gee—wouldn't it be swell? Let's go in the business, Ann. You don't think we get any trade? Ah, my castles are all falling down.

Pardon the change of subject—but does Joe Perry ever get mad? I wish he'd look serious once in his life, then I could believe him human. Not that I—a—feel like Lucille Graves does, but—a-a. Well, you know, when you're out of humor yourself you like to see other people that way, too. There isn't any point really, so don't get lost looking for it.

Have you seen Greta Garbo? You haven't? Well, she's here in our midst. If you keep looking long enough you might—"use your imagination" and find her—or keep asking and she'll tell you. No fooling, a certain someone thinks she resembles her. I won't give my opinion until you form yours.

I've got to write a term paper. Can you feature that—and the saddest story of all—I have nothing to write. My mind is blank. Isn't that funny? But such is life—for as the little nigger boy said when he hung his pants on the fence running away with the stolen chicken, "To him 'at has, gets, an' him 'at ain't, gets nothin'—well 'ats just too bad."

To work, you seekers of knowledge—Students we should be—
Ah, Ann, have you any sympha—?

THREE YEARS AGO TODAY

S. T. C. students and Training School children were preparing for a roller skating contest.

The Choral Club presented Pan, a cantata, as a Lyceum number.

A group of psychology students hed just returned from Charlottesville. They had heard at the University a most interesting lecture by Dr. Woodworth, professor of psychology at Columbia University.

The S. T. C. "filling station," then brand new, was beginning to do a thriving business.

The Student Body expresses sympathy to Miss Virginia Potts in her recent bereavement.

FREE! WHAT?

There are a few things in this life we can have without paying any price. One of those things goes into that make-up, character.

We all can't have beauty, clothes, money, smooth tongues, and lucky stars; but one thing we can have—manners.

How many people pause to see if someone is behind them when they come through a swinging door? How many people wait until the other person has finished speaking before butting in? How many people remember a speaker's feelings and try to appear interested at least? How many people at meals wait until the hostess begins to eat before beginning themselves? How many people remember to be silent when notices are read? How many people remember that at chapel time the auditorium is, for a little while, God's house? And a thousand of other little things—how many people remember?

Poise and refinement are certainly a part of character. Can you have poise and refinement without having manners?

We severely criticize a rude girl, especially if she is rude to us personally. How do you think a speaker feels when he looks into at least fifty bored faces and as many mouths. Poor man, I think he would consider his hostesses rather rude.

Charm—there's nothing like. And to be charming you must be polite. And politeness is one thing you have—free. Come on, be Scotch and use it, because it doesn't cost a cent—and it gets for you more than money can buy!

AND THEY, TOO, HAVE A POSTOFFICE

In Ye Ancient Citie of Williamsburg a new, up-to-date Post Office has just been completed to take the place of the one to be torn down incident to the restoration of the Colonial Capital. The new building is situated near the College of William and Mary and will be used by the students as well as the towns people. While there is less working space in the new than in the old the compact quarters are expected to make for greater facility in handling the mails. Having combination lock boxes the following, from the Williamsburg Bureau, may be of interest to our readers:

New Post Office Boxes Test Skill of Perspiring Mob

"Twelve and a half to the right, then to the left twenty-seven and a half twice, then back again to the square root of four, and to the left to the cube root of twenty-seven, then repeat the twenty-seventh Psalm and the Ten Commandments while spinning the dial thirteen and nine-sixteenths to the left—and presto, the post office box is open.

Although the formula is not quite as simple as the "open sesame" of the Arabian Nights' fame, with sufficient fortitude, sufficient skill and a dexterous thumb and four finger, even the amateur, with the help of a post office employe, may gain entrance to his box and secure letters that are visible through the glass partition.

The lobby of the newly-opened post office yesterday resembled a school for crime, as upwards of a half a hundred amateur cracksmen toyed with the little dials. Beads of perspiration on wrinkle-furrowed foreheads. Exclamatory observations that mid-Victorian literary masters would indicate only by the chaste dash were heard in some quarters. But it was all good clean fun.

Opening the old post office boxes was mere child's play compared with the intricacies of the new boxes. Time and again, a patient post office employe, summoned to the rescue of a struggler, would in school ma'am manner explain the simple twist of the wrist, open the box. School was dismissed at 7:30 and the weary teacher-postal clerks departed."

"BETWIXT AND BETWEEN"

You and I
Are just
Two other Peter Pans—
Shut out from the gardens
Of those distant lands.
Beyond the constellations
We have lost our wings
You and I—
Which carried us from heaven
To meet our earthly lot.
We still have vague remembrances
For we have not yet forgot
Those portals of unending blue
Through which we knew
The immortality of life!
Pray God before we die
We shall again learn how
To fly!

V. P. L., '32

DARK

I like dark:
It's so soft and velvety,
You can almost feel it
Brush against your cheek.
But sometimes you put out your hand,
And it's smooth and silky like a cat's back.
Other times you stumble over a chair.
Then it's neither soft nor silky;
It's just plain dark.

Easter Souders

THE DREAMER

Day after day the golden hours
Are wasted away—
In vain imaginings and
Dreams which come to naught.
Youth slips through the Worn fingers of Time
And Old Age creeps upon us
Before the dreams of all those
Wasted golden hours are visualized.

Our life can be a quest for knowledge
Searching for the richer deeper living
Or it can be an empty, useless dream
Chancing upon things.
Who wants to come into existence
And go out into oblivion
Without ever having tasted
Of the Crystal Stream of Life?
Dreamer, take my words of warning
And dream not your life away!

V. P. L., '32

POEM

I have no memories yet,
For each day through
I am too busy with
The things I do.

But every day I seek
Some lovely thing
Against the time I start
Remembering.

—Alice Harrison.

VIOLET

Delicate fragrance;
Betrayed only by
King;
Sprinkled here and there in Seclusion.
Peaceful valleys and time for
Prayer—Bits of heaven
Clothed more exquisitely than a
Serene and pure as a nun;
As demurely peeps from Behind a leaf,
One of God's thoughts.

M. von S., '32

I THOUGHT

I thought I knew you
Heart and soul,
But I was wrong—
For today you spoke
A parable
Then you sang a silly song—

L. M., '32

Social

Elizabeth Antrim spent the week-end in Roanoke.

Alma Garlick was in Washington this week-end.

Helen Warren was the guest of Cleo Scott at Sweet Briar College this week-end.

Margaret Priest, Frances Rawlings, Ann McGann, and Margaret Riley were in Norfolk this week-end.

Jacque Lee had as her guests in Lynchburg this week-end Martha Moore and Corrine Mosby.

Virginia Ann Huntsberry was in Winchester this week-end.

Josie Spencer spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Laura Darlington visited in Roanoke this week-end.

Margaretta Brady spent the week-end in Richmond.

Mary Alice Young visited in Lynchburg this week-end.

Alice Marshall and Martha Higgins were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. White at Pamplin this week-end.

Martha Sanders and Mary Clare Booth were in Lynchburg at the home of the latter.

Louise Munt was in Lynchburg this week-end.

Margaret Parker was in Richmond this week-end.

Ann Minter was the guest of Virginia Ford in Lynchburg this week-end.

Evelyn Jones spent the week-end at her home in Clarksville.

Betty Watts and Gazelle Ware were in Lynchburg this week-end.

Frank Smott spent the week-end at her home in Alexandria.

Patty Ellison was in Richmond this week-end.

Ella Carroll, Carolyn Cogbill, Susie Floyd and Margaret Faris were in Richmond Saturday with Mr. Holton attending a lecture.

Ruth Ford was at her home in Lynchburg for the week-end.

Helen Cover, Kathryn Waters and Ann Davis were in Richmond this week-end.

Virginia Witt spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Courtney Neale was in Richmond this week-end.

Saturday noon the ladies of the Presbyterian Church gave all the delegates from the Student Volunteer Conference a wonderful luncheon in the banquet room of the church. All who were delegates attended and some brought friends. It was a thoroughly delightful party for it had not had all the factors which go to make a good party; a large group of friends (all in good humor), excellent food, songs and after-dinner stories. What more could one wish?—nothing!

THE SOCIAL SIDE OF THE CONFERENCE

The social side of the Ctudent Volunteer Conference was not forgotten. After the opening session on Friday night, the Y. W. welcomed the delegates to our compus at an informal reception given in the Student Building lounge. Here everyone met his fellow-delegates making new acquaintances and renewing old ones—the joy of a Conference Dr. Jarman welcomed the delegates with a song. Special numbers were also given by the Hampden-Sydney quartette, and by members of the Choral Club. Delia Grant of S. T. C. gave a reading entitled "Chapel Time in a Country School", which was enjoyed by all.

Saturday afternoon the delegates were invited to Longwood. About 20 people hiked to Longwood and enjoyed the beautiful hospitality which is always enjoyed there.

The Conference delegates were again guests of the Y. W. at its usual "Sing" at 6:45 Saturday evening in the College auditorium. The program was a mixture of fun, foolishness and nonsense, and it was enjoyed by a full house.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

ADELE HUTCHINSON "DELE"

It would be impossible to put into words the feeling the student body has for Adele, its president. In her four years at S. T. C., she has grown dearer with every day. She is an unequaled leader, but still a friend of all the many followers. Adele's many talents are constantly in demand; she is an important member of the Choral Club, indispensable to the Dramatic Club, and gave much of her time to athletics until this year. "Dele's" school days have indeed been days of service, and most willing service, too. As president of the Y. W. last year and of the student body this year, her work has reached its pinnacle of success.

Adele's friendship and service has given every S. T. C. girl something fine to cherish and strive for.

VIRGINIA ROBERTSON

"Some of us have good looks, some have brains, some ability, some have personality—and we content ourselves with the thought that we can't have everything." Then we look at Virginia—and lo, what do we find? We find that she possesses all the qualities we have mentioned, and besides that she has the love of the whole student body. She comes as close being an ideal girl as one could.

In Virginia's four years at S. T. C. she has helped to build, always going ahead, never faltering. She has shown her ability as a leader, at its greatest, this year, as president of the Senior Class. She has been an inspiration and a joy.

Virginia holds and has held many responsible positions in this student body and has succeeded in every office.

We lose Virginia this year—but she mustn't leave until we say, to have known Virginia is a privilege and an opportunity. She is admired, respected and loved. What more could we say of any girl?

FACULTY NEWS

Miss Pettit was in Lynchburg the past week-end.

Miss Foster, who was called home because of her mother's illness, has returned to the school.

Miss Waters spent Saturday in Richmond.

Mrs. Warren was in Staunton visiting her uncle the past week-end.

Miss Camper and Miss Pierce attended the N. E. A. convention in Detroit last week.

THEME OF CONFERENCE CARRIED OUT

Those who heard the addresses on "Receiving the Kingdom" know how difficult it is to disintegrate the statements so as to do justice to all.

Rev. G. R. Womeldorf spoke on "The Kingdoms of this World for Christ". Christ had the opportunity and temptation to obtain the kingdoms of this world, but he replied. "My kingdom is not of this world". He left eleven valiant soldiers to win it for Him. Today we have the kingdoms in the hearts of others to win. Think of the goal Christ has left for us to reach, if we only follow the trail He has blazed.

"Receiving the Kingdom Through Love" was vividly impressed upon us by Rev. J. A. Redhead. Love is the door-way through which the human soul passes from selfishness to service, from solitude to kinship with all mankind. "Love thy neighbor as thyself". Love can win more souls fear. God loved this sin-sick world enough to give it his son. Let us answer Christ's command in our daily lives.

Dr. S. M. Zwemer dismissed the conference with an inspiring and heart-stirring address on "Receiving the Kingdom Through Self-sacrifice". "Sacrifice," says Dr. Zwemer, is not what we see on the sale window 'Sold at a Sacrifice'. It means to make sacred through vicarious suffering." As we follow Christ and the two thives to Golgotha, we shall see three distinct symbols and their termination. The cross of the first thief symbolizes self-love. He fought and swore against authority for love of own life. Death yielded only eternal death. That of the second thief marks self-surrender. "Lord remember me when thou comest into thy kingdom." Death yielded the getting of eternal life. "Today shalt thou be with me in paradise." The cross of Christ stands pure as a symbol of self-secrifice. His death, His resurrection, yielded the giving of eternal life. If we give of our best for the high calling of Jesus Christ, there must be sacrifice as portrayed in the lives of all great missionaries. Sacrifice home, friends, and life for Him who gave His all for you.

"THE BRAT" WILL APPEAR MARCH 10, IN THE CHAPEL

Continued from page one

part of his wife, Mrs. Ware. These two have played opposite each other before, and are perfectly suited to their roles.

Nancy Putney, who in "The Brat" is Angela Smythe, a debutante, finally "lands" MacMillian Forrester who is really Maurice Large of Farmville, once a student of Hampden-Sydney College. Mac is an author and the devoted son of Mrs. Forrester, who is Mary Lindsey Roundy, a former student of S. T. C., and a member of the Dramatic Club. She is a very sophisticated matron capable of managing her family, she thinks, and her social life also.

Joe Perry whom we have seen in a number of recent plays, plays the part of the old family butler who can never resist a little toddy with Mister Steve. Anyone who has seen Joe play will not want to miss seeing him in this new role.

Frances Waterfield, who has made a special study in dramatics at Westhampton and Columbia, plays the part of Jane Depew a sophisticated maid.

Mrs. J. C. Elliot of Farmville will play the part of Margot, the housekeeper, and Jessie Smith is seen as Dot, the young twelve year old daughter of Bishop and Mrs. Ware. She displays the usual twelve-year fondness to the situation.

Characters

Mrs. Forrester ..... Mary L. Roundy
MacMillan, her son .... Maurice Large
Stephen, younger son .. Edward Bell
Bishop Ware, her brother, Dr. J. E. Walmsley
Mrs. Ware, wife .. Mrs. T. H. Fallwell
Dorothy, his small daughter ..... Jessie Smith
Jane Depew, a spinster .... Frances Waterfield
Angela Smythe, a daughter .... Nancy Putney
Timson, the butler .... Joel T. Perry
Margot, the housekeeper .... Mrs. Jessie Elliot
The Brat ..... Mrs. Walter Putney

A CHRISTIAN WORLD EDUCATION SPEAKER

MR. CUADRA

INTERESTING PROGRAM GIVE AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ON SUNDAY

Sunday morning was the occasion and the Presbyterian Church was the setting of one of the most interesting programs of the Conference. Mr. Cooper of the Hampton Institute gave a most instructive and enjoyable talk and the Hampton Quartette rendered four spirituals. The quartette was at its best, and the faith expressed by their songs was inspiring to those who heard them.

Mr. Cooper in his talk brought out the status of the Negro today and gave us a short history of Negro educational development. He said that three hundred years ago when America gave the Negro a "cordial invitation" to come over here, the Negro was without a common language and a common religion. The natives came from many different tribes of Africa, and each tribe had its own dialect and God. When the

(Continued on last page)

CONFERENCE BRIEFS

Conference surely did start off with a bang. The delegates all seemed so enthused. But then, small wonder, with such inspiring speakers as Dr. Zwemer and Wormeldorf, Mr. Sedam, Cooper and Long.

Remember the Y. W. reception? Plenty of punch, cake and fun. Everyone seemed to enjoy himself. We surely have to hand it to the program committee for their delightful programs. All of Dr. Jarman's songs went to the heart, but "Love's Old Sweet Song" penetrated to the very core, and made us wish for more. And then wasn't Delia Grant's reading just too funny for words? Of course, Hampden-Sydney couldn't be left out. If it wouldn't be telling secrets out of school we'd say that every girl fell in love with the quartette, but of course we wouldn't dare breathe it.

Dr. Diehl's talks were so inspiring. They were so sincere and he brought many new things to our attention. We noted that he used no books or notes for references, but seemed to talk on the spur of the moment with a scripture lesson as the basis for his talk. That's what made it so impressive.

BYRD IN LYNCHBURG

Admiral Richard E. Byrd will be in Lynchburg Saturday, March 14. There will be two appearances, a matinee and three and in the evening at eight-thirty. Admiral will appear in person and tell his own story of the flight to the South Pole and Little America, illustrated by motion pictures.

Do not miss this wonderful opportunity to see Dick Byrd himself. For tickets give your name to Mr. Alfred H. Strick or Miss Adele Hutchinson or write to Emma Adams, Lynchburg, Va.

The Student Body takes this opportunity to express to Laverna Bayne its deepest sympathy in the loss of her father.

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART
We would like to have your orders
—for—
DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS
Canada Drug Co.
Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

JANUARY BARGAINS
NOW ON DISPLAY
DAVIDSON'S Evening Gowns and Evening Shoes are outstanding!
We will gladly dye shoes purchased from us FREE of charge
DAVIDSON'S, Inc.
The House of Quality
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE
Now On At
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE
Rack No. 1, your choice of our $4 to $6 Dresses, all sizes. Close out price $2.98
Rack No. 2. Your choice of any $19.75 dress in store for $9.95
Wrap Around Turbans 89c
Just received new spring dresses. Charge if you wish $5.95 & $9.95

The rolling-pin throwing contest was won by Mrs.— who threw the rolling-pin 67 feet. Mr.— won the 100-yard dash for married men.

Health's a Great Thing

Two Irishmen, who had not seen each other for a long time, met at a fair.

O'Brien: "Sure, it's married I am, and I have got a fine healthy boy, which the neighbors says is the very health picture of me."

Malone: "Oh, well, what's the harm so long as the child is healthy."

How we long for the days when a girl could drop a handkerchief and pick up a husband.

Kitty Waters: "Which end do I get off?"

Conductor: "Makes no difference, ma'am, both ends stop."

Anna Knox: "Jenilee, you know what gave them the idea for vanishing cream?"

Jenilee: "No, what?"

Anna Knox. "The cow jumping over the moon."

"Were you nervous the first time you asked your husband for money?"

"No, I was calm—and collected."

Doctor: "Did you open both windows in your room?"

Patient: "No, sir, I opened one twice."

Billie: "A. J. may I hold your hand."

Helen: "No, thank you, it isn't very heavy."

How did your article on perpetual motion turn out?"

It's a success. Every time I send it out, it comes back."

"Where have you been?"

"In the hospital being censored."

"Censored?"

"Yes, I had several important parts cut out."

"Yep, that guy cleaned up a fortune in crooked dough."

"Counterfeit?"

"No, pretzel baker."

"Why is a freshman like a cat?"

"Dunno. Why?"

"Because there's an 'e' in each."

We think it wasn't the apple that caused the trouble—but a "green pair."

An old man in a hotel: "Will you give me some stationery?"

Clerk: "Are you a guest in the hotel, sir?"

Old Man: "Why, no, I pay twenty dollars per day."

"I'm strong for you," said the hot dog man, as he put on more onion.

Chewing gum is the outward expression of modern youth—seems like it is always going.

Undertaker (on saying good-bye to pal): "You must drop over sometime."

"Never shoot a man in a hurry."

"And why not?"

"He may be running for Congress."

Traveler: "Is this hotel run on the American plan?"

Clerk: "Yes, any of the bell boys will supply you with liquor."

Customer: "I don't like the flies in here."

Witer: "Sorry, sir, there'll be some new ones tomorrow."

SIXTEENTH ANNUAL VOLUNTEER CONFERENCE HELD IN FARMVILLE

Continued from page one

mon race.

Rev. I. S. Long, speaking on Education in India, raised the question "Why educate the people of India?" The people of India are living in continuous fear and dread of the three hundred and thirty gods which they worship. Women in India have been only as a chattel to obey their masters. But today with Christianity and modern educational schools such as the primary, secondary and vocational schools, colleges, and universities the Indian people are rising to a higher type of civilization. Rev. Long suggested Allan Clarke's "India on the March" a good book on conditions in India.

Dr. S. N. Zewmer, speaking on the Moslem world gave illustration after illustration of the progressiveness of the Moslem world. The city of Mecca that before the war had not even seen a wheel barrow today has 1860 automobiles in it owned by inhabitants of that city. The radio is uniting Arabia with the rest of the world, and the followers of Mohammedon are tryng to revamp his ethics. They see the results of Christian civilization and they try to make their ethical religion which has had Christianity defeated for thirteen hundred years, meet the needs of the new world in which they live. The advocates of Mohammedan and the religion have the Koran, their Bible, translated and distributed among fourteen nationalistic peoples. They are publishing maps and dictionaries and other propaganda, and in short, they are doing all they can to win the people in this part of the world for the Moslem faith. This condition of the near East is most challenging to the courageous.

The Conference may possibly be summarized by naming two forces, the power of which was constantly felt: the development of a new world and the possibility of student volunteers and supports of mission meeting the changing world.

The officers elected for the coming year are as follows: president, Miss Alice Harrison of S. T. C., Farmville; vice-president, Lloyd Arehart of Hampden-Sydney; treasurer, Finley Talbot of Hampden-Sydney; secretary, Stella Harmon of Harrisonburg; Maury Maupin of Averett; secretary, Louise Scott of East Radford; National Council Representative, Miss Alice Harrison.

Girls attending the Conference from S. T. C., Farmville were: Adele Hutchison, as pianist for the conference; Frances Crawford and Hazel Holloway, as delegates from the Y. W. C. A., and Alice Harrison, Mable Gregory, Catherine Ritter, Laurie Bousch, Nell Dickinson, Elizabeth Walthall, Theodosia Beacham, and Rubye Vernon as members of the Mission Board.

47TH ANNIVERSARY OF FOUNDERS DAY TO BE CELEBRATED

Continued from page one

Building

6:00 Dinner ..... Dining Room

8:00

Invocation ..... Rev. J. A. Redhead

Solo ..... Miss Irene Leake

Portia Lee Morrison Memorial ..... Mrs. James Graham

Address ..... Dr. W. R. Smithey

Worship ..... Shaw

I Dream of Jeanie ..... Foster

Choral Club

The Student Body wishes to extends its deepest sympathy to

Mary Frances Carter

Margaret Barker, and

Mary Ellen Cato

in their recent bereavement.

S. T. C. VARSITY ENDS SEASON BY DEFEATING W. & M. 38 TO 9

Continued from page one

was poised ready to shoot a free throw, the whistle sounded for the end of the game. The score stood 38-9.

Yells and songs before the game and between quarters and halves were led by Ida Trolan and Alice Moore. The fans showed much enthusiasm and superior backing.

During the entire game, Gregory monopolized the tip-off . Miss Iler and her assistant, Miss Hatchett, are to be congratulated on the fast and accurate teamwork which her team showed throughout the game.

The line-up:

W. & M.		Farmville.
Dabney	RF	L. N. Smith (c)
Sollenberger	L F	D. Snedgar
Crane	L C	McGregory
Ford	S C	F. Edwards
Winn (c)	L G	E. Sanders
Roberts	R G	E. Coleman

Substitutes for W. & M., Flippen and Brane; substitutes for S. T. C., Frasier and Yeaman.

Referee, Miss Fogg (Sweet Briar); umpire, Miss Crenshaw, (Westhampton); timekeeper, Ross and Dueck; scorer, Dunlop and Oliver.

FARMVILLE TO PLAY HARRISONBURG FRIDAY

On Friday, March 6 the Farmville varsity will play Harrisonburg in Farmville at 2:45 P. M. This will make the fourth game that our girls have played and we are hoping that they will be as successful in this as they were in their previous games.

As yet the line-up has not been definitely decided. Good luck, varsity!

INTERESTING PROGRAM GIVE AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH ON SUNDAY

Continued from page three

Negro became free in 1865, they had acquired two unifying things—the English langauge, and Christianity as a common religion. At this time few Negroes could write their names or spell them. Since then, the Negro has developed intellectually by leaps and bounds. No other race has developed so mch in sixt-five years.

Today, Mr. Cooper says, the majority of Negroes has the opportunity to attend high school, at least, yet he gave two counties as examples of each extreme of the educational conditions of Virginia. In one county the teachers are instructed to instill no desire in the children for an education higher than the eighth grade. They are instructed to teach the children that after completing the eighth grade their place is back on the farm. We sympathize with Mr. Cooper in his desire to better these conditions. The other case is in another county of Virginia where the Negro children are provided with consolidated schools with buses to take them back and forth. The school buildings are brick and as well equipped as the white schools.

Mr. Cooper speaks of the two prevalent attitudes now existing toward the colored people. The first is one which is dying out now. This is that the highest type of Negro comes to a certain level. Above this level comes the lowest white person; that is, the highest type of Negro is not as good as the criminal white person. We unite with him in being thankful that this idea is nearly dead.

The other attitude, and the one that is most prevalent, is that the white and colored races are divided as if one is on one side of the fence and the other race ocupies the other side. The white race tells the colored race to go as high as they can on their side of the fence and the white race will go as high as possible on their side of the fence.

Mr. Cooper ended his address by saying that he hoped that we achieve the highest possible goal on our side.

E. T. C. HAS VERY INTERESTING MEETING

"The Teacher in Service" was the subject of the program for the Elementary Teachers Club on Saturday mornin, in charge of Misses Cassandra Laird and Virginia Williams. The meeting was especially interesting, as the topics discussed were so practical and vital to every prospective teacher: "Turnover in the Teaching Profession," by Mary Brightwell; "Retirement of Teachers," by Ann Guy. Debate: "Resolved, that married women be barred from teaching service," affirmative, French Hutt; negative, Eloise Paulette.

Miss Pierce gave a most interesting but short report of her trip to Detroit, and especially of the Detroit Teachers' meeting.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of March 9-14

"The Best Sound in Southside Va."

MONDAY and TUES.—"Morocco" with Gary Cooper, Marlene Deitrich and Adolphe Menjou. At least here is the picture regarding which we have received so many inquiries. "Morocco," a story of a man and a woman—a man ruthless with all women—considering them all passing pleasures, to be tasted and thrown aside. A woman whose beauty and charm have been as much a curse as a blessing. This is a story of love and one which will live with you long after you have seen the production. Marlene Dietrich will be the sensation of the screen according to critics—a second Garbo. Her love will thrill you. Also Flip the Frok Cartoon.

WEDNESDAY—Ann Harding in "Holiday," with a great cast. Here is the greatest picture out of Hollywood this season—the prize package of film entertainment. Youth, flaming, joyous, exuberant, determined to live. A beautiful rebellious girl, a young man with a dream—but hands reach out to dissipate his dream, then a tremendous story of love and life with a thrilling climax. This picture is in such demand that we could book it for one day only.

Rin-Tin-Tin, in chapter 3 of "The Lone Defender." The most thrilling serial ever produced, but clean from beginning to end. See this remarkable dog with human intelligence. A picture for old and young.

THURS. and FRI.—Joan Crawford with a handsome, new leading man, in "Dance Fools, Dance." You are going to enjoy this picture. You are going to gasp at the flaming youths, the gorgeous costumes, the thrills of a girl in combat with the world. Joan dances in a dress made of 16,000 tiny mirrors. Pajamas now enter the ball room. You are in for a thousand thrills as you watch Joan battle the underworld, her beauty and allure her only weapons, and she wins through to romance—but before she does you'll gasp at the swellest drama in many a moon. More thrilling than "Paid," more exotic than "Our Modern Maidens." It will leave you limp with its swift drama, romance and surprise. Also a Laurel and Hardy comedy.

SATURDAY—Dorothy Mackaill in "Once a Sinner," supported by Joel McCrea and an excellent cast. Can a woman share her husband's future without making him a sharer in her past? One man loved her; another marries her; a third desired her. Which was the best man and which the gamest loser? Driven beyond endurance by her husband's jealousy, she fought back. She suffered through love, and he suffered through knowing that she had been loved before. Was she right in telling all? Today's story of love and marriage. Also Fox News and Our Gang Comedy.

One show each night at 8 o'clock. Daily matinees at 4 p. m.

Admission—Adults 35c at nights and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 15c to each show.

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS

Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN

Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments

GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

Is Headquarters for the Best

SANDWICHES

—and—

DRINKS

—in—

FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store

Farmville, Va.

"Drugs and Drinks"

DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.

The Convenient Store

FOR GOOD

THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES

WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP

AND LEATHER USED

MANY ALUMNAE RETURN FOUNDERS DAY

ROTUNDA

EXAMINATIONS BEGIN ON THURSDAY

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 11, 1931 No. 22

Dr. Smithey Speaker Of Evening Program

The Theme of Talk is "The Teacher In The Modern School

Very fittingly did the Forty-Sev enth Anniversary of the founding of our Alma Mater come to a close Saturday evening, March 7, with the program in the auditorium and the reception, given by the Senior Class which followed.

At eight o'clock, following the invocation by Rev. J. A. Redhead, Jr., Miss Irene Leake sank two selections. Mrs. James Graham, an alumna, presented the Portia Lee Morrison Memorial, a shelf of books in behalf of the girls of S. T. C., who were here between the years 1888-1904. In presenting the memorial Mrs. Graham spoke of the wonderful personality and influence of Mrs. Morrison, her loyalty to duty and great love of boks which characterized her splendid life. Dr. Jarman accepted the memorial in behalf of the College.

Dr. W. R. Smithey, who for a number of years has been prominent in educational work in the state and is now a member of the English Department of the University, was the speaker of the evening. Dr. Jarman, in introducing Dr. Smithey, presented him as the nephew of "our Miss Smithey."

Dr. Smithey spoke of the progress State Education has made in its sixty years of existence since Dr. Ruffner, our first president, became the first superintendent in 1870. He attributed to our college the distinction of being the "mother of teacher training," a pattern and challenge to other schools of the state and nation. Then to our Dr. Jarman he paid the tribute that this growth and develop-

(Continued on page 4)

Annual Alumnae Business Meeting Held on Mar. 7

Miss Wilhelmina London, president called to order the annual meeting at 3 p. m., March 7, in the Student Building auditorium. Special greetings were extended to all alumnae, especially to those of the reunion classes of 1891, 1901, 1911 and 1921. Chapter representatives were greeted, and special greetings were heard from th Lynchburg chapter. The minutes, treasurer's report, and annual report of the activities of the Association of Alumnae were all read by the secretary and accepetd by the Association.

Miss Carrie Brown Taliaferro, chairman of local alumni chapters, reported plans for the organization of new chapters in the spring. She stressed as local chapter objectives the maintaining of scholarship or loan funds and the interesting of high school graduates in coming to Farmville. Dr. Jarman spoke seriously along that line and urged it as a point of pride and love for the Alma Mater rather than for the desire of such a large student body as would tend to make the college become institutional.

Mrs. Montague spoke of the history and management of the Lynchburg Chapter Loan Fund. After discus-

(Continued on page 5)

DR. J. L. JARMAN

President of S. T. C.—who was the center of the Spirit of the 47th Founders Day, March 7, 1931

S. T. C. TEAM WINS OVER WAYNEBURG

Tuesday night, March 3, a most entertaining debate was held in the big auditorium between Wanesburg College, Pennsylvania, and S. T. C. Those present were delighted with the argument presented by both sides. Mr. Farrell and Mr. Pherson of Waynesburg almost but not quite took the decision from Mabel Barksdale and "Rip" Johnson, as was decided by the critic judge, Mr. Hart, of Hapden-Sdney. Mr. Hart's criticisms of the debate added much to the evening's enjoyment.

The tariff question is the debate subject for the year. There are to be many more debates in the auditorium this year and the Debate Club extends a cordial invitation to the members of the faculty, and student body to attend these debates.

ROLLER SKATING BECOMES FAD

Roller skating, popular high school sport, is becoming a fad among the local collegians. Led by Johnny Geohegan, a group of students were seen rolling over the streets of Raleigh this week.—Technician.

'The Brat' Proved A Big Success on Tuesday Even'g

"The Brat", one of the most remarable performances of the year, was given Tuesday night. The Woman's Club presented "The Brat" in the college auditorium for the benefit of the Red Cross. Miss Leola Wheeler, director of dramatics at S. T. C., also directed this play; her work merits much credit.

Mrs. Walter Putney, who has been starred many times in the college plays, gave a splendid characterization of "The Brat". Eddie Bell of H. S. C., was splendid as the black sheep of the family, who finally proved himself to be the finest of them all. From the performance one could easily imagine Dr. Walmsley as a pious, wine-drinking bishop instead of the all-exacting government professor.

In fact, every character was well chosen, and equally as well acted. The large crowd both of college stu-

(Continued on page 5)

HISTORIC FLAG OFFERED AS AWARD AT YORKTOWN

Yorktown—A flag carried by troops than won the prize in the military demonstration at the Yorktown Centennial in 1881 has been offered the United States Sesquicentennial Commission for use in the celebration next fall.

H. L. Sohnker, of Spottsylvania, has written to the commission offering to obtain the banner, which was carried by his uncle, Sergt. H. G. F. Lowe, Company C, New Jersey National Guard, adjudged the best dressed military body in the centennial parade. At present the flag, together with a medal presented the company, is deposited in a Hackensack, N. J., museum.—The Virginian Pilot.

MISS TALIAFERRO IS ALUMNAE PRESIDENT

Miss Carrie Brown Taliaferro was elected president of the Alumnae Association of Farmville.

'Alma Mater' Begins The Day's Program

Gifts Are Presented By Student Organizations Here And Alumnae

"All hail, Alma Mater!" was sung by alumnae, faculty, present students and visitors as they gathered in the Farmville State Teachers College auditorium, Saturday morning at ten o'clock for the first feature of the program for the day. To the strains of the Alma Mater, the 1931 seniors marched in.

Miss Wilhelmina London welcomed the alumnae. "We are always happy to have you with us," she said.

Following this, was the presentation of gifts by student organizations. The beauty of the blue velvet curtain, with the vase of pink flowers on the piano adding a lovely touch, was brought anew to the attention of the audience as two girls represented different types of peoples and ended their act by telling the new curtains were given by the dramatic club.

The old days of the gold rush and wash days were brought back as the Freshman Class featured a scene in a western camp. The first gold which they found was given to their beloved Mr. McIlwaine, (Dr. Jarman) who had given up a grand government position to help them and who had encouraged them so much.

A chorus of girls in black and white costumes, with staffs and notes on the skirts, sang a silent song and presented their baton to Dr. Jarman from the Choral Club.

The black mammy who made a swet potato pie and presented it, represented the Eastern Shore Club.

A dancing couple from the Cotillion brought a gift.

Continued on page three

Boston Male Choir Renders a Very Fine Program

Wednesday night, March 4, the Boston Male Choir made its third appearance in Farmville and gave one of the most enjoyable programs of the year. The choir was ably assisted by Miss Yvonne Des Rosiers, soprano, and by Mr. Reginald Boardman, pianist.

The auditorium was filled and the audience showed its appreciation by the many encores it called for. The program of the evening was as follows:

March of the Men of Harleck ..... Welch Folk Song
To a Wild Rose ..... McDowell
Invictus ..... Huhn
The Choir
Vittoria, Vittoria ..... Carissimi
Mr. D'Alessandro
The Red Sarafan ..... Russian Song
Wreck of Julie Plante ..... O'Hara
Solo by Mr. Laite
The Choir
Nymphs and Fauns ..... Bemberg
The Answer ..... Terry
Canzonetta ..... Loewe
The Catbird ..... Clokey
Miss DesRosiers
The Soldier's Chorus ..... Gounod
Serenade ..... Schubert
Solo by Mr. Conley
The Mascot of the Troop .... Herbert

(Continued on page 4)

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

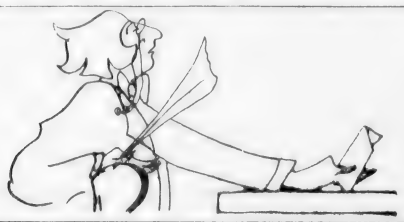
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31 — HAZEL HALLOWAY, '32



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Dr. Jarman, To You

"But others fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some a hundred-fold, some sixty-fold, some thirty-fold."

—Matthew 13:8

We have grown, as a seed upon good ground, from a small seminary into a great college. Where the reign of love and the sun of knowledge fall, great work is done. We marvel at the number—four thousand "seed", now planted in other soil bringing forth more fruit. And, as each year passes, still other seed are planted to bring forth still more of knowledge that means cooperation, understanding service. The spirit of our Alma Mater, the air that keeps fresh the fruit.

To bear a bountiful harvest, the ground must be rich. Our ground is rich! Rich with the never failing faith, and love and labor of four great men—Presidents W. H. Ruffner, J. A. Cunningham, Robert Frazier, and J. L. Jarman. They have ploughed the field and sown the seed at each time of planting. At first the harvest was small—but slowly it has grown until, Dr. Jarman, you reap a great harvest with the promise of a greater. Each Founders Day but marks a step in the progress of our school; the turning of a deeeper furrow in our hearts to receive the seed and give it greater life.

We join in one acocrd to praise: the spirit of our Alma Mater, the faith that gave her life, the harvests that are sown and reaped, the seedlings yet uncovered. And to you, Dr. Jarman, our hearts go out as one.

OVER THE TEACUPS

This food is great! I wish Founders Day came every day and not just once a year. 'Cept, I declare, t'would be hard on Dr. Jarman having to shake hands with people everyday all day long. Why, he really was tired Saturday night, but he was happy I know. He ought to be proud—just look at the four thousand, and us—the cream of the crop. (Hope no dignified alumna hears me say that.)

Wonder where Virginia Ellis got this food, rather good I'd say—or was it Beth Brockenbrough? Anyway, thanks to them. They really know how to win a school girl's heart. Food—life!

Founder's day, the beginning of the end that marks a new beginning. I can't realize the Seniors will soon be no Seniors, but alumnae and I will be—oh, I wonder? Have I really that much sense? Don't answer I might feel bad.

You know, though, I'm glad it's all over, stunts and what not—such a really good food. I offer my congratubusy day, so many people, and—well, lations to the classes and the clubs—I drink to their success!

I can't wait to be an alumnae and come back. Why I heard an old girl say this was her eighth Founders Day here at school. Four years in and four years out. Wonder where we'll be in four years- Teachers—I wonder?

But girls! There is not greater profession than to be teachers for men live to learn. And think how broad the field. But remember, you must be careful for your example may be copied in miniature. Such wisodm, Oh, Solomon, your seat of greatness is being usurped.

Come girls, to the killing, another bird to pick. And here's a cheer for Founders Day—any many more!

ON SITTING ON TABLES

To sit on a table is said to be bad luck. Don't tell me, I know it. Why, just the other day, I sat upon a table in the hall, and to my great embarrassment was asked off. I was served rightly for that is a most undignified thing to do, and gives a bad impression.

We don't sleep on sofas, or drink from pitchers; at least, not often—so why sit on tables where there are chairs? I guess we don't think. I didn't. But from now on I shall. So dears, take my sincere advice, don't sit on tables—it really is hard luck.

THREE YEARS AGO TODAY

Farmville defeated Fredericksburg in a hard fought basketball game with a score of 31-19.

The Association of Virginia Registrars, with Miss Jennie M. Tabb as president, held an important meeting at S. T. C.

Dr. Diehl, in an address to Pi Kappa Omega, pointed out that scholarship, with service should be encourage in every college by recognition from honor societies.

The Senior class entertained all the visiting alumnae who had supported the red and white while students at S. T. C.

Elizabeth Woodson and Frances Morgan upheld the negative side of the question, 'Resolved: That the United States should not intervene by force in the affairs of the Latin-American countries," in a debate with Bridgewater College. The decision rendered was 2-1 in favor of the negative.

DR. JARMAN'S LETTER

State Teachers College
Farmville, Va., March 9, 1931

My dear girls:

We had this year the best Founders Day we have ever had and one reason for this is that we had an unusually large number of the alumnae with us; Founders Day is getting to be more and more an alumnae day.

A number of you who could not be with us were thoughtful enough to send telegrams or letters, letting us know that you were thinking of us—that was the next best thing to coming.

We were delighted to se all who were here, and we had representatives from some of the early classes who had not visited us since their graduation.

We know all of you are busy, but there is one thing we want you to do for your Alma Mater: we find that the colleges of the State are working through their alumnae for students and if ours do not show an active interest along this line we fear their attitude will be misconstrued as indifference. We know you are interested and, therefore, we wish others to know it also; we want you to get to work and turn in this direction the strong graduates of the high schools in your comunity.

To those who were with us, we say: come again. To those who could not be here, we say: begin right now palnning to come next March.

With best wishes to all of you,
Yours very truly,
J. L. JARMAN, President

NEWS NOTES ABOUT FORMER TEACHERS

Miss Alma Browning, our sixth grade supervisor, is now teaching in East Carolina State Teachers College, Greenville, N. C.

Miss Jeannette Edwards, our kindergarten teacher is now Mrs. Arnold Rattray, and lives at East Hampton, Long Island, N. Y. She is still writing for our magazines and newspapers.

Miss Mabel Culkin, kindergarten supervisor, is at Duluth, Minn.

Miss Elsie Gwynn, of our faculty is now Mrs. C. C. Curtis. Her husband is a member of the science faculty of Columbia Universty. Their address is 195 Claremont Ave., New York City.

Miss Florence Iselin is teaching in Natchez, Miss.

Mr. E. Merritt Lear, head of our history department and Miss Rachel Robinson, our second grade supervisor, have married. He is now teaching economics in the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C. They, and their little girl, spent Founders Day with us.

Miss Florence Meyer, our physical education teacher is now teaching in Yonkers, New York, 15 Cedar Place is her address.

Miss Christine Munoz, head of our music department, is now supervisor of music in Alexandria, Va.

Miss Ellen G. Perkinson who preceded Miss Munoz as our teacher of music is now teaching written English in the high schools of Minneapolis, Minn. Her address is 3021 Park Ave.

Miss Nan Powell of our English department went to Willian and Mary as dean of women. There she met Dr. Hodges, dean of men, and is now Mrs. Hodges.

Miss Florence Rohr, our sixth grade supervisor is now living at 110 Morningside Drive, New York City. She is making a great financial success of her apartments there.

Miss Mamie Rohr, her sister and also at one time our sixth grade supervisor is living in Lynchburg, Va. She has a very successful business manufacturing small leather articles from the finest grades of imported leathers.

Miss Helen May Turner, head of our department of music last year, is now doing advanced work in her chosen subject at Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City.

Miss Pauline Williamson, our fifth grade supervisor is now with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. She has charge of the children's department and is having great success. Her address is National Arts Club, Gramercy aPrk, New York City.

Dr. W. F. Tidyman, head of our education department is now doing the same work in the State Teachers College, Fresno, Calif.

OUR JOAN

Chapu gave life
To our Joan
As last he touched her
By the hand—
But I found something
In her face
Resembling an angelic grace
As I passed by
Her resting place
On Founders Day.

V. L.

OH, MYSELF TO SEE

O would there were some kindred soul
To step within my destined role
And let me take the outer place
And read the story in my face.

Perhaps then I would better be,
And learn to live more peacefully
And take the days just as they come
And not to worry with the sum.

Oh, life is not so heard to bear;
We hurry so from here to there—
We rush through things that mean the most
And idle things we drink and toast.

So could I be another man,
Or else a fly, or grain of sand,
And see myself as others see
A really better man I'd be.

L. M., '32

DISILLUSION

I came to you with all my heart and soul;
I believed in you—faith in my hold—
I worshipped you, and hope's bright flowering
Led me on to gaze again, but so deceiving
You hushed my song, and in my heart faith trembled,
My dreams like fading butterflies fell to earth dissembled;
And you exultant smiled with this finality,
But I gazed again—the emptiness of your reality.

E. B., '34

A MIRACLE

An ugly bulb,
A few dirty rocks,
In a clear glass bowl
In a window.
Sunshine, rain,
Fresh morning dew;
Moonlight,
Streams of silver.
Dawn,
A slender shoot of green;
White curling roots
In crystal water.
A pure white flower
Kissed with sunbeams;
Delicate petals
Round a cup of pallid yellow;
Fragrant perfume,
Beauty unadorned—
Who would have thought
That such a miracle
Could come from
An ugly bulb,
A few dirty rocks,
In a clear glass bowl
In a window.

L. M., '32

THE BEGINNING

The mother's heart speaks most of love
In it is the beginning.
And from its roots of faith and life
A flower fair is springing.

Our Alma Mater speaks of love
In it is the beginning,
Of service, knowledge, trust and hope,
And flowers fair, still springing.

L. M., '32

Mrs. P. L. Morrison Former Head of Home Honored

Memorial Taking Form of Collection of Books For Library Is Given

At the meeting of the Association of Alumnae in June, 125, Mrs. Mary Ratcliffe Chenery, moved that the alumnae should in some suitable way honor the memory of Mrs. Portia Lee Morrison, who was from 1887 to 1904 Head of the Home in every sense of the term. Those who were in school during the administration of Mrs. Morrison welcomed the opportunity to pay a tribute of affection and gratitude to her for her unselfish, untiring, wise and loving devotion to their welfare and happiness and this sometimes included a bit of match-making. Mrs. Chenery was appointed the chairman of a committee, composed of Miss Minnie Rice, Miss Nelly Preston, Mrs. Genevieve V. Holladay, Mrs. Lucy Boswell Montague and Miss Carrie Sutherlin, to decide upon a plan and to carry it to completion

The memorial has taken the form of a collection of books for Miss Morrison's greatest pleasure was to read and study, and to share knowledge and appreciation of books with the students, faculty and friends in town, including a Bible class of young men. There are in it works of fiction, of poetry, of biography, books of religious nature and translations of books which Mrs. Morrison read in the original language. The selection has been made in accordance with suggestions received from many who were members of the reading groups that met in her sitting room. The books will be given a special place in the library with an appropriate memorial plate for the shelves, and a book-plate of original design for each volume.

Mrs. Morrison was the daughter of Dr. J. M. P. Atkinson, one of the presidents of Hampden-Sydney College, and she spent many years in that community and had many warm friends among the people of "The Hill." She had one son, James Alferd Morrison, who died before she did, but not before his literary talent had produced several books, one of which "A Dictionary of Biography of Hampden-Sydney College," has been secured for the memorial. Others will be added.

Some comments from friends of the past reveal Mrs. Morrison's influence. "It seems only a few days instead of years, since we went into her room for evening prayers before we dispersed for study hour. I wonder if the girls of the present will have as tender, sweet memories of Farmville days as we 'girls' of the nineties will always have!" "The main impression that the readings made upon me was of a cultured home-likeness—of refinement." "She was alive to all that was best in the new while loving and cherishing the old." "Such a gracious lovely person she was!" The Virginian of 1903 has this insciption: "To the brave woman who for nearly fifteen years has stood faithfully by the school in the face of dangers and discouragments that would have made a soul less true fallen; to her who has thrown heart and soul into fulfilling nobly and well the double trust imposed upon her by the State and by the mother of Virginia, is this Annual lovingly dedicated in grateful appreciation of the love, the symptahy, the help, the tenderness, the constant inspiration to higher aims and truer ideals, which have been given us at all times by that true woman—Mrs. Portia Lee Morrison."

ROCKNE WILL HAVE TO STUDY LANGUAGES

Rockne will have to take a few courses in foreign languages if he is planning to coach the Notre Dame backfield next year. Here is his combination: Hanley is Irish, Schwartz is Jewish, Lukats is a Greek, and Vejar is a Mexican.—Technician.

MRS. P. L. MORRISON

Memorial To Her Memory

'Alma Mater' Begins The Day's Program

Continued from page one

A tableau of maidens in white robes, one of whom held the golden fleece, was given by the honor societies.

With exclamations and ejaculations, four debate club girls arrived on the S. T. C. stage in time for Founders Day and in time to present what money they had left from their trip.

A sultan, in all his majesty and glory, demanded that the young man who sought the hand of his daughter should first find eight beautiful girls who should bring eight trays laden with jewels. To his surprise in a short time eight maidens with eight trays of jewels appeared. But the young man had something even more wonderful—a magic lamp. This Aladdin lamp was given by the Princess to Dr. Jarman from the Sophomore Class.

The flowers of Latin, Spanish and French Club were presented by the girls of each club.

When the blue curtains parted again, it was early dawn. Aurora was there in her golden chariot drawn by six maidens. The goddess, president of the Junior Class, gave her treasure box to Dr. Jarman.

A tennis match, ending in the whole audience singing "Onward, Farmville", was the stunt of the Athletic Association.

Children played with blocks and under the direction of their teacher spelled words. The words were "We Love Jarman." The audience again rose, and sang "We Love You, Dr. Jarman." The children who played were Y. W. C. A. girls.

A girl sitting on a log in the forest composed a poem and read it. She represented the Literary Societies, Ruffner and Cunningham.

The story of the hen who laid a golden egg was reproduced by the Primary Council, which presented the hen to Dr. Jarman.

As Adele Hutchinson told the story of the development of Farmville State Teachers College from 1884 to 1931, girls dressed in green and white costumes representing the clothes worn in the long span of years came across the stage and stood on the steps of a green and white raised platform. The president of the Senior Class in a white cap and gown stood in the center of this. This Senior Class presentation was the last of the student ones.

Greetings from various alumnae chapters were given.

Dr. J. L. Jarman responded to the gifts given. He said that he had eaten potato pies, raised chickens, sung the silent song, etc., but had never as in these particular cases appreciated their value.

With the song, "There is in Old Virginia a Place We Love To Be" the morning program was concluded.

Miss Catherine M. Anderson Is Oldest Farmville Graduate

Graduated in Second Class Sent Out From This School

Miss Catherine Maria Anderson, was eighty-five years old on January 4, 1931. Most of her long life has been spent in Lynchburg, Virginia, but she was born in Wiscasset, in the southern part of Maine. After the death of her father she moved with her mother to Brooklyn. Her mother died when she was ten years old and she traveled again southward, to Washington, D. C. She was first a pupil, then a teacher in a boarding school near Bladensburg, not far from Washington. A very dear schoolmate, Miss Marie Peyton, married Mr. Stratton of Lynchburg, and died while her children were quite young. Miss Anderson was their foster mother until Mr. Stratton's second marriage, and then she entered Farmville "to learn the new methods of teaching." She graduated in 1886, a member of the second class sent out from the school, and taught in Lynchburg and in Campbell County.

Dr. Ruffner was the president of the Normal Schools at that time and lived across the street from the Main building. From this vantage point he could keep an eye upon the conduct of the students. One morning at chapel he remarked that he noticed a light in one room every night after the bell had rung. Investigation showed that the light came from an open fire and the curtains at the window were of very thin material. Evidently the opening of windows at night was not a general practice.

There were other differences between those early days and the present. There were fifty day pupils. One of the boarders remarked that she did not see how the cook (and cook was Philip!) got hot biscuits enough for as many as sat at our tables. Hot biscuits have remained an institution until this day.

Mrs. Ruffner would help to nurse the sick students and their daughter, Miss Annie had charge of Dr. Ruffner's classes when he would be absent from the school so the conduct of the school was rather a family affair.

Miss Anderson has not visited her Alma Mater for many years. It is hoped that the new road making travel easy between Lynchburg and Farmville may make it possible for her to see the almost unbelievable changes that time has wrought.

Notices of Many Marriages Reach Alumnae Office

Notice of marriage sometimes reaches the Alumnae Office by the direct method of invitation or announcement while others follow the indirect method of passage from friend to friend. Some of the marriages in the list have occurred since March 7, 1930, others earlier but the news has only recently been received.

Annette Anderson, Mrs. Jesse W. Ryals, Rocky Mount, N. C.

Annie Belle Anderson, Mrs. G. C. Duncan, Jr., Box 151, Jalong, N. C.

Catherine Armstrong, Mrs. Joel Watkins, Jr.

Claudia Anderson, Mrs. E. F. Liebrecht, Washington, D. C.

Nellie M. Baber, Mrs. J. W. Pierce, 510 East Union Street, Wytheville, Va.

Agnes Baptist, Mrs. E. C. Hamblan, University, Va.

Evelyn Beckham, Mrs. W. L. Broaddus, Hopewell, Va.

Dorothy Boisseau, Mrs. L. G. Coleman, Ford, Va.

Kathryn Boon, Mrs. H. A. Hurst, Pulaski, Va.

Frances Brightwell, Mrs. Robert Vaughan, Franklin, Va.

Continued on page 4

MISS C. ANDERSON

In Class of 1886

Alumnae Chapters Bring Greetings

An exceedingly young chapter, Boykins, Va., organized Feb. 26, 1931, was represented by Miss Elizabeth Hurt, who brought greetings and a check.

In the summer of 1930, Miss Martha Coulling and Miss Ottie Craddock were hostesses to the Bristol alumnae at a tea in the home of Miss Margaret Ferguson. A large number was present and the spirit of loyalty to Farmville S. T. C. was very evident.

Miss Susie Reams was the "messenger of good will" from the Dinwiddie chapter and the bearer of a check.

The Farmville chapter ,through its president, Mrs. Southall Farrar, contributed a generous sum to the Student Building Fund. The chapter this year, as usual, is lending money to a student.

Mrs. Lucy Boswell Montague brought a message and a check from the Lynchburg chapter and gave some interesting reminiscences of the early days of the college, then the State Female Normal School. For several years this chapter has supported a student here through a loan fund or scholarship.

On March 5, the Alumnae Chapter and the Lions Club of Lynchburg gave a delightful banquet in honor of Dr. Jarman. Miss Wilhelmina London, president of the Association of Alumnae, Mr. Robert K. Brock, District Governor of Lions Clubs, Mr. H. H. Harris, member of the State Board of Eudcation, and Miss Jennie Tabb were special guests of the occasion.

The largest local branch is named the Peninsula Chapter. Miss Lucille Logan is the newly elected president. There are five vice-presidents: Newport News, Miss Eunice Bassett; Hampton, Miss Katherine Bully; York County, Miss Bertha Hunt; Warwick County, Mrs. Guy Via; Williamsburg, Miss Inger Scheie. The other officers are Miss Elsie Wilson, of Newport News, secretary, and Miss Lyla Colonna, of Hampton, treasurer. Miss Wilson was the delegate to Farmville. Miss Bessie Barclay is an honorary member of the chapter. The plans include the establishment of a loan fund for a student at Farmville, and a social meeting in the spring.

The Roanoke Chapter, through its president, Miss Eleanor McCormick, sent a telegram of love and good wishes, with the news of $100 expended on the education of a student now in our college.

Miss Virginia Ellis, secretary of the Staunton Chapter, sent a telegram of greeting, and followed it in person, so was present at the evening exercises.

The organization of new chapters has been started in some places, and it is possible that New York and Florida may be added to the list.

Changes of Address of Former Students Difficult to Keep

Many Undelivered Letters Are Returned to The Secretary Each Year

In these days of rapid transit it is exceedingly difficult to keep up with the changes in the addresses of our former students. Many undelivered letters are returned each year, and the following list is made from the addressograph plates which are now incorrect. Anyone receiving this paper will render a service to the association if you will send to the secretary any present address which you are able to supply.

Mary A. Addington, Mrs. Harold C. Leonard; Rosa Allen, Mrs. Nathan Womack; Charlotte K. Anderson, Mrs. Charlotte Eaton; Maud Anderson, Mrs. F. L. Soyars; Marguerite Archambault, Mrs. C. A. Chenery; Alice Atkinson, Mrs. Louis Santo; Virginia Atkinson; Dolly M. Baker, Mrs. Alexander Harrell; Florence Ray Barr, Mrs. L. B. Phillips; Selma Batten, Mrs. George Miller; Mary Bell; Ruby Berry, Mrs. Daniel Hines; Mary Louise Berryman; Archie Blair, Mrs. L. Cook Campbell, Mary Blanchard, Mrs. A. Allen Brown; May Blankenship, Mrs. H. M. Woods; S. Jean Boatwright, Mrs. Clem Goodman; Vivian Biosseau, Mrs. D. P. Wright; Addie Lee Boomer; Laura Boyd Boteler; Virgina E. Bracy; Nina B. Breckenridge; Lorah Brewer; Clarrene Augusta Brite; Audrey Estelle Brittingham; Lucy Brooke, Mrs. Louis Jennings; Million Brooke, Mrs. M. B. Somerville; Elsie B. Brooks; Belle Brosius, Mrs. P. H. Wisman; Margaret E. Brown; Kathleen Brooking, Mrs. W. C. Holland; Carrie Bull; Gladys Burt, Mrs. B. C. Jones; Emma Burton; Minnie Butler, Mrs. M. M. Albright, Jr.; Adele Carter, Mrs. J. G. Brown; Edwina Carwile, Mrs. H. P. Montgomery; Lilly A. Chamblin; Stella Chaney; Annie B. Cheatham; Frances Louise Clark, Mrs. Roy W. Sexton; Elizabeth R. Clarke; Lena Cohen, Mrs. M. A. Jacobson; Aline Cole, Mrs. George B. Engleby; M. Alice Coleman, Mrs. Alice Coleman Bethel; Elizabeth Lee Cooke; Elizabeth B. Cooper; Mildred Cooper; Mabel Cutts, Mrs. Clarence Herndon; Mary B. Daniel, Mrs. Randolph Jones; Mary Emily Davis, Mrs. J. E. Kelly; Sallie Davis, Mrs. P. K. Dugger; Anna L. Derr; Zozo Dixon, Mrs. King H. Mustard; Anne Doughty, Mrs. William E. Baylor; Miss Rebecca Driskill, Mrs. Herbert O. Butler; Alma Irene Drummond; Lula Duncan, Mrs. Lula D. Moir; Naomi Duncan, Mrs. George W. Morris; Zulieme Duval, Mrs. A. F. Harris; Abbye May Edwards; Ruth Edwards, Mrs. John R. Tucker; Annie Ray Farrar; Tena Ferguson; Katherine Field, Mrs. J. B. Campbell; Martha Fitzgerald, Mrs. F. V. Long; Mamie Edna Fletcher; Mildred C. Flournoy, Mrs. William F. Woodson; Daisy Foster, Thelma A. Fowlkes; Susie Fulks; Mrs. Edwin Williams; Virgie Lee Fuller; Frances A. Gannaway, Mrs. Wm. Arthur Moon; Alice Winifred Garner, Mrs. Montrose Graham; Annie Gill, Mrs. T. B. Trevvett; Lillian Gilliam; Daisy Rose Goodman; Elizabeth Green; Maud Grigsby; Florence Grumiaux, Mrs. H. B. Byers; Willie Guthrie, Mrs. George W. Long; Sara Gwaltney; Ruth Hankins, Mrs. Neale Stacy; Virginia Harden; Mary Harding; Wanda Harkrader; Olive Harris; Mrs. William Kydd; Rille Harris; Willie Harris; Isabelle W. Harrison; Nannie Harwood; Mrs. Nannie Disharoon;

Continued on page 4

AUTHORITIES REPORT INCREASED ENROLLMENT

Gross receipts of the Harveford skating pond this winter have reached $2700. The alumni secretary stated that these receipts were very satisfactory(the income from the pond being already nearly double that obtained last year during the whole season.

Changes of Address of Former Students Difficult to Keep

Continued from page three

Elizabeth Haskins; Elizabeth Hatcher; Mrs. H. Winn Sadler; Elizabeth Hawthorne; Nellie Heath; Mrs. John P. Walker; Janet Hedgepeth. Mrs. W. H. Jones; Bessie May Hitchings; Lillian Grace Hodges; Mary Elizabeth Hodges; Bessana Hottel, Mrs. J. Alvin Vaughan; Miss Gladys Jeannette Huband; Carrie Hudgins, Mrs. James W. King; Mary Ellen Hudgins, Mrs. Oscar Hudgins; Ruth Diggs Hudgins, Mrs. Wallace Duncan King; Madge Humphries; Florence Hurt, Mrs. J. T. Fulwiler; Dora F. Jett; Olive Johnson, Mrs. F. A. Turner; Amelie Jones; Lillian B. Jones; Lula M. Jones, Mrs. J. T. Worsham; Helen Jordan, Mrs. R. H. Cabell, Jr.; Leona Jordan, Mrs. T. C. Pegram; Emma King, Mrs H. H. Edwards; Margaret Kite, Mrs. Charles Sims; Sadie J. Kobre; Nellie Layne, Mrs. P. F. LeFevre; Ashley Leckey; Devorah Levy; Della Lewis, Mrs. William Hundley; Ellen Lindsay; Charlotte Littlepage; Mary J. Lloyd, Mrs. Harris; Richie McCraw; Bessie McGeorge, Mrs. A. P. Gathay; Carrie McGeorge, Mrs. M. C. Burke; Lottie McKinney, Mrs. Leander Cash; Elvira Maclin, Mrs. A. N. Cocks, Jr.; Mary Macon, Mrs. M. B. Lovelace; Mildred Marshall; Lucille Martin; Annie Mason; Margaret Matthews; Alma Maynard, Mrs. Harry Redmond; Maude Mays, Mrs. Hugh H. Rhodes; Frances O. Meacham; Pauline C. Meeder; Jessie Miller, Mrs. R. T. Montgomery; Susie Minton, Mrs. Arthur M. Reynolds; Mary Sue Moore, Mrs. J. J. Beaman; Mildred Moore; Polly Moore; Willie Moore; Maybelle Maud Moran, Mrs. Edward F. Price; Nellie Moreland, Mrs. S. C. Slaven; Katherine Morris, Mrs. A. S. Anderson; Dora Roberta Mosley; Betty Moses; Aleen Mundy; Annie Murray; Florence Nairne, Mrs. T. H. Bailey, Jr.; Lila Newsom, Mrs. Donald Hayselden; Ida Noveck; Mae Northern, Mrs. John Henry Pearson; Bessie Nulton, Mrs. J. B. Noffman; Charlotte O' Neal, Mrs. J. H. Rosser; Eva Orr; Bertie Parsons, Mrs. F. T. Taylor; Mary Paulett, Mrs. R. D. Jones; Annie Payne; Clara Pearson, Mrs. Durham; Dorothy Pierce; Mary Pierce, Mrs. E. F. Watson; Emma Pittard; Aileen Poole, Mrs. T. H. McGinnes; Lucy Powell, Mrs. J. A. Wyatt; Rosa Puckett; Mildred Ragsdale, Mrs. David A. Jackson; Margaret Rawles; Mrs. F. W. Reebals; Mary Elizabeth Redd; Ethel Reynolds, Mrs. John E. White; Emma Richardson, Mrs. John Geddy; Nellie Richardson; Mrs. A. G. Rogers; Annie Elizabeth Rives; Alice Roberts; Mrs. Alice Roberts Jones; Alma Robertson; Josephine Rollins, Mrs. William Leitch; S. Jayne Rucker; Linda St. Clair; Mamie St. John; Lydia Mae Schlosser; Beulah Sedwick, Mrs. E. D. Haines; Ruby Sibley; F. Margaret Shaw, Mrs. M. S. Royall; Rachel Shepherd, Mrs. W. O. Payne; Lily Smith, Mrs. W. W. Martin; Mae Ernestine Smith; Rosa Smith; Lucille H. South, Mrs. Merriweather Goodman; Cora Spain, Mrs. J. A. Meade; Mary M. Stephens, Mrs. J. H. Sherman; Mildred Stokes; Mary Swain, Mrs. A. C. Shepherd Mary Thelma Thomas; Lena Hazel Thompson, Mrs. Huey; Lillian Trotter, Mrs. C. G. Bradley; Julia Turnbull; Martha Turner, Mrs. W. L. Cooke; Anna Vries Anne Walker; Elizabeth Walkup; Margaret Wallace; Dorothea Ward, Mrs. J. A. Hudgins; Ruth Ward Margaret E. Watkins; Louise Watts; Margaret Webb; Grace Wells; Jeannette White, Mrs. J. C. Morehead; Mary Ellen White; Mary Dudley Williams; Lillian Wilson; Helen Wimbish, Mrs. A. W. Hawley; Nora Wingfield, Mrs. W. N. Sebrell; Lucille Wood; Lucille B. Woodson, Mrs. B. E. Nicholson; Harriett Woolridge, Mrs. T. C. Zehmer, Jr.; Brenda Wright; Fannie B. Wright; Bonnie Wygal, Mrs. S. V. Gibson; Letitia Wynne; Margaret Zernow.

Dr. Smithey Speaker Of Evening Program

Continued from page one

ment has been due to him.

The theme of Dr. Smithey's address was "The Teacher in the Modern School". He emphasized the fact that we are living in a new age, different from any ever known. The new economic and social factors of today have brought about a second industrial revolution. The old order has given way. A new type of individual must be produced to take the responsibility of the new order, and it is to the school that people are looking to train boys and girls, to develop the spirti of youth and engage in activities "that enlarge the spirit and satisfy the soul." Training for leisure is most important. Leisure is a result of the new mass production. The school is attempting to train people in avocational activities. the best solution of the problem, a challenge to teachers.

Dr. Smithey, in outlining the personality of teachers, placed character and ability first. He stated that teaching is a technical thing and people should come and remain in the profession. He discussed as two important requisites of teaching: 1. Preparation in a technical way. There is need of professional skill and technique but, also, teachers must be experimenters and engage in research endeavors to stimulate youth to the end that they will be fit social beings. "We live in a complex civilization", said Dr. Smithey, "and the problem is to cause children to learn." 2. A cultural and chastened spirit. Dr. Smithey stated that the best teaching is still done by example as well as by precept. The story of the great Stone Face has been a great challenge and is of particular importance in this age. If the school is to stimulate children it must do it through teachers of personality and spirituality.

In closing Dr. Smithey paid tribute to our school by saying that culture and refinement are our contribution. Today when modern youth seems to be lured when technique and procedure have failed the solution is —to so enlarge the personality of the teachers that she can guide. A teacher must be a stimulating person, educated to the fine things of life. If teachers are to be dynamic in stimulating modern youth they must be a part of it.

Dr. Jarman, in characteristic manner expressed his appreciation of the splendid success of this Founders Day, and reported the financial result of the day.

The program was concluded by two selections "Worship" and "The Lost Chord" by the Choral Club.

Following the lecture the Senior reception for alumni and guests was held in the Student Building lounge.

BOSTON MALE CHOIR PROGRAM RENDERED

Continued from page one

Miss DesRosiers and the chair

Cantique d'Amour ..... Liszt
Etude ..... Chopin
Malaguena ..... Lecuonat

Mr. Boardman

Intermission

Trial by Jury—An operetta in one act written by W. S. Gilbert and composed by Sir Arthur Sullivan.

Characters

The Judge—Rober Hetnry, H. Whitfield Laite
The Plaintiff ..... Miss DesRosiers
The Defendant ..... Mr. Isherwood
Counsel ..... Mr. Simonds
Usher ..... Mr. Nichols

The Jury—Messrs. Conley, Bentley, Salmons, Daniels, Dundon. D'Alesandro, Mugler.

The scene is laid in an English Court of Justice, the ocasion being an action brought by Angelina against Edwin for breach of promise to marry. The story is quickly told in typical Gilbertian style and the case is amicably settled to the evident satisfaction of all concerned.

MISS MARY WHITE COX

Head of Home, who helped so much to make Founders Day a sucecss.

MANY ALUMNAE RETURN SATURDAY

The following alumnae returned for Founders Day:

Annie Lee Barksdale
Eunice Bassett
Fannie Berkley
Elizabeth Bowers
Annie Lee Bowden
Harriett Brown
Isabel Brown
Kathryn Bully
Louise Bunch
Florence Carmine
Mrs. Hazel Clark
Mrs. Chenery
Marjorie Codd
Elsie Clements
Eleanor Currin
Mrs. George Dillard
Pearl Etheridge
Mary Gallup
Mary Finch
Alma Grafton
Amanda Gray
Mable Gloseclose
Eugenia Harris
Lilla Hancock
Otelia Harvey
Kitty Hatch
Laura Holmes
Mildred Holmes
Virginia Hunter
Elizabeth Hurt

(Continued on page 5)

Chinese Drama Differs From Others

Chinese drama is different in all its essentials from the product of the American theatres. The realism of the American and European stage, the absolute reproduction on the screen have not the slightest counterpart in anything on the Chinese stage. There is nothing at all in this country with which it can be compared.

In the Chinese play, everything happens in the glorious land of makebelieve. Everything is symbolic; every move, every gesture of the hands is highly conventionalized and done according to the ancient tradition of the land.

In direct contrast to the American stage, when the curtain opens, all the properties, all the music, even the prompter for the players—all these are already on the stage. The property man, as announced by the Chorus before hand, is to the eyes of the audience distinctly invisible, as he adjusts the robe of His Celestial Majesty the Emporer, or flecks away a bit of dust from a chair.

Nothing is represented as it really is. The tossing of flakes of paper into the air by the property man in full view of the audience creates a snowstorm. A man playing the part of a general who ascends a hill to review a batttel, climbs to a chair or a table. He does the same when crossing a mountain. When a player dies on the stage, as soon as his soul is released, he jumps and runs off stage, or the property man brings a ladder for him to climb up to heaven.

Spirits are quite common on the the Chinese stage. They usually appear above the stage at the back, for the purpose of warning or guiding the earth-bound mortals. Worship of the ancestors is essential. Posession of well known ancestral tablets is the social background in the plays.

Extreme formality is the outstanding characteristics of the old, traditional, spectacular plays. Frequently used adjectives are: celestial, august, most worthy, divine, and beautiful. Nothwithstanding this formal stiffness, there is a delicate-

Continued on last page

JOAN OF ARC

The ever guiding spirit—that leads on the women of today. She stands in our Colonnade.

Notices of Many Marriages Reach Alumnae Office

Continued from page three

Susan Field Brown, Mrs. J. W. Graham, Jr., Pocahontas, Va.

Mildred Browning, Mrs. R. L. Rogers, Orange, Va.

May Joy Burch, Mrs. C. P. M. Sheffey, Wembo Nyama, Africa.

Martha Chapin, Mrs. C. M. Addison, 5510 Huntington Ave., Newport News, Va.

Virginia Christopher, Mrs. J. J. Mercer, Jr., Hardings, Va.

Kerah Cole, Mrs. J. F. Proctor, 3213 Brook Road, Richmond, Va.

Elizabeth Crute, Mrs. J. H. Goode, r., Alexandria, Va.

Mrs. Bessie Beazley Carter, Mrs. A. H. Bell, Stockton, Calif.

Margaret Davis, Mrs. J. W. Christiansen, Hilton Village, Va.

Elizabeth H. Elmore, Mrs. E. C. Feild, Lawrenceville, Va.

Lillian East, Mrs. S. L. Hayden, Chatham, Va.

Emily P. Gary, Mrs. W. G. Robinson, Louisville, Ky.

Madeline Gary, Mrs. W. H. Brown, 326 1-2 Cedar St., Suffolk, Va.

Nancy B. Gayle, Mrs. C. H. Moseley, South Hill, Va.

Claudia Gilchrist, Mrs. Harry McLemore, 1429 Washington Ave.., Miami, Fla.

Helen J. Glenn, Mrs. Joseph Young Prospect, Va.

Betty Green, Mrs. S. D. Craig, 1827 Berkley Ave., Petersburg, Va.

Emma Hester, Mrs. T. C. Humphries, Clarksville, Va.

Gladys Virginia Herndon, Mrs. R. I. Thomas, Concord, Va.

Edith Harrell, Mrs. McCarthy, New York.

Jacqueline Irby, Mrs. R. B. Jones.

Bernice Johnson, Mrs. H. B. Sykes, 2000 W. Grace St., Richmond, Va.

Iola Johnson, Mrs. F. C. Maloney, Jr., Solt Apt., Hopewell, Va.

Esther Kline, Mrs. A. L. Clabaugh, 2625 Jefferson Ave., Knoxville, Tenn.

Frances McKan, Brs. F. D. Adams, Ellensburg, Wash.

Patience Moore, Mrs. J. M. Britt, Boykins, Va.

Vera E. McNamee, Mrs. A. W. Kinsey, Perth Amboy, N. J.

Bertha Owen, Mrs. W. C. Marshall, 513 Moore St., Bristol, Va.

Lucy Parsons, Mrs. A. C. Gilliam, Yale, Va.

Blanche Price, Mrs. A. C. Paulett, Farmville, Va.

Alice Mae Presson, Mrs. F. W. Cobb, 7007 Ninth St., Washington, D. C.

Bessie Meade Riddle, Mrs. A. L. Tynes, Jr., Army Hospital, San Antonio, Texas.

Lucy Elizabeth Rose, Mrs. Thweatt Zehmer, McKenney, Va.

Bess Rush, Mrs. G. W. Jewesson.

Mary Rives Richardson, Mrs. E. P. Lancaster, Guntur, India.

Mary Christine Reid, Mrs. Fred Bechdolt.

Kathleen L. Sanford, Mrs. W. T. Harrison, Jarratt, Va.

Elizabeth M. Sawyer, Mrs. R. L. Walker, Jr., 932 Harrington Ave., Norfolk, Va.

Alma Smith, Mrs. J. T. Walker, Jr. 101 W. Overbrook Road, Richmond, Va.

Frances M. Smith, Mrs. A. W. Greene, Ahoskie, N. C.

Mary Squire, Mrs. E. M. Wrenn, Emporia, Va.

Doris Steere, Mrs. R. W. Harwell, 129 Marshall St., Petersburg, Va.

Julia Stover, Mrs. M. W. Carothers, Tampa, Fla.

Evelyn V. Thompson, Mrs. L. A. Law, Alberta, Va.

Clotilde Waddell, Mrs. Robert B. Hiden, Stockbridge, Mass.

Thelma Williams, Mrs. J. D. Ferguson, 206 Mt. Vernon Ave., Danville, Va.

Virginia Wilson, Mrs. E. M. Mason, 109 Williams St., Hopewell, Va.

Phyllis Wood, Mrs. A. B. Sims, 1607 Rivermont Ave., Lynchburg, Va.

Miss Ida L. Wright, Mrs. F. B. Eberweine, Bennetts Creek, Va.

SOCIAL

Loulie Millner spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Hanna Crawley had as her two guests at Cumberland this week-end Evelyn Stephenson and Harriet Branch.

Doorthy Goodloe was the guest of Mrs. Warren Claud of Charlottesville this week-end.

Elsie Burgess was at her home in Norfolk this week-end.

Ruth Peery was in Richmond this week-end with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Boggers of Tazewell, Va.

Martha Walter was in Richmond this week-end.

Cornelia Quarles spent the week-end at her home in Staunton.

Dorothy Ritchie was at her home in Petersburg this week-end.

Mary Arthur Billups was in Norfolk this week-end.

Mary Brightwell and Ella Sims Clore visited the sister of the latter, Miss Frances Clore in Charlottesville this week-end.

Nancy DeBerry was in Portsmouth at her home this week-end.

Clara Giles spent the week-end at her home in Clifton Forge.

Charlotte Hutchins was in Portsmouth this week-end.

Martha Sanders was at her home in Richmond this week-end.

Fannie Mae Colonna spent the week-end in Norfolk.

Harriet Branch was in Norfolk Friday to attend the wedding of her cousin.

A blaze of light evening gowns in myriads of shades, tuxedoes, lonely girls, strains from an orchestra—red tulips on snowy white tablecloths—this was the dining room on Saturday evening.

Since Dr. Jarman, the administrative officers and the faculty were present to help enjoy the dinner that was so well planned by Mrs. Jamison and Mrs. Shelton, the students felt that the day was nearing a perfect close.

ANNUAL ALUMNAE BUSINESS MEETING

Continued from page one

sion, it was voted that the Normal League Committee together with an alumna representative suggest and send to each local chapter a plan for making and collecting loans made. All plans now in operation seem inadequate in the securing of prompt and full payments.

Dr. Jarman, treasurer, made the following Cunningham Memorial Fund report for June 28, 1907-February 28, 1931:

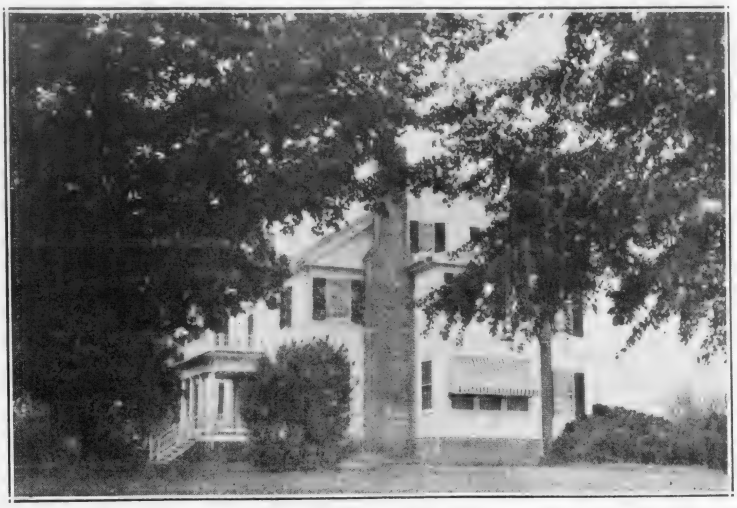
Amount received from Miss Ruby Venable, treasurer. June 28, 1907	$1128.53
Accrued interest to November 3, 1909	37.19
Gifts	28.82
Amount received from Alumnae Association	405.65
Interest on loans	942.96
Students notes held February 28, 1931	2050.40
Balance on hand as of February 28, 1931	2543.15

Mrs. Coyner reported $248.15 for the Morrison Memorial Fund, and Mrs. Chenery, chairman of the committee reported plans completed for the presentation of the books already bought for the Morrison Memorial to be to the College at the evening meeting.

Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro reported work being carried forward on the Association Bulletin and on the making of classification cards for 4000 alumnae by classes and probably by geographical areas also.

Miss Mary Clay Hiner's motion was carried that the Association set aside annually a contribution to the Cunningham Memorial Fund, the amount to be decided by the executive committee.

The nominating committee made the following report from ballots cast.



President: Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro

Director: Lucille Graves.

Nominating Committee: Miss Pauline Camper, Miss Louise McCormick, and Mrs. D. E. Davidson.

The meeting was adjourned until March 1932.

LONGWOOD

S. T. C. recreational center which was the scene of the Alumnae Luncheon last Saturday

ALUMNAE LUNCHEON SERVED AT LONGWOOD IN BUFFET STYLE

Longwood, our hospitable school recreational center, was the scene of the most beautiful alumnae luncheon of many years. The atmosphere was one of true hospitality and friendship.

The guests, 110 alumnae ,and friends, were shown the lovely home, and as they gathered in the drawing rooms with large fires, they were served a course lucheon in buffet style by local alumnae and college girls.

As special guests, the alumnae had Dr. Jarman, Dr. and Mrs. Smithey and Mrs. Graham. Several of the honorary members including Miss Coulling, Mr. and Mrs. Grainger, as well as other faculty members were present.

A vote of appreciation is extended to the local chapter of Farmville alumnae, which acted as a transportation committee under the direction of Miss Louise Richardson.

"DOES UNCLE SAM NEED A WIFE?"

The Debate Club held its regular meeting on February 26, at 7 o'clock in the Y. W. reception room.

At this meeting a feature of novel interest was discussed. In the near future interclass debates will be given in the same way that interclass athletic games are played. There will be a cup bearing the colors of the victor sister classes. The subject to be debated is, "Resolved, That Uncle Same Needs a Wife."

KAPPA DELTA PI INITIATES NEW MEMBERS

The banquet hall of the tea room was the scene of a broadcast Tuesday evening, February 24, when the local chapter of Kappa Delta Pi entertained the new members of the chapter and the faculty members from other chapters. Dr. Jarman and Miss Jennie Tabb, honorary members of Beta Epsilon chapter, were also present.

After a delightful supper Carolyn Cogbill turned on the radio and the voice of Eleanor Davis announced that we were listening to station STC and short-wave station KDP. A radio program followed, given by the initiates of the chapter—seven in all. Susie Floyd presented a delightful summary of the merits of "My Book", while Bessie Lynch entertained with an original poem entitler "Mr. Strick's Saturday morning Broadcast." We consider it quite generous and unusual for Miss Lynch to advertise another station. Easter Souders sang a little ditty (original)—"Dr. Jarman's Cigar"; Miss Carrie B. Taliaferro described "Miss Jennie's Bark", remarking that "truly a registrar leads a dog's life;" Louise Woodson, with apologies to Poe read an original poem, "Bells"—rising bells, dumb bells, belles, etc; Miss Mary Clay Hiner, having been asked to be as funny as possible in a minute and a half read a poem entitled "I Wouldn't If I Could;" Sara Hubard's advertisement of "The Grade Company" "from nice fat red A's to slim blue F's"—was the appropriate finish to the program. The station signed off with the reminder that "STC products are always the best."

STRING QUARTET GAVE CHAPEL PROGRAM ON FEBRUARY 28

The string quartet, composed of Miss Purdom, Mildred Steere, Prof. Reynolds, of Hampden-Sydney, and Jim Grainger, again favored the students and faculty with several selections in chapel Saturday morning. Each program they give adds to the desire of the "listeners" for another like it. They played :

March Militaire, Schaubert.

Shepherd's Dance, Edward German.

What have we here? The students of Agnes Scott College have asked for the privileges to be allowed to smoke and to have a formal dance each week. Good luck! We bet that they will have a merry time making the change.

We would like to hear some news about our military ball, and when it will take place.

THE COLONNADE

MANY ALUMNAE RETURN SATURDAY

(Continued from page 4)

Mrs. G. B. Graham
Catherine Kemp
Lucille Logan
Bettie LeCato
Mary Ledford
Alice Michael
Mary Lucy Boswell Montague
Varsenic Mooshy
Virginia Old
Ruby Paulette Omohunro
Katie Parker
Josephine Peters
Ellen Pegram
Virginia Pegram
Dorris Pillow
Phyllis P. Pedigo
Annie Pollard
Katie Porter
Carolyn Roberts
Helen Robertson
Elizabeth Rawls
Rebecca Savedge
Mrs. Showen
Zaidee Smith
Mrs. Tuggle
Virgie Whitfield
Virginia Wilkins
Linda Wilkinson
Eleanor Wade
Jean Wade

'The Brat' Proved A Big Success on Tuesday Even'g

Continued from page one

dents and people of Farmville showed that the work and talent of the characters was fully appreciated. The Woman's Club must sponsor another play.

C. E. CHAPPELL COMPANY

Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, cigarettes and soda
Main Street

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music

Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART

We would like to have your orders

—for—

DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS

Canada Drug Co.

Farmville, Virginia

Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

Davidson's
HOUSE OF QUALITY
FARMVILLE. VIRGINIA

WHERE QUALITY MEETS PRICE

Farmville's Best Department Store

JANUARY CLEARANCE SALE

Now On At

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Rack No. 1, your choice of our $4 to $6 Dresses, all sizes. Close out price $2.98

Rack No. 2. Your choice of any $19.75 dress in store for $9.95

Wrap Around Turbans 89c

Just received new spring dresses. Charge if you wish $5.95 & $9.95

Willa: "Do you file your nails?"
Milla: "No, I cuts 'em and throws 'em away."

Household Helps

We clean your dirty kids for a quarter.—Ad in the Elmira (N. Y.) Advertiser.

Mother: "Willie, the canary has gone."
Willie: "But, mummy, it was there just now when I was trying to clean its cage with the vacuum cleaner."

It Gets the Breaks

Sam McClure says the nicest things about a clap pipe in that if you don't drop it on a brick sidewalk you do not have to stoop to pick it up.

No matter how you move it writing paper remains stationery.

"Let's do something unusual this homecoming."
"All right, let's see the first half of the football game and go to the dance before intermission."

I had a girl named Nina,
Her father's name was Klok
So every time I had a date,
It was for Nina Klock.

Big: "Who's that Indian over there?"
Chief: "My partner in the war dance."
Big: "Name, please?"
Chief: "Tears-in-my-eyes."

The hand that darns the socks is usually the one that socks the husband.

Oh, Doctor

"You remember when you cured my rheumatism a couple of years ago, Doc?" asked the patient, "and you told me that I should avoid dampness?"
"Yes, that's right," replied the doctor approvingly.
"Well, I've come to ask you if I can take a bath?"

"Have you heard the last one about the Scotchman?"
"I hope so."

"Ah! the pause that refreshes!" exclaimed Miss Foster when she saw a comma in the freshman theme.

Happy: "What you writing?"
Evelyn Jones: "A joke."
Happy: "Send him my love."

Frosh: "I want a pair of corduroy pants."
Clerk: "How long?"
Frosh: "How long? I don't want to rent them—I want to buy them."

Dentist: "I'll give you gas and you won't feel it."
Patient: "Don't make me laugh!"

INTERCOLLEGIATE

The military ball is under way at the Universty of Maryland. This is the first announcement concerning the event in the South; that is, this year.

Authorities of most colleges report that they have experienced an increase in enrollment over last year. These reports seem to show that in spite of the talked of depression there are more persons attending schools and universities than ever before.—Maroon and Gold.

FARMVILLE DEFEATS HARRISONBURG S. T. C. IN A THRILLING GAME THURSDAY NIGHT

The game on Thursday afternoon between S. T. C. and her sister college (Harrisonburg) proved to be the fastest, closest and most exciting game of the season. The defeat of Harrisonburg by a score of 27-19 ended for Farmville a most sucessful season of basketball.

Much propaganda had been spread about the mighty Harrisonburg team, and rightfully so, but our own S. T. C. varsity seemed to be one too many for the valley girls, who, although they played a hard clean game were led in the end to defeat.

A large majortiy of the student body and many members of the faculty witnessed the game. Cheers and yells between halves and quarters were led by Ida Trolan and the true spirit of S. T. C. echoed and re-echoed throughout the walls of our college domain as the numerous spectators arose and sang, "All Hail Alma Mater".

Excellent team work and great speed were displayed throughout the game on the part of both teams which seemed to be very evenly matched.

During the first quarter of the game it seemed almost impossible for either team to score but as time wore on Harrisonburg scored the first point, thus adding pep and incentive to our players who in turn scored. Smith and Snedegar then began to display their real ability and at the end of the first half the score stood 12-8 in favor of Farmville.

During the second half of the game Harrisonburg aroused even more enthusiasm and the battle seemed much closer than before. The spectactors stood tense as they watched first one team score, then the other, and wondered in between times which side was really ahead. The Harrisonburg forwards were especially quick but due to the close guarding of Coleman and Souders they were unable to locate the goal accurately.

An air of astonishment and surprise passed through the crowd when it was noted that Neblett of Harrisonburg succeeded from time to time in getting the tip-off from Gregory.

The game was greatly enjoyed by all who saw it. When the whistle sounded at the end of the game the spectators stood in great suspense waiting to hear the final score, the results of which caused shrieks and cheers to reign in the gym.

Miss Iler and the entire varsity squad are to be heartily congratulated on their splendid record for this seaon. Their record is one that our college is proud to claim.

The line-up:

Johnston	R. F.	L. N. Smith
Sullivan	L. F.	Snedegar
Neblett	J. C.	Gregory
Rolston	S. C.	Edwards
Coyner	L. G.	Souders
Farenholt	R. G.	Coleman

Referee and umipre: Misses Powell and Fogg.

SOPHOMORES & JUNIORS VICTORS IN CLASS GAMES

Perhaps the faculty meeting was a little disturbed Tuesday, March 3, by the loud cheering from the gym. These cheers were caused by nothing less than the class basketball games. Red and White and Green and White clashed again. Each was struggling to make its color victorious.

The first game which was one of the fastest of the season was played between the Sophomores and Freshmen and both teams did some "swell" playing. We can't pass over the game without mentioning the fine spirit as well as fine playing which was shown by the Freshmen. They certainly proved true to the old Red and White. However at the sound of the final whistle the score stood 24-23 in favor of the Sophomores.

No sooner had the Freshman and Sophomores disappeared from the gymn floor than the Juniors and Seniors appeared. This game wasn't as exciting as the previous one but it was just as hard fought. First the Seniors would score then the Juniors. It was impossible to tell which one would be victorious. At the end of the first half the score was 5-4 in favor of the Seniors. During the last half the Juniors fought harder than ever for the old Red and White and when the final whistle blew the score stood 17-15 in favor of the Juniors.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of Mar 16 to 21

MON. and Tues.—Buddy Rogers in "Along Came Youth." Girls, here is the boy friend in one of his very best pictures. Sweet spirits of gay, irrepressable youth! Imagine Buddy as a chef who doesn't know the difference between a doughnut and a dash of salt. A penniless millionaire takes society with a broken-down race horse and pocketbook—and sweeps in the finish a winner for the girl of his heart. The chaotic charmer cheats—a little—for they were just about to marry the girl to the highest bidder, and he bid love. Snappy cracks and happy smacks. He serves the ladies with romance and you will laugh. With Stuart Irwin, the inspired nit-wit, capping the comedy. Also Laurel & Hardy in "The Chiselers."

WEDNESDAY — "Girls Demand Excitement," with Virginia Cherrill, Chaplin's leading lady, and John Wayne. What happens at a small college when the boys try to rid the school of co-eds. A college picture without a football game, but what a basketball game between the boys and girls! In the end the weaker sex proves themselves the stronger by outwitting and almost outplaying the bols. Collegiate in living up to that grand old tradition—a neck for a neck and a kiss for a kiss. Also Cartoon comedy.

Rin-Tin-Tin in Chapter 4 of "The Lone Defender." More exciting and mystifying with each episode. The acting of this dog is truly remarkable. Don't miss a chapter.

THURS. and FRI.—Lawrence Tibbett in "The Southerner," supported by Cliff Edwards, Roland Young and Esther Ralston. Here is the most remarkable picture of the year. It has everything. He left his Southern home to seek adventure— and found his greatest thrill and romance when he returned and fell in love with his brother's wife. This picture is a triumph for Tibbett, and the most human and lovable talkie of the year. Wait until you hear the famous colored Ethiopian Etude Chorus of 100 voices sing their great numbers. This picture is smashing records in all the big cities. It is a sensation, and Farmville gets it immediately after Richmond. Miss this and you will miss the greatest picture of the South ever filmed. Also Charlie Chase Comedy.

Note: Prices for this production will be adults 50c at nights and 35c at matinees; children under 12, 25c to each show.

SATURDAY — "Little Accident," with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Anita Page. When, right on the eve of his wedding, a young man learns that he has just become a father, it isn't hard to imagine what hilarious consequences may follow. He didn't want the baby till he saw it, then he had to run away with it —in to the merriest melange of madcap situations that ever made a million people laugh with joy. Here's just a landslide of laughter that will keep Farmville in good humor for days after. Also Laurel and Hardy Comedy and Fox News.

One show each night at 8 o'clock. Daily matinees at 4 p. m.

Admission, except Thursday and Friday, adults 35c at nights and 25c at matinees; children under 12, 25c to each show.

S. T. C. "PICK-UPS" DEFEAT ALUMNAE SATURDAY

One of the most exciting and unusual games of the season was played in the gym Saturday morning when a "pick up" S. T. C. team defeated an Alumnae team with a score of 16-10.

Cleo Quisenberry gained ehe first tip-off, and Alma Foster quickly passed the ball to the S. T. C. forwards, but the alumnae guards soon had the ball and passed it back to the center. The alumnae center passed the ball to her forwards, who were none other than Miss Iler and Miss Hatchett. The audience was very much amused when the umpire, Miss Frances Edwards, called a personal foul on Miss Iler for overguarding.

After the first quarter the alumnae team proved themselves to be very versatile players, several changing positions on the floor. Due to the close guarding of Miss Hatchett, and the excellent intercepting of Elizabeth Atwater, side center, in the second and third quarters, the S. T. C. team was able to score only a few points. Miss Iler and Virginia Perkins, as forwards in the third quarter for the alumnae, gave the S. T. C. guards a big surprise with their bounce passes and quick shooting. In the last quarter, the players again changed positions and Elizabeth Atwater exhibited some excellent playing on guard, while Miss Hatchett really "jumped" in center, and with Miss Iler, her side center, they showed unusual playing and excellent team work. Sue Cross and Virginia Perkins made several goals in this quarter and almost tied the score for the alumnae.

The Alumnae team should be congratulated on its excellent playing. They exhibtied unusual team work, considering the fact that they had never played together before. They had all the points of good basketball players, such as the ability to jump, technique of play, and intelligence in play. A litle practice, and they would be an excellent team.

The S. T. C. girls played with their usual good form and fast play with a steady determination to win. Both teams showed good influence of Miss Iler's coaching.

The refree and umpire, Misses Dorothy Snedegar and Frances Edwards are to be congratulated on their accuracy and keen ability in detecting fouls and violations, and their quickness in calling these.

The line-up:

Alumnae		S. T. C.
Hatchett	L. F.	Hunter
Iler	R. F.	Yeaman
Woods	J. C.	Quisenberry
Fleming	S. C.	Foster
Cross	L. G.	Boggs
Atwater	R. G.	Burger

Subs.: Alumnae: Kelly, Perkins; S. T. C.: Fraser, Ritchie, Evans, Simson.

CHINESE DRAMA IS DIFFERENT FROM THE ENGLISH AND AMERICAN

(Continued from page 4)

ness, a lightness, a feeling of delightful "play-like" that is musical almost entirely on the modern stage.

A. E. Zuckor, an eminent critic of Chinese drama, compares it with the Elizabethan stage. He says also, "The make-believe of the Chinese theatre is happily free from these devices (imitation of the externalities of every day life) that deaden the imagination.

It is just this appeal to the fancy, letting the imagination play upon the words and scenes, interpreting them as it may, that makes the charm of the plays of old China.

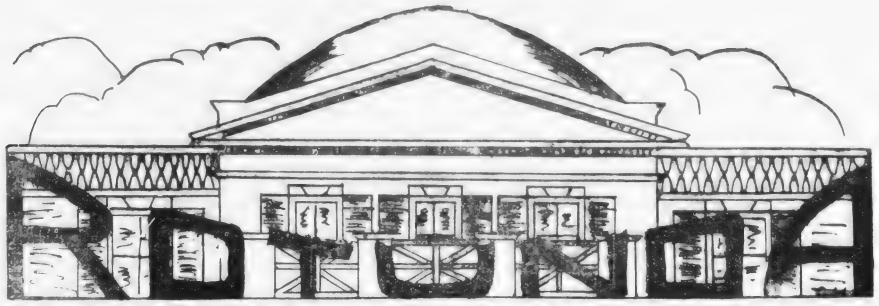
The University of Tucuman, of Buenos Aires, has sent an expedition to the remote western regions of the bleak Bolivian plateau to study the customs and dangauges of the last remaining remnants of the Uro-Chipaya Indians.

Southside DrugStore
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh Films)
Let Us Develop
YOUR FILMS
ONE DAY SERVICE
Complete Line GREETING CARDS
Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking
Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.
MRS. SCHWARTZ
306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN
Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments
GO TO
Lynn's Jewelry Store
MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
Farmville, Virginia



Shannon's
is Headquarters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store
Farmville, Va.
"Drugs and Drinks"
DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO
EAT AND DRINK

Electric Shoe Shop
WILL FIX YOUR SHOES
WHILE YOU WAIT
BEST WORKMANSHIP
AND LEATHER USED

THINK—
AND THEN VOTE

VOTE
FOR THE
MAJOR OFFICERS

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25, 1931 No. 23

College Orchestra Begins Series Of Performances Over County

Varied Program Will Be Given by Vocal Quartettes and Solos

MISS PURDOM IS DIRECTOR

The College Orchestra, directed by Miss Purdom, is beginning a series of perfomances which will be given at Green Bay, Darlington Heights, John Randolph, Curdsville, Appomattox, and Prospect.

The following program will be given:

Cassock Revels ..... Tschakoff
Feast of the Lanterns ..... Bennett
Hungarian Dance No. 5 ..... Brahms
La Cinquitaine ..... Gabriel Marie
Valse Bluette ..... Drigo
Air Louis XIII ..... Ghys
Flower Song ..... Lange

The Orchestra

The Guitarre ..... Hammond
Sunset Hour ..... Abt
Comin' Thru the Rye .... Arr-Fearis
Sunset Land ..... Thomas

Vocal Quartette

Prelude in C Minor .... Rachmaninoff
Romance ..... Rubinstein

Miss Josephine Smith

March Militaire ..... Schubert
Minuet ..... Haydn
Tukish March ..... Beethoven
Shepherds Dance ..... German

String Quartette

The Sandman ..... Brahms
The Rose Enslaves the Nightingale ..... Korsakoff
Villanelle ..... Dell 'Acqua

Miss Florence Cralle

The Red Sarafen ..... Steckmest
Serenade Russe ..... Popp

James Grainger, Jr.

Mosquitos Parade ..... Whitney
The Golden Scepter .... Schlepegrell

The Orchestra

Personnel

First Violin: Mildred Steere, Gwendolyn aniel, Mrs. C. R. Smith, Jane Royall, Alice Lee Schenk, Milded Lanacster, Marguerite Bunch.

Second Violin: Catherine Clevinger, Florence Cralle, Nelle Davis, William Putney, Taylor Williams.

Pianists: Dorothy Ford, Josephine Smith.

Flute: James Grainger, Jr., Alice Grainger, Asa Watkins, Jr.

Cello: Virginia Williams, Bolling J. Reynolds.

Xylophone: Hanna Crawley.

String Bass: Mary L. Gregory.

Drums: Julia Allred.

Director: Miss Lisabeth Purdom.

Beta Pi Theta To Present Awards

On April the first, the contest put on by Beta Pi Theta for the Freshmen and Sophomores taking French will close. An award will be given to the Freshman writing the best description in French, and other to the Sophomore writing the best French essay. If your paper is still "in the rough" or isn't quite finished, take some time off to work it up, and hand it in! You'll be the envy of your classmates if you get one of these awards, and have something you'll always love, enjoy and be proud of.

"THE YELLOW JACKET" TO BE GIVEN HERE

The Dramatic Club is presenting this season the most difficult play it has attempted for many years. "The Yellow Jacket" with its cast of twenty-six persons, all its brilliant and spectacular effects in scenery, costuming, lighting, and music, is to say the least, a huge undertaking for amateurs.

The play was presented here six years ago when Miss Wheeler first took over dramatics. More requests for a "return engagement" have been made for it than any other play ever given here.

It is the custom of the Dramatic Club to present in the spring a play of a higher type, one reeally more difficult than the fall play. Presented with the aid of the Hampden-Sydney Dramatic Club, the fall plays are of the type usually given in colleges; a light sort likely to be comedy. However, in the spring, they have always attempted something better. Two years ago it was "The Return of Peter Grim." Last year it was to have the "The King's Henchman", but had to be called off. This year the Dramatic Club is going even more highbrow" in sponsoring "The Yellow Jacket."

Mr. and Mrs. Coburn, actors of national renown, playing in "The Yellow Jacket", had a run of a year in New York City, so popular was the play. An old Farmville student who had seen the S. T. C. Dramatic Club give "The Yellow Jacket" saw the Coburns play it. She wrote back that the amateur production of it, coached by Miss Wheeler, was even better than that of the professional Coburns.

Farmville will have the opportunity and pleasure of seeing it April 10. All that needs to be said is that one can miss the fall play, but one never misses the Dramatic Club spring play.

DISPUTE OVER THE RELATIVE VALUE OF BAGPIPES

Friends of the bagpipe in Scotland and Ireland have risen in wrath over the threatened movement to abolish the instrument on the ground that listening to it causes deafness. Musicians have joined the attacks, saying that pipe music is primitive and barbarous. Scotch and Irish defenders deny all this, and add that bagpipe music makes fine marching and battle music, and certainly strikes terror into the heart of an enemy.—The Virginian Pilot.

LITERARY SOCIETY HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The Cunningham Literary Society held its regular meeting Monday night in the little auditorium. After a short business meeting a program based on the study of the short story was enjoyed. There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

An agreement has been made to resume dual athlete competition between Harvard and Princeton in all sports but football.

NOMINATIONS FOR MAJOR OFFICES HELD

Very eagerly does the student body await the result of the major the six major offices are as fol- office elections. Nominations for lows:

President Student Government Association: Henrietta Cornwell, Grace Virginia Woodhouse.

President Y. W. C. A.: Armistead ane Scott, Frances Crawford.

President Athletic Association: Frances Edwards, Easter Souders.

Editor Rotunda: Louise Elliott, Martha Moore.

Editor Voice: Nannie Mears, Ruth Floyd.

Editor Virginian: Charlotte Hutchins, Mary Thomas Rawls.

Voting on the nominees for these officers will take place on Thursday, March 26.

Pi Kappa Delta Convention to be Held Mar. 27-28

The Virginia Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta will be hostess March 27 and 28 to all the chapters in the South Atlantic Province which includes the Mississippi Alpha, North Carolina Alpha, North Carolina Beta, South Carolina Alpha, Sotuh Carolina Beta, South Carolina Gamma, and West Virginia Alpha.

The tentative program is as follows:

Friday, March 27—2 p. m. business meeting; 4 p. m. semi-finals (unless settled sooner); 8 p. m. oratorical contest. Reception by Virginia Alpha.

Saturday, March 28—11 a. m. Business; 2 p. m., drawing for subjects and places in extempore speaking; 4 p. m. extempore speaking; 8 p. m. finals in debate. Banquet at "Longwood."

Sodalitas Latina Holds Meeting

Sodalitas Latina held its regular meeting Friday evening, March 20, at 7 o'clock in room O.

After the business of the club a program consisting of two articles on the poet Vergil were read by Pauline Gibb and Martha Earp.

"Tributum" the Latin Club magazine wishes to acknowledge a most interesting exchange—the February issue of "Forum Latinum", the magazine of the Boys High School of Brooklyn, New York. This is the second copy which has been received by the staff.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS ELECTS NEW TREAS.

Le Cercle Francais held its regular meeting in Room O., March 19 at 8 o'clock, at which time Mildred Steere was elected treasurer to fill the unexpired term of Dot Snedegar. After the business, the members enjoyed playing games and singing a French song. Tea, sandwiches, and mints were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Student Body Adopts Revised Constitution By Unanimous Vote

Important Change Is Made Concerning Offices of the House Council

SUGGESTIONS GIVEN COUNCIL

At a called meeting of the Student Body on Monday, March 16, the following revisions to the constitution were adopted:

Article I—Same
Article II. Same.
Article IV.—Same.
Article V.—Officers.

Section 1.—The officers of this organization shall consist of a Student Council, in which the executive and judicial powers of the association shall be vested.

The Student Council shall consist of a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, campus league chairman, and two representatives from the Senior, Junior, Sophomore and Freshman classes, each. The president of the Y. W. C. A., Athletic Association and House Council shall be ex-officio members of the Council.

Sec. 2. (a) same.

(b) (the election shall be held not later than the first week in April).

(c) same.

(d) same.

(e) (Any girl nominated for one minor office shall not be eligible for nomination to another one in a major organization.

(f) same.

(g) same.

(h) same.

Section 4. Duties of Officers.

(a) same.

(b) Omit the sentence providing for ex-officio membership on House Council by vice-president.

(c) same.

(d) same

(e) same.

Section 5. Same.

Section 6. Same.

Article VI.—The House Council

Section 1. The House Council shall consist of the president, vice-president (elected from the H. C.), secretary and a president elected from each hall. Hall presidents shall be elected not later than one week after minor elections in the spring.

Section 2. The president and secretary of the Hounse Council shall be nominated and elected by the Student Body at the election of the minor officers in the spring.

Section 3. Duties of Officers.

Continued on last page.

RETURN OF DEBORAH IS REPEATED

"The Return of Deborah," Senior Class play of the College, High School. was given for a second time Friday, March 20. The play itself is one of amusing situations and interesting lines, a comedy with a veil of wierdness hiding the comical side from the players. As the title suggests. the ghostly atmosphere was created by the supposed return of Aunt Deborah, which could not have been possible even on the stage without a background of narrow-mindedness and superstition found in the old-fashioned New England home of two spinsters.

Added to the delightful lines and catchy plot were characters who felt their parts and put them across the footlights. These were:

Miss Julia Tompkins, Lucile Hamilton.
Miss Sara Tompkins, Anne Putney.
Margaret, their niece, Martha Putney.
Delia, family servant, Virginia Young.
Blossom, Margaret's friend from boarding school.
Aunt Deborah, Margaret Barker.

The proceeds of the play will go to help finance the college high annual, and from all reports it will be an excellent one.

The Y. W. C. A. held its regular monthly open meting Saturday at 2 o'clock. Devotionals were led by Margaret Priest. Reports were given by the heads of each committee. The reports were discussed, and suggestions were made. No further business was brought up so the meeting adjourned with the repeating of the motto.

QUESTION AS TO TYPE OF PROFESSORS GIVE THE LOWEST GRADES

According to President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern Univeristy, the lowest grades in college and university courses are given by the poorest professors—poorest both in financial matters and teaching ability. These men are the one who are not re-appointed to office. President Scott found, in studying the matter that this group of professors gave seven times as many low marks as the group recognized by the university authorities as the best.

—Northwestern University

S. T. C. DEBATERS WIN DECISION AGAIN

The S. T. C. debaters, Margaret Hix and Carrie DeShazo, won the judge's decision at Harrisonburg Monday evening, March 23, when they debated the negative side of the question—Resolved: "That all nations should adopt a policy of free trade."

The faculty at the Univeristy of Rochester has decided that students get more benefit from sleeping in their own rooms instead of classrooms and so have abolished eight o'clock classes.—RingTum Phi.

Illeronians Play For Student Body

The Sophomore Orchestra, the Illeronians, on Friday night entertained the student body at dancing in the recreation hall from 6:45 to 7:30. A large part of the students come down and a general good time was enjoyed.

Deep gratitude was expressed to the personnel of the orchestra by some of the authorities interested in the girls' welfare. It is felt that this playing by the orchestra met a need experienced by the students for some varied wholesome recreation. It is hoped that more such generous impulses will in the future present themselves in various organizations in behalf of the student body's welfare.

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

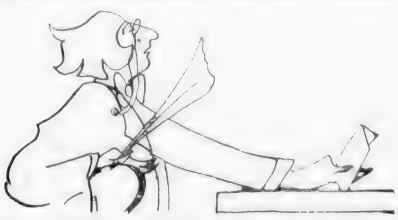
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31 — HAZEL HALLOWAY, '32



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

On Elections

Someone has said that there are people who have the ability to be elected and there are others who have the ability to hold the office. That statement is true in that so much ability is kept under cover because the eyes of the student body are not keen enough to discover the girls who possess the qualifiications. Thre are too many capable girls ready to fill offices, to elect someone whom the student body knows only as a "good girl" or a "fine sport".

Of course a girl must be a good sport to hold an office, but not only that; she must have the ability to meet crises, to work over-time, to be able to do rather than just to tell someone else how to do, and lastly she must be most absolutely and thoroughly dependable. Dependable—day in, and day out—week in and week out—month in and month out—. When you put a girl in office you are not putting her in just for a trial, you are putting her in to set standards for the student body, to represent you as a group through her and to accomplish a task which takes work, criticism, and trials. When you put in a girl be sure that she will meet those trials not in a manner—just to get by some way—but that she will meet them face to face, will work hard over them, and be fairly confident that she will overcome them in the end.

And again if a girl holds an office in one organization satisfactorily she will not have the time to put her best work on another office. She might slacken up on the work in one for the other. Then why put so much work on one girl when there are so many girls who are not recognized in our student body? We want our student organizations to be democratic, and you are the ones who can make it so.

Think before you vote and be sure that the right girl is going to fill the office.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Milk and cheese toast, please Mrs. Tabb. Yes, I am a bit worn out after all the parties, dance and what not. But I guess I'll live.

Did you hear the music Saturday night? Oh, it was good. Best we've had for ages. You could actually hear it, and Jelly was so nice, too. He said he enjoyed playing for us. I wonder.

Weren't there lots of old girls back? I never saw so many. I think there were at least a hundred. I think it's lovely they still come—guess I'll be coming back myself someday.

Cov looked so lovely in the figure with Jimmie. The figure was rather pretty and did very well—too.

Did you see Nan Griffith with her bobbed hair? I can't get over it. It's very becoming however—and Jinx Grimes with her long hair. Wonders will never cease.

Mary Priest looked so sweet. She's a girl in a hundred, I think. She should honor us with her presence more.

Did you see Lawrence Tibbett in "The Southerner"? His voice is wonderful—but I would like to change his face. He looks—oh—sissy. We all can't be pleased, however.

This food tastes good, Mrs. Tabb. What are you having for dinner? Grand. I'll see you later.

Oh, Have you any stamps?

ALUMNAE NEWS

Dr. Ruth Mason of Petersburg, president of the Southside Medical Association, presided at the quarterly meeting recently held in that city. About seventy physicians from the fourteen counties and four cities were in attendance.

Miss Ruth Jamison, State home demonstration agent of August county, spoke on "The Economic Relation of the Extension Worker" at the convention of the State Home Economics Association held in Richmond last week.

In an article entitled "Teaching Health Habits in Primary Grades" in the March number of the Virginia Journal of Education, Miss Frances Currie tells how she impressed health rules upon the children in her school by means of jingles, booklets, posters, songs and score cards.

The bulletin of Publications and Research published by the University of Virginia shows the interest of some of our alumnae in higher education. Mrs. Susie Chilton Palmer and Mrs. Elise Anderson Rodgers have submitted theses for the degree of Master of Science. The first is entitled "The Development of Virginia Highways," the second is "The Foundation and Early History of the Medical School of University of Virginia (to 1840)." Miss Jane Chapman Slaughter, in applying for the degree of Master of Arts, has chosen for her thesis "Seventeenth century Virginia as Seen by a Freshman."

Miss Cornelia Hanger of Amherst and Everett Hunt Irby of Blackstone were married at noon on Saturday, March 15, in the Methodist church at Amherst. After April, Mr. and Mrs. Irby will be at home in Farmville.

The Association of Alumnae wishes to thank most sincerely those students whose cheerful and efficient help made possible the mailing of four thousand Rotundas in less than three days.

OLD PUBLICATION

Beloit College, Beloit, Wis., boasts the second oldest college publication in the United States, "The Round Table."

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

Some people can both tell people how to do things and also do them themselves. Dot Leonard can tell them how.

It seems that some people in this school don't seem to realize that other people in this school like to sleep awhile on Sunday!

Some people are poor sports most of the time. Most people are poor sports some time. But where do we class the Cotillion goats that so demolished Louise Munt's and Catherine Marchant's room during initiation Monday night?

Elections are this week—let's hope that the best girl will really win!

Annex has an orchestra all its own—there is someone who can imitate any thing from a saxaphone to a "kazoot"—starts at dawn and ends at midnight. Sometimes you know even orchestras get on your nerves.

Our friend Will Rogers says he likes talkative women better than the other kind. What other kind?

If you're caught in hot water, be nonchalant, take a bath.

Before a man marries he yearns for a woman. After marriage the "y" is silent.

It may be true that a man is more courageous than a woman, but he doesn't get half as much chance to show his back-bone.

Three Little Words—"Bend Over Goat."

"Pardon me, sir," said the absent-minded professor, looking into the mirror, "but haven't I seen you somewhere before?"

THREE YEARS AGO TODAY

The freshmen entertained their big sisters, the juniors, at a live'y kid party in the recreation hall. Music was furnished by Elizabeth Munt's freshman orchestra, "The Rough Riders."

The faculty and student body were looking forward to Miss Rose Johnson Willis' reading of "Cyrano de Bererac," Rostand's masterpiece.

A popularity contest was in full swing, the girls voting for the most popular student and the most popular faculty member.

The faculty has just decided to use a Dean's List at S. T. C. Seniors making A or B on each subject taken one quarter were to receive Dean's List privileges during the following quarter.

A FOLLOWER

Joan of Arc, the leader of leaders, a faithful folower! How much depends upon the "follower" of a leader. No leader can do her best for her Alma Mater unless she has the faith, the loyalty, and the cooperation of her leader followers. Joan of Arc, whose mind, heart, and spirit were suffused with a great purpose, whose unselfiish service, quiet influence, vision, and whose devotion to Jesus Christ, the Leader of all leaders—Joan of Arc sits in our halls today and calls us to seek the true characteristics of a leader in ours today, but she also reminds us to be good followers—ones to serve unselfishly, ones to love with a love that "passeth all understanding"—not for selfish motives, but for our Alma Mater!

TO—

Away in the mist of the night
Near the call of the sea
There are two whom I long for—
There are two who wish for me.

Under the watch of the stars
In the clear light of the moon
There are two who dream of me:
They dream I am coming soon

And till the sea-call dies in the wind
Till the stars are faded and cold
Till the moon has lost her light
There's a love that will never grow old.

M. von S., '32

YOUR MOODS

Dear Girl, what storm comes
To ruffle the smooth ivory
Of your tall brow?
What wind blows to rouse
The placid waters of your eyes,
And what thunder peals
Within the soft pink shells
Which harbor all your echoes?
How wildly dash the waves
Which wash the corners
Of those petal lips
Done like frail sand dunes?

V. L., '32

THE SEA

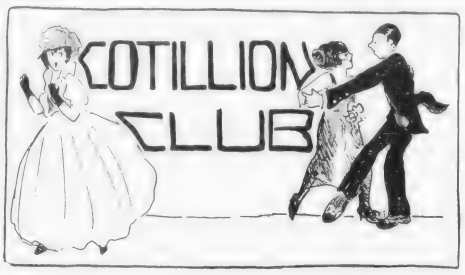
Storm!
Furiously lashing the sea,
Which, like a rebellious beast,
Roaring and spewing forth torrents of foam—
Writhing under the cold violence—
Each lash bringing forth white spurts
From every crest—its very blood.
Unbeaten! Unsubmissive!

Calm!
Serenely smiling under the sun—
Rocking tranquilly back and forth—
Crooning a soft lullaby—
Gently playing with dainty shells
Tossing them on the warm, white sand—
A mother singing to her children—
The Sea!

A. S., '33

TRUE LIVING

It's doing your work the best that you can,
And being just to your fellowman.
It's striving hard with a will to win,
And taking loss with a cheerful grin.
It's making money but keeping friends,
And staying true to your aims and ends.
It's figuring how and learning why,
And looking forward and thinking high.
It's sharing sorrow and work and mirth,
And making better this good old earth.



M. M.

COTILLION

Last strains of music were gone,
And halls were still—
Silent, as voices trailing into dawn
Left a faint melodic sound to fill
The void.

Figures in colorful array
Against the black and white
All blended in my memory and faded away
Into the darkness of retreating night
Taking you.

I watched it, as a lovely dream,
Snatched before it is complete;
Vaguely it seems
It is crushed beneath moving feet,
And I laugh.
I knew you came just to—dance.

COTILLION CLUB GAVE ANNUAL SPRING DANCE

The Cotillion Club gave a formal dance last Saturday in the College recreation hall. The figure was led by Alice Covington, leader of Cotillion Club and Mr. James Ayers, Jr., of Petersburg, Va.

The decorations were carried out in a Easter color scheme of yellow, lavendar and purple.

Jelly Leftwich's orchestra from Duke University furnished the music for the evening.

The following couples danced:
Alice Covington—James Ayers, Jr.
Loulie Millner, Alex Mosby, Jr.
Ann Guy—Scottie Hill
Charlotte Hutchins—Joe Lacy
Jane Royall—Al Gillespie
Vernie Oden—Frank Temple
Louise Munt—Don Cooke
Ruth Ford—Jessie Davidson
Katherine Royster—Clinton Walker
Pattie Ellison—John R. Saunders
Doris Walton—Leonard Fitzgerald
A. J. Scott—Bill Tuckwiller
Mary C. Burwell—Bankhead Warren
Ruth Floyd—"Lefty" Williams
Verena Greaves—Billy Powell
Evelyn Stevenson—Edward Hughes
Medora Ford—Mr. Watkins
Alice Hardaway—Lyle Rippard
Nancy Boykin—Clarence Boykin
Jessie Smith—John Hunt
Katherine Cogbill—"Tubbie" Grow
Ida Trolan—"Skinny" Allen
Martha A. Laing—Tony de Muth
Retta Hardy—Ralph Slagle
Mary Trimyer—Duval Royster
Courtney Neale—Frederick Barchages
Sara Wills—Jim Shakey
Dot Dudley—Elich Earle
Mary E. Mayo—John Marchant
Mildred Mountcastle—Joe Kelly
Josie Spencer—Jimmy Mayfield
Nancy Putney—"Smokie" Baker
Martha Faris—Scott McGregor
Ann Minter—Frank Pauley
Martha Moore—Buzzey Hill
Rena Robertson—J. M. Robertson
Jacque Lee—Joe Magee
Lindsey White—Ed Paulette
Margaret Priest—Billy Wilkinson
Mary Brightwell—Freddie Bolton
Jane Beale—Eugene Hughes
Polly White—Bernard Teel
Margaret Faris—Warren Cloud
Virginia Witt—"Ber" Hume
Jane Brown—George Lee
Hanna Crawley—A. B. Eurquart
Gwendolyn Daniel—J. R. Frost
Frances Parker—Joe Braford
Happy Hughes—Richard Hoggins
Virginia Sanford—Mr. MacCrowe
Martha Sanders—Charles Robertson
Tiny Meyers—James McHenry
Dolly Reid—Sam McClure
Gazelle Ware—"Rudy" Young
Virginia Lowe—Hardie Bowen
Rubie Hunt—Ed Santrock
Frances Ratcliffe—Joel Layton
Ruth Hunt—Horace Goodman
Frances Coleman—Bob McDermit
Henrietta Cornwell—Bryant Harper
Elizabeth Antrim—O'Ferrel Thompson
Jenilee Knight—Joe Perry
Mary L. Randall—Fred Randall
Evelyn Jones—Carter Franklin
Mary Clair Booth—Sidney Lloyd
Martha Walters—Billy Shannon
Janet Harris—Wilmer Jenkins
Elsie Burgess—Bill Sloan
Dot Goodloe—Henry E. Coleman
Helen Showen—Wade Trayham.

A "Co-ed's Diary" which appeared in the last issue of the Chicago Phoenix, University of Chicago humor magazine, so infuriated the co-eds that they have refused to subscribe to the magazine.

MANY ALUMNAE RETURN FOR DANCE SATURDAY

The following alumnae returned to the Spring Cotillion dance which was held here Saturday evening:

Charlene Williams ,Elizabeth Revercomb, Genevieve Grimes, Elizabeth Lacy, Mary Priest, Anna Burgess, Kathleen Giles, Mildred Jackson, Lucille Field, Virginia Perkins, Elizabeth Williams, Evelyn Peake Lunsford, Dorothy Thompson, Areanna Green, Eleanor Hogan, Elizabeth Farrell, Lillian Hogan, Frances Boothe, Elizabeth Munt, Dorothy Anderson, Mrs. D. M. Borum (Elizabeth Houchins), Blackwell Parker, Leola Carter, Martha Wells, Dorothy Palmer, Mary Bernard, Helen Robertson, Mildred Field Elmore, Minnie Brown, Lula Turner, Mary Oliver Ellington, Sarah Chaney, Conelia McIntyre, Frances Hutchins, Mary Farrier, Marion Seay, Hazel Burgess, Louise Ellis, Nan Griffith, Mrs. Walter Putney, Margaret Pumphrey, Louise Arthur, Edith Britt, Lucille Norman, Elizabeth Smitherman, Helen Jones, Virginia Walker, Evelyn Holland, Elizabeth Watkins, Claudia Fleming, Alice Wimbish, Mayo Beaty, Margaret Loving, Janet Morris, Elizabeth Ball, Mrs. Louise Everett Booker, Peggy Barham, Mrs. Virginia Hall Kent, Frances Jones, Mary Wilson Pugh, Carroll Cromwell, Polly Riddle, Franklin Robert, Dolly Latane, Mrs. Pat Cowherd Atkins, Katherine Thompson, Alice Moore Armstrong, Mrs. Frances Warren Thwing, Mrs. Louise Parsons Kain, Mrs. Katherine Montague Cooper, Mrs. Isabel Payne Eugle, Martha MacKenzie, Lula Mitchell Elaine Goode, Mrs. Ellen Robeson Davidson, Louise Torrence, Mary Tucker, Carolyn Maddux, Elizabeth Etheridge, Blanche Murrell, Mary Taliaferro, Virginia Goode, Elizabeth Scott, Elizabeth Turner, Anne Deffenbaugh, Jackie Woodson, Florence Booten, Martha Bass, Marguerite Foster, Martha Jones.

SOCIALS

Kathryn Waters was the guest of Frances Phillips of Sweet Briar College this week-end.

Elizabeth Temple was shopping in Roankoe this week-end.

Emily Simpson was at her home in New Castle this week-end.

Mary Ellen Johnson spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

Ann Davis was in Richmond Friday.

Evelyn Simpson and Florence Gregory attended the Home Economics Conference in Richmond this week-end with Miss Jeter and Miss Tupper.

Mildred Maddrey spent the week-end in Norfolk.

Catherine McAllister was shopping in Richmond this week-end.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

RENA ROBERTSON

Livy says, that the first degree of merit in a man who commands, is to be able of himself to act what is proper; that the second is at least to know when to follow good counsel—so it is with Rena.

May we not say that one of the first degrees of merit in the one who leads the Y. W. C. A. of our Alma Mater is that she strives for those ideals of body, mind and spirit which give the most abundant life, and in so doing leads others.

Rena must be very happy, because true happiness comes of keeping busy at something worthwhile and certainly Rena lets little time slip away unobserved.

Always busy, always happy, but ever serving her Alma Mater, Rena lives for the highest. We will miss you, Rena, because we love you. Let us wish you happiness and success in every thing you do.

LAURA NORTHERN SMITH

Ray, ray, rah, rah!
Laura Smith, Laura Smith!

Hundreds of times we have heard this echoing through the halls and have turned to see one of the most outstanding girls in school.

Laura, this year, has held the presidency of the Athletic Association, and guided the teams to many victories. Last year she was the beloved president of the Junior Class, and was also voted the most athletic girl in school.

She has been a member of the varsity basketball team for four years and this year has been captain of the team.

Always ready and eager to play, she has gained for herself the name of one of the best sports in school..

Continued on last page

Kerami Coats Reduced to $5.85
Lovely Spring Coats priced $9.95 to $19.50
New snow flecked suits $5.95 and $9.95
lapin trimmed
$1.50 full fashion hose, special 98c

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Electric Shoe Shop
WILL FIX YOUR SHOES
WHILE YOU WAIT
BEST WORKMANSHIP
AND LEATHER USED
FROM THE BOTTOM
OF OUR HEART
We would like to have your orders
—for—
DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS
Canada Drug Co.
Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

C. E. CHAPPELL COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, cigarettes and soda
Main Street
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

STRAYER COLLEGE
721 Thirteenth St., Washington, D. C.
The demand for commercial teachers continues to exceed the supply. This new field offers opportunities unexcelled elsewhere in the teaching profession.
Executive Secretarial Courses qualify normal graduates for select positions as commercial teachers.
Two Hundred Fifteen Colleges and Universities Represented by Annual Enrollment of 1600 Students.
Address Registrar for Catalog
A COLLEGIATE INSTITUTION For BUSINESS TRAINING

Davidson's
HOUSE OF QUALITY
FARMVILLE. VIRGINIA
WHERE QUALITY MEETS PRICE
Farmville's
Best Department Store

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT
On Saturday, March 28th
THE
NEW YORK DRESS STORE
Will be open for business with a very beautiful line of Easter Dresses for Misses and Women
Specializing in Two Prices Only
$4.88 AND $7.88 ONLY
These lovely frocks will be on display by
LIVING MODELS
In an interesting fashion show Friday afternoon, March 27 from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. and Friday night, from 8:30 to 9:30 p. m.
We cordially invite you to attend the showing of these frocks.
Store located on Main street next door to the Southside Drug Store.

"Where'd you get that black-eye?"

"I kissed the bride."

"But I thought that was the custom!"

"Not two months after the ceremony, it isn't."

Alice: "Happ, call me a taxi."

"Happy": "All right, you're a taxi."

Helen: "How'd you get your hands so dirty?"

Virginia: "I was looking for Exchange jokes."

Munt: "Love-making is the same as it always was."

Walters: "How can you tell?"

Munt: "I've just read of a Greek maiden who sat and listened to a lyre all night."

Ruth rode in my new car,
On the seat in back of me;
I took a bump at fifty-five,
And rode on Ruthlessly.

Mr. Coyner (to "Red" Wills): "Have you read the lesson for today?"

"Red": "No."

Mr. Coyner: "Haven't you read the outside reading either?"

"Red": "No."

Mr. Coyner: "Well, what have you read?"

"Red" "I have red hair."

"City": "It takes brains to get anywhere today."

"Budsie": "Yep, that's why so many people use other means of transportation."

"Help! I can't swim! Drop me a line!"

"All right, and you write me sometime, too."

Jane Beale: "Waiter, please hand me the William of the Exposition."

Waiter: "I don't understand, madam."

Jane: "Some call it the bill of fare, but I never use slang."

Pretty Co-ed "Do you love me enough to give me your name?"

Dumb: "Sure, Willie Jones."

"I wouldn't kiss a man unless I were engaged."

"I saw you kiss Tim last night."

"Well—I'm engaged to Bob."

Senior: "What makes you scratch your head?"

Freshman: "I'm the only one who knows that it itches."

First Boy (proudly): "See that picture? It's hand-painted."

Second Boy: "Well, what about it? So's our chicken-house."

Clerk: "This physics book will do half your work for you."

Doris Walton: "Great! I'll take two, please."

"What have you there?"

"Some insect powder."

"Good heavens! You aren't going to commit suicide?"

Mr. Penny (to servant): "Please announce Mr. and Mrs. Penny and daughter."

New Servant (in loud voice): "Three cents."

Lecturer: "I'm going to let this hat represent Mars."

Voice from rear: "Is Mars inhabited?"

STUDENT BODY ADOPTS REVISED CONSTITUTION

(Continued from Page 1)

(a) It shall be the duty of the president of the House Council to call and preside at all meetings of the House Counci and to perform all other duties pertaining to House In case of her absence the vice-president shall preside.

(b) It shall be the duty of the secretary to record all meetings of the House Council and keep a permanent record of the same, and all warnings and punishments.

(c) The duties of the House Council shall be:

1. That of promoting quiet during study hour.

2. That of promoting quiet after 10:30 p. m.

3. That of turning out lights on the hall at 11 p. m.

4. That of checking all permissions.

5. That of attending the meeting of the House Council, which shall be held each week.

6. That of cooperating with other organizations on campus by doing all in her power by conscientious example and effort, to support all general regulations, to promote and maintain a high sense of honor and citizenship responsibility on campus.

Section 4. Any officers deemed inefficient in the performance of her duties shall be asked to resign by a 2-3 vote of the House Council.

The student body, fully realizing that the House Council is a young organization, so to speak, will be called upon to suport it to the highest degree and to elect responsible and capable girls to office.

Some few changes have been suggested in the Council itself, such as:

1. Sending notes to registrar's office when warnings and punishments are recorded.

2. To maintain a regular budget system in cooperation with the student council.

3. To keep a more permanent record of meetings.

4. To have a big party on each hall in the fall and smaller ones throughout the year.

5. To met once every two or three months with the Student Council and Y. W. C. A. cabinet to discuss mutual problems and situations in order to work out the solutions best suited to the student body.

COME OUT FOR VOLLEY BALL PRACTICE

If you have been near the gym from 4 to 5 during the past week you've pobably heard shrieks and laughter. If you want to find out what the fun is, come down and practice volley ball. Don't forget the excitement and thrills of the basketball games—Volley ball games will prove just as exciting; and so—come out and support your colors!

The old adage "practice makes perfect' is just as true in volley ball as in any of the other sports. Constant practice is necessary. Come out, Freshmen, and live up to your past record! Sophomores, come out and give the Freshmen something to work for.

ALUMNAE TEAM

Team of former students which was defeated by S. T. C. Pick-ups Founders Day.

CHAMPIONSHIP BASKETBALL TEAM

Sophomores Defeat Juniors

ALMA FOSTER TO HEAD VOLLEY BALL TEAM

With Alma as manager of volley ball we can see a good season coming ahead. She has shown herself interested in all the sports we have had this year and we feel sure that volley ball will go over with a "bang". Everyone come out and enjoy the fun and recreation of the enjoyable sport.

At the Eaco Theatre Week Mar. 30-Apr. 4

MON. and TUES.—"Stolen Heaven," with Nancy Carroll, supported by Phillips Holmes. Here is the same combination that made such a hit in "Devil's Holiday." Phillips Holmes is the coming juvenile of the screen. In this picture Nancy and Phillips are lovers you can't help loving. They vowed to die—yet they fought to live. Here is the strange story of a boy and girl, clinging to the last straw of existence, who meet and plan a unique pact—a whirlwind short life of pleasure, and then oblivion. But a peculiar twist of events changes the fate thay had chosen. Packed with emotion, suspense, dramatic thrills, from first to last climax. A surprise finish. Also Humanette comedy and "Song Writers' Revue." A splendid show.

WEDNESDAY—"Finn and Hattie" with Leon Erroll, Zazu Pitts and Mitzi Green. Here they are, folks—the happy and humorous Haddocks, regaling you with their riot of roars, their never-ending nonsense. A pair of bluejays from the Iowa corn belt piping hot for Paris. You'll be in spasms of mirth over this famous Donald Ogden Stewart story. If you are looking for good, clean fun, come and bring the cridren to see "Finn and Hattie." Zazu Pitts and little Mitzi Green will make your sides ache. Also "Toby the Pup in a Museum."

Rin-Tin-Tin, the wonder dog, in Chapter 6 of "The Lone Defender." All who love dogs, and who doesn't? should see this serial every week. It is clean, thrilling and entertaining.

THURS. and FRI.—Charles Farrell and Elissa Landi in "Body and Soul." This girl is the overnight sensation of the screen and critics are raving about her. Elinor Glyn and Harrison Fisher praies her and George Gershwin says: "She is a symphony of emotion. There is music in her every expression." And what story for her and Charles Farrell! His lips were still burning from her ardent kisses, his heart throbbing from her warm embrace. A woman aflame from the secrets of love, and a man who was still a wide-eyed boy. A good deed forced him into the arms of the wrong woman. Her ravishing beauty enticed him to loiter. Then love bade him remain. He was her dream—she was his awakening. Two great stars in a picture you will have over ad long remember. See it and thrill. Also Louise Fazenda in "Too Hot to Handle."

SATURDAY—"It Pays to Advertise," with Norman Foster, Carole Lombard and Skeets Galleher. We are telling Farmville that here's the laughin'est, fastest farce that ever panicked the public. She paid $10,000 to find out if her boy friend was as good at business as he was at love. And she found out plenty. It's all about two young Romeos who go into the soap business and soft-soap their way to success amid lathers of laughter. If your girl says she loves for you to take her to the talkies, bring her to the Eaco Saturday—and learn things.

OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

Continued from page one

Many girls next year will miss her ready smile and helping hand and so we'll give her another cheer as she leaves the halls of her Alma Mater.

SOPHS OVERWHELM JUNIORS FOR CLASS TITLE

In one of the most humorous games ever seen on the S. T. C. court, the Sophomores turned back the Juniors by the score of 28 to 18 thus annexing the class basketball title.

Through the hard playing of both centers and guards the ball was carried to the Junior forwards a number of times. Fast plays, sending the ball from one end of the court to the other were stopped by fouls. Both teams had an equal chance at free shots, many fouls being made.

Players on each side were put out of the game but had to continue playing because of the lack of substitutes. The Juniors shifted their line-up a number of times, trying to break up the Sophomores.

Both teams played a hard fought game but the Sophomores showed a superior skill throughout the game.

Sophomores		Juniors
Ridgeway	G	Souders
Gunter	G	Hundley
Gregory (c)	J. C.	Edwards
Crute	S. C.	Quisenberry
Snedegar	F	Clingenpeel (c)
Ritchie	F	Clayton

Substitutes: Massey for Ridgeway; Ridgeway for Crute.

Southside DrugStore

Direct Eastman Kodak Agency

(Fresh Films)

Let Us Develop

YOUR FILMS

ONE DAY SERVICE

Complete Line GREETING CARDS

Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking

Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.

MRS. SCHWARTZ

306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN

Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments

GO TO

Lynn's Jewelry Store

MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store

QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE

Come in and Get Acquainted

We're Glad to Have You With Us

Farmville, Virginia

Shannon's

is Headquarters for the Best

SANDWICHES

—and—

DRINKS

—in—

FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store

Farmville, Va.

"Drugs and Drinks"

DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.

The Convenient Store

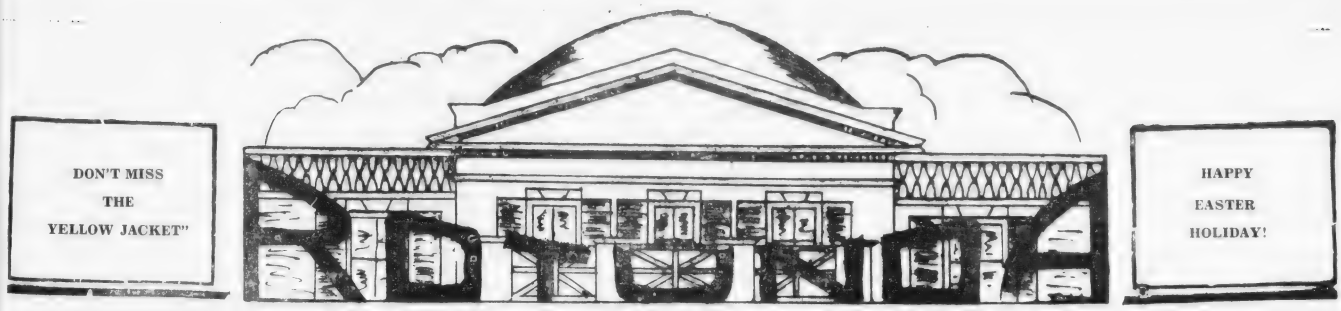
FOR GOOD

THINGS TO

EAT AND DRINK

WE INVITE

CHARGE ACCOUNTS



of the

STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS

NEW YORK DRESS STORE

MAIN STREET

Next to Southside Drug Co.

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 1, 1931 No. 24

PI KAPPA DELTA CONVENTION HERE; S. T. C. WINS CHAMPIONSHIP IN PROVINCE

Woodhouse, Scott, Edwards, Hutchins, Elliott, and Floyd Are Officers

Elections For Major Officers of 1931-1932 Are Held Thursday, March 26th

BEGIN DUTIES FIRST OF MAY

The elections for major officers of 1931-32 were held last Thursday, March 26, and the outcomes are as follows:

President Student Government ..... Grace Virginia Woodhouse
Pres. Y. W. C. A. ..... A. J. Scott
Pres. A. A. ..... Frances Edwards
Editor Virginian, Charlotte Hutchins
Editor Rotunda ..... Louise Elliott
Editor The Voice ..... Ruth Floyd

Grace Virginia Woodhouse is very capable of holding the position as head of Student Council. She has been on the council for two years and she has a thorough knowledge of the workings of that organization. She has been president of the Junior Class this year and has proved her ability of leadership to the student body. Her capabilities and fine characteristics are recognized by the entire school; and it is with sincerest expression that the student body cooperates in wishing her the best of luck and promises their cooperation during her term of office.

A. J. Scott is to be congratulated on being head of the Y. W. C. A. She is just "fitted" for the position since she has not only served the "Y" here at S. T. C., but also before she came here. She was undergraduate representative this past year and has accomplished some very fine work. A. J. was also head of the Palette and has showed her ability of leadership there also. Again the student body wishes her success and

(Continued on last page)

RURAL EDUCATION AT FARMVILLE RECOGNIZED

Miss Pauline Camper of the faculty has been appointed to membership on the Committee on Rural Teacher Training of the Department of Rural Education of the National Education Association. This appointment was made by Miss Kate Wofford, president of the Department of Rural Education. The appointment of Miss Camper is a recognition of the work in Rural Education which our college is doing. Farmville is ranked among the ten teachers colleges in the nation doing outstanding work in rural education.

It is gratifying to know that our college is already doing significant work in this field which is receiving especial attention from educators everywhere at this time. At the 1931 meeting of the National Society for the Study of Education one part of the yearbook presented for discussion was on Rural Education. For the annual convention of the National Education Association as Los Angeles this coming summer, a program is being prepared with special em-

(Continued on last page)

"MURDER IS IN THE AIR" WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

Young Chinese girl, her head having been cut off, jumps up and nimbly runs out.

Loving mother to save her son from death, kills herself. The last drop of her blood gone, she rises and climbs the ladder to Heaven.

Wu Hoo Git, the celestially sublime, asking the beautiful Plum Blossom for kisses, gets this response in a wailing, spirit-like, half-whisper, "I have no kisses, save those of the spirit. I have no lips, no arms, no legs . . . I have augustly observed that when a lady has no kisses, the man does not want her . . . I leave you."

Youthful hero, surmounting all obstacles: mountains of chairs, roaring torrents of tables, and the blinding snowstorms of paper scraps, wins eternal glory and his lady love.

Answer to the riddle? "The Yellow Jacket", April 10.

Members of Council of Primary Education Announced

The Farmville Chapter of the National Council of Primary Education announces the new members who were initiated Monday night, March 30:

Janice Wilkerson
Esther Kutz
Sarah Lee Scott
Mildred Hancock
Elizabeth Hughes
Fleetwood Thompson
Marion Moore
Elizabeth Pierce
Lemma L. Price
Mary Clare Booth
Kathryn Royster
Jane Beale
Clara Mistr
Mrs. May E. Harvey
Josie Spencer
Frank Smoot
Hazel Ramsey
Rebecca Earle
Margaret Tate
Margaret Lester
Alma Joyce
Lydia Harrell
Elizabeth Sawyer
Vernie Oden
Margaret Gathright
Evelyn Hughes
Margaret Bell

ANNOUNCES MEMBERS

The Virginia Alpha Chapter of Pi Kappa Delta wishes to announce the following new members:

Winston Cobb
Margaret Hix
Carrie DeShazo

Dramatic Club Presents "The Yellow Jacket"

Play to be Given April 10th Entirely Different From Others Given

The Dramatic Club presents "The Yellow Jacket," by Hazelton and Benimo, April 10 at 8 p. m. Seats go on reserve at White's April 8 at 9 a. m.

The story of "The Yellow Jacket" is an old, old one—that of a youth, deprived of his rightful heritage, finally gets his reward, and wins his lady-love, who has inspired him on his life journey.

The Governor of the province is distressed by the fact that he has two wives, the customary thing in China. He does not love the first wife, who is the first in importance, but does love the second one. He conspires with the father of the second wife to kill the first wife and her boy, in order that the child of the second wife may inherit the throne. They give out to the public that the first boy is monster-formed. Before they can kill the first wife, she, warned by a spirit writes his name and history on her son's' garment and then kills herself. The child is found by his mother's maid, and her husband who flee with him.

The second act opens twenty years later. The boy, grown to manhood, not knowing who his parents were, feels that he has the blood of rulers in his veins. His foster-parents having refused to tell who his ancestors are, he sets out on his world-journey alone to find his place. The Daffodil, son of the second wife, usurper of the throne of the hero, Wu Hoo Git, knows he is alive. He knows also that Wu Hoo Git does not know who

Continued on page three

Dr. Jarman Talks To the Freshmen

On Tuesday evening, March 24, at the regular class meeting, Dr. Jarman gave a very interesting talk to the Freshman Class on the history of our college.

In the course of his talk, Dr. Jarman told how, in March 1884, an act was passed by the Legislature to establish a State Female Normal School in Farmville. Buildings which were already in use for school purposes were donated by the town of Farmville. In October, 1884, the school was opened and one hundred and ten students were enrolled the first session. In January, 1914, th Legislature changed the name to State Normal School for Women, and in January, 1924, to State Teachers College.,

From time to time the school has steadily grown and Dr. Jarman emphasized the fact that land has recently been purchased for the expansion of the college.

Margaret Hix and Carrie De Shazo Win First Place in Debating

Delegates From Seven Chapters Take Part in Extensive Program at Farmville

BANQUET GIVEN AT LONGWOOD

The third biennial convention of the South Atlantic Province of Pi Kappa Delta was held at Farmville, March 27 and 28.

The session was opened with a business meeting at which the Province Governor Dr. J. E. Walmsley presided. At this meeting a copy of the following program was given to each delegate:

Friday, March 27

4 p. m.—Semi-finals in debate
8 p. m.—Oratorical contests.
Reception for Virginia Alpha.

Saturday, March 28

11 a. m.—Business meeting
2 p. m.—Drawing for subjects and places in extempore speaking.
2:30 p. m.—Initiation service.
4 p. m.—Extempore speaking
6:30 p. m.—Final in debate
8:30 p. m.—Banquet at Longwood.

Medals were awarded the following winners in the various contests:

Oratorical

First place—Milbourne Amos, N. C. State.
Second place—J. B. Patrick, Jr., Millsaps, Mississippi.

Extempore Speaking

First place—Herschel Ford, Wake Forest.
Second place—Walter Bivens, Millsaps, Mississippi.

Debate

First place—Margaret Hix and Carrie DeShazo, Farmville S. T. C.
Second place—J. A. May and H. H. Hutson, Wofford, Spartanburg, S. C.

Continued on page three

PRESIDENTS OF STUDENT BODY ATTEND CONFERENCE

The annual Student Government Conference of the Southern Colleges will be held at Baylor College, Belton, Texas, April 1-4.

Adele Hutchinson and Grace Virginia Woodhouse, our outgoing and incoming student body presidents will represent S. T. C.

Many topics of interest will be discussed in general and in groups. Meetings will be held on such topics as: general regulations, honor systems, individual responsibility and faculty and student relationship.

Adele Hutchinson has been asked to hold a discussion on the upperclassman"s responsibility in instilling in freshmen the importance of each individual's responsibility to her Alma Mater.

S. T. C. Defeats Wesleyan in Debate Thursday Even'g

The West Virginia Wesleyan team of affirmative upholders of the question in debate: Resolved, "That the United States should adopt a policy of free trade",' after a heated and praiseworthy defense of their beliefs, acknowledged their defeat and offered congratulatory comment to Farmville representatives maintaining the negative. Mr. Harry Laing and Chas. Meeks represented the neighbor state while Margaret Hix and Carrie DeShazo held the fort for Farmville.

The outcome of this encounter was of greater import even than usual, and each team view eagerly for a favorable decision, the attainment of which determined which of the teams should compete in the semi-finals of the convention of Pi Kappa Delta held on Saturday afternoon.

Proving beyond doubt to their audience that the abolition of all tariffs and the adoption of a policy of free trade was absolutely "impractical, idealistic, and unworkable," the negative debaters found favor in the vote of the three judges and the consequent privilege of competition in the semi-finals.

TECH SCANDALS COMING

Tech Scandals of 1931 are coming to S. T. C. on April 18th. This is an entirely new show from the one presented here last year.

Tickets for the entertainment will be on sale after Easter. Everyone buy a ticket and enjoy the "hit of the year."

DEAN'S LIST FOR THE SPRING QUARTER 1931

Frances Elizabeth Armentrout, Lexington, Va.
Mabel C. Barksdale, Stuart, Va.
Lydia Jane Brown, Salem, Ca.
Ella M. Caroll, Portsmouth, Va.
*Mary E. Cato, Emporia, Va.
Carolyn Cogbill, Petersburg, Va.
Annie May Davis, Meredithville, Va.
*Mary D. Derieux, Tappahannock, Va.
Ann C. Drew, Wakefield, Va.
Virginia E. Dutton, Ware Neck, Va.
Martha E. Faris, Red Hill, Va.
Susie V. Floyd, Hilton Village, Va.
Margaret P. Gibb, Machipongo, Va.
Mary L. Godwin, Chuckatuck, Va.
Mabel P. Gregory, Amherst, Va.
Alice St.A. Harrison, Farmville, Va.
Natalie V. Holladay, Farmville, Va.
*Alice W. Howell, Franklin, Va.
Elizabeth E. Hunter, Evergreen, Va.

Continued on last page

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

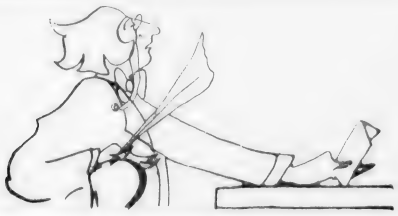
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Inter-Collegiate Editor ..... A. J. SCOTT, '32
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31 — HAZEL HALLOWAY, '32



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

On Easter

We think of Easter and flowers, new clothes and fetching hats. Is that really Easter?

Yes, for Easter means newness, freshness, the beginning. But it means more. For at Easter, once long ago, three crosses were lifted high on a hill. And upon these crosses were three men; two thieves, the other—a man of wondrous love. For, as He suffered there upon that cross He asked forgiveness for the very men who placed Him there.

And then in his great love He must have smiled upon those three women kneeling at the crosses. One, the mother who gave Him birth, the other two, mothers of thieves. Did they suffer? And yet they knelt there to ask forgiveness for their own. A mother's all unselfish love crying out for the soul of her boy. And He smiled upon them and their hearts were comforted.

Then Easter means forgiveness and new life. He promises that. And somehow Easter is filled with mother love, too. And so, for those mothers whose hearts are wrung with angiush and grief for the souls of their children may we offer those one prayer—

Our Father, now at Easter
May forgiveness fill our hearts,
And Thy great promise of newer life
Ease the pain of mother hearts.
May Thy love and life eternal
Wash out all our unclean thoughts
That for our mother's sakes at last
We win the battles that we've fought.
May those mothers life their heads
And smile through unshed tears
To live and love, and hope in peace
Throughout eternal years. —Amen.

OVER THE TEACUPS

"Springtime, springtime—
Dear ole golden—"

That isn't quite right is it? But it is really spring and I'm so glad. Everything begins all over again—even officers here at S. T. C. Feature being the president of the student body. Luck, my dear—you've a job if you want to keep up with Adele—but we're for you, oh, well I am just speaking for myself.

Can you wait to get home now I can't believe it's Eastertime (that's what I meant to be singing a while back, Ann) Why it's only a step till June—and "parting is such sweet sorrow." Oh, I can't stand it.

Wonder if there'll be any dances anywhere. Speaking of dances—These Hampden-Sydney boys spoke mighty politely about two weeks back but I don't notice it now so much. Could it be that dance? Why of course not, they couldn't be such children.

You going to get any new spring clothes? Why everybody seems to have gotten them but me. Think I'll go look the new dress shop over. Those dresses looked really cute through the window. Let's go tomorrow. What's say? O. K.

O. K. That's a habit I don't like. I wish somebody could think of an original answer for a change. I'd be willing to pay 'em a quarter. This standardized method of replying gets on my nerves.

And I'm on my nerves, too, at present—so come on Ann, let's go do something different. What—did you ask? Well, er-er-er we might stroll down to Shannon's. Why Ann—you're laughing. What did I say then—?

THREE YEARS AGO TODAY

"Pannie" Willis was elected president of the student body for the year 1928-29. Other major officers elected for the coming year were as follows:
President Y. W. C. A.—Margaret Finch.
President Athletic Association—M. F. Hatchett
Editor Virginian—Virginia Raine
Editor Rotunda—Pearl Etheridge

The following girls were nominated for May Queen—Lucretia Province, Virginia Ellis, Anne Deffenbaugh, Virginia Gurley.

The Hampden-Sydney Jongleurs presented "Outward Bound"', a well acted mystery play in the S. T. C. auditorium.

The Junior Class won the volley ball championship.

Dr. Richard Burton, one of the foremost present day literary critics, addressed the student body on the topic, "Fiction of the Year."

BOOKS

Sometimes with a book,
I wander off to a shady nook.
Sometimes it's a fairy tale
Or perhaps the life of Nathan Hale.

I love to read Stories Twice Told,
Or the book of poems called Rainbow Gold.
I love Anne of Green Gables
And I like to read Aesop's Fables.

I've read Uncle Tom, Andy Bill,
And I've read Alcott's Jack and Jill.
I also read Hawke's White Czar
And I like The Gypsy Star.

I like to read The Rhymes of Childhood
And I like the book of Robin Hood
What would I do without a book?
I'd feel lonely at the shady nook.

Nellie Putney, 7th grade

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

Some girls smile, some grin, some laugh, but what does Alice Moore do?

Now that the Pi Kappa Delta convention is over, maybe Mabel and "Rip" can get to work—that is, if Easter weren't so close.

We wonder if the recent elections are responsible for Adele's relieved look.

We hear that there are some girls who hope that the new government will not tell all it knows. Could it possibly be true?

Too playful animals are often put behind the bars or chained, but can't someone suggest what to do with Jim Simpson?

CAN YOU IMAGINE

Pres. Student Body .... Doris Walton
President A. A. ..... Mary E. Cato
Pres. Y. W. C. A. ..... Alma Garlick
Editor Virginian ..... Polly White
Editor Rotunda ..... Alice Covington
Editor The Voice ..... Ida Trolan
Chair. Campus League .....
..... Mary Brightwell
Pres. Cotillion ..... Margaret Nuttall
Pres. Choral Club ..... Ella Carroll
Pres. Dramatic Club .....
..... Lorraine Wesson

Intercollegiate

Here is a new idea for dances. At Brigham Young University, instead of the ordinary way of tapping the partner of the girl you wish to dance with, the new "cut-in" merely gives the "cut-out" a large yellow lemon and dances away with the fair maiden.

Looks as if the fruit growers of southern California have found a new method of advertising.

Waynesburg College co-eds as a punishment to men students for escorting non-college girls to school functions, lived up to its promise to be bigger and better this year, according to the United Press.

The Work Psychology Institute of Dortmund, Germany, is paying a lad to drink 14 bottles of beer a day.

The psychologists want to find out how long it will take a person fortified with 14 bottles of beer to become tired. There was more than one applicant for the position.—Florida Flambeau.

Miami's Seaplane Port

Work is under way on the $650,000 seaplane port at Dinner Key, Coconut Grove, which the Pan-American Airways, Inc., plans to use as its base for operations to 38 countries in South and Central America.

FAIRIES

In the evening when the sun goes down,
It seems to go into the ground.
The sun goes down so round and bright
It brings with it the moon-lit night.

When the moon comes up 'tis light as day,
Then the fairies come out to play.
Never a prettier sight is seen
Than when in comes the Fairy Queen.

In she comes all stately and grand
Then comes the King to whom she has given her hand.
She is dressed in pink and blue,
Some gold, some silver, and purple, too.

The King, he is dressed in very great splendor,
He is stately, tall and slender.
Together they are a handsome pair
The King so stately, the Queen so fair.

Betty Hardy, 6th grade

EASTER'S MEANING

A woman, tired-weary, drab and grey,
Steals softly down the great cathedral aisle;
'Tis Easter Morn and that poor soul has come
To ease her burdened heart and pray a while.

From the window midst the lilies pure and white
He smiles upon her all compassionately
As across her kneeling figure bathed in light
Falls the shadow of the cross of Calvary.

Then as the dawn comes up into the sky,
The shadowed cross recedes into the light,
To tell the meaning of our Saviour's death;
The cross—fulfillment of eternal life

L. M., '32

SPRING RAIN

Rain drops sliding across clover leaves
Are balls of silver.—Why is it he grives?

Buttercups drenched with morning dew
Say God's in His Heaven, what's wrong with you?

Daffodils stirring the breeze
Are golden goblets from beyond the seas—

Why does that robin sing and sing?
Why trees are budding, in early spring?

Little children making mud pies
Say to the weary, just open your eyes:

This world is so lovely and grand and gay,
Why can't you be happy with us today?

E. S., '32

A LOVELY GEM

There's a lovely gem—a dew-drop
Embedded in setting of green,
A perfect cut Nature's jewel,
Ah—of beauty 'tis supreme.
As beautiful things in perfection
Are given for things we more need;
So the gem stays a while in our garden
And then leaves the flower and weed.

R. F., '32

FULFILLMENT

Starlight
December nights
Filled with promises
Of a new world bright.

Moonlight
New Year nights
Filled with prospects
Of the future's might.

Incense
April nights
Filled with the visions
Of Nature's glorious sight.

Balmy winds
June nights
Filled with expectations
Of a romance pure and bright.

V. P. L.

GOING HOME

Tired a workin'?
Wanna go 'way
Fum all dis bustle 'n worry?
Wanna see somebody you loves real good?
Tired a-lookin' at folks all day?
Ne'min', honey, you's goin' home soon.

E. S., '32

SOCIALS

S. T. C. was represented at the V. M. I. dances at Lexington this week-end by Medora Ford, Renie Greaves, Jacque Lee, Jerry Lee, Catherine Marchant, Alice Stiedtmann, Virginia Sargeant, Martha Sanders, and Doris Walton.

Loulie Millner spent the week-end at her home in Lynchburg.

Catherine Cogbilll was the guest of Eleanor Wall of Randolph-Macon College at Lynchburg this week-end.

Vernie Oden, Margaret Priest, and Katheryn Waters were in Norfolk to attend a wedding this week-end.

Alice Covington, Helen Cover and Ann Davis were in Richmond this week-end.

Virginia Witt was at her home in Lynchburg this week-end.

Mary Randall spent the week-end in Portsmouth.

Evelyn Stephenson was visiting in Charlottesville this week-end.

Hanna Crawley was the guest of Virginia Campbell of Westhampton College this week-end.

'Chick" Mosby, Margaretta Brady, and Margaret Barker attended the dances at Blacksburg this week-end.

Dorothy Goodloe visited relatives in Charlottesville this week-end.

Martha von Schilling was at her home in Hampton this week-end.

The Gamma Theta Sorority held its spring banquet in the banquet room in the tea room on Saturday evening, March 21. Since it was the twentieth anniversary of the founding of Gamma Theta the theme of the banquet was a birthday party. The following old girls were back: Lucille Fields, Emmy Lou Pulliam, Mary Priest, Mary Wilson Pugh, Martha MacKenzie, "Bugs" Rivercomb, "Snooty" Loving, Mayo Beatty, Polly Riddle, Jinx Grimes, Frankie Roberts, Carroll Cromwell, Jeanette Morris, Alice Moore Armstrong, Katherine Thompson, Mrs. Francis Kain, Mrs. A. A. Adkins, Mrs. J. T. Engle, Mrs. Tom Baker, Mrs. Clark Cooper, Mrs. Steven Kent, Helen Jones, Frances Jones, Dolly Latane, Anna Burgess, Elizabeth Ball, Mrs. M. B. Coyner, Mrs. P. L. Twing, and Cornelia McIntyre.

JUNIOR CLASS TREATS HAND WORKERS

The Junior Class entertained in the Student Building lounge at a pajama party on Friday night, March 20. At this time the hardest working group of Juniors was the guest of honor.

Before Founder's Day the class had been divided into ten groups for the purpose of raising money for Founders Day. The group handing in the largest gift was to be entertained at a party given by the whole class. Competition ran high at first, but it was found severally by the groups unprofitable to sell food in order to raise funds. Another scheme was suggested and carried out. Each girl was to pay to the leader of her group a penny for every year that she was old. It took work to get this accomplished. When the "ages" were added up, "Liz" Drewry's group led with a contribution of $6.90.

On Friday night "Beside the open fireplace" members of the Junior Class gathered, chatted, sang and enjoyed refreshments and a ghost story. "Henry" Cornwall told a hair raising ghost-story. She produced such an effect that blood ran cold through the veins of the listeners. Suspense hung over the group and dead silence except for the carefully selected words of the story teller prevailed. The hushed stillness was pierced by a scream which was accompanied by a chorus of other screams, and the story was ended. The party then broke up, singing "Good night Ladies," and the girls left the cheery fire for the long dark halls that led to their rooms.

"THE YELLOW JACKET" TO BE GIVEN APRIL 10

Continued from page one

his parents are and does not know that the throne is rightfully his. Hearing that our hero has gone out into the world, he puts many obstacles in his way. His first temptation is that of lust. He almost, but not quite yields to the fascinating beauty of the dancing girls.

Praying in a graveyard one day, he meets Plum Blossom. They immediately fall in love with each other, but cannot marry because Wu Hoo Git has no ancestors. On the advice of the philosopher, he goes back to his foster-parents, who consent to tell him that he is of the royal afmily and should rule the province.

On his journey from the mountain home to the throne, he has many difficulties to overcome. Successive stages, much like scenes thrown on a screen, show how he passes the test of physical courage, of moral stamina, of virtue, of mental alertness, and finally overcomes the supernatural, in the form of the fox, who is the spirit of the father of the second wife in the first act.

At last, ovecoming the Daffodil, blessed by his mother, Wu Hoo Git ascends the throne with Plum Blossom, who has inspired him through all these dangers.

Adele Hutchinson, taking the part of property man, has one of the most interesting and extremely funny parts in the play. She is dressed in black and because of this, she is to the audience, "distinctly invisible." The property man has absolutely no expression on his face and is extremely bored with the whole thing, as he shuffles across stage, eating a bowl of rice, or adjusting the sleeve of one of the actors.

Another interesting feature is the orchestra. Music, appropriate to each character is played as he comes on stage or leaves. The rolling of drums and the clashing of symbols are heard when any great personage enters. The high plaintive notes of the violin predominate when a dainty little girl comes in. The piano is played almost throughout the play.

The cast includes:

Property Man .... Adele Hutchinson
Chous ..... Henrietta Cornwell
Wu Sin Yin, governor Easter Souders
Due Jung Fah, 2 wife Nancy Harrison
Tso, maid ....Margaret Gathwright
Chee Moo, 1st wife .... Betty Morris
Tai Fah Min, father of Due Jung Fah ..... Helen Warren
Asst. Property Men—Myra Costen, Cleo Quisenberry, Evelyn Jones
Suey Sin Fah, wife of Lee Sin ..... Lelia Lovelace
Lee Sin, 1st farmer .. Loulie Millner
Ling Wong, spirit .... Nannie Gilbert
Wu Fah Din, Daffodil ..... Margaret Banks
Yin Suey Gong ..... Sarah Wills
Wu Hoo Git.... Margaret Armstrong
Dancing Girls—Dolly Martin, Lindsay White, Mary Winston, Dot Prescott.
Moy Fah Loy, Plum Blossom ..... Sallie Russell
See Noi, nurse ..... Jenilee Kinght
Tai Char Shoong Martha S. Watkins
The Widow Ching .... Louise Borum
Git Hok Gar ..... Ruth Ford
Kom Loi, spider ..... Julia Martin
Loy Gung, ... Elizabeth Kelly
Second Farmer ..... Edrie Holland
Musicians—Sue Yeaman, Joe Perry Thomas Garber.

TIME EXTENDED FOR BETA PI THETA CONTESTS

At a recent meeting Beta Pi Theta voted to extend the time-limit for entrants in the contests for freshmen and sophomores until April 10.

Some time during April an award will be presented to the freshman who submits the best description in French, and another to the sophomore who submits the best essay written in French. Entries should be written on one side of the paper and should be placed in Mildred Maddrey's senior mail box not later than April 10.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

ANNIE DENIT

Annie has only been with us for two years, but in that time, she has served her Alma Mater so that our only regret is our loss in not having her for the entire four years.

Versatile in her capabilities, she was asked to serve as chairman of the Student Standards Committee, and as editor-in-chief of The Voice has chartered it through a most successful year. The Rotunda, Latin and Spanish Clubs have also benefitted from her service.

It is with pleasure that members of the student body work with her. Her teachers and classmates have seen in her a combination of intellectuality and spirituality most desired in a teacher, and so Alma Mater proudly sends her into the State with the best of wishes.

ELIZABETH TAYLOR

When "Liz" Taylor entered S. T. C. everyone recognized that here was a freshman who would not be green long. Really she never was green, but met the duties of a rat with a strong will and firm determination. The present senior class remembers her first as the accompanist for the freshman song class. Right there she showed initiative and independence. These two qualities have carried her forward until as senior we find her editor-in-chief of the Virginian, a member of the Student Council, and an active member of several sccieties

Those who know "Lizzie Mae" have found her to be a loyal friend and a gay companion, one who is strong in her own convictions, and will stand by them even though they bring her much criticism. Such a personality have we found in Liz Taylor, one of our biggest "little" seniors.

GROUP ON TOUR WILL VISIT S. T. C.

On April 15 we will have a visit from Miss Florence Stratmeyer of the faculty of Teachers College, Columbia University, and about ten of her students.

This group is on an educational tour and will spend a day in Farmville for the purpose of studying our college; this is the second time we have been selected as one of the institutions to be visited by a group from Teachers College, New York.

CONVENTION OF PI KAPPA DELTA HELD HERE

Continued from page one

The following chapters and their representatives were represented:

North Carolina Alpha—N. C. State. Prof. E. H. Paget and Milbourne B. Amos.

North Carolina Beta—Wake Forest. Dr. J. R. Quisenberry, E. Leonidas Smith, Harold H. Deaton, N. C. Brooks and W. Herschel F rd.

South Carolina Beta—Wofford, J. A. Weatherly, H. H. Hutson, and J. A. May.

Mississippi Alpha—Millsaps, Floyd Looney, Stokes Robertson, Walter R. Bivins, J. B. Patrick, Jr., and S. J. Ruff.

West Virginia Alpha —Wesleyan. Prof. B. W. Folsom, James Hutchinson, Voros Meeks and Melvine Laing.

Asheville Normal which has applied for a chapter of Pi Kappa Delta was represented by: Pro. A. B. Hoskins, Opal Snyder, Mabel Dale and Mabrye Candler.

Virginia Alpha—Dr. J. E. Walmsley, Prof. S. M. Holton, Jr., Dr. J. L. Jarman, honorary member, Martha Faris, Mabel Barksdale, Alice Harrison, Martha Ann Laing, Elizabeth Hunter, Elizabeth Johnson, Winston Cobb, Anne Johnson, Mary Warren, Carrie DeShazo, Margaret Hix, Maria Warren and Frances Wilson.

The guests were accommodated in one of the small dormitories of the college and had their meals served in the college tea room. After completing two days of speaking the delegates gathered at Longwood to enjoy a banquet that proved to be a most fitting ending for what may be deemed a highly successful and equally profitable convention.

Dr. J. E. Walmsley awarded medals to Margaret Hix and Carrie DeShazo in chapel Tuesday morning. This means that Farmville State Teachers College hold the championship for the South Atlantic Province of Pi Kappa Delta.

WORLD NEWS

Arnold Bennett's Death Mourned By Civilized World

The "Five Towns" of the Potteries are mourning the death of Arnold Bennett, the genius who made them household words wherever the English language is spoken.

It is still too early to estimate what permanent hiche he will occupy, but he was one of the greatest figures in contemporary British literature, and many of the characters in his books will never die.

His "Old Wives' Tale" is rated as a classic and the "Five Towns" series is one of his best known works. 'Milestones", a drama written with a collaboration, was one of London's greatest successes in recent years.—The Virginian Pilot.

Poland Booms Honey

Railway men, encouraged by the roads to install hives along the rights of way, are bringing Poland back to its pre-war position as a honey producer. Some 4,000 bee-keepers netted $150,000 last year.

The Delta Chapter of Alpha Phi Sigma held a call meeting Wednesday night. The chief topics of discussion were the changes to be made in the constitution and the by-laws.

Electric Shoe Shop
WILL FIX YOUR SHOES
WHILE YOU WAIT
BEST WORKMANSHIP
AND LEATHER USED
FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART
We would like to have your orders
—for—
DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS
Canada Drug Co.
Farmville, Virginia
Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

C. E. CHAPPELL COMPANY
Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies
Cigars, cigarettes and soda
Main Street
FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

SCHEMMEL
Conservatory of Music
Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.
REASONABLE TUITION RATES

Davidson's
HOUSE OF QUALITY
FARMVILLE. VIRGINIA
WHERE QUALITY MEETS PRICE
Farmville's
Best Department Store

Kerami Coats Reduced to $5.85
Lovely Spring Coats priced $9.95 to $19.50
New snow flecked suits $5.95 and $9.95
lapin trimmed
$1.50 full fashion hose, special 98c
THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Rudy Young: "I'd be willing to die a hundred deaths for you."

Missie: "Just one would suit me perfectly."

Anna Knox to Margaret Priest:

Margaret: "What is your idea of love?"

Margaret: "Well, its that something that brings heaven down to earth then raises h—"

Heard after Cotillion—

"He dances like a poem."

"Really."

"Like free verse—the feet all mixed up."

Heard in a student-teacher's classroom:

"What is an experiment?"

Hand waving frantically in the back of the room.

"What is it Billy?"

"The kind of chewing gum I like best." (Meaning Spearmint).

"Did you say that you had lived there all your life?"

"Don't know, haven't died yet!"

Mr. McCorkle: "What is H. C. L.?"

Clara Giles: "Oh, I have it on the end of my tongue—wait a minute."

Mr. McCorkle: "Well, you'd better get rid of it, it's hydrochloric acid, poison."

Beneath the moon he told his love,
The color left his cheeks
But on the shoulder of his coat
It showed quite plain for weeks.

Beauty is only skin deep, and that is deep enough to satisfy a reasonable man.

She: "That new man in town has a face that only a mother could love."

He: "I understand he is heir to millions."

She: "You see I am only a mother."

What is a college professor? He is one who gets paid with the remainder of the money after the coaches have been paid.

Mrs.: "When I was your age I never stayed out later than ten."

Daughter: "Yes, mother, but the movies don't close at ten o'clock like the saloons used to do."

Sam McClure: "Had a date last night."

John R. Saunders: "No foolin'?"

Sam: "Oh, a little."

Josie (to Katherine): "Katherine, you are so modest I believe you'd go in the closet to change your mind."

Wife: "Do you realize that twenty-five years ago today we became engaged?"

The Absent-minded Prof.: "Twenty-five years! You should have reminded me before, dear. It's certainly time we got married."

Missie: "You're a fool."

Jacque: "Is that so? Well, you're the biggest fool in the r:oom."

Teacher: "Girls, girls, you forget that I'm here."

His Girl Friend (admiringly): "How in the world do you make up your jokes, Mark?"

Mark Twain: "I sit down and laugh, and then think backwards."

"Well, I think I'll put the motion before the house", said the chorus girl as she danced out on the stage.

HONOR ROLL FOR THE WINTER QUARTER 1931

Alice V. Abernathy, Margaret Addleman, Hanna Allen, Elizabeth Anderson, Elizabeth Antrim, Frances E. Armentrout, Frances E. Armistead, E. Katherine Bailey, Mrs. Ethel D. Barker, Mabel Barksdale, Verna Mae Barr, Nancy B. Baylor, F. Jane Beale, Margaret E. Bell, Nancy U. Boykin, Mariam H. Bray, Virginia Brinkley, Jane Brown, Virginia Bryan, Elizabeth Burger, Mary F. Cannaday, Ella M. Carroll, Mary E. Cato, Nell Clingenpeel, Winston Cobb, Carolyn Cogbill, Edith Coleman, Henrietta Cornwell, Myra Costen, Lois V. Cox, Frances Crawford, Hanna L. Crawley, Katherine Crowder, H. Cornelia Crute, Gwendoline L. Daniel, Laura E. Darlington, Eleanor H. Dashiell, Annie May Davis, M. Eleanor Davis, Mildred DeHart, Mary D. Derieux, Carrie H. DeShazo, Nella V. Dickinson, Mary F. Diehl, Jannie F. Dodson, Ann C. Drew, Ildergirt Dunn, Elizabeth Dutton, M. Louise Elliott, Doris L. Ewers, Margaret T. Faris, Martha E. Faris, Hazel Alice Finch, Lucy Fitzgerald, Susie V. Floyd, Dorothy Ford, Ruth Allen Ford, Mary Lou Fritts, Fay Fuller, Virginia Fultz, M. Pauline Gibb, Beatrice Goode, Florence H. Gregory, Mabel P. Gregory, Agnes LL. Grigg, Elsie R. Hardy, Lydia D. Harrell, Alice St. A. Harrison, Lola Belle Hayes, Margaret Hix, Emilie Holladay, Natalie Holladay, Alice W. Howell, Sara K. Hubard, Elizabeth Hughes, Evalyn Hughes, Elizabeth E. Hunter, Virginia A. Huntsberry, Charlotte Hutchins, French Hutt, Miss Olive T. Iler, Lucille Ingram, Sarah M. James, Louise P. Johnson, Isabel Jones, Mary Corling Jones, Esther F. Kutz, Martha Ann Laing, Cassandra Laird, Lucie Ann Lane, Mrs. W. T. Lee, Margaret Lester, Elizabeth B. Levick, Maury Leigh Lyons, Catherine McAllister, Clara McAllister, M. Elizabeth McCauley, Clara McKenzie, Elsie McLaughlin, Margie McManus, Mildred Maddrey, Frances Martin Marguerite Massey, Mary E. Mayo, Glayds Meador, Irene Meador, Agnes Meredith, Louise Moore, Florence Moore, Mary Marion Moore, Elizabeth Morris, Ruby S. Moss, Virginia Neblett, Mary B. Nelson, Margaret Nuttall, Vernie Oden, Elizabeth Pierce, Lemma L. Price, Rose B. Pulley, Mary S. Quantance, Hazel E. Ramsey, Mary Thomas Rawls, Alice Ribble, Anne W. Rice, Gay A. Richardson, Bernice Rives, Elsie Mae Roberts, Doris V. Robertson, Virginia N. Robertson, Kathryn N. Rogers, Hildegarde Ross, Frances Rothwell, Sarah K. Rowbatham, Alice Rowell, Grace Rowell, Sarah S. Rowell, Jane B. Royall, Elizabeth S. Sawyer, Martha von Schilling, Sarah Lee Scott, Edith Shanks, Evelyn L. Shaw, Mildred Shelton, Mildred Short, Clara Sizemore, A. Doreen Smith, Jessie Carr Smith Laura N. Smith, Easter M. Souders, Josie W. Spencer, Mildred E. Steed, Mildred Steere, Frances E. Stephenson, Gertrude Sugden, Mary E. Swift, Elizabeth M. Taylor, LaValle Taylor, J. Elizabeth Temple, M. Fleetwood Thompson, Katherine Thweatt, Ida Julia Trolan, Margaret Varner, Helen Grant Warren, Dorothy Weems, Lorraine Wesson, Evelyn Wells West, Helen L. Westmoreland, Virginia Whipple, Janice E. Wilkerson, Juanita Williams, Evelyn Williams, Ann F. Wingo, Susan Jane Withers, Lillian Womack, Dorothy Wood, Grave Virginia Woodhouse, Louise Woodson, Dorothy Woolwine, Elsie Wight, Ruth Wright.

RURAL EDUCATION AT FARMVILLE RECOGNIZED

Continued from page one

phasis upon the topic, "Improvement of Educational Opportunities for Rural Children." This convention with its emphasis upon Rural Education will start one of the most significant movements ever attempted by educators to stimulate interest in rural schools and progress in country life.

Our college has recognized the opportunities in this field and is already in the forefront in the movement.

ELECTIONS FOR MAJOR OFFICERS ARE HELD

Continued from page one

happiness in her work.

For the past year and even the year before, one could see Frances Edwards becoming an outstanding athlete. That feeling was climaxed last Thursday when she was elected head of the Athletic Association. Frances has proved a "good worker" and a willing one, and it is with happiness that all promise you the backing of the school 100 per cent. Best of luck, Frances.

Charlotte Hutchins, who showed her ability and interest in annual work the past year as business manager of the Virginian, holds the position now as editor. She has been given the chance to show herself as a dependable worker again next year. Charlotte's sense of responsibility makes one feel that she is most capable of holding this position. The student body wishes Charlotte success and looks forward to seeing the 1932 Virginian.

The Rotunda will have at its head Louise Elliot. Louise has served a very useful and competent year as associate editor, and she is going into that office with experience and conscientiousness of purpose. Since the Rotunda is a weekly publication, Louise will be able to give something to the school as a unit each week, and it is with sincerest hope that we wish her a successful and also an enjoyable year.

Ruth Floyd, whose contributions to literary societies, and school publications have been very much enjoyed, will be head of The Voice, the school magazine. Ruth was head of the National Primary Council the past year and the student body is confident of her ability as head of The Voice. She has shown us what she can do—and to you also—Ruth we say, "Luck!".

DEAN'S LIST FOR SPRING QUARTER ANNOUNCED

Continued from page one

Iska F. Hutt, Florence, S. C.
Elizabeth B. Levick, Norfolk, Va.
Mildred Maddrey, Portsmouth, Va.
Clara L. McAllister, Covington, Va.
Elsie E. McLaughlin, Danville, Va.
Gladys L. Meador, Norton, Va.
Florence Moore, Dillwyn, Va.
Elsie M. Roberts, Madisonville Va.
Virginia N. Robertson, Portsmouth, Va.
Elizabeth M. Taylor, Portsmouth, Va.
Jennie E. Temple, Roanoke, Va.
Belva L. Wesson, Merchant, Va.
Evelyn W. West, Lynchburg, Va.
Virginia N. Whipple, Bedford, Va.
Dorothy M. Wood, Wildwood, Va.

*On Dean's List, fall and spring quarters;  on Dean's List, winter and spring quarters;  on Dean's List entire session.

PRODUCING SCIENTISTS ACCORDED STATE U.

Contrary to a widely accepted view about the achievements of the large, privately-endowed universities, the State institutions are the ones that are proving most productive in turning out front-rank men of science, according to a survey prepared by Stephen H. Fisher and printed in the Journal of Higher Education. The test applied was the number of graduates who had achieved a "star" in American Men of Science.

The actual rank of institutions on the basis of numbers is Johns-Hopkins, the University of Kansas, University of Chicago, University of Pennsylvania, Harvard, University of Indiana, University of California, and University of Michigan. The rank of institutions such as Johns Hopkins it is asserted comes partly because these attract so many outstanding graduates from the other schools, while the rating of the University of Kansas is said to be based on a record made on its own merits. —New York Times.

TOWN GIRLS LEAD PRAYERS PAST WEEK

During the past week we have enjoyed having the town girls lead "Prayers". Monday night we had Eloise Paulett, Tuesday, Edith Coleman, Wednesday, Frances Armistead, Thursday, Mary Diehl, and Friday, Alice Harrison. Among the subjects talked on were: "The Search for God", "Upright Men", and "The Holy Spirit." We appreciate this cooperation on the part of the town girls and we feel that it brings them closer to us.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of April 6-11

MON. and TUES.—"East Lynne," wiht Ann Harding, Clive Brook, onrad Nagel and a great cast. How old are you? Yet, age does not matter. Just so you have loved, and been loved. It is to lovers we are appealing. We urge you lovers, sincerely, to see the new "East Lynn." There will be young and old around you. The youth of today and yesterday, throbbing sobbing, alike with Ann Harding as Lady Isabel, a woman misunderstood in love; a woman crying for happiness. "East Lynne" is romance—the greatest ever screened—or ever will be screened—the most beautiful the world has ever known. . It is a great treat for everyone. Be sure to see it. Also Aesop Fable Cartoon.

NOTE—Prices for "East Lynne" will be adults 500c at nights and 35c at matinees; children under 12 years of age 25c to each show.

WEDNESDAY—"Folow the Leader" with Ed Wynn, Ginger Rogers and Stanley Smith. Here is one of the most hilarious comedies filmed this year. There is not much plot, but Ed Wynn's gags and inventions are such as to keep you laughing from first to last scene. Of course there is a love story with a happy ending, and that's where Stanley Smith and Ginger Rogers shine. Imagine an ear of corn in a typewriter in place of the roller and the space bar being used to pass the corn along as you eat it! Just hilarious fun and plenty of it. A picture to send you home in wonderful good humor. Also Rin-Tin-Tin in "The Lone Defender," chapter 7, and a Humanette comedy that you will thoroughly enjoy.

THURS. and FRI.—Marion Davies in "It's a Wise Child," with Sidney Blackmer, Lester Vail and Polly Moran. Pronounced the best picture Marion Davies has ever made Marion Davies was never better, and the comedy supplied by Polly Moran, Marie Prevost and James Gleason keeps one in gleeful humor throughout the picture. Oh, yes, Marion learns who really loves her—result, wedding bells. Also Charlie Chase comedy that is funny, and some.

SATURDAY—"Resurrection" with John Boles and Lupez Velez in Leo Tolstoy's immortal story depicting the best and worst in man and woman. It is a story of two young lovers The man goes in society and forgets the girl. She comes to know scorn and shame and is sentenced to prison for a crime she did not commit and her former sweetheart is on the jury. To tell you more would spoil the picture for you. Suffice to say it is the most dramatic love story ever pictured and is magnificently produced by Edwin Carew. A great treat for those appreciating something different. Also Boy Friends comedy and Fox News.

Double matinee every Saturday at 2 and 4 p. m.

One show each night at 8 o'clock. Daily matinees at 4 p. m.

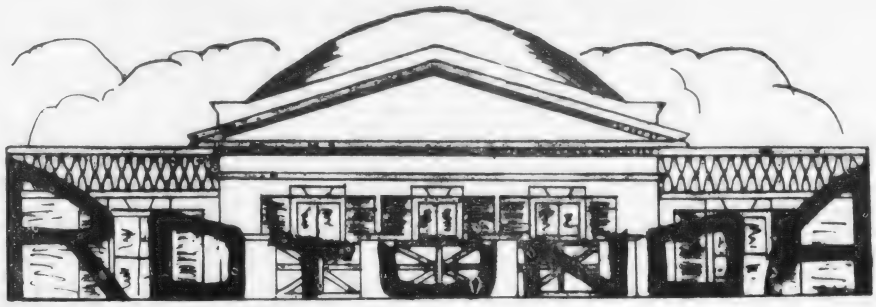
Admission: Except Monday and Tuesday, adults 35c at nights and 25c at matinees. Children under 12, 15c to each show.

Southside DrugStore
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh Films)
Let Us Develop
YOUR FILMS
ONE DAY SERVICE
Complete Line GREETING CARDS
Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking
Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.
MRS. SCHWARTZ
306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN
Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments
GO TO
Lynn's Jewelry Store
MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
Farmville, Virginia



Shannon's
is Headquarters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store
Farmville, Va.
"Drugs and Drinks"
DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO
EAT AND DRINK

WE INVITE CHARGE ACCOUNTS
of the
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS
NEW YORK DRESS STORE
MAIN STREET
Next to Southside Drug Co.

PAY YOUR CLASS DUES

COME
TO
"TECH SCANDALS"

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15, 1931 No. 25

Old and New Presidents Attend Conference

Sixteenth Annual Conference S. I. A. S. G., Held at Baylor College, Texas

MET ON APRIL 1, 2, 3, AND 4

The sixteenth annual conference of the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Government was held at Baylor College, Belton, Texas, April 1, 2, 3, and 4. Adele Hutchinson and Grace Virginia Woodhouse were the representatives of Farmville at this conference.

The conference proved delightful both from the standpoint of assistance in developing higher standards for student life on southern campuses and from a social standpoint. Responsibility among women students was one of the main topics of discussion.

Dean Agnes Ellen Harris, of the University of Alabama, was one of the principal speakers. In her address in April 2, to the delegates of the conference she discussed the value of responsibility in developing the college woman. After her very helpful and enlightening address an open forum was held and discussions on the most desirable qualities in womanhood was held and their relation to the place of a college woman on the campus and after graduation. Many different opinions were expressed and various ideas were exchanged.

Following Dean Harris' address on open forum was led by Dr. Royal A. Crouch, head of department of education at Baylor. His able leadership led the group into a discussion of psychology as applied to constructive methods on judicial boards. Some very valuable point were discussed, such as the effect the council has on a student on being "called for", the

Continued on last page

Open Cabinet Meet Is Held Saturday

An open cabinet meeting was held on Saturday in the Y. W. reception room. Harriet Moomaw led devotionals.

After devotionals, reports were made by the various committee chairmen. A. J. Scott reported that the Freshman Commission lawn fete, which is given each year, will be given at Longwood on May 9—the day of the Junior Music Festival. For this reason it was decided that the yearly Y. W. meeting would not be held on May 9, but would be held on April 25.

The Y. W. has been trying for sometime to secure as a speaker Dr. Taliaferro Thompson of the Union Theological Seminary. Although it has been unable to do so the Presbyterian church has been fortunate enough to get him here for Sunday, April 19. He will talk especially to the young people on Sunday night in the Presbyterian church, and all are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to hear Dr. Thompson.

Everyone is invited to the open cabinet meeting on April 25.

Choral Club to Assist in the Choral Festival

Important Feature Is Massed Junior Chorus Directed By Mr. A. H. Strick 6

The Choral Festival of Music to be held in Charlottesville, April 14-17, has aroused interest all over the State and thousands are planning to attend. Some of the important features of the festival will be singing of the massed junior chorus of juniors from all points in Virginia, under the direction of Alfred H. Strick, of Farmville, Tuesday, April 14; an address by Dr. E. A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, and a convention address by Mr. Strick.

Glee Club singing, Hampden-Sydney Glee Club, and solos by Miss Irene Leake, of Orange, will feature Wednesday, April 15. There will also be an address by Arthur Kyle Davis, "Traditional Ballads of Virginia."

On Thursday, April 16, the Schubert Mass in E Flat will be rendered by the Virginia State Chorus, directed by Dr. T. Tertius Noble, organist and director of New York.

On Thursday evening the feature will be the Manhattan Symphony Orchestra, Dr. Henry Hadley conducting, featuring John Powell, piano soloist. On Friday, the choral contests, glee clubs and presentation of numbers.

Our Choral Club is one of the colleges contesting in the festival. On Thursday morning the following girls will leave for Charlotesville to be in the contest on Friday: M. A. Danner, C. DeShazo, C. Jones, Hanna Crawley, M. A. Lang, M. T. Rawls, B. Scott, J. Stern, M. Varner, L. White, J. Whitt, S. Yeaman, I. Leake, E. Antrim, R. Atkin, W. Cobb, E. Davis, M. Addleman, E. Coleman, P. Ellison, R. Runt, A. Hutchinson, M. Murry, E. Taylor, A. Woodson, D. Walton, J. Bowles, V. Bailey, L. Clayton, R. Ford, R. Hunt, M. Maddrey, N. Putney F. Parker, M. Solomon, M. E. March.

HEADS OF MAJOR OFFICES

From Left to Right—Frances Edwards, president of Athletic Association; A. J. Scott, president of Y. W. C. A.; Charlotte Hutchins, editor The Virginian; Louise Elliott, editor the Rotunda; Grace Virginia Woodhouse, president Student Council; Ruth Floyd, editor The Voice.

JUNIOR FESTIVAL TO BE MAY 9 AT LONGWOOD

The Junior Festival of Music of the Southside Counties of Virginia will be held in the amphitheatre of Longwood, May 9, beginning at 3:30 p. m. Mr. Alfred H. Strick is director of this festival.

Plans are under way to bring children from eight counties to be in the festival chorus. Prince Edward, Appomattox, Charlotte, Cumberland, Lunenburg, Mecklenberg and Nottoway counties will be represented. The freshmen class of S. T. C. and the Choral Club will participate.

Among other plans is a broadcast over station WRVA between 4 and 5 o'clock during the festival.

Between five and six thousand people are expected to attend this great musical event.

PI GAMMA MU HAS NEW MEMBERS

The Virginia Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu wishes to announce the following new members:

Henrietta Cornwell
Hazel Holloway
Bessie Lynch
Ruth Floyd
Frances Crawford
Kay Schroeder
Sara Hubard

POINT SYSTEM REVISED STANDARDS COMMITTEE

The following is a list of the changes and additions that have been made in the point system by the Student Standards Committee:

The Voice

Editor-in-Chief	5
Literary Editor	3
Business Manager	3
Circulation Manager	2
Literary Editor	3
Asst. Literary Editor	3
Proofreader	1

Rotunda

Joke Editor	2
World News Editor	2

Mathematics Club

President	1
Chairman of Program Committee	1

French Circle

President	2
Chairman of Program Committee	2

Spanish Circle

President	2
Chairman of Program Committee	2

Sigma Pi Rho and Beta Pi Theta

Membership	2

Debate Club

President	4

Monogram Club

President	3
Vice-President	1
Sec..retary	1
Treasurer	1

Class Council

Chairman	2

Nat. Council of Primary Education

President	3
Vice-President	2
Secretary	1
Treasurer	1
Chairman of Program Committee	1

Grand-daughters Club

President	2

House Council

President	8
Secretary	5

(Continued on page 3)

GREATER UNIVERSITY OF N. C. IS A CERTAINTY

Raleigh, N. C.—A "Greater University of North Carolina," with a combined student body of more than 6,000 became a certainty today. Final approval to the Jeffres bill to merge the present University of North Carolina State College, and North Carolina State College for Women, was given by the assembly when the House concurred in Senate amendments. Each institution will maintain separate physical plants and retain its identity but will be operated by one unified administration

Presentation of "The Yellow Jacket" Last Saturday Night a Big Success

The presentation of "The Yellow Jacket" by the Dramatic Club Saturday, April 11, was most excellent The acting was splendid. Since it was a Chinese play, of course the elaborateness of the costumes and the continuous music added to its effectiveness.

Margaret Armstrong, the hero, took her part well. She showed a great deal of feeling throughout her part, but especially in the scene when her parents' names were revealed. Sallie Russell, the little heroine, who "stood on one foot like an august bird", had the sympathy of the audience, particularly when she had to meet the thirty-six kinds of mothers-in-law, all in one person.

Henrietta Cornwell, who "wrote the play, taught the players how to walk, how to talk," and was, according to her speech practically all the brains behind the whole thing, made an excellent announcer and prompter.

The fact that the audience was not very well versed in Chinese drama and was not used to seeing Chinese plays was detrimental to their enjoyment of the play. It was so long, so unusual, and there were so many characters that it was hard to keep them straight. By the end of the third act many of the characters in the first act were forgotten, who did their parts just as well. Elizabeth Morris, the mother who died in the first act, was excellent and put herself into the part very feelingly.

Sarah Wills, as the hunch-backed purveyor of hearts, was good, especially at the end of her part when begging for her life.

Most of the enjoyment of the play came to the audience through the

Continued on last page

Minor Officers for 1930-31 Elected Tues., April 14

More Minor Offices Are Filled By Election This Year Than Ever Before

OUTSTANDING GIRLS RUN

The election of minor officers was held Tuesday, April 14. There are more minor offices to be filled this year than ever before. The students who hold these offices have a chance to show their abilities. The elections are as follows:

Student Government Association

Vice-President ..... Hanna Crawley
Secretary ..... Jane Royall
Treasurer ..... Hattie Gilliam
Campus League Chmn., Betty Watts

Y. W. C. A.

Vice-President ..... Jane Witt
Secretary ..... Hazel Halloway
Treasurer ..... Frances Crawford
Undergraduate Rep, ... Winston Cobb

House Council

President ..... Louise Woodson
Secretary ..... Marguerite Massey

Athletic Association

Vice-President .... Dorothy Snedegar
Secretary ..... Hildegarde Ross
Treasurer ..... Martha Kello

Rotunda

Associate Editor ..... Martha Moore
Business Mgr. ..... Dorothy Ritchie

Virginian

Business Manager .... Mary T. Rawls
LiLterary Editor .... Easter Souders
Art Editor ..... Patty Ellison

Voice

Associate Editor ..... Eleanor Davis
Business Manager ..... Lois Cox

Y. W. C. A. Advisory Board

Miss E. Myrtle Grenels
Miss Mary Clay Hiner
Miss Lucille Jennings
Dr. J. E. Walmsley

"Tech Scandals" Coming to S.T.C.

"Tech Scandals of '31", the musical revue production of the dramatic club of V. P. I., will present their new show in S. T. C. auditorium, Saturday, April 18. An added attraction will be "The Tech Buccaneers," a seven piece orchestra directed by J. M. LaVier, Jr., of Richmond.

The Scandals open with an overture from the Buccaneers, in which play G. L. Poythress, Roanoke; M. C. Evans, Beckley, West Virginia; R. C. Campbell, Altavista; M. D. Lockwood, Virginia Beach; H. A. C. Walker, Lynchburg; E. C. Wiley, Lynchburg, and J. M. LaVier, Richmond, director.

Dances, novelties, songs, quartettes, skits, and choruses follow the overture. The male leads are C. H. Chrismon, Oxford, N. C.; E. P. Crumpler, Logan, West Virginia; F. H. Ewell, Norfolk, and W. H. Thaxton, McClure. The "female" leads are E. W. Hobbs, Norfolk; R. C. Campbell, Altavista, and W. W. Stroud, Norfolk.

F. H. Ewell is president of the club and T. B. Crumpler is business manager. The Scandals is directed by Selden Heath, Blacksburg. The performance at S. T. C. is sponsored by Pi Gamma Mu. Seats go on reserve Friday morning at ten o'clock at the White Drug Co. Buy your ticket now.

THE ROTUNDA

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

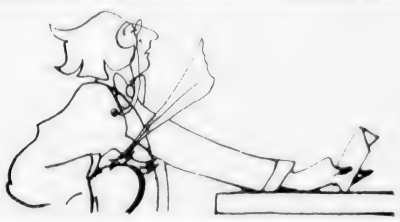
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Intercollegiate Editor ..... MARY DIEHL, '34
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31 — HAZEL HALLOWAY, '32
DOREEN SMITH, '34



Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.

Minor Officers Are Not Minor

Because we have given the title minor "to any office under the president'" or editor of an organization, is no reason why that word should be taken to mean insignificant. No matter how little the task may seem if it is completed and perfected as near as possible it takes work and thought—and it is no longer minor. It is only when there is lack of a person's ability shown that we can use the word minor.

There is so much work to be done that if each girl who holds a so-called minor office does her part then the head would not have so many dire responsibilities. It is the girl who makes something big out of a supposedly small opportunity who really is worthwhile.

New minor officers, you must remember that you are in line for bigger responsibilities and that it is now that you can begin to show your ability to handle even bigger things. Therefore, if you enlarge on your office until it can no longer be minor then you are fitted for the major. Put your heart in your work and with the development of personality will come a second recognition for you. You will see that your minor office is no longer minor.

OVER THE TEACUPS

And did you see the play? I can tell you plenty from behind the scenes but there's precious little I can tell about seeing it—I hear it was good though. We enjoyed it. I nearly laughed at Dele while saying my own lines—She was a scream. And Banks, there's no use pretending—she was funny! The entire cast, in my opinion, with the exception of one member appeared quite well. And to Miss Wheeler we owe most of it—for she coached us and made us do it well.

Youn know, I begin to think about next year now that minor elections are over. So many people gone. It scares you and yet there are always other to come to take their places—or at least try to.

Have you ever seen so many new clothes and what. Makes me want a "sissy print" that reminds you of apple blossoms and fresh spring showers. Two months and school will be over, for some of us until fall, and for others of us, for good and all. No, never over for good, because life is, in itself, a school where we mortals learn.

Philosopher—well, what if I am? I'd better be philosophizing than "criticizing."

And now for a game of tennis. It really puts energy in you to watch a game now that the days are so glamorous. And to see Rawlings and Sara Baker playing. I love it.

The play is moving on—a few more acts and the curtain will fall. Let's finish the year with flying colors!

Come on girls—Five dopes, please, Billy—Drink 'er down.

ALUMNAE NEWS

Invitations have been sent out to the marriage of Miss Anne Stuart Withers of Danville and Thomas Stanley Goodridge of Richmond on Saturday, April 18, in Epiphany Church, Danville.

The Times-Dispatch of April 12 contained a picture of Miss Laura Logan Hurt of Kenbridge and the announcement of her engagement to Thomas Llewellyn Elmore, formerly of Blackstone. The wedding will be in June.

Miss Constance Rumbough has been in attendance upon the Woman's Missionary Conference of the Holston district of the Methodist church which met last week in East Radord, and while there she spoke to the college students at their assembly period on her work in Manchuria.

WORLD NEWS

Berlin's Slot Machines

Pulling an umbrella from a slot machine to forestall a sudden shower is to be the next experience of this slot-conscious country.

The contraption was shown at the Leipzig Spring Fair. For twelve cents it gives up an oiled paper shelter which will suffice for one person through one shower.

All of Germany's slot machines are taking the place of many former slaving hands. Besides machines for postage stamps, cigarettes and candy, there are outfits that deliver beer or liquor, and an apparatus that gives up for seven cents a "hot dog" with mustard and potato salad.—The Virginian Pilot.

A unique difficulty arose at Ohio State university concerning one of the candidates for homecoming queen, who so closely resembles her twin sister that even sorority sisters have trouble in telling them apart.

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

It is certain that some girls in school aren't two-faced, because if they were they would wear the other one sometimes.

It used to be that the Easter parade was on Easter Sunday; but at S. T. C. it was the Sunday before and also the Sunday after Easter. (It remains to be seen how many more Sundays it will last.)

We wonder if the fresh looking Easter corsages worn Tuesday and Wednesday, and even Thursday really were Easter corsages.

To think that the student body voted for another member on the Student Council! Wonders will never cease.

The hot dog rage is still going "strong".—Can it last much longer.

Is Edith Spindle preparing herself for a teacher or a store keeper?

Speaking of people taking their parts well in a play—how about Adele, Banks, Gathright, Red Wills, and for that matter, any in the "Yellow Jacket" cast.

The "cutest girls in school", who went to V. P. I., U. of Va., and W. & M., would have been surprised at the cute girls who remained at S. T. C.

We wonder if Martha Walters has been "Not bad! Not bad!" since Cotillion initiation.

Some people in school think that Elizabeth Taylor doesn't miss a trick—how about it?

We wonder if hats with flowers under the brim will be worn at S. T. C. this season.

We can understand now why minor offices are minor—because there are so many of them.

Some one asked if Frank Smoot's roommates were deaf—could there have been a reason for that question?

THREE YEARS AGO TODAY

As the result of a petition presented by Dr. Walmsley, S. T. C. was granted a Pi Kappa Delta charter.

Miss Tabb and Miss Bugg left for Cleveland, Ohio to attend a meeting of the American Asociation of Collegiate registrars.

The Sophomores presented "Play Time", a very attractive program consisting of two humorous one-act plays, and several chorus numbers.

The Alpha Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma celebrated the 30th anniversary of its founding date.

The Debate Club was preparing to present a faculty tak-off to which the faculty and study body were looking forward with enthusiasm.

ON SILENCE

"Cheese toast Mrs. Tabb— None this hour of morning? Aw shucks. Well, I'll take toast and soup then."

And so Mrs. Tabb goes through each day and still gives us good food. How she stands it—I don't know.

They say "silence is golden". There are times when it would be in the tea room. I really hesitated to take my family down one night because of the fuss—but fortunately it was an exceptionally quiet night. Poor Mrs. Tabb. I think we should be more thoughtful. Let's try—we've only a short time to the end of this year—Let's make it a success in every way—every day—espcially in the tea room.

Lois Moran, the favorite movie actress of many is contemplating playing a real role as a co-ed at Columbia University.—Salemite.

FAIRIES AND TEACHERS

I believe in fairy rings
And a fairy queen and king
You can see them in the spring!
Once I had a teacher
Who said there weren't such things—
(But I didn't believe her
For I had seen the rings!)
She doesn't know that flower blooms
Are tiny, tiny fairy rooms,
Where all the elves and fairies live,
Spinning lace on fairy looms.
She doesn't know that Daffy-down-dillies
And little Johnny-jump-ups,
Are the very flowers fairies use
For their drinking cups! Why—
She doesn't know that a fairy ring
Is the domain of the fairy king—
And on moonlight nights in the stillness there
He calls all the fairies their joys to share.
I wish I could take her so she could see
That fairies do live 'neath the old elm tree
In the loveliest, tiniest of fairy rings!
Then she'd believe in fairies
And fairy queens and kings—
Oh dear, 'tis sad, don't you agree—
This teacher who just won't believe me?

A. H., '31

TRANSMIGRATION

If souls come back in other forms
After the body is dead,
Mine will come to a great grey wolf,
In the lone white spaces of the north,
And there find voice
In a wailing mournful howl,
As he sits back on his haunches
And tells the cold grey stars
Over the cold grey trees
In the grey white waste,
Of the loneliness of earth-bound souls.

E. S., '32

METAPHOR

Your hands to me
Are as sensitive,
Delicate, soft-scented flowers
With slender tapering petals
Tipped with rose and ivory hues.

V. P. L.

A DREAM

You are sitting beside me
In the Pear Tree Theatre
The air is faintly perfumed
By my sandalwood fan.
There is a rustle of rich brocades
And satins about us
And flashes of rare jewels
Adorning the nobility
In the boxes above us.
You lean as a stately willow
Lightly against my cushioned chair
And glance at a programme
Over my shoulder
How comforting it is
To know you are there
After the lights have dimmed
And the curtains are drawn.

V. P. L.

HERMANDO CORTEZ

In one hand a sword
In the other cross
Seeking the gold
And finding but dross.

Conquering worlds
In his sovereign's— name
He adds adventures of love
To adventures of fame.

Winning great glory
Striving for more
Thus do we know him,
Great conquistador.

A. LeB. R.

SOCIALS

Alice Covington, Jacque Lee, Jerry Lee, Virginia Sargeant, Martha Faris, and Mary Virginia Hill attended the Easter dances at the University of Virginia this week-end.

• • •

Mary Harrison and Virginia Lamb were in Petersburg at their homes this week-end.

• • •

Dorothy Leonard spent the week-end at her home in Richmond.

• • •

Margaret Jack was the guest of Ruthh Porter of R. M. W. C. this week-end.

• • •

Missie Bernier and Mary Arthur Billups attended the co-ed dances at William and Mary this week-end.

• • •

Louise Woodson was in Greensboro, N. C., this week-end.

• • •

Frances Ratcliff was in Richmond this week-end.

• • •

Vernie Oden attended the dances at Chapel Hill this week-end.

• • •

Doris Walton and Nellie Green were in Danville this week-end.

• • •

The following girls attended the V. P. I. dances this week-end: Helen Cover, Corinne Mosby, Kathryn Royster, Margaret Priest, Sarah Saunders, Dorothy Goodloe, Margaretta Brady, Mary Ellen Johnson, and Fannie Mae Colonna.

• • •

Loulie Millner, Margaret Barker, and Virginia Witt were in Lynchburg this week-end.

• • •

Pi Kappa Sigma sorority wishes to announce Frances Parker of Franklin, Virginia, as their new member.

Zeta Tau announces Mary Thomas Rawls of Ivor, Va., as their new member.

• • •

Sigma Sigma Sigma announces Mary Harrison and Nancy Harrison of Petersburg as their new members.

• • •

Mu Omega announces Winston Cobb, of Sebrell, Va., as their new member.

PALETTE BANQUET

The artistic element in the school feasted Monday night, April 13 as only an artistic element can feast. The members of the Palette, both old and new, assembled around the tea room banquet table, which was laden with good food as well as with pretty flowers, candles and place-cards. Yellow and white jonquils graced the center of the long table, and lighted tapers, the end. Miss Rhodes and Miss Coulling represented the faculty and helped us with the plans for our new work. The members of the Palette, both old and new, left the banquet table feeling more well-fed than artistic, but with renewed vigor and enthusiasm for the work of the coming year.

POINT SYSTEM IS REVISED

Continued from page one

Hall-President	5
Pan-Hellenic Association
President	2
Secretary	2
De-Ho-Ec
President	2
Chairman of Program Committee	2
Palette Club
Membership	2
Alpha Phi Sigma
Membership	2
Latin Newspaper—"Tributum"
Editor-in-Chief	3
Business Manager	2
Choral Club
President	2
Secretary	2
Treasurer	2
Dramatic Club
Membership	2
Executive Board	3

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

MARY ELLEN CATO

It seems superfluous to write a sketch of Mary Ellen Cato who is so well known and liked at S. T. C. All that I can do is but repeat what has been said so often before.

Mary Ellen has been one of the most active members of the Dramatic Club and her interpretations have been notably successful. Now she is busily at work on the May Festival which is progressing rapidly in practice and which has developed into a beautiful and original production under her artistic leadership. She has participated actively in the fields of scholasticism and social life.

She was head of "The Voice" last year and very efficiently held a major office during her junior year. She has been an active worker in the literary phase of school life. Mary Ellen has proved to be an all-round sort of femme and when June comes S. T. C. wil lose a most valuable member of its Student Body.

CATHERINE McALLISTER

Four years ago Catherine came to us from the little town of Covington, Virginia. During these four years, she has proven herself invaluable to the members of the student body.

As vice-president of her Senior Class, she is readily outstanding as one of the most outstandign Seniors, ever ready and willing to to help her fellowman. Due to her willing and versatile nature, Catherine has been able to render many valuable services to her Alma Mater. As a member of the Rotunda Staff, and as literary editor of The Virginian for '31, she has displayed to us her literary talent. Her scholastic ability has been recognized through her election to several honor societies.

Catherine has proved to us that "where there's a will, there surely is a way", for when she begins a deed we may know that it will be finished and finished well. Maybe the secret of her success and ability lies within the two words which serve as the keynote of her life—namely, determination and that typical Irish predestination.

It is with reluctance that the members of the student body see her leave in June, but we may rest assured that wherever she is, she will always be the same "Old Faithful." Good luck, Catherine!

DISTRICT MEET GREAT SUCCESS

Various Phases of Cooperative Education Work Discussed at Curdsville

In spite of the inclement weather more than 150 registered at the Farmville District meeting of the Cooperative Education Association, held at Curdsville High School, April 7. The general meeting began at 10 o'clock with the song "America." Devotional exercises were conducted by P. F. Jones, superintendent of Buckingham school. The welcome to the community leagues was given by Mrs. C. C. Harvey of Curdsville. Robert Ranson of Curdsville gave the welcome to the Junior League. The response was given by Velma Miner of Cumberland. Dr. J. L. Jarman, president of Farmville S. T. C. gave an address.

At the Junior meeting, Velma Miner, district chairman, presided. Miss Frieda Koontz, state junior league secretary directed the program. Good reports were given from the leagues. There was a good poster exhibit from Cumberland and Buckingham.

At the meeting of the Community League section C. C. Jenkins and Miss Mary Richardson presided. Mr. Painter of the State Department of Public Welfare made an address. J. H. Montgomery made a talk on the record made by the district last year and suggested improvements of that for the next year. A talk on the value of a league having definite objectives and a definite calendar of programs for monthly meetings was made by Mrs. R. T. Hailey of Ontario. A talk on the report of the objectives committee; of better homes, child health day, and rural church Sunday, was given by Miss Ida Williams of Phenix, Va.

The officers for the community league for next year were elected as follows: District chairman, Carlton C. Jenkins; vice-chairman, Miss Mary Richardson, Charlotte C. H.; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. C. S. Phillips, Cumberland.

The meeting next year will be at John Randolph High, Cumberland county.

Intercollegiate

Depauw University co-eds were discovered to be violating the Indiana State Law, which reads that it shall be unlawful for persons not members of a secret society or similar organization to wear the badge or emblem of that society.—Salemite.

Smith College has placed a ban on automobiles, and as a result there are now over 200 bicycles being used by students on the campus.

At the Universiyt of Cambridge students who are expelled from the institution are given a mock funeral as they leave.—Salemite.

A co-ed at Butler University owns a bull pup which follows her to classes.

A field trip, calling for more than 2,000 miles of travel to the most interesting biological regions of West Virginia, will be taken this summer by the "roaming scientists" of West Virginia University, consisting of students interested in biology and zoology.—Spectator.

Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES

WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP

AND LEATHER USED

KAPPA DELTA PI RECEPTION GIVEN COMING HERE

The Beta Epsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Pi will entertain this evening at a formal reception in the Student Building, the faculty, and those Freshmen and Sophomores whose grades fall in the upper quartile of the student body. The reception is an annual affair sponsored by the fraternity, the purpose of which is to foster a high standard of scholarship in the student body.

The students receiving the honor of initiation were:

Freshmen: Nancy Byrd Baylor, Virginia Halliman Brinkley, Elizabeth Burger, Alice Frances Rowell, Grace Warren Rowell, Edith St. Claire Shanks, Clara Elizabeth Sizemore.

Sophomores: Frances Elizabeth Armistead, E. Winston Cobb, Carrie Hardaway De Shazo, Janie Dodson, Dorothy Helen Ford, Sarah Maybelle James, Esther Florence Kutz, Marguerite Massey, Mary Elizabeth Mayo, Mary Thomas Rawls, Gay Athena Richardson, Mary Elizabeth Swift, Juanita Williams, W. Evelyn West.

"Halt!" shouted the general of the Red Ant army, upon meeting an Austin. "Stand at attention and salute your new commander."

FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART

We would like to have your orders

—for—

DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS

Canada Drug Co.

Farmville, Virginia

Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

PRAYERS CONDUCTED BY EACH CLASS

The programs for prayers for the month have been turned over to the four classes. Then Senior class gave us interesting and practical programs last week. Mabel Gregory discussed "Friendship with Jesus." Virginia Robertson showed us that we should not have grumbled because of the rain during the holidays for this rain was bringing us the beautiful things of the spring time. Florence Gregory in her talk "Christ in Our Recreation" raised this question—Does your recreation make temptation harder to resist? Catherine McAllister ended senior week of prayers with a short talk on the uselessness of worry. It is hoped that each class will bring messages that will reach each member of the student body.

C. E. CHAPPELL COMPANY

Stationery, Blank Books and School Supplies

Cigars, cigarettes and soda

Main Street

FARMVILLE VIRGINIA

SCHEMMEL

Conservatory of Music

Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

GRADUATION DRESSES HERE!!

The Buyer of the

NEW YORK DRESS STORE

in Paulett Bldg, next to Southside Drug Store

has just returned with a

NEW ARRIVAL OF LOVELY DRESSES

Suitable for Graduation

Davidson's

HOUSE OF QUALITY

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHERE QUALITY MEETS PRICE

Farmville's Best Department Store

Kerami Coats Reduced to $5.85

Lovely Spring Coats priced $9.95 to $19.50

New snow flecked suits $5.95 and $9.95

lapin trimmed

$1.50 full fashion hose, special 98c

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Ray: "You sell anti-knock gas?"
Attendant: "Yes, sir."
Ray: "Let me have a pint. I want to rub some on my girl's knees."

At the Play.

"Empty" Rawls: "I shall have to ask you to leave if you insist on hissing the players, miss."
Miss: "Hissing? I-I w-w-was s-s-simply s-s-saying that the s-s-sing was s-s-superb."

Willie: "Pa, what is an illiterate?"
Pa: "A person who has sense enough not to read or write."

"How you getting on wid youh 'rithmetic, Lou?" z
"Well, I done learned to add up de aughts, but de figgers bodder me."

Remember, a dimple is a bump turned inside out.

One to Get Ready and Two to Go.

Mr. Stone: "Why does a traffic cop blow his whistle twice?"
Henry: "I don't know."
Mr. Stone: "To let the Scotchman start his motor."

Modernized Jingle Bells.

Blow that horn; blow that horn.
Jump upon the gas.
Oh, what red-hot fun it is, another car to pass.
Roaring down a concrete road, the surface sure and fine.
Give her all that's coming, kid, we're touching eighty-nine.

"Mary Alice seems to have some ability in her head."
Frances Parker: "Yeah, I've seen her wag her ears."

Teacher (in geography): "Now stand facing the north. What have you on your right?"
The Kid Who Didn't Study: "A thumb and four fingers."

Junior Pardner to Stenographer: "Doing anything Sunday afternoon, Miss Joyce?"
Stenog (hopefully): "Not a thing"
Junior Partner: "Well, try to be on time Monday morning."

He: " It sure is good to be dancing again."
She: "Yes, I suppose there is nothing like the feel of a good toe under your foot again."

Mother: "Do you thing that chorus girl you brought home is the sort you should bring home and introduce to me and your sisters?"
Son: "Sure. I'd hate to trust the old man with her."

I'll bet I make a date with that blonde before dinner."
"There are five things that say you won't."
"What are they?"
"A husband and four kids."

"Make that ham and eggs order pork chops."
"Sorry, but the cook's too busy to do any tricks right now."

He: "Will you pet before 21?"
She: "Yes, but it more fun in private."
"Give me one sentence using the word 'judicious'."
"Well, ham is not one of the Jew dishes."

TWO PRESIDENTS ATTEND CONFERENCE

Continued from page one

attitude to assume on the part of a council: the advisability or unadvisability of withdrawal; the constructive work of "practising by the case"; the advisability of permanent or fixed punishments, and others. These discussions took place Thursday morning. Thursday afternoon Dr. A. O .Bowden, president of State Teachers College, New Mexico, delivered an address on "The Growing Possibilities of Student Government." Among his points the most outstanding was that of building up in a college "cold cooperation", a term applied to cooperation in an institution where everyone is working together for the good of the institution and not because of some personal feeling toward its leaders. Following this discussion came a group of discussions led by retiring student presidents as follows:

1. Co-Educational Problems—Katherine Lam.

2. Dormitory Problems—Julia MacDonald. Brenan.

3. Honor Systems—Jessie Pollard, Hollins.

4. Open Forums—Sybil Brame, of Blue Mountain College.

On Friday, Miss Margaret Peck, secretary of the Y. W. C. A. staff at University of Texas, delivered a most instructive address on "The Women and Her Place in the World Today." She began her address by tracing the development of the place woman has held in the world since early Greece and Rome. Her conclusion brought us to the present woman of careers, housewives, and the leader of standards in the world today. The greatest thing in a woman's place in the world today is that she alone can, through love of mankind, by living with clean hands and a pure heart, lead a life of love and intelligence and so hold high the standards of man. Miss Peck said that there was seven things which were woman's duty and pleasure, namely:

1. To gain appreciation of her heritage (to know what our fore-mothers have done to place us where we are).

2. To learn best how to enter into that place.

3. To meet problems by solving them.

4. To be aware of our following.

5. To become aware of unfair conditions about us (legislations, wages, etc.)

6. To stimulate international thought.

7. To marry with clean hands and a pure heart—not as a retreat from the world, but as a part of it.

Following her address another series of group discussions followed:

1. Upperclassmen and their responsibilities, Adele Hutchinson, of Farmville.

2. Freshman orientation, Ruth Scott, of Alabama College.

3. Executive Problems, Ethel Stuckey, of Converse.

A vote of appreciation and thanks is extended to Baylor College for their delightful entertainment of their guests in the form of swimming and a fish fry; an April fool pajama party; a ride through the surrounding country; and a most enjoyable formal Mexican dinner.

At the Eaco Theatre Week of April 20-25

MONDAY—Clara Bow in "No Limit," supported by Norman Foster, Stuart Erwin and Harry Green. Here's a surprise for you. A new Clara Bow, the dramatic sensation of 1931. A poor little girl transported to a paradise of penthouse apartments, rich clothes, sparkling jewels, awakens to find her dreams of happiness tumbled about her feet. This picture is winning universal acclaim and you will like it. For one day only. Also Charlie Chase Comedy.

TUESDAY — Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery in "Untamed." Brought back by popular request.

REVERY AND VOLLEYBALL CLASS GAMES APRIL 20-21

I looked down from my spectators seat into the pit below—the gym floor—smooth and lined. Figures were moving lithely—figures in red and white weaving in and out among a group of green and whites, forming queer patterns which changed within a second.

A ball was being slapped back and forth in rapid fashion, hurled into space, sometimes passed with a leathery sound or bounced successfully against the floor. Sounds of unconscious satisfaction—bated breaths—were audible above the echo of soft-soled shoes. A shrill whistle from the referee signalled the scattered group. My eyes left the players and traveled around the balcony taking in the scattered spectators who lolled with a semi-tolerant air and gazed nonchalantly on the proceedings below. There was no loud cheering—no flamboyant laughter and gaiety or singing for the girls who were fighting to bring victory to their colors!

The vision changed. I saw the balcony crowded with girls edged around the railing—leaning, bending, cheering excitedly with every yell an urge to win! Class spirit, school spirit merged into one; loyalty rang out on the notes of every song, and the teams caught up the rhythm with the fast beatings of their hearts.

The class games will be played next Monday night and the championship game will be played Tuesday night. The classes have been working hard and have unusually good teams; but they need your support so come out and help them win. You would be surprised at the tense excitement these games will cause. Will the Red and Whites be victorious or will the Green and Whites add another 10 points to their unbroken record? Cheer your team to victory!

The picture that made Montgomery famous. Supported by Ernest Torrence, John Miljan and Eddie Nugent. An amazing romance, sweeping you from South American jungles to the gilded haunts of New York society. Joan as the firey jungle girl; then as a gorgeous society beauty who stalks her man like a jungle tiger. Considered by many the best picture Joan Crawford ever made. For one day only.

WED. and THURS.—"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," with Charlotte Greenwood, Buster Keaton, Cliff Edwards and Reginald Denny. Here is the best farce comedy ever presented in Farmville. The critics are raving over it and runs have been extended in all large cities. When you witness the love scenes between long-legged Charlotte Greenwood and dumb Buster Keaton, if you don't lose your dignity, then you had better see a doctor. A dozen maidens waiting for his cave-man wooing—and he had never kised a girl. Pronounced the funniest picture ever made, so be prepared for the treat of your life. Also "The Lone Defender," chapter 9, with Rin-Tin-Tin, the greatest dog of the screen, and a comic Terrytoon.

FRI. and SAT.—Ruth Chatterton in "Unfaithful," supported by Paul Lukas and a great cast. A story that takes every advantage of Ruth Chatterton's genius. A story that is creating a sensation. While not suitable for children, it is story of a broken heart, of a bride who learns of her husband's unfaithfulness, and who, herself, becomes the talk of the country by her rash living and loving . Miss Chatterton is supreme as the woman forced to choose between love and reputation. She breaks every vow to remain true to love. Every woman who has ever loved will understand this drama of a great love. Also Fox News and 2-reel comedy.

ANNOUNCES MEMBERS

Beta Epsilon chapter of Kappa Delta Pi announces the following new pledges:

Anne Watkins Rice
Annie May Davis

ATHLETIC COUNCIL PROPOSES CHANGES

In view of the fact that it has been possible heretofore for one girl to win a great many points in field day with little effort, compared with the long practice for teams, the Athletic Council proposes the following changes in the points awarded on field day:

1. That the number of points awarded high point winner be changed from 100 to 50.

2. That the number of points awarded a person breaking the college record in any event be changed from 50 to 25.

The field day points, with these changes, would then be:

1. First place in any individual event, 25.

2. Second place in any individual event, 15.

3. Third place in any individual event, 10.

4. First place in relay, 10.

5. Second place in relay, 5.

6. Breaking the college record in any event, 25.

7. First place in meet, 50.

In addition, the Council proposes that the percentage of attendance required at practice to get points to be changed from 60 to 50.

The students will vote on these changes at the next student body meeting.

"THE YELLOW JACKET" IS A BIG SUCCESS

Continued from page one

funniness of Adele Hutchinson, as property man, and the naturalness of Margaret Banks, as the Daffodil. Adele was indeed funny, as she drank from the spout of the teapot, ate rice with chop sticks, and smoked, seeming to be thoroughly bored.

Margaret Banks was great. Her part siuted her exactly, especially when she said, "I'm glad I still have a head to bump", and "Naked? Naked? You witness the indelicacy of this young man's expression."

Helen Warren, as the evil father-in-law, was certainly exceedingly wicked. She was noticeably good as the evid monster, the fox spirit, in the third act.

There were several others who were outstandingly good: Loulie Millner, the farmer; Julia Martin, the spider; Ruth Ford, the philosopher; Jenilee Knight, the nurse; Frances Martin, the dancing girl; but then that is almost the entire cast, practically all of whom proved themselves efficient.

Evelyn Stephenson is to be congratulated on the costumes; Myra Costen, on the properties; and Miss Wheeler is to be highly congratulated on the entire production. "The Yellow Jacket" is undoubtedly one of the most remarkable plays presented here in many years.

E. T. C. HOLDS FIRST NEW MEMBER MEETING

On Monday night in the Student Building lounge the Elementary Teachers Club held its first meeting with the new members, who are the following:

Gertrude Baxter
Louise Blayton
Nancy DeBerry
Louise Driscoll
Catherine Ellison
Margaret Fisher
Ruth Floyd
Courtney Godsey
Hazel Halloway
Evelyn Jones
Irene Meador
Louise Munt
Esther Parks
Mary Pearson
Catherine Ritter
Elsie Stables
Margaret Stiff
Bernice Rives
Carolyn Cogbill
Adele Hutchinson

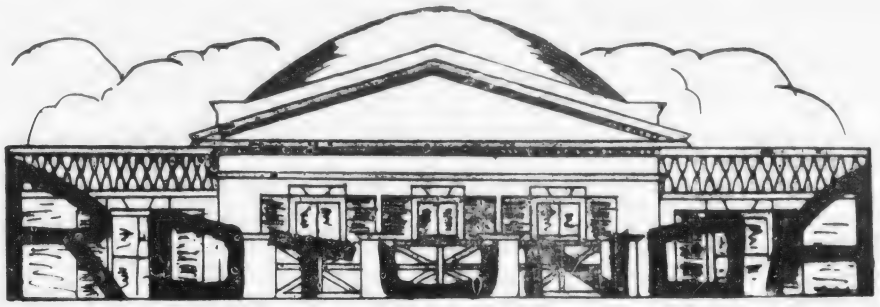
These were welcomed into the club by the president, Jane Brown. Miss Mary Pierce gave a short summary of the purpose of the club followed by the reading of the constitution by Catherine McAllister

Southside DrugStore
Direct Eastman Kodak Agency
(Fresh Films)
Let Us Develop
YOUR FILMS
ONE DAY SERVICE
Complete Line GREETING CARDS
Just One Block from Campus

Dressmaking
Dressmaking, Tailoring, Attiring and Remodeling. Prices reasonable. Work guaranteed.
MRS. SCHWARTZ
306 Pine Street.

FOR THE LATEST IN
Sheet Music, Costume Jewelry, Watches, Watch Bracelets and Musical Instruments
GO TO
Lynn's Jewelry Store
MAIN STREET

Gray's Drug Store
QUALITY—PRICE—SERVICE
Come in and Get Acquainted
We're Glad to Have You With Us
Farmville, Virginia



Shannon's
Is Headquarters for the Best
SANDWICHES
—and—
DRINKS
—in—
FARMVILLE!

McIntosh Drug Store
Farmville, Va.
"Drugs and Drinks"
DOWNTOWN SECTION

G. F. Butcher & Co.
The Convenient Store
FOR GOOD
THINGS TO
EAT AND DRINK

WE INVITE CHARGE ACCOUNTS
of the
STATE TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENTS
NEW YORK DRESS STORE
MAIN STREET
Next to Southside Drug Co.

STUDENT COUNCIL INSTALLATION NEXT TUESDAY

HELP MAKE MAY DAY A BIG SUCCESS

Vol. XI. THE ROTUNDA, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 22, 1931 No. 27

Model Assembly of League of Nations Held at R.-M.

Farmville As Italy Is Represented By Mabel Barksdale In Gathering

DELEGATES OF ALL COUNTRIES

Farmville S. T. C. was represented in the Model Assembly of League of Nations, held at Randolph-Macon Woman's College on April 17, by Mabel Barksdale. This assembly was sponsored by the International Relations Club.

Proceding in exactly the same manner the League proceeds at its regular meetings, the Model Assembly had represntativs from various colleges and the International Relations Club to represent the different countries belonging to the League. There was a president, a secretary general, a secretariat, a translator. The official language was English which was immediately given in French by the translator.

After the opening speech of the president of the assembly representing Roumania, its translation into French, the adoption of the agenda and appointment of committees of speeches were given from six countries, France, Great Britian, Japan, Germany, Italy, and Uruguay. France was represented by the student from Washington and Lee, Great Britian by William and Mary, Japan by Sweet Briar, Germany by Hollins, Italy by Miss Mabel Barksdale from Farmville, and Uruguay by Miss Corinne Johnson of the Debating Council of R. M. W. C.

The three non- permanent mem-

Continued on last page

Ruth Nichols, Rye,N.Y.,Aviatrix Gets Record

Detroit, April 17—Ruth Nichols, Rye, N. Y., aviatrix, set a new speed record for women over a three kilometer course here this morning, with a speed of 210.685 miles per hour. Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam held the previous record of 181.157 miles an hour.

Taking off from the Grosse Isle airport at 6:50 A. M., to avoid crosswinds forcast for later in the day, Miss Nichols, flying the Lockheed-Vega plane in which she set the women's altitude record last month, sped over an official course laid out near the flying field.

VIRGINIA SOCIAL SERVICE ASSOCIATION TO MEET

The sixth annual meeting of the Virginia Social Science Association will be held in Farmville on May 1 and 2 when the organization will be the guest of the State Teachers College and Hampden-Sydney College. The major theme about which discussion will be centered at the meeting is, "Industrialism and Rural Life."

The Virginia Social Science is the professional association of all teachers in the fields of economics, sociology, history, political science, and geography. In addition to teachers

Continued from page three

FROSH CHOSE MARTHA KELLO NEXT PRESIDENT

The Freshmen assembled on Wednesday night and chose to lead in their Sophomore year, Martha Kello, one prominent in their midst already. In putting their trust and faith in Martha, they retain confidence that their class will make strides and uphold the spirit of the Red and White. Martha has served well as president of the Freshman Comission and has taken an active part in all class activities.

Sue Yeaman, who has already served S. T. C. in many ways, was chosen to serve as vice-president. Versed in handling class undertakings from frequent participation in them this officer is considered by all capable and well-fitted to hold her office. Elizabeth Kelley will capably fill the office of secretary while Doreen Smith will retrace her own invaluable and well placed footsteps as treasurer.

Helen Rose Cunningham and Dorothy Prescott are the representatives chosen by the class for the student council. This recognition came as a reward for their active and meritorious work as freshmen.

With their class in the hands of such capable and worthy girls, the Freshmen of today who are tomorrow's Sophomores, stand with the eyes of the school upon them watching for big things.

HALL PRESIDENTS FOR NEXT YEAR ELECTED MONDAY AND TUESDAY

At polls on each hall, the hall presidents for next year were elected last Monday and Tuesday. The hall presidents in the cottages will hold their offices the rest of this school term, and new ones will be elected next fall.

The work of the hall presidents has made this organization one of the most worthwhile in school.

The officers for next year according to halls are as follows:

Mary Arthur Billups, Student Building.
Catherine Jones, Annex.
Alice Moore, Gymn Hall
Mildred Hancock, East Main
Joyce Sturm, West Main
Goldie Bugg, Whitehouse Hall
Anne Gibson, Library Hall
Lucy Fitzgerald, Lucy Ann Lane, Velma Petty, New Building.

MAY DAY DATE IS SET FOR MAY 2

The annual May Day festival will be held this year on May 2 at 4 p. m. at Longwood. The theme of the May Day this year is the story of the Fairy Queen by Spenser.

The May Day committee and the girls are working very hard on the dances. The court dresses are well under way, and they show typical signs of being a delightful copy of the Elizabethan dresses of Spencer's period.

Reservations for rooms are being made by parents and friends at the Weyanoke Hotel now. A large and enthusiastic crowd is expected this year.

The new amphitheatre will be a scene of beauty and grace Saturday, May 2.

The festival will be reprstative of the student body since so many of the students take part.

SENIOR CLASS PRESIDENT OF '32

MISS HENRIETTA CORNWELL

Senior Class of 1932 Elects Its Officers

Girls Of Ability Are Chosen To Carry On Work For Next Year

The Senior Class of '32 elected its officers for the coming year on April 17. They are: president, Henrietta Cornwell; vice-president, Ruth Hunt; secretary, Nancy Shaner; treasurer, Cleo Quisenberry; student council representatives, Virginia Bledsoe and Elizabeth McCauley; student standards committee representatives, Nan Mears and Louise Johnson; class council, Gwendolyn Daniel.

The new president, Henrietta Cornwell, had been elected at a previous meeting and presided at the meeting Friday night. She showed at this meeting that she was capable of taking the office. It is an office which requires poise, executive ability, originality, alertness and dramatic ability. Especially at the end of the senior year, the senior class president has a position to fill which requires these qualities and more. All during the year, the guidance and advice of the senior class president are sought by the other classes. When electing her, the seniors placed the leadership of their last class school year in her hands. It is an office high and respected. In Henrietta Cornwell lie the qualities which will enable her to succeed in it. Her activity for the past three years has been outstanding. By a consensus of opinion she seemed the logical one for the Senior Class president of '32.

The vice-president, Ruth Hunt, has also been very active in her three

Continued on last page

CLASSES TO CONTEST IN DEBATE SOON IN AUDITORIUM

Resolved: "That Uncle Sam needs a wife" is the interesting and debatable question which will hold the stand of argument in sway in a series of inter-class debates to be held in the near future. These semi-finals will be held Monday at 7 o'clock in the auditorium and will furnish another color contest between the Green and White and the Red and White. No less interesting and exciting than athletic clashes will be these verbal combats. The participants and dates of debate will be announced later.

MARGARET GATHRIGHT IS JUNIOR PRESIDENT

The class of '33 last Thursday night chose Margaret Gathright to lead them in the coming schol year. In this leader whom they chose the Sophomores foresaw a girl inspired with the ideals of school and class spirit who would give her best to help maintain their class standards and easily command their love and respect. Her participation and interest in class activities furnish adequate proof that they have chosen wisely Alice Moore, Sophomore class cheer leader, and one of the most outstanding girls for the past two years in the ranks of the Sophomores has heard expressed the confidence and appreciation of her class in its unanimous election of her as vice-president. Margaret Young will serve as secretary while Henrietta Taylor will fill the capacity of treasurer. The capability and spirit of both these girls are realized by their class.

Harriet Moomaw and Helen Cover, both prominent members of the Sophomore Class will be the coming Junior representatives to the Student Council.

Miss Iler was for the second time in succession unanimously re-elected class man for these green and whites of '33. This fact speaks for itself and attempts to express something of the esteem in which Miss Iler is held by this class and their appreciation of all she has done for them.

BUFFALO TEACHERS COLLEGE STUDENT WINS TRIP TO EUROPE

Mildred Hedin, 19-year-old junior in the State Teachers College at Buffalo, N. Y., has won a trip to Europe for her thesis which has just been awarded first prize in the third national contest on the League of Nations for Teachers Colleges and Normal Schools. Her subject was "A Reveiw of Major World Problems and Events of the Past Six Months, Their Relation to the League of Nations, and Suggestions for Presentation to Students." The contest was held under the auspices of the educational committee of the League of Nations Associaiton, 6 Etst 39th St., New York, and the prize winners have just been announced by Dr. Thomas Alexander, of Teachers Col-

Continued on last page

"CROSS-ROADS STORE" TO BE GIVEN IN CUMBERLAND

On Friday night the cast of "The Crossroads Store" accompanied by a portion of the Sophomore orchestra will journey to Cumberland for the repetition of this play initially presented to the student body of S. T. C. in the auditorium of that institution.

It is hoped that the play will draw a similar audience in size and appreciativeness to that one which witnessed its performance in the State Teachers College. Rehearsals & general "oiling up" are now in order and the success of the former presentation is anticipated by the cast and hoped for by its supporters.

The Interfraternity Council at Alabama Polytechnic Institue has decided to send each prospective freshman, before he enters college, a booklet giving a brief history of the fraternities in the council, their officers, and the relative expense of belonging to them.

The Choral Club Attends Festival In Charlottesv'le

Professor Alfred P. Strick And Miss Irene Leake Take Parts In Program

MARY BALDWIN WINS FIRST

The S. T. C. Choral Club went to Charlottesville last Thursday to attend the annual Choral Festival held at the University of Virginia under the auspices of the Virginia Federation of Music. The festival was attended by the states outstanding musicians and by representatives from all the principle colleges.

The Choral Club entered the choral contest which was held on Friday morning in Cabell Hall. Other colleges which entered the contest were.

Mary Baldwin
Harrisonburg
East Radford
Fredericksburg

The numbers which were sung by the clubs were:

O Savios Sweet ..... Bach
I Dream of Jeanne .. Stephen Foster
After ..... Clough-Leighter

Mary Baldwin College was awarded first place in the contest. Harrisonburg second and Farmville third.

After the contest the clubs were guests at a luncheon given by the Federation of Music.

Mr. Strick delivered a convention address on Wednesday. At the luncheon on Wednesday the Hampden-Sydney Glee Club sang the chorus to "Sun of My Soul" rendered by Miss Irene Leake. The song was composed by Mr. Strick.

Plans have been made to hold the festival next year in Richmond.

Miss Mary Talks At Meeting of Student Body

Miss Mary White Cox spoke to the students last night in Student Building. She talked about school regulations, plans of the year, students setting examples for others. She spoke of the necessity for always keeping scholastically up to part and of the approaching commencement. She gave sound advice to the students as a whole body.

After this, the rgular business of the meeting was discussed. The installation of Council officersfi set for last night, was announced to be next Tuesday night. The student body and faculty is invited to attend this service held in the College auditorium at 6:45 o'clock, April 28.

SIGMA PI RHO ANNOUNCES MEMBERS

Sigma Pi Rho, honor society in Latin, announces the following new members:

Frances Armistead
Mary Connally
Lois Cox
Frances Crawford
Mary Elizabeth Mayo
Martha Sanders
Josephine Smith
Mary Swift
Lillian Womack

THE ROTUNDA

Newspaper — National Scholastic Press Association — Member

Member Southern Inter-Collegiate Newspaper Association
Member Intercollegiate Press Association of Virginia

Published Weekly by Students of the State Teachers College, Farmville, Virginia

Entered as 2nd class matter March 1st, 1921, at the Post Office of Farmville, Virginia, under Act of March 3, 1879.

Subscription, $1.50 per year

ROTUNDA STAFF

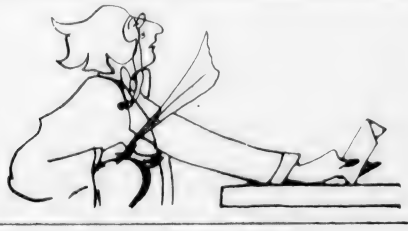
Editor-in-Chief ..... JESSIE SMITH, '31
Associate Editor ..... LOUISE ELLIOTT, '32

Board of Editors

News Editor ..... MARTHA MOORE, '33
Literary Editor ..... MARTHA ANN LAING, '31
Athletic Editor ..... FRANCES EDWARDS, '32
World News Editor ..... SARA BAKER, '31
Intercollegiate Editor ..... MARY DIEHL, '34
Social Editor ..... JANE ROYALL, '33
Art Editor ..... SARAH WILLS, '33
Feature Editor ..... LOULIE MILNER, '32
Humorous Editor ..... VIRGINIA WITT, '33
Aumnae Editor ..... MISS CARRIE B. TALIAFERRO

Reporters

ANNIE DENIT, '31 — ANNE JOHNSON, '33
ISABELLE JONES, '33 — DOT SNEDEGAR, '33
CLARA McALLISTER, '31 — HAZEL HALLOWAY, '32
DOREEN SMITH, '34



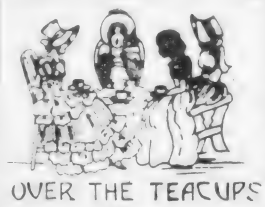
Proof Reader ..... WINSTON COBB, '33
Associate Proof Reader ..... MARY THOMAS RAWLS, '33

Managers

Business Manager ..... DOT GOODLOE, '33
Assistant Business Manager ..... HENRIETTA CORNWELL, '32
Circulation Manager ..... ELLA CAROLL, '31
Assistant Circulation Manager ..... MILDRED MADDREY, '31

The Rotunda invites letters of comment, criticism, and suggestions from its readers upon its manner of presenting and treating them. A letter, to receive consideration, must contain the name and address of the writer. These will not be published if the writer objects to the publication.

All matters of business should be addressed to the Business Manager, and all other matter should come to the Editor-in-Chief. Complaints from subscribers as regards irregularities in the delivery of The Rotunda, will be appreciated.



Cooperation in May Day

For the past year and the past years for some of us we have found that cooperation is the keynote of our school activities. This watchword was instilled in us by our president, Dr. J. L. Jarman, who believes that without cooperation we cannot accomplish the most in schol life or in life after school.

There are so many people in our May Day that we must realize that we will have to cooperate with our authorities—who in this instance will be the girls who head the dances. To give each group time to call a meeting at some time, the dances must be scheduled. If that schedule doesn't suit you, remember that the time that does suit you may suit no one else. Try to adjust your work so that you may be at practice each time in order that we can make this the biggest and prettiest May Day ever seen at S. T. C.

Each one of us is going to accept with pleasure the exclamation of pleasure and joy that our May Day will give people, so we should also accept the practice hour set by the committee and be there each time to help make our dance more perfect.

We need cooperation for perfection, and we ask each one of the entire Student Body to back the practice for May Day and we will see a festival we all will be proud of.

OVER THE TEACUPS

Sh-s-sh! He's looking at us. Wait a minute.

What did you say just now? You're going home today. Oh—you didn't know the way. Well, I can't hear—what did you say? Write it.

What did the woman say? Oh yes, she said to come see her tomorrow that the dress was difficult to make. I think they will be pretty, the May Day dresses, don't you? I can't wait. And to think, it is only two weeks off. Too much! And then June. That runs through my mind all the time. Did you see the girls ready to go to Charlottesville last week? They looked precious. I guess we will be well represented.

How 'bout the government for next year, by the way? Cover, well luck to her; and Moomaw and Prescott and so on. More power to them and "may all their troubles be little ones"—sincerely, I mean it.

Can you get over some of these people who are in love—Polly White, Sargeant, Trimyer, and even Munt. Well, that's only a suggestion—not to mention my august self among the afflicted. Why be in love? That's no thing for teachers to do—They are teachers to be not brides to be— But things aren't always as they seem.

I wonder what Jessie Smith will do next year. None of my business did you say? Well, I'll keep on wondering then—you can't stop that anymore than you can stop Martha Walters from saying "Not bad—not bad."

He's looking at me again. I wonder why. I haven't said a word, have I? Go down town with me after class. Nothing, just let's go see who's there.

MONOTONY

"Variety is the spice of life" they say. We begin to doubt that variety exists, at least at S. T. C., at present, and believe it would be a welcomed flavor. Why?

You ask someone to hand you a book—O. K. You ask for the bread at the table—O. K. You appoint a girl chairman of a committee—O. K. You inquire as to the condition of a broken arm—O. K. You inform a girl she has a phone call—O. K.

The sameness of it; the insincerity, the monotony. Why can't we be masters of our language and use it once in a while?

The beauty of the sunset is "Not Bad". A latest style of evening gown is "Not bad."—An invitation for a week-end is "Not bad." A touching awe inspiring scene is "Not bad." Even the most priceless jewels are "Not bad."

Just what does "Not bad" mean? Anything that isn't bad is evidently "Not bad", but it does not follow that because it is not bad that it is exceptionally good. The expression just pops out, the same for any occasion. We begin to sound like illiterate, ignorant people who answer to everything Uh-hu.

Have we no pride, no self respect? We have our lives, our souls, and our bodies, the temples of our souls. Can't we make those temples beautiful—sending out melodious full notes as from a great organ to play upon the chords of other hearts and bring a response of praise and delight. Do we want to sound always like the tum, tum of a drum without the delicate quivering notes of the violin? Can't we vary our tune that we will not wear out the strings upon which we play?

Perhaps upon reading this you will say, well, we answer—"you would."

1,200 students of Missouri University participated recently in an All-Sports Night.

Much Ado 'Bout Nothin'

People are judged by what they finish and not by what they attempt.

We do lots of things because "it has been done;" but that doesn't justify it.

Some people around here are getting awfully big hearted about giving away opinions, but they shouldn't forget that a false opinion is of the greatest mischief!

The tongue is the key of the heart! Guard it well, or someone will pick it.

Unfortunately, ability seems to win only the approval of true people, and luck that of the crowd.

A girl who likes to be seen in something nobody else wears should try cotton stockings.

A good leader has succeeded in establishing her own self government.

"To rule without regard, to urge without reason, and to laugh immoderately, are manifest signs of ignorance.

It's so easy not to remember that it's harder to keep a friend than to get one.

"Before you decide, understand."

Just when people were learning to keep their fingers out of other people's business, along came the dial telephone!

It's a great life if you don't "weekend!"

Some girls will let a fool kiss them—others let a kiss fool them!

THREE YEARS AGO TODAY

Mary Christian Royall and Frances Willis attended the thirteenth annual conference of the Southern Intercollegiate Association of Student Government which met at Randolph-Macon College in Lynchburg.

The Debate Club gave a very amusing faculty take-off in three acts.

The Joan Circle of Alpha Delta Rho celebrated its third Founders Day.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

A question often debated informally was made the subject of a recent formal debate at McGill University. It is "Resolved That It Is Better to be Drunk Than to be In Love."

The Student Senate of Ohio State University has endorsed a plan to have seniors grade their instructors at the end of the year. This method should prove highly successful in determining the instructor's status, providing an element of fairness prevails in grading him on his merits and not altogether on his personality.

American campuses support 38 daily college newspapers with a total paid circulation of 182,000. More than five-hundred institutions have weekly or sime-weekly papers. At least twenty-five thousand collegians work on the staffs of student newspapers.

An old-fashioned Easter egg hunt was given the faculty of Emory Law School by law students. Easter rabbits and hidden eggs were the main attraction, and the prize for the most eggs found was two dollars in nickels This is an annual event at Emory.

SPRING IS HERE

Dear Mother Nature looks down with her eyes,
The eyes that no longer are grey
But are beautiful blue like the heavenly skies,
And she gives us new life with each day.

Then from her eyes that are happy and kind
Shines a radiance akin to the sun.
And our hearts fill with warmth for the life that we find
Is so rightly and happily begun.

Ah! Mother Nature is robed in a gown
That is velvety green like the grass
And beside the small folds that like brooks rippling down
Are the flowers we would try to surpass.

From her heart that is built like the great friendly trees
She nestles the birds of the air.
And sends us her love by the sweet perfumed breeze
A love that is lasting and rare.

Then we wonder ourselves why we feel as we do
Why we love those both far and near?
Mother Nature knows why — she knows all that is true
She says its because spring is here.

E. K.

L'UNIVERSITE

The blossoms have come out
On Heidelberg
To shed their pearly petals
Upon the emerald waters
Where Father Rhine's son,
The Treckar flows
In all serenity and peace
Beneath the shadows
Of the ancient walls
Where once the Black Eagles
Built their nests—
Where now is only heard
The joyful echoes
Of student's laughter, gay
And happy songs.

V. P. L.

IN BERMUDA

Race over the coral sands with me
To rest at last in the shady lea
Of the Natural Arch.

To the rushing waves we'll lie and listen
And watch the spray in the sunlight glisten
As the breakers recede.

Will swim towards the rays and see the fish
That dart away as the waters swish
When we swiftly swim by.

Sea gulls will cry as we scatter their prey
For in the deep sea forever seek they
Choice morsels for repast.

Here we'll find ourselves at peace at last
As we bask in the miracle—immensely vast!
Of Nature's beauty!

M. von S. '32

VESUVIUS

Swan's breast dyed
By sun's parting breath
Poised in flight ever over
The homeland's nest—
Napoli's slumbering dragon
With her vapor cloud
Her all-consuming
Onward flame.

V. P. L.

SOCIALS

The following girls attended the V. M. I. or W. L. dances at Lexington this week-end: Martha Moore, Corine Mosby, Vernie Oden, Katheryn Waters, Alice Covington, Helen Cover, Renie Greaves, Jacque Lee, Jerry Lee, Martha Sanders, Virginia Sargeant, Martha Von Schilling, Frances Rawlings, and Alice Steidtmann.

• • •

Ann Davis, Margaret Priest, and Dorothy Leonard were in Richmond this week-end.

• • •

Evelyn Stephenson, Virginia Bledsoe, and Harriett Branch were in Charlottesville this week-end.

• • •

Sarah Wills and Elsie Bolton were in Roanoke this week-end.

• • •

Grace Virginia Woodhouse and Margaret Jack spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

• • •

Polly White, Margaret Faris, and Julia Faris, with Margaret Banks, as her guest, were in Red Hills this week-end.

• • •

Elsie Burgess visited Nancy Clement in Greensboro, N. C., this week-end.

• • •

Dot Goodloe visited in Charlottesville this week-end.

• • •

Loulie Millner was at her home in Lynchburg this week-end.

• • •

Frances Ratcliffe was in Richmond this week-end.

• • •

Margaret Gathright, Martha Brothers, Margaret Parker, Kathryn Logan and Virginia Young attended the Easter dances at R.-M. C., Ashland, this week-end.

• • •

Dolly Reed was in Danville this wek-end.

• • •

Mary Alice Young spent the week-end in Lynchburg.

• • •

Ruth Peery and Louise Borum visited in Lynchburg this week-end.

SIGMA SIGMA SIGMA HAS ANNIVERSARY

Alpha Chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma celebrated its thirty-third anniversary at Longwood Monday night, April 20. Among those present, other than active members were Dr. Jarman, Mrs. Samuel Watkins, Mrs. Laing, Mrs. Shelton, Miss Myrtle Grenels, Mrs. Griffith Marchant, Mrs. Elist Barker and Miss Harriet Booker.

The theme of the Parthenon, which was the highest degree of perfection in Grecian art, was carried out in minute details—toasts were given honoring the National Council and commenorating the founders. A miniature Parthenon made with candles was used as an illustration contrasting the growth of Sigma with the stages employed in the building of this impressive and well renounced structure.

Cathedral candles and Australian lilacs added a touch of color to the attractiveness of the table.

. . . . . .

The National Council of Tri Sigma sent purple violets to be placed under the plac in the Rotunda in memory of the Founders.

New Haven, Conn.—Work is to start here this summer on a linguistic atlas of the United States and Canada, under the supervision of Professor Edward Prokosch, of Yale University.

VIRGINIA SOCIAL SERVICE

Continued from page one

its membership includes over two hundred persons, among them doctors, lawyers, business men and newspaper editors who are interested in these fields.

AMONG OUR CAPS AND GOWNS

ALLIE OLIVER

You've heard of people, but seen only a few of them, who always seem to get things done. This is the type who thinks things through, sees issues clearly, does his or her work thoroughly, and when someone else desn't do her work, gets busy and does it for her, quietly and unostentatiously. Such a one rarely gets credit for all she has done. Just such a person is Allie Oliver.

Choosing athletics as her major extra-curricula artivity when a fresh, Allie has steadily been a leader in that field all four years, the culmination of which is the fact that she was elected as most athletic for this year's Vanity Fair. Allie was vice-president of the Athletic Association her junior year, manager of baseball last year, and both manager of hockey and captain of the hockey varsity team this year.

Although she has not held class offices, she is recognized as quite an outstanding member, and her opinions have a great deal of weight, with both her classmates and her schoolmates.

Allie is a member of many school organizations. Alpha Kappa Gamma recognized her when a junior. Allie, we hope you'll grin your way into the world as you've grinned your way into S. T. C.

MARTHA FARIS

To endeavor to tell all of the worthwhile things Martha has done in her four years at S. T. C., would be to write a short volume. Not only has she held outstanding positions in major and minor organizations, but she always wears a smile and has a bost for somebody else.

Martha has served on the Y. W. Cabinet several years. Last year as treasurer and this past year as vice-president, not only is she interested in Y. W. work. This year she has served as president of Pi Kappa Delta and we have heard it said put over a convention in a big way. Recognition of her leadership is marked in the fact that she is an active Alpha Kappa Gamma.

This is "Humane Week," according to the calendar of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and it will be observed all over the country. People are asked to be kind to all dumb animals and to report any cases of cruelty to the society. Posters depicting the helplessness of dumb animals and their friendlines to their masters will be posted.—The Virginian-Pilot.

VARSITY BANQUET HELD WEDNESDAY

The banquet hall of the tea room was artistically decorated in blue and white last Wednesday evening when the annual banquet of the varsity basketball and hockey squads was held. The tables were placed to form a huge A. A.—standing for Athletic Association. Blue and white candles burned in the center, and blue and white place cards were found at each plate.

It seemed incredible that these dainty girls clad in evening gowns, could be the same strong girls who won a name for S. T. C., both in hockey and basketball. Thanks to Miss Iler who teaches them, not only to be able athletes, but also "real girls" in appearance and action. She well deserved the toast which gave true merit to her worth. "She plans our moves and anticipates those of the foe, day after day. She works with us in such a way that work is a joyful play."

Miss Barlow "who advises us remarkably well" is to be thanked as advisor of the Athletic Council. Miss Hatchett, as assistant coach, is to be congratulated upon her excellent work this year. Because they are interested in all the girls of their college, Miss Mary and Dr. Jarman were there, too.

Our varsity teams this year have been unusually successful. This was accomplished as every member of the varsity realizes, through the untiring efforts of Miss Iler and her assistant, Miss Hatchett.

"Now we mustn't forget our troops. Both reserve and those sent to the front.
It was they who did the hard work
Our varsity—faithfully and long
Day after day have they labored,
To the varsity!"

ALUMNAE NEWS

Mrs. Linus W. Kline (Fannie Littleton) visited her sister, Mrs. Joe Lewis, Sr., during the Easter vacation. Mrs. Kline was for several years professor of physics and chemistry at Farmville State Teachers College, then State Female Normal School, and has a large number of friends in the town and in the faculty. While she was here, Miss Couling entertained delightfuly in her honor at afternoon tea. Although Mrs. Kline won notable successes in the field of natural science, she has transferred her interest to another branch of science and now a member of the department of psychology at Skidmore College, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., where her husband is head of that department.

The Literary Digest of April 4 describes a study which Dr. Kline and Dr. Donald A. Laird of Colgate University have been conducting as to the effect of various elements upon sleep and fatigue. They have just concluded a slumber contest between 140 men students of Colgate and 136 girl students of Skidmore to decide the effect of a diet rich in sweets and other carbohydrates. The conclusion reached was that students who consumed a considerable amount of this class of foods fell asleep more quickly, were disturbed very little by dreams, awoke more readily in the morning and started the day with more vigor. Therefore, "There is just as much science as poetry in the expression: 'sweet sleep'."

We would like to have your orders FROM THE BOTTOM OF OUR HEART

—for—

DRUGS, STATIONERY, BEAUTY PREPARATIONS

Canada Drug Co.

Farmville, Virginia

Phone 17 Next to Baldwin's

KAPPA DELTI PI HAS RECEPTION

Kappa Delta Pi held its annual reception for Freshmen and Sophomores in the upper quartile on Wednesday evening, April 15. All the faculty members were invited.

Those in the receiving line were Carolyn Cogbill, president, Dr. Jarman and Miss Jennie Tabb, honorary members, Dr. Wynne, head of education department, Mrs. Wynne, Elizabeth Temple, Pauline Gibb, and Miss Mamie Nichols, active members.

During the evening, Sue Yeaman sang a solo. Ruth Hunt, Elizabeth Antrim, Mildred Maddrey, and Elizabeth Taylor, quartet, sang. Different girls played piano solos.

Electric Shoe Shop

WILL FIX YOUR SHOES WHILE YOU WAIT

BEST WORKMANSHIP AND LEATHER USED

WORLD NEWS

Whalen Returns From Polar Sea.

From the Land of the Midnight Sun and 40 below zero weather, 250 wind-burned vikings ploughed into the New York bay Saturday on the Sir James Clark Ross, one of the biggest whaling vessels in the world. Out-harpooning brave Captain Ahab, who bagged the famed Moby Dick, this crew brought back a catch of 1,444 whales—some little ones measuring but 20 feet; others monsters nearly 100 feet.

Edward Jorgenson was hero of the Saga. He shot single-handed 254 whales, bringing his life-time total to 2,700. Next year the whalers will not go out, as they got an over-supplay this year.—New York Times.

SCHEMMEL Conservatory of Music

Piano, vocal, violin, theory, harmony, aesthetics, etc.

REASONABLE TUITION RATES

STRAYER COLLEGE

721 Thirteenth St., Washington, D. C.

The demand for commercial teachers continues to exceed the supply. This new field offers opportunities unexcelled elsewhere in the teaching profession.

Executive Secretarial Courses qualify normal graduates for select positions as commercial teachers.

Two Hundred Fifteen Colleges and Universities Represented by Annual Enrollment of 1600 Students.

Address Registrar for Catalog

A COLLEGIATE INSTITUTION For BUSINESS TRAINING

GRADUATION DRESSES HERE!!

The Buyer of the

NEW YORK DRESS STORE

in Paulett Bldg, next to Southside Drug Store

has just returned with a

NEW ARRIVAL OF LOVELY DRESSES

Suitable for Graduation

Davidson's

HOUSE OF QUALITY

FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

WHERE QUALITY MEETS PRICE

Farmville's Best Department Store

Kerami Coats Reduced to $5.85

Lovely Spring Coats priced $9.95 to $19.50

New snow flecked suits $5.95 and $9.95

lapin trimmed

$1.50 full fashion hose, special 98c

THE HUB DEPARTMENT STORE

Little Boy: "Aren't ants funny little things? They work and work and never play."

Other Little Boy: "Oh, I don't know about that. Every time I go on a picnic they are there, too."

